SMALL TOWN PROGRESS

While the population drift to large cities is continuing, their productive capacity is not increasing in proportion to that of the inhabitants of small towns. Industrial leadership of the country in many cases is being transferred to the rural communities.

Such, in belief, is the conclusion arrived at by a leading economist in a nationwide survey of industrial trends. The underlying reasons for the growing industrial importance of the small towns are stated thus:

"Distribution of electric energy to even the smallest hamlet has furnished rural communities with abundant facilities for operating industrial plants. The marked improvement in freight transportation as a result of better highways, and an acceleration of railroad traffic have been other factors in the small town's forward march in industrial importance.

It is also pointed out that there are many advantages to wage-earners in this decentralization of industrial operations. Lower rents, cheaper foods and escape from city congestion all offer inducements to small town living.

A total of more than three billion dollars will be spent on public utility construction during 1936, much of which will go toward the building up of rural communities. This vast program will also create a widespread demand for other types of construction, including more homes, industrial plants, banks, theatres, churches and schools.

Intelligent co-operation of small town leaders in this new industrial movement will be of the greatest benefit to their respective communities.

A MONSTER SKELETON

After being buried for ages in the fossil beds of northeastern Utah, the largest skeleton ever discovered on land now stands in the Carnegie Museum at Pittsburgh, a striking example of the monsters which roamed the earth during the Age of Reptiles, many millions of years ago.

This skeleton, of the dinosaur order of reptiles, 100 feet long and 20 feet high. In life the animal weighed perhaps 20 tons. Alongside of it an elephant would seem as small relatively as a dog beside a horse.

The fossilized skeleton which it was taken is the most extensive deposit of dinosaurian and other reptilian remains ever discovered.

This skeleton was discovered in 1910, under the protection of the National Park Service. More than 200 tons of bones and other material of scientific value have been removed for study and exhibition, with very little duplication of specimens.

According to a statement by the Park Service, it is the belief of scientists that these prehistoric animals were originally stockaded in a sand bar in some ancient river. This sand turned to sandstone and was covered by thousands of feet of other strata of rock, the whole having been forced into an upright position by a great volcanic upheaval, which later raised the fossil bed exposed on a mountain top.

Through the patient labors of scientists who are continually exploring in such records preserved in rocks, as well as among the ruins of ancient civilization, salient fact in the world's history which were totally unknown a few years ago are being brought to light.

SIX YEARS FOR $500

A few days ago the Mississippi house of representatives voted an appropriation of $500 to Moses Walker, a negro who had been pardoned after serving six years in the penitentiary. He had been convicted on charges of shooting a white man's home and sentenced to life imprisonment.

On his death-bed the white man negro because of a quarrel shot confessed that he had "framed" the hole in his own house to substantiate the false charges, and that the negro was entirely innocent of the crime.

It is difficult to understand how anyone could deliberately swear away the liberty of an innocent person merely through spite, but in many cases not only liberty but life itself has been sacrificed in this way. In this case the real criminal's conscience troubled him is evident. At least it began to trouble him when death stared him in the face.

The $500 voted by the state is better than nothing, but it is poor recompense for six years of unjust imprisonment. Persons wrongfully imprisoned, when such wrongful imprisonment can be conclusively proved, should be entitled to big damages by law, and the severest penalties should be imposed on those who are responsible for willfully bringing about the conviction of innocent citizens, white or black.

About The County Fair Park 5 Cent Tax

In debating on the affirmative rests the burden of proof, while the negative must either show that the profit has not been established or present a better plan.

The debate pro and con in regard to the proposed county fair park tax, the election to decide whether or not it shall be issued being set for Saturday, May 31, takes the form of a debate. The proponents of the tax are undertaking to prove that the best way to have a good county fair is to vote this tax. Those opposing the tax hold that there is a better way to serve the needs of the county as a whole in the way of a fair or fairs.

As the question is stated in the election order and the petition which called out the election, it might be styled thus: "Resolved; That the citizens of Lynn County should vote a tax of five cents on the $100 valuation, the revenue therefrom to be used by the Commissioners Court for the purpose of buying and equipping a fair park in the vicinity of Tahoka in the county of Lynn, Texas, to be used by the Lynn County Fair Association and for such other purposes as the Commissioners Court may decide."

The opponents of the proposition cite several objections:

First: The plan to build one park is not for the best interests of the county as a whole.

Second: To tax one town for the obvious benefit of another in the same county is not equitable.

Third: A better plan would be to build two parks by taxation, or let each town having a fair build and maintain its own fair park.

It is obvious that to vote a tax on the entire county to support a project which was started by and which materially benefits Tahoka principally would not be welcomed by the citizens of O'Donnell or by the farmers who live in O'Donnell's trade territory. It would mean that people from here would be induced to attend Tahoka, thus leaving this city without business which would otherwise remain here. It would not support in any way the O'Donnell Community Fair, which O'Donnell as a city is supporting.

