Fourth of July Holidays Attracted Local Citizens To Various Celebrations

O'Donnell citizens scattered to four winds Sunday and Monday to celebrate the July 4th holidays.

To the east, the west, north and south the pleasure-seekers sought relief from the heat and arid days of the week.

No accounts were reported in any of those visiting in other places.

Particular honors for the capture of O'Donnell people, Lamesa, Spring and Post offered the best entertainment, with New Mexico holding out lures that took many out of the state. The Stamford Cowboy Reunion, which is held as the super attraction on the 4th, failed to attract but a few from this section. The automobile races at Haskell, however, attracted a number of West Texans who were present when an auto race driver hurtled through the race to his death.

Few thousands of persons took to the Fourth at Lamesa to enjoy the holiday. The business houses closed for the observance.

Some of the most activity was at the Lamesa county courthouse square

Saturday Shoppers Here To Have Treat-Musical Tornadoes Will Play

The Musical Tornadoes of Welch, an organization of musicians who play in all the better towns of West Texas, will make their first appearance in O'Donnell next Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

The Tornadoes will play on a downtown street during the shopping hours as a goodwill mission for O'Donnell business men.

Members of the Welch orchestra are: J. H. Eastham, John Martin, Luther Johnson, Jack Broughton, Lloyd Payne and Al Taylor.

All types of popular music will be played in addition to several "hill-billy" numbers.

The shoppers in O'Donnell Saturday are urged to be present and hear this orchestra which has landed in O'Donnell, Lubbock, Hamden, Snyder, Brownfield, Lubbock and several other towns.

SKETCHES BY W. G. FORGY

The Texas weekly ponders up the origin of a "best man" in a wedding. It says that such a man may have originated in a dinner party when a man wanted a friend at his back. Maybe, it says, it originated when a man stood at his back with a sign in hand.

That puzzled look you see upon certain men's faces is not because of the depression, but because they cannot get their obligations, but because they simply cannot, under no circumstances, get their share of the money. W. Lee O'Donnell is to be in a runoff primary without an account of whether he can impose on McCraw with a hand.

19 Violent Deaths Reported Over Texas On Fourth

Ten Die In Traffic Accidents and 35 Are Injured

Tragedy paid its usual visit to a celebrating Texas over the Fourth of July weekend, but Beaumont, one of the nation's safest cities, kept its record unblemished.

Nineteen died violent deaths; scores were injured along the width and breadth of Texas. Beaumont sympathized, but yawned, as police reported four minor automobile accidents with total damage of $50. There were no deaths or injuries from violence.

Beaumont, in 1937, was adjudged one of the two safest cities in the nation.

Ten Die In Traffic:

Traffic accidents claimed ten lives and accounted for at least 35 injured; four were shot to death and four wounded in shooting; four were drowned; one died in a construction mishap. Others were wounded, some by fireworks.

STATE POLICE PLEASED NUMBER OF DEATHS BELOW EXPECTATIONS

AUSTIN—State police officials noted with pleasure today holiday weekend deaths on Texas highways fell eight short of their pre-holiday prediction based on reports to the public safety department that showed eight persons feared might be victims of speed, recklessness and carelessness.

There were only two reported drownings compared with an estimated three.

Last year 12 persons died in roadway mishaps and the year before that 22 succumbed.

Nine persons actually died as the result of crashes this year but one occurred on a race track and was not classified as a traffic fatality.

Homer Garrison, assistant public safety director, attributed the reduction over past years to a supply of new drivers which he said probably resulted in part from widespread publicity given pleas by the department and local authorities for safer driving.

NO DEATHS ARE REPORTED IN AREA; POLICE EXPRESS THANKS

No deaths as a result of holiday accidents on the South Plains have been reported here this morning and an expression of thanks for cooperation of area residents in connection with traffic laws was expressed this morning by Capt. W. E. Hugg, chief of the Texas Highway patrol.

It Can Be Done!— Taxes Taken Off Many Articles!

