FEBRUARY USHERS IN FOUR IMPORTANT DATES

This month might almost be called the month of holidays, as it begins and ends with festivals and has a few of them scattered all through it.

The first one comes today, February 2nd, when, according to tradition the shy little ground hog comes out of his winter bedroom for a peep at the weather prospects. If he sees his shadow, we are told, he ducks back for an additional six weeks nap. Thus avoiding part of our sandstorms.

Whether or not his shadow has anything to do with it, dwellers in this section can usually count on at least six weeks more winter weather, with all the accompaniment of cold fingers and noses, blankets, overcoats, and fuel bills.

Origin of this myth is shrouded in the mists of antiquity, and we have never heard an authentic story as to how it started, but for scores of years it has been firmly believed.

February 12 is celebrated in our own country and observed in others in honor of the birth of Abraham Lincoln, martyred president of the United States, known in every civilized land as the Great Emancipator.

February 14th is a favorite holiday of children and lovers in every country as the birthday of the patron saint of sweethearts, St. Valentine.

February 22nd is the birthday of George Washington, and has a special place in the life of every American citizen and institution.

THE SALES TAX

Governor Miriam A. Ferguson threw a bombshell into a big lot of her supporters when she announced for a sales tax, but as soon as her proposal is fully expounded they will adopt her way of thinking as theirs in much the same way that the Ferguson followers have done in all the years since 1915.

But regardless of who pronounced the idea and put it in the middle of Texas legislative consideration, there are many arguments in its favor. In favor of the pure and unadulterated sales tax, not a gross sales tax—and provided it will be made to take the place of numerous other taxes including the state ad valorem tax. There are many arguments against the sales tax, too, of course. But the principal argument against such a move is the possibility of a hastily written and ill-advised law. Texas has had a great many of such in the past decade.

Granting that such a law could be written so that it would spread over the whole state and the burden borne by all in proportion to their purchases, it would undoubtedly be as successful in Texas as it has in Mississippi.

We agree with the statement made by Peter Molyneux in the Texas Weekly where he says that the sales tax seems to be the only practicable and effective way to deal with the twelve million dollar deficit in the state budget. While it seems that a twelve million dollar deficit is not alarming to a state, it ought to be looked into, and straightened out before it gets worse. The sales tax is offered in place of the state tax on homesteaded property with a valuation of less than $3,000. The sales tax which would be paid by the manufacturer, who is paid by the retailer, who is paid by the consumer, would be given back to the tax payer in the form of school services, according to the plans.

13 SPADES IN BRIDGE HAND

The expert will tell you that one doesn't get 13 cards of one suit very often in a card game. But it happens more frequently than they will admit. Some persons have been so surprised and shocked at starting into such a hand that they have died of heart failure. They had been told that they had but one chance in millions to hold all 13 hearts, clubs, diamonds or spades.

Walter Smith, a real estate broker of Los Angeles, recently got this one during a life game, but he didn't take advantage of it. Nor did it cause his heart to stop beating. Walter was playing bridge with some friends. He stepped out of the room for a minute and when he returned and picked up his hand it contained 13 spades.

Being one of those who think such things don't happen, he thought it a joke and threw the cards down on the table face up. "You can't kid me," he said, and intimated that the perfect hand had been fixed while he was out of the room. It hadn't however, and another player, fortunate enough to get a "perfect hand" lost probably the only chance he will ever have to play it.

CONFEDERATE PENSION FUND

One of the funds of the state, designated to be of great value to Confederates and their dependents, runs wide loose at both ends, one of the stories from the auditor's office disclosed. This fund, now administered under the pension amendment (that the people voted in 1928, mind you, cuss yourself, not somebody at Austin), has no money in it. It began running behind a year or two ago, when the borrower, $2,000,000 from some other fund, we forget which one, and by the end of 1935, Mr. Lynn, estimates, if something is not done about it, the fund will be so far behind that the entire revenues for four years would not pay off the deficit even if no further pensions were paid. Of course the warrants will be worth only a fraction of their face value. Prior to 1928 pensioners were limited to indigents and the amount paid was limited to the funds available. The way we have it now the amounts payable are specifically fixed by statute, with no attempt to keep the total payments within the total revenue. The indigents we in end to help, therefore, will suffer, and the others whom we bigwaggerly voted to put on the rolls will get nothing unless a change is made.

SO THEY SAY THAT GAME OF BASKET BALL HAD AN ANCESTOR IN YUCATAN

Chicago, Jan. 28.—The game of basketball, considered purely an American sport, invented by Dr. James Naismith of Kansas University 40 years ago, seems to have acquired—or had thrust upon it—an "ancestor" Dr. Naismith, then at Springfield College, formulated the rules of the game in the Winter of 1891-92 with out any pattern other than a set of requirements set up by Dr. Luther Gulick, director of physical education who wanted a game with little body contact, which would be played indoors by a large number of individuals.

