

THE O'DONNELL INDEX

O'DONNELL, LYNN COUNTY, TEXAS, FRIDAY, JULY 25, 1920

VOLUME VII NUMBER 44

TOUR PROVES PRIMARY ELECTION DAY Evangelistic Meetings Progress Here

MANY REVIVAL MEETINGS HERE DURING SUMMER

Denominations in O'Donnell and Surrounding Section To Be Active

With several revival meetings now in progress and others announced to begin within a week or two, the various denominations are busy in and around O'Donnell. At this city the South Side Baptist Church starts its revival Sunday morning, with the pastor, Rev. George Fletcher, doing the preaching. Meetings will continue over Sunday and possibly into next week. The Church of Christ meeting will start Friday and continue through the first Sunday in August, with J. Childress doing the preaching. The First Baptist will begin its summer revival this week with the Rev. McKinley Norman, Quana pastor, doing the preaching. C. H. Mansell of this city will direct the singing, and the Rev. L. S. Jenkins, will have charge of the children's booster band. Mansell extends an invitation to members of other churches to co-operate in the meeting, which will be held at the tabernacle west of the church. The union meetings of the Methodist and Cumberland Presbyterian churches will begin the second Sunday in August at the tabernacle to be held west of the Methodist church, with Rev. W. O. Parr, of the Presbyterian Church preaching at the same, and Rev. C. A. Duncan, Methodist, bringing the morning message.

W. K. Horn, former pastor of the First Baptist Church here, is doing the preaching in a meeting at Central Church between Tahoka and here. C. H. Mansell has charge of the music in a meeting at the same place. This meeting begins Friday and will continue through Saturday and possibly into next week. The Bethel Baptist Church 9 miles west of O'Donnell is in the midst of a revival, with the pastor, Rev. Hoover, doing the preaching. L. S. Jenkins has the ordination sermon Sunday afternoon when four were ordained to the ministry. Those ordained were G. W. Godwin, Mr. Cook, Mr. Adams and Embury Townsend. A meeting at T-Bar which began Sunday night. Pastor Jenkins of Bethel preached the opening sermon.

W. S. Willis, Messrs. W. E. Ellis and Bruce Willis, all of Worth, were the guests Tuesday night, and Mrs. J. B. Miles, George and Claude Tomlinson, and Mrs. Willis is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Miles, and she and her sons were known to local people. Returning to their homes they will be at Carlsbad, N. M.

Mr. T. A. Mellroy returned Saturday from San Antonio. She was accompanied by her daughter, Mrs. D. Dominguez.

AN UNUSUAL TREAT FOR OUR READERS IN THE SERIAL

The Handsome Man

MARGARET TURNBULL

Sparkling story of youth, love and adventure, woven about interesting characters and overflowing with humor. STARTS THIS WEEK IN THE INDEX

5 NEW WELLS ASSURE PLENTY OF WATER NOW

City Council Buys Park Site Where New Wells Located; Due Much Credit

With five new wells added to the city's water supply, O'Donnell now has water in abundance, according to Water Commissioner O. D. Howard, who said yesterday that the wells now are capable of producing 3,000 gallons of water an hour, or 72,000 gallons a day. The new wells have been drilled on a block in the northeast corner of the town section which the council purchased for the purpose last week. Only one dry hole was drilled, and the water supply has been tripled with the additional wells, Mr. Howard said. The city Council is due much credit for its quick action in getting the water problem solved. Three weeks ago it tackled the problem. At that time the water supply was being cut off daily. Soon it was only necessary to reduce the pressure several hours a day, and then with the completion of one good well the full pressure was turned on. The four additional wells now assure ample water for all purposes. Due to the heavy expense of fitting out these wells, it will be impossible to reduce the rate this year, Mr. Howard said. None of the wells is what might be considered a large producer, and the cost of pumping remains the same, he said.

POST BAPTIST ENCAMPMENT STARTS MONDAY

At two Draw Lake, one mile north of Post, on Monday the Baptist will begin their annual encampment for this section of the South Plains and adjoining counties. This encampment has been held for over six years and this year's program promises to be the best of any yet, according to officers.

The lake is well filled with fresh water which assures fine swimming, boating, fishing, etc., all free except boating, which will be reasonable. Some of the outstanding teachers and preachers will fill places on the program. Home town folks and B. Y. P. U., Church Administration, and Women's work will be offered, as well as care to take such courses. The music will be fine. Let all who have musical instruments bring them and help in the music. Tent and cot will be for rent on the grounds but no bedding for rent.

80-POUND BULL CALF LATEST ARRIVAL IN HESTER DAIRY HERD

A bull calf weighing 80 pounds the first day after his arrival is the new boss of the herd at E. W. Hester's farm, two miles south of O'Donnell. The husky youngster arrived Saturday night, and is out of the finest blooded cow in the herd. His sire is "Mr. Hester's famous Buttercup."

"Buttercup's Big Boy", which will in all probability be the best bull, shows white on four feet and both flanks, resembling the finest show animals of the Buttercup strain. He will probably make many prizes in various shows, and already Mr. Hester is laying plans to enter him in the National Dairy Show within a year or two.

The average weight of a calf of this strain at birth is around 45 pounds. Mr. Hester said that his mother is now giving over six gallons of milk a day.

Mr. and Mrs. Jeff Musick and family are visiting in Tolar and Dallas this week. They left Sunday.

Mrs. C. J. Milliron of Wichita Falls, the guest of her aunt, Mrs. L. T. Brewer.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Glyn Cantrell of the Draw community on July 19, a girl.

Mrs. George Foster and daughter, Francis, and Maden McLaurin spent Sunday in the breaks where they enjoyed a picnic.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Jones on July 19, an eight and one-half pound boy.

How Will They Stand After The First Primary?

Are you a good guesser? Or, are you a good political forecaster? Which ever way you care to put it, try your hand at naming the order of the candidates for governor of Texas after the first primary.

Below is a list of the candidates for governor arranged in Alphabetical order. The Index will give a two-year subscription to the winner of first prize, a one-year subscription as a second prize, and a six-month subscription as third prize.

- HERE THEY ARE
- Miriam A. Ferguson
  - Thomas B. Love
  - Paul Lovan
  - Earle B. Mayfield
  - Barry Miller
  - C. C. "Soapy" Moody
  - Frank Putnam
  - Clint C. Small
  - R. S. Sterling
  - C. E. Walker
  - James Young
- Signed _____ Address _____

This blank must be filled out in full and returned to the Index office not later than Saturday, July 26, at 5 p. m. Only one guess is allowed for each person. It costs you nothing.

CROPS HOLD UP THROUGH DRY WEATHER

Two-Inch Rain Ordered By The Index Has Not Arrived But Due Soon

Although some of the early feed is suffering from dry weather, the crops in this section as a whole are holding up exceptionally well, according to reports from various parts of Lynn and Dawson Counties. Many farmers report that they are able to dig up plenty of moisture in their fields. The cotton continues to grow and put on square and bloom. Visitors here say the crop is better in this country than in many other sections of Texas. Home town folks who have returned from other states report conditions here better than in any other part of the country.

Although the two-inch rain the Index ordered last week has not arrived yet, the week is little more than gone. Home town weather prognosticators are predicting a good rain by the first of August. At any rate, there is no cause for anxiety for even without another drop of rain Lynn County would make more cotton than it did last year, many believe.

TEXAS HAS 5,810,638 PEOPLE

The population of Texas, as announced by the Associated Press on Wednesday afternoon, is 5,810,638, an increase of 1,147,455 or 24.62 per cent gain since 1920. This is the greatest numerical increase Texas has had during any ten years in its history. And yet it seems certain in the face of this official figure, that Texas will lose place as fifth State in population within the next two or three years, making her second California. For it shows that the population is now only 186,401 more than that of California, whereas ten years ago it had 1,236,447 more people than California. If the representative ratios of increase during the past ten years should continue California should pass Texas within two years for its average annual numerical increase during the period has been 109,000 greater than that of Texas. At such a rate it will not take long to wipe out a difference of 186,401. So we may as well make up our minds to face the brutal truth that the first time since annexation Texas is about to move down a step among the States.—The Texas Week.

John A. Anderson, Desmond Yandell and V. B. Hohn of O'Donnell attended a special service for men and boys at Tahoka Sunday afternoon. Pastor O. J. Hall of the Tahoka Baptist Church delivered a fine sermon. The Tahoka church is in the midst of a revival meeting.

Mrs. W. S. Cathey and sons, Mr. and Mrs. N. B. Cathey and Uncle Jim Cathey left Dora, N. H. last Wednesday for points in Arizona.

O'DONNELLITES ATTEND COTTON MEETS TUESDAY

May Secure Sub-Station For Handling Cotton Under New Co-Op Plan This Fall

Mass meetings at Tahoka and Lamesa Tuesday were attended by a committee of O'Donnell business men who were appointed at a call meeting of the chamber of commerce Monday afternoon. These meetings were held for the purpose of discussing the cotton marketing plan of the farm board and the possibility of securing branch offices and sub-stations. The Tahoka meeting was held at 2:30, the Lamesa get-together at night. The local committee was composed of Guy Bradley, J. P. Bowlin, W. C. Sault, J. L. Shoemaker, Chas. H. Doak and G. S. Dowell. It is possible, Mr. Dowell said, that O'Donnell will be given a sub-station for the receiving and classing of cotton. A guarantee that 7500 bales will be handled must be signed, and the ginners have virtually agreed to pay half of the additional expense.

DARE-DEVIL OFFICER BRAVES "HEN" PARTY TUESDAY

B. L. Parker, candidate for sheriff of Lynn County, has long held the reputation of being a fearless peace officer, but his bravery was put to the crucial test Tuesday afternoon.

The dauntless officer, driving through the town seeking those to whom he might lecture, found that most of the ladies were unaccountably absent from their domiciles. District Manager R. J. Murray of Lubbock has appointed two district organizations, who will assist in preparations for the drive for members to start soon.

When he returned to the party continued to the Grand Canyon. Both Mr. and Mrs. Doak refused to even try to describe the party, saying that words could never do it justice. The return route was partly on the Santa Fe Trail via Holbrook, St. Johns, Mingerville, Magdalena, and on home.

Mr. Doak says that there was just one city to be whole trip; he was to furnish the ideas and Mr. Rodgers the money, and the money played out before the ideas.

Due to complications following the accidental shooting of his left eye Sunday July 13, L. N. Nichols of this city was forced to return to the Lubbock Sanitarium Friday for the removal of the injured eyeball. It was at first thought that it would not be necessary to remove the eye, but the member failed to do as well as expected. Mr. Nichols will be home by the time this reaches the readers, as he is doing fine.

CHANGE IN INDEX TO BE MADE AUGUST 1

Editor Tells Half Interest in Paper To Pass Next Friday

O. D. Carter, who has been the editor of the O'Donnell Index in partnership with W. H. Ritzenhaller, since March 1 of this year, has sold his half interest to his partner. The change in ownership will be effective August 1. Only one more issue of the Index will be published under the ownership of Ritzenhaller & Carter and all accounts under the ownership will be due and payable August 1. Mr. Carter has not announced his future plans. Mr. Ritzenhaller will assume sole control the first of the month.

ABOUT THIS EDITION

You have probably noticed that this is a "Political Edition" of the Index. It was at first planned to combine the "Milk Plant Edition" with this one, but a change of the plans was made necessary because of the postponement of the formal opening date of the milk plant at Lamesa. Next week we will issue our "Milk Plant Edition" which will carry the announcement of the formal opening of the plant and many articles of interest to milk plant boosters. Many extra copies will be printed, and business firms will have the opportunity of sending their names to the additional readers. Already, the Index has ad copy for the "Milk Plant Edition". Tuesday noon is the deadline next week. Of course, the Index will carry the latest election news next week.

DOAKS RETURN WEDNESDAY FROM LONG TOUR

Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Doak returned Wednesday morning from a three-weeks' automobile trip to points of national interest. They have been urged to compile several articles dealing with some of the most interesting phases of their tour and if they can be prevailed upon to do so, our readers will have a treat in store.

Following the romantic old Santa Fe Trail, they touched such points of historical interest as Santa Fe, Ft. Sumner, Las Vegas, Gorieta Pass, on to Bernalillo, Cuba, the San Juan mountains to the Grand Canyon where they spent some time in the prehistoric pueblos, Pueblo Bonito, a vast apartment house of a prehistoric culture, hundreds of and sixty-four rooms on the ground floor, and with five stories still standing in many places; Pueblo Aurora and Chaco Canyon. The history of these vast buildings goes back four hundred years when the first appeared in the traditions of the Navajo Indians, but their origin and the fate of their architects and inhabitants remains shrouded in mystery. With forty-nine of these remains, scientists estimate that this was one time the site of a city of some two thousand inhabitants. One of the most puzzling features is the source of water, since it is located in desert country.

From Chaco Canyon they returned to the Santa Fe Trail at Thoreau, turned off to see the Painted Desert at Navajo, the Petrified Forests at Holbrook, and from there on to Meteor Mountain, Flagstaff, the San Francisco Mountains, Williams, and camped in the Grand Canyon. The Williams mountains while Mr. and Mrs. Major H. Rodgers of Levelland went on to California to visit relatives there.

When they returned the party continued to the Grand Canyon. Both Mr. and Mrs. Doak refused to even try to describe the party, saying that words could never do it justice. The return route was partly on the Santa Fe Trail via Holbrook, St. Johns, Mingerville, Magdalena, and on home.

RETURNS TO HOSPITAL FOR REMOVAL OF EYEBALL

Due to complications following the accidental shooting of his left eye Sunday July 13, L. N. Nichols of this city was forced to return to the Lubbock Sanitarium Friday for the removal of the injured eyeball. It was at first thought that it would not be necessary to remove the eye, but the member failed to do as well as expected. Mr. Nichols will be home by the time this reaches the readers, as he is doing fine.

CANDIDATES ARE CONFIDENT OF VICTORY

Local Campaigners Make Last Minute Appeals In This Issue Of Index

It won't be long now! The ferrymen on Salt Creek will again be busy soon, and despite the dire predictions of some to the contrary, the ships of state will continue to move forward without them. Saturday is election day.

Arrangements have been made whereby the state election returns will be received at frequent intervals and posted on a board beginning at about eight o'clock. The location of the bulletin board has not been definitely decided on, but it will probably be placed at the O'Donnell Golf Course, according to G. S. Dowell, secretary of the chamber of commerce.

Candidates for office from that of United States Senator down to Constable and Governor of Texas will be nominated by the democratic party during this primary and the few remaining candidates, who are campaigning the state as it has not been campaigned before.

Lynn County candidates met in joint discussion in O'Donnell Tuesday night for an oratorical display of virtues, qualifications, merits, but very few demerits. Friday night they will end their speaking schedule at Tahoka. Many interested friends will be busy throughout the day Saturday distributing cards, literature and arguments in behalf of their respective candidates, while the voters who know the most independent person in the world, will go to the polls and indicate his choice. It is not within the province of this newspaper to make any predictions as to the outcome of any of the races. The paper may have something to do, however, with the outcome, as many of the candidates are making their last-minute appeals through the columns this week. Turn to the ads. The business men and farmers Wednesday afternoon at the chamber of commerce office.

MASS MEETING TO BE HELD MONDAY P. M.

A mass meeting at the Baptist tabernacle next Monday afternoon at 2:30 has been called for the purpose of discussing the Texas Co-Operative Marketing plan. This meeting was decided on at a meeting of the business men and farmers Wednesday afternoon at the chamber of commerce office.

Representatives of the district organization will be present to disseminate information to those who are interested in the new office of the Farm Board for farm relief this fall. Let all farmers who want information be at the meeting next Monday.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Moore of Wells on July 21, a little daughter.