Federal taxes were removed from a dozen items such as paste and matches, but the levy was increased on liquor.

The items relieved of "nuisance taxes" beginning last midnight are:

Tooth paste, soaps and other toilet articles, 5 per cent; fur, 3 per cent; phonograph records, 6 per cent; sporting goods, 10 per cent; cameras and lenses, 10 per cent; chewing gum, 2 per cent; matches, 2 cents per thousand on plain wooden matches and one-half cent per thousand on paper matches.

The tax on newly manufactured liquor was increased from $2 to $2.20 a gallon.

Texas Farmers To Get $25,863,000

Sum Due Through Payment of Parity; Pay Day "Far Off"

Texas farmers will get around $25,863,000 out of the $12,000,000 for parity payments provided by Congress in the recent bill. Payment is so far off the Department of Agriculture refuses to make even an estimate of what any State will get but the Texas share on a proportionate basis.

Parity payments are to be made on this year's harvest of cotton, wheat, corn, rice and tobacco and no farmer will get his share until he has produced that in 1939 acreage does not exceed his allotment in the 1939 program.

Cotton In Bloom Displayed By O'Donnell Farmer

F. M. Page, prominent O'Donnell farmer residing about 15 miles northwest was in the Press office Tuesday and displayed samples of cotton being grown on his place.

The cotton was in bloom, ranging from the 1938 crop, and the stalk measured about 18 inches long.

Leave For Extended Vacation In Colorado

Mr. and Mrs. B. J. Boyd departed the first of the week for an extended vacation trip into Colorado and other mountain states.

Just before leaving, Mr. Boyd stated that he was "heading the car mountainward" and actually took the first of the week to Colorado and other mountain states.

J. H. B. KYLE

Mr. J. H. B. Kyle was born Dec. 6, 1861 at Grapeland, Houston county, Texas. He was married to Miss Eugenia Cobb in the year of 1890. Five children were born to this union, as follows: Mrs. Kittie Gore, Grandview, Texas; Mrs. Allie Helm, Portales, N. M.; Geo. Kyle, Rogers, N. M.; Two of the children died in infancy. Bro. Kyle was saddened by the loss of his wife who died in 1928 when he was 66 years of age.

Funeral Rites For Father O'Donnell Man Held Sunday

Funeral services for Geo. Robinson, 79, father of L. E. Robinson of this city, were held Sunday afternoon at Ponder. The aged man suffered a paralytic stroke early last week, dying Saturday.

Mrs. Robinson, Mrs. Robinson, Mrs. McClary and daughter and Mr. and Mrs. Guy Bradley and son, Fred, were present for the funeral rites. Mr. and Mrs. Robinson returned Wednesday.

Hard-hitting Candidate For Governor First For Office To Visit O'Donnell This Year

C. H. Doak Well In Gains 'Shows'

New Well Holds The Spotlight For Oil Men of State

Eastern Gaines county today was the center of interest for oil men of the North Plains basin as the J. T. Perrman No. 1 Charles H. Doak in the Codal Lake section, after recovering cores heavily saturated with oil from 1,200 to 3,000 feet, was being pumped into the Wasco and Denver pools.

Reports here this morning were to the effect that the saturation was even better than in the Wasco and Denver pools.

Great excitement prevailed here the test in the northeastern part of the county, in what has been for months considered one of the "hot spots" of the basin. It is in the northeast corner of section 43, block H. D. & 48 and 49. Solid lime was topped at 4,580 feet.

Tom H. Hunter Candidate For Governor

Tom H. Hunter, of Wichita Falls, candidate for governor, will speak in O'Donnell Friday.

The speaking, his other addresses of the day at Lamesa and Thacka, will be scheduled, and will probably be for no elaborate introductions as Hunter carries his own address system and plunges forth into his campaigning immediately after reaching town.

His candidate for governor has favored O'Donnell with a visit so far in the present campaign, and Hunter's recognition of this city as a part of his extensive West Texas swing should attract a crowd.