Now along comes Maj. George Oakley Totten, Jr., of Washington, D. C. an architect, who offers a game played 2000 years and years ago in Yucatan by the Mayas, as a possible forerunner of the American indoor game.

Major Totten got his idea from investigation of Maya ruins, which include a huge court upon which the ancient game was played. It was constructed of limestone and consisted of two parallel walls, 119 feet apart and 275 feet long. The game was played on a limestone floor and the object he believes was to throw some sort of a ball through stone rings, located in the center of each wall. Each ring was four feet in diameter, 11 inches thick and had a hole in the center 18 inches in diameter.

Instead of being set horizontal to the floor, however, as in basketball they were vertical. From the size of the court, 25 or 30 players might have worked for each team. Major Totten does not say what kind of ball was used or whether there were any such things as personal fouls and free throws.

The court, which Major Totten hopes to reproduce for the world's fair next summer is located at a place called Chichen Itza, Yucatan, and is part of a famous ancient Maya group. The game he says, apparently was brought in by the Nahuas about 1200 A. D.

GAS LEAKS ARE EXPENSIVE

About 15 per cent of the gas you buy is lost through leaks in your piping according to government experts.

This waste, which is often the cause of high gas bills, may be prevented easily.

A leak that may appear trifling to you will, in the course of a year, increase your bills considerably. A loss of only one cent per every 15 minutes will waste almost 3,000 cubic feet of gas.

The waste of gas is considered so very important by the West Texas Gas Company that it spends a large sum annually in effort to keep the leakage in distributing systems as low as possible.

HOW TO FIND LEAKS

On every domestic meter is a dial marked "One Foot" or "Two Feet". This is used for detecting leaks.

Turn off all the fires in your house and note the position of the needle on the small dial of your meter. Then look at it a few minutes later. If the hand has moved, there is a leak—for the meter will not work unless gas is going through it.

To find just where the leak is located, cover each joint with strong soap suds. If the gas is escaping it will bubble through suds. If you then do not know how to fix the leak, call a plumber.

NEVER LOOK FOR A GAS LEAK WITH A MATCH

Our service departments is always ready to help you with all of your gas problems—and, its services are absolutely free.

You'll say:
"Whoa, Engine! what's got into you?"

Here's gas to excite motors. It makes them quick on the trigger... fast on the move. Choking is hardly required for a quick, snappy start and a take-off like a quail on the wing.

Even old motors... wheezy, storting, complaining motors... cut capers you just can't believe. If you doubt it, just try it. It's like rich, racing blood injected into old veins.

This gasoline is so new... so "different"... so quick, fast, powerful, and economical, it's hard to give it a name. Perhaps YOU can. When you FEEL your motor's response, it may come to you like a flash.

Ask at any Conoco station for the new bronze-colored, high-test gasoline—and an entry blank. Help name it and describe it. You may win a part of $10,000. You are SURE to win a grand, new thrill, and that is worth a heap. Make the test TODAY.

GAS LEAKS ARE EXPENSIVE

About 15 per cent of the gas you buy is lost through leaks in your piping, according to government experts.

This waste, which is often the cause of high gas bills, may be prevented easily.

A leak that may appear trifling to you will, in the course of time, increase your bills considerably. A loss of only one cent per foot every 15 minutes will waste almost 3,000 cubic feet a month.

The waste of gas is considered so very important by the West Texas Gas Company that it spends a large sum annually, in effort to keep the leakage in distributing systems as low as possible.

HOW TO FIND LEAKS

On every domestic meter is a dial marked "One Foot" or "Two Feet". This is used for detecting leaks.

Turn off all the fires in your house and note the position of the dial on the small dial of your meter. Then look at it a while later. If the hand has moved, there is a leak—for the meter will not work unless gas is going through it.

To find just where the leak is located, cover each joint with a strong soap suds. If the gas is escaping it will bubble through suds. If you then do not know how to fix the leak, call a plumber.

NEVER LOOK FOR A GAS LEAK WITH A MATCH

Our service departments is always ready to help you with all of your gas problems—and, its services are absolutely free.

You'll say: "Whoa, Engine! what's got into you?"

Here's gas to excite motors. It makes them quick on the trigger... fast on the move. Choking is hardly required for a quick, snappy start and a take-off like a quail on the wing.

Even old motors... wheezy, sporting, complaining motors... cut capers you just can't believe. If you doubt it, just try it. It's like rich, racing blood injected into old veins.

This gasoline is so new... so "different"... so quick, fast, powerful, and economical, it's hard to give it a name. Perhaps YOU can. When you FEEL your motor's response, it may come to you like a flash.

