A L White Seeks Sheriff's Position

A. L. (Allie) White this week announces that he is a candidate for Sheriff of Lynn County. White is the present Chief of Police of the City of Tahoka, but is resigning this position, effective as soon as the City Council can select a successor.

Mr. White has been a citizen of Lynn County for 30 years having come here January 17, 1920. He has raised a family of 4 boys, 2 of whom saw service in the war, and 2 of whom are still at home. He farmed several years, was with the Texas Co. for 10 years and for the past year and half has been Tahoka's Chief of Police.

He states that, if elected, he will be sheriff for all the people of all sections of the country to the best of his ability. At all times he will welcome and appreciate aid and advice from the public generally, for he realizes that this office belongs to the people. Furthermore, he says, he will give law enforcement and the duties of the office his full time.

Mr. White hopes to see every voter possible between now and election day. He asks that one and all give his candidacy just consideration and go to the polls on July 22 and vote.

West Texas In Danger Of Drastic Cotton Cut 1951

Rep. Geo. Mahon has reported to the local PMA office that the House Committee on Agriculture is seriously considering the approval of a bill by Congressman Pace of Georgia which would, among other things, drastically reduce cotton acreage allotments in West Texas next year. Mahon states that he has been advised by officials of the Department of Agriculture that under the proposal by Mr Pace the 19th Congressional District would sustain a loss next year of 355,000 acres of cotton. These acres would go principally to Central and South Texas.

Mahon has appealed to P M A officials in Washington and College Station to seek to be of assistance in preventing this drastic reshuffling of the cotton acreage allotments for Texas. He, also, appeared last week before members of the House Committee on Agriculture to protest the proposed action and he states that he will continue to do everything in his power in behalf of the cotton producers of West Texas.

The 25 county 19th Congressional District received an allotment this year in excess of 2,300,000 of cotton which is more than one third of the allotment received by the entire state of Texas. Mr. Pace insists that the acreage this year for the 19th district was too high by about 355,000 acres. Mahon pointed out that allotments this year were based on 1947 and 1948 plantings and that West Texas as received a greater allotment because of heavy plantings in 1947 and 1948 and that other sections of the state would have had larger allotments had they chosen to plant greater acreages of cotton in 1947 and 1948. The outcome of the pending proposal is uncertain but Mahon pointed out that the threat of drastic reduction in West Texas in 1951 is a serious one.

WEEKLY NEWS ANALYSIS

Japan Outlaws Communist Party; Europe Coal-Steel Pact Signed; U. S. Construction at New High

JAPAN: Outlaws Reds

The Japanese Communist party received a serious setback with that government's announcement that the party would be outlawed in Japan.

Observers did not find the move surprising since such action had been hinted and only waited the outcome of the general election which was carried by Japan's Liberal party. The liberals alone stuck to a pro-United States policy in a highly nationalistic campaign.

Prime Minister Shigeru Yoshida had announced the action would be taken if there were further acts of violence by Communists. He referred to the attack on five U. S. soldiers at a Communist rally on Memorial Day.

As expected, the Communists tried to blame the action on the American occupation, but Yoshida quickly denied it.

Meanwhile, the Liberal party seemed assured of victory in the election. Despite rains throughout the country, the voting was heavier than expected. Officials said 31,400,000 voted, or 70 percent of those eligible. About 60 percent had been expected.

Yoshida's strong showing had been expected after his government firmly squelched projected Communist anti-American rallies and a so-called general strike called for election day.

COAL-STEEL PLAN: Unites Six Nations

Britain's labor government has been caught short with the announcement that six European countries have formed a coal-steel alliance.

The United States gave the six countries—France, Holland, Belgium, Luxembourg, Western Germany, and Italy—its blessings, with observers pointing out, an eye on the heavy gamble for postwar economic reconstruction of Europe as a means of further winning the cold war.

Under the plan, proposed by Robert Schuman, French foreign minister, the six nations have united to produce the sinews of heavy industry in peace.

Observers said it was fairly clear that Britain, struggling to win back a high place in world trade, was caught by surprise at the move.

The Schuman plan represents a historic surrender of national sovereignty of all the six countries in their economy. The pooled coal and steel industries will be directed by an independent international high authority.

Neutral observers were especially happy over the alliance. It is the first time in history that countries whose differences have caused numerous wars have gotten together to create a community of interests. This, observers contend, should eliminate the cause of wars.

Increased production is also expected from the merger. The total joint production could be far greater than the sum of their separate competitive efforts. It was pointed out, for example, the industrial Ruhr needs French coal and France needs the Ruhr steel but each put a premium on the materials they exchanged with each other.

Although the British have not joined the alliance or made any commitment on the plan, the way has been left open. Observers said it would certainly give the labor government something to think about.

BALTIC PLANE: Evidence Damning

The United States produced new evidence that the navy patrol plane recently lost in the Baltic was shot down, although the Russians reported they only drove it out to sea.

State department officials said a recovered landing wheel indicated the plane had exploded in mid-air, and had possibly lost a wing before it spun into the sea.

The wheel floated because its tire was inflated with air. It was found by a Swedish fishing captain 48 miles off the Coast of Latvia.

A navy expert, Lt. Comdr. M. W. Cagle, exhibited the plane's front landing wheel, and pointed to a lever in a position showing that the wheel was retracted when the plane crashed.

MAUNA LOA: Brilliant Fireworks

Mauna Loa, the 13,680-foot volcano on the island of Hawaii, turned on the brilliant display of fireworks for island tourists with the greatest eruption in history.

Fortunately, no lives were lost in the eruption that sent streams of molten lava across the island and into the sea. At some points where the lava entered the ocean, the water was reported near boiling far from shore.

Japs Riot

CONSTRUCTION: At New High

Construction in the United States has reached a new high, according to reports by the department of labor.

According to department statistics, construction valued at nearly $2,000,000,000 was put in place in May. This was ahead of the 1948 and 1949 seasonal peaks.

Home construction accounted for much of the advance, although building costs have risen sharply. Private construction in May amounted to $1,400,000,000, an increase of 12 per cent over April and 27 per cent over May of last year. The home building part of that was estimated at $825,000,000, an increase of 15 per cent over the month and 56 per cent over a year ago.

In the first five months of 1950, the total value of all types of new construction was nearly $8,100,000,000, an increase of 21 percent from the corresponding period of 1949, the labor department announced.

