Garza oil field considered

Report is presented on water flooding

The first meeting to consider water flooding the big Garza Oil field, of which the city of Post is a part, was held last Thursday at Dallas with representatives of oil firms interested in the field attending. The feasibility report on water-flooding the field was presented by the H. J. Gruy engineering firm. After a general discussion, it was decided to have a committee composed of an engineer from each of the interested oil firms work up a recommendation to be presented at the next meeting as to whether or not to waterflood the field. Attending the meeting from Post were E. R. (Buster) Moreland and Bill Cates representing Brown Brothers, Et Al, and Jess Rogers representing the Lenonie Oil Co. The feasibility report has been months in preparation.

The water flooding project has created wide interest in this area because the White River Municipal Water district hopes to sell surplus water to the oil firms for the water flooding.

Should even a good-sized pilot water flooding project be undertaken by one or more of the firms, a lot of untreated water would be needed.

Sale of such surplus water could mean the quick end of the current White River district tax on the properties in the four member cities of Post, Spur, Ralls and Crosbyton.

More moisture but still not enough

Nearly all the cropland has been drenched by, but it's still too dry to plant, even for those who like to get some of their planting done in April. County Agent Syd Conner said today.

Moisture measured in Post on the county agent's gauge thus far this year is .19 of an inch above the moisture total for the four months of 1962, but it still isn't enough to plant on, the agent said.

Bigger ad might mean more rain

Dispatch advertising doesn't pay, Iby G. Metcalf, First National Bank president, in following this newspaper's slogan this week, has taken a full page ad on page 3 of today's edition to advertise for rain.

"Wanted: One Humding of a Cotton Planting Train to fall on all parts of Post trade area anytime in the next two weeks—but the sooner the better," reads the ad.

Last year, the bank took an ad in The Dispatch advertising for a two inch rain in two weeks. Approximately an inch of rain fell. So this year, the rain ad is bigger.

"Maybe the rain will be too," Metcalf said.

Two new pool operators named

The City-County Park board has employed Coaches Charles Black and Glynn Gregg to operate the new swimming pool for the 1963 summer season.

The decision to employ the two coaches was made at the board's monthly meeting last Wednesday night. Shelley Camp, park board chairman, announced.

Camp also said a new park improvement for 1963 that Garza should enjoy is the paving of the entrance into the north park, including the parking area close to the picnic tables. The blacktopping has been completed.

"We're all done now until it's planting time," Camp said. The park area south of the lake, now cleared of the youngster's pig and cattle pens, will be planted to grass later in the spring.

Local club host

Big archery meet scheduled Sunday

The biggest event of the year for the Post Archery Club, a combined invitational and West Texas league shoot, will be held Sunday, April 21, at the club's archery range northwest of town near the reservoir.

Dozens of archers, some from far away as Hobbs, N. M., Borger, Kerrville and Marble Falls, are expected to compete in the shoot, according to Mabel Garrison, Post Archery Club reporter.

There will be 28 field events and an optional novelty shoot. The second and third place medals will be made in all classes except the open class, Mrs. Garrison said.

Through today, the 1963 moisture measures .80 of an inch as compared with a .61 of an inch total through the first four months of last year.

April moisture so far this year amounts to .46 of an inch. The 1962 total for the entire month of April was .57 of an inch.

This year's March total was .05 of an inch, just a little bit above the March, 1962, figure of .01 of an inch.

In February of this year, moisture measured .29 of an inch as against no moisture at all recorded in February of 1962. This year's January total was only a trace. Last year's measured out at .03 of an inch.

This year's moisture has held out pretty well for breaking of land and is still good enough for some planting if the soil temperature "gets right," the county agent said.

Area wreck kills Fluvanna woman

Mrs. Bruce Land, 21-year-old wife of the coach at Fluvanna High School, died early Monday afternoon of injuries sustained in a two-car crash on U. S. Highway 84 seven miles north of Snyder.

Mrs. Land, the former Carolyn Kay Fitzgerald of Lubbock, died in surgery at a Snyder hospital three hours after the crash.

Two other persons were hurt in the wreck, including a 22-year-old Texas Tech student, Claudia Collins of Sterling City.

Investigating highway patrolmen said a convertible-style automobile driven north on the highway by Miss Collins and a compact-type car driven by Mrs. Land collided at 1:30 p. m.

A passenger in Mrs. Land's car, Mrs. Catherine Cain, 24, of Paducah, sustained severe facial lacerations and was taken to a Snyder hospital.

Mrs. Land's death raised the 1963 area death toll from traffic accidents to 34, the same number at the same time last year.

ICE SKATING INJURY

Frankie Gary fell yesterday while ice skating in Lubbock during the Post High School choir's tour and "fun day". Several stitches were required to close a gash above one of his eyes.

One of the features of the shoot will be a 14-hunter and 14-animal event, with scores to be combined for the winning totals.

Registration will be held at the archery range from 8 until 9:30 a. m., with the shooting scheduled to start at 10 a. m.

"The public is invited to attend the shoot," Mrs. Garrison said. "Food will be available at the archery range for those who don't want to drive back into town to eat."

Fred Cockrell is president of the Post Archery Club and Roy Garrison is vice president. Other officers are Faye Cockrell, secretary-treasurer, and Mrs. Garrison, assistant secretary and reporter.

CHRISTINE CORNISH

Post girl to be honored Sunday for Garza sketch

Christine Cornish, a senior in Post High School, will be honored at 4 p. m. Sunday, April 21, during dedication ceremonies for the first section of the Southwest's first Symphonic Drama Theatre in historic Palo Duro State Park.

Miss Cornish, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Cornish, drew the Garza County historical sketch which is to be duplicated in stone and placed at the theatre entrance.

The drawing typifies the leading industries of Garza County and its historical and cultural legends.

County officials and others who have worked on the theatre project are expected to attend and will be recognized.

Clint Formby of Hereford will serve as master of ceremonies. The program will include remarks by Maurice Turner of Huntsville, chairman of the State Parks Board; Mrs. Ples Harper, of Canyon, president of the Texas Panhandle Heritage Foundation; Lee Bivins, chairman of the Fine Arts Council of the Amarillo Chamber of Commerce; and representatives of the Top of Texas and Caprock districts of the Texas Federation of Women's Clubs.