The citizens of this section will vote against the tax because of the restrictions of the use of the money to build one park at Tahoka. The statute provides that a tax may be voted to build more than one county park. O'Donnell needs a fair park. Her citizens would rather support a home park. If the tax is defeated they would be favorable to a tax providing for the construction of parks in both Tahoka and O'Donnell.

A two-thirds majority is required to carry the election. This does not mean that those who oppose the tax need not bother about voting. Every citizen who believes in fair play and who wants to see each part of the county benefited in proportion to its tax burden should vote against this tax. Don't forget it and say, "Well my vote won't amount to much." Be sure to vote. Saturday, May 31, is the date.

Formerly they were called common seeds and sentenced to the ducking stool. Now they are called reformers and put on the lecture platform.

New $40,000,000 Astoria To Be World's Best Hostelry

Way back when little old New York was not much more than a prairie, John Jacob Astor emigrated to America from Waldorf, Germany. Acquiring a fortune, he invested most of it in acreage around 42nd and Broadway.

From father to son to great-grandson the estate grew until now a square foot of ground is worth many times the price of a whole acre purchased almost a century ago by the founder of the great Astor estate. Until the wreckers recently took their toll, the famous old Waldorf-Astoria hotel stood on a portion of this land for many years. Royalty, wealth, artists, and celebrities from every clime colored it with romance. And now progress has demanded a more majestic structure. Designed to be the premier hotel in America and the most magnificent in the world, the new stone 46-story Waldorf-Astoria will occupy an entire block on beautiful Park Avenue. It will tower to a height of 600 feet. More than 200 carloads of silver limestone from the quarries of the Indiana Limestone company will achieve the pinnacles in exterior beauty. There will be 2,253 guest rooms with elaborate banquet halls and public rooms. The same personnel and management will maintain the traditions of the old hotel. The architects are Schullze and Weaver, who have designed many of the leading hotels. Thompson-Starrett company, among the foremost construction organizations of this country, are the contractors. Cost of the land, building and furnishings has been figured at $40,000,000.

FINAL STRAW TOTALS

The Digest prohibition bill, attracting less than 20 percent of the 20,000,000 votes solicited, has been closed. The total vote was 4,806,464, divided as follows:

For continuance and strict enforcement of the eighteenth amendment and the Volstead law, 1,443,052.

For repeal of the 18th amendment 1,943,052.

Roughly 40 percent favored repeal; 50 percent favored continuance of present conditions, and 29 percent favored modification.

If he recklessly assumed that this straw vote a strong demand for repeal, let it be remembered that only 1,443,052 demanded it, while 2,863,412 opposed it. The but merely for alteration of the enabling act, the Volstead law. Thus about 60 percent opposed repeal and voted for the 18th amendment without change—the only change recommended being in the Volstead law.

The wets and dries fared alike in getting clear majorities, five states each. That is, the dry vote in five states outnumbered both modifiers and repealers, while in five other states the wets or repeal vote had a clear majority. The Digest shows that 60 percent of the states voted 40 percent for repeal, only 13 states voted 40 percent or more for enforcement, but that is perfectly obvious, that is 24 states gave enforcement a plurality, and only 13 states gave repeal a plurality.

What can outline more constructive line of suggestions than these?

Quality Vs. Quantity AD ABOUT HEAVEN

What's in a Name?

With due solemnity, a New Jersey court issued an injunction restraining a jilted lover from committing suicide on the doorstep of his lady love, as he had threatened to do. Now, if he goes and does it he will be liable for contempt of court.

At the time of his death Anatole France was generally recognized as the greatest novelist and writer of France. Yet his brain was found to weigh only 1,017 grams, while the average weight of the human brain is 1,390 grams. Brain matter, like other useful substances, depends on quality rather than quantity.

Once more the irony of fate is recorded in the death by accidental asphyxiation in a bathroom of an aviator, who had braved the dangers of his profession many times. It serves to show that when things go right we are safe anywhere, but when they go wrong we are safe nowhere.

A Boston man and his wife are both in the advertising business and their 6-year-old daughter has a good deal of shop talk around home. When she returned from Sunday school recently with a card containing a message, her father asked what it was. Little Dorothy shrugging her shoulders and said, "Oh, it's only an ad about heaven."

Turks never take Turkish baths; Irish stew is not peculiar to Ireland; there is no rice in rice paper; camel's hair brushes are made from squirrel fur; sealing wax contains no wax, and catgut fiddle strings are really made of sheep's gut so there isn't so much in a name after all.

Uncle Sam herded the Indians off on some worthless-looking land in the old Indian Territory. Jackson Barnett, a descendant of one of these Creek aborigines, refused to select an allotment from Indian lands a few years ago, but the government gave him one anyway. Up to date he has received more than three million dollars of oil found on this same tract.

