

BLONDES HAVE EASY TIME FINDING TROUBLE

Esther Ralston Finds Those Whom They Meet Come In For Their Share

When a beautiful blonde girl sets out to look for trouble usually finds it and so do the people with whom she comes in contact.

Among other things the dynamic golden haired star does in this picture are drive an automobile through a police station window, fire a revolver in a crowded courtroom, overpower a matron and escape from jail and foil a plotted frame-up on the judge she had kidnapped.

Of course there is a serious purpose behind all of these escapades. The star is trying to keep her father and mother together.

Lane Chandler, the handsome giant who recently thrilled lovers of western pictures by his feats with the six shooter and in the saddle, takes the part of the dignified young judge who learns about women in such startling fashion.

The picture was directed by Frank Tuttle.

TWO OUTSTANDING WEST TEXAS 4-H CLUB BOYS

By making a profit of $106.30 in prizes and returns on a registered Duroc Jersey gilt, Herbert Chesshire of Terry county announces his intention to "grow myself into the hog business and to pay my way through high school and college on my start with club pigs."

One of the best cotton growing records made by West Texas 4-H club boys this year was that of John Nunn of Hale Center in Hale County. This boy produced 1504 pounds of lint on four acres, nearly a bale to the acre, and his sales of lint and seed amounted to $297 after ginning costs were paid.

AMERICA PREPARING TO GREET NEW CHEVROLET

Detroit, Dec. 18.—Motoring America was on its tip-toes tonight as two of its largest metropolitan centers were viewing for the first time the sensational new value-in-head cylinder Chevrolet, which was announced on November 10.

The two advance showings opened simultaneously at noon Saturday, November 24th, the New York premiere taking place in a brilliant setting in the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel and the Detroit debut in the Auditorium of the General Motors building.

Meanwhile the gigantic Chevrolet manufacturing organization is applying itself to a heavy production program so that cars may be shipped to dealers starting December 15 and deliveries to the public may begin on January first.

Chevrolet's dealers are in readiness to take care of a deluge of advance orders. For several days prior to the announcement the sales division of the company, under direction of R. H. Grant, vice-president in charge of sales, made use of every information medium available in preparing dealers and salesmen for the advent of the new six.

Tons of literature were mailed from Detroit, fully descriptive of the new model. Lighted shadow boxes with full color illustrations of the new models, and side films for projection on the screen or wall of a darkened room, proved invaluable assets in disseminating the facts.

car with the advanced features it embodies, was made possible at its price chiefly through the influence of great volume production. W. S. Krunden, president and general manager, stated on the announcement that only volume production made possible by the tremendous popular reception accorded Chevrolet in recent years enabled the company to offer a car with the speed, acceleration, power and smoothness of six cylinder performance at practically the same price that contributed so much to the world-wide popularity of the four.

So that the entire country might have an opportunity of seeing the new car before it goes on the road, January first, the Chevrolet Motor Company arranged a series of eleven advance showings in as many leading cities strategically located throughout the country. The showings now under way will take the form of an elaborate miniature automobile show with attractive settings and suitable entertainment features.

MOTORS PREDICTS 1,000 CARS NEXT YEAR

Knudsen, president and general manager of Chevrolet Motor Co., one of the most conservative in the industry, predicted last week that Chevrolet schedules for the coming year call for an output which will reach at least 1,250,000 cars.

mammoth factories throughout the country, according to Knudsen, are working at top speed to produce the new six. Cars are being turned out to the dealer organizations as they come off the line, as many as possible will be ready for delivery by the end of the year.

Thousands of thousands who have placed orders can feel assured as to the delivery of their new cars. Knudsen when they bear in mind that after the introduction of the new six more than a quarter million cars are on the highways in service. He further recalled that on June 1 of the present year, after the January announcement, a half million cars were delivered. And before October 1 the company established a record of delivering 1,000,000 cars. Mr. Knudsen referred to the greatest single achievement in the history of the automobile industry.

Knudsen's optimism over the coming year, he explained, has been based on continued prosperity and he interprets as a well-deserved reference on the part of the public for the six cylinder car. "The year will find national prosperity solidly entrenched, and Chevrolet a new and improved product perfectly designed to meet public preference, is prepared to handle the share of the coming year's growth," he said. All of the production facilities are being expanded to meet the rising demand for Chevrolet which will be able to make as rapidly as our precision machinery permit.

