O'DONNELL, LYNN COUNTY, TEXAS, FRIDAY, AUGUST 5, 1932

NUMBER 44

ASPECTS BRIGHT; COTTON SHOWS FRUIT

Following period of rains, in this county jail at Tahoka waiting trial in county court and, Herman Ward is confined to his bed as the result of a fray Monday morning. Ward received a deep gash in the left arm when King used a pocket knife. Twelve stitches were necessary to close the wound when he was brought to the office of a local physician for treatment.

It is rumored that there has been blood between the two boys for some length of time with their families taking part in verbal hostilities. According to the story told to Sheriff Parker and Deputy John Johnson, who made the arrest, King came on Ward unaware Monday morning as the younger boy was going down a farm lane near their farm homes northwest of town. Ward's statement was that he did not know King had a weapon until he was slashed, and King was then drew his own knife. King was not seriously cut, receiving only minor scratches.

No one seems to have a definite idea as to the source of the trouble which came to a climax Monday, or just how decided have been hostilities, but the boys evidently took it seriously enough. Ward walked a half mile to his home after the fight was over, and was brought to town for medical attention.

GATES' FATHER ILL IN NEW MEXICO

J. W. Gates was called to McAllister, N. M., Friday of last week by news that his father is seriously ill. Reports received here were that the elder Mr. Gates had not recovered consciousness since he fell in the floor last Thursday afternoon. He is suffering from a paralytic stroke. Mr. Gates returned Monday afternoon, saying that his father is slightly improved.

In view of his advanced age, which is close to eighty years, very little hope is entertained for his recovery. Mr. Gates stopped in Shallowater by his brother, G. W. Gates, who accompanied him to their father's bedside.

TO ATTEND FAMILY REUNION AT COMMANCHE SUNDAY

Dr. and Mrs. J. F. Campbell, accompanied by their niece, Miss Treva Greer, will leave Saturday afternoon to attend a reunion of Mrs. Campbell's family at Commanche. This is the third meeting of this kind, at which five sisters and four brothers and their families gather each year. They will meet at the south of Commanche Sunday, and will visit with each other through Monday, enjoying fishing and swimming privileges while there. At this meeting, the place or the next reunion will be decided.

FIRE BOYS ANSWER ALARM TUESDAY EVENING

While the fire boys were watering their turf trap Tuesday evening, they were summoned to extinguish a small blaze on a truck at one of the grain cars near the depot. However, no harm was done except to the wiring and the fire was out when the motor of the truck had been used to furnish power for the grain loader, and had no hood. When the hood was knocked off a sack and drop someone picked up a sack and dropped over the engine to protect it from weather or dust, and it is thought it dropped down soon enough to be ignited by heat from the engine.

FORMER RESIDENT DIES IN NEW MEXICO

News was received here Monday of the death at Estancia, N. M. of Everett Gates, a former resident of O'Donnell. The message carried length of his illness were learned here. The young man, who was only twenty-four years of age, made his home here with his parents. He was a cousin to W. J. Shook. His mother, Mrs. E. S. Gates, and his mother, Mrs. J. F. Shook were sisters.

BRIDGE TAKES CHARGE OF LUMBER YARD HERE

Mrs. Lee Baldrige and her family arrived last week, and are now in the W. J. Shook house in the north part of town. Mr. Baldrige has been active charge of Higginbotham lumber yard, and is beginning to feel very much at home.

ARREST MADE MONDAY AFTERMATH OF CUTTING FRAY

Jack King, about eighteen, is in the county jail at Tahoka waiting trial in county court and, Herman Ward is confined to his bed as the result of a fray Monday morning. MISS JEWEL HUFF WED IN CEREMONY SUNDAY

Miss Jewel Huff, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Huff, and F. M. Clark of Lubbock were married at 7:30 Sunday morning in the young people's auditorium of the First Baptist church at Lubbock. Rev. Millburn Reid presided.

Miss Wynona Huff, sister of the bride, attended as maid of honor and Lloyd Croilin of Lubbock was best man. Little Misses Wanda Lou and Bertha Jean Brown nieces of the groom, wore flower girls. Preceding the ceremony, Miss Marion James sang "I Love You Truly," accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Troupe Reid, who also played the wedding march. The bride, wearing pink net and becoming creation of pink net and taffeta and carrying an arm bouquet of gladiolias, entered to the strains of Lohengrin's wedding march and was met at the altar by the groom, whose Rev. Millburn said the beautiful ring ceremony.