E. I. Hill Sustains Broken Leg; Rushed To Hospital

When struck by an automobile in Thacka Wednesday E. I. Hill, 63, editor and publisher of the O'Donnell County News, sustained a broken leg and was rushed in an ambulance to Lubbock sanitarium.

He was considered in satisfactory condition shortly after noon. The injury was described as a comminuted fracture of the fibula, just below the knee.

Hill has been editor of the Lynn County News more than 14 years. Mrs. Hill, WPA housekeeper and superior sister of Mark and John Halsey of Lubbock, followed the ambulance to Lubbock with Mrs. R. E. Forster.

Scores Die in Worst Rail Wreck in Years

In the nation's worst railroad tragedy in years, approximately 40 passengers were killed when the Milwaukee road's crack "Olympian" train plunged into the flood waters of Custer creek near Miles City, Mont. A midnight "flash flood" carried away the trestle spanning the creek and the train plunged into the raging waters. These two coaches bore many of the passengers who lost their lives.

  - ★ Ginger's Ma's Career
- By Virginia Vale

TIMES certainly has changed. Miss Vera Drake of Lynchburg, Va., was May Queen at Randolph-Macon college, and as a result pictures of her appeared in the news reels.

Whereupon Metro offered her a screen test, and possibly a contract. But she wasn't at all sure she'd accept; said that she was particularly interested in a music career.

At Universal they're sort of on a limb. When they sold the "Madame Curie" story rights to Metro, they made a deal with

ROBERT MONTGOMERY gave them the services of Robert Montgomery, James Stewart and Robert Young, when they had right stories for these three men. And time passes, and they don't seem to have yet found right stories.

Maybe you think it's summer in the football season is already under way in Hollywood. Paramount is filming its yearly football picture "Touchdown, Army," with practically the same cast that last year did "Hold 'Em, Navy." That's one college year that is being going forever at that rate.

Paulette Goddard is taking her career seriously at the moment. She plans to go to the Cape Playhouse on Cape Cod, in time to appear in "French Without Tears," and she said that Charlie Chaplin will costar her. And of course, if the picture should be a great success, she'll be done in New York, with her usual cast, she wouldn't be at all annoyed.

Virginia Payne, the star of the popular radio serial, "Ma Perkins" has all plans made for her vacation. She wants to go to Alaska and she wants Mrs. Patia Power, Power's mother, to go with her. Mrs. Power has agreed to go. The only difficulty is that Miss Payne, who is elaborately making plans, may have to stay home. She's not to use those lucky radio stars who write their own material, and can't write themselves out of a show for a few weeks when they want to go away.

Ginger Rogers' mother stepped out. She was a newspaper woman way back in the Texas days when Ginger was just a youngster who did the Charleston awfully well. She has always stood behind her talented daughter, helping her along and encouraging her. Now, she feels that it's time for her to make a life for herself. Mrs. Lila Rogers need her now, she says. So she packed up and went to New York with a play, "Funny Man," which needed a producer. She also thought that wasn't generally known, was on a hunt for new talent for the screen.

There are a lot of radio stars who believe that it's the second first one that brings success. Jack Benny began as a violinist. Burns and Allen were tap dancers. Lum and Abner were blacked comedians before they adopted the characters of rural storekeepers. Phil Baker was a musician, and Fred Allen was a juggler way back in the beginning.

ODDS AND ENDS—Jean Arlin has been shopping for a collar for a cut, and then having to explain to the salespeople that she really wants a baby lynx—the "Felix Bill" Hilditch company brought the lynx back from Utah, and Jean wants to keep it. LOUIS ARMSTRONG spent the spare time in the studio designing a truck compass. AND JAMES STONER has a 14-man music career, with what he's been snapping everybody in. CAN'T TAKE IT WITH YOU... ## Miss Ruth Roberts Becomes Bride of Mr. D. O. Huddleston At Lamesa

Miss Ruth Roberts, well known and popular member of the younger set of O'Donnell, became the bride of Mr. L. O. Huddleston Sunday, July 3.

