Antique cars are being sought for Tumbleweed festival parade

COLORADO CITY — Bob Reilly, Parade Marshal for the 1962 Tumbleweed Festival parade, this week began a search for antique cars to add still more color to this already colorful segment of the Festival. The three year old annual event is slated this year for May 11 and 12.

Reilly stated that the parade would be open to anyone wanting to drive a restored antique car. The only requirements are that the car must be pre-World War II in good shape and run under its own power. Antique car owners who are interested must contact the Colorado City Chamber of Commerce, Box 242, Colorado City, Tex., before May 1, 1962, Reilly said.

Other major features of the parade, which this year will be in honor of Congressman George Mahon, will be some 20 floats made primarily of tumbleweed. Tumbleweed Queen Pageant contestants will ride the floats in the parade. Convertibles carrying Mahon, the secretary of the Air Force and other state and national dignitaries will be intermingled with the floats. Music and color will be provided by area school bands. An Air Force Color Guard will lead off the hour-long parade.

A noon luncheon at which area leaders will honor Congressman Mahon will precede the parade. Over 300 Mitchell County residents will gather in Colorado City's Civic House for the luncheon to pay tribute to the county's native son. Mahon, congressman representing the 19th Congressional District since its formation in 1934, is chairman of the powerful House Subcommittee on Military Appropriations.

The rest of the festival weekend will be filled with the beauty pageant and entertainment. A preliminary for the pageant will be presented in the High School Auditorium Friday night. Entertainment for this and the Saturday night pageant finals will be the world famous Stringalongs, featured artists for Dot Records.

Saturday afternoon a jam session for the teenage set will provide informal entertainment with music by the Stringalongs. That night the first, second, and third place winners in the Miss Tumbleweed contest will be named in a series of eliminations. The girls will be presented both nights in evening gowns and bathing suits.

The annual event was started in Colorado City in 1960 to mark the opening of the unique Tumbleweed Company, a manufacturing plant dealing primarily in decorative wreaths and special order store decorations.

Jamee Gaining in Arthritis Fight

Jamee Schmall, 9 years, of Rochester, N. Y. (left), as she looked about a year ago. Note "moon face" effect. Jamee is home today (right) after treatment at the March of Dimes-supported Arthritis Study Center, University of Rochester Medical School.

Gloom—heartbreak—despair. These were nine-year-old Jamee Schmall's feelings for so many of the long months of her battle with arthritis. She was at least 60 pounds overweight and could scarcely recognize herself in the mirror.

Once a gay and carefree little girl, Jamee's unbearable pains and changed appearance had turned her into a surly and hostile child.

But, as the accompanying "before-and-after" photos suggest, Jamee's progress so far makes her future look quite encouraging.

Much of the transformation of Jamee took place at the March of Dimes-supported Arthritis Clinical Study Center, University of Rochester Medical School, where the blue-eyed child was first hospitalized in January, 1959. Her pains from rheumatoid arthritis, felt in almost every part of her body, were of such severity that Jamee spent most of her time crying—even screaming with pain.

For nearly two years, the child's doctors were compelled to administer cortisone, one of the steroid hormones, to reduce the intolerable pain Jamee was undergoing. In many cases of rheumatoid arthritis, cortisone serves to reduce inflammation. It often restores at least some mobility in the joints which, in turn means that the indispensable exercises of physical therapy can begin.

Unfortunately, cortisone in the large doses Jamee required for relief sometimes has its drawbacks. Side effects in her case included a "moon face" appearance.

Specialists at the March of Dimes-supported clinic treated Jamee with intensive physical and hydrotherapy (exercise baths in swirling water), and carefully regulated her diet. Gradually the little girl's cruel pains decreased, permitting a reduction in the cortisone dosage. The swollen "moon face," which had so distressed the child, began to diminish. Her weight came down from an incredible 118 pounds to a normal 54 pounds. Muscle strength and joint motion increased. This meant more weight-bearing ability and, thus, occasional escape from bed and wheel chair.

Jamee's hospitalization ended. But continuing home therapy was indispensable. The Monroe County (N. Y.) chapter of The National Foundation—March of Dimes provided for twice-a-day visits by a physical therapist and also supplied a hot-pack machine. Since both of Jamee's parents have been ill, a "homemaker" was recruited to help with the domestic chores.

Today, Jamee looks into her mirror without terror, loathing or pain. She no longer sees a frightening reflection. She sees a pretty and winning child, home at last with those she loves.

Bishops oppose race gambling

The three bishops of the Methodist Church in Texas have issued an appeal to church members and citizens of Texas to take a stand against legalized gambling in the referendum vote which will be included on the ballots of the Republican and Democratic primaries, May 5.

The bishops, Paul E. Martin, Houston area; Paul V. Galloway, San Antonio and Northwest Texas area; and William C. Martin, Dallas-Fort Worth area, made the following joint statement:

"We continue to stand with all citizens of Texas who are concerned about basic morality in vigorous opposition to the efforts of the gambling interests to legalize pari-mutuel betting at horse races in this state. The evil effects of this type of gambling upon individual morals and economic sanity have been demonstrated over and over in other states. Crime commission investigations have established the fact that legalized gambling is the opening wedge for illegal gambling and all manner of corruptive influences. The only element needed to defeat this proposed onslaught upon public morals and sound economics is the awakening of our people to the facts involved. This is a responsibility which each one of us, as a Christian citizen, must accept and fulfill."

The action of the Methodists was given credit in the House of Rep-

Crosby County high school plan a 'dead issue'

CROSBYTON — The possibility of a Crosby County High School to be located between Crosbyton and Spur appears dim now that Robert Work, chairman of a study group on the project, has resigned.

The reason, he said, is that there is now intense felling in Crosbyton against the plan, so much so that it had spilled over into the recent school board election.

"I feel that it is a dead issue in Crosbyton," Work told other members of the committee.

The study group first came into being a year ago when school boards of Crosbyton, Lorenzo, McAdoo, Ralls, Cone, Caprock met in Crosbyton to discuss the feasibility of a county high school. After other districts had decided not to go into it, school boards of the three independent districts in the county voted to continue the study and appointed the committee.

Feeling apparently was stirred against the plan here because many people felt Ralls would attempt to locate the high school in or near that community.

Among the students at South Plains Junior College at Levelland who returned home for the holiday were Curtis Didway, Kenny Poole, Royce Hart, Horace Smith and Linda Wilks.

Bible Thoughts GOD'S BLESSINGS

By HERB SMITH

It would be impossible to enumerate every single blessing from God. This means that we receive abundant blessings from Him. However, the blessings can be classified in two groups—temporal and spiritual. With some it is difficult to determine under which heading they fall.

We consider God's blessings as free gifts. This is true in a sense, but whether we realize it or not, there are certain things we must do or comply with in order to be blessed. Life itself is an example. To get, keep, and enjoy life, we must live by the law of nature, eat food, resist and cast off diseases, and so on. These things may be "natural" with us, but nevertheless they are essentials. God blesses us with spiritual life if we comply with his desires or commands.

In either case something must be done to get the blessings from God. Remember, too, that the blessings of life result AFTER complying with God's Will—not before. See Deut. 15:4; Prov. 3:1; Matt. 6:33; 1 Tim. 4:8; Heb. 10:36.

"PUT SOMETHING IN THE POT, BOY!"

Who Pays the Price of Race Track Gambling?

Gambling drains the salaries, savings and investments of a community into a business enterprise that serves no human need. The bill is paid by the wage earner, the business man, the desperate wife and mother, hungry children and by the state itself... in the form of multiplied costs for police protection, additional court costs, unemployment payments and more jails.

Everybody pays for race track gambling... except the gambling racketeers, the Siegels, the Costellos, the Sedways, the Binions and others, large and small, of their ilk.

Ask a bank examiner. Ask a divorce court judge. Ask a probation officer. Ask your retail credit association. Ask a relief officer.

The sad fact of race track gambling can be told in four words of Damon Runyon, "Horse players die broke." A two-dollar bet is murder. The three D's of gambling are Debt, Degradation and Death.

Who pays the price of race track gambling? You do. We do. Our neighbors do. Our families do.

EXPERIENCE MEANS ECONOMY
My 18 years of work in road construction will enable me to give Precinct 2 the best possible roads for the tax dollar if elected as your county commissioner.
I firmly believe it to be in the public's best interest for a commissioner not to serve longer than two terms. If nominated and elected, I pledge I will seek no more than two terms.
I earnestly solicit your vote and influence in the Democratic primary May 5. I hope to see each one of you before election day.

Hepatitis, also called 'yellow jaundice' increased 38 per cent in Texas last year

AUSTIN — A rising tide of hepatitis, sometimes called "yellow jaundice", engulfed 3,155 Texans last year, a 38 per cent increase in cases compared to the 1960 rate. Cases of both serum and infectious hepatitis are included in those figures.

Infectious hepatitis has been rising throughout the nation for the past two years. In Texas, cases reported during 1961 exceeded any other 12-month period since the State Department of Health began keeping records on the affliction in 1952.

The reason for the present upsurge is not known. Public health physicians say the disease seems to attack relatively large numbers of people—mostly youngsters and young adults—in regular cycles.