Mr. and Mrs. Waldo McLaurin and son, Waldo Jr., and Misses Mary O'Donnell, Josephine Morrison were Gail visitors Sunday.

Produce Market

The following prices are being paid for produce at O'Donnell, effective Thursday, July 24. Prices subject to change.

Heavy Hens	14c
Light Hens	13c
Colored broilers 1 1/2 lbs. up	16c
Leghorn & black leg broilers, 1 1/2 lbs. up	13c
Capons, 8 lbs. up	20c
Capons, 6 to 8 lbs.	18c
Capons, under 6 lbs.	17c
Stags	5c
Cox	10c
No. 1 Turkeys	8c
No. 2 Turkeys	6c
Hide & Cream and Eggs	4c
No. 1 Green Hides	38c
Whole Milk, per lb. butterfat	46c
Eggs, canned	14c
Eggs, infertile stamped	14c

The O'Donnell Index

Published every Friday at O'Donnell, Texas

RITZENTHALER & CARTER
Publishers

O. D. CARTER Editor
W. H. RITZENTHALER Bus. Mgr.
$1.50 PER YEAR—IN ADVANCE
Advertising Rates on Application.

Entered as second class matter September 28, 1923, at the post office at O'Donnell, Texas, under the Act of March 3, 1879.

Most foreign nations think Congress saw its duties and rather overdid them.

As another measure of farm relief, violin chin rears were placed on the free list.

Biological note: Wall Street takes them in as lambs and turns them out as goats.

Agitation against printing crime news continues. But crime ceased to be news long ago.

The Pathfinder suggests that with the adjournment of Congress it will be easier to make Washington a "model dry city."

Even if one could fool all the people all the time it wouldn't be necessary, with so many willing to fool themselves.

New York Post says Carol "has done nothing but bring royalty into disrepute." As most royalty has done before him.

A new contraction measures thoughts. In some cases it would have to record almost infinitesimal dimensions.

Ethiasm for a California girl who won a dish-washing contest is reserved until we learn whether she had any competition.

That Chicago traditions are to be upheld is indicated by the winning of a collegiate team shooting by that city's university team.

An English novelist proposes a school for lovers. The style of most modern ones would be cramped with a professor hanging around.

Keeping the Senate over for a special session will not go so hard with the solons so long as Walter Johnson's Washington team keeps up its winning streak.

A life insurance company figure that a boy reared to the age of 75 has an economic value of $28,654. But the company isn't in the market for any of them at that price.

A Washington writer describes a model man as one who has so lived that when his name goes before the Senate even Senator Norris won't feel the impulse to take his feet off his desk.

THE FARMER'S WARFARE

While farming is apparently the most peaceful of pursuits, in reality the farmer is everlastingly at war. Not with his fellowmen, but with the billions of insects and other animal life which menace his crops on every hand. Unfortunately, the farmer is in most cases poorly equipped to carry on this incessant warfare effectively. The boll weevil, the army worm, the corn borer, the zypsy moth, the cabbage butterfly and other hordes of insects and parasites are workaday day and night to set his best efforts at naught. And each of these pests present a distinct problem.

In this warfare, as in warfare among human beings, science must be brought into action in order to secure the desired results. Without scientific aid in fighting the pests which menace the farmer's crops, it is asserted by high authorities that in that time human life would become extinct. The insects and parasites would completely overrun the earth. It is some comfort to know, then, that under the auspices of the Department of Agriculture, earnest scientists are working diligently to find better means of controlling these pests, and are meeting with a fair degree of success. Information of the utmost value to the farmer is available through the county farm agents, bulletins from government sources, articles by experts published in the press, and the example of informed neighbors. He owes it to himself to profit by this information and cooperate with these agencies which stand ready to aid him in his warfare against destructive insect pests.

O. K. (OTIS) SHILLINGSBURG FOR WEAIGER

O. K. (Otis) Shillingsburg is a candidate for public weigher of Precinct No. 1, Dawson County, and he is for the first time this week telling the readers of the Index of his candidacy and asking for their votes. Mr. Shillingsburg has lived in the McCarty community east of Lamona of the last 13 years. He is a nephew of H. T. Gooch, who lives here. Mr. Shillingsburg is a farmer and knows how to serve farmers. He was defeated by a narrow margin four years ago when he made the race for this office and feels that he is entitled to the office in this election.

MELL PEARCE MAKES GOOD IN WEAIGER OFFICE

Mell Pearce, who is a candidate for re-election as public weigher of Precinct 4, Lynn County, has an ad in this issue asking the consideration of the voters. Although Mr. Pearce is now serving his second term, he feels that due to the poor crops of the past three years he is entitled to the office for another term. Everyone knows he has given the best of service, having invested considerable money in scales in order to more adequately serve the public.

Mr. Pearce has been in Lynn County the greater part of the time since 1916, most of which time he spent on the farm. He is nearly 50 years old and is a member of the I. O. O. F. lodge. See his ad elsewhere in this issue.

McLAURIN IS REAL PIONEER OF LYNN CO.

Waldo McLaurin, who is a candidate for the office of commissioner, Precinct 3, Lynn County is a real pioneer, having arrived here on Christmas Day, 1902, settling in what is now known as the T-Bar community.

"I saw antelope roaming these plains and plenty of them," Mr. McLaurin said yesterday. "There was not a fence or a road in the county, and I recall the building of the first road nearly 27 years ago. In the spring of 1903 we hit a long spell of foggy weather, and we children couldn't find our way to and from the T-Bar school. So we plowed a deep furrow to guide us, and it was along this furrow the first road was built."

The McLaurins raised the first cotton in the county and were instrumental in getting the first gin at Tahoma.

Although this is the first time Mr. McLaurin has asked for public office, he feels that with a thorough knowledge of the county and its people he is fully capable of serving as commissioner with credit to himself and the precinct. See his ad elsewhere in this issue.

L. T. BREWER QUALIFIED FOR COLLECTOR'S JOB

Basing his candidacy strictly on his qualifications, L. T. "Tom" Brewer of the Joe Bailey community is for the first time in his life asking the people of his home county for public office. He is in the race for the newly created office of tax collector.

Mr. Brewer has lived in this county 6 years. He was raised on a farm in Johnson County and is now 41 years old. Prior to coming here he was in the employ of J. J. Perkins of Wichita Falls and the Belknap Coal Co. of Newcastle. He served ten years with these two firms in the capacity of bookkeeper and secretary-stenographer.

Mr. Brewer is prominent in county civic and school affairs, having served as trustee and as a member of the executive committee of the County Fair. And he "wears no man's collar."

WIFE SOLD AT A PROFIT

Few of the present generation, particularly in the North, know that before the Civil War a great many negroes in the South owned other negroes as slaves. Some interesting facts concerning the subject are given in Prof. Carter Goodwin Woodson's book, "Free Negro Heads of Families."

He shows that as far back as 1830 one-seventh of the negroes in the country were free, some of them rich, owned large plantations and other valuable property. In 1857 the negro in South Carolina owned 200 slaves, in Louisiana four negroes owned respectively 91, 89, 50 and 31 slaves. Many others owned smaller numbers, being estimated that 40,000 free negroes owned nearly 100,000 slaves at one time.

The story is told of Charleston negro who admired a female slave owned by a neighbor and bought her for a wife. Later on, when he had failed to behave herself as he thought proper, he sold her at a profit of $50.

A Welcome Arrival

A WORLD RADIO CENTER

Plans recently made public by Rockefeller interests contemplate for New York City the greatest amusement enterprise the world has ever seen, with radio as its central feature.

This stupendous project will represent an investment of $250,000,000—a quarter of a billion—and will cover three whole blocks in the vicinity of Fifth Avenue and Forty-eighth Street. There will rise four magnificent temples of art—a variety theatre, a sound-film theatre, a musical comedy theatre, and a house for regular drama—with a combined seating capacity of 25,000. Performances from all of these will be broadcast to the nation and to the world by radio, and means will be provided for utilizing all developments of television as they appear.

In connection with this majestic art center will be a grand plaza, of which it is said by the promoters "no effort will be spared to make it the most impressive boulevard of its kind in the world; fountains, statuary and beautiful garden plots will interperse its whole extent." Provision will be made underground for streets, bus terminals and parking space, and all deliveries to the "radio city" will be made from this underground area, so that no surface traffic problem may be reduced to a minimum. Work is to be begun this fall and completed in 1933.

All this is of the greatest significance, not only to those who may visit New York, but to everyone who owns a radio set. This may be understood from the announcement that the National Broadcasting Company will operate 27 broadcasting studios in the radio city, instead of only eight as at present, offering better programs of greater variety.

TOO LITTLE MILK USED

Like most products of the farm, milk and cream have suffered a decline in price during recent months. But if an intensive campaign for the encouragement of a greater use of milk were made, both the dairy industry and the public would be benefited.

In a recent statement, O. E. Reed of the Department of Agriculture pointed out that the per capita consumption of milk in the United States is much lower than in several other nations. Although much valuable work has been done by health authorities, home demonstration agents and parent-teachers associations in the direction of educating the public to the nutritive value of milk and milk products, we still consume far less milk than would be good for us. This applies to adults and children

O. K. Otis Shillingsburg

Candidate for Public Weigher, Precinct 1 Dawson County

Will Appreciate Your Vote And Influence

He is a nephew of H. T. Gooch, and has lived in Precinct No. 1 for 13 years. Made the race for this office 4 years ago. Is a farmer and knows how to serve the farmers.

(Political Advertisement)

Have I Asked You For Your Vote?

Due to sickness and pressing duties on the farm I have not been able to see all the voters personally and ask them for their vote. If I have not seen you, consider this as a personal solicitation of your support in the election Saturday.

L. T. BREWER
Candidate For Tax Collector, Lynn Co.

Will Appreciate Your Consideration and Vote

(Political Advertisement)

alike. By drinking an extra half-pint of milk a day nearly everyone might enjoy personal benefits, in addition to aiding a most worthy national industry.

To attend the silver wedding anniversary of his parents, Charles D. Hurst, Eng., 12,000 miles, to stay only one day.

The New Ford

—is—
EMINENTLY ROADWORTHY

Its Steering Gear—
¾ Irreversible—
Makes it Safe on the Roughest Road

LYNN COUNTY MOTOR CO.

Vote For Mell Pearce

For Public Weigher Pre. 4 LYNN COUNTY

Having had the office for the past three years, which as everybody knows have been poor years, and having spent around $750 for scales in order to give more excellent service, I think I am entitled to this office for one more term. I need it, and am asking for it on the basis of my past record.

I will deeply appreciate your vote and influence.

MELL PEARCE
(Political Advertisement)

Election Specials

FOR FRIDAY AND SATURDAY

One Pound 48¢
Two Pound 95¢

COFFEE, Peaberry, 4 lbs. $1.00
MATCHES, Comet, 6 boxes 18¢
Light Crust and Amaryliss Flour, 48-lb. sack $1.65
Sallie Ann Flour, Guaranteed, sack, $1.58

J. W. CHANDLER

Daddy's Evening Fairy Tale

By Harry Graham Bonner
A CARELESS DRIVER

After they left Orion they took the tedious sky-river trip, as it was called.

Cosmo told Harry that the constellation had been called the sky river or after Phaethon had fallen. It was news to Harry that he had had a fall, and he asked Cosmo about it.

"It's a true story," Cosmo told him. "Phaethon wanted to be allowed to drive the chariot of the Sun, so he took it out one day. He was not a good driver.

The steeds, too, were so fiery that they almost burned the world when they got off their reins. As for Phaethon—he simply couldn't drive them at all."

"I guess he was like a careless driver taking chances," Harry suggested. "To a way, yes. But the reason he was because Jupiter shot a bolt of lightning at him which made him fall from the sky river we're now in."

The sky river was just south of Mars, between Cetus and Orion. Stars were not particularly large according to sky standards.

"When you visit the Sun," Cosmo said, "I wouldn't advise you to mention this story, for the Sun says it so often that it never happens."

"I should I let you blame Phaethon too much. That wouldn't be fair."

"It wasn't entirely his fault," Harry was supposed to have said, but he was frightened because of Scorpius, the Scorpion, call him which ever you wish."

"He was always up to something," Harry said. "But my father has often said to me how horses used to be frightened because of automobiles."

"Then you can understand," Harry said, "I really do care to visit the Scorpion. I think, maybe, I'd like to visit the Bull."

"You don't seem quite certain. But Scorpius won't hurt you. Your son goes along the Zodiac path and belongs to the Zodiac, so you see has never caused you any trouble."

"Besides, you really should see him. He heard so much about him. Nor did you miss the Bull, for he has the important groups of stars. The Pleiades and the Hyades belong to him."

"Then you've seen Aldebaran—belongs to Taurus or the Bull. It's a matter of fact, our next neighbor is with him."

"I'm really glad of it," Harry said, "and I know he won't frighten me."

"I'm sure, otherwise known as the great Harry. How did you ever get such a name?" Harry asked.

"Years ago, so the story has it, I fell on the earth in the shame of Taurus."

"and I gave you a lift. I know, but I know it was the time you were for a lift."

"They do it high now," Harry said. "I've seen it. Here did she go to go?"

"I don't ask her," Harry said. "I said Taurus. I said me when she was playing some of her tricks in a lovely way and she said she'd give me a lift, so I went to get on my back."

"I might I could decide upon a nice lift for her. I took her to the sea. I was nearly dead when I came back. It is because of the sea part of the trip of mine that I got into the swimming."

"I will notice me from your Earth discover that you cannot see my face—all—only my head and shoulders—that it will be rather hard to make out my bull shape. I'm of me in swimming and I'm away from sight. That's the wayway."

DAIRYING

By Dr. L. D. LeGear, V. S.

Dr. L. D. LeGear is a graduate of Ontario Veterinary College, 1912. Thirt-eight years of veterinary work. Eminent authority on diseases and raising of dairy cows, other livestock, and poultry. Nationally known lecturer, writer and author.

ARTICLE VI HOW TO CHOOSE A PROFITABLE COW

Editor's Note—This is another of a series of articles on dairying written by the well known national dairy and poultry authority, Dr. L. D. LeGear, V. S., of St. Louis, Mo. The entire series will appear in this paper. Our readers are urged to read them carefully and clip them for further reference.

Dairying is the largest revenue producing department of the livestock industry of the United States. The products made from milk of our dairy cows, which include butter, cheese, ice cream, condensed milk, powdered milk, etc., amount to more than 4 billion dollars annually. This is our greatest industry.

There are approximately 22 million dairy cows, including heifers two years old or over, on farms in the United States. Of this number, about one-third of these cows are leasers or boarders and are kept on our farms at a loss. About one-third break even, that is, they make no money; and one-third are good profit producers. If only one-third of the cows on our farms are making money to the owners, it is very essential to know how to select a good dairy cow.

"Buy the best and breed them better" is the slogan of a leading Jersey breeder. This slogan in my estimation is the best one that I have ever seen or heard. Those seven words mean more to the upbuilding of our dairy herds than any words that I have ever seen grouped together. Cheap cattle are seldom a bargain. Deep-bodied cows, with good type and plenty of capacity are the most profitable to the owners. Cattle of this quality may cost more, but the profits from the sale of milk and surplus stock are much greater.

Sore Bleeding Gums

Only one bottle of Leto's Pyorrhea Remedy is needed to convince anyone. No matter how bad your case get a bottle, use as directed, and if you are not satisfied, druggists will return your money.

