

2,000 fans cheer contestants of all ages in opening rodeo show

Event to continue through Saturday; over 300 compete

One of the most interesting and exciting opening nights of any rodeo here in several years was unraveled last night at Post Stampede arena before some 2,000 cheering fans.

Contestants ranging from under 12 years of age to seasoned performers roped and rode in the first combined senior-junior rodeo in the town's history—the Post Stampede and Southwestern Championship Junior Rodeo.

Two hours before the rodeo started, a colorful street parade—also one of the best here in several years—set the stage for the 13-event night show, the first of four. The rodeo will continue tonight, tomorrow night and Saturday night, with each performance set for 8 o'clock—15 minutes after the grand entry.

The sheriff's posse from neighboring Lynn County took first place in the riding group division of the parade, with Scurry County Sheriff's Posse second and the Dawson County Sheriff's Posse third.

Other out-of-town riding groups in the parade were Aull's Rough Riders from Lubbock, Petersburg Riding Club, Idalou Riding Club, O'Donnell Gauchos and the Scurry County Junior Sheriff's Posse.

An interesting float entered by Garza County Memorial Hospital took the $25 cash prize for first place in the float division, with second prize of $15 going to Jackson Bros. Food Locker, and third prize of $10 to Amity Study Club, presenting "Budding Beauties of 1963" from their beauty pageant held earlier in the year.

Lea Merri Cross, tiny daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sid Cross of Justiceburg, was picked by the judges as the "most typical young cowboy" in the parade and was presented a trophy following last night's grand entry.

As far as a name is concerned, the winner of the trophy for the "most typical young cowboy" in the parade is the big question mark of this year's rodeo. One was selected by the judges, but their only identification was that "he's a youngster from O'Donnell." They didn't know his name, nor did anyone in the rodeo judge's stand last night when it came time to present the parade trophies.

Introduced first following the grand entry was the 1963 Rodeo Queen, Miss Paula Helms, who rode out in a brilliant green and white costume to receive the crowd's plaudits. Runner-up in the queen contest was Mary Eubank.

Also introduced were the senior and junior rodeo officials, producer, pick-up men, etc., with the introductions being made by announcer Speck Lunceford of Dallas, working his first rodeo here.

The opening night show got off to a late start, with the first bareback bronc roaring out of the chute at 8:37, exactly 37 minutes behind the scheduled starting time. But from there on the show was fast and furious, with the last bull bucking out of the chute just before 10:30, giving the spectators the two-hour show rodeo officials had promised.

Many of those in the stands stayed in their seats for the after-show events, which were made necessary by this year's large number of contestants. Others found their way to the newly-enlarged dance slab just south of the arena, where music was being furnished by Don Allen and the Sunset Ramblers.

The dance band had helped add color to the street parade by playing from the back of a big truck in the center of Main Street while the parade was under way. Not all the riders stayed on their mounts and not all the ropers caught their calves, but all-in-all the contestants came out ahead of the stock. Adding spice to the various events was the liberal sprinkling of hometown boys and girls throughout the contests. Three Post youths, attempting bull rides for the first time, failed to stay on, but won the applause of the crowd for their efforts. They were Forrest Claborn and Gary Robinson in the senior bull riding and Lamar Jones in junior bull riding. Another Post boy, Billy Shumard, made a big effort in the junior bareback bronc riding, but failed to complete his ride on Dear John, one of the toughest broncs in the M&R Rodeo Co.'s string. The bull that bucked off Gary Robinson was No. 70, a 1,700-pounder that has never been ridden. City court fines July total $601

City court fines collected in July totaled $601, according to Police Chief Elton Corley's regular monthly report at Monday night's city council meeting.

The month was a relatively quiet one on the police front, Corley told the council. He said city police made only one arrest on July the Fourth.

There were two break-ins during the month, the first here in some time, Chief Corley said. He added that one of the break-ins had been solved and that police expected to clear up the next one "in a day or two." The break-ins were at the R. E. Cox Lumber Co. and the Tangerine Bowl.

Of the $601 collected in fines during July, $386 was paid by 18 persons on pleas of guilty to being drunk in a public place.

Others booked during the month and paying fines were one for fighting, two for throwing bottles on the street, three for indecent exposure and three for disturbing the peace.

Traffic violations accounted for only $63 of the $601 total. They included three fines for speeding and one each for no driver's license, running stop sign and speeding and running stop sign.

1963 Appaloosa event draws 98-entry field

The Grand Champion reining horse was shown by the Cee Bar Ranch of Abilene and the grand champion cutting horse by Pete Young of Wichita Falls.

Joker's Humdinger, a 1960 stallion, won grand champion honors in his class, and Sugar Hi-Spot was the grand champion mare.

Joker's Flying Star took grand champion honors in the cutting horse class, and Wendy C in the cutting horse class.

The reserve champion stallion was Pete Young's Wendy C, and the reserve champion mare was the Cee Bar Ranch of Comfort, Tex., was reserve champion mare.

Mr. Texas, shown by Bill Brewster of Abilene, took reserve champion honors for geldings, and Joker's Star B, owned by the Cee Bar Ranch for cutting horses.

A total of 98 horses from six states were entered, according to Oscar Gray, show chairman. States represented were Texas, Arkansas, Louisiana, Oklahoma, New Mexico and South Dakota.

Burglary attempt at United fails

Sheriff Fay Claborn reports that apparently was an unsuccessful burglary attempt at United Super Market early Sunday morning. A large rock was used to break the glass of a front window near the outside telephone booth. The windows are high and you have to send close to hit and break.

The sheriff theorizes that the would-be burglars intended to grab the telephone booth to make their store entry, but something frightened them away. The broken front glass was discovered when the store opened Sunday morning.

Large crowds attended the horse show throughout the day after judging got under way at 10 a. m. Weidon Johnson of Snyder was the judge, and Bobby Byrd was ringmaster.

The show chairman said he wishes to thank everyone who helped in any way to make this the best show in the event's history.

Claud Collier Jr. was the announcer for the show.

The complete results are as follows:

Rocket and Judy's broken into

Burglar nets $200 in two cafe 'jobs' here

Identical burglaries of Judy's Cafe and the Rocket Cafeteria early this morning netted around $200 cash for the intruder who was tracked by Sheriff Fay Claborn from the Rocket down behind the Mason Furniture Company where he apparently got into a car. What Police Chief Elton Corley described as "a small bar or a large screw driver" was used to pry open the back doors of both eating places, the cigaret machines inside, and the cash register at the Rocket.

An estimated $122 was taken from the cafeteria's cash register. Exact amounts taken from the cigaret machines could not be determined until a check is made by the firm servicing the machines.

Nothing else apparently was taken. The burglar was after cash. He left the cigaret.

The burglary of Judy's Cafe apparently took place between midnight, when Wesley Northcutt locked up the cafe, and about 2 a. m. when Norman Moriarty, on his way home after closing the La Fiesta Restaurant, stopped at Judy's Cafe to get some things and discovered the break-in.

Sheriff Claborn after questioning three about Judy's burglary in the early morning hours began a check of other cafes with Moriarty. They discovered the break-in of the Rocket at that time.

The burglar left by foot and was tracked down alleys to behind the furniture store before his trail was lost.

Sheriff transports boy to Gatesville

Richard Salinas, 15, whose parole was ordered revoked July 30 after the car he was driving struck and killed four-year-old Billy Martinez Jr., was returned Monday to the Gatesville State School for Boys by Sheriff L. E. (Fay) Claborn Jr. A charge of negligent homicide is pending in the case. The sheriff said Salinas will be returned here after he reaches his 17th birthday to face grand jury action on the charge.

The Salinas boy's parole was ordered revoked after a hearing before County Judge J. E. Parker, sitting as juvenile judge. The accident in which the Martinez child was killed occurred July 28.

Big sewer project accounts for increase over last year

Council tentatively okays $545,000 new year budget

The Post city council Monday night tentatively approved a new budget calling for $545,887.73 total expenditures and balance during the fiscal year that began July 1, 1963, and ends June 30, 1964.

The new budget figure is $95,902.48 more than total expenditures and balance for the preceding fiscal year, with the upcoming sewer extension project east of the railroad tracks responsible for practically all of the increase.

The council has set Aug. 19 as the date of a hearing on the new budget, and between Aug. 15 and the date of the hearing will officially approve it, either as submitted at Monday night's council meeting or in a revised form.

In other action at their regular August meeting Monday night, the council:

- (1) VOTED TO have the city attorney draw up two ordinances, one regulating and licensing public dance halls within the city and the other authorizing city police officers to make arrests without a warrant in public places;
- (2) Authorized purchase of new radio sending and receiving equipment for the volunteer fire department;
- (3) Voted to ask for bids on re-roofing of the two story section of the City Hall and Roy Maddox's residence at the city water field;
- (4) Discussed whether to ban the operation of pool halls within the city or to regulate, supervise, control and license them;
- (5) Voted to lease to the Post Archery Club the city property near the reservoir that the archery club is now using for a target range;
- (6) Authorized installation of a street light on Henry Street;
- (7) Reappointed Dr. A. C. Surman as city health officer;
- (8) Reappointed Jim Cornish, and A. Lee Ward to the Post Public Housing Authority;

White River writ of error refused

The Texas Supreme Court has refused a writ of error filed by Mrs. Aletta Walker in her injunction suit against the White River Municipal Water District on condemnation proceedings brought by the district against her to obtain the necessary land for the White River dam site.

