RELATIVE OF LOCAL FAMILY DIES AT ODESSA

Mr. I. M. Barton, of Odessa, who is the son of Mrs. Barton and brother to Mrs. T. M. Wilson and Mrs. W. T. Burke, all of this place, died at his home in Odessa Sat. 14, death resulting from double pneumonia following a period of illness of just one week.

Mrs. Wilson was called to his bedside on the 7th and remained with him until the end.

Mrs. Barton, the mother, only arrived a few hours before he passed away. Mrs. Burke and Miss Maggie Wilson went down for the funeral services. Because of illness in her home, Mrs. Burke could not go sooner.

The funeral services were conducted in the home by the pastor of the first christian church, after the funeral services the body was given in to the hands of the Masonic Lodge and taken to the cemetery, the Masons having charge of the burial.

Those who witnessed the burial describe it as one of the most beautiful scenes they have ever looked upon, as the beautiful snow was falling thick and fast, covering everything even the bared heads of the pall bearers, and other men were covered with snow while the lovely floral offering was one of the most beautiful and magnificent.

There was such a profusion of flowers and lovely bouquets, that they literally covered the grave and banked high on the graves of relatives buried near.

Mr. Barton was fifty years of age and had been a resident of Odessa for the past twenty years and was Tax Assessor of Ector County for the past eight years and was a candidate this year with every good prospect for election, which is indeed a proof of the man's sterling worth and splendid qualities. Mr. Barton was a good christian man and a member of the First Christian church. He leaves a wife, six children and many loved ones to whom we extend our deepest sympathy.

HIGH SCHOOL ORCHESTRA WILL PRESENT PROGRAM

The O'Donnell High School Orchestra, under the splendid training of the director, Miss Maggie M. George, will give a program at the High School Auditorium at an early date. Watch for the date and don't miss this rare treat.

Ingredients Necessary For Glass Manufacture Abound Here; Illinois Concern Interested.

A little more than a year ago the index carried in its columns a story telling of the wonderful possibilities offered in this territory for a glass factory, stating that all necessary material for the manufacture of high grade glass was available in this immediate territory in abundance. Our fair little city was pictured as a manufacturing city and people begin looking for smoke stacks from manufacturing plants and sky scraper buildings expecting them to rise above the horizon before the ink was dry on the index story. Time elapsed and nothing was done, consequently many doubted the story, and we were asked the question, "What about the glass factory?" Rome was not built in a day, neither could we complete such a task in a short time. However, our dreams of a manufacturing city right here in O'Donnell are being brought nearer to realization each day.

Since the organization of the Luncheon Club several weeks ago, things have been happening. Communications have been received from people who are interested in building our glass factory. Samples and tests of glass sand and globber salts have been made and sent to number of glass manufacturing concerns which will undoubtedly bring the desired results. Each of these tests have shown glass sand and globber, salts of the highest quality and in abundance. The sand is located twelve miles southeast of town and the globber salts can be found in abundance eight miles west of the city.

The Luncheon Club is seeing to it that the glass manufacturing concerns of the United States get a complete analysis of the situation here and are receiving some very interesting replies, one in particular. The Illinois Plate Glass Company, one of the largest manufacturers of glass in the United States, is expected to send a representative her in the next few weeks to look over the situation.

Dr. Hardy of Baylor University was in O'Donnell Tuesday.

Mrs. Naymon Everett returned from a ten days trip to Wichita Monday where she visited friends and relatives.

One day was given to fasting and prayer, following which conversions became numerous. At the close of the service about $90 was raised for the work of the church.

INDEX WANT ADS BRING RESULTS AT A VERY SMALL C

FOUNDER SCREED IS RULE OF HIS SUCCESSORS

Louisville, Ky. (SPECIAL)—"To build well—to deal square." This homely motto of the late founder of the great Avery implement factory in Louisville is still the guiding rule of its present officers and employees. Voiced almost one hundred years ago, as the creed of an humble blacksmith is still serves to imbue the makers of Avery farm implements with the spirit of their late leader.

When, in 1825, Benjamin Franklin Avery, at the age of 24 years, beat out his first plow, he little realized to what vast proportions his little business was to grow, or to what widely extended parts of the earth the implements bearing his name were to find us. He knew only that the farmers about his home town, Clarksville, Virginia, wanted farm tools that could be relied upon and that the way to satisfy their wants was to build implements as well as one could. With this objective in mind, the youthful blacksmith could hardly fail of his purpose.

