The Post Dispatch

Volume XXIII Post, Texas "The Gateway To The Plains" Thursday, January 13, 1949 Number 11

POST FOLKS AT WORK:

Lowell Short, owner of Short Hardware Store, paused for the Post Dispatch photographer while arranging some of his varied stock, which includes appliances and parts and everything

Five Stores Are Pilfered; Three Boys Arrested

A recent wave of vandalism was climaxed last Friday night when five local business establishments were entered and looted of small change and merchandise.

Three 12 and 13-year-old boys were arrested that night and Saturday morning, as the result of one of them having allegedly been seen by a local resident in the Triangle Service Station. The man who saw him reported to Deputy Sheriff Skinner Storie who made the arrest. The boy was reported to have been trying to open the cash register, when seen. In his pockets were some knives like the ones that were taken from White Auto Store the same night.

The three boys were released to their parents, after District Attorney Stansell Clement of Lamb and County Judge J. Lee Bowen had a conference on the subject.

The stores reporting intruders on Friday night, besides the Triangle Service Station and White Auto Store were the Post Auto Supply, which also was entered by vandals the preceding weekend, Storie Motor Company and Post Implement Company.

Only small items and change in the cash register were taken from the stores. J. N. Pover, on Saturday, could make nothing but six knives, a few other small objects and about $4.50 in change from the cash register of the White Auto Store.

The places were entered by breaking plate glasses or jimmying locks.

Seventeen Days Are Left To Pay Taxes

Seventeen days of paying taxes without a penalty remain. As is generally true at this time of year, the tax collectors for the county, state, schools and city are daily facing crowds of last minute tax collectors.

Bryan Williams Is New Parole Chairman

Bryan Williams last week was appointed chairman of the Garza County Parole Board to succeed John T. Herd, who recently resigned after having held the position.

Look Who's New

A son weighing 6 1/2 lb. was born to Mr. and Mrs. "Punk" Ritchie of near Post January 5.

Communications, Busses, Schools Stopped By Ice

Had it not been for regular train service, Post would have been isolated from the world beyond Justiceburg yesterday.

The heavy ice from intermittent precipitation since early Sunday morning and consistent below freezing temperatures stopped bus transportation and halted telephone and telegraph communications.

By 2 p.m. Wednesday, the only long distance telephone wire in working order was the line to Justiceburg. Many of the rural lines were down and about 50 local telephones were out of order. The lines were either damaged by heavy ice or by ice-laden branches falling from trees, said Mrs. Fritz Greenfield, local supervisor for the Southwestern Associated Telephone Company.

All over Post, the trees and fences were losing limbs and branches yesterday because of the heavy ice.

George Barker of the Santa Fe Railway Company said he was able to send a few emergency messages by Wednesday morning, but by 2 p.m. he was unable to send any kind of message. The trains, however, were running.

B. K. Bowen Suffers Stroke On Sunday

B. K. Bowen, who has been ill at his home for many months, suffered a stroke Sunday night and has been critically ill since.

His brothers and sisters and other relatives have been notified of his serious illness, but by press time none had been able to arrive because of inclement weather.

MEETING POSTPONED

An annual banquet meeting of the South Plains Area Boy Scout Council, which was to have been held in Lubbock Monday night, was postponed indefinitely because of the hazardous weather. Officers were to have been elected at an afternoon meeting before the banquet.

MRS. DOUGHTY ILL

Mrs. Annie Doughty, longtime resident of Post, has been ill at her home for more than a week. Miss Ruth Caffey is staying with her.

BATCHLER INJURED

C. A. Batchler broke his right arm above the wrist when he slipped on the ice near his home yesterday.

Mrs. Hundley Is Death Victim On Thursday Night

Mrs. E. J. Hundley, a resident of Post for 33 years, died from a sudden heart attack at 7 o'clock last Thursday night in the Lubbock Memorial Hospital. Having become ill earlier that day, she was admitted to the hospital at 5:30 p.m.

Funeral services were held Saturday afternoon in the First Methodist Church, in which she had been an active worker for 30 years. The Rev. J. E. Stephens, who was pastor of the church during the last years that Mrs. Hundley was able to be active, officiated. Scripture and prayer were by the Rev. A. B. Cockrell.

Music included an organ prelude by Mrs. T. L. Jones, two hymns, "Have Thine Own Way" and "In The Sweet Bye and Bye," and a vocal solo by Billy Baker.

Burial was in Terrace Cemetery under direction of Mason and Company.

Palbearers were Walter E. Holland, E. A. Warren, Elton Lee Phil Boucher, John Davis and W. O. Holly.

Honorary palbearers were T. E. Greenfield, T. L. Jones, L. A. Presson, J. H. Waller, Benny Sogree, J. E. Parker, Ira L. Duckworth and Dr. D. C. Williams.

Flower girls were Daisy Holly, Janie Sheppard, LaRue Stevens, Elwanda Davies, Anita Kennedy and Nelda Floyd.

Mrs. Hundley was born as Adelle E. Parr in Montague, 1879, at Mallard in Montague County. She and Mr. Hundley were married at Mallard in January, 1895.

Green Feed Now Necessary For Cattle's Health

There is a saying that history repeats itself. And Garza County Agricultural Agent Robert Gibson says that's just what it will do this year, unless Garza Stockmen do something.

