Visiting in the Douglas Ballew home are Mrs. Bill Iley and children of Fallston, Maryland. Mrs. Iley is a sister of Mrs. Ballew and is remembered here as Lois Howard.

Time To Build Grain Storage

Advanced planning in checking "on-farm" grain storage may save valuable time during harvest, says W. S. Allen, extension agricultural engineer. Leaky, run-down, and unclean storage buildings will increase hazards from insect and rodent damage, the two factors usually responsible for the loss of quality in farm storage.

A good storage unit should meet certain standards. The roof should be weather tight, the walls should be strong, sound, and rain proof. Any potential water leaks should be patched and caulked to prevent the entry of moisture from the outside. Cover the openings in the walls and gable ends of the buildings with screen wire to keep out rats and birds, and use 1-4 inch mesh wire around the tops of wooden bins. Lining the lower part of doors and door openings with strips of metal sheets will keep rats from gnawing holes at the corners. Check the foundations of wooden buildings to be sure they are not decayed, and repair any foundation deterioration, Allen says.

Be sure all trash, weeds, and grass are clear from around the bins to help reduce rat population and insect infestation. A poisoning program to control rats and a fumigation program to control insects can be recommended by your county agricultural agent.

Store dry grain or provide equipment for drying the grain in storage. The maximum moisture content for safe storage in Texas is 12 percent in most areas. Establish a checking program and check the grain periodically to insure that it is dry, free of insects and that quality is being maintained. A little advanced planning and proper supervision will insure a quality stored product for later sale or feeding.

O'DONNELL INDEX PRESS

39th year, no. 48 O'DONNELL, LYNN COUNTY, TEXAS, Wed. Aug. 2, 1961 $2 And $2.50 Per Year

Area Oil Activity Is Picking Up

After a long period of low activity area oil activity has shown signs of renewed life.

Sharp Drilling Co. is drilling at 7550 feet on Popnoe No. 1, 7 miles SE of here in Dawson Co.

In the same general location about 10 miles from town a new location has been made in the Felken Sprabery pool. It is the John Cox No. 2-A Clarence Gillespie. It is to be drilled to 7600 feet with rotary rig. The first well on the Gillespie place was about 18 months ago.

The index understands that a new well on the Charlie Kendrick place is flowing. It was on this farm that the discovery well was made about 4 or 5 years ago.

The above locations are in the local school district and will have a material benefit to the district.

The current national policy of importing crude oil as foreign aid to friendly nations has hit domestic oil production hard and many oil towns are depressed due to the low number of days of oil allowable.

However even with the unfriendly climate even in the area is picking up and the future holds more interest than in past months.

ROBERSON REUNION HELD

The reunion of the Roberson family and friends was held at the O'Donnell Community Hall last Sunday with about 48 being present. Mrs. Mary Roberson Paye of Abilene was an honored guest. NEW LAW TO PROTECT BUYER

Austin — Texas consumers of foods, drugs and cosmetics will come out in the long end of an almost completely new state law which goes into effect late next month.

The new law, aimed at consumer protection against adulteration, mislabeling and false advertising was passed by the 57th session of the State Legislature with strong support of a major segment of the food, drug and cosmetic industry.

It becomes effective August 28th and represents the first major overhaul of the State's basic food and drug law in more than 50 years. State health authorities say the law is as good as in force anywhere in the nation. It puts Texas on the side of the proponents of uniformity in state food and drug laws.

The old law made no provision for checking on the wholesomeness of cosmetics, whereas the new act requires truthful advertising, complete labeling as to ingredients, forbids the use of harmful ingredients and requires that products be produced and held under sanitary conditions. The law also brings therapeutic devices under control by outlawing worthless contrivances such as "cancer belts" and "arthritis rings" and similar quack appliances which take advantage of the desperation of afflicted people.

THIS WEEK IN AUSTIN
By Senator Preston Smith

This week was the Senate's turn at action on the new Sales Tax Bill. After long work sessions late last week, the House of Representatives moved out the bill to the Senate.

The Bill (HB 20) is expected to undergo several changes in Senate activity before being sent back to the House.

The principal money raising features of the bill include a 2 percent sales tax on utility bills, construction materials, power and motor driven objects and items costing $5 or more. This part is estimated to raise about $265 million in the next two years. Some say this figure is estimated too high.

Needs of our state to raise these taxes comes at the climax of an increasing demand in recent years for more government services. Natural increases by population growth add their demands to the state's treasury. But the main reason is that people ask more, and want more from state government all the time. The people constantly want more and better roads, better health and welfare services and many other things that have been recognized as government responsibility.

The equation of taxation and services is simple — more government services cost more money, thru higher taxes. You can't have the services without the taxes. There has never been a substantial case of any government offering more services for less taxes.

There is not one legislator here in Austin who want to increase taxes. Each of us will be paying the same taxes. But these taxes must be in acted, in one form or another, if Texas is to continue to operate the services it has in the past. The money must be raised and taxes seen to be the only way.