Principal speaker will be R. B. Johnson, an Amarillo educator and noted Panhandle historian.

Each student winner from 40 counties will receive an Award of Honor, and his original (See POST GIRL, Page 8)

In the last couple of years Chamber leaders here have given considerable time and attention to the necessary community climate necessary to attract new industry—and to encourage present industry to continue to expand. One of the principal factors has been a stable history of taxation.

In other words, any industry about to invest a considerable amount of money into an industrial effort takes a careful look at the community's tax history to see whether tax rates are continually going up or if over the years they remain relatively the same, depending on the growth factor for new tax revenues. Industry is afraid of a community where tax rates continue to jump.

Post in the last few years has made many improvements in its city services and its school systems. This has brought tax increases and added bonded indebtedness. To solve the community's water problem, the White River dam project has brought an added tax burden.

The general feeling among business and community leaders now is to hold the tax line resolutely until the White River water is flowing into the city system and that added tax burden is over or its end within sight.

All of this makes good sense. It doesn't mean anybody wants fewer city services or any reduction in the quality of local education. The point to remember on tax increases is that it can well "scare off" industrial and business investment which would have brought in the additional tax revenue needed if (See POSTINGS, Page 8)

School tax line to remain firm at least another year

Post Independent School District trustees voted unanimously to hold the tax line for at least another year at a special meeting Monday night.

They voted to rescind the action taken at their regular April meeting a week earlier in which they increased from 40 to 50 per cent the taxable percentage of 100 per cent valuation.

They pegged the taxable percentage back at 40 per cent for another new tax year.

In view of the fact that the tax rate is at the legal maximum of $1.50, this means no school district tax increase for 1963.

The school trustees' action came after a joint meeting with the Post Chamber of Commerce's Industrial Committee in the Community Room of the First National Bank.

E. R. (Buster) Moreland, president of the trustees, said the earlier tax action was rescinded on the basis of "new information from Supt. R. T. Smith concerning the probable size of the district's deficit at the end of the current year."

Supt. Smith told the Industrial committee, headed by Iryb G. Metcalf, and trustees that "if we get the breaks we could end up the current fiscal year with a deficit of over $10,000 all the way down to none at all."

Moreland said trustees had understood earlier the deficit would be $20,000 or higher.

It was pointed out during the discussion that the trustees' original action to raise the taxable percentage of true valuation from 40 to 50 per cent did not mean a 25 per cent tax increase, although this would have been possible by retaining the $1.50 rate again.

Trustees said they planned to set the rate—it would be lower than $1.50—after the school district's budget had been prepared and the amount of tax money actually needed from local sources determined.

The budget will not be ready before August, it was indicated.

Metcalf in opening the meeting of his committee with the school trustees pointed out the need to maintain local tax rates at no higher than current levels until such time as White River water is available and the end of the White River district's special tax is in sight.

Barry Thompson of Levelland, new superintendent-elect, also met with the group as well as Supt. Smith.

It was emphasized by the industrial committee that certainly the appeal to "hold the tax line" did not mean committee members wanted to see any lowering of educational excellence in the local school system.

Thompson, who will not take his new office here until July 1, estimated in answer to questions that the new school budget would be "approximately the same as that for the current year."

It was pointed out that the sale of the Lincoln school property and the saving of two salaries to Negro teachers employed last year would offset the annual experience increment increases for all teachers returning.

Metcalf said, and others agreed, that "this would be a bad time to increase our taxes." He emphasized that to provide good industrial climate, the community needs to maintain a steady tax pattern.

During the discussion with the committee, Mayor Harold Lucas reported the city foresees no tax increase on the city from this year. County Judge J. E. Parker said he expects the county-wide tax rate to remain the same.

General Telephone men say

July too soon for new rural 'phones

The division manager and district manager of General Telephone Company of the Southwest have told The Post Dispatch that as far as their company is concerned there is no chance of extended area service being started in July in areas of eastern and southern Garza County that are now without telephone service.

The telephone men's statement followed a recent talk before the Rotary Club here in which James Wright, manager of Caprock Telephone Co. Inc., of Spur said the extended area service "should begin sometime in July."

Division Manager Harry Elam and District Manager Wayne King told The Dispatch that no contract for the extended area service has been signed between their company, General Telephone, and the Spur company.

The General Telephone men said negotiations had been started toward the signing of such a contract, but that several months work remain to be done after the contract is signed before the extended area service could go into effect.

They said that after a contract is signed, General Telephone will have to figure the rates it will take to support the extended area service. After that, the company would have to submit the proposed rates to the city council here for its approval, following which approval it would be necessary to order and construct the facilities for the extended area service.

"All that would take considerably more time than remains between now and July," the General Telephone men said.

Park Board's good job continues

One organization that gets a lot of work done without any fuss or fanfare is the City-County Park Board. It goes quietly about its job and there isn't a member on the board who hadn't rather you'd go down to the park and see what is being done than expect him to tell you about it.

The good work brought about by the park board always begins showing up in the spring of the year when people begin making use of the park and keep using it right on through the summer and into early fall.

The most recently completed project at the park and one that is sure to make a hit with park visitors is the paving of the entrance into the north park and the parking area near the picnic tables. Upcoming projects include the sowing of grass on the south side of the park.

With its swimming pool and improved picnic area, the City-County Park more and more is becoming a project to which the city and the county can point with pride. There are a few who thought when the city and county assumed joint operation of the park a few years ago that it wouldn't be as far along as it is in such a short time. But the City-County Park Board has seen to it that it is.—CD

Congratulations, one-act players

Too often the hard work and accomplishments of a group of students are lost sight of because their field of endeavor doesn't create as much excitement and widespread interest as some other field.

That is the case with Post High School's one-act play team (which has won the District 4AA championship and advances this weekend into regional competition at Lubbock).

The one-act play championship won by Post has helped break Denver City's hold on most of the honors in the five-school District 4AA. Post also won the girls' basketball crown, but then Denver City doesn't field a girls' basketball team, so that honor, as satisfying as it was, was not as satisfying as it would have been if Denver City had fielded a girls' basketball team.

Speech Director Howard Carlyle's thespians, however, in winning Post's first district one-act play title in many, many years, numbered Denver City among its victims, with the Youkum countians coming in second.