Citizens Outline Some of O'Donnell's Needs

Several questionnaires which appeared on this page two weeks ago and which have been answered and returned to the Index, are of excellent worth and show many good constructive criticisms.

Briefly, one citizen says O'Donnell is a good place to trade; he prefers to buy for cash rather than on credit; he reads all the ads in the Index and says they are "mostly reliable." He thinks O'Donnell needs a good, live chamber of commerce to get many needed things, and the biggest thing in his opinion, that O'Donnell needs is a talkie theatre.

In answer to question 21, "What outstanding improvement do you think the City Council should undertake?" the O'Donnell booster said the council should secure an abundant water supply—cheap enough to use for heating, yards, and for extensive commercial use. He says O'Donnell schools need a gymnasium and athletic field, and that the city should have rest rooms in town and a community hall.

The questionnaire also says O'Donnell is a good place to live, but that a substance rich in vitamins, more street lights in business section and better spirit on the part of all with agricultural interests are a most wholesome support of the community activities by the citizenship as a whole would make it a much better place in which to live.

What can outline more constructive line of suggestions than these?

COTTON SEED RICH IN VITAMIN USED IN PELLAGRA TREATMENT

Cottonseed meal, commonly used as a cattle feed, has been found to be a substance rich in vitamin G, the anti-pellagra vitamin, and by far the cheapest source of this vitamin, says W. W. Skinner, of the Bureau of Chemistry and soils, U. S. Department of Agriculture, announced.

Results of nutrition studies on cottonseed meal for the last year were reported recently before the American Oil Chemists' Society at New Orleans by Henry Stevens, who has been in immediate charge of the work. The studies are being conducted jointly by the Department of Agriculture and the National Cottonseed Product Association.

"In addition to being rich in vitamin G, Stevens found cottonseed meal to be an important carrier of vitamin B, the anti-beriberi vitamin." Doctor Skinner said. "Yeast is considered by chemists to be the richest known natural source of these two vitamins, and the work of Stevens has demonstrated that commercial cottonseed meal, even in the unrefined state, is the only substance that even approximates yeast as a source of both these vitamins. Yeast is now used as a specific in the treatment of pellagra, but the cost of yeast is high to sufferers from the disease."

Pellagra is a disease resulting from improper diet, and is fairly common in many parts of the south. In 1926, Dr. Joseph Goldberger of the Public Health Service demonstrated that this disease is due to the lack of specific substances in the diet. This substance, which is of unknown chemical composition, is known as vitamin G, and is found in lean meat, fish, eggs, and milk. No experiments have been conducted to value the beautifying effect of afternoon tea.

Tea With Permanent Waves Newest Rite In Smartest Beauty Salons

It has been my observation that tea complements the efforts of the operator to relax her subject, and in relieving the nervous strain and fatigue under which no woman can look her best.

"Because of its restorative quality, tea lends sparkle to the eye and causes tensely drawn lines. Even after strenuous hours under light and other electrical apparatus, the woman who has had a refreshing cup of tea during the interval will leave her restful and with a sense of physical well-being."

Mrs. Condos estimated that 20,000 cups of afternoon tea, with stimulant and water, are consumed in this city alone to the cause of beauty and health.

"Yes, rotary massage will erase those wrinkles. And how many lumps does Madame want?" "Tinkle of teacups mingles with the thrir of dryers and the smart slapping of the hairbrushes." "Yes, Madame, it is the fashionable Chicago beauty salon in Chicago. No water-wave or permanent, however complicated, is allowed to interfere with the daily toilette."

"Yes has become a highly important part of our rejuvenative menu. Mrs. Condos admitted, "Clients with appointments between three and five o'clock have come to look upon a cup of tea as a regular part of their beauty scalp treatment. They have learned

Who can say, then, that a live-and-well-paid full-time secretary of the Chamber of Commerce would have plenty to do?

Another questionnaire, returned by a prominent farmer living on Route out of O'Donnell, was of two important needs. He says he would like to see the highway from the east county line completed to the county road east of Section 36, graded. He says, answering question, "What does O'Donnell need to make it a better place in which to live?" that the selling of liquor to the young people should be stopped.

Still another citizen of this well-paid full-time secretary of the Chamber of Commerce would have plenty to do? Literally covers the streets, should be picked up. If this city could get use of the State Highway Department's magnet road cleaner for iron and tin would be picked up from the streets of this city. Ask members of the city council about this need.

Dozens of other suggestions have been made. When folks start getting along constructive lines, something is going to be done. The chamber of commerce is getting again for some real work, and the heavy support of business men and citizens of O'Donnell, we have an attractive town and which will virtually invite new citizens and industries to locate here. THINK, THEN ACT!

To The Cotton Farmer

Beginning this week we are going to print in our ad a series of questions and answers relative to the Federal Farm Board's program of helping the cotton farmer.

Q. How can the Texas Cotton Farmer receive aid from the Federal Farm Board?

A. The only way the Texas farmer, or any other farmer, may receive aid from the Farm Board is through a co-operative association.

