Democrats return to polls Saturday

Iowa Park Democrats will return to the polls Saturday to select a constable and a sheriff in runoff primary elections.

Polls here will be open from 7 a.m.-7 p.m. Saturday at First Presbyterian Church and the ASCS Building, as well as at Valley View, Kamay and Valley Farms.

When absentee voting closed Tuesday, more than 500 Wichita County Democrats had cast the early ballots, according to Jerry Padgett, assistant county clerk.

At Wichita County Courthouse 348 persons had voted, 60 in Iowa Park, 25 at Burkburnett and 110 absentee votes had been returned by mail, Padgett said.

He called the absentee turnout "real good...usually on a runoff it's low down," Padgett said Wednesday.

However, he noted that the sheriff's contest had produced considerable interest, it being the first county-wide runoff election here in the past "10 or 15 years."

The sheriff's race can be credited for having generated a good portion of voter interest in Saturday's runoff primary, although in Iowa Park voters also will be deciding on the Precinct 3 constable's race.

The constable's race will be between Hubert Thompson and A.L. Bohannon. Neither of the candidates managed to garner a majority of the votes during the regular May 1 primary.

The constable's race was one of the most populated in the earlier primary with four candidates vying for the law enforcement officer's position which pays $6,725 annually, according to Joe Gowdy, Wichita County auditor.

Bohannon, a former Wichita County deputy sheriff, collected the most votes, 653. Thompson, a salesman, finished second with 337 votes.

George Duke and Billy Henson collected 231 and 164 votes, respectively, which prohibited either Bohannon or Thompson from securing a majority of the votes.

The constable's race between Bohannon and Thompson has been a low-key contest as both men have steered clear of dirty politics. Both of their campaigns have focused on their own merits, and explaining how they would handle the job of constable.

The sheriff's race has been a totally different story with major controversy having erupted during the past few days of the campaign as both candidates make a last minute push for votes.

The Sheriff's race has incumbent Jim Voyles of Iowa Park pitted against John Gibson of Wichita Falls.

Gibson collected the most votes in the May 1 primary when he drew the support of 7,561 Wichita County Democrats.

Voyles came in second with 6,346 votes.

The runoff election was forced because neither Voyles or Gibson secured a majority of the votes. Five candidates were on the May 1 ballot for sheriff, and the other three hopefuls combined to receive 2,643 votes, thus forcing the runoff between Gibson and Voyles.

The sheriff's race had remained relatively non-controversial up until last week when Voyles called a press conference to say that Gibson's qualifications for the office had been misrepresented.

Voyles said Gibson had held the appointive position as special U.S. deputy sheriff, that held limited duties and required no specialized training.

Gibson countered with his own press conference this week to defend his qualification. Gibson acknowledged he had been a special U.S. deputy, but that he performed the same duties as a regular U.S. deputy.

It had not been his intention to mislead the public, Gibson noted.

Both candidates have embarked on a heavy advertising media blitz as the election draws near in an effort to pull more votes.

Gibson is 42 and Voyles is 61. The sheriff's job pays $19,193 annually.

Two other state-wide runoffs will be decided Saturday with Jon Newton and Jerry Sadler vying for a spot on the Texas Railroad Commission, and W.T. Phillips and Carl Dally faced off for an unexpired term on the Texas Court of Criminal Appeals.

Voting officials have warned voters to be careful in Saturday's runoff primaries, since violation of the state's election laws prohibit anyone but Democrats from voting.

Persons who participated in the Republican primary in May will be forbidden to vote Saturday.

Only Democrats who voted in the May 1 primary and those persons who did not vote, making no party declaration, are eligible to cast ballots Saturday.

Anyone crossing over party lines will be guilty of a Class A misdemeanor punishable by a maximum $2,000 fine and/or a year prison sentence.

CONSTRUCTION CONTINUES on the Iowa Park Bicentennial Swimming Pool. Workmen are shown "blowing" the cement walls of the pool last week. The contractor states work is progressing slightly ahead of schedule, to allow the formal dedication and opening of the pool by the July 4th weekend.

