Petition seeks liquor election here

A petition calling for an election to decide whether package stores will be allowed to operate in justice of the peace precinct 3 was picked up Wednesday at the county clerk's office.

Issued to the Spirit of '76 Committee, the petition states "The legal sale of all alcoholic beverages for off-premises consumption only." Issuance of the petition, according to Jerry Padgett, deputy clerk, was made after an application with more than 10 signatures requesting the petition was received.

Padgett said there were 19 signatures on the application, and 12 of them were said to be "good".

In order to have the election called, the petition must be returned by Aug. 19 with a minimum of 406 signatures. The figure was set as 35 percent of the total number of votes in the precinct cast in the last governor's election.

An initial application sought a petition for an election for on-premises consumption. This, however, was scrapped, and the new application sought for off-premises.

The territory concerned is from FM 369 west to Harmony Road, from the Red River to the Archer County line, and includes the city of Iowa Park.

Chairman of the Spirit of '76 Committee is Leigh Holder, treasurer/spokesman is Paul Tucker Jr., Mrs. Leigh Holder is co-treasurer, Kyle Bernstein is operations chairman and Steve Holder is a committeeman.

Leigh Holder said there would be other committee members named in the near future, possibly after a 7:30 meeting this evening, which is to be held at the northwest corner of Oscar Park. "All interested citizens are welcome," he said.

In speaking about reasons why the election is being sought, Holder explained that persons living in the precinct have only to drive to nearby Wichita Falls or Electra to make their purchases, and the tax money could well be used in Iowa Park.

He said he was confident the issue would pass.

No attempts to organize opposition has yet developed, apparently.

Rev. Kenneth Flowers, pastor of the First Baptist Church said yesterday he had talked with a couple of other ministers, and that a meeting might be held Friday, though it was not confirmed.

"I think there will be an organization that will attempt to combat it," he added. He doubted the required number of signatures could be obtained on the petition.

Iowa Park has been dry since the last election held here on the issue, in 1946. The town was wet until then.

Petitions were sought for the election here at almost the same time similar petitions were applied for at Burkburnett.

In the neighboring town, on-premises consumption was also sought initially, but was changed to off-premises.

CORNERSTONE TREASURE - When the W.F. George school building's cornerstone was opened Wednesday morning, evidence of the past was recovered. Kenneth Watts, of the maintenance department, pulls the papers out for Harold Cowley, representing the school, while Jesse McCullough, representing the Masonic Lodge, looks on.

Old George school cornerstone opened

A brief look into the past came yesterday morning, when items taken from behind the cornerstone of the old W.F. George School building were removed.

Removal was made since demolition of the structure was begun this week. The Jack Hunter Construction Co. of Wichita Falls was contracted to raze the building by the school board, for a fee of $15,000.

Three copies of the old Iowa Park newspaper, two documents and a Bible were taken from behind the cornerstone. They were in poor condition, because they were not in any sort of container which would prevent time and insect damage.

The building was constructed in 1928 at a cost of $90,000. In it, all grade levels were held.

Both documents, which were rolled and tied with green and white ribbon, were riddled by some sort of insect's eating. Most of the information was legible, however.

One of the documents was a typed list of officers and members of the Masonic Lodge, which still exists.

The other was a hand-written statement, accompanied by the signatures of all administration, faculty and student body.

Dated Sept. 28, 1923, the heading of the listing stated:

"To whom it may interest: This is from the Iowa Park Public School faculty and student body, present today, Sept. 28, 1923.

"Progress of the above school since above superintendent took charge of the school on Sept. 7, 1919.

"The school has grown from eight teachers to seventeen, from a low second class school to a school of the first class, having 20 1/2 units of affiliation with higher institutions of learning in Texas, and is one of 89 schools in Texas that have affiliation with the Southern Association of the United States, which includes the following states: Alabama, Florida, Georgia, Louisiana, Mississippi, North Carolina, South Carolina, Tennessee, Texas, Virginia and West Virginia."

It was signed by W.R. Bradford and the faculty.

Stories in the three issues of the old Wichita County Promoter and Iowa Park Herald, and dates, included the following headlines:

April 15, 1923 - "History of Wichita County";

June 28 - "Contract Let For New High School," and a sub heading, "Mr. and Mrs. W.F. George Make Gift of $30,000 To The Iowa Park School Building Fund. Work Of Repairing Old Building To Begin Immediately By Contractors";

Sept. 27 - "School House Cornerstone To Be Laid Friday With Impressive Ceremonies."

