Marvin Munn Seek Tax Job

To The People Of Lynn County:

In announcing my candidacy for the office of Assessor-Collector of Lynn County, I fully realize the importance and the responsibilities of this office and in seeking this office I am asking the people of Lynn County to place in me their trust and confidence that I will discharge the duties of the Tax Office fairly and vigorously.

I feel that I am capable of handling the affairs of this office. I am 42 years of age, and have lived in Lynn County for 30 years. I have a high school education, also a course in book-keeping and secretarial training. I have had quite a bit of experience in bookkeeping and office work and am acquainted with the problems that confronts the people of this County.

I am a hard working man and don't mind work. I would appreciate your support and consideration in the July primaries and if you see fit to elect me, I promise to serve to the best of my ability as your Tax Assessor-Collector at all times.

I will call on as many voters of the County as is possible in the next 60 days to assure you personally that I will work hard when elected to justify your confidence.

I thank you for any consideration that you may accord me.

MARVIN J. MUNN

This Seeks Lynn Co. Judge's Office

Walter Mathis this week announced that he is a candidate for the county judge of Lynn Co. Mathis is well known to most of Lynn County for 18 years and having served in a public office for ten years.

He came to Garza county in 1930 where he farmed and kept a short time, and then moved to Draw where he was bookkeeper at a gin several years. He spent at a gin county as County Clerk for ten years.

Mr. Mathis was in constant and close contact with the work of the County Court and the office of the county judge and is well acquainted with the work of his office and his experience and training fits him for the office he seeks.

Having lived on the farm for 20 years before moving to town, he feels that he knows the problems of people in all walks of life over the county and that this will help him make the county a better place to live in. If elected, he will endeavor to give the people of Lynn County the most efficient and business like government and will sincerely appreciate their vote and influence in the general primaries.

Senator Pepper Is Defeated; Savings Bond Drive Underway; Loyalty Files Opened to Probe

(EDITOR'S NOTE: When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of Western Newspaper Union's news analysts and not necessarily of this newspaper.)

POLITICS: A New Trend?

Political observers were face to face with the question: is there a new political trend in the wind? In Florida 36-year-old George Smathers defeated Sen. Claude Pepper, one-time new dealer, by well over 65,000 in the democratic primary. Critics of the Fair Deal, especially the revolting southerners, called it a victory over alarming "creeping socialism," big government, unbalanced budgets and the welfare state.

The winner, however, told Republicans to take no comfort from his victory. He said: "The people of Florida in this election proved they were unwilling to depart from the well-established and basic principles of the Democratic party. They do not wish to venture off down the side roads of extremism or dangerous experimentation."

"Nor are they interested in turning the clock back to isolationism and the do-nothing attitude of the Republican party."

Meanwhile, the people of Texas elected the first Republican congressman in 24 years when Ben H. Guill, 40-year-old Pampa broker and former schoolteacher, defeated 10 Democrats. It was a sudden-death election to fill the unexpired term of Gene Worley who had resigned to become a federal judge.

Guill said he was going to Washington as one small protest and added: "... If I go up there as one small protest, maybe the powers that be won't think they have the whole country in the bag. Maybe some of those big shots will take a look at this little segment of Texas and take warning."

BOND DRIVE: Save for Independence

With a gentle tap on the Liberty Bell, Secretary of the Treasury John W. Snyder on May 15 opened the greatest savings bond drive in the peacetime history of the country. The drive continues through July 4.

The bell is the symbol of the 1950 drive. The theme: "Save for your independence—buy U.S. savings bonds."

Fifty-two replicas of the historic relic are on tour of the 48 states, District of Columbia, Alaska, Hawaii, and Puerto Rico. They will visit over 2,000 communities and will be viewed by millions of people.

The bells were made at the foundry of the Sons of Georges Paccard at Annecy-le-Vieux in France and are said to produce the exact tone of the Liberty Bell before it was cracked in 1835.

The treasury department has one objective—to promote the sale of savings bonds in order to encourage thrift. An attempt will be made to contact every potential buyer of savings bonds in the nation.

At the conclusion of the drive, Snyder said a bell will go to each state and territory for permanent exhibit.

INDOCHINA: To Get Aid

Secretary of State Acheson announced in Paris that Indochina would get immediate American aid in the form of military equipment in an effort to rid the country of the guerrilla war which has been going on for four years.

He announced the bulk of $75,000,000 already appropriated to combat communism in the Far East will go to the French backed Vietnamese of ex-Empress Bao Dai and the associated states of Cambodia and Laos to fight Moscow backed Ho Chi Minh.

Many observers felt the move was an important one in the battle against communism in that section of the world. Some believed the Communists may have made too many gains and the aid will be "too little and too late."

Acheson indicated the United States would expect a greater degree of self-government for the three Indochina states under the French.

He added, "The United States considers the situation to be such as to warrant its according economic aid and military equipment to the associated states of Indochina and to France in order to assist peaceful and democratic development."

KING: Crowns Self

Boston-born Phumiphon Aduldet, who has been on the front pages of American newspapers a great deal recently because of his marriage and the announcement that he had written music for a Broadway production, lifted a nine-tiered crown on his head and became Rama IX, king of Thailand.

The coronation was performed with all the mystic pomp and ceremony of the Chakri dynasty.

The Winner!

George Smathers, 36, casts his vote in his race against Senator Claude Pepper for the U.S. senate. Smathers defeated Pepper by well over 65,000 votes. Pepper had been a member of the upper house for 14 years. His defeat is considered a blow against President Truman.