City still concerned with finances

Money - past, present and future - was the subject of Tuesday's called meeting of the Iowa Park city council. The governmental body is equally concerned with its present state of financial affairs as it is with next year's budget, and all of it is based on the past income and expenses of the city. A resolution was adopted to allow Mayor Johnny Crawford to borrow from the State National Bank enough money as needed to operate the city until taxes start being paid in October.

A ceiling of $80,000 was established which could be borrowed. And though a verbal agreement has been arranged for the city to borrow the money at five percent interest, the resolution sets a 10 percent maximum which could be charged, and the money is to be repaid by the last day of June, 1977.

It has been calculated by City Administrator Gene Britton that the city can operate in the black through the 30th of this month. However, with numerous bond payments due the first of July, as well as normal payrolls and expenses, the outgo exceeds the income until about the middle of October, thus requiring the loan.

In working up his proposed budget for 1976-77, which will be aired in a public meeting June 14, Britton is basing his income calculations on a general 25 percent increase, which will be mostly from increased taxes and service fees.

Though work continues on the budget, it now appears the next fiscal year's expenses will be in the neighborhood of $928,000, according to Britton.

But this figure again does not reflect enough money to carry the city through the first three and a half months of the following fiscal year. Britton figures it requires $63,000 to bank the city operation from July 1 to October.

Another figure which possibly has not been injected into the income column is the deduction of approximately $15,000 which could result from a proposed ordinance giving a $3,000 tax deduction to the elderly and military handicapped.

The council instructed its city attorney to draft an ordinance, which will be presented June 14, allowing for the tax deduction. Such a deduction is allowed, at local option, by state law. It is said, however, that the military handicapped tax deduction is required, but not yet adhered to in Iowa Park.

Another ordinance which will be put before the council at the June 14 meeting is one which establishes new, and higher, fees for water, trash collection and sewer service.

Though the figures are still tentative, expenses thus proposed for 1976-77 by departments are: general government, $95,709; street, $103,469; sanitation, $66,645; police, $143,208; parks and recreation, $36,476; fire, $7,910; water department, $222,094; and sewer department, $58,984.

Plans now call for the required public hearing of the new budget to be held June 14, and if necessary to hold a second hearing the 28th. The second hearing would be necessary only if a significant change in the budget results from the first hearing, according to the city council.

MISS REED AFTER 38 YEARS:

She enjoyed her profession

"I don't know of any time that I haven't really enjoyed it; I have dearly loved my students and the administrators and teachers with whom I have taught", Miss Helen Reed stated as she recalled, somewhat nostalgically, past experiences of her 38 years of teaching elementary school students, 27 of those years having been spent in the Iowa Park school system.

Administrators, fellow teachers, students and parents have always had the greatest respect for her as a teacher and person, her systematic manner of procedure in the classroom and rapport with the students. George Taylor, principal of Bradford Elementary School, where she was a fourth grade teacher, praised her for consistently fixing her thoughts upon the conscientious performance of her duty which resulted in fruitful and enduring achievements in the lives of students. Many parents could praise her for helping to fashion tools for their children to build useful lives.

Miss Reed was honored at a breakfast given Friday morning at Fina Restaurant by the Bradford faculty. Faris Nowell, superintendent of schools, Mrs. Nowell, John Sibley, director of West Wichita County Co-op, and Dean Miller, director of career guidance, attended the breakfast. The group presented the honoree with a desk plaque highlighted with a miniature old-fashioned desk equipped with ink well and accessories and the teacher's chair.

Miss Reed received a B.S. degree from McMurry College at Abilene. She has also studied at the University of Colorado, TWC at Fort Worth and Midwestern State University.

She started her teaching career in Iowa Park in 1948 as a fourth grade art teacher in the Iowa Park Elementary School, the only elementary school in the system at that time. She later taught art at both Kidwell and Bradford Elementary Schools, and since 1962 she has been a regular fourth grade teacher at Bradford.

Prior to coming to Iowa Park, she taught third grade at Oklaunion seven years and taught grades one through fifth at Encinal for four years.