This year just coming to a close Chevrolet is preparing itself for the advent of the new six. Numerous expansions were brought to completion, adding to our facilities several hundred thousand feet of factory floor space. The natural result of all this has been an increased production capacity.

"With these expanded and improved facilities, and our new and improved product which is to sell at virtually the same price as our four cylinder cars, we feel assured of marching toward new records this year, at the same time striving to our utmost to maintain in full the public's confidence in the Chevrolet Motor Company."

Mr. Knudsen concluded by expressing his gratification at the reception which the new six is being accorded every place it has been seen at advance showings. Upwards of one million persons in a dozen cities have already seen the new car.

Jewelry and the Costume Must Be Related

It is a simple matter to match up earrings and necklaces and bracelets to the color scheme of one's ensemble, for jewelry set with the elaborateness of the set pictured is available with colorful enamels, crystals and even some of the new pearls are tinted, the brown tones being the smart new item. In fact, a most important bit of news is that pearls have returned to favor.

When Winter Comes

You use more Electricity!

DAYLIGHT HOURS are longer from April to September. These are the outdoor months. Picnicking, driving, swimming—all kinds of outdoor sports claim your time during these longer days.

From September to March daylight hours are shorter and therefore electric light hours are longer. Less outdoor playtime and more indoor amusement. Electricity makes the indoor hours joyous. It furnishes light and heat, cooks the meals, operates the radio, the victrola, and performs dozens of jobs that would otherwise be a hardship.

Electricity is the boon companion of shorter days and longer nights. You use more of it in the winter and it gives you countless pleasures, conveniences and comforts.

This chart shows the average number of hours in which electric lights are used in the average home for each month in the year.

January	6 Hours, 32 Minutes
February	5 Hours, 38 Minutes
March	4 Hours, 10 Minutes
April	3 Hours, 48 Minutes
May	2 Hours, 57 Minutes
June	2 Hours, 53 Minutes
July	2 Hours, 36 Minutes
August	3 Hours, 9 Minutes
September	4 Hours, 00 Minutes
October	4 Hours, 34 Minutes
November	6 Hours, 11 Minutes
December	6 Hours, 51 Minutes

This chart shows why your light bill is higher for the winter months than it is for the summer months. It is higher simply because there are more hours of darkness in winter than there are in summer.

WOMAN'S LONELY POST

Washington.—Radio weather reports of observations taken by a young woman at the coldest and most inaccessible weather station in the United States territory, at Point Barrow, Alaska, will enable warnings of cold waves affecting the North Central states to be sent out this winter several days earlier than previously was possible.

The recent opening of daily communication with this station makes forecasting data on weather conditions on the Arctic ocean available for the first time. Most of the cold waves and other atmospheric disturbances affecting the Northwestern states originate in that region. Observations previously taken at this station were sent by mail to the United States reaching the forecaster's office months after they were made. They were, of course, useless in making the weekly and daily weather forecasts. The Point Barrow station is over 450 miles north of the other weather outposts.

Miss Dollie Crawford spent Sunday night with her parents.

Mrs. J. W. Campbell accompanied Mesdames W. K. Crawley, Garvin and Davis of Lamesa to Lubbock Thursday where they attended a zone meeting of the Women's Missionary Society.

J. W. Campbell and W. H. Veazey made a business trip to Lamesa on Monday.

Spangled Jackets and Capelets for Evening

In the frivolous little spangled jackets of chiffon and the palliated shawls of tulle, also various versions of fantastic transparent capelets, the same to be worn over extremely delicate vest or chiffon evening gowns, fashion has striven the coveted "something different." The quaint little jacket, some of them as thin as summer mist, others of net, often have long bell or tight fitting sleeves, or they may be sleeveless.

Wanted for Murder, Man Acts as Officer

Chicago.—When the police picked up Ben Barrett whom they had sought for a year to answer a charge of murder, they expressed curiosity as to where he had been in the last twelve months. "I've been a deputy sheriff. Ben told them. "Down in El Paso, Texas. I told the sheriff I was down there for my health so he gave me a job."

