Beets Light

Watered showers in the northern western portions of Texas inured with insect control programs in some areas. As a general rule cotton plantings have had excellent growing and fruiting weather during the past week. Cotton is doing well in nearly all areas. A combination of rapid plant growth and reduced thrip populations have resulted in little concern about this pest. Only Jones and Stock counties reported noticeable thrip populations.

Planters continue to cause damage in late planted cotton and some which lost the early harvest when the fleshopper stage was negligible during early planting, allowing the cotton to set bottom crop, this cotton is doing well with a good bottom crop. Older cotton with a good bottom crop, often do not show the heavy shedding of small forms seen in younger or late planted plantings. Larger thrip populations are required to cause the same damage that was earlier in the fruiting period. Heavy fleshopper populations are reported in Lynn, Motley, Daw Fisher, Jones, Glascock, and Stock counties. Medium infestations were reported in several counties in this area.

Bull worms are posing a critical problem in many counties in this area. It is extremely important to control closely for the eggs of small worms; because, control measures are most effective in the early stages of this pest. After the worm begins feeding on the roots, control is extremely difficult. Bullworms and damage reported heavy in Terry, Glascock, Dawson, Jones, and Fisher counties. Medium infestations were reported in Lynn, Wilbarger, Reagan, Wadman, Wichita, Midland, Yoakum, and Knox counties. Bullworm damage were not as numerous this year as in the past two weeks, but irrigation beginning again cotton fields should be observed closely.

The members of the Catholic Church of O'Donnell cordially invite the public to a Spanish supper Sunday which will be held at the church August 14, at 6:00 p. m.

Methodists To Worship In New Building Sunday

Sunday morning the congregation of the First Methodist Church will worship in their new building for the first time. Although the new $65,000 building will not be finished several more weeks, the move is necessary to convert the old auditorium into class rooms.

Fund raising on the new edifice was started about a year ago and work began shortly after Jan. 1st of this year. Both the new and old buildings are in orange-red brick with gray slate roof. Estimated replacement cost of the Church plant is well over $150,000. Open house will be announced later.

The church is quite beautiful even though not complete. Exposed wood beams, light wood panels and indirect lighting plus liberal use of stain glass makes the new house of worship a thing of lasting beauty. An effort is being made to have every Methodist present Sunday. Rev. Howard Marcom is the pastor.

Dawson Dalhoff of Phenix visited here this week.

Cotton and feed continue to grow well and chopping is nearing an end. A rain is needed badly as cotton is fruiting and additional surface moisture is needed to insure a maximum crop. A month has passed since the fine early July rains and an unusually hot summer is drying the top soil.

James Reed, Teacher of Vocational Agriculture in the O'Donnell High School, will attend the state conference of vocational agriculture teachers to be held in Corpus Christi August 9-12, 1960. The annual conference is designed to help teachers keep pace with the fast-changing agriculture of the state. Workshops, lectures and panels will discuss subjects of wide variation but each designed to equip participants for improved instruction in 1960-61.

Mrs. Simpson was born Feb. 1, 1887 in Myrtle Springs. She came to Lynn County in 1929 from Dade City, Fla. She was a member of the First Baptist Church. Survivors include three daughters, Mrs. Annie Pearl Bates of Dimmitt, Mrs. Alta May Lindley of Scottsdale, Ariz., and Mrs. Vona Lee Stubbiefield of Tucson, Ariz., four sons, Major Howard Simpson, of here, James W. Simpson of Bayboro, Walter A. Simpson of Big Spring, and Homer A. Simpson of Seminole, three sisters, Mrs. Frankie Moore of Longworth, Mrs. Dovie Cross and Mrs. Myrtle Hale of Sweetwater, 12 grandchildren and six great grandchildren.

Mrs. Simpson enjoyed a wide circle of friends and neighbors who mourn the passing of a fine and noble lady and a loving mother.