Miss Reed is a life member of P-TA and a former member of the Modern Music Study Club. She is a member of First Baptist Church and serves as pianist of the first grade Sunday School Department. She is a bridge builder for Friendship Sunday School class and a member of the Night Baptist Women. Her main hobby is art and she has many paintings that attest to her unusual talent in the field. She is also an artist with the crochet needle and at the sewing machine.

Thefts, criminal mischief cases plague local police

A break-in at Settle Drug and numerous criminal mischief acts over the community highlighted the police blotter this week.

Burglars knocked out a front door glass at Settle's Monday night and took a small quantity of pills, all commonly referred to as "downers."

Taken from a refrigerator and a shelf were almost 500 Amytal tablets and 24 Nembutal suppositories, with a total wholesale value of $15, according to A.K. Settle, owner.

Settle said he was notified about 12:15 a.m. of the break-in.

Four cases of criminal mischief were recorded, two Thursday night and two Sunday night.

J.T. Watson, reported windows broken in a house at 514 S. Bond, for the second time in a two-week period.

The other Thursday incident was reported by Willie Kinnett, 1404 Mary Drive, who told police someone had used several spray cans to inflict damage to a camper, yard light, trailer and his home. No estimate of damage was made.

Soft drink bottles were thrown through windows of two cars in the same area Sunday night.

Between 1:45 and 2:15 a.m., Howard Hill told police a bottle broke out the rear window of a car at 109 Hope Lane. Some time the same evening, John Kevin Catron, 406 E. Bank, reported a bottle had broken the windshield of his car while it was parked at 110 W. Garden.

Theft of $300 worth of equipment was reportedly stolen from the J.V. Morton Welding Shop, on the south side of the railroad tracks, between Friday evening and Monday morning.

Taken were two cutting torches, two regulators and two hoses. Entry was made through a window.

A week earlier several dollars worth of tools were taken from another business, Billy James Garage, in the same neighborhood.

Broom sale raises $552

An additional $552.87 was earned to help finance the Iowa Park Bicentennial Swimming Pool over the weekend.

The money represents the profit from a broom and mop sale sponsored by the Noon Lions Club, with the cooperation of the Opti-Mrs. Club and numerous other organization representatives and individual volunteers.

John Sibley, project chairman, said total sales amounted to $2,126.42. Reporting to the Lions Club Tuesday, he attributed a major portion of the sales to Henry Jones, who sold $791 worth of products himself, in advance to businesses and industries.

Sibley acknowledged the date of the sale could have been better, and next year's project would not be slated immediately following school's letting out for the summer and the Memorial Day holiday weekend.

Rogers-York wedding vows exchanged Sunday afternoon

The Trinity Lutheran Church was the setting for the Sunday afternoon double-ring wedding ceremony uniting Miss Tammy Lea Rogers, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D.J. Rogers, and Daniel Joseph York Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Joseph York. The Rev. Larry Boye, pastor, was the officiant.

The altar decorations featured white Grecian urns atop pedestals filled with white roses, clematis, lilies of the valley and fern, and a white satin kneeler.

Wedding music was provided by Mrs. Raymond Schroeder, organist, aunt of the bride, and David Schroeder, her cousin, vocalist, who sang "Wedding song" and "The Lord's Prayer."

Escorted and presented in marriage by her father, the bride wore a formal gown of white silk organza fashioned with a high sculptured lace neckline, full sheer sleeves and softly gathered skirt. Garlands of Venise lace and seed pearls enhanced the fitted bodice and skirt. Appliques of the chosen lace accented the sleeves and the hemline was encircled with a row of lace. She wore a matching cathedral length veil of silk illusion completing the picture of the modern bride. She carried a white Bible topped with a bouquet of white daisies with white lace streamers.

Mrs. John Lee of San Diego, California, sister of the bride, served as matron of honor. Miss Ann Hayes of Duncan, Okla., the bride's cousin, was bridesmaid. They wore identical formal blue print gowns trimmed with lace and carried bouquets of white daisies with blue lace streamers.