Q. Has the Farm Board named an association in Texas for the cotton farmers to join?

A. Yes. The Board has helped to create the Texas Cotton Co-operative Association, and is carrying on its Texas work through that association.

Q. What is the chief reason why the cotton farmer should join the association?

A. The cotton market is controlled by world-wide conditions, and the cotton farmer can know little about such conditions, or if he knew, could do little about them without being well organized.

Q. Haven't the cotton farmers been organized before to do this?

A. Yes, but only three bales out of each hundred were handled by the cooperative association in Texas under the old Texas Farm Bureau Cotton Association.

FINAL STRAW TOTALS

The Digest prohibition poll attracted less than 20 percent of the 20,000,000 votes cast, has been closed. The total vote was 4,806,464, divided as follows:

For continuance and strict enforcement of the eighteenth amendment and the Volstead law, 1,474,098.

For repeal of the 18th amendment and for modification of the Volstead law to permit the sale of light wines and beers, 1,309,314.

Roughly, 40 percent favored repeal, 30 percent favored continuance of present conditions, and 29 percent favored modification.

If it be recklessly assumed that this straw vote is a strong demand for repeal, let it be remembered that only 1,943,052 demanded it, while 2,863,412 opposed it.

The Digest did not vote for repeal but merely for alteration of the enabling act, the Volstead law. This about 60 percent opposed repeal and which is perfectly obvious without change—the only change recommended being in the Volstead law.

COTTON SEED RICH IN VITAMIN USE IN PELLAGRA TREATMENT

Cottonseed meal, commonly used as a cattle feed, has been found to be rich in vitamin B, the anti-beriberi vitamin, and by far the cheapest source of this vitamin.

Results of nutrition studies on cottonseed meal for the last year were reported recently before the American Oil Chemists' Society at New Orleans by Henry Stevens, who has been in immediate charge of the work. The studies are being conducted jointly by the Department of Agriculture and the National Cottonseed Products Association.

"In addition to being rich in vitamin G, Stevens found cottonseed meal to be an important carrier of vitamin B, the anti-beriberi vitamin."

Yeast is considered by chemists to be the richest known natural source of these two vitamins, and the work of Stevens has demonstrated that commercial cottonseed meal, even in the unrefined state, is the only substance that even approximates yeast as a source of both these vitamins.

Yeast is now used as a specific in the treatment of pellagra, but the content of yeast is high to sufferers from the disease."

Pellagra is a disease resulting from improper diet, and is fairly common in many parts of the south. In 1926, Dr. Joseph Goldberger of the Public Health Service demonstrated that this disease is due to the lack of specific substances in the diet. This substance, which is of unknown chemical composition, is known as vitamin G, and is found in lean meat, fish, eggs, and milk.

No experiments have been conducted to value the beautifying effect of afternoon tea.

"It has been my observation that tea complements the efforts of the operator to relax the strain and in relieving the nervous strain and fatigue under which no woman can lock her best."

"Because of its restorative quality, tea lends sparkle to the eyes and eases strenuous hours under lights and other electrical apparatus, the woman who has had a refreshing cup during the interval will leave the shop rested and with a sense of physical well-being."

Mrs. Condo estimated that 90,000 cups of afternoon tea, with trimmings and wafers, are consumed in this nation in the course of beauty treatments.

CHICAGO—"Does Madame prefer a dose of a tight wave? And with cream or lemon?" "Ye, rotary massage will erase those wrinkles, no way lumpy doses 'wax' and 'denture'."

"Tinkle of tescups mingles with the rattle of the relentless massage and the fashionable Condo wave or perm is Chicago. No water-wave or permanent, however complicated, is allowed to interfere with the daily routine."

"Tea has become a highly important art of our rejuvenation method," Mrs. Condo admitted. "Clients with appointments between three and six o'clock have come to look upon a cup of tea as a regular part of their facial scalp treatment. They have learned to value the beautifying effect of afternoon tea."

The Covered Wagon Yesterday—Club Tours Today

Travel today has advanced from the covered wagon stage to the point where club tours are among its highest developments. Old timers remember how long the covered wagon took to cross the plains of the United States and Canada, but now one may board an American Express Travel Department all-steel special train from Chicago every Saturday evening from June 26 to August 14 for the Big Horn Mountain country, including the Custer Battlefield, Black Hills and the Yellowstone, Glacier National Park, Montana, and all its beauties; a motor trip along the Columbia River; Mt. Ranier and the "Lariat Trail," via automobile, through the Canadian Rockies covering Banff and Lake Louise, Emerald Lake, Yoho Valley, and Radium Hot Springs in but a fraction of the time of the old days. Every tired business man and his equally tired wife—give her a break at 60-80—want to rest, relax, see plenty scenery and tell the folks back home later how wonderful their club tour was. Vacation time! What a time for the whole family to see the unequalled beauties of this country and our picturesque neighbor Canada, to the north.

