

Marino Presbytery in Session Here This Week

The Amarillo Presbytery of the Methodist Episcopal church is in session here this week. The session is being held at eight o'clock this evening. The complete program of the three days will be found on another page of this issue. We regret that we were unable to secure it in time for publication last week.

At the second time that O'Donnell has been honored in this manner by the Marino Presbytery having met here during the Spring of 1931. At that time the community and territory en masse were invited to attend the meeting almost as much as members of the church here, and for this reason we are doubly glad to see the delegates to our city. We earnestly hope that the session will be successful in every respect, and that the Index hereby extends the welcome of the entire community to the delegates who are to be elected this afternoon, and to the various officers who will direct the meeting, and to the delegates who are visitors.

The opening sermon will be delivered by Rev. O. G. H. Miller, and the prayer will be cordially invited to come and hear him.

Special Session Of Legislature To Convene Sept. 11th

James E. Ferguson, husband of the governor, has announced that the legislature will be convened in extra session on September 11th. Ferguson pointed out that the legislature could not do anything until after the special election were finally canvassed in reference to the proposed amendments to the constitution.

Laws providing the states unemployed relief program into effect, in excess of the $20,000,000 bond issue authorized, would be enacted, and the states passed and the federal government a chance to more completely comply with the president's recovery program.

Maxwell Baby Has Broken Right Arm

The infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Maxwell sustained a broken right arm Friday last week when he fell as he was attempting to cross a pool at the home of his parents. The little fellow was brought to the office of a local physician, and was taken on a call at the time, and as the baby had stopped crying, it was thought he was not seriously hurt. However, the arm continued painful and useless, and his mother brought him back for examination Monday. The arm was set and bound, and whittling nicely.

Three Arrested Friday After Altercation

L. T. Vinson was arrested and charged with carrying a gun, and arrested from Lubbock Sanitarium Wednesday after receiving emergency treatment for a broken arm which he sustained late Tuesday afternoon. The little girl fell from a horse at the farm home of her parents. She was badly shaken and somewhat bruised by the fall, but is doing nicely this week.

Cloyce Wayne Leverett Receives Broken Arm

Cloyce Wayne, five-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Leverett, who live west of town, was released from Lubbock Sanitarium Wednesday after receiving emergency treatment for a broken arm which she sustained late Tuesday afternoon. The little girl fell from a horse at the farm home of her parents. She was badly shaken and somewhat bruised by the fall, but is doing nicely this week.

October Frost Is Predicted Here

A number of local citizens are predicting the first hard frost for Lynn county on or near October 26. We understand that they base this prediction on the fact that we had our first northern on August 26, and that the frosts will come 60 days later. Last year the first frost came on October 4.

Mrs. R. H. Schooler has as her first this week Mrs. Peer of Dallas.

O'Donnell Is Host To Quail Family

Interest of fair-minded sportsmen of O'Donnell have been aroused in behalf of a covey of Bob White quail which apparently feel that main street is just as suited for their growth and development as quiet fields, and the entire group of fifteen has been seen frequently during the past several days, calmly feeding and seemingly perfectly content and happy. They seem quite at ease, displaying when human beings come near them, and it has been suggested that they were hatched and reared near the business part of town.

Their complete lack of fear and their trust in their human friends has aroused a protective interest on the part of nearly every citizen of the town, and the Index is expressing the sentiment of the entire population when we ask that their trust not be betrayed, and that these feathered friends may continue the even tenor of their way in peace and quiet in our town.

Especially do we appeal to the boys of O'Donnell to cooperate in every way in caring for this family of little birds, and to refrain from shooting them or shooting at the covey with air rifles, bigger shooters or other weapons. And we also ask that when quail season opens, adult hunters not shoot these appealing little fellows. Unhunted truce is a sweet and also a rare thing in this world, can we not leave this happy family complete and undisturbed in its companionship?

Local Hunters Start Prairie Chickens Scarce

A number of sportsmen from O'Donnell made the trip in Friday's train to the shinary country west of here in quest of prairie chicken, but all of them report that the chickens were indeed few in number.

In fact, they have been so thinned out during the past two or three years that the advisability of a prairie chicken season for next year is being actively discussed. Several O'Donnell men said that they fear a total disappearance of the birds within the next two years unless some means of preservation is effected.