In so doing, the state's highest court upheld the decision of the Civil Court of Appeals at Amarillo which threw Mrs. Walker's injunction suit out because it ruled the district court in which it was filed had no jurisdiction.

Mrs. Walker has 15 days to file a motion for rehearing to the supreme court.

This apparently sets the stage for the second round of the legal battle to condemn the lake site properties involved. That will be the hearing by jury in Crosby County court of appeals by Mrs. Walker, the Marvin Jones estate of Abilene, and Humble Oil Company from condemnation commission's award. Date of trial of these appeals has yet to be set.

New students in PHS to register next week

Those who will be new students in Post High School during the 1963-64 term are requested to register at the high school between 8 a. m. and 4 p. m. Monday through Friday, Aug. 12-16. Principal T. C. Clark said today. Those required to register and arrange their schedule during that time are only those students who have moved to Post and will be new students, the principal said.

STALLED AUTO IS RAMMED BY TRAIN

Lloyd W. Powell, 18, of Dallas and a male companion had a narrow escape last Friday night when Powell's automobile was struck by a freight train after stalling on the Fifth Street crossing.

The two youths, who were in Post for Saturday's Appaloosa Horse Show, left the automobile before the northbound train struck it and had time to remove suitcases and other belongings.

The train hit the stalled automobile just behind the rear door. The automobile, a nearly new one with only about 12,000 miles on it, was almost totally wrecked, according to City Policeman Otis G. Shepherd Jr., who investigated.

Shepherd said the car, which was headed west on Fifth St., stalled when the rear end transmission locked just as the vehicle was crossing the main track.

The train was going at a slow rate of speed when it hit the automobile, the investigating officer's report showed.

Don't water lawns!

Fight continuing against shortage

Please don't water your lawns! That's this week's request of city officials as they continue their battle against the prolonged local water shortage.

The call to turn off the lawn sprinklers went out Monday when the city was unable to fill the reservoir over the weekend.

Mayor Harold Lucas reported to The Dispatch Wednesday morning that due to cooperation from local residents the city "held its own" at the reservoir for the 24 hour period ending yesterday morning. "With everybody's continued cooperation we will make it through the week all right," Lucas commented.

The water level in the 14-foot deep reservoir was down 4 feet, 4 inches from the top yesterday morning.

The reservoir got down to the danger point Saturday when the water level fell to less than five feet and air almost got into the city lines—almost but not quite.

Mayor Lucas said that while the city is requesting that no lawns be watered, there is enough water to water trees and shrubbery.

The prolonged dry, hot weather has been a contributing factor to the problem. In past summers, frequent showers were enough to slow the need for heavy lawn watering. But there has been no rainfall here since the heavy June deluges to help the local water situation. Fortunately fire alarms this week were small ones, not requiring any heavy water usage.

If local weather gets by four nights of the combined rodeo and, two straight "rain ads" by Claud Collier (another hopeful one is back in this week), without providing some rain the summer drought may never end. Commented Claud the other day, "Maybe we'll have to go see that Tulsa rainmaker." You probably noted they're raising a big cash purse down at San Angelo to entice that rainmaker to West Texas.

Barry Thompson certainly is the most energetic fellow in town this sizzling summer. The new school superintendent has completed his local teaching staff after roaming between 5,700 and 5,900 miles over these states (Texas, Oklahoma and Arkansas) to interview a total of 87 applicants. That is what you call really working at the job.

Sombody asked us the other day what Barry looked like. We told him he's the guy who was right by you but is a block down the street before you can turn around. What amazes us is that he can rush in at 10 minutes to 5 p. m. to explain some new project looking just as fresh as we used to feel when we got up in the morning—last spring.

Barry has so many new and fresh ideas about curriculum that we can hardly wait for school to start next month. There is going to be a lot of talk come this September among students and parents that won't be football.

Over on page 3 of today's Dispatch you'll note the first of a series of ads urging local folks to make Post their back to school shopping headquarters. The series is sponsored by a group of local merchants who are striving hard to please you. As we start the fall buying season let's remember the shopping at home in Post.

You'll note that Johnny Hopkins at the Tower Theatre is having a Ladies Night tonight and tomorrow night, providing the lady is a Dispatch reader. On page 9 at the top of the Tower ad you ladies will find a coupon good for one free admission either night. Just clip it out and bring it along. Of course Johnny hopes you will let hubby come too and not have to stay home with the kids. Bring the whole family.

Let's get 'on the move' again

Let's get Post "on the move" again. That, as The Dispatch sees it, is our most pressing community need today.

In saying this we do not mean our various units of local government, their boards and commissions, the Chamber of Commerce, and our civic clubs have come to a standstill. They haven't. We are making progress on all these fronts.

What we mean by "on the move" is that collective community desire to plan, cooperate, and work together. Like most smaller communities, we need to make an extra effort to improve our economic situation.

This "extra effort" is needed now. Over the summer, this economic front has not been dead. Plans are under consideration for the Chamber of Commerce to establish a permanent board of industrial development—call it any name you like—to organize and harness community leadership and capabilities to work on a year-around basis in an effort to expand local industry and seek additional industry.

The plan can work—and work well. But first, we need to feel the sense of urgency. No town can stand still—and survive. It must be constantly planning and working for future growth.

Right now, we aren't organized to develop economic growth. The White River dam project is near completion. The city's water problem soon will be permanently solved. We need to take this new asset and develop it.

First, and foremost, we need to encourage and promote the industry we already have. That is the first big step into our future. And here, we are happy to report, we have made some important strides. We have established with Burlington Industries in the last year a closer bond of understanding between community and our Postex Mills. Community representatives and our mayor have conferred with Burlington officials over that industry's problems. We understand their problems more fully, and they more fully understand ours.

This is good. But the bonds of understanding need to be explored much farther and these bonds need to be broadened. From such mutual understanding and cooperation lies Post's greatest hope for industrial expansion.

There certainly is an excellent opportunity. We need to develop it together. The Dispatch is ready to help any project would receive the community's full support.

Then there is the question of what else we can do to bring to Post if we made the industry hunting is no simple business. It's not only hard, but complicated. It calls for the best efforts in community-wide cooperation and effort.

No one can foresee with any accuracy what the future holds for Post. We do not know the industrial opportunities we may find in the next five years. But we do know that we can be better prepared to work them out, once uncovered, if we have the organization, the unified community support, and the dedicated efforts of our leaders properly harnessed to the task.

A permanent board of industrial development organized within the framework of our own Chamber of Commerce, appears to be the best answer.

Let's get started. The Dispatch feels a great sense of urgency for getting under way. The time is now to get Post "on the move".—JC

Airport problem here, too

Fort Worth and Dallas, whose newspapers have front-paged the fact that they are fighting bitterly over designation of former Carter Field as a regional airport for the two cities, aren't the only places with an airport problem.

On a much smaller scale, but comparatively just as important, Post has an airport problem of its own.

Morrow Field, just north of town on the Ralls farm-to-market road, has served the purpose here for a number of years through its lease by two local flyers. Now, however, one of these flyers has moved away and the other one has met with the city council to inform them he cannot afford to maintain Morrow Field itself and cannot be responsible for its maintenance.

This flyer met with the council at its regular July meeting to see if the city was interested in some kind of municipal airport. The city was, and Mayor Harold Lucas appointed a committee of three councilmen to look into the problem of finding a new and better location for an airport. At the August council meeting, an account of it. If this three-man committee submits a report at the August council meeting, an account will appear in today's Dispatch news columns, since The Dispatch editorials are written on Friday preceding the Monday night council meeting.

It is hoped that a favorable report will have been submitted at the meeting. The city needs to open an airport of its own, as a number of surrounding towns have done.

It was explained to the council that the city could operate Morrow Field as an "interim" field until a better location is found. The council also was told that the county commissioners' court had promised to make county equipment available to help re-grade Morrow Field if the city is interested in keeping it open while looking for another airport site.

There isn't too much time left for the city to do something if it intends to establish an airport. From the standpoint of federal regulations, it takes time to close down a field, and if it comes to that, the present lone lessee of Morrow Field needs a decision soon.—CD

Here's reminder from Mr. Zip

Now that we've all become social security numbers to the Internal Revenue and Zip numbers to the post office, we are doubtless entering the hey-day of people-who-can't-remember-names—when we will just be called "hey" by people-who-can't-remember-numbers.

On the more serious side, Postmaster Harold Voss reminds post office patrons to continue using Zip Code numbers on all mail.

Post's Zip Code number is 79336. The new five-digit addressing code identifies every community or delivery station in the nation at a glance. It is designed to enable the mail to be sent directly to one of 553 sectional distribution centers.