SPY HUNT: Files Available

The Communist spy hunt, called by many a witch hunt and a mud-slinging campaign against administration big shots, took a new turn when President Truman agreed to give investigators the complete state department loyalty files on the 81 cases cited by Senator McCarthy.

Although Truman's approval did not cover F.B.I. files, a great amount of F.B.I. material is included in the reports.

It now comes to light that the 81 persons named by McCarthy have been investigated by four other congressional committees.

Senator Tydings, chairman of the subcommittee which has been looking into McCarthy's allegations, said: "No adverse report concerning these employees came to the floor of the house or the floor of the senate and none was sent to the state department after the other investigations."

Some sources are saying public opinion is beginning to blow the lid off the scandals of the Truman administration. But others believe too much time and money are being wasted in an effort to create Communist hysteria for political reasons.

The public, meanwhile, was becoming a little bored and skeptical of explanations from either side. Some logical explanation of what has been going on had better be made and soon, the voter was saying.

TRUMAN: On Tour

President Truman began his western tour with four speeches on behalf of the Brannan agricultural program, but took time also to preach the gospel against isolationism.

And it was a new Truman, using gentle ridicule against his political enemies instead of the free-swinging, sledgehammer blows he used on a similar trip two years ago. That in itself was enough to make many a politician raise his eyebrows.

The President shoved his needle of ridicule deep when he touched on isolationism. He said:

"Now isolationism would be a cheap policy to follow. It would be easy and cheap to stop spending money on our army and navy and air force and to stop sending supplies to other countries who survived the great war. We can stop these things today."

"Isolationism would be mighty cheap for today and tomorrow and maybe next week. You remember how cheap isolationism was in the 1920's. Taxes were cut, at least for the big fellows, but look at the terrible price we have paid for isolationism in the second world war."

"Today exactly the same issue faces us. There are still some men who keep telling you that we can economize by following an isolationist policy. These men can't see beyond the end of their noses."

"They don't see that isolationism would let the rest of the world be swallowed up by communism. That would certainly bring on a new world war just as it did in 1939. We reneged in 1921, just as Russia today is doing with the help of our own isolationists."

Beauty

Elizabeth Taylor, generally known as one of the most beautiful women in the movie world, was married in what has been publicized as the movie capital's wedding of the year.

The groom is Conrad (Nick) Hilton, scion of the hotel family.

Seven hundred guests were invited to the wedding and about 200 to a reception at the Bel-Air country club.

The Soft-Hearted Railroad Detective Thought He Wanted Coal to Take to His Poor Old Mother

By BILLY ROSE

If the man who was yard detective at the East River tugboat terminal 40 years ago will drop around to my office, I'd like to present him with a pair of down-front tickets for the show playing at my theater.

What did the yard dick do to rate these front-row ducats? Well, I can't answer that one without sketching in a bit of my bumptious background...

The year Senator Taft's pop became President, the Roses were living in a rail-road flat on the lower East Side—four rooms in a row, each with a window that leaked cold climate. Our central heating system consisted of a squarish stove in the kitchen, and the cost of coal being what it was (15 cents a bag), it was seldom that the home fires were burning.

Billy Rose

Most of the time I went around the house with a lady's stocking stretched over my ears, but when it got so blustery that even that didn't help, I would stick an old flour bag into my pants, ease my way into the yard back of the tugboat terminal south of Manhattan bridge, and swipe as much coal as I could carry from the piles used to fire the boilers of the tugs.

Then, as now, I was built close to the ground and fat as all get-out, so I usually got away clean as a clinker from the yard detective—an oyster-faced little man whose idea of a good time was to catch two coal thieves at once and knock their heads together.

One murderously cold February, I was stuffing an old sack with choice chunks of anthracite when the dick sneaked up and caught me blackhanded.

"Don't ya know what happens to kids who steal?" he said.

I could have told him they get warm, but decided not to.

"Don't tell me—let me guess," he went on. "Ya got a poor old mother and unless ya bring home some coal she'll catch her death of cold."

"How'd ya know?" I said.

"I also suppose yer old man hasn't worked in six months."

"It ain't that long," I said, "but he don't make much even when he does work."

"A dozen times a day I hear the same story," said the yard detective. "I know it like I know my name."

Suddenly, to my unbelief, he handed me the bag of coal and walked away. "Don't let me catch ya again," he said.

Star Dust STAGE SCREEN RADIO

By INEZ GERHARD

GLORIA SWANSON'S career has been a series of triumphs, won by plenty of hard work, a remarkable personality and unusual looks. She began her movie career when she was 14, became a star in silent pictures, tackled the talkies and succeeded when others failed, did the same with television. One of her greatest victories was won when she refused to have her nose made over! When her picture career petered out in 1932, she became a successful business woman and has made only three films since then; the latest, Paramount's "Sunset Boulevard," is so good that hardened critics have seen it three times. Once again she has proved she is the fabulous Gloria.

"The Theatre Guild of the Air" vacations beginning June 4, but will return Sept. 10 on NBC for a 39-week period, again sponsored by U. S. Steel. Starting June 11, the same company will sponsor a 13-week series of broadcasts by the NBC symphony orchestra, as it did last year. Famous conductors and distinguished soloists will appear in programs of light classics.

Bill Holden says his two young sons suffer from "Hopalong Cassidyitis," like thousands of other youngsters, they never miss their idol's television shows. Bill doesn't know it yet, but something new has been added to those Hopalong suits and guns that children now demand: it's "Hopalong Cassidy" wallpaper. Now will the paper hangers be busy all summer!

MacDonald Carey, in New York to publicize "The Lawless," set a record when he appeared on 80 television and radio shows during the two weeks, and made 30 other appearances before press, public opinion and exhibitor groups.