HARRY GOLD: Patriotic Spy

Like the little boy who pinched off the icing on his mother's cake, Harry Gold, the American who turned against his own country to spy for Russia, wanted the sweet but didn't mean to spoil the cake.

Explained the Philadelphia biochemist, no doubt for a gullible American public, he delivered atom bomb secrets to Russia, but "I had no intention of hurting my country."

Such an explanation would not appease the intelligence of the six-year-old who pinched the icing. How can anyone give away the secrets of his country and not expect to hurt it, observers asked?

The Judy Coplan case and now the Gold affair have shocked the American public. Many Americans are remembering stern measures employed by founders of the nation in handling spies.

The business of espionage, under any circumstances, is a nasty thing. One is not inclined to be angry with a spy such as the Russian agent Gubitchew who was acting under orders. But to turn against your native land and give or sell its secrets is an entirely different matter.

Now an admitted spy asks the court to appoint him counsel, which he insists be counsel whose patriotism is unimpeachable, with the respect of the court, the public, and the bar. Further, he insists upon the right to cooperate with the F.B.I.

SEARS, ROEBUCK: Sharp Price Cuts

Sears, Roebuck and company, the world's largest retail merchandise business, has announced price reduction of up to 52 percent of 4,000 items in its midsummer sale catalogue.

The merchandising world was startled with the announcement of price cuts that averaged 7 per cent on the items. Seasonal wearing apparel was cut as much as 41 per cent.

More than twice as big as its nearest competitor, Sears, Roebuck and company was founded in 1886 and drew its greatest support from the farm population.

Although today Sears sells in the big cities, it still keeps its rural touch with all sorts of farm projects.

Employment

Employment in the United States reached its highest peak in May since last August, the census bureau announced in an optimistic report.

The number of jobless dropped from 3,515,000 in April to the May figure of 3,057,000. Employment jumped from 58,668,000 in April to 59,731,000 in May, a gain of 1,063,000. In May, 1949, there were 58,694,000 employed.

Uncle Charlie and Leopard Had Much in Common; They Both Preferred Lunch to Love—Or Did They?

By BILLY ROSE

Some weeks ago when the newspapers front-paged the story of the leopard which strolled back into its cage after being AWOL for three days, a lot of people wondered whether it returned because it was hungry or because it was lonely for a certain lady leopard in the next enclosure.

It so happened that around the same time, by a strange double-take of destiny, my Uncle Charlie also went on the prowl, and his return a few days later raised the identical question on the lower East Side—was it lunch or was it love?

It all began when my Aunt Frieda got the social bee in her babushka, joined the Delancey street chapter of the Daughters of Deborah, and went off to Atlantic City for its annual convention. Knowing Charlie for what he was—a man with his feet in the clouds and his head on the ground—Frieda began to worry that he'd get ptomaine from eating a tainted blintz in a restaurant, and so one afternoon she boarded a bus and made a quick trip to New York to see if everything was all right.

"YOU MISS ME, Charlie?" "Why should I miss you—you're here. What gives in Atlantic City?" "In Atlantic City is giving speeches," said my aunt. "Tomorrow we are deciding about the hydrogen bomb, yes or no."

"In such a case, you better go right back," said my uncle. "Bye-bye, and don't take no wooden knishes."

On the street, Frieda met a gossip neighbor who said, "When is away the cat, is playing the mice—and they ain't playing kibbiash."

"You are implicating my Charlie is a rat?" "Rat, schmat! Ask the widow Greenhouse."

A bit shaken, Frieda posted herself inside the candy store across the street, and when Charlie, wearing a carnation, came out she followed him—and sure enough, he high-stepped down the block to the home of Mrs. Greenhouse.

Now, if this were a movie, our heroine would hold her tongue for six reels of misunderstanding and suspense—but Frieda was never one for slow emotion. She waited a jittery five minutes, rang the widow's bell and barged right in when she saw Charlie sitting in front of a mound of chopped liver big enough to feed the four Marx Brothers.

"Pull up a chair," said the widow. "I got a pot roast you could cut with a fingernail."

Frieda sniffed. "To me, it smells like a boiled beef what boiled too long."

"Is that so?" said Mrs. Greenhouse. "All week your husband is enjoying."

DAN SEYMOUR, despite his busy radio and television schedule, still manages to find time to lend a helping hand to those in need. The emcee of NBC's "We the People," CBS's "Sing It Again" and other programs has accepted the invitation of the National Cancer Foundation to be the national chairman of its 1950 fund drive. This on top of his active participation with the Boy's Club of America and other public organizations. And Seymour has no intention of being merely an honorary chairman and letting other people do the work. He's busy as a beaver, lining up to peoples in all fields, to act as his assistants; they're accepting gladly.

Bonita Granville plays the piano in Eagle-Lion's "Guilty of Treason," and actually plays! No off-stage double performs for her, as is usually the case. Originally she intended to be a concert pianist; experienced musicians say she easily could become one now if she would give up her motion picture career and buckle down to practicing and studying.

Eve Arden, winding up her stint in Warners' "Tea for Two," has both eyes on Broadway. Richard Whorf has written a comedy about life in a Boston boarding house, "The Birds Were Up All Night;" she wants to play in it.

The newspaper plant operated by Macdonald Carey in the Pine-Thomson "The Lawless," which is wrecked by a mob, was a real one. Bill Pine, on location, saw that it was what he wanted, told the owners he'd have to wreck it for the picture, but would rebuild it afterward. They agreed. So he went ahead with scenes in the plant, it was wrecked, and he had it repaired, for $25,000.

Mary Murphy has also hit the road to stardom—perhaps. Until recently she was wrapping parcels in a swank shop in Beverly Hills; she'd come to Hollywood from Cleveland in 1942. Now she has signed a long-term contract with Paramount.

John Close, as doorman at Grauman's Chinese theater some years ago, spent his evenings handing ticket stubs to John Garfield and other Hollywood celebrities. Now he's playing an important role opposite Garfield in "The Breaking Point." It's his third picture. He is a Los Angeles boy, a graduate of Hollywood High, where he appeared in class plays with Alexis Smith.

THE FICTION CORNER

CITY COPS

By Richard H. Wilkinson

I'VE INVESTIGATED some queer cases but the jewel robbery up at River's End Lodge topped them all. Tracy and I were dumb; we're ready to admit that, but, after all, we're city cops not primitive wilderness natives.