Whitsett Drug Co.

the far apart, and a wedge-shaped confirmation. A good dairy cow must have what is known as "dairy temperament," which determines whether she is a worker or a loafer. This is indicated by a broad well-dished face and a large, bright, prominent, staring eye. A dairy cow should not put on too much fat along her back, and she must have wide, prominent hips. She must have good blood circulation for carrying food nutrients from the digestive system to the udder, where these nutrients are converted into milk and butterfat. A good circulation is indicated by prominent veins on the udder and large crooked and elastic milk veins. A good dairy cow must have ability, which gives her the power of manufacturing milk and butterfat efficiently. This is indicated by an udder of good quality texture that is long and broad, between thin, well-arched thighs. The udder also should hang behind, and should be carried well forward.

I recommend bull circles or bull associations as the cheapest way and a good way to build up the quality of dairy cows in any community. The very best bulls available should be used for breeding.

I most heartily endorse the work of cow-testing associations, for in these cow-testing associations complete records of the milk produced and the feed consumed are kept, thus enabling the farmer to market his unprofitable cows at the end of the cow-testing association year.

(Copyright, 1929, by Dr. L. D. LeGear, V. S.)

CITY TRANSFER CO.

O'Donnell, Texas
Drayage and Heavy Hauling

BERT FRITZ, Owner
Phone 105

Automobile Loans

Money advanced to take up present notes; more money advanced; payments reduced.

SEE ME FOR QUICK ACTION!

C. J. NORTON
301-2 Myrick Building
Lubbock, Texas
Telephone 202 37-tfc

LOSES FINE JERSEY COW LAST THURSDAY

The fine registered Jersey cow owned by Hal Singleton, Jr. died last Thursday. Mr. Singleton had been offered $400 for her about a week before she died.

O. H. SHEPARD, M. D.
General Practice and Electro-therapeutics. Files cured without detention from work or business. Office half block southeast Index Building, O'Donnell, Texas.

---

C. E. CAMERON
is the representative of the Texas Electric Service Company in O'Donnell.

For any information about your electric light service call Mr. C. E. Cameron at Texas Electric Service Company, Lamesa, Phone No. L. D. 424 or at Lamesa, Texas, Phone 237.

TIRES VULCANIZED at FOSTER'S STATION

Lynn Co. Abstract Co.

ABSTRACTS & LOANS
Abstract of title to O'Donnell Town Lots—$25.00
Office in County Clerk's Office

W. S. TAYLOR, Owner & Mgr.
Phone 264
Tahoka, Texas

The latest equipment and years of practice enables us to give you the best in optometrical service. Complete line of frames and lenses to fit your face.

H. G. TOWLE
Optometrist
Northwest Corner of the Square
SNYDER, TEXAS

CICERO-SMITH LUMBER CO.

"Where Quality Counts"
GOOD LUMBER—GOOD SERVICE
Lumber, Builders' Hardware, Wind Mills, Wire, Post, Paint and 'Nigger Head Coal.'

DON EDWARDS, Manager

We Are Candidates FOR YOUR BUSINESS

We will have a lotta fun Saturday scratching names off our ballot, but it would please us even more to be able to scratch YOUR name ON an order blank for that new fall suit. See our new M. Born and J. L. Taylor samples for fall and winter. They are snappy, and the prices are lower.

"Wear Clean Clothes"
We Make 'Em That Way.

C. E. RAY
Silks A Specialty
CLEANING & PRESSING

SUITS MADE TO ORDER
PHONE 66

Building a Financial RESERVE

A Savings account is like a strong, solid dam—building up a reservoir of dollars to be used in times of pecuniary drought or when needed. There is no time so good as the present to begin your "building" operations. This bank cordially invites your Savings Account.

BANK AT HOME

THE FIRST NATIONAL BANK

J. L. SHOEMAKER, Jr. Cashier

PA and MA

When you come to town to vote for Ma, Earle, Clint, James, Soapy and the other boys and girls, don't forget to come to the Grocery Guild and buy your Groceries. They are especially low on Election Day.

FREE

Folger's Coffee Demonstration Saturday

COFFEE, Folger's, 1 lb. can	46c
COFFEE, Folger's, 2 lb. can	91c
PORK & BEANS, Wapco, 16-oz. can	8c
RED BEANS, Wapco, 18-oz.	8c
PEAS, Black-Eyed, 16-oz. can	9c
FLOUR, Triangle, 100-lb. sack.	$2.85
SHORTENING, Vegetole, 8-lb. bucket.	$1.09

SPECIAL SALE ON BROWN'S CAKES AND CRACKERS

We Will Pay 15c This Week for No. 1 Canded Eggs.

PATRONIZE US AND SAVE MONEY!

Grocery Guild

Holman & McConal, Owners

RAIN SOCIETY

MRS J. W. CAMPBELL, Reporter

MMES. RAYBURN AND EVERETT KATHLYN VEAZEY ENTERTAINS HOTESSES TUESDAY WITH SLUMBER PARTY

Mmes. C. A. Rayburn and Naymon Everett were joint hostesses Tuesday afternoon at a party of the prettiest affairs of the summer season.

Dainty "summer girl" tallies directed the guests to their places at bridge and forestry tables, and several enjoyable games were played before the refreshment hour.

A salad course garnished with daisies of grated carrots and marsh-mallow was served with bread and butter sandwiches, wafers, mints, and iced tea. Plate favors were naturalisms tied with ribbons in pastel shades.

Those present were Mmes. Cein, Whitsett, Singleton, Williams, Ed Singleton, Ritzenthaler, Gibson, Campbell, Brewer, Robinson, Street, Hood, Carter, McLaurin, Koeniger, Lane, Hubbard, Gantt, Benson, Roy Everett, Johnson, Bradley Bowlin, and Jordan.

An unexpected diversion was the call made by B. L. Parker, candidate for sheriff, who came in with the remark that when he couldn't find anybody at home, he knew that there must be a party, so he just looked till he found the cars. He refused, however, to make a speech.

BREWER TWINS CELEBRATE BIRTHDAY WITH PARTY

Wednesday afternoon was a very happy time for Anne and Annette, twin daughters of Mr. and Mrs. L. T. Brewer of the Joe Bailey community, when thirty of their little friends and school mates came in to help celebrate their eighth birthday.

A clever program consisting of songs, readings, and games by the little folks and games furnished much merriment. At the close of the games, they gathered in the dining room where two huge white cakes decorated with lighted candles were the center of interest. With wishes to the little honorees for many happy returns of the day, guests heartily enjoyed the delicious ice cream and cake.

Those present were W. L. and Sport Pendleton, Charlie, Joe, and Beatrice Beckham, Ruby, Junior, and Carl Rains, Janetta and Thelma Williams, Preston Lucas, Ina J. Crawford, Verla, Gene, Ronald, and Sister Warren, Casa May Newton, O'Delle, O'Dene and Janetta Brown, Inez, Lee, Helen Joe and Marshall Williams, Mary Dawson, Aubrey and Rayburn Brown, Lucy Cook Joe and Mary Frances Brewer, Mmes. Gertrude Warren, Elsie Newton, Gertrude Rains, Albert Williams, C. J. Milliron of Wichita Falls, and Mrs. Beatrice Brewer who assisted in entertaining the little folks.

SUNDAY SCHOOL PICNIC ENJOYED FRIDAY NIGHT

The lawn of the Christian church, where the Cumberland Presbyterians meet, was the site of an old-time Sunday school picnic last Friday evening. And anybody who had heard tales of hard times would have laughed them to scorn at the sight of the array of eats.

Mrs. E. L. Sorrels had charge of the games for the grown-ups. Mrs. Ed Singleton for the children, but it would have been hard to tell which group was which if actions were the only difference.

More than fifty persons were present for the occasion, and each one thoroughly enjoyed every minute of it.

LIVE WIRE B. Y. P. U. ELECTS OFFICERS

The Live Wire B. Y. P. U. met at the church Sunday evening for the purpose of electing officers for the coming year. They are as follows: president, Mildred Goddard; vice-president, East W. Hayes; secretary, Marye St. Clair; treasurer, Raymond James; reporter, Veda Shumake.

With so enthusiastic and efficient a group of officers, much is expected of this organization. Their work will be reported at various times, and will be of interest to Index readers.

SWIMMING PARTY ENJOYED FRIDAY EVENING

It is an exciting as well as pleasant occasion when the West Texans have the opportunity for a swim in anything but a bath tub, and last Friday evening was no exception to the rule. Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Jordan and Mrs. J. P. Bowlin chaperoned a gay crowd of young people on a swimming party at the lake north of town. After the swim a picnic supper made the end of a perfect evening.

Those present were Misses Alice Joy Bowlin, Alline McRoy, Eula Belle Miles, Dessa Holman, Lois Nelson, Alice Bushy, Tommie Hart of Carlsbad, Kathryn Veazey; Messrs. Howard Tredway, Sam Singleton, and James Bowlin Jr.

HOUSE PARTY OF EIGHTEEN AT SMITH FARM HOME

Mr. and Mrs. Roy D. Smith were hosts over the week-end to a party of eighteen. This West Texas hospitality is on a broad scale.

Those present were Mrs. T. O. Wright and children of Tyler, Mr. and Mrs. Elmo Robbins of Abilene, Mrs. J. A. Moody of San Angelo, and George Johnson of Pampa.

Mrs. W. H. Thornhill left Thursday for Jadwin, Mo., where she will visit her father. Before her return she will visit relatives at Leansport, Ind., and also at Batesville, Ark., returning home via Dallas where she will buy fall merchandise.

:: About O'Donnell People ::

Mrs. Waldo McLaurin and daughter, Modene, attended the show at Lamesa Saturday afternoon.

Miss Madeline Morrison, who has been in school at Las Vegas for the summer term, returned home Sunday.

T. E. Cathey, Cathey Morrison, and Jack Glynn Cathey returned Sunday from a week's stay in Portales and Las Vegas.

Miss Mary Leeke of Portales, who is well-known to O'Donnell people, is visiting in the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Morrison. Miss Leeke was connected with the Northern Dry Goods store here a few years ago, and has many friends here.

Mrs. Waldo McLaurin, Modene and Waldo Jr. and Miss Marguerite Miller spent Friday in Wilson.

Mrs. Glen Allen was taken to the Sanitarium at Lamesa Saturday and operated on for appendicitis. At the last report Wednesday she is doing nicely.

Misses Veda Shumake and May Tomlinson are in Carlsbad with relatives, and will go through the Cavern while there.

Miss Frances Pearl Jackson who has been the guest for the past two weeks of her sister, Mrs. C. J. Beach, returned to her home in Lovington Sunday.

Melvin Foster of Lovington spent Sunday here with Mrs. Foster.

Mrs. W. L. Palmer and daughters, Misses Thelma and Irma D. and Mr. Mrs. C. H. Westmoreland and daughter, Yvonne, returned Monday from an overland trip through the east. The trip was cut short because of the illness of Mrs. Palmer and Miss Thelma.

Johnnie Rochell is in Clovis this week looking after business interests.

Mrs. M. B. Hood spent Sunday in Post with her sister who is ill.

News was received this week by Mr. and Mrs. Boss Johnson that their son, Robert, who is well-known to local people, has just passed the examinations of the State Board and has received his license as a dentist. Mr. Johnson received his diploma from Baylor School of Dentistry this spring.

Miss Jewel Horn of Close City is spending the week with Mrs. C. H. Mansell. Mr. Mansell is singing in Rev. Horn's meeting at Central this week and Miss Jewel returned with Mrs. Mansell when she went over for services Sunday.

"What Next in Home Missions?" Refreshments of ice cream and cake were served to fourteen ladies. The Missionary Society asks everyone to remember the chicken dinner to be served in the old bank building on election day, Saturday, July 26.

Cumberland Presbyterian Sunday school attendance, 44. The Children's Band sang for those present and the music was thoroughly enjoyed. Their organization is still growing, having more than double in the first month of its organization. The Ladies Aid society meets every third and fourth Monday, the Missionary society every first and second Monday.

Lemonade and ice cream will be served by the Ladies Aid Society of the church Saturday afternoon, July 26. The stand will be in the alley by Thornhill's Variety Store.

Church of Christ Sunday school attendance, 81. Everyone is cordially invited to attend the meeting on this subject, Mrs. L. E. Robinson taught the lesson on

Mrs. E. T. Wells and daughters, Beverly and Jim Ellen, left Friday for a short visit with Mrs. Well's father at Tatum, N. M.

Mr. and Mrs. Yates Dunn are the guests of their brother, Charlie Dunn and family. Mr. and Mrs. Dunn are from California.

C. Bohannon and S. R. Keny of Knox City were in O'Donnell Sunday and Monday looking after business interests.

Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Edwards of Hamilton are the guests this week of their son, D. A. Edwards and family.

Mr. and Mrs. L. R. Smith, Miss Jeanette Thomas, Joe and Allen Chandler were Lamesa visitors Sunday.

Walter Turland returned Friday from Monument, Lovington, Hobbs, and other points in New Mexico. Mr. and Mrs. Ennis Curtis and family are visiting relatives at Irvell this week.

Mr. and Mrs. B. L. Laughlin of Stephenville were the guests the last of the week of their friend, Mr. W. W. Hancock. They left Monday for points in New Mexico.

M. B. Hood attended court in Lamesa Tuesday.

Miss Hester Gates who has been in Plainview for the past several weeks doing special work in art, returned home Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Guye and sons, Wray and Earl Wayne, returned Friday from their vacation in the mountains.

Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Bowlin, Miss Alice Joy and James Jr. left Sunday for Crosbyton where they visited relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Edwards returned Sunday from a visit with relatives at Hamilton.

Special Attention... Ladies' Shoes

A clearance of all summer styles in novelty shoes. We are making this wonderful offer early enough for you to get full benefit of the values offered. Do not miss this opportunity just when you are in need of an extra pair to finish the season out. Regardless of price and style every shoe will go at one price, choice.

$1.39

See Our Window

for other specials for Saturday and save on many of the items you are going to purchase on that day.

W. E. Guye D. G. Co.

Phone 65

A Special Treat For The Ladies

Regular $3.00 Facial Treatment Given Without Charge to Prove Unusual Results of New System of Beauty Culture

As a special courtesy to our customers we have obtained at considerable expense the services of Mrs. Minn Mae Walker, beauty expert and special representative of Dorothy Perkins, who will be at our store July 28 to August 2nd, inclusive. She will analyze your skin, advise you on your personal beauty problems, give you a complete facial treatment and show you how to give yourself the same treatment at home.

No charge for this service

(We will have a private booth in our store)

Phone now for appointment

CORNER DRUG STORE

O'DONNELL, TEXAS

Cooking by Electricity is the Best, Simplest and Easiest Method of Preparing Foods

Cooking by electricity is generally accepted by housewives as the best, simplest and easiest method of preparing food. It is gaining in favor as fast as housewives realize the many advantages of the electric range.

Best, because it retains the actual goodness of foods.

Simplest, because the heat is controlled. Even an amateur can cook with unvarying success in an electric oven.

Easiest, because the electric range is designed to operate with the least amount of attention.

These three advantages have convinced 2,500 housewives served by the Texas Electric Service Company that cooking by electricity is most desirable.

Tune in on the Texas Electric Service Company Radio Hour each Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock over WBAP, Fort Worth

Texas Electric Service Company

"Electricity Is Your Servant"

MIDWAY NOTES

DRAW ITEMS

Farmers in our community are still busy in the fields. Crops look good but are needing rain on feed and corn. Bill Brewer filled his regular appointment at Midway Saturday night and Sunday. Eye Johnson of Brownfield is visiting Clara Mae Sweatt this week. Willie and Pendar Harred have been busy killing general green this past week. M. C. Sweatt and family, Bill Brewer and family of Knowles, Mac Thorp and wife of Andrews spent Monday with H. L. Brewer and wife of the east side. W. H. Ray and family, W. H. Brewer and family, Emmitt Guest, Mac Thorp and wife, Robert Harred and family and Eva Johnson spent the day at the Sweatt home Sunday. Mrs. Estella Saunders and daughter, Inez were called back to Houston Thursday on account of sickness. Several of Midway's young folks attended a party at Vass Prestons Thursday night. They report a nice time. The Midway ball team played New Moore Saturday evening beating them again. Rufus Coor and wife, W. M. Coor and wife were in Lubbock Friday. Cecil Sweatt, Jr., Witt Coor, Opal and Yvonne Ray attended a party at McFarlin's on Friday night. The writer and children spent the evening with Mrs. Ray and children Tuesday. Sam Broadway returned from El Paso Saturday where he had been for treatment. We are all proud to hear he was able to come home. Grandpa French is not doing as well as he has been. King Preston and wife left Friday morning for Carlsbad Cavern. Faye and Robert Sweatt had dinner with Dorothy and Billie Harred Sunday. Claude Hill and family had dinner at the Coor home Sunday.