Persons present at the opening of the cornerstone Wednesday, other than school personnel, were Dutch George, son of the old George family, and Jesse McCullough, a member of the Masonic Lodge.

One of the reasons the look into the past was so brief, was that Taylor George, secretary of the Masonic Lodge, picked up all the materials from the administration building and took them to the Lodge, adding that the cornerstones were also the property of the organization and would also be removed.

New businesses progressing

Work is progressing on three new businesses in Iowa Park.

A convenience store is under construction at the corner of Johnson Road and Expressway; a drive-in eating establishment area has been cleared at the intersection of Third and West Highway; and a lady's clothing store is said to plan opening in the Park West Shopping Center.

None of the firms have yet announced plans for opening dates.

Tractor accident kills Electra man

An Electra man was killed Friday in a farm tractor accident about eight miles north of Iowa Park.

Thomas Arthur Beasley, 32, of Electra, was pronounced dead at the scene by Sgt. John Cawyer, Wichita County medical investigator.

Dr. Nello Brown performed an autopsy and confirmed Beasley's death was due to injuries received in the accident.

Beasley was plowing in a field owned by Richard Alexander of Burkburnett.

The field is located about two miles west of a point six miles north of Iowa Park on FM 368.

Mr. and Mrs. J.C. Huff, who live near the scene of the accident, discovered Beasley's body about 6 p.m. Friday.

Investigators theorized Beasley was getting off the farm tractor when his clothing hung on the gear shift, throwing the machinery into drive. The tractor ran over Beasley and his legs were entangled in the plow, officials indicated.

Cawyer said Beasley was dragged about 53 paces.

The tractor continued its uncontrolled movement, plowing five-acre circles in several adjoining fields.

Huff estimated 700 feet of barbed wire was stripped from fence posts. Huff said his suspicion was aroused when he noticed the tractor spinning out in a muddy draw south of his house.

Huff said he drove into the fields in his pickup truck. Upon finding Beasley's body, Huff signaled his wife at their home, who notified authorities.

DEATH TRACTOR-The farm tractor that killed an Electra man Friday sits idle in a muddy draw eight miles north of Iowa Park on the J.C. Huff farm. Thomas Arthur Beasley of Electra was killed Friday when he was run over and dragged by the tractor.

BENEFIT AUCTION TIME NEARS

Auction next week to benefit center

Volunteers are beating the drums for donors and buyers, as the annual Cripple Children's Livestock Auction date nears.

To be held July 31 at the Livestock Auction on Sheppard Access Road in Wichita Falls, the auction produces a major source of income for the North Texas Easter Seal Rehabilitation Center in Wichita Falls.

Helping to beat those drums here in Wichita County are Iowa Park's Stanley Williamson, county chairman, Bill Steger and Ralph Harvey, workers, and Bob Birk, board member.

Executive director Betty Wages told the Iowa Park Noon Lions Club Tuesday that efforts are underfoot to raise over $100,000 from this year's auction. Last year the auction brought in $82,729, down slightly from the $86,000 the previous year.

This year's budget for the Rehabilitation Center is $232,000, Mrs. Wages said.

Originally, the livestock donated was all that was auctioned. It was the effort of agriculturalists in North Central Texas.

Businessmen started getting into the act later, and their donations of merchandise has now actually brought in more at the auction than the livestock.

Last year's project report indicated $18,631 was gained from sale of livestock, while $22,295 was gained from auctioning merchandise. To this was added $41,798 in cash donations.

As of Tuesday, four donations of cash had been received from the Iowa Park area, Mrs. Wages said, totalling $450. However, livestock and merchandise are expected before the auction.

Mrs. Wages emphasized that treatment at the center is not exclusively for children, however. "We are treating all persons with handicaps, including adults who have suffered strokes which caused paralysis. There is some confusion on that, and we need the people to know more about it," she said.

Since the center was opened in 1958, 134 residents of Iowa Park have been treated there, including six at the present.

Following Mrs. Wages' talk to the local civic organization, the club voted to donate $100 to the center.

Charges filed against local man in cases

Additional charges are expected to be filed against James Leon Harrington in connection with numerous thefts reported in North Central Texas and Southern Oklahoma. He is out of jail on bond at the present.

The 1002 E. Cash resident was released on bond last week following a charge against him of "theft over $200 and under $1,000" in connection with a boat missing from Mike Young, 907 Park Plaza.

According to Charles Beaver, police chief, Young's motor, water skis and other equipment from the boat were found at Harrington's home. The boat and trailer were recovered Wednesday of last week in Ardmore, Okla.

