

Appeals court dissolves injunction

White River district wins second round

The White River Municipal Water District scored what appears to be a significant legal victory Monday in its year-long fight to condemn the Walker estate land on which the new White River dam is being built.

The three-judge court of Civil Appeals of the Seventh Supreme Judicial District, in Amarillo, in a unanimous opinion written by Chief Justice James G. Denton, reversed the writ of injunction issued by District Judge Victor H. Lindsey last September and dissolved the injunction issued by Lindsey.

Among other things the district had been enjoined by Judge Lindsey from using the land condemned from the Walker estate above the high water mark for recreational purposes and from taking mineral rights to the some 1,900 acres condemned.

The appellate court's ruling was to the effect that District Judge Lindsey had no jurisdiction in the injunction suit.

Attorneys for the Walkers have 15 days in which to file a motion to rehear the appeal in the same Civil Court of Appeals.

If any such motion for rehearing is denied, attorneys for the Walker estate would then have 30 days in which to file an application for a writ of error in the Texas Supreme Court.

If the civil appeals court decision stands, this would put the White River district back in Crosby County court where attorneys for the Walker estate have appealed a condemnation commission's award of $98,300 for the dam site land sought.

This award was made July 12, 1962.

The appeal has been "marking time" legally while the injunction suit was being fought out in district court where it was filed by attorneys for the Walker estate and then in the civil court of appeals to which it was appealed by the White River Municipal Water District.

Condemnation proceedings against the Walker land were originally filed in Crosby district court exactly one year ago today.

The appeal on the temporary injunction ruling was argued in Amarillo April 2.

The district needs three parcels of land to complete the lake land purchase. One is the Walker land secured through condemnation, although legal actions relative to it still are in the courts. Another is

TRY AGAIN FRIDAY ON STORM SIGNALS

Let's get the signals straight! That's Mayor Harold Lucas' plea, who points out the school children have learned the signals and the adults ought to be able to do it, too.

Mayor Lucas has called another storm signal drill for 2 p. m. Friday to help "get the signals straight."

The siren has three distinct signals. The storm alert signal is one of a constant high pitch. The "take cover" signal is a high low waveling sound.

"We have no all clear," Lucas pointed out.

The fire siren is a dual tone signal. One of these days they "may be for real."

City gets 2.34 inch deluge

'Planting rain' for most areas

Almost all farming areas of Garza County received a "cotton planting rain" Sunday afternoon although most of the county didn't receive the 2.34 inch deluge which flooded Post's streets and knocked some 300 telephones out of service.

Cracking a near five-month drought in this area, the afternoon showers dumped from one to three inches on various portions of the county.

County Agent Syd Conner reported the 2.34 inches as the official courthouse measurements for the windy downpour here, although rain gauges in the northern part of town measured a full three inches.

Conner said .03 of an inch fell here Saturday night.

Some of the rain reports, Conner received included: Three inches at Verbenia turnoff on Clairemont highway; one inch at Jimmy Bird's place, 2 1/2 inches at Benny Wilkes; up to 3 inches in Close City area, little over an inch at Pleasant Valley, 1 1/2 inches at Justiceburg, over an inch at Graham.

If hot winds had followed the rain they could have dried up much of the needed moisture for dry-land cotton planting, but this has not occurred.

Broom sale nets Lions Club $292

The broom sale held here Tuesday under the auspices of the Post Lions Club grossed $1,103, an income of more than $400 over the gross from last year's sale. Lion Boss John Carter said today.

The sale netted $292 for the Lions Club and will be used on club projects, principally child welfare work. The rest of the proceeds goes to the Texas Lighthouse for the Blind at Fort Worth, which manufactures the brooms, mops and similar items and distributes them for sale.

Most of the local Lions Club members assisted in Tuesday's sale, Dr. Carter said.

Bob Macy tells of expansion

10 pens added to ranch feed lot

Ten more new pens have been added to the U Lazy S Ranch feed lots this spring to bring Garza County's only feed lot operation to a 1,500 head capacity. Bob Macy, manager of the feed lot, told fellow Rotarians at their Tuesday luncheon in City Hall.

Showing color slides of the U Lazy S operation as well as feed lots in Arizona and California, Macy predicted:

"You'll see a whole lot more feed lot operations in this area in the near future."

Only one jail counted in last week's story

Sheriff Fay Claborn came up with the rebuttal yesterday to The Dispatch's story of last week that Tuesday, April 30, was the first day the jail had been empty since Deputy Sheriff Lloyd Merritt began his duties here in January, 1962.

Sheriff Claborn explained that while the county jail was empty, the county that day had three prisoners in the Lubbock county jail for safe keeping, including Johnny Johnson, who is awaiting trial on a murder charge.

Claborn said he keeps all felony cases or worse in Lubbock county jail because of the ease with which some prisoners depart from Garza County facilities.

3-act musical is set for tonight

National Music Week will be observed by the Music Department of Post High School at 8 o'clock tonight with the presentation of a three-act musical, "The Singing Freshman," in the primary school auditorium.

The musical was originally scheduled for Friday night, but was moved up one night because of a conflict with another school event.

The cast of the musical includes 60 members of the high school mixed choir and 25 members of the band, who will perform as a stage band for the production.

In charge of the production are Howard Carlisle, Bruce Evans and George M. Willson. The cast of characters includes Glenn Polk, Dee Ann Walker, Meredith Newby, Frankie Gary, Teddy Scott, Jimmy Wells, Lenny Howell, Mary Ann Stone, Linda McMahon, Margie Harrison, Melvin Byrd, Bobby Roach, Donnie Cornell, Robert Johnson and Dennis Odum.

In Cash vs. Close City case

Abatement pleas upheld by court

District Judge Truett Smith has sustained two pleas of abatement and one exception to the petition by the defendant in the case of A. C. Cash vs. the Close City Independent School District and has overruled two other exceptions by the defendant.

The case, which had been set for hearing May 27, subject to the court's ruling on defense counsel's pleas of abatement and exceptions to the petition, is one in which A. C. Cash is suing the school district for tuition and transportation of his two school-age daughters to the Post schools.

The pleas of abatement upheld by the court were that since the plaintiff's family has moved from the Close City school district into the Post school district, the case has changed from its original purpose.

The ruling indicates that the only relief now necessary in the case is for the defendant to recover from the school district the amount allegedly due him for tuition and transportation during the time his children were residents of the Close City district.

The court over-ruled defense counsel's exception that the plaintiff should first seek relief through his local school district, then the county superintendent of schools and then the State Board of Education before going to court with his suit.

The court also over-ruled the defense counsel's exception that the Post Independent School District is a necessary party to the suit.

The court upheld the defense's exception that the district court does not have jurisdiction in the suit since the amount of money the plaintiff seeks to recover for tuition is less than $500, the minimum amount in which the court has jurisdiction.

The exception on the amount of money involved was sustained, however, with the plaintiff's right to demand an additional amount for his expense in transporting his children to the Post schools after that it would pay tuition on and provide transportation only for Negro students residing in the district.

Pat N. Walker is counsel for the plaintiff and the Close City Independent School District is represented by Calloway Huffaker and Harold Green.

Counsel for the plaintiff told The Dispatch this morning that since he had not had time to study the court's rulings on the pleas and exceptions nor to discuss them with his client, he was not ready to announce whether or not the rulings would be appealed.

Two tie for top high school honor

Two members of the Post High School graduating class have tied for top academic honors with a grade average of 94.35 each for the past two years and are co-valedictorians of this year's class.

The two top students are Delton Robinson, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Robinson, and Marianne Jones, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Jones.

Janith Short, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lowell Short, is third with a grade average of 93.25 and will be class historian at commencement exercises.

Other top ranking students are Glenn Polk, son of Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Polk, with a grade average of 91.80; Alyn Cox, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Cox, 91.41, and Ann Pennington, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Pennington, 91.10.

Miss Jones is carrying on a "family tradition" in tying for valedictorian honors this year. Her brother, Howard, now of Palm Beach, Fla., was valedictorian in 1957 and her sister, Kay Gene, now Mrs. Jackie Payne, was valedictorian in 1959.

Verbenia church receives medallion

The old Verbenia church, now in use as a community building, has received a Texas Historical Medallion, which was presented to a group of former Verbenia residents by Mrs. A. C. Surman, chairman, at Tuesday's regular monthly meeting of the Garza County Historical Committee.

The medallion was accepted by Miss Henrietta Nichols of Post, a former resident of the Verbenia community, who provided the historical committee with much of the information it needed in applying for a Medallion for the church.

Others present when the Medallion was presented by Mrs. Surman were Mr. and Mrs. B. W. (Doc) Kennedy, Mrs. Leonard Barrow and Mrs. Will Cravy, all former residents of the Verbenia community.

Tape recordings of facts on the Verbenia church, which was built in 1904, were heard at Tuesday's committee meeting.

Miss Nichols said that for several years prior to construction of the

UNAUTHORIZED CALLS EXPENSIVE ONE

The most unusual charge to be filed in county court here in several years was brought against Velda A. Campbell last Thursday.

Campbell was charged with placing a long distance call and charging it to the Jeff Graham Trucking Co. number without authority and with intent to defraud the trucking firm.

Information filed in the case said the call had been made to Edmond, Okla.

It proved to be quite an expensive telephone call. When Campbell pleaded guilty, County Judge J. E. Parker fined her $10 and costs. That totaled $37.78.

THURSDAY, MAY 9, 1963

The community building idea

Reaction of the general public to the news story in last Thursday's Dispatch that a new community building is the greatest need here—as shown by a Chamber of Commerce survey—was as expected. Nearly everybody else feels the same way about it.

For too many years now, a growing community has been getting along on just whatever was at hand for chamber of commerce banquets, farmer-businessmen gatherings, school homecomings and other events. It is time that we began looking ahead to something better, and that is precisely what the General Activities Committee of the Post Chamber of Commerce is already doing . . . their action based on the results of the survey, which had from 80 to 90 per cent of those answering the questionnaire listing a new community building as the number one need.

But it will take time. Such projects cannot be completed over-night. There are many legal phases to any such community endeavor, such as site, ownership, responsibility, etc. All these will have to be worked out, of course.

And, these angles will need to be worked out before we can come up with a clear picture of just what such a community building should include. The survey itself included suggestions for the proposed community building to include a small museum, a library, etc.

All that, of course, can—and will—be worked out later. The most important thing now is for everyone in the community to lend whatever support is required of him in helping the Chamber of Commerce get off to a good start on the new community building project.—CD

Not beer-drinking places

In recent weeks, The Dispatch has carried two news stories of people being arrested and fined for drinking beer in City-County Park here and another story of people being arrested and fined for consuming it on or near the premises of Terrace Cemetery.

The peace officers who made the arrests in these cases and the courts which assessed the punishments are to be commended for their action.