Anthony York, brother of the groom, was best man and Doug Rogers, brother of the bride, was groomsman. Serving as ushers were Mark Schroeder of Burburnett and Charles Russell of Wichita Falls.

The groom wore a white tuxedo jacket with black pants and the groomsmen wore matching blue jackets and ruffled shirts with black pants.

The bride will be a senior at Iowa Park High School next year. The groom was graduated from Iowa Park High School where he lettered in football three years. He is a student at Midwestern State University and is employed at K-Mart.

The bride's parents hosted the wedding reception held in the Parish Hall. Guests registered in the bride's book at a table covered with white linen and appointed with a miniature ceramic bride and ceramic bridesmaid dressed in formal wedding regalia carrying their bouquets. The focal point of interest on the white linen-covered refreshment table was the three-tiered cake featuring column dividers, blue and white frosting roses and the popular miniature bride and groom standing under an arch of white flowers centered with a silver wedding bell on the top tier. A bouquet of roses in the bride's colors and silver service completed the table setting.

Miss Kathy Schroeder secured signatures of the guests. Mrs. Dale Russell and Mrs. Raymond Schroeder presided at the refreshment table during the reception.

Following the reception, the newlyweds left for a wedding trip to Dallas. They will live in Wichita Falls.

Out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Hunter Galladay of Duncan, Okla., Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Finstead of Grapevine and Mr. and Mrs. Arlyn Tonn of Haven, Kansas.

Pulpit guest is announced

Chaplain Ed Millican from Wichita Falls State Hospital will be the pulpit guest at First Christian Church Sunday in the absence of Rev. Keith D. Pierce, who is touring the Holy Land. His sermon topic will be "The Outcast."

Chaplain Millican was graduated from Texas Christian University with a B.A. degree and earned a master of divinity degree from Brite Divinity School at TCU. He spent one year in clinical pastoral education. He served a three church parish unity in Urbana, Iowa and a two-year pastorate at the First Christian Church in Wewoka, Okla. before coming to Wichita Falls in October, 1975. He is a member of the Association of American Mental Health Chaplains.

Cook of the Week

A glance at Mrs. Tommy Thurkill's recipes is a reminder of some of the advantages that 20th century cooks did not have in respect to the variety of ingredients they can get so easily at the supermarkets or grocery stores.

Today, if shoppers for groceries cannot find what they want at one store, they go to another one without any inconvenience. This is indeed a drastic change from the early American grocery store which supplied almost everything the family shopper wanted to sustain her household. Pickles and crackers were taken from barrels, cooking lard was available in large gallon tins, coffee was bulk-sacked and ground on the spot and sugar and flour sacked by the hundred weight.

The availability of a variety of ingredients can really dress up foods that early day Americans grew and served their families, illustrated today in what can be done to cabbage in the Shredded Cabbage Au

Gratin recipe. It is not likely that pioneer cooks even thought about cooking their green beans with mushrooms, celery, toasted almonds and whipping cream. That Mrs. Thurkill uses in her mouth-watering recipe.

Rose Thurkill was graduated from Palacios High School and attended TWU at Denton. She later worked for Gulf Oil at Houston in geological data processing where she met her husband, who is presently an oil producer and operator. They have a 10-month old son, Carlos.

Mrs. Thurkill is a member of the Sacred Heart Catholic Church in Wichita Falls. Her hobbies are oil painting, sewing and refinishing old furniture.

CARL DALLY

Judge of the Texas Court of Criminal Appeals

"Carl Dally has been a commissioner-in-aid to the court of criminal appeals for half a decade. He has argued before the U.S. Supreme Court and has had extensive experience in both the criminal and civil branches of the law. His opponent is a man with no judicial or appellate experience in criminal cases. We urge Texas Democrats eligible to vote in the June 5 runoffs to inform themselves of the qualifications of the candidates in this and all races. We urge them not to vote for a vaguely familiar name, but to vote for the best man. In the case of the runoff for the criminal appeals court, the best candidate is clearly Carl Dally."