S. S. AGENT TO BE HERE AUG 17

Sunday, August 14th, is the 25th Anniversary of the Social Security Act. Just 25 years ago, Congress enacted the law which has since been amended and broadened several times.

At the end of 1959, as Federal social security was starting its 25th year, old age, survivors, and disability insurance monthly benefits were being paid in Lynn County to 493 persons at the rate of $24,720 a month, according to John G. Huton, manager of the Lubbock S. S. district office. This is an increase in number of beneficiaries of about 16 percent since February 1959, the last previous date for which Lynn County figures are available," he said.

Nationally about 14 million persons were receiving old age, survivors and disability insurance monthly benefits at the end of 1959 at an annual rate of more than $10 billion.

Payments to a retired worker with no dependents receiving benefits averaged $70 a month nationally at the end of last December, to a retired couple, both of whom were receiving benefits, the average payment was $121. The average for a widow with two young children was $169.

A representative of the Lubbock S. S. office will be in O'Donnell on August 17th in the Elementary School at 2 p. m. and will be glad to assist in all matters pertaining to S. S.

Rabies Shots No More
Painful Than Some Other Injections

You've heard it or read it dozens of times — a youngster is bitten by a dog or cat which promptly disappears. A public appeal is made for help in locating the offending animal, lest the child has to unnecessarily take the "painful" rabies shots. State health officials are the first to agree that such public appeals are highly beneficial. But those same officials do not mince words in denouncing the "painful" label as grossly inaccurate. The are no more painful than any other immunizing injection, and less so than some shots which are accepted with philosophical cheerfulness.

Ask Dr. A. B. Rich, director of the State Health Department's veterinary public health division, or F. W. Huff, a laboratorian who in his career of some 30 years has autopsied well over 97,000 animal heads for rabies. Both men can speak with the authority that comes only with first-hand experience.

Once while in private practice, Dr. Rich examined a dog for tonsillitis. The very next day the animal displayed typical signs of rabies. Since he had a scratch on his hand, prudence demanded that Dr. Rich take the shots. He says he found them to be almost painless beyond the initial brief prick of the needle.

Huff echoes the same sentiment. He ought to know since he has had to take a 21 shot course of treatment on four separate occasions. Anyone who handles his volume of autopsy work — from African lions to Alaskan wolves — is bound to be exposed on occasions.

Has the "pain" label dissuaded anyone from taking the shots when they should have? There is no way of knowing. But Rich says he can readily imagine how it could happen. From this point of view, the inaccurate label is dangerous since rabies is endemic over most of Texas — particularly among wildlife primarily foxes and skunks. A total of 567 positive cases were reported last year, and for the first six months of this year 357 positive cases have been diagnosed.

Rabies vaccination carries a slight risk of reaction, so should never be given thoughtlessly. It should always be given in cases of exposure to an apprehended animal known to be rabid, or an unapprehended animal in regions where rabies is known to exist.

Proposed CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT
NUMBER TWO ON THE BALLOT

PROPOSED CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT TO BE VOTED ON AT AN ELECTION TO BE HELD ON NOVEMBER 8, 1960.

SENATE JOINT RESOLUTION NO. 8 proposing an Amendment to Section 49-b, Article III of the Constitution of Texas, increasing to three and one-half percent (3-1/2%) the maximum permissible interest rate on bonds hereafter issued by the Veterans' Land Board; providing for an election and the issuance of a proclamation therefor.

BE IT RESOLVED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF THE STATE OF TEXAS:

Section 1. That Section 49-b, Article III of the Constitution of Texas, be amended by adding thereto the following:

"The foregoing notwithstanding, bonds hereafter issued by the Veterans' Land Board pursuant to the authority of this Section 49-b of the Constitution may bear a rate or rates of interest not to exceed three and one-half percent (3-1/2%) per annum.

"This Amendment shall become effective upon its adoption."

