Residents responding to needs of injured man

By BOB HAMILTON

The people of Iowa Park are opening their hearts in response to the plight of a 43-year-old resident and his family.

Harold Swanson, an employee the past few years of A&P, is recuperating from injuries sustained when he was pinned between two cars Thursday evening. He was the victim of a hit and run driver, according to Wichita Falls police.

The dark complexioned, curly haired grocery store assistant manager was returning from Wichita Falls with one of his sons about 6 p.m. when the incident took place at the Old Iowa Park Road and Expressway Service Road.

Swanson reportedly had stopped for a traffic light, when a car struck him from the rear. He pulled ahead about 40 feet and stopped on the side of the road. At that time the other driver is alleged to have floorboarded his car and crashed again into Swanson's car, only this time pinning the local man in between them.

Both legs were crushed just above the knees.

The impact made the second car bounce backward, but the drive wheels were still spinning. The car launched forward once more, this time catching Swanson just below the hips, again crushing the bones. The car drove away.

A 33-year-old Mexican American resident of Wichita Falls was later apprehended and charged as the driver of the offending car. The man had reportedly been drinking heavily.

Swanson was taken to Wichita General Hospital, where he remains in traction.

Because the arrested driver had no insurance to cover such an incident, and Swanson neither had hospital insurance, the Iowa Park Chamber of Commerce has undertaken the responsibility of coordinating various fund-raising projects to aid the local stricken resident.

The week of Oct. 8-14 has officially been declared "Harold Swanson Week" in a proclamation by city mayor Gordon Clark.

A fund has been established at the State National Bank, the "Harold Swanson Fund," to which contributions can be made. The Noon Lions Club made the initial donation to the fund Tuesday, of $105.70. Others are expected to follow soon.

Don Hughes, who is coordinating the project for the Chamber, reports that the Evening Lions Club will hold a project Oct. 13 for the fund. It will be a stew supper, served at the high school cafeteria. A large number of organizations are being contacted to assist in various projects, Hughes said, but they've not had time yet to meet and outline their activities.

Included will be a food drive, in which food can be donated to the family, and kept in storage as they need it.

According to A&P policy, an employee will receive his full pay while on sick leave for three full months, and then for an additional three months about half the regular salary.

Swanson will not be eligible for Social Security assistance until six months after his claim has been filed.

The local man will have to undergo at least two major sessions of surgery, during which doctors will attempt to rebuild his shattered legs.

One physician's estimates on when Swanson could expect to return to work was between a year and 18 months, if everything goes well.

Hughes points out that the funds are needed to help pay for Swanson's medical expenses, and the food to assist the family during his period of being off work.

Parking restriction ordinance passed

The city council Monday night voted unanimous approval of an ordinance restricting all parking within 10 feet of old Highway 287.

Tentative approval was made on the ordinance last month, but after hearing complaints about the restrictions during the Sept. 11 meeting, the issue was tabled for further study.

The Highway Department originally installed restriction signs along the north side of the road from the east city limits to Yosemite. Explaining that they wanted the restriction to be equal to all, the council then expanded on the state's restriction and took it all the way through town on old highway, from city limits east and west, north and south sides of the pavement.

Herman Rains protested to the council, stating it would hurt his business and others along his block. "We won't have any place for our employees to park, without taking up customer parking space in front of the building," he argued. He also pointed out that the highway, as it passes through Wichita Falls, has no such restriction.

"This isn't to hurt anybody," Mayor Dr. Gordon Clark told the aldermen prior to their vote Monday, "but to benefit everybody."

No vehicle can now park within 10 feet of the old highway pavement, unless it is in a marked loading zone.

The proposed ordinance granting increase of rates, amounting to just over seven per cent, sought by Lone Star Gas Company was approved. Tentative approval was made in the earlier meeting this month, and final approval this week.

Titus Mitchell, attorney who has worked with the city in obtaining easements for the pipeline from Wichita Falls, brought the request up to the city council. The Wichita suit, initiated by Mitchell, is for $7,500 for easement across 2.9 acres of his property, or 2.9 acres, extending from the Seymour Highway to Newark Road.

Gage's request is just $100 less than has been spent on all the rest of the easements along the entire route, Mitchell pointed out.

Court hearing on the suit is expected by November.

In another suit against the city, by James Billingsley of 303 W. Chestnut who is seeking $50,000 damages and alleging the city trespassed on his property with a pipeline, Mitchell said a survey has actually found that Billingsley's home is

Local singers tops in region auditions

Carpetella Choir dominated the All-Region auditions Saturday at Wichita Falls.

Of the 31 local singers who competed, 25 qualified for the All-Region Choir, and of them, 15 qualified for the All-Area Choir. This was more than any other school, regardless of size.

For the first time since Wichita Falls Rider High School was first opened, singers from that school failed to dominate the select group. Rider qualified 21 for the All-Region and 10 for All-Area. Wichita Falls High qualified 18 and eight; Hirschi seven and four; Vernon three and two; Burk Burnett one and none; Jacksboro one each.

The top 10 vocalists from each vocal section qualified for All-Region and will journey to Abilene to perform with that choir Jan. 4-6. Top five auditioners from each voice part not only qualified for All-Region, but will also go to Abilene Nov. 3 to compete for placement in All-Area, and will compete against the top five vocalists from the Abilene-San Angelo-Sweetwater-Snyder area. This will be the second step toward making All-State.

Second Soprano - Rhea Holmgren, 4.

First Alto - Betsy Burrell, 3; Tina Muhlinghaus, 4; Debbie Cook, 5.

First Bass - Weldon Beall, 4; Evan Lington, 5.
Second Bass - Tom Ashley, 1; Robin Fox, 2; Randy Alsop, 3; John Chapman, 5; Terry Davis, 8; Lloyd Harrison, 9.