About a year ago, several cattle feeders had trouble. Their cattle lost their appetites and didn't gain as well as they should have. The blame went to the late summer drought of the year before.

As the ranges were dry again last summer, the agent is warning stockmen to keep a good eye on their cattle. The cattle are facing a tough winter. They have spent a lot of time on droughty ranges, and there is little green feed in the winter pastures. It takes high quality green feed—and lots of it—to keep the cattle in shape.

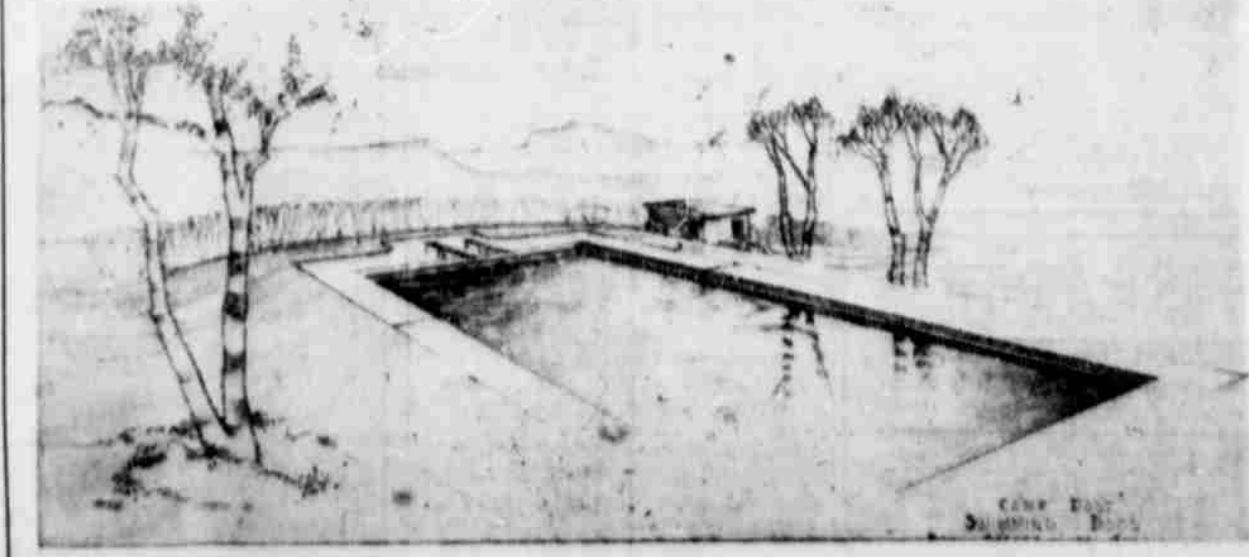

Good quality alfalfa hay is one of the best sources of vitamin A, there is, Gibson says. Two to pounds per day supply enough vitamin A to keep the cattle in good shape.

Cattle that don't get plenty of

All County Officials Will Be Paid Salaries, No Fees

For the first time in the history of Garza County, all county officials are employed on a salary basis. Heretofore they have depended on fees.

The Commissioners Court, in session Monday and Tuesday, decided to pay salaries to all the officials, set the salaries for the various officers and authorized a salary fund from which the officers are to be paid.

All fees collected by all officials from now on will go into the county treasury.

One of the eight amendments to the Texas Constitution accepted by the voters in the November election, requires that county sheriffs and tax assessors-collectors and their deputies be paid on a salary basis, but the amendment did not apply to other county officials.

The second prize, $1, went to Mrs. W. F. Dent for the news tip about Mickey Edwards' car burning up.

Honorable mention went to Tinker Beauchamp who was the second person to report the first 1949 baby and who reported the child's name, Evelyn Golden Johnson.

The contest is still on.

Water, Oil Wells Stop Pumping For Awhile Wednesday

A few electricity lines were down yesterday, mostly as a result of fallen tree limbs. The only dangerous one reported was a 2300 volt line down in the mill district. This was a carefully guarded by Southwestern Public Service Company personnel until it could be repaired.

The Southwestern Public Service Company repairmen were busy most of yesterday repairing city-owned lines in the Close City Community. Damage to these lines had made it impossible for the city wells to pump water.

By 4 p.m. yesterday, the company had begun receiving reports that some of the oil company-owned lines in the Garza County oil fields were down and that a few wells had stopped pumping.

Electricity all over town went off for a few minutes about 3:30 p.m. yesterday, but personnel in the local office did not know what had happened, as there were no telephone communications. They said that earlier in the day, the company's Lubbock headquarters sent a radio-equipped car down here to investigate the service because it had been unable to communicate by tele-

Bargain Rates For Papers End Jan. 31

Bargain rates for the daily newspapers and the Post Dispatch have been extended through this month. Renewals, bought in January, will be dated from the time the present subscriptions expire. The Abilene Reporter and the Fort Worth Star-Telegram each offer a substantial savings during their annual bargain season.

The Post Dispatch subscriptions or renewals may be bought at a saving of 50 cents each during January.

School Cafeteria Is Nearly Ready

The new school cafeteria is almost completed and, if weather permits, the equipment will be moved in next week, Supt. G. R. Day said yesterday.