Ask at any Conoco station for the new bronze-colored, high-test gasoline—and an entry blank. Help name it and describe it. You may win a part of $100,000. You are SURE to win a grand, new thrill, and that is worth a heap. Make the test TODAY.

REALLY FORGOTTEN

The real "forgotten man" is discovered, is the man who was Vice President during the late Calvin Coolidge's term as chief executive. Just to test out the memory of the citizens a Fresno, Cal., newspaper sent out its reporters with orders to stop people on the streets, in public buildings, and elsewhere and ask: "Who was vice president during Calvin Coolidge's administration?"

Out of thirty-seven persons asked the question, two knew the answer, the newspaper reports. The other 35 admitted: "I ought to know, but somehow it seems to have slipped my memory."

The answer? certainly—Charles G. Dawes, the gentleman with the upside-down pipe and tendency toward emphatic remarks.

WILL TAKE MOVIES OF OCEAN TEN MILES DEEP

San Pedro, Cal.—The first leg of a novel expedition during which motion pictures will be taken at the deepest spot in the ocean and specimens of marine life will be caught with a ten mile cable and nets a mile apart, was started when Leon F. Douglas, noted inventor sailed from here.

Douglas will join Eldridge R. Johnson aboard the former's yacht at Havana, and the expedition will begin in earnest. Scientists of the Smithsonian Institution will also join the party.

With the giant nets and long cables it was hoped to obtain specimens from ocean depths which have never been seen by man. A specially designed motion picture outfit will be sunk to hitherto unpenetrated depths where pictures will be made. A special diving bell will carry the photographers to the bottom.

INFORMATION GIVEN ON PRUNING ROSE BUSHES

Warning to home gardeners not to prune rose bushes at this time has been issued by the Tarrant County Rose Society.

Do not prune rose bushes until the last of February even though the roses have started growing.

Brief instructions follow:

Prune 8 to 10 bud eyes for large bushes if you wish to make height and many blooms. Prune four to six eyes for smaller plants and those you wish to produce quality blooms. This refers to established plants only. Transplanted or newly planted roses should be pruned to four to six eyes at the time of planting.

Rose plants should be fertilized in February after they are pruned in September.

These instructions apply only to bush roses. Climbing roses should never be pruned in the Spring except to cut away dead or injured wood. Prune climbers after they have finished blooming in late Spring or early Summer.

THE OLDEST FREE SCHOOL BUILDING

The old school building built by George Washington at Alexandria in 1783, known then as the public school, is still in use by the public school system of that city, was marked with a bronze plaque recently in the ceremony were the Federal Office of Education, the National Education Association, the Washington Society of Alexandria and the American Legion.

The history of this building was forgotten for many years until recently the Washington Society discovered a letter from the first president to Jefferson in which it was stated that it was created "for the education and support of poor children, especially the descendants of those who had fallen in the defense of their country."

The old "three-story brick structure is probably the oldest free school building in continuous use in the United States. It faces the new Mount Vernon Boulevard and is used for the overflow from the grade school building next to it.

G. C. Johnson of Lamesa was in O'Donnell on business Tuesday morning, purchasing plow tools and stock preparatory to beginning another crop year.

MOLLIES ALL FEMALES

Dr. Carl L. Hubbs, zoologist of the University of Michigan, has discovered a race of fish that are all females. These lady fishes live by themselves and propagate their kind independently of males. Scientifically they are called Mollienis Formosa, but mollies for short. The mollies are a tropical species of fish which give birth to their young instead of laying eggs.

METHODIST CHURCH NEWS

W. R. Barnett, Pastor
We had a splendid crowd at our morning worship hour at 11 o'clock last Sunday morning. We regret that there were several absent on account of sickness. We trust that all those sick will soon be recovered. We are planning for a great service next Sunday morning and hope to see even larger crowd present than we had last Sunday.

Our Sunday school attendance last Sunday morning was also better than it has been for some time. If you are not attending some other Sunday School come and meet with us next Sunday. We have a place for you. You will find the Sunday School helpful and you will help the Sunday School.

The young people and Hi-Leaguers meet at 6:45 every Sunday evening. These organizations are doing splendid work. They invite all young people to come and meet with them.

The outdoor worship service is held at 7:30 P. M. Those who come will find this service inspirational and helpful.

Don't miss the play "Ten Nights in a Barroom." This play will be presented at the High School Auditorium Friday night, Feb. 3, at 8 o'clock. This play is brought to O'Donnell by the Woman's Missionary Society of the Methodist church. It is one of the most impressive performances that you will ever have the privilege of witnessing.

Everyone will find a cordial welcome at all the services of the Methodist church. Come and worship with us.

We were glad to have visitors to worship with us. You will find a welcome at the Baptist church.

