School 'drop out' rate high here

The "drop out problem"—youngsters quitting school between the sixth through twelfth grades—is one of those receiving major attention from our new Post school administration.

The problem in Post is worse than the high national average of 38 per cent. It is an alarming 57 per cent here. What's more this year's eighth grade class lost 31 per cent of its enrollment from last year—in just one single year.

What causes so many "drop outs?" And what can we do about it?

First, drop outs accrue through economic pressure on both the family and student. They quit to go to work. But another more important reason is because such students who quit school do it because they see little real return ahead for their classroom efforts.

Maybe they figure they have no chance to go to college and they can't see that a high school education would better prepare them for making a living than just striking out on their own with the first job which presents itself. Or sometimes because high school classwork has become so hard—as a result of stiffened college requirements in this technical age—that they simply have too tough a time hanging in there with passing grades.

It wasn't long ago—but a few years in fact—when the local school problem was how to encourage more and more students to go on to college and not quit their educational work once handed a high school diploma.

In the last few years, a number of encouragements have been offered to our high school students to point them on toward college. Class requirements stiffened and the adjustment at the first year of college work no longer became a barrier which discouraged so many of our young people.

But in doing that, we have discouraged those for whom a high school education is the ultimate goal. With the emphasis on college preparation, a lot of our boys and girls see no valid reason to finish their high school education as they know they have no chance of ever reaching any such campus.

That's the problem. What can be done about it? The answer is simply several things if the community will support the solution.

At present time, a sub-committee of the School Advisory Committee is knee deep in the problem. When the full committee issues its report in the spring, the advisory group will have some essential recommendations ready.

The big part of the solution is in counseling students early enough in high school to aim them either toward college preparatory work or a terminal high school education which will concentrate heavily upon preparing the student for immediate job opportunities.

This means vocational educational developments far beyond those now offered. It means serious consideration of a plan whereby local business firms would work with the schools in a program to train people for positions right here in Post during their final two years of high school.

What's more all of this is no radical deviation on an experimental basis here. Such a program is already well established in Texas and other states. Post simply hasn't considered it before.

But to give the "best possible education" to every student it is badly needed here.

The "drop out problem" is going to receive the full attention of the administration, the advisory committee, school trustees, and the community.

Look for it in the spring. But realize the problem is with us—and badly needs solving.—JC

'Phone' cutover' an ideal gift

If the new automatic dial system Verbena telephone exchange "cutover" goes off as scheduled Friday, Dec. 20, it will be one of the best possible Christmas gifts for some 100 rural families of Garza County who have been living in a modern age without the modern convenience of a telephone.

In fact, we wouldn't blame the new subscribers who have been waiting for so many years for telephone service if they'd decide to take advantage of this Christmas "gift" by using their new telephone hook-up to wish everybody at the other end of the line a Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year. They have it coming, in view of their long wait for telephone service.

A list of all the groups and individuals who have been "at it" since 1951 to make telephone service available in eastern and southern Garza County would be too long for the space we have here. Deserving of special mention, however, are the Post Chamber of Commerce, the Caprock Telephone Co., Inc., of Spur, General Telephone Company of the Southwest and the City of Post.

Mention of any individuals who spent maximum time and effort on the project would be incomplete if it did not include the name of L. W. (Lynn) Duncan, formerly of the First National Bank here and now of Beaumont. It was "Dunc" who took hold a few years ago when the rural telephone project was reactivated and who held on until it picked up enough momentum to keep going.

Not only will Friday's Verbena exchange cutover be an appropriate Christmas gift for the families with new telephone service, but also for every other resident of Garza County who ever finds occasion to use a telephone—and who doesn't?—CD

EVEN THE WEATHER seems to be getting the Christmas spirit, which it is only five more shopping days until.

If you want to bring yourself up to date on this year's new Christmas toys—dolls, guns, mechanical toys, etc.—be sure to read the Santa Claus letters in next week's annual Christmas edition of the Dispatch. "How to Talk Pure Ozark in One Easy Lesson" is the title of a new book that probably won't be a Book-of-the-Month Club selection, but already is a best-seller in some sections of the country. The book was written by Dale Freeman, a Springfield, Mo., newspaper editor.

Here are some excerpts from the book. A few of them are used in Post, elsewhere in West Texas, are widely spread in East Texas and by no means are confined to the Ozarks.

Adam—That adam bomb is gonna blow us all to hell.

Bill—You've gotta ble that cawfer 'fore yours dring it.

Zeber—A striped horse.

SUCH EXPRESSIONS as the above always got worse instead of better—believe it or not—as they progressed from the Ozarks down into the mountain country of eastern Oklahoma, where I grew up.

These expressions, however, were as nothing compared with some of the malapropisms that are native to my part of the country. For instance, one fine summer afternoon a bunch of us had ridden our bicycles to the old swimming hole, which had only one drawback: No swimming signs were posted all over the place. As was our custom, we ignored the signs, shucked off our clothes and went swimming anyway. Just as we were whooping it up real good, the town character, who always went along as a lookout, ran up to the edge of the creek and bellowed: "Here comes Old Man So-and-So; you boys better set on your bicycles and run like hell."

None of us ever will forget that town character. He once told me that he thought, until he was 9 or 10 years old, that his name was

Q. As a veteran, I plan to be buried in a National Cemetery. Can my wife be buried there, too?

A. Yes. Should your wife die before you, she may also be buried in a national cemetery, provided you give written intention that you plan to be buried there at the time of your death.

