ators. They bought souvenirs, trees on tree roots, conservation pieces. After completing the tour, family went by Zugspitze and Innsbruck where they stopped to see more castles and churches.

Mrs. Streich was particularly impressed with the Christmas tree customs in Austria. The trees are decorated with all white ornaments including candles, fruits and cookies. The Viennese leave their trees up until Feb. 1 and all gifts are displayed under them until that time.

Enroute home, the Streichs purchased two beautiful sheep skin rugs in Iceland, one is solid white and the other is a red and black mixture.

Africa is topic of WSCS meeting

Mrs. Travis Smith presented the program for the W.S.C.S. meeting of First United Methodist Church Tuesday morning. The topic of the program was "The New Generation in Africa".

"The most important feature of Africa is not the massive land mass but the thing affecting the world most at this time is the 35 new nations formed since World War II," she asserted.

She termed what has happened in Africa as the most dramatic development in the 20th century, especially in reference to the young people.

"We must know something Africa's yesteryear in order to understand what is going on. In our thinking country is divided into two: the Mediterranean and the Sahara, where the great

O'Donnell makes all-state choir

Mike O'Donnell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Don O'Donnell, a junior in the Iowa Park High School, was one of six second tenors to be named to the 1971-72 Texas All State Choir at Stephenville Saturday where the auditions for the All-State Choir were held. This is one of the greatest achievements for a musician during his high school career.

Schools from Wichita Falls, Dallas, Abilene, Fort Worth, San Angelo, Sweetwater, Waco, Gainesville and several other schools were represented by their best singers. The top six singers from each voice part were named after extensive voice auditions were held. Each student had to sing selections from the All-State repertoire before a panel of three judges.

This achievement will add to a long list of Mike's during his life in Iowa Park. He has been named to Who's Who in Choir each year since the seventh grade. He has made All-Region and All-Area for three years, an honor which has been equaled by only a few students in the state.

He has made a Division I on U.L.L. Regional solos for two years, receiving a Division I and Division II at the state level. For the second year he holds the position of section leader in the A Cappella Choir.

Mike is a member of the Faith Baptist Church where he sings in the church choir, directs the youth choir and is church soloist.

Darrell Dick, high school choral director, commented "Mike has a lot of talent and he knows how to use it. He takes private piano, organ and voice lessons. He plans to major in music in college and become a choir director. I know of no one who could be better qualified in ability or in personality. I am proud to have him as one of my students."

AGAINST GRAHAM PURCELL

Price says he'll win

"I'm going to win the race," stated Cong. Bob Price during his speaking engagement here Monday morning.

The Pampa Republican made his campaign swing through the community early that day, but was met by only 10 people when he stopped at the county agriculture building where he was to talk.

Price, who reportedly has not yet officially filed for a place on the primary ballot, has been pitted against incumbent Democrat Graham Purcell, following last fall's redistricting which merged most of their two districts.

Accompanying him here, then on to Electra and Sheppard AFB before returning to Amarillo for an appearance that evening, were his wife and assistant.

Besides his confidence in basing his campaign on his record and ability, Price flatly stated that the new 13th District contains 61 per cent of his old district, while only 30 per cent of Purcell's old district was retained.

He added that he "... couldn't get elected if it weren't for Democrat people confident in my conservative vote", and pledged that he would represent the people of the Red River area as vigorously as he has those living in the Panhandle.

Price's talk touched mainly on his voting record, past and pending legislation, military and education.

He said he had introduced legislation, which is pending, which calls for constitutional amendment to forbid busing of students to achieve racial balance. "This way we would have the opinion of the people at home when they voted on the amendment," he said.

When asked if it would take long for such action, he reminded the audience that once the movement to allow the 18-year-old vote was started, it came about quickly.

Price admitted frustration not only for himself but for the president, in working with a congress dominated by Democrats, pointing that the Republicans were outnumbered almost 2-1. Bills are brought up through committees, which are mostly chaired by ranking Democrats, and often legislation offered by Republicans is never brought to a vote.

The former rancher termed himself as 92 per cent conservative and Purcell 62 per cent liberal, when voting records are counted. He charged that Purcell had voted for every spending program over the years, "... whereas I've tried to sort out what I think is needed, I'm not always against (bills), but when I don't favor one, I offer alternatives I think would be better." He also claimed a 90 per cent attendance record during sessions, and said Purcell's record was 65 per cent.