People get along in years and never have the Great Adventure. They stay home, here and when they can afford it never do anything but stay home just the same. Some clever man not long ago coined a slogan: "See this world before the next." Why not? See the scenic grandeur of the United States and Canada while still young enough to enjoy it. And travel in comfort on a club tour. Everybody has heard of the Custer Battlefield where Custer and his men were wiped out by Indians, of the picturesque Yellowstone, of beautiful Glacier National Park, of towering Mt. Ranier and of Lake Louise, jade green, turquoise blue gem of the Canadian Rockies and Banff, overlooking the almost incomparable Bow Valley. It's a great thing to shake off the home shackles and go out and see something worth while in this world before we see the next.

POSTAL WORKERS OF PLAINS WILL MEET IN TAHOKA TOMORROW

Three hundred postal workers from the 63 counties comprising the 18th congressional district are expected to be in attendance at Tahoka Friday, Memorial day, at the annual convention of the Plains Postal Workers Association. Postmasters, clerks, supervisors, rural and city carriers compose the membership of the organization. The meeting opens in the morning, E. I. Hill, editor of the Lynn County News, delivering the address of welcome. Cleve R. Austin, Lamesa, will respond. Lunch is to be served by the Tahoka Chamber of Commerce following the opening and business session. During the afternoon addresses will be made by W. C. Rylander, prominent Lubbock citizen; W. E. Suddarth, Tahoka; W. L. Fletcher, Hamlin, secretary of the Texas Rural Letter Carriers' Association, and Postmaster J. D. Dyer of Lamesa. Rural Carriers L. N. Nichols, Chas. Minton, S. M. Linton and R. C. Willis and Sam Singleton of the local post office are expected to attend the convention. So you might as well not look for any mail on Friday. This is why the Index is coming out on Thursday as Postmaster and not Friday as was announced last week.

LOCAL BASE BALL TEAM WINS GAME SUNDAY

A team composed of local boys displayed some real baseball tactics and easily Sunday afternoon when they clashed with a team from O. K. Batteries for O'Donnell near Irvin Street, pitcher, Roy Lee Debusk, catcher. The boys walked away with the big end of the score, 26 to 8, with ease. There has been some discussion about organizing a baseball team, and so far as the reporter has been able to learn most everybody is in favor of the idea. O'Donnell has a strong team of past seasons, and there are several who would like to see a new one.

Due to so many sandstorms which have made it necessary for a great deal of replanting, the farmers are not as far along with their planting as they would have been otherwise. However, most of the land will have been planted by the last of this week. We surely hope the sandstorms are over, for it is very disheartening to have a young crop blown out or covered over night.

FLOYDADA MAN GIVES PLAN FOR RELIEF OF NEEDY IN THAT CITY

Unemployment Situation Confronting This City Should Be Solved In Short Time

Many good suggestions for solving the unemployment problem in Floydada were cited in last week's Floyd County Hesperian by W. Edd Brown, prominent business man of that city. What appears to be a plan might also apply to O'Donnell, hence Mr. Brown's letter is outlined here:

The unemployment situation in Floydada and Floyd County is getting to a rather acute stage at this time. We have many families in and near Floydada who are barely existing and who will be on charity within a few days if the heads of these families are not given employment. In fact, we have several cases right now that are being assisted by local charity and church organizations.

In almost every case that has come to the attention of the Associated Charities, the parties asking for aid are asking first for employment. They state that if they can find employment of any kind they are ready and anxious to work. They are asking for charity as a very last resort. The Associated Charities has found employment in a few instances, but in most cases aid or work in this way given temporary relief without disbursing any of the meagre funds at their disposal.

If necessity demands the County, the City, and in restricted cases, the Floydada Associated Charities are duty bound to relieve destitute cases, would it not be wise for the City of Floydada, the County, some of the schools of the county, and other repairs to make, the City Cemetery Association if it has work to be done, to arrange to put some of the unemployed to work on these things? Their plans are to have no work done at the present. It occurs to me that if the City and County, and others, are paying out money now on charity cases and getting nothing in return, which I know to be a fact in some cases at this time, it would be wise to open up some kind of work for these unemployed so that they may at least in part pay their way. An overwhelming majority of the unemployed in needy circumstances prefer this plan I know.

I am not informed as to just what could be done to give employment to those who need it, but the county might be able to arrange to paint the court house (if needed) and there are several painters idle here in Floydada who are anxious to work and need to work. Perhaps some culvert work could be done on the roads—concrete culvert work that will be permanent. Extra men likely could be used on some of the road work in and near the county precincts. There might be a bridge or two that needs a new floor put down. It doesn't take an expert carpenter to do this class of work.

The City might profitably clean out some of the stopped up culverts here in town before the rain sets in. If there are sewer or water extensions to be made later on, now would be an opportune time to have that work done. Any kind of work that could be started to help the situation would be in order at this time.