The farmers would certainly appreciate a good rain now. Mr. and Mrs. Barney Childs left Saturday evening to visit her parents Mr. and Mrs. Deakins. Mr. and Mrs. Dave Cook and son left Thursday for Hill County where they will visit Mrs. Cooks relatives. Mr. and Mrs. A. Z. Sewell and son and Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Cook left Wednesday afternoon for Rankin to see Mr. Sewell's mother who was very sick. Mr. and Mrs. John Berry, Mrs. Marvin Elderidge and daughter and Miss Bratcher left Tuesday of last week for Amherst to attend the funeral of Grandma Berry. Misses Tressie Cook and Leda Martin spent the week-end at home. Mrs. D. G. Cook's sister who has been visiting here returned home Monday. Mrs. Smith and son from Oklahoma are visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Gilliam. Mr. and Mrs. A. Z. Sewell and Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Cook returned home Sunday. They were accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. D. N. Sewell and Mrs. Annie Spencer. Mrs. Coursey's brother and family are here visiting Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Coursey. Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Coursey's daughter of Olney is visiting her parents. Mr. and Mrs. Martin and daughter visited Mr. and Mrs. Green Cook Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Cook visited Mr. and Mrs. Edd Young Sunday. Mrs. Gilliam and family and Mrs. Smith took dinner with Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Sherrill. Mr. and Mrs. Job Crabtree and family visited Mr. and Mrs. Green Cook Sunday. Mr. A. R. Hensley visited Mrs. John Berry Monday morning. An amateur drama being produced in a church in Elgin, Ill., was stopped by the pastor in the middle of the second act.

THE INDIVIDUAL YET NEEDED BY BUSINESS

By JOHN G. LONSDALE President American Bankers Association

SOME seem to think that the day of the individual in business has passed. But they are wrong. While the individual may not attract such outstanding attention as he did in the days of old when institutions were conducted on a smaller scale, he nevertheless is to be found in any large corporation, dominating the situation, giving orders here, operating there and shouldering the responsibility of keeping a large group of lieutenants, captains and privates working in unison and moving forward under the banner of progress. And all of these are held accountable to the public because the public has entered into a partnership agreement with the corporation through purchase of stock.

Welfare of Workers Even in the gigantic concerns that have taken place within the last two years there remains more than ever the necessity for a leader, an aggressive personality, whose duty it is to see that basic principles are not forgotten, that the rights and privileges of the individual workers and the customers they serve are as well provided for in the smaller business units.

It is gratifying to note that our corporations are giving more and more concern to the welfare of their workers. Numerous benefit organizations have been formed, opportunities offered for advancement of education and position, hospital service established and insurance and retirement pensions provided. This general humanitarian movement in reality is the outgrowth of analysis, which has disclosed the need of improving the well-being of our individual workers, realizing at the same time that our institutions will benefit.

PREPAREDNESS IN BUSINESS

By R. S. HECHT, American Bankers Association

My observations for many years, both as an employee and as an executive, have convinced me that the reason some men and women go ahead and others do not is that some keep themselves constantly prepared to accept and fulfill larger duties and responsibilities as they offer, and some do not. Grant, as we must, that there is a certain element of luck in the conditions under which opportunity for promotion comes to different men and women, we nevertheless must also see that it is each individual's own state of preparedness which determines his ability to seize opportunity if and when it comes, and having seized it, to succeed in meeting the greater demands which it inevitably places upon him.

Real advancement never means going ahead to easier tasks, but always on to more difficult ones. Opportunity for advancement is worthless unless you are prepared to accept it and carry with you the abilities and qualifications that prepare you to meet the heavier exactions that are an inherent part of opportunity.

It is far better to go into action in the field of enlarged responsibility prepared and qualified, rather than that you and the institution you work for shall be exposed to the hazard of your having to build up to new responsibilities after having assumed them. The new spirit of all business seeks to prepare its people in advance through education for the higher duties it holds in store for them.

Bank Bandits Active

The greatest number of bandit raids on American banks ever recorded in the figures of the protective department of the American Bankers Association were reported during the six months ending last February. Bank members of the association reported for investigation 311 forgery cases, 107 holdup robberies, 16 burglaries, 2 sneak thefts and 5 mortgage crimes while non-member banks, numbering less than half the total enrolled in the association, suffered 86 holdup robberies and 9 burglaries, non-members being burglarized or held up once for every 89 banks, as compared with once for every 164 member banks. The association detective agents caused the arrest of 143 of the 225 bank criminals apprehended during the period covered.

The association's report on these conditions urges support of the movement to provide city police departments with radio-equipped cruising automobiles which have proved particularly effective in Cleveland and Detroit in the broadcasting of alarms and the closing in on criminals immediately after or even in the midst of the perpetration of crimes. Last year the average time elapsed between the receipt of radio calls by these cars and the 1225 arrests which followed was one minute and forty-two seconds, the report says.

ANOTHER FINE VICTORY WON BY NEW KONJOLA

Lady Was About To Give Up Hope Of Finding Ease From Stubborn Ills.

MRS. FLORA STANLEY

No wonder Konjola has won a million friends; no wonder seven million bottles were used in two years! Would you not like to know all about the medicine that wins such triumphs? Ask your druggist about it, but right now before you do anything else, read the words of Mrs. Flora Stanley, 315 North McMaster street, Amarillo, Texas. Praising Konjola, Mrs. Stanley says: "I was in miserable health for five years, the result of stomach, kidney and liver disorders. My back ached terribly and my feet and ankles were badly swollen. Gas formed after each meal, and I endured awful pains. Dizzy spells and bilious attacks were other sources of distress. My husband insisted that I try Konjola, and now I have a good appetite, food digests as it should, dizziness and biliousness are gone and my weight is back to normal. We will always recommend Konjola after what it did for us."

Konjola does work swiftly, yet a full treatment of from six to eight bottles is advised for the best results. Konjola is sold in O'Donnell, Texas at the Whitsett drug Co., and by all the best druggists in all towns throughout this entire section.

BAKERY BREAD IS BETTER JUST RECEIVED The First Carload of Office Furniture Ever Received By An Office Supply Company On the South Plains. FLAT TOP DESKS—TYPEWRITER DESKS—TABLES AND CHAIRS As an introduction we offer choice of any of this standard High Class Furniture, at SPECIAL LOW PRICES. SALE NOW GOING ON Come See Our Stock SOUTH PLAINS OFFICE SUPPLY COMPANY "Everything For The Modern Office" Phone 2400 Lubbock, Texas 1106 Ave. J.

The New MAJESTIC Refrigerator WILL BE HERE SOON! WAIT!! The New Majestic is the most complete and wonderful machine ever put on the market. Save at Least $100 The marvel of mechanical refrigeration will be remarkably low in price, saving you at least $100. It will be ready for delivery soon after August 1. "IT WON'T BE LONG NOW!"

SINGLETON HARDWARE CO. O'Donnell, Texas

VOTE FOR R. L. Barrett Candidate for TAX ASSESSOR DAWSON COUNTY Subject to Action of Democratic Primary Saturday, July 26 Your Vote Will Be Appreciated (Political Advertisement)

Ideal For Sandwiches Baked ham, lettuce and mutsard surrounded by two fresh slices of O'DONNELL BREAD—the finest food in the world. Our white and wholewheat breads form a wholesome and economical food for all the family. City Bakery MR. AND MRS. L. R. SMITH Phone 13 O'Donnell, Texas those husky GROWING chicks BETWEEN the fluffy little baby chick and the profitable producing hen is a three or four months period that is too often neglected—the GROWING period. Proper care and feed from six weeks of age to maturity means all the difference between profit and loss on your poultry, so—keep 'em growing with RED CHAIN Growing Mash B. & O. CASH STORE "Where Cash Talks" O'Donnell, Texas

Voters of Lynn County: In asking for your vote and support in the race for sheriff, I wish to state I have lived in Lynn County 11 years. I served over a year as deputy sheriff under Mr. Sanford, and my reason for leaving this position, was because Mr. Sanford placed his son in the office in my place and as I thought this unfair I resigned. When I announced for office Mr. Sanford told me he would not run if the office of Tax Collector was separated from the Sheriff's office. I solicit your vote solely on my ability to fill the office of sheriff, for all the people of Lynn County. I have made a concentrated effort to see every one in the county, and to those I have not seen, I earnestly ask you to inform Sincerely J. H. BULMAN (Political Advertisement)

S. J. R. No. 7
PROPOSING A CONSTITUTIONAL
AMENDMENT TO BE VOTED
ON NOVEMBER 4, 1930

Be it resolved by the Legislature of the State of Texas: Section 1. That Section 11 of Article VII of the Constitution of the State of Texas be amended so as to read as follows:

Section 11. In order to enable the Legislature to perform the duties set forth in the foregoing section, it is hereby declared all lands and other property heretofore set apart and appropriated for the establishment and maintenance of the University of Texas, together with all the proceeds of sale of the same, heretofore made or hereafter to be made, and all grants, donations and appropriations that may hereafter be made by the State of Texas, or from any other source, shall constitute and become a permanent university fund. And the same as realized and received into the Treasury of the State (together with such sums belonging to the fund, as may now be in the Treasury), shall be invested in bonds of the United States, the State of Texas, or counties of said State, or in school bonds of municipalities or in bonds of any city of this State, or in obligations and pledges issued by the Board of Regents of the University of Texas, or secured by such obligations and pledges, for the construction of dormitories and other buildings for the use of the University of Texas, or in bonds issued under and by virtue of the Federal Farm Loan Act approved by the President of the United States, July 17, 1916, and amendments thereto; and the interest accruing thereon shall be subject to appropriation by the Legislature to accomplish the purpose declared in the foregoing section; provided, that the one-tenth of the alternate sections of the lands granted to railroads, reserved by the State, which were set apart and appropriated to the establishment of the University of Texas, by an Act of the Legislature of February 11, 1858, entitled, "An Act to establish 'the University of Texas,' shall not be included in, or constitute a part of, the permanent university fund."

Sec. 2. Said proposed amendment shall be voted on by the electors of this State qualified to vote on constitutional amendments at an election to be held throughout the State on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November, 1930. (A correct copy.)

JANE Y. McCALLUM,
Secretary of State.
44-41c.

H. J. R. No. 11
PROPOSING A CONSTITUTIONAL
AMENDMENT TO BE VOTED
ON NOVEMBER 4, 1930

Be it resolved by the Legislature of the State of Texas: Section 1. That Article VII of the Constitution of the State of Texas be amended by adding thereto Section 16, which shall read as follows:

"Section 16. All land mentioned in Sections 11, 12 and 15 of Article VII, of the Constitution of the State of Texas, now belonging to the University of Texas shall be subject to taxation for county purposes to the same extent as lands privately owned; provided they shall be rendered for taxation upon values fixed by the State Tax Board; and providing that the State shall remit annually to each of the counties in which said lands are located an amount equal to the tax imposed upon said land for county purposes."

Sec. 2. The foregoing Constitutional amendment shall be submitted to the qualified electors of the State at the next general election to be held throughout the State on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November, 1930. (A correct copy.)

JANE Y. McCALLUM,
Secretary of State.
44-41c.

JOE BAILEY
JOTTINGS

Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Vencient of O. K. spent Saturday night with J. D. Kyle and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Holt of the Pride community and Mr. and Mrs. Hero Mitchell of Joe Bailey spent Sunday afternoon with Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Harris.

T. J. Lee, who has been sick with typhoid fever is able to be up and around again.

Miss Velma Harris, spent part of last week with her cousin, Miss Gertrude Harris of Plainview.

Mrs. Dona Arthur and sons, J. C. and Orbin visited in this community Saturday night and Sunday.

B. C. Cavender and a boy friend of Mincey were visitors here Friday. A large number of people from this community have been attending the Baptist revival at Belhel that is being conducted by Rev. Hoover.

MRS. RIDGWAY FOR COLLECTOR
DAWSON COUNTY

Mrs. Belle Ridgway, who is a candidate for the office of Tax Collector Dawson County, has been a resident of Lamesa the past ten years. She is well known in Lamesa where she has a host of friends, also in many parts of the county.

Mrs. Ridgway is in every way deserving of the office which she seeks. She is a widow with two boys and her mother to maintain and is in every way qualified to handle the office satisfactorily.

J. H. BULMAN
IN RACE FOR
LYNN SHERIFF

J. H. Bulman who is in the race for sheriff of Lynn County has lived in this county eleven years. Mr. Bulman is 39 years of age, in the prime of life, has a family of a wife and four boys.

Mr. Bulman is a land owner of Lynn County, and has devoted most of his time here to farming. He served more than a year as deputy sheriff under the present sheriff, and has had experience both in and out of the office.

Ambassador Dawes, recently returned from London on a vacation, told reporters he had discovered that for 20 years he had been wearing "damned uncomfortable collars."

Before and After

Before and after the election, let Chief serve you delicious hamburgers and drinks. While waiting for returns, drop in at the corner and let us show you how good a hamburger can be.

T. A. WIMBERLY
Gulf Gas and Oils
"On The Corner"

PATRONIZE INDEX ADVERTISERS

SORRELS LUMBER CO.
INDEPENDENT DEALERS
Save you money whether you buy from us or not.
We both win if you trade with us.
E. L. SORRELS, Mgr.

— Your vote and influence appreciated: —

Gus Ragsdale
CANDIDATE FOR TAX ASSESSOR
DAWSON COUNTY, TEXAS
Subject to action of Democratic Primary,
July 26

CHEVROLET
Six-Cylinder Trucks

Bigger, Faster, Sturdier and more economical

In size, speed and durability, the Chevrolet Six-Cylinder Truck is superior to any haulage unit ever built by Chevrolet. Yet, for all these decided advantages, it shows (according to many prominent fleet users) a lower maintenance cost than any other low-priced truck of similar capacity!

These basic facts should be borne in mind by everyone considering the purchase of an inexpensive haulage unit—because capacity, speed, ruggedness and operating economy are the big points to consider in these days when business men are watching transportation costs.

Many important features of the Chevrolet Six-Cylinder Truck are given below. Study them carefully. Then use them as a basis of comparison—to prove quality—to prove modern design—to prove OUTSTANDING VALUE!

Unusual Features of the Chevrolet Six-Cylinder Truck

- 50 h. p. valve-in-head motor . . . 48 lb. crankshaft . . . bronze-bushed pistons . . . positive pressure fuel pump . . . deep channel steel frame 187 inches long . . . mounts 9-foot bodies . . . low loading height . . .
- four long semi-elliptic springs and low center of gravity preventing sideway . . . wide variety of bodies . . . small down payment . . . easy terms . . . and the protection of Chevrolet's liberal new service policy.

Sedan Delivery . . . $595    1 1/2 TON CHASSIS    1 1/2 Ton Chassis With Cab . . . $625

Light Delivery Chassis . . . $365    $520    Roadster Delivery $440 (Pick-up box extra)

Prices f. o. b. Flint, Michigan. Special Equipment Extra

Rayburn-Hood Chevrolet Co.