Price encouraged the audience to take more interest in local and county politics, stating it would soon be more important because of the proposed revenue sharing program. "These people will be responsible for spending the money sent down from the federal government," he said, "and you'll want to elect people to spend it the way you want it spent."

He is in favor of revenue sharing, stating the bureaucrats in Washington won't be spending it for you then.

Nixon's reorganization of government is coming about, Price said, and the changes will be for the better. There will be fewer people on government payrolls and fewer bureaucratic organizations administering programs.

Price said the cut in government employees would come by simply not hiring people to replace those who left their jobs through retirement and other reasons.

In cutting down agencies, he cited the 108 education programs which are administered by 129 agencies across the nation. "There's got to be wasted effort and duplication in spending under such a setup," he declared.

The Congressman blamed apathy of the general public as the main reason "government runs the people now, not people running the government. It's frightening to me," he said.

"I think the national defense system is the cornerstone of our free nation," Price stated. "What good will all our domestic benefits be if we don't have freedom to enjoy them."

He termed Sheppard AFB as one of the most important military installations in the nation, and pledged that he would do everything in his power to see that it was maintained.

Price throughout his political career has associated himself with the Air Force, being a former fighter pilot himself. He claims to be one of only three members of congress who can fly jet fighters, and thus be capable of determining whether the government is making good purchases of them or not.

Other bills Price said he had introduced were: one to give $1,000 tax credit to homeowners for annual repairs, with even higher credits to those over 65 years of age; and a tax incentive for businesses who hire people to train.

GREAT FAKE - Hawk sophomore Randy Alsip, who canned 13 points against Hirschi Tuesday night, fakes a defending Husky high into the air. He was awarded a free shot on the play. The Hawks lost to the Wichita Falls school, 58-66.

Hawks narrowly edged by Brownwood, Hirschi

The young Iowa Park Hawks pushed two big leaders of District 4-AAA right down to the final buzzer in their last outings, but remain in the cellar with an 0-6 conference record.

They dropped a close, 52-59, decision Friday to undefeated Brownwood, and Tuesday were edged out in the fading moments by Hirschi, 58-66. Those two teams have blasted others who've beaten the Hawks by considerably larger margins.

Coach Earnie Reusch is hopeful he and the players can find the key that opens the gate onto victory road during the second half of district play.

The Hawks close out the first round of play tomorrow night when they travel to Stephenville, Tuesday they open the seven-game second round here against Burk Burnett, and five of those seven contests will be played in the local gym.

A team can lose all games in one round, like the Hawks, and then come back to win the second round, and the playoff against the first-round winner, and be declared the league champion. This is what the Mean Green is shooting for, and they're confident they can turn the trick.

First round champion will not be named until after tomorrow night, when Brownwood plays once-beaten Burk Burnett. A Bulldog victory would find both teams in a tie for first round honors. In that case, if either should win the second round, it would be the district champion. If another team, like the Hawks won the second round, then the two who were tied would have to play off their situation, and the victor play the second half winner for the conference championship.

The Hawks, led by Jerry Burkhardt, who's not even a starter, kept Brownwood in trouble right up to the last couple of minutes Friday night, Burkhardt led scoring with 13 points, followed by Sam Morrison, 12, and David Laurence, 10.

They held a 48-44 margin with six minutes to go in the game, but hit a cold spell that saw the Lions take the lead, 52-50 with 4:32 remaining, where they stayed the rest of the time.

It was a see-saw battle throughout, with Brownwood taking a 7-1 early lead, and then the Hawks bouncing back into command 11-8 by the end of the first quarter.

After taking the lead in the first quarter against Hirschi, turnovers and cold shooting aided the Huskies come from behind, 11-10, to a 14-11 lead in the final 20 seconds of the period.

The Hawks bounced back to an eight-point lead, 30-22, with 1:22 remaining in the first half, which finished with them still holding a 32-26 command. Hirschi came back strong in the third quarter, to tie the score at 38-38 with 2:59 remaining. But with 1:23 left the Hawks surged to a 44-40 lead, only to see it melt to a 44-45 deficit at the third official rest stop.

Gamely fighting back, Iowa Park narrowly the Husky lead to 57-55 with 2:47 remaining in the game, and they were still down by only 58-62 with 37 seconds left to play.