There are too many other places to drink beer than for imbibers to find it necessary to make use of such places as parks and cemeteries for the purpose.

In two of the instances, the defendants were also accused of throwing their empty cans on the ground. Litterbugging in itself is bad enough, but when it takes place in the immediate vicinity of a cemetery or a public park it is even worse.—CD

Financial troubles face Capital City

Financial troubles face our nation's capital, and that is something about which all of us should be concerned since its treasured memorials are a part of our country's history.

Despite what many Americans mistakenly believe, the federal government does not finance the entire budget for the Capital City and residents there do pay taxes. The truth is that the bulk of the City's budget comes from taxes on residents of the District of Columbia.

We seldom wander so far from home in our editorial columns, but since our nation's Capital City does belong to all of us, we feel we are justified in this instance.

In addition to the problems which most cities have, Washington, D. C., has numerous problems which are unique because of its status as a federal city.

Real estate taxes form an important part of every city or county tax base, but the federal government which pays no taxes, and other tax-exempt establishments such as embassies, occupy 50 per cent of the City's land.

Also, the federal government is the City's number one employer and most of the City's government employees live in the suburbs and pay no income tax to the City. Skyrocketing the cost of providing municipal services to these non-residents has been the tremendous expansion in federal employment.

Since Americans want their Capital to be beautiful, Congress requires wide, tree-lined and costly streets. All municipal construction must conform to rigid federal esthetic standards which are also costly. The height of private buildings is limited so federal buildings will not be overshadowed and this limits the tax yield from real estate.

Dwindling income and increasing costs will mean deterioration of our Capital City, which otherwise could be made the showplace of the world.

In the beginning, Congress financed half of the City's budget, but this was later changed and since then lump sums have ranged from a high of 39.5 per cent in 1924 to a low of 8.5 per cent in 1954. In fiscal 1963, it represents only 12.07 per cent of the City's operating budget.

Support of a plan for more equitable financial treatment for the District of Columbia should be urged on the members of Congress.

As a member of the House District of Columbia Committee, our own Congressman, George H. Mahan, plays a key role in this matter. We hope he and his colleagues will recognize the fairness in restoring a balance between local taxes paid by Washingtonians and the costs shouldered by the federal government.

The Nation's Capital belongs not to the local residents, but to all Americans.—CD

On admitting women to A&M

There has been a lot of hoop-de-do, mostly on the part of the student body, about the order which will admit women to Texas A&M College.

It reminds us of the furor raised some four or five years ago over admitting women reporters to press boxes to cover sporting events. It finally worked itself out with the women, bless 'em gaining the victory.

Of all we've read about the controversy, we like best the way one of Texas A&M's football greats, John (Jarrin) John Kimbrough, of Haskell, put it.

"I think it's a good move — good for the school," Kimbrough commented. "The board seems to think so, and members of the board are a representative cross section of Texas. I'm inclined to go along with them."

The former Aggie also saw the possibility that having co-eds around might lure more athletes to Aggieland.

"There have been too many cases of a boy turning down A&M because he didn't want to go to school where there aren't any girls around."

That may not be putting it like a true-blue Aggie, but it certainly makes sense.—CD

A 'Change' is needed

We were amazed in reading a neighboring weekly last Friday to learn how a new auditor had been selected for that town.

The new mayor wanted "a change" in auditors. After a lot of discussion, the commission agreed to select a new one by taking the 13th auditor listed in the yellow pages of the Lubbock telephone directory, without even knowing the fees the man charged, or anything else.

That town needs a change all right—but not especially in auditors.—JC

What our contemporaries are saying

The sports writers all over the country have been having a field day with the romance of Bo Belinsky, Baseball's Bad Boy, and Melty Mamie Van Doren. Seems her curves have him guessing and she likes his pitches. Unless the game is called because of rain or the ump throws Bo out of it because of bad conduct, there might be a wedding at home plate.—Porter L. Oakes in The Haskell Free Press.

It might be all right for the meek to inherit the earth if they'd stay meek after they got it.—James Roberts in The Andrews County News.

The Jaycees have a fine creed, which goes like this—We believe: That faith in God gives meaning and purpose to human life; that the brotherhood of man transcends the sovereignty of nations; that economic justice can best be won by free men through free enterprise; that government should be of laws rather than of men; that earth's greatest treasure lies in human personality; and that service to humanity is the best work of life.—Frank Hill in The Lynn County News.

Custom, convention and the powerful restraining influence of public opinion fetter the urge to go barefooted when the summer sun warms the creek bed sand and freshly plowed fields.—Douglas Meador in Matador Tribune.

A lot of people believe in law and order so long as they can lay down the law and give the orders.—Berle Snyder in The Denver City Press.

Tom Martin, comparing the so-called "midnight ride" of Billy Hargis and former General Walker with that of Paul Revere, gave his KPDA-TV listeners some food for thought. Among other things, he said that Paul Revere did not stop during his frantic ride to take up a collection.—H. M. Baggary in The Tulsa Herald.

You have to hand it to the American housewife—which explains why so many American men prefer to remain single.—Marvin Tomme in The Ralls Banner.

WHATEVER ELSE might be said of Sunday, May 5, it'll go on record here as the rainiest day in a long, long time. Incidentally, there was no picnicking at the park Sunday afternoon.

Towns like Post, which do not have any sort of Independence Day celebration, can "get in the act" now that Gov. John Connally has signed a proclamation asking that bells everywhere in Texas be rung on July 4. Ringing all the bells won't be much of a celebration just in itself, but it'll beat nothing. Off-hand, I don't know how many churches here have bells, but there no doubt are enough to make a suitable sound for Independence Day if they'll all chime in.

I WAS GOING to suggest that they also blow the fire siren along with the ringing of the bells, but there are a lot of folks in Post with whom such a suggestion wouldn't make too big a hit.

My friend up the street says he has found out how to drive a nail without hitting his thumb. He has his wife hold the nail.

A SELF-HELP article in the March "Pageant" gives some answers for those cliché questions people keep asking each other. Samples:

Q. What's new?
A. Didn't you hear? Your house burned down this morning.
Q. How are you?
A. A poor insurance risk.
Q. Hot enough for you?
A. No.
Q. Think it'll rain?
A. Where?
Q. How was the party last night?
A. Why ask? You weren't invited.
Q. Think you can handle this problem, George?
A. No, boss. It's your money; you tackle it.
Q. Do you love me, darling?
A. Only on Sundays.

A sure sign you're getting older is when the kids come home from school and tell you about their history lessons, and you realize that when you went to school the same items were called current events.

Congratulations to the three top students, grade-wise, of this year's Post High School graduating class. They are Delton Robinson and Marianne Jones, who tied for valedictorian honors, and Janith Short, who is salutatorian. It is the first time two Post students have tied for top honors at the end of a school year since 1955 when Jimmy Short and Victor (Sonny) Hudman finished in a dead heat for valedictorian honors in the 8th grade graduating class of that year with Mary Louise McCrary the salutatorian.

And, while we're about it, congratulations also to this year's 8th grade valedictorian, Marcia Newby, and salutatorian, Joe Hudman.

STILL ON THE subject of schools, here are some rules given by the teacher to students in an English IV class. The system is known as "Teaching by Example." Verbs has to agree with their subjects.

Each pronoun agrees with their antecedents.

Don't use no double negatives. When dangling, don't use participles.

Join clauses good, like a conjunction should.

In letters themes reports articles and stuff like that use commas to keep a string of items apart.

Don't use commas which aren't necessary.

Don't abbreviate. Check to see if you any words out.

WATCHING THE Kentucky Derby on television Saturday reminded me that a couple of loyal-readers turned in bits of information on horses last week just a little too late to make the paper. Needed: sound system of voter registration

(After a long and careful study, the League of Women Voters of Texas has concluded that Texas' present form of periodic voter registration (the poll tax system) is inadequate and should be replaced by a permanent registration system. The following is the first in a series of articles explaining why the League takes this stand.)

WHAT'S THE PROBLEM HERE?

Texas faces what could be a change system at the polls. Revision of the state's horse-and-buggy voter registration system—the poll tax—seems in sight, either from federal or state action, or both.

If the expressed will of Texas voters is carried out, the poll tax as a method of voter qualification will be abandoned. Last May, in the primary election referendum, Texas voters by a vote of 621,065 to 50,343 that they wanted the Legislature to submit to the people a constitutional amendment abolishing the poll tax as a requirement for voting.

Now, on the federal level, states are ratifying a 24th amendment to the U. S. Constitution that: "The right of citizens of the United States to vote in any primary or other election for President or Vice President, for electors for President or Vice President, or for Senator or Representative in Congress, shall not be denied or abridged by the United States or any State by reason of failure to pay any poll tax or other tax." RATIFICATION BY 38 states will automatically wipe out Texas' present system as far as national elections go. It will require dual registration and will result in utter confusion in Texas. Unless, that is, Texas provides a registration method to include ALL elections. If not, the danger of dishonest elections will increase, already high costs of elections will mount, and voter apathy will be compounded.

Even if the poll tax system were not in peril, it has never been satisfactory. Although five states retain the poll tax as a prerequisite for voting, Texas and Arkansas are the only states in the Union which do not provide some other method of registering voters. And the Texas poll tax is NOT equivalent to the procedures developed in other states for the registration of voters.

It is at this point where the League of Women Voters of Texas believes that it has an answer. After 3 years of study, League women concluded that Texas needs a sound voter registration system divorced from the poll tax.

They found the poll tax inadequate, costly, inconvenient and conducive to fraud. While the League takes no position on the poll tax as a revenue measure, it has found the levy overrated as a revenue producer.

Also, League women found, the Texas system in a horse-and-buggy model compared to the vehicle used by the big majority of other states. Most states, they discovered, used the permanent, rather than a periodic, registration plan. And Texas, they concluded should at last take the only logical step and follow the others into a PERMANENT registration system.

Peace officers of area meet

CLAIREMONT — Law enforcement officers of Garza County will be among those attending the annual convention of the Caprock Peace Officers Association here today (Thursday).

Cal Farley, founder and president of Boys Ranch, near Amarillo, will be the guest speaker.

Crosbyton merchants are supplying beef for the barbecue dinner, according to Game Warden Cecil Fox of Spur, who is president of the association.

The Caprock Peace Officers Association was formed in Kent County on the Wood Ranch in 1946. Fox has served as president of the organization since its founding.

The peace officers of the area meet each year to enjoy a barbecue dinner, then participate in a rattle-snake shoot.

Post couple's son in A&M honor fraternity

Weldon Lloyd Merritt, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd H. Merritt, is one of 58 Texas A&M College freshmen initiated into the campus chapter of Phi Eta Sigma, national freshman honor fraternity.

Those initiated into the chapter ranked academically in the top 3.23 per cent of their class during the fall semester.