MARCHETA WOOD GETS SCHOLARSHIP

Miss Marcheta Wood, daughter of Mr and Mrs. Jack Wood of here was named scholarship winner of the Home Demonstration Clubs of District 2 at the Dress Revue held in Lubbock last week. The scholarship for $500 is given by the H. D. clubs of this district to a girl who is outstanding in 4-H club work.

Miss Wood, a member of the Lynn Co. 4-H club, will major in home economics at Texas Tech this fall. She has been active in every phase of 4-H work since she was 12.

She won the "Make It Yourself With Wool" contest in Texas in 1959. She has been to the State Dress Revue in Dallas two years in a row. One of her outstanding abilities was leadership. She was a member of District 4-H officers and assisted with leadership and electric camps in 1960.

Rita Vaughn of Midland is visiting her grandparents Mr and Mrs. Lester Parker. Also visiting last week was Dewey Parker of Littlefield.

Beat 4 eggs in top of double boiler. Add 1 box of light brown sugar and 1 tablespoon of butter. Cook over boiling water until butter is melted. Remove from heat, add 1 L-2 cups of flour, 1 L-2 teasp. baking powder, 1 tablespoon vanilla, 1 cup chopped pecans. Spread on greased cookie sheet and bake at 350 degrees until a golden brown. Cut in squares.

Peach - Apricot Delight Ice Cream

2 large cans evaporated milk.
3 cups sugar
1 small can apricot nectar (12 oz)
4 or 5 soft peaches mashed fine or 1 large can peaches, drained and mashed.

Dairy milk to fill 4 qt. can.
Combine all ingredients and freeze according to ice cream freezer instructions. Makes four quarts.

Try the following two recipes for a cool delicious supper on a warm evening. Serve with a plate of these cookies and watch them disappear in a hurry — especially if the ed. is eating with you.

Most men fancy themselves as cooks. Here's our ditty on brewing boarding house soup.

Take 2 or 3 head tails, 4 medium onions, diced. Boil all this junk together, salt and pepper to taste. Add one 303 can tomatoes. When meat is tender, put in refrigerator overnight. When cold take off the layer of fat. Most of you have too much fat in the blood, and other places. With the fat off you will not have a jelly-like mass — that's a good beginning. Now don't ruin it.

When you get up as dawn breaks to make coffee for your little bride (who is still in bed) put this pot of soup stock on the low burner and simmer until about an hour before lunch. Then put in half a cup of rice, and look in the ice box. There's bound to be a half cup of this left-overs and a quarter cup of that. Dump everything that's not nailed down and you are in business. If you find you haven't enough soup for your in-laws who just drove up — add water.

Since most of our readers are women (a man wouldn't fuss up to reading this Great Weekly) we invite your account of your favorite dish. We especially need to know a good way of making hush puppies. Thank you, and good day.

Rabies Still A Problem

There is a swinging pendulum in Texas. It is descending like Poe's weapon in the pit to alter the picture of rabies in Texas.

At the end of June the Texas State Department of Health announced a total of 359 rabies cases in Texas reported to health authorities. Sixty-nine of these cases occurred in June.

The changing aspects of the Texas rabies picture stems from the fact that the prevalence of wildlife has shifted significantly from foxes to skunks during the past few years.

Whereas 10 years ago, most rabies cases reported in Texas involved domestic animals, today the majority of cases are among wildlife animals. Out of the 69 cases reported in June, nearly half were skunks.

In a of 1951, there were only 54 cases or rabies among skunks spread over 30 different counties. During the same year, most wildlife rabies cases were reported in foxes.

Miss Marla Beth Caswell was honored with a bridal shower at the Methodist Fellowship Hall Wednesday. Members of the house party were Portia Furlow, Patsy Cook, Mary Jean Clayton and Sue Lott.

Hostesses were Mesdames Blaine Mitchell, Hugh Lott, Frankie Cook, Roy Line, Shag Garrett, Norman S. East, Wingfield, J W Gardener, Darius Sunrow, Melba Prather, Miss Caswell's chosen colors of green and white were used throughout the room.

Local Co-op To Meet Aug. 12

The O'Donnell Farmers Co-op Association will hold their annual meeting Saturday Aug. 12th at noon at the school cafeteria.

At this time two directors will be elected and the transaction of any other business that might come before the group. Distribution will be made on a patronage basis of $157,000.00.

Members and patrons are urged to attend.

YOUTH OFFICERS MEET

Last Friday the incoming officers of the local chapter of the Future Homemakers of America met with their sponsor, Mrs. Warren Smith. The meeting was called to plan the activities for the year. Several new ideas were presented to the Club including an advisory council composed of adults, more strict requirements for incoming members, as well as more help, more formal meetings with parliamentary procedure being stressed at each meeting and more appealing meetings. These will be discussed at later meetings. A schedule for the year will appear later.

Young Farmers to Meet

The O'Donnell Young Farmers will meet Thursday nite at 8 in the school ag. building. The program will be given by two entomologists on insects and insecticides. All prospective members are invited. David Franklin is program chairman and Jack Minter, reporter.

