

$85,000 right-of-way bond election set for Feb. 16

Preliminary to four-laning of U. S. Hwy. 84

The Garza County commissioners' court Tuesday set Feb. 16 as the date of an election in Precinct 1 on an $85,000 bond issue to finance purchase of right-of-way for the four-lane widening of U. S. Highway 84 from the top of the cap rock to the Lynn County line.

The commissioners' court called the election in response to a petition presented it Dec. 19 and signed by more than the required number of eligible voters in the precinct.

The $85,000 bond issue, if approved by at least two-thirds of those voting in the election, will be used as the county's part of right-of-way purchase. It will cover half of the right-of-way cost, with the State of Texas paying for the other half.

The proposal to be voted on in the special election will also include the levying of ad valorem taxes in payment of the bond issue.

The proposed highway widening project would be from where the present four-lane road ends, northwest of Post, to the Lynn County line, a few miles northwest of Southland. The entire distance involved in the project is about 15 miles.

Resident Highway Engineer Julian F. Smith said yesterday that the state already has appropriated the money for its share of the right-of-way purchase. He also said the state will have the highway construction money appropriated by the time the necessary right-of-way is acquired.

If the right-of-way bonds are voted and the four-laning project carried through, it will mean a divided highway from Post into Lubbock, since Lynn County is expected to four-lane a gap about three and one-half miles between the Garza and Lubbock county lines.

The highway would be so constructed as to be sufficient to be designated a limited access, or superhighway, within the next 10 or 15 years, highway men here indicated.

The commissioners' court action in calling the bond election followed a public hearing at 9 a. m. Tuesday. Howard Kemyon of Lubbock, representing the Texas Municipal Bonding Co., was present at the hearing.

County Judge J. E. Parker said that all the bond money sought in the election Feb. 16 will go either to pay for the right-of-way or to immediately retire that portion of ## Trustees accept R. T. Smith's resignation as head of schools

The Post school board accepted the resignation of Supt. R. T. Smith and adopted a new policy on faculty contracts at its regular January meeting Monday night.

Smith's resignation and adoption of the new contract policy were the two most important items on the agenda, but the board also set a special meeting for Monday night, Jan. 21, to "firm up" board policies and try to solve the school district's financial problems; discussed the sale of the old Lincoln Elementary School property, and heard a progress report on the laundry room to be added to the athletic field house.

Smith's resignation, which is to become effective next July 1, was contained in a letter read by Board President E. R. (Buster) Moreland. Smith stated in the letter that he is resigning so that he can devote his time to helping produce and market his new "Teacher's Pet" invention, which is a teacher's grade-average calculating device.

In his letter of resignation, Smith termed his five-year tenure here as having "been a pleasant one," and said that "the progress that has taken place has been most rewarding and the experience has been of great value to me."

The six board members present—A. Lee Ward was absent—voted unanimously to give two-year contracts to principals and teachers retained in the system who have been here as long as three years. The new policy will go into effect with this year's teacher election in March.

Principals and teachers who have been here less than three years will be given one-year contracts if re-elected in March, but will automatically qualify for two-year contracts if re-elected after they have been in the system for three years.

The new contract policy replaces one adopted by the board last year providing for one-year contracts for all principals and other administrators and all teachers.

Russell Wilks Jr. made the motion that the new contract policy be adopted by the board and the motion was seconded by Ronnie Bouchier.

The board's decision to hold a

White River pipe laying under way in city limits

Ramsey Enix Co., Inc., of Amarillo began laying White River dam pipe lines yesterday morning within the Post city limits.

Work got under way on West 15th Street, from where it will proceed to FM Road 651, just across the railroad tracks, and from there to the dam site.

The project calls for approximately 130,000 feet of pipe from Post to the dam site.

The pipe being laid within the city limits is 14-inch and in 32-foot sections. E. A. Crawford, general manager of Ramsey Enix, Inc., said the pipe will be 16 inches in diameter after leaving Post and will go up to 18 inches before dropping back to 14.

One block ahead of the pipe laying equipment yesterday afternoon was the company's ditch-digging equipment. Several blocks farther east was other equipment, boring a hole at the railroad track for installation of corrugated pipe that will run under the tracks.

About 6,000 feet of pipe will be laid in Post, including that now being laid on 15th Street. The other pipe line will run from the northeast part of town to 8th Street.

The City of Post will tie in a 12-inch water line from the new White River pipe now being laid on 15th Street with this outlet line on 14th Street. On 8th Street, the city will tie in its line there with the White River line.

The pipe layers are putting in valves along the lengths of pipe within the city for the city's use in tying onto the lines.

Crawford says the contract calls for a minimum 30-inch cover for the water pipes, but that those within the city will be covered to a depth of 36 inches.

The firm's present crew numbers 12 men. Crawford said that number would not vary much at any time between now and completion of the pipe line project.

Rotarians told water pipelines going in fast

Pipeline crews are laying water pipeline to the White River dam at a rate of 6,000 feet a day and were scheduled to begin laying the Post pipeline this week. Al O'Brien, general manager of the White River water district told Post Rotarians at their Tuesday luncheon.

He reported the pipeline from Ralls to Crosbyton was within a mile of Crosbyton when halted by cold weather.

The Post pipeline will begin in Post at 15th street and be laid toward the dam, he said. The Post line originally was scheduled to begin going into the ground before Christmas but the holiday season seemed a poor time to tear up 15th Street, he said. He reported final easement for the Post right-of-way had been obtained that day.

O'Brien said Steve Luce, contractor for the dam, is within 180 feet of the west side of the dam in digging the core trench below the dam site and has reached shale at 63 feet, the deepest part of the core.

Luce figures he is about a month behind, O'Brien said. The general manager said this "is the worst part of the construction job" but is nothing to worry about. "He'll come out pretty quick and pretty fast," O'Brien predicted.

The filtration plant construction, by another contractor, is coming along steadily on a 40-hour a week work week, O'Brien said. He reported they were doing "a very good job" and there is no big hurry to complete it.

As to the construction timetable, O'Brien said the dam is scheduled to be topped off by December to permit the laying of one pipeline across the top of the dam.

O'Brien said it "would be October before the dam catches any water" as that is about the time, Luce will close the last part of the dam.

Completion date for the entire project, he reminded, is Feb. 14, 1964—which will make a mighty nice valentine for the water-needing towns involved.

Approximately $500,000 already has been spent for construction completed, he reported. He said the White River directors wisely invested construction funds for the period they would not be needed, but beginning Feb. 1 construction money would be paid out at a rapid rate.

As to the damsite land, O'Brien said the "only land we don't have is the Jones estate land and we don't need that 2,500 acres until the dam is closed." In the meantime, he pointed out the district has invested the money and is saving money by getting interest on it.

Asked by a Rotarian, if the White River lake would be nicer than

Rural telephone bids are sought

Bids have been called for on construction of the central office building for Garza County's new rural telephone system and also for pole line construction, Dale Cravy announced this week.

The rural telephone system, which will serve areas of the county now without telephones, is being installed by Caprock Telephone Co. of Spur.

Feb. 12 has been set as the deadline for acceptance of bids on the central office and pole line construction jobs, Cravy said.

The central office building will be constructed on an acre of land six miles northeast of Post on the Spur road. The site was purchased from the Post-Montgomery Estate.

Corley in nolo contendere pleas

Police Chief Elton Corley entered pleas of nolo contendere in Justice of the Peace D. C. Roberts' court Tuesday to charges of assault and obscene language filed against him last Nov. 19 by Norman E. Moriarty.

Judge Roberts assessed fine and costs on each count of $20.70.

The nolo contendere plea is one which means Corley didn't plead one way or the other.

The incident leading to the filing of the charges reportedly was over a personal matter between the two men.

TEACHER SHORT-CUT

R. T. Smith, who resigned Monday night as superintendent of the Post schools, displays his "Teacher's Pet," a grade averaging machine that he invented. Smith, who has been superintendent here since 1958, will devote his time to helping produce and market the Teacher's Pet, which already is in fairly wide use. Two years were required to complete the design of the device and obtain a patent.

R. T.'s invention now in production

Post School Superintendent R. T. Smith plans to leave school administration ranks this spring because he has developed what he believes to be the solution to the No. 1 problem of the nation's teachers — grade averaging.

He wants to devote his full time to its development.

R. T. has designed, patented, put into production, and is launching into the distribution of a grade averaging machine, which sells for $24.95.

It cuts the teacher's most disagreeable chore to a matter of a few minutes work each six weeks. The market—5,000,000 teachers in classrooms all across the nation.

Juvenile is held in shooting here

A 15-year-old juvenile is being held for the shooting here early Friday night of Thomas Lucious, 42, at Joe's Bar in the northeast part of the city.

The wounded man, who was shot through the stomach, is in a Lubbock hospital, where he was transferred after receiving emergency treatment at Garza Memorial Hospital.

Deputy Sheriff Lloyd Merritt said a .25-caliber automatic pistol used in the shooting is in the possession of the sheriff's department.

Merritt arrested the juvenile near where the shooting took place and after the wounded man had been taken to the hospital.

The deputy sheriff said Tuesday that the shooting grew out of a fight. He said charges of fighting had been filed against two others, Gregorio Monico and Tony Valdez, and were to be filed against Lucious.

The officer said the bullet that wounded Lucious penetrated his body and fell out into his shirt.

22,500 bale cotton harvest appears likely final count

Garza's 1962 cotton harvest appears well down the home stretch as the Balish line today with an estimated total of around 22,500 bales for the year.

The weekly gin check Wednesday afternoon by The Dispatch, the seven gins reported 21,572 bales to date.

Another 471 bales were reported from the yards and the best estimates ginner was that a total of about 22,500 bales could be expected over the windup in the next 10 days.