Membership in the fraternity requires a grade point ratio of 2.5 or better in the first semester of the freshman year or a 2.5 grade point ratio by the end of the first school year. An "A" equals 3 grade points.

The Texas A&M chapter of the Phi Eta Sigma, founded in 1949, is advised by C. H. Ransdell, assistant dean of engineering, and Dr. J. W. Dobson, professor of biology.

Traffic slowpoke is dangerous character

AUSTIN—The slowpoke on the expressway is just as dangerous as the speeder, according to the Texas Safety Association. Vehicles leading a slow parade in a traffic lane are hazardous.

TSA advises if traffic streams past you and you can't seem to keep up with other cars on expressways, it is safer for everyone if you get off. Travel on another road.

A weekly public service feature from the Texas State Department of Health

Accent on Health

J. E. PEAVY, M.D., Commissioner of Health

AUSTIN—A pesky little bit of life, capable of going for months without food, is a sour note in the otherwise symphony of a Texas spring.

It's a soft-shelled tick, known scientifically as Ornithodoros turicata, transmitter of relapsing fever. This time of year they'll be out in force over most of Texas—at the very season when the natural human inclination is toward picnics and exploratory sojourns into the Great Outdoors.

State Health Department entomologists say the pernicious, fever-laden parasites can bite, feed, release their hord and drop to the ground without their human victims ever knowing they have provided them with a blood meal.

MANY CASES OF relapsing fever undoubtedly occur in Texas without ever coming to official attention. Ticks pick up the germ while feeding on infected wild rodents, become infected themselves and then pass it on to humans during the feeding process.

Soft-shelled ticks are close relatives of the hard-shelled ticks which spread spotted fever, tularemia, a type of encephalitis and other miseries.

Public health workers handle ticks with great caution to avoid being bitten and exposed to the fever they might be carrying. Specimens are kept in a specially constructed tick-torium where, if one escapes, it will fall into an oil bath and be killed.

State Health Department laboratory technicians over the years have added many refinements to diagnostic techniques relating to relapsing fever. The strange disease occurs all over the world, despite the fact that it is sometimes called a tropical disease.

THE ONSET OF relapsing fever is characterized by chills and fever lasting from 24 hours to 36 hours. Recurring attacks of fever might persist for weeks, each one leaving the victim weak and wrung out.

Once successfully diagnosed, relapsing fever rapidly responds to modern treatment by a private physician. The disease is rarely fatal.

Soft-shelled ticks usually inhabit caves and old buildings, while their hard-shelled counterparts stick to woods and fields. Both types are actually occupational hazards for ranchers and foresters and people in similar lines of work.

Soft-shelled ticks can survive a year or more without food, so long vacancy of a vacation cottage does not mean there are no ticks in residence.

So go ahead—have fun outdoors this spring. But be sure to use plenty of insect repellent on exposed skin and on clothing if you are in infested areas.

Decision after decision is required in driving

AUSTIN—Driving requires that decisions be made almost constantly. According to the Texas Safety Association, most traffic emergencies must be recognized and action taken in split seconds.

TSA advises drivers to try to decide in advance what action is best at any place for each emergency that may arise. Try to drive in such a way that there is plenty of time to make the right decision. Do not crowd those split seconds by crowding the traffic—and your luck.

PLAN AHEAD FOR SAFETY

AUSTIN—The Texas Safety Association urges motorists to plan every trip so they will not have to force themselves or their cars. The driver needs time to stop, stretch, rest and have a snack. He will be more alert, more comfortable, and safer.

A TAX AUDIT

More and more taxpayers are getting audited as a part of the government's revenue collection. If selected, you may well ask, "Why pick on me?"

Well, you may have made an arithmetic mistake, deducted too much, claimed a large refund compared to your income, had a big income, had too small an income. Or, you may have been picked out by chance.

There are many audits. An auditor may ask you to bring in your records to talk over your return. Often one talk is enough. Again you may have several talks before the matter is closed. You may bring your lawyer along if you like or anyone who helped you make out your last return.

Sometimes a federal agent may come to your home or place of business to check your records in person. Just showing the agent your records may satisfy him. But he may "adjust" your return. You then must take steps to pay, or to challenge his conclusions.

When a special agent comes to see your records, it may be well to have your lawyer on hand.

As a rule most honest differences over taxes are settled without suits. But not always. Whenever taxes are challenged, take prompt steps to protect your interests. People have lost good defenses or claims by failing to act within the time set by law.

The workload of the tax offices has brought on automatic data processing. Magnetic tape and other devices may store and analyze returns on each taxpayer, say, by 1970 or sooner. Then more audits.

(This newsfeature, prepared by the State Bar of Texas, is written to inform—not to advise. No person should ever apply or interpret any law without the aid of an attorney who is fully advised concerning the facts involved, because a slight variance in facts may change the application of the law.)

In high altitudes the llama is used as a beast of burden.

Driver education helps to develop judgment

AUSTIN—Teen drivers need not be poor drivers, according to the Texas Safety Association. It is youth's lack of experience that leads to errors in judgment.

TSA reports that driver education courses can aid in developing judgment and a sense of responsibility necessary to safe driving. Studies indicate that teens who have had formal driver education have fewer traffic accidents and violations than others.

ACCIDENT CHANCES

AUSTIN—The Texas Safety Association reports that a person who drives 12,000 miles a year has one chance in three of having some kind of an accident. There is one chance in four that damage will be limited to property, one in 35 that there will be at least one injury and one 1,300 for a fatality.

Highway accidents in the U. S. took a record number of lives in 1962. About 40,500 people died on the nation's highways last year, and more than 3,345,000 were injured.

Miss Hambrick, Lt. Welch wed in Ballinger church ceremony

Wedding vows for Miss Nancy Hambrick and Lt. Gary Espy Welch were read Saturday, May 4, at 8 o'clock in the evening at the First Methodist Church in Ballinger.

The Rev. J. B. Fowler Jr., pastor of the First Baptist Church, officiated at the double ring ceremony. Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Charles Mays Hambrick of Ballinger and Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Espy Welch of Post.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of silk organza designed with a fitted bodice and long sleeves. Alencon lace motifs enhanced the front and were applied on the skirt which swept into a chapel train. A crown of pearls held a waist-length veil of silk illusion. The bride carried a cascade arrangement with garlands of English ivy and lilies of the valley.

Miss Linda Tuckey was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Misses Margo Brunson, Carole Kay Jobe and Louise Koehler, all of Dalhart. They wore identical sleeveless dresses of seafaro green fashioned with bateau necklines which were v-shaped in back, and horizontal pleats on the front of the bodices. The skirt panels were caught at the waistlines by self fabric roses. They wore circlet headdresses of matching material, short white gloves and pearl necklaces, gifts of the bride. They carried nosegays of daisies.

Larry Welch served his brother as best man. Ushers were Jimmy Minor of Post, Darrell Watson of Amarillo, and Bill Spahn of Austin, Minn. Jimmy Minor also lighted the candles. Groomsman were Jim Henry of Lancaster, Mickie Barron of Children and Andy Schmidt of Post.

Harold Rankin, organist, and Kay Mansell, soloist, presented wedding music.

A reception in the church parlor followed the ceremony.

For travel to Ruidoso, N. M., the bride chose a yellow knit shift with orange floral design, white coat and hat, long beige kid gloves and black patent shoes and bag, longer High School and attended Mrs. Welch is a graduate of Baylor University at Waco and Texas Tech. Mr. Welch is a Post High School graduate and received a degree in accounting at Texas Tech at mid-semester. At Tech he was a member of Phi Kappa Alpha and the Double T Association.

The couple will be at home in Killeen, close to Fort Hood, where Mr. Welch is serving as a lieutenant in the Army.

Those from Post attending the wedding were: Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Schmidt and Susie Jo, Mr. and Mrs. John Schmidt, Mr. and Mrs. James Minor and Judge and Mrs. J. E. Parker.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Welch were hosts for the rehearsal dinner in the Ivy Room of the Texas Grill in Ballinger Friday night preceding the wedding.

Texas Tech Madrigal Singers present Music Club program

Approximately 45 members and guests attended the Post Music Club's presentation of the Madrigal Singers of Texas Tech Monday at 7:30 p. m. in the Community Room. Miss Maxine Durrett introduced Gene Kenney, who is director of the ten students. They are: Misses Joy Martin Jayne Maddox, Betty Lowden, Beverly Little, Linda Suddeth, Jim Suddeth, Paul Benningfield, Charles Helman and Dewayne Hood.

The singers performed seated around a table covered with a lace ecru cloth and decorated with two silver candlesticks holding white candles. They were dressed in 15th Century English costumes, the boys wearing knee pants, socks and frocktail coats.

A Flemish group of singers were the original Madrigal singers and other groups became widely known in England, France and Italy.

They presented the following selections:

"Prael" by Amaryllis; "Ah, Leave Me Here to Perish" by Monteverdi; "Sing We and Chant" and "April Is in My Mistress' Face" by Morley; "You Defy Me Beloved" by Giovanni; "So Well I Know Who's Happy" by Vecchi; "My True Love Hath My Heart" and "Are Thou That She?" by Delger. They concluded the program with "Johnny Has Gone for a Soldier", "Turtle Dove", "Listen to the Mocking Bird" and "What Can the Matter Be?"

Preceding the concert the singers and their director were guests for dinner at the home of Mrs. Kay Kirkpatrick assisted by Mrs. Runnie Boucher, Mrs. Garland Hudson, music club president, and Miss Durrett, mistress of ceremony, were also guests.

Even I enjoyed the rain Sunday—but that was mostly because I got to go out and play in it.

The Cs found out Sunday that they have a drainage problem since building a redwood planter in the side yard and cutting off the yard drainage to the alley. I'm only glad we were home when the rains came or we might have had a flooded house and we would not have gotten to play in the rain.

When we had the planter built we didn't give a thought to what might happen when it rained—in fact we had forgotten it could.

After about 30 minutes of down-pour we noticed the water starting to build up in the side yard but really gave it no thought until it reached the patio and came within an inch of the step-up into the house. (For the first time I saw some sense to the Federal Housing Authority insisting on these steps).

Mr. C is better prepared for rain than I. He has a GI trenchcoat and a pair of rubber galoshes. I have nothing. (To own a rain coat in this country has always seemed to me either the height of luxury or foolishness).

I didn't intend to miss any of the fun though so I improvised. Those plastic bags really keep the rain off and also keep on warm. You know the kind I mean—those that say: "Warning: To avoid danger of suffocation keep away from babies and children; do not use in cribs, beds or carriages or playpens. This is not a toy."

An opening for the head and arms was easily made; a GI short field jacket, rubber thongs, and a plastic rain hat completed the ensemble and I joined Mr. C in the bucket brigade.

