Milk glass pink and blue appointments were used. A short game was followed by a silver appointment given by Mrs. Floyd Thompson. "What Would You Give." About 20 guests called.

Mr and Mrs. E. T. Wells and grand daughter, Diane McKnight, of Commerce spent several days visiting the J. L. Adams family in San Angelo.

Mr and Mrs. Jim Williams and family visited Mr and Mrs. Howard Wright at captain.

Junior boys attending the Baptist camp last week were J. W. Stokes, Randy Jackson, Bussy Barbee, Ronnie Jordan, Bill Burton, Jimmy Todd and Earl Wingfield. Mr. Larry Stokes was sponsor.

Rabies Shots No More Painful Than Some Other Injections

You've heard it or read it dozens of times - a dog is bitten by a dog or cat which promptly disappears. A public appeal is made for help in locating the offending animal, lest the child has to unnecessarily take the "painful" rabies shots.

State health officials are the first to agree that such public appeals are highly beneficial. But those who are officials do not mind words denouncing the "painful" label as grossly inaccurate. The are no more painful than any other immunizing injection, and less so than some shots which are accepted with philosophical cheerfulness.

Ask Dr. A. B. Rich, director of the State Health Department's veterinary public health division, or Dr. W. Huff, a laboratorian who in his career of some 30 years has autopsied well over 97,000 animal heads for rabies. Both men can speak with the authority that comes only with first-hand experience.

Once while in private practice, Dr. Rich examined a dog for tonsillitis. The very next day the animal displayed typical signs of rabid. Since he had a scratch on his hand, prudence demanded that Dr. Rich take the shots. He says he found them to be almost painless beyond the initial brief prick of the needle.

Huff echoes the same sentiment. He ought to know, since he has had to take a 21 shot course of treatment on four separate occasions. Anyone who handles his volume of autopsy work - from African lions to Alaskan wolves - is bound to be exposed on occasions.

Has the "pain" label dissuaded anyone from taking the shots when they should have? There is no way of knowing. But Rich says he can readily imagine how it could happen. From this point of view, the inaccurate label is dangerous since rabies is endemic over most of Texas - particularly among wildlife primarily foxes and skunks. A total of 567 positive cases were reported last year, and for the first six months of this year 357 positive cases have been diagnosed.

Rabies vaccination carries a slight risk of reaction, so should never be given thoughtlessly. It should always be given in cases of exposure to an apprehended animal known to be rabid, or an unapprehended animal in regions where rabies is known to exist.

Food Poisoning May Hit During Picnic Time

Almost as quickly as you can say "please pass the potato salad," a tiny microscopic speck of bacterial life can make a shambles of that great American summer time institution, the picnic.

Called staphylococci - "staph" for short - these pernicious bits of living matter are said by health authorities to be far the most common cause of food poisoning. Closely related strains, called "epidemic" or "hospital" strains, have caused fatal infections in hospital nurseries.

About the picnic - if you're careless in preparing the food, staph may invade and multiply in items on the bill of fare. The ham, for instance, or the chicken salad. Or the cream-filled layer cake. In a matter of hours, once eaten, they can turn a strong man into a cramped, tormented weakling.

But it's easy to prevent this fun-wrecking development: simply keep the food chilled between the time of preparation and service, and serve as soon as possible.

State health authorities are quick to point out that staph - caused food poisoning isn't limited to summer nor to picnics, but can occur when ever conditions are right regardless of the time or place. Conditions are more apt to be right during summer when outdoor eating is in vogue and staph can team up with heat and lack of refrigeration to spoil food.

As a point of interest, it isn't the organism themselves that do the damage, but a toxin produced by adult organisms. Admittedly, the point is of little consolation to the wrong-out victim, but it does provide a clue to preventing other cases.

Staph germs are so widely distributed in nature - in nose and throat secretions, in exudate of boils and carbuncles, on skin and clothing, in the very air - that there is little chance of avoiding them completely. The trick is to keep them from growing and multiplying so they cannot produce the toxin.

Refrigeration is the key to stunting cold germs. They can't grow in cold temperatures, but thrive in a bountiful profusion at room temperature. Therefore, refrigerate susceptible foods at 40 degree temperatures. Use shallow pans so the ingredients will chill through.