The reason we were called in was because Homer Livermore's wife had lost $50,000 worth of gems, and neither she nor Homer trusted or had faith in Eben Jackson, the local constable.

Jackson met us at the station, and it wouldn't take a sleuth to see he was sore at the Livermores.

"I'll show you what I already found out," he told us briefly, "then let you smarties dope out the rest."

He took us up to the lodge and showed where a ladder had been placed against the house. Then he allowed the thief had probably taken his loot and skunk off in the woods to hide.

Then Tracy had an idea. "If we gotta browse around through the bushes we ought to have a native guide."

Eben recommended Bronco Pete, who, it seemed, was a guide who didn't have enough money to buy a license for himself, hence was out of work. We explained our predicament to him and he shrugged indifferently. Then Tracy flashed a $20 bill and he changed his mind.

He took the twenty, and a promise of two more after a week's work, and went away. He came back the next morning dressed up in new high-laced boots, riding breeches, a checked shirt and a big hat. He was mighty proud, and looked like the pictures you see of northwoods guides. Well, sir, we started out. We trekked through the woods for a whole day. Then Bronco Pete led us to a deserted shack. Outside we found a set of fresh footprints, the heels of which were marked with a common iron cleat.

"Chances are," said Eben, "if we find the owner of these here boot-marks we'll have us the thief. I seen tracks like that around the lodge beneath the window."

Pete set off through the brush like a hound on the scent. Tracy and I followed wearily.

Pete led us straight back to the lodge, and there, sure enough, were marked footprints beneath the bedroom window.

"The thing to do," Eben told us, "is for you two nannies to make yourselves comfortable in the shack, an' nab the thief

"I'm not doubting," said my aunt. "From the medicine chest is missing a full box of bicarbonate."

ON THE WAY BACK to their flat, Frieda got right down to cases. "What is between you and Mrs. Greenhouse?" she asked.

"Strictly a cash arrangement," said Charlie. "Seven suppers for 10 dollars."

"You can't pull the wool behind my back," said my aunt. "Just to eat, a man does not take a bath and wear a whole flowershop in the buttonhole."

"I am also enjoying her company," my uncle admitted. "On many things we are seeing eye to tooth."

"If for widows you got such a liking," said Frieda, "I could maybe become one myself!"

When they reached home, Frieda pulled the pin out of her hat. "Tomorrow," she announced, "is roast duck on the menu. Monday it gives sauerbraten; Tuesday, chicken with mandarin soup."

"The widow makes a grade-A goulash," needed my uncle.

"Let her make," said my aunt, "and let her eat."

And that ended Charlie's life on the loose and Frieda's career as a clubwoman.

As for the question: "Is love or lunch more important to the male animal?"—well, the leopard is dead and my uncle isn't talking.

This Is Your Paper Advertising Is Integral Part

By William R. Nelson

ADVERTISING is as much a part of American newspapers as the paper upon which they are printed. Without advertising this newspaper would be a very different publication. Not only would it be less interesting, but it also would cost subscribers considerably more.

Advertising is commercial news. It is so valuable to readers as every other feature of a newspaper. It is so interesting, in fact, that there are papers in many cities devoted exclusively to advertising.

The commercial and professional announcements of this community's business' civic and professional people are important to all who live here. They are also timely cross-sections of the needs, interests, hopes and desires of the people of this locality.

In some communities there are those who apparently do not fully grasp the importance of the role advertising in the home town paper plays in their daily lives. There are merchants, for example, who seemingly do not realize that failure to acquaint people with their goods and services handicaps both the store and its customers.

Those who advertise in this or any other newspaper actually rent space in which to publish their own, generally commercial, news. The space is the property of the newspaper. That has been confirmed by court decisions upholding newspapers in their refusals to provide space for certain advertising uses.

Space rented for advertising is the principal source of revenue to virtually all newspapers. Such revenue makes possible delivery of the paper to subscribers for less than the actual cost of the blank paper in each copy.

The use to which advertisers put the space they rent is of equal importance to the community as a whole. Advertising is the lubricant that keeps the commercial machine of the community functioning at maximum efficiency.

Advertising in the home town newspaper is a sound investment, like buying a bond so a school can be built. The advertiser gets direct return in more business and goodwill, and the community benefits from the information.

Simplifies Work

Homemade equipment simplifies removing attachments from tractor—two upright posts with clutch-like levers at their tops hold up attachments after they have been unbolted from a tractor. One man can do the job without lifting.

Screwworm Flies Start Most Widespread Year

The U. S. department of agriculture reports screwworm flies apparently are starting their most destructive and widespread year, especially in southern states.

Stockmen are urged to take immediate steps to protect themselves from livestock losses. The bureau especially recommends inspection of animals at least twice a week.

Education is either worth supporting or it should be dropped as a state activity.

People who ride in fast-moving automobiles without adequate brakes must expect to be pulled out of overturned and cracked up vehicles.

Nutritionists say livestock is better fed than many persons. College graduates warned that jobs will be scarce through '52.

Children Diseases Are Not Necessary

How many people do you know that still cling to the old-fashioned idea that the sooner children catch the so-called diseases of childhood, the better off they'll be?

Take the whooping cough, for example. Isn't it ridiculous for children to have to suffer with it when it may be prevented by simple vaccination?

Whooping cough goes by the scientific name of pertussis. Regardless of what you call it, it still means a violent, painful wracking coughing that takes the breath and tears at the chest and throat walls.

Pertussis is prevalent among children everywhere. About 15 out of every 100 cases are in children under two. North America, from time to time, seems to have more than its fair share of cases.

Sometimes it's fatal, especially to very small children. About 85 out of every 100 whooping cough deaths are among two-year-olds and less. And, strangely enough most deaths are among girls. In 1949 Texas had 46 whooping cough deaths. So far in 1950, an average of 232 cases have been reported every week.

Whooping cough is spread through droplet infection - that is, by breathing air contaminated by a sneeze or cough of an infected person. You can get it from using the personal things of an infected person, too. It is communicable from about 7 days after exposure until three weeks after coughing starts.

The important thing about whooping cough is that vaccination may protect against it. It's the only thing that will. If an unvaccinated child gets the disease, he will thereafter have what is called a "definite and prolonged immunity." But the fact of the matter is that second attacks have been known to occur.

Vaccination of all preschool children is the answer to control. "Booster" shots may be advisable within a year after the initial vaccination. Your family doctor will make that decision.