I really used a three-quart sauce pan because we only own one bucket (with a hole in the bottom).

Standing in water eight inches deep (I measured it) was a little chilly with thongs on so I managed to scrape up a pair of plastic boots hidden on a closet shelf to keep my feet warm.

We sloped enough water over our fence to fill South Lake and I got my first experience of what an acre foot of water is.

It added a little zest to what would have been just another "just in the nick of time" rain and furnished entertainment for the Misses Cs who stood and laughed at our garbs.

You all are thankful for the rain because of crops and lawns, but I furnished me with some much needed column material.

MRS. MILDRED OUTLAW also writing and grapho-analysis

Painting only one of hobbies of May 'Artist of the Month'

By JUANIECE ROBINSON Mrs. Mildred Outlaw, artist of the month, is exhibiting her paintings at Collier Chevrolet-Olds, 311 South Broadway, during the month of May. Her original painting is in the Southwestern Public Service building.

Mrs. Outlaw was born in Wooster, Ark., but later moved to Carlsbad, N. M. She is the daughter of the late Dr. and Mrs. L. H. Pate of Carlsbad. She was married to N. C. Outlaw in 1929. They have two daughters, Mrs. Zera Ann Evans and Mrs. Alma Louise Boone; also six grandchildren.

During her school days, Mrs. Outlaw attended Carlsbad schools. She recalls that not one boy was in her graduating class because they were all serving in the U. S. Armed Forces. It was World War I. She also attended Martha Washington Girl's School in Abingdon, Va., and Texas Woman's College in Fort Worth. In 1925 she graduated from Baylor University, having majored in business administration.

After graduating from college Mrs. Outlaw married N. C. Outlaw, a law student graduating from Baylor, and they moved to Ralls. Mr. Outlaw was elected county attorney, thus they became citizens of Crosbyton. Later they moved to Post.

With the belief that one never learns enough, Mrs. Outlaw has taken correspondence courses in journalism from Oklahoma University.

city, Writer's Digest and Newspaper Institute of America. Later she joined the South Plains Writers Club in Lubbock. She was elected secretary in 1961, program chairman in 1962, and president in 1963. Entering several contests, she has won first place in non-fiction, first place in fiction, and second place in non-fiction this year. She has assisted with the writing of the Post Art Guild member's personality stories since July.

Graphoanalysis is one of her greatest interests. In car and power Mrs. Outlaw graduated from the course in St. Louis, Mo. Painting is a hobby Mrs. Outlaw began chiefly to teach her more about color and objects in order to "paint" better word pictures in her stories. She also paints for relaxation. She prefers painting landscapes and western scenes. She works with oils, watercolors, charcoal and pastels.

Mrs. Outlaw served as vice president exhibit chairman of the Post Art Guild last year. Besides exhibiting for the guild, she was in charge of a Culture Club exhibit and the Garza County Fair exhibit last fall. "I believe a person can do anything they want to do had enough," said Mrs. Outlaw summing up her outlook toward life.

VISIT IN ABILENE Mrs. Veirgie Long Maxey, Dottie Fay and Virginia, spent the weekend in Abilene visiting her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Sammy Long.

Will the directors of the summer baseball program please start the season in April next year? If starting the baseball season brings rain year after year why not push the season up and get that good rain in here earlier.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL...
ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Memories in the Making

A picture . . . a frame . . . to treasure always. So she believes!

The fleeting baby smile, the outgrown pair of baby shoes—these she'll always treasure.

But in later years not every mother can point with pride to her son's baby picture. Memories sometimes become tarnished with remorse.

So much depends on us.

If we hope always to treasure our glimpse of yesterday . . . we must carve with spiritual tools our vision of tomorrow.

WHAT'S AHEAD FOR CATTLE PRICES?

The recent drop in fed cattle prices has caused considerable concern among cattlemen as to the prospects for the near future, says Syd Conner, livestock marketing specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

The average weights of cattle slaughtered under federal inspection in the West this year, have been the lowest since early 1961. This was caused by the low number of cows culled with heavier heifers coming from the West, explains Uvacek.

Even though the nation's population and income levels continue to rise, the effect is not enough to offset the future increases in the supply.

Marketing of fed cattle will be heavy in the West and the West Belt during the next three or four months, he says. The April quarter should be up about 10 per cent from levels of a year ago.

Uvacek says that forecasts indicating strengthening fed cattle prices in the West during the late summer and fall.

In view of this situation, feedlot management should consider holding down on capital investments and should market fed cattle as soon as they reach the desired grade, advises Uvacek.

NEW GUIDE FEATURES GALL CONTROL

The information of abnormal growths or galls on ornamental plants and shade trees is caused by many insects and mites, according to L-199, "Texas Guide for Controlling Insects on Ornamental Plants."

The guide, prepared by entomologists of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, gives recommendations for the control of lawn, foliage eating insects, sucking pests, and bark and wood boring insects. It explains that insecticides can be obtained in the forms of dusts, wettable powders, granules and emulsifiable concentrates.

Insecticides should be mixed according to the directions and used only as recommended. All insecticides are poisons and should be handled with care, emphasizes the publication.

For more information about the control of insects on ornamentals, visit your county agricultural agent or write the Agricultural Information Office, College Station, and ask for L-199, "Texas Guide for Controlling Insects on Ornamental Plants."

BRUCELLOSIS FREE

Nearly half of the counties in Texas now qualify as modified certified brucellosis areas, and more are in the process of certification, says Dr. C. M. Patterson, extension veterinarian, Texas A&M College.

Counties are granted a modified certified status when the disease has been reduced to not more than one per cent of the cattle and not more than five per cent of the herds, explains Patterson. He points out that the incidence of the disease in cattle has declined more than 90 per cent since 1954, and believes the disease can be eliminated from the state with the present eradication program.

Also, cases of the human form of the disease, undulant fever, are at an all time low. Once reported by the thousands, only 500 cases were detected in the U. S. in 1962 and fewer still are expected during this year, says Patterson.

An important part of the program is market cattle testing, says Patterson. For this testing cattle are back tagged or identified with the owner's herd through sales records. Blood samples are taken at packing plants and if infected cows are discovered eradication measures are planned by the herd owner and the veterinarian. At present about 97 per cent of the cattle tested in this manner are found free of the disease, he says.

The milk ring test is the method used to screen dairy herds for brucellosis.

Registration to replace poll tax all but decided

AUSTIN — A registration system to take the poll tax's place is all but decided by the Legislature.

A Senate-passed bill by Sen. Tom Creighton of Mineral Wells calls for a 25-cent registration fee in lieu of the $1.50 or $1.75, poll tax. It retains the present system of registering voters each year.

El Paso Rep. Malcolm McGregor tried to include the Texas League of Women Voters' plan for permanent registration, but it was turned down.

The House took the 25-cent fee provision out of the bill. So a House-Senate conference committee will have to settle this dispute. Another House amendment would require rural people and those residing in small towns to register every year, if they are over 60 years of age.

At present, these people are allowed to vote without registering at all.

The entire registration revision hinges on a constitutional amendment to repeal the poll tax. This bill, by Rep. Abraham Kazen of Laredo, passed the Senate, but is tied up in a House committee.

'Planter Box' cotton seed survey is slated by PCG in two area counties

LUBBOCK—Plains Cotton Growers, Inc. has announced that a "planter box" survey on cotton seed will begin in two High Plains counties, Terry and Crosby, as soon as planting is in full swing in those areas.

The survey, which is a part of PCG's crop improvement program, will be conducted with the help of Young Farmers, County Agents, and ginners in the two counties. Purpose of the survey is to determine the relationship between seed being planted and cotton yield and quality. Samples (approximately 2 pounds) will be taken while planting is actually being done, and sample takers will need such information as variety, germination, what treatment seed has received, whether certified or non-certified, and the source of the seed.

Samples will be taken from a representative ten per cent of the farmers in each county. The samples and the answers to questions on a questionnaire will be numbered. The numbers will then be fed into IBM data processing equipment to obtain the interrelationships desired. In addition, germination tests will be made on all samples, and results of the survey will be released as soon as available.

County Chairman of the survey in Terry County will be Charles White, President of the Terry County Young Farmers, and the survey in Crosby County will be under the direction of County Agent Lee Suther.

PCG officials indicate that there is a possibility such a survey will be conducted over its entire 23 county area in 1964.

Q. What is the story of an "extra" dividend available to holders of certain types of GI insurance and what must I do to get it?

A. A special dividend is available only to those Korean Conflict veterans who still hold policies with prefix RS in front of their policy number. The RS policyholder must take one of these two actions: (a) Exchange his RS term insurance policy for a term policy that will generally cost about one-third what he is now paying. The new policy cannot be renewed as term insurance after the veteran is 50—but it can be converted to a low cost permanent plan insurance policy any time before the insured reaches age 50. (b) Convert his policy to a low cost permanent plan now.

Q. Can a veteran get a GI loan to buy a home or farm in Canada?

A. No. The property must be located in the United States, its territories, or possessions.

Q. My wife and I want to be buried together. I am a veteran and would like to be buried in a national cemetery, like Arlington. Can my wife be buried there too?

A. Yes. And if your wife dies before you do she may be buried in a national cemetery, if you provide written intention to be buried with your wife.

SOIL TESTING INTEREST

A growing interest in soil testing is indicated by the record number of samples handled by the three testing laboratories during January and February. W. F. Bennett, extension soil chemist, said 6,543 samples were received during the two months compared to 4,231 for the same period in 1962. The chemist also noted that 364 soil and water samples were received to be salinity tested under the laboratory's new service.

SCREWWORM MEASURES

Producers are urged to continue individual screwworm control measures and to submit samples of all infestations detected to the Southwest Animal Health Research Foundation at Mission. Screwworm cases are now being reported and officials feel failure to treat them may hamper the eradication program.

YOUR Personalist SPEAKS

It may be somewhat surprising to the layman that perhaps more than 90 per cent of the prescriptions filled today could not have been filled a quarter of a century ago for the simple reason that one or more of the prescribed drugs was then unknown. The wonder drug era beginning 1933 ushered in a startling and some increase in mankind's heretofore hold on life. Although the term "wonder drugs" sometimes considered an extravagant copy writer's creation, it is no discounting the fact of life expectancy today is a decade greater than in 1935. Much of this astounding increase directly attributable to the so-called wonder drugs and to the improved surgical techniques which they helped bring into vogue.

Bible Thoughts

"Making The Right Choice"

Life is a bundle of choices. The Good Life depends upon making the right ones. Consider these choices.