In addition, three Iowa Park students placed as alternate and will also go to the All-Region if one or two of the top 10 All-Region if one or two of the top 10 cannot participate. They are Vicky Thompson, first alto; Franklin Lunsford, second tenor; and Stan Blair, first bass.

Darrell Dick, director of the choir, will lead to Sweetwater Saturday to help judge that area's auditions.

Homecoming termed 'big success'

Persons connected with all of last weekend's homecoming activities feel it was about as successful as anyone could have hoped.

They cited the perfect weather both Friday and Saturday, defeat of Jacksboro in the football game, an outstanding parade, large turnout of former students for all activities including the annual ex-students' banquet, and the first "Whoop-T-Do" Saturday afternoon.

Approximately 200 ex-students and their spouses, teachers, both former and present, room sponsors and guests attended a catered banquet Saturday evening, culminating the homecoming reunion.

Don Daugherty, president, served as master of ceremonies. Bill Curry led a singsong and Mrs. Otis Gay provided the piano accompaniment. Invocation was given by Loys D. Barbour.

During the evening, special recognition and gifts were given to the following: Gale Lowrance, a member of the class of 1908, the earliest class represented; Mrs. T.M. Clark, a 1912 graduate who had the most descendants present who also were graduates of the local school; Barbara Griffith Morgan of Washington, D.C., who had traveled the greatest distance to attend the reunion;

Also Miss Ethyle Kidwell, the former teacher with the longest years of service;

Wichita Falls sets 'Tower Day' Monday

John Tower Day in Wichita Falls will be observed Monday with a full slate of activities, including a free feed for the public.

At 6 p.m. a "ranch style chili dog supper" will be held at Bridwell Park, 11th and Harrison, which is free and open to the general public. In case of rain the event will be moved to the 4-H Barn on Midwestern Parkway.

the class of 1947 for having the most graduates present; and Robert Wilcox and Mrs. R.L. Sunday of Paducah, winners of the door prizes.

Roy Boutwell was elected president by the Ex-Student Association for 1973. Also elected were Bill Curry, first vice president; Kenneth Sullivan, second vice president; Mrs. Ralph Beall, recording secretary; Mrs. Ruth Gard, treasurer; and Mrs. E.T. Patterson, corresponding secretary.

One of the largest parades ever in Iowa Park unfolded Friday afternoon. The Hawk Band entry was judged first among entries in the School Division, followed by the Cosmetology entry. The Ex-Students' Association took first place in the Town Division float judging, narrowly edging out the entry of the Senior Citizens.

Special mention was given to the Iowa Park Garden Club entry.

Iowa Park's Hawks did their best to make the huge homecoming crowd happy by defeating old rival Jacksboro 29-19 Friday night. The game was splashed with big plays, both offensively and defensively, that hardly ever allowed former students to relax the smiles on their faces.

Prior to Saturday evening's activities by the former students, a town-wide "Whoop-T-Do" was held on the old fair grounds, including food, bake sale, flea market, carnival booths, softball, Indian dancing and entertainment by the school bands and chorus. Also entertainment came in the form of a country and western band, and a reunion of former IPHS athletes.

A dance for students followed Friday night's football game.

Merchants of the community got into the homecoming activities by decorating their windows for the pleasure of the homecomers, and they promoted the "Whoop-T-Do" in their newspaper advertising for the week.

Hawk Booster Club plans pancake supper Saturday

The Hawk Booster Club will sponsor a pancake supper Saturday night at the high school cafeteria.

Funds from the receipts will be used to retire the organization's debt on a weight machine it purchased for the school, according to Leroy Threet, president.

Included in the meal, which will be served from 5 to 7:30 p.m., will be pancakes, meat, butter, syrup, coffee and milk.

Tickets will be $1.25 in advance and $1.50 at the door.

The organization is making it easy for people to buy the advanced tickets, having lined up several businesses to sell them.

They include Settle Drug, Texas Electric Service, Cabe's and Park Pharmacy in Iowa Park.

In the Kamay area, businesses selling tickets are Kamay Seed, Feed and Grocery, Kuykendall's Grocery and Thompson Service Station; and at Valley View are Thornton's Apo Station and Fina Station.

Another fund-raising event planned by the Boosters is a Powder Puff Football game, as held last year, between female members of the Boosters and the Band Booster Club. Nov. 4 has been set tentatively for the game. Jim Frazier and John Brown are representing the organization in coordinating the event.

CAMERA CREW AT WORK—Two members of the TFC Communications Group Ltd. of New York get into the middle of things during the homecoming parade last Friday. They settled down to work as the junior high band passed around them. Parts of the parade will be included in the filmed documentary the firm is making on Texas high school football, in which Iowa Park and Brownwood will be featured.

Pollard-Balch wedding vows read in recent ceremonies

The City View Baptist Church was the setting September 16 for the exchange of marriage vows by Miss Marie Pollard and Lemuel Balch. The Rev. Dan Terry, pastor, was the officiant.

The altar decorations featured ivy-entwined candelabra filled with wedding tapers and two baskets of white gladioli and mums.

The musicians were Mrs. Glenn Schell, organist, and Glenn Schell, vocalist. He sang "In This Sweet Hour", "Thankful He Gave Me You", "Walk Hand In Hand With Me" and "Wedding Prayer." The organist played the Hallelujah Chorus as the couple left the church following the ceremony.

The bride was given in marriage by Tom Weaver, a close friend. She wore a formal gown designed with a white lace Empire bodice and semi A-line peau de soie skirt. The gown was accented with lace scallops enhanced with seed pearls and sequins down the front and long lace sleeves. The skirt swept into a chapel train in the back. The bride's shoulder-length tulle veil was held by a crown ornamented with seed pearls and sequins. She carried a crescent-shaped bouquet centered with a white orchid surrounded by white carnations.