AUSTIN AMERICAN-STATESMAN

The Fort Worth Star-Telegram calls Carl Dally "eminently qualified" and the Houston Chronicle says he is "uniquely suited" to serve on the Texas Court of Criminal Appeals. Dally is also endorsed by newspapers in Dallas, Lubbock, Corpus Christi, San Angelo, Tyler, Bryan, Beaumont, Port Arthur, Victoria and Wichita Falls.

Ask your lawyer, your district attorney, any judge, or informed friend about the candidates in this important race. Then vote for the best man.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Mr. Hamilton,
I hit a dog last Thursday as I was driving up 368. He and another dog were chasing a rabbit. The German shepherd stopped when he saw the car, but the poodle didn't quite make it and it all happened so fast I couldn't stop completely. The poodle bounced off my car into the German shepherd and away they went scared to death. I followed the poodle and found the house he, I hoped belonged to, only no one was there. I went back later and the girl said "yes" when I described the dog. We found the dog hiding behind the house. I checked him for broken bones, or abrasions and found none. The dog was dirty and was loaded with ticks.

Iowa Park wants a swimming pool, but we need better animal control. Anyone who owns a dog should care enough to know where it is at all times.

People romp and stomp when dogs are running loose getting into garbage cans or terrorizing someone's child.

Why can't we keep a dog catcher? Maybe it's because he picks up your dog and you get mad and say things you shouldn't.

People like you don't deserve a dog. Mad? If the shoe fits, wear it!

It takes a little time and energy to build a pen, but at least your dog is safe. If you really care, you will.

If you feel the way I do, let the Leader know. Please care.

The law states, a dog is to be in a fenced area, with adequate food, water and shelter.

What would you say to your child if he or she was in hysteria because the dog they loved so dearly was dead?
Name withheld by request.

As I See It....

by BOB HAMILTON

There's something missing in Iowa Park this month that's got a lot of people scratching their heads.

Nope, it's not a scalp condition. It's houses, or rather still, the lack of houses.

For more than a decade, it's been housing musical chairs time in this community in late May and in January. That's when school is out at the end of a semester, and those who were planning to move put their homes up for sale.

The sales offers were taken up in June, or at least by August, in the summer, and in January or February in the winter.

The winter offerings were slightly less than normal. And this early summer vacancies are almost entirely nonexistent, I'm told.

Apparently, what's happening is that hardly anyone is moving, for some reason or another. Some offer the suggestion that this is the first year Cryovac has been at full employment and that number is not moving. Also those active military who might have been moving have moved earlier to base housing, and those transfers are not leaving an opening here in Iowa Park.

Whatever it is, there just aren't enough houses in Iowa Park for those wanting to live here.

Fact is, one realtor told me yesterday his office averages five calls a day from realtors outside the city, wanting to know if there are any recent vacancies. And that doesn't include the individual home seekers who visit our town daily.

Needless to say, there are no rentals here either.

There are several homes under construction at the present, but I'm told the vast majority of those are already sold, and those that aren't probably will be before completion.

Whatever has happened that has not made houses available is certainly puzzling.

But what's more puzzling is the answer to the question, "How many houses could be sold and rented in Iowa Park, if they were available?"

It all backs up the statement made some time ago, that people want to live in Iowa Park. Our community has been growing at a tremendous pace, and shows no inclination of letting up.

We experienced a 75 percent increase from 1960 to 1970. The estimated population in 1975 was 6,500.

I'll say that, with adequate housing, Iowa Park will have a population in 1980 of between 9,500 and 10,000.

And that might be a little short.

WORTH QUOTING

What will you bet that if the science boys are successful and prove that mesquite can be a cash crop some disease or bug will come along and wipe out the mesquites.

I've already found a way to kill them out myself. All you have to do is decide how pretty they are in your front yard and water the things. They start dying the next day.

Next time someone tells you that we should grab up all the federal funds we can get our hands on point out to them that Texans sent $1.14 to Washington for every dollar they get back.

And quit feeling sorry for the folks in New York. They get back a dollar in federal funds everytime they send 83c to D.C. And taxpayers in Washington, D.C. do even better. They get a dollar in federal money for every 28c in federal taxes they pay.