1. We can choose to walk by faith or by the opinions of men. 2 Cor. 5:7; Heb. 11:6. Faith comes from the Bible. Rom. 10:17. In the end, human opinions will destroy us. Gal. 1:8.
2. We can choose to be wise or foolish. Mat. 7:24-27. The wise obey the Word, 2 Tim. 3:14-15, the foolish don't. Prov. 12:15. The foolish consider the Bible to be outdated.
3. We can choose the narrow or the broad way. Mat. 7:13-14. One leads to hell, the other to heaven. The broad way is the way of the multitude. As to religion many say "We are all headed for the same place and it doesn't matter which church..." All can be wrong, but all CAN'T BE RIGHT.

Be sure you make the right choices.

NEW AGENT

Miss J. E. Thomas, Williams (shown), who recently succeeded Mrs. Lutz Smith as home demonstration agent in Garza County, is a native of Lubbock County and a graduate of Shelbourn High School and Texas Tech with major in home economics, education and clothing and textiles. She was a 4-H Club member for 10 years, held local and area offices in 4-H, was "Miss 4-H" for two years and made "Who's Who in Home-making." She is a member of the Methodist Church and active in the Methodist Youth Fellowship.

Old church—

(Continued From Page 1) Church, a Missionary Baptist church, was the center of community life in the town since a month and held services in homes about the community.

In 1902, an other was built of white and shingled brick near the L. L. Burrow home on Dalton Creek.

Miss Nichols recalled that the Northern Baptist Church was organized Aug. 24, 1902 by Mrs. J. V. (Vivian) Silberry with six charter members—J. F. Carter, M. C. Cotton, Fred Carter, Isabel Nichols, Tom Nichols, Ray Nichols, Mable Truhman, Anna Carter and J. L. Burrow.

The other was erected on land where the present church stands. The late Will Crace, then a very young man, gave two acres for the church building and grounds. Mr. Crace later served as a Garza County sheriff.

Miss Nichols recalled that the present church house was "built by all, regardless of denomination and many of whom were not members of any church. The lumber was hauled by team and wagon from Stender, the top there and back talking about five days.

The old church after continued in use as a summer church after the church building was constructed. "We had no air-conditioning then," Miss Nichols said.

City council—

The city has a sanitation ordinance, but at providing only that licensed lots and stalls be kept clean, the sanitation ordinance has failed to remedy the livestock situation.

There are now at least eight pens within the city limits in which horses or cows are kept, the city council's discussion brought out.

The sewer extension project for which issuance of the warrants was authorized will cost about $98,000 with the federal government paying 50 per cent, or about $21,000. The sewer extensions will be in the north and northeast parts of town, providing sewer service where none at present exists.

THE GOVERNMENT has set aside the $21,000 it will pay on the sewer project's cost and has asked the city to advertise for open bids on the project if it intends to go through with it.

The city will receive the government grant of $21,000 after the project is completed and approved, it was explained. All except about three right-of-way easements needed on the project have been secured by the city.

Parrish was appointed city councilman to replace Harold Lucas, who was elected mayor in the April city election. The new councilman, owner of Parrish Grocery & Market, has been in the grocery business here since 1934.

Finwell Stutley, who was not a candidate to succeed himself as mayor in the April election, met briefly with the council to receive the plaque presented him by Mayor Lucas—"For service rendered as mayor of Post."

LAST YEAR'S CITY tax equalization board was reappointed subject to the willingness of the board's members to serve. They are Marvin Hudman, Max Gordon and Giles C. McCrary.

The council heard estimates on the cost of changing the present two-way radio frequency in the three fire trucks, which now are a part of the city-county radio system. Since it will be October 1, the council decided not to take any action until it meets with Fire Chief Robert Cain, Fireman Loyd Mock and representatives of radio equipment firms.

The police department report for Planting Rain—

The telephone trouble here was caused by excessive amounts of rain and wind together following the long dry spell. Moisture got into some of the cables interrupting service until repairs could get to them.

Two repairs were made Monday and Tuesday had virtually every phone back in operation by Tuesday night.

Showers were reported Monday evening in some northern parts of the county.

April showed a total of $1,155 in fines collected as follows: Drunk, $50; vagrancy, $30; disturbing the peace, $30; drunk in public place, $10; running red light, $20; no driver's license, $10; speeding, $80.

THE DISTRICT HIGHWAY office in Lubbock informed the city council by letter that a check of traffic at 10th and Broadway showed that the amount of traffic does not justify a traffic light at the intersection.

The district office recommended, however, that to overcome the traffic hazard at the intersection there be no parallel parking of automobiles on Broadway (U. S. Highway 84) for a distance of 240 feet south and 190 feet north from 10th Street.

The district office also recommended the elimination of center parking on Main Street east from Broadway which amounted to something of a "bombshell" when it was read to the councilmen. The consensus of opinion among the councilmen was that to eliminate center parking would curtail downtown trade.

IN ADDITION TO recommending that center parking be done away with, the district office recommended parallel parking at the outer curbs on Main east from Broadway.

The council ended its discussion of the matter by deciding to write a letter to the State Highway Department in regard to its recommendations.

Mrs. McRee, the librarian, pointed out in a letter to the council of the need of more time in the library this summer. Last summer the library was open from 8 a. m. until noon on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays. The librarian asked that the library be allowed to operate this summer from 8 a. m. until 11 a. m. of Mondays, Tuesdays, Thursdays and Fridays for the checking out of books, which would give her one hour each of those days, from 11 a. m. until noon, for a library work period.

She also pointed out the need of an appropriation for the purchase of more books, especially for the younger readers.

Mayor Lucas appointed Councilmen J. B. Potts and Bob Collier to meet with the librarian about the need of changes in this summer's operations.

White River—

The third, and actually the largest parcel, will be from the Morgan Jones estate of Abilene. Negotiations for this purchase are pending.

Tom Boucher, president of the White River Board of Directors, announced that a special directors' meeting has been called for 6:30 p. m. tonight at Ralls at which the civil appeals court verdict will be explained by Lloyd Wicks Sr., of Ralls, attorney for the district, and other matters brought before the board.

Q A friend of mine—no relative—died without funds or family recently. Due to our long association, I arranged a funeral and picked up the tab. The deceased had served in the army from 1931 to 1935. Will the VA pay a burial allowance in this case?

A. Not unless the deceased had been in receipt of service-connected compensation at the time of death or had been discharged or retired for disability incurred in the line of duty. Neither service-connected nor disability discharge would be necessary had the deceased been a wartime or Korean Conflict veteran.

Q What is the procedure for getting a veteran into a VA hospital in a medical emergency?
A. Patients requiring emergency medical treatment may be taken directly to the nearest VA hospital, but if possible the veteran or someone acting for him should communicate with the VA by telephone or telegraph beforehand.
Q Can a widow of a veteran live with another man as his wife but continue to draw a VA pension as long as she does not actually marry the man?
A. No. The law governing widow's pensions was amended in 1962 to declare such a person not eligible for pension.

Feed lots—

(Continued From Page 1) silage from its farms. The ranch feed lots now include 14 pens with 560 head now being fed. Three big silage trenches 300 feet long, 40 feet wide and 17 feet deep have been filled with each containing about a year's supply of feed.

The silage is loaded automatically from the trenches into a mixing truck which picks up rolled grain and a protein supplement at the feed mill and then blends the feed before being fed to the cattle.

Macy said he bought cattle weighing from 550 to 750 pounds and fed them from 120 to 150 days, putting on a gain of over 2½ pounds per day on each. He told Rotarians he don't feed them into prime classification.

None of the ranch cattle have yet been fed through the lots but some ranch cattle will be used beginning this fall, according to Macy. He added that the ranch cattle can't provide all the head needed.

Cattle for feeding are purchased by Macy from ranchers or farmers all over this area. After being fed out they are sold to buyers for packing firms.

The U Lazy S feed lot is not a large operation, really quite small as commercial feed lots go, Macy pointed out.

It's a "two man operation." Macy discussed the use of "perfumes" and blowers to destroy feed lot odors near cities and then commented, "We don't bother anybody with ours."

Dodgers, Yankees, Red Sox off to fast starts in LL

The Dodgers, Yankees and Red Sox are off to fast starts in the Little League, which opened Friday night, with each of the three teams having one victory against no defeats.

A wet field, soaked by Sunday's three-inch rain, caused postponement of Monday night's games, but play will be resumed tonight, weather permitting.

Coach Jimmy McElroy's Red Sox, coached by Brown Bros., et al, demolished the Tigers, 23 to 3, in the second game of Saturday night's season. The Yankees had won their first game, 4 to 3, in last Friday night's openers.

Coach Pat Walker's Dodgers blanked the Cardinals, 10 to 0, and Coach Aubrey North's Tigers beat the Corvairs, 9 to 7.

Mayor Harold Lucas threw out the first ball to inaugurate the Little League season Friday night.

The Red Sox had two big innings, the second and the fifth, in their 23-3 win over the Tigers, sponsored by Bob Collier Druggist. The winners scored seven runs in the second frame and nine in the fifth. They were shut out only in the third inning.

The Tigers scored all their runs in the third inning.

Butch Heaton, who pitched three innings, was the winner, and the loss was charged to Buster Avant, who twirled two frames.

Coach J. B. Cole's Yankees, sponsored by Postex Mills, nipped a Cardinal rally in the sixth inning to score their 6-5 triumph. Catcher Randy Levens, with four hits in five at-bats, was the Yankees' big gun.

Dillon Wheelington was the winning pitcher, going all the way, while Darrell Odom, who also went the distance for the Fire Department-sponsored Cardinals, absorbed the loss.

The Tigers came up with three runs in the bottom of the sixth Friday night to garner their 9-7 win over Coach Charlie Cooper's Corvairs, sponsored by Collier Chevrolet-Olds. A big fifth inning, in which they scored five runs, had given the Corvairs a 7-6 lead going into the bottom of the sixth.

The winning pitcher was Ronnie Hair, who had relieved Bruce Hall after four innings. The loss was charged to C. Whitley, who went all the way for the Corvairs.

The Dodgers, sponsored by the First National Bank, scored in every inning except the first in blanking the Cardinals in Friday night's opener.

Dodger pitchers Tommy Greenwood and Bill Alexander, each twirling three innings, held the losers to two hits, both coming off Greenwood in the first inning. Larry Scrivner was the starter and loser for the Cardinals, relieved by Mike Nichols.

A spokesman for the archery club, which welcomes visitors to any of its shoots at the range northwest of town, said some visitors had expressed fear of being struck by arrows when coming on to the range after the shoot has started.

"There is no danger if the visitors will follow a few simple safety rules," the spokesman said. "They need only to follow the pathways on the range, not taking any shortcuts, and when approaching archers come up behind them instead of from the side or in front."

Rainbow relates Senior fortunes

As the rainbow stretches before me 20 years from now in the year 1982, I see that it has brought many changes in the lives of the Seniors of '63. The weather through the years for some may have been cloudy but for the most part it has been sunny and gay. Now as I start the long journey up the rainbow to see just what my forgotten classmates have achieved I see that the colleges of America have leaped at the chance to employ some of our more brilliant graduates.