The severe cold wave over the area, which sent Post's temperature plunging to an even zero early Saturday morning and to a half degree above Sunday morning made it too cold for everybody concerned. Temperatures above the zero were even lower.

Most of the gins shut down for both days with some running parts of one or the other, or both.

The gin by gin reports: Planter's Gin: 3,304 bales ginned, 20 bales on the yard, back to 12 hour shifts with about two more weeks necessary for final cleanup in area.

Storie Gin: 1,747 bales ginned, four on yard, working each night until yard is clean then closing, closed both Saturday and Sunday due to cold. Another week out to clean up area if weather stays pretty.

Graham Co-op Gin: 3,606 bales ginned, about 221 on yard, hope to reach 4,000 bale mark. Shut down part of Sunday due to cold.

Close City Co-op Gin: 2,750 bales ginned, 50 more on yard. Back on 12 hour shift since Monday. Ginned a little Saturday, but none Sunday due to cold. About 50 more bales still in field.

Pleasant Valley Gin: 2,400 bales ginned, 15 more on yard. Running 12 hour shift; this week. Closed Saturday and Sunday due to cold.

more and more business folks getting into the "running it habit of delivering checks now instead of mailing them, but we are a first to report. We parked our car down the street to make the advertising calls Monday and when we returned found a check pressed to us laying in the front seat. That fellow saved a little leg-kick too.

General Builders has another Saturday and Sunday afternoon house coming up this weekend their small design winning show. The Dover, as you will read page 3. If you haven't taken a look yet, don't miss the opportunity. Despite the near zero temperature last weekend a good many stopped in for a look.

This is another clearance sale held for Post with both Maxine and Lavelle's advertising their annual January events in The Dispatch and Dunlap's coming their big consolidation sale this week because of the cold. Maxine's also is advertising a continuation of its January sale.

The Garza Commissioners' Court called another bond election in Precinct 1 to raise funds for the chase of the right-of-way for four-laning of Highway 84 from top of the cap on northwest to county line. You have to be a party owner and have a poll tax, besides living in the precinct, to vote next month on this. It is an improvement long deferred. We hope the voters approve it in February. The bond issue this time includes only necessary funds for the highway right-of-way. It seems to us, to coin a program title, "the price is right."

RMA committees named for 1963

Victor Hudman, new president of the Retail Merchants Association, has named a finance, membership, promotion, and advertising committees and named three members to be in charge of the Thursday luncheon programs for the first three months of the year.

The committees are as follows: Finance, Claud Collier, Robert Cox, and T. B. Odam. Membership, Ed Sawyers, Dewitt Taylor, and Walter Johnson. Promotion, Tom Power, Maxine Durrett, G. A. Roach, Wilke Wilkerson, Arnold Parrish, and Lester Nichols.

Advertising, Arnold Parrish, Frank Blanton and Jim Cornish. Cornish was named program chairman for January, Maxine Durrett for February, and Lester Nichols for March.

Lions give $200 to children's fund

Post Lions Club directors voted Tuesday night for the club to contribute $200 to the Texas Lions League for Crippled Children, thus making the club a 100 per cent supporter of the project again for 1963.

A temporary date of May 7 was set for the club's annual broom sale.

Jack Alexander was elected a club director to fill the vacancy left by the resignation of Tom Harmon.

CofC ballots needed from club membership

Chamber of Commerce President J. B. Potts urged Post Chamber members to get their ballots for new Chamber directors back to the Chamber office immediately.

The counting of the ballots has been delayed because so many members have not as yet turned in their votes.

RMA's basic job is credit

There is considerable misunderstanding in the local public's mind as to what the Retail Merchants Association of Post is—and what it is trying to do.

This has come about generally, we believe, because Chamber President J. B. Potts last year named the Retail Merchants Association to also serve as the retail committee of the Chamber of Commerce.

As a Chamber retail committee, the merchants who meet weekly each Thursday got busy with a monthly Howdy Days sales promotion, beginning with the Sidewalk Sale in July and continuing through the "best ever" continuous Christmas promotion through the month of December.

The promotional activities were well publicized by The Dispatch because promotions need publicity—in jobs—to succeed.

But the promotional efforts are not the real function of the Retail Merchants Association.

Primarily, the organization is for merchants who do credit business to improve their credit programs.

In this field, the RMA also has a considerable list of accomplishments "to its credit" which were outlined editorially in last week's Dispatch.

A credit office has been organized, credit reporting established, and the organization has affiliated itself with both state and national credit organizations to obtain wider sources of credit information.

In today's business world, credit is an essential, houses, cars, furniture, clothes, and all the necessities of life for cash only, sales volume would tumble drastically.

So a wide variety of credit plans have been devised to fit almost every family, and every budget.

A credit association helps merchants of course by enabling them to quickly and accurately check credit references in opening new accounts.

But it does far more than that. It helps all the residents of Post by firmly establishing good credit ratings for all who pay their obligations when due.

Such persons can open a credit account in any other local store in a matter of minutes. A call to the credit bureau unlocks virtually any credit door to them.

Persons who move into Post find that their credit record follows them here as quickly as their furniture.

All this cooperation in the credit field has paid real dividends. The organization is gaining in public acceptance. Folks now understand the value of keeping a good credit record—and the doors it can open to them so easily.

If the RMA's efforts as a Chamber retail promotions committee has confused you, this is to put you straight. The RMA primarily is a credit organization of merchants for everybody's good. Since weekly luncheons provide the opportunity for merchants to tackle other problems too, the organization has functioned well as a method of unifying Main Street's promotional efforts as well.—JC

Sanitation effort well accepted

It sometimes has some value to take a look back down the road and see from where we have come. Valuable lessons can be so learned.

That is why we would like to call the attention of Post's residents to our present sanitation department effort.

The conversion has been made to an efficient trash hauling system for the community. That conversion called for a lot of public cooperation—including the conversion to lidded cans as trash receptacles.

Post now is a clean town. Trash doesn't fill vacant lots or blow down Main Street's business district.

Citizens, by and large, appreciate this sanitation service now. They take pride in it and the cleanliness of the community. They consider the cost well worth it for the returns involved.

Nobody wants to turn back the clock on the city's sanitation department. At least, if they do, they haven't bent our ear about it.

The city officials and the sanitation department employees did an excellent public relations job in setting it up.

It has stood the test too, the big one—of public acceptance.—JC

Author of famous little book

Everyone of us here in Post who has belonged to an organization of any kind is more or less familiar with "Robert's Rules of Order," the little book that rules the meeting.

If you are a regular attendant at a meeting where parliamentary procedure is followed, you can have Emily Post's book on etiquette memorized line for line, but you're still going to put your foot in your mouth from time to time, if you are not familiar with Robert's Rules of Order.

But who was Robert, the man who wrote it? Some great lawyer, college professor or political leader?

Guess again. Henry Martyn Robert, who authored the famous "rules," was a soldier, a West Pointer from South Carolina and an engineer officer who rose to brigadier general and Chief of Engineers. He also headed the Board of Engineers that planned the great seawall at Galveston.

But the great achievement of his life, as Tom Mahoney relates in "The Peacemaking General," an article in the January American Legion Magazine, was his successful struggle to write and publish his rules of order. These are the essence both of democracy and good manners; abide by the will of the majority; listen to the minority; consider one thing at a time; give everybody a chance to talk; keep discussion impersonal.

He recognized the need for such a book as a young officer when he had to preside at a stormy church meeting a century ago this year in New Bedford, Mass., during the Civil War. But he was so busy mapping roads in the West and building lighthouses on the Great Lakes that 13 years passed before he could get his rules together.

Turned down by all book publishers of the day, he had the first edition printed at his own expense and gave many of the copies away. But his faith was amply justified. Somebody is about to buy the 1,000,000th copy of the little book! Would-be authors to whom publishers are cool may take some comfort in this.—CD

Texas solutions to Texas problems

The 58th Texas Legislature opened last week and, after the first weekend recess, took time out again for the inauguration Tuesday of Gov. John Connally and Lt. Gov. Preston Smith as the first fresh two-man team since the Jester-Shivers inauguration of 1947.

Ten new Senators and some 60 new Representatives answered roll call when the new Legislature opened last week.

This new Legislature and new Administration, with Conservatives in control, will seek "Texas solutions to Texas problems." Our prediction is that the new leadership will bring out the best in the Senate and the House; that together they will chart a future for Texas well worthy of the greatest state in the Union.

Our policy-makers and law-givers have a big job cut out for them. Major areas of state concern include public education at all levels, the critical problems of the state's exploding cities, a continuing and adequate supply of pure water for all purposes, the sales tax, parks and tourism, farm roads and superhighways, public health, welfare and safety, problems of the oil industry—these and hundreds of other Texas topics are awaiting Texas consideration and Texas action.—CD

What our contemporaries are saying

The Printer has received five handsomely engraved invitations to attend the inauguration ceremonies and reception . . . for Gov. John Connally and Lt. Gov. Preston Smith. The Printer has two almost as elaborate invitations to the Democratic Victory dinner at the State Democratic Executive Committee honoring Mr. and Mrs. Connally and Mr. and Mrs. Smith. Only fly in the ointment is that the latter invitations require 25 benches for attendance and we ain't got the sponduliks or the time. We hope and trust the new administration will be a good one.—Frank Hill in The Lynn County News.

When Mark Twain, in his early days, was editor of a Missouri paper, a superstitious subscriber wrote him saying that he had found a spider in his paper, and asking him whether that was a sign of good luck or bad. The humorist wrote him this answer and printed it: "Old Subscriber: Finding a spider in your paper was neither good luck nor bad luck for you. The spider was merely looking over our paper to see which merchant is not advertising, so that he can go to that store, spin a web across the door, and lead a life of undisturbed peace ever afterward."—Al Hinds in The Haskell Free Press.