Immediately after the ceremony, Mr. and Mrs. Clark left for California on a two-week trip, planning to spend a part of the time in Santa Barbara, with her brother, Clifton Huff.

Mrs. Clark is a graduate of Bellvue high school and of Texas Tech College, and has taught at Bellvue. Mr. Clark is also a graduate of Tech, and is manager of Clark's Red & White store in Lubbock, where they expect to make their home.

Though Mrs. Clark has spent but little time in O'Donnell since her parents came here, she has made scores of friends who join with the Index in extending congratulations to the lucky pair.

FLY KILLING RECIPE DOES THE WORK

Local drug stores report a rush on the formaldehyde business since last week's issue of the Index, and also report that the recipe for killing flies by use of this poison seems to be meeting with much success.

Since a number of local people have asked us about it, we are publishing the recipe again this week. Here it is: Put a little sweet milk in a saucer, add a little sugar and a teaspoonful of formaldehyde. Put a few crusts of bread in the saucer for the flies to sit on while they drink.

Very simple costs little, and oh boy! what a relief when you want to take a nap.

However, one pharmacist asked us to caution readers about preparing the mixture in a room with plenty of ventilation and to warn them to be especially careful about keeping the fumes or any drops away from their eyes.

JOHN JOHNSONS MOVE TO NEW HOME TUESDAY

Mr. and Mrs. John Johnson moved into their new home this week from their old home in the south part of town to the Hurley residence just north of the school building and are now fully settled there.

HOUSE LOST IN FIRE; FIREMAN INJURED

Fire of undetermined origin broke out shortly after seven o'clock Thursday morning in the house owned by Mr. Stewart Schooler and occupied by Mr. Henry Schooler and family.

Flames were already breaking through the roof when the alarm was turned in, so that the structure was gone before the firemen could get to bring the flames under control and prevent their spreading any further, but the house was a total loss.

Mr. Schooler and his family, who have spent the summer on the farm west of town, were preparing to move to the residence, and had moved back to their household furnishings in last Saturday. These were ruined by smoke, heat, and water, and were not insured.

SINGING CONVENTION SUNDAY AT NEW MOORE CHURCH

We are asked to announce that the singing convention will meet Sunday afternoon at New Moore church, beginning the meeting to begin promptly at 2:30 o'clock.

MUCH INTEREST MANIFESTED IN REVIVAL MEETING

The revival at the Church of Christ which began Friday evening, July 29, will continue through Sunday night, August 7. However, if the interest demands, the meeting may continue through Tuesday night, August 9.

The preaching is being done by Evangelist James H. Childress of Houston, who is now conducting his third meeting in O'Donnell. Next Sunday evening Mr. Childress plans to speak on "The Power of the Cross."

J. H. CHILDRESS

The church is planning for a large Bible School attendance at the Sunday morning classes, which will begin at 10 o'clock, to be followed by preaching at 11 o'clock and communion at 11:45.

The public is cordially invited to attend all the services of the meeting.

MERCURY HITS THE TOP IN SEASON'S RECORD TUESDAY

Tuesday's temperature set a new record for this season according to thermometers in the business part of town, when four of them recorded 108 degrees. All these were in the shade, and their owners indignantly resented any imputation that they might not be correct.

Inasmuch as we belong to the lizard or salamander tribe when it comes to heat we are unable to state with any degree of accuracy whether or not it was too hot, but we will confess that it got almost warm enough for us.

Daily papers recorded an average of 103 degrees, so that may be more correct than our local report, but one business woman declared that even ours was about ten degrees short of what it should have recorded.

Anyhow we didn't hear of anyone turning on the gas heater.

SOUTH PLAINS GINNERS WILL HOLD MEETING IN AUGUST

A meeting of ginnerers of the South Plains will be held in Lubbock the latter part of this month to discuss rates and plans for the season, according to an announcement from George Simmons of the Lubbock Cotton Oil Mill stated Tuesday that fully 100 ginnerers are expected to meet there at that time. O'Donnell's six gin men are expected to be there.

R. C. CARROLL UNDERGOES OPERATION TUESDAY

R. C. Carroll, well-known business man of O'Donnell, was taken to a Lubbock hospital early Tuesday morning, and underwent an operation for appendicitis in the afternoon.

The reports received here are that he is doing well, and is recovering as speedily as can be expected.

Unless unforeseen complications arise, he will be able to return from the hospital in a week or ten days.