Miss Beverly Wyatt of Wichita Falls was maid of honor. She was attired in a formal gown fashioned with an orchid chiffon bodice and purple chiffon velvet skirt. She wore a purple pillbox hat with an attached orchid tulle veil. She carried a bouquet of orchid and white baby chrysanthemums and baby's breath.

Henry Little attended the groom as best man.

John Painter of Tampa, Fla., nephew of the bride, lighted the candles.

The reception was held in the Fellowship Hall of the church.

The refreshment table was draped with white satin enhanced with garlands of purple velvet around the skirt. The appointments featured a silver candelabrum holding white tapers and the bouquets of the bride and maid of honor. The three-tiered cake was decorated with orchid flowers and white swans were used between the layers to add distinction to the confection. The top ornament was the traditional miniature bride and groom.

Miss Suzanne Painter of Tampa, Fla. niece of the bride, served at the bride's book. Miss Sue Wieand and Mrs. Robert Venezia presided at the refreshment table.

The couple went to Quartz Mountain Lodge in Oklahoma and points in New Mexico on their wedding trip.

The new Mrs. Balch received the associate of arts degree in nursing from St. Petersburg Junior College, and the B.S. degree from the Nursing Medical College of Georgia at Atlanta Center. She is presently a captain in the Air Force at Sheppard AFB.

The bridegroom is an aircraft instructor at Sheppard AFB. The couple will live in Iowa Park.

Mrs. Ralph Painter of Tampa, Fla., sister of the bride, and Mrs. Buddy Monroe of Fayetteville, Ark., were other out-of-town guests at the wedding.

supports the ESTARL, Eastern Training Award for Religious Leadership, scholarships for deserving students interested in pursuing a religious vocation. The Welfare Fund provides assistance to needy members and families of members and other worthy projects; and the Education Fund provides loans to students in college who need assistance.

The chapter in Iowa Park was organized in 1910 and had as the first worthy matron, the late Mrs. Julia Cain, affectionately remembered by many as "Aunt Julia". The first worthy patron was J.H. Green. There have been over 1090 chapters organized in Texas and over 800 of these are still active. Iowa Park was one of the earlier chapters and the earliest organizations in District 2, Section 6, which includes Archer, Baylor, Clay, Foard, Hardeman, Wichita and Wilbarger counties.

There were 20 charter members. The membership has grown to the present number of 119 members, 80 of whom are resident members and 39 non-resident members still affiliated with the chapter.

The Order of the Eastern Star is a fraternal organization whose precepts are based on the existence of a Supreme Being and whose lessons are scriptural, teachings are moral and its purposes beneficent. It is not a secret organization, but does have secret signs and modes of recognition between its members.

Eligibility for membership is limited to Master Masons affiliated and in good standing in a Masonic Lodge and the wives, daughters, legally adopted daughters, mothers, widows, sisters, half-sisters, granddaughters, step daughters, and step mothers of affiliated Master Masons in good standing (or, if deceased, were in good standing at the time of their death), each of whom must have attained the age of 18 years.

The Order of the Eastern Star is no part of the Masonic Lodge, but does work with Master Masons in the promotion of brotherly love and charitable actions. There are approximately 800 chapters in the state of Texas, divided into five districts. These are all under the jurisdiction of the Grand Chapter of Texas which in turn is under the jurisdiction of the General Grand Chapter with headquarters at the International Eastern Star Temple in Washington, D.C.

There are Eastern Star Chapters world-wide throughout all nations. The first Chapter of the Order of the Eastern Star was chartered in 1867 and was the result of many years of planning and working on the part of Dr. Rob Morris, a Master Mason who felt the need of an organization for the female relatives of the Master Masons.

Thefts topic of speaker

A program on Shoplifting was presented for the Evening Lions Club Tuesday by Sheryl Pink, who is with the research department of the Wichita Falls Board of Commerce. One of her duties is to coordinate special programs and projects, the one claiming her immediate attention is the all-out effort by the Merchants in Wichita Falls during the month of October to crack down on shoplifters.

Mrs. Pink stated that one out of 15 shoppers steals from the store and she told that this meant in the loss of money and human potential. She said that in Wichita Falls alone the businesses lost $4,000,000, based on retail sales, each year. She told how a shoplifting offense could keep a person from doing something constructive that he was qualified to do.

"The average shoplifter comes from an upper class family, and it is a mystery why a normal, mature person will walk into a store and pick up something," the speaker stated. She suggested education as one of the best ways to curb shoplifting and said that speakers would be heard in all the Wichita Falls schools during October warning students of the consequences of the offense.

R.E. Waters was program chairman.

Don Hughes, first vice president of the Noon Lions Club explained the city-wide campaign to aid the Harold Swanson family, and the club voted to make the Don's Stew Oct. 13 before the Brownwood-Iowa Park game a benefit supper for the family.

John Fecher, president, gave a report of the recent zone meeting at Burkburnett and announced that the proceeds from the club's carnival at the Whoop-T-Do amounted to $501.27.

The directors' meeting will be held at the president's home Tuesday at 7:30 p.m.

At your service:

Electricity that helps make products and jobs better.

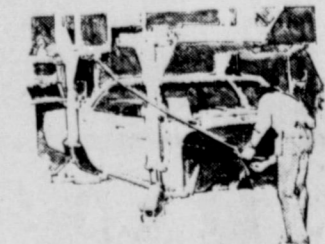

No matter where you look in industry today, electric energy is there. It is powerful energy that stamps and molds, that pushes and pulls, that heats and cools. Or sensitive energy that sews and scrolls, calculates and controls.

