Eagles Rip Post 22 to 14

O'Donnell's high flying Eagles scored in each of the first three quarters at Post Friday night and then held off a 3rd and 4th quarter surge by the Antelopes for a 22 to 14 victory. The Eagles took the opening kickoff on their own 19 and in 14 plays racked up the first tally of the game with QB Tommy Gardenhire going around end for the final ten. The extra point try teledopes staved off another Eagle failed. Later in the quarter the Antaly by holding for downs on the four.

In the second quarter, Gardenhire intercepted an Antelope pass on Eagles' 42 and drove to the one with HBs Mack Isaacs, and Leroy Barrera and FB Larry James carrying the mail. James went over for TD and Gardenhire passed to end Ray Moore for extra points. O'Donnell extended its lead to 22 to 0 in the third as the Eagles took the ball on the Post 21 when a fourth and 10 running plays failed for the Lopes. FB David Bessire capped the 21 yd. drive for the tally with Isaacs marking the extra points on a run. Post got its first tally after kickoff on a drive from the Lopes 39. The late rally also resulted in another Lope TD. Defense tackle Ossian Smith and end Ray Moore stood out for Eagles.

The 17th nationwide agricultural census will be taken during the months of October and November. The information to be gained from the census will have a vital influence on future planning of agricultural programs and activities.

Can profits be made from livestock feeding this fall and winter? It's a hard question to answer because of the difference in price for various classes of livestock and the variation in costs in producing a pound of gain.

Are you interested in a high protein, low calorie meat that will really help stretch your food budget? Turkey meat will do just that and it is full of B vitamins and important minerals.

Harvest Is At Rapid Pace

7100 Bales Ginned

The 1959 cotton crop is estimated to be 1-3rd completed with 7153 bales being ginned here as of Tuesday morning compared to 4568 at same time last week. Beautiful fall weather is resulting in a rapid harvest and better than expected grades. Only one day last week was it too wet to pick when a one inch rain fell.

Last Saturday was an excellent business day and this week end is expected to be a peak with the peak continuing for three more week ends. Some 3,000 Mexican Nationals are in this area as well as large numbers of Latin American workers. Grain is moving rapidly into elevators and is producing above earlier estimates. The first blue North River Monday night gave added zest to the work to be done. The average date for a killing frost here is Nov. 5th. December 1st should see the harvest nearly completed.

Firemen answered a call Monday night to Farmers Co-op gin where a bales of seed cotton were afire.

COOL ELECTRIC COOKING

You'll enjoy cool cooking when you cook electrically. Electric surface cooking units transfer heat to utensils by direct metal-to-metal contact, with no intervening air space. They heat the utensils and the food, with a minimum of heat waste into the kitchen. The electric oven is insulated all around including the bottom—to keep heat inside the oven and out of the kitchen. Start now to enjoy cool cooking the modern electric way. And discover electric cooking's other advantages of cleanliness, speed, accuracy and automatic operation. See your electric range dealer soon.

At 5 a. m. on Highway 11 about 6 miles north of town, a car of Latin Americans overturned five times. In a serious condition at Tahoka hospital are Fredrico Janas, Daniel Sanchez and Claudio Vaca. ## Why we built two cars for 1960 . . . as different as night and day

On October 2—for the first time in Chevrolet's 49-year history—you will be able to walk into your dealer's showroom and see two totally different kinds of cars. ■ One is the conventional 1960 Chevrolet, brand new in appearance and more beautifully refined and luxurious than you can imagine. ■ The other is unlike any car we or anybody else ever built—the revolutionary Corvair, with the engine in the rear where it belongs in a compact car. ■ We'd like to tell you why we built two such different cars, how we built them—and for whom we built them.

Why two kinds of cars? Because America itself has been going through some big changes in the past few years. Our cities have been straining at their seams. Traffic is jam-packed. Parking space is at a premium.

And our suburbs have spread like wildfire. People are living farther from their work, driving more miles on crowded streets. There is new leisure time—but more things to do. There's a new standard of living—and more need for two cars in the family garage.