BATES ARRESTED SUNDAY ON LIQUOR CHARGE

Raymond Bates, 28, a farmer who lives three miles south of New Moore was arrested Sunday by Sheriff B. L. Parker, and Deputy John Johnson. Bates is in jail in Tahoka awaiting trial on a charge of possessing liquor.

POPULAR COUPLE MARRIED HERE SUNDAY MORNING

An event of much interest to local people took place at 9:00 o'clock Sunday morning when Miss Verda Ballew and Mr. Alton Hobdy were married at the Methodist parsonage, Rev. Burnett performing the ceremony.

After a short trip, the couple returned to O'Donnell where they will make their home. The bride is the charming and accomplished daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. B. Ballew, and has grown to womanhood in O'Donnell. She was a member of this year's graduating class, ranking high in scholarship in one of the largest classes in the history of the school.

She has for a number of years been active in the young people's work at the Baptist church, and is a popular member of the younger social set.

Mr. Hobdy is the son of Mrs. Mary Hobdy, and has been associated with his brother, Drew Hobdy, in the Gulf business here for some time. Both young people have scores of friends who join with the Index in extending best wishes to the happy pair.

BAPTIST REVIVAL TO BEGIN HERE SUNDAY MORNING

The annual revival meeting of the Baptist church will begin Sunday morning at eleven o'clock, according to announcement this week from officials of the church.

Rev. M. C. Bishop of Post will be in charge of the preaching services, which will be held in the tabernacle. Services will be held both morning and evening, and everyone is invited, urged, to be present.

The Rev. Mr. Bishop is acclaimed as a powerful speaker whose consecrated life gives him even more influence and his success as a pastor and evangelist has been unusual. Members of every church and their pastors are asked to cooperate in every way.

CANNING SEASON OPENS IN O'DONNELL TERRITORY

With blackeyed peas and roasting ears coming into their prime in the last few days, canners are working overtime in this part of the country. Local grocers report that it is almost impossible to keep a stock of cans on hand, while scores of families are buying tops and using old cans.

In many cases, two or more families are working on a co-operative plan and thus making one canner and sealer do the work of two. This gives an opportunity for a pleasant social occasion as well as an exceedingly practical investment of time.

Green beans, cucumbers, okra, tomatoes, and even squash are being canned this year in addition to the first mentioned vegetables and one or two families are planning to can beef in the next few days.

John Koecurek of the Tredway community recently harbored a goat for a month and those who were fortunate enough to secure a part of it are clamoring for him to bring another one in. This was somewhat of a novelty to local people, but Mr. Koecurek assures us that it is the best way to prepare goat meat.

Chickens are also doing their part toward providing for the needs of families in this section. Though the eggs or the chickens themselves have a great market value, they are certainly helping to keep down grocery bills, and the little revenue derived from their sale helps the situation.

Nearly every family has at least one cow, a survey of the territory reveals, and with milk and butter, beef, and pork, and a surplus to sell and can, our people are coming through without losing any weight.

Now, if we'd do as one lady suggested, get out our grove-grandmother's spinning wheel or loom, the depression would be solved. And in view of the quilting fad, those days may not be far off.

O'DONNELL LOSES GAME TO NEW MOORE SUNDAY

The O'Donnell baseball team seems to have lost the rabbit's foot during the hot weather, as they have yet to win a game since they played New Moore.

AMENDMENTS LISTED FOR VOTERS DECISION

Attention of our readers is called to five of the nine amendments to the state constitution which will be voted on in November. These amendments are being published in accordance with law so that voters may be thoroughly familiar with them at election time.

DIRECTORS APPOINT COMMITTEES AT MEETING WEDNESDAY

At a meeting of the directors of the community fair held last Wednesday afternoon at the office of Cicero Smith Lumber Yard, active plans were begun in every phase of the fair to be held next month.

It was decided the best time for the fair will be on or near September 24, and will likely last only one day. As has been previously announced, ribbons will be awarded the winners instead of cash prizes as were given here before. This is part of the economy plan.

In general, the coming fair will be as complete, and will follow the same lines as the one held here four years ago. Everything brought in by people of the territory will be accepted and placed on exhibition.

Entertainment will be furnished by local talent, and will probably include such events as an old fiddler's contest, dinner on the ground, a baseball game, and many other interesting features. A committee has been appointed to provide entertainment, and it is understood that they are planning a big time for all who attend the fair.

