Sisters Bonnie and Margaret Rogers, members of the Six Flags Over Texas guest relations staff, are poised and ready to perform part of their daily duties, which includes the surveying of guests as they leave the Park. The samplings taken enable Six Flags management to assemble statistics which are used in making the magnetic tourist attraction one that is pleasurable to everyone.

ATTENDANCE HITS 200,000 AT SIX FLAGS

As predicted by Angus G. Wynne, Jr., president of Great Southwest Corporation, Six Flags Over Texas has emerged in just its second season of operation as one of the nation's major tourist attractions with attendance to pass the 200,000 mark this week-end.

As of Thursday, June 14, the recorded attendance reached 188,729. This figure was compiled during the 33 days that the 110-acre Park has been in operation since opening April 20. Six Flags, located midway between Dallas and Fort Worth, operated on week-ends only until May 30 and then commenced a daily operating schedule.

Conservative estimates for this week-end (June 15-17) indicate an additional 22,000 visitors, which will boost the total attendance well beyond 200,000 for the season thus far.

Most pleasing to Park officials is the increased number of visitors coming to Six Flags from outside the state.

In a random sampling taken by the Park's Guest Relations Department of 1,000 guests over a 20-day period, it was found that of this number, 14.9 per cent were from beyond the borders of the Lone Star State. This represents an increase of 7 per cent as compared to 1961.

The sampling also indicated that 41 per cent were from Dallas or Tarrant County while 44.1 per cent were from cities in Texas outside of the Dallas-Fort Worth area.

Projecting the 14.9 per cent figure on out-of-state visitors into the heavy tourist months of June, July, August and early September, during which this percentage should increase substantially, Six Flags may draw upwards of 300,000 visitors from outside the state based on an estimated attendance of 1.5 million in 1962.

Advisor attends Tech 2-day short course on swine

Ike Trimble, vocational agriculture teacher and FFA advisor of Post High School, recently attended a two-day Swine Short Course at Texas Tech.

The course was sponsored by the Texas Swine Breeders' Association and Texas Tech.

Among those on the program were Dr. J. C. Hiller of Oklahoma State University, Dr. N. F. Hazel of Iowa State University, T. D. Tankersly of Texas A&M College, D. V. M. Moore of Texas A&M, Stanley Anderson of Texas Tech, Euel Liner, SPF swine breeder near Slaton, Larry Tackitt, purebred swine breeder of Happy, and Jack Barton, commercial swine breeder and feeder of Littlefield.

In addition to hearing talks and seeing slides by the above mentioned gentlemen, those persons attending the short course were also given an opportunity to judge nine market hogs on foot and then later see how they "cut-out." The pig with the highest percentage of lean cuts was a Hampshire shown by Parks Tucker of Midlothian.

One of the most interesting parts of the program was provided by Euel Liner, a specific Pathogen-free hog breeder near Slaton. He showed slides on his confinement hog system where he uses slatted floors in both his farrowing house and finishing house. Liner stated that this system practically eliminates your manure handling problem.

The Post FFA Chapter owns a small group of registered Spotted Poland China hogs. This past year the chapter showed both the Champion Spot Barrow at the State Fair of Texas and the Champion Spot Barrow at the South Plains Junior Livestock Show.

San Gabriel man is named rural minister of year

William R. Parmer, San Gabriel, is named Texas Rural Minister of the Year. He is the pastor of San Gabriel Baptist Church.

Mr. Parmer is among 14 ministers from the South honored by The Progressive Farmer and Emory University School of Theology, Atlanta, Ga. This is the 14th year that outstanding ministers have been named. Certificates of recognition will be presented to the ministers at a banquet at Emory on July 11.

Mr. Parmer will also be honored at the Texas Rural Church Conference in October. Rev. W. H. Wieting, pastor of Grapeland Methodist Church, Grapeland, will be recognized for second place honors at that time.

The August issue of The Progressive Farmer cites Mr. Parmer for his work with farm people. He helped develop a local flood warning system for citizens and livestock owners. He works with farm agencies, researchers, and farmers in helping them carry out cotton yield, grain sorghum and fertilizer tests.

Through his leadership a community information night meeting has been developed. Speakers are invited to the community to talk on cotton insect control, mechanical harvesting, chemical weed control, and other farm problems.

The three-day meeting of representatives of over 900 FFA chapters throughout the state will include the awarding of advanced degrees, scholarships and awards to outstanding members of the organization.

Pete Dodson will act as delegate for the Post chapter at the convention, with Richard Hart serving as alternate delegate.

Among the important business to be transacted at the convention is the election of a state president from the 10 state officer nominees who have been elected by members in the 10 areas of the state.

Delegates to the national FFA convention in Kansas City in October will be elected. In addition, delegates will elect a sweetheart in the 10 candidates elected by areas and will select the top team in the state.

A vesper service will be conducted on Tuesday evening, preceding the convention sessions.

The Post Panther baseball team, victorious over a Colorado City team, 14 to 11, Sunday, will play at Woodward this Sunday.

John Valdez, who went eight innings, was the winning pitcher, with Ruben Valdez pitching the last frame.

Cotton Bowl Rodeo slated for Dallas

DALLAS — Plans have been finalized and dates announced for the annual Cotton Bowl Rodeo, to be presented in the State Fair Coliseum Dec. 27 through Jan. 1.

There will be seven performances with go-rounds scheduled each night and matinees on Saturday and Sunday, Dec. 29 and 30.

The Cotton Bowl Rodeo, sponsored by the State Fair of Texas and sanctioned by the Rodeo Cowboys Association, follows the National Finals Rodeo, held in Dallas every Cotton Bowl Week for the past three years. The national final will be held in Los Angeles this year in early December.

The high standards of rodeo set by the national finals in Dallas will be maintained by the Cotton Bowl Rodeo," said James H. Stewart, executive vice president and general manager of the State Fair.

Two of rodeo's top producers, stock contractors have been hired to produce the Cotton Bowl Rodeo," Stewart said. "They are the Beutler of Beutler Brothers, El Paso, Okla., and Harry Fowler, Colo.

This will insure that the Cotton Bowl Rodeo will have first-class action and the best bucking horse available, and will continue to be a rugged, fast-moving, competitive attraction as it has been for the past three years in Dallas," Stewart said.

In addition to competition in the regular Maris and Mickey Mantle, hitting 41 and 54 home runs, respectively, in 1961, shattered the season record of 107. The record was set by Babe Ruth in 1920, and Lou Gehrig with 47.

will meet in Monday night's second game, with the Tigers and Cardinals scheduled to go in the tiebreaker.

The Red Sox tightened things up Monday night by squeezing past the Dodgers, 2 to 1, while the Cardinals beat the Tigers, 19 to 6.

After three scoreless innings in Monday night's Red Sox-Dodger game, the Sox scored two in the bottom of the fourth on Junior Little's home run after two were out.