Q. As a dependent parent receiving DIC payments from the VA I have been mailed a questionnaire card asking my income for 1963 and my expected income for 1964. The VA knows I am a poor widow. Why do they send me this card?

A. Every three years the VA must determine if dependent parents are eligible for DIC payments. Your other income or lack of it has an important bearing on this. You should complete the card and mail it to avoid any chance of a hold-up of your monthly checks.

If the nation's agricultural output of 1963 had been produced by 1939 methods, it would have cost about $17 billion more in land, labor, capital and other resources than the actual '63 cost. This annual dividend is more than twice the cost of all agricultural research done by federal, state and private industry since the nation was founded.

FIRST FOR ENTOMOLOGISTS
The first insect ever obtained by extraction has been extracted from boll weevils. Female boll weevils are attracted to a new type of attractant. This new type of attractant is a derivative of all-colony entomologists of the Department of Agriculture of the new sub-in a plastic cage, then drew air from it into a column of activated charcoal. After 11 weeks, they removed the charcoal and soaked it in chloroform. When the chloroform was evaporated, a residue was left that attracted female boll weevils. Chemists are attempting to chemically identify the attractant so that a similar attractant can be made synthetically for possible use in boll weevil control. Attractant research is just one of several approaches ARS has emphasized during recent years in a search for new pest-control methods that limit or avoid the need for insecticides and that involve only the target pest.

1964 OUTLOOK FOR AGRICULTURE GOOD

Texas farmers and ranchmen with the necessary resources — land, capital, labor and the managerial ability to combine them into an efficiently operating unit — should have a good year in 1964, believes John G. McHaney, economist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Here are his reasons. Economic activity for the nation is expected to continue at a high level during 1964. Consumer incomes after taxes are running about 5 per cent above 1962 now and further gains are expected in 1964. Too, automobile sales, home building, appliance sales are expected to register further gains as are expenditures for new plants and equipment. Expenditures for goods and services by federal, state and local governments will increase in 1964 and they now account for about a fifth of the gross national product, McHaney explains.

He points out, however, that the general economic activity will depend to a great extent upon the timing and extent of the proposed tax cut.

The domestic market for agricultural products looks good, says the economist. The immediate outlook for agricultural exports is about the best ever, he adds. Total exports of farm products for 1963-64 is likely to be near $5 billion if the proposed grain sales to Soviet bloc countries materialize.

TEXAS LAND USE PATTERN CHANGES

Urbanization is having its effects upon the pattern of land use in Texas. Land in urban areas, cities and densely populated suburbs, accounted for 2,501,000 acres in 1959 compared with only 733,000 acres in 1945, reports Gerald F. Vaughn, Extension rural-urban affairs specialist.

Texas had more land in urban areas in 1959 than any other state and more cities with 100,000 or more population (11) in 1960 than any other state except California with 14, Vaughn adds. He points out that Texas cities favor elbow room. Houston, for example, with a 1959 population about equal to Baltimore, contained 328 square miles or four times more area than the Maryland city. In fact, he adds, Houston was larger in land area than New York City.

The urban population of Texas increased from 4.8 millions to 7.2 millions between 1950-60. This tremendous jump has brought on added problems and shifts in land use in the developing areas, he says.

Along with the population growth, Vaughn points out other land shifts. Land used for highways, railroads and airports outside cities increased from 1,151,000 acres in 1945 to 1,501,000 acres in 1959. Rural parks and wildlife areas increased from 790,000 to 1,502,000 acres and national defense areas from 773,000 acres to 972,000 acres during the same period.

On the other hand, the acreage of cropland remained stable over the period, 30.2 million compared with 30.6 million acres. Pasture and grazing land increased slightly from 95.3 million to just under 103.1 acres during the 1945-59 period. Farm and nonfarm woodland acreage dropped from 35.7 million acres to 24.3 million and miscellaneous land uses, such as marshland, desert, and bare rock areas amounted to a few thousand acres to round out the state's total land area of 168,218,000 acres.

These shifts in land use, Vaughn says, are affecting agriculture and rural living in the developing areas, some of which are miles from cities.

Of every three of the nation's youths, one drops out of school before graduating from high school. Yet, according to the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, jobs now usually require at least a high school education.

It's My Turn ...

—By MRS. C.

I hope that there are enough BB guns, Tiger Joe sets, and Ken and Barbie dolls in town for all the children who are asking for them in their Santa Claus letters.

I haven't the slightest idea of what a Tiger Joe set is but they certainly are popular. And if every boy that wants a BB gun gets one there won't be a window or street light left in town. If I had any money to invest in stock I'd put it in the BB gun company. Year after year BB guns seem to head the list regardless of what new toy is on the market.

I figure if I can keep my Christmas spirit through all the Santa Claus letters that come in I've got it made, and I have kept it so I've got it made.

However, I might lose it if this weather doesn't clear up. I don't mind the cold and I like the snow but I hate this drippy dreary stuff. I feel cheated when we have it because I came here to live in sunny Texas.

I hate myself for putting away all the nativity scene costumes dirty because now I have to face washing them all. If you'll remember it was quite drippy and dreary last Christmas Eve so all those long flowing robes got pretty muddied from the knees down. I remember closing my eyes to this fact and hurriedly putting them away last year when they had dried out.

When Mr. C reads this column he will say: "Mrs. C (he always calls me Mrs. C) I'm sure some of your readers are in the dark as to what this nativity scene is". So I'll save him the trouble and explain.