In appointing the committees to supervise the various departments, the fair directors used much care and thought, and feel that every man and woman appointed is exactly the person for the place. Each of these supervising committees has been individually notified of his or her appointment, but the Index takes great pleasure in listing their names. They are as follows:

- Entertainment committee: Don Edwards, E. Robinson, and Guy Bradley; arrangements committee: John Earles, J. L. Shoemaker, Jr., and C. M. Hayes; publicity committee: C. H. Mansell, Mrs. T. M. Gentry, and W. H. Ritzenthaler; exhibit committee: M. L. Taylor representing the Wells community, J. F. Rodgers representing the New Moore community, J. B. Elmore, Randall community, R. H. Korman, and J. E. Sherrill, Draw community, R. E. Townson, and A. E. Leverett, T-Bar community, Walter Thomas, Prids community, and R. J. Cox, Grandview community.

- W. H. Ritzenthaler, the various divisions were appointed as follows:
 1. Field Crop Division—M. L. Taylor.
 2. Vegetable Division—Mrs. Joe Snodgrass, Mrs. Hohn, Mrs. J. E. Smith, Mrs. A. Minor, Mrs. B. H. Scott, General Sup.

- 3. Poultry Division—W. R. Ervin Wright, supt., Mrs. Grover Sutton, Mrs. R. H. Mathis, asst.
- 4. Canned fruits and vegetables—Mrs. J. B. Davis, supt., Mrs. John Earles, asst.

- 5. Art (non-professional)—Miss Hester Gates, supt., Mrs. R. O. Stark, asst.
- 6. Plants and cut flowers—Mrs. E. L. Sorrels, supt.

Every man, woman, and child in O'Donnell and the territory is invited to feel that this fair is YOUR fair, and to act accordingly. Bring your exhibits to the superintendent, and feel free to offer your suggestions as to the best way to make this the best territory in West Texas, even though some of us have been rather hard hit by the new law regarding the use of advertising the real facts to the world in general.

Let's all get behind the fair and do a little pushing and no knocking.

MRS. BRAY SERIOUSLY ILL FROM HEAT STROKE

Mrs. George Bray has been seriously ill at her home in the north part of town, suffering from a heat stroke which overcame her at noon Friday. Reports from her physician Wednesday were that she is somewhat improved, but that the secure borderland is up to us to advertise the real facts to the world in general.

Let's all get behind the fair and do a little pushing and no knocking.

Mrs. Bray was dressing a chicken for the noon meal when she turned ill. She retained strength and presence of mind enough to call for help and her daughter assisted her into the house and summoned the physician.

This is the third case of sun stroke in this territory this summer.

Mr. and Mrs. Irvin Wright spent the week-end in Dimmitt with relatives.

FRIDAY, AUGUST 5, 1926

Plans were under way for the Lynn County Fair.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Guye and her mother, Mrs. Guess, were on a camping trip in New Mexico.

D. C. Harris received a broken nose in a car wreck which occurred near Chillicothe.

Ten members of the Young Peoples' Missionary Society were planning to go to summer camp at Palo Duro Canyon.

A party composed of J. B. Miles, J. M. Christopher, E. J. Baker and
V. H. Derrick returned from a tour through Oklahoma, Arkansas, Tennessee, and Louisiana.

HEALTH A POLITICAL ISSUE

Another "whispering campaign" is indicted. Religion was the basis of the one in 1928; this year physical fitness will be stressed. Even while the Democratic convention was in progress the whisperers got busy in questioning the health of Governor
Franklin D. Roosevelt and Newton D.
Baker. The latter's physical fitness was unofficially debated by some Ritchie adherents.

Mr. Roosevelt's physical handicap
—he has often been described as "an athlete from the waist up"—has long been more or less openly stressed by Smith followers as well as by Republicans in general. In 1922, at the age of 40, Roosevelt was stricken with infantile paralysis following a swim in cold water off the New England coast. It affected the spinal cord and his legs withered somewhat.
Nothing daunted, he carried on with the aid of crutches. Then bathing in warm springs and a certain underwater treatment so benefited him that he discarded his crutches for braces, though still using a cane. He was so gratified by his improvement that he raised a $75,000 fund to help fellow sufferers. However, an attendant has to snap the knee braces in and out of position whenever the Governor stands up or sits down. In a campaign appearance not long ago
Mr. Roosevelt was embarrassed and helpless for several minutes because his attendant was not present when he had to arise.