His business grew. He needed helpers. And for the positions in his now expanding factory he selected men on whom he could depend. Men, who could be relied upon "to build well—to deal square."

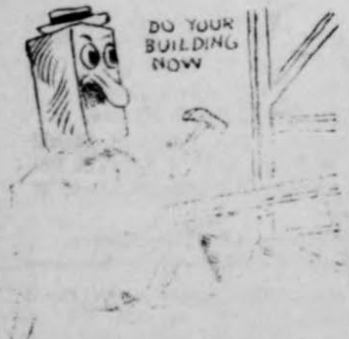

Upon the death of B. F. Avery in 1885, his two sons, Samuel L. Avery and George Capell Avery took over the leadership. The former needed no further training for his task than the experiences which he had gained in working side by side with his venerable father. The latter succeeded to the presidency of the firm upon the retirement of his brother. Still the spirit of the founder moved the firm. The younger brother was ever aware of his father's motto, "To build—to deal square."

With the death of George C. Avery in 1911, there came a close to that chapter in the history of the House of Avery, in which members of the Avery family took active part. But, there was then, as there are now, men in this great organization, whose long associations with the founder and his two sons, had resulted in the absorption of their spirit. These men now the leaders of the B. F. Avery & Sons Company, still guide its business with the ever present motto of the patriarch, "To build well—to deal square."

It is to this honest principle of business that the B. F. Avery and Sons Company, owe their tremendous success in the manufacture of farm implements for the Southern farmer. It is the spirit of building well and dealing squarely that puts the great list of makers of highly efficient equip Avery establishment foremost in the ment.

USE OLD AUTO TIRES TO MAKE NEW SHOES

Saloniki Peasants Use 50,000 Casings a Year.

Washington. — Discarded American automobile tires that once were dispatched to rubber salvaging plants now are being made into shoes for peasants of Saloniki, Greece. It is reported that 50,000 casings are imported annually to meet the demand. Each tire makes three shoes.

"Saloniki is famous as a city of refuge," says a bulletin from the Washington (D. C.) headquarters of the National Geographic society. "That fact accounts for its enormous peasant population to whom the new footwear is a luxury."

"When the Spaniards persecuted the Jews in the Fifteenth century, some of them fled as far east as Saloniki and their descendants now help make up the city's large Jewish population, which numbers nearly that of the Greeks. And in recent years a human deluge of Greeks who were driven out of Turkey swelled the census figures from about 150,000 to more than 200,000."

"The original 'Salonikans' are lost in the shuffle of nationalities represented among the inhabitants," continues the bulletin. "On any busy corner one will see nearly as many different races as sit in a session of the League of Nations. There are Greeks from all parts of the peninsula, Albanians, Italians, Russians, Germans and natives of every Balkan state. Some of their families are among the oldest inhabitants, human remnants of the early occupation of the city when it was a foothold in the hands of empires, including the Macedonians, Saracens, Normans, Romans, Venetians, Bulgarians and Turks."

Rival of Constantinople.

"Even with such a mixture, Saloniki has maintained its prestige as one of the most important ports of southeast Europe. When the Balkan states are at peace and the port is used as an outlet to the sea, it rivals Constantinople."

"The fine buildings which form a solid wall on the land side of the quay, pierced only by streets leading up into the city, give Saloniki a modern appearance. Here and in the commercial district there are shops, coffee houses and a few fine old residences. The westerner at once notices a lack of parks and other open spaces, but a peep through an open door to a courtyard in a narrow side street reveals that most of Saloniki's beauty is hidden behind high walls."

"On the hills beyond new cottages of former refugees indicate that Saloniki has assimilated many of her newcomers from other lands, but thousands of them still live in the squalor of the Saloniki slums."

"In the dirty streets barefoot women plod the rough cobble with loads of wood tied to their backs that one might hesitate packing on a donkey. Smiling, ragged water boys and girls in tatters carry their heavy jugs. Milkmen, too poor to own carts, are weighted down by two five-gallon cans resting upon their backs until their bodies are at right angles with their legs."

Use American Street Cars.

"But with all its squalor and poverty Saloniki can boast of a glorious past. Several cities have been built on the site since it was founded more than 2,000 years ago. The present one is named for Thessalonike, a half sister of Alexander the Great. Cleero lived there for a time; Nero and Trajan decorated the city; it was once the temporary home of three emperors and it became famous in the Christian world as the place to which St. Paul addressed two of his letters."