O'DONNELL, TEXAS

LARGEST BUILDER OF SIX-CYLINDER TRUCKS

Special Announcement

Dr. F. W. Essler, chiropractor and magnetic masseur, formerly of Glen Rose, Texas is now located in Lamesa. Dr. Essler is one of the most capable and successful men in his profession and gets marvelous results in all chronic conditions. When all else fails his method is often successful.

Dr. F. W. Essler

LAMESA, TEXAS
Phone 152    Office hrs. 8 a.m. to 6 p.m.
407 South First St.

TO THE VOTERS OF Dawson Co.

Since I am unable to see each and every one of you personally I take this method of asking the influence and votes of the Dawson County Voters. To make a community canvass has been impossible for me to do, since I have no car at my disposal. To those that I have given my cards I shall thank you kindly for your support.

To those that I have not met I ask you kindly to give me your fair consideration.

I have lived in Lamesa 10 years. I have two boys and a mother whom I maintain.

If you do not know me you will do me a favor to ask honest truthful people of Lamesa about me.

With in the past years I have held responsible positions with some of the leading firms of this city and county.

I am asking your support solely on my ability to fill the office competently. My need for support, and my sole promise to fill the same to the best of my ability. I shall thank each and every one for their support.

Mrs. Belle Elizabeth Ridgway

Candidate for Tax Collector, Dawson County

Subject to the action of Democratic Primary, July 26

(Political Advertisement)

NOTICE

RADIO PROGRAM TO TELL OF O'DONNELL AND LAMESA SOON

Lamesa and O'Donnell, Dawson and Lynn counties will be the subject of a radio program to be broadcast during the latter part of this month by the Texas Electric Service Company, according to tentative plans, it was learned here this week.

Mrs. T. A. Wimberly has learned to drive the car this week, and all pedestrians and motorists as well are urged to give her plenty of room, according to her husband, who says she might get the peddles mixed up. Mr. Wimberly says that the increase in plate glass insurance rates is expected also.

MARY GRAYSON BONNER

ELVES AND GUESTS

The Elves gave a ball one evening in the moonlight and the fairies, gnomes, brownies, and off Mr. Giant were among the invited guests.

Mr. Giant wore his shiny top boots that he only wears to balls, and he came walking very slowly to the party for fear of walking on some of the guests.

His long legs would step over whole groups of fairies or elves.

And on his head he wore a fine hat made of moss, out of which were growing ferns which looked like tall feathers.

The fairies were dressed in soft silvery costumes which looked like clouds, and Mr. Moon was round and jolly and very bright.

The fairies carried wands of silver and they wore covered with little silver stars which sparkled and glittered every few minutes.

The stars up in the sky had planned to take a nap, but when they saw old Mr. Moon out in all his glory they decided to peep out to see what was up.

Then when they saw the stars on the costumes of the fairies they came out so as not to be outdone by the fairies' ball dresses.

The brownies wore suits of brown velvet and their hats were made out of brown toadstools. They turned in

Mr. Giant Wore His Shiny Top Boots great many somersaults, for they felt so happy and bouys, and whenever they did their hats broke to pieces and fell off.

But as they fell the Fairy Queen waved her wand and new toadstools popped up out of the earth and the brownies got new hats.

They also carried sticks made out of birch bark.

The elves wore their favorite dresses of green, and the gnomes wore colors of all sorts and looked like clowns.

They made a great deal of fun and merriment, and the elves were delighted.

"The dance will begin now," sang out Elsie Elf.

"The dance will begin," said Mr. Giant, and his voice echoed all through the wooded glade where the dance was being given.

The people who lived near the woods said to themselves:

"Did we hear thunder?"

It was really Mr. Giant talking.

The dance kept up for hours and hours, and Mr. Moon and the stars gave them all the light they wanted, but just before it was time to go home, what should be seen coming down from the sky but some shooting stars.

They wanted to see what was going on, too, and they were having their own dance, too—the dance of the shooting stars!

Oh, it was such a lovely party.

The elves and all their guests had a beautiful, beautiful, time.

They said it was one of the nicest balls they had ever had and the dancing was so graceful and pretty.

RIDDLES

What bow is it that no one can untie? A rainbow.

Which is the easiest way to make a chicken run? Chase it.

What is a button? A small event that is always coming off.

Why is money like a secret? Because it is hard to keep.

Why is the letter W like a busy-body? Because it makes ill will.

Which letter of the alphabet is never late? The letter I, because it is always in time.

What was the difference between Shakespeare and Queen Elizabeth? One was a wonder, the other a "Tudor".

What is the difference between London and a twist of rope? London has but one Strand, while a twist of rope has several.

Why are the fourteenth and fifteenth letters of the alphabet of more importance than all the others? Because we could not get "oo" without them.

As I was going past a rafting I saw a ship a-sailing. What was the captain's name? I've told you once and I will tell you again. What was the captain's name? Watt.

OWEN TAYLOR POPULAR OVER DAWSON COUNTY

Owen C. Taylor, candidate for county clerk of Dawson County has been a resident of Dawson for eight years, and has served 4 years as the county clerk of that county.

Mr. Taylor is asking for re-election solely on his record of service rendered.

Mr. Taylor is 29 year old and very popular over the county.

TO BROADCAST ELECTION RETURNS NEXT SATURDAY

Election results will be broadcast over Lamesa's new radio station Saturday night, it was announced this week by R. E. Renfrow, owner of a Federal Broadcasting permit. The figures will be announced by R. R. Townsend over the station which can be heard within a radius of 500 miles, Renfrow said.

Renfrow is planning to establish a station there permanently this fall and is arranging now for programs to be broadcast regularly over the station.

S. W. SANFORD RUNNING FOR SECOND TERM

S. W. Sanford our present sheriff has been a resident of Lynn eighteen years, and is well and favorably known throughout the county. He has served the county as sheriff from 1922 until 1926 when he volunteered to retire. His friends elected him to again offer for the office in 1928 and he was again elected, and in offering for the office this year, he believes he is best serving the interest of Lynn county and her citizens.

RECEIVE APPOINTMENT

Dawson county schools received their apportionment of state school funds this week, according to W. T. Webb, school superintendent. The amount, $2,339, is the last $1 of the $17.50 per pupil apportionment for that county, Webb stated.

In Yakutsk, Siberia, temperature ranges from 82 below zero to 102 above have been recorded.

FRED ALEXANDER REACHES NEW HEIGHTS

A most amusing, not to say exciting, event took place last Saturday afternoon when Fred Alexander, salesman for the Lynn County Motor Company, scaled the heights—of a high line pole in pursuit of an East Texas squirrel who felt like he was in the wrong church as well as the wrong pew.

Mr. Alexander soon found that he couldn't shin up the pole as he used to do, and borrowed a pair of hooks from the local telephone company. If any efficiency expert is wondering whether or not a lineman earns his wages, Mr. Alexander will tell him that without a doubt he does, no matter what the wages are. After finding that pole climbing isn't as easy as it looks, Mr. Alexander called in outside help. Mr. Blackwelder of the telephone company lending his aid. The adventurous animal was chased down and killed, and Mr. Blackwelder had his first taste of squirrel.

And now no doubt some squirrel Penelope sits in a tree-top and wonders why her Ulysses doesn't come home.

VOTE FOR

A. I. THOMAS

Next Saturday

SAVE! SAVE!!

Come and Help Elect Your Governor and Save Money on Groceries.

SATURDAY IS ELECTION DAY

Friday and Saturday are also the days to save on groceries if you will trade at the

"M" SYSTEM

Look over these hot specials, and come in and look for others:

- 10 Bars P. & G. SOAP or Big 4 SCAP (with $2 purchase) 38c
- 48 lbs. High Patent FLOUR $1.44
- 20 lbs. Gld Homestead MEAL 58c
- 10 lbs. Bumuda ONIONS 23c
- 5c CRACKERS 4c
- 15c CRACKERS 11c
- 2 lbs. Saltine CRACKERS 29c
- 3 lbs. Soda CRACKERS 39c
- 6 lbs. SODA CRACKERS 79c
- 2 lbs. Graham CRACKERS 29c
- 1 lb. Snowflake CRACKERS 18c
- 1 lb. Snowflake Graham Crackers 18c

R. E. KEY

For Tax Collector
LYNN COUNTY

Will Appreciate Your Vote Saturday

Qualification

When you consider a candidate, think first of his qualifications. Think second of his record as a public servant, whether in an elective office or not. And above all,

BE CONSISTENT

R. E. KEY'S QUALIFICATIONS

College Graduate; 14 years' teaching experience; 8 years residence in Lynn County; bank cashier one year; army clerical work one year; Chamber of Commerce Secretary, Wilson, one year.

PUBLIC SERVICE RECORD

County Chairman Teachers' Institute, two years; Director of Lynn County Interscholastic League one year; Post Commander Tahoka American Legion; and various other civic and church capacities.

CONSISTENCY

If you are for education, use trained men in public office. If elected, I will visit principal voting boxes for collection of taxes. This extra service for your convenience.

(Political Advertisement)

LOOK!

Owen C. Taylor

Candidate for County Clerk Says:

I wish to express my thanks and appreciation to the citizenship of Dawson County for their loyal support and hearty co-operation given me in the past, also the encouraging words during the present campaign.

It has been impossible for me to make a house-to-house campaign this time. The duties of the office have been such that I am compelled to stay in and around the office. Therefore, while my opponents were soliciting your vote I was trying to carry on your business in the duties of the office.

If elected I promise to give service in return for each and every favor that you might grant me. I will appreciate your investigating my record as a clerk. I feel we owe more to the county in which we live than just what we can get out of it. If service and efficiency mean anything to you I will appreciate your vote and influence.

VOTE FOR A YOUNG MAN WITH AMBITION TO SERVE

OWEN C. TAYLOR

(Political Advertisement)

Good News Item!

We wish to announce to all of our friends and customers the following reductions in prices of Merchandise carried in stock by us. You can always depend on the United Stores for quality Merchandise at the right prices.

MEN'S AND BOYS DEPT.

Men's and Boys' 200 wt. Leadall Overalls
Men's sizes, was $1.15, $1.10
Boys sizes, 2 to 16, was 98c, now 85c
All 98c Work Shirts, now, 89c

FANCY DRESS SOX

All 49c Sox now 39c
All 25c Sox now 19c

PIECE GOODS DEPART.

$1.95 yd. Silks, now $1.79
$1.65 yd. Silks, now $1.49
98c yd. Crepe now 89c
Garza 9-4 Bleached Sheet-ing, now, yd. 35c
Fruit of The Loom prints the yd. 22c

All 39c and 45c prints, now the yd., 33c

LADIES FURNISHING DEPARTMENT

ALL

98c Hose now 79c

Ladies Ready-to-Wear Depart.

All $1.95 Wash Dresses, $1.79
All 98c Wash Dresses, 79c

Garza Sheets and Pillow Cases

81x99 Sheets now 98c
81x90 Sheets now 95c
72x90 Sheets now, 79c
42x 36 Pillow Cases 25c
81x 90 Avon Sheets 75c

These Are Not Sale Prices—Just Our Regular Prices

United Dry Goods Stores, Inc.

A CHAIN DEPARTMENT STORE

Phone 73 Tahoka, Texas

T-BAR NEWS

Bro. Johnson began his revival last night, July 21. We are glad to have Brother Jenkins preach for us and hope to see a large attendance soon. Brother McClean is here leading the song services.

The crops are still looking fine in this part of West Texas, although a little rain would be appreciated. Mr. Whipp, Albert Edwards and Dave Estes of O'Donnell left on a fishing trip to Balmorhea, on the Pecos river and also up in the Davis mountains.

Mrs. Whipp and niece, Johnnie Edwards, were Lubbock visitors Saturday.

Mrs. L. S. Linley is visiting her son, Preacher Linley, this week.

We are sorry to report that Mrs. J. B. McCarty and baby are not doing so well this week.

Mrs. Nixon is improving fast and is able to go. She spent Sunday with her son and family, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Nixon.

The Home Demonstration Club met at the school house with six members present, July 17. Subject: "Ices and Beverages". Roll Call: "My Favorite Ice or Beverage". Leader: Mrs. Alexander. "The Place of Ices or Beverages in the Summer Diet". Mrs. Lindley. "Points to Consider in Serving Desserts". Mrs. Jess Crews. "Classification of Ices". Mrs. M. W. Crews. The next meeting will be held at the clubroom, August 21st. All members are urged to be present and visitors are always welcome.

BAPTIST CHURCH ANNOUNCEMENTS

Sunday School, 10 a. m. C. H. Mansell, superintendent. Preaching service, 11 a. m. L. S. Jenkins, pastor.

B. Y. P. U. 7:15 p. m. Miss Roxie Hancock, general director. Preaching service, 8:30 p. m. Prayer meeting, Wednesday, 8:15 p. m.

Ladies' meetings, each Monday at 3 p. m. Sunday School Workers Council, last Tuesday of each month, 8:15 p. m.

RANDALL NEWS

The hot weather we are having has sure been making our crops grow. Cotton is still doing good, but feed crops are needing rain. The writer predicts that if it does not come a good rain by election day the people of Randall community will vote a wet ticket.

Our school building, which was wrecked by the terrific wind and hail storm in May has been repaired and is now in good condition for the next term of school. Our Sunday school had to be stopped when the building was wrecked, and we hope to start it again soon. We will probably wait until after election to start the Sunday school in order that the politicians of Randall may start with a "clean slate."

Miss Belva Jean Phillips of Pampa is spending a few days with her uncle, Jim Ables and family.

The candidates sure have been making fits in the Randall community the last two weeks. It is going to be hard for the voters to decide which names to "scratch". Some of the farmers have been considering building fences around their weed patches to keep candidates from driving out in their automobiles and keeping them from work. This ought to eliminate a large part of the time used by candidates as they are not so "keen" on walking.

Pete Sebastian and family of Lubbock visited over Sunday in the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Cross. Mr. Cross and Mrs. Sebastian were near neighbors several years ago, and a very enjoyable day was spent talking "old times".

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Gillespie favored the young people with a singing Sunday night. Several songs were sung by the entire crowd after which Mrs. Clarence Gillespie, Miss Esther Davis and Arnold Davis each entertained with special numbers on the piano. Everyone reported a nice time.

Amanuensis.

A bedstead once owned by Henry Clay has been sold to the Metropolitan Museum of Art in New York for $45,000.

GRANGE HEAD SAYS FARMERS FAVOR PROHIBITION LAW

Washington, D. C.—Lewis J. Taber, master of the National Grange, has told congress his organization of a million farmers in 21 states favor national prohibition and strict enforcement of the law. Mr. Taber made this clear in a statement to the congressional committee which was considering the merits of several bills to repeal or modify prohibition.

Mr. Taber produced official figures to show there was never any great loss to the farmers through the cessation of whiskey distilling. For instance, in 1917, the last year that distilling operations were carried on without hindrance, the corn yield was 3,982,230,000 bushels and of that amount a trifle less than 34,000,000 bushels or about 1 per cent was used to distill whiskey and alcohol for all purposes. That percentage is too small to produce any part of a farm depression.

In 1927, the corn crop was 2,786,288,000 bushels of which 8,883,000 bushels were used for industrial and other legal alcohol and the remainder for distillation is approximately 25,000,000 bushels which is considerable less than 1 per cent of the entire crop; and in the meantime this amount was otherwise consumed by the market. Corn averaged 50 cents a bushel in the last years of the distilling era while the average price since prohibition has been 72 cents. Mr. Taber declares that the great increase in the use of breakfast foods vastly more than takes care of corn and other grains that once went into liquor. The agricultural department records indicate that corn acreage, yield per acre and the total yield are increasing.