Postmaster Voss has urged post office customers to use the Zip Code on return addresses on all pieces of mail and to inform all correspondents of the Zip Code.

Postmaster General J. Edward Day pointed out in his initial announcement of the new system that under the old city-and-state addressing system in use since Ben Franklin's time, addresses had to be read as many as 10 times by various employees.

This explanation has been made and no doubt will be made many times in the coming months, but for the record, here is how the Zip Code works:

For this delivery area, the number is 79336. The number 7 designates one of the 10 national service or geographical areas, the numbers 9 and 3 identify the service area subdivision and major city. In this case Lubbock, and 5 and 6 identify the station from which mail to your address is delivered.

All this means, perhaps, THAT day is coming; that day when all post offices are automated so that there can be no human error in sorting mail—when the post office makes no errors in assigning numbers and handling address changes of those who move—and when everyone writes us knows our number and gets it right.—CD

Happy Birthday Mr. Hoover!

The oldest of our three living ex-presidents Herbert Hoover, will be 89 years old Saturday, Aug. 10. It is a ripe age—and one can only hope that the 31st President of the United States will be with us for many years to come.

Few men have done so much for the world or seen so much of it as Mr. Hoover. He has known triumph and tragedy, victory and defeat, exaltation and despair. In private life and in public, whatever the destinies of the moment, he has gone resolutely ahead as his conscience and his heart and intellect directed. And he has emerged a wise and mellow man, whose friendships and loyalties are beyond numbering.

It is for his work on behalf of the hungry, the dispossessed and the downtrodden that Herbert Hoover will be remembered in history. Through wars and revolutions his was the guiding hand that saved millions from misery, pestilence, starvation and death.

Happy birthday, Herbert Hoover. The civilized world will echo that fine old greeting.—CD

What our contemporaries are saying

THERE ARE SOME WHO CARE

A friend, writing of such things a few weeks ago, said that if you take two towns of equal size and facilities, there is one factor that will make one grow and prosper while the other withers away.

The factor is people who care.

There may be only a dozen of them, but they will improve the lives of a thousand neighbors just by living there.

They care about everything that touches the community. They care if windows are clean and sidewalks swept, if lawns are green and streets are clean.

They worry about recreation for youngsters, and whether or not teachers can teach.

They want our laws enforced impartially. They want public officials to be men and women of whom we can be proud.

They attend public meetings and carry petitions and write letters and jangle the phone.

They deplore garbage untended and junk abandoned in unsightly yards. They volunteer while others scoff.

They care about trees and churches, about sidewalks and streets, they care about the people who use these things each day. We fear that people who care do not lead the carefree lives of their neighbors. Sometimes they are objects of ridicule for their car-thrashing, free-wheeling fellows.

But without them a community can soon reach the level of the biggest slob who dwells there.

They annoy us with ideas, good us to work, but we're thankful there are still a few who care in Olney.—The Olney Enterprise.

WITH THE REGISTRATION Law to be voted on in Texas on Nov. 9, 1963, what about the poll tax? I asked that question of County Tax Assessor-Collector T. H. Tipton, who, in his usual accommodating manner, gave me an answer.

Mr. Tipton said that beginning Oct. 1 — which is less than two months away — poll tax receipts will be issued through Nov. 9, the date of the election, at $1.75 each, the same as in the past. If the Registration Law passes on Nov. 9, then registration receipts will be issued at 25 cents each.

THOSE OF US who purchase a poll tax before Nov. 9 will not be entitled to a refund if the Registration Law passes.

Mr. Tipton continued by saying that all persons entitled to an exemption certificate due to under age or 21 years of age, will be able to secure this exemption up to Nov. 9. But if the law passes then these "youngsters" will have to register at a cost of 25 cents. No one over 60 years of age before or after Nov. 9, 1963, will be required to get an exemption in Garza County.

THOSE OF US who purchased a poll tax before Nov. 9 will be fully registered even though we may have a different procedure of registration after the Nov. 9 election.

Just a suggestion: This may be the last time you can get a poll tax receipt and you may want one for a souvenir.

THE DISPATCH has just received word from the Texas Highway Department that a Texas Tourist Marker has been authorized for erection in Garza County to commemorate the Llano Estacado, that mesa-like area that is one of the world's most perfect plains regions. Although, perhaps, incorrect technically, referring to the Llano Estacado as the "caprock" might let more of our readers know what the marker is going to mark.

Anyway, this aluminum tourist marker is to be erected before the end of the year, and will be placed in a safety rest area (roadside park) or in a turnout along the highway for the convenience of the traveling public. The legend on the marker commemorating the Llano Estacado will be permanently etched in metal.

CREDIT IS DUE the Garza County Historical Society for this Texas Tourist Marker being designated for the county. Since the state-wide historical program started some two years ago, Mrs. A. C. Surman, Garza County chairman, and members of her hard-working committee have secured four Medallions and one marker for the county.

SOME INDIVIDUALS and groups have been going overboard trying to invent or revive some word game to replace Tom Swiflies, the word game that didn't take long to fall on the public.

One of the games briefly revived in Guiltline, a game in which one makes new words by chopping off the first letters of longer words. For instance: astray — stray — tray — ray.

WELL, ONE OF my friends says the Guiltline game is as old as the hills. Indeed, he says Ben Franklin told the story of an English woman who loved tea but decided to break the habit. So she chopped away at the word "habit" itself.

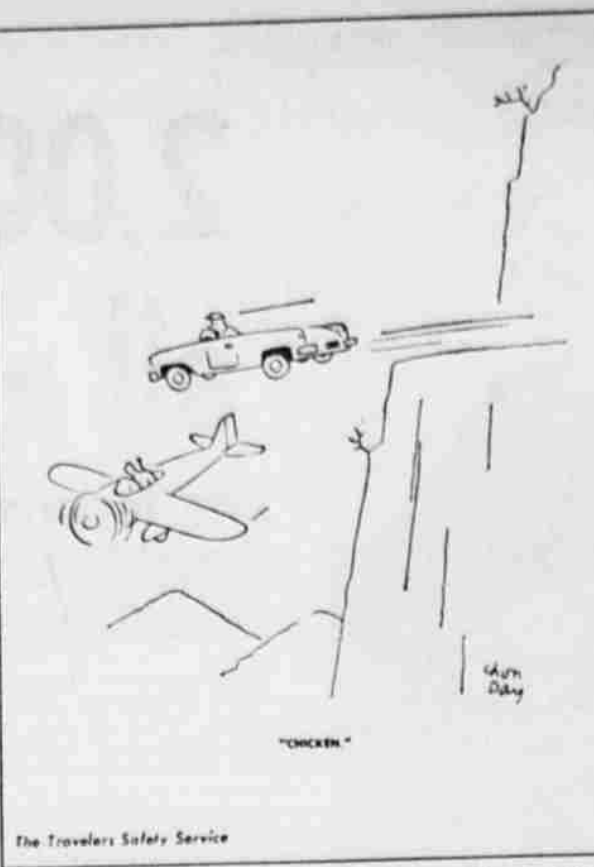

She removed the H — but still had "abit". So off went the "a" but alas, she still had a "bit". The poor woman was no better off when she removed the B; she still had "it". In despair, now, she pulled off the I. No luck. She still had the thing, so she continued to drink what was left — the T.

HOW TO SUCCEED, if you think it's worthwhile: Hitch your wagon to a star, put your shoulder to the wheel, keep an ear to the ground and watch the handwriting on the wall.

All the colorful horse names are not confined to racing steeds. Show horses also have some brilliant cognomens. I learned at Saturday's Apolooose Horse Show. Some of the more colorful named horses were: Inca Princess C, Son of Snowcap, Stormy Weather, Abdul's Bold Bar, Wolf Whistle Kiowa, Beaver's Holiday, Pistol Pete, Joker's Humdinger, Sunday Pants, High Spot's Cocoa, M i s s Kickapoo, Joker's Flying Star, Romeo Go, Zip's Cutup and O s a g e Flash.

BUT, JUST TO give race horses their just dues, some of those winning, placing or showing at Ruitoso Downs Saturday were: Chic Trix, Honey's Streak, Traveler's Lady Music Note, Lightning War, Sharp Wit, True Believer, Divine Doll and Casey Calhoun.

Post school superintendent attends Sul Ross State reading conference

Barry B. Thompson, superintendent of schools, returned last Friday from the 15th annual reading conference held July 28-31 at Sul Ross State College in Alpine.

The conference theme was "Reading for Knowledge and Pleasure," with 350 persons from throughout Texas attending. The conference, sponsored by the Texas Association for the Improvement of Reading, featured Dr. William Gordon of Syracuse University, Helen Kyle of the University of Colorado, and Dr. Bill Martin, author and editor of New York City. Dr. Sheldon, author of 15 books and over 100 articles for professional journals, spoke on the subjects of "Major Issues in American Reading Instruction," "The Teacher's Role in the Diagnosis of Reading Problems," and "Developing Comprehension in the Middle Grades."