The elusive hepatitis virus attacks only humans. No other animal is known to be susceptible.

Infectious hepatitis—the virus of which is present in both blood and body wastes of patients—is usually spread by close contact with patients or carriers, and perhaps in contaminated food or water. Serum hepatitis produces almost identical symptoms but the virus is found only in the patient's blood.

Most cases of infectious hepatitis occur among children and young adults, but people of all ages are susceptible. Fortunately, the disease is rarely fatal. Doctors report that the death rate seldom exceeds two per cent, even in epidemics.

Victims usually begin feeling sick three or four weeks after exposure. They usually lose their appetite, feel fatigued and weary. They might be severely nauseated, and will feel itchy and sore. A sensation of heaviness may be felt in the stomach.

insures against a second one. In any suspected case, a physician should be called at once. Bed rest and adequate diet are necessary to an uncomplicated recovery.

The most efficient tools for preventing infectious hepatitis are good personal hygiene, handwashing before eating or preparing food, and a high level of community sanitation. Contacts of known cases should see their family physician as promptly as possible after exposure to see if injections of immune serum globulin are advisable for passive protection.

'Hound Dog' missile to be displayed at Reese

One of the newest, most versatile Air Force strategic missiles, the GAM-77 "Hound Dog" will be on display at Reese Air Force Base, near Lubbock, Saturday, May 12 during the annual observance of Armed Forces Day. Missile experts from the Orientation Group of the Air Force at Wright-Patterson AFB, Ohio, will be with the missile to explain and answer questions. The public is invited to see the "Hound Dog" and many other displays on May 12. The missile is a supersonic air-to-surface weapon carried successfully under the wings of Strategic Ari Comman B-52 intercontinental jet bombers to form a powerful, deceptive weapons system. Two Hound Dogs on a B-52 can be released more than 500 miles from the main target to quash enemy defense centers and clear the aircraft's path, or to destroy the main objective itself with nuclear warheads.

Smith-Turman runoff seen

AUSTIN — Sen. Preston Smith predicted today he would be in the run-off with House Speaker James Turman in the race for Lieutenant Governor of Texas. Smith based his prediction upon a private poll which showed conservative and moderate voters solidifying behind his campaign for the second highest office in Texas. "Indications from throughout the State indicate my candidacy has steadily gained support from conservative and middle-of-the-road Democrats while other candidates have lost support from this group. James Turman has held his early support from liberal-labor blocks despite inroads from another candidate," Sen. Smith said. Sen. Smith said he had based his campaign upon his record of twelve years as a member of the Texas Legislature "as the only basis upon which to judge future performance." Principal planks in his platform are fiscal responsibility, no increase in tax rates, and economy.

Eugene Francis Newman

Newman is the alleged machine gun-carrying leader of a gang that attempted the robbery of an armored car carrying $498,500 in American and Canadian currency in Buffalo, New York, on August 3, 1958. He and his associates, wearing ski clothing, engaged in a running gun battle with the truck's guards and Buffalo Police, and a machine gun bullet, allegedly fired by Newman, seriously wounded a guard. Two bandits were quickly apprehended but Newman remains at large.

A complaint, filed before a U.S. Commissioner of Buffalo, New York, on August 5, 1958, charges Newman with fleeing the State of New York to avoid prosecution for robbery.

Heavily armed, with a violent temper, Newman has previously been convicted for theft of Government property, interstate transportation of a stolen motor vehicle, petty larceny, and burglary.

He is a white American, reportedly born on October 3, 1928, at Brooklyn, New York, who is 5'8" tall, weighs 170 to 180 pounds, has blond hair, blue eyes, a medium build, and medium complexion.

He has scars near his right eye, on the back of his right hand and on the center of his left chest. A birthmark appears on his upper left arm and a mole on his left index finger. Tattoos include the name "Denny" and a heart on the outside of his right forearm, and the number "13" within a dotted circle on the back of his left hand. He has worked as a bricklayer, clerk, construction worker, counterman, and laborer.

'Bad egg' chance now 1 in 100, says John C. White

AUSTIN — The Texas housewife's chances of getting a "bad egg" at the supermarket today are only one in a hundred, Agriculture Commissioner John C. White said this week.

"Five years ago, she ran the risk of feeding her family about poor quality eggs in every hundred served," White added.

The 37-year-old John White, who is seeking re-election to the state top agricultural post, cited the Texas Egg Law as an example of new legislation he inaugurated the protection of the consumer. "Protection of the family budget is also a major goal of the department," said White. "The Weight and Measures Law is enforced foods and many other items make certain the housewife is getting full value for her food dollar."

"Last year, more than 400 pre-packaged meats and some 1,000 grocery scales were items checked to guarantee fair measure. Even the local gas pump is inspected to make certain it is giving out a whole gallon," Commissioner White said.

"We are still fighting a battle against improper labeling and confusing food packaging practices, however," White added. "Many buyers pay dearly for a box of air in a pretty box. My goal is to get more strength in some of our food packaging legislation."

The young commissioner said he was especially proud of the fact that Texas is no longer a "dust bowl" for poor quality or healthy foodstuffs from other states. "We fought hard for quality on such important items as eggs, fruits and vegetables," said White.

"It is this type of protection which I seek to continue assure the people of Texas as their commissioner of agriculture," John White said.

Proper spray rig is 'must' for good cotton farmers

COLLEGE STATION — Want to increase the income from your cotton crop? One proven way to do this, says H. A. Turney, area extension entomologist, is to control insects. A properly performing spray rig is a must, and now is the time to get it in top working order.

Here are suggestions from Turney on getting the rig in order. Clean all nozzles by washing them in kerosene or soapy water. Check to see that all nozzles are the same kind and size. Replace all worn nozzles and hoses. Test the pump and pressure gauge. If they are not working properly, replace them. A breakdown during the growing season could mean dollars lost in time and cotton.

For the application of early insecticides, Turney recommends the use of one cone-type nozzle per row. Nozzle spacings of 20 inches on the boom are adequate for late season control. Good foliage coverage can be obtained by placing the boom 10 to 15 inches above the tops of the cotton plants, he says.

The per acre output of a spray machine must be known before the correct insecticide mixture can be maintained or even mixed in the spray tank. The rig's output can be determined by spraying a measured acre. Local county agents can supply a chart which shows how far your spray machine must travel to cover an acre, and this will make the job of adjusting the machine for output of insecticide easier.

Turney suggests that you also ask the county agent for other information on insect control and especially for a copy of L-488, Senticidal Spraying of Field Crops with Ground Machinery. He has other information proved by search and farm demonstration that good cotton insect control programs are income producers.

My opponents for the Texas Senate say everyone in this district owes his job to them. I account of they passed a law called "Right-to-Work" in Most people would give the mightly a credit for good sense and the ability to work. Not my opponents.

Friend of mine in Fluvanna wonders why they didn't think pass a "Right-to-Breathe" law. That would appeal to everybody — even politicians who don't want to work at all, but have to keep full of hot air.

Dallas Perkins hits at 'robbery' in Texas

Dallas Perkins, candidate for State Senator from the 24th District, has authorized The Dispatch to issue the following statement in his behalf:

"I am running for the State senate because I feel that the people of this district want and need someone in that office who is not just a perennial politician with a closed mind and an open mouth. They want someone who will represent them and not just a little group in Abilene.

"There are three candidates in this race. My two opponents are running on their records because they have been serving in Austin a total of 22 years between them. They have served with other such notable politicians as Allan Shivers and Bascum Giles. (They served in Austin with Bascum Giles—not Huntsville.)

"They always call themselves conservatives when they are running for re-election, but when you look at the record, you will see that the state had a surplus in the treasury when they first went to Austin. Today, we are 86 million dollars in debt, and the state is writing hot checks to pay the bills. If that's conservatism, I'll eat my hat.

"In the past when these perennial politicians have been running for re-election, they always said they would oppose a sales tax. But this last session, when the heat got turned on and the pressure was brought to bear, they folded up like they always do when the lobbyists go to work on them. And now we have a sales tax that we will pay the rest of our lives. Your children will pay it all their lives, and generations yet unborn will pay it. I think we need a senator that is pressure proof.

"Something needs to be done about this highway robbery that goes by the name of 'Merit Rating System' for insurance premiums. There was a time in Texas when people would not go from one town to another for fear of being robbed. In those days, the man that stopped you was the same man who robbed you. But today, a highway patrolman stops you with radar, and your insurance company robs you for the next three years on the amount of premiums they charge you. This is costing the people of Texas 30 million dollars a year in excess premiums, and that money is not going into the State treasury to build schools and highways. It is going into the left hip pockets of a bunch of insurance companies who have high paid lobbyists in Austin. When I am elected to the senate, I will stop this highway robbery.

"There is an old saying that everyone complains about the weather, but nobody can do anything about it. Everyone talks about these issues in this campaign. They are mad about them. And, unlike the weather, there is something that can be done about them. You can vote for Dallas Perkins for State Senator.

"However, if you like sales tax with all its inequities, if you like the state being bankrupt and in debt, if you like this highway robbery that goes by the name of merit rating system, then you should vote for one of my opponents because they brought these things about. And if you vote for them, then you owe it to yourself and to them to quit complaining about the way your state is being run.