To satisfy the public that he is physically fit, Governor Roosevelt on April 29, 1931, underwent an examination by four specialists—Dr. Lins-ley R. Williams, director of the New York Academy of Medicine and Dr.
Samuel W. Lambert, Russell A.
Hibbs, and Forest Kennedy. As a result, they announced: "We have today carefully examined Governor Roosevelt and we believe that his health and powers of endurance are such as to allow him to meet any demand of private and public life." Before the convention someone asked Roosevelt to "do something" to prove his physical fitness for the presidency, but the Governor evidently thinks that running for office is enough.

That the Republicans intend to capitalize the health issue to a greater or less degree is seen in the sudden pre-convention statement by Dr.
Joel T. Boone, the White House physician, that President Hoover is a "physical rarity" and his ability to withstand the strains of office is "almost a phenomenon."
"So you may expect to hear a lot more about the 'health issue,'" a Pathfinder.

STOPPING HITCH-HIKING

Virginia now has a law against hitch-hiking. A man convicted of trying to thumb his way along the highways is liable to a fine of $30 and a sojourn of 50 days in jail. It may be a solution—and again, may be not. There is no question as to this widespread practice of soliciting free rides being a nuisance; nor can there be any debate on the desirability of putting an end to it, but whether "there ought to be a law"
on the subject is open to discussion.
We are too prone, perhaps, to try to cure things by passing laws. That seems to be an easy way to relieve the average citizen of responsibility, but in this case autoists are largely responsible, for the prevalence of the nuisance from which they suffer. If they would only establish a general practice of refusing to pick up would-be free riders—who are beggars at best, and possibly something worse—

they would soon no longer be considered. It would thus be settled without a law—and therefore better settled. After all, a stranger has no more right or excuse to ask to share your automobile than to ask to share your home or your meals.

THANKS TO ALL

I want to express through the Index my sincere thanks for the nice support given me as candidate of the O'Donnell and surround voting boxes in the primary just finished. I have tried to run a clean race all the way through, and intend doing the same thing in the run-off August 27.
May I ask all your votes and support on this election day? I will try, if elected, to be county clerk for all Lynn county and not for any one part of it.

Sincerely,
H. C. STOLY,
44-1tc

HOMER WINSTON EXPRESSES THANKS

I wish to express my appreciation and thanks to the people of O'Donnell trade territory for the vote given me in the first primary, for State Representative of the 119th District.

I also wish to thank the gentlemen who opposed me, and their friends,
for their courtesy and consideration.

I will certainly appreciate any help given me in the second primary, and if elected will fight for the best interest of this District and West Texas.

Gratefully yours,
HOMER WINSTON.

WHEN SLAVERY BEGINS

The dull boy in the class unexpectedly distinguished himself in a recent examination when in reply to the question "How and where was slavery introduced into America," he wrote:

"No women had come over to the early Virginia Colony. The planters wanted slaves to help with the work in 1619 the London Company sent over a ship load of girls. The planters gladly married them and slavery was introduced in America."

SOMEWHAT MIXED

A Mississippi girl described her visit to the city in the following language:

"Oh, I had such a perfectly beautiful time! Every thing was so converted, you know. We stopped to a house where we rode to our rooms in a refrigerator, and our rooms were illustrated with election lights. There was no stove in the room but one of those legislators in the floor and the heat poured right up thru. I did not have any appetite and could not get a thing I could eat. Honestly, when I got home I was almost an individual."

WEARING OUT THE DIAL

There are straws in the wind indicating a growing revolt among radio listeners over the amount of dreary, vulgar advertising patter to which they are forced to listen. The average "sponsored program" (sponsored being radio's Nice Nellie way of saying "paid for") is now only 15 minutes in length, and many protests are being received by the stations
from owners of sets who complain that they are forced to keep shifting the dials to avoid hearing things they don't like. If any advertiser has brains enough to give the radio audience one solid hour of good music, with no interruption except the announcement of the station required by law, he could undoubtedly build for himself an enormous good will.—Exchange.

Garage Owner's Assistant: "Hey, Boss, your doctor's out here with a flat tire, and he wants to know what it's going to cost 'im."

Garage Owner: "Diagnose the case as flatness of the perimeter, and charge him $10.00."

Lesson for August 7

THE TEN COMMANDMENTS—DU-TIES TO GOD

LESSON TEXT—Exodus 20:1-11.
GOLDEN TEXT—Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thine heart, with all thy soul and with all thy strength.
—Deuteronomy 6:5.

PRIMARY TOPIC—The Giving of the Ten Commandments.

JUNIOR TOPIC—The Giving of the Ten Commandments.

INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOP-IC—Loving and Worshipping God.
YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOP-IC—Loving God First.