Citing the value of the closed season, case of quail in Borden county has been discussed. With one more year of the first closed season still to most gratifying increase in number of coveys to be seen throughout that section.

We understand that plans for circulating a petition asking closed season on chickens are being discussed.

Local Merchants Complete Cotton Goods Inventory

Complete inventory of all cotton goods was completed here Thursday, by the three stores handling dry goods in accordance with the effecting tax which went into effect Friday, September 1st.

One-fourth of the tax is due on October 1. The tax itself amounts to about 7 per cent of the value of the goods, and is applied to all articles manufactured from cotton.

Wholesale dealers made their first twenty-five per cent on the first payment of their tax Friday of last week, paying on stocks as of August 1, the amount being due in three more monthly installments.

Plans Under Way For Singing School

C. H. Mansell stated Tuesday afternoon that, unless unfavorable developments occur, Odie L. Echols of Lubbock will be in O'Donnell on September 18 to open a singing school.

McDonald Relected Gin Ass'n Director

J. W. McDonald, manager of the McDonald-Ritz Gin, was re-elected as one of seven directors of the Plains Ginners Association at a meeting at Lubbock Saturday. The entire board was re-elected, Mr. McDonald said, adding that officers will be elected by the directors at a meeting some time soon.

Four hundred ginners attended the meeting. The feature of the program was an address and the answering of questions regarding the ginners' code by John S. Thompson of Dallas, secretary of the Texas Ginners' Association, who has recently returned from Washington.

A resolution was adopted opposing cotton acreage reduction in the United States for 1934 greater than one-third normal acreage, unless all foreign cotton producing countries adopt the same regulations. Mr. Thompson was authorized to represent the ginners at a meeting at Dallas Tuesday, called to discuss possibility of decreasing the acreage 60 per cent.

Others attending the meeting besides Mr. McDonald were Fred Henderson, manager of Henderson Bros. gin, W. C. Sauls, manager of the Farmer's Gin, J. P. Bowlin of Bowlin's Gin, and L. E. Robinson of Robinson's Gin.

Wilson Cash Grocery Sells To Pratt

Coming as a distinct surprise to local business circles, the entire stock and fixtures of Wilson's Cash Grocery sold Tuesday morning to L. M. Pratt of Pratt's Cash & Carry store at Lamesa. Mr. Pratt had already begun repairs and arrangements for putting in another grocery store here and the stock of the Wilson store is being moved into his building next door to Whitsett Drug.

Mr. and Mrs. Mack Wilson have been numbered among O'Donnell's most solid and influential business people for the past three years, and their sudden decision to go out of the grocery business was totally unexpected. Mr. Wilson said Tuesday that he and his wife are still unsettled, and that they will likely engage in some other line of business here after a short vacation.

The new store will be managed by Mr. M. McLendon, who has been connected with the Lamesa store for several years. He will move his family here, and asks a part of the patronage of this territory.

Canning Unit Assured For O'Donnell

Judge B. P. Maddox, county chairman of the Texas Rehabilitation and Relief work, and F. M. Grazier of Austin, state member of the same committee, were in O'Donnell Tuesday, and a meeting of business men and merchants held Friday afternoon at the office of W. A. Tredway, a meeting in furtherance of explaining the proposed canning unit for the relief of the needy during the coming months.

An almost one hundred per cent attendance showed up at the meeting, and the fund to be used in defraying overhead expenses of the project was raised rapidly. Mayor W. S. Cathey, J. L. Shoemaker, John W. Cathey, and B. J. Boyd composed the committee in charge of finances and they report that the progress of the plan is gratifying.

C. H. Doak offered the front space of the former Chevrolet building to be used as headquarters for the canning unit, and unless more convenient quarters are available by the first of next week, his offer will likely be accepted. Further announcements will be made this week.

Miss El Fleida Harrison, county home demonstration worker will be conducted, will be here the latter part of the week to arrange regular school for the work, and the first of the week will be worked out at Tahoka. Several hundred cans of vegetables were made and ready for the cans. R. C. F. whose funds, levies a small toll in percent of the canned goods, these supplies to be stored for use later in the winter.

