Vet's Forum

Q. As an orphan of a deceased serviceman, is it necessary that I be 18 and have finished high school to become eligible for schooling under the War Orphans Educational Assistance Act?

A. Specialized vocational training in a below-college-level school may be taken if you have quit school, are above the compulsory school age, and the VA finds it would be to your advantage to begin your vocational education before reaching age 18.

Q. What is the patient turnover in all VA hospitals in one year?

A. During fiscal year 1961, which ended June 30, 1961, a total of 537,022 veterans were admitted to VA's 170 hospitals, and 540,068 were discharged during the same period. Q. I would like to sell my GI-loan house. How do I get clear of liability for the loan?

A. If the purchaser takes over your loan, ask the VA regional office that has your loan records for a release from liability. If the purchaser refinances the loan and pays you, you would have to pay off the loan to be clear of liability.

Q. As a war veteran's widow I have been told that I may be eligible for a pension but not all widows are. How is eligibility determined?

A. For eligibility for a VA pension, a widow must have lived continuously with the veteran from the time of marriage until the veteran's death, except where there was a separation due to the misconduct of, or procured by, the veteran without fault on the part of his wife.

Rural carriers help on livestock survey

Rural mail carriers from the post office here will leave some livestock survey cards along their routes beginning Nov. 18.

Ralls store has early 'January clearance'

RALLS—White Auto Store here had an unintentional—and early—January clearance Oct. 30 when burglars carted away several hundred dollars worth of merchandise.

The owners reported as stolen: Seven shotguns, seven .22 rifles, one high-powered rifle, a .22 rifle in the store for repairs, one hi-fi record player, five transistor radios, a portable sewing machine and approximately $16 in cash.

ventory of livestock and poultry on Texas farms," Postmaster Harold Voss explained.

Rural carriers distribute the cards at random in boxes along their routes.

"This means that not every box will get a card," the postmaster said. "For this reason, it's important for everyone who gets a card to return it filled out so that USDA can get a true sample of the state's livestock holdings."

Carriers assisting with the survey are Curtis Davies, Route 1; J. D. McCampbell, Route 2, and Phil Bouchier, Route 3.

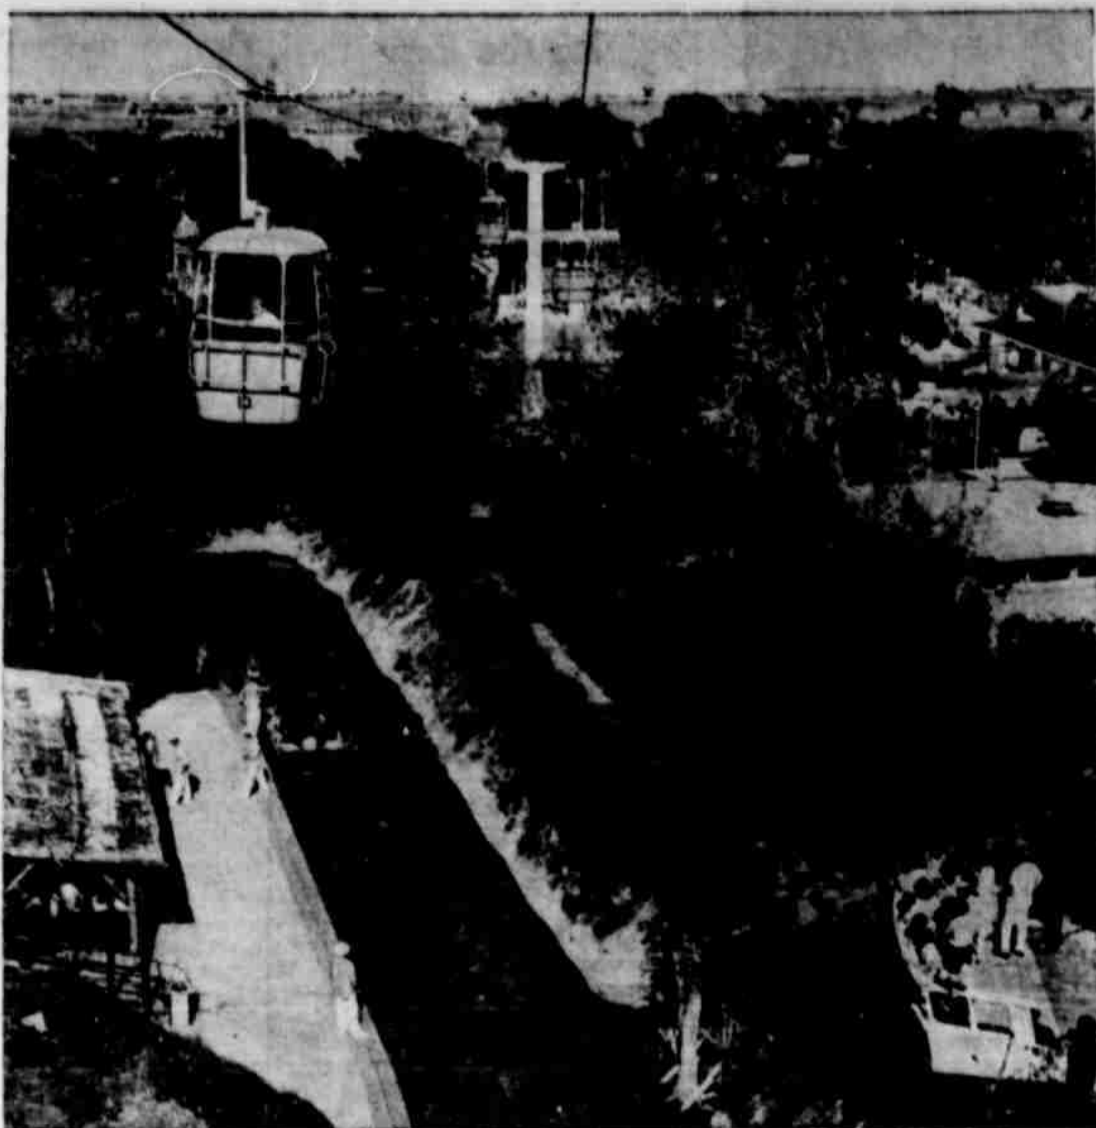

Facts and figures secured in this survey are the basis for the Texas and national pig crop report and inventories of livestock and poultry on farms as of the first of the year. Stockmen and many others use this information in making business decisions.

Survey results will be widely distributed through Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service releases, newspapers, farm magazines, radio and television.

"This annual survey has been a joint undertaking of the Post Office and the Agriculture Departments since 1924," concluded Voss.

WEEKEND GUESTS

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Welch had as their guests over the weekend Mr. and Mrs. O. R. Carey Sr. and Mr. and Mrs. Burl Carey of Lubbock. The entire group also visited in Sterling City.

AERIAL 'ASTROLIFT' RIDE CAPTIVATES CROWDS

Dominating the entire Six Flags Over Texas historical amusement park is the towering "Astrolift." This aerial ski-type ride stretches across the park 50 feet in the air on twin cables 1,050 feet each way from the U. S. Section to the Republic of Texas Section. Built in Switzerland at a cost of $300,000, the "Astrolift" is considered the safest device of its kind in the world.

Vacation visitor program adopted by Lions Clubs

Lions Clubs throughout the world have adopted a Vacation Visitor program for young men and women between the ages of 16 and 25 during the coming year.

The program calls for Lions Club sponsorship of a youth in one of the 114 Lion nations to visit with the family of another Lions member in another nation. It will not be a student exchange program and will aim for short visits. The expenses will be shared by the sponsoring and host Lions Club and will be correlated through the Lions International Office, 209 N. Michigan, Chicago 1, Ill.

The program's purpose is to provide the Vacation Visitor with firsthand experience of life in a home or community so that understanding may be developed.

The International Association of Lions Clubs is the world's largest service club organization with 625,000 members located in 114 countries of the Free World.

Muleshoe nearer mule monument

MULESHOE—This city has moved a step nearer its mule monument with the signing of a lease agreement with the Santa Fe Railway for a plot of ground as a site for the monument.

The 20x20-foot site is at the north end of Main Street, just south of the Santa Fe depot and abutting on U. S. Highway 84.

The drive here for a monument to the mule is being conducted by the Mule Memorial Association, of which radio man Gil Lamb is president.

The proposed memorial would be a life-size replica of a mule in a meditative pose, typical of George Washington Carver's famous remark, "I never saw a mule that didn't look like he thought he was thinking."

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Turney and family spent the weekend with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Dye.

Turn of Card May Reveal Fate Of Young Birth Defects Victim

At March of Dimes Birth Defects Study Center, Johnny X shown against background of electronic computer card which records his life so far—and his chances of survival.

Johnny X from Tennessee is nine months old. His head is extremely large for the small body. He has water on the brain.

When his mother recently took Johnny to the Birth Defects Study Center at Vanderbilt University School of Medicine, Nashville, Tenn., for specialized treatment of this disease, known medically as hydrocephalus, their first appointment was with a doctor who had a most unusual assistant—an inanimate electronic sorter.

Dr. Robert E. Merrill, assistant director of the Birth Defects Study Center, a research unit financed by The National Foundation-March of Dimes, explained:

"This apparatus is something unique when applied to birth defects. It can be a lifesaver. It's an IBM machine, and its memory is many thousand times more retentive than the proverbial elephant's. In effect, our mechanical robot here is going to interview Johnny and, although I'm Johnny's doctor, I'm really acting only as a sort of glorified office boy to the machine."

Using a device somewhat resembling a typewriter keyboard, Dr. Merrill began punching a rectangular oblong green card, measuring about 7" x 3". Each perforation represented the mother's answer to one of a long list of questions. Her answers covered such data as Johnny's age and birthdate, mother's age at delivery, illness of mother during pregnancy, any stillbirths, any physical defects in husband or wife, Johnny's weight, his age when his head started to enlarge and head circumference.

Scores of other vital facts are fed into the machine that never forgets. When the sorter finishes "interviewing" Johnny, the green card has recorded for all time and in capsule form the infant's past and present life, and his family background.

More significantly, the electronic device also faithfully remembers the case histories of hundreds of other Johnny's whose brain fluid is blocked as it is with this boy.

Dr. Merrill has only to run these cards through the high-speed sorter to compare these life histories with Johnny's.

Most important of all, for this youngster and his apprehensive parents, is that the sorter can help the doctor form a reasonably accurate idea of Johnny's immediate future; help him decide on the advisability of surgical insertion of a "shunt" or plastic tube to draw off the excess fluid into the blood stream; and indeed, assist the physician in predicting the future course of the disease.

This is done by a study of past performance of other hydrocephalic infants whose medical circumstances closely resemble those of this baby. That data is available almost instantly—"in a minute fraction of the time," as Dr. Merrill says, "required to go through the records by hand."

This comparative diagnosis "can save a child's life," he adds. "At least one thing we now can have up-to-date to guide us, and guide us instantaneously, is our experience. In five minutes, usually, the sorter can give us information that helps us decide precisely what to do in Johnny's case—and what not to do."

Aside from the Birth Defects Study Center at Vanderbilt, The National Foundation-March of Dimes has financed similar centers at Children's Hospital, Columbus, Ohio, and at the University of Oklahoma Medical Center at Oklahoma City.

Eventually, when the experiment Dr. Merrill is conducting is completed, the study centers are expected to pool their records of hundreds of victims of significant birth defects for the benefit of all. Tragically, there are about 250,000 such infants born yearly in the United States.

'A Thunder of Drums' shows here Saturday

In "A Thunder of Drums," showing Saturday only at the Tower Theatre, MGM presents a rousing outdoor adventure-drama in CinemaScope and color depicting the exciting era of the U. S. Cavalry-Indian wars of the 1870's.

The picture's cast includes both Hollywood veterans and some of its most popular younger players. Included are Richard Boone, George Hamilton, Luana Patten, Arthur O'Connell and Charles Bronson.

The story presents its action-filled events from her very opening sequence, a terrifying scene in which a little girl witnesses the murder of her mother and sister by raiding Indians, and builds up to a hair-raising climax.

The rainiest place in the United States is the island of Kauai, Hawaii, where 472 inches fall annually.

Increasing interest brings expansion of state's soil testing laboratory

COLLEGE STATION—The increasing interest in soil testing, as the foundation for soil improving programs and the resulting increase in the number of soil samples submitted to the State Laboratory, has necessitated expansion of the facilities, said Dr. R. E. Patterson, Dean of Agriculture at Texas A&M College.

Dean Patterson added farmers and ranchmen have found that crop and pasture yields can be increased by following recommendations supplied by the Laboratory. Soil tests will determine the proper amounts and kinds of fertilizers, and limestone required for profitable production.

The new laboratory, located on the second floor of the College's old creamery building, was put into operation immediately after the move on Oct. 26. It will continue to be operated by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service with Extension Soil Chemist W. F. Bennett in charge.

In commenting on the new facility, Extension Director John E. Hutchison said, "The new laboratory will enable us to provide better service to the agriculturists of the state. The new quarters will provide additional space and increase the capacity of the laboratory."