Sec. 2. The foregoing Constitutional Amendment shall be submitted to a vote of the qualified electors of this state at an election to be held throughout the State of Texas on the first

Tuesday after the first Monday in November, 1960, at which election all ballots shall have printed thereon the following:

"FOR the Amendment to Section 49-b of Article III of the Constitution of Texas by adding thereto a provision authorizing the Veterans' Land Board to issue the bonds authorized under such Section to bear interest at a rate or rates not to exceed three and one-half percent (3-1/2%) per annum."

"AGAINST the Amendment to Section 49-b of Article III of the Constitution of Texas by adding thereto a provision authorizing the Veterans' Land Board to issue the bonds authorized under such Section to bear interest at a rate or rates not to exceed three and one-half percent (3-1/2%) per annum."

If it appears from the returns of the said election that a majority of all votes cast were in favor of said Amendment, the same shall become a part of the State Constitution and be effective from the date of such election; and the Governor shall issue a proclamation in keeping therewith.

Sec. 3. The Governor of the State of Texas shall issue the necessary proclamation for said election as required by the Constitution and laws of the state.

NUMBER FOUR ON THE BALLOT

PROPOSED CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT TO BE VOTED ON AT AN ELECTION TO BE HELD ON NOVEMBER 8, 1960.

HOUSE JOINT RESOLUTION NO. 6 proposing an Amendment to Section 11, Article XVI of the Constitution of the State of Texas, so as to give the Legislature authority to classify loans and lenders, license and regulate lenders, define interest, fix maximum rates of interest, and provide for a maximum rate of interest of ten per centum (10%) per annum in the absence of legislation setting maximum rates of interest; providing that the rate of interest shall not exceed six per cent (6%) per annum in contracts where no interest rate is agreed upon; providing for the right of appeal and trial de novo in the event any regulatory agency cancels or refuses to grant any permit; providing for the necessary election and the form of the ballots; and providing for the necessary proclamation and publication.

BE IT RESOLVED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF THE STATE OF TEXAS:

Section 1. That Section 11, Article XVI of the Constitution of the State of Texas be amended so as to hereafter read as follows:

"Section 11. The Legislature shall have authority to classify loans and lenders, license and regulate lenders, define interest and fix maximum rates of interest; provided, however, in the absence of legislation fixing maximum rates of interest all contracts for a greater rate of interest than ten per centum (10%) per annum shall be deemed usurious; provided, further, that in contracts where no rate of interest is agreed upon, the rate shall not exceed six per centum (6%) per annum. Should any regulatory agency, under the provisions of this Section, cancel or refuse to grant any permit under any law passed by the Legislature; then such applicant or holder shall have the right of appeal de novo as that term is used in appealing from the justice of peace court to the county court."

Sec. 2. The foregoing Constitutional Amendment shall be submitted to the vote of the qualified electors of this State at an election to be held on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November, 1960, at which election all ballots shall have printed thereon the following:

"FOR the Constitutional Amendment giving the Legislature authority to classify loans and lenders, license and regulate lenders, define interest and fix maximum rates of interest; and providing for a maximum rate of interest of ten per centum (10%) per annum in the absence of legislation fixing maximum rates of interest."

interest is agreed upon, the rate shall not exceed six per centum (6%) per annum. Should any regulatory agency, under the provisions of this Section, cancel or refuse to grant any permit under any law passed by the Legislature; then such applicant or holder shall have the right of appeal de novo as that term is used in appealing from the justice of peace court to the county court."

Sec. 2. The foregoing Constitutional Amendment shall be submitted to the vote of the qualified electors of this State at an election to be held on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November, 1960, at which election all ballots shall have printed thereon the following:

"FOR the Constitutional Amendment giving the Legislature authority to classify loans and lenders, license and regulate lenders, define interest and fix maximum rates of interest; and providing for a maximum rate of interest of ten per centum (10%) per annum in the absence of legislation fixing maximum rates of interest."

"AGAINST the Constitutional Amendment giving the Legislature authority to classify loans and lenders, license and regulate lenders, define interest and fix maximum rates of interest; and providing for a maximum rate of interest of ten per centum (10%) per annum in the absence of legislation fixing maximum rates of interest."

