Awards to highlight banquet

Two awards of recognition, the "Outstanding Citizen of the Year" and the "Outstanding Senior Citizen" will be presented Saturday night to highlight the annual Chamber of Commerce Banquet.

To begin at 7 p.m. in the high school cafeteria, awarding of the two plaques to as yet unannounced persons will climax the evening.

Keynote speaker for the evening will be Dr. Don Newbury, director of community relations for Tarrant County Junior College in Fort Worth.

Charlie Lee will be installed as new Chamber president, succeeding outgoing president Dr. Richard Carver. Also taking office will be the new vice presidents, Keith Aulds and Don Flowers.

Tickets, which are still on sale from members of the Chamber and at the Chamber office, are $5 per person. More than 300 are expected to turn out for the event, which is considered as the annual social highlight of the community.

Benny Compton, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, will serve as master of ceremonies.

Selection of the Outstanding Citizen and Senior Citizen has been made from nominations received from individuals and organizations during the past two months.

Wayne House was the recipient of the Outstanding Citizen award last year. The Senior Citizen award is new, having been established by the Chamber board since the last banquet. It, also, will become an annual award.

Dr. Newbury is becoming one of the most sought-after banquet speakers in the state. He is billed by George Dolan, columnist for the Fort Worth Star-Telegram, as "Mister Clean."

"If you've ever grumbled during an after-dinner speech, 'Why doesn't someone tell that guy you don't to be dirty to be funny,' you can point to Dr. Don Newbury as positive proof. At a podium, for audiences large and small, he is 'Mr. Clean' - and he's very funny. He's a polished speaker who can weave bits of humor into an inspiring message, and a delightfully efficient emcee adept to keeping things moving while keeping audiences laughing. He pleases both extremes - those who want good grammar, and those who prefer good taste," Dolan says.

One school asked Newbury back four consecutive years, because of his acceptance by its audiences at banquets.

MOBILE HOME DESTROYED - Members of the Iowa Park Volunteer Fire Department battled a blaze Wednesday that destroyed a mobile home at 105 W. Ruby. Walter West was listed as the resident; however, the home was not occupied by any persons when the blaze broke out in the eastern end of the home about 11:30 a.m. Wednesday. Firemen found a small dog dead in a bathroom, presumably the victim of asphyxiation.

Council to decide fate of Swedberg's employment

In a called meeting of the Iowa Park city council Monday evening it was proposed to fire acting police chief Gideon Swedberg, but any action on the proposal was postponed until the council's next regular meeting, which will be Monday.

Charges against Swedberg were filed by new chief Charles Beaver, stating Swedberg had violated article 3901 of the Texas Penal Code and local department rules and regulations.

Swedberg received a 15-day suspension, without pay, Dec. 11 on the charges, and then an indefinite suspension Dec. 26.

Monday's meeting was attended by L.W. Teel, mayor protem who chaired the session in absence of mayor Arch Hughes, Bud Thompson, Billy Gilmore and Joe Singer. Alderman Floyd Adams was absent. Also there was a large turnout of citizens.

In addition to Swedberg was his attorney Gene Douglas of Wichita Falls, and a court reporter.

Chief Beaver alleged that Swedberg had conducted two unauthorized investigations of department personnel, including himself, in Wichita Falls, and that such actions were permissible only with his approval, or from directions of the mayor or police commissioner. He said no one had given such permission.

The new chief acknowledged that he had been permitted under the recently-passed ordinance establishing the police department to fire Swedberg, he would have done so.

Following Beavers before the council was attorney Douglas, who asked Beavers numerous questions about his charges, a meeting he had held with members of the council Dec. 26 and about department policies.

Swedberg then told his side of the story, refuting many of the allegations and pointing out that he had reported to Teel, whom he believed to have directed him to make one of the investigations.

Following both Douglas and Swedberg, alderman Gilmore moved that Swedberg be fired.

However, newly-appointed alderman Singer asked that he be given more time to consider the testimony which had been given, and that he not be rushed into making such a decision.

"I don't see how I can make any truthful decision within two minutes after presentation," he said.

The council then adjourned into executive session with the rest of the council to consider the issue, Singer explained he felt other information might be brought out there which had not been discussed during the testimonies, and he wanted to weigh the information he had received in the open meeting.

Gilmore and Thompson agreed that no action should be taken until next Monday's meeting, and directed that the subject be placed on the agenda.

CONFLICTING STATEMENTS

There was conflict between statements made by Beaver and Swedberg.

The chief said Swedberg had told him his instructions to conduct the investigations came from a note on his desk, with Teel's name at the bottom, for one, and for the other, a telephone call from an alderman which he said Swedberg could not tell him which alderman had called.

Such investigations were "conducting an act under color of his office" under the penal code, Beaver said, and was done, as far as he could tell, by Swedberg (Beaver) as police chief.

Swedberg stated the note he had found on his desk had been thrown away by him, and acknowledged it was a mistake to have done it. He then said he had never said he was contacted on the telephone by a councilman to conduct an investigation, but had actually received three separate calls from persons refusing to identify themselves, charging one of the new officers of some offense.

The assistant chief pointed out that it had been his duty, the past five years and under two different chiefs, to conduct personnel investigations whenever a new patrolman was hired. He also pointed out that all police act on tips of all kinds, or else they would have little to go on in most cases.