Dr. Sheldon said he had not met a child in his 20 years of clinical work that could not be taught to read. He emphasized that reading difficulties prevented many children from high school graduation.

Dr. Kyle, internationally known reading consultant, spoke on the importance of individualizing reading instruction. She presented a demonstration using logic in teaching reading.

Dr. Martin spoke on "Children Like to Write," "Techniques in Promoting Reading Readiness," and "Supplementary Reading Instruction." He emphasized the importance of teaching creative writing and critical thinking. Dr. Martin asserted that poetry has a place in the language arts program.

Supt. Thompson attended the conference to obtain research information concerning the improvement of the reading program in the Post Public Schools. A number of school districts are now offering developmental reading programs during the summer months. The possibility of such a course for the children of the Post schools will be explored by the faculty during the coming school year.

The superintendent's family accompanied him to the conference and visited with the James Scuddy family in Alpine. Mr. Scuddy is associate professor of biology at Sul Ross State. The entire Thompson family visited the new planetarium and viewed a demonstration in the field of astronomy.

The corps will appear during the first week of the State Fair, giving daily concerts and appearing in the nightly "Stars and Stripes Parade." Founded in 1888, the group embodies the Spirit of '76 and keeps alive the military fife and drum tradition handed down unbroken from the days of Lexington, Concord and George Washington's Continental Army.

Operation BIG program has support of Farmers Home Administration

"The Operation BIG Program has the full support of the Farmers Home Administration," was the statement made by L. J. Cappleman, state director of the FHA, at a recent meeting. He said, "The Farmers Home Administration has over $50,000,000 in loans to farmers in 51 counties that make up the Operation BIG area. During fiscal 1963 the FHA has made over 3,000 loans to farmers in this area for a total of over $15,000,000."

"For instance," Cappleman said, "about 950 farmers who use FHA credit are growing about 100,000 acres in cotton. About 82,000 acres will be fertilized and 99,500 acres will be protected by the insect control program advocated by FHA. They have borrowed $487,000 for fertilizer and $610,000 for insecticides. About 630 of these farmers are growing 32,000 acres of grain sorghum, needing $161,000 for fertilizer. In order for the farmers to grow 14,000 acres of wheat, FHA loaned them $67,000 for fertilizer. Over 900 farmers wanted to improve 26,000 acres of old pasture and plant 10,000 acres in coastal bermuda grass, so FHA loaned them $205,000 for fertilizer.

Beef cattle is a growing farm enterprise in the Operation BIG area, and 1,254 farmers with herds of 10 head or over already have 35,000 head. FHA has loaned some 540 farmers $1,552,000 to buy 9,500 head of cows and 326 improved beef bulls."

Cappleman, in commenting on dairying in the 51 counties, said, "FHA is helping 371 dairymen with an average herd of 30 cows. The 1962 average production of these herds was 8,086 pounds of milk per cow." The 1962 estimated Texas state average milk production was 5,610 pounds per cow and this was the highest annual Texas state average of record.

The FHA makes several different type loans, such as Farm Ownership, Rural Housing, etc., where the payments are distributed over a period of years; and Cappleman said, "The balance owed FHA on loans in the BIG area as of December, 1962, was about $35,000,000. In addition to the above, the FHA has loaned in 1963 $1,740,000 to 107 farmers to either buy a family farm or enlarge their present small farm. Also 290 persons borrowed $2,812,000 to build rural homes under the Rural Housing Program.

making it possible for over 3,200 users to have good water," he said, "as there are 34 of these associations operating in this area and the FHA has loaned them $3,649,000 so they could get this water. The associations have to meet the standards of the Texas Public Health Department."

This amount of money released in this area has helped the overall economy of each community, town or county, as these farmers use their money to pay school taxes, church dues, and spend it with the businessmen, merchants, etc., in this area. Reputable authorities have said that a dollar such as this would turn over on an average of five to seven times before leaving a community. This means a 75 to 150 million dollar impact on the economy in this area.

It's My Turn ...

—By MRS. C.

When you all read this the Cs will be long gone—off on a big newspaper weekend down Abilene way. The nicest thing about newspaper conventions is that they always start on Thursday, so a long weekend is always assured. This is a West Texas Press meeting we are going to, so will receive presidential treatment and I'm not one to sneer at that.

The Misses Cs as usual are holding down the home front—nothing could drag them out of town during the big rodeo. We're as prepared for that doings as possible. By that I mean that all the darts and tucks have been taken in the cowboy shirts and the Levi's shrunk to the nth degree. I'll never understand why Mr. Levi Strauss couldn't make his pants to fit rather than all this big gamble in the washing machine. Think of the mothers that must hate him.

Since we're on rodeos I heard a cute bit that you'll enjoy. Remember the Eddie Stewarts? Eddie was a cowboy in these here parts and Joan worked at the Chamber of Commerce office after doing a stint at the Post Dispatch. Eddie is now cowhanding up near Canadian and Joan is being a housewife and mother (a new one at that) the last I heard. Eddie is quite a rodeo contestant and follower and as his first born is a daughter he is not letting that stand in the way of his children following in his footsteps.

Rather recently he worked out with daughter Kelly, who is all of five years old, so he could enter her in a children's rodeo to get the ribbon off a goat's tail. What did they work with? The family dog of course. The way we hear it, Eddie worked for hours teaching Kelly to run get the ribbon off the dog's tail. And it paid off—Kelly won third place in her first rodeo.

I hope the dog got an extra nice bone.

I hear tell some of the "young" men playing softball these days are finding out that they are not so young after all. I hear reports that climbing out of bed the morning after is not just real easy and a few football knees and other injuries are showing up again. That's a sad time of life when one has to admit that the years are piling up and you're not in complete control. Ah, sweet youth.

I'm taking a chance on our water rates being raised with this next one. Our new acting City Supt. told me recently when I was complaining about the heat that as long as he was in his office that was no problem. Eddie said the ladies at the city hall kept the air-conditioner turned down pretty low—so low in fact that he had to star wearing shoes instead of his customary summer sandals. There he was in the middle of all this torrid heat with cold feet. Doesn't that sound good?

A woman who was sadly behind with the family ironing finally caught up and asked her husband how he liked having a choice of shirts to choose from in the morning instead of having to take the only one that had been ironed. His answer: "Oh, I don't know—decisions, decisions, decision—it was nice not to have to start out the day with one."

The beer companies that are putting out the new self-opening cans are missing a good bet on not fastening a band-aid to each one.

The reason I'm fitting hiker, hither and yon tonight is because I just keep dreaming of all that good late sleeping and many hours whiled away at the swimming pool. I'm not thinking at all of the five pounds that I'll gain (I always do) or the hours that I have high heels on. I'm just looking forward to being the president's wife for one last gorgeous fling before we become one of the common herd again.

I hope you all have a nice weekend too, but I'm not going to worry about it.

Dallas chapel scene of wedding of Miss Taylor, Mr Glasscock

Wedding vows were read for Miss Jo Fern Taylor and Gary DeLaune Glasscock, Saturday, Aug. 3, in the Craig Chapel of Gaston Avenue Baptist Church in Dallas.

The ceremony took place at 7 o'clock in the evening by candlelight before an altar banked with greenery. Dr. Harold G. Basden officiated.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Joe B. Taylor of Post, and Mrs. N. I. Glasscock and the late Mr. Glasscock of Oklahoma City, Okla.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a full-length gown fashioned with a Chantilly lace bodice over peau de soie, and an over-skirt of silk organza and lace falling into a chapel train. The long sleeves extended to petal points over the hands. The three-tiered veil of tulle fell from a pill box hat covered with lace and seed pearls. The bride carried white orchids and carnations atop a white Bible.

Miss Charlotte Taylor and Mickie Taylor, sisters of the bride, served as maid of honor and bridesmaid, respectively. They wore street-length dresses of pink peau de soie featuring full skirts. Their headpieces were of pink tulle and peau de soie trimmed with a cabbage rose. They carried bouquets of white lilies tied with pink ribbons.

Dr. N. D. Glasscock of Albuquerque, N. M., served his brother as best man.

A reception followed in the church. The lace cloth covered table was centered with an arrangement of lilies and pink carnations and held the five-tiered wedding cake.

'Yellow Rose of Texas' is theme at Guides' breakfast

The "Yellow Rose of Texas" was the theme carried out at the breakfast for Miss Marie Pereira of Rio De Janeiro and Miss Ana Martins of Salvador, Girl Guides from Brazil, who were in Post Tuesday through Thursday.

The Woman's Culture Club was the host organization for the breakfast held at Levi's Dining Room at 7:30 Tuesday morning.

The theme was carried out in the centerpiece on the head table. A styrofoam map of Texas was surrounded with an arrangement of yellow roses and marigolds with a yellow rose marking Post's location. Gifts to the girls from the club were souvenir sterling silver spoons wrapped in yellow paper with a tiny styrofoam map of Texas standing upright on them.