So, congratulations to Mr. Carlyle and to his aggregation of fine young actors, and here's hoping they win the regional title and go right on to the state meet.—CD

Firms provide a place to meet

Three Post firms—the First National Bank, Southwestern Public Service Company and Postex Mills—have provided community meeting places that are helping fill a big gap here. That gap, which thanks to these three firms isn't as near as big as it once was, is a gap of not having a suitable community meeting place, or civic center.

The Community Rooms at the bank and the mill and the Reddy Room at the utilities company aren't large enough, of course, to solve the over-all problem of not having a civic center, but they are helping.

These three meeting places have been made available to dozens of different organizations during the last several months, and the bank, the mill and Southwestern Public Service Company are to be commended for their contributions toward a solution to the problem and their many courtesies in extending the use of their meeting rooms.—CD

Safe bicycling habits best

We are sorry to have to interject a sombre note in the otherwise joyous observance of spring here in Post.

Our warning has to do with bicycles. Now that the good weather is setting in, more and more children will be taking to the streets and highways.

If these ardent cyclists don't know the proper and safe way to handle their bikes they can be easily involved in dangerous traffic situations. Last year—the National Safety Council points out—550 lives were lost in bicycle accidents, the heaviest toll since 1949.

Since the majority of the fatalities fell in the 5-14 age group it would seem to us that parents should insure that their children are fully aware of, and practice, safe bicycling habits. The Council particularly urges observance of the following rules:

1. Ride on the right side of the road; obey all traffic control regulations and use proper hand and arm signals for turns and stopping.
2. When cycling with others, ride in single file.
3. Save stunting and showing-off for yards or other untrafficked areas.
4. Never try to squeeze in between two lanes of traffic.
5. At busy intersections it is safest to dismount and walk the bike across.
6. At night the bike should be equipped with a front light and rear reflector.

Salute to Latin America

Pan American Day, which was Sunday, and Pan American Week, which is now under way, should serve to remind us that "good neighbors" is a fine, meaningful term. It is good for people living in the same block, in the same community, to be good neighbors. And it is good for the peoples of neighboring countries.

The promotion of friendly relations between Anglo-Americans and their Latin American neighbors to the south is doing much to break down the barriers of language and ancient prejudices, and in general to weld and strengthen the bonds of amity and trust between them.

And, on top of that, it is a continuing, progressing movement.

Pan American Day and Week should serve to remind Texans that their state has much to gain in respect and material progress from better relations with Mexico and the other Latin American countries.—CD

What our contemporaries are saying

I read a good story the other day about what an average man is. You take a bunch of figures, balance them off and get a middle figure and you have what is average. And then this wit came up with this remark: If a man sat with one foot in a pan of boiling water and the other foot in a pan of ice water, then on the average he should be a happy man.—Aton Richards in The Jayton Chronicle.

A small boy studying civics asked, "What does the Chaplain of Congress do?" And Daddy answered,

"Oh, he just gets up on a platform, looks at Congress, and prays for the country."—Frank Hill in The Lynn County News.

The popularity of the automatic dishwasher is due to the fact that most husbands had rather buy one than be one.—Marvin Tomme in The Rails Banner.

There is always free cheese in a mousetrap, but you never saw a happy mouse there.—Ellen Perry in The Ballinger Ledger.

THE WRITE-IN privilege on the election ballot is such a temptation that some people will throw away their vote just for a laugh. In one town, not far away, Stannous Fluoride received four write-in votes for mayor.

The end of school is only about a month away, and teachers and students can begin to relax in anticipation of the vacation months ahead.

For some reason, stories about teachers and textbooks always begin cropping up as the end of the school year nears. Here are a few examples:

The Board of Education director was visiting a school when he became aware of a lot of noise from a classroom next door. Quickly, he opened the door of the offending classroom, reached in, and grabbed one of the taller boys who seemed to be doing all the talking. Dragging him into a corridor, he stood him in a corner. "Don't say another word; just stand there," he ordered. In a few minutes a small boy stuck his head out of the classroom door. "Please sir," he said, "may we have our teacher back?"

"The Matterhorn," reported an enterprising student, "is a large horn to be blown when something is the matter."

THE YOUNGSTER was busily working away at his drawing book when his teacher interrupted him. "I'm drawing a picture of God," he explained. "But, Johnny, nobody knows what God looks like," said the teacher. "They will when I get through," announced Johnny triumphantly.

And, finally, there's a story about a Texas lad who rushed home and insisted that his mother get him a new gun belt, holster, and pistol. "Darling, you don't need guns at school," said his mother. "Yes, I do," he insisted. "Teacher promised tomorrow she's going to teach us to draw."

MY FRIEND UP the street says that next to being shot at and missed, nothing is quite as satisfying as an income tax return.

It's easy to tell when the baseball season starts. Some of the people you see up town every Saturday afternoon, just aren't seen there anymore on Saturday afternoons from along early in April until early in October. They're at home watching the ball game on television.

THE BASEBALL writers, who, on the average, are more accurate in their predictions than are the weather forecasters, are picking the Houston Colts and the New York Mets to finish ninth and tenth in the National League, and the Kansas City Athletics and the Washington Senators to wind up in the same spots in the American League. Since I always like to see the underdogs turn the tables, I decided a week before the season started to place my sympathies with these four teams and pull for each of them to finish much higher than predicted by the sports scribes. After one week of play, my two teams in the American League are making a little headway, but over in the other league the Colts and the Mets are running true to form.

MONDAY WAS THE income tax deadline and it brought to mind something said some time ago by Sen. Hugh Scott, a Pennsylvania Republican, to-wit, alas:

"All winter, the senator said, you work to pay your federal taxes. At the first touch of spring you switch to working for money to pay your state and other taxes.

Beginning in May you're on your own.

An unknown source said of the proposed tax cut: "It looks like it needs a Band-Aid."

WRITING IN THE Ovid (N. Y.) Gazette and Independent, S. E. Mekeel advised, "When making out your income tax report, be sure you don't overlook your most expensive dependent—the government."

The magazine Changing Times said: "A fool and his money are soon parted. The rest of us wait for tax time."

FINALLY, "I SHALL never use profanity," Mark Twain said, "except in discussing house rent and taxes."