"I feel that I have the ability and the energy to represent you well in the State Senate. Try me. I'll make you a good hand."

Farming is still No. 1 industry

Farmers operate the biggest single industry in the nation. Although there are less than 15 million people living on farms today—about 8 per cent of the total population—when all the transporters, processors, wholesalers, retailers, etc., are added, the agricultural population climbs to almost 40 per cent of the total.

Just after World War II, the family grocery bill was about a fourth of the average take home pay. Today, it is less than a fifth, although retail food prices have gone up. Prices would be a lot higher if it weren't for the fact that farmers are getting 13 per cent less than a decade ago for their part of the typical market basket of food. Most recent figures show the annual income at $965 per person compared with $2,216 for the rest of the U. S. population.

PIONEER CHICKEN BREEDERS BACK 4-H PROGRAM

H & N Farms Offer Awards To '62 Winners

SPECIAL—Hundreds of 4-H Club members and other youth groups have had a glimpse of what goes on inside one of the most modern and scientific hatcheries in the world: The Heisdorf & Nelson Farms, Inc., at Kirkland, Wash., just outside Seattle.

Pioneers in breeding and housing research, H & N have not only made an important contribution to the poultry industry, but are now ready to make a sizeable contribution to 4-H as the new sponsor of the national 4-H poultry program.

"When the opportunity to support a national 4-H Club program came our way," said Arthur Heisdorf, president, "we were mighty pleased. We have been involved locally with 4-H and throughout the state. Now we can be in it all the way."

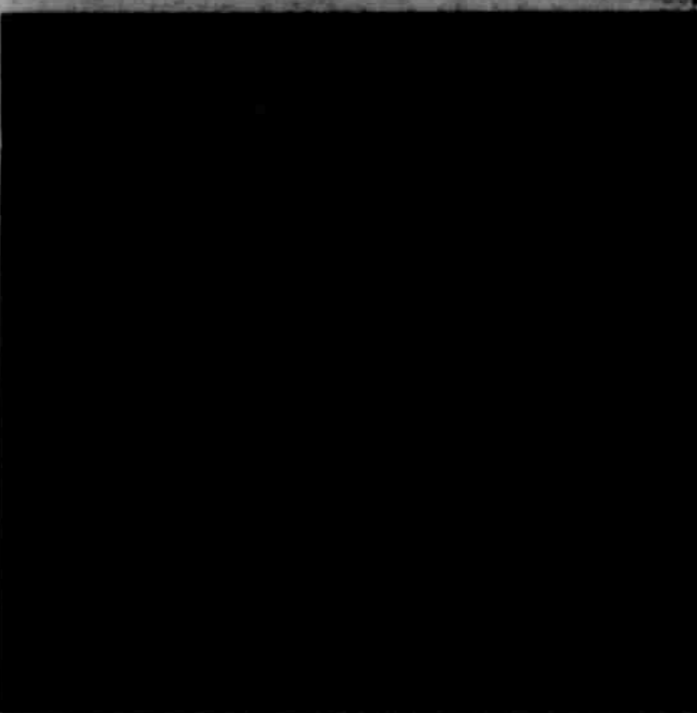

Will Aid Many Heisdorf believes that 4-H boys and girls will benefit personally through individual and team efforts to produce better quality chickens and eggs. Then there is the added possibility of earning money, he pointed out.

"The entire poultry industry can benefit, also," Heisdorf said, "because 4-H'ers will come to know of the challenging career opportunities which lie ahead."

Recent visitors to the hatchery were Candace Gardner, almost 11, and Gary Moffett, 11, members of the Flintstone Flyers 4-H Club of nearby Redmond. The youngsters stood in awe at the long rows of incubators, and squealed with delight when allowed to hold a tray of newly hatched chicks.

Candace and Gary soon will join more than 115,000 other 4-H'ers working on a poultry project. These young people are learning the latest methods of chicken and egg production based on scientific findings and technology of the agricultural college experiment stations and private hatcheries.

Awards for 1962 Among the tangible benefits

April is a wonderful time for child and adult. And it's especially wonderful when you can get the first look at a batch of newly hatched chicks as these 4-H Club members are doing. Here, Candace Gardner, who will celebrate her 11th birthday May 28, and Gary Moffett, already 11, admire the handful of day-old chicks held by Arthur Heisdorf, president of Heisdorf & Nelson Farms, Inc., of Kirkland, Wash. Candace and Gary belong to the Flintstone Flyers 4-H Club in nearby Redmond and are considering starting a poultry project of their own.

to club members are the following awards provided by the new sponsor: A medal for ten county winners, and for the state winner a free trip to the National 4-H Club Congress in Chicago. Six national champions will receive $400 scholarships. The 1962 award winners will be named by the Cooperative Extension Service. Further information can be obtained from the county extension agent of the state 4-H Club office.

The biggest political ad in today's Dispatch—and there are a good number—was taken by the Post Ministerial Alliance on page 12 to oppose the primary ballot proposition that the legislature should legalize horse race betting in Texas.

Despite the lack of too much "politicizing" hereabouts, Demo County Chairman N. C. Outlaw predicts a good turnout of some 1,800 voters in the Democratic primary.

He says this will be a good show of interest in an off-presidential and off-sheriff election year.

Lions will do rodeo parking

The Post Lions Club at a business session at its weekly dinner meeting in Levi's Restaurant Tuesday night decided to take over the car parking assignment for the Post Stampede Rodeo here in June.

New members were presented pins and information packets about Lionism. Jackie Payne was introduced as a new member.

The club's "membership lamb" is for sale or trade. The club has decided on a smaller one, which won't be quite so frisky.

Next week, Ace Kincaid of Lamesa will bring a program which includes an eight-year-old boy piano contest winner and a girl pantomimist.

Incidentally, if you're a Life Magazine reader you probably noticed this week the big color page spread by Goodyear Tire with their offer of ten packets of Luther Burbank flower seeds of all different varieties, a $2.50 value, for only 29 cents. Max Gordon at Garza Tire Co. is your Goodyear dealer and has all that fine flower seed for you at 132 West Main as you'll find in his tie-in advertisement on page 15 of today's Dispatch. We like to see merchants on their toes like Max tying in to such national promotions in their hometown paper. So if you want to plant lots of flowers just take advantage of Max's fine seed offer.

More players are needed for Babe Ruth league play

Rosters for the five 1962 Babe Ruth League teams were announced today by Ben Owen, league president, following the annual player draft conducted by team managers and league officials last Thursday night.

Owen said more boys in the 13 and 14 year age groups are still needed to round out the five squads.

Eligible boys interested in playing in the league this summer are asked to call Owen or one of the five team managers or assistant managers.

Owen appealed to players too old for league competition this season to return the uniforms they used last summer. He asked players with uniforms to contact the managers of their respective team.

An innovation this year will be the selection of a queen for each team by the players and then the selection of a league tournament queen from the five team queens. Garland Huddleston will be the league's umpire-in-chief, Owen announced.

He also said plans have been made to give the league batting champion a certificate at the season's end.

Present rosters of the five teams are as follows:

CUBS — J. C. Demming, Butch Cross, Louis Ayala, Dennis Odom, Filemon Vargas, Ricky Welch, Charles Landtroop, Mike Miller, Joe Smith, David Condon, Ocie Bell Jr., Larry Ramage, Hal Taylor, Gofriel Romero.

BRAVES — Johnny Bilberry, Alvin Harper, Daniel Johnson, Robert Moreau, Ruben Solis, Raymond Villa, Freddie Collazo, Ronnie Nichols, Roger North, Charles Harper, Cecil Martinez, and Edward Curtis.

WHITE SOX — Jim Doss, Benny Owen, Teddy Scott, Wendell Johnson, Joe Hall, Doyle Nichols, Donnie Cornell, Larry Johnson, Ronnie Pierce, Donnie Windham, Paul Walker, Michael Horton, Bo

Hutchins and Michael Peddy.

PIRATES — Drawn from other four teams on one-per-team basis to stock new club with some veterans were Jackie Braddock, Junior Valdez, Tommy Rinker and Melvin Allen. New players added in draft were Larry Osman, William Jackson, Johnny Perez, Clint Leroy Johnson, Joe Hudman, Edward Osby, Nathaniel Manuel, and Jimmy Osby.

Team managers, followed by assistant managers are:

Indians — Jerry Odom, Hal Jones.

White Sox — Ben Howell Bobby Pierce.

Cubs — A. J. Howell, Jack Gray.

Pirates — John Schmidt, Mr. Lafon.

Braves — Rex King, Pete Hays.

Post wins 3 flight files as—

Charles Hopkins defeated in Lamesa tourney finals

Post golfers had a big day in the high winds at Lamesa Sunday during the final rounds of the 11th annual Lamesa Invitational Golf Tournament even if Charles Hopkins, Post's golfing school teacher, did come up with "putter trouble" and lose the championship finals to Travis Horton of Stamford, 1 up.

Three of Post's other seven entrants won flight titles, one was a runners-up, and one went to his consolation flight finals.

Jimmy Hundley, firing two-over-par golf, won the first flight crown, defeating Larry Simmons of Lubbock 2 up. Hundley won his semi-final Sunday morning from Al Langford, 2 up.