Beaver said he would have given

Swedberg permission to conduct both investigations, even on him, had he been asked before hand, but he wasn't. Swedberg explained that the chief was not available at the time.

Beaver said he had gone over the new rules and regulations Beaver had drafted, and were later passed by the council, with Swedberg and that he was fully informed, but Swedberg countered that they had had "very few discussions about the rules and regulations."

Swedberg told the council "Somebody is determined to keep the trouble flowing within the department. I can't say who it is, I don't know or I would tell you."

He said he did not receive a copy of the rules and regulations until Dec. 26, and that a copy the chief had said he left on Swedberg's desk was not there when he said it was.

Beaver had said he left a copy, once it was printed, on Swedberg's desk, while he was off duty. It was not there later, and he believed Swedberg had gotten it.

At one point during the meeting, all councilmen present stated they had not directed Swedberg to conduct any investigations, either by written note or by telephone.

Swedberg said he wanted to continue as a member of the police department. "I just wish this whole hassle would settle down and quit."

Swedberg has served as sergeant on the department since Don Reed resigned in 1971, and was acting chief between appointments of L.D. Jones and Beaver as chief.

BICENTENNIAL PROGRAM

Congressman to speak at flag presentation

U.S. Rep. Jack Hightower will be keynote speaker at the Jan. 17 official presentation of the bicentennial flag and certificates, designating Iowa Park as a Bicentennial Community.

Hightower, who represents the 13th Congressional District, is slated to present the flag and state and federally-recognized certificates between 4 and 5 p.m. Jan. 17.

A chili feed, to be prepared by the Iowa Park Mule Skinners, will follow the presentation.

"We're hoping to attract more than 2,000 persons," said Bill Bates, chairman of the Iowa Park Bicentennial Commission.

The festivities are scheduled to take place in a roped off section of Wall Street between Cash and Park. If the weather is bad, the fete will be held in the Iowa Park High School auditorium, Bates said.

Accompanying Hightower and Bates on the dignitary platform for the presentations will be Mayor Arch Hughes, and members of the city council and bicentennial commission.

Patriotic music will be performed by the city's junior high school and high school bands and choirs.

Tickets to the chili feed are available through band and choir members and FFA members. The student organizations will receive a percentage of the sales, Bates said.

Tickets are $1 for adults and 75-cents for students, he explained.

Plans call for persons to be seated on bales of hay in the vicinity of city hall, and country and western music will be played during serving hours from 5-7 p.m.

Three youths are arrested

The arrest of three juvenile boys the Tuesday before New Year's Day cleared a burglary of Faith Baptist Church, but three other burglaries have been since reported.

Iowa Park police took the three youths into custody shortly after their noon raid on the church. They had forced the soft drink machine open and taken money from it, as well as several keys to rooms in the building.

The keys were found hidden in a local service station restroom.

Taken before a Wichita Falls judge, all three boys were given six months probation, though two of them were on an active 30-day probation after being charged with burglary of other churches in the city.

Break-ins of Kidwell and Bradford elementary schools were reported to have taken place Thursday. No money was taken, though considerable damage was reported in an apparent search for money.

A home burglary was reported Monday at 523 W. Magnolia by Gayle Whittaker. Entry was through an unlocked window. Nothing was taken, though a search of the house was apparent.

Coloring contest winners named

Two firsts were recorded in this year's Christmas Coloring Contest, sponsored by the Iowa Park Leader.

The first brother-sister winning combination was noted, and a Holiday student was a prize winner. This was also the largest number of entries since the contest was initiated three years ago.

Winners in the first through third grade division were Richard and Sandra Wright, who live at 606 S. Park and are students at Bradford Elementary. Richard was the winner and Sandra was runner-up.

In the older division, Joe Kinney, a student at Valley View, was the winner, while Melissa Parish of Holiday was the runner-up.

Winners received $5 while runners-up were awarded $2.50 in each division.

To enter, contestants were to color the Christmas greetings sponsored by business firms, which were published in the annual Christmas edition of the Leader.

In an impressive double-ring ceremony performed Saturday in the Faith Baptist Church, Miss Bramley Gaye Balsley became the bride of Randy Paul Black. The Rev. Jacky Newton, pastor, was the officiant for the seven o'clock nuptials.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Balsley of Iowa Park and the groom is the son of Mrs. Helen Black of Hurst, and the late Donald G. Black.

The altar setting was enhanced with arched candelabra entwined with boxwood garlands and stephanotis vines. Tree candelabra emphasizing the same accents held candles protected by old-fashioned globes to provide additional candlelight for the ceremony. The bride and groom stood beneath an archway of the boxwood garlands and stephanotis vines featuring a pair of white doves looking down from the center above as if singing the happy news of the wedding. On either side were artistic arrangements of gladioli, carnations and baby's breath in burgundy and ivory, the bride's chosen colors.

The bride and groom chose to finalize the ceremony by lighting a candle to symbolize that two lives had become as one. The unity candlestand decorations repeated the boxwood garlands and stephanotis vines. A meaningful part of the service was the presentation of long-stemmed roses by the bride to the mothers to express the love and appreciation that she and the groom felt for them.

Wedding guests registered in the church foyer at an oval bridal table covered with white satin. A burgundy and ivory floral creation complemented the bride's book. Miss Karen Stroope of Little Rock, Arkansas secured signatures of the guests.

