For four weeks Americans had picked up their morning newspapers and read about the Communist advances in Korea. Now, as the fifth week of the conflict began, the Reds continued to make advances, but not with the ease of the early weeks of the invasion.

The military picture in Korea was not bright by any means, but at the same time, it was not so hopeless as it seemed a few days ago

Communists had advanced into Yongdong, about 20 miles south of fallen Taejon, on the central front. Along the western coast, the Commies advanced south to Mokpo on the southern tip of Korea. On the northern front that touches the east coast. Yongdok, captured by American forces, was retaken by Red troops.

North Korean troops had captured two-thirds of South Korea and were continuing steady pressure upon American and South Korean troops The line was slowly being pushed back toward the main American supply port of Pusan.

According to U. S. military experts, however, the picture had its brighter side. They pointed to the number of reinforcements that have reached Korea, the telling blows of the U.S. air force on supply lines and tanks, and the success of the new 31/2-inch bazooka against Red tanks.

Gen. Douglas MacArthur, commander of United Nations forces in Korea, made the statement that the Communists have lost their chance for victory.

A new view of the conflict has been taken by the Pentagon. At said: first the Korean affair was looked upon as a minor fight which this country could take care of in six months. This estimate has been revised sharply upward.

There is no lack of optimism over the eventual result, but there is a clearly defined desire to discourage any thought of a swift victory. In fact, some military authorities report it may be next spring before an offensive can be launched and as many as 200,000 men may be used in it.

A general summary of the situation would seem to indicate the picture has many unpleasant features, but is not entirely hopeless.

LIVING COSTS: Continue to Climb

To the average American, the man who has a definite income within which he must live, a new and serious worry has appeared.

Gen. Dwight Eisenhower, president of Columbia university and a national defense consultant of President Truman, wears a quizzical expression as he is interviewed by newsmen. He does not see today's Korean fighting as necessarily the start of World War III, but insisted "we've got to win." He added,

"If our forces in Korea are defeated the entire world will be thrown into another great war."

TRUMAN: Report to Congress

President Truman in his message to congress on the Korean situation called for $10,000,000,000 down payment on a vast mobilization drive to win the war and combat any Red aggression elsewhere in the world. He left no doubt in the minds of Americans, and the world in general, about the situation when he

"The free world has made it clear, through the United Nations, that lawless aggression will be met with force. This is the significance whose importance cannot be overlooked

"I shall not attempt to predict the course of events. But I am sure that those who have it in their power to unleash or withhold acts of armed aggression must realize that new recourse to aggression in the world today might well strain to the breaking point the fabric of world peace.

"We will not flinch in the face of danger or difficulty." He recommended anti-inflation controls, a swift stepping up of war production, additional huge sums to arm non-Communist nations and a sharp boost in taxes.

He authorized the calling of re servists and guardsmen, along with free use of the draft law to build up fighting units. Secretary of Defense Johnson was authorized to call units

GOOD CITIZEN Power to Declare War Invested In Congress of United States

This is the sixth of a series of 10 articles from the booklet "Good Citi-ren" published by the American Her-itage Foundation concerning the rights and duties of an American.

THE FIFTH promise of a good citizen: I will work for peace but will dutifully accept my responsibilities in time of war and will respect the Flag.

Probably the greatest of all powers is the power to declare war. In America this power is not given to any one man. It is not given our gen

States. We have given the congress also the power, in time of war, to abridge some of our liberties for the common good.

The most fervent hope of every American heart is that the differences between nations may be settled without war.

Only a burning wrong can force us into another war.

Only a burning devotion to the principles of free government and to national unity and strength on the part of all the people can insure our victory over the forces of tyranny, if it is our destiny again to engage them.

In 1776 we won freedom; in 1812 we held freedom; in 1861 we preserved the union; in 1898 we strengthened freedom; in 1917 our freedom was threatened and saved: in 1941 again our freedom was attacked and saved.

THE OPENING words of The Crisis, written by Thomas Paine at the lowest tide of America's hope, December, 1776, perhaps of all that has been written expresses the true feeling of the sixth promise of a good citizen.