Oscar Garner won the fifth flight, defeating R. C. Hays, 4 and 2 in the finals and Leroy Paulger, 3 and 2 in the semi-finals.

Spencer Kuykendall took seventh flight honors, defeating L. E. Matthews, 3 and 1, in the finals, and Jack Broyles 1 up in his semi-final match.

The other flight runnerup, besides Hopkins, was Roger Camp who lost the fourth flight finals to Bill Houehin of Lubbock 1 up, after defeating Norman Deisher, 3 and 2, in his semi-final match.

Howard Carlisle was a consolation finalist in the eighth flight, losing to Jimmy Harper of Big Spring 5 and 4, after walloping Carl Barron of Lamesa 6 and 4 in his morning semi-final.

Also participating from Post were Walter B. Holland who lost his first two matches in the first flight and Durward Bartlett who bowed out in the first round of the third flight Friday after taking his opponent to the 22nd hole.

Hopkins missed three putts of under two feet in the finals as Horton came from behind to win with a three-over-par 75, the same score carded by Hopkins for the 18 holes.

The Post golfer, who scored the big upset of the tournament Friday in his first round match to become the title favorite, took a two hole lead in the first nine holes but bogied four holes in a row on the back nine.

The decisive hole was the 16th, when Hopkins' 18-inch putt hung on the lip of the cup and refused to fall for the stroke that would have put Hopkins back into the lead.

Hopkins upset defending champion, Roland Adams of Lubbock, who had won the Lamesa three straight years and was out for his fourth in a row, in his first round Friday.

To do it, he carded a two under par 70, going four holes ahead on the front nine and holding Adams' closing rush to win 2-1.

In his second round match today, Hopkins had to come behind himself to nip youthful Bobby Lockett of San Angelo 1 up on the 18th green with an even par 72.

Hopkins was two down at the turn, but took the 10th and 11th hole to pull even. He won it with a fine approach shot on the 18th after his opponent had fired his second shot to the edge of the green.

On Sunday morning, Hopkins defeated Jack Addison, 3 and 1, in his championship semi-final.

Girl tracksters tie for third

The Post High School girls track team, competing in its first track meet, scored 26 points Friday at the Baird Belle Relays at Baird, and finished in a tie with Ira for third.

Aspermont was first with Baird second, Novice, fifth, Cherokee, sixth, and Moran, seventh.

Coach Van Kountz said the girls "did an outstanding job." "This was the first track meet they have ever run in and four of them are freshmen."

Janie Carradine placed third in the 80 yard hurdles and third in the shot put. Shirley Isaacs was third in the hop-step-jump. Vivian McWhirt finished fifth in the 50 yard dash.

The 160 yard shuttle relay team, composed of Isaacs, McWhirt, Mary Ann Stone and Cheryl Martin, all freshmen, took second place in that event.

The 200 yard relay team, composed of Isaacs, McWhirt, Stone, and Martin, was fourth. The 300 yard medley relay team, composed of Isaacs, Carradine, Stone and Martin, was third. The 440 yard relay team finished third, but was disqualified for passing the baton out of the handoff zone. This team was composed of Isaacs, Carradine, Stone and Martin.

By VERN SANFORD

People catch fish. But fishermen sometimes catch people.

If you've ever been "hooked" by a fisherman, you know what I mean.

Fortunately, more fish are caught than people.

Homer Circle, PR man for Ames Heddon's Sons of Dowagiac, Mich.,—makers of the famous Heddon Fishing Tackle—sends us some interesting facts on this subject.

"Every year," says Homer, doctors are called upon to extract arched hooks from various parts of people's anatomies. It may be an eye or an ear, the face or a neck, hands, arms, legs, back—rump."

"Most of these painful injuries could have been avoided if a few simple safety rules had been followed," said Homer. "Experts have studied this needless injury problem for years and offer numerous suggestions to help fishermen derive pleasure instead of pain from America's greatest participatory sport."

HOMER HAS INCLUDED these suggestions in Heddon's 1962 Fishing Tackle Catalogue. I'll pass them on to you later, after I tell you how you may obtain, free of charge, Heddon's new 64-page catalogue. It sells regularly for 25 cents. But Homer says he'll send you one free, if you mention this column.

Guess he's trying to find out if we have any readers!

Anyway, it's a beautiful multi-colored printing job with as many tips on fishing as there are items listed in the catalogue.

Now—back to the safety tips we promised. Here's how to keep from latching onto a fishing buddy or getting yourself seriously in a hook:

- (1) Learn the simple overhead cast... never toss a plug side-arm with your fishing companion nearby. And, always know where your partner is!
- (2) If your lure hangs on a surface snag don't try to jerk it loose with your rod. That bent rod can propel the lure so suddenly and so fast you won't have time to duck! Instead try to shake it loose gently or row in and remove it by hand.
- (3) While playing a fish, always keep the bend of your rod away from your head and your companion. Again, a suddenly released lure with an assist from a bent rod could propel its hooks into the skin you or your partner love so much!
- (4) IT'S SAFER to land a fish with net or gaff. Don't grab a fish with your hand unless you are experienced in the right technique. Always play the fish until he turns belly up... if large, beach it. And never reach into the mouth of a toothed fish. A pair of long-nosed pliers can save you lots of trouble.
- (5) Remember... the only lure that should be out of your closed tackle box is the one at the end of your rod. Too often loose lures in the boat end up in a fisherman's seat!

Finally—remember that a good fishing partner is an invaluable asset. Study him, watch him carefully and if he proves cautious, courteous and thoughtful of you he is a rare companion.

Let him know your appreciation by trying to outdo his admirable characteristics.

Q — Are bills pending in Congress about opening up some phases of WW I or WW II GI insurance?
A — Several bills have been introduced into both houses, but as yet no action has been taken on any of them.

Q — What is the priority for admission to a VA hospital?
A — First, a service-connected veteran requiring medical care for the injury or disability for which he is service-connected. Second, a service-connected veteran requiring medical attention for some other injury or disability than that for which he is service-connected. Third, a nonservice-connected veteran for whom a bed is available who will sign an affidavit that he cannot afford to pay the cost of his hospitalization and who must list all his assets and liabilities so as to give an idea of the worth of his estate.

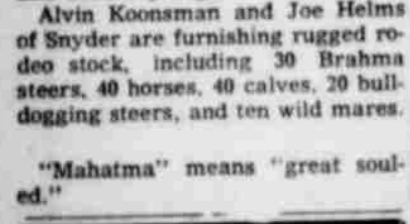

Q — Are educational benefits still open to veterans of WW II?
A — The deadline for WW II veterans has expired as far as educational benefits are concerned. Korea Conflict veterans are the only ones entitled to educational benefits at this time.

Q — I am interested in converting my GI term insurance to some form of permanent plan insurance. What choice do I have?
A — You may convert to ordinary life, 20-payment life, 30-payment life, 20-year endowment, endowment at age 60, or endowment at age 65.

Baby chicks can't talk—we know that. But we wonder what this little chick would think if chicks could think? Probably he's bewildered... a great big world... great big problems... an orphan already... and hungry! Yet, there's deep meditation here. Man is often like that little baby chick; bewildered, confused, wondering... especially those on the threshold of a new life or venture. We don't know all the answers, of course, but we do know some! We do know how to reach our Creator (PRAYER), how He reaches us (BY HIS GRACE). We also know that the most serene place for such communion with the Creator is in church. Here you'll find many answers to many problems. It's worth a try, isn't it?

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Integration vote set at O'Donnell

O'DONNELL — The O'Donnell school board has called for an election—the date of which remains to be set—for integration of the O'Donnell public schools. Supt. John Criner has announced.

O'Donnell is faced with accreditation standards of the Texas Education Agency, which say that a school is rated by its weakest unit and that one unit not meeting the standards will cause the total school system to lose its accreditation, the O'Donnell Index Press said last week.

In order to meet these standards the school district would have to build a new school system for Dunbar equal to the white system. The cost of this would be considerable, plus the fact that this would not insure continued segregation as such now has no legal basis.

So the commission's staff prorated the fund among the 19 schools. Dr. F. L. McDonald, president of Lamar State College of Technology in Beaumont, didn't take the news quietly. "This is one of the reasons why we are never able to raise salaries," he protested. He said the colleges are never allowed enough money, and "have to dig it up."

While the 19 presidents are trying to balance their budgets, Commission on Higher Education will be studying requests from three more colleges which want to join the state system: Odessa, San Antonio and Laredo junior colleges.

Recommendations will be made when the 58th Legislature convenes.

NEW SHELL GAME—Land Commissioner Jerry Sadler predicts that Texas never will yield control over any part of Padre Island to the federal government. He charged that some Texans have been "deceived" by talk of an 85-mile-long national park there.

He said the U. S. Senate did not approve a park, but a "National Seashore Area."

"This status," says Sadler, "would keep Padre Island and Laguna Madre in an undeveloped state."

Sadler urged Attorney General Will Wilson to push recovery of Laguna Madre acreage from private owners before they convey their rights to the U. S. Department of the Interior.

Meanwhile, U. S. Congressman Joe Kilgore of McAllen said the House National Parks Subcommittee will make an on-the-ground survey of the island from May 11 through May 13. They will return to Washington, D. C., to consider legislation on May 14.