To 4 H Meet

Some of the finest youngsters in Texas will meet on the campus of Kilgore College, Kilgore, Texas, August 2-6. They are the delegates to the sixth annual Texas 4-H Council Workshop. The boy and girl council members from each of the 12 Texas extension districts will participate.

In making the announcement, Floyd Lynch, state 4-H Club leader, said the workshop is an opportunity for members of the Texas 4-H Council, and selected adults who work with them, to increase their understanding of the organizational structure of 4-O Club work and their role in it.

During the workshop, the council members will serve as active members of the Texas 4-H Council by developing programs and handling annual business. Lynch said that each member will participate in a small work-group in order to learn to become the kind of democratic citizen described in the 4-H pledge - a person who thinks clearly and believes deeply in himself and others, and whose actions thereby benefit everyone concerned.

Rites Read For Tom Calaway Tuesday

D. B. (Tom) Calaway, 55, of Draw a Lynn County farmer since 1915, died at about 6:30 a. m. Sunday.

Funeral services were held at 2:30 p. m. Tuesday in the Draw Methodist Church with the Rev. D. W. Copeland, Redwine Baptist pastor, officiating. Burial was in the Draw cemetery under direction of Stanley Funeral Home.

Mr. Calaway moved to Lynn Co. in 1915 from Runnels Co. He was a farmer and a member of the Odd Fellows Lodge.

Palbearers were Charlie Eckham, R. J. White, Woodrow Brewer, Graham Tyler, W. W. Young, Floyd Reese, W. J. Greenwood, and C. W. Burk.

Survivors include the wife, two sons, Bennie Lee and Larry Wayne, two sisters, Mrs. L. I. McIntosh, Wichita Kan. and Mrs. A. C. Keever of Bee Branch, Ark.

BRO. CRANDALL TO PREACH AT METHODIST CHURCH

Bro. Ed H. Crandall of Lubbock will fill the pulpit Sunday, Aug 7th in absence of the pastor, Rev. Marcom, at First Methodist Church.

Bro. Crandall was pastor here for several years about 15 years ago. He is now retired. He is beloved by all of us who appreciate his fine ministry down thru more than 50 years. His friends of other churches are cordially invited.

Mahon To Be Honored

Wayland Baptist College will confer on the Hon. George H. Mahon, Lubbock, the honorary Doctor of Laws degree at the 50th session summer commencement on August 25 by vote of the Board of Trustees. Mr. Mahon, Representative of the 19th Congressional District of Texas for the last 25 years, will also deliver the Commencement address at 7:30 p. m., at the College Heights Baptist Church, adjacent to the campus. He and the graduating seniors will be the honored guests for the reception given by President and Mrs. A. Hope Owen at Van Howeling Memorial Library immediately following the ceremonies. Friends of Mr. Mahon and the seniors are cordially invited to attend the ceremonies and the reception, according to President Owen.

Mr. Mahon was recently named one of the "ablest men in the Senate and House" by a poll taken of the 50 top Washington correspondents for Newsweek Magazine. This report appeared in the June 20 issue of Newsweek. He ranked fifth among the House Democrats.

Ants Can Be Controlled

Ants can be a real household nuisance but application of the right insecticide will bring them under control in a hurry. Entomologists of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service say that chlordane or dieldrin, sold in many stores as roach and ant sprays, are very effective against ants.

The entomologists point out that several species of ants can become pests in the home. Some may nest in the house, but most build their nests outside and find their way inside through openings. Once they find a food supply they set up a regular route between the food and their nests.

The most common species found in Texas are the Pharaoh, thief, black crazy, fire and Argentine ants. They range in size from the tiny Pharaohs to the much larger fire ants. They feed on any kind of food material in the home including sweets and greasy foods. The thief ant prefers greasy foods.

For inside the home applications, the entomologists recommend a two or three percent chlordane or a five-tenths (.5) percent dieldrin household spray. Special attention should be given to drainboards, window sills, door openings and pantry shelves.

For outdoor applications, the entomologists recommend 10 percent chlordane, 2 percent dieldrin or 5 percent heptachlor dust. If an emulsion spray is used, they strongly urge that label directions be followed. They suggest that a band of insecticide dust or spray be applied around the foundation wall and that all ant nests in the yard be treated.

