IOWA PARK, TEXAS

City to join nation to celebrate birthday

A solid afternoon and evening of activities and entertainment are on tap for July 4 when Iowa Park will join America to celebrate the nation's 200th birthday.

Activities being planned run the gamut from horseshoe pitching to a patriotic service.

Iowa Park's Bicentennial Swimming Pool also will be dedicated, highlighted by a somewhat unconventional method of cutting the traditional dedicatory ribbon.

Activities will begin formally at 1 p.m. July 4 when church bells throughout Iowa Park will be rung for 10 minutes, according to Bill Bates, chairman of the Iowa Park Bicentennial Commission.

The bell ringing, which will be observed nationwide, is being timed to coincide with the hour America's Declaration of Independence was signed 200 years ago.

The remainder of the day's activities will be staged at various locations on the campus of Iowa Park High School.

Dedication of the Iowa Park Bicentennial Swimming Pool is slated for 2 p.m. July 4.

Charlie Lee, president of Iowa Park Chamber of Commerce, will give the dedicatory address for unveiling of the new community swimming pool.

The Rev. Kenneth Flowers, pastor of First Baptist Church here, will give the dedicatory prayer.

Plans call for the ceremony ribbon to be cut by a swimmer, who will dive off the pool's high diving board.

Fun and games for persons of all ages is scheduled from 2:30-5:30 p.m. Jimmy Alsup is chairman of this particular segment of the activities.

The various activities will be located on the high school campus, Bates said, and 13 trophies will be available to participants.

Among games to be played include horseshoes, washers, golf pitch and water balloon pitch.

Competition tennis will be held in both men's and women's divisions.

Also scheduled is a mother and daughter sack race, and a father and son sack race. Four divisions of tug-of-war are on the agenda.

A watermelon feast is scheduled from 5:30-6:30 p.m., Bates said. Also at 5:30 p.m., a community-wide choir will be formed and rehearse in the football stadium under the direction of Derrell Dick.

"Anyone who wants to participate in the community choir is encouraged to be at the rehearsal at 5:30," Bates said.

"If we could have a 500 or 600 voice choir, that would be great," he added. Climax of the day's activities will be from 8-9:30 p.m. when trophies will be awarded to persons winning events in the fun and games.

A community-wide patriotic service will follow in the football stadium.

The community choir will perform. Guest speaker will be Mrs. Merle Anthony of Wichita Falls, noted patriotic speaker and instructor of Humanities and Social Sciences at Wichita Falls High School.

Bates said the entire July 4 celebration is being organized under the Iowa Park Bicentennial Commission's Festival U.S.A. Committee, chaired by Miss Ethyle Kidwell.

"This will be a community-wide celebration, and everyone is encouraged to participate," Bates said.

ANNOUNCING IOWA PARK'S JOINING UNITED WAY

Iowa Park joins United Way program

At a news conference Tuesday morning, Frank Jones, president of the Greater Wichita Falls Area United Way, and spokesmen from Iowa Park announced that Iowa Park was merging with the United Way organization.

Burkburnett and Wichita Falls had previously merged into a single United Way effort in 1974.

In making the announcement, Jones said "The closeness and interrelated activities of Iowa Park, Burkburnett and Wichita Falls makes it beneficial for all of us to work together toward common objectives for the well being of our citizens."

Don Flowers, president of State National Bank, said "We are pleased with this merger. This will enable Iowa Park, Burkburnett and Wichita Falls to work together in cooperation with Sheppard Air Force Base in providing very important and vital services to the people of our area."

Mayor Johnny Crawford stated "It's a pleasure and privilege for me to be associated with this organization and effort." He commended those people who have worked to bring about the merger.

A capacity audience listened to the announcement of officers during the short conference, held in the Reddy Room of Texas Electric Service Company.

Flowers announced the following Iowa Park citizens of Iowa Park on the United Way groups, all of whom were elected during a meeting held Monday afternoon:

Board of Directors - Johnny Crawford, Gene Britton, Bennie Compton, O.N. Newman and L.W. "Red" Cady. (U.W. bylaws require that each city's mayor, administrator and Ministerial Alliance president be on the board.)