Three years ago this Christmas a group of teen-agers got together to do a live nativity scene in the C's carport (because it has a stable look about it). These youths dress up in costumes (mostly sheets) and act out the nativity scene. They have three showings on Christmas Eve; the first at 6:30, the second at 7:30 and the last at 8:30 p. m.

The different times are so people wishing to come by may attend church, or a family gathering and still squeeze in a drop-by to catch the scene. The scene lasts around 20 minutes and you know when to leave because all the lights go off.

To catch the little ones' eyes and to add to the realism of the scene we also have a few live animals present. We're hoping for a real live burro this year and know that we have goats and sheep lined up. We've been offered a black rabbit but I'm not sure they had rabbits in Bethlehem.

I expect our Molly dog to break the whole scene up some year by escaping from the house and driving the animals into turmoil by barking, barking and barking. She has never just barked once in her entire life.

Consider this an invitation to drop by the C house with all your family and friends. The teen-agers get an awful lot out of presenting this for you and you'll get a lot out of watching.

Miracle in a Manger

On the holy night, the Christ child was born to an unknown carpenter and his wife in Bethlehem.

No palace physician attended the Prince of Peace — perhaps a mid-wife or a serving maid.

No fine linens were prepared for the mother; no crib for the Babe—just the straw and the manger were theirs.

No royal salute was fired to announce His arrival — only the braying of the animals in their stalls was heard.

Never was royalty greeted with less pomp and circumstance.

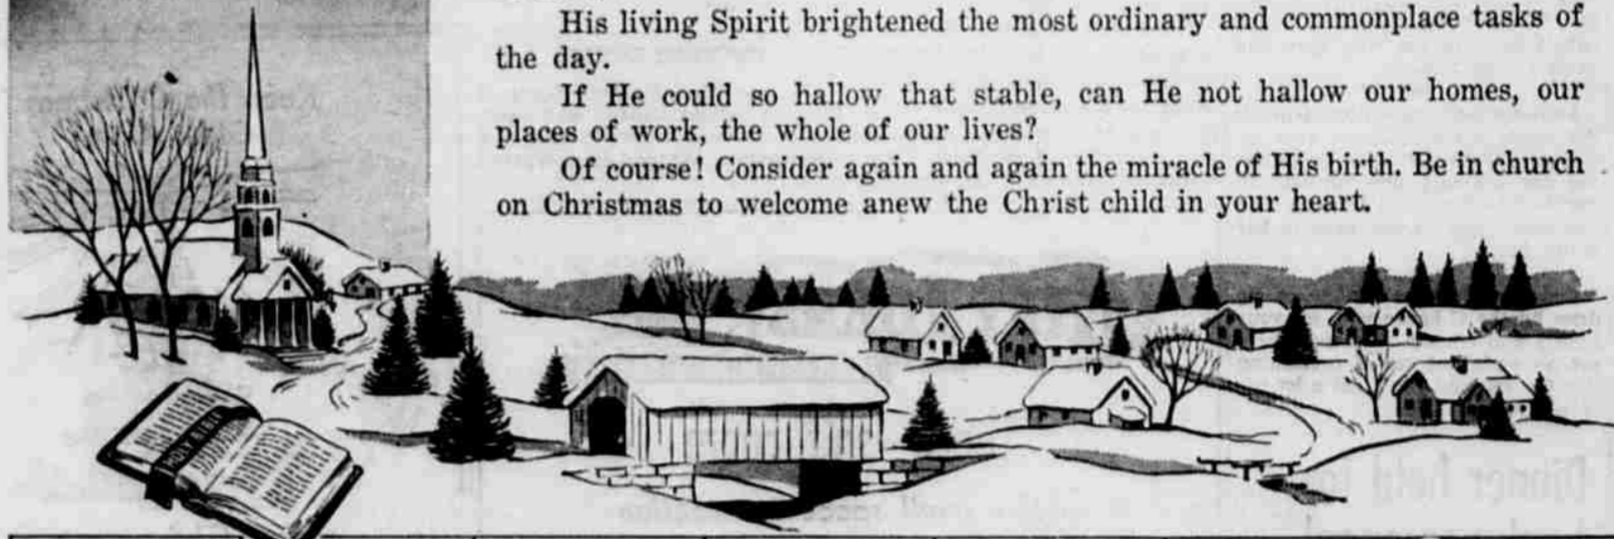

Why? Because man could not raise himself to God!

So God sent His Son to light up our hearts and minds with His Divine Presence.

His living Spirit brightened the most ordinary and commonplace tasks of the day.

If He could so hallow that stable, can He not hallow our homes, our places of work, the whole of our lives?

Of course! Consider again and again the miracle of His birth. Be in church on Christmas to welcome anew the Christ child in your heart.

A. Wilke, recently retired of the Texas Game and

They have a pretty good answer for the consistently good fishing in Falcon. Their answer is that Falcon is the one major lake in Texas where the spawning season is almost continuous.

IN MOST TEXAS lakes the heavy spawn is in May and June.
By that time there are plenty of fingerling bass in Falcon.

Same condition also is true in the fall. Fishing there recently these two men saw literally thousands of small bass from two to four inches long that came out of late spawns.

Right now in some parts of the lake six and eight inch bass can be caught on almost every cast.

Bass grow fast in Falcon. It is a lake rich in food values.