HERE'S THE
ALL-PURPOSE CULTIVATOR
FOR PRACTICALLY
EVERY TILLAGE JOB

The all-around usefulness of the John Deere Tool-Bar Cultivator makes it a cultivator that soon proves its worth on every farm.

Equipped with broad, flat, sub-surface sweeps, it's all set to do a good job of sub-surface tilling, undercutting surface growth and killing weeds, yet scarcely disturbing erosion-controlling surface trash.

With the double-coil spring teeth and shovels,
the John Deere becomes a heavy-duty field cultivator for many jobs. Add beams and lister bottoms and it becomes a lister for blank listing. With the planting attachment, it lists up to four rows. With the disk gang attachment, the John Deere is ideal for throwing up beds for melons, tomatoes and other such crops.

When you consider its broad usefulness, its quality construction, and other outstanding features, you'll agree—the John Deere is a cultivator you can't afford to be without. See us for complete details the next time you're in town.

Have you had MALARIA?
 ...IF SO WATCH OUT

The medical profession knows that though a person may be cured of common malaria they may have it come back on them. So, if you are once more feeling tired, run down, have pains in back and legs, feel weak and bilious, no appetite and nervous — though chills and fever haven't struck you yet, and you have common malaria—it doesn't pay to take any chances. Try a bottle of OXIDINE. OXIDINE is made to combat malaria, give you the iron to help creation of red blood cells. Sold at all leading drug stores, only 21.25. If your druggist does not handle OXIDINE, order direct from OXIDINE Company, Mineral Wells, Texas, and when the postman brings your package just pay the amount plus C.O.D. and postage. If you remit with order we pay postage. Then, if you don't feel perfectly satisfied after using OXIDINE, just return the empty carton and your money will be cheerfully refunded. Yep--We'll Bet You
 Have Ringworm

It is a 50-50 bet that you have some sort of ringworm infection. Check to see. Chances are it will be in your scalp hair, on your groin, or on your feet--either on the soles or between the toes. If you don't find it, you're lucky, because while it isn't serious, its itching and persistence is very annoying.

A fungus--the same one that causes food to mold--causes ringworm. It's one of the world's most common ailments, with authorities estimating that half of the world's population is affected. It is more common this time of the year than any other. Animals get it too. As a matter of fact, cats, dogs, rabbits, mice, and fowls are frequently the source of infection in man. A child plays with an infected dog, the dog's hair brushes the child, and the child stands an excellent chance of ringworm infection. The scales which are formed can cause new infections on the body, so an infected person has to be careful to keep it from spreading. Advanced cases exude a clear, runny fluid--it "weeps", as doctors say, and the fluid can cause breaking out on whatever part of the body it touches. Children are especially vulnerable to scalp ringworm. Epidemics are usually started in schools or institutions. Swimming pools, locker rooms and gyms are potent sources of infection. Everyone has heard of "athlete's foot," it nothing more than a type of ringworm. So is the so-called "barber's itch." Preventive measures call for avoiding persons and animals known to be infected. Swimming pools, gyms, locker rooms, and the like can do their part toward ringworm control by boiling towels, swimming suits and their other public facilities for 20 minutes. Foot baths are also worthwhile.

Electric 'Cowboy'
 Will Aid Ranchers
 Economic Way to Keep
 Stock on Home Pastures

Every spring, an electric "cowboy" will ride the range to help ranchers and keep their stock in the pasture and out of the fields. The cowboy is the old stand-by Winchester "Hot Spark" battery that years ago gave a balky old T a frosty-morning pickup. Today Hot Spark is more useful ever on the farm now because of the waterproof dry cell bucka that makes the "touch-me-not" electric fence a safe and economical way to keep the stock where it belongs. Electric fencing with the use of cell batteries is one of the farm's most inexpensive means to keep his stock where he wants it.

Clearly illustrated are the correct heights for electric fences. In states where barbed wire is legal, it is usually preferred.

According to W. S. Allen, general manager of the electrical division of the Industries, Inc., who is a farmer to boot.

Little or no knowledge of electricity is required as reliable fence controllers approved by underwriters, which keep the current going to the electric fence intermittently every time a minute, come with simple instructions easy to follow. Electric fence wire can be moved from one location to another, but is best to make permanent installation. Metal or wood fence posts are suitable. Posts to fence horses should be from 40 to 50 feet apart. Posts to fence 40 to 50 feet apart is satisfactory for smaller animals.

In states where barbed wire is legal, it is usually preferred. Like other electric fence wire, it should be fastened to the posts by insulators and should not come into contact with posts, weeds or the ground. Inexpensive solid type, lever split type, glass or porcelain insulators should be used rather than old rubber or necks of bottles. Insulators are a poor economy as they don't work well or last long. Where gates are required, attach the wire to a spring to maintain tension and continue the wire through the center of a wood or rubber handle to a hook to fasten to a continuation of the wire on the other side of the gate.

How high the wire should be from the ground depends upon the size of the animals to be fenced. Generally, you measure the distance to the ground from about the middle of the animals' head when grazing. Following are fence heights for various animals:
 4 to 16 inches.... pigs
 12 to 18 inches.... calves
 18 to 18 inches.... sheep, goats
 20 to 26 inches.... cows
 30 to 40 inches.... horses
 With your fence built, just attach the cowboy Hot Spark and a grounded fence controller and you're in business to charge a fence that can be moved to fifteen miles long. And the Hot Spark will last five or six months before you need to replace your dry cell cowboy.

WEEKLY NEWS ANALYSIS

Japan Outlaws Communist Party; Europe Coal-Steel Pact Signed; U. S. Construction at New High

JAPAN: Outlaws Reds

The Japanese Communist party received a serious setback with that government's announcement that the party would be outlawed in Japan.

Observers did not find the move surprising since such action had been hinted and only waited the outcome of the general election which was carried by Japan's Liberal party. The liberals alone stuck to a pro-United States policy in a highly nationalistic campaign.

Prime Minister Shigeru Yoshida had announced the action would be taken if there were further acts of violence by Communists. He referred to the attack on five U. S. soldiers at a Communist rally on Memorial Day.

As expected, the Communists tried to blame the action on the American occupation, but Yoshida quickly denied it.

Meanwhile, the Liberal party seemed assured of victory in the election. Despite rains throughout the country, the voting was heavier than expected. Officials said 31,400,000 voted, or 70 percent of those eligible. About 60 percent had been expected.