Whether you build cars, or airplanes, or mobile homes, or make clothes, or process petroleum and petrochemical products—whatever your job, electricity helps you in a hundred ways to do it better, faster, easier. Electricity is one of the things that has helped build America's great industrial capability, and helped raise our standard of living—by putting better products in everyone's reach, and by making better jobs available.

And it's clear that industrial uses of electricity will continue to increase in the years ahead. When additional power is needed, we'll be ready to provide it to industry and to all our customers.

But getting ready and staying ready is an increasingly expensive, never-ending job at Texas Electric. Our construction expenditures are at a record high for facilities necessary to keep an adequate and reliable power supply at your service.

Returns home from trip

Mrs. W.F. Booher returned last Wednesday from a 15-day trip to New York and Oklahoma City.

In New York, she visited her son, Dale, and granddaughter, Rynn. When she landed at La Guardia Airport, she was met by her son who took her to his country home at Bridgetown where they spent five days. While there she noticed that the vegetable crop was at its peak and witnessed the harvesting of the potato crop.

At Sag Harbor, she visited the Suffolk County Whaling Museum; a customs house that reflects the character of the 17th century; and saw a very old house with the unique widow's walk around the roof. Mrs. Booher stated that one of the highlights of her trip to New York was the ferry trip around Manhattan Island. She toured the Cloisters, a branch of the Metropolitan Museum, at one end of the island. The most interesting of these were the Arcade of the Cuxa Cloister, originally in the Benedictine Monastery of Saint Michel de-Cuxa in the 12th century; the Arcade and Garden of the Saint Guilhem Cloister built in 1206. The tapestries were also of fascinating interest. One of the most beautiful of these, according to Mrs. Booher is the Unicorn in Captivity, Flemish of 1500, made of silk and wool and silver and gold thread.

At the other end of the island she saw Wall Street, the City Hall, a huge fish market, and the place where George Washington was inaugurated president the first time.

Mrs. Booher said that she will not soon forget the wonder of the Rockefeller Center, composed of 18 buildings with three more under construction. The tallest of the structures is the 70-story RCA building. The land belongs to Columbia University. Among the other places she visited were the NBC Studio and the United Nations Headquarters.

Enroute home, she visited her daughter, Mrs. Vernon Loveall and family in Oklahoma City.

YOUR BIBLE QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

QUESTION: What does the Bible say about abortion, is it wrong?

ANSWER: To answer point blank that abortion is right or wrong is certainly difficult if not impossible from the scriptures. I believe that if a couple want an abortion because they don't want another child or because of economic reasons they would be wrong. However, the Bible does make a distinction between the life of the mother and that of the child. "And if men strive together, and hurt a woman with child, so that her fruit depart, and yet no harm follow; he shall surely be fined, according as the woman's husband shall lay upon him; and he shall pay as the judges determine. But if any harm follow, then thou shalt give life for life, eye for eye, tooth for tooth, hand for hand, foot for foot, burning for burning, wound for wound, stripe for stripe." (Ex. 21:22-25) Thus the Bible makes a distinction between the life of the woman and that of the fetus. But to say that all abortions are wrong or right, seemingly just cannot be done. I would welcome more questions and comments on this.

If you would like to have a question answered please write to "Bible Questions and Answers," P. O. Box 520, Iowa Park, Texas, 76367.

High school student is practicing magician

Wall Street in New York was so named because it follows the line of the palisaded wall or stockade built in 1652 across the southern end of Manhattan Island.

As a small boy, Randy Keck, now a high school sophomore, probably watched with wonder the startling performances of magicians, feeling that their feats required more than human power. Gradually that wonder turned to curiosity, then to intense desire to learn the secret of the tricks that were accomplished with seemingly occult power.

He probably dreamed of one day being a magician, entertaining first at birthday parties, church groups, enhancing the happiness of patients in nursing homes or shut ins, and eventually entertaining before large audiences. Through study and assistance from magician friends, he has already begun to accomplish part of his dream because he has provided entertainment at birthday parties, church functions, and for patients at a nursing home in Littlefield. He has ambitions to be an expert magician, so he is utilizing his spare time to the development of the art.

Assisted by his brother, Steve, a high school freshman, Randy did a stage act at the Texas Association of Magicians in Abilene recently. He belongs to The Wizards in Wichita Falls, Branch of the International Brotherhood of Magicians. He belongs to the high school choir and plays basketball.

Randy and Steve are the sons of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Keck. They belong to the First United Methodist Church.

Hawks impress homecomers with win over Tigers

The Hawks made a jam-packed homecoming crowd's weekend complete by defeating the defending Class AA Jacksboro Tigers here Friday night, 29-19.

Iowa Park's win was considered an upset by many "winner pickers" over the state, including the Harris Rating System, which had the Jack County Purple Boys a whopping 10-point favorite.

Jacksboro was rated Number One among AA teams of the state, and hadn't lost a game in the last 16 straight. Jacksboro hasn't been beaten by a AA team since 1970, and that was when the Hawks were the kingpins of that league. The game was a 39-30 decision by the Mean Green.

The Hawks put it all together against the Tigers, coming from behind twice, and finally dominating the entire second half to keep the homecoming crowd standing most of the time.

It was also a win that caught the attention of Mean Green fans who had some doubts about new coach Grady Graves. After losing 24-33 to Gainesville in the season opener, the Hawks hadn't made much of an impression on the doubters when they shut out Ardmore 19-0. But Friday night's big win removed most of the doubt some of the more cautious followers might have had.

The victory brought to light the running ability of senior tailback Randy Brown, who also had failed in the earlier two games to live up to expectations.