"Successive fires and pillerings have destroyed historic landmarks. One of its oldest existing antiquities is Varder street, which cuts across the city. It was a part of the old Roman highway from the Adriatic to the Bosphorus, which earlier still was the Royal way of the Macedonia kings. Where the Roman legions, the phalanxes of Alexander and the immortals of Nerves trod its surface, an American street car rumbles, driven by a modern Greek or Spaniard. In its course it runs under an old Roman arch."

"Some of the Saloniki churches survived the fury of the Middle ages and are the finest remains of the past."

"The Greeks have suffered by remaining in Saloniki under foreign regime, but one source of inspiration to them has been the sight of Mount Olympus towering among the hills to the southwest."

Find Way to Unroll Brittle Manuscript

London.—The aid of ultra-modern chemistry has been invoked to salvage another relic of the remote past. An ancient leather roll of Egyptian writing had lain unrolled for 2,000 years in the British museum because it was so brittle that no one dared unroll it. Experiments with a brick on fragments of the leather in the museum's laboratory, however, finally gave scientists a clue as to how to handle the mysterious manuscript.

Several thin coatings of celluloid were soaked into the pores of the leather, after which it was examined with strong celluloid on to a piece of celluloid-treated cellophane. In this way it was unrolled without a break and pressed flat between two glass plates to dry. It remained perfectly flat after drying and can now be read case.

WHY I DON'T BELONG TO OUR LUNCHEON CLUB

Dear Editor;

Will you allow me a small space in your valuable paper to make a few suggestions and at the same time offer some friendly advice to the newly organized Business men's Luncheon Club. I do not belong to this club. Not because I do not like the idea, for I think anything that can be done to put life and "pep" into our business and professional men as well as our farmers, that will "wake them up" to unselfish cooperation with "money on the barrel head" is the only cure for this case of lethargy, complicated with envy, Jealousy and Selfishness. This is a loathsome disease that has been sapping the vitals of O'Donnell for the past several years and is destined to keep spreading if not checked by such efforts as are now being made.

You can "organize," meet, eat and speak until you are black in the face and will do no constructive things until you season your meets, eats and speeches with a liberal supply of the Coin of the Realm that will make our efforts to do real and worth while constructive work.

Now, I will give you my reasons for not joining the Business Men's Luncheon Club. It is old and true saying that if you want to break up an institution get on the inside; but stay out and you will do it no harm, and not having any desire to use the "Hammer" I stayed out.

There is no one that has any greater interest in the nupbuilding and development of O'Donnell and surrounding territory than myself. I have spent my personal means that should have gone into other channels I have given my time, thought and energy that should have been given to my own personal affairs in order to keep up in some way until the Business Men wake up to the fact that a well-organized, well financed Chamber of Commerce is the only way to build and develop the resources of our town and community. Towns do not "happen", they are built by one hundred per cent "He Men" and "She Women" who are not dominated by selfish interests and jealous motives.

Now the next time your Luncheon Club meets revive your Chamber of Commerce and let it sponsor your Luncheon Club and let the same officers get in both capacities. Out of this will develop Kiwanis and Rotary Clubs. By all means have cooperation and these things will be taken care of. Let your officers be men who "know their onions." If you can't find a secretary-manager in your own town—and I daresay you can—but if you can't just communicate with the West Texas Chamber of Commerce at Stamford, Texas. They always have a waiting list of competent and efficient men whom they will recommend for your secretary-manager, but you will have to pay him for he will not work for nothing like your humble servant has been doing. Neither will he contract debts and pay them out of his own pocket because you failed to pay your dues or contributed to the budget. But if you will walk up to the "lick log" and plant down the "jits" you will get so enthused you won't want to say that the Chamber of Commerce is trying to run the town and your business too, but will actually get in the front ranks and publish to the world that we are for each other one hundred per cent and we are going to build that railroad; we are going to help put in water works; we are going to help put in Natural Gas; we are going to help pave the streets; we are going to be more charitable toward our competitors; we are going to put our shoulders to the wheel and do our dead level best to keep the wheels of progress out of the mire.

The writer does not own any property, notes, stocks or bonds, but will always be found going his full length and then some for the upbuilding and advancement of Community Progress.

Yours for a greater O'Donnell and Community,
J. G. McCarroll.

Do Boys or Girls make the best "PAINT SCOUTS?"

