City budget hearing is open to public

DR. EARL WATSON
520 W. CLARA
IOWA PARK, TEXAS

The Iowa Park city council will hold its annual budget hearing in a public meeting Monday night, at which time a budget of $1,002,790 will be explained.

The meeting will begin at 7:30 p.m. in the Texas Electric Service Co. Reddy Room.

In order to achieve the anticipated revenues during the coming year of $1,074,890, tax revenues will be approximately 2.3 times what was collected during the present year, as well as a general 25 per cent increase in city services, according to Gene Britton, city administrator.

The new administrator, who has been working almost a month on the new budget, explained that the taxes will not be as high as are indicated, because included in the income will be new construction which was not on the tax rolls the past year.

A general increase in cost of water, trash collection and sewer service will average a total of 25 percent more than was collected during the current year, he said.

Actual cost of operating the city during the coming year, if the budget is approved, will be $955,105. The difference between that figure and the $1,002,790 will be $26,350 to repay a bond retirement fund, which is a paper transaction, and $10,335 which is still owed for a multi-block paving project two years ago.

Also, included in the $1,074,890 revenue figure is $60,000 which will possibly be borrowed on a short-term loan to finance the city's operation at the first of the new fiscal year, until taxes are paid in October, Britton explained.

Notices of reassessment of property values were to have been mailed to property owners yesterday

Cost for next year to be over $1-million from the city hall.

Property in the city has been reassessed for real market value during the past year. In the past, values have been basically established by square footage.

The new value assessment covers all real property in the city.

A factor of 70 percent has been established for taxing value of property for the coming year.

Tax revenue budgeted for 1977 will be $369,802, as compared with $155,600 budgeted for the 1976 year. Personal property taxes also show an increase, from $28,400 to $43,574.

Other anticipated revenues include: permits, $5,820; sanitation dept., $71,200; sales, $1,075; penalties and donations, $5,000; Manpower (federal program) $2,014; and loans, $60,000.

Estimated expenditures in the budget, by departments, include: general government, $112,893; streets, $104,239; sanitation, $80,463; police, $139,058; parks, recreation and library, $22,415; fire, $11,510; water, $227,394; and sewer, $67,399. Iowa Park has a bonded indebtedness of $2,083,000. Payments, including principal and interest, figured in the 1977 budget will be $139,654.

A sum of $76,200 is also figured in the new budget for capital outlay. Major expenditure is $29,200 for the street department.

The budget, however, does not call for an adequate carry over of funds to completely finance the city operation from the beginning of the 1978 fiscal year until that year's taxes start arriving in October.

Britton explained that there was so much catching up to do in this year's budget, the additional funds for the following year could not be worked into the program at this time.

Mowery Gun Works moves to Iowa Park

The first barrel is expected to be manufactured today at Mowery Gun Works' new location in Iowa Park.

Announcement was made Wednesday that the black powder firearm manufacturing plant is re-locating a portion of its operations here from Olney.

While the rifle barrels will be manufactured temporarily at the old fire station on Cash, plans are being made for a new permanent facility here, said Raymond Cope of Iowa Park, vice president and sales manager for Mowery Gun Works.

Mowery Gun Works is the only company in the United States that produces hand-made black powder firearms.

The firm's product line includes cannons, shotguns and five different models of rifles which come in four different calibers. The rifles retail in the vicinity of $250 each.

Initially, Mowery Gun Works will employ between six and eight persons at the present.

When the new manufacturing plant is complete, the firm will have a payroll of between 30 and 40 employees, Cope said.

First phase of the re-location process from Olney to Iowa Park began last week when mammoth lathes were installed in the old fire station here.

While the rifle barrels will be turned out in Iowa Park, other parts of the firearms will continue to be manufactured at the Olney plant, Cope stated.

Cope said the move from Olney to Iowa Park was prompted by "a sizable order."

A complete manufacturing facility will be in operation here within a few months, but Cope did not discount the possibility that Mowery Gun Works might continue its operations in Olney also.

Asked if the Olney operations will continue, Cope replied, "I hope we will... If we do, it simply will mean we need both operations to handle the volume of demand."

New permanent Iowa Park home of the gun works will be located on a 100-foot frontage along West Highway and extending north to West Bank. Land was purchased from Iowa Park Industrial Development Corp., an arm of the Chamber of Commerce.

The initial manufacturing building will cover 5,000 square feet, Cope said. In coming years, Cope expects the structure to be expanded to a total of 7,500.

Plans for the new plant are being finalized and construction is expected to begin in a few weeks.

Cope anticipates the new facility to be complete by late summer or early fall.

Plans also call for a display showroom and retail outlet to be added to the new facility in the future, Cope indicated. "This is another thing that prompted the re-location," Cope added.

Ten years ago black powder firearms market primarily was aimed at the sporting goods trade, Cope explained. However, within the past two years the market has grown into what is called a "premium market" where rifles are used as incentives, gifts and premiums.

Cope predicts the premium market will comprise 50 per cent of the total market in the future.

In addition to the prime location site and expanded demands on the products, Cope cited Iowa Park's business and living conditions as important elements in the re-location decision.

A longtime resident of Iowa Park, Cope said re-location to Iowa Park had been his lifelong dream.

"This company was purchased some 10 years ago from Bill Mowery by myself and my brother, Don Cope," he said.

Don was killed in an accident at the Olney site in June of 1974.

"Ever since the time we purchased the plant, we had the desire to move to Iowa Park," he said, adding he had commuted for the past 10 years between Olney and Iowa Park which has remained his home.

Explaining the move to Iowa Park, Cope said, "this is what we've tried to do so many years."

President of the company is Neil McMullen of Wichita Falls.

Concerning the location of the new facility here, Cope assured it would not create an inconvenience to residents or businesses in the vicinity.