The couple were quietly married in Lamesa by the Rev. E. T. Willis, pastor of the First M. E. church, in the minister's home.

Miss Roberts was attractively attired in a brown and natural ensemble with natural accessories.

Mrs. Huddleston has been a resident of this city since her early childhood. She is a graduate of the 1922 class of O'Donnell High School and has also attended Texas Tech. For two years she has been bookkeeper for the Ellis Chevrolet Co. and recently of the Ford Motor Co. At the time of her marriage she was attending Draughans Business College in Lubbock.

Mr. Huddleston has lived in O'Donnell for the last two years, coming here from Abilene where he has lived all his life. He attended Hardin Simmons U. one year. He has been engaged in farming since coming here.

Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Tredway who accompanied the couple to Lamesa and Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Butt were present for the wedding. Mrs. Butt is Mrs. Huddleston's only sister.

The young couple will make their home on the Huddleston farm four miles west of O'Donnell.

ADVENTURES FROM THE LIVES OF PEOPLE LIKE YOURSELF!

"Vanishing Corpses"
By FLOYD GIBBONS
Famous Headline Hunter

ELLO EVERYBODY:
You know, boys and girls, I've often noticed, in these share stories, how in a good many cases, one mishap leads to another. That's probably because the first thing goes wrong so upsels the fellow it happens to, that he just loses his head and plunges right smack into danger.

When a man loses his head in the face of danger, some time it has produced a lot of red-hot double-barreled adventures, and the story I'm going to tell you today is no good example.

More of Chicago is today's distinguished adventurer. The yearn days had happened to him and two other lads, in Sep- 1923.

At that time Paul was just a kid of twelve, living in Grand Rapids, Mich. Paul had been given a .22 caliber rifle for his birthday, and one Saturday he and his two friends, Art and Archie Eastman, started out on a hunting trip.

Art and Archie had air rifles. Paul had no cartridges for his .22, but he knew where he could get some. They started out early, taking their lunches with them, and after walking a couple hours, came to a clearing of woods four miles from the outskirts of town.

Art Pounded the Cartridge.
There didn't seem to be any game in sight, so they sat down on the edge of a small creek to eat their lunches. Paul had put down his gun and was just starting to untie the package that contained his grub when he saw a squirrel scurry across the other side of the creek.

"Let's have your gun," whispered Art. "I can't get it with mine." Paul passed over his rifle. Art had the cartridges in his own pocket, and he took out and tried to put it in the chamber. It wouldn't fit.

Young Art didn't know that the cartridges he had brought from home were live wire. He thought this one wouldn't go into the chamber.

Archie Pitched Forward on His Face.
because the gun was new. He tried to force it in with his fingers, in his haste to get a shot at the bird before it flew away, he used a stone that happened to be lying at his feet.

Art hit the bullet two or three times with that stone. And suddenly, there was a loud crack. The bullet exploded. Art was shouting, "I'm shot!" Then he fell to the ground and lay still.

Archie Stepped on Third Rail.
The next thing Paul knew, Archie was stepping on that rail. He fell on it for an instant. Then he pitched forward on his face. And he lay still.

Both Bodies Had Disappeared.
The next thing Paul knew, Archie was stepping on that rail. He fell on it for an instant. Then he pitched forward on his face. And he lay still.

FARM TOPICS

SHOULD CHECK ON GROWTH OF CHICKS
Flocks May Be Developing Too Slow, Too Fast.

By Dr. W. C. Thompson, Poultry Husbandman, Texas A. & M. University
It is a part of good business management for the poultry producer to know whether his chick flocks are growing at about the rate which should be expected of average, well bred, healthy chicks.

This does not mean that it is necessary for the poultryman to weigh all of the chicks every week or two. He may obtain a good average by weighing any ten chicks caught at random at each weighing time. Average White Leghorn pullet chicks should weigh 39 pounds per 100 at the end of the first month; 63 pounds at the end of the sixth week; 109 pounds at the end of the eighth week; 171 at the end of 10 weeks; 247 at the end of 12 weeks, and about 338 pounds per 100 pullets at the end of 24 weeks.

