Experts Call U. S. Attacks on Solomons 'Upset' to All Jap Strategy in Pacific; Nazis Pay Dearly for New Advances As Russ Succeed in Blasting Oil Wells

EDITOR'S NOTE: When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of Western Newspaper Union's news analysis and not necessarily of this newspaper. Released by Western Newspaper Union.

UPSET: To Jap Strategy

Aerial support from captured land based airbases was aiding the U. S. marines as they extended their footholds gained in the Solomon islands. This important step marked the second major phase of U. S. military and naval activity aimed at driving the Japs forever from the southwest Pacific.

When this first American offensive of the Pacific war opened, planes from General MacArthur's forces in Australia were the only land based craft which could aid the operation. Now, however, the marines had pushed far enough forward to operate seized airfields.

Chief objective of the long-planned and complicated offensive in the Solomons was Tulagi, where the Japs had been profitably using a large harbor for raids on United Nations shipping lanes to Australia. That this menace had been overcome to some degree was indicated by the lack of Jap reports on such shipping. This looked too as if Jap reinforcements for their Solomon forces had either been swept out of the sector or had been pushed near to Australia and thus subjected to attack from that direction.

Another objective for the United Nations in the Solomons had been Guadalcanal, one of the few islands suitable for a good-sized airfield.

Even as the marines blasted forward to these targets, warplanes under the command of General MacArthur were pounding unmercifully at Jap-held points nearer Australia. On New Britain, Rabaul, junction of the Jap aerial lifeline to the Coral sea and New Guinea, was pounded constantly. Likewise on New Guinea, Salamaua was a prize objective of the bombings.

RUSSIAN OIL: Proves Hard to Get

The loss of another Caucasus oil city to the Germans was admitted in a Russian communique which stated that Maikop had fallen, but only after "equipment . . . and all supplies of oil were evacuated in time and the oil establishments themselves were made completely unusable."

The application of Russia's famous scorched earth policy was told in the communique. "The German Fascists who expected with the capture of Maikop to enrich themselves at the expense of Soviet oil have miscalculated. They did not get the Soviet oil and will not get it."

TIMOSHENKO Set for new tactics

Evidence that huge air battles were being waged along the Russian front from the Caucasus to the north came with the official report that during the previous week the Nazis had lost 369 planes against 241 Soviet planes lost.

New tactics were being employed by the Germans in the battle for Stalingrad. Self-propelled artillery was coupled with tanks and motorized infantry to crack Soviet lines. But Marshal Simeon Timoshenko had had time to mass artillery to oppose the enemy.

The report admitted that the Nazis had made a minor gain by hammering a wedge into the advance defense positions of one infantry regiment on the Kletskaya front. However, a Russian infantry unit reported fighting northeast of Kotelnikovo was said to have repulsed several Nazi attacks and then routed a Rumanian regiment.

HIGHLIGHTS . . . in the week's news

DISSEMBARKED: Nazi radio reports claimed that a number of U. S. ships disembarked American troops at "various ports throughout Iraq." This was unconfirmed by official U. S. dispatches.

NOISELESS: A noiseless propeller which eliminates the hum that submarines use to detect ships has been perfected by a Scottish scientist.

SECOND FRONT: Time Is Short

Those thousands of people all over the world who have been clamoring for a "second front" to aid the hard-pressed Russians and overthrow Hitler, received a hint of the urgency of preparations going on for such a program when Lieut. Gen. Dwight Eisenhower, commander of U. S. army forces in the European theater told a press conference that "the time is short."

Said the general: "Training in all its phases must be intensive. This is true first because time is short, second because the problems we have demand the ultimate in trained personnel, and third because our men must be toughened and hardened physically to stand the most rigorous operations."

This, coupled with his "time is short" statement, indicated to observers that General Eisenhower's attitude reflected the feeling in many unofficial circles to the effect that a second front is needed at the earliest possible moment and also that the British have found the Germans to be a tough and hardy foe.

LIEUT. GEN. DWIGHT EISENHOWER "Time is short."

MOSLEMS SPEAK: On Cooperation

If the British continue to sacrifice Moslems' interests in seeking peace with the Hindu-dominated All-India Congress party, it will mean the end of co-operation between 80,000,000 Moslems and the British empire.

That warning was uttered by Mohammed Ali Jinnah, leader of the All-India Moslem league, which has not participated in Mohandas K. Gandhi's passive resistance campaign for immediate Indian independence.

Although the Moslems are a minority in the Indian population, they have contributed far more than their share of men to the 1,000,000 guarding against an expected attack by the Japanese.

Jinnah, in a press conference, explained his position thus:

"In his capacity as leader of the Moslem league, he offered at the beginning of the war to co-operate with the British. This assurance has been given many times. But, he said, the Congress party, consisting mostly of Hindu political elements (and a minority of Moslem representation) consistently has refused to co-operate. Because of this, the British have attempted to satisfy the Hindus with more and more offers of a part in the government. Each concession, he pointed out, weakens the Moslems' strength while building that of the Hindus.