Because of numerous other items found in Harrington's possession, which had been reported stolen in Wichita, Archer and other counties, additional charges are expected to be filed. Beaver said a preliminary investigation into the thefts has been completed.

Annexation vote expected Monday

Final action on the annexation of Shiloh I, II, Johnson Road property, Little League Baseball park and Top O Texas Football park into the city is expected when the city council meets at 7:30 p.m. Monday at the Texas Electric Service Co. building.

The required hearings and other studies have been observed on annexation and a vote on the ordinance taking the areas into the city is anticipated.

The agenda is not required to be completed until Friday, for posting.

Shower fetes bride elect

Friends of Miss Nancy Miller and Jerry Don Gholson walked a pathway marked with hurricane lamps tied with yellow satin streamers to enter the home of Mrs. Jack Railsback, the setting for a miscellaneous shower given in their honor Thursday evening. The yellow and white colors noted in the outside lighted area were given emphasis in decorations throughout the party rooms of the house.

Composing the list of co-hostesses were Meses. John Sibley, Luke Coffman, Clyde Patterson, Bill Curry, Joe Singer, Wayne Williams, C.O. Dodd, Pete Hughes, John Cummings, Robert McIlroy, Donald Hill and Bob Dawson.

The yellow discs and white rays of the daisies, the traditional "won't tell" flowers, were used to advantage in decorations to accentuate the message of love and romance that had previously been told in the announcement of the couple's forthcoming marriage August 6th at First Baptist Church.

Guests registered in the entry hall at an antique table covered with an heirloom white cutwork linen cloth with a floral appointment featuring yellow daisies in a wedding basket. A nearby occasional table held a yellow pillar candle uprising from a daisy ring.

In the room where Miss Miller was seated to unwrap the handsome assortment of gifts for display, the fireplace mantel decorations enhanced the romantic mood through a formally attired bride and groom standing before an arch entwined with English ivy. The low coffee table was centered with a white milk glass votive candelabrum holding white marguerite daisies and lacy wedding bells. Pots and baskets of daisies completed the room decor.

The bride-elect wore a corsage of yellow rosebuds, a gift from the hostesses, to compliment her dainty long yellow sheer frock. Seated with her during the evening were her sister, Mrs. Kenneth Via, and Mrs. Eddie Worthy.

The table in the refreshment area was laid with yellow linen and beautified with a votive candelabrum centerpiece banked with white and yellow carnations, gladioli, candytuft and baby's breath accented with scattered wedding bells. A silver punch service and individual white cake squares topped with yellow rosebuds marked table extremities.

Another outstanding decoration in the room was a white cylindrical candelabrum holding very slender yellow tapers and wedding bells tied in with more of the flowers preferred for the refreshment table.

Parents of the betrothed couple are Mr. and Mrs. Glen R. Miller and Mr. and Mrs. Ray F. Gholson.

Drying foods still good home preservation technique

Consumer interest in home food preservation by drying is reviving due to the cost of other preservation methods and a previous shortage of jar lids.

Basically, drying preserves food by removing sufficient moisture to prevent decay, since moisture is necessary for bacterial growth.

Drying causes nutritional changes. Although bulk and energy are not effected, there is some mineral and vitamin loss.

Foods that can be dried include most fruits and vegetables and some meats and fish.

In hot climates, foods can be sun-dried sufficiently for preservation in a few days. In any climate, however, satisfactory drying conditions can be created at a moderate cost by using artificial heat and circulating air over the food.

Some special equipment is needed for home drying of food. To dry in a kitchen oven, items needed are drying trays, an oven thermometer and a small fan. Or, a portable food dehydrator may be used.

Most foods are dried at about 140 degrees F. in an oven or portable dehydrator.

For sun drying, trays and cheesecloth are needed. For sun drying, temperatures of over 98 degrees F. and relatively low humidity are needed.

Since drying does not improve the quality of foods, only top quality foods should be used. Vegetables in prime condition should be selected and prepared for drying on the day they are harvested. Only fully-ripe fruits should be used. If fruit is not suitable for eating fresh, it is not suitable for drying.

All foods need some preparation or pretreatment before drying.

Vegetables may be blanched with hot water or steam. This inactivates enzymes in the food that otherwise would cause deterioration of color and flavor during drying and storage.

Blanching causes some loss of nutrients through leaching. To keep leaching at a minimum, blanch only as long as required.