"It will be a clean operation. There will be no noise involved," he said. "It will be accessible to traffic and retail trade which we are really wanting to get into."

While there is another company in the United States that manufactures muzzle loading firearms by assembly line process, Mowery Gun Works is the only company that turns out handmade rifles, cannons and shotguns.

He said Mowery Gun Works strives to maintain originality associated with the weapons of pioneers and that "no two of them are exactly alike."

School project bid openings delayed

Bid openings on three different projects by the Iowa Park school system were postponed during Tuesday night's meeting when it was explained that time pressure was too great.

Speaking to the board during its regular monthly meeting, Harold Cowley requested bid openings on the projects be postponed from the 15th to the 29th of this month.

He explained that working up plans and specifications on the projects had entailed considerably more time than anticipated and prospective contractors would not have enough time.

The projects include building a retainer wall on the east end of the high school football stadium, construction of a street from the east high school parking lot to the stadium area, and demolition of the W.F. George school building.

All plans were discussed with the board and were approved in their final drafting. However, one option to clear the old building from the basement and cover it with a concrete top, to serve as a storm or atomic fall-out shelter, could possibly be included, pending an estimate of cost. Otherwise, the area will be cleared to the ground.

An executive session was called for a brief period, clearing the meeting room of the public, for discussion of purchase or sale of property, policy on rental of facilities, and personnel.

Though there was no action taken or other mention of the property and rental topics once the meeting was reopened to the public, trustees did approve the hiring of a new assistant coach, Jackie Denton. The recent graduate of New Mexico State Univ. was hired unassigned.

Trustees approved advertising for bids to sell three buses owned by the school.

TO SELL BUSES

One of the units is the athletic bus, known as the "Hawk Bus", which has been used two years but has required considerable maintenance attention.

Coach Pat Tone, asked of his opinion on the bus, recommended the bus be sold. He said he would rather travel in the regular school buses.

Also to be sold is the older athletic bus, which was used to salvage parts for the present bus; and a 1963 model bus which was recently advertised for sale but for which no bids were received.

Bids on all three buses will be opened at the August board meeting.

A report on the vocational education department was made by Cowley, who is coordinator of the HARVEST UNDERWAY - Howard Lyles observes the golden grain being harvested from his ranch south of Holliday while other area wheat farmers had combines rolling in their fields this week, as harvest moved into full swing. Harvesters were somewhat hampered by wet spots from last weekend's rains, and some farmers found fields disappointing because of hail or wind damage.

Voyles loses, Bohannon wins

Jim Voyles of Iowa Park lost his bid for re-election as Wichita County sheriff, and A.L. Bohannon of Iowa Park maintained his stronghold in the Precinct 3 constable's contest in Saturday's Democratic primary runoff election.

More than 10 per cent of the total voter turnout in Wichita County came from Iowa Park and the surrounding boxes at Valley View School, Kamay Community Hall and Wichita Valley Farms.

Iowa Park voters joined Wichita County and the remainder of Texas to put Jon Newton on the Texas Railroad Commission, and W.T. Phillips on the Texas Court of Criminal Appeals.

The sheriff's race between incumbent Voyles and political novice John Gibson of Wichita Falls was credited with having stirred considerable interest in the runoff.

In other parts of the state voter compared to participation in the regular May primary because of the shortage of runoffs for local offices.

It was not the case in Wichita County as Voyles and Gibson squared off with serious campaigning for the $19,000 a year job as head of the sheriff's department.

Gibson, a former special U.S. deputy marshal, convincingly won the election over Voyles, who had been with the department here 12 years.

6,211 votes as compared to Voyles' 4,456.

Voyles carried only seven boxes, drawing his strongest support from the two boxes in Iowa Park.

At the ASCS Building here, Voyles collected 406 ballots while Gibson received 228. Voyles received 171 votes at the Presbyterian Church here, and Gibson trailed with 120. Elsewhere in the county, Gibson

Greenwood-Price marriage vows read here

The wedding ceremony of Miss Catherine Jo Anne Greenwood and Michael Curtis Price took place Saturday evening in the Faith Baptist Church.

The bride is the daughter of William Greenwood of Texarkana and Mrs. Jim Wallace of Wichita Falls and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Luna of Iowa Park.

The Rev. Jimmy Johnson, pastor of Grace Baptist Church, performed the double-ring ceremony.

The couple repeated their vows in a nuptial space centered with gold oval candelabra holding white candles flanked by arrangements of commadore foliage. On either side were bouquets of white sunburst gladioli. In the lower altar white tapers glowed in white cathedral candelabra swathed with commadore greenery.

The traditional wedding marches were presented by Miss Vicki Collins, pianist, who provided accompaniment for two solos, "The Wedding Song" and "The First Time Ever I Saw Your Face" by Miss Yvonne Downs.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a formal gown of white Chantilly lace over taffeta. The basque bodice was accented with a Sabrina neckline highlighted with pearls and long sleeves tapering to points over her hands. The skirt was fashioned of cascading ruffles that swept into a long cathedral train. She wore a fingertip veil of illusion caught to a wreath of pearls and carried a colonial nosegay composed of white butterfly roses and satin and French lace streamers.

Miss Debbie Bradford, the maid of honor, wore a long blue double knit dress styled with an Empire waist topped with a white lace bolero jacket bordered with white grosgrain ribbon that tied in a bow in the back, and A-line skirt. She wore a white picture hat and carried blue French-tip carnations arranged with gypsophelia, blue and white lace streamers.

The bridesmaids were Miss Anita Price and Miss Romona Price, sisters of the groom, and Miss Debbie Greenwood, sister of the bride. Miss Theresa Greenwood, another sister of the bride, was flower girl. They wore gowns in the same style as the one worn by the maid of honor, but set apart with white bodices overlaid with blue lace. Their flowers and hats were exactly like Miss Bradford's.