The traditional wedding music was provided by Mrs. Vernon Lewis, organist, and Mike O'Donnell, vocalist. The latter's offerings were "If," "Twelfth of Never" and "The Lord's Prayer." The organist presented a medley of appropriate selections preceding the ceremony, accompanied the vocalist and played the processional and recessional compositions from Wagner and Mendelssohn.

The bride was escorted

and presented in marriage for both parents by her father. She wore an elegant formal gown of white organza highlighted with an Empire bodice of Chantilly lace accented with iridescent ruffles of lace graced the high neck, outlined the sheer V yoke and added the finishing touches to the sheer sleeves extending over the hands. Gallon laced edged the deep hemline ruffle of the full A-line skirt and chapel train. Complementing the gown was the bride's chapel length mantilla of Chantilly lace-edged illusion. She carried a traditional bridal nosegay of burgundy Cara Mia and ivory roses, baby's breath and English ivy.

For "something old," the bride wore cameo earrings belonging to her paternal grandmother, Mrs. Ruth Balsley. "Something borrowed" was Mrs. David Black's white prayer Bible. A lucky six pence from England was worn in her shoe, and the blue garter and new wedding ensemble completed the sentimental traditions.

Participating in the wedding as maid of honor was Miss Julie Woods. The trio of bridesmaids consisted of the groom's sisters, Miss Sherry Black, Miss Vikki Black and Miss Cindy Black, all of Hurst. The attendants wore identical burgundy velvet Victorian-style gowns adorned with old English ivory lace around the V-necks and cuffs of the long sleeves. Their flowers, which were burgundy Cara Mia roses, champagne carnations, baby's breath combined with English ivy, were fashioned into nosegays.

Miss Brandi Adams of Memphis, Texas, the diminutive flower girl, wore a burgundy velvet frock trimmed with ivory lace around the high neck and cuffs of the sleeves. She carried a white wicker wedding basket filled with burgundy and ivory roses, baby's breath and English ivy.

Jeff Boswell of Arlington, the ring bearer, wore a black Windsor tuxedo, a pink shirt with black trim and a black velvet bow tie, identical to the dress of the groomsmen, ushers and father of the bride.

Lighting the candles at the altar were Miss Linda Cook of Albuquerque, New Mexico and Miss Susan Wrinkle of Big Spring. They wore chic ivory-colored organza dresses over matching taffeta featuring wide old English lace threaded with burgundy ribbon from shoulder to hemline down either side in both front and back, Empire waistlines and scoop necks.

The groom wore a white Windsor tuxedo trimmed in black, white ruffled shirt and black vest. In carrying out the tradition of selecting a flower from the bride's bouquet, his boutonniere was a burgundy rose encircled with baby's breath and an ivy leaf.

David Black of Bedford, cousin of the groom, served as best man. Groomsmen were Mike Kerr of Arlington, David Barnett of Bedford and Mike Shannon of Houston, cousin of the bride. The latter also served as usher with his brother, Danny Shannon of Houston. Immediately following the wedding, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Balsley were hosts for the reception held in the Fellowship Hall where the room and table decorations were in burgundy, ivory and bridal white.

Particularly attractive was the bride's table covered in white satin distinguished with a pleated skirt that extended to the floor graced with white wedding bells at each corner. Occupying a special place in the table appointments was the four-tiered bride's cake iced in candlelight accented with darker candlelight roses touched with burgundy trim cascading down the layers.

The cake was tiered up beautifully with two sets of dividers, and the ornament chosen to top the confection featured white satin wedding bells rimmed with pearls nestled in puffs of tulle and lilies of the valley. The silver candelabrum holding flickering tapers, burgundy and ivory carnations and baby's breath was the interesting centerpiece, and the setting was completed with the crystal service.

The groom's table was also covered in white satin. Burgundy and ivory were repeated in the flowers for the table which held the silver appointments and chocolate interlocking rings cake decorated with frosting grapes in shades of green.

Mrs. Rickey Riley served at the table during the reception.

For the wedding, the mothers of the bride and groom selected corsages for their gowns in the bride's colors and wore burgundy roses and ivory carnations. Mrs. Balsley wore a long mint green knit dress styled with high neck and long sleeves and Mrs. Black wore a light blue knit dress with an accordion pleated skirt and lace bodice.

The new Mrs. Black was graduated from Iowa Park High School. She attended Baylor University at Waco and is presently a junior nursing major student at Baylor School of Nursing, Baylor Medical Center, Dallas. The groom was graduated from L.D. Bell High School, attended Baylor University and will continue his education at the University of Texas at Arlington. He is manager of MAC Ceramic Mold at Hurst.

The rehearsal dinner was given by the groom's mother in the Colonial Room of the NCO Club at Sheppard AFB Friday evening.

The newlyweds chose Colorado Springs, Colo. for their honeymoon and skiing trip. They wore identical blue Western-style suits, featuring shirts with yokes and collars, turtle neck sweaters and navy blue patchwork pants, when they left the church. They will live at Smithfield when they return.

Out-of-town guests included Mrs. W.J. Welch of Baltimore, Md., Mrs. Mae Atkinson of Bainbridge Island, Washington, Mrs. William Radford of Fayetteville, N.C., Messrs. and Meses. E.C. Aldridge and Donald Aldridge of Houston, Gil Yeagar of Hale's Center, Mich. and J.C. Walker and Linda of Camden, Ark.