Joe Moss Begins Investigation Of Docket Condition

Joe S. Moss, who was out of town when the other elected county officials took their oaths of office on New Year's Day, was sworn in as county attorney Monday afternoon.

He began his duties immediately, undertaking as his first project the investigation of the condition of the court dockets in an effort to dispose of all accumulated cases in the earliest possible period.

After taking the office Moss, in a statement to the Post Dispatch, said "Garza County is one of the wealthiest counties in the state and its citizens are entitled to the very best of law enforcement."

"All officials have promised co-operation with each other and I am hoping for the cooperation of all of the people, so that the law may be enforced."

by Parkhill and Cooper, consulting engineers. The contractor is the Oliver and Bellamy Construction Company of Tyler.

Moisture Is Aid To Grass And Cropland

The weather—which has been the major news topic since the black duster of December 4—switched from dusty to wet early Sunday morning and has had Garza County, along with a large part of Texas, buried in alternate layers of ice, sleet and snow this week.

The Double U. Company's rain gauge registered 1.63 inches of moisture from early Sunday morning until this morning.

Although official reports from other areas of Garza County were not available by press time, County Agricultural Agent Robert Gibson observed that the precipitation was general and that quite a bit more moisture blessed most of the plains land than fell on the soil below the Caprock.

The moisture, Gibson said, should stop the sand for awhile and permit listing. Some listing had been done before the damp weather set in. In these instances, the moisture will penetrate more deeply into the ground, but, in event of high winds later on, re-listing might be necessary to prevent wind erosion.

The moisture will be good for the wheat that is still alive and it will greatly benefit pastures. Gibson said he imagined the grass under the ice had already started to grow.

The weather, of course, might slow down the terracing program a bit, but the moisture in the ground will permit the use of whirlwind terracers of which there are eight or 10 in the county. The soil, before this week, was too hard for whirlwind terracing.

March Of Dimes Drive Will Open In Post Monday

In preparation for the 1949 March of Dimes Drive for Infantile Paralysis, which opens here Monday, 200 coin collection boxes are being placed in the local stores, schools of the city and county and other places.

Judge J. Lee Bowen, chairman for the drive, announced yesterday that Mrs. T. L. Jones will be chairman of the women's division of the drive and that all women's clubs and many individual women will be hearing from her in the near future. Other committee chairman were announced in the Post Dispatch two weeks ago.

The coin collection boxes are the same ones used in the 1948 drive, as the new ones were not available at the time the local chairman ordered supplies.

Judge Bowen started mailing cards regarding the drive to individuals this week.

P. T. A. To Have Important Meet

An important meeting of the parent-teacher association scheduled for today, has been postponed until next Thursday, January 20, at which time the members will meet at 3:50 p.m. in the high school auditorium.

The executive committee will meet at 3 p.m.

Members will vote on which projects will be furthered with the parent-teacher association funds.

The program subject will be "The Home, A Practical Laboratory To Train for Homemaking," will be introduced by the leader, Mrs. Walter Boren. Four speakers will present the subject from their respective points of view. They are Junior Malouf, high school boy; Mrs. Boren, parent; Mrs. V. F. Bingham, young matron, and Miss Bessie Pitts, homemaking teacher.

Mrs. Cash's Classes To Open On Monday

The opening of Mrs. Esma Cash's classes in expression and corrective reading, scheduled for this week, was postponed until next Monday because of the illness of her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Kendrick Cash.

Beginning Monday, Mrs. Cash will offer private instruction, giving two lessons for $1 each week.

ROGER W. BABSON WRITES THIS WEEK:

Stocks Of Operating Utilities Are Good Investments

New York City, Jan. 7.—During the past few days I asked many investment bankers:—"In view of the business and market uncertainties, what are the safest stocks to hold? The general answer was that the stocks of the operating utility companies offer the best combination of safety and income.

Outlook For Business
Total kilowatt output of the utilities will decline with general business, but this decline will be from industrial customers. As many electric companies are now short of generating capacity, and cannot take on many new residential customers, this could be a blessing in disguise. Residential customers are much more profitable than large industrial customers. Therefore, by switching customers, the total output could decline without a decline in profits.

Electric companies have very few labor troubles. In the case of water companies, the labor expense is only 20 per cent, compared with 80 per cent in the printing industry. The labor expense for the entire electrical industry is low,—equalled only by the chemical industry. Therefore, it has little to fear from the much-talked-of "fourth round" of wage increases.

Operating Expenses
The electrical industry is a large purchaser of supplies, including millions of miles of copper wire, millions of poles, arms, and insulators, thousands of trucks, as well as great quantities of coal, oil and natural gas. Although there may be some further price increases on some of these products, yet the cost has turned downward on the average. This should benefit the utilities so long as we avoid war with Russia or the Chinese Communists.

The only "nigger in the woodpile" is the attitude of utility commissions regarding rates. Many utility companies are in need of higher rates, especially street railway and bus companies which have large labor expense. As, however, these rate-making bodies clearly understand that to take care of their customers the utilities must have more capital, and in order to raise more capital must give investors a reasonable dividend, they should gladly grant these needed rate increases.

As Inflation Hedges
Utilities of operating companies can be recommended for safety and for income, but they should be selected as hedges against inflation. If considering only the cost of replacement, stocks of utility operating companies should be worth double what they were 10 years ago provided they cannot be caught by the "Depreciation Formula." The fact, however, that utilities are not free to raise their rates without special permission, is a distinct handicap. Hence, for inflation hedges it is better to buy steel, oil or merchandising stocks. A live merchant can always keep one jump ahead of inflation.