That proved to be all the Red Sox needed, although the Dodgers came up with a tally in the top of the sixth on Roy Sappington's softball throw, 60-yd. hurdles, running broad jump.

Junior Girls
Sherry Woods—50-yd. dash, 75-yd. dash, standing broad jump, running broad jump, softball throw.

After the track meet, the Post girls will stay and watch the annual Texas High School Girls' all-star basketball game Saturday night at Rose Field House on the Hardin-Simmons University campus.

The girls will participate July 27-28 in the West Texas Junior Olympic Track and Field Meet in Odessa.

The teams were tied at 4-all after the first inning, but the Cards came up with a five-run third frame. Little rapped a first inning home run for the Red Sox, scoring Collazo and Jim Jones, both of whom had walked, ahead of him.

Two home runs by Sappington and one by Cash highlighted the Dodgers' 21-11 win over the Yankees Friday night. The Yankees scored all 11 of their runs in a big third inning.

Neff Walker was the winning pitcher, with Cash relieving him for the final two frames. D. Cole was the loser, with Pace and Pan-toja each pitching one inning.

Sidewalk Days...

We just returned from a visit to New Orleans and SIDEWALK days must have been copied from the French Markets where they have their merchandise right out on the sidewalk in baskets, boxes, and all kinds of containers (almost as mixed up as SHORT HARDWARE is on the inside) but they had moved all the fish back on the inside since the last time we were there and, believe me, they need to move it back outside and get it AIRED. DURING THESE SIDEWALK DAYS if you do not see what you need on the outside along the sidewalk, just step INSIDE and ask.

WE ARE NEVER RESPONSIBLE in event someone gets tangled up in some of our merchandise and gets hurt, either on the SIDEWALK or inside the store but we hope you FIND IT INTERESTING as well as PROFITABLE and ATTRACTIVE both along the walk and inside the store. BEFORE — DURING — AFTER the sidewalk days are over, SEE US for hardware.

Five for DWI

Ten cases filed in county court

Ten charges have been filed in County Judge J. E. Parker's court during the past week, five of them on driving while intoxicated.

White River —

water while remaining construction was being completed so that enough water might be in the lake to begin operations within 18 months from the start of construction.

The big White River dam will be built approximately three and one-half miles north of the White River bridge on the Spur road.

Work will begin as soon as firms awarded contracts can move in on the jobs.

Jim Nichols of the district's engineering firm told The Dispatch this morning before the opening of the bids that the engineers would take the bids to Fort Worth with them, study them Friday and Monday and then make their recommendations.

That means there is a possibility of the contracts being awarded Tuesday.

There were a number of representatives of the Fort Worth engineering firm in attendance at the bid opening.

The Dispatch learned while waiting for the actual opening of bids to begin that 148 requests for sets of plans had been received from contractors and suppliers.

Requests from prospective bidders for plans of the big earthen dam were received from the states of Texas, Alabama, Mississippi, Oklahoma, California and Iowa.

Requests for plans on the filter plant came from Alabama, Texas, Mississippi, Oklahoma, Missouri and California, and on the pipe lines from Mississippi, Texas, Oklahoma, Arizona and California.

Alternate bids were accepted on the pipe lines phase of the project, with bids being asked on 16-inch and 18-inch pipe.

The directors won't let the contracts, of course, until the condemnation suit on approximately 1,900 acres for the dam site is settled.

The district's efforts to condemn the land was temporarily snagged Tuesday afternoon when the three commissioners appointed in Crosby County to hear the case took their decision under advisement while awaiting the totals on liens held against the land sought by the Great Southern Life Insurance Co. and the Farm Home Administration.

The district's engineers, Freese, Nichols and Endress of Fort Worth, estimate the $4,000,000 project costs this way:

The dam itself, including contingencies $842,200.

The filter plant, including contingencies $441,600.

The three water supply lines to Post ($735,904), Spur ($312,280) and to Crosbyton-Ralls ($719,135), totaling $1,767,319.

Pumping stations along these water lines $71,490.

Remote control of water lines $20,590.

Storage tanks on water lines and at edge of four member cities $94,208.

Contingencies for the supply lines, pump stations, remote control and storage tanks $48,208.

Filter plant pumping equipment $15,600.

Approximately 5,000 acres for damsite $142,000.

Right of way lease for water lines $10,430.

Total engineering cost of project $196,492.

The total of the above items is $3,624,900. Then there is the matter of $240,000 interest on the $4,000,000 loan during the construction period, $80,000 in legal and bond expenses, and $55,100 for miscellaneous and general contingencies.

There already have been a number of miscellaneous expenses and a lot of the general contingencies probably will go for land purchase.

Burglaries —

clock and the radio have been recovered.

In Lynn County, burglars cleaned out the deep freeze at the Charles Dabbs home, getting approximately 100 pounds of beef, a 17-pound turkey, and 15 to 20 packages of frozen green beans, peas, and okra.

All of Mr. and Mrs. Dabbs' clothes were stolen from their closets. Most of the food and clothing was recovered, Sheriff Claborn said.

An overnight bag and some underclothing was stolen from Mrs. J. W. Rackler's home, one mile north of Gordon.

All three burglaries occurred early Sunday night.

Sheriff Claborn said burglary charges for the two Lynn County burglaries already had been filed against the pair at Tahoka and that similar charges would be filed here on the Barton home burglary.

Domingo Vargas pleaded guilty to a July 9 charge of DWI, and was fined $50 and costs, sentenced to three days in jail and had his driver's license suspended for six months.

Robbie J. Welty was charged with theft under $50 for allegedly "shoplifting" a transistor radio and a pair of shoes from Wacker's June 5. She was returned here from Snyder.

Aubrey Evans was fined $100 and costs, with judgement deferred for 60 days, after pleading guilty to unlawfully selling beer in a wet area without a permit.

Isaac Jackson Stevens Jr. had his bond set at $300 July 10 after entering a not guilty plea to a charge of aggravated assault filed July 6 by Bettye Baker.

William Rollins pleaded guilty July 5 to a charge of DWI, was fined $50 and costs, sentenced to three days in jail and had his driver's license suspended for six months.

Patrick Leo Molloy pleaded guilty July 5 to a DWI charge and was fined $50 and costs, sentenced to three days in jail and had his driver's license suspended for six months.

James Edward Dunaway was charged with DWI July 5 and released on bond.

Willie Walton Stone Jr. pleaded guilty July 5 to a DWI charge, was fined $50 and costs, sentenced to three days in jail and had his driver's license suspended for six months.

Randall Laurence and G. I. Melvin were each charged July 5 with defrauding by worthless check.

Sex education —

members, and the Rev. Mr. Hogue said the Ministerial Alliance will appoint two members.