Guests and members were registered by Mrs. Louise Dietrich. The registering table held a burnished corner bowl holding the six flags of Texas and one yellow rose.

Breakfast of tomato juice, bacon, scrambled eggs, fried potatoes, toast and coffee were served to the 38 present after the invocation given by Mrs. M. J. Malouf.

Mrs. Katharine Trammell, Post Neighborhood Chairman, presided. A girls sextet consisting of Cheryl Martin, Cerratha Jones, Margie Harrison, Linda McMahon, Linda Altman and Susan Ramsey furnished entertainment. The sextet sang "Yellow Rose of Texas", "The Eyes of Texas" and "Al De La".

Misses Pereira and Martins then showed and narrated slides of their country.

An interview with the girls following the breakfast showed that young trees become particularly susceptible to damage by pests during the hotter and drier parts of the summer. Trees set out last spring should be watched closely for damage from grasshoppers and spider mites as the summer lengthens.

each could speak Portuguese, English, French and Miss Martins had studied Spanish. Both girls come from large families and when asked about dating customs said that girls began to date at about 15 or 16 but the dates were chaperoned by their parents. They also commented that here girls were more familiar with boys. They said that you did not talk to boys unless you knew them well and here everyone talks to everyone.

The girls were guests of the Rotary Club Tuesday at noon where they showed their slides and also at the Lions Club meeting Tuesday night.

Old schoolmates are reunited at party in Lubbock

Douglas Buchanan and Mrs. Beulah K. Bird, both of Post, were in Lubbock Sunday to attend a party for former schoolmates of Dickens County.

Hostesses for the party were three nieces of Mr. Buchanan and Mrs. Bird. They were Mrs. Linda Beadle and Mrs. Margie Carpenter, both of Lubbock, and Mrs. Wanda Steele of Tulsa.

The three hostesses are the daughters of Mrs. Emma Buchanan Russell, Washington, who was present for the occasion. She attended the Dickens County schools from 1895 to 1906. Mr. Buchanan and Mrs. Bird are Mrs. Russell's brother and sister. Another brother, Albert Buchanan of Roswell, N. M., also was present.

The speaker was Judge J. B. Cotten Sr. of Senegaves, who discussed exploits of early-day ranchmen and traced the histories of several South Plains towns which had served as county seats.

The party was held in Mrs. Beadle's home with about 50 persons attending.

He Helped Me See Life Through . . .

THE EYES OF GOD

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . .
 ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake, (2) For his children's sake, (3) For the sake of his community and nation, (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

I was a little girl, then. The pews at our church were rough wooden benches, and my feet wouldn't reach the floor.

But, as though it were yesterday, I remember his sermon. About a woman who poured oil on the feet of Jesus. Some people said this was a wasteful thing to do. The oil was expensive; the money might have been given to the poor . . . But Jesus wasn't angry with the woman!

"In the eyes of God," our old minister said, "the most precious treasure is the love in a human heart."

No single thought has influenced my life more than that one. Most of my happiness — all of my strength when sorrows come — have been somehow entwined with that simple truth. I shudder at times to think; what if that day I had not been there?

A sermon, a prayer, a Bible passage does not touch the same chord in every heart. But as you seek each Sunday to see life through the eyes of God, there will come mighty visions stirring the depths of your soul.

James A. Michener's 'Caravans' is new Book-of-the-Month Club choice

CARAVANS. By James A. Michener. Published by Random House, Inc. 352 pp. Ret. Price: $5.95. "Caravans," James A. Michener's first novel since "Hawaii," is the August Selection of the Book-of-the-Month Club. Mr. Michener has long been fascinated by the adventures of Americans far from home—in the Pacific, in Korea, in Japan. Now he tells a story of the search for a footloose Bryn Mawr girl who has disappeared in the wilds of Afghanistan.

Her name is Ellen Jaspar. The State Department sends a young attaché, Mark Miller, in search of her. Mark knows Afghanistan well and calls it "one of the world's great cauldrons." It is a forbidding land, mountainous, parched, bleak, torn by feuds and wars. Rarely visited by travelers even in the 20th century, it is separated from the rest of the world by arid streets of the Middle East, by the Soviet Union and by the Indian sub-continent. The people are Moslems, but say they are of the tribe of the Beni-Israel—descendants, that is, of the Hebrews who were carried away by Nebuchadnezzar. The Afghan way of life, as Mr. Michener's novel describes it, is not unlike that of Old Testament tribes. The adulterous Afghan woman, for example, is punished by being dragged forth, tied to a stake in a public place, and stoned screaming to death.

Ellen Jaspar has come to Afghanistan as the wife of a handsome, cosmopolitan Afghan engineer she met while he was studying in the United States. But the majority of her husband's people, she soon learns, are quite unlike him. Many are nomads—simple herdsmen and wanderers who follow their flocks over a thousand-mile range in search of pasture and watering places. These primitive Afghans indeed resemble the ancient tribesmen of Israel, who dwell in skin tents and thought of little else but their flocks and the One God.

Does he find her? He does. Does he succeed in persuading her to return? "Well," says Gilbert Highet in his report on the novel to Club members, "Caravans is a fine story ending in that eternal dream called Lost Horizon."

Mr. Michener spent about three months in Afghanistan in 1955, traveling to the remotest parts of the country. "Caravans" is based in part on material he gathered during his stay there.

Born in New York City in 1907, Mr. Michener was brought up in rural Bucks County, Pennsylvania. After graduation from Swarthmore College, he spent a dozen years or so as a teacher of English and of history. Later he worked as a textbook editor for a New York publishing house.

His first book, "Tales of the South Pacific," which became the Pulitzer Prize novel of 1948, grew out of his Navy experiences in the Pacific during World War II. Such later books as "The Bridges at Toko-ri," "Sayonara," and "The Floating World," reflect his interest in Japanese art and culture.

Mr. Michener is at present in Israel, planning a book on that country. "It will not be a book about the winning of Israeli independence," he explains, "for others can do that better than I. The fact that I have lived so long and so amiably among the Muslims who surround Israel gives me a somewhat different point of view from that of the usual hasty visitor. I hope to find a theme of some size that will permit me to use what I already know."

SCHOOL BEGINNERS

When the first school bell rings this September there will be 264,783 six-year-old children entering school for the first time in Texas, according to estimated enrollment figures compiled by the Texas Education Agency.

In addition to the million-and-one chores that must be performed in getting the youngster ready for school—new shoes, clothes, health examination—most school districts require proof of age for beginning students. A certified copy of a birth certificate is usually requested.

Anticipating this, the Records and Statistics Section of the Texas State Department of Health is readying itself for the onslaught of requests for such copies that comes pouring in during the middle and late summer.

The problem is, too many parents wait until the last moment before requesting their copy.

Because of this, a temporary increase in staff is necessary. It takes a sizable staff just to open the thousands of letters received daily, let alone search out the requested certificate, remove it from the thick volume, photograph it or make a certified copy, mail it out, and then return the original certificate to its proper place.

Years of experience have eliminated nearly every bottleneck. The operation is smooth and fast. Usually, the copy is mailed within a day or two after the request is received.

However, one serious bottleneck still exists—persons who insist upon waiting until the last few days before school begins to mail in their request.

In recent years the last minute rush hasn't been quite so bad, but it is still a serious problem. Requests should be sent in as soon as possible. The State Health Department fee for certificate is $1.50.

Certified copies can also be obtained from county clerks and local registrars for a similar fee.

Most important aid for speedy service — aside from getting requests in early—is complete and correct information.

Parents should indicate the child's name, his place of birth, date of birth, and the parent's name (including the mother's maiden name.)

VFW Auxiliary again to hold essay contest

The Ladies Auxiliary to the Veterans of Foreign Wars has announced the opening of its 29th annual National High School Writing Contest. The topic will be "The Foreign Student in America—an Opportunity for Friendship."

The writing contest, first started in 1935, is intended to put before the student some problems of patriotism, citizenship or similar topic about which he must study and learn in order to write the essay.

Students in all public, private and parochial high schools are eligible to enter the contest. National prizes are: First, $1,000 cash; second, $500; third, $250; fourth, $100, and gold medals and 20 other cash awards for honorable mention.

Rules on the 1963-64 contest may be obtained from local Auxiliary units or by writing to Contest Department, VFW Auxiliary, 406 West 34th St., Kansas City 11, Mo.

Subject to board approval

Faculty complete for school term

Barring last-minute resignations, the faculty has been completed for the 1963-64 school year. Supt. Barry B. Thompson said today.

The faculty has been completed with the employment last week of two teachers, both subject to board approval, the superintendent said.

The two new teachers are Miss Mary Lee Stockton to teach girls' physical education and coach high school girls' basketball, and Dudley Knox Jr. to teach social studies in the junior high school.

Miss Stockton is a graduate of Texas A&I College, Kingsville, and has a major in health and physical education with a minor in history. She taught P. E. and coached girls' basketball at Premont, Tex., last year, where her basketball team won the district championship and finished with a 24-10 record. The previous year the team had won only five games. Miss Stockton, who comes to Post highly recommended as an outstanding P. E. teacher, will replace Van Kountz, who resigned after two years as high school girls' basketball coach and teacher in junior high school.