Five technical advisers were employed for scenes in RKO's "The Secret Fury," starring Claudette Colbert and Robert Ryan. They checked on sequences laid in a psychiatrist's office, a mental hospital, a jail and county offices.

Jan Sterling had to cope with rumors that she was engaged to Paul Douglas as soon as she began wearing those rings he gave her—three gold bands, each set with a pearl topped by a tiny diamond. They fit over each other.

Doris Dalton, playing the new role of "Vivian Jarrett" in "This Is Nora Drake" on CBS, has had an impressive stage career. She has appeared in any number of plays, played opposite John Barrymore in "My Dear Children."

THE FICTION CORNER

VALUABLE MAN

By Richard H. Wilkinson

THE DOOR MARKED "Private" opened and a girl appeared. "Come in please, Mr. Jeffrey," she said.

Tully dropped the magazine he had been reading onto the reception room table, rose, buttoned the coat of his double-breasted suit, straightened his tie and stepped past the girl. "Mr. Gunner," said the girl, "has an appointment this morning. He asked our Mr. Jacobs to talk to you."

A rage seized Tully, and a determination. He thought: "To hell with Gunner and his job! I'm going back to Boston. But first I'm going in there and tell that yes-man what I figure I'm worth."

The yes-man was a typical, efficient yes-man, small, bespectacled and used to handling unpleasant duties for Mr. Gunner.

"Sit down, sit down, Jeffrey," he said. "We understand you have a letter. You're seeking employment. Mr. Gunner is very sorry to have to advise that at the moment there's nothing. Not a thing."

"Good," said Tully. "I decided not to take the job anyway. I decided you can't pay what I'm worth."

"Really?" said Mr. Jacobs, arching his brow. "And that is?"

"Two hundred and seventy-five dollars a week!" said Tully. He rose. "Good day, Mr. Jacobs. Give my uncle's regards to Mr. Gunner."

Mr. Jacobs sat at his desk with pursed lips and stared thoughtfully slammed but closed with a determination.

"Good," said Tully, "I decided not to take the job anyway."

minded firmness. Presently he rose at the door that Tully had not and invaded the privacy of portly Mr. Gunner.

Briefly Mr. Jacobs outlined what was in his mind.

"Asking $275, eh? Said he didn't want our job? Probably offered a better job by Erwin and Company. Called here to pay the respects of his uncle, Humm. Treated him rather shoddy, didn't we, Jacobs? Must be a good man. We need good men. Get hold of him, Jacobs."

Mr. Jacobs tried Tully's hotel. There was a wait, then the clerk told him Mr. Jeffrey didn't wish to talk to any representative of Gunner, Inc.

MR. JACOBS went back to the office. Three times that afternoon he called Tully's hotel, but without success. He reported to Mr. Gunner. Mr. Gunner grew thoughtful.

"Jacobs, this youngster is probably the very man we've been looking for. Young, fresh viewpoint, new ideas. If he's worth $275 to Irwin or any one else, he's worth $300 to us. I'll handle it myself."

When Mr. Gunner decided to handle anything he went to town. This tenaciousness was responsible for the success of his present firm. Never give up when you think you have something good, was his motto. Thus it was that Tully, returning home late from the theater, found a middle-aged, portly, important looking man parked before his door.

"I'm August Gunner," the portly man said. "My man Jacobs—"

"Told you I said you couldn't pay what I'm worth," Tully finished. "He was right. You can't. Good night, Mr. Gunner."

Uninvited, Mr. Gunner followed Tully inside the room. "I think," he said, "that your uncle rather expected you to go to work for us when you came to New York."

"Correct," said Tully. "So what?"

"Your uncle is one of my dearest friends. We'll pay you $300 a week," Tully stared. A sneer curved his lips. Mr. Gunner, he thought, was kidding.

Suddenly Tully realized that Mr. Gunner wasn't kidding. He swallowed, but managed to keep his voice under control. "All right," he said, "I'll take it. For the sake of my uncle."

Outside in the corridor, Mr. Gunner mopped his forehead. What a break! The kid was probably worth twice that much. And this uncle of his. He'd have to remind Jacobs to find out the old boy's name, first thing in the morning.

This Is Your Paper Local News Is Big, Too

By William R. Nelson

THE WORD "newspaper" oversimplifies the functions of the institution so named, because a newspaper publishes much more than the news of its community. Virtually all newspapers regularly contain editorials, features such as this, and advertising, none of which is included when speaking of news.

Strangely enough, the histories of famous newspapers disclose most won fame because of contents other than news. That proves, editors believe, that readers approve of, want and enjoy a variety of material in their newspapers.

To give readers a better cross-section of current events, a newspaper impartially and objectively reports the news, discusses and interprets it with editorials, and entertains and informs in feature and advertising columns.

News is an accurate account of highlights of a happening of interest to the paper's readers. That is why it is necessary to say black is white, if that is what someone stated, even though the reporter, editor and newspaper know differently. And that is why a report about a meeting of local officials is as important news here as a session of the legislature or of the congress.

The home town newspaper's editorials and its educational and entertainment features may not receive as widespread attention, numerically, as do those of metropolitan papers, but proportionately they are even more important. They are more closely representative of what the "grass roots" of our country think, approves and disapproves, because America's home towns are the backbone of our nation.

Sixty per cent of the people of the United States live in communities such as this, or on farms. What they believe, do and say is therefore the voice, will and heart of this country. And their newspapers therefore mirror majority desires and aims.

News, editorials, features and advertising combine in the home town newspaper to accurately reflect the community, to inform it, entertain it, and give it a voice in the larger affairs of our daily lives. There is no more important newspaper, anywhere, than this one.