They say it was written upon a drumhead by the campfires of Washington's defeated and retreating army. By order of General Washington it was hastily printed in Philadelphia, rushed to the front and read aloud to the troops on Christmas night before the crossing of the Delaware and the attack on Trenton, which was the turning point of the Revolutionary War. It reads:

"These are the times that try men's souls. The summer soldier and the sunshine patriot will, in this crisis, shrink from the service of his country; but he that stands it now, deserves the love and thanks of man and woman. Tyranny, like hell, is not easily conquered; yet we have this consolation with us, that the harder the conflict, the more glorious the triumph. What we obtain too cheap, we esteem too lightly: 'tis dearness only that gives every thing its value. Heaven knows how to put a proper price tion its goods; and it would be stronge indeed, if so celestial an article es freedom should not be highly rated."

AS STATED at the beginning, the right to declare war is invested in the congress of the United States by Article 1, Section 8 of the Constitution The congress shall have the power: To declare war . .

To raise and support armies . . To provide and maintain navy

To make rules for the government and regulation of the land and naval forces;

Prices have continued to climb since the beginning of the Korean war, not as fast as the first days after the opening of the conflict, but a steady upward spiral that is beginning to cause hardship for those with low incomes.

The creeping advance widened out through the list of goods, clothing and food. Only a few items essential to America's standard of living remained at the level of the first frightening days of the Korean conflict.

The experts believe the American people are bringing the increases upon themselves. Consumers still crowded into stores to stock up on goods they remembered as scarce the last war. Department store sales soared 24 percent above the same period of last year. The greatest gain was 39 percent in Dallas, Texas.

Sugar, coffee, cocoa, flour, lard and eggs were reported higher throughout the country. The price of meat climbed rapidly in some localities, although wholesale prices were reported to have fallen since the opening of the Korean conflict.

Observers pointed out that by hoarding. Americans are creating a demand. In turn retailers are takincreasing prices for quick profit.

It was the old story of quick profit and greed and the selfishness of a minor group of individuals causing hardship on the public generally.

As compared to prices a week before the conflict began, tin was up 15 cents a pound, wheat up 181/2 cents a bushel, rubber up 111/2 cents a pound, eggs up 8 cents a dozen, lard up 41/2 cents a pound, and hogs up $4 a hundredweight.

This trend, if continued, can mean price controls will become necessary. It may mean, also, rationing of food, clothing and vital industrial materials.

SECURITY: Call F. B. I.

President Truman's statement asking all law-enforcement officers and amateur detectives to channel suspicious information regarding espionage, sabotage, and subversive activities to the F.B.I. had caused many Americans to wonder what is in store for the U.S.

The statement presumably was prompted by the Korean war. Truman stressed that all such inquiries "must be conducted in a comprehensive manner on a national basis. ing advantage of the demand and and all information carefully sifted out and correlated in order to avoid confusion.'

Truman made no mention of Communists in his statement. Anyone with information should report in person to the nearest F.B.I. office, located in each of the nation's 51 major cities, or ask the telephone operator to connect them to the nearest office, an F.B.I. spokesman reported.

The spokesman emphasized the informant's identity would be kept confidential and he would not normally be brought face to face with the accused. He said anonymous letters are not welcome.

"Listen, honey, you've got to be more careful. Money is pretty important to us right now." "I'm sorry," said Leah, "but it's only a dollar."

"We can't afford to lose a dollar or even a part of a dollar," Tony said, smiling.

The next time-the time Tony disovered three dollars on the kitchen table and one on the floor where it had blown-he didn't smile. "Good gosh, woman! Show a little a bit smugly. "Because," said Leah, just as smugly, "I can account for every dime you've ever given me." "Ha!" said Tony. "Let's see you!" So Leah got a pencil and paper-and sat down and figured out her expenditures, to the last penny.

'Well," said Tony, "that doesn't mean you won't lose some if you continue to be careless. After it's gone-well, you've heard the crack about locking the barn door after the horse has been stolen." "I've heard," said Leah icily, "a lot of cracks."

SUDDENLY it occurred to Tony that this was their first major crisis. Somehow he'd have to break Leah of her habit without a quarrel.