It is wise to confine one's purchase of electric company stocks to the territory in which you live. You, yourself, should know the attitude of your public authorities on this rate-making problem; it is reflected by your local newspapers. If you believe that your public service commission is fair, then buy the stock of the company supplying your home with electricity; but not otherwise.

Diversification Important
Of course, you should not put all your eggs in any one basket, however good that basket may be. This means that one should not have more than 20 per cent of his funds in public utilities, and not more than 5 per cent in any one company. An investor should have his funds divided amongst different industries, different companies and sections. As a final thought, I urge you to avoid utilities cities that might be bombed in case of World War III.

GETTING OUT On The LIMB by EDDIE the EDITOR

It sure takes a raft of money to keep afloat these days.

We're in the advertising business, and it — like most other trades — is getting a bit dull over the country. It always does at this time of year.

A fellow really has to keep on his toes, when times are dull—but a bunch of merchants over the country are doing a bang-up good job of their advertising. Here are a few examples:

In an eastern grocery: "Apples you can eat in the dark."
In a California store: "We buy old furniture. We sell antiques."
On a Galveston bathing beach: "A coat of tan is yours for the basking."

In the window of a reducing specialist: "What have you got to lose?"
On a movie house: "Adam Had Four Sons, at 12:10, 3:00, 5:30, and 8:30."
In a Boston library: "Only low conversation permitted here."

In a barber shop: "During alterations patrons will be shaved in the back."
Southern Pacific Railway: "Spend the winter where the sun does."
In a Pennsylvania tavern: "If you must drive your husband to drink, head him this way."

In a restaurant: "Don't be afraid to ask for credit. Our refusals will be polite."
In a furniture store: "Notice To Employees: Excuses to be absent, because of illness, funerals or weddings should be presented to the office the day before the game."

The above Notice To Employees struck me as being significant.

The nation's employers have been through a long period of employees' quitting without notice, working hours at their own convenience, taking days off without notice or permission, and so on.

Now the pendulum seems to be swinging the other way.

It is my earnest hope that the swing will not be too far in the opposite direction.

Once — no longer ago than the 1930 depression — an employee could not take a day off for anything without risking the loss of his job. One of my employees tells me that she was denied the day off one time after her father had called her that her father was critically ill. She took the risk, of course, but it was most unpleasant to have to be worried about a job at such a critical time.

The years, since the stock market crash of 1929, should have taught a lesson to both employers and employees. The employers had a heyday during the long depression and the employees have had a heyday during the rush war and postwar years.

Now, that times aren't so good again — they both should be more considerate, and I believe they will.

Here's something for both groups to think about: "You'll find that the big potatoes are on top of the heap because there's a lot of little ones holding them up there."

Can you ever remember a January 1 when there were so many bills that are so hard to pay? Maybe the meek haven't inherited the earth but they sure have inherited most of its bills.

It's very difficult to lose a pleasant good friend and business neighbor like Mrs. R. J. Hundley. Besides being a friendly, kind and lovable person, Mrs. Hundley — through Post's history — has contributed much to its progress. It would be difficult to estimate the development of Post as a business center and the

Garza and the World

By EVELYN BOYD

Last week 20 outstanding world problems for 1949, as compiled by the New York Times, were listed in this column, along with the suggestion that thought be given to each one — since almost everyone in its eventuality can effect us here in Garza County.

I have given no thought to some of them, but I am undertaking to discuss each one in the light of how it now appears to me. During the year, I will try to gather and pass along in this space a more authoritative interpretation of them. The first five problems were discussed last week. I take it on from there:

6. Will the Atlantic Pact linking U. S. and Canada to the Western Union be concluded?

Not in 1949. Right or wrong, the United States—supported by Canada—will stand as the champion of personal liberties in the world versus totalitarianism. I don't think the "reds" made a good enough showing in the last election to attempt to overthrow the present U. S. form of government within the next few critical years.

The present form of government still belongs to "the people," even though nearly half of those who were eligible failed to vote in the last General Election. I think the majority of the people want their personal liberties and that they will keep them, and I think that if the Atlantic Pact is broken, it will be broken in future years—not in 1949.

7. Will the four-year austerity program solve the economic problems of Britain?

No. Without capitalism, England will never make a comeback. The four-year austerity program is merely a form of propaganda designed to hoodwink the long-suffering Britains, while Socialism attempts to get a permanent hold on the country. Under Socialism, only the people who run the government prosper.

8. What program will be worked out for Germany, nationally and internationally?

When the Hun is poor and down He's the humblest man in town. But when he climbs and holds the rod He smites his fellow man—and God.

A Dutch poet named Jacob Cats wrote the above in the 17th century. At that time, my maternal ancestors were full-blood Germans and so were my paternal grandmother's folks.

Their descendants made very acceptable Americans, as do most of the other Germans who are converted to the American Way.

I believe Germany can be city's improvement from the standpoint of wholesome activities and civic projects that Mrs. Hundley has steadily and quietly given us through her two sons, Jim and Clyde.

brought around to our way of doing and thinking, but not in 1949. It will take 50 years, at least (it took 317 years to make me such an avid American, and I don't think we will fool with them that long.