The rye market, at first curtailed by prohibition, found immediate relief in the increased use of rye for foodstuffs and export. Mr. Taber declared that the farm value of the rye crop is greater now in the dry years than in the pre-prohibition years by about $20,000,000,000 a year and that there is nearly twice as much rye produced as formerly.

Mr. Taber said: "Ten years' experience with a saloonless nation has convinced the American farmer that economically, socially, financially and morally our country is much improved under the operation of prohibition legislation. The fact that has impressed the farmer is the increased purchasing power that has come to the American citizen as the result of the proper enforcement of our dry laws. Men who used to spend their money for drink, now have the money for shoes, bread, meat and the comforts of life. The millions and millions that used to be spent for drink are now passing through channels of trade benefiting the nation, and agriculture is getting its proportionate return."

SAYS CANADA PLAN FOR LIQUOR CONTROL BRINGS BACK SALOON

The congress of the United States is now thoroughly informed of the fact that only a small part of the Canadian liquor system is owned or controlled by the government, and that the present system of liquor sales in Canada by no means eliminates the saloon. Information on these points was given to the judiciary committee of the house of representatives by E. C. Drury, former prime minister of the Province of Ontario, Canada. In his statement Mr. Drury said:

"Let us get rid of the fiction that all of the liquor selling establishments in Canada are government owned. There are 5,135 legal liquor selling places in Canada of which 675 are owned or operated by the government. The rest of these, 4,460 in number, are private stores for the sale of intoxicating liquor, and of this number 2,997 sell liquor by the drink on the premises. The cry in Canada was that there would be no bar rooms under government control of liquor, yet four provinces permit beer parlors, the difference between those beer parlors and the old saloon is principally in name only."

"The Quebec government has a monopoly of whiskey sales, but everything else is sold privately. "Beer is sold by the glass in privately owned beer saloons in Alberta, British Columbia, Manitoba and systems of chain liquor stores have been established in seven provinces, these being privately owned selling agencies for privately owned breweries, distilleries and wineries."

In response to frequent requests for information on the liquor traffic in Canada, the Dominion government, through its department of trade and commerce, recently issued an official bulletin on the subject, which was presented to the judiciary committee of the house of representatives by Mrs. Ella A. Boie, president of the National W. C. T. U. This official report showed great increases in crime, operation of illicit stills, drunken driving and deaths from alcoholism as well as a sharp increase in the consumption of whiskey all these increases being greater than the increases in population. Convictions for drunkenness increased from 21,000 in 1918 to 33,000 in 1929; drunken driving measured by convictions has increased almost 1,900 per cent in eight years in Canada, while the number of automobiles has only doubled. The convictions for drunkenness and the infractions of the liquor law such as bootlegging have amounted to almost one-half of the Canadian police court cases which sets at rest the claim that government control of the liquor traffic ends such violations.

MARVIN JONES RECOGNIZED AS REAL STATESMAN

CONGRESSMAN MARVIN JONES

In the coming primary the Democrats of the Eighteenth Congressional District, composed of fifty-three Northwest counties, will no doubt show their appreciation of a conscientious, wise and capable public servant by voting for Marvin Jones for Congress.

Mr. Jones was first elected in 1917 and has served continuously since that time. By native ability and through industry and experience he has become one of the most effective and highly respected men in the House.

If the entire House of Representatives were composed of men like Marvin Jones the standing of the National Congress would be a source of general pride. Mr. Jones does not seek the limelight. He does not speak merely to get into the record, but when he does speak he has something to say, and the members of the House always listen to him.

Mr. Jones has had very little opposition, and in the few instances when it has developed his opponent has accounted before with little surprise, and everybody seemed to have a good time. His merit is recognized, and each added year finds Mr. Jones more strongly entrenched in the confidence and esteem of his constituents. Even those who disagree with him occasionally on national questions are proud of the manner in which he serves all of the people of the district, and of the record he has made.

If the people of the Plains are always glad to support Mr. Jones.—The Herald—Perryton. (Pol. Adv.)

YANDELL CITES RECORD AS COMMISSIONER

T. J. "Tom" Yandell is this week using the columns of the Index in asking the voters to consider his candidacy for commissioner of Precinct No. 6. See his elsewhere.

Mr. Yandell has been in this precinct six years, the last three of which he has served as commissioner. During his tenure of office, the business affairs of Lynn County have been ably handled, and the roads of the precinct have been kept up and in good shape. Right at this time several important projects are pending which will require judicious handling, among which is the securing of the right of way and designation for the east and west road now being agitated. Mr. Yandell favors this road. He has also been instrumental in other worthy road programs in this county. His knowledge of the county's road problems and his natural ability combine to make him the good commissioner that he is, and it is on his record that he is asking for another term.

BETHEL NEWS

Miss Allie Lee Coley visited Laverne Godwin Sunday.

Miss Margaret Coley visited Miss Lucille Todd Wednesday.

Misses Ruth Lucas and Ruby Odom visited Leta and Laverne Godwin Friday.

Marvin Lucas visited Kenneth Godwin Thursday.

Leta Godwin, Imogene and Lucille Todd, Marvin Lucas, Kenneth and Guy Godwin went to Lubbock and Shallow Water at this week.

There was a party last Saturday night at Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Todds. A large crowd attended, and report a lovely time.

Miss Imogene Todd spent Wednesday with Miss Leta Godwin of Draw.

Miss Ruby Odom from Central is visiting Mr. Lucas this week.

Miss Audary Rogers spent Friday with her sister, Mrs. Grady Brown.

Miss Margaret Coley spent Friday night and Saturday with Miss Theo Warren.

Kenneth Godwin spent Wednesday night with Mary and Lucille.

Miss Mae Cunningham visited Miss Ruth Lucas Sunday.

Mrs. Brown visited Mrs. Coley on Sunday.

Mrs. Godwin visited Mrs. Henry Sunday evening.

Miss Leta Godwin visited Miss Irene Beckham Sunday.

Hugh Morrow visited Hubert Waldrop Sunday.

Tom Baird and Avery Coahler visited Bill Williams Sunday.

Miss Ella and Marie Waldrop visited Misses Margaret and Allie Lee Coley Sunday.

The world's oldest bank now in existence is said to be one in Barcelona, Spain, founded in 1461.

WIN FREE TRIPS
Dawson county 4-H club boys who won trips with all expenses paid to the A. & M. college short course from July 26 to August 2 during the recent club encampment at Lamona include Carol Bostick, Homer Baron, G. E. Peterson and Carson Echols. Demonstration clubwomen winners include Mrs. W. S. Ray and Mrs. T. G. Standfield. Girl 4-H clubbers who won free trips include Miss Glubb and Miss Jaunita Stephens. Boys won their trips on livestock judging and the girls and women were awarded trips on butter and dress judging. Dawson county is expected to have a large representative of farm men and women present during the short course, according to W. W. Evans. Thirty-nine were present last year from Dawson county, Evans said.

Tell the merchants you saw their ads in the Index.

T. J. Yandell
Candidate for
Commissioner Pre. 3
LYNN COUNTY
Will Appreciate Your Vote
If for some reason I have not seen you personally, I take this method of asking for your vote. I stand for progressive but economical administration of the county's business. My record is before you, and I ask for you vote solely on my merits.
I thank you
T. J. "TOM" YANDELL
(Political Advertisement)

VOTE FOR
B. L. Parker
FOR
Sheriff of Lynn Co.
Stands for Fearless Law Enforcement
YOUR VOTE AND INFLUENCE WILL BE APPRECIATED
(Political Advertisement)

Before and After
You Vote
Come to our store for a refreshing drink, and then if you happen to get in a hot argument, over some race, come in and get another one. Make our store your headquarters Saturday.
WE CARRY A FULL LINE OF DRUGS AND SUNDRIES
Your Druggist is More Than a Merchant—
Go to the Drug Store FIRST!
WHITSETT DRUG CO.
Nothing But The Best"

THEY FILL THE EGG BASKET!

POULTRYMEN who feed RED CHAIN Egg Mash and Hen Scratch to their flocks every day—the year 'round—never worry about empty egg baskets. These two SUPERIOR Feeds make a perfectly balanced ration... they contain everything necessary for health and condition—as well as for the largest egg production at the lowest feed cost. If you want to fill your egg basket... and your bank account... stick to RED CHAIN

RED CHAIN Feeds Are SUPERIOR Feeds

B. & O. CASH STORE
"Where Cash Talks"
O'Donnell, Texas

It Won't Be Long Now

SATURDAY IS ELECTION DAY.

Be sure to vote for

D. J. Bolch

Candidate For

Public Weigher Pre. 4

LYNN COUNTY

I will appreciate your vote and promise you honest, courteous treatment and the best of service.

THANK YOU!

(Political Advertisement)

Subscribe For

THE INDEX

The Family
Weekly

---

$1.50 a Year

---

COME TO SEE US

How to Raise Poultry

By Dr. L. D. LeGear, V. S., St. Louis, Mo.

Dr. LeGear is a graduate of the Ontario Veterinary College, 1892. Thirty-six years of veterinary practice on diseases of live stock and poultry. Eminent authority on poultry and stock raising. Nationally known poultry breeder, and lecturer.

AS YOU FEED SO SHALL THEY LAY

Records Show Egg Production Often Double or Triple with the Addition of One Simple Element to the Feed—Extra Profits from Correct Feeding More than Offset the Slight Additional Cost.

Editor's Note—This is another of a series of 52 stories on poultry raising written by the well known national poultry authority, Dr. L. D. LeGear, V. S., St. Louis. The entire series will appear in this paper. Our readers are urged to read them carefully and clip them out for future reference.

From somewhere way back in my third reader days, I recall the story of a miser who tried to feed his horse shavings. It would save the price of hay, he reasoned, and if the change was made gradually the beast would never know the difference. Maybe the horse was fooled, but Nature most certainly was not. Long before the diet got to be all shavings the poor old horse gave up the ghost.

As I observe the way a great many people raise their chickens, I am often reminded of that story. I didn't mean they are stingy but their lack of knowledge about feeding is just as greedy. They are neglecting the impossible and wonder greatly why they are so consistently disappointed.

The first thing that must be thoroughly understood is that from the hen's point of view egg laying is a secondary matter. She is first of all to build up and maintain her own body. If, after enough has been eaten for that purpose, she can be persuaded to eat still more of the right kind of food correctly proportioned, she will lay eggs. That's all there is to the theory of scientific feeding.

The next essential fact to be mastered is that different kinds of feeds produce widely different results. Grains furnish for the most part, substances called carbohydrates which are transformed into fat for the fowl's body and albumen or egg whites. Other substances, known as proteins, build up the muscles of the bird and furnish energy for eggs. Proteins are usually fed in the form of meat scraps, milk, or tankage. There are some proteins in grains but not enough for the hen's body and eggs too.

For the egg shell and bones of the fowl, minerals are required, calcium carbonate being the principal one. For that purpose, crushed oyster shell or limestone is kept before the fowls at all times.

A certain amount of green food is also required. It helps prevent digestive disorders and contains the two valuable vitamins A and D, so essential to the proper assimilation of other food. Without vitamin D, for example, the minerals in the feed cannot be made over into bone and egg shell.

Once it is clearly understood that each different kind of feed has its own individual use to the very term, "balanced ration," ceases to sound quite so much like a foreign language. It becomes plain that the ration must consist of just so much material containing carbohydrates and a proportionate amount containing proteins.

An example of what I consider a well balanced ration is the one given below, which I have used successfully for a number of years. For the sake of those not familiar with this method of feeding, I shall explain in as plain a manner as I can commonly put in hoppers and kept constantly before the hens at all times. The grains are preferably fed by hand with the feedings far enough apart, so the hens will eat plenty of mash in between times. The grains are called scratch feeds, by the way, because they are usually buried in deep litter. That makes the hens have to scratch it out, thus getting much needed exercise.

A Balanced Poultry Ration

- Scratch Feed
- 100 lbs. yellow corn
- 100 lbs. wheat or heavy oats
- Mash Feed
- 100 lbs. wheat bran
- 100 lbs. middlings
- 100 lbs. yellow corn meal
- 50 lbs. ground oats
- 100 lbs. meat scraps
- 5 lbs. common salt

Plenty of seasonable green stuff should accompany this ration. Grass, clover and oyster shell should be kept before the hens at all times. And water! Yes, of course, Eggs are 65 per cent water and a plentiful supply of fresh, clean water should always be on hand to supply that requirement. It is also essential for the health of the flock.

The feeding of a balanced ration will work wonders. There are plenty of examples of flocks that were fed all grain rations with only fair results, but which doubled or even tripled their output as soon as a good mash with the necessary protein element was added. It is not enough, however, just to feed a 50-50 mash and scratch feed ration all the time. The successful poultry man will study his flock. He will know whether they are being forced and producing beyond their normal capacity, or whether they are getting too fat and lazy so they are not laying as much as they should. If the former, he will cut down on the mash and feed more grain. If the latter, he will cut down on the grain and increase the

News Sidelights

An up-to-date Kansas City woman tells the newspapers that the name of Petticoat Lane in that city is obsolete and should be changed. She said the name meant nothing to the present generation, and suggested "Step-in Strasse" as a substitute.

Everett Law is another illustration of the fact that weak men have strong moments and vice versa. He won praise for his heroic work in rescuing 28 fellow inmates from the Ohio penitentiary five some weeks ago and was shortly afterward given his freedom. Now he has been convicted of robbing a filling station in Michigan.

If Judge Joseph Sabath runs for urging him to do, he ought to get off to a flying start. He sneaks in new languages and belongs to 22 lodges, clubs and other organizations. Then he has divorced 35,000 votes, which should give him 70,000 votes.

The crib in which President Hoover slept as a baby is still being put to practical use, according to a story from his birthplace, West Branch, Ia. It is owned by Wilbur Waters, who bought it from Mr. Hoover's father. When recently discovered and identified, the crib was occupied as a nest by a proudly clucking setting hen.

Although his funeral would not compare in grandeur with that of a prosperous racketeer, Louis A. Thiel, a Chicago artist, had 76 official mourners at his obsequies. Few if any, tears were shed, but each mourner received $20 for his services, from a fund left by Thiel for the purpose.

Connie Mack told radio listeners recently that Ty Cobb is the greatest baseball player of all times. Ty reciprocated by saying that Connie is the world's peerless manager. Usually such expressions of mutual admiration should be taken with a grain of salt, but in this case a majority of fans will probably agree with these distinguished knights of the diamond.

Threatened mob violence was abruptly squelched down Beaumont, Tex., way a few days ago by a doughty limb of the law. Sheriff W. W. Covington landed a well-timed wallop to the jaw of the self-appointed mob leader in getting out of the jail yard.

When moral suasion could not induce a religious sect at Nelson, Canada, to refrain from parading the streets without clothes, a spray of acid disinfectant by the police convinced them of their error.

A census enumerator recording data furnished by Mrs. Amanda Rudille, on a farm near Popular Bluff, Mo., nearly overlooked her father, 119 years old, who was chopping a little wood when the government men called.

John and Jesse Hall of Cohocton, O., were right proud of a barn they had built on their farm near town. When they went out to look it over a few days ago they found that thieves had removed it bodily, leaving only the concrete foundation.

Arthur Brown of St. Paul was sent to jail for stealing a number of articles from his sister, including her false teeth.

Subscribe for your home paper.

O'DONNELL FEED & COAL

Carries a Good Stock of FEED SEED FLOUR SALT COAL

We Sell For Cash on Small Margin.

Your Business Appreciated

C. N. WOODS

Watchmaker and Jeweler

Tahoka, Texas

Bill Der Says

People Differ Says Bill Der: "Folks are mighty queer. Some are deceitful some sincere: Some farmers do not give a darn What kind of shack they call a barn!"