Rici Luna was ring bearer and Chuck Luna was trainbearer. Johnny Greenwood, brother of the bride lighted the candles.

Red roses of love were presented by the bride to both mothers during the ceremony, to hers as she neared the altar and to his as the couple exited from the church following the ceremony.

Nelson Johnson, uncle of the groom, was best man. Groomsmen were Gary Williamson, Corey Worthington and Bill Jones. Ushers were George Taylor and Richard Luna. The groom wore an all-white tuxedo and the masculine attendants wore blue tuxedos with matching shirts.

The mothers of the bride and groom both wore long blue double knit dresses and blue orchids. Mrs. Wallace's dress featured a lattice neckline and a long-sleeved bolero and Mrs. Luna's was accented with a blue and brown print voile poncho.

The bride's mother was hostess for the reception held in the Fellowship Hall of the church where the bride's colors of blue and white governed decorations.

Guests who had not registered in the church foyer signed the bride's book with a blue plume pen at a table laid with white net over blue. Mrs. Sonny Bates presided at the book.

The long refreshment table was also draped with white net over blue. The bouquets carried by the feminine attendants in the wedding, blue candles uprising from silver holders, silver and crystal serving pieces, along with the wedding cake achieved an attractive setting.

The four-tiered cake, separated with two sets of dividers, was decorated with white icing scrolls and waterfalls of pastel blue icing roses with a top ornament featuring a miniature bridal couple standing beneath an arch of roses.

Reception assistants were Misses Delia Lemons, Cecilia Martin and Pam Phillips, Mrs. Nelson Johnson and Mrs. Harold Phillips. Leisa Bates passed out the rice bags.

The bride is a senior at Iowa Park High School. The groom, a graduate of Iowa Park High School, works for the City of Iowa Park.

Following a honeymoon to points in South Texas, the couple will live at 306 E. Bank in Iowa Park. The bride chose a white double knit dress accented with a Royal blue flocked organza jacket for travel.

Out-of-town wedding guests included Tinker Blaisis from Nocona, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Beck of Jacksboro, Charles Greenwood and Michael from Killeen; Steve Greenwood and Mike Rogers, also from Killeen.

The groom's parents hosted the rehearsal dinner Friday evening at Fina Restaurant.

MRS. MICHAEL CURTIS PRICE

Mrs. Reaves hosts group

Mrs. S.B. Reaves was hostess for the Monday meeting of Night Baptist Women of First Baptist Church.

Mrs. V.I. Woodfin was in charge of business. Mrs. C.L. McKinnon directed the prayer period for missionaries on the birthday calendar, calling special attention to the port ministry at Baltimore, Md.

Mrs. Lee Smith concluded teaching the mission book, "Tomorrow Starts Today" by Arthur Rutledge, the chapter topic being "An Exciting Tomorrow." She emphasized the thrusts that the Home Mission Board planned to make in the future to bring fresh spiritual awakening to the nation. These included evangelism, establishing new churches and missions, efforts beamed toward all kinds of people, work in the cities and flexibility.

Others present were Mmes. Lois Harper, Wm. Nunn, J.A. Berg, J.C. Roby, Bill Curry and Homer Blalock.

Shower fetes bride elect

The Fellowship Hall of the Church of God was attractively graced with delicate pink and white decorations and appointments Monday evening for a pre-nuptial shower complimenting Miss Denise Bohannon, bride-elect of Jay Weaver. Hostess were Mmes. Bill Cook, Luther Skinner, Jerald Brown and W.F. Williams.

The chosen color scheme imparted interesting distinction at the registry, refreshment and gift tables.

Airy delicacy was noted on the table where guests registered. Covered with white lace over white satin, it was appointed with a crystal hurricane globe, in a ring of lacy wedding bells and leaves accented with tiny glittered doves, sheltering a pink flickering candle.

The table where the honoree was seated to receive guests and open her gifts during the evening continued the dainty decorative theme. Draped with white lace over pink, it featured a bud vase holding pink carnations tied with pink satin ribbons and streamers and a white net bag bordered with pink satin for the ribbons taken off the gifts.

The refreshment table was also draped with white lace over pink to emphasize the bride-elect's chosen colors. Providing decorative interest was a white pedestal shower sprinkler filled with white roses and greenery dotted with puffs of white net which formed the centerpiece. One extremity held the white net rice bags tied with pink satin ribbon bows on which gold wedding bands nestled in lilies of the valley. Individual cake squares were white centered with pink icing roses.

The long gift tables were laid with white satin bordered with wide lace above floor length pure silk skirts. The focal point of decorative interest was a large white styrofoam Bible glittered with silver resting against a white heart filled with pink roses and white poppies.

The pink satin marker was graced with "Denise and Jay" in gold letters and replicas of a bride's wedding rings in a pearled heart. Another attractive decoration on the gift tables was the large white styrofoam heart outlined with crystal beads centered with two smaller silver-glittered hearts.

Special guests included Mrs. Aubrey C. Bohannon and Mrs. Clifton Weaver, mothers of the engaged couple, Mrs. A.L. Bohannon and Mrs. P.L. Wright, grandmothers of the honoree.

Mrs. Mike Hubbard

Cook of the Week

In paying tribute to their mothers for the inspiration they have been to them, many daughters say "My mother taught me to cook". Mrs. Mike Hubbard, a home economics teacher at Rider High School with a M.S. degree in her field, gives her mother credit for most of the success that she has achieved as a cook.

Mothers have taken seriously the responsibility to teach their daughters how to cook for many, many years. In grandmother's day one of the most popular songs was "Can She Bake a Cherry Pie, Billy Boy?", and the song title was considered a good question to ask about a prospective bride. In those days, just as it is today, desserts were surely a perennial favorite in most people's "garden of favorite foods."