Mrs. Pete McMillan, correspondent

Draw did not come over Friday and play ball, so rather than disappoint those who came, the outside boys played the school boys. The score was 16 and 18 in favor of the school boys.

Weldon McMillan spent the week end with Alva Boales.

Mrs. Charlie Watson has been confined to her bed for the past week with the Asthma.

Some of the young folks surprised Arthur McMillan and family Sunday night by bringing their musical instruments and entertaining them with music.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill McMillan of the Randall community moved where Homer Aldridge lived last year.

The people of the community are to meet at the school house Tuesday night and select characters for the play which is to be presented in March.

J. C. McCarley, W. M. Walker, Buster and John McMillan had a car wreck Saturday night. We do not know just how it occurred but the boys were not hurt. Both cars were badly torn up, wrecking the front fenders and headlights.

HUNTERS RETURN TUESDAY FROM TRIP TO OLD MEXICO

C. L. Davis, W. L. Gardenhire, M. C. Hamilton, D. J. Bolch, and Lon E. Jones returned late Tuesday afternoon from a ten-days hunting trip in the interior of Old Mexico, and report that they had one of the most wonderful trips they have ever enjoyed.

Mr. Davis and Mr. Hamilton each killed a deer, but the others were not so successful. However, members of the party were so interested and so enthusiastic over the country that they have not yet told much of the actual hunting part of the trip.

They describe that section as being well watered, with pleasant valleys lying between timbered mountains. Principal industry is ranching. The hunters told of one ranch sixty miles head, stocked with sixty thousand head of whiteface cattle. The ranch here, was 210 steps across the front, Mr. Davis stated, and is conservatively estimated to have cost one million dollars. There are two such houses on this ranch, situated about twenty miles apart. The ranch is company owned, the manager living in San Antonio.

The hunters were too thrilled over the whole trip to give a very connected report Tuesday, but they will likely go into more detail as they tell about the jaunt into foreign lands.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Christopher were guests of their parents here on Monday and Tuesday. They have recently purchased the Sinclair service station at Tahoka.

PLAN TOURNAMENT FOR GIRLS BASKET BALL

J. B. Pace, Jr., director general of the University Interscholastic League of Lynn County, announces that it has been decided by the district officers to have a contest in girls' basketball for the year 1932-33.

Mr. Pace requests representatives of all schools in the county interested in this activity and who desire to enter a team in the tournament to meet at the office of the county superintendent at five o'clock Monday afternoon.

Representatives from local schools will be present, it was unofficially stated here Monday afternoon.
Born to Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Ratliff on January 28, a fine nine pound son. Mother and baby are doing well.

HELPFUL HINTS

Before wearing new shoes place them in a warm place for a few minutes, this will make the leather more pliable.

Never use soap to wash a raincoat. Use a solution of one pound of alum to three gallons of water.

To brighten aluminum ware cook a little tomato in it.

When clothes have become mildewed soak them in buttermilk and hang in the sun.

To prevent eggs from cracking when boiling first wet them with cold water before dropping them into the boiling water.

Olive oil dropped at the foot of a vine will greatly improve its growth.

HINTS FOR PASTRY COOK

Put on eggs and butter and if dough cover with a child's clean white stocking. Then rolling can be accomplished with less flour than ordinarily required.

Pastry will handle more easily if it is thoroughly chilled. That is why many housewives now do their mixing the day before and allow it to stand in the refrigerator or cooler until wanted.

A soft pie crust, if rolled on oiled paper and the pie pan inverted thereon, is less likely to break in handling.

Bobby and his mother were taking a railroad trip and in the sleeper they had an upper berth. In the night Bobby waked up and his mother asked, "Do you know where we are Bobby?"

"Sure I do," Bobby replied, "We are in the top drawer."

"At eight o'clock I said to my wife 'Let's go for a canoe trip on the river.' At a quarter past eight we started out. A squall came up while we were on the river and the canoe capsized. Luckily a sailfish came along just then and I threw a rope around him and made him tow us to the shore where we landed safely. You smile—but what do you find incredible about that?"

A voice—"That part about your wife being ready at a quarter past eight."

Restaurant Patron: "The under crust of this chicken pie was so tough I could hardly eat it."

Waiter: "There wasn't any under crust to that pie. It was served on a paper plate, and you've eaten it. But we won't charge you for it."

If the farmers could only get for their products what the consumers have to pay for them there wouldn't be any need for farm relief.

"A friend of mine is the most absent minded person you ever saw."

"Well, it doesn't hurt him any, does it?"

"It hurt him today when he swallowed a dime and gave a bus conductor a pill for his fare."

Warden to new prisoner: "If you are skilled in some particular pursuit we shall be glad to let you follow it."

Prisoner: "Thank you very much, I am an aviator."

Mr. and Mrs. Johnnie Rochelle of Tahoka were guests of relatives here Sunday.