The Pioneer Abstract Company

Tahoka, Texas ABSTRACTS, LOANS AND LEASES Complete Abstracts to Property in Original Town of O'Donnell, $25.00 Supplemental Work Seventy-Five Cents Per Page DON BRADLEY, Manager PHONE 157

Oil Is Cheaper Than Machinery

Do not experiment with off-brand and low grade oil in your car. "Oil is Cheaper Than Machinery." Good oil costs only a few cents more. Don't take chances. Use Conoco General-Processed or Quaker State. There is none better. Let us check your oil before you make another trip. It might save you many dollars.

BATTERY — GENERATOR — ELECTRIC SERVICE Goodyear Tires and Tubes HIGHWAY GARAGE John Earles, Prop.

Smile At the Ache

Muscular Pains They may attack you anywhere—your back, your legs, your arms, your neck. These Pains may be mistaken for Neuritis, Rheumatism, Lumbago, Sciatica.

Stop them with that modern, pleasant, mint-flavored tablet, DR. MILES' ASPIR-MINT. It's quick in action and effective. Try it for Headache, Colds, and Neuralgia.

DR. MILES' Aspir-Mint

Two Sizes 15c and 25c YOU'LL GET RELIEF—OR YOUR MONEY BACK

Insurance THE STRONGHOLD OF YOUR CASTLE

An uninsured household is like a house of cards ready to topple when Death tugs at the master's sleeve. Only Insurance can protect your home fully. LIFE, FIRE AND ACCIDENT INSURANCE HAYMES & BEACH LOANS AND INSURANCE Phone 153

Why pay for "POWER" if most of it is "horsepower"

Is a steep, muddy grade a detour sign to your car? Is power just a promise in the gasoline you use? Switch to Phillips 66 and note the smooth flow of power released by a touch of the throttle. See how alert your car is on get-away—how flashy on pickup. Check your mileage—and credit yourself with economy. The secret of the sterling performance of Phillips 66 is controlled volatility. Every gallon scientifically fitted to seasonal and climatic conditions. A winter gas in winter. A spring gas in spring. A summer gas in summer. A fall gas in fall. A pep and power combination all year 'round. Drive up, with confidence, to the pump marked "Phillips 66." Drive away with a tankful of motoring satisfaction.

Phillips 66 CONTROLLED VOLATILITY

—the principle by which Phillips 66 is varied to fit season and climate—is the big news that is saving thousands to this seasonal gasoline. Assures you pep, power, mileage all year 'round. W. H. VEAZEY, Wholesale Distributor Phillips Pet. Co. Station No. 1070, W. H. Veazey, Mgr.

The Handsome Man

By Margaret Turnbull
Illustrations by Irwin Myers
W. N. V. SERVICE

CHAPTER I

Bond Street, deserted by shopping and sightseeing crowds, is not exhilarating. It is in fact rather depressing, to one who takes it between seven and eight o'clock on a typically wet and drizzling London night.

Save for an occasional belated crier, a watchman or two and a policeman, the young man who was making his way from the Regent to Clifford Street found it practically his own and he did not like it.

He turned the corner of Clifford Street, caught sight of his own image in the long mirror of a corner shop which reflected the light from a street lamp, saw how disgruntled he looked and managed to smile at himself.

After all a disagreeable duty might as well be gone through with some spirit. He stopped to look in a bookshop window next to the entrance of the flats in which his stepmother had her temporary residence. He could see very little of the books, because of the dim light but he saw the spines of several angular bound novels, well in the foreground with the price "seven-and-six" plainly marked, caught his eye. He gazed at them with interest, because seven-and-six was more than two dollars represented the exact amount he had in his pocket.

He was so hungry that he could not help hoping that his stepmother would not ask him to dine, since he could not possibly accept if she did, and the mere mention of food would make him ravenous. His pride required that he refuse.

He had tasted nothing since breakfast. The journey to town had taken all but his precious seven-and-six, and he had yet to secure a night's lodging.

He found himself in the doorway, resting his hand on the bell. The neighborhood was not fashionable, but it was undoubtedly, for a country woman like his stepmother, both convenient and accessible. A few doors above him was the shop of a well-known shoemaker. He could see the shop from the doorstep. How many times he had come up this street to order a pair of shoes! Well, those carefree days were over. In fact they had come to an end when his father married the woman whose doorbell he was about to ring.

He gave the bell a savage pull and waited. There was no answer. He rang again.

Faint and far away he heard the rumble of something that must be an elevator. He shook the water from his hat and sighed.

The door was opened by a very pretty young girl in a maid's cap and gown.

"Lady Sandison."

"Yes, sir."

The maid indicated the elevator, which was in the middle of the narrow dimly lighted hall. The floor was covered with a black and white patterned linoleum. A dark, marble-topped stand stood near the doorway, containing a mirror in which it was impossible to see oneself. Surrounding the mirror were several wooden pegs on which to hang hats and coats although none were hung there. There was a small, tarnished, silver-plated tray for cards on the marble top of this stand, and about it were scattered several letters and papers. It was the sole piece of furniture in the hall.

The maid passed to gather up the letters and papers before she followed the young man past the stairs, which were rather ornate as to handrail, balusters and turned post.

The young man had glanced quickly at the scattered letters before taking his way down the hall, reassured that some of them were in his handwriting, consequently his stepmother must have received the note he had sent from Liverpool.

The elevator was so small that when the maid entered, and took hold of the ropes which operated it, there was barely room for one passenger. The maid closed the door and the antiquated little contrivance began its slow ascent.

After his long sojourn in the Americas, both South and Central, the first glimpse of the hall, the lift and the maid had given him a odd feeling, like that experienced in a dream which the dreamer feels he has had before. The next moment, even as with the dreamer, he had forgotten all that had been that sight and experience for some time, and was once more part of the "British" environment in which he found himself, all strangeness gone.

His stepmother's flat was the front flat on the second floor. The maid brought the elevator to a standstill and preceded him down a narrow hallway. The young man followed, trying to picture what this meeting would be like.

The maid, after a perfunctory knock, thrust open the door and announced: "A gentleman to see you, Lady Sandison."

"Come in," said a full deep voice with a good honest Scotch burr in it, and the young man walked in.

The sitting room looked very cozy, after the wet streets. The curtains were drawn and the fire was blazing. In one of the easy chairs, a large one, drawn close to the fire, her feet on the fender, sat a dumpy little woman with red-fair hair that was slowly turning gray. Her features were quite regular. Her complexion was clear red and white. She wore a black dress with white collar and cuffs, well and simply made, which gave her an air of greater refinement than was really hers. She could not, however, cloak her Scots' tongue. It is difficult to do Lady Sandison's speech justice in cold print. There was a crispness, a richness, a rolling of the r's, a tendency to make "dinner," "deener," that an attempt to illustrate by letters would only travesty.

The young man advanced toward his stepmother, who had not risen, with outstretched hand.

"Sir Geordie," the dumpy little woman said, rising slowly to her feet and holding his hand, "it's grand to see you again."

As Sir Geordie stood looking down at her, a slow smile lifted the corner of her eyes.

"My father was old enough—" he began again.

"Your father was an old fool. We both knew that," admitted Aggy with the awful directness that had always distinguished her, and using more markedly plebeian terms of expression than before. Evidently when Aggy grew excited or emotional, caution left her. "But what you do not understand is that he would have made a fool of himself if I hadn't interfered. He was fair determined to marry that young brazen hussy, Jock Heath's daughter, Meggy, if I wouldn't have him. It was my thought that there would be a lot of trouble and expense for you if he married me, a wiselike woman of sense and middle age, than a young hussy that would make the money fly—and what was left of the estate."

"Aggy," cried her stepson.

"That's more like it," Lady Sandison said, with a satisfied look. "Keep to Aggy, Sir Geordie, and you'll not go far wrong. It's your own old Aggy, with an eye to your future, that married your father and, if I do say it, kept him in order for the last of his days."

Aggy grow solemn. "They were fewer than I thought they would be when I took on the job. He was a grand man, Sir Steenie was, and I was set up that he should choose me. He was sober the day we were married. I saw to that myself," she continued with an air of conscious rectitude.

"My conscience! It was an awful-like honeymoon!" He started in when he reached Glasgow, and he was still at it, when, after running over the city hall the night, I got him back to his hotel and then on the train for Sandisbar. Save as when he got there!" She shook her head. "Well, I kept him alive for more than a year and the doctor himself said it was a wonder that he had lasted a week. His end was very peaceful after he got over the idea he had that he was being chased by Robert Bruce's spider—and all its family." She looked at Sir Geordie with a kind of triumph in her eyes.

"He was an extraordinary man, grand even in the D. T.'s! He couldn't even have a delirium like anybody else."

She stopped and wiped her eyes. "I was fond of him," she said simply. "In spite of all, I was a proud woman that he selected me to be his second, and however you have felt toward him and me, Sir Geordie, you must mind I did it for your best interests, and he was an extraordinary man."

"I think," Sir Geordie told her, "it is you who are an extraordinary woman," he hesitated and then said it, "Lady Sandison."

"Oh, not that from you, Sir Geordie," she cried, and then stretched out a timid, pudgy, capable hand toward him. "Could we not be friends, we two? There's a heap I would like to speak to you about, and indeed there's nothing I wouldn't do for you. You were my own wee laddie when I took care of you."

Sir Geordie looked at her with an embarrassed air. "You make it hard for me, Lady."

"Aggy to you," declared Lady Sandison promptly. "You called me that when I was your nurse girl, and I'm still wanting to look after you."

"Aggy," he began, after a moment's hesitation.

The maid came in with the cloth and began to set the table, and Sir Geordie watched somberly. What was it in life that caught one and drew one toward the very people one hoped to avoid? He had come, only because of the duty he owed his father's widow, to see her once and be done with her forever—and he found he had forgotten how much he liked Aggy. It was preposterous, but it was true. This was the woman he had cursed many a day, many a night and when he was dining with her!

Lady Sandison hesitated a moment when the maid left the room, and then went resolutely to where she had caused the extra blankets and sheets to be stored, and came back with a bottle of wine.

He stopped her as she was about to pour out a glass for him.

"Dear, Dear! But You're an Awful Height, Laddie."

her lips. "Dear, dear! But you're an awful height laddie—I mean Sir Geordie."

"Oh, why not the 'laddie,' if you like?"

His stepmother gave a quick look about her. The maid, all eyes, had left the room.

"Sit down, Sir Geordie," she said with an air of command that somehow seemed natural to her. "Have you engagements or will you dine with me? I've a deal to say."

"I'll dine with you, gladly," Sir Geordie found himself saying. He was amazed at himself, or was it at Lady Sandison? It was the last thing he had contemplated, but since there was no way out now, he would continue at least to look as though duty and pleasure went hand in hand.

"Would an early dinner discommode you?"

"It would not. I would be glad to have it early. I've been traveling since morning."

"That'll suit me fine. I'll ring for the dinner now, and then we'll get to our talking."

She rang the bell and looked again at her stepson.

"Dear Sakes! It's queer enough to think of you and me sitting down together."

Sir Geordie frowned, but before he could voice his evident amazement the woman spoke again.

"I've been wanting to tell you several things for a long while past, but they were not such things as could be put on paper, so I had to bide in patience until I could get at you, so to speak."

The maid appeared again, and was briefly told to see about the dinner at once. "Sir Geordie is dining with me."

The maid gave a pleased stare at Sir Geordie, with her "Yes m'lady," which led Sir Geordie to surmise correctly that she had been taken, at least a short distance, into Lady Sandison's confidence.

But Aggy, Lady Sandison, never took anyone too far into her confidence. She had confided to the landlady through the maid, that the young man was expected. She had also hinted that she might "have him to dinner" if he was not that engaged that he hadn't a minute to spare even for a stepmother." She had further added: "And I have this much to talk about with him that, in case we have not got through by midnight, I'll be asking you to leave sheets and blankets in the press here, so I can make up the couch in the sitting room for myself, if I can persuade the poor tired laddie to rest here."

The landlady, who had found Lady Sandison "neat" but just had agreed to this, picturing to herself from Lady's confidences some pale, tired lad of fifteen or sixteen.

The sheets, blankets and pillow cases were that moment reposing on the top shelf of the press in the sitting room and the shrewd Lady Sandison was determined they should be used, though this Sir Geordie did not guess. He was even then, his diamant having been provided by Providence, wondering where he would lay his head, yet retain his seven-and-six for breakfast in the morning, until he could borrow money enough to start over.

Again Lady Sandison upset her stepson's calculations, for she faced him and said:

"You must have often wondered what my plan to marry your father."

His father's son blushed, as he remembered that father, and then said guiltily:

"I never wonder at marriages. The reasons why are never clear to an outsider."

"I wouldn't exactly call you an outsider."

"Everybody except the parties to a marriage is an outsider," Sir Geordie insisted. He was becoming a little annoyed with Aggy. He was remembering now that as his nurse, long years ago, she had seen awfully set on having her way, and would argue with the small boy he had been until she got it.

"My father was old enough—" he began again.

"Your father was an old fool. We both knew that," admitted Aggy with the awful directness that had always distinguished her, and using more markedly plebeian terms of expression than before. Evidently when Aggy grew excited or emotional, caution left her. "But what you do not understand is that he would have made a fool of himself if I hadn't interfered. He was fair determined to marry that young brazen hussy, Jock Heath's daughter, Meggy, if I wouldn't have him. It was my thought that there would be a lot of trouble and expense for you if he married me, a wiselike woman of sense and middle age, than a young hussy that would make the money fly—and what was left of the estate."

"Aggy," cried her stepson.

"That's more like it," Lady Sandison said, with a satisfied look. "Keep to Aggy, Sir Geordie, and you'll not go far wrong. It's your own old Aggy, with an eye to your future, that married your father and, if I do say it, kept him in order for the last of his days."

Aggy grow solemn. "They were fewer than I thought they would be when I took on the job. He was a grand man, Sir Steenie was, and I was set up that he should choose me. He was sober the day we were married. I saw to that myself," she continued with an air of conscious rectitude.

"My conscience! It was an awful-like honeymoon!" He started in when he reached Glasgow, and he was still at it, when, after running over the city hall the night, I got him back to his hotel and then on the train for Sandisbar. Save as when he got there!" She shook her head. "Well, I kept him alive for more than a year and the doctor himself said it was a wonder that he had lasted a week. His end was very peaceful after he got over the idea he had that he was being chased by Robert Bruce's spider—and all its family." She looked at Sir Geordie with a kind of triumph in her eyes.

"He was an extraordinary man, grand even in the D. T.'s! He couldn't even have a delirium like anybody else."

She stopped and wiped her eyes. "I was fond of him," she said simply. "In spite of all, I was a proud woman that he selected me to be his second, and however you have felt toward him and me, Sir Geordie, you must mind I did it for your best interests, and he was an extraordinary man."

"I think," Sir Geordie told her, "it is you who are an extraordinary woman," he hesitated and then said it, "Lady Sandison."

"Oh, not that from you, Sir Geordie," she cried, and then stretched out a timid, pudgy, capable hand toward him. "Could we not be friends, we two? There's a heap I would like to speak to you about, and indeed there's nothing I wouldn't do for you. You were my own wee laddie when I took care of you."

Sir Geordie looked at her with an embarrassed air. "You make it hard for me, Lady."

"Aggy to you," declared Lady Sandison promptly. "You called me that when I was your nurse girl, and I'm still wanting to look after you."

"Aggy," he began, after a moment's hesitation.

The maid came in with the cloth and began to set the table, and Sir Geordie watched somberly. What was it in life that caught one and drew one toward the very people one hoped to avoid? He had come, only because of the duty he owed his father's widow, to see her once and be done with her forever—and he found he had forgotten how much he liked Aggy. It was preposterous, but it was true. This was the woman he had cursed many a day, many a night and when he was dining with her!