The Ten Commandments furnish us with the greatest moral code the world has ever seen. The law was not given to save sinners, nor to rule sinners, but to reveal sin (Rom. 3:19, 20), and to lead us to Christ (Gal. 3:24).

I. The Preface to the Decalogue
(vs. 1, 2).

The Ten Commandments are based upon the truth set forth in the preface. Two great thoughts underlie this—what the Lord is, and what he did. What he is, is embodied in the name Jehovah-Elohim. The name
Jehovah sets forth three great truths.

1. His all-sufficiency. All that he is and does centers in himself.
2. His sovereignty. There is no being equal to him, nor above him. He is outside of and above every being in the universe. He is immanent and transcendent.

3. His unchangeableness. The "I am that I am" (Exod. 3:14) may be expanded into "that I was" "I will be what I am," "Jesus Christ the same yesterday and today and forever"
(Heb. 13:8). The name Elohim signifies the strong and mighty One.

II. The First Commandment (v. 3).
"Thou shalt have no other gods before me" means literally, "Thou shalt have no other gods before my face." This commandment requires that we give hearted worship and service. Man was created a worshipping being.
From the very deepest recesses of his being he demands a god. Furthermore, every man has a God, whether either the true God or a false god.
The center around which our activities revolve is our God. This commandment may be broken—

1. By living for self. If one's activities gather around himself he worships himself, and is an idolater.

2. By making pleasure the goal of our lives, and spending our time and money for our sensual enjoyment.

3. By being covetous (Col. 3:5).
Every man who is greedy for gold breaks this commandment.

III. The Second Commandment (v.
4, 6).

The first commandment is directed against false gods. The second is directed against the worship of the true God with false forms. This commandment may be broken—

1. By resorting to the use of crosses and images in our worship.

2. By putting the pope in the place of Christ, and following after priestcraft.

It should be observed that this commandment is accompanied with a warning and a promise. The warning is that infidelity will be visited upon the children even to the third and fourth generation. The most awful thing a man can do to his nose on a wrong conception of God to his children. The promise is that he will show mercy to those who do. This means that the workings of the same divine law will pass on God's mercy to thousands of generations.

IV. The Third Commandment (v. 7).
"The Hebrew word translated "vain"
in this prohibition against making the name of God in vain, means lying, deceptive, unreal. Therefore, to take the name of God in vain means to use it in a lying, deceptive and unreal way.
The word "swear" is from a Hebrew word, the root-meaning of which is to be clean, to go unpunished. God will not hold a man to be clean nor allow him to go unpunished who takes the divine name in a lying and by poetical way. This third commandment may be broken:

1. By profanity. 2. By perjury. 3.
By levity and frivolity. 4. By by-poecry, which is professing to live for God when living for self.

V. The Fourth Commandment (vs.
8, 11).

The essential principle embodied in this commandment is work and rest.
It enjoins work on six days and respects work on the seventh. The command to work six days is just as binding as the rest on the seventh. The human being needs physical rest and spiritual refreshment. This commandment may be broken—

1. By living in idleness. 2. By working on the day set apart for the worship of God. 3. By making it a day of feasting. 4. By devoting it to pleasures and games.

WORDS OF WISDOM

It was fitting that heaven should go into mourning when Christ died.—Zwe-mer.

A great deal of the religion of the present hour is a dead philosophy.—
Philpott.

What is eternity? was asked of a deaf and dumb pupil, and the beautiful and striking answer was, "It is the lifetime of the Almighty."

THE COMMERCIAL USE OF TEXAS HIGHWAYS IS A PRIVILEGE, NOT A RIGHT

● The highways of Texas are the property of its citizens. They constitute a system of nearly 200,000 miles of road of which 20,000 miles are designated as State highways and the remainder are county roads. All types of road are represented in this system, less than 5% have so-called "permanent" surface.

The total cost of these highways is unknown but it amounts to many hundred million dollars. From 1917 to 1930, inclusive, counties and road districts of the State issued $243,592,834 in bonds for the construction and improvement of roads and bridges. In the two-year period ending August 31, 1930, the State Highway Commission expended $89,032,825, of which $22,488,426 was for maintenance of the State highways.

In view of these tremendous costs the preservation of our highways from rapid wear and destruction is a matter of very vital interest to their owners, viz., the public. It is especially important that they be made to outlast the life of the bonds, which run from 20 to 30 years.

The use of the public highways for commercial purposes is not a right but a privilege which may be withheld or granted subject to such restrictions, regulations and charges as the Legislature may see fit to impose. Such regulations are intended to promote safety, preserve the highways and safeguard the interests of the public.