In addition to the State Laboratory, the Extension Service also operates facilities at Seymour and Lubbock. During the past year, September 1960 through August 1961, the three labs handled 13,987 soil samples. Harris County was a high with 702 samples submitted. Castro, Parmer, Lamb, Hale and Wilbarger counties followed in that order. Samples were also received and tested from seven other states and from Mexico, Brazil, Argentina, The Bahamas and Virgin Islands. The High Plains Laboratory at Lubbock began operations last November, which is under the supervision of J. H. Valentine, Baylor County Agent R. L. McClung is in charge of the Seymour facility.

ABSTRACTS
While driving around a lake, John and Mary saw a "For Sale" sign on a piece of lake property which they thought they could afford to buy.

They made inquiry of the owner and agreed on a price. They inquired about title and the owner assured them that he would give them an "Abstract". They took the abstract, which was a fat book of papers, and the deed, filed the deed at the courthouse and thought no more about it, assuming, as many people do, that an "abstract" is an assurance of good title.

Some years later they went to sell to a buyer who was better informed. He insisted that either the abstract be examined and an opinion given by an attorney that the title was good or that the sellers must provide title insurance. When they sought an opinion as to whether the abstract showed good title, they were dismayed to find that the title was not in good order, and that there would have to be a quit-title lawsuit to dispose of some flaws in the title before the buyer would accept it. Neither would a title insurance company write a policy of insurance for them without legal action to clear up the title.

John and Mary were astounded to learn that they were wrong in assuming that an "abstract" was an assurance of good title. An abstract is merely a record of every document which has ever been filed of record at the courthouse affecting the title to a particular piece of property. It may show good or bad title, or no title at all. It is only a bundle of papers, as John and Mary discovered, which summarizes the state of the title. Its possession does not in any way assure good title.

Thus while one may be able to get possession and peacefully occupy a property with an unsalable title, difficulties will arise when the property is to be sold or mortgaged. To do so is only to postpone and perhaps increase the trouble and expense of clearing the title. It makes good sense to correct any title defects when you buy a property.

GOOD DEEDS and GOOD DAYS

There are no better deeds than serving our country in time of war.

There is NO BETTER DAY to close shop and REMEMBER those who fought for our freedom than NOVEMBER 11th—VETERANS DAY.

You may think it very in-opportune to close on SATURDAY, that very day when most folks come to town but over our fair land are thousands of MEN and WOMEN who will remember but who will not be physically or mentally able to be out and around to enjoy the things we take for granted day after day.

You may say too "we can remember them and keep our stores open." May be true—we also could remember Thanksgiving, Christmas or July 4th and keep our stores open.

LET'S ALL close our places of business in REMEMBRANCE as well as in SYMPATHY for those WHO WISH they had a place of business or wish they were just able to be up and around.

WE WILL BE CLOSED ALL DAY SATURDAY NOVEMBER 11th

By Jerry Gerner
The Post Future Farmers of America chapter will enter five teams in the Mesa District leadership contests to be held in Brownfield on Saturday, Nov. 11.

Members of the teams have not been definitely picked, as several boys are still trying to make the teams, according to Ike Trimble, vocational agriculture instructor and chapter advisor.

The contests being entered are FFA Quiz, Senior Farm Skill, Farm Radio, Senior Chapter Conducting and Junior Chapter Conducting.

The FFA Quiz and Junior Chapter

Conducting teams will come out of the VA 1 class and the other teams will be taken from the VA 11 and VA 111 classes.

Post grid teams spook Frenship

By Dick Kennedy
It was a muddy Halloween night and Post beat Frenship 7th and 8th grade football teams.

In the first game, the 7th grade beat Frenship, 14-6. The first time Post got the ball they drove 75 yards to a touchdown. A pass to end Donnie Windham got the extra points after Davis Heaton's touchdown from five yards out.

Frenship made a touchdown from 40 yards away, and at the half it was Post 8, Frenship 6.

In the second half, a quickie pass to end Ronnie Pierce from three yards out put six more points on the board for Post. The try for extra points failed.

The 8th grade beat Frenship, 6-0. A pass from Louis Ayala to Leland Shumate did the trick for Post.

Bandsmen selling ballpoint pens

The Post High Band is selling ballpoint pens this week to make money for a trip this spring. The pens are all gold and have "Thank You, From the Post High Band" on them. If anyone wants to buy one, just look some band member up. Also they come in two sizes, one is slimmer than the other. Oh yes, they only cost one dollar!

Monday morning the band nominated three girls for band sweetheart to be crowned at the Post-Stanton ball game, Nov. 10. The nominees are: Judy Clary, Vonda Howell and Ruthell Martin. This will be a pre-game ceremony, so come on out to see the band sweetheart of '61 and a good ball game.

Very few know what 'Ute' is

By Gene Wilkerson
Some of the 8th graders were asked, "What is a Ute?" These are some of the answers:

Pat Martin: An animal.
Danny McFaddin: A six-legged grasshopper.
Tony Hutto: A parachute.
Ricky Welch: An upside-down pancake.
Betty Sue Hutchins: Somebody like Pat Martin.
Ernest Cole: Mr. Stone.
Arleta Robinson: Something the teachers invented.
Pat Landreth: Something similar to a flute.
Barbara Alexander: A bird.
Linda Woodard: A river.
(A Ute is a member of a tribe of Indians living in South Dakota.)

"I Padded My Diary Here And There - I Want To Make It Interesting Reading For My Grandchildren."

Have You Heard??

Looks like the kids really caught Charlotte Taylor short handed Friday night! But it sure was good for ice cream and cake, though.

We hate to see Ruthell Martin feeling like she does this week, but what good is Ruthell without Kenneth!

We just don't know what to do with Judy Clary! Seems like she just insists on going to Coach Souter's house every Saturday morning at 5!

Harold Wayne Mason works harder at writing letters than he does out on the football field! But that's the way it goes when you're in love!

You'll have to admit that some people go to the dogs, but when it comes to going to the coons you can count on Lee Williams and his hat!

How about the Post Does winning their first ball game with Sands? Sure was a good game.

By the way, the commercial department has received their new typewriters.

Thumbnail sketch on Frosh student

On Jan. 22, 1947, in Slaton, Tex., a certain frosh boy opened his eyes to the world not knowing that 14½ years later he would be living in Post, Texas.

Who is it? Well... If you see a guy wearing an olive green shirt, eating broiled steak and drinking milk and singing "Crying", you will know, cause these are his "favorites".

Not only does he play varsity football, but he is also a member of the boy's quartet and the First Baptist Church.

Who is it? Oh, yes! I forgot. It's Teddy Scott, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Scott of 914 West Sixth Street.

Devotional starts off week for 8th graders

By Marcia Newby
Every Monday morning one of the 8th grade students presents a morning devotional. It usually consists of a lesson from the Bible and a prayer.

To me, this starts the week off with a "bang." I can work better and think better after this devotional is given.

I know I'm speaking for the whole school saying that we all really appreciate the trouble in preparing and presenting this devotional.

JUNIOR HIGH

Gossip

Well, how did the basketball girls like their suits? They got their kneepads the other day after a long wait.

Linda Hays, how do you like your new boy friend, Bobo McWhirt?

Some couples in Post Junior High are: Jan Miller and Danny McFadin, Linda Davis and Fins Conley, La Gayluah Young and Bob Hutchins, Belinda Lee and Jerry Sullivan.

Phyllis Baker, we heard you had a wild time at your party. Could this be true?

Jackie Wilson and Mike Petty must have had a blast at the party.

We wish to say "Happy Birthday", Jo Beth Dillard.

The PJHS Band and the PHS Band will present a concert Dec. 11. Admission is 25 cents.

Pat Robinson, we hear you and Linda Hays had a "laugh ball" one period. Didya get in trouble? Hope not.

Final High School Grid Game

Post Antelopes Vs. Stanton Buffaloes

FRIDAY NIGHT
Antelope Stadium
7:30 P. M. KICKOFF

Coach Vernard Alexander's high school Antelopes will ring down the curtain on the 1961 grid campaign at Antelope Stadium Friday night against the Stanton Buffaloes, a team which is hard to figure.

The Buffaloes on the credit side gave the defending state Champion Denver City Mustangs their toughest game of the season to date. Then they turned around two weeks ago and were tied in a district tussle by the Tahoka Bulldogs, over whom the Antelopes own their only district triumph.

Given the right night and a good team effort, the Antelopes hope to even their district slate at two-two in this finale. The game will see a number of Post seniors making their last appearances here in high school football uniforms.

Be on hand and root the Antelopes back to winning ways.

 paid in the future of only $43,000.
 The road and bridge fund of Precinct 1 is clear of all indebtedness with FM Road No. 211 now under construction.
 The road and bridge fund of Precinct 2 with a $300,000 20-year bond issue as of Aug. 1, 1949 has had $168,000 retired to date, leaving an outstanding balance of $132,000 for which there is a combined total of $40,500 in that bond sinking fund or investments to help retire it. This leaves a net of $91,500 to be paid.
 Precinct 3 has a $300,000 bond issue of Feb. 15, 1954, of which $18,000 has been retired and for which there is $10,000 in its sinking fund for retirement of the $12,000 in bonds still outstanding, leaving a net of $2,000.

Precinct 4, not only has no outstanding indebtedness, but $2,064.33 in its sinking fund. It retired a $50,000 bond issue, dated March 1, 1956, in five years leaving it free of all debt.

To total it up, the only county indebtedness remaining is a net of $43,000 for the hospital bonds. The only other indebtedness is a net of $91,500 for Precinct 2 and a net of $2,000 for Precinct 3.

TURNING TO property valuations, Judge Parker pointed out that "we will be fortunate to maintain our present valuation of $15,986,130 for 1961 and that prospects for any further increase for the next two or three years are rather dim."

Outside of one oil field in the southern part of the county which has recently developed several new producers, oil activity in other parts of the county has been at a standstill.

Southland class to present play

The Junior class of Southland High School will present "Boys About Bobbette," an uproarious comedy in three acts, at 7:30 p. m. Friday, Nov. 17, in the Southland High School auditorium.

The fast-moving comedy is a 11 about Bobbette, a dyed-in-the-wool tomboy, who plays football with the "Dirty Dozen" team.
 General admission prices are 50 cents for adults and 25 cents for children. Reserved seat tickets are being sold by class members for 75 cents.

Two autos damaged in collision Monday

Extensive damage to both automobiles resulted Monday afternoon from a two-car collision at Broadway and 12th Street, City Marshal Junior Shepherd reports.

Both cars, one driven by Buran Matthews and the other by Fannie M. Richards, were traveling north on Broadway at the time of the accident.

The city marshal said Matthews told him his auto was struck by the other car when he stopped to turn left on 12th Street.

Man fined, jailed for driving while drunk

Roy Linoul Snider pleaded guilty Friday to a charge of driving while intoxicated and was fined $50 by County Judge J. E. Parker, sentenced to three days in jail and had his driver's license suspended for six months.

TO MEET
 The Garza Hospital Auxiliary will meet tonight at 7 o'clock in the Community Room, Mrs. James Matthews is in charge of the program. The new candy has arrived to be sold for hospital projects.

Judge Parker declared that "we hope to have sufficient growth to hold our valuation to a point that there will be no need to increase either the valuation on county assessments or to raise the tax rate."

He said that much of the increase in county operational costs in the last six or seven years, which has been considerable, is due to the increased cost of county road equipment. A road maintainer, for example, has increased in cost by 40 to 50 per cent and the repair cost has increased proportionately.

"Most operational expenses have skyrocketed," he said, "but not in proportion to cost of equipment."

He pointed out that there are few counties that have been called on to support a hospital and those counties that do are handicapped "by further projects until the hospital becomes self supporting. "Our hospital," he added, "is well equipped and we have every reason to be proud of it."

"MUCH PROGRESS is being made to make Garza Memorial Hospital the best in this part of the state," he said. "I mention this because there are some who feel other things should be supported by the taxpayers' money. These would be worthwhile, if they could be afforded."

Judge Parker stressed the fine cooperation given by the State Highway Department to the county.

"When present projects are finished, I feel sure that our needs for future ones will be given their attention. We hope to have a better system of farm-to-market roads in the eastern portion of our county. The White River Dam will bring more travel and necessitate better roads. Our state highway department will listen to our needs and if funds are available we will have their cooperation."

Judge Parker stressed that Post and Garza County is fortunate to have the district highway office and warehouses in Post and urged Rotarians "if you haven't visited them, do so."

He explained that Rotarians will find Precinct 2 has a better net of hard-surfaced roads than any other precinct because of the $300,000 bond issue voted for road improvements in that precinct.

HE SAID, "much has been done to improve the roads in Precinct 1 with the limited means and there will be added from time to time to make traveling less hazardous." He said the right of way costs already have been paid for the farm-to-market road under construction from US-84 at the Wilson road intersection easterly to the Ralls road. This will include an overpass at Buenos Switch with the total cost of the project being $235,000.

He pointed out that Precinct 1 has a network of some 185 miles of roads to maintain on a budget of $34,000 per year.