These weight standards can be copied on a card and nailed on the feed room door or kept in another convenient place for comparison with average weights of this year's pullet flocks determined from time to time. One need not worry if pullet flocks are running at just above or below the standards, or somewhat heavier, but if they are running at considerably under these standards, inquiry should be made as to the probable cause. Experience teaches that unless pullets develop at approximately these rates, they cannot reasonably be expected to reach their normal weight at the normal time and be in condition to continue through a long year of normal egg laying.

Next year's pullet layers are in the making in this spring's chick flocks, and this summer's growing pullets. It is important that the eagle eye on their rate of growth and make sure that it does not depart too far from normal expectancy.

Many Soybean Varieties Needed for Varied Uses
Breeding to improve the soybean is only beginning, but the chances are bright, says W. J. Morse of the United States Department of Agriculture. New varieties are needed, even though the department and the states have already imported more than 10,000 tons of seeds.

Soybeans are particular in their local requirements, are more variable than many plants, and are grown in a variety of soil and climate. A good forage bean may not be a good milling bean, or be useful as a soil conditioner.

Some growers want soybeans for forage; others for oil and meal processing, still others as vegetable and a variety of other uses. In the soybean regions people have even two or three varieties—one for forage, one for high oil or protein content for the mills, and a third for oil and meal.

The soybean is a self-fertilized plant. Artificial crossing is difficult and tedious, but it can be done.

In the Feed Lot
Train beans to a pole or a fence for maximum yield.

There are 19 million acres of land under irrigation in the West. Hens of all ages should be carefully culled until September 1.

Chickens take dust baths to rid themselves of bird-lice. A correctly adjusted plow does better work, saves time and pulls easier.

Eggs are an important source of iron. Eggs at room temperature heat more quickly and to a greater volume than do eggs beaten when taken from the refrigerator.

New Fabrics of Sheer Loveliness

By CHERIE NICHOLAS

A FAVORITE theme this summer is the sheer loveliness of diaphanous, airy-fairy transparent fabrics, either cotton or silk. The new sheers are simply enchanting and they are the sought-for kind to make up into gowns for picturesque garden party wear or for dancing under star-spangled skies or when dining at fashionable roof-garden gatherings where beauty and romance keep rendezvous.

Gowns designed to grace summer scenes are fashioned of wispy chiffons either printed or monochrome, or of organdies crisp, sheer and intriguing, or of dainty silk marquisette which is an especial favorite. Then there is the soft fine cotton voile in pretty colors and as for lace every summer wardrobe is expected to include at least one party frock made of it.

As a matter of fact, the pattern of lace is playing a stellar role this summer. The lace that captures the heart of enthusiasts is a delicate-as-cobweb type the patterning of which is a mere tracery. The crinkled organdies either plain or printed sell at sight. They make up charmingly and are easily tubbed, require little or no pressing to keep them crisp and sprightly as new. For week-end trips they are ideal as they do not crush in packing.

You will be delighted with the new lace-printed Swiss chiffon organdies. The entrancing frock centered with outspread skirt in the foreground gives an idea of how effectively the lace-trippe organdie makes up.

The material that fashions the frock to the left is peach silk mousseline. It is prettily styled with vertical ruche-ruffling of self-fabric outlining the skirt gored, the puffed bodice is finished with little ruffles of val lace laid on over the lace print.

Hyacinth blue lace with touches of cerise lace is used for the graceful gown centered in the picture. It was introduced at the Miami fashion show and is one of those pleasing types that carry on into new triumphs for summer party wear. One of its charms is that the lace indicates stripes and striped effects "in the mode."

The printed chiffon frock to the left gives a delightful interpretation of the slim silhouette for summer. The patterning is spaced tulips in blue, red, green and black on a sheer white background. The gathered bodice suggests the Directorate. Contrasting shades of green and blue silk make the girle and sash which forms a train. Flower branches are worn with it and an enormous poppy on the head instead of a hat, which goes to show the intriguing and unique ways flowers now play their important roles in costume embellishing.