The Hawks outscored the Huskies from the floor, with 24 field goals to 22, but fell behind at the free shot line, sinking 10 of 22 attempts while the visitors were canning 22 of 36 attempts.

A sophomore and a senior shared the scoring honors. Randy Alsip accounted for 13 points, as did senior Sam Morrison. Burkhardt had 11 and Laurence 10, as the only other Greenies finishing in the double figures.

Hirschi took the junior varsity game, 60-54. Iowa Park's team didn't play against Brownwood, as that trip was a single-header.

The eight-man Hawk varsity is composed of only two seniors, Morrison and Jim Frazier; two sophomores, Alsip and Steve McClurg; and the rest juniors, Laurence, Greg Frazier, Robbie Bosley and Burkhardt.

The junior varsity game at Stephenville will start at 6 p.m. tomorrow, followed immediately afterward by the varsity game.

Those same starting times will be used when Burkhardt travels here Tuesday. The Burk game was originally scheduled to be played there next week, but the meeting places were reversed on the schedule when the bleachers were not completed here in time.

A crowd estimated at 250 saw the Hirschi game.

Requests sought for reserve tags

Persons who annually request special number auto license plates be reserved are asked to contact Mrs. Billy James at the tax office here.

Mrs. James, who pointed out the 1972 tags will be sold starting Feb. 1, asks that those wanting to insure reserved plates should take their papers and payments to her office before the first date of sale.

"I'd rather not pull a lot of plates for people who've wanted them in the past, and then find they don't want them this year," Mrs. James stated.

The tax office is located in the county agriculture building, west of the First Baptist Church.

Tickets selling fast for Merlin showing

Ticket sales for the Great Merlin Mystery Show, Jan. 27-28 at the high school auditorium, are moving at a brisk pace, it was announced Tuesday at the Noon Lions Club.

The show is sponsored by the local civic organization as a fund-raising project. Admission is $1 per person for advance tickets, but will be $1.50 at the door. Student tickets are also $1.

The tickets are good for either night, according to Bob Hamilton, ticket sales chairman. After buying an advance ticket, the purchaser can later decide which evening's show he wishes to attend.

Merlin will make appearances at each of the schools in the local system to give a preview of his regular performances for the students.

Included in the shows will be mind reading of one to three people, letting people read Merlin's mind, Merlin's "third eye" demonstration, spirit communication and crystal gazing, and hypnotism.

Because of audience participation and enjoyment, the hypnotism portion has attracted thousands to his shows over the nation. Merlin does mass hypnosis, using volunteers from the audience.

Merlin appeared in Iowa Park a few years ago, and is readily remembered by those who attended as an outstanding showman.

Comm change Africa

"No longer is their beat limited to the vibration of dry animal skin stretched across a hollow tree. The new drums of radio and television are heard across the countryside and across the nation", Mrs. D.O. James stated as she taught the fourth chapter of "New Drums over Africa" for the meeting of the Night Baptist Church Monday.

She stated that drums have been the chief source of messages in Africa for centuries, with every tribe having its own drum message, and told how the new drums made with wires, transistors and tubes were being used effectively by Christian missions both in educational broadcasts and regular religious telecasts.

Mrs. V.I. Woodfin, the hostess for the meeting, used "Purity in the Church" for a background theme for the Calendar of Prayer period.

Mrs. J. Louis Quick had charge of the business. She told of proposed plans for the WMU Focus Week in Feb. The group voted a monetary contribution to an Old Mexico mission project.

Others attending were Mmes. Omega Harris, Carroll Duke, J.C. Roby, C.L. McKinnon and Homer Blalock.

Mrs. Johnson is known by many as "the egg lady" because she had a chicken and egg route for 35 years. Her eggs were so large and nice that she could hardly supply the demands for them.

The Johnsons are members of the First United Methodist Church. They have one son, Roy, and two grandchildren, Phil and Kenneth.

YOUR BIBLE QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

QUESTION: Does the Holy Spirit dwell in the ordinary Christian today and if so how and what is the results? K.M. ANSWER: Yes the Holy Spirit dwells in all Christians today. "Know ye not that ye are the temple of God, and that the Spirit of God dwelleth in you? (1 Cor. 3:16). "Repent, and be baptized every one of you in the name of Jesus Christ for the remission of sins, and ye shall receive the gift of the Holy Ghost," (Acts 2:38). How does the Holy Spirit dwell in us today? While no one denies the fact that the Holy Spirit does dwell in the heart of the believer, just how he dwells there is a subject of much discussion. As the Bible is able to make us perfect, giving us all we need to please our heavenly Father and to be saved eternally it is my conviction that the Holy Spirit dwells in us through the word, the Bible, (2 Tim. 3:16, 17). The results of that indwelling is to aid each of us to live the faithful Christian life, to know the will of God and to conduct our lives as He would have us do, (1 Pet. 3:21).