Two Stories of the Futures of Two People— A Girl Worried About Hers; a Man Did Not

By BILLY ROSE

Here are two stories, both true. The first is as mean as a thumb in the eye; the second, as heartening as a sunrise. . . .
The mean one is about a Philadelphia industrialist who, on one of his frequent business trips to New York, made the acquaintance of a young lady whose good looks were only surpassed by her amiability. Despite the fact that he was married, the tycoon began to see a lot of the girl, and it wasn't long before he had set her up in a Madison Avenue apartment; and was forking over $300 a week to cover expenses.

After a couple of cozy and clandestine years, the girl said to him one night, "If something ever happens to you, Daddy, I'll be left without a penny. Don't you think you ought to do something about securing my future?"

Billy Rose

"You're absolutely right," said the industrialist. "Give me a few days to work it out."

The next time he called on the girl, he handed her half a million dollars worth of 3 per cent railroad bonds.

"These will yield you an income of 15 thousand a year," he said. "Every three months as the coupons come due, clip them and I'll cash them in for you, and you can use the money for expenses."

"You'll notice I haven't put your name on the bonds. Well, that's because the transfer of so large a sum would come to the attention of the board of directors and cause a lot of talk. However, if anything happens to me, you can write your name in and sell the whole lot at any brokerage house."

The girl thanked him, and the pair continued seeing each other until the tycoon keeled over in his Philadelphia office a couple of years later with an attack of coronary thrombosis. When his lady friend read the obituary in the papers, she wrote her name on the bonds and took them to the brokerage house.

The broker examined the certificates. "You're a little late, Miss," he said. "This railroad went out of existence almost 30 years ago."

The girl picked up the worthless paper and walked out. "The dirty double-crosser," she muttered. "All he gave me was the same three hundred a week."

AND NOW let me take the thumb out of your eye and show you the sunrise.

Some years ago, an Iowa garage-man went bankrupt and decided to make a fresh start in another state. He scraped together a little cash, loaded his wife and kids into a beat-up Chevrolet and headed for California. Unfortunately, the jalopy broke down outside of Tucson and the cost of getting it fixed cleaned him out.

To get a little eating money, he set out to canvass the garages in town for a job but quickly found the supply of local labor was greater than the demand—Tucson, because of its climate, was filled with tuberculosis victims, a good many of whom were mechanics.

At the last garage on his list, he repeated his hard-luck story and got the standard turnaround, but as he started to walk out he was stopped by one of the mechanics.

"If you need a job as bad as you say," he said, "you can have mine. I'm pretty sure I can fix it with the boss."

"Don't you need the job yourself?" said the man from Iowa.

"I've saved enough to last me for six months," said the mechanic, "and the doctor who's treating me for TB says that's all I figure to live."

This Is Your Paper Not All Pictures Are Good Ones

By William R. Nelson

A PICTURE may or may not be worth "10,000 words," as the Chinese proverb claims, but it certainly represents a pretty penny in costs, time, space and judgment, if published in a newspaper. In addition, it is seldom desirable to republish a picture, so all of the effort, time and money expended is for a single use.

Editors appreciate the interest shown when readers suggest publication of pictures, and they comply as often as possible. But publishing a picture in a newspaper is not as easy as it may seem.

Pictures are only "worth 10,000 words" when they convey desired information.

That immediately classifies them as news and means they should be selected for their news value. Unless a photograph is of someone or some event currently in the news, publication has little or no meaning.

Assuming that a picture has news value, it then must be of such quality it will reproduce well in the paper. Many photographs which are entirely satisfactory for an album cannot be reproduced distinctly enough to be recognizable in a newspaper. Publishing such pictures is a disappointing waste of space, effort and money.

There are other factors, too, such as permission of those in the picture for its publication, its news value or the amount of interest in it among the paper's readers, and whether there is time to make a cut.

If not taken specifically for the paper, or its order, a photograph may not be timely and therefore its use may seem incongruous.

Even if timely but received too late to get a cut made, it may not be practical to use it in a later issue because reader interest will have waned by then.

For these and many other reasons, the editor is always the best judge of whether or not a picture can be or should be published.

If the paper publishes other pictures, some not local in origin, in the very issue for which yours was rejected, it is well to remember that in addition to the above factors, there is still another. It is that some pictures, always of news value, are furnished to the paper in forms that make their use easy and inexpensive, because they are also supplied to many other papers.

Star Dust STAGE-SCREEN-RADIO

By INEZ GERHARD

DANNY SCHOLL, as a wartime entertainer of our troops, had to bail out of a blazing plane in the South Pacific. Recently, telling the story to three songwriters, he said: "I prayed, and I guess the good Lord made that parachute open." Result, the new National Record song hit, "Open, Parachute," sung by Scholl—which led a Paramount official to discuss a film contract with Danny. He has had plenty of radio experience, and as singing lead in the musical, "Call Me Mister," was signed by MGM for a role opposite Ann Southern in "Nancy Goes to Rio." He stands six feet-four, is good looking, is now appearing on Broadway in "Texas, Li'l Darling" and doing fine.

Irene Tedlow, "Mrs. Archer" of "Meet Corliss Archer," says she has learned a lot about bringing up her two young children from her years on the CBS show—and about what to expect when they reach their teens. She's had the role since the very beginning, and has never missed a performance, but manages her household, does other radio shows and several movies a year.

Kathi Norris, who has just switched to NBC, will be groomed by the network to become its female Ben Grauer. In addition to running her shows on another network she had been a special events reporter, may be teamed with Grauer.