'Jolly Postman' Makes Rounds

Norman Rockwell's "Jolly Postman," a Christmas illustration created for Hallmark Cards, appears headed for his busiest holiday season. To help the nation's mail carriers, Hallmark recommends that Christmas cards be selected early, addressed carefully, and sent first class. Five-cent first class postage is not only faster, it assures forwarding if addressee has moved and return if the card is undeliverable. It is further recommended that the new ZIP numbers be used in mailing, even if the recipient lives in the same city.

CHAGAS' DISEASE
AUSTIN — You may catch cold or have the flu but chances are practically nil that you'll contract
Chagas' disease.

Colds and flu are common diseases of man, but what about Cha-gas' disease? Understandably, this disease is little known in the United States since only two human cases are known to have occurred here.

This is in direct contrast to the situation in Brazil and certain other areas of central and south America where millions of people each year suffer death or debilitation as a direct result of infection.

Chagas' disease is caused by a tiny protozoan parasite called a trypanosome. These organisms are found in the gut contents of certain species of blood-sucking bugs.

Human infection results from rubbing infective fecal material into the skin at or near the site of the bite. Disease does not result from the bite alone. Some hyper-sensitive individuals may have an allergic reaction from the bite alone. Insects that transmit the disease to man are known by such common names as kissing bugs, conenose bugs and Mexican bedbugs. Scientifically speaking, they belong to the insect order Hemiptera, family Reduviidae.

The "kissing bug" nickname sects feed almost exclusively at night, biting sleeping persons about the face.

All species occurring in the United States are members of the insect genus Triatoma. Six species of Triatoma are known to be present in Texas. These species of kissing bugs are not the same as those transmitting Chagas' disease in central and south America. Apparently they are much less capable of transmitting disease to man.

Triatoma bugs feed almost exclusively on the blood of warm blooded mammals and birds. During the day they stay hidden in crevices and cracks in such places as bedrooms, chicken houses and horse barns.

dropping of the lake is of great value. For instance, all last fall the lake was down a dozen or more feet. This permitted a heavy growth of weeds and grass. In fact these dry shores of Falcon were covered with a fine stand of coastal bermuda. This caused a great deal of grazing by livestock, which in turn richly fertilized the soil.

When the lake refills all this vegetation will be covered over, furnishing more food for the fish and more cover for them.

ALSO THE LAKE is far enough downstream from agricultural lands where pesticides are used.
Therefore there is little chance of harmful effect from crop dusting, etc. The water has been purified by a thousand miles of travel from the El Paso Valley.

Too, a number of streams also flow into the lake from the Mexican side, where there is so much pollution.

All this adds up to good fishing.
Fine facilities have been provided at Falcon for the fisherman.
Most of these facilities are to be found at Zapata, which has a dozen real nice motels at reasonable rates.

Moore and Wilke were down
there recently and fished with Roy Weathersby out of the Falcon Lake resorts at Zapata. Roy has been there three years and during that time he has strung up more than his weight in six pound bass.

During the time these two men were fishing on the lake they met people there from all over Texas.
There was one woman from Oklahoma City. She had trailed a boat from Oklahoma City to Amarillo where she picked up her mother.

They drove out of a snow storm in the Panhandle, on to Falcon and spent three days fishing. It wasn't their first trip. They make it twice a year.

Because of the excellent accommodations at Falcon it is a great place for husband - wife fishing teams. Women will take the rough water and usually catch more than their menfolk. But when they quit fishing they want a clean place in which to stay. Falcon has them.

THERE WAS A doctor and his wife from Wichita Falls, a contractor from Lubbock, a farmer from Levelland, a lawyer from east Texas and a man and wife from Beaumont.

So if you are looking for fishing that's different and consistently productive, try Falcon.

3 men charged after shootings

Joe Briseno, who came to this area five weeks ago from Ohio, is being held in county jail in lieu of two $1,000 bonds on two counts of assault with intent to murder.

The case awaits grand jury consideration for indictment.

Briseno is charged with shooting Johnny Salvador and Raymond Villa, both Post men. Neither was seriously wounded.

Deputy Sheriff Lloyd Merritt told The Dispatch that the shootings occurred in front of the Valdez tavern shortly after midnight Sunday as the result of a fuss.

Villa was shot in the right forearm with the revolver bullet ranging up his arm and coming out between the elbow. Salvador was shot in the right side, the bullet barely getting under his skin, Merritt said. The pair was treated at Garza Memorial Hospital and released.

Merritt also reported two other men, Steve Ortega of Haskell and Fred Perez of Tahoka also are charged with assault with intent to murder in connection with the case. Perez has been released on $500 bond.

The deputy sheriff said witnesses told him three or four shots were fired.

New drugs saving lives and dollars

The lives of two million Americans have been saved by the sulfa and antibiotic drugs in the last 20 years, a spokesman for the pharmaceutical industry told the Science & Math Club of Post High School Monday night.

The speaker, Bob Rummel, of American Cyanamid Company's Lederle Laboratories, said new drugs save both lives and dollars.

He pointed out that in many cases drugs even avert the need for surgery.

To develop new drugs, the speaker said, the drug industry spends millions of dollars for research. In 1958 industry research expenditures amounted to $170,000,000, and last year research spending reached $194,000,000.

"No other industry spends such a big part of its income on research," Rummel said.

Despite rising research and other costs, he said, "the price of drugs and prescriptions has risen only 21.4 per cent over the past 12 years. This compares with a 23.7 per cent increase for the cost of living generally."

The speaker paid tribute to the skill and knowledge of today's pharmacists and cited their key role in the efficient distribution of drugs to the public.