Streich family tours Europe during holidays

MRS. TRAVIS BRADFORD

Mrs. Bradford is queen

Mrs. Travis Bradford is the Valentine Queen of the Alpha Epsilon Omicron of Beta Sigma Phi. She is serving as corresponding secretary of the chapter this year and is also a member of the service committee.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C.E. Wilson of Wichita Falls, she is a graduate of Wichita Falls High School and Draughon's Business College. She worked for Southwestern Bell six years.

Mr. Bradford works for Zelrich Steel Corp. out of Dallas. The couple have a son, Sonny 10, and a daughter, Lauri Lyn, 3. They are Baptists.

Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Streich, Bill and Susan spent two delightful and unforgettable weeks in Austria and parts of Europe during the holiday season.

Their headquarters were in Vienna, capital of Austria, a cathedral and university city, where they were reunited with their son and brother, Steve, a pre-med student at Baylor University at Waco, who is a member of the International European Studies group from the U.S. studying at the University of Vienna for a year. He is majoring in German.

Vienna or Wien is built on the south bank of the Danube River and the city stands at the head of a narrow, fertile plain between the Carpathian Mountains and the Alps. It is noted for its beautiful public buildings, art centers, parks and churches.

The Iowa Parkans stayed with Steve's Viennese family composed of Antonio Kantzler, the grandmother; Fraul Els and her sons, Rudy, 23 and Eddie, 14. Steve acted as interpreter since no member of the Kantzler family spoke English and the Streichs did not speak German.

The 27-hour flight which began in Dallas Dec. 26th took the family via New York, Reykjavik, Iceland, Luxembourg, Frankfurt, Germany and on to Vienna.

Mrs. Streich said that Steve's Viennese family demonstrated hospitality at its best. Their steam-heated home is very modern and they expended every effort to make them feel at home. However, because electricity is so high and water so scarce, they use low watt bulbs and guests have to pay extra for their baths.

The Viennese food is also very palatable even though the methods of preparing and serving differ somewhat from those in the U.S. For breakfast, the fare is hot tea, hard rolls (no hot breads), butter and jelly. Coffee is served after and in between meals. Soup is served before the noon and evening meals. Pork and veal, sauerkraut, cold cooked vegetables (arranged on a plate sort of like a salad), potatoes and rice are some of the most commonly served foods.

For desserts, Apple Struedel is the favorite. Mrs. Streich especially liked the hard poppy seed bread, and she brought back a loaf of holiday bread, a black bread with raisins. Gemp Knudel, a boiled pastry, was definitely something new in desserts but they did not find it quite as agreeable to the taste as some of the others.

The Streichs toured many small places of interest in Steve's car -- everyone who drives a car owns a small one suitable for the narrow streets and roads. The price of gasoline seems exorbitant to Americans since it sells for about a dollar per liter.

They spent four days touring Vienna. Some of the most imposing buildings they saw were the Schonbrunn Castle heated with baroque stoves, and the Belvedere Palace famous for its highly decorated style of the 1600's and 1700's called the baroque.

They also visited the Saint Stephen's Cathedral, probably the most famous building in Vienna distinguished by its graceful Gothic spire which rises 450 feet above the city. They went to the Vienna Opera House and saw "La Traviata", an opera in three acts. Together they visited the Donauturm Tower, planned for the Vienna International Gardening Exhibition in 1964, and Cecil, Steve and Bill visited Parliament.

They had the thrill of touring Salzburg, a city in the mountains in northwest Austria, the birth place of Wolfgang Mozart, one of the world's greatest composers. Here they went to the Fortress on the Hill and the cemetery where the Sound of Music was filmed. They also saw the Linderhof Castle that Disney Land was copied after.

According to Mrs. Streich, one of the most spectacular places they visited in Bavaria was the castle built by King Ludwig II in the middle 1800's which is the largest completely preserved castle in central Europe. They spent a day and night in Munich, Germany and visited some of the churches. When they left the city they took the scenic route toward Innsbruck where they went to the Wies Kirche, Church on the Hill of Wies.