I'm quoting figures put out by the Tax Foundation, Inc.

REMEMBERING...

Cigar Store Indians
Sometimes when we went into town to do shopping, Mom would treat us all to a fountain soda at the drug store on the north side of the square. There were lots of things to look at in the store but one thing that particularly interested me was a statue of a fierce-looking Indian standing beside the tobacco counter. The first time I ever saw it, I was startled because it seemed so realistic.

It stood about six feet tall and looked like what I had pictured Indians to be, though I had never seen an actual flesh-and-blood Indian. Oh, I had seen them in movies of course, but my brother said those weren't real, they were just some Hollywood actors dressed up to look like Indians. This one had a full headdress of feathers painted all different colors. He held a tomahawk in one hand and a bundle of cigars in the other. One of his fringed boots was raised slightly as though he was about to take a step in my direction. His face was pinkish brown and he had black, staring eyes that seemed to follow me about the store, watching my every move. He seemed to be asking me to buy his product. I guess he didn't notice I was just a little kid, much too young to buy cigars. The statue was made of wood. I could tell because there was a crack through his shoulder and down his chest and I could see some splinters inside.

The druggist told me that the Indians were an "old-timey" way of advertising tobacco for sale. They were carved out of solid blocks of wood by master wood-carvers, mostly in the 1800's. Brightly painted of many different colors, they attracted much attention and at one time they were so popular that most prominent tobacco shops had one or two.

They were usually rolled out onto the sidewalk in front of the shop each morning where they would stand all day long, coaxing passers-by to go inside to purchase the best in all types of smokes. Their popularity decreased in later years and most were put in storage, done away with or sold. Many were weather-beaten from standing outside or else were vandalized by persons with nothing better to do. Consequently, when I was growing up they were already somewhat of a rarity and are much more so today.

The druggist had gotten his wooden Indian at an auction back East and he said it meant a lot to him. He mentioned things like craftsmanship, free enterprise, advertising theory, and a couple of other things, none of which I really understood. I liked the Indian because he looked so big and strong and I could count on him to be looking for me anytime I walked into that store. I thought of him as a kind of friend and looked forward to seeing him each time I went to town.

"Why does Texas Electric need a nuclear power plant?"

UNDERSTANDING YOUR ELECTRIC BILL

We need the Comanche Peak nuclear plant, which we're building near Glen Rose, for two very important reasons. It's vital to Texas Electric's ability to provide you with enough electricity in the coming years. And it will help us keep your electric bill as low as possible.

Natural gas, the main fuel we've been using to run our power plants, is running out. New supplies just aren't available in the huge quantities we need. Those supplies that are available have soared in cost.

The nuclear plant, along with our new lignite coal plants, will help meet the demand for electricity and minimize future rate increases.

The Comanche Peak plant will begin operations in 1980—about the same time our major gas contracts run out. It will be producing 10% of your electricity in 1980 and 19% by 1982.

There are 59 nuclear plants in the U.S., and last year they generated about 9% of the nation's electricity. Nuclear energy is a safe, reliable technology used in this country for nearly 20 years.

Lou Fikar, Vice President for Engineering, Power & Research for Texas Electric, holds a pellet of nuclear fuel. A pellet this size provides about the same amount of energy as a ton of coal.

Board session lengthy, planning improvements

Architect Bob Pardue met Tuesday night with the Holliday school board to discuss some of the nitty gritty planning aspects of improvements to the school campus here.

The school board convened for almost three hours, devoting most of their attention to the $1.25-million construction project approved in April by voters in Holliday Independent School District.

Pardue, a Wichita Falls architect hired by the board to draw plans for the various segments of the project, came to the meeting armed with blueprints.

The board spent much of its time discussing specifics of revamping the present school building and old gymnasium, as well as construction of additional athletic dressing room facilities, new high school, auditorium, stadium seating and press box.

The board spent considerable time discussing methods of central heat and air to be used in the dressing rooms, existing building and new high school.

Most of Pardue's remarks were echoes of the school board building committee, who he had met with earlier.