Executive Committee - Charlie Lee and Don Flowers.

Budget Committee - Allen McNally and Lee McQuerry.

Steering Committee - Max Henderson, Miss Ethyl Kidwell, Mrs. Bill Veal, Bill Bates, Darrell Rateliff, J.B. Barbour and Bill Steger.

And the meetings go on, and on Appointments of disgruntled citizens with the city tax equalization board are already being set for July 1, city administrator Gene Britton said Tuesday.

Following the first meeting of the board on Monday night, the rescheduling of citizens with the board was started.

Of some 40 appointments for Monday, 13 cases were handled, lasting well past the midnight hour. Fourteen did not show.

and to advise the United Way executive committee on how it can most effectively provide essential community services to the citizens of Iowa Park with funds available for that purpose.

Members of the board were not slated to meet Wednesday of this week, as well as the first three evenings of next week, due to conflicts for members.

The city council cannot set its tax rate until all wishing to be heard by the tax equalization board have had their hearing.

According to one report, most of those appearing before the equalization board are not complaining that their tax assessments are not equal, but "just too high."

Cook of the Week

Chicken has been the favorite meat of so many people for many, many years. The expressions "a chicken in every pot" and "chicken every Sunday" may be hackneyed but they have a way of expressing how chicken is a favorite for either a family dinner to satisfy the working man's appetite or for an elaborate banquet.

Fried chicken seems to be allied with the 4th of July holiday which is just around the corner. Chances are that many families are already planning to pack it in the food baskets for their picnic outings or to serve it at home with fresh garden vegetables. Many modern cooks are finding Oven Fried Chicken very satisfying, and Mrs. Robert Doan really relies on her recipe which was one of the first ones to come out for cooking chicken in the oven.

Marilyn Doan, a native of Duncan, Okla. met her husband when his family moved to the area for his father to become pastor of the Assembly of God Church. She finished her high school education at Velma High School after her marriage.

They have lived in Iowa Park eight years. He is manager of the produce department at Piggly-Wiggly in Iowa Park and she is property and casualty insurance agent for Wichita Insurance Agency which is affiliated with Wichita Falls Savings.

The Doans and their children, Robin and Randy, are members of Evangel Temple in Wichita Falls where all of them except Randy are members of the choir, and he will probably join them when he is old enough.

The couple organized the Rolling Wheels Square Dance Club in Iowa Park and they served as secretary of the Red River Valley Square Dance Association.

Marilyn has taken courses at Midwestern State University and Vernon Regional Junior College. She is a member of the Wichita County Insurance Women's Association. Handcraft is one of her hobbies and she and her family are avid Hawk fans.

Twenty-seven members and guests attended the monthly dinner of Christian Workers Class of First United Methodist Church held in the Fellowship Hall Thursday evening.

Hosts were Mr. and Mrs. George Trammell and Mrs. Kathleen Hatten. Table decorations emphasized patriotic colors in keeping with the Bicentennial theme.

Entertainment was furnished by a vocal trio composed of Misses Carrie Cole, Cindy Flanagan and Reesa Robinson, accompanied by Mrs. Georgia Flanagan, pianist.

Others attending were Rev. and Mrs. Jim Connatser and Gina; Messrs. and Mmes. Riley Thompson, Otis Gay, Herman Mahler, Floyd Harrison, Gene Lowrey, Carl Sullivan; Mmes. M.L. Hines, Katherine Sue Jaquart, Bessie Brohard, Bertha McDonald; and Elgin Denny.

21 rural accidents in county

The Texas Highway Patrol investigated 21 accidents on rural highways in Wichita County during the month of May, according to Sergeant W.R. Gardner, Highway Patrol supervisor of this area.

These crashes resulted in two persons killed and 10 persons injured.

The rural traffic accident summary for this county during the first five months of 1976 shows a total of 81 accidents resulting in four persons killed and 41 persons injured.