The Streichs spent one night at Seefeld, a famous ski resort. The normal population of the town is 1,500, but during ski season (that's when the Texans were there), the population swells to 11,500 and all the residents have to open their homes to the visitors. They bought some unique souvenirs, there-- carved faces on tree roots, that are conservation pieces.

Before completing the tour, the family went by Zugspitze and Innsbruck where they stopped to see more castles and churches.

Mrs. Streich was particularly impressed with the Christmas tree customs in Austria. The trees are decorated with all white ornaments including candles, fruits and cookies. The Viennese leave their trees up until Feb. 1 and all gifts are displayed under them until that time.

Enroute home, the Streichs purchased two beautiful sheep skin rugs in Iceland, one is solid white and the other is a red and black mixture.

Africa is topic of WSCS meeting

Mrs. Travis Smith presented the program for the W.S.C.S. meeting of First United Methodist Church Tuesday morning. The topic of the program was "The New Generation in Africa".

"The most important feature of Africa is not the massive land mass but the thing affecting the world most at this time is the 35 new nations formed since World War II," she asserted.

She termed what has happened in Africa as the most dramatic development in the 20th century, especially in reference to the young people.

"We must know something about Africa's yesteryear in order to understand what is happening now. In our thinking the country is divided into two areas: the Mediterranean and the Sub-Sahara, where the great changes are taking place. In order for the church to be effective she must be knowledgeable about the country," Mrs. Smith continued.

She described the present emergencies in the country as Africa is seeking its identity and keeping religious faith in times of chaos.

Mrs. W.M. Owens directed the business. Special emphasis was placed on the workshop at Grant St. Methodist Church Jan. 27.

The next meeting will be a joint meeting with Wesleyan Service Guild Monday at 7:30 p.m.

Mrs. Smith gave the meditation to close the meeting using "We Are One in Prayer" for a title.

Others present were Mmes. George Trammell, Elgin Denny, E.H. Pearce, Henry Johnson, M.L. Hines, M.O. Cheves, W.F. George, James A. Sewell, Gordon G. Clark, Lydia Hudson, W.C. Albright, David Whittington, James Todd, David Thomas, Ray Low, Miles Thompson, Emma Gaunt, Delbert Todd, H.M. Mahler, Julia Lindesmith, C.L. Thompson, Bessie Brohard, Paul Zink, Gene Lowrey, C.C. Robinson, Fred Widmoyer and Miss Ethyle Kidwell.

Chief Dixon discusses community drug problem

Chief Raymond Dixon of the Iowa Park Police Department was the speaker for a meeting of the Kidwell P-TA Thursday night. His topic was "The Drug Problem in Our Community."

He defined drugs as "medicine if they produced a change for the good of the body but poison if the change was harmful."

He described the drug problem in Iowa Park the same as in larger cities stating that drugs are everywhere and that it is impossible to keep a person from them if he wants them.

Chief Dixon advised parents to police their homes. He recommended that all left over drugs be destroyed because they can produce a different chemical reaction with age and should never be used without first checking with a doctor.

"If your child is old enough to leave your home alone, you will be unable to keep him away from drugs because they are everywhere", he continued. He also mentioned that some kids were putting drugs in soft drinks and giving them to other persons who did not know the drugs were in the drinks.

CHIEF RAYMOND DIXON

cate with your child and have time for him", Dixon advised.

He concluded the program by burning some marijuana so that parents, teachers and students could recognize the odor. A question and answer period followed the talk.