It was decided that the committee members will be advised of their appointments and asked to meet between now and the board's next regular meeting, which will be the second Monday in August, so that they can have the proposed program ready to present at the board's August meeting.

It was suggested by the Ministerial Alliance representative that the sex education course be held to coincide with the schools' daily counseling periods, and that the course be conducted by a physician and the health nurse.

In other action Monday night, the board voted to leave student insurance claims up to the agency handling the insurance; accepted the resignation of Mrs. Ethel Florence, junior high teacher; accepted bids on the sale of two school buses; voted to let a part of the Lincoln Elementary School building be used as a church, and tabled action on eligibility ruling for participation by students in extracurricular activities.

The trustees voted to rotate student insurance among local agencies, but to let the agents handle the claims instead of the schools, as was the case during the 1961-62 school year. The schools will continue notifying parents of the availability of the student insurance and collecting the premiums.

The board accepted Mrs. Florence's resignation after Moreland read a letter from her in which she wrote that she is resigning to accept a teaching position in the Buckner Home Academy in Dallas.

The trustees voted to accept the bid of Clarence Carpenter of El Paso—the only one submitted—on the purchase of the old Graham and Garnolia school buses, both 1934 models. Carpenter bid $302 on one of the buses and $327 on the other.

The board voted to agree to a request that the Lincoln School building be used by a colored Church of Christ denomination until the church group makes other arrangements or until the school district disposes of the building.

Action on eligibility requirements for student participation in extracurricular activities was tabled because only four of the seven trustees were present. Those absent were Bobby Pierce, Ronnie Bouchier and A. Lee Ward.

The board is discussing, among other things in connection with the eligibility requirements, whether to raise the requirements for participation in athletics higher than the minimum set by the Texas Interscholastic League.

Warehouse —

Post is one of the three such warehouses serving the 25 highway districts of Texas. The warehouse here serves nine of the 25 districts, embracing 110 counties.

Etter said the purpose of the warehouse facility is to provide better and faster service to the districts and to reduce overall operating expenditures by volume purchases of items frequently purchased by all districts. He added that real savings also are realized in transportation costs as all districts formerly were served from Austin.

Etter said during the last fiscal year the three warehouses issued over $2,500,000 worth of materials to the 25 districts. The warehouse here, he said, has more than doubled in size since its opening in May of 1958.

Among other items besides stripe paint and traffic stripe beads handled are about 20 other types of paints, first aid and safety supplies and equipment, sign blanks and accessories, engineering and plan sheets, numerous laboratory supplies and equipment and about 200 miscellaneous items, including such things as grader and snow plow blades, broom fiber and steel, bridge steel, pipe, plywood, and paper goods.

Deaths of brother and sister within one week

Mrs. Lizzie Stehr of Fresno, Calif., sister of A. C. Cooke of Post, died last Thursday following an illness of over a year.

Mrs. Stehr's death occurred less than a week following the death of her brother, J. C. Cooke, also of Fresno. The brother and sister lived within two blocks of each other.

Besides the brother of Post, they are survived by a sister, Mrs. Amanda Hoepfner of Clinton, Okla.

added to his winnings by taking third in the bareback bronc event.

The Post cowboy's total scores in both go-rounds enabled him to pocket second place honors in bareback riding with a total of 277 points, and first place in the saddle bronc division with a 282 total tally.

Josey won the double mugging championship by tying three calves in 42.7 seconds.

Robert Fleitman of Muenster, champion bull rider in this year's Post Stampede Rodeo, also won the championship at Stamford.

Two other Stampede Rodeo performers, J. Furguson of Petersburg and Jerry Harlan of Slaton, finished first and second in the best-average calf roping at the Texas Cowboy Reunion. Furguson's time on three calves was 42.8 seconds, and Harlan was right behind him with 42.9.

Stewart was also bull riding champion at Clarendon, where he won the saddle as the outstanding rider.

Two other performers well known to local rodeo fans, H. C. Zachry of Henrietta and N. A. Pitcock of Aspermont, also won championships at Clarendon. Zachary's came in bareback bronc riding, and Pitcock's in team roping.

Local rodeers will be performing this weekend in rodeos at Tulia, Earth and Crosbyton.

Rotary headquarters is shown by slides

Giles McCrary showed colored slides of Rotary International's headquarters in Chicago, Ill., Tuesday noon at the club's weekly luncheon meeting in City Hall.

McCrary gave a prepared explanation of the operation of the offices as the slides were shown.

WEEKEND GUESTS

Weekend guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Duren Sr. were their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Duren Jr. of Dalhart and Linda Keece of Ozona. Paula, who had been visiting all week, returned home with her parents.

FOLLOW SIMPLE RULES IN AUTOMOBILE ACCIDENT

Vacation time is here. Soon millions of people will be driving about the country, and automobile accidents will occur with increasing frequency. What should a person do when involved in an accident?

At such times it is hard to keep your wits about you and know just what to do. It is therefore a good idea to plan in advance just what you would do in event of a smash-up. Here are a few simple rules that every driver should commit to memory:

1. Stop! Failure to stop can result in serious criminal consequences.

2. Render Aid. If anyone is injured: (1) Render first aid. (2) Stop bleeding. (3) Call a doctor or an ambulance or both. (4) Do not move an injured person in any way that could possibly add to his injury.

3. Protect the Scene from Further Damage. You may be liable for damages to approaching drivers, unless they are properly warned. If the highway is obstructed at night, have someone turn his headlights on the wrecked vehicles.

4. Call an Officer. Policemen, Highway Patrolmen, Sheriffs and their deputies are trained accident investigators whose testimony may be invaluable in establishing your civil claim for damages.

5. Gather Information. Write it Down. Don't trust your memory. Don't guess—be specific. Measure skid marks. Step off distances. Be sure to obtain names and addresses of witnesses. You are required by law to exhibit your driver's license to the other driver—and he must do the same.

6. Be Careful What You Say. Even if you feel you probably are to blame, it is best to make no admission. You may learn later that the other driver was equally at fault, or more so. Emotional comments can be misconstrued by others, or may be misquoted. Whatever you say, make it factual.

7. See Your Doctor if there is the slightest chance you may be injured. Serious injuries do not always result in immediate pain or bloodshed.

8. Consult Your Lawyer Immediately. The sooner your lawyer is brought into the matter, the better he can advise you and protect your rights. He can obtain statements from the witnesses while their memories are fresh, and do many other things to insure that the true facts are preserved. Get your lawyer's advice before giving any interviews or statements to investigators or adjusters for the other side.

9. Inform Your Insurance Company Promptly. Failure to do so may void your policy.

10. Report the Accident to the Department of Public Safety. This is required by law if there is any injury, death, or total damages exceed $25.

An official accident report form may be procured from the police, sheriff's Dept., highway patrol, or State Department of Public Safety.