After transferring here from Graham before last year, and playing a required year of ineligibility with the Junior Varsity, Brown had managed only 127 yards in his first two outings: 43 against Gainesville and 84 at Ardmore.

But Brown caught a fire against the Tigers.

Using his blockers almost to perfection, and the speed Hawk fans knew he possessed, Brown toted the ball 197 yards and scored a touchdown, good for 68 yards.

He's the first Hawk to exceed 100 yards since Greg Frazier turned the trick against Weatherford last season, when the quarterback collected 151. And no one else has done it since the second and third games of the 1971 season, when Steve Webb had 171 yards against Granbury and 138 against Burleson.

Brown accomplished his feat with 21 carries. The workhorse took the load off the other carriers. David Ross carried 13 times for 39 yards; Frazier gained 29 on eight tries; and Wes Spruiell was called on only once, responding with four yards.

Jacksboro's Tigers looked every bit the defending state champions they are when they took the opening kickoff and marched steadily down field to score; covering 65 yards in 13 plays and six first downs.

In fact, the visitors were so successful in controlling the ball, they got off 71 offensive plays during the night, as compared with 48 by the Mean Green. The last team to run that many plays against an Iowa Park team was . . . you guessed it . . . Jacksboro, in that 1970 contest. They had 76 that night.

Frazier had his best night ever with his passing game. Iowa Park runners had gained the respect of the Tiger defense, and so the senior field general unleashed four completed passes in just five attempts, good for 95 yards.

Split end Jerry Burkhart was his target on three occasions, 16, 60 and a three-yard extra point. The other toss was to big tight end David Collins, good for 16.

After Jacksboro had scored the game's initial scoreboard lighter, the Hawks mounted their own sustained drive which took them all the way to the Tiger three yard line. But it all looked for nothing, when Brown lost possession of the ball in a pile up, and Jacksboro had it on the two.

However, two plays later Hawk end Wayne Hallford applied a crushing tackle on quarterback Roy Leach. The ball squirted loose and alert tackle Allan Parkey claimed it on the Hawk 10 yard line.

Two plays later Frazier circled left end and cut back against the defensive flow, streaking seven yards untouched into the end zone.

Hallford's kick for the extra point was good, as were his other two attempts for the evening, and the score was tied 7-7 with 2:55 remaining in the first quarter.

Jacksboro quickly marched down field, aided by a couple of penalties against Iowa Park, and was knocking on the Hawk door once more from the eight, when another Tiger runner was shaken from the ball. Kenny Franks laid claim to it this time, on his own one yard line.

But the Tigers weren't to be denied. They forced the Mean Green to punt soon afterwards, and the Purple's Rick Perritt scored his second TD of the evening from a yard out. The kick for extra point failed this time.

Climaxing Jacksboro's drive was an exchange of penalties right at the Hawk goal line. Jacksboro received a five yard penalty for the left end being in motion. On the next play an anxious Hawk jumped off sides. The official marched off five yards, just like he had against the Tigers. Only he had forgotten that inside the 20 yard line, a defending team is penalized only half the distance of the goal line. But the penalty wasn't contested, and it stood.

The Hawks came right back, driving all the way to the Jacksboro 39 yard line before giving up possession when they lacked a foot for a first down. But the anxious Tigers attempted a pass two plays later and Franks hauled it in, returning it to the Tiger 40.

With 44 seconds remaining, Burkhart caught his 16-yard pass, Brown gained five, another pass attempt to Burkhart in the end zone was blocked, and Frazier passed to Collins 16 yards, to the three.

Brown was called on, with 12 seconds remaining to run for the touchdown, but he was cut down a yard short. And time ran out. All the Hawk times out had been used on the drive.

But Brown and his Mean Green team mates picked up where they left off on the first play of the second half, when he sprinted 68 yards after breaking through right guard and outracing the Purple defenders.

Hallford's extra point kick gave the Hawks the lead which they never gave up after that.

A Hawk fumble on the Iowa Park 32 yard line looked like it was going to give the visiting Tigers another scoring shot early in the fourth quarter, but four plays later the Tigers gave up possession after picking up only five yards.

That's when Frazier hit Burkhart on a beautiful, 60-yard pass and run play that took the ball all the way to the Jacksboro 12 yard line. Frazier covered his own fumble for a nine-yard loss, Spruiell picked up his four yards for the evening, and then Frazier scored his 17-yard TD. He picked up three key blocks en route, scoring without being touched.

Toby Woods' Tigers came back with some of their own passes after the following kickoff, once with a 40-yard play that took the ball all the way to the Hawk 19 yard line. Six plays later Perritt scored his third touchdown of the evening, this time from the four yard line.

The Tiger try for a two-point conversion failed to tie up the score at 21-21, when five Hawk tacklers held the runner a yard short of the goal line.

Iowa Park put the game on ice by controlling the ball the balance of the 3:10 remaining on the scoreboard clock by mounting a 58-yard drive. Jacksboro had tried an on-sides kick, giving Iowa Park possession on its own 42.

First rattle out of the box, Brown scampered 33 yards to the Tiger 25. Ross broke the line for 4, 2 and 3 yards, Brown boomed away nine and six more and then Ross broke over right tackle the remaining two yards for the game's final touchdown.