We have a suitable right here in Floydada in unemployment that is serious and becoming more so each week and will not be relieved until wheat harvest commences and other farm work gets under way. Six weeks from now there may be enough farm work under way to partly relieve the condition we now have confronting us. Until this time comes I believe the City and County owe it to the unemployed citizens to see that they have an opportunity to work that they may live without having to ask for charity.

Clude Thomas also of Grassland has kept an average of 150 hens for the five months and has sold 923 dozen eggs that cost him 10.1c per dozen making a profit of 28.6c per hen per month or a profit of $1.43 per hen for the five months. Total profit $213.48. Mr. Thomas' chickens are brown leghorn and white minores.

Geo. C. Total of $4.51. Mr. Lindly's hens were white leghorns and Rhode Island reds until recently when he sold the reds.

Clayton Beard has kept records of only the past three months but has sold 1361 dozen eggs from his flock of 307 white leghorns. His eggs cost him 4.7c per dozen and his profit per hen per month was 32.3c per month or 97c per hen for the five months. Total profit $299.31.

All four men are raising flocks of young chickens ranging in number from 350 to 1100, and have lost very few from disease.

HENS PRODUCE MONEY PROFIT FOR FOUR MEN

During the past five months 3,421 dozen eggs have been produced at a cost of 8.2c per dozen by four Lynn County poultry demonstrators who are working with County Agent Ray Shaver.

The four men have kept an average of 570 hens per month and have made a profit of $187.51 per month. This is an average of 32c per hen per month or the equivalent of $1.60 per hen for the five months.

The grain that the hens picked up about the place was not added to the cost of production because no estimate could be made of it. Mr. Young and Mr. Beard have sold some hatching eggs, but all other eggs were sold on the local market at prevailing prices.

All four men have culled, fed a laying mash all the time and kept the birds free from insects, worms and disease.

The following is the individual report of the four:

J. W. Young of Grassland has kept an average of 180 hens for the five months and has sold 763 dozen eggs that cost him 11.3c per dozen making a profit of 32c per hen per

Crisp Salads to Serve When Days Grow Warm

By JOSEPHINE B. GIBSON
Director, Home Economics Dept.,
H. J. Heinz Company.

A CRISP vegetable salad or a fruit and vegetable concoction of fruit will make even the simplest meal attractive. And on these glorious spring days, when we wish to get away entirely from thought of winter—even in the foods we serve—salads are more than ever welcome.

Wise housewives take full advantage of the numerous fresh vegetables available during the spring and summer months. Instead of continually serving hot dishes for dinner, they frequently substitute a thoroughly chilled vegetable salad, prepared with a snappy, well-seasoned French Dressing, or with Mayonnaise.

Many a woman, too, finds that a dainty fruit salad often will take the place of a dessert, and thus save her long hours in a hot kitchen making puddings, pies or cakes.

Following are recipes for a number of vegetable salads which are suitable for serving either as the main dish for luncheon or supper, or in place of cooked vegetables for dinner:

Jellied Vegetable Salad:—1½ tablespoons gelatin, ½ cup cold water, 1/3 cup boiling water, 3 tablespoons vinegar, 2 tablespoons lemon juice, 1/2 cup sugar, 1 teaspoon salt, ½ cup sliced celery, 1 cup shredded cabbage, 1 cup cooked peas, and a few drops of onion juice. Soak gelatin in the cold water five minutes and dissolve in the boiling water. Add vinegar, lemon juice, sugar, salt, onion juice and vegetables and mix thoroughly. Turn into a ring mold which has been dipped in cold water, and chill. Remove from mold to salad plate, and serve with crisp lettuce, and center with Mayonnaise Salad Dressing.

Lettuce Roll Salad:— Mash a soft cream cheese, add a package of cooked ham, finely ground, and a tablespoonful of mayonnaise. Spread a thin layer of this mixture on crisp lettuce leaves. Roll up to jelly roll and put slices and place several slices on a crisp lettuce leaf. Serve with French Dressing, or with Mayonnaise Salad Dressing.

Tomato Sandwich Salad:— Dip small red tomatoes into scalding water for a moment so the skin will come off easily—then chill and cut in half crosswise through the center. On one half place a generous layer of Sandwich Relish or Cream Cheese mixed with Stuffed Spanish Olives. Cover with the other half of the tomato. In the top of the tomato make a little incision with a sharp knife and insert a sprig of crisp parsley.

Chicken and Vegetable Salad:—2 cups cold sliced chicken, ½ cup cooked carrots, sliced, ½ cup cooked peas, ½ cup cooked string beans, cut in pieces, ½ cup cooked beets, sliced, 1 tablespoon chopped parsley. Mix the chicken and vegetables and add salt, paprika and parsley. Mix well with French Dressing and let stand in ice box until thoroughly chilled. Arrange in nests of lettuce leaves and top with Mayonnaise Salad Dressing. Garnish with beets cut in fancy shapes and separate tips.