'Caring' theme for program

Mrs. William Andersen presented the program for the meeting of Christian Women's Fellowship of First Christian Church Monday night. In keeping with the year's theme, "Caring" the study for the night was "The Care of Family Relationships." Assisting with the program was Karen Andersen who read a short poem "Ask a Foolish Question" by Joan Mills.

Mrs. Andersen stressed how the family group father, mother, child and grandparent, has been the center of all culture since the time of cave man. The group discussed the relationships in a family: husband-wife, parent-child, the relationship between siblings, and the grandparent-parent-child relationship.

The possibility of starting a Foster Grandparent Program among church members was discussed.

For special music, Mrs. Keith Pierce and Vicki Pierce sang a duet, "Brahm's Lullaby" with Kerry Johnston providing piano accompaniment.

To close the study, the group joined in repeating the C.W.F. prayer. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Sammy Henderson.

The next meeting will be Feb. 2 and will be highlighted by the annual birthday dinner. Mrs. Dewey Conley will be in charge.

The Highland Heights Baptist Church in Wichita Falls was the scene of the wedding officiated by the Rev. Lawrence Cox, pastor. The couple repeated their double-ring vows before large candelabra forming an arch and two large baskets of white mums and gladioli.

The wedding music was furnished by Danny Biggs, organist, who played the traditional marches, and accompanied Mark Inman, vocalist, for his selection "The Wedding Song."

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a formal silhouette gown of sheer bridal organza over taffeta. Venice lace adorned the high neck and fitted bodice. The lace was fashioned in the Empire-style waistline accented with wide satin ribbon and bow with streamers in the back. The full sheer sleeves were trimmed with rows of Venice lace and cuffed with Chantilly lace. The full skirt was hemmed with Chantilly lace and swept to a chapel train. The bride's net veiled edged with lace was caught to a beaded cap and she carried a cascade of white roses and baby's breath centered with a white gardenia. Mrs. Charlie Jones was matron of honor. She was attired in a long burgundy knit dress trimmed with pink lace. The gown was designed with an Empire waist, scoop neck, long sleeves and A-line skirt. She carried a basket of pink carnations. ## Cook of the Week

Mrs. G.W. Milner, wife of the pastor of the United Pentecostal Church, enjoys baking and in selecting her recipes to share with the Leader readers, it seemed only natural for her to choose her favorite pie recipe and one favorite cake recipe.

Originally from Mississippi, Mrs. Milner attended school at Kosciusko. Since her marriage, she has lived in Mississippi, Alabama, Arkansas and Texas where her husband pastored churches. The family moved to Iowa Park from Arkansas in August 1975.

She is leader of the Ladies' Auxiliary and pianist of the church. Her hobbies are sewing and baking.

The couple's children are David, a minister at Glen Rose, Danny, a 1975 graduate of high school at Star City, Ark., who is associated with his father in the cabinet making business, and Anna, a student at Valley View.

33 attend UMW meeting

Thirty-three members and guests of the United Methodist Women attended the study and covered-dish luncheon at the church Tuesday.

Mrs. George Trammell, president, gave the devotion which included poems by Florence Allshorn and John Wesley stressing prayer life and spiritual quietness. Mrs. Elgin Denny played the piano prelude.

Mrs. Dorothea Stark of Jacksboro, District UMW President, was a special guest and complimented the local group on the procedures they used in their work. Other guests were the Rev. and Mrs. James E. Cannatser, Carrolia Lunney, Debbie Crume and Jamie Lou Knecht.

During the business, thank you notes were read from Sheppard AFB Hospital for the cakes sent during December and from Cryovac for helping to host a tea for employees and guests.

Roll call showed that the Joyce Hall and Mike-Judi Thornberry circles tied for members in attendance. Reports were given by Mrs.

Miles Thompson, treasurer, and Mrs. Eugene Lowrey, social concerns committee chairman. Miss Ethyle Kidwell presented the year-books for 1976.

Mrs. Travis Smith presented the program following the business, using "Ministries In the World We Live In" by Hans Aurbakken for the topic. The preminent thought of the study was the deeper meanings of Global Ministries and the role of the church today. Mrs. C.L. Thompson read the scriptures that provided the background for the study.

Mrs. M.L. Hines offered the invocation for the luncheon.

Others attending were Mmes. Donald Cook, James Beals, W.M. Owens, Emma Gauntt, L.A. Thurlo, Evelyn Thompson, E.L. ## Texas Electric is building power plants that will use the cheapest fuels available.

Today natural gas is Texas Electric's main fuel for power plants. Oil is used only as a standby fuel.

But our low-cost supplies of natural gas are running out, so we can't continue to use it as our main fuel.

To replace natural gas, we've already acquired large reserves of lignite coal and made long-term contracts for uranium. Both lignite and uranium are much cheaper than new supplies of natural gas.

To use these cheaper fuels, we have to build new power plants. They cost a lot to build, and that's why electric rates will have to go up. But these plants will make electricity at the lowest possible cost by saving millions of dollars in the cost of fuel.