It was the next Saturday noon when he came home from work that Tony discovered three ones and a two-dollar bill on the bureau where it had been absently dropped by Leah while she rescued the roast from burning. Furtively Tony scooped up the money and stuck it in his pants pocket. Sooner or later Leah would discover it was missing. She'd become concerned. She'd ask him to help hunt. He'd make a pretense of hunting and then pretend to find the money where it had blown into the bathroom

That afternoon Tony went playing golf. All the while he was gone, while he was in the locker room and on the course and later in the showers, he kept thinking of Leah hunting for the missing money.

He came home an hour earlier than he had planned. The moment he saw Leah's face he knew she had discovered the loss.

"Darling, I laid some money on the bureau. Have you seen it?" "It must have blown off." said Tony. "Boy, I hope we can find it." His face wore a look of grave con-"We cern as he began hunting. "We can't afford to lose a cent," he kept saying. Tony waited until Leah looked as though she were on the point of bursting into tears, remembering she had been saving for a new hat and knowing she couldn't have it unless they found the money. Then he ambled into the bathroom, and, chuckling to himself, reached into his pocket.

A startled look came to his face. He reached into his other pockets. They were all empty.

GI's Take Beating As the Korean battle went into the fourth week it became apparent to every American that U.S. troops were taking a beating.

They were outnumbered; tanks were inferior and too few; guns and bazookas could not pierce the 12-inch armor of the Russian made tanks. They were pinned to foxholes by tanks, artillery and mortars; overwhelmed by massed infantry, sniped at from the sides and rear by infiltrating columns.

Taejon, provisional capital of South Korea, was abandoned after the Kum river line was broken by thousands of fanatical Communists who charged American positions without regard to casualties. They overran first aid stations, killing patients and chaplains, and for every one the Americans killed, ten took his place.

American forces began a slow withdrawal which appeared would halt some 35 miles southeast of Taejon where a range of hills offered a natural defense position. Whether or not they held this position would depend upon reinforcements and the continued flow of guns, tanks, and ammunition.

No matter how optimistic a view an observer was inclined to take, the situation appeared serious. As has often been the case in the past. Americans greatly underrated North Korea's military strength and fighting determination. Facts of the situation indicated:

North Korea had 10 to 15 divisions -100,000 to 250,000 men, with replacements handy from the armies of Communist China when needed. At least 200 tanks, with replacements also available from Russia, and almost unlimited supplies behind the lines in Siberia and in Manchuria.

United States would need eight full divisions, perhaps 250,000 men. The inadequate supply of tanks and heavy artillery in the Pacific would have to be remedied.

The one bright spot in the picture was the work of the U.S. air force which had knocked out tanks, bombed and strafed troop concentrations and supply lines, and driven the North Korean planes from the air.

But military observers pointed out that air power will greatly increase the chances of victory, but the Korean war, as has been the case in all wars, will be won by the soldier who fights through mud

GOOD CITIZEN Taxes You Kick About Paying Finance Your Conveniences

This is the fifth of a series of ten articles from the booklet "Good Citi-sen" published by The American Heritage Foundation concerning the rights and dutics of an American.

THE FOURTH promise of a good citizen: I will pay my taxes understandingly (if not cheerfully). Yes, it's human nature to squirm when the government (even though it's your government) strikes at rocketbook nerve through your taxation But it's also human nature to demand the conveniences, improvements and protection that you want for your famand commander of the Eighth Army, has been named to the top command post in Korea. Walker gained fame as commander of the 20th corps in Patton's Third Army.

MOBILIZATION: Is It Near?

Many observers are wondering if complete mobilization of this country's manpower and industrial strength is in prospect for the near future? Some believe it is, unless the world situation takes a sudden and unexpected turn for the better. Within a matter of hours after this writing, President Truman was expected to go before congress and outline for the American people steps deemed urgent to cope with the Korean war. He was also scheduled to speak over a nation-wide radio hookup and tell Americans just where we stand.

One official predicted the President would:

1. Request new military funds or contract authorizations totaling $5,000,000,000 to $6,000,000,000.

2. Propose legislation authorizing 160,000 more men for the army above the present legal limit of 837,000 and 60,000 more for the Navy, which now cannot exceed 666,882. An increase may also be ordered for the 502,000-man air force.

HOME FRONT: Controls Likely

Observers on the home front are predicting limited controls to back up an intensified military campaign in Korea.