O'Donnell To Entertain Singing Convention

A number of local people attended a picnic at the Singing Convention held at OK Sunday, and extended an invitation to the assembly to meet here on the first Sunday in October. The invitation was accepted, and the date is being set to make that occasion an enjoyable one.

O'Donnell School Opened Monday, September 4th.

Public Schools Open Throughout Section

Monday, September 4, marked the beginning of the 1933-34 school term in a number of schools in Lynn county and in our territory.

County superintendent H. P. Cavness said Monday that the Lakeview school opened Monday of last week with a public opening and a nice enrollment. The faculty consists of Mr. and Mrs. Adams, and Miss Hancock and West.

Morgan school also opened Monday of last week. Rev. James Rayburn of Slaton made the opening address and superintendent J. H. Townsend briefly explained some of the new school laws.

Joe Bailey school opened on the same day with an enrollment of 45 pupils on the first day. The faculty of this school is exclusively feminine. Miss Della Dorne is superintendent, Miss Irene Beckham, intermediate teacher, and Miss Faye Brown principal teacher. This school is considered one of the best small schools in the county, and this is expected to be a most successful term.

The New Home school also opened Monday of last week. The Wilson and Draw schools opened three weeks ago.

Other schools in our immediate territory which opened Monday of last week are New Moore, OK, Three Lakes and Wells.

Mr. Duval is superintendent of the New Moore school, assisted by Misses Williams, Milner, and Mrs. Otho Cox. These splendid and efficient teachers have made up the faculty of the New Moore school for several terms, but this is expected to be the best session in the history of the school.

The Walls school is superintended by Mr. Griff McConal for the third term and he is ably assisted by Misses Willie Ruth Little of Abilene, and Irma D. Palmer and Mary McMurtry both new young ladies. Much interest was evident as the term opened Monday, and Mr. McConal stated that every indication is for a pleasant and successful term.

The Randall school opened Monday morning under the supervision of Mrs. Jimmy Udally. A number of patrons attended the program which opened the term, and Mrs. Udally spoke briefly on plans for the coming year. There was an enrollment of 21, and everyone is confident that this will be a fine school year.

RFC Labor Office Located at Tahoka

F. M. Grazier of Austin, member of the Texas Rehabilitation and Relief committee, was in O'Donnell Friday of last week, and stated that the office for classifying and registering labor for the projected road work in Lynn county is to be opened at Tahoka in the immediate future, probably by the last of the week or the first of next.

The main purpose of this office will, Mr. Grazier said, be to register and classify applicants for road work. In other words, when actual work on grading etc., is begun, contractors will come to this office to secure a certain number of carpenters, masons, etc., and speed and efficiency in securing the correct type of labor or artisan will be thus much increased.

Mr. Grazier further stated that the office of the O'Donnell territory desiring to register at this office may do so through W. S. Cathey, or other names appointed by him, and their names will be placed on the roll. Work on the highway is expected to begin sometime this month, as contracts for grading were let last week.

PASTOR ASSISTING IN REVIVAL AT BETHEL
Rev. L. S. Jenkins, pastor of the First Baptist church, was in O'Donnell at a meeting at Bethel church.

ENROLLMENT 33 MORE THAN OPENING DAY LAST YEAR

The 1933-34 session of O'Donnell's public schools opened Monday morning with an enrollment of 256 or 33 more students than on the opening day last year.

Superintendent E. E. Gilbreath had charge of the public program held in the high school auditorium, during which members of the faculty were formally introduced to patrons and students who crowded the assembly hall. Rev. W. R. Burnett gave the invocation, musical numbers were rendered by the girls' quartet and other local talent; Mrs. Perry Howard made a brief talk on plans for P. T. A. work this year, and Mr. Gilbreath mentioned several changes in school routine which will be in effect this year. County superintendent H. P. Cavness was present, but declined to speak.

Enrollment followed immediately after the program. High school gained 27 new pupils from rural schools, among several outstanding athletic stars and contestants in literary events at county meet.