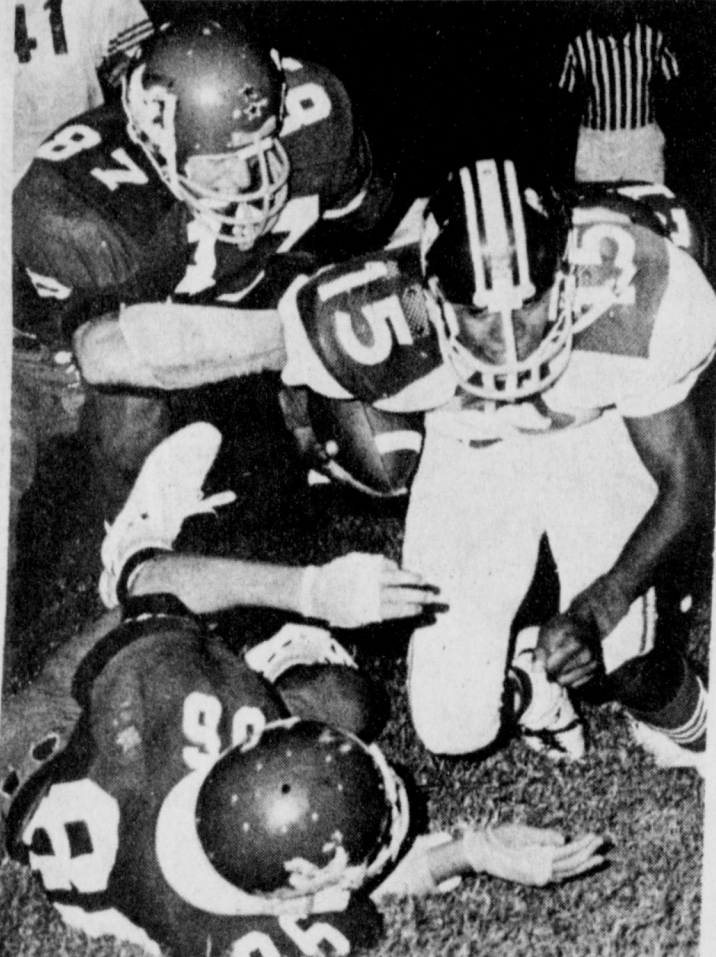

With only six seconds remaining on the clock, Frazier faked a kick for extra point and lobbed a pass to Burkhart in the end zone to make the score 29-19.

Jacksboro got off a two-yard run after the kickoff to run out the clock.

UP AND OVER--Sophomore tailback David Ross leaps a pileup of defending Jacksboro Tigers as he tries for additional yardage. The Hawks upset the defending state Class AA champions 29-19 before a delighted homecoming crowd.

TIGER STOPPERS--Hawk defenders Wayne "Double L" Hallford, 87, and Barry Spruiell, 86, haul down a Jacksboro runner after a short gain.

ALMOST SCORED--Big tight end David Collins, 80, is hauled down three yards short of the Jacksboro goal line just seconds before the end of the first half of Friday night's game. He had just taken a 16-yard pass from Greg Frazier. Behind is Jerry Burkhart, 85, who had a big night as pass receiver, also.

LOSING EFFORT--Robert Duggans, 80, tries to break up a pass interception during Tuesday's game here against the Burk Burnett Eighth Grade. Burk Burnett won, 24-6.

All-Stater likes to be a winner

(EDITOR'S NOTE: The following article appeared in the Sept. 12 issue of The Abilene Reporter-News, and was written by sports writer Mark McDonald.)

Abilene Christian College offensive tackle Ron Harrison has won the Class AA state championship in both his junior and senior years. Iowa Park made it to the semifinals in 1969.

defensive line coach Don Smith said of the former All-Stater. Harrison was named to the Associated Press All-State team and the Star-Telegram's All-State team his senior year.

So ACC's 1-0 record is just a matter of course to Harrison.

"I wanted to play -- not just sit on the bench," Harrison said as he explained his choice of enrolling at ACC. After Harrison's performance in the annual Oil Row, the scholarship offers rolled in. Don chose the "School on the Hill" over the Southwest Conference schools and many others.

The burly 6-2, 220-pounder started his first varsity game Saturday in the Wildcats' 14-12 victory over East Texas. The 19-year-old sophomore received quite an initiation into college football -- Don found a defensive tackle listed at 6-6, 265 seething across the line of scrimmage.

The Wildcat Wishbone T of defense fits Harrison's style. With the attack geared primarily on the ground, Don has found he can deal out some punishment from his four-point stance.

"Somebody said he was 6-8 and weighed 280," Harrison said as he gingerly explored a black eye. "I don't remember exactly when I got this but that guy had a rather large forearm."

"That pass blocking is something altogether different," Harrison said, admitting that pass protection might be his weakness.

Harrison found last year's redshirt season to be invaluable as he added 15 pounds to his frame. "It takes a year to really get used to everything. You'd be lost without experience," Don added.