Rotarians see film on oil production

David Newby, Garza County oil information chairman, showed a film, "Barrel Number One", to Post Rotarians at their Christmas luncheon in City Hall Tuesday.

The film depicted all the necessary steps from drilling a wildcat oil test through production to delivery of that first barrel to the ultimate consumer.

Newby, in introducing the film, said only one out of each 52 wildcat efforts result in a commercially feasible oil well.

The club will not meet next Tuesday on Christmas eve.

News received of Wardlow death

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Mathis received word Wednesday of last week of the death in Arkansas from a brain hemorrhage of Marvin Wardlow, 55, a cousin of Mr. Mathis.

Mr. Wardlow was reared in Garza County and attended the Garlynn School. He moved to San Benito with his parents in the 1930's.

Mr. Wardlow's parents reared Mr. Mathis and his brother, Walter Mathis, of Tahoka.

He was preceded in death by his parents, a stepmother, two brothers, Ira Lee and Ray, and one sister, Bertha. His father and stepmother died last December.

Mr. Wardlow is survived by three brothers, Charlie and Leonard of Flagstaff, Ariz., and T. J. Wardlow of San Benito, and a number of nieces and nephews.

Mr. Mathis was unable to attend the funeral because of illness.

He's back in jail with cut throat

Daniel Rogers, 19, Negro, is back in the county jail this week on another set of drunk and disturbance charges, but this time after having a seven-inch gash in his throat sewed up at Garza Memorial Hospital early Sunday morning.

Ellis (Toby Man) Harrison, 57-year-old local Negro, is charged with aggravated assault in connection with the knifing which Deputy Sheriff Lloyd Merritt said took place shortly after midnight Sunday during a fight in front of Harrison's home on Oak street.

Rogers, who came here from San Antonio recently, was booked for drunk and disturbance charges 10 days ago.

Adult Education query receives no response

There was no response to the proposed Adult Education Program of the Post Public Schools, according to school officials.

The information concerning the program was published in a recent issue of The Dispatch.

"It is obvious that the people of the community are not ready for an adult education program at this time," said Supt. Barry B. Thompson.

"This does not mean, however, that the school cannot be of some help in the future," he continued.

"Therefore, from time to time, inquiries of a similar nature will be made to determine if the local school service can be of some service in supplying adult educational needs."

The Post superintendent said both he and High School Principal T. C. Clark were at the Post-Crosbyton varsity boys' and girls' games here earlier in the season and that no such behavior as that described by the Crosbyton coach took place.

"We are extremely pleased with the attitude of our basketball players, the behavior of the student body and the fine jobs being done by the coaches," Thompson said. "Our goal is to develop a reputation of clean, fair play and tough competition."

The games cancelled by Crosbyton Monday night were to have been between the two schools' freshman and junior varsity teams.

Courthouse to be closed all Christmas week

County offices in the Garza County Courthouse will be closed all through Christmas week, County Judge J. E. Parker announced today.

He said county officials will be "on call" during the week for any necessary business, but that county officials had agreed to the week's closing in view of the fact that Christmas falls in the middle of the week and that courthouse business is very slack during the week of the Christmas holiday.

The courthouse, when it closes Friday night, will reopen for business Monday, Dec. 30.

Approximately 35 students and school patrons viewed Edmund Rostand's "Cyrano de Bergerac," Monday night in the primary school auditorium.

The filmed play was presented by the English Department of Post High School, with Glyndol Snodgrass, senior English teacher, in charge.

The play was another in a series of enrichment films for the English students of the high school. The presentation of selected films of great literary efforts will be presented each month through May. All school patrons are invited to attend.

The high school English Department is composed of Miss Nelda Halford, Mrs. N. R. King, Mrs. Pat Brookshire and Snodgrass. They have been engaged in a year-long study of improving the instruction of language arts under the direction of T. C. Clark, high school principal.

The championship win over Lorenzo brought the Does' record for the season to eight wins against only one setback, not counting a "practice" win over the strong Abernathy girls' team.

Last season, the Does won all three tournaments in which they participated and also won the District 4AA championship. This year Coach Billy Hahn's Junior High girls' basketball teams won two games at Slaton Monday night, the 8th graders winning, 27 to 15, and the 7th graders, 24 to 14.

For both teams, it was their second wins in as many starts in Junior High conference play.

Patti Power, with 8 points, was Post's leading scorer in the 7th grade victory. Other scorers were Vicki Martin, 7; Brenda Lee, 5, and Merla Carpenter, 4. Judy Dooly and Linda Josey also played at the forward positions. Guards were Martha Jo Walls, Brenda Stelzer, Teresa Sims, Karen Lee, Petra Hill and Sharon Billberry.

The Junior High girls' next games will be against Tahoka here on Monday, Jan. 6.

Jr. High choirs present program

By Patsy Pierce
 The 6th, 7th and 8th grades presented a Christmas program Wednesday night at the grade school auditorium for their parents and the public.
 The 6th graders presented an operetta, "Christmas Holiday." The choir is composed of 64 students.
 The 7th and 8th grades, composed of 93 voices, sang several Christmas selections. These included: "Christmas Is Coming," "To Bethlehem Singing," "Christmas Greeting," "We Three Kings," "O, Holy Night," "Birthday of a King," "The Twelve Days of Christmas" and "Little Drummer Boy."
 "What Child Is This?" was sung by Petra Hill and Sharon Bilberry; "The Friendly Beasts" by Murphy Bowen, Marian Smith and Charles Baker, and the chorus of "We Three Kings" was sung by Sue Harrison and James McBride.