Bible Thoughts

By HERB SMITH

"A Unique Command"

Unique means "of which there is but one, having no like or equal; standing alone in comparison with others; rare or unusual." (American People's Encyclopedia Dictionary). Baptism is a unique command.

1. It is unique because it is done only once. Other commands such as praying, singing, and working are not so. They are done over and over.

2. It is unique because there are no degrees in baptism. There are degrees of faith and righteousness, but not in baptism.

3. It is unique because it requires less human reasoning for it. We can understand and see a reason for believing and repenting. Some reject baptism because of this. They say, "I can't see any connection with water and remission of sins." This is a test of faith. Faith begins where reasoning ends.

Letters to the Editor...

HAS BACK NUMBERS
The Post Dispatch:
Having kept almost all of the number of often-read papers from Post, thought perhaps a back number from 1955 to present date might help some reader. So, as storage becomes a problem, have decided to offer some for "adoption" upon request as per back numbers from your office. (Please ignore if not interested.)
Now, to the Department of Mrs. C:

Your column is the first I read because—quote: "A fellow feeling makes us wondrously kind."

Your experience of not too long ago with your Misses C's group joining the hike for "vigah" put me in a reminiscent mood, back to the beginning of World War I when two youngsters—the Misses S—fairly howled for horses to ride to school. We were living in the house where Mrs. Gladys Presson now resides and the two school buildings were just across the street! Walk?

By the middle of the Roaring 20's these same two would have met the proposition of a hike quite differently. They would merely have changed the time when a big full moon was assured at Brownfield and as it rose they would have started and danced all the way back before sunrise. (Ask the few remaining of the Old Guard for affirmation.)

The Dispatch arrives on Monday out here and I understand your experience with bluebonnets, as the California ones are called Blue Lapin. They are very late this spring on account of the cold.

This is the first time I've written your "paper from home" and wishing you all the joys of Easter...
Sincerely,
Helen E. Gale

Local Chapter host Sunday to District 9 ESA meeting

Gamma Mu Chapter No. 3126 of Epsilon Sigma Alpha International sorority will host the District 9 meeting, Sunday, April 21 in the Community Room.

Members from nine cities will attend with new district officers to be elected and installed and outstanding ESA members to be presented.

The local chapter was organized in Post in 1962 and has a membership of 14. Epsilon Sigma Alpha is one of the largest Greek letter sororities in the world with a membership of 40,000 and 1,500 chapters in the United States and several foreign countries.

The sorority is an educational, social and philanthropic organization in Jacksonville, Tex., Sept. 12, 1929 by many prominent women. Among the first members were the late author, Willa Cather, and Dr. M. Freeda Lotz of Colorado Springs, Colo.

The first 12 years were difficult ones for the new sorority which was forced to flounder through the depression years. Then in 1941, E. Robert Palmer, a widely known educator, philosopher, author and lecturer, took over as head of the small chain of locally administered clubs. Under Palmer's leadership, ESA has blossomed into an international organization with philanthropic projects alone which total over one million dollars annually.

Mrs. Derl Lovell is president of the local chapter. Members are: Mmes. Herman Raphael, Garland Huddleston, Loyd Mock, Howard Carlyle, Billy G. Jones, Marie Duncan, Ed Herring, Adrain Cook, Joe Duren, Virgil Bilbo, Miss Wanda Sandlin, Sandra Feather, and Mrs. D. C. Williams, sponsor.

Mrs. Mildred Outlaw, a member of the South Plains Writers Club, won second place in writing a 1,000-word personality sketch of Mrs. Juanice Robinson.

Mrs. Outlaw entitled the sketch "Backyard Missionary" and submitted a shorter version to the Post Dispatch which ran on the society page last week.

A. B. Slage, editor of Southwestern Crop and Stock magazine, judged the contest held in Lubbock last week.

I don't know what it is and neither do lots of other people but it is well worth driving by to look at. There is this plant (I guess I'm safe in calling it that) on the corner of the R. E. Cox yard across the street from the Methodist Church that is and has been blooming beautifully for the past few weeks. I started inquiring as to its identity when we first noticed it taking our usual run back and forth on 10th St.

A few persons we've inquired of about the plant think it is a century plant and there are those that lean to the yucca family. Me, I'm gun-shy after the bluebonnet fiasco and am waiting for an answer from an expert.

We heard a real good one last week about one of the local school teachers that is too good to pass up. One of our elementary teachers was explaining to her class about water pollution and sanitation. One of her pupils (a boy) kept raising his hand so the teacher finally asked him what he wanted. Seems as though he had a question about the White River dam that didn't quite fit into the subject, so the teacher told him to wait till she was through and she would answer him. In due course she was finished and turning to the boy said: "All right now, what was your dam question?" And then I'm sure she bit her tongue.

I've been dying to write about real live Easter bunnies ever since Wacker's had that pen full for sale. However, no one warned me so I decided to wait till after Easter and let all you buyers know what you were in for.

I speak from experience. The eldest Miss C was presented with one cute white rabbit for a birthday gift many long years ago. It was immediately named Benjamin Rabbit and went to live on our back porch.

This was fine until I realized I was doing nothing but hosing and scrubbing the porch night and day. So we answered an ad in the paper that read: "For Sale, rabbit hutch."

We purchased same and with the help of many strong neighbors got it moved from across town to our house. The cost, $5.

I forgot to mention that Benjamin was already eating all our green table scraps plus a dollar's worth of food once a week.

Then came the hot summer and we had to buy hutch bags (10 cents each) to hang on the hutch to keep the hot sun off poor Benjamin. This wasn't so bad but we had to keep the bags damp and that did take time, if not money.

Then came the long cold winter. We had to buy hay ($1) to keep Benjamin warm and run out several times a day to replace the frozen water in his pan. And all the time he ate and ate and ate.

Finally Benjamin was a year old and almost two feet long and was eating $2 worth of rabbit food a week. All the neighborhood children came to Benjamin's party bearing wrapped gifts of carrots, lettuce, turnips, celery and cabbage. As the children and the mother of the Misses Cs stood by his cage and sang "Happy Birthday", Benjamin ate his cake—one candle (a carrot) stuck in half a head of cabbage.