An article from "An Old Cookbook" (apparently a very old cookbook) attests to both the mother's responsibility to teach her daughters to cook and the longtime popularity of desserts. It reads:

"My mother's receipt for plum cake was left to me, a treasured heirloom: Ten pounds flour, ten pounds sugar, eight pounds butter, twenty-five pounds currants, two ounces mace, two ounces nutmeg, one half pint rose water, one half pint spirits, two pounds citron, 90 eggs. Make into a paste. It is hoped the hens are laying good".

Mrs. Hubbard, nee Patricia (Trish) Peddy, was graduated from high school at Tenaha. She received both B.S. and M.S. degrees from Texas Tech at Lubbock. She taught in the high school at Gary and under an assistantship at Texas Tech. She also served as county extension agent of Briscoe County. She is home economics teacher at Rider High School and a member of the Highland Heights Christian Church.

With her classroom duties behind her until late summer, Mrs. Hubbard plans to spend much of her vacation working at the couple's new home, formerly the "Little Red Barn" owned by the late Mr. and Mrs. F.E. Hill. She likes antiques, sewing and painting.

Introducing the Average Billing Plan from Texas Electric.

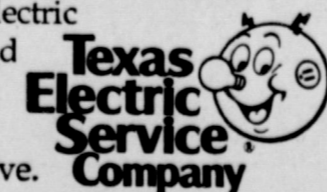

If you've ever wished the amount of your electric bills could be more consistent every month — instead of changing so much between seasons — here's your chance.

The Average Billing Plan is being provided by Texas Electric to help smooth out the highs and lows that occur in your electric bills. As the name implies, this new plan enables you to pay an "average" rather than the actual amount used each month. It allows you to pay less during high-use months by paying more during low-use months.

Full details about the plan are in a brochure now being mailed with your electric bill. It should answer any questions you may have.

Letters to the Editor

As I See It....

by BOB HAMILTON

I overlooked an editorial in the June 1 issue of the Wichita Falls Record News, or this column would have been in last week's edition of the Leader.

The editorial, written by an unknown and obviously unknowing of "our throwaway society" for deciding to tear down the old W.F. George High School building because it is deemed "Uneconomical to remodel."

"Contrasting the plight of the school building with a success story in remodeling is the former synagogue that has just been finished for use by senior citizens in Wichita Falls," states the article. "The synagogue, less only stained glass windows, has been refurbished and along with an addition that's designed on modern lines, will be dedicated Sunday for use by our elderly citizens."

It appears the author had to search for such a success story in the neighboring city. Off hand, it appears there are far more old buildings being torn down than remodeled there, as evidenced by the downtown section.

I would also suggest that the synagogue had probably been maintained better over the years, because tax money wasn't being used, for one reason. Also church-goers aren't nearly as hard on a structure as thousands of children. Past use of the structures hardly warrant comparison.

The editorial continues, "It would be interesting to compare costs of remodeling the synagogue and figures involving refurbishing the W.F. George High School building. It also would be interesting to compare the repair history of the old building (and) the Iowa Park's almost new modern high school structure, which has required extensive repairs while still almost new."

Had the unknown and unknowing author, or any member of that staff for that matter, bothered to attend the hours upon hours of trustee meetings concerning the remodeling efforts, he would have known. Literally hundreds of man hours went into attempting to save the old structure.

to undertake just what is suggested. The bids ranged from $652,487 to $808,000 to remodel the complete building. And that didn't include alternates to remodel the kitchen, $71,000, and the second floor, $66,730. No, the second floor wasn't in the base bid.

Mindful that they had only $500,000 in bond money with which to work, the board reluctantly turned to the present project of improving the facility and the decision that the old building had to go.

To save the building would have meant a minor repair project on what they had, less the airconditioning and many, many other badly needed facilities on the campus.

The junior high building, remodeling and additions, are now complete and will soon be available for your inspection.

What the board sought was to put the structure in good condition once more, and to offer what is scarce to find in Wichita Falls, airconditioned classrooms. At last count, there are less than a dozen classrooms in the entire Iowa Park system not now airconditioned. Can our neighboring city make such a claim?

As to criticizing the maintenance of our new high school structure, would the author care to check into the cost of repairs on the Rider High building? I seem to remember that the outside of that structure was falling apart, or portions of it, anyway.

One does the best one can with what one has, and that's just what the Iowa Park school board has done, as far as I'm concerned.

But what should I know? I've only been there listening to what has happened.

 Total for year 9.97
 Total last year 17.75

We can't understand all the hullabaloo about the 33-year old blond from Asherville, North Carolina drawing $14,000 a year as a mistress to a congressman.

What's $14,000 per year for someone who can't type, can't file, and can't answer the telephone. We thought that was the norm for Washington.

In April, the Senate passed the new federal budget for the coming year and in midst of all the campaigning, few people paid any attention to it.

The budget calls for the expenditure of $412,600,000,000. In English, that means four hundred twelve billion, six hundred million dollars.

Another way of putting it is a thousand million dollars a day, plus an extra thousand million for petty cash every Monday.

Or better still, it means 47 million dollars an hour, $13,083 every second of every minute, every day, all year... a man's labor for a whole year, and more, gone with every tick of the clock. Forty million years of labor, a million lifetimes of toil.

We doubt that any member of Congress, including Cong. Wayne Hays of Ohio, can even comprehend such numbers, nor use the millionth part of such sums rationally, nor grasp the deadly consequences of their acts... all they can do is vote for more and giggle and drool.

National Review has pointed out that the new federal tax to raise that budget imposes a burden of $8,000 per household... enough to ensure the health, education, welfare, and self-defense of every American family, if they could just keep what they earn.