FARMERS ADVISED TO ASK FOR GAS TEX REFUND

College Station — Farmers are reminded by C. A. Bates, extension farm management specialist, of their eligibility for a refund of the 4 cent per gallon Federal gasoline tax on that used for farming purposes. The claim should include all eligible gasoline gallonage purchased between July 1, 1960 and June 30, 1961. The claim for refund should be filed on Form 2240 and not later than Sept. 30th, Bates said.

The gasoline on which a refund may be claimed covers that used for farming purposes and includes most normal production operations. Three exceptions, however, are noted by the specialist. They are gasoline used on the highway, even though for transporting farm products, that used for processing packaging, freezing or canning operations and that used for non-farming or personal purposes.

Records of fuel purchases should be kept to verify the refund request and care should be exercised to avoid inaccurate or excessive claims. Bates said. He noted that Form 2240 does not apply to diesel and special motor fuels. Farmers who have questions regarding taxes on these fuels are advised to contact an Internal Revenue Service director.

This time of year mothers begin to get slightly frantic with all the details of getting children ready for school. Especially frantic are mothers who have small children who will begin school for the first time.

There is more to be done than meets the eye. There are shots to be administered, clothes to buy, teeth to be checked, health examinations, and birth certificate copies to be arranged for.

Most school districts require proof-of-age for children beginning school. The most convenient proof for most parents is a copy of the child's birth certificate.

Such copies are available from local registrars, county clerks, or from the Texas State Department of Health's Records and Statistics Section.

Certified birth certificate copies may be obtained by sending one dollar to the Texas State Department of Health at 410 East Fifth Street in Austin.

Along with the dollar, the child's name, place and date of birth, and the parents' names should be included to speed the records search.

However, applications should be made as soon as possible to avoid the fall rush.

FOWL POX MAY BE COSTLY TO POULTRY PRODUCER

College Station — Fowl pox does not ordinarily cause significant economic losses but is important from the economic viewpoint. An outbreak of the disease in a poultry flock results in poor growth and utilization, reduced production and an increased number of culls. The earliest available history of its presence in birds.

L. H. Carroll of the School of Veterinary Medicine at Texas A. & M. College says there are actually two separate types of fowl pox, one which affects the unfeathered portions of the bird's body is the most common. In this form the lesions form on the comb, wattles, eyes and shanks. In the diphtheritic or pox form, the lesions consist of yellowish, raised, diphtheritic membranes found in the mouth and throat. This type is sometimes first noticed because the bird is unable to close its mouth or has difficulty breathing. When death losses occur, it is usually due to the diphtheritic form.

Fowl pox is transmitted by direct and indirect contact. Dr. Carroll continues, it can live in the dried scales for months and for this reason, can survive on a premise for long periods of time. The primary means of transmission, however, is the mosquito and the severity of the disease is directly proportional to the mosquito population.

Since the disease is transmitted by mosquitoes, it cannot be prevented by ordinary management and sanitation practices. For this reason the best prevention is vaccination. There are two types of vaccine available — fowl pox and pigeon pox. The pigeon pox produces a low level of immunity but the fowl pox vaccine is a virulent vaccine and will produce symptoms of the disease.

THIS WEEK IN AUSTIN

By Senator Preston Smith

Time often plays tricks on a person stunned by such an honor as that awarded me last week. Shortly after I was told that the Texas Senate had elected me third man in line for the office of Governor, my memories condensed all of my 49 years within a few moments for me to see. The prospect of my being Governor of Texas, if even for only one day, seemed the greatest honor in my life. I realized how lucky I had been to live in such an age and such a state.

Another vivid part of my memories, perhaps because of contrast was occupied by the years I spent as a boy on our lonely, sandy Gaines County farm. Those days, for me, the seventh child of a family of 13, held little hope of success. They were hard days. But the years after those were very good to me. I got an education, got married, had two fine children, and have been able to serve my state, an honor any man should be proud of. It could only happen in this country.

And I'm certainly not forgetting that all the people of the 23rd Senatorial District are primarily responsible for my honor in serving as Senate president pro tempore of this session. I want all who can to come visit me and my family during the day I serve as Governor, Aug. 4, when Gov. Daniel and Lt. Gov. Ramsey are both out of the state. We will be happy to see all of you, either in the morning or in the afternoon, in the Governor's office.

There will be other events, too, during the day that will interest visitors to Austin from this district. We'll have more definite information on these later. The mail has been especially gratifying, too. It is always good to hear from the people of the district, and especially when they are sending congratulations.

Homeowning Can Be Hazardous Too!

No matter how long the bronc-buster has been riding, he can never be sure the next horse won't throw him.

Such is the case with the homeowner. No matter how careful he tries to be, an unnoticed frayed electric cord, overloaded circuit, or smoldering cigarette can leave his home in cinders.

It's too late then to realize his insurance is "too little—and the wrong kind."

Be sure when you insure. Call on your local independent agent for a thorough appraisal of your needs.