FARM SAFETY WEEK

The theme for the 19th annual National Farm Safety Week, July 22-28, is "Family Safety at Work and Play." The Texas Farm and Ranch Safety Council points out that over 90 per cent of all accidents involve some human failure—improper attitudes, carelessness, lack of attention to rules and regulations and many others. Better take time to look over your safety record and that of your family, cautions the Council.

FISHERMEN

Dad and Butch are both getting a big kick out of this. If Butch catches a fish—even a minnow—it's hard to say who will be the prouder.

We suspect, though, that it will be Dad. He'd probably give this little man all the fish in the ocean, if he could!

He is giving him things that really count. Good clean fun and happiness, a sense of sportsmanship, and that special man-to-man bond between father and son. And because his son means so much to him, Dad takes Butch to the services of their church each week.

Boys have to do a lot of growing to get to be men. It takes a lot to keep them growing the right way. Weekly church and church school attendance is a big step forward. Don't keep your child from taking it!

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Storm cellars can be made into good fallout shelters

Many of the tornado and underground vegetable cellars in Garza County can be made into good fallout shelters, says W. S. Allen, extension agriculture engineer at Texas A&M College.

This comes as good news following a recent announcement by County Judge J. E. Parker that no existing structures in Garza County meet specifications for use as public fallout shelters.

The county judge's announcement of the inadequacy of existing structures as fallout shelters came following the first phase of a statewide survey now being conducted.

The extension engineer points out, however, that there are several points that must be kept in mind when remodeling tornado and other shelters to provide adequate fallout protection. They are: (a) adequate shielding, (b) a protected entrance, (c) positive ventilation, (d) storage facilities for supplies, and (e) installation of a radio antenna for radio reception.

The most economical means of providing the additional shielding needed is with a layer of soil to a depth of about 3 feet over the entire cellar roof. Most cellars will require additional reinforcing in the roof in order to hold this extra weight. A steel reinforced, six inch thick concrete slab cast over the roof may be used instead of the soil cover. A local contractor can tell you the amount of steel necessary for your situation, but for most cellars 1/2" steel bars laid on 12" centers in both directions will be sufficient.

A right angle entrance into the cellar, essential to protection from fallout, may be made by building a partial wall inside the existing cellar. If the cellar is not large enough to permit the wall inside, then a new entrance should be constructed with the necessary right angle in it.

A mechanical blower should be installed to provide positive air exhaust in time of disaster, and an inlet and outlet vent provided. The blower should provide a minimum of 3 cubic feet per minute per person. A filter is not necessary for the average home shelter.

There should be enough shelves and storage space to hold the recommended amount of supplies and a radio antenna should be installed to receive CONELRAD

Post vacation group visits Sandia Crest, Albuquerque, N. M.

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M. — A group of vacationers from Post visited 10,678-foot-high Sandia Crest here this week.

They were Mr. and Mrs. Bill Snow and grandchildren, Wayne and Mary Ann Hardy and Joyce Barner of Odessa, Tex., accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Billy P. Snow and children of Albuquerque.

From this spectacular mountain, they viewed a breath-taking panorama of more than 10,000 square miles, including metropolitan Albuquerque, the romantic Rio Grande Valley, and neighboring peaks and volcanoes.

They stood at the base of the world's four highest television antennae: those of Albuquerque's one educational and three commercial channels.

"Sandia" is the Spanish word for watermelon. This high, rocky range was named by Coronado as he and his Conquistadores wintered at a nearby pueblo in 1540.

The visitors discovered that the Sandia Mountains are a popular recreational area, providing superb hunting in the fall and camping and picnicking throughout the warmer months.

La Madera Ski Basin, located in the Sandias, offers excellent runs and facilities and is one of the most southern of the nation's ski resorts.

Oldest traces of man in the New World were found in a cave on the side of this mountain. "Sandia Man" was judged to be 25,000 years old.

AN AFFECTING SCENE

A late Richmond letter contains the following: A few evenings ago, at sunset, a small party of soldiers bore the body of a beloved comrade to the "posse commune" of that place. They expected to find the chaplain on the grounds, but he had finished his interments for the day and had gone home. With heavy hearts they relinquished the consolation of religious services at the grave, expressing in sad terms, the bitterness of their disappointment. A lady of Richmond, whom a pious officer had carried to the cemetery, overheard them, and coming forward, she volunteered to recite from memory, the solemn and beautiful burial service of the Episcopal Church. The offer was gratefully accepted. A more affecting scene had rarely been witnessed that the little body of mourners presented, as beneath the grand old oaks yet leafless, in the waning purple twilight, the gently sister repeated, in feeble, but clear and musical tones the noble ritual of the common prayer. The rough sons of the camp wept as children.

NOT TO BLAME

We regret to learn that some half a dozen persons coming to Texas were captured crossing the river at Vicksburg. We have no names. W. P. Doran, who left Tupelo a few days previous, with a load of valuable letters for Texas, being in ill health was afraid he might not get across and left the letters at Jackson. Some persons have been inclined to blame him for so doing, but he acted according to the dictates of prudence. Since then the mail has come through bringing all the letters.

3,600 PRISONERS TAKEN

We received no paper by the Beaumont train Monday night, but the following intelligence comes to us in an authentic shape and is, we believe true. It was copied from telegraphic dispatches in papers of the 28 and 29. Our informant could not procure a copy to bring along. The news is good.

There was a battle of importance 12 miles from Richmond, Va., on the 27 of June, lasting till night, in which the Confederate forces drove the enemy six miles during the day. In at least two places they made a desperate stand, but the vigor with which our men attacked them forced the positions and drove them vanquished from the field.

The Confederate forces captured 3,600 prisoners amongst whom were Maj. Gen. Reynolds and Brig. Gens. Sanders and Rankin. They also took eight or ten batteries, embracing 30 pieces of artillery, many stores, etc.—THE AUSTIN INTELLIGENCER.

It's My Turn ...

—By MRS. C.

Corky Ammons and I had a big time Monday morning digging out things in the job department for the big sidewalk sale. We thought we were doing real well until Mr. C came up with an idea that sort of put our ideas into the shade.

Unfortunately it didn't. A week later we had the grand uncovering and it was as rank as ever. We still had a week to go so we buried it again. However, a few days before Halloween my faith was a little shook and I got busy designing a tail.

I think everyone in town that has ever been in our office is familiar with the "picture" drawer in Editor Didway's desk. It's full of all sorts of "treasures" and has needed to be weeded out for quite some time. Mr. C's idea was to dig them out and sell them at the sidewalk sale for 25 cents apiece.

It was the wisest thing I ever did, cause the neighborhood dogs discovered the tail and spread the smell and the tail all over the block.

So ends the tale of the skunk tail. Miss C informs me she'll wear shorts and be cool or she will volunteer.