READING PUBLIC GROWS—Dr. Dorman H. Winfrey, State Librarian, announced an increase of 13 public libraries in Texas and more than a quarter of a million books on library shelves throughout the state.

He said library service has improved to the point where there are now 106 branch libraries, in comparison to 97 in 1960. More than $4,400,000 was spent for library construction last year, "possibly the largest library-building year in more than three decades."

One of the leading points being used to seek complete destruction of the U.S. protective tariff laws is to reduce the U.S. loss of gold.

The seriousness of this problem was recently pointed up by Congressman Clarence Brown who reports the U.S. has only $18.3 billion in gold.

He said "A primary factor in our negative balance of trade payments in recent years has been our foreign aid. The data on our foreign obligations indicates that we cannot and have not been able to finance this level of charity."

He points out in the early days of the foreign give away programs, the dollars had to be spent in the U.S. but in recent years this has been changed so that the U.S. gives the dollars to foreigners so they can buy what they need from the cheapest source.

He says "If we are going to continue this massive international dole the least we could do is require that all purchases of goods and equipment be made in the U.S. so that it will support jobs in this country and not add to the problem we now face in our balance-of-payments deficit."

Thus, it appears there are two solutions in this talk of cutting tariffs so U.S. can sell more abroad. One is how a 50 cent an hour foreign worker can afford goods made by $2 per hour American labor? The other is, how do you get people to start paying for things they have been getting for nothing?

ENEMY ROUTED
On Friday, near Dumfries, two of our Texas scouts, old Indian fighters of the Fourth Texas Regiment, saw three Yankees and pursued them until they came unexpected upon about 20; but getting behind a house the two killed three Yankees and wounded five, and the rest ran and escaped in a boat. This is a true method of fighting our invaders—always kill them whenever you see them. One Texan has killed 14, and hunts them as he would foxes or Indians.—THE SAN ANTONIO HERALD.

SELLING STOCK
Now in these days of war while our fellow citizens are in the army serving the country and their stock going astray and in want of proper attention, we hope that all will refrain from estraying and selling stock, and that the stray law, which, in our opinion, should have been suspended by the last Legislature, may be virtually suspended by the people, it is well enough to advertise. But it is little less than robbery under the sanction of the law, to sell a man's stock, who is in the army, because they happen to wander off from their range.—THE HOUSTON TELEGRAPH.

KENNEY'S COMPANY
On Wednesday night our friend and former neighbor, Capt. Martin Kenney, camped in this vicinity with a company of 115 or 120 men from Goliad bound for Col. Carter's Regiment at Hempstead. Captain Kenney has a fine company; and a more quiet, gentlemanly behaved company of men I have not been with in a long time, and from their general appearance, I have no doubt they will leave their sign if ever they have an opportunity, among the Lincolns. The neighbors furnished them beautifully with forage for their horses and some other things they needed.—THE BELLVILLE COUNTRY-MAN.

LOOK HERE!
Ran away from the subscriber at Bellville sometime in December, an American mare about nine years old, branded on the left shoulder, though too indistinctly to be read; has one white hind foot nearly halfway up to the knee. A liberal reward will be paid to anyone who will deliver her to me at Bellville or for such information of her whereabouts will enable me to find her. B. Y. Elliott.—THE BELLVILLE COUNTRY-MAN.

'Flower Drum Song' is to open Sunday on Tower Theatre screen
The spectacular screen color version of the Rodgers and Hammerstein Broadway musical hit, "Flower Drum Song," comes to the Tower Theatre this Sunday and continues through Tuesday.

Starring in the musical delight are Nancy Kwan, James Shigeta, Miyoshi Umeki and Juanita Hall. As even dozen great songs keep "Flower Drum Song" ripping along with melody and terpsichore. Music and dancing are the keystones of the lavish production.

If Confucius were around today, certainly he would say: "An evening with 'Flower Drum Song' is a kiss on the lips that lasts forever."

Accidental deaths decrease in 1961

The year 1961 was a banner year in one respect. For the first time, the accident rate in the United States was as low as 50 per 100,000 population, dipping to a level about three per cent under the previous low set in 1960.

Provisional figures likewise show that the actual toll in 1961 was about 91,500 lives, a decrease of approximately 1,500 from the number in the year before.

Biggest decrease was registered in the death toll column of accidents in and around the home. Approximately 26,500 persons were killed in such accidents during 1961, a decrease of about 1,000 from the total in the preceding year.

Motor vehicle accidents took about 38,000 lives during the year, slightly less than the toll in 1960. The death rate from motor vehicle accidents also declined. The rate based on accidental deaths per 100 million miles was below the previous year's low of 5.3.

Castrophenes — accidents in which five or more persons are killed—were responsible for about 1,250 deaths in the continental United States during 1961, approximately 250 fewer than in 1960.

The main factor in this reduction was the smaller number of fatal injuries in major catastrophes—accidents in which at least 25 persons are killed.

Aside from three airplane crashes which killed 78, 77 and 37 persons, respectively, two natural disasters were the only major catastrophes during 1961.

Other floods which struck the Midwest earlier in the year, during May, claimed 25 lives.

In accidents which killed five or more, motor vehicle accidents accounted for about 30 per cent. Fires and explosions — largely in the home — ranked next with about one-fourth of the death toll.

In all accidents, the two most dangerous spots to be in — are automobiles and our homes, although the death rate from these causes continues to decline.

In Texas, the most surprising figure was the total accidental death column which was identical to 1960, with 5,266 deaths. Motor vehicle deaths accounted for 2,373 in 1961, compared to 2,326 in 1960.

Parking meters are out at Spur

SPUR — Parking meters have been voted out of the local business district because the business men didn't want them—not because the customers complained.

Action to remove the meters was a unanimous one by the Spur city council last week and came after receiving a petition signed by all but three Spur business men seeking their removal.

"The meters have been the center of controversy almost from the day they were installed," The Texas Spur, Spur's weekly paper, said in its top story last week.

"In numerous 'straw votes' the businessmen have voted to have them removed while people in the surrounding communities have apparently voted to keep the meters, because of parking convenience.

"The meters brought in an estimated $4,000 per year and helped pay the cost of the Spur police department."

LIVESTOCK POISONING

Extension Range Specialists B. J. Ragsdale and G. O. Hoffman this week cautioned stockmen to be on the lookout for livestock poisoning and losses from poisonous plants. If animals become sick or die and plants are suspected, the specialists suggest that you contact a veterinarian for a positive diagnosis. It is also a good idea to remove poisoned animals from pastures where poisonous plants are present and put them on a good ration.

The specialists emphasize that the best prevention, cure and antidote for poisoning from plants is a range in good condition which will provide palatable forage and maintain a high level of nutrition for the livestock. I can help you with information on keeping your range in good condition.

Rotarians told alcoholism No. 3 health problem

Herb Boardman of Hereford, field representative of the Texas Commission on Alcoholism, told Rotarians at their Tuesday luncheon that alcoholism is the No. 3 health problem of the U. S. today with the number of alcoholics in the country conservatively estimated at 5,000,000 persons.

He said that records show that one out of 14 who drink will become alcoholics, and that one out of six who begin drinking in their mid-teens will become alcoholics.

He termed "alcohol as tremendously dangerous for teenagers" and emphasized that the incidence of high school drinking has been cut 50 per cent in those states which educate the youngsters on the facts of alcoholism in the schools.

Boardman said that families of alcoholics are "sick" with the wife and children withdrawing from community, church, and other activities. He emphasized part of the solution if a man wants to stop drinking is to teach the others in the home how to live "above the problem."

Texas is among the 40 states which recognize alcoholism as a treatable disease, Boardman said. He explained the small state commission approaches the problem through education, information, prevention, and rehabilitation.

The speaker said the commission helps to form commissions on alcoholism in all interested communities and that Hereford has successfully operated such a commission for the last three years.

"One of the prime objectives of our state work is to try to remove the social stigma of alcoholism," Boardman declared.

He was introduced by the Rev. Ed Herring.

HOW TO MAKE A SALAD

A successful salad, we'll all agree, is one that invites the eye, delights the taste and cheers the spirit. Fortunately, such salads, crisp, perky and tempting, are easy to come by. Here's the simple how:

Wash greens thoroughly. Shake them and pat dry with towels . . . all with a gentle hand. Tear greens by hand into bite-size pieces. (Cutting turns the edges brown.) Cut celery on the bias, peppers in rings, tomatoes in wedges, fruit in balls or sections. (Do not cut or add tomatoes until just before serving. The juice runs out.) Chill everything, including the salad bowl. Then comes the gourmet touch that "makes" the salad . . . the dressing! The dressing is so all-important that only a really fine one will do such as, for instance, a Wish-Bone dressing, perfectly blended to meet the most discriminating tastes. There's variety also—among them Italian, French, Cheese and Russian. And for calorie counters, either Low Calorie Italian or Low Calorie French. Use just enough dressing to coat the greens and lend flavor . . . a scant one tablespoon per serving. Toss lightly.

Surprise birthday party honors Rev. Howell

It's My Turn . . .

—By MRS. C.