At this writing the controls had not been asked for, but observers pointed out that anti-inflationary action was becoming more urgent with each day. They predicted President Truman would ask for them within a very short time. A request for higher taxes, to cover an expected jump in mili-tary spending, was held to be inevitable.

"In this world." wrote Benjamin Franklin, "nothing is certain but death and taxes." But isn't our What paves method of taxation with representation an improvement over the confiscatory system of the dictator who sees what you have and takes as much as he wants? Taxes are levied by four levels of government - federal, state, county and municipal. To become law, a tax must be voted upon and passed by the elected representatives of the people. There are three general tax classifications:

A HIDDEN TAX-A hidden tax is one which is not apparent to the eye, and is usually part of anything you buy. For example, the price of a loaf of bread includes all the taxes which have geen imposed from the time it is raw wheat until it reaches you.

A DIRECT TAX-A direct tax is one directly paid by the person on whom the ultimate tax burden falls. In other words, there is no middle man between you and the government. Examples are proper-ty, income, and inheritance taxes.

tax is one which is paid by someone other than the person who will finally pay it. In other words, it is a tax which is passed on to someone else. The manufacturer of an imported product pays the customs duty, an indirect tax because he will pass this on to the consumer by increasing the price of the product.

the tax court of the United States. Tax commissions are state fiscal bodies, consisting usually of three appointive or elective members, which supervises local tax officials. assesses public utility and other property, collects most taxes not collected locally.

McCARTHY:

Called a Liar

Senator Joseph McCarthy, who has had more front-page publicity in the American press than any one man in a number of years, has made the front pages again, but not to his liking.

The senator, still screaming charges of communism in the state department, was called a liar by three Democratic members of a senate investigating subcommittee.

Reporting their conclusions from a four-month inquiry, they attacked the Wisconsin Republican in terms of harshness rarely used in the senate's history. They accused him of conscious falsehood and of serving the interests of the Communists by raising baseless suspicion among the people of the country.

They cleared every person Mc-Carthy accused of being a Communist.

The Republican members of the subcommittee, Senators Hickenlooper and Lodge, declined to sign the report.

The Democrat members termed McCarthy's charges "a fraud and a hoax perpetrated on the senate of the United States and the American people."

Their report said, in part:

"They (McCarthy's charges) represent perhaps the most nefarious campaign of half truths and untruth in the history of this republic. For the first time in our history we have seen the totalitarian technique of the big lie employed on a sustained basis

"The result has been to confuse and divide the American people, at a time when they should be strong in their unity, to a degree far beyond the hopes of the Communists themselves, whose stock in trade is confusion and division.'

SOVIET UNION:

An Olive Branch

Although no official announcement has been made, it is believed in many quarters the Seviet Union has offered terms for settling the Korean war. It is a bloody and wilted branch the Russians are holding out to the United Nations.

After the sugar coating of diplomatic language is penetrated, it seems Russia would be willing to call off the affair after China is seated in the United Nations.

Government officials were predicting privately that President Truman would ask congress:

1. Power to allocate-by voluntary means, or more drastic measures if necessary-steel and a few other basic metals.

2. Authority to put quantity ceilings on the production of automobiles, television and radio sets and other civilian products consuming large quantities of metal, so that the demands of these industries will not interfere with arms production or create a "gray market" in prićes. 3. Restoration of consumer credit controls. By tightening up on easypayment credit for automobiles and other consumer goods, it is hoped that some of boom-level buying demand may be removed from the market.

LABOR: Mobilization Urged

At least one labor leader, William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, has demanded all-out preparedness for any eventuality, including mobilization of labor. "We find ourselves facing a situation with the implication of a third world war . . . If war is localized now, we know it is only a question of time until the inevitable happens. Only adequate preparedness can safeguard us," Green said. He added: "We cannot send our soldier to the fighting front without training equipment and regu-We must prolar supplies . . . vide quick transportation which will increase mobility . . . There will be no side lines secure from bombing . There must be mobilization of labor."

Electoral College

In what observers believe to be one of the strangest line-ups in modern political history, the house killed, 210 to 134, the proposal that would have made a presidential election more nearly reflect the popular vote.