We've got pictures that some of you have forgotten all about so stop by and pick up your favorites and really feel like you've picked up a bargain.

The youngest Miss C "volunteered" to be a saleslady for a day. Then up popped the question of "what would she wear?" (Some of the stores are having their clerks dress in costumes.) Miss C, the elder, suggested the "skunk costume", whereby hangs a tale—a skunk tail.

For years, when our girls were in grade school, they had a new homemade (none of that store-bought stuff) Halloween costume every year. Miss C, the elder, loaned to Raggedy Ann, Little Bo-Peep, Dutch girl and Snow White type costumes. However, the younger Miss C definitely went the animal route—such as Teddy bears, pigs and skunks.

If memory serves correctly the curly tail was removed from the pink pig costume and the suit dyed black to become a skunk. A white strip was sewn down the back and we had it made except for the bushy tail. I just couldn't seem to make a tail that looked like a skunk tail.

Mr. C had another bright idea and said why not use a real one. This really impressed me so I said, "Get us one."

Kansas and Texas are alike in one respect—there are skunks available. Seems as though they were becoming a nuisance at the city dump and the caretaker was shooting several every night. He promised to cut the tail off the next one he shot and bring it to us.

I received a hurry-up call from the office one day informing me that the skunk tail had arrived and to get there quick and pick it up before he (Mr. C) got fired. This puzzled me no end till I arrived and this terrific odor hit me as I entered the office with all the employees glaring at me.

I had no idea the thing was going to smell like a skunk! We threw it into the car trunk (in a paper bag) and I tore home wondering what in the world I was going to do with it. A call to the city office was quickly made and the "dump" man informed me to bury it and in a few days the smell would be gone. He honestly wasn't pulling my leg—it was supposed to work.

You want prices? You got 'em!

Post merchants are really "putting out" for you folks Friday and Saturday with their big Sidewalk Sale jamboree.

Some 30 merchants have gone together for this first big "togetherness" promotion. They'll load their bargains right out on the sidewalk. List some prices you'll find hard to believe, dress up in unusual costumes, fill Main Street with music, and pull off a variety of stunts, give-aways and surprises.

It ought to attract the biggest crowd to hit Post's Main Street in a long, long time.

And if it does—as we are sure it will—it will mean to the merchants that you shoppers appreciate all the time, trouble, and extra expense such a promotion costs. That means they'll give you more.

Not all Sidewalk Sales either. That's just the starter. Each month when Howdy Days comes along it will be something different if your merchants can find it.

You want prices? You got 'em! All kinds of bargains—dozens and dozens of them. But you'll have to come on down to Main Street to enjoy it all. Bring the whole family. Really go on the prowl for bargains. Enjoy yourselves.

This weekend's Sidewalk Sale promises much for Post—merchant and shopper. It's a gigantic all-out cooperative effort by the merchants to give you something worthwhile. If you like it, there will be more, lots more.

So come on down, take your time, enjoy yourself. We haven't had anything like this since we came to Post and we think it is indicative that your merchants are really out to please.—JC

It's movie time again!

The television "era" is over. People are beginning to stir from their lethargy and move around again in their leisure hours. America is reawakening.

We're beginning to rediscover all the good things of life we have missed since the "idiot box" came to power.

People are renewing old friendships, and are even getting out in their yards and talking to their neighbors again. The youngsters have rediscovered the delights of mischief and play.

All of which means that one of the enjoyments all of us should soon find again will be the American movies. They were almost taken over entirely in the last few years by the teenagers who have required some place to "get out to"—TV or no. In fact, the teenagers have been about the only ones who didn't succumb to television.

Going on the premise that the reawakening from the TV stupor is under way, the moviemakers and the movie house managers will do well to understand the nature of their opportunity—and go all-out after the oldsters again.

Here are just a few suggestions which we have heard mentioned from time to time which they could use to make their pitch:

Re-establish law and order inside. Police the aisles and make patrons cut out the loud talking, climbing over seats, and other distracting antics. That has kept a lot of older, quieter folks away.

Baseball lost boxoffice interest a few years back when the games began to drag out from two hours to three. The same has happened to the movies. An epic is all right, as long as it's a two-hour epic. But three-hour epics keep people home. They couldn't even watch TV that long without moving around. Baseball got busy and did something about it. Movies must, too, to recapture the boxoffice.

Sacrifice the big city "quick draw" and get rid of the "road show engagements" for the big movies. We say this for a simple enough reason. Movieland pours its big advertising expenditures into introducing a movie. By the time it's come off the "road show" run and is being shown at regular prices, it's an old show and won't draw. What made the movies' profit were the little people. By golly, Hollywood better start catering to them again.

Junk the sex come-on! People go to movies to be entertained. Let's concentrate on entertainment for a change. Clean 'em up. Hollywood was making movies before the European directors started this kind of stuff.

Run on schedule. Let the public know when the features start and be right, not wrong, with the information.

These are a few suggestions.

How come an editorial about a movie comeback? Because we think the movie industry is well worth the saving. And because when we were talking about it over coffee with Tower Theater Manager Johnny Hopkins the other afternoon, he suggested the editorial.

"You'd be surprised," reported Johnny, "how things like that get read far beyond your circulation area."

We hope Johnny's right because these are a few of the major gripes we've been hearing about the movies.

But we want to add this one last point. If you like movies, stir out of the house and take the wife. Then you're a customer again and when you have a gripe drop it where it will do the most good—right in Johnny's ear.

That's how Hollywood became reality. The folks who buy the tickets have the say. So buy a ticket, enjoy yourself, and when you feel like it—have your say!—JC

Ain't got no culture, huh?—

There are some who say, "We ain't got culture." But if you take a closer look, you'll find a bushel basket of evidence to the contrary.

For instance, Americans are buying books at the rate of more than $3.5 billion a year, or about $20 a year for every man, woman and child.

Adult education classes have set all-time enrollment records. Last year more than 35,000,000 heeded the adage "It's never too late to learn."

Artists? There are more spare-time palette and canvas enthusiasts in the United States than you can shake a brush at. Typical of many groups in the smaller cities throughout the U. S. is our own Post Art Guild, which is affiliated with the Texas Fine Arts Association.

But the best example of the nation's claim to culture is its amateur music-making—from minuets to mamboes and Bach to Brubeck. Here, too, our city is represented by the Music Club of Post, Texas Federation of Music Clubs.

Without a doubt, the United States is the most musical nation in the world and here are the reasons why:

More than 32,000,000 Americans are classified as amateur musicians—the types that get cultural satisfaction from swinging to their own home-made brand of music.

There are more than 75,000 orchestras and bands in the nation's junior high schools, high schools and colleges—and more than 1,200 community bands and orchestras. Our nation's community and professional orchestras combined represent 60 per cent of all such music groups in the world.