Yoshida's strong showing had been expected after his government firmly squelched projected Communist anti-American rallies and a so-called general strike called for election day.

COAL-STEEL PLAN: Unites Six Nations

Britain's labor government has been caught short with the announcement that six European countries have formed a coal-steel alliance.

The United States gave the six countries — France, Holland, Belgium, Luxembourg, Western Germany, and Italy — its blessings, with observers pointing out, an eye on the heavy gamble for postwar economic reconstruction of Europe as a means of further winning the cold war.

Under the plan, proposed by Robert Schuman, French foreign minister, the six nations have united to produce the sinews of heavy industry in peace.

Observers said it was fairly clear that Britain, struggling to win back a high place in world trade, was caught by surprise at the move.

The Schuman plan represents a historic surrender of national sovereignty of all the six countries in their economy. The pooled coal and steel industries will be directed by an independent international high authority.

Neutral observers were especially happy over the alliance. It is the first time in history that countries whose differences have caused numerous wars have gotten together to create a community of interests. This, observers contend, should eliminate the cause of wars.

Increased production is also expected from the merger. The total joint production could be far greater than the sum of their separate competitive efforts. It was pointed out, for example, the industrial Ruhr needs French coal and France needs the Ruhr steel but each put a premium on the materials they exchanged with each other.

Although the British have not joined the alliance or made any commitment on the plan, the way has been left open. Observers said it would certainly give the labor government something to think about.

BALTIC PLANE: Evidence Damning

The United States produced new evidence that the navy patrol plane recently lost in the Baltic was shot down, although the Russians reported they only drove it out to sea.

State department officials said a recovered landing wheel indicated the plane had exploded in mid-air, and had possibly lost a wing before it spun into the sea.

The wheel floated because its tire was inflated with air. It was found by a Swedish fishing captain 48 miles off the Coast of Latvia.

A navy expert, Lt. Comdr. M. W. Cagle, exhibited the plane's front landing wheel, and pointed to a lever in a position showing that the wheel was retracted when the plane crashed.

MAUNA LOA: Brilliant Fireworks

Mauna Loa, the 13,680-foot volcano on the island of Hawaii, turned on a brilliant display of fireworks for island tourists with the greatest eruption in history.

Fortunately, no lives were lost in the eruption that sent streams of molten lava across the island and into the sea. At some points where the lava entered the ocean, the water was reported near boiling far from shore.

Japs Riot

CONSTRUCTION: At New High

Construction in the United States has reached a new high, according to reports by the department of labor.

According to department statistics, construction valued at nearly $2,000,000,000 was put in place in May. This was ahead of the 1948 and 1949 seasonal peaks.

Home construction accounted for much of the advance, although building costs have risen sharply.

Private construction in May amounted to $1,400,000,000, an increase of 12 per cent over April and 27 per cent over May of last year. The home building part of that was estimated at $825,000,000, an increase of 15 per cent over the month and 56 per cent from a year ago.

In the first five months of 1950, the total value of all types of new construction was nearly $8,100,000,000, an increase of 21 per cent from the corresponding period of 1949, the labor department announced.

HARRY GOLD: Patriotic Spy

Like the little boy who pinched off the icing on his mother's cake, Harry Gold, the American who turned against his own country to spy for Russia, wanted the sweet but didn't mean to spoil the cake.

Explained the Philadelphia biochemist, no doubt for a gullible American public, he delivered atom bomb secrets to Russia, but "I had no intention of hurting my country."

Such an explanation would not appease the intelligence of the six-year-old who pinched the icing. How can anyone give away the secrets of his country and not expect to hurt it, observers asked?

The Judy Coplon case and now the Gold affair have shocked the American public. Many Americans are remembering stern measures employed by founders of the nation in handling spies.

The business of espionage, under any circumstances, is a nasty thing. One is not inclined to be angry with a spy such as the Russian agent Gudritchew who was acting under orders. But to turn against your native land and give or sell its secrets is an entirely different matter.

Now an admitted spy asks the court to appoint him counsel, which he insists be counsel whose patriotism is unimpeachable, with the respect of the court, the public, and the bar. Further, he insists upon the right to cooperate with the F. B. I.

SEARS, ROEBUCK: Sharp Price Cuts

Sears, Roebuck and company, the world's largest retail merchandise business, has announced price reduction of up to 52 percent of 4,000 items in its midsummer sale catalogue.

The merchandising world was startled by the announcement of price cuts that averaged 7 per cent on the items. Seasonal wearing apparel was cut as much as 41 per cent.

More than twice as big as its nearest competitor, Sears, Roebuck and company was founded in 1886 and drew its greatest support from the farm population.

Although today Sears sells in the big cities, it still keeps its rural touch with all sorts of farm projects.

Employment

Employment in the United States reached its highest peak in May since last August, the census bureau announced in an optimistic report.

The number of jobless dropped from 3,515,000 in April to the May figure of 3,057,000. Employment jumped from 58,668,000 in April to 59,731,000 in May, a gain of 1,063,000. In May, 1949, there were 58,694,000 employed.

Uncle Charlie and Leopard Had Much in Common; They Both Preferred Lunch to Love—Or Did They?

By BILLY ROSE

Some weeks ago when the newspapers front-paged the story of the leopard which strolled back into its cage after being AWOL for three days, a lot of people wondered whether it returned because it was hungry or because it was lonely for a certain lady leopard in the next enclosure.

It so happened that around the same time, by a strange double-take of destiny, my Uncle Charlie also went on the prowl, and his return a few days later raised the identical question on the lower East Side—was it lunch or was it love?

It all began when my Aunt Frieda got the social bee in her babushka, joined the Delancey street chapter of the Daughters of Deborah, and went off to Atlantic City for its annual convention.

Knowing Charlie for what he was—a man with his feet in the clouds and his head on the ground—Frieda began to worry that he'd get ptomaine from eating a tainted blintz in a restaurant, and so one afternoon she boarded a bus and made a quick trip to New York to see if everything was all right.

"YOU MISS ME, Charlie?" "Why should I miss you—you're here. What gives in Atlantic City?" "In Atlantic City is giving speeches," said my aunt. "Tomorrow we are deciding about the hydrogen bomb, yes or no."

"In such a case, you better go right back," said my uncle. "Bye-bye, and don't take no wooden knishes."