JAP NAVAL LOSSES: 'Five Times Ours'

In face of ridiculous Japanese claims in the southwestern Pacific, Adm. Arthur J. Heppburn, new chairman of the navy's general board, announced that Jap naval losses since the start of the war have been possibly five times as great as those of the United States, including losses at Pearl Harbor.

"Their losses in tonnage have been several times ours, perhaps as great as five times as much," Heppburn stated. That includes Pearl Harbor. Most of the damage done there has been repaired.

"And one thing you want to remember is that we are very conservative in our claims. When we say a ship is sunk, she's sunk."

HOT WATER: Hot water rationing for New York was the word from the office of Mayor F. H. LaGuardia, who said that some sort of plan must be worked out to conserve fuel. Under a suggested plan hot water would be available only between certain hours. "And even during those hours tenants should be willing to accept only warm water," he said.

Natives of India Turn Out to Fight Foe

In the Punjab region of India recruiting officers have no trouble in getting volunteers to fight against Hitler and Hirohito. As the war comes closer to India young men from far-flung districts are turning out to fight the common foe. In the recruiting center shown at the left the doctor, an Indian, vaccinates each recruit on the point of his left shoulder. Right: An Indian officer (captain) gives each recruit a small advance of pay on enrollment.

What's Cooking? Victory Vegetables!

Dress Rehearsal for Solomon Assault

Before the hard-hitting U. S. marines stormed the Solomon islands they went through maneuvers that shaped them for this particularly tough assignment. In picture at top a land mine hurls mud and sea water high into the air as the marines land troops and stores after establishing a bridgehead in the South Sea Islands, where U. S. forces and the Japs have been exchanging heavy counter-blows. Below: Unloading a heavy gun, part of the equipment of a landing party in the South Sea islands.

'General' Coxe Leads New Army

Enthroned in a horse-drawn buggy, "General" Jacob S. Coxe, who once led an army of the hungry to Washington, is shown leading a small army of war workers in Massillon, Ohio, during the tribute paid to Massillon war industry by the army and navy. High officials of the war and navy departments and heroes of the army and navy participated in the "salute to Massillon."

Bundist Arraigned

Hans Diebel is shown entering a U. S. marshal's car in New York. Diebel, leader of the German-American Bund in Los Angeles, pleaded not guilty to an indictment accusing him and 28 others of conspiring to have bund members evade the alien registration act of 1940. He is also charged with attempting to evade the selective service act.

Crack 'Hard Nut'

Two ensigns work out a problem in navigation while flying one of the naval patrol bombers—out after U-boats—from the Banana River, Fla., naval air station. These patrol bombers are doing good work.

During Mr. Winchell's absence, on guest columnist.

By LIONEL BARRYMORE (Who needs no introduction.)

Every actor knows what the critics think of him. These industrious gentlemen who distribute plays or brickbats, according to their views of plays and performers, have the benefits of their newspaper circulation to broadcast their views.

Now, having been offered a space of my friend Walter Winchell with whom I often agree and just often do not, I have the opportunity not often vouchsafed the actor to talk about the fellows who talk about him, in print.

Of the great stage critics there were some who honestly wrote what they believed, in spite of hell, hot water and the newspaper's business office. No actor ever resented being criticized by one of these men. In fact, we respected their knowledge and views, and often benefited by constructive criticism. The same applied to playwrights, when the critics analyzed a play.

FIRE ACTOR TURNS CRITIC AND ROASTS SHOW

Sometimes critics are evolved in strange ways. Years ago my long-er John and I were in a traveling repertory company. We had a friend, Fred Butler, a newspaper man, whom we persuaded to come along and try being an actor. It wasn't in any spirit of discovery. We were great cronies and liked to be together. Also Butler had a good tooth which could always be pained when we were broke.

The company got as far as Memphis when the director decided Butler was no actor, and much to the dismay of John and myself, "fired" him. Butler went out and landed a job on a newspaper. He talked the editor into letting me review our shows. Glee-filled, "roasted" them, and John and I used to laugh over his "roasts" at dinner each night. But they drove the manager wild.

I remember one gem in which he deplored that a good play "could be utterly ruined by an insignificant young actor named Lionel Barrymore."

George Bernard Shaw was a great critic, in the days when he reviewed plays for London publications. True, he sometimes wrote terrible things about them. But any criticism of his was tempered with justice. Mark Twain once tried his hand at dramatic criticism on the old Alta California in San Francisco, but never became really interested in it.

The motion picture brought about a new technique in criticism. The early "tintypes" were ignorant. Then, as pictures grew in stature, critics were forced to write about them. At first, many had a feeling of hostility, but this gradually disappeared, and today a fine picture like "Mrs. Miniver" is reviewed by the keenest dramatic minds among the writers of the press.

NEW KIND OF CRITICISM EVOLVED BY MOVIES

Motion pictures have evolved a new form of criticism which the public never sees. Pete Harrison started it, with confidential reports on pictures to exhibitors. He told them what to expect from the picture, from a showman's point of view, to equip them with advance information on the handling and exploitation of a film.