The senate approved the constitutional amendment last spring. The measure needed a two thirds vote. Had it passed, it would have needed approval by states.

KEEPING HEALTHY Adding to the Working Life Span

By Dr. James W. Barton

HEALTH NOTES

BECAUSE THE AVERAGE LIFE expectancy has increased almost 20 years-from 47 to 66-since the beginning of the century, there are more elderly men and women than any other single age group. This great increase in the number of elderly persons has brought problems of health and security to every community.

While security is very important to everybody, there are other points to be considered, such as the working span; that is, how long the elderly man and woman is able to work or allowed to work.

Because of the great number of the aged and the problems they present to the community and themselves, medical journals, magazines and even newspapers are now published for the elderly.

In "The Journal of Gerontology," Dr. E. C. Clague shows that while life expectancy has been steadily increasing in recent decades, there have been no corresponding gains in the working life span. Modern industry and occupational trends have had the effect of not lenghtening the working life span; in fact if anything, they tend to shorten it, because there has been no increase in the kind of work elderly men and women are able to do. "A program for extension of working life is needed as an alternative to a steady increase in the period of old age dependency and in the corresponding economic burden." Dr. Clague writes. During the depression period we are told that the British workers preferred to work for 30 shillings rather than remain idle and collect 25 shillings a week from the government. The same applies to the elderly, who greatly dislike the thought that employers consider them unfit for work when they reach a certain age.

To keep elderly people happy employment for which they are fit should be provided by the community. Dr. Clague states that "this will require concerted community action.

He Loved Teaching Lesson for August 13, 1950

WHAT WOULD you do if you had a million dollars? Several thousand school teachers were asked that question a few years ago. Seventy-five per cent of them gave the same answer: "I'd re-sign." They weren't real teachers, they were only hired help. The other twenty - five per cent were the real teachers. A great university teacher, Palmer of Harvard, wrote that he had the perfect job. Believe it or not, he said, "Harvard actually pays Dr. Foreman me for doing what-if I could afford it-I would gladly pay Harvard to let me do."

No Finished Product

THE REAL thing about teaching is that you are dealing with people, young people, growing people. In every other line of business, whatever you turn out begins to depreciate almost as soon as it

It doesn't take long for butter to get rancid, or bread stale. A cold-storage egg is a feeble imitation of a fresh one. A car that has changed hands once even if it has changed hands once, even if it has run less than 1,000 miles, is already "used" car on its way to the junk-pile. But the products of the teacher's classroom are by no means "finished" products when they leave it, even if it is a finishing school. If the teacher's work has been done well, the product will go on improving for years, instead of running down.

Three Aims

PROFESSOR EZRA, of Babylon and Jerusalem, was one of history's most famous teachers. We note (Ezra 7:10) the same three aims in Ezra's life that you would expect to find in all good teachers. First of all, he "prepared his heart" to do what he did. The "heart" is the Bible expression for character, for life as a whole. No one can be a truly good teacher who has a bad character.

Now Ezra prepared his heart to do three things. The first was to "seek the law of the Lord." What a teacher teaches may be as important as who his pupils are; and

Pack an Easily Carried Lunch Box (See Recipes Below)

Have a Picnic!

PACK YOURSELF a basket of fun and good eating with a well planned, easily carried picnic lunch if you plan to trek out-of-doors to have your meal. Many will tell you that picnic lunches don't satisfy because they're better sounding than they are eating. Others tell you 2h they always forget the salt, pepper, forks or napkins, while still others maintain that something always spills or is too bulky to carry easily.

If you take as much care planning the picnic lunch as you do a meal at home, it can be not only good but well balanced so that it doesn't leave you uncomfortable. With modern aids, you can pack many things in lightweight containers that are easy to carry and spillproof, too.

It's not necessary to forget anything if you have a basket or hamper that's fitted with table accessories such as complete table setgar in the basket, and you won't forget them. Make a list of the menu and check off each item as you pack, and this will eliminate forgetting other essentials.