They point out that repeated applications of the insecticides may be needed to give complete control of ants. They suggest that a copy of L-311, "Texas Guide for Controlling Household Insects" be obtained from the local county extension agent. The Guide lists control measures for the most commonly found household insects including those attacking fabrics, food, structures and humans.

VA QUIZ

Q - Is the War Orphans Education program just a college program? A - No. In addition to classroom work leading to a college degree, the War Orphans Education program provides opportunity for training in a wide variety of schools below the college level - technical institutes, business schools, some vocational or trade schools, normal schools, institutions offering training in medical and related fields and junior colleges.

Q - Since I have been totally and permanently disabled for six months, I have applied to VA for waiver of premiums of my GI insurance policy. May I stop paying premiums now? A - No. You should continue to pay premiums regularly until you receive notice from VA that your application for waiver has been granted. All premiums paid after the effective date of the waiver will be refunded to you.

Q - I'll be in school this fall under the GI Bill, and will be entitled to claim another dependent since there has just been an addition to our family - a baby girl. What kind of evidence will VA want in order to increase my school allowance? A - VA would like to have a certified copy of abstract of the public record of birth or a certified copy of the church record of baptism.

Q - I am a Korea veteran who never held a GI insurance policy. The VA has just decided a disability of mine is service connected and this makes me eligible to take out insurance now. How soon do I have to apply? A - You must make application within one year from the date VA found your disability service connected.

Lynn Bond Sales Reported

"Savings Bond sales through June 1, 1960, totaled $135,297," Mr. A. C. Verner, chairman of Lynn County Savings Bonds Committee reported recently. "Our county has now reached 54.2 percent of its 1960 goal of $250,000. June sales were $2,210."

Sales in exas for the first six months of 1960 were $50,671,012 which is 48.7 percent of the goal set by the state.

"Never before have United States Savings Bonds been so attractive to investors and small savers alike," Mr. Verner said recently in commenting on the one-half percent increase in new interest rates on old and new Series E and H Savings Bonds.

Six Votes in Wheat Election

Only six votes were cast in Lynn county Thursday of last week on continuing the system of marketing quotas for the 1961 wheat crop.

Of the six votes cast, four were for the proposal and two were against, according to the Lynn County ASC Office. The vote carried nation-wide, by more than the required two-thirds majority.

Formers are eligible for price support if they have more than 15 acres of wheat for harvest and have signed applications for exemption under the seed wheat program. Otherwise, they will be subject to marketing quota penalties.

House cleaning for livestock by the stockman can be a profitable activity. A clean up can head off expensive losses. Wire ends, nails, broken bottles, paint and insecticide can or other containers, old batteries are all hazards for livestock as well as their owners. points out the Texas Farm and Ranch Safety Council. Good housekeeping on the farm is just as important as it is in the home.

Twenty years ago, the American farmer was producing enough for himself plus 10 others. But today he is producing enough for himself plus 23 others.

Charcoal Rot May Hit Grains, Other Crops

Charcoal rot is a common disease of grain sorghum and corn in most areas. The fungus root rot causes more damage than head smut in many areas. Close to 100 percent infection may occur in susceptible sections of r varieties. Losses are apt to be heavier during years of little rainfall with dry-land farming.

Damage is noticed during June and July in South Texas. The disease appears in north Texas during August and September.

Damage is easiest to detect when the plants are approaching maturity. Charcoal rot damaged plants have poorly filled heads or ears with lightweight grain. Diseased stalks ripen and dry early.

Weakening of the stalks by the fungus, in many cases, causes them to lodge. Stalks are soft and discolored at the base with the pith disintegrated and shredded. Small pinpoint, blackish, seed bodies may be among the shredded pith.

Other crops affected by the disease are alfalfa, cotton, lespedeza, sugar beets, sweetpotatoes watermelons, sunflowers, peppers, cowpeas, beans and peas. Crops that have their seedling stages and those that mature in cool or rainy weather are not damaged seriously.

Abundant moisture from rain or irrigation water in the latter part of the growing season practically controls the stem rot form. Crops appear to resist the disease in their period of growth when they have high vigor. Work is under way in an effort to develop resistant hybrids.

Proposed CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT NUMBER TWO ON THE BALLOT

PROPOSED CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT TO BE VOTED ON AT AN ELECTION TO BE HELD ON NOVEMBER 8, 1960.

