sHUCKs

By George R. Huckaby

Patriotism is a hard thing to define, and still a harder thing to display properly. We are not the flag waving type of patriot and content ourselves with trying to do those things which will work toward building a better world and a better local community.

But there are certain courtesies due the American flag that sometimes are neglected at sporting events. For instance, last Friday night at the Crowell game, Old Glory was prominently displayed by the Hawk band—and most of us thoughtlessly let her go by in review without showing her the respect to which our flag is entitled. Let's watch it, fans, and not let ourselves open to criticism on that score again.

Local Gardeners Invited to Show

The Wichita Falls Garden club is staging its annual flower show Saturday and Sunday, Nov. 1 and 2. This year will feature a rather elaborate show called "Fashions in Flowers." This event will include flower arrangements, horticultural specimens, educational exhibits of interest and a display of the latest fashions.

Any member of a garden club affiliated with the Texas Garden Clubs Inc., is invited to exhibit her flowers.

Gardeners of Iowa Park are invited to the show which will be held at the Woman's Forum in the afternoons and evenings of both days, according to Mrs. Henry Grace, president of the Wichita Falls organization, and Mrs. Bailey Meisner, flower show chairman.

Chicago Minister To Speak Here On U.N. Program

Rev. Roland J. Brown of Chicago, recently returned from a seven months lecture and speaking tour of the United Kingdom, will be featured speaker for the local observance of United Nations sponsored by the Iowa Park Council of Church Women, Oct. 24, according to Mrs. Homer Blalock, U.N. chairman.

The meeting will take place at the high school auditorium at 9:00 o'clock in the morning.

Mr. Brown will be introduced by Rev. Theodore McElroy, pastor of the Highland Heights Christian church, Wichita Falls. He and his wife will conduct a Spiritual Life Clinic at the Highland Heights church Oct. 22-24.

Mr. Brown spoke at that church in morning, afternoon and evening services on October 5, in observance of Worldwide Communion Sunday. He also addressed audiences in various towns during the Area School of Missions last week.

Mr. Brown returned to the United States in May. During his stay in England he preached to thousands of people in hundreds of meetings, preaching in Canterbury cathedral and London's Westminster chapel where his final rally and farewell service were held.

The bishop of Worcester said of Mr. Brown, "He is a man of God and a man of prayer." The bishop of Barking stated, "One cannot listen to Mr. Brown or be in his company for a few minutes without realizing that he is truly a man of God."

Roland Brown was born in the United States in 1897 and was educated at the University of Chicago, Loyola university and the Northern Baptist Theological center. For 15 years he was pastor of the Parkside Baptist church in Chicago.

He is recognized as a practiced and eloquent speaker in America and abroad, but according to those who know him best, it has been his deep sincerity and powerful personal faith that have most impressed his audiences.

After Mr. Brown had conducted three services at the Highland Heights Christian church, Mr. McElroy said of him, "He showed to us how the windows of heaven could be opened by prayer and how blessings could be poured out upon the people of God who would take their capacity to receive them."

Mr. McElroy, who is personally arranging for Mr. Brown's speaking engagements while in Wichita Falls, expressed confidence that the speaker could discuss the U.N. in an effective manner, placing emphasis where it is most needed.

All citizens of the community are urged to avail themselves of the opportunity of hearing Mr. Brown.

Midway in the first period James Pittillo intercepted an Iowa Park pass on the Hawk 17 yard line. Three plays later Quarterback Don Gysin handed off to Ginger Johnson, who scored from the 13.

Which Farm Is This?

Juniors

Don't you people become alarmed if you think you hear a foghorn, it's only a few of our chums blowing off steam. For some reason or other George Clements and Betty Pybus thought it was New Year's, but George found out for both of them.

We're sorry after you showing such good attendance at the Crowell game that we got clobbered. Sorry! We can't win every time. The Hawk team have all promised to do better next time.

We're hoping to come home with a victory from Archer City, Friday night. Hope all you boosters are there to help us cheer our boys.

Dale Girard should be in some field of writing. He might just like to write to Caroline though. Jimmie Martin and Cynthia Thornberry must really get along. At least he must, he even lets her eat with him. Shirley Barron went with her ex-sawbie Monday night. Speaking of sawbies, Tena was being escorted around this week by hers. She and Beverly Barker double dated.

Ava Lea Watts and Retha Starr still seem to enjoy being with Electra boys. George Clements must like the Sr girls, he goes with them enough. Rosetta Reneau is still with that character Howard Guffey.

Rita Grussendorf is now wearing a Coyote ring. You know what that means. Beverly Talley enjoyed the state fair with Robert Wilcox this past weekend. That lucky Pete Thompson is still writing our Jr. Sue Giesert. I almost forgot to tell you, if we turn into magicians, it'll be because we went to see Tom the Magic Man. All the Jr boys can hardly wait to see him.

Lillian Todd and her bf G. A. Tatom are back together. Delores Langford is still chasing her red-head.

Janett Dickerson finally showed her boyfriend off Friday night. The rest of the kids change so often, I never know who they go with. Of course we all know about Chaburne and June, and Susie and Wennie.

Don't you good people forget our Monday game Friday night, for we need at Dallas last Saturday.

you-all. See you at Archer City. Gotta shag.

—Tena Adams
P.S. See you Friday night in Green and White.