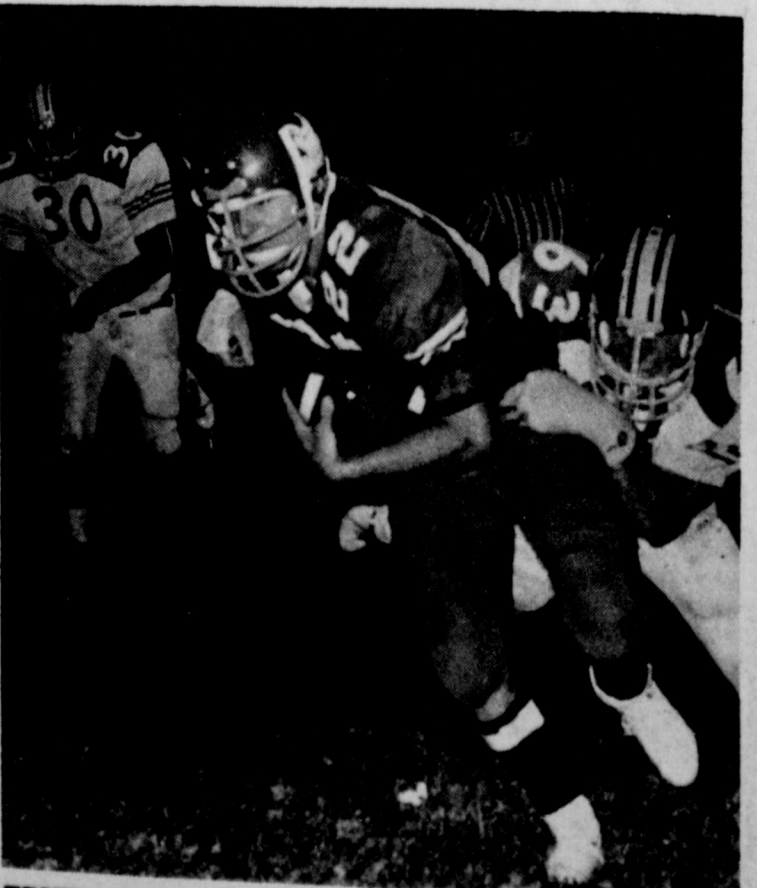

"Forty-one bootleg pass is my toughest assignment. I've got to keep my man from penetrating," said Don as he explained the pulling technique used in the block.

Harrison gained valuable experience while serving duty on the Wildcat "scout team" that runs the plays each week of the ACC's upcoming opponent.

The beefy tackle is majoring in biology education and plans to teach some day. "I might even coach for a while," Don said.

"He could be a great one," of

One gets the feeling that Don Harrison can do most anything he sets his mind on doing.

TRYING FOR MORE--Randy Brown, 22, was a hard man to pull down Friday night, when he gained 197 yards in 21 carries against the proud purple-clad Jacksboro Tigers.

MESQUITE MUSINGS

By RUBY L. ROBERTSON

The excruciating agony of enduring another birthday is a mixed emotion event that comes annually. Despite the kind wishes and sympathy gifts from friends and loved ones, the day still reminds us that we are one year older and we thought we were old enough, already. Someone even said people are like wine; in that age sours the bad and improves the good.

One thoughtful person has penned this poem to help us keep up a brave front.

I'M FINE

There is nothing whatever the matter with me—
I'm just as healthy as I can be.
I have arthritis in back and knees
And when I talk, I talk with a wheeze.
My pulse is weak, my blood is thin.
But I'm awfully well for the shape I'm in.
My teeth eventually had to come out
And my diet I hate to think about
I'm overweight and I can't get thin—
My appetite is sure to win.
But I'm awfully well for the shape I'm in.
The moral is this as the tale we unfold—
That for all of those who are growing old,
It is better to say "I'm fine" with a grin
Than to let folks know the shape you're in.

Vernon tickets on sale Monday

Reserved seat tickets for the Vernon-Iowa Park football game Oct. 6, to be played at Vernon, will go on sale here Monday evening.

Sales Monday night will be in the concession stand across the hall from the gymnasium. After that evening, they will be sold only regular hours in the principal's office.

Price for the tickets will be $2, as will be all District 4-AAA games away from home.

Student tickets for out-of-town games will be on sale in the high school concession stands Fridays only.

No general admission tickets will be placed on sale in advance, but will be available at the gate, wherever the game is being played.

The Hawks will be idle this weekend, observing an open date before they travel to Vernon Oct. 2 to open seven weeks of District play.

Two businesses to relocate soon

Two businesses will be moving soon to the building formerly occupied by Bogan Furniture.

Carpenters have been working this week remodeling the east section of the building, where City Cleaners will soon locate. City Cleaners is the former Joe Baxter Cleaners, and the move will be across the street from its present location.

Pete Shook said early this week he had signed a contract with Bogan to lease the section next to Settle Drug. He plans to move his business, Park TV and Furniture from its present location at 208 James in the next two weeks.

The center section of the former furniture store is now occupied by Fabricic Fabric Center.

Farming seminar set here tonight

The first of a two-day "Part Time Farming" seminar will be held this evening at the ASCS community room, starting at 7:30, according to B.T. Haws, county agent.

Five speakers will be on the program, which will last until 9:10 tonight, including Norman Brints of Vernon, Dr. Mack C. Fuqua of Munday, Bob Hillery and Charles McGivary of Wichita, and David Robnett of Iowa Park.

The second day of the seminar will be next Thursday evening, with programs lasting from 7:30 to 8:55 p.m., also in the ASCS building.

WORTH QUOTING . . .

A local lady who prefers to remain unidentified has passed on to use one of the funniest political stories of Election Year 1972.

A friend sent it to her after it appeared in the Jackson, Miss., Daily News, which picked it up from the Pensacola, Fla., News, which reprinted it from the Rocky Mount, N.C., Telegram.

It's worth passing along:
Mrs. George Wood, now deceased, of Chowan County, had a mule who was named Horace. One evening she called up Dr. Satterfield in Edenton and said to him, "Doctor, Horace is sick, and I wish you would come and take a look at him."

Dr. Satterfield said, "Oh Fannie Lamb, it's after 6 p.m., and I'm eating supper. Give him a dose of mineral oil, and if he isn't all right in the morning, phone me, and I'll come and take a look at him."
"How'll I give it to him?" she inquired.
"Through a funnel."

But he might bite me," she protested.
"Oh, Fannie Lamb — You're a farm woman and you know about these things. Give it to him through the other end."

So Fannie Lamb went out to the barn, and there stood Horace, with his head held down, and moaning and groaning.
She looked around for a funnel but the nearest thing she could see to one was her Uncle Bill's fox hunting horn hanging on a wall. A beautiful goldenplated instrument with gold tassels hanging from it.

She took the horn and affixed it properly. Horace paid no attention.