Twenty-five years from now there will be letters to the editor about how all the juveniles are delinquent on account of they don't have the old-time chores around the house anymore . . . like turning up the thermostat every morning or pushing the button to open the garage door.—James Roberts in The Andrews County News.

Noticed recently where the fabulous shopping center in Dallas, Neiman-Marcus, has marked down a broadtail processed lamb coat, reversible to sable, from $8,975 to $5,975. Before you Ralls husbands rush down to do your shopping, remember there's still a lot of good wear left in that old trench coat your better half has been wearing and, besides, you can always add a hem of cotton, something like Santa Claus generally wears on his suit.—Marvin Tomme in The Ralls Banner.

Overheard last Christmas in a super value store: "I've decided what I'm going to give that little monster next door—an electric train with 65 miles of straight track."—P. I. Colvig in the Lake City Graphic.

SOMEONE LEFT the arctic "ice box" door open and residents of the South Plains area shivered through two days and nights of the coldest weather here in several years. We've lived in Post nearly ten years and got our first "busted" water pipe Sunday morning. That's all it took to convince us that it was "colder than usual."

My friend up the street says propaganda is the other side's case put so convincingly that it annoys you.

THE REPORT OVER at the office of Tax Assessor-Collector T. H. Tipton is that poll sales still are slow—with less than two weeks remaining until the Jan. 31 deadline.

What's in a name? Nothing, if we're to believe Shakespeare, who wrote that a rose by any other name would smell as sweet. But Shakespeare wrote his immortal works back in the days before there was a cash value on a name and before there was a growing industry aimed at putting your name on a mailing list to be offered for sale.

IF YOU'VE recently had a baby, bought a car or moved, chances are your name is for sale.

Your name is worth from a penny to a dollar in the expanding market for mailing lists of people with special interests or needs. Such lists are purchased by advertisers from firms that cull names and addresses of potential customers from public records, newspapers, subscription rolls and other sources.

THE DISPATCH has a few subscribers who take the paper solely for the purpose of compiling a mailing list out of it. We suspect that our newspaper is read more carefully, for example, by the Wynne Press Clipping Bureau in New Jersey than by almost any other distant subscriber. This firm searches carefully for the names of new babies, new brides, etc.

Businesses and charities now spend about $400 million a year to buy and use specialized mailing lists. That's about double the 1950 total. A growing number of companies are finding a profitable sideline in selling names and addresses of their own customers. And the demand for specialized lists seems likely to increase even faster as companies seek to make mailing campaigns more efficient under the new and higher postal rates.

HERE, THEN, is an example of an industry being built on names. Until the government makes us all use only our number, the name industry should thrive.

This is the 25th anniversary of the March of Dimes, with the anniversary year theme, "Give for the Life of a Child." Harold Lucas, chairman of the Garza County chapter of the National Foundation, says hopes are high for this 25th anniversary MOD campaign to be the most successful ever held in the county.

AFTER SEVERAL hours at a party featuring a potent punch, a woman caught sight of her husband dangling by his legs from the chandelier. "That means it's time to go," she informed the hostess. "Fred is doing his imitation of Spanish moss."

The U. S. Department of Agriculture, wanting to be of service to everyone in this its centennial year—including even Billy Sol Estes—has nevertheless given the glamorous institution of matrimony a sock in the eye.

THE U.S.D.A. HAS put out a "Packet for the Bride," consisting of ten pamphlets which are supposed to be helpful to newlyweds. But it cuts down sweet romance from the stratospheric heights of love's young dream to the great and all-wet depths of sheer domestic drudgery. For there is nothing in this "Packet for the Bride" that tells a bride how to be more bride-like, to make the kisses last longer or taste sweeter.

What the Department of Agriculture offers instead is advice on "How to Remove Stains from Fabrics" and "How to Combat Clothes Moths and Beetles." Other titles in the bride packet of ten pamphlets include "Tips on Selecting Fruits and Vegetables," "How to Buy Eggs," etc.

THERE ARE ALSO a couple of recipe books in the packet. One is the cookbook, "Family Fare." Look as you will through its index, which runs from apples to waffles, and you won't find anything on how to make ambrosia or angel food cake, or hot dogs, cheeseburgers and pizza, which is what newlyweds are supposed to live on until they learn better.

THEY LIKE THE PAPER

Dear Editor:
Your notice that our subscription to Post Dispatch would expire on Jan. 24 received yesterday. Please find enclosed check for another year.

We think every year—well, this will be the last year that we will take the old home town paper. But, again, we are renewing. There are several reasons. We like the paper, its newsy presentation of all community life, industrial, agricultural, social and spiritual. While I was a pastor there in Post I always appreciated the space you were willing to give for church news and coming programs. This is NOT always the practice I find since coming to California.

Though we are living in California, we still have interests in Texas in the way of our many friends and they still mean so much to us. Through the Post Dispatch we can keep up with those who live in and around Post. So keep the paper coming our way until we might again come your way.

We have followed and are still following the progress being made on the White River project. We should appreciate the men who have headed and still are devoting much time for the development of this much-needed project.

A $540,000,000 irrigation project is now in the making just 20 miles from us; the project is building the earth dam has been let for some $86,000,000. Pretty good project. You see, California is NOW a BIG state. I still have a lot of that TEXAS BRAO even though being away for ever five years.

Very sincerely,
Roy and Florie Stahl

...sarily adopted the changed rules, under which no Legislature has operated, as its own.

It decided not to do so, by a vote of 108 to 39.

HOUSE COMMITTEES NAMED

—Most members of the House of Representatives felt that House Speaker Byron Tunnell was "very fair" in his committee assignments.

Rep. John Allen of Longview, who made the nominating speech for the new Speaker, will head the committee on state affairs; Rep. Ben Barnes of DeLeon will be in charge of hiring and firing for the House as head of the rules committee.

Other choice chairmanships include: Rep. W. S. Healy Jr. of Paducah, Appropriations, Rep. Menton J. Murray of Harlingen, Congressional and Legislative Redistricting; Rep. James Cotten of Weatherford, Constitutional Amendments; Rep. Jerry Butler of Kennedy, Labor; and Rep. George Cook of Odessa, Oil, Gas and Mining.

FAMILY TRADITION

—When Senator Strong took the oath of office as senator from the second district, it marked the 40th anniversary of the day his father, James G. Strong of Carthage, was first sworn in to represent the same area.

The "elder" statesman in the Strong family and his wife were witnesses to the swearing-in ceremony for their 32-year-old son.

"HOT CHECK" BILL

—A bill which would help small-town merchants with the problem of bad checks has been prepared by Sen. Bruce Reagan, who wants an act authorizing justice of the peace courts to try bad check cases up to $25.

Under the present hot-check law, a merchant must travel to a county seat to file charges in a county court for a $10 hot check. If Reagan's bill becomes law, the merchant could file a complaint in his local justice court.

Rep. George Richardson of Fort Worth is preparing a bill which allows justices of peace to try cases involving hot checks of less than $50. He feels that the peace court justices are closer to the people of their areas and can handle complaints quicker than district attorneys.

INSURANCE LEGISLATION

—Sen. A. R. Schwartz hopes to find a solution to a problem made apparent by Hurricane Carla. After the record force struck the Texas coast, many homeowners had difficulty collecting for water damage because they had fled the scene and didn't know exactly how the damage occurred.

Schwartz's bill would require the State Board of Insurance to make insurance firms, instead of the homeowner, carry the burden of proof.

Another insurance bill is being drafted by Rep. Don Gladden of Fort Worth who will fight for legislation to protect persons injured in automobile accidents by uninsured motorists.

His bill calls for a special state fund to pay for personal injury costs incurred in accidents with uninsured drivers. Any car owner who couldn't prove ability to pay liability when he registered his car, would have to pay $20 into the fund.

SECURITIES RECORD

—State Securities Board says Texas made significant gains as a source of public investment funds in 1962.

In its annual report to Governor Daniel, the Board said the sharp decline in the stock market was no deterrent to public investment in funds which it regulates.

During the year the board granted 695 permits for the sale in Texas of securities valued at $357,340,707.

On the policing side of the board's activities, it reported that three applications, for permits to sell to the public securities valued at a total of $745,000, were denied.

Report also noted that 22 applications representing $22,417,826 were withdrawn.

More than $445,000 in fees were collected during the year.

GOOD NEIGHBOR

—Austin attorney J. Manley Head has stepped into the role of Texas' No. 1 "good neighbor."

The former legislator has been named chairman of the Texas Good Neighbor Commission.

Head served four years in the House of Representatives and in the Senate from 1936 to 1941. He is a former executive of the Texas Motor Bus Association.

DEFICIT AT $53,300,000

—State Treasurer Jesse James reported the State General Revenue Fund at a $53,300,000 deficit on Dec. 31, 1962.

This figure was $18,400,000 more than that reported in November, James said.

DRAFT QUOTA 173—Texas' quota for draft boards in February calls for 173 men.

Col. Morris S. Schwartz said the February call of 173 compares with a quota of 163 for January and 235 or December.

The state Selective Service Director also announced that local boards would send 1,450 men for pre-induction physical and mental examinations.

Airman from Post is going to Forbes AFB

—AMARILLO AFB, Tex.—Airman Third Class Joe B. Pennell of Post, Tex., is being assigned to Forbes AFB, Kan., following his graduation from the United States Air Force technical training course for jet aircraft mechanics here.

Airman Pennell, son of Mr. and Mrs. I. S. Pennell of 409 South Ave. H, Post, was trained to maintain and service jet aircraft and aircraft systems.