James Mitchell's childhood twirling lessons have finally paid off as he has now secured a position of prominence as instructor of the Cisco Wrangler Belles, doing a very fine job teaching them their twirling routines and precision marching drills.

After years of being a professor of engineering at Yale, Delton Robinson is making plans for his own college to prove to the world that monkeys are really smarter than humans. Best wishes to Delton and the Robinson Institute for the betterment of the monkey population.

Howard Lee Teaff, after 20 years of freshman initiation at Draughton's Business College, has finally progressed to the rank of sophomore ribbon changer and head pencil sharpener. He's majoring in bookkeeping.

After hearing of Phil Foster's phenomenal 50-mile feat, Harvard University has signed him up as head track coach.

Further up the rainbow to my amazement I find Lin Allyn Cox in the White House as the first lady president. I see her busily writing her inaugural speech which she misplaced on the way to the ceremonies. It looks as if America is in for four years that they won't soon forget. Taking advantage of the spoils system, Allyn has placed Stanna Butler as head of the U. S. Lovelorn Dept. She has taken over the columns of Ann Landers and "Dear Abby" and gives advice about love but she remains unmarried just because she couldn't make up her mind.

I progress upward to find as I near Cape Canaveral I see a rocket going up, up! No! It's coming down, down, down! I should have guessed it. My old friend David Nichols is head of missile designing. In spite of his many failures he has succeeded in one field. He convinced Janith Short to be the first woman astronaut, by telling here that there are plenty of men on the moon. After searching in vain for a man on earth, Janith finally decided to look for prospects in outer space.

From the Cape I go to Tallahassee where I find Susanne Krause. She liked the U. S. so well that she is now assistant dentist to Dr. Tom Campbell, famous for his work. His sign reads "I'll pull anything."

I got to Atlantic City just in time to see Elaine Wheatley crowned Miss America of 1983. After 50 engagement rings, Elaine still remains single.

Going quickly to Madison Square Garden I found Wanda Williams has just defeated her 95th opponent to become the champion women's wrestler.

Outside the city limits I find a business that's really booming. It's none other than Sonny Gossett, owner of the world's largest fire cracker stand.

Down the road, the insects of the world are praising Bobby Roach for his discovery of a new formula to counteract the evil forces of Raid, Real Kill, Black Flag, Hot Shot, and Otto the Orkin Man.

As I reach the peak of the rainbow I find myself on the corner of Hollywood and Vine. It seems that Jim Wells has just received an Oscar for his brilliant performance in Robinson Crusoe. Charles Brannon, who played the role of Friday, won the Oscar for best supporting actor.

Also on the stage is our own graceful Janie Carradine, now known as Tiny Twinkletoes, the famous ballet dancer. As usual, Mary Ann Williams, ever faithful, is there pushing Janie onward to great stardom as her manager.

Outside Hollywood I chance upon a secluded nudist camp where I see Ann Pennington singing "Baby, It's Cold Outside and Inside Too" in that lovely monotone voice. The manager is Lenny Howell, who sports the motto "You keep your nose out of our business and we'll keep ours out of yours."

I go on onward to a local TV station. Barbara Craig has taken over Debby Drake's place as America's female idol on the Lady Be Lovely Program. Jerry Bush, better known as Captain Kangaroo, is keeping the children of the U. S. on their toes. He is aided by Jack "Green-Jeans" Burk.

A commercial flashes on and I see Ronald Tallent, who has bettered the world with the amazing new deodorant discovery of "Sweat Not" with the motto "No Sweat Here."

Now it's time for the news and I notice that Chet Rankin and Buddy Brinkley are keeping the world informed with their spectacular reading ability gained in English IV.

Also on TV is Cheri Moore, the new Carol Burnett, who is now married to Gary Brewer, the new Gary Moore. Their show gets top ratings. Appearing on their show tonight is Diana Bias singing "Little Egypt." It kinda reminds me of the pep squad bus, 20 years ago.

Sliding down the rainbow, I couldn't resist stopping at Disneyland. Frankie Gary is found training mice for Cinderella's coach and Freddie Simmons is training frogs for Marineland. Norma Julian and Gayle Heaton are raking in the profits by selling peanuts, pop corn, and cotton candy.

Having a little money left, I decided to try my luck in Las Vegas. It is now time for the stage show and I see Chris Cornish, world-renowned burlesque queen, now known as Chris Colt and her 22's, giving her show. Between shows she rushes out to the Dodson ranch, the largest ranch in these here parts, to help with the roundup—no cattle but their kids—all 12.

Before returning to my home in Post I decided to stop by at Waikiki Beach in Hawaii. There I see Glenn Polk, a beach boy, sitting on his surf board, beating his bongos. Here comes Gidget Vonda Howell madly searching for more grass for her grass skirt, which Richard Cook keeps mowing off with his sea-going lawnmower.

Almost at the end of my journey I return to Post to see Marsha Smith going from door to door selling "Teacher's Pets" to support Dwayne, whose teachers salary is rather low. Isn't that right, Mr. Hopkins?

Making the old drag I noticed that Wacker's has a new name. It is now Blackwell and Cleveland Five and Dime. Sharon and Mary Alice are saving their money to take their old maid's holiday in Bermuda.

Next door, Raymond Shaw is selling automobile fire insurance. He decided that protection is a necessity after his old Chevy was unceremoniously toasted on his high school parking lot.

Raymond tells me that Willa Hoyle and Doris Manuel are partners in the field of teaching bookkeeping following the instructions of Mrs. Fleming. They were two of the lucky few who learned to use the adding machine with three fingers.

SCIENCE DEMONSTRATION

Seniors good to Juniors in will

As we the Seniors of 1963 leave the hallowed halls of PHS to each follow our own private rainbows, Rickey Little, now Rickey, you can leave this bottle in your locker and you won't have to go home at dinner.

Robert Sanchez leaves his old 1963 rattletrap to John Valdez.

To Margie Harrison, Marsha Smith wills her famous cry of "today is 'D-Day.'" Hope Don is as constant as Dwayne.

Elaine Wheatley wills to Cathy Harlan her ratted, bouffant, bouffant hairdo.

Ronald Tallent leaves his coaching ability to Carl Kline.

To Charlotte Young, Wanda Williams leaves her feminine laugh. Howard Lee Teaff leaves to Jerry Hill, Larry Guy and Billy Shumard the ability to get out of PHS after six years.

Jackie Fluit has the pleasure of receiving Freddie Simmon's talent for Russian dance done in chemistry class. We know that will please Mr. Boase.

To Charles Allen, Jimmie Wells affectionately wills his beard but advises him to get it trimmed every other month or so.

With undying rebel pride, Kent Wheatley wills to Danny Richardson his consideration of all fellow human beings and their property and his ability to get along with all his teachers, especially English. Huh, Mrs. Ryder?

Anne Pennington wills to Linda Cowley her shy and innocent look. We hope Linda has as much fun with it as Anne has.

Phil Foster leaves his hard earned 50 miles to George McLaurin and advises him to wait till the wind isn't blowing 60 miles per hour to try it.

Susanne Krause leaves her all-American looks and accent to Linda Pennell.

To Dennis Payne, Marianne Jones gladly wills two credits since she has enough to spare.

To gigantic Evelyn Gill, Jack Burk leaves his petite and short frame.

James Mitchell leaves to Curtis Hudman his Indian dancing ability and love for survival hikes.

Robert Bevers wills his dirty jokes and stories to Eddie Allsup.

Melvin Byrd leaves Edward Byrd with the saying, "See I did get out a year before you did after all."

Glenn Polk leaves to Wayne Masters his Casanova manner and his bongo drum playing ability.

Buddy Moreland wills to Danny Odom his good taste in clothes and his old spice bottles.

Charles Brannon leaves his loud, flashy, and boisterous personality to Robert Johnson.

Raymond Shaw wills his charred seat covers in his charred car to John Blaind. Maybe John's horse is a good idea after all.

Mary Alice Cleveland leaves to Shirley Bostick and Yvonne Corley the ability to flit from boy to boy in case anything unexpected ever happens. But we hope not, Shirley and Yvonne.

The Seniors hope that the Juniors' play parties won't be as uninteresting, dull, and dry as theirs.

The Senior grid stars will their stamina, strength, faith, and undaunted spirit to the Junior football players to beat Denver City and win District. By the way, if you have any pep squad pens or money, please give them to Mr. Clark on your way out.

We Seniors of '63 think we have not abused the privileges of Senior Hideaway, Buffalo Point, Box Canyon, Mesquite Tank, the baseball park, etc. etc. We ask you with all our hearts to leave these spots of undying passion as clean and uncluttered as you have found them.

James Mitchell leaves to Curtis Hudman his Indian dancing ability and love for survival hikes.

Robert Bevers wills his dirty jokes and stories to Eddie Allsup.

Melvin Byrd leaves Edward Byrd with the saying, "See I did get out a year before you did after all."

Glenn Polk leaves to Wayne Masters his Casanova manner and his bongo drum playing ability.

Buddy Moreland wills to Danny Odom his good taste in clothes and his old spice bottles.

Charles Brannon leaves his loud, flashy, and boisterous personality to Robert Johnson.

Raymond Shaw wills his charred seat covers in his charred car to John Blaind. Maybe John's horse is a good idea after all.

Mary Alice Cleveland leaves to Shirley Bostick and Yvonne Corley the ability to flit from boy to boy in case anything unexpected ever happens. But we hope not, Shirley and Yvonne.

The Seniors hope that the Juniors' play parties won't be as uninteresting, dull, and dry as theirs.

The Senior grid stars will their stamina, strength, faith, and undaunted spirit to the Junior football players to beat Denver City and win District. By the way, if you have any pep squad pens or money, please give them to Mr. Clark on your way out.

We Seniors of '63 think we have not abused the privileges of Senior Hideaway, Buffalo Point, Box Canyon, Mesquite Tank, the baseball park, etc. etc. We ask you with all our hearts to leave these spots of undying passion as clean and uncluttered as you have found them.

Mr. May, Mr. Trimble and Mrs. Hopkins sadly leave to Mrs. Ryder, Mrs. King and Mrs. Smith the headaches of trying to guide the Seniors through their last days in PHS.

We ask you to try and succeed where we have failed. Anyway carry on, blithe juniors in the example of leadership which the Seniors of '63 have left on their trip up the rainbow.

Maurine Hudman expanded home, became florist

A lot of wives go to work. But few of them stay at home, build into it, and go into business for themselves right there without leaving the youngsters.

One of these is Maurine Hudman, wife of Hans Hudman, both of whom have lived in Garza County all their lives. She opened Maurine's Flower Shop in the Hudman home at 615 West Fifth Street in March of last year.