We'd still have Benjamin yet, I'm sure—he acted indestructible—but we moved and gave rabbit hutch and Benjamin to a friend—not a real good friend. The last we heard, over six years ago, Benjamin had been a father many times over and was still eating and eating and eating.

I realize we could have recouped our losses by going into the fertilizer business but instead we gave tons of it away. Everyone in the neighborhood had beautiful gardens that year—except the Cs. We were too busy keeping Benjamin cool in the heat of the day and feeding him.

THE TREE Climbers

Thought about climbing any trees lately? The tree climbers seem to belong to a very young segment of the population.

Why do you suppose most of us have outgrown that compelling urge to climb a tree? It used to make every trunk a challenge, every limb a precarious perch.

Well, we've discovered other challenges. And we've had our fill of precarious perches. Eventually a man turns his zest for triumph to more constructive purposes.

But, have you observed that many people seem to climb above the tiresome every-day level of life? And, strangely, they appear more secure challenging the roof of existence than those who cling to its floor.

The youthful compulsion which once made us tree climbers reaches maturity on a spiritual plane. Our God-given zest for triumph finds fulfillment in the quest of religious Faith... the challenge of Christian living! Start climbing next Sunday... in church!

Mexican Baptist Church pastor here invited to attend workshop-retreat

Rev. Joel Pistone, pastor of the Mexican Baptist Church of the northwest Texas region, is invited to attend a workshop-retreat April 29-May 1 at the Texas Baptist Assembly. The ministers will share their problems and successes, participate in Bible study and hear discourses on a variety of church-related topics ranging from evangelism to church administration. The first of several such meetings across the state this spring summer, the Plains retreat presents a new approach in pastoral type workshops. All of the meetings will be held at encampments, giving ministers an unusual opportunity to get away from the press of pastoral duties where they can commune with God and fellowship with other pastors, said Dallas Lee, secretary of the Language Missions Department of the Baptist General Convention of Texas. Each session of the Plains gathering will open with Bible study led by Dr. H. B. Ramsour, president of the Mexican Baptist Bible Institute, San Antonio. Following will be conferences on sermon building, evangelism, Christian stewardship, church achievement, church ad-

COUNCIL PRESIDENT WARNS

Grave problems faced in building up competitive strength of cotton

LUBBOCK—"No matter how successful we may be in the field of government cotton policy, we still face the gravest kind of problems in building cotton's competitive strength to an adequate level," the president of the National Cotton Council declared here in urging strong support of industry-financed research and promotion. "This matter of building markets is the primary purpose and function of the National Cotton Council," added Robert R. Coker in an address at a luncheon meeting called by Plains Cotton Growers Association as a Council interest organization. Ed Linscomb, Memphis, the Council's director of sales promotion and public relations, then explained the cotton industry's promotional programs in detail, noting that initiation of the recently organized Cotton Producers Institute has virtually doubled total funds available for promoting sales of cotton products. Coker, a cotton producer from Hartsville, S. C., praised Plains growers for their leadership in building a strong cotton industry and asked their guidance in solving present problems. Pointing out that the Plains has the greatest concentration of cotton anywhere in the world, Coker stressed that the area has the biggest stake of any in preserving markets and production opportunities for American cotton. He observed, however, that acreage has been cut to the legal minimum and further cuts will come if the carry-over keeps rising. The Council president recognized the need for emergency government action in solving cotton's present problems but emphasized that the long-range hope for competitive strength lies in lower production costs, continued quality improvement for cotton and its products, and aggressive promotion.

The White River dam is about to become reality. We have said over the past few years "wait until we get the White River water and watch us go". The time is about at hand. The efforts of the Chamber's industrial committee to talk over the "tax line problem" with school trustees fits into this action plan. It shows the committee is working diligently on the industrial problem with the immediate future in mind.

Within the last year, much closer relations have been established between community leaders and Burlington Industry officials in an effort to help in every way with Postex Mill problems and to encourage mill expansion.

It's good common sense to work in the basis that encouraging present industry to expand is more likely to benefit the community than the seeking of new industry. That's the place to start—and that is where Post, at long last, has started. And this effort has brought and is continuing to bring real cooperation from all parts of the business community.

Over on page 14, The Dispatch's April Business Page will be found with the feature this month on the service department of Collier Chevrolet-Olds. These features have attracted wide reader interest and response, and we feel sure you'll be interested in what Claud Collier has in mind for his service department—making it "the best in West Texas."

On page 8 you'll note the announcement of Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Shaw who have opened the Sportsman Cafe and News Stand at 222 East Main. They're holding their grand opening Saturday with free coffee and donuts from 9 to 5. The magazine section of the place will take at least two weeks to develop, because it takes that long for new magazine orders to be filled and delivered.

A most unusual ad you'll find on page 10 in which the new Pierce Agro-Chemical Co., headed by George Pierce, announces itself and explains what it has to offer Garza County farmers—"analytical crop design". The firm will handle Olin Mathieson fertilizers, herbicides and insecticides. Read George's announcement carefully. It's all very well said.

Stall space is being sought

RUIDOSO DOWNS, N. M. — Though its May 17 inaugural still is more than a month away, Ruidoso Downs is drawing a wide-spread, enthusiastic response from the horsemen for its 54-day summer-time vacation meeting running through Sept. 8.

With stakes-condition books and stall applications having been widely circulated, General Manager Tex Barron has literally been "snowed under" by horsemen seeking stall space.

The world's busiest little race track, Ruidoso Downs this year is offering more than a million dollars in purse money and shooting at the all-time record high of $1,389,817 distributed to horsemen last year.

Barron has announced that the value of stakes races has been boosted this year and points out that last year the average overnight purse was $1,950 per race.

Everything that is anything listed in the current Texas Calendar of Events

AUSTIN — It would be difficult to imagine any type of event which isn't included in the Texas Highway Department's new Texas Calendar of Events for spring and summer.

The free 16-page booklet, available now to the public, is bursting with 523 events. They are scheduled between April 1 and Sept. 30 in 181 Texas communities, ranging in size from Houston and Dallas to Arcadia and Louise.

Listings speak eloquently of the agricultural diversity of the state: Poteet's strawberry festival, McKinney's cotton festival, Luling's watermelon thump, Pittsburg's peach festival, DeLeon's peach and melon festival, Port Isabel's shrimp fiesta and Colorado City's tumbleweed festival.