In Precinct 3, he said, the state is spending $340,000 to rebuild FM-651. This is done for the purpose of caring for expected future traffic. "We also hope to extend FM 2008 (Verbena) on north to intersect FM 651. This has been requested and is being given consideration.

The more hard-surfaced roads we have the less will be the cost of maintaining, Judge Parker said, thus giving us more money to spend for caliching side roads.

He concluded: "Our debt is negligible and we want to keep it that way."

Building permits are at $650,000

Post building permits through the first ten months of 1961 were up around the $650,000 mark, although actual construction costs filed showed only $617,482.91.

Four permits, including two three-bedroom homes, were issued without any estimate of construction costs being made. One of these was the Chester Morris' new home, for which a permit was issued July 20, and the other was Adrian Cook's new home, for which the permit was issued March 29.

Other construction projects on which no cost estimate was filed include a Gothic redwood fence at the Spencer Kuykendall home and a three-bedroom addition to the W. T. Buller home.

Building permits issued recently include the following:

Weldon Swanger, rebuilding and brick work at home, $7,500.

Ray W. Dickey, sheetrock and repairs at 712 North Broadway, $675.

Medlock Co., Inc., two residences, four rooms and bath, one at 410 South Avenue S, the other at 916 West 15th Street, $5,900 each.

General Builders, three-bedroom home at 204 Mohawk, $15,000.

O. F. Pennell, repairing structure at 108 West 14th Street, $1,200.

Post man enlists in Regular Army

Connie R. Martin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Barney R. Martin, was enlisted in the Regular Army on Oct. 31 at the Amarillo Recruiting Main Station, through the Lubbock Recruiting Office.

Pvt. Martin will receive his initial training at Fort Carson, Colo., and upon completion will be reassigned for advanced training in field artillery weapons, according to Sgt. George Moore, local Army recruiter.

Pvt. Martin is a graduate of Post High School and served four years in the Navy as a guided missile armorer.

Automobile rams into corner of residence

An automobile driven by T. J. Johnston rammed into a corner of the H. E. Sprayberry home at 301 South Ave. D shortly before 2 o'clock yesterday morning, City Marshal Junior Shepherd reports.

There was considerable damage to the house in the area struck by the car, and the automobile's left front fender was damaged, the city marshal reported.

Saturday will be Veterans Day—the day set aside to honor the veterans of all U. S. wars. This isn't a Chamber of Commerce holiday so most local business firms will be open for their regular hours. We think Editor Charlie Tidway will agree with us that today's best "editorial" in The Dispatch won't be found in The Dispatch's editorial column on page 2—simply because neither Charlie nor this department wrote it. It'll be found at the bottom of page 13 and was written by Lowell Short in his highly readable ad. It's entitled, "Good Deeds and Good Days." It's another one of those gems only Lowell can write. But Lowell won't be the only one closing Saturday to observe Veterans Day. The bank and postoffice both will be closed, along with a few other business houses which stop Nov. 11 each year to pay homage to our veterans of all wars.

Maxine's will have an attractive window during the next week—a 50 card unit of Hallmark Cards famous historical card collection, some of which date back to the mid-1700's. Maxine's is a franchised Hallmark dealer and the display was the subject of a recent Culture Club meeting.

Antelopes end season against Stanton here Friday

Rash of injuries may nip Post victory bid

The Post Antelopes will be seeking to improve on their 2-7 mark by meeting the Stanton Buffaloes here Friday night in the final game of the season for both teams. The Antelopes' chances to defeat the Buffaloes in the season's final game and bring their record to 3-7 are slim. Stanton has a 10-0 record and is expected to win at full strength for Friday night's game.

Leslie Acker, senior quarterback, has been slowed by a hip injury received in the Slaton game two weeks ago, and senior tackle Dean Williams and junior guard Jerry Stanton are nursing hip injuries. All three are expected to be at full strength for Friday night's game.

Sophomore halfback Jackie Fluhornmore has a knee injury, received in the Slaton game, and sophomore quarterback Tom Clark is still suffering from a back injury received three weeks ago.

Eight seniors on this year's Antelope squad will be playing their final high school football game Friday night. They are Acker, Johnnie, Tommy Boucher, Harold Williams returns, East Texas wins

With quarterback James Williams back in action, the East Texas State football team has won its last two games after suffering through five straight losses.

Williams, a former Post Antelope, had been out with an injury. Saturday, East Texas State defeated Southwest Texas State, 14-7, with Williams scoring one of the touchdowns.

The previous Saturday, the Lions got back on the winning track with a 20-6 triumph over Sul Ross. Williams garnered 226 yards total offense, including a touchdown pass to halfback George Boynton for 70 yards.

Funeral for party-day cowboy

Funeral services for Larry E. Sparks, 82, of Spur, party-day cowboy who moved to Dickens County in 1900, were conducted at 4 p. m. Tuesday in the First Baptist Church.

Mr. Sparks died of a heart attack Sunday while driving his car on the highway near the town of Dickens.

Mr. Sparks, who owned farming interests in this area, retired seven years ago. A one-time operator of a wagon freight line, he was elected during the summer to serve as president of the Texas Cowboy Association.

He is survived by his wife, one son and four daughters.

Doe 'B' team is to compete in Big Spring meet

The Post Does' "B" team will compete next week in Howard County Junior College's first annual Queen Bee basketball tournament at Big Spring.

The tournament, which is to be held next Thursday, Friday and Saturday, is planned exclusively for high school girls' "B" sextets of the Big Spring area.

Coach Van Kountz' Post team has drawn a first-round bye and will play its first game at 8:30 p. m. Thursday. Tournament opens pair Ira against Klondike, Stanton against Coahoma and Sands against Garden City.

The Post Doe varsity team will compete in the third annual HCJC Tournament for high school girls' "A" teams in early December.

Junior High girls defeat Klondike

Post's Junior High girls basketball team, made up of both 7th and 8th grade players, opened its season here Monday night with a 17-4 victory over the Klondike Junior High team.

Marilyn Jones, with eight points, led the Post scoring. Others notching the scoring column were: Sherry Woods, three; Carol Camp and Farwell's Johnny Lovelace.

Texas Tech's last two appearances against an Eastern school came in 1937 and 1938, when the Red Raiders downed Duquesne 13-0 and 7-6 respectively.

Added color will be provided by area high school bands observing Band Day. Some 1,500 musicians will be in Jones Stadium.

Both reserved and general admission tickets are available.

Junior High cage slate announced

The 1961-62 basketball schedules of the Post Junior High School boys and girls basketball teams have been announced by the coaches of the teams.

The 7th and 8th grade teams, both boys and girls, will open their season Monday, Nov. 13, at Crosbyton, with the first game scheduled for 5:30 p. m.

The complete schedule is as follows:

- Nov. 13 Crosbyton, there.
- Nov. 27 O'Donnell, here.
- Nov. 30-Dec. 2: Southland Tournament.
- Dec. 4 Crosbyton, here.
- Dec. 7 O'Donnell, there (c).
- Dec. 14 Slaton, here (c).

- Jan. 18 Tahoka, here (c).
- Jan. 25 Slaton, there (c).
- Feb. 1 Frenship, here (c).
- Feb. 5-10: District Tournament in Post. First games, Frenship vs. Post; Slaton vs. Tahoka. (c denotes district game.)

Raiders to meet Boston College's Eagles Saturday

LUBBOCK—Boston College, first Eastern school to play Texas Tech in 23 years, invades Jones Stadium for a game with the Red Raiders at 2 p. m. Saturday.

Boston College is currently 3-3. The Eagles, following three successive losses have bounced back to take triumphs over previously unbeaten and strong Iowa State.

Texas Tech hopes to rebound from consecutive defeats at the hands of Southern Methodist and Rice. Likely to finish in a fifth place tie in the Southwest Conference, the Red Raiders are 2-4 in SWC play, 2-5 for the season.

Against the heavier Eagles the Red Raiders are likely to take to the air frequently via the passing arms of Levelland's Doug Cannon and Farwell's Johnny Lovelace.

Texas Tech's last two appearances against an Eastern school came in 1937 and 1938, when the Red Raiders downed Duquesne 13-0 and 7-6 respectively.

Added color will be provided by area high school bands observing Band Day. Some 1,500 musicians will be in Jones Stadium.

Both reserved and general admission tickets are available.

'Come September' is new Tower attraction

For those who seek the utmost in zany fun, there is one immediate prescription—a quick visit to the Tower Theatre to see Rock Hudson, Gina Lollobrigida, Sandra Dee, Bobby Darin and Walter Slezak in "Come September," the year's brightest, most carefree new motion picture.

"Come September" shows Sunday, Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday.

This handsomely mounted Technicolor and Panavision movie abounds in romance and humor.

"Come September" has a surprise in every reel. The big surprise is Lollobrigida as a comedienne.

Does lose to Sands after winning pair

After winning their first two games, Coach Van Kountz' Post Does were defeated by Sands, 32 to 28, Tuesday night on the Sands High School court at Ackerly.

In a preliminary game, the Post girls "B" team lost a thriller, 30 to 29.

The Does had opened their season here Saturday night by defeating Sands, 31 to 21, then followed Monday night with a 36 to 21 home court victory over Klondike.

In the "B" team games, Sands won Saturday night, 24 to 19, and Klondike was victorious Monday night, 35 to 32.

In Tuesday night's varsity game, Post held a 19-9 halftime bulge over their opponents, but Sands came back strong in the second half to score 23 points while holding the Does to nine.

Nita Wilson and Janith Short shared scoring honors for Post with 19 points apiece.

In the "B" team game, Marianne Jones scored 19 of Post's 29 points.

Against Klondike here Monday night, the Does built up an 18-4 first quarter lead and coasted to their second victory. They were ahead 27-10 at halftime and 30-14 at the end of the third period.

Nita Wilson was the leading scorer with 15 points, followed by Barbara Craig's 12, Janith Short's eight and Vivian McWhirt's one.

The Post guards were Danelia Bateman, Janie Carradine, Judy Clary and Dee Ann Walker.

Wilson and Carradine led the Post rebounders with 10 and nine, respectively.

Shirley Sappington hit 12 points to lead the Post "B" team against Klondike. Pamela Stewart scored 10 and Marianne Jones, seven.

In the season's opener against Sands here Saturday, Post led 11-7 at the end of the first quarter, 19-9 at the halftime intermission and 24-17 at the end of the third quarter.

Does lose to Sands after winning pair

Wilson paced the Post scoring with 17 points. Short and Craig had seven points each. Other forwards were Pamela Stewart and McWhirt.

Bateman grabbed off eight rebounds to lead in that department. Other guards were Carradine, Clary, Walker and Darla Pierce.

Marianne Jones was high scorer for Post in the "B" team game with 12 points.

Letters to the Editor...

ON BEING RESPONSIBLE

Dear Editor:

Eisenhower has been accused of being soft on Communism. When he was ordered to allow the Russians to take Berlin he held back our forces until the Russians had made the necessary advances.

When MacArthur obeyed the orders of the then President not to win the war in Korea and come home, was he soft on Communism?

General Walker allowed himself to be muzzled in speaking out against Communism. Was he, too, soft on Communism?

How foolish can you get? Each of the men were obeying the orders of competent authorities. That does not mean that these authorities were wise. It means that they had the legal responsibility to make the decision.

Each of these generals had the responsibility to receive and execute orders from their superior officers. Even though they themselves might have thought that the decisions they were ordered to accept and to implement were foolish to the verge of treason (the verge, mind you—not over it), each decided that he was receiving competent—that is, not treasonous—orders.

To be responsible officers they had to make that judgment; to do less would have been irresponsible.

And just that—irresponsible—is the word to describe anyone who makes a charge that these generals are soft on Communism. Equally irresponsible are those who always manage to be found on the same side of any question as the current Communist party line. These are the "Save Julius and Ethel Rosenberg petitioners, the "Rather be Red than Dead" people, the "Ban the Bomb" people, the "Abolish the House Committee on un-American Activities" people.

Be you liberal or be you conservative, first be responsible.

AUSTIN—Aware of the fact that more money soon may be available for trunk-highway construction, 15 delegations of civic leaders descended on Austin.

They asked the Texas Highway Commission for a record number of dollars for highway work. Specifically, $171,056,000.

Houston and Harris County, presenting a plan of freeway development designed to carry Houston's traffic in 1980, asked for approval of an $89,400,000 program. That was the big one. But all of the 14 other projects were equally as pressing to the homefolks, even though less money was involved.

State Highway Engineer D. C. Greer feels that 22,000 of the 25,000 miles in the trunk-highway system are inadequate. He says that less attention has been paid to these "town-to-city" roads during the years in which urban freeways and farm-to-market roads have taken top priority.

Gov. Price Daniel brought the issue of highway financing to a vote when he vetoed the $15,000,000 Colson-Briscoe farm-to-market road appropriation. Legislators had appropriated it for the year starting next Sept. 1.

Gov. Daniel will ask the Legislature, at its special session this winter, to cut down on farm-to-market road construction and step up the money available for trunk-highway work.

Texas County Judges and Commissioners Association has endorsed the change.