Hans, who has operated Hudman's Texaco Station "across the tracks" since 1940, says it's "her kitten."

They have three sons, Bobby, 19, now attending Texas Tech, Randy, 12, and Bill, who is 8.

Maurine, who has loved flowers all her life, reports that flowers are a fascinating business.

It's an ideal type of business to do in the home too, she says, because most of the orders come by telephone.

Maurine had five or six years experience in the flower business here before she decided to go into business for herself. When she did she worked in three leading florist shops in Lubbock for both experience and ideas and to use as references in starting her own business.

Like many other kinds of business in recent years, the flower business is changing rapidly. Now there are flower retailers—or florists—flower wholesalers, and the big greenhouse complexes which grow most of the flowers for commercial purposes.

Maurine commented about one near Cloudcroft, N. M., which has a greenhouse the size of a football field for each kind of flower—several of them in all.

Many flowers are raised in specific sections of the country. For example, most of the carnations she buys through a flower wholesaler come from Denver, Colo., although she receives some grown in California. Most of her gladiolas come from Florida, but her mums are grown right in Lubbock. Orchids? They come from California.

It used to be almost every florist shop had its own greenhouse, in which many of its flowers were grown. But such greenhouses require considerably skilled labor. They have to be steam heated in the winter and air-conditioned in the summer.

That doesn't mean though that all important for the florist. It is the heart of his or her business.

Maurine says that each spring and each fall flower arranging schools are held in Lubbock for florists from all over the area with several florists in the area presenting arrangements at each of these schools.

Each arrangement is explained, as to how it is put together, what is used, and where obtained.

She says each flower arranger has her own particular style.

When men call to order flowers do they know what they want?

Few of them do, says Maurine. They leave the selection to the florist. But the men who do know what they want "really know", she adds.

Her husband was one of these, long before she went into the flower business. "Hans knew what he wanted and how he wanted them arranged before he went in to order them," she said.

Spring and fall are the two big seasons for the florist with spring usually the biggest. It contains graduation, Mother's Day, Easter, a lot of club parties, Memorial Day, and a good percentage of the weddings.

Winter and summer are the slack seasons.

"We're either really busy or have little to do," Maurine says. "When Hans goes to the station in the morning he has a good idea how many gallons of gasoline he'll sell that day. But I have no idea what I'll sell in flowers."

Maurine doesn't want her own greenhouse some day. She thinks Hans would enjoy "puttering around" in one raising flowers, because he loves flowers too, especially growing them.

Another of the changes in the flower business in recent years has been the rapid rise of artificial flowers in general popularity.

Maurine handles artificial flowers, but she thinks they have a specific place—in the home for decorative purposes. She points out that they are quite expensive and can't replace cut flowers in most of their present uses.

She says fresh flowers are "always best." She emphasizes one has no color problem with fresh flowers as with artificial ones.

No card is necessary, Maurine says, with flowers to tell the person receiving them that she is loved. "The flowers speak for themselves," she says.

Most people ordering flowers do so only on an occasion, a birthday, anniversary, specific holiday, or such. Only a few give flowers when there is no specific occasion.

Flower arranging, of course, is

Rain is 'gorgeous' out Pleasant Valley way

By MRS. MAX CHAFFIN

Ah, the lovely rain! Have you ever seen anything so gorgeous? I imagine it isn't just glorious to the planting farmer but to anyone in this area planting anything! Puddles all over the place and it is just beautiful! We got about 1 1/2 inches at our house by last Monday, how did you all fare?

A party of nine traveled to Lubbock on Tuesday morning of last week to attend the Vacation Bible School Clinic at the South Crest Baptist Church. They were: Mmes. Robert Mock, Carl Payton, Thelma Burkett, Jack Burkett, R. H. Lewis, B. L. Thomas and Miss Lou Alice Edwards.

Mrs. J. I. Northcutt of Post, a former resident of Pleasant Valley, has been in the Sloan Mercy Hospital this past week and is having tests made.

Last Tuesday Julie and Linda Otto of Post came out to the Victor Kuykendalls.

If you want to know who else was at Barbara Ann Mock's birthday party I found out for you—Don Altman, Rod Callaway, Beverly Stolle, Larry Wilke, Johnny Green, Kathy Green, Rev. Joe Green, Mrs. Earl Kenney, J. W. Payton, Mrs. Carl Payton, and Troy Lewis, and it all took place at the lovely Robert Mock residence. So you see I have been working this week.

Mrs. C. R. Scott and Mrs. Alvi Robinson went fishing and stayed overnight to fish some more at Colorado City last week. Did they have any luck? No, they just caught some little ones this trip but let me tell you: these women can fish and have been known to catch some big ones! It does my heart good to see the women get out and fish a little. Now, you men started this!

Some other women who are really good with the rod and reel are Mrs. Cline Drake and Mrs. Neil Crosby and they have been down trying their luck at Colorado City this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Kenney of Lubbock were down at the Carl Payton's last Thursday night for supper and then the ladies attended the appearance party at Mrs. Robert Mock's.

Other guests at the party mentioned in the preceding paragraph were: Mrs. Lee Ward, Barbara and David Mock and the demonstrator, Mrs. Edith Waits of Lubbock, Lemon cake and Hawaiian punch were served after the fun and frolic and Mrs. Vernon Scott went home with the door prize.

MRS. THELMA BURKETT visited with Mrs. B. D. Robinson on last Thursday also.

Myrtle Johnson went to the rodeo and parade in Tahoka, same day. Had fun.

Did you know that Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Hitt are back at their country home? They have been living in Post for two and one-half weeks with Teddy and Mike Scott while their parents were gone on their trip to Japan. Welcome home!

Robert Mock, James Shelton and Lee Ward decided these women weren't going to catch up with them so—they went fishing! At Lake Thomas last week.

Hubert Taylor seems to be a little stronger each day.

Last Friday, that was a big day for the Grade School of Southland! You know why? It was the annual school picnic at Mackenzie Park in Lubbock and I bet there wasn't a child who missed it. The teachers were all there too, Mrs. Ruby Hulsey, first grade teacher, Mrs. Howard Munk 2nd grade teacher Mrs. Dixie Roberts, third and fourth grade, and Mrs. Buddy Hall, fifth and sixth grade. Those who helped run after kiddoes and spread the lunch before them were: Mmes. Sonny Hitt, Pat Taylor, T. W. Bryson, Maurice Fluitt, Bob Long, L. M. Sherbert, Winston Lester, Pete Lancaster, James Shelton, Robert Mock, T. Wilke, Billy Lester, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Rackler, Mr. and Mrs. Spence Bevers (Mr. drove one of the buses), and Mrs. Pete Abshire (drove the other bus) if I left anyone out you must have blended in with the children! What was I doing there, oh yes, I was there, and I never did figure out why but somebody said "come" and the children were "a bristlin'" at the word picnic so there we were. Have you ever tried to say "no" with four bright, expectant eyes looking up at you for the "right" answer. (Katrina doesn't know what picnic means yet!) Well, I was there cause I couldn't say "no" (and, by the way, I LOVE picnics; hate to miss one!)

Something else happened last Thursday. Mrs. Carl Payton went into Post and made a call on Mrs. Doug Livingston at the Chamber of Commerce, then on for a coffee break with the retired Mrs. Leta Smith, our former County Agent, then to meet the new Garza County Home Demonstration Agent, Miss Juanette Williams. Everyone ought to plan a morning like that.

On Saturday, Agnes drove Mr. and Mrs. T. L. Barnes to Friona to attend the funeral of John Bradley. Mrs. Barnes' brother-in-law, Bill Bevers and all the Junior High boys and girls of Southland School went to Mackenzie Park in Lubbock on Saturday for a picnic and some went swimming and to the amusement park while there.

The Victor Kuykendalls had coffee with the Max Knox family of Post on Wednesday night.

MRS. J. B. Robinson of Post and Mrs. B. D. Robinson and Mrs. Elmer Hitt attended Stephen Dixon's first birthday party in Plainview on Saturday. Stephen's grandparents from his father's side of the family were also there.

Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Caffey Jr. of Post came out to the Spence Bevers' home on Friday.

Mrs. H. D. Hallman went to Fort Worth last Tuesday and came back on Friday of last week. She visited H. D. Hallman Jr.

My husband fixed our phone, Mr. Hall, in case you wonder why I don't answer every time you ring your mother. Here is my tip for the week. File this in your

BIG TIME AT SCHOOL PARTY

Students in speech therapy have party

The arts craft room in the elementary school building was the scene last Friday afternoon of a party for the first five grades of the Speech Therapy class taught by Mrs. Loree Thaxton.

Twenty-five mothers of students attended as hostesses for the party.

The Speech Therapy class is for students through the junior high school grades and has an enrollment of about 125. The class is in its third year here.

The class is for students with speech problems and is mainly supported by the state, which pays all of the salary of the teacher.

Mrs. Thaxton has been specially trained for the teaching position, which requires, in addition to a teaching certificate, completion of 200 clinical hours in speech therapy.

The purpose of the special class is to help youngsters overcome their speech problems so that they may make more progress in their school work.

The approximate enrollment of 125 includes a number of students from outside the Post school district, Mrs. Thaxton said.

Approximately 85 students attend Friday's party.

Small precinct commissioners target of bill

AUSTIN — Eighty Texas counties, in which two county precincts or more, represent a fraction of the total county vote, would be affected if a constitutional amendment by Rep. Lindsey Rodriguez of Hidalgo ever comes to a favorable vote by the public.

Under Rodriguez' plan, if the total number of votes cast in two or more commissioners' precincts amount to less than 20 per cent of the total vote cast in the election of all four commissioners, the commissioners in the small precincts would be required to run on a countywide-at-large basis.

Rodriguez described the most extreme example of a situation he is trying to cure—that in Kleberg County where two of the county's four commissioners' precincts "are behind locked gates" on the King Ranch, where 80 voters reside.

Witnesses from around the state appeared in favor of Rodriguez' proposal.

But Gaines County Judge Charles Lawrence said the County Judges and Commissioners Association is opposed.

There's plenty to see in Texas, wherever you may roam on a holiday jaunt or on a vacation trip. Clockwise from the lower left hand corner, some of the impressive sights to see in Texas are: The Big Bend, some of the most striking scenery in the state; Guadalupe Peak, highest point in Texas at 8,751 feet; the Palo Duro Canyon, camping grounds for Indian tribes in frontier days; East Texas oil fields, biggest of them all; the 570-foot San Jacinto Monument, commemorating decisive battle of Texas history; Gulf Coast Beaches, some of the finest in the world; the Alamo, "Cradle of Texas Liberty," and in the center of the state, Texas Longhorn Cavern, biggest cave in the state and third largest in the world, one of Texas' most spectacular natural wonders. Vet's Forum

Q. Is a man a war veteran who was accepted for service in the Armed Forces but wasn't actually called to duty until after the war was over and then served for ten months?