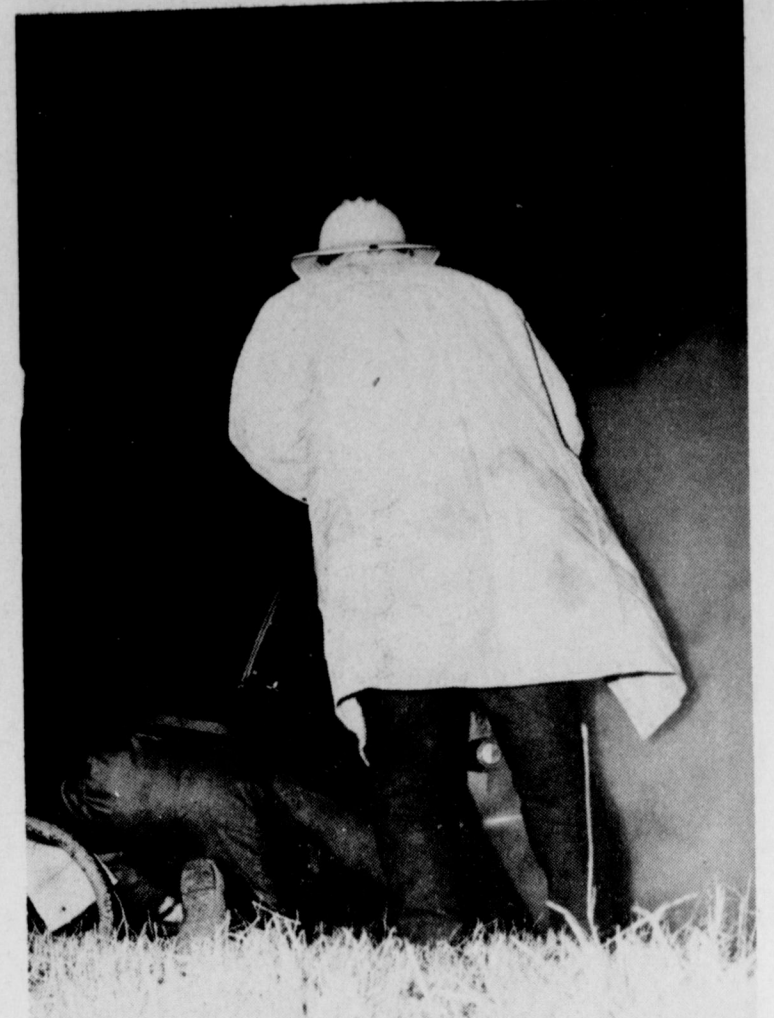

The Tan-Da-KO-KI Camp Fire Girls opened the meeting with the flag presentation under the direction of Mrs. John Chapman.

Mrs. D.O. James gave the meditation on "The New Year" suggesting ways to make it happy and full.

Mrs. Ray Lunsford directed the business session. She announced that Kidwell and Bradford P-TA would be co-hosts for the Thirteenth District P.T.A. Spring Conference April 27-28.

At your service:

$165 million that must go into new facilities in the next two years.

It's a lot of money. $165,000,000. It's the amount that Texas Electric will have to spend for construction of new facilities in the next two years.

About $100 million of this will have to be raised in a very competitive money market at a time when interest rates are much higher than they were a few years ago.

But it's what we must do

—to assist in the economic growth of our area;
—to help solve some of the environmental problems;
—and to avoid the causes of power shortages that have been experienced in other parts of the country.

Planning and building ahead to keep our system strong is one of our biggest responsibilities to you, our customers. It's what keeps us at your service.

—to provide an adequate and reliable power supply for the growing needs of our customers;

White reminds farmers of regulation changes

Texas Agriculture Commissioner John C. White has reminded Texas farmers and ranchers of revised driver qualification regulations which should give significant relief from the stringent regulations that were in effect in 1971.

New exemptions were made for farmers and ranchers by the U.S. Department of Transportation after many complaints were filed against restrictive farm driver qualification regulations last year.

The new regulations which became effective January 1 include:

1. Farm vehicle drivers operating trucks weighing 10,000 pounds or less are totally exempt from the driver qualification rules.

2. Farm vehicle drivers operating straight trucks weighing in excess of 10,000 pounds within 150 miles of the farm are totally exempt from the rules.

3. Farm vehicle drivers 18 years or older operating tractor-trailer unit within 150 miles of the farm are exempt, except they must be physically qualified but need not be physically examined and certified until January 1, 1973.

4. Drivers employed by custom operators are granted total exemption while transporting custom harvesting machinery to or from a farm and while transporting the custom-harvested crops to storage or market.