To enable future army officers to know their Shakespeare as well as their Articles of War, the U.S. Military Academy at West Point has arranged with Universal-International to show "Hamlet" once a year at the Academy.

Katherine Locke, who won acclaim in "The Snake Pit" but retired to private life following her marriage to Norman Corwin, the ace radio writer, has been persuaded to return to the screen in an important role in story of mob violence, much of which will be shot in Phoenix, Ariz., it stars Kathleen Ryan, Frank Lovejoy and Richard Carlson.

Madge Blake, former Pasadena school teacher, who waited until her children grew up before embarking on an acting career, has been cast for the important role of Evelyn Keyes' slap-happy sister-in-law in "The Cost of Living."

Vanessa Brown, starred with Lex Barker in Sol Lesser's RKO "Tarzan and the Slave Girl," came up with the most novel excuse for leaving a party. "I simply must go," said she, "I've got to go elephant riding early in the morning."

THE FICTION CORNER JACKIE'S BEST WORLD

By Richard H. Wilkinson

THE DAY BEFORE Darling's three-ring circus, largest to ever visit New England, came to Dexter, Silas Ledbetter called his 12-year-old son in from the barn

3-Minute Fiction

and said: "Look here, Jackie, you've been a pretty good boy this summer. Guess you deserve bein' on hand with the other boys at that circus when it gets here tomorrow."

The Ledbetters were poor as church mice, and Jackie hadn't dared even let himself think his pop would let him attend the circus. Consequently, his round blue eyes grew even rounder.

Old Silas grinned and swallowed a lump in his throat. He dug down into his pocket and brought out a shiny, new silver half-dollar.

Jackie carefully placed the half-dollar in a pocket of his tattered overalls, pulled his straw hat well over his ruddy face, puckered up his lips and began to whistle. He whistled all that afternoon and was still whistling when he came in from the lower lot for supper.

Once upstairs, Jackie carefully took off his shirt and then felt in the pocket of his overalls for the half dollar. He'd better sleep with it under his pillow, he reasoned, like he'd read about folks doing.

It was right then that Jackie's heart sank, right then that the world turned black and there was a horrible, terrifying, empty feeling in the pit of his stomach. The half dollar was gone!

Jackie wanted to cry, but he was too much of a man for that. He searched through the other pocket very carefully, and then looked in his shoes, and under the bed and about everywhere that the half dollar might have been. But it was gone, completely vanished.

And so Jackie, his heart aching with misery, crawled into bed. And then—he couldn't help it—he cried. But all the time he kept telling himself he was a man now and he'd better stop crying before mom came up to tuck him in and kiss him good night.

If mom found him crying she'd feel bad and probably cry, too. And Jackie didn't want that to happen.

HE COULDN'T, he decided, even let mom know that he had lost the half dollar. Or pop either. That wouldn't be fair. He'd just go off by himself tomorrow afternoon and make them think he was at the circus all the time. He wouldn't want them to know for anything.

There wasn't any one in the world had a better pop and mom than he. Jackie fought to keep back the tears. He didn't wait long after breakfast and set out with his pitchfork over his shoulder and a whistle on his lips.

Once out of sight of the house, the whistle died. The ache and misery in his heart just wouldn't let it go on. Still, he was going to see the parade anyway, and pop and mom would think he was going to the circus. It was comforting to know that pop and mom were happy.

Jackie reached the lower lot and began to shake out the hay as pop had asked him to do. He couldn't look on the job, he told himself, because if he did pop wouldn't think him very grateful for the half-dollar.

Jackie turned the hay in one windrow and started on the next. But all the while his heart fairly sobbed with misery. And then abruptly that same heart almost ceased to beat. Jackie stared and stared at something round and shiny that lay in the stubbles under the forkful of hay he'd just picked up. After a long time, it seemed, his heart began to thump again. He felt goose pimples breaking out all over his body. He wanted to cry and shout and do all sorts of things.

And then Jackie remembered that he'd been working here on the afternoon before, and the half-dollar must have slipped out of his pocket. He picked up the coin, squeezed it lovingly in his hand, holding it tightly in his clenched fist, went to shaking out the hay again. The best mom and the best pop in the world, he told himself joyfully.

AROUND THE HOUSE

Lengthening Blanket

A blanket that's too short for the bed, or the occupant therein, can be made usable. Sew a 15-inch piece of flannel or flannelette to the bottom of the blanket. No one will notice if this end is tucked under and the rest of the blanket will be long enough.

Renewing Powder Puff

To put new life in a soiled powder puff, wash it in warm soap-suds, scrubbing the bad spots with a fingernail brush. But don't lay it out flat to dry. Pin it instead to the sunny side of a window curtain so the air can get at it.

Raisin Donuts

Maple syrup and raisins! There's a delicious combination, especially when you serve it this way. Cook 1 cup raisins in 1/2 cup water until raisins are plump and soft. Add 1 cup maple syrup and 1 teaspoon lemon juice. Pour hot honey raisin sauce over donuts in individual dishes.

Ginger Toast

Ginger toast is a nice change. Simply chop some preserved ginger, add a few drops of lemon juice, a tiny bit of water and stir and cook to marmalade consistency. Cut the bread into strips, toast, butter lightly and spread with the marmalade.

Children Love It

If you want to thrill children at a party, give them this beverage. In a tall glass add half a cup of ginger ale to half a cup of milk. Top with a generous scoop of vanilla ice cream.