I was talking to Mrs. Gordon Wilson the first of the week to get the information about her daughter, Jackie's, and LaGayluah Young's joint birthday and slumber party last Thursday night. As Mrs. Wilson was racking her brains to remember the guest list, she commented, "You see I haven't quite recovered from the party yet."

How will every mother (and father) know what she was talking about! That is if you have had a "slumber" party in your home and who escapes it one time or another. It's a once in a lifetime remembrance for us all but unfortunately usually takes place more times than that.

In the first place the name "slumber" is a misnomer if I ever heard one. Way back when I was a girl (no remarks please) we thought it was pretty terrific to stay up till midnight or one o'clock slumber party it was. Now the idea is to stay awake all night and collapse about 7 or 8 in the morning when the rest of the household is getting up after a sleepless night interspersed with loud laughter (or giggling which is much worse).

After the parents retire to their bedroom, (at least they don't take your bed) about ten or so, things move along rather nicely till midnight and lulls the parents in thinking this isn't so bad and probably should do this again sometime.

I'm afraid I forgot to mention that the mother retires after fixing all the food that is consumed all night in order to give these girls enough energy to stay awake all night.

Just as one drops off to sleep, one of those startling bursts of laughter or giggling (depends on the age) brings you bolt upright wondering where you are and just what is going on. Memory returns but this time as you turn over to sleep one eye sort of stays open to prepare you for the next outburst. Even the refrigerator door opening and closing seems to jar you just a little and you hear every bottle cap come off every Coke bottle.

Morning finally arrives after only one or two trips out to suggest to your daughter in strangled whispers that maybe they might think of slumbering just a bit cause her father does have to go to work in the morning and she might want to have another such party again and fathers have longer memories than mothers and aren't they just dead and where did all of that food go.

If you're a working mother and are leaving the house early you tiptoe around and over girls that just seemed to collapse all over the house sticking legs under blankets and working into the bedrooms to see if anyone actually went to sleep in a bed. You might find one or two there and are bound to find the radio playing quite low by this time (the tubes and batteries are about shot). Usually static is erupting this time of day because they were listening to a station that comes in strong at night and fades away with the morning hours. One at first thinks one of those angelic looking girls is snoring before finding the radio growing at you.

Well, they are great fun these parties and everyone ought to have at least one during a lifetime. But for heavens sake, let's change the name from "slumber" to something just a bit more realistic such as "Stay Up All Night", "Eat Us Out of House and Home", "First One in Bed is a Sissy", "Father Will Be Crouchy Tomorrow" or "Who Can We Talk Into Having the Next One" party.

Joint birthday party honors 2

Jackie Wilson and LaGayluah Young celebrated their birthdays, which were Easter Sunday, last Thursday night with a joint party. Parents of the girls are Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Wilson and Mr. and Mrs. Ray Young. The party was held in the Wilson home on Chantilly Lane. The girls arrived at 5 o'clock and were dinner guests, with the boys invited at 7:30. The girls also stayed for a slumber party. Those attending were: Marcia Newby, Jaynie Josey, Linda Altman, Jo Beth Dillard, Cheryl Pennell, Beverly Avant, Pat Robinson, Sherry Woods, Ronnie Pierce, Ernie Ryder, Bo Hutchins, Joe Hudman, Johnny Jones, Steve Stone, J. O. Smith, Paul Walker, Jerry Stone and the honorees.

Long-time goal now near

For the first time in its history, the city of Post is on the verge of an effective "round the clock" police department.

It isn't there yet—although a whole lot already has been done. But it's on the way.

Naming of Elton Corley as chief of police gives the department a veteran and well-liked lawman in command who has proved he knows what effective law enforcement is all about.

The present plan is to expand to a three-man department with two police cars. Then the city will have "round the clock" enforcement.

The third man will be hired when the second police car is purchased.

In the recent city hall remodeling and expansion, the old telephone company building was purchased for a police headquarters. A city court has been established.

The city-county radio is operated around the clock in the city police building. City authorities are arranging with county authorities for county jail use for prisoners.

What kind of a law enforcement record the new department will write as it swings into operation will depend upon Police Chief Corley and his officers, the cooperation given them by the city council, and the support offered by the citizens.

All are necessary for a smoothly running police force.

The Dispatch has been a staunch booster of Sheriff Fay Claborn and his county law enforcement office from the start. Claborn has done an excellent job.

The expansion of the city police department will call for good cooperation between the city and county law enforcement arms if the taxpayers, who pay both bills, are to get the most for their money.

We hope this is forthcoming from both sides.

As the city's law enforcement arm has grown, the county's law arm has been weakened by the loss of a deputy. This is regrettable. But it was foreseeable if the city ever was to establish an effective police department and assume its full share of the law enforcement burden.

The shift to a real law arm for the city means mounting law enforcement costs to the city. This is why the step was postponed for many years. The city simply didn't have that kind of money.

As the area moves into a new phase of law enforcement—and one that promises much—many adjustments will have to be made and real public support given.

A city police force—one of the municipal objectives long supported by this newspaper—is at last becoming operating fact.

Given the proper chance, we are sure it will prove itself to be a worthwhile investment for the community.—JC

Almost 'play ball' time again

Post's summer youth baseball program, which will provide a vacation-full of competitive sport for several hundred local boys, is just about set for another season.

It's an ambitious program, complete with competition at three age levels and with two lighted playing fields.

It's a program which does a lot for the boys—keeps them interested, competing and partially busy through the long summer.

It may some day produce another Norm Cash for the major leagues, but whether it does or not, the principal gains will be in the help and experience it has given to all the youngsters who go on to live useful lives in other jobs and professions.

There is one thing about the program. It is run more on heart and determination, than on money. There has never been a surplus of funds for the summer baseball program. But each year the men who donate their time and efforts to handle the operation always figure out some way to get enough cash to keep the leagues going.

Merchants have been generous in many ways, as team sponsors and through other donations. The program has been so successful that no objections were raised two years ago when application was made to the Community Chest for $4,000 to pay for the cost of the second, badly needed ball park and to make repairs on the first.

Through the Chest the ball park has been built and lighted and bills paid.

Somehow, somehow we think it would be fitting if the men who through the last few years have built this wonderful baseball program could be honored.

And it would be more fitting if the honors or recognition could be bestowed by the boys who have so richly benefitted from this worthwhile community project.—JC

Community patience necessary

What's happened to the White River Dam project?

That's a popular coffee counter question these days with the weather hot, the ground dry, and the city's water supply for a long hot summer a very big question mark.

The answer is simple enough.

The White River directors are involved in negotiation for the purchase of land, the main property still needed being one which is an estate, has many heirs, and more legal ramifications than we don't know what.

The land committee of the district has been working on this for five months now. Progress, to them, who have labored for over five years to get the White River dam from dream to reality, has been painfully slow.

There has been little for The Dispatch to report. When parties are negotiating in a business deal you can't give the public a play-by-play account.

It isn't a question of money anymore. The district has borrowed money, plenty of it, but expensive money with the interest now running.

This is to say that the White River district is doing all it can, as fast as it can. In time—no one knows exactly how long that will be—the land purchases will be made.

When it is the contract letting will be pushed. Community patience is not easy, but it is necessary in this case.—JC

Physical fitness at teen level

Harold Teaf, Post's new athletic director, in a talk before Post Rotarians last week called for a well balanced physical education program in the Post schools which will reach every youngster.

That is an excellent objective which should receive the full support of local parents.

Good physical condition is something which is getting away from our current younger generation at an alarming rate, according to national surveys the last few years.

Post wants a good, competitive athletic program. It's a real psychological rallying point for school support. It wants — needs even more — a broad physical educational program.

That Athletic Director Teaf has set this as one of his broad goals is both heartening and significant.

The fact that he plans to extend the use of school facilities for physical training through the summer months as well is also highly commendable.

Teaf indicated in his talk he well knows the problem. He asked of the community our cooperation in finding an adequate solution.

What he said made a lot of sense. The goal of real athletic program balance appears within reach.—JC

What our contemporaries are saying

Y'know, human nature is a peculiar thing. For more years than I'd care to remember, there has been a running feud between the towns of Ralls and Crosbyton. This feud covered everything from athletic events to new babies. If one managed to get a new building or two, the other tried to out-do it just a little; if one paved a few blocks of streets, the other paved a few more; if one won a ball game, the other tried its best to win for the next two years at least. And so the feud ran through years of county history. But it seems now that the residents have settled to a tranquil peace that it is hard for some people to get adjusted. For example, this year Crosbyton renamed their streets so it would be easy for strangers to find their way with simple directions from almost anyone. To date, Ralls has not gone this far—but after all, who needs to find their way around Ralls but the town surveyor and he knows the names of the streets anyway—doesn't he?—Marvin Tomme in The Ralls Banner.

a car. Professional football is just as rough or rougher than boxing, and is little more than restrained mayhem. I don't know the answer. Perhaps we are too blood-thirsty. Who's to say?—Joe Harrison in The Texas Spur.

Keep searching for the other fellow's good points. Remember, he has to hunt for yours, and maybe he'll be harder put than you are.—James Roberts in The Andrews News.

Employers can develop chronic coffee nerves while employees are off the job drinking coffee.—Douglas Meador in Matador Tribune.

