Growers Lose in Shipping

LOSE AROUND 10 LBS. PER BALE CLAIMED

Losses up to 10 pounds per bale are being deducted at seaports from South Plains cotton since shipments of the 1938 crop to port compresses has been started, according to reports here Monday, so prints the Lubbock Journal.

Local buyers claim that when a farmer with cotton on the loan desires to sell, he generally has but one offer for his equity in the bale. If his cotton is in a compress or in a warehouse in this area, he will generally have from two to five, or six bidders.

Producers are expected to sell their cotton, when the market price goes above the loan price.

School Leaders Plan Meeting

TEACHERS OF COUNTY WILL ELECT OFFICERS

Officers will be elected, and plans formulated for the year, Saturday when Lynn county's school teachers meet in Tahoka to hold the first meeting of this county's unit of the Texas State Teachers' association.

The meeting will be held in the office of H. P. Cavanaugh, county superintendent, at 9:30 a. m.

An organization to handle the details of the County Interscholastic league will also be formed, so sponsors say.

The following program has been outlined by S. F. Johnson, O'Donnell, chairman:

Song by audience; invocation, the Rev. Geo. Dale; song by Tahoka High school chorus; appointment of committees; address, E. Ester Day, district supervisor; business session; adjournment.

Please Pardon This Small Paper

We wish to beg your pardon this week in the size of the PRESS. For reasons too numerous to mention, we have had to curtail the size, copy and advertisements.

The principal reason, however, involved the drinking of too much "ray burn" by our late, but unlamented machine operator, who, after not being in condition to work Monday through his jaunts with bay rum, again showed up for work Tuesday morning in no better condition. His pleas for "another 25 cents" was denied due to his condition and press of work. He then promptly took French leave, and departed for other parts.

Part time work on the machine was secured through an operator from the Dawson County Courier, Lamesa, and an operator from the Lubbock Avalanche.

When you read the news that is in the PRESS, please remember that we are not giving a prize for misspelled words. We know there are plenty of mistakes, but the machine, at present, is in no condition for accurate type-setting.

The drinking of bay-rum, while unpalatable to some, "hits the spot" for others. Persons authorized by law to sell whiskey refused to sell the operator whiskey due to his condition when making the requests.

The PRESS will be its usual size next week.

Contour Farming Allows More Work, Is Claim

COLLEGE STATION—Contour cultivation results in the use of less fuel and allows more work to be done.

"We hear a lot about terracing and contour farming, saving the soil and holding the rain where it falls, and about better yields as a result," C. Hohn, specialist in soil and water conservation of the Texas A. and M. College Extension service has commented. "If we have ever stopped and thought, and used a little common sense, we would have figured out long ago what some tests in Kansas proved, that contour cultivation also saves time and power."

Eagles Tackle Squad From Ackerly Friday

The largest crowd ever to assemble at Harmony was on hand for the game.

The Bears scored touchdowns in every quarter holding the McCarty team scoreless until the last 49 seconds of the game when McCarty scored on a long pass.

No substitutes were made on the Bears' team.

LOSE AROUND 10 LBS. PER BALE CLAIMED

Losses up to 10 pounds per bale are being deducted at airports from South Plains cotton since shipments of the 1938 crop to port commissions has been started, according to reports here Monday, so prints the Lubbock Journal.

Local buyers claim that when a farmer with cotton on the loan there desires to sell, he generally has but one offer for his equity in the bale. If his cotton is on a compress or in a warehouse in this area, he will generally have from two to five or six bidders.

Producers are expected to sell their cotton, or their equity in their cotton, when the market price goes above the loan price.

Competition Offered

Buyers of this area, it is pointed out, will offer as much per pound as buyers of other sections, for cotton when the price goes above the loan price. At the same time they will offer competitive bidding, as from to five or six men generally bid on a lot of cotton.

Cotton held at the port is more likely to have but one bidder.

Buyers here will be slow of bid on cotton at the ports when market prices pass the loan price. If cotton is held at the ports, and the government loan is paid off, the compress or warehouse man may add any charges he cares to, onto the price he asks.

Spinners of the southeastern section who buy cotton through buyers of this area, will object to paying two freight rates, from the Plains to the ports and from the ports to the mills. Cotton shipped first to the ports, and then to the mills, will have a double freight rate. The producer in the long run, said one cotton man, pays the freight.