Sec. 3. The Governor shall issue the necessary proclamation for said election as required by the Constitution and laws of the state.

Food Poisoning May Hit During Picnic Time

Almost as quickly as you can say "please pass the potato salad," a tiny microscopic speck of bacterial life can make a shambles of that great American summer time institution, the picnic.

Called staphylococci, "staph" for short, these pernicious bits of living matter are said by health authorities to be the most common cause of food poisoning. Closely related strains, called "epidemic" or "hospital" strains, have caused fatal infections in hospital nurseries.

About the picnic... If you're careless in preparing the food, staph may invade and multiply in items on the bill of fare. The ham, for instance, or the chicken salad. Or the cream-filled layer cake. In a matter of hours, once eaten, they can turn a strong man into a cramped, tormented weakling. But it's easy to prevent this fun-wrecking development: simply keep the food chilled between the time of preparation and service, and serve as soon as possible.

State health authorities are quick to point out that staph - caused food poisoning isn't limited to summer nor to picnics, but can occur when ever conditions are right regardless of the time or place. Conditions are more apt to be right during summer when outdoor eating is in vogue and staph can team up with heat and lack of refrigeration to spoil food.

As a point of interest, it isn't the organism themselves that do the damage, but a toxin produced by adult organisms. Admittedly, the point is of little consolation to the wrung-out victim, but it does provide a clue to preventing other cases.

Staph germs are so widely distributed in nature... in nose and throat secretions, in exudate of boils and carbuncles, on skin and clothing, in the very air... that there is little chance of avoiding them completely. The trick is to keep them from growing and multiplying so they cannot produce the toxin.

Refrigeration is the key to stunting staph germs. They can't grow in cold temperatures, but thrive in bountiful profusion at room temperature. Therefore, refrigerate susceptible foods at 40 degree temperatures. Use shallow pans so the ingredients will chill through.

For outdoor applications, the entomologists recommend a 10 percent chlordane, 2 percent dieldrin or 5 percent heptachlor dust. If an emulsion spray is used, they strongly urge that label directions be followed. They suggest that a band of insecticidal dust or spray be applied around the foundation wall and that all ant nests in the yard be treated.

They point out that repeated applications of the insecticides may be needed to give complete control of ants. They suggest that a copy of L-311, "Tebas Guide for Controlling Household Insects" be obtained from the local county extension agent. The Guide lists control measures for the most commonly found household insects including those attacking fabrics, food, structures and humans.

Some of the finest youngsters in Texas will meet on the campus of Kilgore College, Kilgore, Texas, August 2-6. They are the delegates to the sixth annual Texas 4-H Council Workshop. The boy and girl council members from each of the 12 Texas extension districts will be participants.

In making the announcement, Floyd Lynch, state 4-H Club leader, said the workshop is an opportunity for members of the Texas 4-H Council, and selected adults who work with them, to increase their understanding of the organizational structure of 4-O Club work and their role in it.

During the workshop, the council members will serve as active members of the Texas 4-H Council by developing programs and handling annual business. Lynch said that each member will participate in a small work-group in order to learn to become the kind of democratic citizen described in the 4-H pledge—a person who thinks clearly and believes deeply in himself and others, and whose actions thereby benefit everyone concerned.

Ants Can Be Controlled

Ants can be a real household nuisance but application of the right insecticides will bring them under control in a hurry. Entomologists of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service say that chlordane or dieldrin, sold in many stores as roach and ant sprays, are very effective against ants.

The entomologists point out that several species of ants can become pests in the home. Some may nest in the house, but most build their nests outside and find their way inside through openings. Once they find a food supply they set up a regular route between the food and their nests.

The most common species found in Texas are the Pharaoh, thief, black crazy, fire and Argentine ants. They range in size from the tiny Pharaohs to the much larger fire ants. They feed on any kind of food material in the home including sweets and greasy foods. The thief ant prefers greasy foods.