SANDWICHES ARE favorites of every picnic lunch. Butter the bread thoroughly so that the filling does not soak through. Wran each sandwich carefully in waxed paper so it doesn't dry, and you'll enjoy them. Here are some excellent fillings:

LYNN CHAMBERS' MENU Broiled Grapefruit Scrambled Eggs with Frankfurter Slices Shoestring Potatoes

Hearty Chicken Sandwich (Makes 6)

1 cup chopped, cooked chicken

1/2 cup chopped celery 2 tablespoons chopped green

1/4 cup soft butter

6 lettuce leaves

Combine chicken, celery, green pepper, salad dressing and salt. Cut rolls in half lengthwise and spread with butter. Spread chick-en salad on lower half of rolls. Top with lettuce leaf, then cover with roll top.

These ham and egg roll-ups are sandwich like, but require no bread. They make excellent nibbling on a picnic.

Ezra's "subject" was the law which God had given his people-part of what we now call the Old Testa-Nowadays this is called rement. search, but a simple word for it is just study. A lazy teacher is a poor one. A good teacher will spend more time studying than any of the pupils do-and will learn more, too. In fact, the best way to learn anything, including the Bible, is to try to teach it for a while.

Second, Ezra prepared his heart to do the law. The old sneer, "He who can, does; he who cannot, teaches," is true of poor teachers, not of the good Particularly not true of Bible teachers. The aim of Bible teaching, from Moses' time till now, is always practical. "Truth is in order to goodness." as the Presbyterians say. One who has not tried out the Bible ideals in daily living will never do for a Bible teacher.

And third, Ezra set out to "teach in Israel." Your research scholar may or may not make a good teacher. The good teacher is not bored by teaching as some researchers are. He loves it. He is happiest at it.

Take Yourself, for Example

NOW LET US see how this comes out in your own home Sunday school. If yours is like most Sunday schools, the main trouble with it is that they can't find enough good teachers, enough people who really want to know about God's word themselves, who live and love to help others know it.

The Rev. H. M. Lewis of Texas has said in his essay, The Dividends of Teaching:

"When you begin to teach you will realize that at last you have found a purpose for your religion Teaching gives a motive, the highest motive, for all acts of religion and for all pursuit of knowledge-'For their sakes.' Every Christian has the missionary obligation and is by virtue of his profession of faith, a missionary,-'Go, teach all nations.' Make your particular nation young America and your special opportunity systematic work in the Church school. Once you believe that you must be a teacher because you are a Christian . . . you will have heard your life's call."

LYNN SAYS: These Picnic Tips Make Eating Fun

Next supper picnic you have, bring hot soup for a first course. It will carry safely in your thermos. You will find that hot cream soup is very welcome, especially if the other dishes are cold salads and sandwiches.

Layer cakes are not easy to carry to picnics. Bake the cake in an oblong pan, frost, and carry in easy the same pan.

radish Dash of worcestershire sauce 3 ham slices

Salt and pepper to taste Cut cheese in half. Chop hardcooked eggs and add mayonnaise, mustard, worcestershire sauce and salt and pepper. Place strips of cheese on bread board and top with ham slice. Spread egg mixture in center of ham. Roll up tightly. Wrap in waxed paper. . . . THEY WHO LIKE hot food on the picnic spot will be interested to know that small size cans, eightounce size, are available now for the first time, of food favorites. To make a balanced meal, plar to have a tossed salad which can be carried in a jar or a lightweight, unbreakable bowl that comes fitted with a cover. As dessert you might pack some fresh fruit and simple cakes, baked in paper cups, with a baked on frosting that won't get messy in transport. H^{ERE} IS A SALAD idea for the picnic:

*Tossed Garden Salad (Serves 4)

2 cucumbers, sliced 10 radishes, sliced 1/3 cup sliced green onions

- 1 bunch watercress or other greens, separated
- 1/2 cup chopped celery 1/2 cup shredded raw carrots
- 1/2 cup shredded cabbage 1/4 teaspoon salt

French dressing Toss vegetables together in a bowl with the salt and French dressing. If desired, the bowl may be rubbed with a split clove of garlic

Cooling drinks are much in demand as picnic fare. Mix together some apricot nectar and pineapple juice with gingerale and ice cubes and place in the thermos. The beverage will be deliciously cold and refreshing, as well as ready to serve.

Chill whole melons thoroughly before taking to the picnic, and wrap in several layers of newspaper with ice. Place in dishpan or bucket for transport to the picnic grounds.