 The choirs are under the direction of Mr. Georgie Willson, who did a fine job and is proud of his choirs. I know Junior High is.

 Mr. Alexander we are sure glad to have you back in school.

Ginny and Grady you sure had a swell birthday party.

Hey, Kay, what's this about you and Timmons walking back from band together?

The 6th graders are going to give a band concert soon. Good luck, band.

Mr. Willson's choir is going to sing in the primary school Wednesday.

There are lots of pretty Christmas trees up in our school. The halls are decorated, too. Looks real pretty.

Aunt Gerty suggests only way out for jilted, heartbroken Senior girl

DEAR AUNT GERTY:

I am a senior in high school and I have a very pressing problem. I have been going steady with a boy for several months now and I thought he liked me very much. Something happened this weekend to make me realize that I really didn't mean anything to him at all.

I hear from someone that he wanted to go with another girl and then I saw him with her. Of course, this completely broke my heart in pieces. I do not know who to turn to or what to do. I need your help badly.

HEARTBROKEN

DEAR HEARTBROKEN:

If you cannot win him back with your money or your mother's cooking, I suggest that you ask Santa Claus for a full bottle of sleeping pills or a loaded gun.

PHS girls write Santa a letter

The girls of Post High School put their heads together and decided to write Santa a letter representing all their wishes.

Dear Santa:

We have all been very good girls! We have one pressing problem. The Man Trap you sent last year is all worn out from over-use. Would you please renew it this Christmas?

Also, fill our individual stockings with all the little things that thrill a man's heart. Please include all the little charms that make us so well liked among the male sex.

We do love you, darling Santa, and remember you all year 'round as the most thoughtful man we know.

With all our love,

The flag ceremony was led by John Eddie Shook with Roger Pace and Mike Huff as color guards.

For this month's crafts, the boys took part and enjoyed making Christmas gifts for their parents.

Kool-Aid and cakes were served by Denner Roger Pace, to Bobby Ammons, Ronny Ammons, Tony Rosas, Mike Huff, Donny Haire, Steve Hays and John Eddie Shook.

The meeting was closed with the Living Circle as the boys repeated the Cub Scout promise.

URBANIZATION EFFECTS

Urbanization is having its effects upon the pattern of land use in Texas. The acreage in cities and densely populated suburbs increased more than threefold from 1945 to 1959, says Gerald F. Vaughn, Extension rural-urban affairs specialist. Texas had more land in urban areas in 1959 than any other state. The shifts in land use, Vaughn says are affecting agriculture and rural living in the developing areas some of which are miles from cities.

Post Highlites

By Argan Robinson
 The choir of Post High School would like to express their gratitude to the provisions made by the Presbyterian Church for the presentation of the cantata, "A Song Unending." Your assistance was appreciated very much.

Congratulations to the Post Does. They brought home another trophy after having won first place in the Ralls Tournament held last Thursday, Friday and Saturday. The Antelopes won third place.

The football banquet, honoring the football boys and coaches, will be held Friday night, Dec. 20. Dates will be included and the program should prove an outstanding one.

Tom Clark looks like he has really had it rough lately. Tom, how did you get all the scratches and bruises that seemed to have added a new profusion of color to your smiling face? Could it be that Susie Jo and your little sister have a partnership?

Margie Harrison has actually cut her hair. We like it, Margie!

Congratulations to Linda McMahon on winning district FFA Sweetheart Dec. 12. Now Linda goes to the area contest in the spring to compete for area sweetheart. Good luck, Linda.

By the way, Mary Beth Ford and Diane Kiker have finally got to really enjoy fog. Fog, that is, real fog—not just dust.

School is out Dec. 20 for the Christmas holidays. Everyone will be home from college and the Air Force. Merry Christmas!

Visiting tapers off as cold weather moves in

By MRS. O. H. HOOVER
Believe me this has been one spell of weather. It sure has had me fenced in, but I am thankful for good neighbors who take pity on me and help me out. Nothing is better than good neighbors. There won't be much news this week. Most folks just sat home by the fire and watched TV.

Mr. and Mrs. Dubose of Brownfield spent the day Thursday with the W. G. McCleskeys. C. O. and Laverne heard they were there so they came over and had lunch with their parents. Mrs. Edith Inklebarger was an afternoon visitor.

Mr. and Mrs. McCleskey were still not talked out so they visited their pastor and wife, the Rev. and Mrs. Ira Campbell, that night.

Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Gribble visited the Jim Pattersons Sunday afternoon. Mr. Patterson is improving and is able to be up some.

Friday evening Mr. and Mrs. W. G. McCleskey went to Hooleys and Lavernes and helped baby-sit the great-grandchildren. Did they ever spoil them!

Mrs. Gus Porterfield, Mrs. T. A. Stone and son, Kent, and Mrs. O. H. Hoover visited in Lubbock last Thursday.

Donald Ritchey was an overnight guest of Delbert McCleskey Saturday. He also spent the day Sunday.

The Rev. and Mrs. Ira Campbell were luncheon guests of the W. G. McCleskeys Sunday. They held services at the Lavoy Nursing Home in Tahoka Sunday afternoon.

Visitors in the C. M. Greer home Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Bible and two sons of Lubbock. Steve Greer also visited his grandparents Sunday.