Then she reached up on the shelf where medicines for the farm animals were kept. But instead of picking up the mineral oil, she picked up a bottle of turpentine, and poured a liberal dose of it into the horn.
Horace raised his head with a sudden jerk. He let out a yell that could have been heard a mile away. He reared up on his hind legs, brought his front legs down, knocked out the side of the barn, jumped a five-foot fence, and started down the road at a mad gallop.

Now Horace was in pain, so every few jumps he made, that horn would blow.
All the dogs in the neighborhood knew that when that horn was blowing it meant that Uncle Bill was going fox hunting. So out on the highway they went, close behind Horace.

It was a marvelous sight. First Horace — running at top speed, the hunting horn in the most unusual position, the mellow notes issuing there from, the tassels waving, and the dogs barking joyously.

They passed by the home of Old Man Harvey Hogan, who was sitting on his front porch. He hadn't drawn a sober breath in 15 years, and he gazed in fascinated amazement at the sight that unfolded itself before his eyes. He couldn't believe what he was seeing. Incidentally, he is now head man in Alcoholics Anonymous in a section of the state.

By the time it was good and dark, Horace and dogs were approaching the Inland Waterway. The bridge tender heard the horn blowing and figured that a boat was approaching. So he hurriedly went out and uncranked the bridge. Horace went overboard and drowned. The dogs also went into the water, but swam out without any difficulty.

It so happened the bridge tender was running for office of sheriff of Chowan County, but he managed to poll only seven votes.

The people figured that any man who didn't know the difference between a mule with a horn up his rear and a boat coming down the Inland Waterway wasn't fit to hold any public office in Chowan County.

As I See It . . .

By BOB HAMILTON

Well, it looks like Iowa Park might just have that annual celebrating event it's been needing ever since the Texas-Oklahoma Fair was abandoned.

Results of Saturday's "Whoop-T-Do" were so pleasing to everyone connected with it, that talk is already afoot to make it an annual event. That is to connect it to the Saturday following the homecoming celebration of the high school's.

There appeared to be something happening at some time during the afternoon which appealed to almost everyone who attended. And those who missed it will certainly want to be on hand next year, if it is continued.

Already those who had booths and events taking place during the afternoon are making plans to do an even better job of pleasing those who attend next year. And many organizations who did not participate are racking their brains to find something they can do when the date rolls around in 1973.

For those organizations participating, it was a profitable event. They had something for the people who wanted to spend some money, and their bank accounts have something to show for it now.

That's what I like. Every organization needs money with which to carry on its activities and projects. If they give the people something in return for their money, there's a good taste left in the spender's mouth. But this business of soliciting handouts for nothing, has gotten so old people just don't want to participate any more.

Saturday's crowd was never overly large, but it was constant. People came and went as they pleased, doing what they wanted.

Whether the event remains under the title "Whoop-T-Do", no one knows right now. Chamber president Ralph Beall has to be credited with the title, as I understand. Someone asked him what to call the afternoon's activities, for publicity, and for want of something better, Ralph blurted out the name with more of a question mark after it than really being a statement.

Whoop-T-Do or whatever it becomes known as, it looks like Iowa Park will have a special event from now on, about which we can remember and look forward to.

I knew the barbers of America weren't going to take this long-hair stuff without striking back.

well out into the dedicated street, and his fence is covering the alley.

Aldermen instructed Mitchell to tell Billingsley his ownings must be cleared of city property.

Don Hughes, representing the Chamber of Commerce, asked and received the city's cooperation in naming Oct. 8-14 "Harold Swanson Week". The request is part of a city-wide drive by the Chamber to coordinate activities which will raise funds to help the local resident who was injured recently.

Aldermen voted to have signs posted along all sidewalks in business areas, informing bicycle riders that it was against state law to ride a bike on a business sidewalk.

Fines for violation of the law range from $10 to $200, according to the state law. Purchase of 18 traffic signs, 12 stop and six yield, was approved. Expense for the signs and clamps amounted to $155.70.

Iowa Park will cooperate with Wichita Falls, Burkburnett and Electra, as well as the county, in helping pay for the service of picking up dead animals. A firm in Wichita Falls will receive $50 monthly from here as the city's part.

Bill Wischmeyer, engineer who designed the new sewer plant and water project, said it appears the city will have as much as $80,000 remaining from the bonds approved for the two projects.

A portion of the money will possibly be used for construction of an additional facility required by the state to capture water used for flushing screens at the treatment plant. No figure on that expense has been advanced yet, however.

Actual cost of the water project is expected to be $1,073,000. Wischmeyer estimated, which will be about $77,000 under the projected cost.

Dr. Clark said his first priority of expenditure for the money expected from the federal government under the Revenue Sharing Bill, will be to expand the present city hall for more working room and to include a small jail facility.

The mayor said he had been in contact with government people who told him checks are expected to be mailed to the various governmental bodies of the nation by Oct. 22.

Iowa Park is to receive between $65,000 and $70,000 annually for the next five years, retroactive Jan. 1, 1972, he told the council.

LETTERS to the EDITOR

Dear Mr. Hamilton;

On Friday nites, at Hawk Stadium, at halftime, if the fans wish to leave their seats, for refreshments, that is their right, but for our Cheerleaders to be distributing free advertising material while the visiting band is marching on the field, shows a complete lack of hospitality and good manners!

In past years I have complained privately to the school officials about this situation, but they seem afraid or unwilling to discipline anyone even remotely connected with our young Gladiators.

This year the girls have outdone themselves, the Gainesville Band's M.C. had to wait for the aerial circus to subside, and Jacksboro was performing at the 50 yard line, yet the balls still flew.

Are we so self centered that we can treat our guests this way?

Seems to me, someones pious values need to be re-examined and our school officials go back to enforcing GOOD MANNERS!

Sincerely,
Dale E. Thompson