Gardner Advised to Try New Varieties

There are scores of varieties of vegetables not commonly grown in home gardens in Texas that should be found there to add health and variety and relish to the daily diet. Very seldom are such healthful and easily grown vegetables found in gardens, as cauliflower, spinach, asparagus, kale, collards, carrots, dill, parsley, Swiss chard, lamb's quarter, bear-hound, lavender, mint, sage, catnip, Jimson or mullein. Yet every one of these and many others were among the 82 new vegetables grown by the Bailey Women's Home Demonstration club in the blackland of Fannin county this last year.

Asparagus can be grown in any garden from roots set in the spring. New Zealand spinach is a valuable leafy vegetable which withstands the long dry Texas summers admirably.

Cauliflower does well nearly everywhere from seed planted in February. Swiss chards is another good garden crop that matures quickly and is easy for use in early spring and late fall.

A Black Carnation

The newest thing in flowers is a carnation which, in full bloom, is almost black, says the Farm Journal, in a report of the recent International Flower show held in Ghent, Belgium. Ghent, incidentally, is probably the most colorful city in the world in flower season, with 700 flower nurseries, hundreds of flower markets and many huge conservatories, the latter large enough to provide for the growth of full-sized palm trees.

Yankee Invented Scissors

It was a Yankee genius, Seth Boyden by name, who brought out the first pair of scissors, made by welding on soft backing or iron backing a high grade steel blade, with handles fashioned to fit the hand, and it was in 1826 that invention was given to the world. It is regarded from a mechanical view as unique and of the greatest importance to the world.

The Ultimate Straw

"Hear about poor old Slyce? Why did he do it? He'd stood up under all sorts of hard luck." "I know it. Fire, shipwreck, panic, divorces—we figured he was case-hardened, and now he's gone." "Jumped off that cliff by the third tee, didn't he?" "Yes—just scrawled a note and left it with his clubs." "What'd it say?" "It said, 'This is too much. Have just made a hole in one, without a single witness.' Good-by."

Lightning From

Ever wonder why the summer lightning strikes the soles torn from his shoes? The explanation is in paragraph the Farm Journal. The lightning travels in a flash to the ground, it encounters the moisture quickly converted into steam, which is an explosion.

The utilities of a city are combined in your motor car

YOUR automobile is something like a miniature city. There is an electric light and power system, a water system, a fuel system. In the new Ford, you will find each of these systems of the latest design and best materials. Every part has been made to serve you faithfully and well at a minimum of trouble and expense. Take, for example, the generator—one of the most important parts of the electrical system which supplies the current for lighting and for engine ignition. In the new Ford, the generator is of the power-house type and is distinctive in many features. It has been specially designed to prevent most forms of trouble. Oiling is necessary only once a year. About the only thing you need do is to have the charging rate changed as the seasons change. Closely allied to the electrical system is the ignition system. It, too, is of new mechanical design in the new Ford. There is but one high tension cable and that connects the coil with the distributor. Even cables from the distributor to the spark plugs have been eliminated. Special care has also been taken to make the tributor water-proof, preventing short circuits from rain, etc. The entire electrical ignition systems of the Ford are so simple in design and so carefully made they will give you surprisingly little trouble. They don't mean they should be neglected. Certain attentions are needed from time to time. The storage battery should be given water, the connections kept clean. The generator charging should be changed as needed. Spark plugs should be cleaned at regular intervals. Distributor points should also be kept clean, and the distributor given a light film of oil every 2000 miles. These are just a few things, but they mean a great deal to your car, can have them looked at for very small cost by Ford dealer when you get the car in for oiling and greasing. A thorough check-up at regular intervals lengthen the life of your car and give you many more carefree, economical motoring.

NEW MOORE SCHOOL NEARS COMPLETION

Prof. F. C. Newbrough, principal of the public school at New Moore, was in the News office Saturday and reported that school would open there Monday, with three teachers—himself, Miss Milliner and Miss Walker.

Prof. Newbrough reported that rapid progress is being made on the construction of the new building at that place, which will consist of three class rooms and an auditorium. It is being built of brick at a cost of $12,000.

New Moore has heretofore had two little school buildings situated in different localities in the district, but these two will soon be discarded and all of the children in the district will attend in the new building.

New Moore has taken a long step forward in educational matters.—Lynn County News.

It was suggested that each auditorium pledge be supplemented by a like amount for the erection of a modern hotel. This seemed to meet the approval of all present.