Proper Milk Cooling Necessary for Grade Warm Milk Excellent For Bacteria Breeding

Milk must be cooled properly in order to be classed as Grade A. Unsatisfactory cooling can make good pasture, a healthy herd and observance of all health and management rules look mighty sick. To preserve quality, milk should be cooled to 50 degrees or lower soon after it is drawn. Milk is cooled in one of three ways on the farm: by water, ice and mechanical refrigeration. Electric milk coolers are thermostatically controlled and use from 25 to 30 KWH per month to cool 10

Farmer sets timer to operate an extra agitator on a conventional milk cooler. gallons of milk per day. Even they, however, might be improved. One attempt to do this is illustrated in the accompanying photograph. It shows a farmer setting a timer to operate an extra agitator on a conventional cooler. By means of this special equipment, he starts building up the ice bank in the cooler the minute the milk cans are immersed. There is no waiting for the escaping heat from the milk to set the cooling mechanism in action.

Farmer Finds Blower Effective Hay Dryer

Mounted on Cart, It's Easy to Move About

Wet springs and early frosts aren't the headaches they once were to a growing number of farmers. For they have discovered that immature grain can be cured just as effectively in storage buildings as in the field.

The average farmer will find that mechanized drying of hay and grain is not as expensive as it would appear. Hay & grain saved will soon pay for equipment.

Equipment for mechanical drying of grain is simple, and present farm structures can be converted easily, quickly and inexpensively to handle this newest of farm production chores. Farmers, who have hay curing equipment, will find that the same fan and motor can be used for both drying grain and finishing forage crops.

The accompanying illustration shows what can be done in the way of inter-changing hay curing and grain drying equipment. When the hay curing season is over, this farmer mounts his fan and motor on a cart and hauls them to a crib where they are put to use blowing moisture out of his immature corn. An outlet, into which he plugs his five-horsepower motor, is located in an adjacent building.

When double cribs are used, as in the case shown, the air blast enters through one end of the driveway. The opposite end is sealed up, and heavy paper placed on walls of the crib from the peak of the roof to the top of the corn layer. Openings around the fan and in the floor also are closed. In single cribs, wooden ducts or "A" frames are laid down the center of the floor and the air blown directly into them.

Drying is successful without supplementary heat when the temperature is 60 or above and the relative humidity 65 per cent or below. If heat is used, buildings should be insulated and properly ventilated. Warm air is blown into storage sheds by motor driven fans. Thermostats and other controls automatically keep the temperature and the flow of air at efficient drying levels.

Clothes From Sacks

With feed manufacturers vying with each other to create pleasing bag designs, rural America has the opportunity to turn these sacks into many glamorous garments. Here, Jackie Frehand, member of the Wanchese 4-H club on Roanoke Island, N. C., feeds chickens from one of the flowered feed bags, especially designed for re-use by customers.

The Agricultural Experiment Station of the Texas A. and M. College System is conducting experiments to test the resistance of certain varieties of sweet potatoes to Internal Cork disease.

Beef Herd Decision Problem in Corn Belt

Whether or not to have a beef herd is a long-time decision for the corn belt farmer.

Under average corn belt conditions, a cow can be credited for a 450 pound calf at weaning time. For instance, if you had a 30-cow beef herd on a corn belt farm and a 90 per cent calf crop, you'd have 27 calves worth around $135 each. Or, at 30 cents per pound, a gross income of about $3,600. If four replacement heifers were kept back, there'd be 23 calves worth $3,100 and four cull cows, worth about $1,000, to sell.

There would be a gross income of $4,100 to cover the cost of maintaining a herd of 35 mature animals, including 30 cows, four heifers and one bull, or about $117 per animal per year. If you used the average value of cows and calves over the past 15 years as a yardstick, your gross income would be about half of $4,100.

New Dairy Element Seen As Aid in More Output

The animal protein factor—microscopic dairy element which speeds up the growth of farm animals and poultry at less cost to the farmer—is now in tonnage production and should be readily available to consumers within a short time.

Officials of the chemical company producing the element which is accomplished by bacterial fermentation, promise feed efficiency that will represent a significant new advance in animal nutrition.

The fermentation APF, as the feed component is known, has a Vitamin B12 content approximately 40 times that of good fish meal, the outstanding natural source of APF which has been widely used heretofore in feed mixtures. This vitamin compound is one of the most effective known for supplementing chicken and hog feeds.

Use the crisp little radishes, green leaf lettuce, snowy onions or golden carrots to add a dash of color and a touch of spring to the family table.

Uncle Sam Says

The two symbols of Independence for 1950 are the Liberty Bell and U. S. Savings Bonds. They exemplify the Independence Drive slogan "Save For YOU Independence—Buy U. S. Savings Bonds." Just as the Liberty Bell signifies national independence, Savings Bonds spell financial independence. YOUR government is providing the means for future financial security by offering a safe, sure and methodical way of protecting your future through Savings Bonds. Each payday, from now on, put a slice of your pay envelope into Savings Bonds by enrolling for the Payroll Savings Plan where you work, or if self-employed, the Bend-A-Month Plan at your bank.

It's a wonderful feeling to take the wheel of a magnificent new Pontiac convertible—to feel the pride of driving a car with character in every line and action.

Naturally, the convertible is the sweetheart of the Silver Streaks, a car with a manner all its own. But character is a basic Pontiac ingredient—one that adds greatly to the pride and pleasure of owning and driving any Pontiac model you choose.

Every new Pontiac has character written all over it and stamped deep into its background. That's an important reason why dollar for dollar, you can't beat a Pontiac!

Farm Commodities Pose Big Problem

Government Limited In Selling of Stocks

At the moment the government owns approximately $1,806,365,438 worth of farm commodities, purchased through the years to support farm prices, agricultural department officials report.