In short, America's automobile needs have become so complex that no one kind of car can satisfy them completely. That is why we at Chevrolet, keeping tab on these trends, have had a revolutionary compact car in the planning stages for more than nine years.

Thus, when we decided three years ago to prepare for production of such a car we were ready to build it the way it should be built. There was no need for a hasty "crash" program that would create only a sawed-off version of a conventional car.

That is why the two cars you will see in your dealer's showroom October 2 will be two entirely different kinds of cars. One is the conventional '60 Chevrolet—brand new in beauty, with new space inside, new spirit under the hood, a new feeling of sumptuousness and luxury never before attained by any car in its field. There is great V8 power linked with new thrift, plus Chevrolet's superb 6-cylinder engine. It is a traditional car that comes even closer to perfection—in silence, in room, in ease of control, in velvety ride—than any other car we have ever made.

The other is the Corvair, a compact car that is astonishingly different from anything ever built in this country. It has to be—because this is a six-passenger compact car, with a really remarkable performance . . . a car designed specifically to American standards of comfort, to American traffic needs.

The engine is in the rear. Among the basic advantages resulting from this engine location are better traction on a compact 108-inch wheelbase and a practically flat floor. But to be placed in the rear, the engine had to be ultra light and ultra short. So Corvair's engine is totally new—mostly aluminum and air cooled; it weighs about 40 per cent less than conventional engines. It is a "flat" horizontally opposed six—so it is only three cylinders long . . . and that leaves a lot more room for passengers.

Another weight saving: like modern airplanes, the Corvair has no frame; the body-shell supplies it great structural strength . . . it's a welded unit that is virtually rattle-free.

The ride is fantastic. But to get it we had to design independent suspension at every wheel; conventional springing would give a compact car a choppy ride. Right now we'll make one prediction: no other U.S. compact car will ride so comfortably, hold the road so firmly and handle so beautifully.

Now there are two kinds of cars from Chevrolet—because it takes two kinds of cars to serve America's needs today. If you love luxury—the utmost in luxury—and if you want generous interior space, breath-taking performance, automatic drives and power assists—then the conventional '60 Chevrolet may be your choice.

If easy parking, traffic agility and utmost economy are high on your list—then you should seriously consider the Corvair. But the best thing to do is to look these two new cars over at your Chevrolet dealer's . . . take them out for a drive. It may be that the only logical choice for your family between two cars like this is—both. They make a perfect pair.

- Another fresh one from Pontiac!
- The inspired beauty of perfect proportion!
- The precision control of Wide-Track Wheel Design!
- The softer ride of supple suspension!
- The wide choice of vigorous Tempest V-8 Engines tailored to economy or high performance!

The car craftsmen who developed Wide-Track Wheels, the innovation that brought a new standard of roadability to the American passenger car, present another fresh original for 1960!

With clean, crisp lines they've composed a delightful rightness of form with unity and rhythm.

Into the proved principle of Wide-Track (wheels farther apart for a steadier stance) they've engineered an ingeniously improved suspension system. This combination of a firm foundation and supple suspension gives you flawless control, more skill in the fine art of driving, smooth stability, bump-yielding softness.

The power plant is typically Pontiac. A wide range of restless, ground-gaining power packages to choose from. All are husky V-8's, ranging from the frugal 425E economy engine that prefers regular grade gasoline to the fiery Tempest 425.

Haven't you been an admiring spectator of Pontiacs long enough? Isn't this your year to become a participant in Pontiac pleasure, to move up to Pontiac ownership, where the enjoyment is the fullest, where the point of view is the freshest?

Wide-Track Wheels give you swayless stability, solid comfort. You maneuver with skillful sureness, accurate control. It's the sweetest, most precise, most rewarding driving you've ever felt.

Why we built two cars for 1960 . . . as different as night and day

On October 2—for the first time in Chevrolet's 49-year history—you will be able to walk into your dealer's showroom and see two totally different kinds of cars. ■ One is the conventional 1960 Chevrolet, brand new in appearance and more beautifully refined and luxurious than you can imagine. ■ The other is unlike any car we or anybody else ever built—the revolutionary Corvair, with the engine in the rear where it belongs in a compact car. ■ We'd like to tell you why we built two such different cars, how we built them—and for whom we built them.