Rogers Kelley, senator-elect from the valley district, has declared he will push for enactment of truck legislation — because his Valley district moves millions of tons of fruit and vegetables to markets by truck each season—and Kelley, known in his district as an aggressive and able leader—probably will get results.

Economy Program A senate subcommittee of five members has been working for nearly two years on the problem of reducing the overhead of state departments, and out of their efforts will doubtless come some improvement. Their goal is a $5,000,000 to $6,000,000 cut in departmental expenditures.

Along with the plan for better auditing and budgeting will go plans for abolishing some of the 102 special funds in the state treasury, so that officials can more nearly get an actual picture of the state's real financial condition from periodic statements by the treasurer and comptroller.

If the legislature believes as firmly in this as the gubernatorial candidates did, some legislation along this line probably will result.

Burning, smarting or too frequent urination may be a warning of some kidney or bladder trouble.

It is only after dragging backache, perspiration, itching, dizziness, grinding on nights, stinging, "stone" pain, or "cat" or "dog" urine, that you realize the need of a kidney cure.

It is no case is better to rely on a medicine that has won county-wide acclaim than on someone's less favorable opinion. Use Doan's Pills. A multitude of grateful people recommend Doan's. Ask your pharmacist.

PARTY FOR THE EIGHT-TO-TWELVES

How about an old-fashioned taffy pull for the 8 to 12 year old group who are clamoring for a party? Pulling the taffy furnishes the entertainment as well as helping out on the refreshments. Serve them into the kitchen and provide large dish towels for aprons. Divide the guests into couples and give each couple a lump of taffy to pull. Cocoa and some big fat sugar cookies or doughnuts are all you'll need for refreshments. There can be a bowl of shiny red apples on the table—or a platter of taffy apples, if you like. Here are two CRAZY recipes—one for Molasses Taffy and one for "White" or Vinegar Taffy.

- 2 cups light brown sugar 2 tsp. water 1/4 cup butter 1 tsp. vanilla

Cook sugar, molasses, vinegar and water together in saucepan over very low heat, stirring constantly to prevent sticking and the formation of crystals on sides of pan, to 250° F. The temperature at which mixture forms a hard ball when tested in cold water. Remove from heat and add butter and vanilla. Turn onto well buttered pan and mark into squares or pull. Amount: 20 pieces.

- 4 cups sugar 2 cup boiling water 1/2 cup mild vinegar 2 tsp. butter

Melt the butter in a saucepan. Add sugar, hot water, and vinegar. Stir until sugar is dissolved. Cover, and boil 3 minutes. Remove cover and continue boiling to 254° F., the temperature at which mixture turns brittle when tested in cold water. Turn onto a buttered pan cool. Pull until porous and white.

And here's a crazy recipe for cocoa. It's called Colonial Cocoa because Martha Washington used to make it for George Washington when he'd come home on a frosty autumn evening after riding all over his vast estate at Mount Vernon. The children will enjoy cocoa all the more if you tell them this story. Here is the recipe:

- 4 tsp. cocoa 2 tsp. cornstarch 2 egg 1/2 cup hot water 1/2 cup milk 1/2 tsp. vanilla

Mix cocoa with a little cold water in a saucepan to make a smooth paste. Add 2 cups water, sugar and milk. Bring mixture to a boil and blend in cornstarch which has been dissolved in a little cold milk. Boil 3 minutes longer. Remove from heat and set in warm place. Beat egg with 1/2 cup hot water until mixture is light and foamy. Pour half of the egg mixture into a sifter, then blend in vanilla. Add hot chocolate slowly. Pour remaining egg mixture over top of chocolate. Serve at once. Amount: 6 servings.

And here is also a recipe for Caramel Apples: Mix 1 cup sugar, 1 cup corn syrup, 4 small butter and 1/2 cup cream together in a deep saucepan (with a small bottom). Place over a low heat and cook slowly until mixture forms a firm, soft ball when dropped into cold water (230° F.). Blend 1/2 cup more cream and continue cooking until a hard ball is formed (cold water test). Stirring almost constantly to prevent scorching. Remove mixture from heat and set pan containing it into a pan of hot water to keep mixture soft while worked and completely covered. The plunger caramel-coated apple into cold water to set the caramel. Drain on waxed paper. Amount: 6 to 8 Caramel Apples.