Actually, the hiring of this otherwise untalented woman is fully consistent with the spirit of the Humphrey-Hawkins bill whereby, if passed, government officials will guarantee jobs and work for the unemployed.

And the bill has every likelihood of passing in the next session of Congress. And taxpayers supporting all the goodies for Congressmen is certainly nothing new.

Currently, our Congressmen enjoy free parking, free haircuts, free shoeshines, free medical examinations, free prescriptions, free law books, ($1,000 worth), free plants from the Botanical Gardens, free picture framing, free mailing privileges, free travel to and from their district, free health club privileges, free junkets to the finest watering holes in the world.

Us taxpayers subsidize their cocktail parties and dinners on Capitol Hill, their restaurants, their medical insurance and their hospital stays at Walter Reed and Navy Medical, their basement food store, and their richly endowed retirement program.

Building permits have lull in May

Iowa Park experienced a temporary lull in building permits during the month of May, with only two home starts issued.

May's permit total was only $53,755, as compared with $143,428 for the same month in 1975.

For the year, permits have now been issued for a sum of $380,965. At the same time in 1975 permits totaled $427,580.

Permits issued during May included:

- K&B Homes, 900 Foley, brick residence, $14,232;
- Texoma Products, removing and relocating leg of grain elevator on E. Smith, $3,500;
- George Richter, moving house to 815 E. Park, $1,000;
- John Harper, 1516 Douglas, extension of house, $4,896;
- Dick Wineinger, 504 W. Aldine, enclosing garage, $200;
- Dub Crawford, 1200 N. Pacific, new residence, $14,400;
- Dewayne McKee, 1007 Park Plaza, storage building, $169;
- Claude E. Boies, 413 W. Daisy, addition to house, $6,358;
- John A. Rains, 817 N. Park, converting patio into room, $2,500;
- Jimmy R. Green, 309 W. Crystal, moving in mobile home, $3,500;
- Herb Langford, 1612 Karen, addition to den, $3,000.

I'm puzzled, Mr. Editor,

Your newspaper trumpets the fact that the city (Iowa Park) has financial problems and hints of a tax increase... yet, the city contributed $10,000 for a swimming pool. The School Board considered consolidating certain grades in each of the elementary schools, to save money... yet, had no problem finding $10,000 for fun and games (same swimming pool).

I submit that such use of tax monies is patently unfair, because the non-user is forced to subsidize the user regardless of the financial condition of each. I was brought up to believe that, "Them that breed 'em should feed 'em"; meaning that care and maintenance of the young are the responsibility of those that bring them into the world. Or, is that now un-American? Could be, in this day and age when 'welfare' is considered a right, when welfare families without TV are deemed culturally deprived, and when many "food stampers" pile their groceries into better machines than I own.

I challenge you with the words of a renowned statesman of the past... "It is no virtue to spend other People's money."

Officers of the Wichita County Farm Bureau this week named Chuck Chadwell of Sherman as the new insurance agency manager.

Chadwell succeeds Jack Pitcock.

Chadwell and his wife Suzanne plan to move to the Iowa Park area as soon as housing is available and they sell their home at Sherman.

Listing Cayce, S. Carolina as his home town, Chadwell explains that he lived all over the world, moving with his career military father. He, himself, was in the Army over eight years, serving as a combat helicopter pilot.

Jinkins promoted to superintendent

Jim Jinkins, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wayland Jinkins, who is completing his third year as principal of Broken Bow, Oklahoma High School, will assume the post as superintendent in the spring of 1977.

He is one of only three in Oklahoma to receive a grant for study under the Leadership Training Program of the Educational Professional Development Act and he will be studying at Oklahoma State University, Stillwater, this summer and next year where his studies will be in educational administrative area and will go toward a doctorate in education.

After a one-year leave of absence, he is scheduled to assume the post of Superintendent Rector Johnson, who has held that post 30 years and recently announced that he would resign June 30, 1977. Broken Bow is currently the largest Class 2A school in Oklahoma. Last year's enrollment was 2,400 students. The superintendent supervised a staff of close to 200 employees including 115 teachers, and an annual payroll of $1.3 million.

Jinkins, a graduate of W.F. George High School in Iowa Park in 1953, served in the Army two years and was stationed in Germany. He married Marjorie Harris, who was a physical education teacher in Iowa Park High School.

The prime object of the EDPA program for which he received a grant is to enable participants to enter a leadership position in one of the segments of vocational, technical or career education, and the former Iowa Park educator stated that a superintendent's post is among the positions of leadership that fit into this program.

In addition to being an 'Average billing plan'

by TESCO set for July

Texas Electric Service Co. will implement an "average billing plan" as a new service to residential customers, according to Wayne House, local TESCO manager.

The new plan, designed to replace the company's current "level pay" plan, will permit customers to pay an average amount each month with automatic monthly adjustments in the average.

Under the old level pay plan, customers who wished to do so could pay a fixed amount each month, avoiding large seasonal fluctuations in their bills.

The fixed amount was based on the customer's use and was revised periodically if actual use differed from that being paid for.

"The plan has been a good idea and many of our customers have liked it," said W.G. Marquardt, Texas Electric president. "But it has become more difficult to predict a customer's bill because of changes in use patterns, increasing fuel costs, and increasing rates," he said.

The result has been frequent changes in level pay amounts, and sometime the changes have been relatively large.

The new average billing plan will also level out seasonal fluctuations in bills. But large changes in bill amounts should be avoided, because the customer will pay a new average each month, based on his use over the previous 12 months.