Some people remind us of putty—anybody can "work" them; others of gasoline, as they "blow up" so easily; others of cake mix—all mixed up and permanently set.—Ellen Perry in The Slaton Slatonite.

Here's where some of our tax money goes: A government bureau has just spent $1,400 and 300 man hours to determine that the "average man's posterior covers 179.4 square inches and exerts an average pressure of 92 pounds per square inch." Enlightening information!—Frank Hill in The Lynn County News.

THURSDAY to THURSDAY

By CHARLES DIDWAY

MOST OTHER news will take a back seat to the political campaign and the first primary election during the next week or two. Candidates needn't think they're the only ones real interested in the upcoming election, even though it may sometimes seem that way to them—particularly the hard-working ones.

There's much more interest than appears on the surface in what is shaping up as one of the most interesting county and state elections in recent years. Most folks are so much busier now than they were a decade or two ago that it takes them a while longer to get "warmed up" to an election, but when they do . . . !

THE MAN UP the street says the best way to knock a chip off a man's shoulder is to pat him on the back.

The other day, while searching The Dispatch files for something that happened a long time ago, I ran across a story on the Garza County school census for 1942, and was surprised to see census figures listed for a total of 15 schools.

THAT WAS 20 years ago and the drop in the number of schools has been from the 15 in 1942 to four in 1962. When I moved here in 1953, there were seven schools in the county—Post, Southland, Justiceburg, Close City, Graham, Garnolia and Grassbur. So, the names of those other eight schools I found in the 1942 school census story were unfamiliar to me, as they will be to all comparative newcomers.

The 15 schools in the county in 1942 and the number of scholastics in each of the districts for that year were as follows: Post, 741; Close City, 118; Southland, 133; Graham, 167; Grassbur, 63; Leforest, 14; Cross Roads, 40; Justiceburg, 34; Pleasant Valley, 67; Hackberry, 56; Hartford, 27; Barnum Springs, 23; Mason, 3; Verbena, 72; and Garnolia, 126.

SOMEONE TOLD me the other day that if I was looking for news, he'd give me an item about his brother-in-law visiting him. "Only thing is," the man said, "he's been visiting me for over a year, but maybe if I put it in the paper, he'll take the hint and leave." That's the sort of news item in which it isn't wise—nor always healthy—to name names, but without the names, there it is.

Getting back to politics, the politicians won't be the only ones in a race on May 5. That's also the date of the Kentucky Derby.

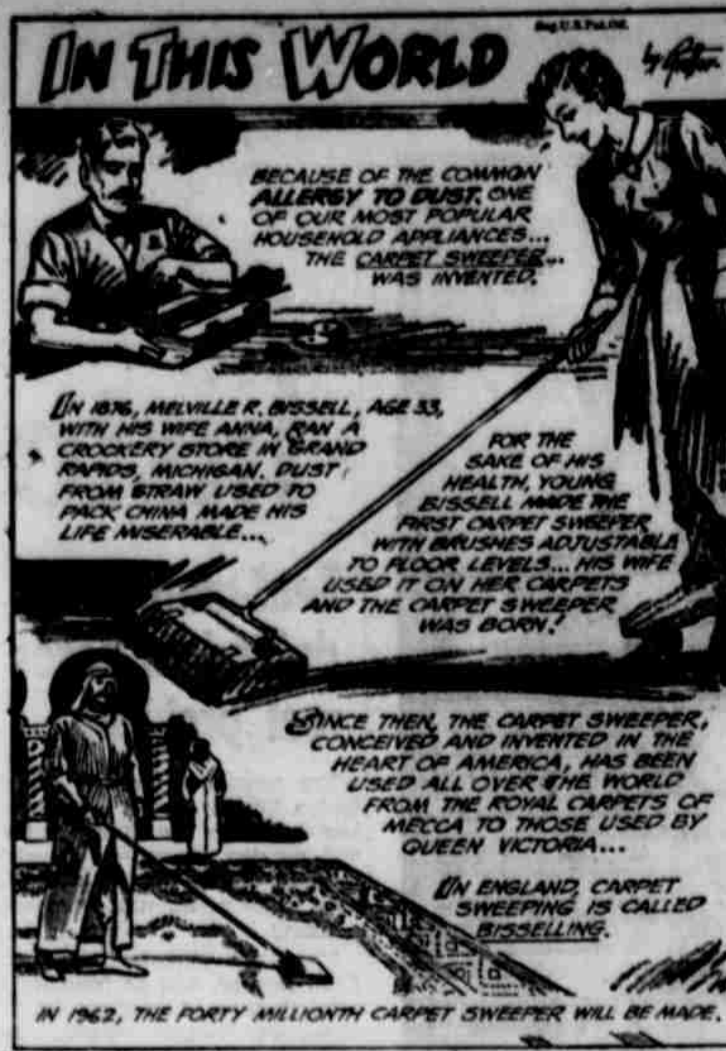

THE FACT that we've had no forced school holidays this school year because of bad weather gets the credit for the longest Easter holiday in several years at the local schools. On the same subject, Easter had nothing to do with Saturday's bank holiday. The occasion for the closing was San Jacinto Day—a big day for Texas patriots.

The rodeo fever soared some here one day last week when a bunch of rodeo boosters from Tahoka rode into town whooping it up for their rodeo, which got under way Wednesday. It's the first of a rather lengthy list of rodeos scheduled for West Texas this season.

HISTORIAN Dr. Walter Prescott Webb has recorded this story of a cowboy's observance.

Asked if he had met a stranger, the rider said: "Sure did. He was riding a dun horse with a white stocking on its left hind foot, a loose shoe on the right and a X-bar brand. Horse was four-year-old. Had a mangy saddle, red and white Navajo saddle blanket, two Navajo conchos on his bridle. The man, right around five eight, had on Levis and a blue shirt, corduroy vest. Scar on his right cheek running down his neck and inside his collar. Two-three days beard. Sharp-eyed man, eyes kind of blue. Long nose with the tip twisted to the left, like he was smelling something bad over there. Had on a Stetson hat, kind of worn with a woven hair band. I didn't pay much attention to him."

You won't hear such long-winded observations as the above from today's TV cowboys. They just don't have the time. Their conversation is confined to "Yep," "Nope," "Looks like trouble down there," and "Fill your fist, mister."

TO CONDUCT SERVICES

The Rev. C. B. Hogue left Monday for Wichita, Kans., where the First Baptist Church pastor will conduct evangelism services at the Southwest Baptist Church for the next ten days.

It happened 100 YEARS ago

The oldest incorporated trade association in the country, the United States Brewers Association, was organized in 1862... the same year that

IN TEXAS... a new governor, Francis Richard Lubbock, guided a bankrupt state through that bitter Civil War year. Cotton, exported through Mexico, brought desperately needed foreign gold. Homefront industries were established. Comforts were few, but morale stayed high... and there was good Texas beer, enjoyed then as now.

For then, as now, beer was the traditional beverage of moderation—light, sparkling refreshment that adds a touch of Southwestern hospitality to any occasion. Texans have always enjoyed the good fellowship that goes with every glass.

TODAY, in its centennial year, the United States Brewers Association still works constantly to assure maintenance of high standards of quality and propriety wherever beer and ale are served.

PIONEER TEXANS AND FRENCHMEN

In Castrovilla, 25 miles west of San Antonio, the spire of Saint Louis Church is a symbol of Frenchmen in Texas during the pioneer days of the Texas Republic. Appropriately located, the French colonial edifice stands at Paris and Angelo streets.

Saint Louis Church was begun in 1847 by Abbe Domenach, and completed in 1850. Mesquite and local oak timber were used to frame stained glass windows brought from Galveston.

In early Spring, links between Texas and France will be renewed once more in a very special way when Air France 707 jetliners open direct service between Houston and Paris.

Now, Air France jets will bridge the distance between Texas and France three times weekly, a further impetus to traditional understanding through travel of Europeans and Americans.

are founded on hospitality, mutual interests, and friendship.

In many places, Frenchmen marked their role in the Texas Republic's history. General Sam Houston was received in Austin at the French Embassy, then presided over by Count Dubois de Saligny.

In the 1850's, 2,134 French pioneers established farms on the Rio Grande River and founded such towns as D'Hanis, and Quihi which still dot the map of Texas. French settlers also founded in 1859 the colony of "La Reunion" on the Trinity River across from what is today the City of Dallas.

Now, Air France jets will bridge the distance between Texas and France three times weekly, a further impetus to traditional understanding through travel of Europeans and Americans.

PROPERTY RENDITION

April 1 and May 1 are important deadlines for Texans to render their property to various taxing agencies. State law requires all real and personal property to be rendered for taxes on or before prescribed dates. Those who fail to comply can blame only themselves for the money loss they may consequently suffer.

Some Texas cities set their own tax deadlines. These are the cities of more than 5,000 population which have incorporated under the "Home Rule" provisions of our statutes. All other cities are governed by the general laws of Texas.

In towns operating under the general laws property must be rendered for taxes between January 1 and April 1 each year. A number of home rule cities set up the same requirements in their ordinances, while others prescribe different periods.

For state and county tax purposes, property must be rendered to the County Tax Assessor by April 30, and homestead exemptions must be claimed by the same time.