The varied cultural heritage of Texas is reflected in Boerne's saengerfest and Brenham's Maifest, in the Cinco de Mayo celebrations in Corpus Christi, Laredo and Goliad and in San Antonio's Fiesta San Antonio and Diez y Sies celebration.

Stamford's Texas Cowboy Reunion and the XII Rodeo-Reunion at Dalhart, coupled with dozens of rodeos and horse shows across the state, preserve the flavor of the Old West.

There is evidence, too, of the broad span of time between the founding of Texas cities. Seguin, for instance, will be observing its 125th anniversary, while Lake Jackson will celebrate its 20th birthday. Also listed are Childress' 75th anniversary celebration, Muleshoe's and Littlefield's 50th birthdays and Bellaire's 45th.

Other events include such varied attractions as art exhibits, concerts, operas, stage productions and music festivals on the one hand to fairs, old settlers' reunions, golf and tennis tournaments, fishing contests, barbecues and beauty pageants on the other.

There are also, home tours, trail rides, square dance festivals, boat and sport shows, soap box derbies, sports car races, jazz festivals and antique shows.

Listings for the calendar are supplied the travel division of the Highway Department, official travel promotion agency for the state, by Texas chambers of commerce.

WHAT IS THE LUTHERAN TEACHING ON SIN?

The Lutheran teaching on sin is the teaching of the Bible. Our Lord Jesus says in John 3:6-7, "that which is born of flesh is flesh; and that which is born of the Spirit is Spirit. Marvel not that I said unto thee, Ye must be born again."

This is the teaching of the Bible, that all men are born with a sinful nature and are under the wrath of God. All are spiritually dead and need to be born again of the Spirit. When writing to the Ephesian Christians St. Paul reminded them, "And you hath He (God) quickened (made alive) who were dead in trespasses and sins; . . . (you) were by nature the children of wrath even as others." Ephesians 2:1, 3b.

Therefore, by nature, according to the flesh, we are dead in sin and under the wrath of God.

Now because of our sinful nature we often think, do, and say things which are contrary to God's will and God's law. Therefore, our sin is not just a matter of breaking the law of the land, or of going contrary to the moral code of the community, or offending our neighbor, but it is a matter of offending God.

SIN IS A PERSONAL MATTER BETWEEN ME AND MY GOD. Sin makes me guilty before God. I have earned His wrath and punishment.

The Bible says, "Now we know that whatsoever things the law says, it says to them who are under the law; that every mouth may be stopped, and all the world may become guilty before God." Romans 3:19.

Again the Bible says, "For ALL have sinned, and come short of the glory of God;" Romans 3:23. "The wages of sin is death;" Romans 6:23a.

We are sinners. We have sinned. We are guilty before God. We are condemned to death, eternal death and damnation. We need God's mercy. We need God's forgiveness. We need God's salvation.

Thank God He loved us and sent His Son to seek and to save those who are lost.

Do you know your Savior? Do you know the way back to God? If not, or if you wish to learn more about your Savior, the Lutheran Church invites you to attend the Bible Classes and Church Services which they will begin here in Post on April 28th and each Sunday thereafter.

These classes and services will be held in the Presbyterian Church on the corner of W. 10th and N. Ave. K. We shall have Sunday School for children and Bible Class for adults and youth at 6:30 p. m. followed by Church Services at 7:30 p. m. They are under the direction of Pastor Robert Kamrath from Wilson, Texas. All are welcome to attend.

'El Cid,' story of world-famed hero, opens here Sunday at Tower Theatre

History numbers but few figures who have stirred the imagination of poets, dramatists and balladeers as much as Spain's much revered warrior-hero who was born Rodrigo Diaz de Bivar but is best known as El Cid.

The exploits of this courageous nobleman on the battlefield, his unquenchable devotion to his God and king and his turbulent and undying love for the beautiful Chimene are brilliantly told in "El Cid," which opens a special engagement Sunday, April 21, at the Tower Theatre and continues through Wednesday.

The Samuel Bronston presentation co-starring Charlton Heston and Sophia Loren comes here after being a sensational hit as a road-show attraction in New York, Chicago, Los Angeles, Dallas and scores of other cities.

Heston is cast as the warrior who dreamed of peace, the romantic figure who early in his life was tried as a traitor but later acclaimed, even by his enemies, as "El Cid," a term adapted phonetically from the Arabic 'Seid,' meaning lord or leader.

Miss Loren portrays Chimene, the beautiful Castilian noblewoman, both fiery and proud. Her romance with El Cid, was, at first, tender and warm, and then it flamed into consuming hate and almost

The 523 events discussed in the current publication and the number of communities represented are up sharply from all previous calendars. Last year's spring-summer issue, for instance, listed 351 events in 138 communities.

Increased interest in the calendar by chambers of commerce—and added demand by Texas visitors—is responsible for the marked growth of the semiannual publication. Thousands are distributed each year as part of the literature package sent to prospective visitors. Thousands more are handed motorists at the eight tourist bureaus operated by the Highway Department at major highway entrances to Texas.

Copies may be obtained at the tourist bureaus or by writing the travel division, Texas Highway Department, P. O. Box 5674, Austin.

★ DRUNKEN FLYING BILL IS PASSED

AUSTIN—Pilots will do well to leave their jugs at home when they get a yen for the wild blue yonder.

The Texas Senate has passed and sent to Gov. John Connally a bill to make it a $100 to $1,500 fine for flying while intoxicated. So, "FWI" will join "DWI" around the courthouses of the state.

Sen. Franklin Spears and Rep. Stanford Smith, both of San Antonio, were the pilots for the bills in the two houses.

Draft extended for four years

Extension of the draft for four years brings the reminder from Selective Service that generally every man is required to register under the draft law within five days after his 18th birthday.

T. L. Jones of Post, Garza County representative on the draft board, says men of this county are to register at the office of County Judge J. E. Parker on the second floor of the courthouse.

However, men may register at any local board office, but they should be certain to give their home address (permanent), for that will determine the local board, which will always have his records and which will deal with his case.

Jones said the draft call for this area for May is 15 men, the same as it was for April.