An adverse report meant that too much expenditure for advertising for instance, was inadvisable. On the other hand, when he praised a picture, this meant that the exhibitor was safe in "going the whole hog" in exploitation.

Today there are numerous trade magazines, which review pictures in the same manner and for the same reason. They tell the exhibitor what to expect. Sometimes audiences flock to a picture the trade critics had no faith in. And vice versa.

For, after all, the only reliable critic is the public itself.

A few days ago a group of studio writers and directors were discussing a certain picture. They picked holes in the story. They thought players were miscast. "When the critics get hold of it, you'll see," they chorused.

One veteran director spoke up. "Well, maybe you're right," he remarked. "It looks like nobody's going to like it except audiences."

He was right. The picture grossed a million.

Babe Ruth didn't give much thought as to whether "The Pirates of the Yankees" film was a white-tie or black-tie premiere. Babe showed up with his throat bared, very informal, m'dear. You get a pretty good line on the Nazi honor code in the behavior of the eight saboteurs. They short-changed the Coast Guardsman who pretended to accept their bribe. Even in bargaining for their lives they can't stop cheating. Orders were handed Washington hotels to fire their enemy alien waiters.

FOR A FALL GARDEN
ADDED FOOD

From the growers' point of view your garden program was a "saver." Increased food prices led many families to lean heavily on the home supply of fresh vegetables and the gardening year should be over by any means.

Prepare now for a fall garden and you become busily engaged in planting cotton and other crops.
Prepare the soil by removing all weeds, apply barnyard manure and three or four inches deep to thoroughly pulverize the soil.

Buy seeds now and have them on hand. What kind of seeds to buy?
Don't limit your garden to turnips and greens when there are so many other vegetables that will grow well.
Wide planting will assure an assortment of good vegetables, and at the same time avoid losses from the fall gardening hazards of late summer heat, early frost, heavy rainfall, and insect damage. Here's how.

The rate of seeding should be heavier than in the spring garden to assure a good stand. These vegetables mature before frost: Beans, stringless green pods; Radishes,
scarlet globe; Mustard, tendergreen;
Lettuce, New York; English Peas, Thomas Laxton; Onions, (sets) Bern-uda.

These semi-hardy vegetables will withstand light frost: Carrots, Dan-ver Half Long; Turnips, Shogoin; Beets, Detroit Dark Red; Swiss
Chard, Lucullus; Spinach, Long Standing Bloomsdale.

Spinach will not tolerate the heat of late summer, nor can it stand "wet feet." Wait until October or until the weather has cooled off, then sow the seed where the soil is well-drained.

Since vegetables fresh from the garden are an economical and healthful source of food, why not get busy right now and grow a good fall garden? Try substituting a general assortment of fresh, tender vegetables for the customary turnip patch. You can do it if you wish.

Do you know that American women and children, too, are in Jap concentration camps?

How long do you want them there — and what are you willing to do to get them out?

You can't do it by flag-waving, by slogans, and by cheers.

It takes planes—tanks—guns—bombs—shells—ships. And these don't grow on trees.

Bomb With Junk!

Your Scrap Metal is Needed Now for VICTORY!

A CRITICAL SHORTAGE of scrap metal now exists in United States War Industry. Unless more scrap is forthcoming at once, war production will slow down and months, even years will be added to this fearful battle.
It is of the utmost importance that every pound of scrap metal on your farm start moving now toward America's steel mills and foundries to make more war materials.

It is your patriotic duty to collect your scrap and notify this store at once

GET IN THE SCRAP—HERE'S WHERE IT GOES

SALVAGE for VICTORY!

In the barnyards and gullies of farms and in the basements and attics of homes is a lot of Junk which is doing no good where it is, but which is needed at once to help smash the Japs and Nazis.

Scrap iron and steel, for example. Even in peacetime, scrap provided about 50% of the raw material for steel. It may be rusty, old "scrap" to you, but it is actually refined steel—with most impurities removed, and can be quickly melted with new metal in the form of pig iron to produce highest quality steel for our war machines.
The production of steel has gone up, up, UP, until today America is turning out as much steel as all the rest of the world combined. But unless at least 6,000,000 additional tons of scrap steel is uncovered promptly, the full rate of production cannot be attained or increased; the necessary tanks, guns and ships cannot be produced.

The rubber situation is also critical. In spite of the recent rubber drive, there is a continuing need for large quantities of scrap rubber. Also for other waste materials and metals like brass, copper, zinc, lead and tin.
The Junk which you collect is bought by industry from scrap dealers at established, government-controlled prices.
Will you help?
First—collect all of your waste material and pile it up.
Then—sell it to a Junk dealer, give it to a charity, take it yourself to the nearest collection point, or get in touch with your Local Salvage Committee.
If you live on a farm, consult your County War Board or your farm implement dealer.
Throw YOUR scrap into the fight!