Texas Railroads, which pay the entire cost of construction and maintenance of their own roadbeds and, in addition, make substantial contributions to the cost of Texas highways, are thoroughly regulated with respect to their services, rates, methods and practices. There is no good reason why commercial users of the highways, built and maintained at the expense of the public, should not likewise be regulated to such extent as the public interest requires and pay such charges as will represent proper compensation for the privileges granted them.

● The statutes governing highway transportation as enacted by the Forty-second Legislature represent the wishes of the citizens of this State and express their desire to give equal rights to all and special privileges to none. These statutes should be given a fair trial and their value ascertained. Unless this is done, a chaotic condition in transportation as a whole will surely ensue.

Treating Poultry Flocks For Stomach Worms

Stomach worms are doing considerable damage to the average poultry flock during these hot, dry, summer days. This accounts for the decrease in the number of eggs being produced at this time of the year. Flocks of poultry are entire free of such intestinal worms of one kind or another. They are found in tested tracts of nearly all fowls. While birds would be better off if entirely free from them, it is only when heavy infestations occur that their presence becomes serious. Under certain conditions these parasites multiply so rapidly that they become a serious menace to the entire flock. A bad infestation of worms can quickly reduce a flock of healthy, vigorous, thrifty, and profitable layers into emaciated, sleepless, and practically worthless hens. The infestation of worms in Texas fowls has spread to such an extent that it is one of the principal handicaps to profitable poultry production.

The presence of worms in the intestines damage the fowl in several ways. Like all other living organisms worms give off waste matter which acts as a toxic poison, slowly and continuously poisoning the bird. Worms irritate and injure the lining of the intestines, causing inflammation to such an extent as to prevent the absorption of the food. A fowl infested with worms may eat ravenously but yet become a mere skeleton. Worms are not often present in sufficient number as to completely clog the intestines. A worm infestation will lower or stop production and the vitality of the birds is so lowered that they become easily susceptible to various poultry diseases. A large per cent of such ailments as colds, sour, and chicken pox are traceable to lowered vitality due to worm infestations. It is almost impossible to prevent or cure these diseases without first controlling the worms.

Young chickens are more seriously and fatally infested than mature birds. In chickens under six months of age, even a few worms are often sufficient to cause illness and death to large numbers in a short period of time, and those that survive do not develop into very desirable birds. When properly fed, housed, and cared for, the grown fowl is somewhat resistant to worms and a light infestation may go unnoticed for some time, even though egg production is reduced.

The symptoms of worms may be confused with those of several poultry diseases. The fowls have a general anthrax appearance, look dull, and the comb and wattles lose color and become shriveled and rough. The birds either lose appetite or eat ravenously and diarrhea may or may not be present. In an advanced state they may become thin and emaciated, droopy, and inactive, "go light," as often expressed.

A few worms in the droppings will often disclose an infestation but there need be no guess work. A post mortem examination will tell the story. Kill one or more of the worst birds and split the intestines open from end to end. If worms are present, they will easily be found.

Prevention of stomach worms has proven to be much cheaper than controlling them. Effective prevention consists in keeping sanitary the water, feed, and roosts and direct vessels. Poultrymen who feed their efforts to such sanitation can forget the worm remedies hereafter described.

For the most effective control of stomach worms, the individual treatment is recommended. This treatment consists in giving each bird in the flock one capsule of Nicotine Sulphate. These capsules may be bought ready prepared in every small cost from any drug store. After giving the treatment, thoroughly clean the houses and remove all droppings and litter away from the flock. It is an excellent plan to put in the yard just before they are put in the flying flock.

MUSIC LOVERS TO HEAR FAMED ARTISTS SOON

West Texas music lovers will hear two of the world's greatest artists next season as a result of engagements made by the Simmons University Artist Course. Serge Rachmaninoff, pianist second only to Paderewski in world renown, and Fritz Kreisler, world's most famous violinist, will appear at Simmons auditorium during the winter season.
Rachmaninoff is scheduled for January 27 and Kreisler for February 9. This will be the only West Texas appearance of either of these artists next year. Attempts have been made for four years to get the famous Kreisler to this section of the state, but this is the first time it has been done.

THE BRUNETTES ARE COMING

The women of the future will be brunettes, tall and plump, with dark, firm skin, and auburn waves if we take the word of Dr. Charles F. Pabst, Brooklyn dermatologist for life. He says outdoor life and indulgence in athletics, together with the tanning of the dark-skinned race of southern Europe over our own, will probably produce a brunette as the reigning beauty of the future. As to "those things gentlemen prefer," the doctor believes they will vanish. (Careful, Doc, do not make a "blonder"?)