Married to the former Laverne Lauderdale of Rt. 3, Post, the airman entered the Air Force in July 1962. He attended Post High School.

'The Parent Trap' coming to Tower

Walt Disney's Technicolor motion picture feature, "The Parent Trap," is coming to the Tower Theatre for four days, Wednesday through Saturday, Jan. 23-26.

Few motion pictures have come down the pike with more on the ball in laughs per reel than this two-hour vehicle starring Maureen O'Hara, Brian Keith and two visions of pert and pretty Hayley Mills, who plays identical twins possessing perspicacious personalities.

In this charming side-splitter the identical twins discover through an accidental camp meeting that they are sisters separated as babies when the parents parted company, each taking one of the girls to opposite sides of the country for upbringing. Using completely identical looks to confuse all opposition, the girls switch places in a fantastic plot to reunite the family.

CHEVROLET...the Quality truck!

WALK AROUND IT. SEE THE DIFFERENCES.

Start at the rear of this Fleetside pickup. Grab the tailgate and pull hard. No give. Two wedge latches keep it tight. Now unfasten them and let down the gate. Jump up and down on it. Does it sag? Notice how the chains are wrapped in rubber so they won't rattle or mar paint.

Now look at the lower side panels. Two walls. You might dent the inside one but it won't show through. The floor will never rust. It's select wood, not metal.

Now please sit in the cab a minute. Comfortable? It also is double walled and the roof is insulated. Let's start 'er up and look for a washboard road. Chevrolet coil-spring suspensions fight road shock better than other types, good for the truck, load and the driver. There are other things. But you can see why this is a truck that does a job without a lot of pampering. It's built right. Which is why it's usually worth more at trade-in. When would you like us to deliver it?

It's My Turn ...

—By MRS. C.

I am ready for spring. Cold weather minus snow just leaves me cold! That line is really rather clever, so if you didn't get it the first time go back and re-read.

I just finished watching "The Lucy Show" and loved every minute of it. I might even become a regular viewer again after a long, long absence. I'm sorry but those hillbillies and Ben Casey leave me more than just cold. I'm at the point where I catch Perry Como whenever I can and if his show is not so good one can at least enjoy the commercials. I've always thought Kraft should win a special award for their nice sensible commercials. They have food to sell and they do it tastefully and without increasing the volume.

One of our readers brought an article into the office last week and asked us if we would publish it. After reading it, I volunteered to put it into my column. The reader wondered if the teen-agers would see it there. That is a question that I can't really answer but feel that a few parents might point it out. Also, if any teen-agers decide to follow the advice given, their parents need to read it so they will know that their offspring are not ill, lost all of their friends, or off their rockers.

The following is a provocative open letter to a teen-ager by an unknown person.

"We hear teen-agers complain, 'What can we do? Where can we go?'"

"The answer is: Go home! Hang the storm windows, paint the woodwork, rake the leaves, mow the lawn, shovel the walk. Wash the car, scrub some floors. Help the minister, rabbi, or priest, the Red Cross, the Salvation Army. Visit the sick, the poor. Study your lessons. And when you're through, if you're not too tired, read a book."

"Your parents do not owe you entertainment. Your city doesn't owe you a recreation center. The world doesn't owe you a living. You owe it your time and energy and your talent so that no one will be at war or in poverty or sick or lonely again."

"You're supposed to be mature enough to accept some of the responsibilities your parents have carried for years. They have nursed, protected, excused and tolerated you. They have denied themselves comforts so that you could have luxuries. This they have done gladly, for you are their greatest treasure. Teen-agers, grow up and go home."

Mrs. Arthur Jackson Book Club hostess

Mrs. Arthur Jackson was hostess for a luncheon for the Woman's Auxiliary Union Round Table Club of the First Baptist Church in her home last Thursday. The group meets quarterly with a member buying one book a quarter and reading one each quarter. The books for discussion at this meeting were "Tomorrow's Miracles" by Slaughter led by Mrs. Jackson and "You Can't Clap With One Hand" by James P. Leysne. Mrs. Don Dunbar and Mrs. Bob Brown were in charge of this discussion.

Those attending were: Mrs. Ruth Stewart, Lee Bowen, Don Hart, Dunbar, Lex Roby, Simpson and the hostess.

is not having fun. He just called me in to sign my name to our joint return. Now I am not having fun.

I loved reading about the two college boys that are marketing and selling "Greasy Kid Stuff". You know, that stuff that a well-known product is always running down on TV commercials. These boys whipped up a batch of "stuff", bottled it, and are having a huge success. To borrow a phrase from my favorite essayist, Harry Golden, this could happen only in America.

However, when these boys make out their income tax, they will see that the profit is all gone and they better stay in college and finish their educations. This could happen only in America, too.

DO YOU NEED DIRECTIONS?

Public libraries today are filled with "how to do it" books. From them we may learn to do almost anything from baking a cake to building a house, from managing a home to conducting a business. But by far the most important are the books which show us how to build our lives.

The greatest among these is the Bible, a book which has withstood the test of centuries. Within it are God's directions for abundant living. But it is not easy to put these directions into practice. We need help.

We turn to the Church. In the Church we find inspiration through the companionship of others who with us strive for a better life. There, in prayer and worship, we know the blessings of God, the Father. We learn to follow the example of the Christ, and feel the power of His Spirit who alone enables us to live the abundant life.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL • ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Highway guard rails made more protective by new safety move

AUSTIN—Texas Highway Department design engineers have put an end to metal beam guard rails by liberally adding a twist and changing the end of the rail in the ground.

The result is a new safety design which may result in making the guard rails doubly protective. They still will help prevent vehicles from leaving the road at dangerous places, and the buried ends will help eliminate the possibility of a fatal accident which might occur if a car hit the end of the rail.

The new buried-end guard rails were developed by engineers in the Highway Design Division at the state office in Austin. The first highway district to use the new rails was the Lufkin District.

Guard rails originally were designed to prevent vehicles from leaving the highway at any point where it would be dangerous for them to do so, such as along high embankments, by culverts, or on the outside of curves.

The rails are parallel to the roadside, with the end of the rail projecting uncovered. If a fast traveling car should leave the road and crash into the end of a guard rail, the rail might be driven part or all the way through the car with fatal results.

Lufkin District engineers built two guard rails on U. S. Highway 59 over Laurella Creek two miles south of Corrigan in Polk County, to test the construction methods. This marked the first time the safety guard rails were used on Texas highways.

Soon after this test project the Lufkin engineers incorporated the new design in construction plans for Loop 224 in Nacogdoches County.

Other highway districts throughout the state showed quick interest in the safety guard rails. Already the rails have been included in about half a dozen future construction projects.

Installation of the new rails is relatively simple. Parallel to the roadside, the metal beam rail is laid in place and secured over its supporting posts. The weight of the overlapping beam will almost bend itself half way down. One man pressing with his foot can bend it into position. The end of the rail is attached to a 6-foot anchor post and sunk into a hole, with concrete poured in around it for further stabilization.

DPS says 'Shop Early' for '63 car inspections

AUSTIN — Col. Homer Garrison Jr., Director of the Texas Department of Public Safety, today urged Texas automobile owners to "do their shopping early" this year to reduce the last minute rush for inspection stickers.

All vehicles coming under the provisions of the Texas Vehicle Inspection Act must secure the 1963 inspection sticker by April 15, 1963. After that date, vehicles not displaying the new inspection sticker will be operating in violation of the law and the operators of those vehicles will be subject to arrest, Garrison said.

He reported that approximately one half of the inspection period has expired and about one fourth of the vehicles in the state have been inspected. Unless the number of inspections is increased appreciably soon, he added, long waiting lines will be forming at inspection stations as the April 15 deadline approaches.

"There are approximately 5,000 authorized inspection stations in the State and they are ready and capable of handling the inspection of all vehicles without delay if the owners of uninspected vehicles do not wait until the last few days before the deadline," Garrison said.

Russia has 575,000 automobiles; Texas has 3,259,896 — nearly six times more than all Russia, according to Compton's Pictured Encyclopedia.

It is wonderful to have a lake as unusual as Lake Granite Shoals located within a few miles of the geographical center of Texas. This puts it within reach of all Texans.

Granite Shoals Lake, impounded by the tremendous Wirtz Dam near Marble Falls, is one of the Lower Colorado River chain of lakes. It is located some 60 miles north of Austin. But it is within a day's driving distance of virtually any place in Texas. Every fishing day you'll find someone there from the far reaches of the state.

It's not unusual for parties to be made up of fishermen from above the Caprock, or from the Coastal Bend area.

Granite Shoals is a good lake, but more than that, it is the largest constant-level lake in the state.

IT OCCUPIES approximately the middle position in this Colorado chain. As a result the let-down of water for power, irrigation and domestic purposes from the two upper lakes (Buchanan and Inks) permits it to remain in the banks, or nearly so, at all times.

Water is released from Granite Shoals Lake downstream, though Lake Marble Falls and Lake Travis, into Lake Austin. The latter also a constant level lake.

Water level of Buchanan and Inks will fluctuate as much as 20 feet during drought periods. Lake Travis will drop a great deal more. But Granite Shoals remains just about the same.

Its greatest drawback to some fishermen is the amount of moss that accumulates in the lake. On the other hand some fishermen believe the moss is beneficial. It provides a home for some of the biggest bass ever taken from Texas waters.

IN TEXAS, where there are no natural lakes of consequence, there just first be a dam to impound the water. Alvin Wirtz Dam, creating Lake Granite Shoals, is a marvelous structure.

Built by the Lower Colorado River Authority just a dozen years ago, the dam is 100 feet high, with a total length of 4,816 feet. The length of the concrete span is 1,146 feet.