In 1949, our Congress, State Department, military authorities, etc., will talk and plan, but will do little in a constructive way about either a national or an international program for Germany. We might go so far as to take the situation out of the hands of both the State Department and the military authorities, but it will be difficult to get a new set-up to working efficiently during the next several years.

I'm afraid the bickering will continue until the guns start firing at us again and the strongest element (East or West) wins.

9. Will the Centrist government in France withstand onslaughts from Left and Right?

It might during 1949, but I don't think it will withstand the onslaughts for very many years. Europe is the testing ground for the Left Wing elements, and a middle-of-the-roader carries no weight at all over there. It's last getting that way in this country.

I was interested in a magazine, the first six months after I came home from the war job. It failed because we of the editorial staff insisted on taking a middle-of-the-road stand. Certain would be advertisers said they would finance us if we would take the Left road. Others said they would finance us if we would take the Right road. Neither would give us even a small advertising contract without a statement as to whether we were Left or Right. Nobody was interested in a Centrist. Our magazine subsequently died of starvation.

It could be that way with France.

10. Will the Italian Communists succeed in making headway against the government?

I gave my opinion on this question last week when I said that of all the Communists I distrust, I distrust the Italian Communists the most. Anything can happen in Italy, and it might unless the present government is stronger than I think it is. The Italians seem to be trying harder to stage an economic comeback than most of the countries that are getting U. S. assistance, and they will continue to do so as long as it looks to them like the U. S. is the world's leading nation. The average Italian — to a man — will string along with the guy who seems to be winning.

11. How much progress will the Soviet Union make in solving her internal problems?

This is interesting, and the subject needs more space than I can give it today. I will pass along some opinions gleaned from research on Russian internal problems next week.

A few more collections, and the Boys Ranch Fund will be over the top for another year. For those who have been so considerate in this manner, I pass along this encouraging little piece which has been dedicated to the leaders of the South Plains Boy Scout Council:

I took a piece of plastic clay And idly fashioned it one day; And as my fingers pressed it, still It bent and yielded to my will.

I came again when days were past The bit of clay was hard at last; My early impress still it bore, And I could change its form no

What Our Contemporaries Are Saying:

ROUGH ON BEER — District Attorney Eldon Mabon was in Gail, Borden County Tuesday to represent the state in a county court case there wherein two brothers were charged with illegally transporting 50 cases of beer.

It's very seldom Borden county has a lawbreaker and the result of the trial there Tuesday indicates the reason why. The brothers were assessed a fine of $1,000.00. — Colorado Record.

BE READY — Pay your poll tax for 1949. The legislature will soon be in session and will probably submit several constitutional amendments to a vote of the people. If you do not pay your poll tax by January 31 you will not get to vote in any election held this year.

Lubbock is going to propose the submission of a new constitutional amendment for the purpose of nullifying the college building amendment adopted two years ago which would bring $2,500,000 in new buildings to West Texas State.

That is a reason why every Randall county voter should be alarmed and be armed with a poll tax receipt before it is too late. — Canyon News.

FYI — Post office figures for 1948 show that $321,817.88 in money orders were sold in the Seagraves office. It's a good bet that well over a hundred thousand dollars of that total went to mail order houses for items that could have been purchased in Seagraves. In value per dollar, many of the items could have been purchased at a saving to the customer. One thing is sure, the mail order houses don't fail to tell their customers about the merchandise they have for sale — or what it sells for. — Gaines County News.

BE A CITIZEN — Although the year 1948 was an eventful one, politically, all of us need to be reminded at this time of the importance of being a real citizen.

You take a piece of living clay And gently form it day by day; Molding with your power and art A young boy's soft and yielding heart.

You come again when days are gone It is a man you look upon; Your early impress still he bore And you can change him never more.

to pay a $13,000,000 public debt owed by Texas in return for possession of the state's 251,578,800-acre public domain. — Scurry County Times.

TRENDS — If your best friend doesn't speak to you when you pass him on the street, don't feel hurt—he's probably thinking about his income tax return. Not many years ago the man who paid an income tax was a man of distinction, a leader in the community. Through his personal efforts he had acquired a considerable portion of the world's goods, and he was entitled to brag a little about the fact that he paid an income tax.

But try, how things have changed! Today the "income tax" is exactly what it says—if you have an income you pay a tax. Of

Identification Of Grasses Interests Six Garza 4-Hers

Six Garza County boys are trying for a place on the Garza County team of three in the statewide grass identification contest to be held January 29 at the Fat Stock Show in Fort Worth. Possibly some other boys from the county will enter the local elimination contest which is to be held January 22, Garza County Agricultural Agent Robert Gibson said yesterday.

Three team members, two alternates and the agent will leave for Fort Worth Friday, January 28, and return on Sunday. The six boys now aspiring to be a team member or an alternate are Carter Gene White, Barry Ford, Jimmy Puckett, Johnny Matsler, Jack Schmidt and Jerrel Stone.

"The boys are making good progress, and I am well pleased with the way they are catching on," Gibson told the Post Dispatch this week. An award will be given to the state first place winner and possibly to the runner-up, he said.

Gas Heaters Should Be Blown With Air

Last week's cold weather reminded Mrs. G. N. Leggett of a worthwhile household hint which should be passed along to the public.