Changing to cheaper fuels is one way Texas Electric is making sure you'll continue to have the electricity you need, at rates well below the national average.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Bob,
 In the hustle and bustle of what has become too routine in many of our lives we too often neglect to take time to let people who are deserving really know how much we appreciate them.
 I am speaking, in particular, of a member of the Leader's staff - Olive Blalock - and also to you as publisher of the Leader. I also feel that I am speaking the sentiments of many of your readers.
 In the last several years we have read with intent interest her beautiful coverages of the weddings of the young couples of Iowa Park and the area. Her personal interest in each, down to the small details, the time, thought and work that goes into preparing each story is so evident.

And when it is completed and ready for print it is a work of art comparable to that of a fine artist or even accomplished composer.
 I wonder if you, or she, realizes that with the publishing of their wedding stories you have given these young couples one of the most treasured keepsakes at this special time in their lives. A gift that will stir memories as often as it is reread.
 The feeling that you and Olive should be told how appreciated you are came so forcibly as we read your recent coverage of Sandra and Larry's wedding - It was beautiful! "Thank you" seems such an inadequate expression but we mean it sincerely.

As I See It...

by BOB HAMILTON

The federal government slipped one in on us.
 Though all I've seen on the bill which became effective the first of the year which imposes the metric system on the citizens of the United States has been a few, scant wire stories in the daily newspapers, the congress apparently did it.
 And that's my point. There's been no touch with the citizens about whether we wanted it or not. My guess is, other than a few international businesses and a scattering of so-called educators, no one wants it.

I can't, for the life of me, understand why there was not some grassroots opinion sought by members of congress before they voted. And, now that it's passed, why hasn't the government let us know what it is all about?
 If ever the saying "Bah, Humbug" ever applied, it's now!
 I'll be hanged before I'll write a story about Jimmy Thompson throwing a 20-yard pass in the term of 182,880 meters. And I can't see describing sophomore basketballer Jimmy Rowell's 6-8 1/2 height as 18,288 decimeters, 21.59 centimeters.
 And I'd be sorely tempted to punch someone in the nose if they referred to my weight as 898,128 kilograms, even though I'm not sensitive about my weight.
 I'm sorry, but I guess I'm just too far along to accept the metric system, just as I refuse to call someone a "committeeperson" or a woman a "Ms."
 I guess the liberal world has just passed me by...

MESQUITE MUSINGS

By RUBY L. ROBERTSON

The current issue of a national news magazine carries this quote in the business column. "Texas meanwhile has the best business climate in the nation, according to a subsidiary of Dun and Bradstreet. The state gets high marks for its tax structure and favorable labor laws. It led the country in new manufacturing jobs - 150,000 in the period from 1967 to 1974. But the Lone Star State was ranked low in people climate, reflecting such factors as education, voter participation and poverty levels."
 Just another "sour grapes" opinion by the eastern folks. There are other things about our state besides the favorable business climate which draws people. Could it be the right-to-work laws or no state income tax as well as the nicest weather on earth?
 A lot of us may be too lazy to vote or maybe so disgusted with the whole government setup that we have given up trying to improve it; but when a neighbor is in need, 99.9% of us will pitch in and help. This is shown by our generous gifts to the United Fund, the churches and health organizations.

 We may spend too much of our education budget on athletics and too little on the arts, sciences and vocational education, but that is because we know that people would rather be tickled than taught.
 Emphasis on the good life was shown this fall at the West Texas Chamber of Commerce meet when the Cultural Achievement Awards were given. Among those honored were Elmer Kelton of Crane, western author; Dr. I.F. Hudson, Stamford, artist; Mrs. Lou Cooley, Borger, civic leader and the people of Albany who have presented the Fort Griffin Fandangle each year since 1938.
 These people are just typical Texans, like many of our local citizens, who are working to improve the "people climate" of the Lone Star State.

REMEMBERING...

BY BILL D. BROOKS

THE COUNTRY CHURCH
 In driving through the rural sections of America it is not uncommon to come upon a small village or town somewhat off the main road. In any given section of the country the towns will all have pretty much the same appearance, especially the church building. The architecture is not usually elaborate but it is easily recognized as a church.
 The country church is more than just a religious meeting place. It is actually the center of community life. Labeled by some as the backbone of rural American culture, it is the town meeting hall, election polling place, and community center. Denominational barriers are often broken and all faiths participate in the services and use of the building.
 The one we attended was such a place. It stood proudly on the hill overlooking the town. The old building was not designed by an architect but rather dreamed up by the craftsmen of the community a generation earlier. They built it, all contributing time, skills and money as they were able. The church had no full-time pastor but rather shared one with two other nearby congregations. Consequently, we only had "preachin'" every third Sunday, a fact welcomed by the youngsters (youngsters don't actually care that much for preaching). On preaching Sunday church didn't usually let out until one o'clock, at least it seemed that way to me.

 The preacher usually took Sunday dinner in the home of one of the members, staying through the afternoon, talking with the grownups. We kids enjoyed having the preacher in our home because we got to eat fried chicken (all we wanted) and mashed potatoes, gravy, assorted other good things topped off with my favorite, pecan pie. We didn't usually eat that well.
 Our church building was like most others. It had a main auditorium and on either side of the pulpit two small rooms which were used for choir and classes. Other classrooms for Sunday School were formed by drawing ducking curtains across the auditorium. This arrangement did not afford much privacy; at times you could hear as many as six lessons being taught at the same time.

 I'm sure my teachers didn't think I was learning much in their class but I absorbed more than was apparent. I owe my early religious training to those dedicated men and women who endured my pranks, interruptions and jokes. I remember them with pride and will always be thankful they took the time to teach.