Western Newspaper Union.

HANDSOME SUIT
By CHERIE NICHOLAS
One handsome suit like the model pictured, in your wardrobe and your problem is solved as to looking smartly attired for any occasion. Contrast stitching is a swank accent to the interesting detail of this well-tailored town and country suit in fine lightweight wool shawl-lap. Note the scalloped pockets that repeat the decorative stitching throughout the seams in the skirt.

Paquin Favorite
A favorite Paquin model for evening is the long skirt of bias cut topped by a marquisette blouse—the entire thing in white, black or pale rose.

Tailored Dinner Dress
The tailored dinner or evening dress remains a heavy favorite.

White Hope Era Forecast With Louis Victory

By GEORGE A. BARCLAY

OLD-TIMERS who saw Joe Louis polish off Max Schmeling in two minutes and fifteen seconds in their most championship fight in New York are predicting that another open season for White Hopes ahead—a season reminiscent of the almost forgotten days of a generation ago when Carl Morris, Jim Flynn, Luther McCarthy, Frank Moran and Jess Willard were crowding their way up for a chance at the heavyweight belt which ducky Jack Johnson had won from Jim Jeffries.

But it's going to take a mighty good man to give Joe any competition, on the basis of his sensational knockout of the crafty Schmeling. From all appearances he is going to be the top man heavyweight for a number of years to come. There was considerable doubt about that before the fight, particularly in view of his knockout in 1936 by Schmeling and his indifferent showing a while back against the mediocre Tommy Farr.

Joe showed he was a great champion, though, and finally made good the predictions made about his fighting genius two years ago when he was knocking all contenders out and before he met Schmeling the first time.

Schmeling wasn't in Louis' fight this time. It was a massacre from the start. Louis smothered the puzzled German with fists and had him on the canvas almost as soon as the fight started. He clubbed him down twice more before the fight was stopped. The kidney punch which Max said disabled him and which Schmeling said he had a spinal treatment afterward for a broken vertebra was delivered after Louis had rocked Max with blows to the head.

$200,000 a Minute

Louis had the distinction of being the only champion in history to knock out an opponent before the first round was over. He also set a new world's record for earnings. His share of the gate was $400,000.

Joe Louis is the fifteenth holder of the heavyweight championship under Marquies of Queensberry rules since the late 1800s.

The only other colored fighter to gain the title was Jack Johnson. Fred Fulton, who once held the title, was a former champion of the American League.

Babe Manager?

WHEN the canny Larry McPhail, business manager of the Brooklyn Dodgers, signed Babe Ruth as coach recently, he not only added thousands of dollars a year to the pulling power of the owners at the turnstiles, but he aroused one speculation that intrigues sports fans everywhere. Will the Babe be Brooklyn's next manager?

From all indications the popularity of Manager Burleigh Grimes is waning rapidly, not only with the fans but with the management. While the announcement of Ruth's appointment as coach braked at sudden news, those on the inside say negotiations have been under way for weeks and that it was Ruth himself who urged the management on the idea of signing him.

There isn't much chance of a switch until the season is over, if it does occur then. The Babe has been away from the game long enough to be just a bit rusty. Moreover, he will have to acquaint himself with the strength and weaknesses of National league teams and players. But by next year, the insiders say, he will be ready.

What kind of a manager would Ruth make? Baseball men are unanimous on the subject of his ability. They say he has baseball sense and that he would be born with it. One authority declares there never was an outfielder in the majors who made fewer mistakes than the Babe. This indicates that he is serious as well as a player in making decisions, the results of which will win or lose ball games.

Why Ruth hasn't been named a manager's job up to now, Colonel Ruppert, owner of the New York Yankees, gave the Babe serious consideration for the job, but decided otherwise because he believed the home-run king was too happy-go-lucky.