Knox, the new junior high social studies teacher, holds a B. S. degree from Texas Christian University with a major in social studies and English. He is a native of Grand Prairie and has no previous experience. This summer, he has been performing in the Six Flags' Southwest Conference Review. Knox replaces Miss Betty Chambers, who resigned to do graduate work.

"I feel that quality people have been obtained to fill the existing vacancies," Supt. Thompson said. The superintendent has traveled nearly 5,000 miles and has interviewed 80 candidates this summer in filling the faculty vacancies.

All school personnel will report Aug. 28 for the In-Service Workshop.

City council—

190.25, an increase of about $1,000 over the $91,161.80 total for the fiscal year just ended.

THE BEGINNING balance listed in the new budget is $139,452.48 as compared with a beginning balance of $118,711.06 for the previous year.

The new budget shows total expenditures of $389,345, as compared with total expenditures of $310,532.77 for the last fiscal year.

In the water and sewer fund of the new budget is where the increase shows up, with $85,000 listed for sewer warrants to finance the sewer extension project. Otherwise, the budget is about the same as last year's, the auditor pointed out.

The proposal to draw up an ordinance licensing public dance halls was discussed at length before the council voted to have the proposed measure drawn up.

POLICE CHIEF Elton Corley told the council that it is "next to impossible" to regulate the dance halls or to keep order in them without the restrictions that would be imposed by a city license.

A $15 yearly dance hall license fee was tentatively decided upon. The police chief told the council that ten places coming under the heading of public dance halls are being operated within the city limits and that seven of them operate every weekday night.

Chief Corley told the council that an ordinance giving him and his men the right to make arrests without warrants in public places would make for more efficient law enforcement.

City Attorney Carleton P. Webb explained to the council that there is a state law against making arrests without a warrant for gambling, but that the state gives the cities the right to pass laws of their own providing for gambling arrests without a warrant.

THE PROPOSAL to pass an ordinance calling for licensing and regulation of pool halls within the city was tabled by the councilmen pending a further study by them of the need of such a measure.

Separate bids will be received by the council on the re-roofing of the two-story section of the city hall and the residence of city water works employe Roy Maddox. Both roofs are in "poor condition," the councilmen were told. Since the city hall roof has been re-capped "four or five" times already, it was decided to have a completely new re-roofing job done. The estimated cost is $850, with a 10-year workmanship guarantee.

The new radio equipment to be purchased for the fire department is necessary because of a frequency change going into effect Oct. 1 of this year.

The equipment, costing approximately $1,575, including installation, will include two mobile units, an antenna and a base station to be set up in the fire station.

THE FREQUENCY change is being made, the mayor explained to standardize all fire departments on the same frequency. The present fire department hook-up here is with the city police station.

The Post Archery Club had requested the one-year option lease the council voted to draw up for them. The lease is needed, club officials explained, so that insurance regulations can be complied with.

Cornish and Ward were reappointed to the public housing authority here upon the recommendation of Luther Harper, housing authority supervisor.

Mayor Lucas explained in appointing each of the councilmen to a different city department project for the ensuing year that he felt it would enable them to become better acquainted with the operation of the city government.

THE WATER AND sanitation departments were assigned as the project for Councilmen Bob Collier and Arnold Parrish: streets, alleys and cemetery for J. B. Potts and W. S. Duckworth, and administration for Lucas and Wesley Scott.

In a brief report on the airport project, Councilman Potts and Parrish indicated that no appreciable headway had been made toward locating a site since the July council meeting.

Potts said he had talked to groups who agreed that an airport is needed here to replace the privately leased Morrow Field, which is to be closed down as an airport.

Potts and Parrish were appointed by the mayor to an airport study committee after Victor Hudson, local flyer and one of the two who had leased Morrow Field, appeared before the council to see if the city was interested in establishment of some kind of a municipal airport.

Requirements for beginners told

To be eligible for entrance to the first grade, a pupil must submit a birth certificate, School Supt. Barry B. Thompson reminded parents of beginners this week.

All beginning first graders are also required to have vaccinations for smallpox, tetanus, whooping cough, diphtheria and polio, according to the regulations and policies of the board of trustees of Post Independent School District.

Supt. Thompson asks that parents make arrangements with their family physician to obtain the shots. Parents who cannot afford to pay for the shots for their children should contact their physician so that other arrangements can be made, the superintendent said.

The fall term will begin Sept. 3 at 8:35 a. m. and all necessary shots should be taken prior to that date.

"The cooperation of parents of first graders in this matter will be greatly appreciated by the administration of the Post Public Schools," the superintendent said.

Local firms provide school ground water

Thanks to two local business firms, the grounds of the Post schools have been kept watered during the water crisis of the last three weeks, School Supt. Barry B. Thompson said today.

The P&W Acid Co., owned by Bobby Pierce and Donald Windham, and Brown Bros. Et Al. Oil Operators, have supplied storage tanks and hauled water to keep the tanks filled, all without charge, the superintendent said.

Without their help, Thompson continued, the recent landscape improvements at the school grounds would not have been possible. He said the cost would have been in excess of $500 if the school had paid the commercial rate.

"The Post Public Schools wish to publicly thank the two firms for services rendered out of the ordinary," the superintendent said. He stated that the recently planted grass is growing rapidly and should provide a good cover by mid-September. The two firms will continue to provide the necessary water until the current water problem eases.

"This is an excellent example of school - community cooperation," Supt. Thompson said.

ATTEND SISTER'S FUNERAL

Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Cooke attended funeral services for his sister, Mrs. Amanda Hoepfner, 76, a week ago Wednesday in Clinton, Okla. Mrs. Hoepfner died July 28. The Cooke's stopped in Frederick, Okla., to pick up a sister-in-law, of Mr. Cooke's, Mrs. Sadie Burkhardt, who accompanied them to Clinton.

Animals on high carbohydrate and low roughage rations eat more and thus gain more during hot weather. A high roughage ration heats the animal's body more during digestion than does high carbohydrate feed and the animals therefore consume less feed.

UNDERGOES SURGERY

Frank Blanton, co-owner of Post Pharmacy, underwent major surgery Monday in Lubbock Methodist Hospital. According to reports he is doing as well as can be expected and is scheduled to be transferred to Garza Memorial Hospital on Saturday.

Pipe line firm transfers three

Service Pipeline has transferred three workers and their families into Post from Slaton, Eldorado and Levelland.

One of them is Emon H. Grant, the new district gauger here, who succeeds Warren Yancey recently transferred to Denver City. He moved his family here this week to 413 West 12th.

Bill Smith will move here from Slaton as soon as he completes his present vacation. He was transferred here when the company closed its connection crew office at Lubbock Aug. 3. The company still maintains its divisional offices in Lubbock. Smith is a pipeliner.

Another pipeliner, Elton E. Donelson, has been transferred here from Eldorado. He already is on the job here but hasn't moved his family to Post as yet.

The three additions bring the payroll of Service Pipe Line here to 13 men.

ATTEND HOMECOMING

Dr. and Mrs. L. J. Morrison will leave Sunday for San Antonio where they will attend the Texas Chiropractic College 34th Homecoming Seminar. While there they will also visit friends and relatives. They will return home the following Sunday.

Tonight, the Mets play the winners of the Rinky Dinks and the Untouchables take on the Tigers. If the Tigers win tonight, they'll have a chance of climbing into first place Friday night when they play the Yankees.

Pete Hays was the winning pitcher in the Yankees 16-9 win over the Rinky Dinks Tuesday night. The Yankees got 15 hits, with Morris, Billy Jones and Ed Redman getting six each. Jimmy Didway got three of the Rinky Dinks' seven hits and Rex collected two.

CREDIT NEEDS INCREASING

Banks largest lenders to farmers and ranchers, recent study shows

Texas banks were serving farmers and ranchers with more credit than any other financial services than other groups of lenders at the beginning of this year, according to a study by G. Metcalf Jr., president of the First National Bank.

During 1962, the state's banks maintained their leadership in agricultural credit services, Metcalf said. Based on the 22nd annual farm credit summary of the Agricultural Committee of the American Bankers Association, Metcalf reported that Texas banks were helping farmers and ranchers with $509 million in loans, 21 per cent more than a year previous. This total included $430 million in production loans and $79 million in farm mort-

LOOKING AHEAD—Texas Tech Coach J. T. King and the Red Raiders' All-America candidate, end David Parks, study the 1963 schedule, which includes six home games—with Washington State, Texas A&M, Texas Christian, Baylor, Rice, and Kansas State.

Six games on Raiders' 1963 home grid slate

LUBBOCK — Four Southwest Conference teams and two non-conference opponents comprise Texas Tech's 1963 home football schedule. Texas A&M leads the quartet of SWC teams in Jones Stadium in a night game Oct. 5. Then follow on successive weekends, Texas Christian Oct. 12, and Baylor Oct. 19.