Hawks drop loop tilts

Iowa Park's young Hawk varsity dropped the first two District 4-AAA basketball games by wide margins, losing 89-51 to Weatherford and 95-49 to Burkburnett.

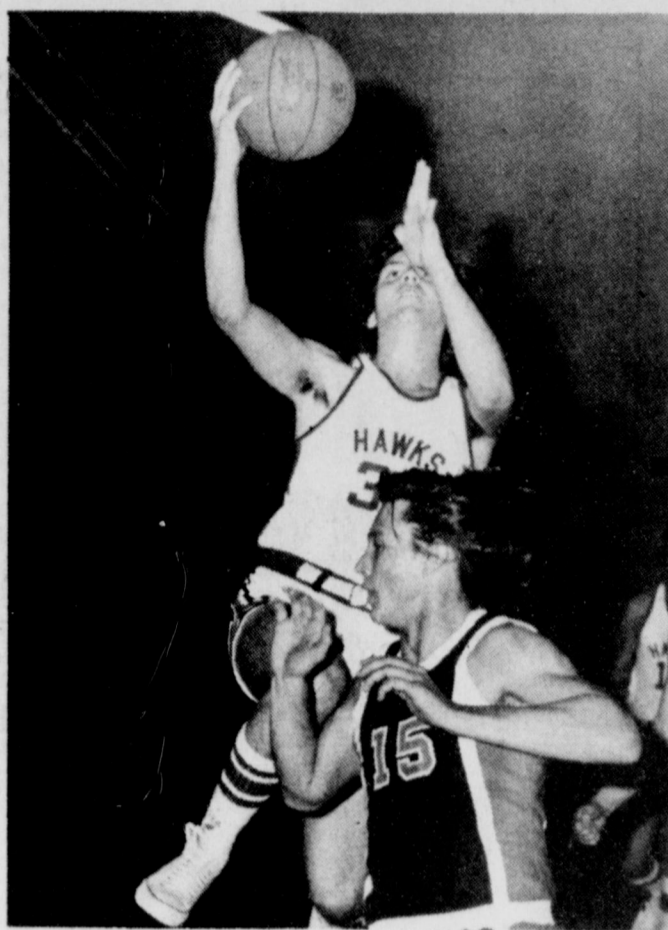

Coach Phil Harmon's group continues to have physical problems at the playmaker position, also.

The only remaining senior on the squad, Tony Singer, returned to the court Tuesday for the Burk game after a several-week layout from a severely-sprained ankle. He injured it twice that night, once in pre-game warmup and again late in the game.

Singer's return was just in time, as Rusty Price injured his ankle and will be out of action for at least a week. Tom Woods, the other playmaker and senior, is out for the season after undergoing a shoulder operation.

When the Hawks took the court Tuesday at Burkburnett, there were only nine in uniform.

Led by brothers Berg, Chris and Randy, Burkburnett spurred to a 22-7 first-quarter lead. Then the Hawks played some catchup to narrow the margin to 49-24 during the second period. But the Bulldog full-court press, which was applied throughout the game, aided the hosts to a 71-35 third quarter lead.

Jimmy Rowell hit almost every shot he put up, and accounted for 24 points to lead the Hawks. Singer has six.

Burk also took the junior varsity game, 62-41. Shane Kimbrew led the locals with 10 points.

In the conference opener for Iowa Park Friday at Weatherford, Rowell and Eddie Cannedy led the Hawks in scoring with 15 and 11 points respectively. The Kangaroos led 25-11, 47-25 and 65-39 at the end of the first three periods.

Their first conference game at home is tomorrow against Graham.

Through their pre-district games, the young Hawks committed an average of 30 turnovers a game.

EXCHANGE STUDENT SPENDS CHRISTMAS IN HOLLIDAY
...Mr. and Mrs. Earl Whisenant, Celin Astudillo and Mr. and Mrs. James Trosper

Visiting teenager from Ecuador came looking for cowboys, Indians

By LEWIS SIMMONS

When Celin Astudillo left his home in Ecuador to come to the United States as a foreign exchange student he didn't anticipate spending Christmas in Holliday.

But a visit to Holliday High School and a church-sponsored outing with other youths quickly cleared the misconceptions he held about Texas and its pistol-packing cowboys and Indians on the warpath.

Likewise, Celin was eager to share his knowledge of Ecuador, a country whose customs are found equally unusual by most Texans.

Celin's American parents are Mr. and Mrs. James V. Trosper of Long Beach, Calif. They spent Christmas with Mrs. Trosper's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Whisenant of Holliday.

Asked what he thought about Holliday, the handsome 17-year-old answered, "It's a nice town."

He admitted he expected to see cowboys and Indians roaming the countryside of Texas.

Celin's home is Riobamba, Ecuador, a town of about 60,000 population. The temperature remains between 55 and 70 degrees year round, therefore homes in Ecuador require no heating.

The people of Ecuador are more formal than Americans, according to Celin, who noted everyday clothing for students in Ecuador could be compared to an American youth's "Sunday School clothes."

One of the customs of Ecuador is that when a boy reaches his fifteenth birthday he is allowed his first drink of alcoholic beverage and may engage in conversation with men.

Upon graduation from high school, a young man in Ecuador is given his first cigarette. "Then you can start smoking in the house," Celin chuckled.