By comparison with some other Texas lakes, Granite Shoals is small, covering only 6,300 acres at the normal opening level of the dam. Built into this dam are two 25,000 KW generators, which forms a part of the great power complex of the Colorado River Authority.

Cost of the dam and power plant was something like $10,000,000. This has been saved many times over in the reduction of flood damage farther down the river. At the time the dam was being constructed, recreational features were not considered of major importance. Around Granite Shoals today, however, there are hundreds of wonderful all-year cabins. They are owned by people from all over Texas, and some from other states. Most consider them their second homes.

THERE ARE MANY wonders to Granite Shoals. From its banks come the granite of which the capitol of Texas and many of the state's office buildings were constructed. Granite from its shores provide the facade and even walls of public buildings all over the United States.

In many places the bed of the lake is solid granite. There are outcroppings of granite all along the north and east shore among acres of solid rock. Its western shores are mostly rolling hills, gravel, or undulating meadows, covered with alluvial soil washed in and deposited there by floods on the Colorado for perhaps hundreds of years.

Wildlife of all kinds abounds near Lake Granite Shoals. Area surrounding the lake provides some of the best white-tailed-deer hunting in the United States.

Currently there are many lake-shore developments in progress around Granite Shoals Lake. All these developments have water, electricity and most of them telephone service. It is a lake of many homes, with just enough commercial development to take care of everyday needs.

Fishing is good every month of the year in Granite Shoals.

A BOUNTIFUL SUPPLY of bass, crappie, bream and catfish is available thanks to frequent stocking by the Game and Fish Commission. While it has its share of rough fish, there is a constant fight against them. So far they have not been too much of a problem.

Granite Shoals Lake also is on the watershed of the Llano River and the Big Sandy. Its total watershed covers perhaps a thousand square miles. But it also catches

Mrs. Spencer in speech recital

PLAINVIEW — Frances Barron Spencer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Barron, was presented in her senior speech recital by the Wayland Baptist College department of speech and drama during the chapel period Jan. 4.

Mrs. Spencer presented an interpretative reading of her own adaptation from the novel "The Bishop's Mantle", which called for representations of several different characters. Introducing her was Dr. Henry Eason, head of the department of speech and drama.

Mrs. Spencer, 1959 graduate of Post High School, is a speech major and an English minor who will complete her degree requirements at the end of the current semester. A talented student, Mrs. Spencer was presented the award for the outstanding student in speech during annual Recognition Day ceremonies last year. She is a member of several campus organizations and is serving as president of Alpha Mu Gamma, national fraternity for students of foreign languages.

MINIATURE COTTON GIN

A miniature cotton gin in the Agricultural Engineering Department at Texas A&M College is helping evaluate cotton mechanization research, says B. G. Reeves, extension cotton gin and mechanization specialist. The gin is used to handle samples from the research projects being conducted at different locations in the state, he says.

and holds some of the floodwaters that come down the Colorado from its far reaches.

This year Granite Shoals has produced many of the largest black bass taken in Texas, with a number of them going more than eight pounds.

Granite Shoals Lake can be reached from Llano, Burnet and Marble Falls, over paved highways from every direction. It is a long lake, with plenty of wonderful coves, sandy beaches and open water to carry every type of outdoor activity.

If you've never been to Lake Granite Shoals it is a worthwhile weekend trip.

If you've never fished it, then you've missed a chance to land some real tankers.

Invention—

 key to the success of his machine—putting the computations chart he had planned to figure the grade averages right into the machine itself.

Teacher's Pet total is a compact desk model of metal and plastic which accepts from three to 12 grades to be averaged. As each grade is put into the machine the computations chart rolls around the dial too and in a small window of the machine appears the average grade for all grades put in.

A button clears the machine so the teacher can start on the next student's grade average after figuring the first.

Two years were required to complete the design of Teacher's Pet and obtain a patent.

The machine had to be named so R. T. selected the present one and proceeded to have it registered by federal authorities for exclusive use of the name on grade averaging machines.

In checking the name Teacher's Pet, he discovered the name was used by a California firm for a ball point pen and by two different Chicago firms for toys of their manufacture.

Getting into production was something else again.

The school administrator joined forces with C. W. Adams, a marketing and producing expert in San Angelo, and formed The Teacher's Pet Manufacturing Co., as a partnership, to produce and market the machine.

There are 64 component parts in the Teacher's Pet. Contracts were let for the manufacture of these 64 parts to some 12 different firms.

The Teacher's Pet firm then confined its efforts to assembling the machines in a small plant in San Angelo.

Production began Sept. 1.

The firm now employs approximately 20 persons and assembles between 300 and 400 machines each working day.

To put the Teacher's Pet into production, $25,000 in capital was raised through the sale of royalties by Adams.

Post has a number of such small royalty holders.

R. T. recognizes the principal problem for the new firm as a successful method of distribution.

Already distributorships have been set up in ten states, including Texas, California, Ohio, Pennsylvania, North Carolina, Florida and several in the Pacific Northwest.

That leaves distributorships in 40 states still open.

R. T. and his partner have done some research to into the need for their new product.

A thousand letters were sent out to teachers in form of a questionnaire, asking these teachers to rate what they most disliked in their teaching duties. R. T. knew the problems and had them all on the list.

Out of 600 questionnaires returned, the averaging of grades was listed among the top three most disagreeable chores on almost every one.

The school administrator says Teacher's Pet has been received very well at the annual convention of the National Education Association which attracts teachers and educators from all 50 states.

There are 14 Teacher's Pets now being used by local teachers. They find it very helpful in their grade averaging work.

While production began Sept. 1, it took a while to smooth out all "the bugs". So Teacher's Pet didn't actually hit the market for the first time until mid-November.

R. T. thinks eventually the machine will be as essential on a teacher's desk as is an adding machine in any business office. It's for the same use, he points out—for speed, accuracy and lack of mental strain.

IN QUEEN RACE

Martha Goode, above, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Otis Goode of Post, has been named a candidate for South Plains College Homecoming Queen at Levelland. Miss Goode is treasurer of the college's Koshare Club and Baptist Student Union representative. She is majoring in elementary education.

School board—

 special meeting next Monday night followed a brief discussion on junior high and high school teacher schedules, copies of which had been furnished the trustees earlier.

Two of the board members, Dr. John E. Carter and Bouchier, were of the opinion that the school's academic program can be improved and the financial condition also strengthened by a revamping of the teaching schedule.

The other board members present were "cool" to ward the idea of the board having anything to do with changing the present schedule, although agreeing that there is room for improvement.

Wilks said he is of the opinion that any schedule changes should be left up to the superintendent and the principals. "That's their job," he said.

Both Bouchier and Carter explained that it was not their idea for the board to take on itself the revamping of the schedule, but merely to make suggestions for improvements.

"I feel that we are not getting the best academic program for our money," Bouchier said.

Wilks said that as far as the board having anything to do with the teaching schedule or any of its phases, the "asking" stage is fine, but the "telling" stage is no good.

The matter is scheduled to come up for further discussion at Monday night's special meeting. The board will also make additional plans for hiring a superintendent to replace Smith, although they decided at Monday night's meeting to accept applications for the position by invitation only, instead of "throwing it open to all comers."

Also to be discussed at the special meeting is the problem of removing the debt for the current school year and meeting the budget for another school year.

The trustees voted to have the Lincoln Elementary School property surveyed and platted before offering it for sale and to employ Julian F. Smith to make the survey.

In the field house laundry addition report, Bouchier said the addition can be built for about $800. The board's decision, at Bouchier's suggestion, was to apply $800 already appropriated for the project to the purchase of equipment. The 46-56 Club, Bouchier said, has agreed to finance the construction of the addition out of its project fund.

 Lake Thomas, O'Brien had this good news to report:

The shoreline of the White River lake will be owned by the district and can be maintained and landscaped whereas the shoreline of Lake Thomas is privately owned and thus there can be no control over it.

That the new White River will be deeper than Lake Thomas, which he said is considered a shallow lake in which the mud turns the water and strags up the mud.

Post Lions hear of press aims

Jim Cornish, publisher of The Post Dispatch, spoke to the Post Lions Club at its dinner meeting at Levi's Restaurant Tuesday night on the subject: "What Is Your Community Newspaper?"

He emphasized that "freedom of the press" is not that at all but rather "the public's right to know." He said Dispatch newsmen covered all local meetings to keep the community informed.

"An informed community is a better, more progressive one in which to live," he declared.

Dr. John E. Carter, club president, announced that charter members of the local club will be honored next week. A board meeting followed the club session.

Post High cagers to open loop play Friday at Spur

The Post Antelopes and Does will play District 4AA play at Spur this Friday night, after which the Does will play home games on Saturday and Tuesday nights.

Next Tuesday night, the Does will host the Sundown Roughettes, who are defending state champions in Class A and are rated again this year as the state's No. 1 Class A sextet.

Coach Van Kountz' Doe sextet has won 21 games this season while losing only two—to Sands and Floydada. They will have the opportunity to avenge the Sands setback in Saturday night's game here.

Does, Antelopes win, lose at Ralls

Post High School's varsity basketball teams divided a pair of games at Ralls Friday night in last non-conference competition before opening District 4AA play Friday night at Spur.

The Does defeated the Ralls girls, 41-31, after trailing by five points at the end of the first quarter. The Antelopes lost to the Ralls boys, 59 to 46, after leading, 32-27, at halftime.

The Post and Sundown girls "B" teams will also play Tuesday night with their game scheduled for 6:30.

The 8th grade girls won, 26-12, after leading 7-0 at the end of the first quarter, 10-4 at the half and 14-4 at the end of the third quarter. Sherry Woods pumped in 18 points for the winners, with Marjorie Newby, LaGayluah Young, Brenda Lee and Doyleene Fry scoring each. Sheri Perdue also played forward.