On a motion by Trustee Lonnie Brackeen and seconded by Trustee Jack Ayres, the board voted to accept the building committee's recommendations on specific phases of the project.

The board is scheduled to meet again in a called session at 7:30 p.m. June 15 to open and approve bids for the sale of bonds. Evaluation of the bids is expected to demand several hours, and that is the only item expected to be on the board's agenda that night.

Only other action taken by the board Tuesday night was approval of minutes of the previous meeting and approval to pay the school's monthly bills.

Board members present Tuesday night included T.D. Whitehead, Tommy Mankins, Bob McDaniel, Brackeen, Ayres and Supt. Ray Coe.

Water Supply office opened

Wichita Valley Water Supply Corp. officially opened its new business office here Tuesday.

The new brick structure with interior white walls and gold carpet is located just south of Holliday High School on the Archer City Highway.

The new office building will be open from 9 a.m.-3 p.m. Monday through Friday. The telephone number will remain the same, 723-6394.

Maxine Owen of Holliday was easing into her new surroundings Tuesday as new bookkeeper for the water corporation.

Mrs. Owen is replacing Barbara Ottaway, outgoing bookkeeper.

At this point in time Mrs. Owen will be handling accounts receivable and billing for the water corporation, but eventually all of the corporation's business will be transacted from the new office building.

It was noted that the need for the new office building is indicative of the growth of the water corporation which supplies water to rural residents in the Iowa Park-Holliday area.

PERMANENT HOME - New headquarters for Wichita Valley Water Supply Corp. were opened for business this week. Maxine Owen, seated, the water corporation's new bookkeeper, is aided in the transition by Barbara Ottaway, outgoing bookkeeper.

Dump grounds change told

New days and hours have been established for operations at Holliday city dump ground, according to Mayor Leo Chappell.

The municipal dump will be open from 9 a.m. to 8 p.m. Tuesday, Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

Nominations sought for senior citizen

As part of state-wide celebrations centering around June as "Older Texan's Month," Holliday residents are being asked to select a person who they deem as the most outstanding senior citizen here.

The election here is being sponsored by Holliday Senior Citizens, and the nominees for the honor include Bill Franklin, Mrs. Charlie Wilson and Mrs. J.O. Ayres.

Anyone may vote in the election, according to Janie Craig, first president of the Holliday Senior Citizens which was formed about five years ago.

Ballot boxes will be placed at Holliday City Hall and various businesses, Mrs. Craig said. Voting will end June 12.

Mrs. Craig said qualifications for candidates are that they must be 65 or older and have given outstanding service to Holliday.

The Holliday election is part of Archer County's observance of "Older Texan's Month" June 13-19.

It is part of Gov. Dolph Briscoe's having proclaimed the entire month in honor of the state's senior citizens, Mrs. Craig explained.

Holliday's selected senior citizen and similar honorees from communities throughout Archer County will ride in Archer City's June 17 rodeo parade.

June 17, opening day of Archer City's rodeo festivities, will be dedicated as "Pioneer Day." A luncheon in Archer City also will be held in honor of the county's older residents.

Residents seek tornado shelter

Turbulent winds, driving rains and a tornado sighting sent Holliday residents scurrying to shelter when tornado warnings were sounded here about 9 p.m. Monday.

Aside from broken tree

Win honors at Austin

Eight Holliday High School musicians and twirlers received honors Monday during University Interscholastic League (UIL) contests in Austin.

Jon Hodge earned a second place award for his coronet solo.

Marty Williams also won a second on her saxophone solo.

Beth Parker placed third with a piano solo.

Holliday High School's twirlers teamed up to place third in their twirling ensemble at the UIL contest. Members include Vickie Stone, Diane Sanders, Paula Beighley, Gayla Minnix and Bridget Talley.

In solo twirling, Miss Sanders placed second, while Miss Talley placed third. Miss Stone made fourth in solo twirling.

City meeting set

Holliday City Council will meet in regular session at 7 p.m. Tuesday in Holliday City Hall.

Snake handler gives program

Larry Hartmangruber of Iowa Park, a member of the Wichita Falls Rattlesnake Club, gave a demonstration on handling snakes, having some live models to work with for the Optimist Club meeting Monday night.