Gov. Daniel will go in person to the Texas Farm Bureau convention in Galveston Nov. 12-15 to try to get that powerful rural group to accept the plan.

A STEADY GROWTH in Texas retail trade in 1961 is reported by the Bureau of Business Research of the University of Texas.

Despite a Gulf Coast slowdown in September, due to Hurricane Carla, retail sales for the first nine months of 1961 pulled to within one per cent of the sales for the same period of 1960. First six months of 1961 were three per cent behind 1960.

September sales were off, largely because people bought heavily in August to avoid the sales tax. But the nine-month figures indicate to the Bureau's economists that things are looking better.

A big gain in construction in 1961 has helped the business picture.

Not even Carla's September blow could head off a new nine-month record in the construction field in Texas. The UT Bureau found $1,047,625,000 in construction authorized the first nine months of 1961, five per cent above 1960's first three quarters.

Recovery of the home building business was the major factor. Third quarter saw $169,127,000 worth of one-family homes authorized. This was 23 per cent above the same quarter of 1960. Apartment construction is nearly double the rate of the previous year.

JAMES W. McGrew, research director of the Texas Research League, told the group's annual meeting that additional state spending of about $50,000,000 a year is in sight for the two years starting Sept. 1, 1963.

New sales tax will provide part of the added money, McGrew predicted. Other taxes will just about produce the extra money. But it will require some economizing to make ends meet in the 1963 session of the Legislature, in spite of the huge new tax.

Growth of Texas is the reason for the added spending. Growth means more children, more schools, more patients in mental hospitals, more college students, more cars and more highways to hold them.

More people mean more government spending to serve them.

Railroad Commissioner Ben Ramsey, main speaker at the League's luncheon, said Texans should be commended for their willingness to accept the added tax burdens needed to finance education and other essential services.

Ramsey provided some startling figures. While he was lieutenant governor, presiding over the Texas Senate, state spending increased nearly two and a half times, from $520,000,000 to $1,200,000,000 a year from 1950 to 1961.

In defense of the Legislature, he said it wasn't "free spending." Spending was necessary for essential programs like education, highways, welfare, hospitals and the like, Ramsey explained.

Rep. Jesse M. Osborn of Muleshoe has same tax cutting in mind. In a letter to Gov. Daniel he proposed that the State ad valorem tax be abolished, and the sales tax revenue be used to make up the gap.

So far, sales tax revenues have

WILSON—Wilson telephone numbers will be changed next March to the new All Number Calling system of seven digits, according to Wayne King, district commercial manager of General Telephone Company of the Southwest.

with its staff to bring a study on loans and lenders up to date. Acting Lieut. Gov. Bruce Reagan named Rep. Criss Cole of Houston to head the committee. He was author of the constitutional amendment which gave the Legislature power to allow interest rates to exceed 10 per cent.

Other members of the study committee are Sen. Neville Colson of Navasota, Sen. Preston Smith of Lubbock, Rep. Joe Cannon of Mexia and Rep. Murray Watson of Mart.

Gov. Daniel asked for the study updating so he can have it ready as the number one topic when he calls the Legislature into special session.

Restrictions do not apply to steers, spayed heifers, calves under eight months of age, and calves under 30 months which have been officially vaccinated against brucellosis.

A DELEGATION of Texans headed by Gov. Daniel will journey to Vicksburg, Miss., on Nov. 4, to dedicate a $100,000 monument to 35 Texans who played heroic roles in the defense of Vicksburg.

Ceremony will be a part of the Texas Civil War Centennial observance. Monument was authorized by the voters of Texas in the 1953 constitutional amendment which switched revenue from the Confederate pension tax to a state building program.

Movement to build such a monument was started by Confederate veterans and was carried on for more than 50 years by the United Daughters of the Confederacy.

STORY OF how one county has just about whipped tuberculosis was told at the Texas Tuberculosis Association meeting.

Bell County set up a chest clinic in 1954. Persons who had contact with known TB patients were asked to come in for free check-ups. But if they did not come, warrants were issued to bring them in.

After 3,162 clinic visits, the program has located 64 new cases of TB over the years. But it has worked so well at checking spread of the disease that last year only one case was found when tuberculin tests were given extensively.

Dr. Howard Smith, head of the TB division of the State Health Department, said it took a lot of hard work by Bell County people, but it paid off.

Scott & White Hospital, Clinic to get building

TEMPLE—Famous Scott and White Hospital and Clinic is going to get a new $10 million home on a 300-acre site here.
 Bids will be opened Nov. 28 on the first phase of the project, expected to cost between $7 and $8 million. Later additions will include an enlarged school of nursing and other medical facilities.
 A brand new concept of design will keep nurses within a half-dozen steps of every patient in the 253-bed hospital. This will be possible by building the hospital in three circular wings, each six floors high. The nursing station for each floor will be in the center of the wing, and the door to every room will open to face the nursing station.
 Between the three circular wings will be the diagnostic and research center of the memorial institution. In addition to latest medical equipment and services, there will be examination and consultation rooms for 60 specialists. Arrangement of the building permits quick and easy use of the clinic facilities by doctors and patients in any part of the hospital wings.
 Ground will be broken for the new medical center Dec. 2 with Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson leading an array of speakers which will include the president of the American Medical Association and the head of the Mayo Clinic in Rochester, Minn.

Decades ago all snakes were thought to be harmful. Since then snake experts have proven that this is not so. There are good snakes and there are bad ones.
 Outdoorsmen, tramping the woods and fields of Texas—or fishing the rivers and lakes, come across many snakes. To kill or not to kill is the question!
 Poisonous snakes, although they do play a beneficial role in the wildlife scene, should be destroyed. They are a constant source of danger to man and domestic animals.
 Non-poisonous snakes, however should be left unmolested.
 Snakes, both poisonous and non-poisonous, play a key role in keeping rodent populations from running wild. Rats and mice, both carriers of diseases that can be passed to humans, constitute the bulk of the diet of most snakes. Eliminate all snakes, and the fields soon will be overrun with rodents.
THERE ARE four kinds of poisonous snakes in Texas—rattlers, copperheads, cottonmouth moccasins and corals. All are deadly, but not to the same degree.
 Rattlers constitute the greatest danger because they are most plentiful. They are also the largest snakes found in the state.
 Texas has a number of species of rattlers, ranging all the way from the big diamondback—the largest—to the smaller-size canebrake rattler.
 Moccasins and copperheads come next in abundance.
 While the coral snake ranks last, numerically, that doesn't mean that the coral is the least deadly. Fact of the matter is, the coral snake's poison is much more toxic than that of the other species.
 Because of the construction of the coral snake's mouth and jaws, it has great difficulty biting anything much larger around than a finger or a toe. Furthermore, it injects its poison not through fangs but by chewing on the victim.
IT WOULD take far too much space here to describe each of the poisonous snakes and list their general areas in the state.
 However, you can get an excellent description of them in a booklet published by the state. We'd suggest you write for it.
 This booklet has pictures of the many species of snakes in Texas. It lists their characteristics and includes maps showing the counties they inhabit. You may obtain one free by writing the Texas Game and Fish Commission, Walton Building, Austin 1, Texas.
 Everyone who roams the woods or waters should be constantly on guard against snakes. Naturally one's chance of coming upon a snake is much greater in the warm weather months than in winter.
 However, don't let your guard down in the winter.
 Snakes are supposed to den up and hibernate in the winter. But I've come across some lively rattlers and moccasins on near-freezing days. So be prepared for the nonconformist!
 Knee-length heavy boots should be worn every time you go into the field.
DON'T STEP into brush piles without looking first. Better still, poke through the brush pile beforehand, with a long pole.
 Snake coloration is camouflage at its best. Often you can look right at a snake and not recognize the presence of the reptile until it moves.

Snake stories are legion—and most of them are exaggerated. The one about people being attacked by snakes is undoubtedly the biggest yarn of them all.
 Cobras are known to attack humans. But the only cobras you'll find in the U. S. are in zoos. These snakes are native to Africa and the Far East.
 Just because a snake strikes at you doesn't mean he's attacking. I know an outdoorsman who has had snakes strike at him on three different occasions. He could say he was attacked. But actually they were defensive moves on the part of the reptiles.
 Two snakes struck at him because he carelessly stepped on them. One, a rattler, missed. The other, a moccasin, scored. But the snake's fangs failed to penetrate the man's boots.
 The third strike was from a diamondback rattler.
THIS SNAKE was cornered. The man teased the snake with a long pole, to note its reactions. Finally the snake "charged." The man got well out of its way, and the snake made a "slither-line" to escape. It did attempt a half-hearted strike as it passed near the fellow.
 In neither case could you really say they "attacked."
 Another fallacy about snakes is that the reptiles come out to sun themselves. That's not so. Snakes are cold-blooded. Their body temperature is that of their surroundings.
 Sure, they come out on warm sunny days. But the only snakes you'll find lying around in the sun will be dead ones. They can't survive direct sun heat very long.
 When the sun is beaming down strong and hot, the place to beware of snakes is in the shade where it is relatively cool.
 Snakes are nocturnal. So be careful when moving about in the wilderness after dark.
IF YOU have to camp out overnight, pitch your tent where the ground is bare. If you are in a country where the snake population is known to be great, take along a can of snake repellent. Several chemical companies now make sprays that are supposed to keep snakes at their distance.
 Regardless of how careful you may be there always is a chance of being bitten by a poisonous snake. So carry a snake bite kit on all outings. You can purchase one in any sporting goods store or drug store. Chances are you'll find them advertised in this very newspaper.

At highest wage level in state

41,200 Texans work in state's oil refineries

On the flat coastal plains of Texas, the towering steel cylinders of the refineries and petrochemical plants symbolize a major portion of the state's manufacturing industry.
 For here are made almost a third of the nation's petroleum products—including the fuels which propel America's cars and planes and which heat millions of homes. And the chemicals which are transformed into today's wonder plastics and fibers are extracted from oil and gas in these towers and coils of pipe.
 In the upgrading of value which takes place between the raw material stage and finished product, the refining and petrochemical industries account for about a third of the total for all Texas industry.
 With its 59 refineries, Texas processes more oil than any other state. The other big refining centers of the country are located in the midst of huge population areas in the East and Midwest.
 The Texas plants, most of which are clustered about the principal Gulf ports, have a total capacity of some 2.5 million barrels a day, or 26 per cent of the nation's total. They range in size from those handling a few hundred barrels of crude oil a day to those running close to 300,000 barrels each 24 hours.
 The refineries process more than 90 per cent of the crude oil produced in Texas thus giving the state added economic benefit to its natural resources.
 Although relatively few employees are required to control the sprawling complexes of refineries and chemical plants, there are some 41,200 Texans engaged in refining alone. Significantly, their wage scale, averaging $3.13 an hour, is the highest in the state.

My Turn

By MRS. C.

When I wrote my first column, the first thing Mr. C. and the two boys asked me was, "What are you going to write about next?" I thought this terribly unkindly, but I told them I wasn't going to put me on the spot. I hadn't given that a thought, but I told them I wasn't going to put me on the spot. I hadn't given that a thought, but I told them I wasn't going to put me on the spot.

I'm not throwing in the towel, but something came in the other day at The Post that just needed sharing. I help it if it was a recipe?

Everyone that attended the Spur football game knows who Marshall Formby is. It was a little while back we did learn all about Marshall. Well, it seems Marshall prints up recipes which he sends to newspapers and I suppose to other people. Probably has a thing to do with politics.

Without further ado, the recipe "Goose" Ramsey of Dimmitt, Texas, who lives six miles west of Graham, is for Texas Son-of-Guns follows.

As though this is called "Guns" only in high society, boys on the range use a more expressive name — same thing Harry Truman (remember?) used to call Drew Pearson.

Make stew for 6-8-10 people following ingredients should be from one calf. The stew will be from a calf still on its mother's milk. However the ingredients can be purchased from a butcher house.

One of the tongue from the calf tongue to be boiled for 30 minutes and then scraped good. If you do not find tongue, use half of a beef tongue as I do.

The brains from the calf—all sweetbreads. The liver of the calf. If you do not like liver, forget liver.

Put the tail soup bone—salt and pepper. Cook of kidney fat about the size of a croquet ball or a small ball.

Put meat from brisket roast or burger or stew meat. If you do not put the liver in, boil it for 30 or 40 minutes before adding it to the stew.

Put the ox tail soup bone until meat is fairly done and then add meat from the bones, put in all the ingredients up to as much as the size as is plain chili, not too fine.

Put the brains in until the 30-45 minutes, as it does not cook more quickly than other ingredients.

Put the cowboys win hands over high society.

Put the brains in until the 30-45 minutes, as it does not cook more quickly than other ingredients.

APPLE PECAN ROLLS make a Good Breakfast Better

Their plumes of cinnamon and apple drifting through the house make these rolls warm persuaders for generous breakfasts.

They whip up appetites. Before you know it, the members of the family are eating—and enjoying—the sound breakfast essential to build quick energy for the morning's work.

These Apple Pecan Rolls are light and hot and love to drink up butter. Spicy with cinnamon, with a taffy-like topping, each bite is crunchy with nuts and tastes of apples. With good reason! The rolls unfold a thick filling of canned apple sauce and pecans blended with butter and brown sugar. And they stay so fresh and moist they can be made the afternoon before and just reheated in the morning.