Lady Sandison hesitated a moment when the maid left the room, and then went resolutely to where she had caused the extra blankets and sheets to be stored, and came back with a bottle of wine.

He stopped her as she was about to pour out a glass for him.

in money as long as hers need out, or she could earn it. But would he tolerate even the slight bond of old affection and new interest? How would he know that she would ask nothing, except nothing? One instant she trembled to think that he would refuse, the next she was able to breathe again.

"Aggy, you're an angel," said her stepson, "and I'll think it over."

She gazed up at him, a mist before her rather hard looking blue eyes. She was not one to give way to emotions, rather to disguise them. She pretended that she was gazing at him with curiosity, not affection.

"How tall will you be?"

"Six feet three," admitted Sir Geordie.

"You'll be something to show America," said Lady Sandison, complacently.

"There are lots of tall Americans."

"No doubt," said Aggy. Lady Sandison, still with her absurd air of satisfaction, "America's a grand place, but the streets cannot be exactly crowded with beautiful young men that are six feet three!"

(Continued next week)

another minute without relief. Physicians gave him emergency treatment and suggested he pour his beer down the kitchen sink. Dr. Miles said:

The choir boys of a church in Fleet, Eng., went on a strike because they were ordered to wear stiff collars.

Buy Triple 'B' Salt

A carload of Barton's Triple "B" salt for all purposes will arrive here Tuesday, July 22, and will be handled in O'Donnell by the following merchants: "M" System, Grocery Guild, B. & O. Cash Store and J. W. Chandler. When in need of salt, specify Barton's Triple "B". It's better!

See us for Coal, Feed and Flour.

O'Donnell Feed & Coal

D. J. BOLCH CAMPAIGNING FOR WEAIGHER

Getting a late start in his campaign for the office of public weigher of Precinct No. 4, Lynn County, D. J. Bolch, prominent farmer of the Wells community, is visiting all parts of the precinct the last two weeks in the interest of his candidacy. Knowing that he might overlook someone, he is using an ad in this issue of the Index to ask for the consideration of the voters.

Mr. Bolch came to Lynn County over six years ago and has been identified with progressive movements in his community and county at large ever since. He made the race for this office four years ago, being defeated by a small plurality. His only promise is that he will deal fairly and squarely with all alike and that he will give the best of service possible. That he is a highly qualified goes without saying.

NEW AILMENT IS DISCOVERED

Dr. Walter H. Miles, Oklahoma City health director, said recently a new beer ailment, best described as "the knots" has been discovered. Dr. Miles said "knots" in the stomach resulted from the drinking of "home brew."

Advising temperance to avoid the disorder, Dr. Miles said the combination of too much "home brew" and hot weather has "floored" a number of persons.

The health director said one victim of "the knots" called at the health department and demanded immediate attention, declaring he could not last

PROGRESSIVE—

but
SAFE,
SOUND and
CONSERVATIVE

(Political Advertisement)

To The Voters of Lynn County

I am soliciting your vote and influence for sheriff of Lynn County for my second term in office, and promise you that I will endeavor as I have in the past, to make an efficient law officer.

Owing to the many duties I have to perform as sheriff and Tax Collector, and this has been a busy year, it has been impossible for me to make a thorough canvass of the voters this year.

The office will be separated this next term and will enable the sheriff to devote all his time to the duties of sheriff. This is as it should be and will give the citizens better service in both offices.

Again soliciting your vote and influence on my merits as a Peace Officer and promising you the duties of the office will be carried on the best of my ability.

Respectfully,

C. W. SANFORD

(Political Advertisement)

6661 POUNDS MIL KRECEIVED ON FIRST DAY

Milk Plant Starts Operations Tuesday At Lamesa; Outlook Is Pleasing

The opening of the West Texas Dairy Products Co. plant at Lamesa Tuesday was marked by the receiving of 6,661 pounds of fresh whole milk the first day...

Milk was brought to the plant from as far as 27 miles south of Lamesa and four miles north of O'Donnell. It was in excellent condition, and none was rejected because of poor quality or unsatisfactory condition.

While it will be some time before the plant will be operating at capacity, the outlook is very pleasing, according to officials. The plant is capable of handling 100,000 pounds of milk in 20 hours.

Look for specials in this issue.

UNITED CHAIN ENJOYS GROWTH

The United Dry Goods Stores, Inc., of Texas with headquarters at El Paso was organized five years ago, and have made remarkable growth in that time...

They have recently made a permanent reduction in many items in their line, owing to their large buying power, and are passing along the saving to their customers...

You will always find courteous treatment from this young man and his employees.

Mrs. May Arnold returned Sunday from an extended trip to Oklahoma points.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Harris have as their guests this week their niece, Mrs. Procter of Christoval.

POLITICAL COLUMN

The following candidates have authorized the Index to place their names in our announcement column subject to the action of the Democratic Primary, July 26:

District Judge, 106 Judicial District: GORDON B. McGUIRE (Re-Election).

For District Clerk: W. S. (SKIP) TAYLOR

For County Judge: G. C. GRIDER. (Re-Election).

For State Representative, 119th Legislative District: JOHN N THOMAS

For County Attorney: G. H. NELSON. (Re-Election).

For Sheriff and Tax Collector: S. W. SANFORD. (Re-Election). B. L. PARKER. J. H. BULMAN

For Tax Collector: A. M. CADE (TOM) BREWER. L. T. SWAN. W. WASH. WICKERSON. R. E. KEY

For District Attorney: T. L. PRICE. (Re-Election).

For Tax Assessor: T. W. (WILL) BROWN. A. I. THOMAS. NEWTON M. BARHAM

For County Clerk: TRUETT B. SMITH. (Re-Election)

For County Superintendent: H. P. CAVENESS. (Re-Election).

For County Treasurer: MISS VIOLA ELLIS (Re-Election)

For Public Weigher, Precinct 4. MELL. PRICE. (re-election.) D. J. BOLCH. D. S. (MITT) TODD.

For Commissioner Precinct 3: T. J. YANDELL. (Re-Election). W. G. ALLEN. WALDO McLAURIN.

(DAWSON COUNTY) For Commissioner Precinct 2: H. L. HOHN. Re-election.

For Tax Collector Dawson Co.: ELLIE ELIZABETH RIDGWAY.

For County Superintendent: T. M. CASH.

EAST SIDE NEWS

Crops are beginning to suffer from rain out our way. Mrs. Dick Simpson was called to Amhurst last week to attend the funeral of her mother, Grandma Berry...

Well, most out our way have quit farming and gone to eating ice cream as a crowd gathered at Wallace Rains' Saturday night and made ice cream, then at Herman Waldrop's Sunday and at the H. L. Brewer home on Monday.

Mrs. Addie Horton is on the sick list at this writing. Mr. and Mrs. Mack Thorp of Andrews, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Brewer and little son of Lovington, Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Sweet and children of the Midway community, Wallace Rains and family, Charlie Hood and Jack Brewer had dinner at the H. L. Brewer home Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. L. L. and family of Wells visited their daughter, Mrs. H. W. Waldrop, Sunday.

Charlie Musick of New Mexico spent the week-end with his brother, Ernest Musick.

A. I. THOMAS FOR ASSESSOR

A. I. Thomas, who is a candidate for tax assessor of Lynn County, was a visitor in the Index office Wednesday and left an ad for this issue. He says he has canvassed the county thoroughly and is confident of victory at the polls Saturday.

THE GOVERNOR'S RACE

"The governor's race seems to have narrowed down to a question of whether Ross Sterling or Tom Love will be Mrs. Ferguson's opponent in the second primary," thinks the Index as Weekly. "The important word in the sentence, however, is 'seem'."

"The trend to Sterling continues, with the election only a week in the future, if the majority of the political dopers and editorial prognosticators are to be believed. On only one other feature of the race is there more general agreement, and that is that Mrs. Ferguson is likely to go in for the run-off. During the past week a number of significant straws, bending toward Sterling, have been apparent. On Monday the Dallas News article on its front page an article by Ted Dealey analyzing the situation and setting forth the deliberate straws which favor Sterling was published ahead of Barry Miller, Jim Young, and Clint Small, and bidding fair to get into the run-off, probably, with Mrs. Dealey. 'Yes in the answer to the question: Is there any chance of the voters centering on one of the candidates, Sterling Small, Young, or Miller? The answer seems to be yes. There are straws in the wind which indicate very clearly that this crystallization of sentiment is taking place. And the trend which apparently has set in seems to be favorable to the candidacy of Mr. Sterling. Political prognostication is a difficult thing, at best. The greatest surprises occur. An aspect is possible at any time. Remember, or instance, how many bets were lost in the Lone Star State when Texas' 'lost' Representative, Ferguson, made the statement that Ross Sterling seems to be the man upon whom the people of Texas are centering to best the so-called 'professionals' can be supported by facts which do not in any way favor of personal opinion. In the first place, Sterling, from the very beginning, had a strategic opportunity to raise above the rank and file of the candidates in his division. That strategic opportunity lay in the fact that he alone of the four, Sterling, Miller, Small, and Young, had political individuality. He alone of these four is new in politics. He alone of these four has no political record behind him. He alone of these four stood fourth as one whose main interest in life had been business. And last and most of all, he and he alone assumed a positive stand on what has developed into the only real issue of the campaign, the road bond issue. Mr. Sterling was and is for it. In fact, he was the father of it. All the others are against it, with the exception of Mr. Love, who is for it with reservations. The only strategic opportunity lay in the fact that Sterling's race from his standpoint was whether he could get his message over to the people within the limited time allowed him from the date of his Huntsville speech until the close of the first heat of July 26. Apparently the time was time; the voters seem to be getting the message which Mr. Sterling hoped to deliver to them. Ross Sterling, then, to sum it up, was only a few short weeks ago almost on top of the running. Now he is most decidedly in it. Instead of Ferguson, Mayfield and Love leading the field, it is now these three and Ross Sterling who are bunched, with indications that Mr. Sterling is gradually nudging his nose ahead of the last two to vie with Mrs. Ferguson for first place. This is not written in the

MESQUITE AND TREDWAY NEWS

Mr. and Mrs. Cliff Ornday of Olney were visiting the week-end. Geo. L. Stephens Jr., spent the week-end at home.

Misses Loys, and Mamie Bearden, Gertrude and Fairy Knapp, Nannie Crump, Mayola Bearshaw and Annie L. Stephens spent Sunday afternoon at Mrs. Minnie Humes'.

Mr. and Mrs. Kropp of the "Forty-niner" ranch are the proud parents of a twelve pound daughter born Monday, July 14.

Lefty Stephens is now barbering at Gall.

Jess Stephens of Snyder was visiting the Kropp family this week.

The Wilborn family of Plainview community, L. Charles Eaton and Lawrence Burris spent Sunday afternoon with Nettie Gray.

A large crowd attended the party at Bearden's Saturday evening. Everyone spent an enjoyable evening. There is singing at the school house every Sunday night. Everyone is cordially invited to attend.

Look for specials in this issue.

spirit of prediction, but in the spirit of education from a mass of political straws which seem to show which way the wind is blowing. It is a sentiment that is gradually crystallizing. And while those who vote this sentiment may be wrong, the fact that they are voting it is uncontested."

Calling By Number Takes Less Time

If you know the numbers at your out-of-town calls you can get many of them about as quickly as local calls. It is worth while keeping a list of numbers you frequently use. If you do not know them, "Information" will get them for you.

If there are a lot of them, write to our business office and ask us to make out the list for you.

If you want someone in a hurry, the telephone number is an important asset as the street address. Knowing the number will help you to speed your long distance calls.

O'DONNELL TELEPHONE CO.

Pioneers

We have pioneered the dairy industry in this section and feel that we are part of it.

At the present price of cream we are paying you the highest price for your dairy products.

Bring Us Your Cream AND OTHER PRODUCE

HIGHEST CASH PRICES PAID AT ALL TIMES

O'DONNELL PRODUCE CO.

J. A. CORNETT, Mgr.

Such Wonderful BREAD

The finest flour that money can buy, the purest dairy products and yeast, the utmost skill and our modern sanitary bakeoven combine to present O'Donnell with SNO-FLAKE Bread. No wonder that you vote it the finest ever.

THERE IS NO BREAD BETTER THAN BOVELL'S

Don't forget to specify BOVELL'S SNO-FLAKE bread—the kind with the FREE COUPON under the wrapper. Get a KODAK absolutely free.

We Appreciate Your Business AT YOUR GROCER'S

Bovell Bakery

Tahoka, Texas

OFFICERS ARE NAMED TO HOLD ELECTION

Officers to hold the coming Democratic primary election on Saturday, July 26, were appointed by the County Executive Committee, headed by H. M. Larkin, chairman, at a meeting at the court house Monday, according to the Lynn County News. The presiding judge for the corresponding precincts is named first and associated judges second in the list as shown below:

- No. 1, South Tahoka—N. C. Rainey, J. B. Walker. No. 2, Wilson—John Heck, J. E. Richardson. No. 3, Three Lakes—Carroll Edwards, W. W. Johnson. No. 4, New Home—S. L. Smith, James Izard. No. 5, Draw—D. G. Cook, A. Z. Sewell. No. 6, North Tahoka, Claude Wells, W. T. Clinton. No. 7, O'Donnell—Jeff Shook, D. M. Estes. No. 8, Grassland—E. A. Thomas, Fred Matthews. No. 9, Gordon—Walter Winn, O. R. Coov. No. 10, Magnolia—Dad Faires, Harry Hart. No. 11, West Point—J. M. Nobles, Tom Hale. No. 12, New Moore—J. F. Rogers, Tom Cole. No. 13, Dixie—J. D. Sossaman, Milt Murrain. No. 4, Morgan—Ed Milliken, Clyde Shaw.

RALLS MAN, 78, RECOMMENDS CHIROPRACTIC

I want to say that after being told by several M. D.s and specialists that there was nothing to be done for me, and sent home to wind up my business, I just decided I would try a chiropractor. So I began taking adjustments from Dr. Melroy of Ralls and I can truly say he has done me more good than all the balance. He has helped my hearing and cured my grinding teeth which had bothered me for years, when some of the best M. D.s said it could not be done. I had high blood pressure and kidney trouble very bad, and it is now three years since I began using chiropractic methods for my health and I am now 78 years old and I use chiropractic instead of drugs when I feel that I need anything.

I would advise you or anyone to consult a chiropractor before you just give up. Yet it doesn't take faith as some people think. Just try it and you will see for yourself. With best wishes for the profession.—D. H. (Uncle Dave) Benton, Ralls, Texas. Dr. Melroy now lives in O'Donnell where he has many patients as enthusiastic as Mr. Benton. Phone 139 for appointment. Adv.

ELECTION SPECIALS

FOR Friday, Saturday and Monday, July 25th, 26th and 28th

AT THE POPULAR

O'DONNELL

- LADIES' HATS Ladies Summer Hats 75c
- OVERALLS Boys Blue Overalls, All Sizes 88c
- UNIONSUITS Mens good grade unionsuits reinforced backs 2 for $1.00
- UNDERWEAR Mens Rayon striped undershirts 39c
- GLOVES Mens genuine horsehide work gloves with or without cuffs, $1.50 value $1.00
- DRESS SHIRTS Mens Dress Shirts 87c
- PRINT 36 inch print 7 yards for $1.00
- SHOES One lot blonde shoes $2.79
- TOWELS Large size heavy Turkish towels 5 for $1.00
- UNIONSUITS Boys unionsuits, sizes 10 to 16 years 3 for $1.00
- HATS Mens dress straw hats, values to $3.95 $1.00
- SHEETING 9-4 wide sheeting bleached or unbleached 2 1/2 yards $1.00