The rural traffic accident summary for the 60 counties of the Lubbock Department of Public Safety Region for May shows a total of 517 accidents resulting in 14 persons killed and 268 persons injured, as compared to May, 1975, with 524 accidents resulting in 17 persons killed and 310 persons injured. This was seven less accidents, three less killed, and 42 less injured in 1975 at the same period of time.

The 14 traffic deaths for the month of May occurred in the following counties: Two each in Parker, Wichita, Donley, and Randall; and one each in Kent, Palo Pinto, Carson, Hartley, Potter, and Wheeler.

Brush control important

Mesquite trees pose the greatest brush problem for farmers and ranchers in Wichita County, but good land management can improve the productivity of range and pasture land, according to the U.S. Dept. of Agriculture Soil Conservation Service in Iowa Park.

"Brush management is one way to improve your range and pasture land while producing more grass for cattle," the service says. A mesquite tree absorbs about three and a half times as much water to produce a pound of foliage and wood as does a good range grass such as sideoats grama to produce a pound of grass.

"Mesquite invades range and pasture land due to over use," the service explains. "The harder a pasture is used, the faster the brush will take over, because the native plants are in poor condition."

great, thus cutting production to almost nothing.

"Good management, proper grazing use and brush control will improve range and pasture land along with making a farmer or rancher more money," the service states.

Aerial spraying is one of the best ways to control mesquite when the stand is not too dense. Depending on the chemical used, aerial spraying costs between $3.50 and $9 an acre.

Specialists say spraying can increase grass production by 25 per cent or more when proper management is used after spraying.

"If the pasture is not grazed for about 90 days after spraying, this will give grass time to rejuvenate," the service explains. "This time period allows the plants to increase in vigor and be more hardy plants in general."

The service advises brush management should be practiced before infestation of mesquite becomes too

"How is lignite coal helping my electric bill?"

UNDERSTANDING YOUR ELECTRIC BILL

By using lignite coal to generate electricity, Texas Electric will be saving $44 million on its 1976 fuel bill. And that's money our customers won't have to pay.

We've turned to lignite because natural gas, our main fuel, is running out. New supplies of gas just aren't available in the huge quantities we need. Those supplies that are available have soared in cost.

In 1976 the lignite and the plants that use it will cost less than new natural gas alone. Here's how:

$86 million The additional natural gas we would need in 1976 if we weren't using lignite.
- 42 million The cost of lignite and the one-year cost for plants to use it in 1976.
$44 million Money our customers won't have to pay in 1976 because we're using lignite coal.

These savings will continue in the years ahead. In fact, they will increase as we add more lignite power plants and our nuclear plant.

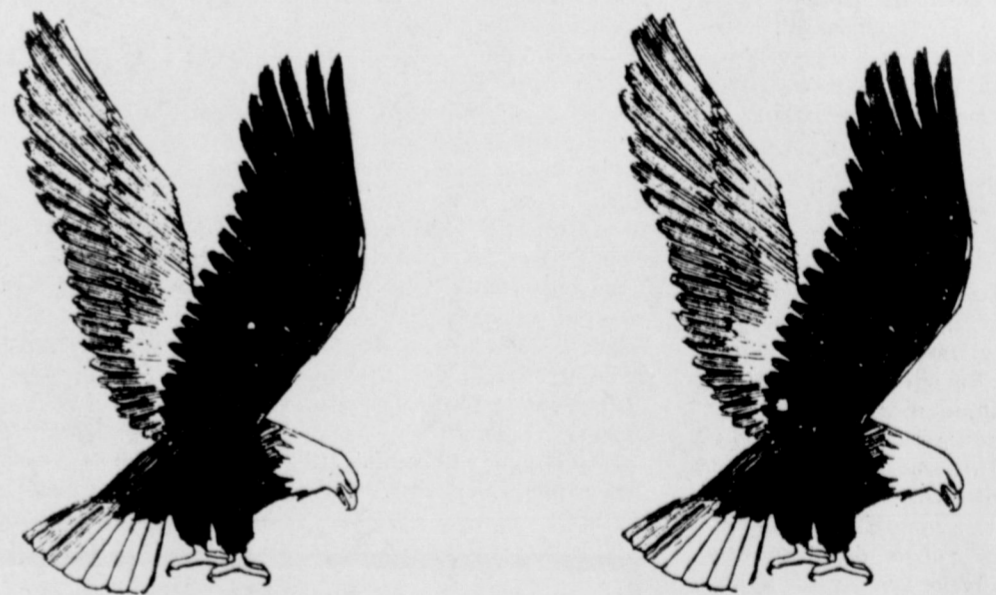

This doesn't mean rates will go down. But it does mean we have a way to minimize future increases and continue keeping your bill as low as possible.