Teenagers in Ecuador often entertain themselves with a record dance in someone's home. Most television programs in Ecuador are American with Spanish dubbed in. The national sport is soccer, Celin explained.

Another unusual custom of Ecuador is celebrations similar to those centering around Halloween here take the shape of practical joking between Dec. 27 and Jan. 1. Christmas trees in Ecuador go outside the house, not in the living room.

"Celin came to our home quite by accident," said Mrs. Trosper, the former Betty Whisenant of Holliday.

Through the International Cultural Exchange, Celin had been destined originally for Waterloo, Iowa; however, shortly after his arrival in Miami Beach he was placed on a plane for Long Beach.

The Trosper's, who had applied for an exchange student, were given only 18 hours notice of Celin's arrival.

"We had no description of how our son would look, and since this was our first experience with the exchange program, knowing we could not speak his language, we also had doubts," Mrs. Trosper said.

That was in September, and following a brief mix-up at the airport the Trosper's and Celine met.

With dictionary in hand, Celin has overcome the language barrier that proved difficult for the family in the early going.

"My first week in Long Beach was a very frightening experience," Celin said. He never went outside the house without his dictionary, and now he must refer to a Spanish dictionary when writing his family in Ecuador.

Celin is enrolled in Artesia High School near Long Beach. He is on the varsity swim team and is scheduled to graduate this spring.

Highlights of his visit here over the Christmas holidays were the snow that fell Christmas eve, a visit to Holliday High School, a trip with Baptist youth group and being able to meet his American "relatives."

"He's just fit into our family life like he was born in it," Celin's American father said.

And when asked what he liked best about America, Celin grinned, "My parents."

Agape Players slate Kamay

The Agape Players are coming to Kamay on Saturday for an appearance at 7 p.m. at the First Baptist Church.

Trustees continue construction study

Holliday school trustees continued Monday night to wrestle with the proposed high school construction and renovation project.

Most of Monday night's three and a half hour session was devoted to the proposed project, which is still in its infancy.

Only formal action concerning the project taken Monday night was the hiring of a Dallas bond legal counselor, Tom Leonard, who will provide legal services if trustees decided to launch a bond issue program and election. He was hired on a contingency fee basis.

Also meeting with trustees Monday night was Herb Smith of Wichita Falls, a financial consultant working on a contingency fee basis. Smith presented trustees with several "hypothetical examples" of bond payment programs trustees might adopt in the event of a successful election.

However, the proposed construction and renovation project is still in the embryonic stages. Trustees have not decided how much to spend or how the money should be used.

But even at this stage it is evident trustees ultimately will be faced with the question of asking taxpayers for a tax rate hike, an increase in the assessment ratio or a combination of the two to finance the venture.

Trustee Joe Wells let off some verbal steam at one point in the meeting when board president T.D. Whitehead called for a vote on the hiring of Leonard, the Dallas bond legal counselor.

Wells maintained there's no rush in the proposed project, and that each issue of the venture should be studied carefully before trustees vote.

Although the motion carried, Wells voted against hiring Leonard at Monday night's meeting. He said the board would have plenty of time to hire legal aid after they work out the preliminaries of the project.

"I just don't like these ramrod deals. I'm tired of going for them," Wells said, making a motion that Whitehead appoint a building committee to address the project.

Later in the meeting Whitehead appointed trustees Tommy Mankins, Bob McDaniel, Jack Ayres and Wells.

In other business Monday night, Dwade Reinsch, band director, appeared before trustees seeking approval of a band trip to Carlsbad, N.M., May 7-8 for a concert and stage band festival.

It was unanimously approved by the board. Reinsch noted the band had 116 actively involved band members, and that the trip would include a tour of Carlsbad Caverns.

Tax assessor Louis Hodge gave a report on new property valuation techniques he learned at a seminar last summer.

Trustees voted to rehire Pritchard, Pritchard and Pritchard, a Fort Worth legal firm, to continue collecting delinquent taxes for the school district.

In a related issue, trustees decided to have attorneys file suit against property owners, who have unpaid taxes dating back five years or more.

On a motion by McDaniel, trustees decided to drop for one year their $135-annual membership to the Texas Association of School Boards.

The board received its tax report and paid monthly bills.

All members of the board were present at Monday night's meeting in addition to Supt. Ray Coe and Don Talley.

Federal check for $2,150

Although the squabble continues over whether Congress will renew federal revenue sharing legislation, the City of Holliday has received another payment under current legislation.

The most recent check received, totaling $2,150, is for the second quarter of entitlement period 6 which extends from July 1, 1975 through June 30, 1976, according to City Secretary Evon Carter.

The present federal revenue sharing act, enacted under President Richard Nixon and highly praised by communities across the nation as being a vehicle to finance otherwise unaffordable capital improvements, will expire in 1976.

Holliday News

Varsities sweep Chillicothe duo

Holliday High School cagers opened the new year with a bang Tuesday night by upsetting Chillicothe in a double header at Eagle Fieldhouse.

In a hard-fought match, Holliday's varsity girls squeaked past Chillicothe 43-38. Holliday's varsity boys ran away with their game against the visitors, 89-25.

Holliday drew first blood 30 seconds into the first game on a two-pointer by Nancy Sanders, who went up to the net for 13 points.