The children of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Norman took part in a Christmas Cantata at the First Baptist Church in Post Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Gus Porterfield visited her mother, Mrs. D. G. Cook in Tahoka Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Philip Murray are here visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Murray. He is in the Air Force and is stationed in Snyder, Okla. They plan to be here during the Christmas holidays.

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Huffaker plan to spend the Christmas holidays in Los Angeles, Calif. They will meet their daughter, Bernice, and family in Roswell, N. M. and all drive on together.

I am sorry folks, that's all—there "ain't" no more.

ORATORIO DEFINED

The oratorio, a musical composition using soloists, chorus and orchestra, is named after the Oratorio, or mission hall, in Rome, where sacred musical performances were held in the 1500's, according to World Book Encyclopedia.

Men outnumber women 132 to 100 in Alaska.

Entries is drawing close with Dec. 20 the last day for cattle, horses, sheep and swine. Poultry, pigeon and rabbit exhibitors have until Jan. 15, 1964 to get in under the wire.

POPULATION TRENDS

Projections on population trends in Texas indicate the state will have 11.7 million residents by 1970. The state posted a gain of 24 per cent in population from 1950-60, but it was not shared by all counties—143 lost population while 111 accounted for the increase. These and other facts regarding Texas population changes and related problems are pointed up by Dr. R. L. Skrabanek, Texas A&M University sociologist in a recently released publication, B-1000. Single copies are available from the Department of Agricultural Information, Texas A&M University, College Station.

96 deaths predicted

Safe holiday driving is urged by head of DPS

AUSTIN — The director of the Texas Department of Public Safety today called upon Texas motorists to "awaken their consciences and do more than just drive safely during the Christmas-New Year holidays" to forestall an expected toll of 96 lives in traffic accidents.

Col. Homer Garrison Jr., in announcing that past experience indicates such a toll for the nine-day period from Christmas Eve through New Year's Day, urged motorists to "drive legally on holiday excursions and not only watch out for those who don't, but report them to the nearest police agency."

Garrison announced that the DPS Statistical Services calculates that a total of 180 persons will meet violent deaths of all kinds during the period of "Operation Deathwatch," which begins at 12:01 a. m. Dec. 24 and ends at 11:59 p. m. Jan. 1.

Of this total, 96 traffic deaths, 40 suicides and homicides, and 44 other accidental deaths are indicated, he said.

The "Deathwatch" is a statewide program coordinated by the DPS in an effort to dramatize the tragedy of violent death during the holidays. Fatalities will be tabulated by the Department during the nine-day period and the totals will be announced officially three times daily, as a means of trying to keep safety uppermost in the minds of the traveling public.

"The Department of Public Safety also will strengthen the Highway Patrol with some 150 additional patrolmen from the other uniformed services during the holiday period," Garrison said, "but the most effective work in the drive to cut down on deaths, injuries and economic loss can be done by the drivers themselves. Studies indicate that speed too fast for conditions was a major factor last year, followed or accompanied by driving while intoxicated, and driving on the wrong side of the road. But if this tragedy could be laid to one single factor, I would say that general carelessness and inattentiveness, coupled with disregard for the law, would stand out."

Gifts were brought by each member for a basket for a needy family.

He also called attention to the significant fact that during the last holiday season, 62 per cent of the fatal accidents on rural highways involved only one vehicle, indicating that the accidents mostly could not be blamed on "the other guy."

"It is hoped that with the usual fine cooperation of the newspapers, radio and television, the safety emphasis program surrounding 'Operation Deathwatch' will be more effective this year in holding the line against holiday tragedy on the streets and highways," Garrison said.

Licensed agents account for most Texas '65' rolls

Insurance agents licensed to sell health insurance in Texas accounted for 86 per cent of the 50,000 enrollments in Texas '65 during the first open enrollment period in October, according to H. Lewis Rietz, president of the Texas 65 Health Insurance Association.

"This splendid cooperation by Texas agents was one of the big reasons for the success of our first enrollment period," Rietz stated.

"Texas '65' enjoyed a much higher percentage of agent participation than any of the other three states preceding Texas in offering over-65 health insurance plans," Rietz said.

Rietz stated that the average age of the Texas enrollee was 73.

He said 64.1 per cent of those enrolled were women and 35.9 per cent were men.

The major-medical plan proved to be the most popular of the three plans offered. Fifty-eight per cent purchased this plan, while 26 per cent chose the basic plan and 16 per cent purchased the combination of the two plans.

Cost of the basic plan is $9 per month. The major-medical plan is $10 per month and the combination plan is $19 monthly.

53 children are guests at party

The 53 children of the employees of Brown Brothers et al. were guests at a Christmas party Dec. 10 in the Garza County Youth Center at 6:30 o'clock in the evening.

Ages of the children range from 18 months to 18 years.

E. C. Moreland, Mrs. Katharine Trammell and Mrs. Royce Josey were in charge of the tree gifts for each child and assisted with the party.

Mrs. E. R. Moreland and Mrs. Everett Windham were in charge of the refreshments and served Christmas cookies, openface sandwiches and punch.

A Moment With God

REPENTANCE AT THE JORDAN

Repent ye, for the kingdom of heaven is at hand.

John's preaching aroused a great deal of attention. He was a great preacher of the old people where they had sinned, and called them to repent. This we all need. We have to be told again and again things that are wrong in our lives, our lovelessness, our selfishness. Too seldom we think of God and of His demands on us.