American Legion observing Child Welfare Month

AUSTIN — Some 700 American Legion Posts in the Department of Texas are joining the more than 16,000 community organizations of the Legion throughout the nation and overseas in the 25th annual observance of Child Welfare Month during April, Department Commander V. F. Taylor has announced.

Child Welfare activities and programs are conducted by The American Legion throughout the year but special attention is focused on this major Legion program during April.

According to Department Child Welfare Chairman James Goodman of Lubbock, our rapidly advancing technology and the effects of continuing international tensions are creating increasingly complex problems for today's children.

The American Legion is seriously concerned with the number of school dropouts and is attacking the youth problems on a number of fronts. "Stay in School" campaigns are being organized in an effort to impress youth with the importance of completing their high school education. The foundation of The American Legion's Child Welfare program is built upon post and unit sponsored activities for children and youth. In addition to trying to prevent school dropouts, the Legion recommends raising of the level of physical fitness of American youth; improvement of adequacy of community facilities for the diagnosis and treatment of mentally ill and emotionally disturbed children; and increased community efforts for the prevention and control of juvenile delinquency.

The American Legion has conducted an extensive child welfare program involving an expenditure of $177 million by the Legion and its affiliated organizations. These funds reflect only a part of the total Legion program on behalf of children and youth.

Analytical Crop Design —for Garza County

The development of inorganic fertilizers has introduced conditions to the Agro industry as revolutionary as the invention of the combine.

The production per acre and the return per man hour realized by proper utilization of available Agro-Chemicals guarantees to the farmers of this nation their continued world prominence in production and capital return. The true significance of the rewards from Agro-Chemicals can best be realized by comparing the Energy expended to the Energy returned.

Noted Historians such as Toynbee and Wells have speculated that the coup de grace to the classic civilization of Egypt and Rome was their inability to develop their agro needs to meet the expanding nation's obligations.

The possibility of the recreation of this condition in America has vanished forever because we now have the means to unparalleled efficiency and production.

The use of fertilizers requires study and preparation. What is effective in one area does not guarantee returns to another, so each application must be designed to meet the individual needs and requirements of the specific land area.

The creed of this firm is to meet the Agro-Chemical needs of the farming industry of this county by extending service, study, and product.

We have selected Olin Mathieson products because we feel that it is the best material available.

The facilities for testing and analyzing soil conditions are established and in use.

Service means prompt delivery, maintaining accurate records for yearly comparisons, competitive prices, the best mechanical applicators available, and a sincere desire to be a part of the vast and fascinating farming industry.

General Telephone budgets more than $22.5 million for 1963 construction

SAN ANGELO—More than $22½ million has been budgeted for 1963 construction and expansion by General Telephone Company according to the Company's 1962 annual report.

With the conversion of four exchanges from manual operation during 1963, General will become 100 per cent dial. Dickinson and Brownfield, Texas, will become centers for handling customer dialed long distance calls for 11 General Telephone exchanges in the respective areas. The Dickinson center will provide the first person-to-person customer dialed long distance service in the state.

Other construction and expansion designed to improve customer service during 1963 includes establishing three microwave systems and construction of 27 buildings and additions to nine others.

Thirteen new extended area service routes, which permit customers to call between certain towns without a specific charge, also will be established.

Rural customers will benefit from approximately $1,500,000 of the 1963 construction budget which is designed for rural expansion.

In the president's letter, E. H. Danner points up that during 1962 "many occurrences brought a sense of satisfaction and pride to all of us in the Company." Among items mentioned was "the greatest gain in telephones ever experienced, exceeding even our forecasted gain." (Total phones at the end of 1962 was 356,728, compared to 334,250 at the end of 1961.)

Danner's letter also indicated that strides were made in providing customers the grade of service desired. More than 46 per cent of the urban residential customers had one party service at the end of the year.

Improved controls through data processing and results achieved during a test period of a new form of district organization in one division (North Central) were among 1962 highlights mentioned in the president's letter.

Comparative figures revealed that 1962 operating revenues increased 8.99 per cent over 1961 to $38,873,000 while gross investment in telephone plant increased 13.83 per cent to $146,692,000.

Gross investment per telephone in service at the end of 1962 was $411 compared to $386 at the end of 1961.

At the end of 1962 General of the Southwest served 258 exchanges in the five state area of Texas, New Mexico, Oklahoma, Arkansas and Louisiana. Over 3,300 persons are employed by the company.

Boy, it's the MOST! It does more than just COOL, too. It circulates, ventilates, dehumidifies and cleans the air. Oh, and it HEATS in winter... I almost forgot! Mom says it's a lot easier to keep house, now, because there ain't... I mean "isn't"... as much dust around. And you should hear Dad go on about how his hay fever's let up since we bought the Arkla-Serve! An' you know what? It runs so much cheaper than our old job that the folks increased my allowance from the savings! All I know is that when I get a house, I'm gonna have an Arkla-Serve! Sun Valley, too. Say, ain't I mean "isn't," that a funny name for an air conditioner!

TOTAL PERFORMANCE:

YOU'LL KNOW WHY SHE DOESN'T FEEL THE BUMPS...WHEN YOU TEST-DRIVE FORD'S NEW $10,000,000 RIDE

The 1963 Ford gives you a ride every bit as smooth as cars costing hundreds more, and for two reasons: a revolutionary new suspension system... and added road-hugging weight.

It took ten million dollars to develop the new Ford ride. We designed a revolutionary new suspension system for the '63 Ford. Where ordinary suspensions move only up and down to absorb road shock, the Ford suspension moves backward as well. In this double-action suspension system, coil springs up front and leaf springs in the rear combine to give you firmness in cornering and a special smoothness over the road.

We added weight, strength and stability. The new Ford is now actually hundreds of pounds more car than any other car in its class. This remarkable weight advantage is in the suspension, frame, and body. And, as you know, this added weight means a more stable ride.

But a solid, road-smoothing ride is only part of Ford's total performance story for 1963. Look how Ford swept the field this year in the grueling Daytona, Riverside and Atlanta 500's and in the demanding Pure Oil Performance Trials. Only a car with total performance—the best combination of strength, balance, precision control, braking power and road-clinging suspension—could roll up so many wins.

Before you buy any new car, test-drive a Super Torque Ford. If you haven't driven one lately, you can't really know what a new Ford is like. Make this important discovery—if it's built by Ford, it's built for performance... total performance.