SENATE JOINT RESOLUTION NO. 4 proposing an Amendment to Section 49-b, Article III of the Constitution of Texas, increasing to three and one-half percent (3-1/2%) the maximum permissible interest rate on bonds hereafter issued by the Veterans' Land Board; providing for an election and the issuance of a proclamation therefor.

BE IT RESOLVED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF THE STATE OF TEXAS:

Section 1. That Section 49-b, Article III of the Constitution of Texas, be amended by adding thereto the following:

"The foregoing notwithstanding, bonds hereafter issued by the Veterans' Land Board pursuant to the authority of this Section 49-b of the Constitution may bear a rate or rates of interest not to exceed three and one-half percent (3-1/2%) per annum.

"This Amendment shall become effective upon its adoption."

Sec. 2. The foregoing Constitutional Amendment shall be submitted to a vote of the qualified electors of this state at an election to be held throughout the State of Texas on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November, 1960, at which election all ballots shall have printed thereon the following:

Tuesday after the first Monday in November, 1960 at which election all ballots shall have printed thereon the following:

"FOR the Amendment to Section 49-b of Article III of the Constitution of Texas by adding thereto a provision authorizing the Veterans' Land Board to issue the bonds authorized under such Section to bear interest at a rate or rates not to exceed three and one-half percent (3-1/2%) per annum."

"AGAINST the Amendment to Section 49-b of Article III of the Constitution of Texas by adding thereto a provision authorizing the Veterans' Land Board to issue the bonds authorized under such Section to bear interest at a rate or rates not to exceed three and one-half percent (3-1/2%) per annum."

If it appears from the returns of said election that a majority of the votes cast were in favor of said Amendment, the same shall become a part of the State Constitution and be effective from the date set forth in said Amendment, and the Governor shall issue a proclamation in keeping therewith.

Sec. 3. The Governor of the State of Texas shall issue the necessary proclamation for said election, and shall have the same published as required by the Constitution and laws of the state.

NUMBER FOUR ON THE BALLOT

PROPOSED CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT TO BE VOTED ON AT AN ELECTION TO BE HELD ON NOVEMBER 8, 1960.

HOUSE JOINT RESOLUTION NO. 6 proposing an Amendment to Section 11, Article XVI of the Constitution of the State of Texas, so as to give the Legislature authority to classify loans and lenders, license and regulate lenders, define interest, fix maximum rates of interest, and provide for a maximum rate of interest of ten per centum (10%) per annum in the absence of legislation setting maximum rates of interest; providing that the rate of interest shall not exceed six per cent (6%) per annum in contracts where no interest rate is agreed upon; providing for the right of appeal and trial de novo in the event any regulatory agency cancels or refuses to grant any permit; providing for the necessary election and the form of the ballots; and providing for the necessary proclamation and publication.

BE IT RESOLVED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF THE STATE OF TEXAS:

Section 1. That Section 11, Article XVI of the Constitution of the State of Texas be amended so as to hereafter read as follows:

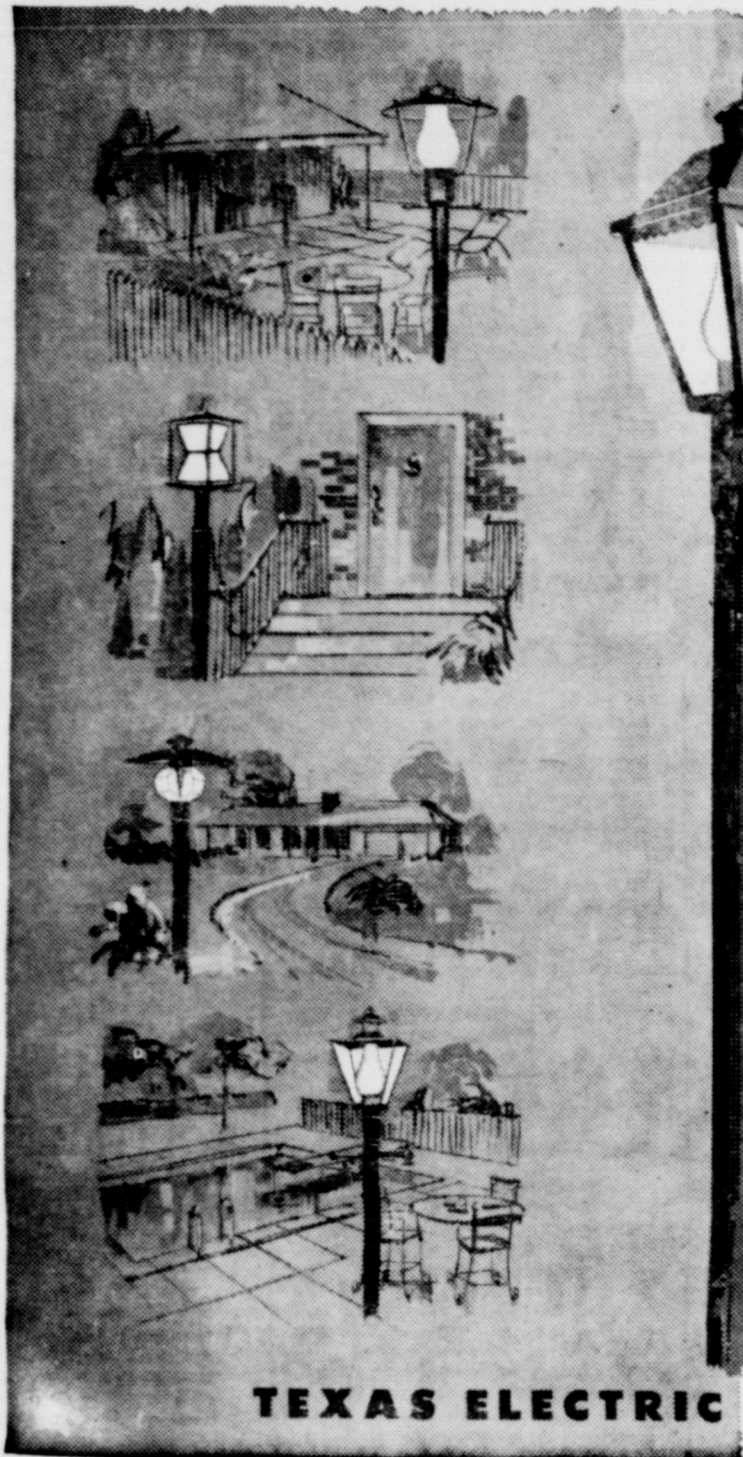

"Section 11. The Legislature shall have authority to classify loans and lenders, license and regulate lenders, define interest, and fix maximum rates of interest; provided, however, in the absence of legislation fixing maximum rates of interest all contracts for a greater rate of interest than ten per centum (10%) per annum shall be deemed usurious; provided, further, that in contracts where no rate of interest is agreed upon, the rate shall not exceed six per centum (6%) per annum. Should any regulatory agency, acting under the provisions of this Section, cancel or refuse to grant any permit under any law passed by the Legislature; then such applicant or holder shall have the right of appeal to the courts and granted a trial de novo as that term is used in approving from the justice of peace court to the county court."

Sec. 2. The foregoing Constitutional Amendment shall be submitted to a vote of the qualified electors of this state at an election to be held on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November, 1960, at which election all ballots shall have printed thereon the following:

"FOR the Constitutional Amendment giving the Legislature authority to classify loans and lenders, license and regulate lenders, define interest and fix maximum rates of interest; and providing for a maximum rate of interest of ten per centum (10%) per annum in the absence of legislation fixing maximum rates of interest."

"AGAINST the Constitutional Amendment giving the Legislature authority to classify loans and lenders, license and regulate lenders, define interest and fix maximum rates of interest; and providing for a maximum rate of interest of ten per centum (10%) per annum in the absence of legislation fixing maximum rates of interest."

Sec. 3. The Governor shall issue the necessary proclamation for the said election and have the same published as required by the Constitution and laws of this State.

IMPORTANT INSURANCE, TOO!

You buy insurance for only reason—to safeguard your property. That's why it pays to the best protection possible.

You get the best in protection and service when you insure with us. Insurance is our business, and we are trained to give you expert advice on your protection problems. And of course, we represent only Capital Stock Companies—the "Standard of Protection" wherever insurance is sold.

Be sure when you insure. The best costs less in the long run.