Of course, one of the most dramatic moves toward self-made music is still taking place in our schools. In 1947, 2,500,000 youngsters were either playing musical instruments or receiving instrumental instruction. This year, the number will exceed 10,000,000.

As a nation, we've only been at the culture business for a relatively short time compared to ancestral Europe. But we've made seven-league strides—and the next time somebody assails your ear with the "no culture" routine, give him the facts. That ought to change the subject without any difficulty.—CD

Are we helping all we can?

The biggest youth baseball program in Post's history is rapidly drawing to a close for this season.

With the exception of the six-team Little League, all circuits have completed their regular season schedule, with the Babe Ruth players looking ahead to the district tournament at Levelland.

More boys took part in the organized baseball program this summer than ever before. In addition to the Little League, there was a five-team Babe Ruth League, which last season fielded four teams; a brand-new Minor League, and an active American Legion Junior team, which played in an area six-team league.

The fact that the summer baseball program has grown by leaps and bounds since that first four-team Little League in the summer of 1956, can be attributed to the work of the adult leaders, the core of which has been a small group of fellows who have been active in the program summer in and summer out.

Not only have the leagues themselves steadily grown and taken in more and more boys, but the playing facilities also have been improved and expanded from year to year.

The baseball program has grown to the extent that just about any youngster who is able and who has the desire to play can find a place.

It speaks well for the entire community that the youth baseball program is finding itself on a more solid footing with each successive season. It isn't easy, particularly from the standpoint of financing.

The baseball program we here in Post have set up for our boys is something with which any adult can be proud to be connected. How many of us are helping all we can?—CD

What our contemporaries are saying

Beauty is a world-wide organization with offices in principal cities. A few weeks ago I awoke in my home in Matador to the singing of a mockingbird from the hackberry tree in my backyard. The next morning I awoke in the Ambassador Hotel in Los Angeles to the singing of a mockingbird in a eucalyptus tree near my window. The songs were identical, as was the tranquil background of two dawns many miles apart.—Douglas Meador in Matador Tribune.

Learn from the mistakes of others—you don't live long enough to make them all yourself. —James Roberts in The Andrews County News.

THURSDAY to THURSDAY

By CHARLES DIDWAY

JULY SLIPPED up on us without getting mentioned in this space last week, so we don't get to warn our readers very far ahead about the month's Friday the 13th, which is tomorrow. There won't be another Friday the 13th until next year.

In America, says the Man up the Street, when three people get together they are apt to form an organization; in England, a protest committee, and in Africa, another committee.

"PUBLISHING A hometown newspaper has many compensations," writes Editor Ray K. Dover of the Valentine (Neb.) Newspaper, "but being well-liked is not one of them."

"Everyone," he says, "hates the editor." More specifically:

"An editor who takes a firm stand on controversial issues, and tries to print all the news in an unbiased manner, may be respected (in a fair-minded community), but he will never be popular."

"Sooner or later," promises Mr. Dover, "such an editor will tread on the toes of everyone who reads the paper, be he friend or foe, neighbor or stranger."

This editor lists as the "prime sources of an editor's woes" weddings, obituaries and court news, noting such pitfalls as failure to describe grandmother's dress in the wedding story or to include Uncle Joe's favorite poem in his obit. Those whose names appear in the court news, he says, come in two types: the abused, who suffered rank injustice; and the noble, who admit their guilt, but wish their names withheld to protect the sensibilities of others.

"We have often pointed out," he writes, "that we don't make the news, we just print it. All anyone needs to do to keep his name out of the court news is to stay out of court."

"Other ways to incur the wrath of readers are: Disagree with them on a school issue; misspell their names; gauge another church or club more space than you do their church or club... decline to work at night on a rush printing job for someone who would have ordered it out of town to begin with had he not been in a hurry... etc., etc., etc."

"We sometimes think," concludes Editor Dover, "what really irritates readers is the editor's refusal to drop dead. That seems to be the only way to please a big majority at one time."

Mebbe so, Mr. Dover. Certainly the thing most wrong with this strife-torn world of ours is the people in it. But, let the hometown editor drop dead and what happens? Grief is manifest on all sides. The Text from all pulpits is We Mourn Our Loss. The Marts of Trade close their doors for the Funeral. And in their hearts the grippers of all species know the town will not be quite the same again. There is no hatred toward him, people were merely being their selfish selves. Come to think of it, they LOVED the Editor!

IN FACT, even the Editors' wives love them. They do, that is, according to this poem, "Wife of a Newspaperman," by Anne Campbell:

If you never know how to time the roast.

If the guests drift in long before the host.

If he loves the kids, but the paper most.

You're the wife of a newspaper man!

If he's always lending his weekly pay.

And giving the pass you want away.

If he plans to work and you want to play.

You're the wife of a newspaper man!

If he seems to be blind to what you wear.

To the startling change when you cut your hair.

If he looks at you with a far-off stare.

You're the wife of a newspaper man!

If your dreams are heavier than your purse.

If you're mother and comrade, wife and nurse.

If you look at another and think he's worse.

You're the wife of a newspaper man!

If you're loyal, kind - hearted, good-humored, too;

If you love the guy, and I know you do.

There's nobody quite as glad as you—

You're the wife of a newspaper man!

A Post man, just back from a cross-country vacation trip, reports seeing this sign in a restaurant: "NO CREDIT — You Knew Yesterday You Had to Eat Today."

Byblos, in Lebanon, which gave its name to the Bible, is now a fishing village of about 1,000 population.

It happened 100 YEARS ago

The oldest incorporated trade association in the country, the United States Brewers Association, was organized in 1862... the same year that

IN TEXAS... a new governor, Francis Richard Lubbock, guided a bankrupt state through that bitter Civil War year. Cotton, exported through Mexico, brought desperately needed foreign gold. Homefront industries were established. Comforts were few, but morale stayed high... and there was good Texas beer, enjoyed then as now.

For then, as now, beer was the traditional beverage of moderation—light, sparkling refreshment that adds a touch of Southwestern hospitality to any occasion. Texans have always enjoyed the good fellowship that goes with every glass.

TODAY, in its centennial year, the United States Brewers Association still works constantly to assure maintenance of high standards of quality and propriety wherever beer and ale are served.

Telephone man heads WTCC

ABILENE—The needs for regional unity and realistic attitudes among the business men of West Texas were emphasized by E. H. Danner of San Angelo following his election recently as president of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce.

The 59-year-old Danner is president of General Telephone Company of the Southwest, which serves more than 340,000 stations in the five-state area of Texas, New Mexico, Oklahoma, Arkansas and Louisiana.

Accepting the presidency of the WTCC, Danner said: "The goal of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce is to assist in the development of the area it serves, and in such manner contribute to the over-all development of the state and of the nation."

New camping booklet available on request

A new camping booklet has been issued by the U. S. Department of Agriculture to give people information on some of the 5,260 camp and picnic grounds in our national forests.