The live models that he worked were with a pair of Arizona Mountain King Snakes, a male and female, a Mexican Milk snake, a five-foot Plains Rat snake and a verticulated Arizona Gila monster which ate a mouse while the club watched.

As he handled the snakes, the speaker related an experience of having been bitten by a rattlesnake and told how to treat a snake bite. He said that he considers the reptiles beneficial and that he will not kill them for sport or for rattlesnake steak. He also said that he would assist in catching a poisonous snake and then turn it loose in a remote area when such service was needed.

limbs, Holliday apparently escaped nature's wrath without incurring major injury or property loss.

Hurshel McDaniel, Holliday's water superintendent, said he had toured most of the city Tuesday morning and that he did not spot any significant damages caused by Monday night's storm.

McDaniel indicated many of Holliday's residents sought protection in a large storm cellar located north of Holliday High School.

City Sec. Evon Carter said tornado warnings were sounded in Holliday about 9 p.m. Monday, after a CB radio operator reported a funnel cloud in the Mankins area.

The tornado reportedly touched down southwest of Iowa Park, but returned to the clouds quickly. There also was an unconfirmed report of a funnel cloud north of Lake Wichita.

Mrs. Carter indicated average rainfall in the city during Monday night's storm was about one inch. Hail also was reported by some persons in the Holliday area.

There was no damage apparent in Holliday Tuesday afternoon, although creeks and bar ditches were overflowing from the night's heavy rainfall.

VBS set Monday

Vacation Bible School will begin Monday at the First Baptist Church in Holliday.

The school, for youngsters ages four through junior high school age, will be held Monday through Friday from 8:30-11:30 a.m.

A preparation day and parade to kick off vacation Bible school is scheduled for 10:30 a.m. Saturday.

Other activities at the First Baptist Church here include a monthly brotherhood breakfast at 7:30 a.m. Sunday in the church's "Filling Station."

New pastor, the Rev. Lloyd Riddles, will assume his responsibilities here Sunday.

An all-church fellowship is slated for Sunday evening in the "Filling Station." The Rev. Riddles and his family will be welcomed with a "pounding."

None injured in accident

Three Holliday youths narrowly escaped injury Tuesday afternoon when their small, foreign-made automobile overturned about two miles north of Holliday on the Iowa Park Highway.

Driver of the automobile was Buff Young. Passengers

EDITORIAL

Business on upswing

Business activity is on the upswing in Holliday, and testimony is abundant throughout the town.

It has been predicted that growth would come, and signs of retail, industrial and residential expansion have surfaced rapidly during the past few weeks.

Whites Auto Store here is undergoing an extensive expansion project.

The store is sprouting an auto service department to the east of the present building, and it is being expanded southward to provide additional show room space.

Work on the new Dairy Queen has begun. One of the construction crew indicated the new eatry should be open for customers in September.

It looks like the satellite operation of Robert Johnson Grain Co. may be finished just in the nick of time, what with wheat harvest having begun this week.

Of course, these are only a few indications of growth in Holliday.

New homes are being built consistently, and have been for the past several months. That's not to mention the new apartment complex well on its way to completion.

And when construction of the new high school begins it will serve additional notice that Holliday intends to continue to grow and prosper in the future.

Tennis lessons to be offered

Organized tennis lessons for Holliday youths are being planned for mid June, according to Mrs. Mike Parker.

Deadline for entering is June 9, and persons interested may contact Mrs. Parker at 586-1503 or Doris Stone at 586-1527.

Instruction will be given by Randy Stewart, a senior physical education major at Midwestern State University.

Lessons will be given in the mornings and cost is $18.50 per student for five two-hour lessons.

Classes will be held either the week of June 14-18 or from June 21-25.

Lessons will be given at the Holliday High School tennis courts, Mrs. Parker said.

Lessons will be styled for students from third grade through high school.

There is a possibility adults will be instructed also if there is sufficient interest, Mrs. Parker said. Groups will be divided among beginner, intermediate and advanced.