Maccadine Salad:—1 small cooked cauliflower, 1 cup cooked peas, 1 cup cooked carrots, cut in cubes, 1 chopped green pepper. Separate cauliflower in small pieces. Marinate each vegetable separately in French Dressing and let stand in ice box until thoroughly chilled. Arrange vegetables on crisp lettuce leaves in separate nests, and sprinkle with chopped green pepper. Serve with French Dressing.

MRS. BELLE RIDGWAY ANNOUNCES FOR TAX COLLECTOR IN DAWSON

Mrs. Belle Ridgway, prominent Lamesa resident, who won second prize in the recent Index Travel Club, has announced her candidacy for the office of tax collector of Dawson County, subject to the democratic primaries.

Although somewhat late in making her decision to run the race for the office, her many friends feel that she will be elected. She has four opponents. The fine support she received in the Index subscription campaign indicates that she has many friends who will support her candidacy in this more important contest. She is an honest, efficient hard worker, and will no doubt make Dawson County a good tax collector.

THE QUALITIES OF LEADERSHIP

By JOHN G. LONSLADE
President American Bankers Association

Leadership and success, in a general way, are synonymous. They are both founded upon simple codes of thought and action. Upon the realization that he who wins the laurels must be a doer, not a waiter, that application of energy, not time or luck, is what counts most. A rabbit's foot is a poor substitute for a horse sense.

Both success and leadership, if they be of the highest quality, are the result of service to humanity. Service has been aptly described as "the supreme commitment of life." Analyze the lives and times of all great leaders of history and you will find that those whose names are inscribed in the hearts of their countrymen are those who sought to render a needed service to the populace.

Leadership, like success, need not, however, be international or national to achieve great results. There is room for each of us to be a leader in his community, in his work, in his church, and in various organizations. One of the indispensable qualities of leadership is the ability to persist steadfastly in the face of discouragements. If George Washington had not possessed the quality of persistence, he and his soldiers would never have survived the hunger and privations which were theirs at Valley Forge.

We have too many young men and young women who are saying a job cannot be done. Too many spend their time explaining why a thing cannot be done, instead of saying, with firm resolve, that it can be done, and doing it. Anything that ought to be done is capable of being done. And anything worth doing at all is worth doing well. The fellow who handles a little job in a big way is always on the road to greater fields.

BANKERS STUDY CHAIN BANKING

The Economic Policy Commission of the American Bankers Association has been specifically instructed by the general convention of the association to study and report on chain and group banking developments, and also on the proposal of the Comptroller of the Currency for an extension of branch banking in the national banking system, to permit those banks to conduct branches in the trade areas surrounding their locations.

R. S. Hecht, President Hibernia Bank and Trust Company, New Orleans, Louisiana, is chairman of the commission. The members are: George E. Roberts, Vice President National City Bank, New York, N. Y.; vice chairman; Nathan Adams, President American Exchange National Bank, Dallas, Texas; Leonard P. Ayres, Vice President Cleveland Trust Co., Cleveland, Ohio; Frank W. Blair, Chairman of Board Union Trust Company, Detroit, Michigan; Walter W. Head, President Foreman State National Bank, Chicago; W. D. Longyear, Vice President Security-First National Bank, Los Angeles, California; Walter S. McLucas, Chairman of Board Commerce Trust Company, Kansas City, Missouri; Max B. Naim, Vice President Citizens National Bank, Bowling Green, Kentucky; Melvin Z. Traynor, President First National Bank, Chicago; Paul M. Warburg, Chairman of Board International Acceptance Bank, New York, N. Y.; O. Howard Wolfe, Cashier Philadelphia National Bank, Philadelphia, Pennsylvania; Gurdin Edwards, American Bankers Association, New York City, secretary.

The survey showing the extent to which chain and group banking has developed in the United States has been made and issued in booklet form by the American Bankers Association of New York City.

SECTIONS WHERE SAVINGS DECREASED

A regional analysis of the drop in the nation's savings deposits in banks, as recently reported by the American Bankers Association's Savings Bank Division in its annual compilation for 1929 showing the first recession in national savings in the twenty years during which it has published this data, reveals that all sections except the New England and the Pacific States groups recorded losses.

The public figures showed that on June 29, 1929, the total savings deposits in banks and trust companies of continental United States stood at $28,217,656,000, which was $195,305,000 more than $28,022,351,000, when there was an increase of $2,300,000,000.

The regional analysis by state groups discloses, however, that the six New England states as a group gained more than $18,000,000 in savings and 152,984 in savings depositors, while the seven Pacific states as a group gained over $79,000,000 in deposits and nearly 278,000 in number of depositors. The states in these two sections, however, were smaller than the gains recorded there for 1928. The sections which showed losses are the Middle Atlantic, the Southern States, East Central States and the West Central States.