Why two kinds of cars? Because America itself has been going through some big changes in the past few years. Our cities have been straining at their seams. Traffic is jam-packed. Parking space is at a premium.

And our suburbs have spread like wildfire. People are living farther from their work, driving more miles on crowded streets. There is new leisure time—but more things to do. There's a new standard of living—and more need for two cars in the family garage.

In short, America's automobile needs have become so complex that no one kind of car can satisfy them completely. That is why we at Chevrolet, keeping tab on these trends, have had a revolutionary compact car in the planning stages for more than nine years.

Thus, when we decided three years ago to prepare for production of such a car we were ready to build it the way it should be built. There was no need for a hasty "crash" program that would create only a sawed-off version of a conventional car.

That is why the two cars you will see in your dealer's showroom October 2 will be two entirely different kinds of cars. One is the conventional '60 Chevrolet—brand new in beauty, with new space inside, new spirit under the hood, a new feeling of sumptuousness and luxury never before attained by any car in its field. There is great V8 power linked with new thrift, plus Chevrolet's superb 6-cylinder engine. It is a traditional car that comes even closer to perfection—in silence, in room, in ease of control, in velvety ride—than any other car we have ever made.

The other is the Corvair, a compact car that is astonishingly different from anything ever built in this country. It has to be—because this is a six-passenger compact car, with a really remarkable performance . . . a car designed specifically to American standards of comfort, to American traffic needs.

The engine is in the rear. Among the basic advantages resulting from this engine location are better traction on a compact 108-inch wheelbase and a practically flat floor. But to be placed in the rear, the engine had to be ultra light and ultra short. So Corvair's engine is totally new—mostly aluminum and air cooled; it weighs about 40 per cent less than conventional engines. It is a "flat" horizontally opposed six—so it is only three cylinders long . . . and that leaves a lot more room for passengers.

Another weight saving: like modern airplanes, the Corvair has no frame; the body-shell supplies it great structural strength . . . it's a welded unit that is virtually rattle-free.

The ride is fantastic. But to get it we had to design independent suspension at every wheel; conventional springing would give a compact car a choppy ride. Right now we'll make one prediction: no other U.S. compact car will ride so comfortably, hold the road so firmly and handle so beautifully.

Now there are two kinds of cars from Chevrolet—because it takes two kinds of cars to serve America's needs today. If you love luxury—the utmost in luxury—and if you want generous interior space, breath-taking performance, automatic drives and power assists—then the conventional '60 Chevrolet may be your choice.

If easy parking, traffic agility and utmost economy are high on your list—then you should seriously consider the Corvair. But the best thing to do is to look these two new cars over at your Chevrolet dealer's . . . take them out for a drive. It may be that the only logical choice for your family between two cars like this is—both. They make a perfect pair.

Rats Cost Money To Have

People who know say a single rat can wade through $2 worth of dry corn without any trouble whatever, and deposit another $20 worth in the process.

They're mighty expensive critters to tolerate in town or country, both by virtue of the food they eat and the some 27 diseases—including typhus and bubonic plague—they are known to spread.

This time of year rats will be in field burrows. Soon though, with rural harvest will get underway and cooler weather coming, they'll move into grain bins and feed stacks and buildings where food is stored.

If you're interested in keeping them out of your place, now's the time to formulate a plan to deprive them of food and shelter this winter and avoid a repetition of last year's record-breaking infestation.

Start by burning or piling scrap lumber at least two feet off the ground. Scatter feed stack chaff and manure piles over fields. And keep the inevitable weeds and grass around outbuildings cut so as not to attract rats.

Rats breed so rapidly that mere killing campaigns without accompanying sanitation are worthless. On the other hand, striking reductions in rat populations have been made by rat proofing without killing procedures.

Farm buildings in good repair are seldom infested with rats, so it follows that's the way to keep them. Check to make sure walls are tight and that floors and foundations are crack-less. A strip of galvanized metal three feet or so high, placed around the base of a building will keep rats out -- provided they can't get through the floors.