5. Beekeepers transporting bees during seasonal movements are exempt.

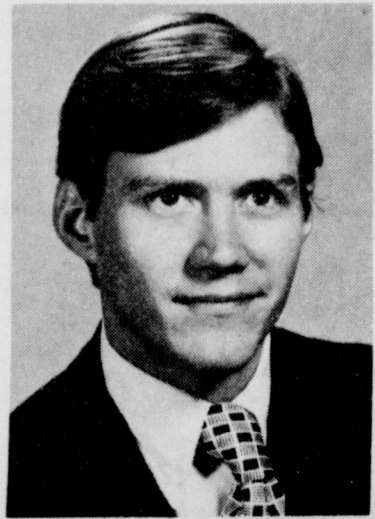

The original regulations requiring drivers to be 21 years of age, submit to road tests, written and physical examinations, background checks and other regulations imposed undue burdens on farmers whose families helped in growing and harvesting crops, Commissioner White said.

MESQUITE MUSINGS

By Ruby L. Robertson

This is the time of year that some lucky people take off for a midwinter vacation to greener pastures, but somebody had to mind the store and that includes most of us. New avenues of interest, though, can help to make life in the old home town more exciting. Some history students at Holliday school, under the guidance of a dedicated teacher, are doing much to stir public interest in the study of history.

These kids have each chosen a phase of American history; religion, art, ethnic groups, ballads, political cartoons, inventions or whatever appeals to him, for intense study. He collects every available bit of information about the subject and presents it as an illustrated talk to organizations in the community.

What a wealth of subjects are all about us to study. Whether our interest leads into the field of genealogy, archeology, music, religion, or simply a study of the daily lives of our ancestors; it helps much to understand the present and possibly the future.

It may seem strange to an older person to hear some school boy talk about the Great Depression or the Dust Bowl days, in the same manner that he speaks of the American Revolution; but that kid just might generate some new views on the subject that could help us all prevent those mistakes again.

The American Indians considered their ability to enjoy life as part of their wealth and Yellow Lark, a chief of the Sioux expressed his love of life beautifully in the prayer:

Oh Great Spirit, whose voice I hear in the winds, and whose breath gives life to all the world, hear me. I come before you, one of your many children. I am small and weak, I need your strength and wisdom. Let me walk in beauty and make my eyes ever to behold the red and purple sunsets. Make my hands respect the things you have made, my ears sharp to hear your voice. Make me wise, so that I may know the things you have hidden in every leaf and rock. I seek strength not to be superior to my brothers, but to be able to fight my greatest enemy--myself.

Make me ever ready to come to you with clean hands and open eyes, so when life fades my spirit may come to you without shame.

As I See It . . .

By BOB HAMILTON

Cong. Bob Price, in his talk here Monday morning, touched on a subject which has bugged me for several years. He says the president (Nixon in this case) is blamed for lots of things over which he has no control.

I have long advocated presidential candidates should run on a ticket which includes his entire cabinet, because in the main, it is the cabinet members who give advice to the president and make department policies effecting the entire nation. To vote for a president alone is like issuing a partially-filled check, with the balance to be completed by someone else.

Actually, this wasn't Price's point. His might have been better than my own.

Case in point. Price says the people are blaming Nixon for the high level of unemployment. What contributed so greatly to unemployment? Winding down the Vietnam war, which released about 1.5-million servicemen, not all of whom are immediately taken into the labor field. Then, Price added, with the cutdown of war arms needed, factories laid off about 1.2-million workers. Not all of them have yet found work.

And also the people wanted less money spent on the space program. Well, there came about a million more workers and scientists onto the labor market.

All of these things, the people wanted. Cut down, cut down. Nixon cut down, and now he's blamed for high unemployment, by those who failed to employ those who were turned out.

Price also made another point about blame against the president. That was on budgets. He explained how, through legislation, money is allocated for programs passed by the two houses themselves. These are law and must be financed, and the president hasn't anything to do with it, except to increase the budget for every law that is passed.

The Pampa Republican, who will oppose Cong. Graham Purcell to represent the 13th District now that their two districts were merged in redistricting, blames the Democrats for most of the financial problems. They pass the bills, he says, because they outnumber us in both the House and Senate.

Price, like everyone, has a lot of answers to problems. Whether he has the right ones or not, the people will have to decide between now and the general election next fall.

WORTH QUOTING...

GOOD NEWS: The city recently received a gift of $19,000. The money is to be used to air condition the Memorial Auditorium. The Graham Benevolent Association made the donation. They have made similar gifts in the past and we feel they deserve a pat on the back. It's acts such as this that make Graham the city it is, a fine place to live.

Now we have a centennial coming up and I've never seen such team work. Everyone that is on the various committees are working hand in hand to make this celebration a success. And, it WILL be a success because Graham has PRIDE in everything it undertakes.