Pat Cornell, with 18 points, led all scorers and was the only Antelope scoring in double figures. Valton Osborne scored 14 for Ralls.

Coach Wilbert Bigott's Antelopes will be seeking their first district win since 1960 when they met Spur Saturday night.

The Post guards held Slaton to one field goal. Starters were Ed Atman, Edith Johnson and Sara Solis, with Brenda Holly, Cheryl Pannell and Jaynie Josey on the bench.

Devotional tells gripping story

By Emily Potts

Monday morning, Jan. 7, Marcia Newby gave a very fine devotional entitled "Be Still and Listen." The scripture was from Psalms 46. The thought of the devotional was "Incline your ear, and come unto me; hear and your soul shall love." Is. 55:3.

The story was about Eale Andre, who was one of the most gifted boys in the school in Bolenge, Belgian Congo. He was practicing on the football field one day when he fell, never to be well again. His father took him to the mission doctor for help. He was treated for ten years, but his father never resorted to heathen medicine. He had given his life to Jesus. He learned to trust God for wisdom and strength, to listen and to believe.

Eale Andre read his Bible and was an inspiration to others. His smile, his love and his calmness cheered their heart.

N. C. Outlaw, Post attorney, was a visitor recently in 8A geography class.

Mr. Outlaw gave a very interesting talk concerning World War I, its causes and effects.

The students appreciate his taking time from his busy schedule to tell them of his first-hand experiences.

The students of 8A would also like to thank Mr. Outlaw for making them realize the terrible destruction in the countries involved in war.

Johnny, you really played a good game against Wilson last Tuesday night. But I hear that Rod made as many points as you did, counting the two points he made for Wilson!

Well, mid-term tests are over, but the worst is still to come. Report cards! Ugh! I hope that our basketball teams are passing!

Congratulations, Rod, on scoring 24 points in the New Deal game Friday night.

SOIL SAMPLING TIME

It's time to take and submit soil samples for testing from fields which are being prepared for this year's crops, says Bill Bennett, extension soil chemist. A soil test recommendation, he adds, is mighty good insurance when it comes time to buy fertilizer. Insurance that you'll apply the right kinds and in the right amounts for profitable crop or pasture production.

WHY STUDY?

"Glad to see you getting to school on time these mornings," said the teacher.

"Yes, sir, I've got a parrot now."

"A parrot, young man! I told you to get an alarm clock."

"I never seem to hear a l a r m c l o c k s," explained the student.

"But now I've got this parrot and what the parrot says when the alarm awakes him is enough to wake up anybody."

Stoop: "That's a queer pair of socks you have on—one red and the other green."

Stupid: "Yeah. And the funny thing about it is that I've got another pair at home exactly like this one."

Reading interest increasing here

The Juniors and Seniors are starting second semester reading programs.

Everyone seems to be enthusiastic and are checking out books. The weather doesn't affect reading programs either. If anything it has increased it.

There have been as many as 40 books checked out from 4 to 5 o'clock in the afternoon. There have been as many as 166 checked out in one day and most of them were for a two-week period.

Reading interest seems to be increasing for all ages for both fiction and non-fiction.

1963 RAMBLER WINS "CAR OF THE YEAR" AWARD

from Motor Trend Magazine

Each year the automobile industry eagerly awaits the selection of one car as "Car of the Year" by Motor Trend's impartial experts. For 1963, this most-wanted, hardest-to-get honor goes to Rambler... for outstanding design achievement and engineering leadership. Read why Rambler won this prized award over all other cars.

Here are some of the experts' reasons:

"New styling is based on lean, clean lines that are apparent from almost any angle."

"Motor Trend's Cars of the Year prove their mettle in actual testing, confirm their engineering excellence, reliability, sturdiness and performance."

"Quality has always been one of American Motors' largest selling points."

"In unitized bodies, which American Motors pioneered, this latest design represents a real advancement... biggest single reason we chose Rambler Car of the Year."

"This new construction method results in a unit so strong it'll take punishment longer and naturally hold its resale value."

"The interiors of both the Classic and Ambassador are roomy and comfortable... offer plenty of legroom."

"A good safety device. Self-adjusting brakes and dual master cylinders... if one system fails, the other brings the car to a safe stop."

"Trunk is large. Low loading lip makes it simple to load."

"Our Classic... with the rugged, ohv in-line Six... gave a high of 26.7 mpg highway cruising... mixed city and freeway gave 23.4."

"A sportier, more performance-oriented vehicle, the Ambassador V-8 should satisfy the wants of the Rambler buyer who favors performance."

"There isn't any pitch or choppiness noticeable even on rough roads."

"Summing up... it looks like the new Rambler will be an even better buy than it has been in previous years."

Why don't you look at the 1963 Rambler? Best-selling Rambler ever built!

Encyclopedia article on Texas is big one

Texas is the only state in the Union that once was a nation. In 1836, when the people of Texas won freedom from Mexico, they formed an independent republic. This government was officially recognized by the United States and several European countries. This is only one of the many interesting facts about Texas in the new edition of Compton's Pictured Encyclopedia.

Six different national flags have flown over Texas during its colorful history. Compton's points out how many Texans know that in 1685 LaSalle raised the flag of France over a short-lived colony on the coast? Texas came under the Spanish flag for the second time in 1691. This was replaced by the banner of Mexico in 1821. From 1836 to 1845 the "Lone Star" banner flew over the Republic of Texas. The Stars and Stripes of the United States became the official flag in 1845. It was replaced by the flag of the Confederacy from 1861 to 1865. The state of Texas covers 267,339 square miles of inland water surface. Its greatest length, from north to south, is 801 miles and its greatest width 773 miles. Both of these distances are greater than the airline mileage between New York City and Chicago. While most American readers are familiar with the size of Texas (it covers more territory than the total area of five Midwestern states, Ohio, Indiana, Wisconsin, and Michigan) probably few are aware that there are about 15,000 miles of main-track railroad, a greater number than that of any other state. Its total mileage is enough to reach three fifths of the distance around the earth. Notable events in the history of Texas are illustrated in the 1963 edition of Compton's Pictured Encyclopedia. The chronological record, going back to 1519 when Alonso de Peneda explored its east coast, highlights important dates in the growth and development of the state. You'll find why Stephen Fuller Austin is called "the father of Texas". (He brought the first American colonists to the lower Brazos River in December, 1821.) Of course, the heroic defense of the Alamo is described as the most striking event in the Texas war for independence. Interesting to note is that in 1900 the two leading manufacturing industries were lumbering and processing of grain. In 1901, however, Anthony F. Lucas struck oil in Spindletop field near Beaumont and there began the saga of the oil industry in which Texas now leads the nation. Its huge pipelines carry petroleum, as well as natural gas, to all sections of the country. The state has a rich supply of natural resources. The eastern part is a productive farming region with fertile soil and ample rainfall. Texas' high rank in many fields is well-covered. The article cites its rich deposits of oil and natural gas making the state the national leader in mineral production. Its farm income is first among the Southern states and third in the nation. It leads all the states in cotton, cattle, sheep, horses, rice, and sorghum grain. One section of the article, headed "Wealth from Crops and Livestock," cites Texas' 227,000 farms, the highest number of any state. The state's rugged mountains and canyons in the Trans-Pecos, its fine beaches and resorts and famous historic sites are some of the reasons for the annual visitation by more than 7 million tourists. The article also covers the state's educational system, government and politics, manufacturing, and the people of Texas. From 1950 to 1960, the population of Texas increased by more than 24 per cent, a rate almost one third greater than that for the nation as a whole. Census figures for 1960 list the population at 9,579,677. Compton's points out. Politically, two native sons have held the office of the United States vice-presidency. . . . John N. ## Vet's Forum

Q. I see the VA pays pension under a heading "Civil War Pensions". I thought all the Civil War veterans were dead?
A. Pensions for Civil War dependents are paid to widows and helpless children of Civil War veterans. There are about 3,000 on the rolls.
Q. If a wife is a veteran, can she obtain a VA loan for a home even if her husband is not a veteran?
A. Veterans' benefits draw no line between sexes thus a woman veteran is eligible for a home loan guaranty. However, many women veterans might be unable to obtain loans because of low annual income or doubts concerning long term employment. Your nearest VA office could advise you on this matter.
Q. Can I allow my annual GI insurance dividend to remain on deposit to meet future premiums?
A. Yes, you may. Notify the VA office where you pay your premiums of your intention to allow your dividend to remain on deposit.

SYD CONNER
Garza County Agent

SAMPLE SOILS NOW
Now, when soil and weather conditions are nearly ideal, is the time to soil test fields to be fertilized next spring, says W. F. Bennett, extension soil chemist at Texas A&M College. The chemist says that samples sent to the laboratories now will avoid the spring rush of sampling and fertilizing and that recommendations will be returned in one to two weeks. The way the sample is taken is very important because the tests can be no better than the samples tested. They should be representative of the field tested and the field should be divided into uniform soil areas, explains Bennett. If there are marked differences in the slope, color or texture of areas of the field, these should be tested separately because there may be fertility differences in these areas and thus differences in fertilizer needs. If a part of an area has been fertilized, limed, manured or cropped differently, it should be sampled differently, Bennett says. Your county agent can help you in your soil sampling and provide you with an information sheet for the job. Bennett advises seeing him soon and sending your sample to one of the three soil testing laboratories at Lubbock, Seymour or College Station.

PERSONNEL CHANGES
Effective Feb. 1, 1963, John G. Thomas, area entomologist with headquarters at Lubbock, will be transferred to the headquarters staff of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. His new title, according to Director John E. Murchison, will be associate entomologist, and he replaces C. F. Garner who resigned several weeks ago. Thomas holds both B. S. and M. S. degrees from Texas A&M College in entomology and has completed approximately two-thirds of his academic work at Kansas State University for a doctorate degree in the same field. He has served at Lubbock since June 1960. He is a native of Gray County and was an outstanding 4-H member.