Bad passing and rusty rebounding kept scoring to a minimum in the first half, although a defensive rally mid-way into the second period helped Holliday trim its deficit to a 17-20 halftime score.

It was nip and tuck throughout most of the third quarter until Julie Rasmuson started picking points at the free throw line. Rasmuson tied the game 28-28 with a couple of free throws with 2:12 left in the third quarter.

By the end of the third quarter, coach Scotta Schroeder's girls had pulled out ahead 32-28, the last two points coming on a 30-foot jumper by Sanders.

Throughout the final period Holliday held its lead, largely due to Rasmuson's excellent record at the free throw line. She made a dozen points at the charity line, and with six jumpers made her highpoint with 24.

Brenda Henson and Cami Potter helped out with the shooting chores. Guard Tanya Woods came down with some key rebounds to rally the defense with a little help from her friends Gayla Minnix, Robin Woods and Chris Wilson.

Holliday's varsity boys never lost their head, drawing first blood a minute into the first quarter on a couple of charity shots by highpointer Clay Carver, who netted 16 points during the game.

Coach Walter Lemons' entire bench had seen action by the second quarter.

Mike Eastman ended the first half by rebounding his own misfired charity shot and turning it into two points giving the Eagles a 45-11 upper hand.

Going into the fourth quarter Holliday had spread its winning margin to 72-15, and the fans turned their yells not to the victory, but to urging each Eagle to get some points on the statistics sheet.

It looked like Mark Mankins was going to be the only red shirt not to pop the net, but with 20 seconds left he hit a jumper to make individual efforts unanimous.

Among the top-ranking cagers was Woody Bowles and Eastman with 13 each, Randy Romines with 12, Bob Gilmore with 9 and Greg Enis with 6.

Bobby Berry was dynamite at the free throw line hitting 10 of 11 charity shots and a jumper to give him 12 points total. Other Eagles to light the scoreboard were Danny Lee, Kevin McAlister and Gary Dolberry.

The varsity girls and boys will meet their first district foe, Callisburg, Friday night in Eagle Fieldhouse.

Eighth grade boys and girls and junior varsity girls and boys will collide with Petrolia tonight in Eagle Fieldhouse. Varsity boys and girls will host Callisburg Friday night on the home court of the Eagles.

Veal, Eagles land on Red River team

Holliday placed eight players on the Wichita Falls Times Red River football team of 1975 among area Class AA, A and B high schools.

A top honor in the small school division went to Holliday running back Johnny Veal, who was named Offensive Player of the Year.

A trio of Holliday Eagles were named to the small school offense including Veal at quarterback, Woody Bowles at end and Jim Stevens as a lineman.

Randy Berryman was among linebackers named to the defensive unit.

Eagles receiving honorable mention were running back Bob Gilmore, and lineman Greg Enis, Larry Veal and Clay Carver.

Each of the players also was among the 12 offensive and 13 defensive players from Holliday to make the District 13-A All-District squad.

Coach Don Lucy's Eagles had a 11-2 season record for 1975 including district, bi-district and regional championships. The Eagles were defeated at the regional playoff by DeLeon, the Class A state champ.

Ex-deputy U.S. marshal announces for sheriff

John F. Gibson, an ex-deputy U.S. Marshal of Wichita Falls, has become the first candidate to announce candidacy for the office of Wichita County sheriff.

JOHN F. GIBSON

"Most important of all, I can offer assurance that Wichita County Sheriff's Department will be a working department," Gibson said in his announcement.

A graduate of Wichita Falls High School, Gibson has business degree from North Texas State University.

Gibson served as Wichita County deputy sheriff under Weldon Bailey from 1959-1960 and in 1970 was appointed U.S. marshal by U.S. Marshal Bill Black of Fort Worth. He resigned the latter post Jan. 1 when he committed himself to seeking the Wichita County sheriff's post.

As a federal deputy marshal, Gibson said his duties included handling federal criminal and civil matters, investigation, courtroom security, judge and witness protection, skyjacking threats and incidents in Dallas.

Gibson said he served arrest warrants and handled prisoners through the courts, and transferred them to and between institutions. "While traveling as a federal marshal, I have had the opportunity to be in several states and see many different sheriff's departments and always have compared them with what we have in Wichita County," Gibson explained.

"Through my experience I sincerely feel that I can offer Wichita County a more updated sheriff's department in line with modern concepts.

"We must do away with the 1940s concept of sheriff's department's and we must employ only trained, dedicated officers able to compete with the criminal element.

"Although I am especially interested in the youth in our communities, I feel the sheriff and his staff should render to every citizen a fair and impartial service. As sheriff I will always be accessible to every citizen and will be a willing and active participant in the affairs of the community.

"I feel my experience particularly qualifies me to serve well the people of Wichita County.

"Having made my home here for 35 years, I am dedicated to serving the people of this area and feel I am a part of this community.

"Certainly I appreciate the importance of rendering each citizen fair and impartial service," Gibson stated.

Gibson and his wife, Kay, have a daughter, Tracy.

He is a member of First Presbyterian Church, Northwest Texas Field and Stream Association and is on the board of Camp Fire Girls.

 Words fail to express our deep thanks to all the lovely neighbors and friends who ministered to us so graciously during the unexpected death of our beloved husband and father, Joe Perry. The food, flowers and so many other expressions of concern helped to make our sorrow easier to bear, and we shall always remember each of you with the very kindest thoughts.