The booklet, "Camping the National Forests — America's Playgrounds," covers the pleasures of outdoor camping. Basic rules of camping are outlined, and campers are cautioned to be careful with fire, and to leave camp and picnic grounds clean.

A copy of the booklet may be obtained from the Forest Service, U. S. Department of Agriculture, Washington 25, D. C.

10 left the bench without retiring, to go into private law practices.

LEGAL RULINGS — Atty. Gen. Will Wilson answered a variety of questions this week.

He told Education Commissioner J. W. Edgar that it is not legal for a school district to buy gasoline and oil from a consignee who is a member of the school board, even if he got the contract at low bidder on sealed bids.

He told County Atty. John Lawhon of Denton that Jim George, who won the Democratic nomination for two justice of the peace seats, can't hold them both, and that he vacated the office he held when he became a candidate for the other place. George's name cannot appear on the general election ballot for both jobs.

He told County Atty. Bill F. Griffin Jr. of Center that trucks owned by a farm corporation and used exclusively for hauling poultry and farm products are entitled to the half-price farm license fee.

He told County Atty. Mack Wallace of Athens that members of the national guard are not exempt from ad valorem taxes levied against their property for road purposes. The exemption for militia members is from the "road tax" of $3 per man which used to be levied against those who did not put in a day's work a year on the county roads.

SALES BETTER — Total retail sales in Texas in May rose 3 per cent above the April level, after the UT Bureau of Business Research made its seasonal adjustments.

Durable goods sales were up 7 per cent and auto sales were up 16 per cent above April and 24 per cent above May of 1961.

Furniture and household appliances apparently reflected a bumper crop of weddings. They usually rise about 14 per cent in May over April. This year they rose 22 per cent.

Farm implements, hardware and building materials all contributed to the May boom in business.

Nationally, there was a 1 per cent decline in retail sales compared to the Texas rise of 3 per cent. Issuance of building permits in urban areas showed a 2 per cent increase over May, 1961, and 14 per cent over April.

WINS PRESS' PRAISE — A charming young lady from a 10,000-acre dairy farm near Sandia, Texas, won the acclaim of Texas newspapers at the recent Texas Press Association meeting in Corpus Christi. Occasion was the Awards Dinner at TPA's 83rd Annual Summer Convention. Honor guest was Miss Louise Knolle, reigning American Dairy Princess. On behalf of the Daily and Weekly Newspapers of Texas, TPA Pres. Victor B. Fain of the Nacogdoches Daily Sentinel presented Miss Knolle with a large, wood-mounted, copper plaque. It bore her photograph and a tribute to her beauty, personality and talent. She traveled more than 100,000 miles over the Continent and beyond its borders, "speaking up for milk" on behalf of the nation's dairy farmers.

Nation's 4-H members undertake wide range agricultural projects

The national 4-H Agricultural program with nearly a million 4-H Club members enrolled seeks to encourage boys and girls to take advantage of training offered by extension personnel, local resource people and volunteer 4-H Club leaders.

About a dozen categories relating to farming and the multi-billion dollar agricultural industry are involved in project work supervised by the Cooperative Extension Service.

Sponsorship of the program, including incentive awards, comes from International Harvester, a long-time backer of the 4-H movement.

Among the areas covered by the boys and girls participating are forestry, livestock, poultry, crops, entomology, garden, conservation, electric and care of farm machinery.

Again this year $400 International Harvester scholarships will be awarded to the six highest ranking 4-H'ers from all 50 states. One member in the state will be chosen to attend the 1962 National 4-H Club Congress held in Chicago.

Postings

By JIM CORNISH

Probably for the first time in its history, The Dispatch today will be published in two editions. The reason for this is our best to cover the "big story of the week", the bidding for the White River dam project at Crosbyton.

It was scheduled to get under way at 10 a. m. in the Pioneer auditorium.

Live coverage. The Dispatch went to press at about 9:30 a. m. in its usual pretime, with its edition which contained everything but the big story. In its place was a "doze story" on what was happening in the bid opening.

The single wraps and doublers were off for mailing to the county and all over the state and a pile of papers were sent into the front counter for folks who can't wait past 10 a. m. for their Dispatch, the papers were to be stopped.

When the bidding was over, we went to Crosbyton early to cover the bid opening. Holding the first hour of the day, we were to call the story to Editor Charlie Didway. He would write it, headline it and put it into that front page as early as possible for the section.

The papers were to eat early or we could keep the press right through the noon hour. We hope to be "in the post" as usual by 1:30 p. m. and the girls off delivering the "doze" by the same time. The boys coming in at 2 p. m. will have no delay.

The news at Crosbyton would be the $4,000,000 loan on the dam. Actual construction, however, was the low bidders. We were in POSTINGS, Page 8.)

By Ministerial Alliance

Sex education course proposed for schools

The board of trustees of Post Independent School district agreed Monday night to a request by the Post Ministerial Alliance that a course in sex education be added to the curriculums in the high school and junior high school.

The Ministerial Alliance's request was presented to the board by the Rev. C. B. (Bill) Hogue, First Baptist pastor.

Hogue said that the ministerial group feels that a sane, practical approach to sex education in the schools is needed here because there is lack of sex education in some of the homes and because the churches are not able to reach all segments of the community's youth.

Stone is elected by Legionaires

Members of James C. Cole Post No. 290 of the American Legion elected Albert W. Stone of Route 3, Post, as commander at the post's annual Independence Day supper last week.

Stone succeeds J. M. Baylis as post commander.

Bill Hall was elected vice-commander and James W. Mitchell was elected adjutant.

Other Legion post offices are appointive, with the appointments to be made later.

Two Post riders and a roper were championship winners in July the Fourth rodeos in Stamford and Clarendon.

Jimmy Moore was the top cash winner in the 32nd annual Texas Cowboy Reunion at Stamford, where R. E. Josey won the double mugging championship.

Eddie Stewart won a saddle as the outstanding rider in Clarendon's Rim Rock Rodeo. Moore won the saddle bronc riding championship in the same rodeo.

Others from Post competing in area rodeos last week included Ed Sims, Jack Kirkpatrick, Walter Arnold and Buck Craft.

At Stamford, Moore earned $100 first prize money in the saddle bronc contest, second go-round. He

Lawyer hired in boundary suit

Karl Cayton, Lamesa attorney, was employed Monday by the Garza County commissioners court to represent Garza County in the boundary dispute brought against this county by Borden County.

Agreement was reached on compensation, minutes of the session read.

Sheriff Fay Claborn said he had requested of County Judge J. E. Parker Monday that a second deputy be hired for his office. No action on the request was shown in the minutes. Judge Parker was out of the city yesterday and unavailable for comment.