We don't know yet, but it won't be long until we find out! The way these wide-awake Cook PAINT SCOUTS are tearing into our contest is a caution! You'd think all of them had made up their minds to be the champion. They're "scouting around" all over town, and out in the country!—to find property that needs painting. Houses, garages, barns, sheds, walls, woodwork, floors, furniture, autos, wagons, implements—you never saw such lists as they're compiling! And every property owner their list gets a FREE Merchandise certificate!

Here are the "Cook PAINT SCOUTS" who thus far have entered our contest:—

It's not too late for your boy or girl to enter—come and see us!

This campaign to make the town more beautiful certainly got under way quick when our alert young boys and girls got behind it! First thing you know they'll have everybody painting up, spic and span—and with Cook's Paints, too! Well, one thing's sure: there's no better paint or varnish or enamel or lacquer on the market than Cook's! We know because we sell it!

When a "Cook PAINT SCOUT" calls on you during this contest, help him win a prize by telling him what property of yours needs painting. He (or she) will give you a Free Merchandise Certificate good at our store when you buy paint. That you help a "good scout" win a prize—and you get something for yourself! How's that for a square proposition all around!

Electricity-- The Power of the Republic

Says WILLIAM ALLEN WHITE

Author and Editor Emporia Gazette

"The democracy that really counts has come as a result of industrial and economic forces by giving men and women better wages, shorter hours and more self-respecting conditions of labor. The worker growing up in these conditions of self-respect, no longer is willing to drudge. Hence the demand for electric power."

Supplying electric light and power to the nation is not merely a business.

It is a public service that forever frees men from the tyranny of excessive burden; that spells the difference between less toil and more comfort; less confinement and more leisure; less poverty and more wealth. It is the measure of human prosperity and happiness. Every time electrical service is extended, every time there is a new labor-saving device introduced in the home or in the factory, labor is made more useful and productive. The individual is released for those pursuits which make for better government and civilization is broadened and strengthened.

The production of electric energy in the United States has doubled every five years since Edison invented the electric bulb. There is now generated in this country more electric power than is produced throughout all the rest of the world. If apportioned among all the workers of the United States, it would give each worker the equivalent of forty helpers.

Such widespread distribution of this vital force has been made possible through the splendid zeal of the electric power companies of this country. It presents unmistakable evidence of the efficiency of the American principle of individual initiative in the development and operation of the electrical facilities of this country. The continuance of this principle is essential to maintain progress.

Better Homes Week Program In Tahoka

We have often heard the saying: "The Home is the heart of the Nation." "A nation is just what the homes that are in are," and other such sayings that most of us believe are true.

Then, if we would have a better Nation we must have better homes. That is we must take more interest and more pride in our homes and try to see that these homes are as comfortable, convenient, attractive and inspiring as we can make them. So, it is fitting at this time that the women of Lynn County, both rural and urban are this year joining the movement for observing National Better Homes Week.

An effort has been made to see that every pastor, every editor, every Luncheon Club, every Chamber of Commerce, Woman's Club of every kind, American Legion, and all other organizations of Lynn County have a part in observing this week in Lynn County.

All details of Better Homes Week in Lynn County have not been completed, but the following facts suggest what is to follow:

O'Donnell, Tahoka, Wilson and perhaps other communities will have "Better Homes" sermons in all their churches, on Sunday, April 28.

In Tahoka Monday will be a day of preparation for the "Better Home" that is to be shown.

Through the liberal cooperation of the Marion G. Bradley Post, American Legion, and all the business men of Tahoka, the Legion Home will be open each day. The hostesses for the week will represent such women's organizations as the following: Phebe K. Warner Club, Young Mothers' Club, Legion Auxiliary, P. T. A. Federated Church Societies, County Federation of Women's Clubs, Home Economics Classes, and all Women's and Girls' Home Demonstration Clubs of the County.

The Legion Home will be open each day from ten o'clock in the morning until six in the afternoon; Thursday night it will be open especially for the business men of Lynn County.

We are planning to have one special feature each afternoon between the hours of three and six. Speakers have been invited from the A. & M. Extension Service, Texas Experiment Station at Lubbock, Texas Technological College, Lubbock, and from the high schools of Tahoka, Wilson and O'Donnell.

The following days have been designated:

Opening Day, April 24: Phebe K. Warner Club of Tahoka. Mrs. Dee Rogers will have charge of this program, and among other things we are promised plenty of good music.

April 25th. Precinct Two Day.

Hostesses from Edith, Midway and Draw-Redwine Clubs will be in charge. District Home Demonstration Agent of A. & M. College Extension Service will discuss "The Livable Living Room" in the afternoon.