- 1 package roll mix
- 2 tablespoons sugar
- 6 tablespoons butter or margarine
- 1 1/4 cups canned apple sauce
- 3/4 cup brown sugar
- 1/2 cup chopped pecans
- Cinnamon

Prepare roll mix according to directions on package, adding 2 tablespoons of sugar. Cover; let rise until double in bulk.

Add 2 tablespoons butter to apple sauce; cook 10 minutes to evaporate some of the liquid, stirring occasionally; cool. Melt remaining 4 tablespoons butter in 9"x9"x2" pan; add brown sugar and heat until melted.

Roll out dough to 17"x9"x1/2" rectangle; spread with cooled apple sauce, sprinkle with pecans and cinnamon; roll up jelly roll fashion. Slice in 1" slices. Arrange cut side up in pan on sugar mixture. Cover; let rise until double in bulk. Bake in hot oven, 400 degrees, 20-25 minutes. Serve warm. Makes 16 rolls.

Hospital Auxiliary members work on coffee bar project

The Garza Hospital Auxiliary is selling tickets for a Madame Alexander doll to be given away Dec. 16.

"Jacqueline" is 21 inches tall and will be on display in various store windows until the day of the drawing. She made her debut in Maxine's Tuesday.

Members of the Auxiliary are making the wardrobe for "Jacqueline" and it will continue to grow as the members add different articles of clothing.

Tickets will be sold by Auxiliary members for 50 cents.

Proceeds from the tickets will be used to buy a coffee bar for the hospital lobby.

Recent additions and projects made by the Auxiliary at the hospital are: Surgical prep light, plant for lobby, birthday celebrations for the nurses, bringing and arranging flowers for the patients and a new wheelchair.

Money for these projects has been made from the sale of candy, life memberships and contributing memberships.

Mrs. Cornell is hostess at CWF Guild meeting

The CWF Guild of the First Christian Church met in Fellowship Hall of the Church on Tuesday night at 7:30 p. m.

Vice-president Rowena Pierce was in charge of the business meeting, after which Skeeter Justice gave the devotional using as her text "Your Life Is Showing," from Matthew 5:13-16. Charlene Haynie gave the lesson from Acts 12-15.

Mrs. Jess Cornell was the hostess and served refreshments to Ella Mae Hudman, Edna Mae Owen, Janie Davis, Esther Avant, Rowena Pierce, Charlene Haynie, Skeeter Justice, Nita Burress, and Mrs. Bernard Ramsey.

Best-dressed 'spook' prize is party award

Darrell Odum was judged the best-dressed "spook" at a Halloween party for juniors of the Calvary Baptist Church, held Tuesday night of last week in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Long.

Seventeen juniors participated in a series of games, after which they were served bubblegum, candy, cookies and punch.

Adult sponsors of the party were Mrs. Harold Britton, Mrs. Ila Mae Holleman, Mrs. Verna Harrison and Mr. and Mrs. Lee Long.

POST MUSIC CLUB

The Post Music Club will meet Nov. 21 in the home of Mrs. Glenn Norman, who lives six miles west of Graham. This is a change from the regular meeting date because of a conflict with the Parent Teachers Association classroom visitation.

Antique greeting card exhibition on display here

A panoramic study of the Christmas season is provided in a collection of antique Christmas cards, as well as greeting cards for "everyday" occasions, that are being exhibited at Maxine's Gift Shop during the month of November.

Fifty selected specimens, including cards for such everyday occasions as birthdays, get well, sympathy, and friendship, are included in the exhibition. The cards are on loan from the Hallmark Historical Collection, the world's largest gathering (50,000) of such pristine art specimens.

Included in the exhibition is a reproduction of the rare and valuable first Christmas card, created in London in 1843 by John Calcott Horsley, a member of the Royal Academy, for Sir Henry Cole.

Only a dozen specimens of the first Christmas card are known to exist today, and two of them are housed in the Hallmark collection.

Most of the cards in the collection were published between 1870 and 1890, and capture much of the elegance and splendor of the era. Unlike Christmas greetings of today, these cards feature mostly floral, animal and bird designs—rather than Santas, holly, poinsettia and other conventional holiday symbols.

Several specimens of 19th century friendship cards, which were used for many occasions for which specific greeting cards were not printed, are included in the exhibition.

Among the noted publishers and artists whose works are represented in the collection are Louis Prang, the pioneer Boston lithographer; Kate Greenaway, the celebrated British artist; and Marcus Ward & Co., an English greeting card firm well-known for quality reproduction.

Turkey makes a wonderful dish; prices are low

Turkey makes a wonderful fall dish, Garza County housewives are reminded, and to make things even better, turkey prices have been low for the past few weeks.

F. Z. Beanblossom, poultry marketing specialist for the Texas A&M College Extension Service, says this low price is due to an extra large supply and does not in any way reflect on the quality of birds offered for sale.

All sizes of birds are available, and they can be either roasted, smoked or barbecued. If a large bird is preferred, the homemaker can have the butcher saw it into halves or even quarters, depending on the family's needs.

A quarter of a turkey can be used in making many different, tasty dishes. Turkey spaghetti is a wonderful dish to serve to family and friends. For those who like more highly seasoned dishes, try turkey chow mein or turkey creole. Then there's always the old standby of turkey salad sandwiches.

The specialist points out that turkey is not only a convenient item for serving large groups, it also makes the food dollar go further. Turkey also lends itself to making many combination dishes, and it is one of the highest protein foods available today.

The next time you have a crowd in for a football weekend, or just for a short visit, try serving them turkey, says Beanblossom. They will like it, and it will save you time and trouble when mealtime approaches.

MISS KAY GORDON

Mr. and Mrs. Max Gordon of 916 West 8th St. announce the forthcoming marriage of their daughter, Miss Kay Gordon, to Haskell Don Edwards, son of Mr. and Mrs. M. K. Edwards of 855 South 18th St., Slaton.

The couple will be married Dec. 23 in the chapel of the First Methodist Church.

Miss Gordon is a 1961 graduate of Post High School. Her fiancé is a 1960 graduate of Slaton High School.

Mu Alpha Chapter completes plans for chili supper

The Texas Mu Alpha Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi met Monday night in the Community Room.

Mrs. Al Durbin, president, presided at the business meeting.

Plans were made for the chili supper to be held before the Stanton-Post football game. Names were drawn for secret pals.

Those present were: Mmes. Durbin, Wanda Mitchell, Hazel Greer, Elizabeth Grice, Dave Loyd, Sherry Josey, Margaret King and the new pledges: Jeanette Brown, Joan Stewart, Flute King, Twilight Dudley and Jeneice Reno.

Tuesday night, Mmes. Durbin, Ella Norene Ryder, Lee Davis, Willard Kirkpatrick and a guest, Mary Lee Wristen went to Lubbock to attend "An Evening with Basil Rathbone" under the sponsorship of the Special Events Committee of the Tech Student Union.

Rathbone brought a two-hour program which was divided into two parts. The first being, "The Poet" section and the last section being devoted to Shakespeare.

WMU at Southland names new officers

Mrs. Hubert Taylor was elected president of the Woman's Missionary Union at Southland at a meeting Monday afternoon.

Other officers and chairmen elected were as follows: Mrs. Minor, vice president; Mrs. Arthur Smallwood, mission study chairman; Mrs. D. D. Pennell, community mission chairman; Mrs. Jack Hargrove, secretary; Mrs. Jack Myers, prayer chairman; Mrs. Kenneth Davies, program chairman; Mrs. G. D. Ellis, social chairman.

ENGAGEMENT TOLD

Announcement has been made here of the engagement of Mrs. Estelle Montgomery to O. E. Keen, both of Post. The wedding is planned for the near future.

Culture Club members see films and collection of greeting cards

The Woman's Culture Club enjoyed a full program when they met last Wednesday in the Methodist Church Chapel with John Lott showing his collection of South American films and Miss Maxine Durrett exhibiting a collection of Hallmark greeting cards.

Fifty Hallmark Cards were exhibited dating from 1910-1961. Hallmark Cards began assembling the historical collection several decades ago in order to compile an accurate and interesting record of the development of the greeting card. The complete collection has been shown throughout the United States and was on display at the Brussels World Fair.

Miss Durrett gave an explanation of each card and its background. She also gave a brief history of when each type of card was introduced noting that year-round cards came into being in the 19th century and account for more than 50 per cent of all cards sold today.

Mr. Lott, who attended the Western Hemisphere Boy Scouting Conference in Porto Alegre last November, showed films of the trip. Mr. and Mrs. Lott particularly enjoyed their visit to Rio De Janeiro. Mr. Lott predicted that in a few years South America will be one of the most progressive countries.

Mrs. Lee Davis president, presided at a brief business meeting.

Mrs. R. T. Smith, Mrs. E. S. Stewart and Mrs. Lee Davis were hostesses for the tea hour.

Members and guests attending were:

Mmes M. J. Malouf, Don Dunbar, J. R. Durrett, J. H. Haire, Robert Sinner, James Matthews, T. L. Jones, Nell McCrary, Mae Voss, J. L. Stewart, Fred Robinson, L. A. Barrow, Monroe Lane, Kay Kirkpatrick, Tizard, Lee Davis, Miss Maxine Durrett Mr. Lott and the hostesses.

The next meeting will be held in the home of Mrs. Lee Davis, Nov. 15, at 3 o'clock. Mrs. Robert Sinner will be program director.

Classroom visits scheduled for November P-TA meeting

The Parent-Teacher Association will meet next Thursday at 7:30 p. m. in the school cafeteria.

Theme of the meeting will be "Strength Through Effective Learning."

Parents will visit their children's classrooms to become acquainted with the teachers and to hear of their children's work.

Mrs. Joe Callis presents program at WSCS meeting

The Woman's Society of Christian Service of the First Methodist Church met Monday at 9:30 a. m. in the chapel.

The meeting opened with the group singing, "More Love to Thee." Mrs. R. T. Smith then led them in prayer.

Mrs. Smith, president, presided at the business meeting.

The organization voted to send $10 to Conference Daughters as a token from their study of the book, "Edge of the Edge."

Mrs. Joe Callis presented the program, "Jesus Christ, Light of the World," taken from the theme of the third meeting of the World Council of Churches, which will meet soon in New Delhi, India. The purpose of the lesson was to have a better understanding of the theme when the Council meets.

Mrs. Callis was assisted by Mrs. W. R. Graeber, Mrs. T. L. Jones, Mrs. Don Osborn and Mr. Jim Hundley Sr.

Mrs. J. E. Parker and Mrs. A. B. Carter were hostesses to the 14 members present.

CFW regular meeting is held at church

The Christian Women's Fellowship of the First Christian Church held its regular meeting Monday at 2:30 p. m. in the Ladies Parlor at the church.

Mrs. Hub Haire, president, presided over the meeting. Mrs. Willard Kirkpatrick gave the devotional on "Stewardship," and Mrs. K. Stoker was in charge of the program using as her text Genesis 35-40.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Charles Luttrell to: Mmes K. Stoker, Lucy King, F. I. Bailey, F. C. Barker, Lew Baker, Ben Owen, Lee W. Davis, Lee W. Davis Jr., Hub Hair, Jack Burress and Miss Nora Stevens.

S. M. Pucketts wed 62 years

Mr. and Mrs. S. M. Puckett, who make their home with a daughter, Mrs. Lala Pennington, were honored Sunday on their 62nd wedding anniversary by their children, other relatives and friends.

Because of the couple's health, no open house was held.

Mr. and Mrs. Puckett were married in 1899 at Fairlee, Tex., and moved to Post in 1932 from Dickens County.

Present to honor them Saturday were Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Puckett and Janet, Mr. and Mrs. Howell Hutto and M. B. Hutto, all of Lubbock; Brode Puckett and Judy of Wichita Falls; Mrs. Pennington, Mr. and Mrs. Irvin Scarbrough and Mr. and Mrs. M. H. Hutto Jr., all of Post.

Law enforcement and the press

The law enforcement executive is professionally crippled if he cannot effectively communicate the strengths and needs of his agency to the community he serves through his relations with the press, radio, and television.

The foregoing statement is J. Edgar Hoover's — not ours. It prefaces a directive from Hoover, director of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, to all law enforcement officers in the November, 1961, Law Enforcement Bulletin.

Generally, The Post Dispatch has no complaint to make regarding its law enforcement news sources. Courtesy and cooperation in our reporting of the news is extended by every law enforcement group — city, county, highway patrol, liquor control board, etc.

If we had any complaint to make at this time it would be that we are not contacted the minute a "big story" breaks, which often prevents us from getting an on-the-scene picture of a wreck, and from letting the daily newspapers serving our territory know about it in time. That is a service any weekly newspaper "worth its salt" extends to its community. We do not feel that The Dispatch has "exclusive" rights to a story of area interest just because it happened in Post. We realize that some of our "brother" weekly newspaper editors will disagree with us on this point, but on it we're sticking by our guns.