THE INDISPENSABLE FOODS

When the family budget must be curtailed, the amount of care exercised in buying foods must be increased.
Certain foods are essential to the health of both adults and children. Among these are cereals, citrus fruits, leafy vegetables, eggs and—most important of all—first-quality milk.

Milk in its various forms contributes more than half the total calcium consumed in the ordinary American diet. It is the greatest of the bone builders. According to health authorities, better health is often enjoyed by children who have been properly fed with milk and fruits, than by children of normal weight who over-indulge in filling and fattening foods.
Milk belongs on every table. The housewife should take every precaution to make sure that it comes from a responsible source of supply, and is of unquestioned purity.

If it is O. K. for Uncle Sam to sell printing, why not extend a good thing and insist that he add to his line and thus serve a much larger number of poor office patrons? Why not add a grocer's apron to the printer's apron Uncle Sam now wears? Why not sell breakfast foods, evaporated milk, butter, shoes, drugs, dry goods, clothing, etc., over the post office counter? — Madeira, Ohio, News.

CANNING HINTS PICKLES

Cumbers should be freshly gathered, retaining one-half to one-fourth inch stem if possible. Care should be used to prevent bruising. Wash and drain before placing into the brine, and put together in the curing process pickles of uniform size. Layers of grape or spinach leaves may be placed every four or five inches to give the pickles a brighter color.

To make pickles of the best texture and keeping quality, they should first be cured in brine before treating with seasoning and vinegar. Soft water should if possible be used in making brine. Use one pound of salt in nine pints of water to make a brine solution. The active stage of cucumber fermentation continues from ten to thirty days, depending on the temperature and strength of the brine. The most favorable temperature is 86 degrees Fahrenheit. During this period gas is formed and froth appears on the surface, at the close of this period the brine becomes "still." The maximum acidity is reached very soon after the close of the active stage of fermentation. Test for the acidity by dipping a piece of blue litmus paper in the brine. If the paper turns pink the brine is acid. At this stage the cumbers should be sealed air tight with paraffin, in case they are to be kept any length of time before making them up into finished sweet or sour pickles.

If the cumbers are to be eaten as salt pickles only a part of the salt need be removed; those to be made into sweet, sour or mixed pickle must have nearly all the salt removed. Put the cumbers in a kettle with plenty of cold water to cover, heat slowly with frequent stirring until they reach 120 degrees Fahrenheit. Taste, and if too salty discard the water and repeat the process. Take care not to allow the cumbers to boil while processing to extract the excess salt. When freshened in this manner they are ready for use in making a variety of different high quality finished pickles.

Dixie Relish
1 qt. chopped cabbage
1 qt. chopped sweet red pepper
1 qt. chopped sweet green pepper
3 T salt
4 T mustard seed
2 T celery seed (crushed)
3-4 C sugar
1 qt. cider vinegar
Soak the pepper in brine (one cup of salt to one gallon of water) for 24 hours. Freshen in clear, cold water for one or two hours. Drain well, remove seeds and coarse white sections. Chop separately, and measure the chopped cabbage, peppers and onions before mixing. Add spices and sugar and vinegar. Let stand overnight in a crock or enamel vessel. Pack into small jars that have been sterilized.

When ready to pack, drain the vinegar off the relish in order that the jars may be well packed. Pack the relish in the jars, pressing it carefully; then pour over it the vinegar which was drained off. Fiddle the jar thoroughly to get every bubble out, and allow the vinegar to displace all air spaces. Garnish each jar with two slender strips of red pepper. Place these strips vertically on the seams in the jar on opposite sides. Can, clamp, and process in a water bath for 15 minutes at simmering.

SOUR MILK MYTH

There is a popular belief that thunder causes milk to sour. Contrary to this belief says the Department of Agriculture, thunder does not have anything to do with it. Heat and bacteria sour milk. And just before thunderstorms the atmosphere is unusually warm. This condition is ideal for the bacteria to work. Milk kept at the proper temperature will not sour even in thunder storms.

The correspondent wrote, "Born a baby girl." We cut out the word "baby" because we felt pretty sure it couldn't be anything else if it was just born. For similar cause we also try to head off the expression "widow woman". Life-long observation is that widows are always women. If the exception to the rule ever develops, it will be a whole of a story.—Exchange.