OCT-12-18 THIS IS OIL PROGRESS WEEK

Progress 1952

Texans have a natural interest in the oil industry, which is so important in our State, and in the progress made since Oil Progress Week was last observed. Here are a few quick facts:

New Wells—During the twelve months ending August 31, 1952, the Texas oil industry drilled 17,000 new wells, at a cost of over $700 million. Most of the heavy expense of drilling these new wells was paid from earnings plowed back into the development of the State's oil resources.

Transportation—The total mileage of Texas' trunk pipe lines for oil and finished products is over 29,000. This low-cost transportation system is a major factor in the maintenance of the low prices you pay for petroleum products.

Humble Pipe Line Co. operates 5,895 miles of trunk lines for oil and finished products, which had transported a daily average of 722,600 barrels in the year ending August 31.

Production—Production has reached a record level. Texas currently is producing about 46 per cent of all the crude oil produced in the U. S. In the year ending August 31, Texas production totaled about 1,015 million barrels. There are now 133,800 producing oil wells in Texas.

Reserves—Proved oil reserves in Texas of 18 billion barrels represented 57 per cent of the U. S. total at the beginning of 1952. During 1951, the last year for which figures are available, proved reserves increased two billion barrels. These are developed oil reserves and the figure is important: developed reserves supply our needs currently and provide reserve capacity that is immediately available when we need it.

Refining—The Texas refineries will have a big year. They now employ, in round numbers, 46,000 Texans, and process about 28% of all the oil refined in the U. S. The daily refining capacity of all Texas refineries exceeds 2,000,000 barrels. A program to expand and improve these facilities has been general throughout the industry.

Taxes—The Texas oil industry continues to be the largest tax-payer in the State. Through the year ending August 31, gross production taxes alone on Texas oil and natural gas amounted to more than $137 million; in addition, the industry pays large amounts in other taxes.

In brief, the Texas oil industry during the past year continued to do its part in meeting the demand for oil. It has expanded pipelines to provide low-cost transportation. It has improved facilities for making more and better petroleum products for your use. Today, two gallons of gasoline do work that required three gallons in 1925; and the gasoline costs no more than it did then.

WITH RUSS FORBIS

These past few years we have heard much of farmer-sportsman relations. We have heard a lot of dirty digs on both sides and a huge sum has been spent on legal fees and more such are shaping up every day.

Sometimes organizations hold forth the idealistic but impractical view of public ownership of all game. They maintain that each person is taxed and the tax money used for the planting of game and cover, thus entitling everyone to hunting privileges. This is perhaps the biggest stumbling block in the thinking of otherwise compatible people. Many a farmer has been confronted with the so-called sportsman who says, "Now see here, I just bought a license which entitles me to shoot birds. Birds belong to the state and you gotta let me hunt to get my share." At which point the farmer is likely to get his gun with something in mind other than bird shooting.

This business of "planting" game is generally a big joke. To turn loose a dozen pair of quail in an area that wouldn't support a couple of sparrows is sheer foolishness. Planting game is an excellent method of introducing a species into a shot out area, provided proper food, cover and water are available, but worthless otherwise. Without suitable habitat planting animals and birds will accomplish but one thing—slow starvation.

Unfortunately for the hunter, the area which can successfully produce game usually can also produce farm crops with the greatest profit. If a farmer leaves cover areas for game he is cutting his tillable acreage and by the same token, is cutting his income. Most modern farming methods require clean fence rows and no brush areas which breed damaging insects. These same fence rows and brush patches are the would-be breeding areas and food sources for game.

The sportsman is a big boy now, and it is high time he realizes the facts of wildlife. It costs the farmer money to produce game, estimated reliably at $50 per quail coyote. The farmer doesn't have to raise the game—it's easier for him not to, and more profitable. The farmer controls the right of trespass and doesn't have to let anyone hunt on his property, whether he does or doesn't have shootable game. If he wants to be a good Joe he will go along and leave game producing areas free from cultivation; but if he finds game on his land is going to be a constant source of friction and trouble, he will likely choose the easier way out and rid his land of those unsightly weed and brush patches which afford the hunter such hours of pleasure.

We had six weeks tests last week and long themes in English, which should be enough explanation for no news. Every one was just too busy to do anything exciting.

Except Shirley and La Quita of course. They took a final step. Shirley was back at school Monday, and Jackie and Howard just knew she'd already gotten a divorce. Shirley and Herman are going to live somewhere around here for a while, then move to Oklahoma and Shirley will finish school.

The football boys had rough going last Friday night, but they ought to come through this Friday and beat the Archer City Wildcats. One of the Bobcats must have hit the star Sr end, Clyde Hurt, on the arm, 'cause he's got a bone sticking about half way through the skin.

If you walk into any of the teachers' houses anytime in the near future, you'll probably find them sitting at their desk drooling over our test papers—their eyes red and glassy—giving those smirky simps.

If your son or daughter slips in with a timid and worried look, Sr parent, you'd better get out the old paddle and double check his report card. His English especially. Mrs. Owens has already warned that our grades are not so high.

Speaking of English, why has it suddenly become everyone's favorite subject? The girls are all quite enthused with all sorts of English this year.

I think there was a small massacre in the boys basement last Thursday. It sounded like the landing on Okinawa. We were all in assembly and this loud "bam bam bam crash thud!!!" was heard. I think the poor Sr survived, though.

There's a rumor that paper wads have been flying. Just because the boys all wear rubber bands around their wrists, that's no cause for suspicion. (You get solitary confinement if you're caught.)

We're to have a Magic Show this week. The Sr boys will probably be pulling Tom's tricks for months to come. They thought they had him all figured out last year.

See you at Archer City!