If his payments don't match his use, a small percentage of the difference

Coverage of MDA patient, community services expanded

Twelve more muscle diseases have been added to the list of neuromuscular disorders covered by the patient and community service programs of the Muscular Dystrophy Association (MDA), Jon Steele president of MDA's North

West Texas Chapter announced. "This brings to 35 the number of disorders for which our Association now provides free medical, recreational, educational and transportation services," Steele said. "This expansion of MDA service coverage was made possible by increased volunteer support of the Association and the generous public response to or fund raising efforts, including the Jerry Lewis Labor Day Telethon, the MDA Annual Appeal, Carnivals Against Muscular Dystrophy, and many other special events." Ten of the 12 diseases added to MDA's patient and community services program can be broadly described as metabolic disorders affecting muscle.

These include Phosphorylase Deficiency (McArdle's Disease); Acid Maltase Deficiency (Pompe's Disease); Phosphofructokinase Deficiency (Tarui's Disease); Debrancher Enzyme Deficiency (Cori's or Forbes' Disease); Carnitine Deficiency; Carnitine Palmityl

Transferase Deficiency; Periodic Paralysis; Hypothyroid Myopathy; Hypothyroid Myopathy; and Myopathy Secondary to Disorders of Adrenal Corticosteroids. The other additions are Myotonia

Congenita (Thomsen's Disease) and Paramyotonia Congenita. Most of these diseases were already under investigation by MDA-supported scientists. Patients suffering from any of these disorders are now fully eligible to receive diagnostic examinations and follow up medical treatment at any of MDA's 161 hospital-affiliated clinic visits and dental appointments, and recreational programs, including MDA's summer and winter camps, Mr. Steele said.

once earned his living 'fiddling around'

INDIAN ARTIST—Curtis "Kurt" Foreman, who is part Cherokee, casually picks a tune on his custom gospel guitar. Foreman and his family reside on Peterson Road where his lifestyle has changed considerably in the past 30 years.

By LEWIS SIMMONS

Back during the Depression days a group billed as "Chief Foreman and His Three Sons" was traveling the northwest and southwest United States playing their brand of country and western music.

And now 30 years later the fuzzy faced kid who played wash tub bass in the group has settled down outside Iowa Park on Peterson Road.

"It kinda started around home," said Curtis "Kurt" Foreman, reminiscing of his days with the family band.

Foreman was born in a one-room log cabin "set way down in the hills" of Cherokee County, Okla. Both his part-Cherokee father and white mother were musically inclined, and "naturally, there was an old fiddle or guitar around," said Foreman.

He said he learned most of his music off an old crank type record player.

In the beginning, Foreman and his two brothers and father would entertain visitors at their home. Their popularity landed them a few dance engagements, which eventually turned into a hodge podge of performances that took them across almost half the United States.

"We did a lot of novelty type music," Foreman remembers. "Trick fiddling, two on a guitar, plus good old western music we'd played all our life."

During the late 1930s they had a radio program broadcast over KBIX in Muskogee, Okla.

They also played schools, theaters and the Oklahoma City Convention Center with an all-Indian show headed by Baldin Parker.

"We were in just all sorts of things," Foreman said. "We did so many things ... but it seems like none of them lasted any length of time."

They got hooked up with a carnival once, and there was a time their act joined a horse show. They even got mixed up into playing for a political campaign once in Oklahoma City.

Schooling for the three boys was sandwiched between different shows and trips.

For the better part of one year the boys went to school while playing six and seven nights a week in an Oklahoma City night club.

But one of Foreman's most memorable shows was when they won a talent contest in Tulsa, Okla. "There were about 80 bands from all over the territory and we won first prize."

"Just us three boys played in that. Just got lucky I guess. Played the right tune," Foreman grinned.

Once Chief Foreman (he really wasn't a chief) and his boys dropped by a Tulsa radio station where Bob Wills and the Texas Playboys were doing a broadcast sponsored by Playboy Flour.

After the broadcast was over, the Foreman quartet picked a few tunes for the late master of western swing.

"He liked us, I guess because we were just kids and he liked our music," Foreman said. Wills wound up playing a few numbers with the visitors, and by a twist of fate, the fiddle that Foreman plays today is equipped with a tail piece that once set under the chin of Wills.

Foreman was about 10 years old when the group broke out into the professional music field. Foreman was on the wash tub bass, while his father played guitar and his brothers played fiddle and mandolin.

Foreman still has some fond remembrances of the days when he plunked on that old wash tub bass fiddle.

"I guess I probably wore out three or four of them," Foreman quipped.

However, the family band is only part of the past now.

After the group disbanded in 1948, Foreman's life followed by a career in the Air Force.

He is retired after 20 years of military service, and currently is involved in the home construction business.

And now his musical talents have been turned toward Church of God in Iowa Park.

In fact, the entire Foreman family is involved in supplying music for the church. His wife, Shirley, is church organist, while their daughter, Pam, 12, plays piano for the youth choir, and son Steve, 5, sings and plays piano.

Although he is playing different types of music in a different type of place than he did as a youth, it appears Kurt Foreman was born to be in a family band.

department. The report was in the form of a printing, which explained the various courses offered, enrollment and cooperative training stations during the past year, and a followup of former students since the 1971-72 school year.

A policy was also approved by the board, submitted by Dean Miller, curriculum coordinator, on the "educational goals" for students. The goals are part of a self study program conducted in the secondary department recently.

Voyles

It had been a relatively quiet campaign between the two lawmen up until the week before the election when Voyles told a press conference that Gibson had misrepresented himself to the public concerning his position as special U.S. deputy marshal.

Gibson countered with his own press conference, maintaining he had not intended to misguide the public.

From there, the race was on with a heavy media blitz by both candidates.

When the final tally was in, Gibson evoked the victor having collected enough votes to continue the winning edge he developed in the regular May primary.

While Voyles cited a light voter turnout as the cause of his defeat.

Gibson indicated it had been a tough campaign, especially because it was an effort to unseat the incumbent.