For inside the home applications, the entomologists recommend a two or three percent chlordane or a five-tenths (.5) percent dieldrin household spray. Special attention should be given to drainboards, window sills, door openings and pantry shelves.

For outdoor applications, the entomologists recommend a 10 percent chlordane, 2 percent dieldrin or 5 percent heptachlor dust. If an emulsion spray is used, they strongly urge that label directions be followed. They suggest that a band of insecticidal dust or spray be applied around the foundation wall and that all ant nests in the yard be treated.

They point out that repeated applications of the insecticides may be needed to give complete control of ants. They suggest that a copy of L-311, "Tebas Guide for Controlling Household Insects" be obtained from the local county extension agent. The Guide lists control measures for the most commonly found household insects including those attacking fabrics, food, structures and humans.

Suetashi Sato lives at 742 Omachi Street, Kamakura City, Kanagawa State in Japan. He is 16 years of age and is a Junior in a Methodist Mission School. He is a Methodist. He has two brothers and two sisters.

Yukio Saito lives at 354 Nishikubo St., Musashino City, Tokyo, Japan. He is 17 years of age and a senior in public high school. He also plans to study economics in college and would like to attend a university in the U. S. His ambition is to be a statesman. He has three brothers.

Each boy has studied the English language in school. Japanese students are required to take English 3 years.

The boys gave the Birdwells beautiful, scented fans and wooden, hand carved dolls. The wooden dolls have been made the same way for three hundred years.

The O'Donnell Rotary Club met Tuesday in its regular meeting. Visiting Rotarians were Hugh Thomas of Brownfield, and Swanson Hurt and R. J. Boardman of Lamesa. Mr. Marcom of Leland was guest. Brend Blank of Frankfort, Germany was the speaker for the luncheon. He gave "The Background and History of Germany". Brend is the Summer guest of the local Rotary Club. The first week he was guest of Superintendent and Mrs. John Criner. This week, he is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Forbes. Harvey Line is program chairman for the month of August.

carefully watched and control measures begun early enough to prevent heavy feeding and oviposition damage.

Cabbage loopers are very common over most of the area. Populations should be closely watched to prevent extreme ragging of the cotton plants. It should be remembered that these insects are extremely hard to control when the worm becomes large. Cabbage loopers were found in Lynn, Motley Wilbarger, Cochran, Glasscock, Dawson, Fisher, Mindand, Jones, Yoskum and Terry counties.

Japanese Scouts Visit

Two Boy Scouts from Japan, Suetashi Sato and Yukio Saito, visited in the home of L. L. Birdwell, Rt. Aug. 6.

These boys left Japan July 9 and plan to be back home Aug. 15. They came to the U. S. with a group of Boy Scouts from Japan to attend the Boy Scout Jamboree in Colorado.

They flew by Canadian - Pacific Airlines from Tokyo by way of Anchorage, Alaska; Vancouver & Seattle, Washington; then to Zion National Park, Salt Lake City. From Salt Lake City to El Paso, Tex.; then to Lubbock. Only four of the Japanese Boy Scouts came to Lubbock before and after the Jamboree in order to visit in the homes of Boy Scouts in the South Plains Council. The other Japanese Boy Scouts visited in other parts of the United States.

They visited in a home in Brownfield and a home in Lubbock for two days each. The visit with the Birdwells gave the boys a "taste" of farm life and ranch life. They were entertained with horse-back riding; a visit to Carlsbad Caverns with a cook-out at breakfast time on the way; a Methodist Sunday School swimming party as guests of the Birdwell's son, Louie; and a watermelon feast on Friday night with all of the O'Donnell Troup 89 Boy Scouts.

The Birdwells took the boys shopping and bought them cowboy boots and shirts as souvenirs from Texas.

Both boys are good looking and have pleasant, friendly personalities. They are the type any country would be happy to send as representatives. They had Boy Scout requirements to meet and skill jamboree. Each of these two paid for their travel to and from the