The reason we're so often "overlooked" when a big story breaks is, of course, that the law enforcement officers are pretty busy at such a time and, unless they've formed the habit of notifying their newspaper as soon as possible, they just don't get around to it until it is too late for a picture, etc. What we'd like to see, the officers do is form a habit of calling us as soon as possible when a big story breaks.

But, to get back to Mr. Hoover's words in the FBI Law Enforcement Bulletin, he also said: "Law enforcement and journalism are locked arm in arm by mutual obligation to improve society and protect the dignity and security of community and nation. As working partners, each depends on the skill and conscientious efforts of the other."

"Instances of significant accomplishments resulting from active cooperation between editor and officer are infinite. Educational campaigns aimed at reducing traffic casualties have been dramatically effective in many areas through the efforts of both professions. Publicity has time after time led directly to the early apprehension of badly wanted fugitives and to the success of investigations of wide public interest. . . . The rapid dispersal by the news services of lifesaving instructions from enforcement authorities to endangered communities has many times averted loss of life and property.

"As a nerve center of human activity, law enforcement is examined and newly judged with each edition of the newspaper. . . . Prompt and factual news accounts of accomplishments, whether outstanding or routine, which demonstrate determination of purpose and sound professional competence properly emphasize the futility of lawlessness and underscore law enforcement's dedication to duty. News photographs of the officer at work — giving sympathetic help to a trusting child, firmly controlling the threat of mob action, capably executing an arrest, disregarding personal safety for the life of another human — are eyewitness testimony of service touching all points of the emotional compass.

"It is one of the virtues of our democratic society that the relationship between law enforcement and the news media is not forever smooth. On occasion, alert and aggressive newsmen develop sound evidence of abuse of authority in law enforcement, gross dereliction of duty, or outright corruption. Society and law enforcement benefit when the press skillfully exposes these canorous pockets and dutifully unmask those responsible. The large majority, however, of well-meaning, honest officers dedicated to fair and effective administration of justice need and receive the encouragement and support of the press.

"The key to meaningful cooperation between law enforcement and the news media is intelligent understanding of the role and procedure of both professions. Not only should the enforcement executive recognize and appreciate the right of the public to be informed of police activities, but he should consider it his duty to assure that legitimate newsmen receive full and wholehearted assistance from every level of his department. His day-to-day dealings with the press should stimulate justified confidence in the ability of his agency and trust in his sincerity."—CD

Chest eliminates 'giving jungle'

Garza County's 1962 Community Chest campaign for $13,000 is about to be launched. In fact, the first Chest contribution for the new year is already in—from the Santa Fe Railroad.

Prior to the start of the drive, this is a good time to briefly review what Garza County gets for its money out of the Community Chest.

It gets careful, controlled giving—and in these days of nationwide charity or research drives which appeal strongly to our emotions, this is highly important.

Our giving is controlled by ourselves. Just last week, a group of well-regarded local citizens met and went over each participating agency's budget request. They wanted them in writing, and in detail, and they requested a representative personally present it to answer questions.

What was needed was approved—this county's fair share.

The Chest wraps up all such community drives into one campaign. There is currently only one such financial campaign outside the Chest—the March of Dimes in January, and that is not conducted via solicitation.

In Chest drives, the participating agencies receive only the amounts they have asked for and are approved to receive. Should a drive go over the top by a small amount or large—the money is kept to be used for Chest causes the next year.

To sum it up, the Chest way is a very successful, business-like way to do our community giving.

We run the show, distribute the donations to approved agencies, and by putting it all together in one package we save hundreds of man-hours and woman-hours of volunteer fund raising time.

But to be successful, the Chest drive must be understood—the givers must know they are giving to all agencies for a full year, not just to a single agency.

A dollar given is divided into six or seven shares. So it takes a lot of dollars—it means giving a full share to everything with one pledge.

To those of us who can't afford a year's giving at one whack, payments can be pledged throughout the year as the giver desires to pay. Reminders are mailed when those times come so that the giving may be spread out if necessary.

The Postex Mill for example accepts regularly worker deductions for Chest giving to ease the burden.

The Chest in recent years always managed to reach its goal, or come so close that any leftovers from former years were added to make the full budget.

The Chest is well organized and attempts to reach everybody in the community. That is so important. In some fields this is still difficult, but the Chest in recent years has reached farther and farther to let each Garza countian participate.

Remember all this when Chest pledge time comes. The drive occurs but once a year—and it's easy to forget how important it is. A yardstick of giving for a salaried worker is "one day's pay." That's a fair share.

Be ready to give when the Chest worker calls upon you. Give generously. Make the Chest successful as the best method of giving to such causes because a Chest failure can destroy the Chest itself as agencies will seek individual ways to raise funds and we'll be back in the "giving jungle" again without local control.—JC.

Circular bombardment begins

We've noticed that the direct mail circular brigade has already started stacking more work on the postal staff, and every patron is going to be bombed with this conglomeration through the U. S. mails from now throughout the holiday season.

It's perfectly legitimate, of course. If it wasn't, the Post Office Department wouldn't have anything to do with it. But, as far as doing the advertiser any good, the circulars are hardly worth the paper they are printed on.

If you ever get to wondering where the greater portion of these circular pieces go, just look in the wastebasket in the lobby of the post office. You'll usually find a generous supply there. Which brings on the question—did you ever see a copy of The Post Dispatch in that wastebasket?—CD.

What our contemporaries are saying

The growth of character is like the growth of a tree. The years develop its strength, resistance and magnitude in magnificent silence, until generations may rest beneath the protection of its boughs.—Douglas Meador in Matador Tribune.

When we speak of financial statements we always think of taxes and elections. It's kind of automatic with a newspaperman — particularly with so much interest in politics, government, sales taxes, etc., at this time. In January, candidates will offer for various public offices from the statehouse to the courthouse. We like to see the real democratic process in action. We like lots of candidates—ample discussion of the issues—and it is good for the country to get new men and women—new faces—in the various races. And, too, how are the young men and women in the community going to do well in business and professional places unless they know something about their government? We should return to the rule that a public office is a public trust and that the holder of any public office is the servant of the people and not a special character with eternal authority and power. After all, there has to be a first time for everyone interested in offering for public office.—Neal Estes in The Stanton Reporter.

THURSDAY to THURSDAY

By CHARLES DIDWAY

MORE AND MORE candidates are getting into the race for Lieutenant Governor. Maybe somebody had better set a limit on the number of candidates or it might go in to orbit like last year's race for U. S. Senator.

Much like reports on Russia's nuclear bomb tests, news of Halloween activities in area towns is a little late reaching us, but not for the same reasons. Here at The Dispatch office, we get our exchange newspapers after our own paper is already out, so I had to wait until this week to do a "rundown" on some of the Halloween goings-on in other places.

I LEARNED, for instance, that the faithfully-followed custom here of burning an outhouse on West Main Street isn't the only traditional Halloween custom in the area. Over at McAdoo, in Dickens County, pranksters applied a paint job to School Supt. Henry Teague's hogs for the ninth consecutive year.

The Crosbyton Review reports that Teague stepped out the morning after Halloween to see what color his pigs were and found the 13 Landrace hogs had been tinted various shades of green, black and silver. Teague said he thought years ago the gag would die down after the first guilty students graduated, but that the pig-painting had become a sort of tradition now, passed on from generation to generation.

THE McADOO school man philosophically observed that the pig-painting over there is a sort of economic barrier. "During the drought years," he said, "they just used one color—red, or whatever they could get—and it was of the cheapest quality. The three shades of paint used to tint my hogs this Halloween indicates that the economy of McAdoo is doing much better."

Spur's newspaper, The Texas Spur, reports that two serious accidents were mixed in with Halloween doings there. A youth was injured when he fell from a trailer while on a Halloween hayride, and a volunteer fireman was hurt when the roof of a burning building collapsed under him. On the brighter side, Spur's brand-new school plant escaped Halloween damage, with only an FFA trailer being upended in the vicinity.

THINGS WERE SO quiet over at Tahoka, reports the Lynn County News, that several citizens and property owners expressed their gratitude to the young people for their mature behavior, and said once again that they "have found that Tahoka's youth is about the finest anywhere." The Tahoka newspaper commented: "Since everything 'bad' that happens is usually reported, the News reaffirms its stand that the fact that nothing happened should be twice as good a news story."

Matador is one area town that really took its lumps Halloween night. Vandals pulled out the plumbing at the county rest rooms on the courthouse square, making it necessary to cut off the water to the courthouse, and windows in the rest rooms were smashed. A plate glass window was broken at a grocery store, garbage and litter was scattered on the streets and watermelon rinds were hurled against windows. Peace officers were kept busy, not only in Matador, but also at nearby Roaring Springs and Florent, in an effort to keep property damage at a minimum.

AT OLTON, ONE group of youngsters went on an egg-throwing spree, and Hamlin had trouble from gangs of youngsters who were throwing rocks, chunks of watermelon, eggs and water-filled balloons at passing motorists. It required four regular police officers plus six firemen to keep the gangs under partial control and from completely blockading the streets.

THE STAMFORD American reports that police there were able to keep Halloween mischief at a minimum by imposing a 9 o'clock curfew on trick or treaters and by limiting the size of crowds that night. Even so, seven juveniles were hauled in for shooting BB guns, and the chief of police reported Wednesday morning that "things are in a mess."

And so it goes, from year to year. Incidentally, Post's city superintendent, Henry Tate, tells me that the outhouse burned here Halloween night was a one-holer instead of a two-holer, as those burned in the past have been. So, perhaps, the type of paint used on the McAdoo hogs may not be the only economy barometer in connection with Halloween. The type of outhouse burned here Halloween night might indicate that conditions are worsening, or vice versa—all according to how you look at it.

THE MAN UP the street says a fellow misses silent films. It was so good to see a woman open her mouth and have no sound come out.

Marshall Formby says he will announce candidacy in January

Marshall Formby says he is going to make a formal announcement as Democratic candidate for governor in January.

Formby, who is a former chairman of the Texas Highway Commission, says that he will have blanks in his platform to simplify the tax system and to change the unfair merit automobile insurance plan.

"Our taxing system is in a muddle," he said. "Cost of collecting the present sales tax is too costly and troublesome."

He said he was vigorously against the plan which is now in effect by orders of the State Insurance Board. Under the system, a driver who is convicted for a moving violation not only pays the ordinary fine but must pay a penalty to his insurance premiums for three years.

"I don't think that a driver who is convicted of a minor traffic violation should be penalized $60 to $100 a year in insurance payments during next three years," Formby said. "Going 35 miles an hour in a 30-mile zone does not necessarily make a man an unsafe driver."

Formby, a practicing attorney says: "When a man is convicted of a traffic violation or any crime, the courts set a penalty as provided by law as his punishment. Under the ruling of the Insurance Board, a driver convicted of a minor traffic violation not only pays the fine provided by law but he also must pay the insurance penalty for three years as set out by the Insurance Board. To me, this is double jeopardy."

Formby was born in Hopkins County in East Texas. He now lives at Plainview. While a member of the State Highway Commission he was a strong advocate of the Farm-to-Market road system.

Stanley L. Butler is Conoco agent

Appointment of Stanley L. Butler as commission agent for Continental Oil Company in the Post area has been announced by E. G. Hoover, manager of marketing for Conoco's Fort Worth division.

A native of Putnam, Tex., Butler has been a resident of Post since 1948 and has worked with Service Pipe Line Company here and as owner and operator of his own L. P. Gas company.

As commission agent, Butler will supervise the distribution of Conoco petroleum products throughout the Post area.

Crosby County Library gets funds for books

CROSBYTON—Crosby County Library has announced a book purchasing budget of $4,000 for the next year, according to Mrs. Bob Work, local Library Friends' official.

The Texas State Extension Service has allotted $2,500 to buy new books, and $1,500 of the $2,500 allotted by Crosby County commissioners will be spent for books. The remainder is budgeted for operating expenses.

I Give You Texas ...

By BOYCE HOUSE

Astrol through downtown Knoxville provides interesting sights.

On the lawn of the courthouse, a historic-looking building, are three monuments, side by side. The one in the center honors John Sevier, (1815), governor of the State of Franklin, six times governor of Tennessee, four times elected to Congress, a hero of King's mountain, "thirty-five battles, thirty-five victories."

On one side of Sevier's monument stands a monument to his first wife, Sarah Hawkins, "the love of his youth, the inspiration of his manhood." On the other side is a monument to his second wife, "Bonny Kate."

There also stands on the grounds a bronze figure representing the men who fought in the War with Spain and, on the site of a pioneer blockhouse, is a simple marker, which was unveiled by Admiral Schley in 1902. Schley was, of course, a hero of the War with Spain.

Knoxville stands on hills, on the banks of the broad Tennessee, with the Big Smokies in the distance. East Tennessee was pro-Union in its sympathies, a fact that is reflected by the circumstance that one hotel is named the Farragut and another, the Andrew Johnson.

A great name in literature is honored by Mark Twain Motors—although the company's owner also may bear that name. Twain was not of course a Tennessean but when he was growing up the talk in his family was of "the Tennessee lands," a legacy which they believed would make them rich. The lands were, I believe, in East Tennessee and were supposed to be rich in coal.