In comparing the two elections, the race for Precinct 3 constable was a relatively quiet operation with A.L. Bohannon continuing the success he achieved in the regular May primary election.

The aforementioned boxes each swung to give Bohannon the edge over Hubert Thompson.

A total voter turnout showed Bohannon the winner with 652 as compared to Thompson's 425.

At the ASCS Building it was Bohannon 387, Thompson 243. Bohannon collected 175 ballots at the Presbyterian Church to Thompson's 118.

Twenty-five votes were cast for Bohannon at Valley View School, where Thompson received 15.

At Wichita Valley Farms, Bohannon received 23 to Thompson's 22. Absentee votes gave Bohannon an additional 42 marks, while Thompson received 27.

AT NUCLEAR SYMPOSIUM—Mike Nipper, left, student at Iowa Park High School, and teacher Wilbert Wynn at the school, attended the 16th Texas Nuclear Science Symposium held at the University of Texas at Austin June 1-4. They were guests of Texas Electric Service Company at the conference, co-sponsored by the university and the Texas Atomic Energy Research Foundation of which TESCO is a member.

Roberts attending Boys State in Austin

The thirty-sixth annual American Legion Boys State sponsored by the Department of Texas and held on the Campus of The University of Texas, got under way Wednesday as 900 high school boys from all parts of Texas, and two from Mexico, began registration, Larry Lahaie, Department Commander, announced.

Registering from Iowa Park was Kelly Ross Roberts who is sponsored by the local American Legion Post.

Following registration, each citizen was assigned to one of two political parties - the Nationalist or Federalist. Each citizen then functions as a member of his party, he attends its precinct, county and state conventions and votes in its primary.

Boys State helps to develop civic leadership and pride in American citizenship. This program arouses a keen interest in the detailed study of government. These civic workshops stress the importance of maintaining the nation's form of government and bring better understanding of national traditions and beliefs to the more than 28,000 young men who are participating this year.

In Boys State, The American Legion provides

the type of program where the young citizen has the opportunity to learn for himself that his government is just what he makes it. The boy "learns to do by doing."

The program takes on added significance since the vote has been extended to 18 year olds. Most Boys Staters are in the 16 to 17 age category.

Highlight of Boys State will be a trip to the capitol Tuesday morning where each elected Boys State Official will be given an opportunity to serve in his respective office for a day.

Boys State enrollment this year brings the total to 20,138 junior high school boys who have attended since 1940, when Boys State was first inaugurated in Texas.

Kelly Crush pitched a three-hitter as the Orioles defeated the Twins 19-4. Buddy Shook picked up two of the three hits by the Twins. Jerry Graves scored four runs and Jeff Martin supplied the long ball power for the Red Sox. Tommy Ross picked up the win.

Jeff Lewis walked three times, Jim Smith walked once and singled twice and both scored three times in leading the Yankees to an 11-7 win over the Dodgers. The Dodgers continued to be the big thorn in the side of the Pirates as Dennis Sorey bested Lynn Fulfer in a brilliant pitching duel, 2-1. Jeff Stone scored in the bottom of the sixth to break the 1-1 tie. All the blemishes on the Pirate record have been inflicted by the Dodgers. The last place Astros handed the Yankees a double blow as they won a postponed game, 8-4, and then came from behind to win 11-9 in the regular game. Four straight hits by the Astros' Richard Smith, Jerry Fairchild, Ricky Mat-

Boosters meet Monday

A meeting of the Iowa Park Booster Club has been called by President Jack Stevens for 7:30 p.m. Monday, at the football field house. Stevens said two topics, a club project and next year's

Every player on the Red Sox joined in the scoring parade in a 33-5 romp over the Twins. Doug Rogers and Tim Smith combined for the win. Nine big runs in the fifth

Coaches like quarterbacks

Coaches like their former high school quarterbacks, according to actions taken here recently.

Hawk head coach Pat Tone recommended his former star athlete, Jackie Denton, to be hired as an assistant coach for next year, and the board passed on the action Tuesday.

Former Iowa Park mentor Tommy Watkins reportedly has hired his former field general, Jim Clapp, as an assistant at Andrews.

Clapp was the quarterback on Iowa Park's 1969 state championship team.

Cub activity day is planned

The Northwest Texas Council, Boy Scouts of America, will hold the first in a series of four Cub Country Day summer programs on Saturday, at Perkins Scout Reservation near Burkburnett, according to Charles McGilvray, council Cub Scout vice-president.

The initial program, which features the theme: "Aquatics Games," is expected to attract around 150-200 youngsters occasionally clad in distinctive blue and gold attire.

Registration begins at 3:30 p.m. and all Cub-age (8, 9, 10) boys within the 13-county council are invited to participate in the activities provided each has adequate adult supervision.

Lions view movie film

A film presentation of "The Argentine Yard" outside of Kansas City was shown at the Evening Lions Club meeting Tuesday. Mel Moulton was program chairman.

Dinner music was furnished by Mrs. E.L. Gallop, pianist, and Norman Flowers, vocalist.

Youngster is winner

A youngster has been showing some older hands how to win.

Ricky Nanez, Iowa Park junior high student, was the top winner during the spring pigeon season in competition held by the Iowa Park Racing Pigeon Club.

Pigeon racing is held in April and May, and again in September and October.

Nanez was the winner of both senior and junior division average speed.

Overall winners for the spring were: Marion Waldrop, 100 mile race from

Speed seems to be in Nanez's blood. He was also a member of the junior high track team.

Dowell named to Dean's List

Don L. Dowell has been named to the Dean's List for the spring semester at Southwestern State University, Weatherford, Okla.

To be eligible for the Dean's List, students must have grade-point averages of at least 3.0 with no grade lower than C. They, too, are required to carry a minimum of 15 semester hours to be eligible for the honor roll.