Remodeling office is topic of Chamber board

Remodeling of the Chamber of Commerce office, an often-discussed project, was renewed Monday at the Chamber's monthly meeting of the board.

A study of costs and plans to remodel the back room, which would expand the overall usable space in the building, is to be made during the coming month by a committee.

To make the study and report at the July meeting are Rip Smith, Keith Aulds and H.M. Nipper.

Directors approved use of the office for meetings every third Tuesday of the month by the Opt-Mrs. Club. In exchange, the women's organization is giving individual effort to greet newcomers to Iowa Park, and present them with a coupon book sponsored by local merchants.

Crazy Day, a retail endorsed sponsored annually by the Chamber, was set for July 30. All sales personnel of the community are encouraged to participate by dressing in a "crazy" or unusual fashion on that day.

Also approved by the board was the payment of $30 annual dues to the West Texas Chamber of Commerce.

In response to an appeal by Mrs. Ray Pittman, Chamber secretary, for a new calculator for the office, Bob Birk offered to donate a machine not being used in his office. The offer was accepted.

Police activity light for change

One theft and an attempted burglary were reported to Iowa Park police during the past week, both on Thursday.

Thursday evening, Mrs. Lorraine Krum, 1008 W. Louisa, told police she found evidence where someone had unsuccessfully attempted to pry open her garage door. Marks indicated a flat instrument, such as a large screwdriver, was used, according to the police investigation report.

Sometime Wednesday night, a set of 15-inch simulated wire wheel covers were taken from a car on the lot at Shaw Motor Co. Value of the covers was set at $200.

Leader publishes day early this week

The Iowa Park Leader is being published a day early this week, to allow part of the staff to attend the annual summer convention of the Texas Press Association in San Antonio.

Though the paper carries a dateline of Thursday, distribution is being made on Wednesday.

Unless otherwise stated, all prices carried in the advertisements of this issue are not effective until Thursday.

The Leader office will maintain its regular office hours of 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m., closed at noon, through the balance of the week.

As I See It...

by BOB HAMILTON

An awful lot of work, effort and planning is being put into Iowa Park's observation of our nation's 200th anniversary, the Bicentennial.

It all comes to a head next week, and I hope all of you are making your plans to stay in town and participate. I wouldn't miss it for the world!

Indications are that many people, not only here but over the nation, are beginning to burn out on the Bicentennial theme. In a way, I don't blame them. It's just human nature to tire of something after a lengthy period of time, and Bicentennial has been pitched at all of us from every more than a year now. But the celebration part is here, and I guess that means all the publicity and promotional pitches are about at an end.

There was a report on television earlier this week about a small community, I believe it was in Missouri, which turned its back on any activity or observation of the Bicentennial at all. Reasons were given, but I don't remember any of them, other than one preacher saying all the money should go to help the poor.

Though laudable, I hope the people of that community are constant in their thinking, by turning over all the money which would be spent on a young child's birthday to the poor.

Honestly, if we can have a party for a child's birthday, surely we can pause for a brief period and celebrate our young nation's anniversary.

Despite all the grumblings, problems and everything else, this is still the greatest nation existing, or having existed, on this earth.

Our poor are not so poor, compared with the poor of other nations. Our problems are not so great, given the same comparison.

And no nation can match the opportunities offered here. None!

Let's have a party. Let's celebrate. It's all coming about, locally and nationally, next week. Full details, as are possible at presstime, are listed on the front page of this issue.