Season tickets for the Raiders' home games are available at $27, $30, and $36, depending upon the seat location. Mail orders should be accompanied by a 25-cent mailing fee and addressed to the Athletic Department, Texas Tech, Lubbock.

These will also be at night. After a game away, the Red Raiders resume play in their own stadium with a Homecoming game against Rice University at 2 p. m. Nov. 2.

Other home games will be with Washington State in a night contest Sept. 21 and with Kansas State Nov. 9 in the afternoon.

Washington State, in the old Pacific Coast Conference, now an independent, will be playing the Red Raiders for the first time. Big Eight member Kansas State came to Lubbock once before, losing a 6-0 decision in 1933.

On the road the Red Raiders meet University of Texas Sept. 28, Southern Methodist Oct. 26, Texas Western Nov. 16, and University of Arkansas Nov. 23.

Texarkana gets name from three states

TEXARKANA — Called "The Pleasure Crossroads of the Gulf Southwest," it's officially named Texarkana, Texas.

Texarkana lies right on the Texas-Arkansas border. But it derives its name from three states—Texas, Arkansas and Louisiana. It might well have added a fourth state in its name, as it's located just 26 miles south of the Oklahoma border, too.

Texarkana is truly a composite of four states and is the great recreational center for the Northeast Texas area.

Post's Charles Hopkins, the tournament favorite, bogeyed the last two holes of the Olton Invitational Tournament Sunday to finish second to Johnny Hatcher of Pampano.

Hopkins went into the final 18 holes with a two-shot lead over Hatcher and Tommy Wilson of Lubbock, but was never able to get his game into gear Sunday.

Hatcher was the winner with a three-under-par 141, and Hopkins was right behind him with 142. Russell Haberer of Muleshoe finished third with 143.

Miss Krause expresses thanks for a big year

T. C. Clark, Post High School principal, last week received the following letter from Susanne Krause, Danish girl, who attended high school here as a foreign exchange student during the 1962-63 school year:

Dear Board, Faculty and Students: I want to thank you so much for the beautiful bracelet and even more for the wonderful year you gave me in Post. When you read this I will probably be back in Denmark after having toured the U. S., but that doesn't mean that I will forget you; you will always be a wonderful memory. Thank you again.

Post's All-Star men's softball team was eliminated from District 2 TAAF play in Lubbock by losing to the Southwestern Public Service team, 7 to 6.

Earlier in the tournament, Post had defeated the SWPS crew, 3 to 2, with Billy G. Jones tossing a one-hitter.

Saturday afternoon, Post lost to Pantex of Amarillo, 17 to 1, with Jackie Hays the losing pitcher. Pantex went on to win the tournament and advance to the state TAAF meet.

RECLAIMING ALKALINE SOILS

A new chemical means of removing harmful alkaline salts that effect productivity on countless acres of land in Texas and elsewhere is showing great promise. Improvable as it seems, the process involves removal of the unwanted salts by the use of salt water.

Alkaline soils, more properly called sodic soils because they contain 15 per cent of more of sodium ions attached to soil surfaces, support only tolerant crops or are worthless. Not only do the sodium ions prevent attachment of vital soil nutrients, but, more importantly, they prevent water from entering soil particles. This problem is especially serious on irrigated lands which tend to increase in alkalinity from the salts found in irrigation water.

The new approach to the problem involves exposure of sodic soil to water high in salt concentration, such as sea water or subterranean salt water as is often encountered in Texas. Even though low-salt water worsens the condition by sealing sodic soils, heavily concentrated salt water acts as a flocculant, causing small soil particles to join in larger aggregates and leaving larger openings that readily admit water.

THE METHOD OF SALT water application is a "leaching" process in which the soil is exposed to the salt water just long enough to permit exchange of the sodium ions, many of which may be taken up by the salt water as it is removed.

Sodium ions, which have one positive electrical charge each, do not adhere as tightly to soil particles as do calcium ions which have two positive charges each. When the concentration of salt in the leaching water is changed, some calcium ions dislodge the less strongly held sodium ions, and the leaching water carries away the sodium which the calcium has displaced.

The calcium salt is far less harmful than is the sodium because it does not seal water away from the soil to such an extent.

The process, which works well under laboratory conditions, is now being applied to large-scale field tests. It could prove an answer not only to many of the land problems which we now have but also as a safeguard against the future ruin of soil on which we now depend.

Post schools tax official attends course in Lubbock

Ira (Dad) Greenfield, Post Public Schools tax assessor-collector, attended a tax school in Lubbock last Thursday, Friday and Saturday, sponsored by the Texas Association of Assessing Officers.

The school covered all phases of land and property valuation and appraisal, with Greenfield enrolled in Course 1.

This fall he will attend the tax school in Austin and will be eligible, after a two-day examination, to become a Certified Texas Assessor. To be eligible, the person seeking the CTA certificate must have five years experience, pass the two examinations and be admitted by the State Executive Board.

The CTA certificate is a new professional certificate to designate highly competent assessors as specialists in public tax work. Only a comparatively small number has received this recognition.

Greenfield has been associated with the Post Public Schools for the last eight years. Supt. Barry B. Thompson said he feels the tax school training will enable the school tax office to provide even more efficient service to the patrons of the district.

How drug store looks from behind prescription counter

How does the drug store business look from the back side of the prescription counter? The answer is—a whole lot different than it usually does to the customer out front.

Frank Blanton and Bob Sinner, partners in the operation of Post Pharmacy here, point out, for example, that national surveys show that it costs your pharmacist $1.56 to fill each prescription before even counting the cost of the drugs required.

Included in the $1.56 is the overhead costs of operating the drug store, or pharmacy as it is now known, cost of the know-how (a pharmacist's training these days costs about $10,000), cost of container, etc.

WHILE MOST FOLKS are always aware of price increases—and the costs of some drugs have increased—the cost of all drugs aren't going up, although that may be the popular notion.

Bob and Frank point out that anti-biotics have had two price decreases in the last two years.

To be ready to fill your prescription, the Post Pharmacy stocks several thousand different drugs.

Different doctors prefer different brands of drugs, which may be very similar in nature. This requires a greatly increased inventory.

In answer to a question, Sinner explains that with the advent of the so-called "miracle drugs" after World War II the pharmacy needed to stock hundreds of new drug products.

He said that new drug products are not coming onto the market now at such a rapid rate, due primarily to all the safeguards set up by the federal food and drug administration.

A new drug product first must be lab tested on animals in the drug company's laboratory to determine its safety. After that, it is clinically tested on human volunteers, often prisoners.

Such products have to meet every requirement of the food and drug administration before they are authorized for sale. This is a lengthy and expensive procedure, usually requiring up to four years to complete.

KEEPING UP WITH new products requires a considerable amount of time in the pharmacy. Professional sales representatives, or "detail men" as they are often called, of some 50 different drug firms call upon Bob and Frank monthly at the Post Pharmacy to explain new products coming onto the market and to answer questions about them.

Besides that, these two registered pharmacists regularly read eight or nine weekly or monthly drug journals in their efforts to keep abreast of all new drug developments.

There has been a real revolution in the drug business in the last 40 years.

Today, according to national averages, approximately 92 per cent of prescriptions filled are of prepared drug items and only about eight per cent have to be compounded by the pharmacist.

Back in the 1920's the situation was almost exactly reversed. About 92 per cent of the prescriptions were mixed or compounded from various drugs and only about eight per cent were prepared drug items.

Then only hundreds of drugs were needed in stock. Today a drug stock numbers in the thousands of items.

But regardless of this reversal of percentages, your pharmacist is required to know how to compound each and every prescription whether he has to do so or not before he can receive his state pharmacist's license.

TIME IS OF THE essence in the pharmacy business and the drug wholesalers in Lubbock or Abilene are only as far away as the telephone and their delivery is as fast as the bus service.

It is often possible to get a drug delivery from a wholesale house into Post within 90 minutes.

Just because the Post Pharmacy locks its front door at 7 p. m. in the evening doesn't mean that the two pharmacists there are "through for the day."

They are on call 24 hours around the clock to fill prescriptions. Getting out of bed in the middle of the night is nothing unusual for either of them.

FRANK BLANTON, asked if he had any general advice or cautions to pass on to Dispatch readers, pointed up one dangerous habit which he terms "too widespread."

It's the giving of one's prescription to another person with the comment, "This helped me so why don't you try it."

The prescription, Frank points out, is prescribed by a physician to a particular patient for his or her particular condition at a particular time only.

"People don't realize," Frank declared, "that this can be very dangerous."

He said when the pharmacist knows that such has taken place he can refuse to refill the prescription without authorization from the customer's physician.

JIMMY WELLS, who has been working in the drug store virtually since the two partners purchased the Hamilton Drug Store back on Jan. 1, 1962, and changed its name to the Post Pharmacy, is going to become a pharmacist too.

He will leave later this month to attend the School of Pharmacy at Southwestern State College in Weatherford, Okla., from which both Sinner and Blanton were graduated with degrees in pharmacy.