The government today has 167 million bushels of America's finest corn stored under the price support plan. The question is, what to do with it?

open market to compete with commodities now in private ownership. To do so would flood the market and depress the commodities offered far below support prices. The government would then find itself buying the commodities placed upon the market.

These commodities, however, can be sold should the market prices strengthen considerably above support levels.

The government has two methods at present of moving commodities. They are:

(1) Persuading the consumer to increase their purchases through normal purchasing channels, thus reducing the supply and raising the price to where government stocks can be put on the market. Also, reducing supplies to a point where support prices would become unnecessary.

(2) Many of the commodities in government stockpiles are being distributed to school lunchrooms, charitable institutions, Indian affairs, and needy groups.

Don't Strain

Here's a right smart idea for a feed and grain scoop that eliminates the wrist strain of scoops with the usual projecting handles. For a large scoop, one that can be used in sacking grain, 20-gauge galvanized material is about right. The scrap iron brace to which the front end of the handle is bolted helps hold light metal in shape.

Year's Fruit Prospects Hit by Widespread Damage

Explosive April caused considerable damage to budding fruit and a great drop in the year's prospects is indicated.

South Carolina, Virginia and Georgia suffered damaged peaches. Washington, Idaho and Oregon show a 100 percent bud loss and many trees killed. Damage in southern Illinois ranged from 50 to 100 per cent, according to some reports by farm bureaus.

water that may be applied to silks and husks of developing ears. When applied at right times it kills worms before they attack and ruin the corn.

R. A. Blanchard, bureau entomologist, developed the method. He tested it in the field during three growing seasons in Texas, Mississippi, Missouri, and Illinois. Earworms were controlled in every instance, he reports.

January Exports Pass $224 Million Mark

January agricultural exports totaled $224,300,000, the agricultural department reports. Cotton topped the total with $83,500,000. Wheat and wheat flour were second to cotton, valued at $47,300,000, while corn was in third place with $14,700,000. Agricultural imports during the month were valued at $290,700,000, or approximately 66 million more than exports.

God Has a Plan

Lesson for May 28, 1950

GOD HANDS DOWN no blueprints. He never yet has been willing to save any man the trouble of thinking. The Bible is God's guidebook, and in it is revealed God's will. But it is not a guidebook of such a sort that you can take it from the shelf and look up in it the answer to every one of your problems in detail. Nevertheless the Bible is a guide, "the inflexible rule of faith and practice" as some churches express it.

God's will is shown there plainly enough so that we can know whether we are building on the right foundation or not.

Sins Into The Sea

NOW THE PLAN of God is so simple, that is, it can be so simply expressed, that one is almost tempted to say, "Oh, that!" as if it were something we knew already. Well, we do know it. But the thing is, we don't do it.

Part of God's plan for mankind, a very important part, in fact indispensable—something the Bible talks about from the beginning to end—is this. The forgiveness and the destruction of sins. (Micah 7:18-20.) Now everybody can see others' sins.

The Romans used to say that every man carries others' sins in a bag in front of him where he can see them very well, but his own sins he carries in a bag hanging down his back where he cannot see them.

We are all in favor of other people's forsaking their sins. But how about you? The world does need to confess its sin; but you need to confess your own. No sins walk by themselves; sins exist only in sinners. Sin is something a sinner does. We shall never get rid of sins by exhorting other people. We get rid of them by repenting in the presence of God and receiving his forgiveness.

It is always so easy to think: If we only had a good society we could have better people. That is backing into an idea the wrong way. The right idea is: If we have better people we shall be on the way to the good society.

If Not Peace, Then What? WE ALSO KNOW something about God's plan for society at large. The Bible does not leave us in the dark. One thing that Micah brings out is the ideal of peace. (Micah 4:1-5.)

So long as we are making war, preparing for and expecting war, doing or saying things that make war inevitable or even likely, we are out of line with the will of God. Conversely, whatever we do to foster peace is in line with the plan of God. War was bad enough in the days of Micah; it is incalculably worse today.

War always was the effect and cause of hate, it always brought suffering and death, war seldom settled anything. But this is the atomic age. Dean Rusk of the U.S. state department has said that in all present-day discussions we have to remember one solemn fact: The human race now has in its hands the means of its own total destruction.

Any war nowadays is a war against the whole human race, for any large-scale war with atomic weapons may well make the entire globe uninhabitable by man. A voice for war is a voice for universal death.

Christ The King SINLESS MAN is a warless world; such is God's plan. Is this possible? Only on one condition; that Christ shall be king. (Micah 5:2-4.) This has two meanings, one far-off, and one near; one complete and one partial. The far-off, completed meaning (which may be nearer than we think) is that after the history of this planet is over and done with, in the "new heavens and the new earth" the final destiny of God's people is to live under the Lord Christ as leader and king.

The nearer, here-and-now meaning of Christ's kingship is this: Wherever, in the plans of men, the spirit of Christ, his way and his ideal, are being trampled on or ignored, there God's plan is forgotten and there disaster is certain.

But wherever the spirit of Christ is in control, there God's plan is being carried out and there the Kingdom of God is coming nearer.

New Potatoes, Fresh Asparagus Team With Pork Chops
(See Recipes Below)

Spring Vegetable Treats

As gentle showers coax brilliantly colored vegetables from the moist brown earth, imaginative homemakers can perform equally miraculous deeds with the foods in their kitchens.

With a dash of imagination, all vegetables can come in for plenty of honors and accolades. A special set of seasonings, a few sauces, or a certain arrangement of several vegetables are all that are needed to make any member of the vegetable family a real treat.

Golden carrots, plump asparagus spears, deep green spinach and snowy white onions, as well as others lend themselves to the recipes given in today's column. Use them often to pep the vegetable portions of your daily menus.