On the street, Frieda met a gossipy neighbor who said, "When it away the cat, it playing the mice—and they ain't playing klabach."

"You are implicating my Charlie is a rat?" "Rat, schmat! Ask the widow Greenhouse."

A bit shaken, Frieda posted herself inside the candy store across the street, and when Charlie, wearing a carnation, came out she followed him—and sure enough, he home-stepped down the block to the home of Mrs. Greenhouse.

Now, if this were a movie, our heroine would hold her tongue for six reels of misunderstanding and suspense—but Frieda was never one for flow emotion. She waited a jittery five minutes, rang the widow's bell and barged right in when she saw Charlie sitting in front of a mound of chopped liver big enough to feed the four Marx Brothers.

"Pull up a chair," said the widow. "I got a pot roast you could cut with a fingernail."

Frieda sniffed. "To me, it smells like a boiled beef what boiled too long."

"Is that so?" said Mrs. Greenhouse. "All week your husband is enjoying."

Star Dust STAGE SCREEN RADIO

By INEZ GERHARD

DAN SEYMOUR, despite his busy radio and television schedule, still manages to find time to lend a helping hand to those in need. The emcee of NBC's "We the People," CBS's "Sing It Again" and other programs has accepted the invitation of the National Cancer Foundation

to be the national chairman of its 1950 fund drive. This on top of his active participation with the Boy's Club of America and other public organizations. And Seymour has no intention of being merely an honorary chairman and letting other people do the work. He's busy as a beaver, lining up to peoples in all fields, to act as his assistants; they're accepting gladly.

Bonita Granville plays the piano in Eagle-Lion's "Guilty of Treason," and actually plays! No off-stage double performs for her, as is usually the case. Originally she intended to be a concert pianist; experienced musicians say she easily could become one now if she would give up her motion picture career and buckle down to practising and studying.

Eve Arden, winding up her stint in Warners' "Tea for Two," has both eyes on Broadway. Richard Whorf has written a comedy about life in a Boston boarding house, "The Birds Were Up All Night"; she wants to play in it.

The newspaper plant operated by Macdonald Carey in the Pine-Thomson "The Lawless," which is wrecked by a mob, was a real one. Bill Pine, on location, saw that it was what he wanted, told the owners he'd have to wreck it for the picture, but would rebuild it afterward. They agreed. So he went ahead with scenes in the plant, it was wrecked, and he had it repaired, for $25,000.

Mary Murphy has also hit the road to stardom — perhaps. Until recently she was wrapping parcels in a swank shop in Beverly Hills; she'd come to Hollywood from Cleveland in 1942. Now she has signed a long-term contract with Paramount.

John Close, as doorman at Grauman's Chinese theater some years ago, spent his evenings handing ticket stubs to John Garfield and other Hollywood celebrities. Now he's playing an important role opposite Garfield in "The Breaking Point." It's his third picture. He is a Los Angeles boy, a graduate of Hollywood High, where he appeared in class plays with Alexis Smith.

CITY COPS

By Richard H. Wilkinson

THE FICTION CORNER

I'VE INVESTIGATED some queer cases but the jewel robbery up at River's End Lodge topped them all. Tracy and I were dumb; we're ready to admit that, but, after all, we're city cops not primitive wilderness natives.

The reason we were called in was because Homer Livermore's wife had lost $50,000 worth of gems, and neither she nor Homer trusted or had faith in Eben Jackson, the local constable.

Jackson met us at the station, and it wouldn't take a sleuth to see he was sore at the Livermores. "I'll show you what I already found out," he told us briefly, "then let your smarties dope out the rest."

He took us up to the lodge and showed where a ladder had been placed against the house. Then he allowed the thief had probably taken his loot and skunk off in the woods to hide.

Then Tracy had an idea. "If we gotta browse around through the bushes we ought to have a native guide."

Eben recommended Bronco Pete, who, it seemed, was a guide who didn't have enough money to buy a license for himself, hence was out of work. We explained our predicament to him and he shrugged indifferently. Then Tracy flashed a $20 bill and he changed his mind.

He took the twenty, and a promise of two more after a week's work, and went away. He came back the next morning dressed up in new high-laced boots, riding breeches, a checked shirt and a big hat. He was mighty proud, and

He was mighty proud, and looked like the pictures you see of northwoods guides.

Well, sir, we started out. We trekked through the woods for a whole day. Then Bronco Pete led us to a deserted shack. Outside we found a set of fresh footprints, the heels of which were marked with a common iron cleat.

"Chances are," said Eben, "if we find the owner of these here boot-marks we'll have us the thief. I seen tracks like that around the lodge beneath the window."

Pete set off through the brush like a hound on the scent. Tracy and I followed wearily.

Pete led us straight back to the lodge, and there, sure enough, were marked footprints beneath the bedroom window.

"The thing to do," Eben told us, "is for you two nannies to make yourselves comfortable in the shack, an' nab the thief

"I'm not doubting," said my aunt. "From the medicine chest is missing a full box of bicarbonate."

ON THE WAY BACK to their flat, Frieda got right down to cases.

"What is between you and Mrs. Greenhouse?" she asked.

"Strictly a cash arrangement," said Charlie. "Seven suppers for 10 dollars."

"You can't pull the wool behind my back," said my aunt. "Just to eat, a man does not take a bath and wear a whole flowershop in the buttonhole."

"I am also enjoying her company," my uncle admitted. "On many things we are seeing eye to tooth."

"If for widows you got such a liking," said Frieda, "I could maybe become one myself."

When they reached home, Frieda pulled the pin out of her hat. "Tomorrow," she announced, "is roast duck on the menu. Monday it gives sauerbraten; Tuesday, chicken with mandarin soup."

"The widow makes a grade-A goulash," needed my uncle.

"Let her make," said my aunt, "and let her eat."

And that ended Charlie's life on the loose and Frieda's career as a clubwoman.

As for the question: "Is love or lunch more important to the male animal?"—well, the leopard is dead and my uncle isn't talking.

This Is Your Paper Advertising Is Integral Part

By William R. Nelson

ADVERTISING is as much a part of American newspapers as the paper upon which they are printed. Without advertising this newspaper would be a very different publication. Not only would it be less interesting, but it also would cost subscribers considerably more.

Advertising is commercial news. It is as valuable to readers as every other feature of a newspaper. It is so interesting, in fact, that there are papers in many cities devoted exclusively to advertising.