But the heart-warming part of this story is that Jimmy's two employers will pay part of the cost of Jimmy's education, which will require five intensive years of study.

Maybe a lot of folks figure that patent medicines belong only to the horse and buggy days. They don't.

"Our cough syrups and cold preparations volume is increasing," they report.

ANOTHER IMPORTANT part of the pharmacist's business these days comes in vitamins.

"Now days people are waking up to the fact that they are not getting their vitamin needs from their diet," Bob said. He went on to point out that in the vitamin field the pharmacist counsels with his customer if asked. He also said that there have been substantial price decreases in vitamins in the last two years.

The Post Pharmacy also carries a complete line of veterinary supplies. Bob and Frank say it's the largest such stock in Garza County.

As for the fountain and coffee department of your drug store, it's no money maker.

"If you can break even on your fountain and coffee service it's considered a real success," Sinner explained.

Frank points out since the pair (See Post Pharmacy, Page 14)

Jet Age Fuel

KEROSENE, ONCE THE COUNTRY'S MAIN SOURCE OF ARTIFICIAL LIGHT, IS THE PRINCIPAL COMPONENT OF THE FUEL WHICH MODERN JET AIRLINERS CONSUME AT THE RATE OF MORE THAN 2,000 GALLONS AN HOUR.

TODAY'S JET FUEL IS A HIGHLY SOPHISTICATED VERSION OF THE KEROSENE THAT WAS AN EVERYDAY ITEM IN MOST TURN-OF-THE-CENTURY AMERICAN HOMES.

TO MEET ANTICIPATED REQUIREMENTS OF THE SUPERSONIC JET PLANES OF TOMORROW, THE OIL INDUSTRY IS NOW WORKING TO UPGRADE THE VERSATILE FUEL EVEN FURTHER, DEVELOPING A FUEL TO POWER PLANES THAT WILL TRAVEL THREE TO FOUR TIMES THE SPEED OF SOUND HAS BEEN CALLED "THE GREATEST CHALLENGE EVER TO FACE THE OIL INDUSTRY'S AVIATION EXPERTS."

It's the Law in TEXAS

JURY DUTY

Jury duty is an experience everybody ought to have.

In a criminal case twelve jurors have a duty to do justice as each one sees it, and yet be unanimous. In most trials both sides have much to say, and the evidence is conflicting. The twelve jurors vary in their ability, temperament, character, education, and their experience in the world, and in the question at stake.

Yet a jury made up of both sexes, with wide age and educational differences, jobs and origins must all come up with the same verdict. Upon their verdict much depends—the life or liberty of others, and the public good. So it may take them days of talking among themselves, all to agree.

Jury duty calls for insight, common sense, courage, tact, fairness, patience, (especially toward the jurors who disagree with you), good humor, tolerance, balance, willingness to hear others out and change one's mind, readiness to go over and over the facts to find something to bring agreement. In short, jury duty demands a "decent respect for the opinions" of others.

More and more women share civic duties, especially as jurors. Time was in Texas when women could not serve on juries. They still cannot in four states.

A jury finds facts. It hears and weighs evidence and then comes to a verdict. It does not make the law—the legislature does; and the judge "charges" or instructs the jury concerning the law applicable to the particular case it is considering.

The judge will tell you not to find the accused guilty until he is proved so under strict rules of evidence. I you have any "reasonable doubt"—not imaginary or far-fetched—acquit the accused.

Civil cases do not demand a moral certainty, merely the "preponderance" of what you regard as reliable and believable evidence.

Tom Thumb's real name was Charles Sherwood Stratton.

FARM ECONOMIC OUTLOOK

The price-cost squeeze on farm products may tighten some during 1963 to larger supplies and lower prices of farm products. Hog prices may be somewhat lower during the fall and early winter of 1963 than for the same period last year. This will be true if the March-May farrowings were the expected four per cent higher than a year earlier.

Farm milk sales for 1963 are expected to be only one per cent higher than last year and the national average support price, effective April 1, 1963, will be three cents more per hundred, says McHaney.

There will be little change in the number of layers on farms during the remainder of the year, but because of a higher rate of lay, egg numbers will be up.

The 1963 turkey crop is likely to be the same as last year's though it will have stiffer competition from broilers and red meat in the next six months than during the same span in 1962.

Looking at prospects for the rest of the year, fed cattle prices are expected to improve somewhat due to a seasonal decline in fed beef production. Hog prices may be somewhat lower during the fall and early winter of 1963 than for the same period last year. This will be true if the March-May farrowings were the expected four per cent higher than a year earlier.

NEW PUBLICATION

Two new publications, "Seasonal Changes in Cattle Prices" and "Pole Type Buildings", have been published by the Agricultural Extension Service of Texas A&M and are available through county Extension offices.

L-599, "Seasonal Changes in Cattle Prices," discusses patterns of normal variations of cattle prices along with charts illustrating prices of different classes and grades of livestock. The author of the publication, Ed Uvacek, Extension livestock marketing specialist, says an understanding of the marketing patterns and prices can be one of the best tools a stockman can have to plan a successful operation.

MP-638, "Pole Type Buildings," includes a number of plans for different types of pole buildings for use on the farm or ranch. It also contains discussion and details of points that could make the buildings last longer, be easier to build and provide economical, satisfactory service.

Copies of these bulletins may be obtained, free of charge, from county extension offices in Texas.

FARM SALE TAXABLE

The sale of a farm is taxable, says John J. Sloan, administrative officer at the Lubbock office of Internal Revenue. Sloan points out that farmers must pay on any gain on the sale of their farm or other capital items, even though they may turn around and use the money to buy another farm or similar item.

In a letter to county agricultural agents, the District Director of Internal Revenue in Dallas asked the county agents to help IRS correct the erroneous thinking. The tax man advised farmers to check the tax consequences before they sell, trade or swap.

I would like to point out that farmers can get a good general idea of taxes owed by reading the farmers tax guide furnished free by the Internal Revenue Service.

SANTA FE CARLOADINGS

Total carloads moved over Santa Fe System Lines for the week ending Aug. 3 were 29,174 compared with 30,409 for the same week a year ago. On-line loadings were 18,753 compared with 20,293 for the corresponding week last year. Cars received from connections totaled 10,421 compared with 10,116 for the same week a year ago. Santa Fe handled a total of 32,048 carloads in the preceding week of this year.

Old Fort Parker is near Mexia

MEXIA — Mexia, a thriving little city in Central Texas, Limestone County, fast is becoming a business-minded, industrial center. This is far removed from its history as an early oil-boom town.

You can imagine what happens when an oil strike abruptly changes a town of 4,000 into a town of 50,000. That's what happened to Mexia. But things are stable and settled now.

Another site, with a stormy history, still stands nearby thought—Old Fort Parker.

The Parkers' young daughter, Cynthia Ann, was kidnapped by the Comanche Indians. She lived with them nearly 24 years and became the mother of Quanah Parker, one of the most noted Comanche warrior leaders.

Cynthia was recaptured by the whites but never was happy. She died in 1864, four years after her return to live in the white man's world.

Spotted Swine breeders of area organize at meeting in Lubbock

Spotted Swine breeders and vocational agriculture teachers from throughout West Texas met in Lubbock last Friday at a noon luncheon and organized the Southwestern Spotted Swine Breeders Association.

On hand to aid in setting up the organization were Waylon Carroll, vocational ag teacher from Lubbock's Monterey High School and secretary of the West Texas Duroc Breeders Association, and Earl Madding, vocational ag teacher from Cooper and secretary of the Southwestern Hampshire Breeders Association.

Members present voted that the name of the new organization be Southwestern Spotted Swine Breeders Association and that membership be limited to breeders in West Texas, eastern New Mexico and the panhandle of Oklahoma.

Membership dues were set at $10 for adults and $3 for 4-H Club and FFA members.

Members of the new association tentatively set their first sale for the last week in July of 1964.

Officers, elected for one-year terms, are: Stanley Dixon, Brownfield, president; Parker Burford, Idalou, vice president; and Dowden Koeninger, Wilson, secretary.

The following directors were elected: Scottie Cooper of Meadow and James Overman of Lorenzo, one-year terms; Hollis Shults of Seminole and Ike Trimble of Post, two-year terms; and Leslie Kennedy of Olton and Reuben Baggerman of Groom, three-year terms.

The next meeting of the officers and directors will be held during the Panhandle-South Plains Fair at Lubbock. Most of the members present plan to exhibit stock at the fair.

Anyone interested in joining the organization should send dues to Dowden Koeninger, secretary, Southwestern Spotted Swine Breeders Association, Wilson, Tex.

On Aug. 24, 1962, Dr. Jackson took his gun and placed three Internal Revenue Officers under "citizen's arrest" when they called at his office to collect two delinquent tax accounts.

D. Jackson was indicted by a Federal Grand Jury in Lubbock on May 13, 1963, and was found guilty after a two-day trial, on June 28, 1963.

The doctor has appealed his sentence and has been released under $2,000 bond.