Well, enough bragging, we just felt like reminding folks of a few reasons they should be proud of their city as the second hundred years begin.

--ROY BILBERRY, The Graham News

WHAT YOU LOSE . . .

Article entitled "The Case of a Youth Arrested and Convicted for the Possession of Marijuana" poses the question: Did he lose anything when he was convicted?

All he lost was the right to vote, the right to own a gun and the right to run for public office. He lost the opportunity to ever be a licensed doctor, dentist, CPA, engineer, lawyer, architect, realtor, osteopath, physical therapist, private detective, pharmacist, school teacher, barber, funeral director, masseur or stock broker. He can never get a job where he has to be bonded or licensed. He can't work for the city, county or federal government."

Junior high teams lose

The Eighth Grade split its games during the past week, defeating a respectable Notre Dame squad, 36-22, but losing Monday to Vernon 26-35.

The Seventh Grade dropped both their games, 16-30 to Notre Dame and 22-46 to Vernon. In Thursday's action, the Freshmen were dropped by Rider, 40-57.

Cubs tour Sheppard

Cub Scouts of Den 4, Pack 236, were conducted on a tour of the 3630th Flying Training Wing, Sheppard AFB, by Major W.R. Sharpe Sunday.

They visited the Life Support Section and the Synthetic Trainer Branch where each boy tried on a parachute and helmet and operated a T-37 instrument trainer.

Den members who made the tour were: Stephen Davis, David Nixon, Donald Kissner, Bryan Martin, Chris Nethery, Bryan Roman, Michael Sharpe, Russell Shawver, Charles Thompson and Joe Whitaker.

They were accompanied by Mrs. W.R. Sharpe, den mother, Mrs. Herbert W. Davis, Mrs. C.L. Thompson, Kristen Sharpe, Theresa Thompson and Phillip Davis.

Brigham Young was the father of 57 children.

SEMESTER TESTS

Tuesday and Wednesday students of Iowa Park High School took the most dreaded tests of the semester. They were the semester tests. The tests covered material that the students had studied all year.

SCHOOL OUT

Today and tomorrow students of the Iowa Park Schools will be out in order for the teachers to grade semester tests and average 9 weeks and semester grades.

SHOT RECORDS

This week the shot records which were required by law were finally returned to most students. To many people these little pieces of paper were really a pain in the arm (ouch!).

ACT AND SAT

Scores from the SAT exam were received in the mail Thursday evening. Students rushed in Friday to plague Mr. Miller, guidance counselor, with questions. Mr. Miller was doubly "bugged" Friday, because he returned the results of the ACT test to those who had taken it in December. These tests are the two major kinds that are required by colleges throughout the nation, and are often used as the basis for granting scholarships.

EDITORIAL

We're afraid that our columns are getting filled with more joke than they are news, nowadays. It seems that there just isn't much going on anymore around here (which we don't think is new news to any of you). If anyone knows of anything that their club, class, or organization is going to do in the near future, please notify one of us (Guin Johnson or Randy Jameson) about it. We'll appreciate it.

'OKES

"I don't care who you are, Fats. Get them reindeer off my roof!"

Typist: "But Professor, isn't this the same exam you gave last year?"

Professor: "Yes, but don't worry. I've changed the answers."

Dickie, aged three, did not like soap and water and put up quite a fight whenever he had to take a bath.

"Surely you want to be a clean little boy, don't you?" asked his mother.

"Yes," he tearfully agreed, "but can't you just dust me?"

Bradford students learn basketball

A 10-week basketball clinic is underway for Bradford physical education students. Saturday 140 boys and girls showed up at the junior high gym to learn what playing basketball is really like.

The clinic is being held on Saturday mornings 9 to 12 dividing the time between third grade, fourth grade and fifth grade students.

As a group arrives they are counted and divided into five sub-groups. Each is assigned a teacher and rotate from station to station, learning various skills used in basketball. The last part of the hour being spent in a game situation.

Assisting Mr. and Mrs. Dean Miller in the project are: Jody Frazier, Beverly Klinkerman, Teri Singer, and Johnny Bernstein.

Highlighting the clinic will be a tournament. Students will be placed on a team, competing with others in their grade for the class championship. Also the best players will be named to an all star team.

Fanny Crosby, the blind hymn writer wrote some 2,000 songs and hymns.