The commercial and professional announcements of this community's business' civic and professional people are important to all who live here. They are also timely cross-sections of the needs, interests, hopes and desires of the people of this locality.

In some communities there are those who apparently do not fully grasp the importance of the role advertising in the home town paper plays in their daily lives. There are merchants, for example, who seemingly do not realize that failure to acquaint people with their goods and services handicaps both the store and its customers.

Those who advertise in this or any other newspaper actually rent space in which to publish their own, generally commercial, news. The space is the property of the newspaper. That has been confirmed by court decisions upholding newspapers in their refusals to provide space for certain advertising uses.

Space rented for advertising is the principal source of revenue to virtually all newspapers. Such revenue makes possible delivery of the paper to subscribers for less than the actual cost of the blank paper in each copy.

The use to which advertisers put the space they rent is of equal importance to the community as a whole. Advertising is the lubricant that keeps the commercial machine of the community functioning at maximum efficiency.

Advertising in the home town newspaper is a sound investment, like buying a bond so a school can be built. The advertiser gets direct return in more business and goodwill, and the community benefits from the information.

SUPREME COURT:

Three Decisions

The U. S. supreme court has handed down three decisions in the current civil rights controversy which will have far-reaching reactions.

The court held that segregation of Negroes in railroad dining cars violates the Interstate Commerce Act, that Negro students must be admitted to the University of Texas law school because the state does not afford them facilities equal to those for whites, and that Oklahoma has been discriminating against Negro students at its state university law school by segregating them in classrooms and elsewhere on the campus.

The court, however, did not go into the cases as deeply as the justice department desired.

For instance, the justice department argued there "can be no such thing as 'separate but equal' facilities and treatment. It contended the mere fact a Negro has to use a separate public facility prevents him from having an equal facility. It is just as sensible, the department argued, to say that a thing can be "black but white" as to insist it can be "separate and equal."

Observers point out that had the court gone into the matter as deeply as the department asked and ruled in its favor, there would have been practically nothing left of segregation laws.

Some students of government believe such a ruling would have been a great deal more far-reaching than the passage by Congress of the much debated F.E.P.C.

The court, however, adhered to its long established practice of not determining constitutional issues if other grounds for decisions exist.

IOWA ELECTION:

Brannan Plan Test

The nation watched with interest the final outcome of the primary election in Iowa. And the outcome was what seasoned political observers expected—a final campaign between Albert J. Loveland and Sen. Burke B. Hickenlooper.

There was more to it, however, than just the outcome of a primary election to determine the Democratic and Republican senatorial candidates this fall.

Loveland, former undersecretary of agriculture, campaigned against five other Democrats using the Brannan plan as his main plank in his platform, while on the other hand, Hickenlooper will take his stand against it. Political observers are looking forward to this final test on the much debated plan in the heart of America's farm belt.

Political observers also pointed out that it is almost a sure bet now that President Truman and Secretary of Agriculture Brannan will campaign in Iowa for Loveland.

Thus, the fall campaign takes shape. Political observers see Loveland campaigning with the Brannan plan as the main plank in his platform, while on the other hand, Hickenlooper will take his stand against it. Political observers are looking forward to this final test on the much debated plan in the heart of America's farm belt.

Political observers also pointed out that it is almost a sure bet now that President Truman and Secretary of Agriculture Brannan will campaign in Iowa for Loveland.

ECONOMY:

Budget Cut Hinted

Observers are predicting another battle in congress in an attempt to cut President Truman's budget for the coming years.

According to some reports, Republicans are backing a move for a new cut of the budget which the house last month trimmed $2,068,590,504.

Some senators would like a flat cut across the boards. But others want to exempt the military establishment, the Federal Bureau of Investigation, and defense spending.

A means of making the cuts on the Senate floor is being sought if the trimming is not done first by the Senate appropriations committee.

Gold Attorney

BELGIUM:

Wants a King

While the rest of the world has worried about rebuilding and securing a permanent peace since World War II, Belgium has been the scene of one election after another on the question of bringing King Leopold III back from exile.

The latest of the four elections gives the Social Christian party another victory and would seem to guarantee the return of Leopold to the throne.

Campfire Flavors Are Easy to Capture When You Broil Meat Cuts

WHEN YOU LONG for the taste of campfire cookery and still want the convenience of your kitchen, plan some broiled dinners!

Broiling gives an irrefutable flavor to meats as well as fruits and vegetables to go with the meats. It's a quick method of cooking, too, for, in most cases, the broiler meal takes only 15 minutes to one-half hour to cook.

Most homemakers like to plan several broiled dinners for hot weather because they're so quick and appetizing. Furthermore, since meat, vegetables and fruits can be placed on the broiling tray, there's only that single piece of cooking equipment to be washed after dinner, in place of several pots and pans.

To stimulate a real out-of-doors supper several times a week, plan to serve on gay gingham cloth out on the porch or in the garden. The main course, hot and sizzling from the broiler, is easily carried outside.

Select meats for broiling from this list: chopped beef or lamb, sausage, frankfurters, steaks, chicken (broilers), corned beef hash, leftover chopped meat, small pieces of meat on skewers, bacon, sweetbreads, pre-cooked ham slices, lamb chops, bacon or sausage.

Pre-cooked or canned potatoes may be used with the meats, as well as cooked vegetables which need simply to be reheated.

Broiled Lamb Chops Dinner (Serves 10)
10 pear halves
3 tablespoons melted butter
5 tomatoes, halved
1/4 cup chopped onion
Salt and pepper
Parmesan Cheese
10 loin lamb chops (about 1-inch thick)
3 teaspoons mint jelly
Parsley

Drain pear halves thoroughly. Brush lightly with butter. Brush tomatoes with butter. Spread 1 teaspoon of onion on each half, season with salt and pepper and sprinkle with cheese. Arrange lamb chops on broiler and broil 8 to 10 minutes. Turn, if necessary. Arrange tomatoes and parsley on broiler, and finish broiling, another 8 to 10 minutes, or until degree of doneness desired is reached. Just before serving, place mint jelly in pear halves. Garnish with parsley.

Broiled Sausage and Pineapple (Serves 4-6)
1 pound sausage (links or bulk)
4-6 slices pineapple
Leftover potatoes, peas and carrots.