So John cried: "Repent, for the kingdom of heaven is at hand." Repent, for the King is coming. John does not put on a new suit, decorate the streets, bring out the nothing so showy, but something far more important. He says your sinfulness, your unworthiness, and turn over a new leaf. Repentance, that is the way to the Kingdom.

But we also have to be told again and again that God and always willing to forgive, if only we ask to be forgiven for Christ's sake.

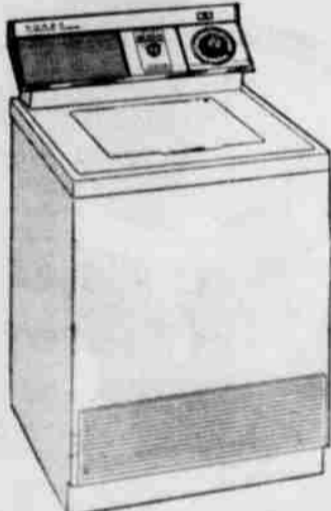

However, repentance is the first great need. We must recognize our shortcomings and helplessness. Only as we ourselves to be poor sinners can we come into His presence to be accepted. Our confession must be: "Father, I have sinned against heaven and in Thy sight, I am no more worthy to be called Thy son." Only then will there be joy in heaven.

Lord Jesus, think on me and purge away my sin. Free my born passions set me free and make me pure within.

'Long' memory no good in replacing SS card

People with "long" memories should replace lost social security cards with duplicate cards. "Long" memories sometimes jumble long numbers, thereby delaying the crediting of social security accounts," warns John G. Hutton, manager of the Lubbock Social Security Office.

Mr. Hutton said that often this delay could be avoided if the worker had not reversed one or two digits in his social security account number.

He urged those people who have lost their cards, or have changed their names, to apply for duplicate cards.

A representative of the Lubbock Social Security Office will be in Post on Jan. 14 in the district courtroom at 9:30 a. m.

STALKING THE CITY STREETS

This is a scene from the thriller, "Black Zoo," showing at the Tower Theatre here Saturday as a part of a double feature. Stars of the picture are Michael Gough, Jeanne Cooper, Rod Lauren and Virginia Grey.

Handel's 'Messiah' has endured through years

Of all the music associated with Christmas, perhaps no composition so well embodies the spirit of the holiday as Handel's "Messiah." The great oratorio has enthralled countless audiences. It has been said to have brought more money for charity than any other single piece of music. And it marked a rebirth for its composer.

George Friderick Handel was virtually a has-been in 1741. London had grown tired of his Italian operas and of him. More than once he had barely missed being thrown into debtor's prison, and his health was beginning to fail.

Then came a commission from the lord lieutenant of Ireland and the governors of three charitable institutions for Handel to conduct a series of charity concerts, reports World Book Encyclopedia. He began to compose a new piece for the tour.

Handel was not an especially religious man, but something seemed to possess him as he worked. For some 23 days he kept to his study, refusing to see any visitor, leaving his food untouched and working through the night. Now he played the harpsichord, now he sang, then back to the writing. His servants thought he was going mad. Often they found him in tears. When he finished the "Hallelujah Chorus," he declared, "I think I did see all Heaven before me, and the great God himself."

On April 13, 1742, 700 people crowded into a Dublin music hall for the premiere of "Messiah." It was a resounding success.

At the first English performance a year later, King George II was so overwhelmed by the "Hallelujah Chorus" that he rose from his seat and stood throughout the section. The audience, of course, followed the example of their king, and so began a custom which survives to our day.

Despite the king's appreciation, however, London was not ready to accept Handel and the concert failed. It was not until Handel began directing annual benefit performances of "Messiah" at the London Foundling Hospital in the 1750's that his adopted countrymen came to recognize it as a masterpiece, and once again gave him their acclaim.

BOLL WEEVIL DISCOVERY

Entomologists of the U. S. Department of Agriculture's Agricultural Research Service have isolated a natural substance from male boll weevil which attracts the female of the species. Chemists are attempting to identify the substance chemically so that synthetic production might be possible. The discovery, made in cooperation with workers of the Mississippi Experiment Station, is another approach for insect control.

Post office here handling record number Christmas cards this year

The post office here is handling more Christmas cards this year than ever before, Postmaster Harold Voss said today.

The local post office, he said, cannot maintain a count on Christmas cards because there's no way of telling which letter envelopes contain cards, but the greeting card industry has estimated that several billion will be mailed this year during the holiday season.

Postmaster Voss also noted that people sending Christmas cards today at the 5c first class rate pay the same to mail Christmas greetings as Americans did well over a century ago.

"Research shows that in 1847 the Post Office Department issued its first stamps, including a nickel stamp for the basic prepaid letter rate," Voss said.

"And, of course, in those days a nickel could buy a meal where it usually can't even buy a cup of coffee today," he pointed out.

The postmaster's comments were made in connection with a recommendation to Post residents to use the first-class 5c Christmas stamp on their Christmas cards, if they haven't already mailed them—and he hopes everyone has. The stamp portrays the National Christmas Tree on the "Eastern Ellipse" in the nation's capital. The stamp is available at the local post office.

The 5c rate permits forwarding or return of the letter where necessary, allows the use of a handwritten message on the card—adding a personal touch—and also provides speedier handling and faster delivery, particularly for cards going out of town.

"In recent years, people have been buying better and more expensive greeting cards—and it seems a shame, when only 4c third-class postage is paid and the addressee has moved that we normally cannot even forward the card," Voss commented. "It is poor economy to try to save a few pennies and lose several dollars worth of cards in the bargain."