She said that gas heaters should be "blown out" at least once a year for best service. By blowing them out with air from an automobile pump or hose, the consumer can get more heat and more safety with less gas and fewer fumes, she has discovered.

The Lynn County News last week reported that Winston Wharton, owner of the Wharton Motor Company in Tahoka and son-in-law of Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Morrell, had enlarged his "already capacious" place of business, by a 26x60 foot addition.

"If Mr. Wharton makes any further expansions," the paper stated, "he will have to acquire some additional lots to do so."

Trucks To Be Tagged According To Weight

Commercial vehicles will be licensed in Texas according to weight, instead of carrying capacity, the State Highway Department announced Saturday. Tax collectors will assess registration fees in accordance with the weights now being stamped on metal tags by the manufacturer at the factory.

However, commercial vehicles produced before January 1, 1949, will be registered according to former practice.

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

We Both Won This One

Blew my top the other morning when I discovered a shirt I'd put on had two buttons missing.

"Joe," the missus says, "do you ever read what you write? For a man who writes newspaper pieces all about tolerance, you sometimes show a lot of race prejudice."

"Race prejudice!" I holler. "No one can accuse me of that." "I mean prejudice against the entire human race," she interrupts with a smile. "Why get mad at the world over two little buttons? That took the wind out of me.

From where I sit (as I told the missus that evening), a lot of us sometimes get too worked up over little things... little differences of opinion or taste. One person prefers beer or ale, another prefers cider or lemonade. But why criticize the other fellow just because his tastes aren't the same as ours? "That sounds more like you, Joe," she laughs, snipping off a thread. (It so happens she was sewing on buttons.)

Clayton Marhoff Is Amazed At Progress In Post Since 1917

When Clayton Marhoff, with his wife and two children, visited Post Friday and Saturday for the first time since 1917, he needed a guide.

In addition to complete changes in downtown Post and an amazingly expanded residential district, Marhoff was surprised to observe oil wells on the outskirts of town, "where I used to play as a barefoot boy," he told his family.

Because the grade school is in the same location that it was in 1917, he was able to find the house where he and his parents and sister, Adelaide, lived as children. The house now belongs to Mrs. Tom Morgan. But the house which the Marhoffs occupied in 1917 has since burned. It belonged to Mr. and Mrs. R. P. Tomlinson at the time of the fire.

Clayton is the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. A. L. (Chief) Marhoff who were here to help with the colonization of Post. They moved away from here in 1918, and were living in Fort Collins, Colo., at the time of their death's about 12 years ago. Mrs. Marhoff died about a month after her husband's death.

The younger Marhoff left Post on July 4, 1917, with a group of other local boys who joined the National Guard. He is now in the highway trucking business in Detroit. He said his sister, Adelaide, teaches in Detroit. She is married.

"Chief" Marhoff was the surveyor for all the Double U Land.

Plant Or Transplant Woody Shrubs From Now Until March 15

From now until March 15 is a good time to set out roses, all fruit trees, hedges and any kind of tree or woody plant, according to County Agricultural Agent Robert Gibson.

Now that sufficient moisture has been received, this is also a good time to transplant trees or shrubs.

Gibson warned, however, that transplanted trees or shrubs must be watered thoroughly at regular intervals during the winter. He suggested that a good soaking be given them once a month.

By a good soaking, the agent means put a mound around the tree or shrub and fill it full of water. Then cut the flow from the garden hose back to a stream, the size of a match and water the tree or shrub with this small stream for three days.

"Moisture is all we need in this local soil for either grass or trees," the agent explained, "but we can't have both."

Now is the time, he said, to decide whether to have grass or trees in the yard. "You can't have a good stand of both he said he is convinced.

Recommendations For Conservation Of Soil Offered By Chief Of SC Service

H. H. Bennett, chief of the Soil Conservation Service, said in his 1948 fiscal year report today the margin between land deterioration and land conservation in the United States has been so narrowed that the goal of a permanent agriculture is in sight "if we but speed up our efforts."

Contributing to the progress of the Service's work he reviewed during the past 15 years in his report to Secretary of Agriculture Charles F. Brannan was still another record year of farm and range land conservation treatment in farmers' soil conservation districts. That was 21 1/2 million acres on which soil conservation measures were applied to meet the needs of the land, or about 7 per cent more than in the previous record year of 1947.

The report pointed out that during each of the 15 years of the life of the Soil Conservation Service, more conservation work was done per employee than during the preceding year.

Experience Helps.
 "Moreover," the soil conservation chief observed, "increased experience on the part of Service technicians, together with increased experience and efficiency of the soil conservation districts and cooperating farmers, collectively, have made it possible for the Service to increase the work load per man each year without sacrificing quality or thoroughness of the conservation work done."

The 1948 accomplishments with a staff reported at 17 per cent less per soil conservation district than the year before brought to 571,163 the number of active conservation plans made in the districts since August, 1937, covering 157,751,642 acres. The 1948 year's 109,673 plans covered 31,484,947 acres. The 21,576,654 acres treated in the last fiscal year brought the total acreage treated in districts since the first ones were organized to 82,824,431. The figures do not include other work done during the operational phases of Service activities, mainly on private lands.