In some localities a third taxing unit is involved—the independent school district. In other places school taxes are collected by the city or county. In addition, some localities have water, irrigation, or levee districts which assess and collect taxes. Make inquiry as to where these various taxes are assessed, and as to applicable deadlines for rendition.

What property must be rendered for taxes? If Texas laws were strictly enforced, we would be required to render to all taxing units nearly every piece of real and personal property which we own, down to the very clothing on our backs.

An exception is the constitutional exemption of $250 worth of household furniture. However, no taxing unit carries its requirements this far, and it will be necessary to inquire of each tax assessor when rendering your property whether specific types of property are ordinarily rendered in that locality. Some cities and counties collect ad valorem taxes on automobiles, television sets and other personal items, while others ignore practically all personal property. Business and professional men are generally required to render all merchandise, furnishings, fixtures, business automobiles and equipment.

If property is not rendered by the tax payer, it may then be placed upon the unrendered tax roll, and the taxing agency places such valuation thereon as it considers fair. One advantage of rendering your property is that you can set your own valuation. Then, if the county or city decides a higher valuation is in order you will be given an opportunity to appear before a board to explain why the higher figure should not be used in computing your taxes.

Thereafter, an appeal to the courts are possible in some instances. Generally speaking, however, the courts are unable to strike out a valuation unless the agency or board has acted arbitrarily and placed on the property a valuation higher than that placed on comparable property owned by others. If you do not render, the valuation set by the taxing agency is final.

Remember these facts: You may need to render your property at three or more different tax offices. Ask each tax assessor if in doubt concerning the deadline or the rendering of specific personal items.

Strangest murder trial in Garza history opens here Wednesday

Deaf-mute as defendant poses real problem

The strangest murder trial in Garza County history — one that has the judge and attorneys involved puzzled no end—is scheduled to open in the district courtroom here at 10 a. m. next Wednesday morning.

Reymundo Flores, a deaf-mute farm laborer, will be tried for the fatal shooting of Pearlene Stafford, 33-year-old Negro woman, here last Nov. 18.

The problem is simply how to communicate with the defendant. He can't write. He doesn't know sign language. His attorney, Nago L. Alaniz of San Diego, Tex., says he can't communicate at all with the defendant.

and then in only the most elementary way. Despite this, Flores has learned to drive a tractor and do useful farm work.

But communication this time is highly important. Flores' life will be at stake.

A special venire of 60 prospective jurors has been drawn for Flores' trial.

They include Nicolas Vukad, Tom Henderson, Spencer Kuykendall, A. M. Smith, Harold Lucas, Ray Young, Earl Lancaster, Elvius K. Davis, Jim Jackson, Douglas McWhirt, Carter Gene White, Gene Hays, Reese Hodges, C. H. Hartel, Joe McCowen, Guy T. Floyd, Rex King.

Short course in credit to begin Monday night

With almost all the major business firms, service organizations, and professional offices in Post expected to be represented, a four-night, ten-hour credit and collection course will begin Monday night, April 30, at 7:30. Meeting at the Reddy Room, the classes will be conducted by Lowry M. Carpenter, retail training specialist from The University of Texas.

This short course is being sponsored by Retail Merchants Assn. of Post, and is made available by the Distributive Education Program of the University and the Texas Education Agency.

The course is designed to give advanced and refresher training in credit and collection procedures for both large and small business and professional organizations and firms. E. E. Pierce, manager of Retail Merchants Assn., said at least 30 owners, credit and collection managers and staff members were expected to be on hand for the four classes.

He said the course would be valuable to not only experienced personnel, but also beginners in credit and collection work.

Classes will be held for two and a half hours each night for four nights. During the lectures and discussions practical ideas will be offered on how to interview, investigate, and accept or reject customers seeking credit, increase credit volume, control accounts effectively, decrease collection problems, conduct sales promotions and use the small claims courts.

Poll tax needs told for primary

Poll tax requirements for voters in the Democratic primary election May 5 were outlined this week by County Democratic Chairman N. C. Outlaw.

All voters, the chairman said, are required to present their poll tax receipt when they go to vote, or make affidavit of having paid it, if it has been misplaced.

Those voting must have been residents of the state for one year and of the county for six months prior to the election — and, of course, must hold a valid poll tax receipt or be exempt from payment of poll tax because of age.

Those who were 60 years of age before Jan. 1, 1961, are not required to pay a poll tax in order to vote, and one day's residence in the precinct qualifies them to cast a vote.

The poll tax receipt presented, or for which affidavit is made, must have been issued by the tax assessor-collector in the county where the poll tax payer lived on Jan. 1, 1961.

The chairman also explains that if the prospective voter lived in this county and paid his poll tax here, then moved to another county and then returned here less than six months before the election, he is not entitled to a vote in this county.

However, he may vote in the (See POLL TAX, Page 8)

City dog catcher goes to work

John Huffman has been employed as the city dog catcher. He went to work this week to solve Post's spring "dog problem."

Several dogs were picked up at the school grounds yesterday morning, as Police Chief Elton Corley warned would happen last week if the dogs were not kept up.

Dogs also are being picked up in other parts of town.

Police Chief Corley said the dogs will be held at the city dog pound for 72 hours before being disposed of, should owners seek them.

Owners will have to have their dogs vaccinated and purchase a city dog tag before they will be released.

Corley said residents wanting dogs picked up can call the police station and the dog catcher will be notified.

Little campaign activity as primaries draw near

Some political "dust" is being stirred around the county in the county judge's three-way Democratic race and in the two county commissioner races, but beyond that there are few indications hereabouts that the big off-presidential primary is but ten days away. For example, not one of the host gubernatorial candidates has a campaign manager. There are a few road signs up, and no placards—other than one for General Walker—in downtown windows, but the fact remains nonetheless

Speech classes to present plays

The Post High School speech classes will present four one-act plays at 8 p. m. Friday in the Primary Auditorium under the direction of Howard Carlyle.

The four shorter plays replace a single three act play as has been done in former years.

The four plays are "Daft Danny", "Five for Bad Luck", "Which Is the Way to Boston?", and "Itchin' to Get Hitched."

By JIM CORNISH

The Dispatch came off the press today a good many miles from home—at least that was the schedule when this column was being hurriedly written yesterday afternoon. The problem developed Wednesday when our reliable old press broke down for the second time in five years. So the page forms for the Wednesday four-page run were loaded into a borrowed station wagon on with the paper and driven to Slaton where Publisher Francis Perry of the Slaton Slatonite made his press available between press runs of the Slatonite for The Dispatch's printing.

We have our fingers crossed and hope to get our press put back together this weekend and ready for action again next week. Needless to say things were a mite hectic around this newspaper plant yesterday, being one man short anyway.

Burlington Industries flew in a party of 15, consisting mainly of buyers from New York, Los Angeles, San Francisco, Boston, and Chicago, via two jet airliners yesterday to tour the Postex mills here. The jets landed in Lubbock and the buyers and wives were driven down for the morning tour. The group, together with Postex officers, enjoyed a good old-fashioned West Texas chuck wagon lunch at noon at the City-County Park. The chuck wagon feed was prepared by L. P. Kennedy.

Bob Collier's big Rexall One Cent Sale gets under way today for a big 10-day run after sort of a "false start" in last week's Dispatch, when the sale was advertised to begin Sunday. That was the former starting day for such Rexall sales and Bob was off to a druggist convention when we picked up the ad. Anyway to refresh your memories you'll find the ad in today's Dispatch again on page 11. And this time the sale is "really on."

On page 3 you'll find Contractor A. D. Frazier's announcement that he has taken over the development of the new Fred Robinson addition from Horace Henley. Frazier explains he plans to build more moderately priced homes, starting at $9,500, than are now being built around town in other new residential areas. Frazier has lived in Post the past year and has been employed on the development of Westgate Terrace.

On page 8, you'll note that Melvin Jennings is Post's new Baldwin bread distributor. Jennings has moved his family, consisting of his wife, Jo, and two sons, Eddie, 9, and Jackie, 4, to Post from Abilene and is living at 511 West Seventh. Melvin is an energetic fellow who likes Post fine and says (See POSTINGS, Page 8)

Rites conducted here Tuesday for Beulah Pennell, 90

Funeral services for Mrs. Beulah M. Pennell, 90, of Post were conducted at 2:30 p. m. Tuesday in the Church of Christ by Herb Smith, minister.

Mrs. Pennell, the widow of Boone W. Pennell, Garza farmer, died at 1:30 p. m. Monday in Garza Memorial Hospital. She had entered the hospital two weeks before after suffering a stroke.

She had been residing at the Crawford Rest Home here.

Mrs. Pennell had been a resident of the Post area since 1921. Her husband died a number of years ago.

She was born July 31, 1871, at Beulah Smith in Fannin County, Tex., and was married in 1905 at Gainesville, Tex. Mrs. Pennell had been a member of the Church of Christ since she was 18.

Survivors include two daughters, Mrs. Jewell Long of Post and Mrs. Bert Dugger of Lubbock; two sons, I. S. (Pete) Pennell and O. F. (Bus) Pennell, both of Post; a niece, Mrs. Pennell raised, Mrs. Pauline Kruse and 19 great-grandchildren.