Eagle's Nest

By Sue Pritchard
Well, our annuals finally got here, and I think every one is really pleased with them. The pictures were clear and they showed up everyone's best features. That basketball manager picture made Beverly and I look like midgets, though.

The Regional track meet is only a few days away. Good luck, track boys!

Bicycling just wasn't made for sandy, windy days, was it Rod and Beverly?

The seniors got their donkeys they won for selling magazines. All the girls got one, and three of the boys. What are ya'll going to do with 'em, Robert Lee, Webster, and Jackie?

The basketball sweaters came in last week, and all the girls were pleasantly surprised. All of them fit, unless you want to talk to Connie about the sleeves of hers.

"YOUR CREDIT IS GOOD"

Service is No. 1 here at Collier Chevrolet-Olds

The service department is the most important part of an automobile agency. That's the conviction of Claud Collier of Collier Chevrolet-Olds and he is placing a lot of emphasis upon it. "We have the best equipped shop in Garza County," Collier said. "Our aim is to build it into the finest service department in West Texas. We've still got a ways to go, but we're working on it."

There's no doubt about the fact that Collier is "working on it."

D. G. (Dude) Robertson, his new service department manager, is one example of it. Robertson took over as manager April 1, coming to Post from Colorado City. He not only has spent almost a lifetime in service departments and 18 years as a service department manager, but he comes to Collier highly recommended.

Robertson, whose home originally was in Quanah, started with Chevrolet in 1936 and has been with General Motors all the way, and with Oldsmobile and Chevrolet almost all that stretch.

Dude was service department manager for the Chevrolet and Oldsmobile agency at Colorado City since 1955. He was service manager for Midwest Chevrolet at Graham for about 12 years, and during the war was employed by the Cadillac agency at San Antonio.

Starting on the grease rack, he worked his way up through the parts department, mechanic to service manager.

Dude is looking for suitable living quarters here for he and his wife. They have a married son in Hobbs and a married daughter in Roswell. The Robertsons are Methodists. But bringing in Dude as service

State Capital NEWS

By Vern Stanford

AUSTIN — Scandal has struck again in Texas. This time on the Railroad Commission.

Revelation by the Dallas Morning News that Commissioner William J. Murray had grossed some $200,000 from oil investments in a Throckmorton lease caused the commission to resign his post.

Question as to whether it was proper for a public official to make investments in an industry over which he exercised control, in whole or in part, Murray's answer was that he was engaged in the oil fields, was engaged in petroleum engineering and that it was the only business in which he had any practical experience.

He admitted his investments and stated that they were a matter of record, in his own name, and he had nothing to hide. He said that he resigned his post as commissioner because he felt that "harmful publicity" might mar his effectiveness.

Murray hinted that the investigation into his past investments al investigating committee. Normally one acts only between sessions of the Legislature.

Rep. Ben Jarvis of Tyler said Speaker Byron Tunnell is interested in fast action on the Kilpatrick resolution, which would give the investigating committee broad authority.

Rep. Horace Houston, Republican member from Dallas, opposed the resolution and asked for a postponement to study it. He said he once served on such a committee and "no good has come from general committee investigations."

Later Houston changed this statement and agreed that investigating committees do "throw a white light into some dark shadows."

APPROPRIATIONS — A record $3,100,000,000 spending program—the general appropriation for the next biennium — went to a conference committee following rejection by the house of Senate amendments.

Motion not to concur in Senate changes was made by Rep. W. S. Heatley of Paducah, chairman of the House Appropriations Committee.

MORE TAXES — Some $43,000,000 in additional revenue would be gained during the next two years by adoption of a House Revenue and Taxation Committee substitute for House Bill 106.

Rep. R. H. Cory of Victoria, chairman of the subcommittee that revised the proposed tax law to comply with Governor Connally's program, said the bill as now drawn would incorporate a one-year extension of the state franchise tax to April 30, 1965. This would net the state $11,200,000. Repeal of the exemption of outer clothing under $10 would get $20,400,000. Bringing motor vehicles under the sales tax would provide $6,100,000. Other minor changes would round up additional millions.

LENDING — All Texans were invited to appear and testify about the so-called "loan shark" legislation.

Enough Texans accepted to make it a three-hour session with the House Banks and Banking Committee. There were two major points of disagreement. One — the insurance provisions of Senate Bill 15 (passed by the Senate). And two — the maximum loan to be made for a company to fall under the act, thus he allowed to charge more than 100 per cent interest.

Witnesses representing the insurance companies generally protested that the new commissioner, to be called for under the act, would have too much power. Especially over rates.

On the maximum loan proposition, opinions varied widely. Bill specifies $1,500. Some witnesses would like to lower it to $300. Others thought it should be raised to $3,000 or more.

WOMEN'S RIGHTS — Legislation to provide equal rights for women is in this status: Senate Joint Resolution No. 2, which is what the women want, has passed the Senate. It was heard by the House Constitutional Amendments Committee and sent to a subcommittee.

If the resolution gets through the

One killed here in March wrecks

The Highway Patrol investigated two rural accidents in Garza County during March, according to Sgt. A. E. Roberts, patrol supervisor for this area.

These wrecks accounted for one person killed, one injured and an estimated property damage of $1,510.

The rural traffic accident summary for Garza County from January through March shows a total of six wrecks resulting in one person killed, four injured and an estimated property damage of $9,095.

with Dude Robertson or myself. There's no cost or obligation."

Collier pointed out if a car sold by the agency is serviced regularly in his service department, "we get to know that car and can allow the owner more for it at trade-in time."

"We give PDQ service," Collier declared. "Prompt, dependable and quality."

"All of our service technicians at different times are scheduled at company expense into manpower development schools where they are kept up to date on the latest techniques and development in such fields as air conditioning installation and repairs, tuneup and electrical, rear axle overhauls, etc.," Collier added.

Legislature, it will have cleared perhaps its biggest hurdle. Next step calls for passage of a constitutional amendment, by vote of the people. Amendments usually receive public approval.

However, even after that, all questions of women's rights would not be defined. A good bit of legislation still would be required.

Former Attorney General Will Wilson, in testimony before the House committee, said that if the amendment is passed, "The Legislature will have its work cut out for it in the next session."