Other Countries Follow
 The report showed there were 2,033 conservation districts in the 48 states, Hawaii, Puerto Rico, and the Virgin Islands as of June 30, comprising 1,114,003,200 acres, and including about three-fourths of all the farms and two-thirds of the farmland in the country.

Chief Bennett also reported a considerable spread of soil conservation to other countries, with 49 now carrying on some work patterned after that of the Soil Conservation Service, and with 378 scientists or officials of 67 countries having come to the United States since 1942 to study soil conservation methods.

By sharply increasing present conservation operations on the land, he said, the United States can overcome and control erosion within 20 to 30 years. To this end, he advanced seven recommendations for getting the conservation job done on time.

How To Succeed
 1. Set up a timetable for the establishment of those basic measures needed for the conservation of our soil and water resources, according to capability of the land and availability and need of water.

2. Conduct research in conservation to adjust problems encountered in field work and intensify research on those problems.

3. Encourage and promote a comprehensive program of conservation education through all available educational agencies and institutions.

4. Complete land capability surveys of the country and analyze the information to provide land facts needed for future farm planning and action.

5. Recognize and use land capabilities in making production adjustments and in developing other agricultural programs.

6. Encourage continued organization of soil conservation districts, in order to develop conservation programs with local leadership and direction.

7. Improve the conservation credit structure.

Fires Don't Wait Until Hazard Is No Longer There

Two hundred $10,000 homes could have been built from the loss of dwelling fires in Texas from January through August.

Over a million were destroyed when 2,500 houses caught fire in the first 8 months of this year, reports Marvin Hall, State Fire Insurance Commissioner, in a plea to housewives to remove fire hazards from their homes.

"Every house burned down or badly damaged by fire means one more family in need of living quarters," Hall said. "These families must take homes or building materials that should go to veterans and their families or to families who have long been waiting for a home of their own."

Three-fifths of the people burned to death in Texas are killed in home fires, and over one-half of our fires occur in homes.

"One blaze could wipe out the security that years have built up," Hall said in his request for Texans to protect their homes as hard as they worked to have them.

"Everyone has an opportunity to make their homes safe by removing fire hazards," he continued. "Some of us will have many opportunities to remove these hazards, while others of us may just have one more chance."

"Fire strikes quickly and unexpectedly," the Commissioner stated. "It will not wait for you to remove to safety valued silver, clothing or precious baby pictures. It strikes rich and poor, healthy and ill, young and old alike."

"Fire may not wait until tomorrow for you to discard that jar of gasoline, replace that frayed electrical cord, or put those matches in a safe metal container. Act now, today, and make your home and future secure fire safe."

The national residential fire loss could be cut 50 per cent if all homes had four features: properly installed heating plants, adequately safeguarded, properly constructed chimneys; fire-resistive roofing; and sound and adequate electric wiring.

Minimum Of 51,772 Teachers Needed In Texas Schools During Next 10 Years

Texas schools must have a minimum of 51,772 new teachers in the next 10 years, the Texas State Teachers Association announced from Austin this week.

That is 5,000 more than the total of teachers now in the schools. Their number 46,500.

Replacement of teachers is causing educators great concern, according to Miss Waurine Walker of Waco, first vice president of the Texas State Teachers Association committee on teacher education and professional standards.

"There is already a tremendous shortage of teachers and the profession is not proving sufficiently attractive to induce enough people to enter it," Miss Walker said today.

"Texas, itself, is now short several thousand qualified teachers. National and state surveys disclose that in the next decade 1,277,714 new teachers will be needed throughout the United States."

"Texas will have to find a bare minimum of 51,772 new instructors."

Surveys of the National Committee show that 31,689 teachers will leave the Texas schools during the next 10 years. They will die, retire or quit the classroom for other reasons.

Birth Rate Increasing
 The birth rate, rapidly accelerated during the war years, will soon be reflected in huge increases in attendance in schools throughout the Nation, Miss Walker pointed out.

"Texas alone will need nearly 16,000 to take care of the increased enrollment due alone to the advanced birth rate," the Teachers Association officer said.

"The state must find an additional 4,500 teachers to replace those teachers with emergency certificates who are on a temporary basis. During the war years all school systems were forced to lower their teaching standards due to the shortage of teachers."

"That the estimated nearly 51,000 new teachers is a minimum figure was indicated by Miss Walker because of Texas' tremendous growth industrially."

"Texas is growing industrially far more rapidly than the average person realizes," she said.

"Should the state continue to attract industrially as successfully as it has during the last seven or eight years, our schools will have thousands of more pupils than any of the surveys

Schools Badly Crowded

Those factors made the future of great concern, especially in Texas, Miss Walker declared, because most schools in the state are "badly overcrowded."

"It is impossible for our schools to absorb additional pupils in any number," she said. "Another recent survey disclosed that nearly half of the school-rooms are already overcrowded."

"Texans have every right to expect high standards in education, but we cannot improve it as long as our teachers are not fully qualified and they are required to teach oversized classes. It is not fair to the pupils."

"Finding tens of thousands of new teachers is a problem of concern to everyone and a problem to which our colleges are giving considerable thought."

Torn From The Headlines! NOW IT EXPLODES ON THE SCREEN

It's five o'clock, Tuesday, December 30, 1947.

The people of Canon City, Colorado, are preparing for another quiet winter evening. Snow is just beginning to fall. Dusk almost hides the grim silhouette of the State Penitentiary on the edge of town.