OUTLOOK FOR TURKEYS
The demand for turkeys is expected to again be good in 1963 but prospects for a crop record only to the record breaker in 1961 could drop prices later in the year, says Marshall Miller, extension poultry marketing specialist. Despite the 1962 reduction of 15 per cent under 1961 production, total supplies of turkeys last year were down only 6 per cent due to the record carryover of frozen birds from the year earlier. On the favorable side of the supply picture, Miller says cold storage holdings at the beginning of 1963 were substantially below those of a year ago. Per capita consumption of turkey meat is gaining more year-round acceptance by consumers and this has helped the demand situation, the specialist adds.

WHAT'S AHEAD FOR EGGS?
One of our neatest packaged and most nutritious food items—the egg—should be in ample supply during 1963 and at prices favorable to the consumer, says John McHane, economist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. McHane reports that the nation's laying flock changed little in numbers during the past 12 months, down only slightly, and that production could be a bit lower during the earlier months of 1963 compared with the same period in 1962. Egg production for the entire year, however, is expected to equal or exceed that for 1962 due mainly to last half of the year increases in hen numbers and higher output per layer. The King Ranch, one of the world's largest cattle ranches, includes about 996,000 acres—according to Compton's Pictured Encyclopedia.

Loans available to farmers, ranchers for providing recreational facilities

L. J. Cappelman, state director of Farmers Home Administration, today announced that loans may now be made to farmers and ranchers who personally manage and operate no larger than family farms for providing recreational facilities which will enable these family farmers to supplement their farm income. Loan funds for recreational enterprises may be used to develop land and water, construct buildings, and to purchase land, equipment and other related recreational items including the payment of operating expenses. Recreational enterprises which may be financed on family farms include camping grounds, swimming facilities, riding stables, vacation cottages and lodges, lakes and ponds for boating and fishing, docks, nature trails, picnic grounds and hunting preserves. Each loan is scheduled for repayment within a period consistent with the borrower's ability to repay, taking into account his income from farming, recreation enterprises and any other income he may have. The maximum repayment period of the loan depends on what the funds are used for and the security provided for the loan. Repayments on loans secured by real estate may not exceed 40 years. Repayments on loans for non-real estate purposes may not exceed 7 years. The interest rate is 5 per cent per year on the unpaid principal. The county or area committee of the Farmers Home Administration determines the eligibility of the applicant. The committee consists of three farmers who know rural farming and credit conditions in the local area. Technical management assistance will be provided with each loan. The amount of the loan depends upon the applicant's needs and repayment ability. A borrower's total principal indebtedness for intermediate-term FHA loans and equipment and operating expenses may not exceed $35,000. A long-term loan secured by real estate may not exceed the normal value of the farm and other security, minus any debts against this property and may not exceed the amount certified by the county committee. In no case may such a loan plus other debts against the security property exceed $60,000. A farmer may apply at the County Farmers Home Administration Office located at Garza County Courthouse, Post, Wednesday of each week. There he will be given an application and the supervisor will be glad to answer any questions he may have.

STATE CORN CHAMP
Noville Todd, Route 6, Nacogdoches, has been named state champion in the 1962 Texas Hybrid Corn Program. His yield of 164.1 bushels an acre, made under irrigation, topped all competitors and compares with the 31 bushel average for all Texas corn producers. The 31 bushels per acre for the state is a record but was harvested from the smallest acreage since 1870, says Ben Spears, extension agronomist. The program is sponsored by the Texas Certified Seed Producers, Inc., in cooperation with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

DEMAND FOR TURKEYS
The demand for turkeys is expected to again be good in 1963 but if the prospective large crop develops, prices could drop in the latter months of the year, says Marshall Miller, extension poultry marketing specialist. Turkey meat, he adds, continues to be good year-round meat buy.

400 cowboys scheduled to compete in rodeo at big Fort Worth event

FORT WORTH—Rodeo's roughest broncs and bulls, pick of the crop from three major producers, will collide with nearly 400 equally tough cowboys in the Fort Worth Stock Show's all-star rodeo spectacular Jan. 25 through Feb. 3.

Big plum at the world's original indoor rodeo is a purse of approximately $70,000, made up of $37,500 in prize money and the rest in entry fees. The Fort Worth Rodeo's double-tough stock will be tackled by the sport's finest competitors, including Tom Nesmith of Bethel, Okla., world's champion all-round cowboy and No. 1 steer wrestler.

The top 20 cowboys in every event will compete, barring injury. Other champions are Kenny McLean of Okanagan Falls, B. C., Canada, saddle bronc; Ralph Buell of Sheridan, Wyo., bareback; and Dean Oliver of Boise, Idaho, king of the calf ropers. Bull riding champion Freckles Brown is recovering from a bull-inflicted broken neck.

Their four-footed opponents will include Trail's End, called by many the greatest indoor buckler in rodeo history, and Jesse James — both former Bucking Horse of the Year winners. Rodeo action will share the spotlight with comedienne Minnie Pearl of "Grand Ole Opry" fame, the precision-riding Side-Saddle Susans, trick riders The Flying Cimarrons and the comedy act of Ken Boen and the New Gray Mars.

The 1962 Fort Worth Rodeo will start at 8 p. m. Friday, Jan. 25. After performances at 10 a. m., 2 and 8 p. m. the next day, the rodeo will continue at 2 a. m. Sunday through the closing Sunday Feb. 3. Tickets may be ordered from P. O. Box 1550, Fort Worth.

Mrs. Lea Mock Art Guild's Artist of Month selection

By MRS. MILDRED OUTLAW

Mrs. Lea Mock, artist of the month, has pictures on display at Dodson's Jewelry, with an original, which is an arrangement of bottles, at the Southwestern Public Service office building.

Mrs. Mock was born Lea Mitchell at Trickham, Tex., near Brownwood. She attended high school at Santa Anna, then entered Howard Payne College at Brownwood, graduating in 1954 with a BS degree.

After teaching in Santa Anna for two and a half years, she came to Post and is teaching here in the Primary School. Mrs. Mock received her master's degree from Howard Payne in 1958.

Mrs. Mock says she likes to experiment in painting and likes using all colors. She feels that art has a definite place in the teaching of young children and uses it to advantage with her third grade pupils. In her school work she uses crayons. For her own painting she uses oils and is planning to try other techniques.

Mrs. Mock was recently elected president of the Post Art Guild, Texas Fine Arts Association. Aside from her teaching and painting, she likes to sew.

Her husband, Loyd Mock, is a Garza County man and is employed by Brown Brothers, et al.

Screwworm program may be stopped

AUSTIN—The Southwest Screwworm Eradication Program will be stopped on March 31 unless by that time livestock producers and sportsmen have raised the remaining one million dollars of their three million dollar goal, the board of trustees of the Southwest Animal Health Research Foundation announced at its recent meeting here.

Foundation President Charlie Scruggs said the move could become necessary because the Federal Appropriation Bill specifies that federal funds cannot continue whenever non-federal funds are no longer available on at least a fifty-fifty basis. All of the non-federal funds will have been expended by March 31, and state funds, if appropriated, will not be available until after that date.

The trustees immediately issued an emergency appeal to livestock producers and sportsmen from all five Southwestern States to raise the required one million dollars. They voided their original policy of not asking producers to contribute more than once in an attempt to save the program.

In making the announcement, Scruggs remarked it would be a shame to have to terminate the program at just the crucial time when the screwworm menace is being brought under control. Texas, Oklahoma and New Mexico experienced only a fraction of the normally-expected number of screwworm infestations in 1962, while Arkansas had none and Louisiana reported only two cases all year (both of them shipped in from infested states). States east of the Mississippi River, which normally experience considerable screwworm fly movement from Southwestern States, reported only one case in 1962, Scruggs said.

The trustees pointed out that contributions from the livestock industry moved the three-year eradication program underway a full year ahead of schedule.

Grassland area news

O. H. Hoover breaks ribs in ladder fall

By MRS. O. H. HOOVER
O. H. Hoover fell a week ago Tuesday while trimming trees around his place. He was using a step ladder and evidently reached over too far causing the ladder to topple over causing him to fall and break some ribs. He has been in Garza Memorial Hospital since Jan. 9. He is improving and hopes to be well enough to come home in a few days.

Herbert C. Hoover spent the weekend with his parents and Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Hoover of Lubbock visited Mr. Hoover in the hospital Thursday.

It surely has been cold out here on these Texas plains. Sunday temperatures were from 4 degrees below to 7 degrees below. Nearly everyone had frozen water pipes. Mine didn't freeze for which I am very thankful.

Mrs. Edith Inklebarger, Mrs. Billie Inklebarger and Jeannie visited relatives in Lamesa Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Moore and Cristy Lynn were luncheon guests of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Walker, Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Parks of Lubbock visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. O. C. Harrison, over the weekend.

Mrs. McCleskey and Mrs. Lucy Cunningham visited Mrs. G. H. Spears Tuesday morning. Mrs. Spears entered the hospital in Tahoka Thursday. We wish for her a speedy recovery.

Mrs. Ruby Claborn and Mrs. Loraine Gerner visited their mother, Mrs. O. F. Haley, last Wednesday.

WORD WAS received here Saturday by the Normans that their cousin, Mrs. Mable (Norman) Cooley of Utopia had died suddenly from a blood clot. Mrs. Cooley attended the Grassland school in the 1920s. E. M. Ray and Bob Norman left here Saturday to attend the funeral services in Utopia.