A. To be a war veteran, part of the time served must have been served before the official closing date of the war. Time served wholly after termination does not count as wartime service.

Q. How many states have given a bonus to veterans of the Korean Conflict?

A. Nineteen: Connecticut, Delaware, Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Kentucky, Louisiana, Massachusetts, Michigan, Minnesota, Montana, New Hampshire, Ohio, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island, South Dakota, Vermont, Washington and West Virginia.

Q. In general, what will be the annual premium if a 40-year-old World War II veteran converts his 5-year term plan insurance to GI ordinary life?

A. In general, the premium will be in the neighborhood of $250 for a $10,000.00 GI ordinary life policy.

SELECTIVITY

There are no fantastic claims to riches that can be made by the fertilizing industry.

The only case that can be presented is that if commercial fertilizers are properly programmed and applied they will increase the crop yield by a factor providing a profit to the farmer.

The following items must be considered before any fertilizing program can be effective:

1. Soil Tests
2. Crop Selection
3. Accuracy of Mechanical Applicators
4. Selection of Fertilizer
5. Time of Application

Each item of the above list is of importance, but the paramount consideration is the type of fertilizer to be used and that is accomplished by determining which product is more compatible with the natural features of this area.

This firm has carefully analyzed several fertilizers in relation to the natural conditions of this county, and it is from this study that we selected the Olin Mathieson product for distribution.

The quality product extended by this firm will enhance a favorable return from your fertilizing effort.

Top Jr. High students write autobiographies

(ED. NOTE: At the request of members of the Junior High School news staff, the three top-ranking scholastics in the 8th grade have written brief stories of their lives.)

MARCIA NEWBY

I was born in Hobbs, N. M. in 1949. We lived on a farm seven miles north of Hobbs. The things I remember most about the farm are the pond and Lady, our horse. Six kids could ride her at once.

(She was rather broad). People were always bringing us their Easter ducks which we gladly accepted, not promising the best of care with four small children around. But somehow, the ducks managed to stay alive and they lived a happy life on our pond.

Another big pastime was riding and naming the poor, defenseless calves. They turned up with some real hilarious names.

When I was five, we moved into Hobbs. There we lived in a nice neighborhood which was fairly close to Jefferson Elementary School where I attended the first and half of the second grade. Next door to us lived seven-year-old boys whom Meredith and I immediately fell in love with. But this romance came to an abrupt end when we moved to Post in December, 1956. I felt right at home in Mrs. Martin's room when the class welcomed me warmly—I don't know why, because I was an ugly little thing with frizzly pig-tails.

I remember coming home and happily telling my mother that I was the tallest girl in the third grade. I kept getting taller but I'm not so happy about it now.

I have two sisters, Melinda, 18, and Meredith, 15, and one brother, Steven, 11.

I am looking forward to High School and I hope I will have as much fun there as I have in Junior High.

JOE HUDMAN

I was born in West Texas Hospital in Lubbock, on Nov. 14, 1948. I weighed in at 9 lb. 10 oz.

My parents are Mr. and Mrs. Victor Hudman. Mother teaches in the Post Schools. My father is a mortician and furniture dealer. I have two brothers, Sonny, who will graduate from college this month; and Curtis, who is a junior in high school. For the first eleven years of my life I lived above the funeral home with my family. Three years ago we built a new home, where we now live at 604 West Main.

I entered the first grade in September, 1955. I have always enjoyed school as well as the extra activities, including football and other sports. I studied piano two years before joining the band, where I play cornet.

I am a member of the First Christian Church, where I enjoy Sunday School and other activities of the church.

When I was eight I became a Cub Scout and am now a Star Scout in Troop 316.

Another activity which I enjoy is playing second base with the Pirates in the Babe Ruth League.

The eight years I have spent in school have been most enjoyable and I wish to thank my parents, teachers, coaches, principals, and my minister for all the help and guidance they have given me.

LORENA ANDERSON

I was born Sept. 17, 1949 in Wichita Falls, Tex. I lived there until I was five and then my family moved to Alamogordo, N. M. There I started to school which I liked very much. I especially liked arithmetic.

I started the fourth grade in Post. I liked it much better than I did in Alamogordo.

I plan to finish school here and maybe go to college.

To the present I am 13 years old and my favorites are: color, blue; number, four; sport, skating; food, baked ham; actor, Troy Donahue; actress, Doris Day; subject, Language Arts, and TV program, Stoney Burke.

8th grade girls are given FHA reception

The 8th grade girls were honored with a reception given Friday, May 3, by the Future Homemakers of America chapter.

First we were given refreshments of ice cream while Margie Harrison, outgoing president, and Diane Maxey, new FHA president, told of some of the activities carried on by FHA.

Then, in groups, they were taken on a tour of the cooking and sewing facilities. A style show was then conducted by Margie Harrison in which the FHA girls displayed their projects with great poise.

Everyone enjoyed the reception very much and it will encourage many of us to be an FHA member next year.

Freshman class party is real big success

The Freshmen really had a blast at their party Saturday. They went ice skating and then went to Mackenzie Park for a picnic.

The boys got a little carried away and threw the girls in the lake. They returned home about 3:30.

SOUTHLAND HIGH Eagle's Nest

By Sue Pritchard
Thanks, Beverly, for writing my column for me last week. It was really good. Incidentally, readers, Beverly will take over this column next year, and I know she will do a good job of it. Last week was only a sample of this gal's work! Keep it up, Bev.

Congratulations, Johnny, on winning 4th in the 100-yard dash and the 220-yard dash at the state meet in Austin! SHS is really proud of you for this feat, Johnny. Too bad it's your last year in high school isn't it? Oh well, maybe you'll do even better in college.

Ronald, Don, Rod, and Joe went with Mr. Callaway to the State meet Friday, and they returned home sometime Sunday. What I can't understand was why everyone asked you if you were lonesome, Beverly. If you were?

Sharla, those were some cool p. js. you got for graduation.

Boy, the senior room looks like Santa Claus himself came to see the Seniors! I've never seen the like of fancy wrappings and gay ribbons. Graduation isn't near by any chance, is it? I should ask!

Well, I've seen some strange chemistry classes in my time, but Friday, our chemistry had class on the front lawn! It was fun, tho.

If YOU wear bermuda shorts to school, Coach B., why can't we kids wear them? Huh?

Says Legislature is in 'mad rush'

AUSTIN — Sen. Murray Watson of Mart said the 58th Legislature is by-passing many major issues in its "mad rush" to adjourn by May 27.

He praised the teamwork of Senate and House, but said, "All this good teamwork and this great speed is fine and good, but in our mad rush to set records—to avoid controversial issues—and to adjourn within the 140-day period, we are overlooking many vital problems."

Sen. Watson said the Legislature "seemingly is avoiding a positive approach to the growing water pollution problem—to traffic safety, crime, delinquency, divorce and other problems relating to our society's health and welfare."

GRAHAM NEWS

Phones out, news hard to get, but the rain welcome

By MRS. GLENN DAVIS
News this week has been hard to get. The telephone in our home was out from Sunday afternoon until Monday about 7 p. m. We think they did well to get them working that soon as many as were out.

We are so happy for the nice rain that we received that most people were willing to do without the telephones for a short while.

Kent Hawley of Ft. Bliss, a nephew of Mrs. Bryan Maxey was a visitor in the Maxey home from Friday until Sunday. Other visitors were the Franklin Maxeys of Odessa and the Dave Onkleys of Lubbock.

We have learned that Mr. and Mrs. Gus Gatzki of Wilson, former residents of this community, were to leave Dallas Sunday by plane to visit in Frankfurt and Stuttgart, Germany where they will visit two of Mrs. Gatzki's cousins. It has been a number of years since she has seen them but has kept up a correspondence with the ladies. The Gatzkis both speak German and we are sure they will have a very enjoyable vacation.

Miss Bonnie McMahon was a Sunday guest of her brother, Mr. and Mrs. Bill McMahon, and attended church at the Methodist Church.

Mr. and Mrs. Lonnie Peel and Gene and Carol Davis were Sunday luncheon guests of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Davis. Afternoon visitors were the Elvus Davis family of Post.

Stanley Jones spent the weekend in Seminole with the Truman Goss family.

Mr. and Mrs. Clinton Gandy of Wilson visited Tuesday evening with his sister, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Fluitt.

Mrs. Theibert McBride and David visited Monday morning with Mrs. Lonnie Peel.

Mr. and Mrs. Jess Chidester and daughter of Brownfield spent the weekend with her cousin, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Thane. The Ray McClellans, the Bill Stones, the Thanes, the Chidesters, the E. A. Kings, the Jock McClellans and a granddaughter, the Charles Kings and the Billie Cases all met at the park Sunday for a picnic. The rain soon came so they were run inside.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer D. Jones and family visited Saturday evening with his sister, Mr. and Mrs. Elva Peel.

MR. AND MRS. Weldon McGehee and Dennis visited Monday evening in the Delmer Cowdrey home. Mr. and Mrs. Clark Cowdrey and son are visiting their parents while Clark is on vacation.

Mrs. Truman Goss, Lynda and Joyce and Sandra Hatley of Seminole visited Wednesday with the Elmer D. Jones family.

Mr. and Mrs. Theibert McBride and David were Thursday luncheon guests of the Carl Fluitt family.

The Rev. Elbert Nelson and family of Lubbock were Sunday supper guests of the Elmo Bush family.

Mrs. Rena Ferguson and Doris Jones of Laverne, Okla., and O. L. Ferguson and Mr. and Mrs. Archie Nelson of Levelland visited in Post Sunday and Monday night with the Harry Lee Mason family. Among the other relatives visiting them there were the Ray McClellans and the Grover Masons.

Mrs. Judy Howard and sons visited a short while Friday with the Elmer D. Jones family.

The Graham HD Club met April 30 in the home of Sybil White with Orabeth White as co-hostess. Roll call was answered with "A Food Habit I Need to Break". A ten-minute talk on how to cook rice was given by Lodesca Cobb. A demonstration on "Manager's Road to Good Nutrition" was given by the former agent, Leta Smith, as this was her last meeting. We are sorry to give her up as agent. We welcome the new agent and will work with her as we have in the past. Refreshments were served to two visitors, Mrs. Maud Thomas and Mrs. Patsy Craig and to the following members: Mmes. Ruth Doggett, Maurice Bush, Carolyn Gray, Mae Gossett, Katherine Johnson, Jane Mason, Sue Maxey, Alma McBride, Iris McMahon, Inis Thuett, Jewell Parrish, Nita McClellan, Lucille Bush, Rene Fluitt, Lodesca Cobb, Viva Davis and the hostess. The club adjourned to meet in the home of Lucille Bush May 9 with Maurice Bush as co-hostess.