Spring Vegetable Casserole (Serves 4)

4 ounces elbow spaghetti
1/4 cup butter
2 tablespoons enriched flour
1/2 teaspoon salt
Pepper
1 cup vegetable liquid
1 tablespoon lemon juice
1 to 1 1/4 cups cooked asparagus
1/4 cup buttered bread crumbs

Cook spaghetti in boiling salted water until tender (about eight minutes). Drain and rinse. While spaghetti is cooking, melt butter in saucepan. Add flour, salt and pepper and mix well. Gradually pour in vegetable liquid and lemon juice stirring constantly until thickened. Cut asparagus into one-inch pieces leaving four or five spears whole for garnish. Fold cut asparagus and spaghetti into sauce. Pour into greased 1 1/2 quart casserole. Arrange uncut asparagus spears on top and sprinkle with buttered bread crumbs. Bake in a moderate oven (350°) 30 minutes.

*Spring Salad Plate (Serves 6)
2 pounds asparagus, fresh-cooked whole stalks
6 medium-sized beets, cooked
1/2 cup French dressing
6 hard-cooked eggs
1 cucumber
Leaf lettuce
Stuffed olives

Cut beets in thin slices. Spread asparagus and beets in shallow dish. Pour French dressing over them; let stand in refrigerator one hour or more. Remove shells from hard-cooked eggs, cut each egg in half lengthwise and remove yolks to bowl. Mash yolks with fork; add any desired seasonings, mayonnaise, etc. Refill egg whites with mixture. Cover with waxed paper and keep in refrigerator until serving time. Arrange lettuce on individual plates, dividing into three sections. Place alternating slices of beets and cucumber in another section. Place two deviled egg halves in third. Garnish with stuffed olives.

French Fried Asparagus (Serves 8)

LYNN SAYS: Store Foods Carefully During Warm Weather
Honey and other syrups thin out during warm weather. They should be tightly covered and stored at room temperature. Cold temperatures such as those available in refrigeration may cause them to crystallize.

Curtail your supply on hand of dried fruits during hot weather because of the ease with which weevils attack them. Buy only as needed.

Leave berries in baskets in which they were purchased and store in a cool place. Wash just before using.

Dried dates should not be refrigerated because they become sticky and sugary.

Keep canned foods away from moisture so they do not become rusted, and thus spoiled.

Because of their pronounced odor, oranges, lemons and melons should be wrapped in heavy waxed paper before they are stored in the refrigerator.

*Recipe Given

1 No. 2 can asparagus spears or 74 to 27 fresh asparagus spears
1/4 cup flour
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 Dash onion salt
1 egg, beaten
1 tablespoon water
1 cup dry bread crumbs

Drain juice from asparagus spears. Combine flour, salt and onion salt; roll each asparagus spear in this mixture. Group three floured asparagus spears together. Dip each group in combined beaten egg and water and roll again in dry bread crumbs. French fry in deep fat (390°) for four minutes or until brown. Serve hot.

Fresh Vegetable Chow Mein (Serves 6)
1 cup thin celery strips
1/2 cup sliced onion
1 medium green pepper, sliced in thin strips
1/2 pound green beans, cut lengthwise
3 carrots, Julienne cut
2 cups chicken stock or bouillon
2 teaspoons salt
2 tablespoons soy sauce
1 tablespoon head molasses
1/2 cup sliced or tiny button mushrooms
2 tablespoons cornstarch
3 tablespoons water
2 tomatoes, cut in wedges

Cook celery, onion, beans and carrots in stock for 30 minutes. Add salt, soy sauce, head molasses and mushrooms. Combine cornstarch and water, then gradually add to above mixture. Cook for an additional 10 minutes. Add tomatoes during the last three minutes of cooking. Serve on Toasted Bread Sticks: Leave crusts on six slices of day-old bread. Cut bread into strips 1/4 inch thick on all sides. Toast on a cookie sheet in a moderate oven (350°) for 20 minutes. Turn them so they will be golden brown on all sides. Serve with creamed foods.

Creamed Spinach (Serves 6)
1 1/2 pounds spinach
2 tablespoons butter
1 onion, sliced
1/2 slice garlic, minced
2 tablespoons bread crumbs
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon pepper
Dash of nutmeg
1 cup soup stock or milk

Wash spinach thoroughly. Cook without any additional water until tender (about 10 minutes). Drain and chop fine. Melt butter, add onion and garlic and brown. Then add remaining ingredients and spinach and cook together five minutes. For variation use Swiss chard in place of spinach.

Summer Rains Can Be Serious Soil Robbers

88 Per Cent of Loss Occurs During Season

Summer rains can be "soil robbers" that cause serious erosion losses unless farm land is protected by good conservation safeguards, Ohio State University soils research men point out.

A 10-year study of erosion damage at the Zanesville, Ohio experiment station, showed that more than 88 per cent of the soil loss due to rainfall occurred in the six summer months. Farm soil is most vulnerable in summer because clean-cultivated row crops during these months provide only a small amount of protection.

High intensity summer rains cause soil losses in two ways, the Ohio research men say. Large-sized drops strike the earth with such force they break the surface soil into small particles that quickly fill all surface pores. This seals the soil surface into a hard crust that water cannot penetrate. Excessive runoff and erosion losses are the result. Also, high intensity rain beats down so fast that even unsealed earth cannot take it as rapidly as it comes.

Thick stands of deep-rooted legumes and grasses will provide a soil-protecting cover that will enable the land to take high intensity rains in stride. To produce dense, leafy stands, the legumes must be well fed. That means liming, where needed.