Letters to the Editor

"Come, let us reason together" - this quote had no meaning before the City Council meeting Monday night. The City administration does not levy with compassion. When they sit in defiant manner and say "NO - its got to be our way - we will not reduce or trim the budget, or lower the assessment..." that borders on dictatorship. This country is supposed to be a democracy, with every case judged on its own merit. When concerned citizens come before the council and ask that they be reasonable in budget request and assessment - and the answer to all is a flat NO!, that is a far cry from a democratic way.

The Iowa Park Leader editor praised them for such a stand. I quote "Congratulations to the Iowa Park City Council for facing up to the city's financial situation, taking this to mean in essence: Whatever you think or believe, in no way could you be wrong - you lowered the boom without mercy - and that was good." I ask the editor: How come this council is so much better in the know and have all the correct answers and solutions to our problems? Three members of this council were members of the previous council. They want us to believe this council's estimate is true and correct and their requests reasonable - yet they have been together as a governing body for less than sixty days.

The editor graciously excused the judgment, stating the council just could not get a financial statement. It seems the people who work for the city refused repeated requests from the Alderman to furnish a financial report by department, and they just didn't know that the city did not have $10,000 to give away. Where does the city keep its money? In a shoe box in the bank. It seems to me that with any reasonable accounting they could readily see the city had no money. May I point out the same group of employees who refused to cooperate and furnish a financial statement so that the City Council could be duly informed, is still there, all but Mr. Trammell. The editor seems to think this new council that can do no wrong, make no errors, or even over-estimate - can correct that too.

I want to make it plain that I do not object to the pool. I object to the way the council permitted the obligation. It should have been by vote and consent of the people (that's the democratic way, or did they forget?). It is a very old guide line, but a wise one to follow: The people or person who is placed in trust to dispense public funds should be very prudent in dispensing with those funds. They should always ask themselves: Do we need it? Can we afford it? Do we have the money? If the answers to all these questions is not "Yes" then money should not be spent or given away. It is obvious the Council could not answer the last two questions "Yes". The Council stated they had the authority. I say they were not prudent with public funds.

The city administration seems to want a surplus of $120,000 levied and collected from the people within the confines of Iowa Park city limits. Yet there are many houses, even additions, adjacent to the city which are supplied with water and provided fire and police protection if need arises, yet they share not in this heavy tax burden. A surplus of $120,000 would be great - but to gain it taxes have to be raised - against the old, the retired, and the sick - from 100% to 250%. Many will have to do without vital necessities to meet such a demand upon their meager social security checks... I feel there is a better way, which is why I asked the council at the budget hearing: "How could the council, in good conscience, ask for such a burdensome budget?"

Here is what the people must expect if the council has its way: Houses that were in the $7,000 to $10,000 appraisal range were producing a tax revenue of $126 to $180 per year; have now been reappraised and assessed at $25,000 to $28,000. Houses in the $2,500 to $3,500 range have been raised to $5,000 to $7,000. In addition there is a 25% increase in sewer, water and trash collection rates which will add another $25 to $150 annual problem to the home owner.

The editor of the Iowa Park Leader, and even a member of the council, could get into a weekly article writing session - of praise or criticism, point, counterpoint - and accomplish nothing.

New uniforms for all stars

Iowa Park Little League is purchasing new All Star team uniforms for both Little League and Senior League.

According to league president Howard Klinkerman, the present uniforms have been used approximately 20 years, since the community fielded its first teams, and are showing considerable wear.

Cub day set at Vernon

On Saturday, Cub Scout packs from the 13-county Northwest Texas Council, Boy Scouts of America, will have a Cub Country Day - the second in a series of four such summer activities - at Lion Football Stadium in Vernon.

Registration will begin at 9 a.m., with the competition scheduled to commence at 10 a.m.

No sponsor names will be allowed on the uniforms, so league officials are asking for donations from all individuals and firms interested in helping. Those wishing to contribute may do so by contacting any of the following league directors: Klinkerman, Gordon Griffith, Seibern Whisnand, Ralph Brown, Leon Bidy, Jerry Robertson and Mitch Miller.