A few days after I became West Texas staff writer for the old Fort Worth Record, back in 1925, I went to Abilene to write up the fair. A feature was an automobile race. As one of the cars was straightening out after a swerve, a tire wrenched loose and bounced high in the air, landing in a throng near the fence. A man was struck and that night he died. I was not far away from the spot where the accident happened. Had it occurred at a different spot on the track, it could have been me.

As one thinks back over his life, an event like that causes him to wonder.

Texas Masons to level infirmary cornerstone

FORT WORTH—Cornerstone leveling of the new infirmary building being erected here on the campus of Masonic Home and School of Texas is scheduled Nov. 11, it has been announced by George R. M. Montgomery of Fort Worth, Past Texas Grand Master and president of the home's board of directors.

William G. Proctor of McKinney, Grand Master of the Masonic Grand Lodge of Texas, will level the cornerstone. Completion of the building is expected in late spring of 1962. It will serve 186 students now at Masonic Home and School, whose rising enrollment has almost doubled in the last three or four years.

The new 40-bed infirmary will have completely modern clinical facilities. The ward wings are designed so movable walls can be adjusted to provide various numbers of isolation rooms with private bathrooms. There will be two medical treatment rooms, one consultation room and a medical records room.

Mrs. Homer Robinett of the Calgary community was in Fort Worth recently to attend funeral services for her uncle, Fred Loren. She was accompanied by her brother, K. Morris; her sister, Mrs. Effie Harris, and an uncle, Bryan Ellis.

Burlington Industries, Inc., reports $23,274,000 net earnings for year

NEW YORK, N.Y. — Burlington Industries, Inc. today reported that net earnings for the fiscal year ended Sept. 30, 1961, were $23,274,000 after deducting income taxes of $28,876,000 and minority interests in earnings of $435,000.

Included in these earnings is non-recurring income of $2,320,000 after applicable income taxes, and a provision for estimated future loss on partial disposal of assets of the Peerless Woolen Mill of $3,900,000, net of related income taxes.

After preferred dividends and a above mentioned non-recurring items, net earnings were equal to $18.84 per common share on the 11,969,000 common shares outstanding at the end of that period.

ing at the end of the year. These results are subject to confirmation by the Company's auditors.

The Company reported consolidated net sales of $866,005,000 for the fiscal year ended Sept. 30, 1961. In the fiscal year ended Oct. 1, 1960 consolidated net sales were $912,989,000.

Net earnings for the 1960 fiscal year were $35,432,000 after deducting income taxes of $38,421,000 and minority interests in earnings of $901,000. After preferred dividends net earnings were equal to $2.81 per share on the 12,140,000 common shares outstanding at the end of that period.

(From Bellville Countryman) Oct. 30, 1861

On the 31st, ult., a frost fell in this vicinity; in the bottoms sufficient we understand to kill vegetation, so you may look out for Pi-cayune Butler, who announced in a recent speech at a glorification meeting in New York over the capture of Fort Hatteras, that "when our ally Jack Frost shall have wiped out the malaria of the South, we will march Southward, to return no more until this great rebellion is crushed out of the Union."

From some cause, we can hardly tell what, there seems to be quite a change in public sentiment upon the probability of an attack by way of the sea-coast; especially is this the case in Austin County. Why this change we are unable to answer. —What, says one, can Lincoln gain by invading Texas? Well, we don't know what he would gain, but we think not much. He probably thinks by invading Texas, the sooner to make us submit.

The coast is understood to be in a defenseless condition; it needs men well-armed, equipped and drilled to defend it. Again, Lincoln thinks there are still many Union men in Texas, and it only needs the presence of this army on the coast to excite that class of people and cause them to come to his assistance. Of course, this is all false, but Lincoln doesn't think so.

Traffic toll higher?

AUSTIN—Col. Homer Garrison Jr., director of the Texas Department of Public Safety says statistics indicate at this time that traffic deaths in Texas will run one per cent higher this year than in 1960—which would mean 20 to 25 more motorcides than last year, when a total of 2,254 traffic deaths were recorded.

Some cars have new names... this name will have a new car!

The name is familiar—the Ford Fairlane 500. The car itself is totally new—so new you'll see nothing else like it this year. It is one of Ford's milestone designs—and will be as influential in its way as the first mass-produced car (a Ford Model T), the first popular station wagon (a Ford Wagon), the first four-passenger luxury car (a Ford Thunderbird), the world's most successful compact (a Ford Falcon).

Right between Galaxie and Falcon in size and in price, the 1962 Ford Fairlane 500 is just the right car for just about everybody; you have never been able to buy anything so right before.

Big in room, ride and performance, it is still priced under most compacts. It nuses a nickel as though it never expected to see another. It moves like a rabbit on roller skates.

Twice-a-year maintenance Service is reduced to a minimum—30,000 miles on many items, twice a year on the rest. You go 50,000 miles between major lubrications, 6,000 miles between oil changes and minor lubrications. You don't have to touch the engine coolant-antifreeze for two years—or 30,000 miles—at a time. Brakes adjust themselves.

All-new economy Eight from world's V-8 leader

The hand that honed the Thunderbird—and sped the Falcon to all-time Economy Run honors—turned to a new problem here, the world's first economy V-8. Made possible by new Ford foundry methods, the new Challenger V-8 is as strong as iron—and a lot lighter than iron's ever been before. As lively as you'd like ... thrifter than you'd expect a V-8 to be ... it's a natural powerplant for America's first eat-your-cake-and-have-it-car.

For those who want even greater thrift, there's a new Fairlane Six. Its economy would be gratifying in a smaller car. In a car this size it's a downright delight.

Preview America's newest car now

As part of Preview Run U.S.A., new Fairlane 500's are riding the nation's highways and main streets right now. Watch for them. See what thousands have already seen—and raved about. Take a turn at the wheel—and perhaps do a little raving yourself.

We think you'll agree: this all-new Ford is just right for just about everybody. No matter how many new cars you've looked at, you haven't seen anything like this one. It will be at your Ford Dealer's next week. If you miss it now, be sure to see it then.

JUST RIGHT FOR JUST ABOUT EVERYBODY!

County judge tells of three future projects

Courthouse and jail, hospital expansions due

County Judge J. E. Parker took a look into the future for Post Rotarians at their Tuesday luncheon in "a report on your county government" and named three county projects coming up for the public's consideration.

- They are:
- (1) A new county jail and a courthouse expansion "which will be necessary in the near future."
 - (2) Expansion of the Garza Memorial Hospital which would double the hospital's bed capacity with federal aid in the construction.
 - (3) Four-laning of US-84 northwest from the top of the Caprock to the Lynn County line which requires 50-50 sharing of the cost of the right-of-way purchase by Precinct 1 taxpayers with the state.

As to the costs to the taxpayers of the courthouse expansion and the new jail and the hospital expansion, Judge Parker sounded a very hopeful note for county taxpayers.

"It is our hope," he said, "that all of this can be done without an increase in the tax rate, and if our plans culminate it can."

AS TO THE right-of-way costs for the long-sought highway project, Judge Parker explained that engineers are now completing an appraisal of the costs for this right-of-way.

"You can rest assured," Judge Parker said, "you will know where every cent will be spent."

He added that too much could not be said about the four-laning project at present until the costs are known, but that "the tax will amount to very little" on Precinct 1's tax valuation of approximately $7,000,000.

"I feel sure," he added, "that Precinct 1 taxpayers will approve of a bond issue for this purpose."

The new jail is a "must," he explained, because although the present one "is in good repair for its age, it will not meet present state jail specifications."

"We also need more room at the courthouse," he said.

He estimated the new jail and courthouse expansion project would cost approximately $200,000, but went on to point out the commissioners' court thinks it can be financed without a tax rate increase.

ON THE SUBJECT of the hospital project, Judge Parker declared "we must look forward to an expansion program on account of the demand for private rooms."

"We have a county hospital which soon will be ten years old," he said. "It will soon be on its own financially, we hope. Some of its equipment will have to be replaced. We feel that we can increase the hospital's bed capacity by 50 per cent at a net cost to the Garza county taxpayers—with the help we can receive from the federal government—of not over $50,000."

While pointing to these future needs, Judge Parker emphasized that "we feel it pays to be cautious in the face of the inflationary trend."

"Our county is in the top bracket for financial soundness and we feel all future projects cautiously approached can be handled without becoming a burden to anyone."

"Our county debt," he declared, "is negligible."

He carefully reviewed the entire county and precincts' bonded indebtedness, pointing out that currently it totals $227,000 with $90,000 in sinking funds to help retire it, leaving a net indebtedness of only $137,000 against a county tax valuation of $15,986,130.

OF THE present bonded indebtedness, he reported: The $175,000 20-year bond issue of Aug. 15, 1950, for the hospital's construction has had $117,000 retired to date and of the $83,000 still owed there is $30,000 in the hospital bond sinking fund and an additional $10,000 investment from that fund in government bonds, leaving a net to be

1962 Chest budget of $13,000 adopted

A $13,000 budget for the 1962 Garza County Community Chest—some $372 under the current year's—was unanimously adopted by the Chest directors late Monday afternoon.

Meeting in the Community Room directors set the Chest drive for the first week in December with the "big gifts committee" to kick off their important effort a week to ten days ahead of that date.

Action on setting the drive week came on the recommendation of Bryan J. Williams, Chest campaign chairman this year.

The Chest board wants to wait until the big cotton harvest is in full swing but doesn't want to encroach too much on the Christmas buying season either.

The adoption of a budget $572 under the current one was caused mainly by the American Heart Association withdrawing from the Chest this year—an action announced some months ago, in keeping with their national board's decision to stay out of united fund raising efforts.

Eight agencies will participate in the campaign this year instead of the nine for the last drive. There were no new participants to receive Chest money.

Most of the participating agencies requested the same amounts asked a year ago.

The American Red Cross asked for $100 less this year—$1,500 instead of $1,600. The Girl Scout request was $39 less, dropping from $1,739 to $1,700.

The Texas United Fund, of which the USO is the main recipient of funds, asked and got a $50 increase from $538 a year ago to $588 this time.

Other agencies request the same, as follows:

Texas Rehabilitation Center $500, Garza County Youth Center, $1,700, Salvation Army $1,695, Boy Scouts $3,000, and the Youth Summer Baseball program $2,000.

The $2,000 for the summer baseball program is to complete the financing of the lighting and stands for the Babe Ruth league park here. The park was completed this spring.

Action approving the budget came on the recommendation of the

HALL OF FAME IS TO ADMIT CASH

Norman Cash, first baseman for the Detroit Tigers, will be admitted to the Hall of Fame of the National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics at a special day in his honor at Alpine, Tex., Saturday, Nov. 11.

A. O. Duer, executive secretary of the NAIA, will present the award plaque to the major league star, who was graduated from Sul Ross State College of Alpine in 1955.

Cash will be the fifth baseball player awarded the honor by the NAIA. Others are Lloyd and Paul Wann of East Central Oklahoma State College, George Altman of Tennessee A&I and James Goff, Illinois State Normal University.

Cash, who was honored at a special day here Oct. 26, topped the American League batters last season with a .361 average and 193 hits.

Sewer, zoning and planning

Good news on two upcoming city projects—sewer system extensions and zoning and planning—was announced by Mayor Powell Shytle at Monday night's city council meeting.

The mayor showed a letter from the State Department of Health in which the Department advised the city that it is issuing a priority to the U. S. Public Health Service for the city's sewer project and that a grant offer should be forthcoming soon.

Total cost of the sewer project, which will provide for service into areas of the city which are now without it, will range from $50,000 to $70,000, according to engineers' estimates. The federal grant would be for 35 per cent of the total cost.

The project will extend sewer lines into the northeast part of the city and also calls for construction of a lift station.

On the zoning and planning project, the mayor was authorized by the council to sign a three-way contract, in which the parties are the City of Post, the State Health Department and Koch, Fowler & Graf, consulting engineers of Dallas. The engineering firm was accepted by the city several months ago after being recommended by a local zoning and planning committee.

The city's cost on the zoning and planning project will be about $5,150 or 40 per cent of the total, with the federal government paying the remainder.

The city council tentatively approved a subdivision plot, in the west part of town, owned by R. E. Josev, after hearing Julian F. Smith, resident highway engineer, explain how Josev proposed to build a street through the subdivision from 10th Street to the Tahoka Highway to provide drainage. Smith showed the council a sketch of the subdivision and the proposed street.

All Legionnaires, as well as all other war veterans, are invited to attend the annual Veterans' Day supper at 8 p. m. Friday at the Legion Hall.

The supper is sponsored by American Legion Post No. 270.

The post's regular November meeting will be held that night instead of Tuesday, Nov. 7.

Shoplifters hit Maxine's here

Shoplifters made a real "haul" Saturday at Maxine's fashions, jewelry and gift shop.

Sheriff L. E. (Fay) Claborn Jr., reported two fur-trimmed coats, two ladies' suits and a ladies dress stolen.

Claborn commented, "We're working hard on this case."