Suddenly it happens! A siren screams—then another—and another—shattering the air itself with their terrifying wails.

Twelve desperate convicts — murderers, kidnapers — armed with crude shotguns, clubs and knives have battered their blood-mad way to freedom in the most spectacular jailbreak of our time!

Dragging as hostages four brutally beaten guards, they force their frenzied way into homes at gun point.

Thus began in Canon City a three day reign of terror that startled the nation with screaming headlines from coast-to-coast ... a reign of terror broken only when the town fought back!

This Is Not Fiction ... This Is The Naked Fury Of Fact!

Now you can see it on the screen ...

WOMAN'S WORK IS EASILY DONE Electrically

REMEMBER when grandmother sighed over the wisdom in the old saying "Man works from sun to sun . . . woman's work is never done?" It's not like that today... thanks to electricity. In a home where electricity is used, woman's work can be done much more easily, and rapidly than in the old days. Too, it's done economically, because the cost of dependable electrical service is so low. Look around your home and notice in how many ways electric service is making it easier for you to be a real homemaker. You'll be surprised and pleased, and odds are you'll soon be shopping for more electrical appliances to take even more work off your hands.

Letters From The Readers

Dear Public:
Mr. Warren in his column, Getting Out On A Limb, has brought up the subject of employer vs. employee, and I think he has exactly the solution to the whole question, and I agree with almost everything he says.

If employers and employees alike could get it through their thick skulls that its a fifty-fifty proposition, the same as any happy married couple, the sooner the world will be at peace on the labor front.

When I say fifty-fifty, I mean precisely that. An employer, as a whole cannot make any money unless he has someone to help him make it. In other words, he must employ someone to work for him and produce enough for his employer to pay for his time and the employer must make a profit also.

The employer must work, instead of loafing, laying off for no good reason, and waiting for the gravy train to come along, that never will for that type of worker.

It is very simple to figure out that all an employer wants of his employees is to work. That, in itself, is too hard for a lot of employees to try to do. But it is important for them to do so now, while there is still time.

Labor and management must work together or we will be in as bad shape, if not worse, than we were in the depression years.

Now, as it has always been the rule as well as the case, it takes a lot of little men to make one big man. There is no one person in the world that can get big by himself.

When times are hard for the wage worker, times are equally hard for the employer. A millionaire, out of business, is the only person that can do well in a depression. Things are down to the rock bottom and he doesn't have to spend much of his "millions" to keep afloat.

On the other hand we have the wage worker and small employer, who are equally as bad off in times of a recession or depression, whichever be the case. For they are depending wholly upon one another to keep ahead of the times. We will take this from a local angle to reason this out for ourselves. Who does Garza County depend upon to keep things going? Naturally its the farmers, ranchers, mill hands, and people like that. Just ordinary working people. This year was a failure in the farming circles, and it has been very noticeable from every angle of the business trade here in Garza County.

When the working class of people of the United States are making good wages the rest of the world enjoys it equally the same as do the people who earn it.

So my advice to the employer-employee is to sit back and think this situation over while there is still time left, and see what you can do about remedying the cause.

James Hill,
Post Dispatch typesetter.

Five Thousand Is Cotton Bale Guess

Approximately 5,000 bales of cotton had been baled by ginner for Garza County farmers by this week, and most of six gins checked were winding up their business for the year. The gins reported their ginnings, as follows:

Planters, approximately 1,200 bales; Pleasant Valley, approximately 500; Storie, 377; Southland, 683; Graham, approximately 1,190; and Close City, 621. These totaled 4,871 bales.

Although definite figures were not available, it was known that quite a bit of Garza County cotton was ginned at Grassland and in other gins in neighboring counties.

Bernard Musso spent last week in Georgia and the Carolinas on business. He was met in Dallas by Mrs. Musso on Saturday. They returned home Sunday.

GREEN FEED—

(Continued From Front Page) green hay will soon become night blind. After that, if they still don't get their vitamin A, they will have convulsions and later become totally blind.

Here's a recent report from Paul T. Marion, assistant animal husbandman of the Spur Experiment Station. On the night of December 22, one Hereford steer in a pen of five was found to be completely night blind. Two others had affected night vision. These steers had not had any vitamin A in their ration in 44 days. They came from grass pastures that had dried out back in August and September. They just didn't have any green feed to furnish them vitamin A.

Other steers just like these—on the same pastures—have been fed the same ration plus alfalfa hay and silage. All this group had normal night vision.

If nothing is done to correct the vitamin A deficient ration, all the steers in this group will become night blind. They will soon lose their appetites, some may fall to the ground and have convulsions. Later they may become totally day blind.

Last year, reports Marion, steers from these same pastures showed more severe symptoms of vitamin A deficiency after 84 days on the ration that didn't have green feed. Before the end of the experiment it was necessary to feed vitamin A to them so they would recover their appetites and be able to finish the

In 1920 the Hundleys went into the grocery business here and remained in business until 1945. After that, they have assisted their son, Jim, in the cleaning and repair of their wear business.

Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Hundley arrived here Wednesday of last week with plans for visiting their sister and brother for three weeks or a month. R. B. Hundley is a brother of R. J. Hundley. They now plan to remain here for several weeks.