Enrollment by classes was as follows: Seniors, 25, Miss Morene Huff, sponsor; Juniors, 28, Miss Jessie H. Harrison, sponsor; Sophomores, 29, T. Walker, sponsor; Freshmen, 42, Mrs. H. A. Lattimore sponsor; seventh grade, 32, Mrs. Paul Gooch teacher; sixth grade, 30, Miss Louise Anderson teacher; fifth grade, 28, Mrs. E. E. Gilbreath teacher; fourth grade, 31, Miss Jessie Gary teacher; third grade, 35, Miss Irene Jordan teacher; second grade, 35, Miss Christine Miller teacher; primary, 41, Mrs. C. H. Westmoreland teacher.

Coach Fletcher Johnson stated that football practice is coming along in a most satisfactory manner, and that the team is more than pleased with prospects.

Fine Arts classes are attracting much interest, according to the three ladies in charge. Mrs. Gilbreath will be teaching an art class, Miss Alice Busby will head the piano department, and Miss Audrey Faye Bailey of Lamesa will have charge of the High School Art department.

Methodist Revival Draws Splendid Attendance

Attendance and interest in the revival meeting which began last Thursday evening at the Methodist church has been most gratifying, said the pastor, Rev. W. R. Burnett, Tuesday evening.

Rev. W. C. Hinds, pastor of the First Methodist church at Childress, arrived Monday to be in charge of the preaching services during the week. He will be in charge of the meeting, which will continue through next Wednesday at least. Rev. Hinds is doing some wonderful preaching, according to those who are attending, and the music is likewise proving fine.

Services are conducted at ten each morning, adult, young people and children meeting for special work at 7:30 in the evening, and evening services at 8:15. The pastor, the evangelist and the church extend a cordial invitation to everyone to come and take part.

Local Patients Return From Hospital

A number of O'Donnell folks who have been in Lubbock Sanitarium have recovered sufficiently to be brought home during the past few days.

Among them are Mrs. Finis Gleghorn, who has been seriously ill for several weeks. Elmer Harwick, who recently underwent appendectomy, was taken home Sunday. S. L. Sherrill of Draw returned Monday after treatment for hernia.

Harvey McKee Breaks Arm Friday

Mr. Harvey McKee was sent to Lubbock Sanitarium Friday afternoon after a kick from a horse broke his left arm just above the elbow.

Fearing other fractures or breaks, local physicians advised that he be taken there for X-ray pictures. He was able to return home Saturday, and is doing very well.

Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Marly and daughter of Tatum, N. M., were the guests last week of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Christopher.

Wilson School Plans To Operate Buses

For the first time in the history of Lynn county, a school district has begun the operation of trucks in the transportation of children to school. The Wilson Independent School District is now operating five trucks according to county superintendent H. P. Cavness.

School opened there on Monday of last week with a faculty of twelve members including the town superintendent, A. L. Faubion. The decision to operate trucks made it necessary for the school board to employ one additional teacher, but the finances of the district have been so worked out as to enable the board to do this and to actually reduce the taxable valuations of the district at the same time.

This is made possible in part by the fact that the district receives from the state one dollar per month per child for each child transported to and from school.

There are about 425 scholars in the district, Mr. Cavness says. Quite a number of others have been transferred into the district and still others living in adjoining districts have made special arrangements by which they may attend and be transported to the Wilson school.

The board of trustees decided to furnish transportation for all children living in the lower section. One of the five buses will go to Joe Stokes each day for high school pupils living in that district who desire to attend Wilson school. Scholars living in the Wilson district who desire to attend a school outside of Wilson will also be transported. Approximately 350 children are to be afforded transportation, Mr. Cavness says.

By agreement entered into between the school board and the drivers of the trucks, the drivers furnish the chassis and pay the operating expenses while the school board furnishes the bodies of the trucks and pays the drivers a stipulated wage. Local carpenters were employed to make the bodies for the school board.

The decision of the school board to operate trucks has had the effect of drawing quite a large number of children from adjoining districts, Mr. Cavness says, and even more children would have been attracted to the Wilson school had the plan been adopted a little earlier in the year.

The plan is largely the work of Superintendent A. L. Faubion, who has devoted much of his time to working out the details and cultivating public sentiment in its favor. Mr. Faubion has been superintendent at Wilson for a number of years.—Lynn County News.

Road Projects Get Approval

Fort Worth, Aug. 30.—C. E. Swain director of the bureau of public roads announced today that contracts for emergency construction in fifteen counties aggregating $1,345,345.78 had been approved by his office.