Mena infant buried after rites Friday

Funeral services for Minnie Lee Mena, one-month-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Mena, were held at 3 p. m. Friday at Holy Cross Catholic Church with the Rev. James Erickson officiating.

Burial was held in Terrace Cemetery under the direction of Mason Funeral Home.

The child died last Thursday in a Lubbock hospital.

Besides her parents, she is survived by her paternal grandmother, Mrs. Louise Mena, and maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Antonio Villa.

Post youth is held in rural car theft

Carlos D. Romero, 18, of Post is being held in the county jail here on charges of car theft in the taking of a 1959 Ford Sunday night from the Wren Cross farm home, southeast of Canyon Valley.

The car was recovered in the brush east of the Santa Fe tracks here in Post Monday morning with the generator burned out and a burned tire. Sheriff Fay Claborn said.

Sidewalk Sale looms as shopper 'magnet'

Everything is in readiness today for Post's first-ever Sidewalk Sale with some 30 Post merchants prepared to line Main Street with eye-catching bargains Friday and Saturday—right out on the sidewalks.

One of the biggest crowds of shoppers in this community's history are expected to attend the two-day bargain extravaganza.

Many merchants and clerks are planning to dress in old-fashioned, or odd clothing, to add extra color to the two-day event.

The Sidewalk Sale will be the largest united front sales promotion in the community's recent history. It's to introduce the Chamber of Commerce's new monthly Holiday Days—each special event something different.

The second section of today's Dispatch is 100 per cent full of Sidewalk Sales ads by participating merchants. It is loaded with but some of the dozens and dozens of bargains to be offered.

Some 3,000 reprints of the section as circulars have been mailed out to all rural route patrons and box holders in all smaller communities in the trade area, and circulated through the city.

You've heard about sidewalks hot enough to fry eggs upon. T. B. and Louise Odum plan to barbecue a turkey on the sidewalk Friday and Saturday, but using one of their outdoor barbecue grills instead of the sun for heat. Tasty turkey snacks will be proof that the grill performs.

Frank Blanton will give away two eight-volume sets of encyclopedias and a barbecue grill as door prizes for the two Sidewalk Days.

You can buy hot dogs by the dozen for 5c each and lemonade for five cents a glass.

A few of the other many bargains include:

Men's sport shirts at 98 cents. (See SIDEWALK SALE, Page 8)

Early testing on brucellosis in county favorable

Three herds, comprising approximately 470 head of cattle, tested in Garza County the first of the week have been found free of brucellosis, County Agent Syd Conner has announced.

Meanwhile, testing of other herds in the county is continuing following a meeting on brucellosis control held Monday night in the district courtroom. Approximately 50 cattle owners and other interested persons attended the meeting and heard the brucellosis testing program explained.

The biggest of the three herds tested Monday was the U. Lazy S Ranch herd of more than 400 head. Other herds tested were those of Walter Boren and L.P. Kennedy Jr.

Dr. R. M. Zirkle of San Angelo, district veterinarian, is in charge of the testing program here and elsewhere throughout West Texas. A Dr. Rice of Scurry County is in charge of the local testing unit, which includes a laboratory and two representatives of the U. S. Department of Agriculture's animal disease eradication committee.

The testing unit will be in Garza County from three weeks to a month and will go from here to Anson, in Jones County.

The current testing is on a voluntary basis, but a hearing is to be held in Austin Aug. 6 on Garza County's petition for setting up of a Type II brucellosis control program.

Gill funeral rites conducted Tuesday

Mr. Gill, who was 64, lived at 612 South Ave. H. He had been in the Galveston hospital for 22 days. He was born Sept. 22, 1897, at Corsicana and had lived in Post for about 27 years.

The Rev. Graydon Howell officiated at the funeral services. Burial was in Terrace Cemetery under the direction of Hudman Funeral Home. Pallbearers were Dan Cockrum, David Lee, Hans Hudman, Jackie Blacklock, Thurman Francis and Burney Francis.

Mr. Gill is survived by his wife, Allene; two sons, Archie and Ricky; three daughters, Vickie, Lois and Evelyn; and a brother, J. C. Gill, all of Post.

Burglaries solved with two arrests

Three rural burglaries Sunday night in Garza and Lynn counties have been solved and two men are now in jail at Tahoka on charges of "burglary after dark" with most of the stolen property recovered.

Sheriff Fay Claborn said the two men are Billy Jack Baker, 32, of Smyer, and Tom Whitehurst, 29, of Lubbock.

Claborn said Baker was arrested

Contractors' and engineer figures said close enough

By JIM CORNISH AND CHARLES DIDWAY

Construction bids on the White River dam project, opened late this morning at Crosbyton, total approximately $3,365,000—less than $90,000 above engineers' estimates of $3,276,000.

Final tabulation on the low bids for the six phases of the project may reduce the figure even closer to the engineers' estimates.

Directors of the White River Municipal Water District have been assured by the state agency making the $4,000,000 loan on the project that additional funds will be available if needed to complete the project.

That was the word at 11:30 o'clock this morning from the auditorium of the Pioneer Memorial Building in Crosbyton.

Representatives of the district's engineering firm, Freese, Nichols and Endress of Fort Worth, said the bid opening at Crosbyton was the largest of any project they had ever handled.

Robert Work of Crosbyton, the water district's secretary, rolled the 48 sealed bids in a grocery shopping basket to the long director's table at the front of the auditorium.

A former Post resident, Steve Luce of Vernon, is the apparent low bidder on the biggest phase of the project—the earthen dam. His bid was $1,006,152.65, which is $163,952 above the engineers' estimate of $842,200.

Luce lived in Post about 28 years ago. His wife is the former Miss Lena Manly, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. P. (Jude) Manly of 714 West 7th St., longtime Post residents.

Eight bids, ranging as high as $1,605,332.50, were received on the earthen dam construction.

The apparent low bidder on the filter (water treatment) plant was Talon Construction Co. of Texarkana, with a bid of $465,100—a little less than $8,000 over the engineers' estimate of $457,200.

Steed Construction was the apparent low bidder on the pipe lines system with a bid of $1,706,000, which is some $81,000 less than the $1,787,909 estimated by the engineers.

The other three bids, on which apparent low bidders were not immediately available, were on the pumping stations along the pipe lines; storage tanks at the edges of the four member cities, and manufacturer's bid for all pumping equipment.

White River directors, meeting immediately after the bid opening to map the districts' construction budget, expressed themselves as well pleased that the apparent low bid totals were so close to the engineers' estimates, which were made some five years ago.

The estimated construction time for the entire project is estimated by engineers at around 18 months. That too will be finalized today when bidders estimate working time as well as bid on prices.

Building the big earthen dam itself won't take near that long. It might be completed in six or eight months.

If so, it could be ready to take (See WHITE RIVER, Page 8)

Bank deposits up over $1,200,000