Use sausage links or form bulk sausage into patties. Arrange on broiling pan. Arrange pineapple next to sausage and place potatoes, halved, and peas and carrots in pan underneath sausage and pineapple. Broil until sausage and pineapple are browned. Note: Pineapple

HOW LONG MEATS are to be broiled is entirely a matter of personal preference. In any case, the exterior of the meat should be uniformly browned and be plump and full in appearance.

Red steak has a rosy red interior; medium steak is light pink, while well done steak shows no sign of pink.

A minute or two before steaks are supposed to be cooked according to preference, cut a gash near the bone, turn back meat and see if it meets your desires.

Broiled Steak, Au Gratin Potatoes (Serves 4-6)
4-5 potatoes, cooked and diced
1 1/2 cups thin cream sauce
1/2 cup sharp grated cheese
1/4 cup fine bread crumbs
1 T-Bone steak (1 1/2 to 2 inches thick)

Place potatoes in baking dish and cover with cream sauce. Mix cheese and crumbs and spread over top. Place potatoes in the oven set at 400° and let bake for 20 minutes. Place steak on broiling rack, and broil until done. For a medium rare steak, the broiling time required will be from 20 to 25 minutes for the thickness mentioned above.

Broiled Ham with Limas (Serves 4-6)
1 slice ham, 3/4-inch thick
2 cups cooked lima beans
Salt and pepper
2 cups grated American cheese
2 cups grapefruit segments
1 1/2 tablespoons butter
2 tablespoons brown sugar

Broil ham until lightly browned, about 10 minutes. Heat lima beans and pile on top of ham; season with salt and pepper and sprinkle with cheese. To one side of the ham, place grapefruit segments. Brush with butter and sprinkle with sugar. Reduce heat and broil until cheese melts and grapefruit browns slightly.

Broiled Chicken
Clean two-pound chickens thoroughly. Split down the back and flatten out by pressing with the hands. Brush skin and underside with butter, then season with salt and pepper. The chicken may first be placed in a hot oven to cook for 15 to 20 minutes, then in the broiler to complete the cooking, another 15 to 30 minutes, depending upon how done one likes it.

Broiled Beef Patties (Serves 6)
1 pound ground beef
Salt and pepper
1/4 cup chili sauce
2 tablespoons fine bread crumbs
6 onion rings

Season meat with salt and pepper; blend in chili sauce and bread crumbs. Shape into six flat patties and top with onion rings. Broil until plump, brown and done, as desired.

Keep broiler pans washed after each use as the fat and drippings from meat, fish and fowl will easily turn rancid and make your cleaning greater if you let it go.

Plan broiler meals for a time when you have leftover, cooked vegetables on hand that can be heated with the meat; otherwise, use canned or freshly cooked vegetables.

The thicker the cut of meat broiled, the further away from the heat of the flame it should be placed.

SCRIPTURE: The Book of Jonah. DEVOTIONAL READING: Ephesians 3: 14-21.

Peevish Prophet

Lesson for June 25, 1950.

JONAH THOUGHT he knew better than God. When men said, "Be a prophet," Jonah decided to take a long vacation. He took a ship for a far place so far away he thought even God could not follow. When God said, "Preach to Nineveh," Jonah decided that was the very thing he did not want to do. When God said, in effect, "Be a missionary," Jonah thought he would rather be a tourist. Of all the prophets on record, Jonah was the peevish one.

The remarkable and unique little book of Jonah is perhaps the most misunderstood book in the Bible. Nobody knows how much ink has been wasted on the whale (which, incidentally, was not a whale but a fish!), whereas the real message of Jonah is not about whales at all. It is about taking the message of God to the most unlikely places in the world; it is the story of how the very people who ought to be doing it, sometimes won't do it.

Does God Care? CONSIDER the good reasons Jonah might have given for not going to Nineveh. They are like the reasons people give nowadays for not believing in foreign missions. (A mission so Nineveh was about as foreign a mission as any one could have thought of, in those days.

Reason number one: The Ninevites were mean people. So they were, Assyria, of which Nineveh was the capital city, had done, and would do, Israel more harm than any other enemy she had.

The Ninevites were an unscrupulous, greedy people. They knew no law but force. They spread by violence into many a country. They were the nation nobody loved.

Should the message of God be given to such a city? Jonah thought not; God said it should.

And of course, God was right. If the message of God had been sent only to peoples and nations that "deserved" such a favor, God's messengers would all have stayed at home.

Too Far From God REASON number two: Nineveh is a long way off. Indeed it was. To reach Nineveh, Jonah would have to pass through at least a dozen other cities, all of which no doubt needed preachers. Were there not enough people at home who needed preaching? Of course there were. . . . Only Jonah did not preach to them. He had a wonderful missionary opportunity there on the ship. Every man of the crew was a heathen. But Jonah was fast asleep.

This is often too true. People will protest about foreign missions; why send preachers and doctors and teachers and money so far away? Aren't there plenty of heathen right at home? Of course; but you won't often find the objector to foreign missions doing much about it.

Any church that is awake and active in supporting foreign missions will be found to be just as alive and intelligent in meeting the problems of the neighborhood.

Judge The World REASON number three: (This sounds like a silly reason, but Jonah actually put it forward—Jonah 4:2.) God is too good! What was the use of preaching to Nineveh, Jonah wanted to know, if God was going to be gracious and not destroy the city with fire from the sky?

If God is good and merciful, why should we bother about sending missionaries anywhere? Won't he save every one anyhow? Isn't God too good to judge the world?

Jonah overlooked the fact that God had mercy on the Ninevites because they repented. Nowhere in the Bible is there any encouragement to believe that God has mercy on the unrepentant. To all who turn to him, God is gracious; and the job of the missionary, whatever else he does, is to persuade people to turn to God. Be ye reconciled to God," said Paul, the great Christian missionary. If rebels will not lay down their arms, how can there be an amnesty?

The great tragedy of Judaism is the tragedy of Jonah: God wanted his people to win the world; but they became ingrown, they ceased even to wish to be a missionary faith. Shall the same tragedy overtake Christianity?

Reckon So

A midwesterner, traveling in the East for the first time, was on his way to Philadelphia. He became nervous as he neared his destination, and when the train stopped at North Philadelphia wondered if he should have gotten off. He didn't, however, and, turning to his seatmate for assurance, asked if the train would stop at the Broad street terminal. "Well, I certainly hope so," was the reply, "because if it doesn't we shall all be in a devil of a mess."