The gins at Grassland are running full blast and have been for some time. Of course this cold spell slowed them down some. The Farmer's Co-op Gin has ginned 3,510 bales so far and the Producer's Gin about 3,600. There is about 2,000 bales on the yards of the two gins at present. They estimate about 85 per cent of the cotton has been pulled.

Mrs. Emma Muller and Mrs. Loraine Gerner visited with Miss Joe Thomas last Thursday in Post.

J. M. Haley, Mrs. Gerner and Virgil Haley of New Home visited their mother last Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Huffaker visited Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Gregg Sunday afternoon.

The children of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Turner of Tahoka spent the weekend with their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. L. S. Turner. Their parents came for them Sunday evening.

Mrs. Loraine Gerner, Reba Mathis, Thelma Thomas and Jewel White attended a bridal shower for Jane Francis in the home of Mrs. Chester Morris Saturday night in Post.

Little Mitch Dubree, son of Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Dubree is at home and is improving.

Carl Read, son of Mr. and Mrs. Reagan Read of Brownfield, had surgery last week in a Lubbock hospital. He is the grandson of Mr. and Mrs. B. A. Norman of this community.

The Rev. Bernard S. Ramsey, minister of the First Christian Church, announces the following sermon topics for the Sunday services: "The Tragic Deadlines of Ignorance" is the title of the 11 a. m. sermon; "Defenders of the Faith" will be the topic for the 7 p. m. service.

Junior play comedy about college life

"Suddenly It Was May," a refreshing comedy about college life in three acts will be presented by the junior class of Post High School at 8 p. m. Saturday, Jan. 26, in the grade school auditorium.

Tickets are now on sale and can be purchased from any member of the junior class.

Folling is a synopsis of the play: Prof. Moss Gresham (Richard Hart), a likeable young man who is holding forth as a teacher at Bradford College, is engaged to marry pretty young Avis Terrant (Linda McMahon), a niece of Dean Pendergast Terrant (Curtis Hudson).

Things are going along splendidly for Moss until one bright afternoon when he receives a visit from his close pal, Barry Boniface (Kenneth Barnes). For Barry is eloping with a charming young girl named Peaches (Betty Jo Hill) and before he can get a justice of the peace to marry them, Peaches faints dead away and when she regains consciousness, it develops that Peaches has lost her memory and doesn't even remember Barry, the boy she is supposed to marry.

Barry rushes out for a doctor and while he is gone, Peaches (because of her dazed mental condition) thinks that it is Moss she is engaged to be married to.

When Peaches meets Moss' real fiancée, Avis Terrant, the latter is horrified to hear that her "one and only" is engaged to somebody else, and before she recovers from this blow, she picks up a newspaper and sees an announcement of Moss' forthcoming marriage to Torchy Shapiro (Susie Jo Schmidt), a "blues" singer.

Moss is forced to leave Bradford College and it requires some doing to reinstate himself in his former position and straighten things out with Avis.

Other characters in the play are as follows:
Lucretia Grove, Moss' housekeeper (Linda Rogers); Mrs. Talulah White, Peaches' domineering mother (Argan Robinson); Hal Stoddard, young reporter working his way through college (Tom

If Wide-Track is as hot as Pontiac says, why don't they put it in their Tempest?

They just did.

We can take a hint. When people are as happy with something as Pontiac owners are with Wide-Track, we're willing—nay, eager—to let everybody else in on it. That's why Tempest has a Wide-Track of its own this year. It's why you get to choose between a lively 4 and a 326-cu. in. V-8, too. We aim to please—and if we do say so, we're pretty accurate. *Optional at extra cost.

Now there are two kinds of Wide-Track cars... Pontiac and Tempest

For A Post Card Ad

Mailing costs alone to each of last week's 1,900 paid Dispatch subscribers would cost an advertiser—

$76<sup>00</sup>

Just a minute, please!

That's all the time it will take to prove to you, Mr. Advertiser, what an economical sale's tool Post Dispatch advertising really is.

Actually, an advertiser could buy THIS ENTIRE PAGE at the regular local advertising rate for what it probably would cost him to have his ad message printed or written on 1,900 post cards, have 1900 cards addressed if he had such a good mailing list, and then pay current mailing costs to mail them.

That means on a square inch basis, the advertiser gets OVER 21 TIMES as much advertising space in The Dispatch for exactly the same amount of money.

Remember too, Mr. Merchant, despite rising costs on almost every hand, on a continuing basis, The Dispatch open local advertising rate has not been increased in over three years.

The only rate increase under present ownership in almost six years averaged but 8.3 per cent. During this same period, paid circulation has increased over 50 per cent. That means your message has gained over 50 per cent in value to you because it now—today—is going into that many more homes.

The Post Dispatch

For A Dispatch Ad This Size
(A Full Inch Wider)

An advertiser last week, this week, next week would pay at our open local rate:

Only $6.30

And this cost also would include printing the message and the chore of addressing it into 1,900 homes.

Wayland International Relations meeting set; 2 of speakers named

PLAINVIEW—The International Relations Conference at Wayland Baptist College will have as two of its speakers His Excellency Julius N. Udochi, Ambassador of Nigeria, and Bradshaw Mintener Jr., Special Assistant with the Peace Corps, both of Washington, D. C., according to an announcement by Dr. Eugene W. Jones, chairman of the Division of Social Sciences.

The third annual conference, sponsored by the Wayland International Relations Club, will be Feb. 21-23 and will have as theme "International Peace: Africa". Other speakers are expected to accept invitations to take part in the conference.

While the sessions that include general discussions, a chapel program and a press conference are planned for Wayland students and faculty, invitations to other colleges draw an interesting group from out of town.

Mintener, Special Assistant to the Director of the College and University Division of the Office of Public Affairs, will speak on "African Diary: The Story of the Peace Corps at Work."

Thrilling war story scheduled for Tower

One of the strangest and most thrilling stories to come out of World War II—a true-life adventure that is almost unbelievable—is "No Man an Island," the audience-enthralling screen drama showing Sunday, Monday and Tuesday at the Tower Theatre.

Based on the actual war-time experiences of U. S. Navy radioman George R. Tweed, who successfully hid from Japanese invaders for 14 months on the war-torn island of Guam, the film story—in marvelous color—is an amazing and exciting entertainment classic.

Playing the role of the hide-and-seek "modern Robinson Crusoe" is Jeffrey Hunter, one of Hollywood's most capable actors.

TOP SORGHUM YIELD

Paul English, a Deaf Smith 4-H boy, made the top yield in the Texas Hybrid Grain Sorghum program for 1962. His yield of 8,521.2 pounds an acre was made under irrigation. The program is sponsored by the Texas Certified Seed Producers, Inc., in cooperation with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

ABOUT YOUR HEALTH

369 Texans killed last year in home accidents with combustible materials

AUSTIN—There's really no way of knowing how many economy-minded housewives still indulge in the potentially deadly practice of home dry cleaning.

But it is a fact, revealed in State Health Department death records, that 369 Texans were killed last year in home accidents involving combustible materials, and 34 were fatally poisoned at home by gases and vapors. It is fair to surmise that a number of these incidents could be traced to dry-cleaning activities.

Perhaps many victims habitually used flammable liquids to clean curtains or clothes. Perhaps others were first-timers, motivated by economy or convenience. All were probably ordinarily sensible, fully aware of the peril of gasoline or naphtha or similar materials so often used for dry cleaning. But one brief moment of carelessness turned them from happy homemakers into sad statistics.

Explosions are only one of several risks involved in home dry cleaning. Some agents are inflammable. Others give off injurious vapors. Still others are harmful to human skin. All could be lethal if taken internally.

Gasoline is so explosive that to keep it in the home is to openly court disaster. Gasoline emits vapors which form explosive mixtures in the air. A transient spark from a light switch or cigarette and the mixture may be ignited.

Vapors may flow in an invisible stream for perhaps 200 feet from the point of use, flashing back and exploding the main container when touched off by a flame or spark. Static electricity generated by synthetic or silk fabric being cleaned is fully capable of igniting the fumes of gasoline or naphtha.

Care must be taken to avoid inhaling concentrated vapors, since the common ones—excluding turpentine—are anesthetics. Some, after prolonged exposure, are injurious to internal organs.

If gasoline or naphtha can dissolve dirt and grime on fabrics, obviously these same fluids can dissolve the natural oils of human skin.

If you still insist on doing your own dry cleaning, do it right.

Use only non-flammable cleaning agents, keeping in mind that "non-explosive" does not necessarily mean "non-flammable." Never, under any circumstances, use naphtha or gasoline.

Do your cleaning outside, where toxic vapors will be quickly and safely dissipated. And use a dip stick in the liquid rather than your hands.

San Antonio meeting is set by cattlemen

SAN ANTONIO — March 18-20 has been set as the dates for the 86th annual convention of the Texas and Southwestern Cattle Raisers Association. The meeting will be in the Gunter Hotel.

Joe S. Fletcher, TSCRA secretary-general manager, said a top flight program is being arranged for the convention. It will include progress reports on the screwworm eradication program in the Southwest and a number of other subjects particularly important to cattlemen at this time.

Leo Welder of Victoria, ASCRA president, will preside over general sessions in which cattlemen will discuss issues presently affecting the cattle industry.

First state to abolish capital punishment was Michigan, in 1847.

TIME FOR SAFETY

Did you make New Year's resolutions covering farm safety? There is still time to make plans now to prevent accidents on your farm and in your home, says the Texas Farm and Ranch Safety Council. They might be responsible for your being around next year.

WEEKEND GUESTS

Weekend guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Boren were Mr. and Mrs. Jim Boren and children of Justiceburg and Mr. and Mrs. John Boren. Sunday afternoon guests were Mrs. John Boren's parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Bradford of Lubbock.