Empress of Japan, Shortly to Make Pacific Debut, Will Be Largest and Fastest Steamer to Orient

In August of this year the Pacific Ocean will celebrate the debut of a new grayhound, the Canadian Pacific liner Empress of Japan, which was launched on the Clyde Dec. 17, 1929. This great vessel, of 26,000 gross tons, will be the flagship of the White Empress of the Pacific, a line of steamers which is becoming increasingly popular with travelers to and from the Orient. She will endeavor to wrest the trans-Pacific speed laurels from her running-mate, the Empress of Canada, of 8 days 10 hours 58 minutes from Yokohama to Victoria, B. C.—a record which has never been equalled. Old-timers in Pacific Coast steamship circles will probably contrast the new Empress of Japan with her venerable, retired predecessor of the same name—a yacht-like vessel of some 6,000 tons, the bowsprit of which has been preserved in posterity in Stanley Park, Vancouver.

On June 16 the Empress of Japan will sail from Liverpool for Quebec and Southampton, will be the largest and fastest vessel plying the Pacific. The speed records of the Empress of Canada and Empress of Asia across the Pacific have never been equalled. The new Empress of Japan will be out to do even better.

MUCH of the French cook's reputation for excellent food has been gained through the use of skillfully blended sauces. And American women are coming to learn that the success of almost any dish—whether it be meat, fish, entree or dessert—depends greatly upon its accompanying condiment.

Sauces which lend this delightful piquancy to food may be divided, roughly, into two general groups: Those which we serve with meat, fish, vegetable and egg dishes; and those specially suited for puddings and desserts.

In baking meats, many women use the famous Barbecue Sauce to lend a delightful flavor. The recipe given for this below is for a quantity sufficient to prepare a large roast for picnic or church supper use. The sauce, however, may be safely kept in the family ice-box for several weeks if care is taken to keep the container closely covered.

Hollandaise Sauce is another great favorite for cauliflower, asparagus, fish and other dishes. Since many women find this sauce extremely difficult to make, however, the recipe for Mock Hollandaise—which scarcely can be distinguished from the regular sauce—should be welcomed.

If you will clip out the following recipes for sauces and put them in your scrapbook, I am sure you will find many occasions to use them:

Barbecue Sauce— Chop 1 onion and a clove of garlic. Add 1/4 cup Tomato Ketchup, 1/4 cup Pure Vinegar, 1/4 cup Worcester-sauce Sauce, 1 medium can of Cream of Tomato Soup, 1 tablespoon butter and 1 tablespoon sugar. Add pepper and salt to taste. Cook to the boiling point and use to baste a ham, a roast of lamb or beef, or any meat you wish to barbecue.

Mock Hollandaise Sauce— Mix 1/4 cup butter and blend thoroughly with 2 tablespoons flour. Add 1 egg yolk well beaten, 1/2 teaspoon salt and 1/2 cup hot water. Cook over hot water, stirring constantly until thick. Remove from fire and add 5 tablespoons Mayonnaise Salad Dressing, and 1/4 tablespoons Pure Cider Vinegar. Serve at once with baked or fried fish, or with asparagus, cauliflower, or Brussels Sprouts.

Tomato Sauce is always a favorite to serve with omelets, cheese dishes, meats or baked bean dishes, and the following recipe for making a quick one is well worth remembering.

Quick Tomato Sauce—Heat a small can of Cream of Tomato Soup and when it reaches the boiling point, slightly thicken with a small amount of flour blended with butter. A few drops of onion juice may be added if desired.

An easily prepared Tartar Sauce to accompany fish is made by combining 1/4 cup of Sandwich Relish and 1/3 cup Mayonnaise Salad Dressing.

Butterscotch Sauce—Cook 1 together 1 cup brown sugar, 1/4 cup butter and 1/4 teaspoon of Pure Vinegar until thick and bubbly. Then add 1/3 cup cream and allow to cook until boiling again, stirring constantly. This will take only a minute or so. Take from the fire, cool and flavor with 1 teaspoon vanilla.

Chocolate Sauce—1/4 cup cocoa, 1/4 cup cold water, 1 cup sugar, few grains salt, 1 teaspoon vanilla, 1 tablespoon butter, 1 teaspoon Pure Vinegar. Mix cocoa, sugar, salt, vinegar and cold water. Stir over direct heat and boil 3 minutes (220 F). Remove from fire and add vanilla and butter.

SPARKLING FLUID
Sam—Jinks had a cold and he was undecided as to whether he should stuff it or starve it.
Bo—What did he finally do?
Sam—He flooded it.

"What's that?"

We may be telling more truth than fiction when we state that people who tell tales in this world will carry them in the next.

CENSORED

"Well, my boy," said the new minister to the three-year-old, "what did Santa Claus bring you last Christmas?"

"Aw, I got a little red chair," said the kid, but it ain't much good. It's got a hole in the bottom of it."

"Where did the train hit your car?"
"Right between the first and second payments."