Only the formality of the signing of contracts stands in the way of beginning construction activities, Swain said. This will be completed in about two weeks.

The fifteen jobs were awarded as a part of the governments $400,000, 900 emergency employment relief program, under way to provide work for the unemployed. Contracts specify that local labor and materials must be used and that skilled labor must be paid a minimum of 45 cents an hour and common labor not less than 35 cents an hour.

Counties in which the work is to be done and the amount to be spent are: Lubbock, $57,603; Hunt, $240,303; Hartley, $57,861; Archer and Jack, $102,835; Brazoria, $61,813; Dawson, $18,694; Cooke, $35,069; Bexar, $109,873; Hill, $15,241; Travis, $144,840; Wilbarger, $65,467; and Fisher, $45,048.

Changes In Effect In Local Cafes

Cafe business in O'Donnell went through somewhat of a shake-up last week when the Quick Lunch Cafe moved from its former location at the corner of Doak and Eighth to the building next door to Wilson's Cash Grocery, and Mrs. Johnnie Rochelle of Tahoka replaced Earl Rochelle in charge of the Sun Cafe. Mrs. Rochelle is well-known to O'Donnell people, having been engaged in hotel and cafe business here for several years. Earl goes to Tahoka to assist his brother, Johnnie, in the cafe there.

The new location of the Quick Lunch was considered more suited to needs of the establishment, and has been thoroughly renovated and repaired.

On Monday Andy Cargal began preparations to open another cafe in the building formerly occupied by the Quick Lunch.

EDWARDS BUYS HOME

A real estate transaction of some importance was completed this week when Mr. and Mrs. John Andy Edwards purchased the Preston home in the south part of town, planning to move into it some time next week.

Cotton Checks Go Out Slowly

Washington, Sept. 1.—From basement depths where a force of machines and farm administration tabulators are working over time to get cotton checks to farmers today came familiar words that "drafts are going out rapidly," but the total issued up to last night was surprisingly low—barely 8,500.

Officials said, however, the "peak of production" would be reached early next week. In some instances the peak is estimated as high as 40,000 a day but around 20,000 is closer to actuality.

The cotton campaign closed on July 12, and the farm administration said that 1,031,000 offers had been received. Less than a fraction of one per cent of these have been rejected, officials say, but the exact figure has not been made public.

Several weeks ago William E. Morris, a farmer living near Corpus Christi, Texas, was brought to Washington and given Check No. 1 with ceremony, President Roosevelt handing it to him.

Since then the farm administration has labored mightily to pay the growers for reducing acreage, but there has been one delay after another.

First of all, the decision on whether to deduct money owed the government by farmers on seed and feed loans from the benefit of the payments held up proceedings. This matter disposed of actual mechanics of the check issuances presented unforeseen difficulties.

Farm officials then said they had trouble in adjusting machines which were to handle the drafts at the rate of thousands a day.

Approximately 300 checks were turned out, but treasury officials looked them over and informed the farm administration that they were incorrectly drawn and consequently were "non-negotiable."

But everything, machines, records, tabulators and all, are adjusted now, officials said today, and all the farmer will have to do is to wait a little while longer.

The cotton campaign took more than 10,000,000 acres out of production this year, the crop reporting board estimated, and some $110,000,000 is to be paid the growers.

SURVEY REVEALS DEFICIENCIES IN DIET OF SCHOOL CHILDREN

In a preliminary report of health studies of the diet of Texas school children, Dr. J. W. Whitacre, Chief Division of Rural Home Research, Texas Agricultural Experiment Station, shows some interesting findings concerning the eating habits of the school children. Spring and fall records were taken among children in three widely separated counties.

Great similarity of kinds of food was found between races, seasons and regions. The daily menu was generally deficient in calcium and vitamins A and D. Seventeen per cent of the white children had low amounts of milk, twenty-five per cent had no red fruit and 33 per cent had no leafy vegetables. In these cases deficiency of such minerals as calcium and iron and of the content of the vitamins A, B, and C is indicated. Twenty-five per cent had no whole cereal which reduces the chances for the presence of sufficient amounts of phosphorus and iron. The type of diet indicated by the records suggests that emphasis should continue upon the more general and abundant use of milk, fruit, and vegetables in supplying school children with the essential elements for physical development.