Board to open bids

Holiday school board is slated to convene in special session at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday at Holiday High School.

The board is expected to open and approve bids on the $1.25-million school campus reconstruction project approved in April by voters here.

Evaluation of the bids is expected to take several hours, and it is the only item slated for action in the called session.

Nominations deadline set

Holiday residents will have until Saturday to select the city's outstanding senior citizen of the year.

Nominees for the honor include Mrs. J.O. Ayres, Mrs. Charlie Wilson and Bill Franklin.

Anyone may vote in the election, and ballot boxes have been placed at Holiday City Hall, Lyles Grocery & Market and Dugan's Speed-Dee Food Store.

The election is being held in conjunction with "Older Texan's Month" being observed by the state and Archer County.

Holiday's outstanding senior citizen selection will be honored along with senior citizens from other communities during the Archer City rodeo to open June 17.

Free sewing course set

The Homemaking Department at Holiday High School will sponsor a free adult sewing course June 21-24, according to Jeannette Ruiz, homemaking instructor.

The 12-hour short course will be held from 9 a.m. to 12 p.m. during the mornings of June 17 and 18. Participants may contact Mrs. Ruiz at Holiday High School.

The 12-hour short course will be held from 9 a.m. to noon each of the four days, said Mrs. Ruiz.

Persons interested in taking the course are urged to pre-register during the mornings of June 17 and 18. Participants may contact Mrs. Ruiz at Holiday High School.

Due to the limited number of sewing machines in the homemaking lab, the course possibly will be limited to 10 persons, she indicated.

The sewing course primarily will be styled for the beginning seamstress; however, those with experience will be welcomed, Mrs. Ruiz explained.

"I'd love to have persons with experience," she said. "We would be able to help each other out, and they could help me with the class," Mrs. Ruiz said.

Persons pre-registering will be told how to select a suitable pattern and how to purchase material, so classes can begin on July 21, she said.

The Homemaking Department will not charge persons participating in the course. Many items, such as pins and scissors, can be brought from home.

The only cost will be purchase of a pattern and material, she explained.

Voter turnout here terrible -- Talley

Light voter turnout typical throughout most of the state was illustrated here Saturday when 35 persons attended the polls for the Democratic Party runoff primary.

Don Talley, Archer County Democratic Party chairman, called it a "terrible turnout."

Holiday also followed the rest of the state in its support of candidates in runoffs for the Texas Railroad Commission and Texas Court of Criminal Appeals.

Jon Newton received 33 votes from Holiday Democrats in the railroad commission race. Jerry Sadler received two ballots here.

In the criminal appeals court runoff race, W.T. Phillips collected 17 votes from Holiday voters, while his opponent, Carl Dally, received nine votes.

Newton and Phillips won state-wide in their respective contests.

Talley indicated part of the blame for Holiday's low voter turnout Saturday was because there were no runoffs for local races that served to attract more voters in other counties.

While only 35 persons voted here Saturday, a total of 377 Holiday Democrats filed to the polls in the regular May 1 primary.

The same low voter participation was exhibited throughout Archer County on Saturday when 244 persons voted in the runoff as compared to May's 1,903 total voter turnout.

Honor roll is released

The third quarter honor roll for Holiday High School and junior high school has been released by Principal Grady "Bud" Enis.

Honor students are listed as follows, according to classification during the 1975-76 school year.

HHS '41 to reunite

The 1941 graduating class of Holiday High School will hold its reunion at 12:30 p.m. July 11 in the school cafeteria here.

Anyone who can furnish current addresses of class members is asked to contact Mrs. Edna Drago at 692-0896 or Mrs. Joyce Sanderson at 306-1510.

The class of '41 holds a reunion every five years, and with its 68 members is the largest class to graduate from Holiday High School.

Slack appointed municipal judge

Red Slack was appointed municipal judge Tuesday night by the Holiday City Council.

Slack also serves as justice of the peace in Holiday, and it was reported he would assume the duties of city judge until someone else could be found to take the job.

Both Mayor Leo Chappell and Councilman Ben Ezzell indicated there would be no legal conflict in having Slack serve both as city judge and justice of the peace.

The council unanimously voted to appoint Slack on the recommendation of the mayor, who has been performing duties of the judge since Lonnie Brackeen resigned in April.

"There are several reasons why I would like not to be city judge," Chappell told the council.

Fred Ford Maier was the only councilman absent from Tuesday night's regular meeting.

The council didn't take formal action on any other matter aside from paying monthly bills and approving the purchase of a $20.96 spotlight for city patrolman Lomax Campbell.

Buford Wright, new Archer City-Holiday manager for Lone Star Gas, appeared before the council. Having been in the position about a month, Wright's business was informal. He only wanted to introduce himself to the council.

Chappell reported the council decided to install a telephone in the home of patrolman Campbell, who has taken permanent residency in Holiday.

Chappell also noted city crews were spraying for mosquitoes every other night.

The mayor acknowledged there seemed to be an increased mosquito population here this year. "We are trying to control it ... we've tried to cover the town every time we have sprayed," Chappell said.

Two matters discussed by the council Tuesday night will be referred to Mike Hubbard of Iowa Park, newly-hired city attorney for Holiday.

Hubbard is to check into the possibility of Texas Pipeline Co. relocating one of its lines so that South Avenue can be extended.

Hubbard also is expected to handle a request that homes south of Holiday High School be annexed so that owners will not have to pay the cost of having Texas Electric Service Co. provide them with power.

There was a brief discussion concerning disgruntled city employees. The council decided to hold an informal meeting between themselves and all city employees.

"I think a meeting at the earliest opportunity would be beneficial," Alderman Ezzell commented.

Chappell said it would be an "informal meeting to iron out some of the problems." Tuesday night's council meeting lasted about an hour. City Sec. Evon Carter also was present.