April 26 is Precinct Three Day: Hostesses for that day will be from O'Donnell, Slash L, and Tee Bar Clubs. One of the features for this day will be a program by the Club of Tahoka. The speaker for the afternoon will be Mr. D. L. Jones of the State Experiment Station in Lubbock, who will discuss "Yard Improvement."

Thursday night 8:00 to 10:00 Business Men's Evening. Club girls will be hostesses. Every business man in O'Donnell is invited to attend.

April 27 is Precinct Four Day: The New Home and Lakeview Clubs will furnish hostesses for the day. And a splendid program will be provided. The speaker for the afternoon will be Miss Edna House, Home Economics Teacher of O'Donnell and Miss Lois Bleifuss of Tahoka whose subjects will be "Convenient Kitchens" and "Teaching Home Making in the Schools."

April 28 is Precinct One Day: Hostesses from Wilson, Lynn and Gordon will be in charge on that day. The program will be furnished by the Wilson Mother's Club, O'Donnell P. T. A., and by the Better Homes Chairman of the eleven Home Demonstration Clubs. The speaker for the afternoon will be Miss Margaret M. Weeks, director of Home Economics at Tech College, Lubbock, who will discuss "Foods and their Relative Value to the Body."

It costs you nothing to visit Lynn County's "Better Homes" and to hear these programs. Come and urge your friends to come.

Remember that the house will be open from Tuesday to Saturday, the hours being from ten to six each day. Programs from three to six each afternoon.

Business men's evening Thursday, April 26, from eight to ten.

Yours sincerely,
Millie M. Halsey,
County Home Demonstration Agent

SORRELS LUMBER CO. CONTEST DRAWS INT'EST

Property owners in O'Donnell have been given a "quizzing" during the last week by the "Cook Paint Scouts" entered in the unique "Paint Scout Contest" being conducted by Sorrels Lumber Co. in co-operation with the Cook Paint & Varnish Company and this newspaper. Every property owner on whom the Paint Scouts call is given free a merchandise certificate good at the Sorrels Lumber Co.

The idea of the contest is to compile a list or "survey" of all property in O'Donnell and surrounding country which needs painting. Thus, the contest becomes a "Clean Up and Paint Up" campaign for the community, sponsored by the local Cook Paint dealer. A cash prize of $5.00 donated by Cook's and trade prizes of $3.00 and $2.00 are to be given the "Paint Scouts" who compile the largest, neatest and most accurate lists.

The contest has two more weeks to go, and new entries are being received from day to day. If your youngster wants to compete for one of the prizes, have him call at Sorrels Lumber Co. and enroll. He will be given a Paint Scout button, a tablet of report blanks, and a supply of free merchandise certificates.

MRS. EDWARD SINGLETON VICTIM OF ACCIDENT

Several days ago while picnicking with a group of friends and relatives in the canyons south of O'Donnell, Mrs. Edward Singleton in attempting to jump across a two foot ditch failed to make the opposite side and fell with her left limb crushed under her.

With the assistance of her husband and brother, Hal Singleton, Jr., Mrs. Singleton was carried and placed in the car and brought to O'Donnell as quickly as possible.

Dr. Campbell was summoned and upon an examination it was found that there was one break above the instep with three or four fractures in the smaller bones of the foot.

Besides causing considerable suffering at the time of the accident and until the limb was placed and bandaged, Mrs. Singleton is doing nicely and plans to be about on crutches at least at least within a couple of weeks.

Rev. W. K. Horn is sporting a new Chevrolet Sedan this week.

John Koesurek of the Treadway community was in town Saturday attending to business. He reports the loss of a fine Hereford yearling Saturday which died from Black Leg, the first to be reported in this section of the country. His other stock has been vaccinated to prevent the fatal disease from spreading.

McCLUNG HOTEL MAKES MORE IMPROVEMENTS

The McClung Hotel is one business enterprise in our city which never stands still. The business not only increases, but each week there is some improvement upon the premises going on.

Last week it was the addition of a spacious screened in back porch, while the kitchen walls, ceiling, shelves, tables and pantry put on a lovely Easter coat of soft tan colored paint, which, besides rendering a clean, sanitary surface, also sheds a cheerful, cozy atmosphere over the entire rear part of the house.

The McClungs are absolutely progressive people with a progressive spirit and support a business that a town double the size of O'Donnell should be proud to boast.