Merchants buying them

Up to Wednesday noon, more than 40 Post merchants and other business firms had purchased five-foot Christmas trees for the Yuletide decoration program here, according to Johnny Hopkins, manager of the Chamber of Commerce.

Each business place can obtain one of the trees by paying $3, Hopkins said. Those who have not been contacted, but who wish to purchase one of the trees are asked to contact the Chamber office within the

Christmas trees to line streets

Up to Wednesday noon, more than 40 Post merchants and other business firms had purchased five-foot Christmas trees for the Yuletide decoration program here, according to Johnny Hopkins, manager of the Chamber of Commerce.

Each business place can obtain one of the trees by paying $3, Hopkins said. Those who have not been contacted, but who wish to purchase one of the trees are asked to contact the Chamber office within the next few days.

The five-foot trees, which the purchasers may decorate and light, if they wish, will be only part of the Christmas decorations program, Hopkins said. Again this year, there will be a big tree at Main and Avenue I, and Christmas lights will be strung across the streets.

A list of firms purchasing the trees will be published in an early issue of The Dispatch.

Tahoka rites are held Wednesday for Mrs. Minor

Funeral services for Mrs. John W. Minor, mother of James L. Minor of Post, were conducted at 2 p. m. Wednesday in the First Baptist Church of Tahoka, of which she was a member.

Mrs. Minor, who was 72, died at 8 a. m. Monday in West Plains Hospital at Muleshoe. She had suffered a stroke while visiting at Muleshoe in the home of a daughter, Mrs. Glenn Phipps.

Mrs. Minor had been a resident of Lynn County since 1923.

She was born Bertha Mae Swope on Jan. 29, 1889, in Lampasas County, and was married to John W. Minor on March 11, 1906, at Belton.

The family moved to Lynn County from Haskell.

Mrs. Minor is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Cleve Bairrington of O'Donnell and Mrs. Phipps; five sons, A. J. of Spokane, Wash., Jack of Seagraves, James of Post, Joe Don of Brownfield and Maj. Max Minor of West Point, N. Y.; four brothers, Henry, Lon and Charles Swope, all of Killeen, and J. B. Swope of Houston; 26 grandchildren and 19 great-grandchildren.

Rev. George A. Dale of Lubbock and Rev. Joe A. Webb, pastor of the Sweet Street Baptist Church of Tahoka, officiated at the funeral services. Interment was in Tahoka Cemetery under the direction of Stanley Funeral Home.

Pallbearers were A. J. Thompson of Lubbock, Charles Benson of Post, J. L. Phipps of Muleshoe and Ivan Cathcart, Jess Gurbey, Charles Townes, Jake Jacobs and Chester Short, all of Tahoka.

Hodges' condition said improving

Slow, but steady, improvement was reported yesterday in the condition of Ray Hodges, who was injured Oct. 28 while rounding up cattle on the Tom Sims ranch.

Hodges was injured in a fall from his horse after it stepped in a hole.

He is in Lubbock Methodist Hospital, where a pin has been inserted temporarily in his shattered right elbow. Members of the family said it would be from five to seven weeks before the injured arm can be set and put in a cast.

Except for lapses, Hodges has regained consciousness, it was reported.

Lions take in $200 with pancake supper

The Post Lions Club took in approximately $200 at its Aunt Jemima Pancake Supper Tuesday night.

The Lions' pancake supper committee members said they were well pleased with the turnout and wish to thank the public for its response.

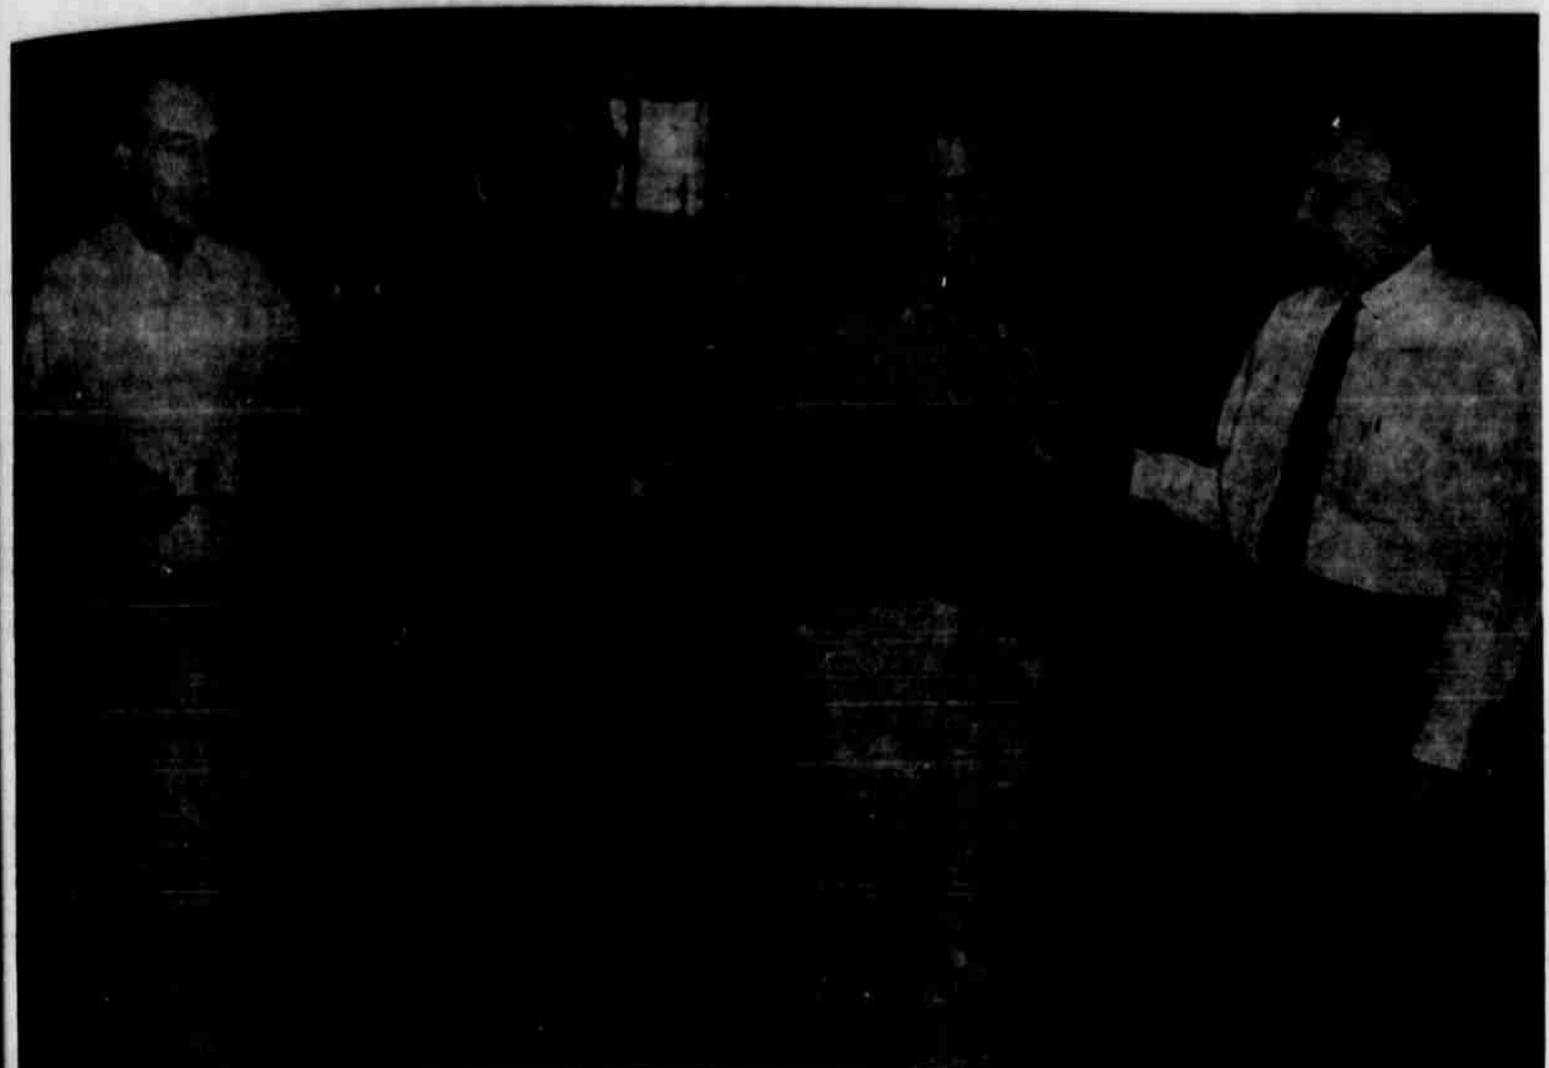

The Lions Club will use the proceeds in its community work program.

Post High Choir concert tonight

The Post High School Choir's first fall concert will be presented at 7:30 p. m. today in the grade school auditorium under the direction of George M. Willson.

In addition to songs by the choir, there will be numbers by special groups including four girls' sextets, a boys' trio and a boys' quartet.

The public is invited to the concert. Director Willson said.

SAFE DRIVING AWARDS TO RURAL MAIL CARRIERS

three have driven approximately 635,000 miles in delivering the mail without an avoidable accident. McCampbell is Route 2 carrier; Bouchier, Route 3, and Davies, Route 1.—(Staff Photo.)

We'd invite all Dispatch readers to give a careful reading to today's top story—County Judge J. E. Parker's report to the Rotary Club Tuesday on our county government—and what he sees ahead for it and us.

Judge Parker probably will be surprised when he sees the prominent display given to the story of his Rotary talk and its completeness into most details. But at The Dispatch we feel it's mighty important for people to know more about and understand their local units of government, their problems, their financing, etc.

Judge Parker did a thorough job in his report and gives us all a lot of food for thought. While he emphasized careful concern for the county's fiscal status from start to finish, including a point-by-point review of all current indebtedness, he went on to point the way to three county projects which are soon going to need doing. He said that they can be done at little cost to the taxpayers, and that the commissioners' court hopes to go forward with future projects without a tax rate increase. That's a mighty fine bargain these days for any group of taxpayers. It shows good business judgment but at the same time a progressive outlook.

We feel sure when the time comes for the three future projects Judge Parker named in his talk that they will be given the support of a vast majority of taxpayers.

Buddy Cash and Irby Metcalf went to San Angelo Monday night for the San Angelo College banquet honoring Norman Cash, Garza's American League batting champion. Cash was presented a rifle and a silver watch. Norm was graduated from the San Angelo Junior College before going to Sul Ross. Cash's wife was present at the banquet with him. Money for the rifle and watch was raised from the sale of tickets.

Roy Baker's condition reported improved

City Councilman Roy Baker, who has his law in two places when he is at home here Oct. 25, returned home last Thursday from Lubbock Methodist Hospital, where he had undergone surgery.

Baker was taken back to the hospital Tuesday for a checkup and returned to his home here Wednesday. Doctors there said he seemed to be getting along all right.

Baker will be confined to his home for about two months, a member of the family said yesterday.

$65,600 damage suit filed, district court

A $65,600 damage suit has been filed in district court here by Dillard C. Morris and Jerry Morris against Jeff Gaham, doing business as the Jeff Graham Trucking Co., and Luther Bourns.

A suit was for alleged damages sustained in an accident about noon Nov. 17, 1960, when a Graham Trucking Co. truck driven by Bourns allegedly collided with a tractor with boll pulling attachment and cotton trailer, driven by Jerry Morris, 20, and owned by Dillard C. Morris, on US-84, six miles northwest of Post.

Credit group here to name directors

Ballots for the election of three directors were mailed last Thursday to members of the Retail Credit Association of Post.

The mail ballots contain the names of seven nominees and members are asked to vote for three of the seven, E. E. Pierce, secretary-manager, said.

Results of the director election will be announced early in December.

The seven nominees are: T. B. Odam of Western Auto, Clint Herring of Herring's Department Store, Charles Propst of Propst Insurance Agency, Victor Hudman of Hudman Furniture Store, DeWitt Caylor of Caylor's Service Station, Harold Lucas of Post Insurance Agency, and Tom Power of Tom Power—Ford.

Members of the nominating committee were Robert Cox, Ed Sawyers and Vernon Scott.

Little loot lost in burglary wave

A rash of burglaries here Saturday and Tuesday nights in which seven business houses were entered and efforts made to break into the seventh resulted in the total loss of "only about $20", according to Sheriff L. E. (Fay) Claborn Jr.

The sheriff said property damage in some of the places amounted to much more than the total loss.

The break-ins resulted in the breaking into of Coke machines, candy machines, and peanut machines at the various business firms.

The Post Bowling Center was broken into, via a window, Saturday night.

Places hit Tuesday night included Garza Farm Store, the Rogers Tractor Co., Post Auto Supply, all situated side by side, the Wilson Brothers Service Station, the Caprock Grain Co., and the Post Drive-In next to the Wilson service station.

Claborn said entrance was gained either through windows, or by prying open doors.

The burglars failed to gain entrance at the City Shoe Shop.