However, underblanching will not inactivate enzymes, and the dried food will be of inferior quality. Prepare only the amount of food that can be dried at one time.

Although fruits may be blanched before drying, sulfuring is preferred. Sulfuring effectively maintains the quality and nutrients of the food during drying and storage. However, oven drying is not preferred for sulfured fruits because of the objectionable odor of the sulfur fumes. Sulfuring should be done outdoors away from close contact with plants, trees and shrubs.

Fruits and vegetables are dried, packaged and stored in a similar manner. Fruits and vegetable pieces are distributed on trays in single layers. The total amount of food being dried at one time with artificial heat should not exceed that recommended by reliable instructions.

Do not use galvanized screen on drying trays. There is an acid reaction that darkens food and may cause a dangerous reaction. Also do not use fiberglass, vinyl or copper screening. Wood salts are excellent. They may be covered with cheesecloth.

More than one kind of fruit or vegetable can be dried at the same time. But strong-smelling vegetables should be dried separately.

Drying times vary according to the types of food, size of pieces and load on the tray. While tables giving approximate drying times can serve as a guide to judge proper dryness, experience is usually the best teacher. Some foods should be dried to the brittle stage, while others should be pliable or leathery.

Dried foods should be packaged as soon as they are cool in dry, scalded, insect and rodent-proof containers. Dehydrated foods are free from insect infection when removed from the dehydrator or oven.

However, despite precautions, sun-dried foods may be contaminated and should be packaged and placed in the home freezer for 48 hours to kill any possible insects or their eggs.

Containers of dried foods should be stored in a dry, cool and dark place.

All dried foods deteriorate to some extent during storage, which can range from six months to a year depending on the kind of food. To keep nutritional losses to a minimum, vegetables and fruits should be used in a reasonable length of time, especially carrots, onions and cabbage.

Cook of the Week

Squash, the edible plant of the gourd family, is glorified in recipes for the week, thanks to Lou (Mrs. Dennis) George. "Yellow squash, here, there, everywhere? Try these ways to use it for a change", she says. Her suggestions and hints will be helpful and her recipes a boon to cooks is our prediction.

The history of squashes and pumpkins runs together. Both first came from tropical America and were widely cultivated by the Indians long before the European settlement and they were later taken to France and England.

During the Bicentennial year, Americans have been intensely interested in the White House and its historical traditions. Favorite foods and recipes of presidents and First Ladies have somehow had special appeal. Mrs. George's recipes brought to mind President Thomas Jefferson, third president (1801-1809), a gentle farmer and an ardent gardener and one of the greatest gourmets to occupy the Executive Mansion. Attesting to his regard for vegetables and revealing his own tastes, he made a very detailed chart, "A Statement of the Vegetable Market of Washington" in which he listed 30 vegetables and fruits including the squash.

A resident of Iowa Park 10 1/2 years, Mrs. George, a native of Gainesville, was graduated from Pilot Point High School and worked for Southwestern Bell at Gainesville. She is presently a secretary to her husband in the Dennis George Insurance. Her hobbies include bowling, swimming, fishing, gardening and yardwork.

The Georges have one son, Brent. They are members of First Baptist Church.

PICKLED YELLOW SQUASH
Mix in a large plastic or glass mixing bowl:
6 cups squash, sliced crosswise, (use small squash)
5 Bell peppers, use 2 red for color, cut in bite size
4 onions, cut in bite size
1 carrot, sliced crosswise
In another container (do not use aluminum) mix: 1/2 cup pickling lime with 1/2 gallon of water; stir well, let settle and then pour over vegetable mixture. Throw away the settlings. Let vegetable mixture stand in the refrigerator 3 to 4 hours. Rinse twice in cool water, then place in colander; sprinkle with 3 T salt, toss and let drain one hour in refrigerator.

Mrs. Dennis George

Heat:
2 cups sugar
3 cups vinegar (white preferred)
2 t mustard seed
2 t celery seed

When liquid has begun to boil, add vegetables and simmer 20 minutes. Pack and seal in sterile jars while still hot. Chill before serving.

Note: 2 T chopped pimentos may be substituted for the red peppers.

GRILLED SQUASH
In a large mixing bowl, slice:
1 large yellow squash cut cross wise
1 onion cut into rings
1 large tomato cut in bite size pieces, or about 8 to 10 'orter tomatoes cut in half
1 Bell pepper or banana pepper, cut in bite size
Salt and pepper to taste

Toss as salad, then bunch onto a large piece of heavy duty foil. On top of this place 1/2 stick butter cut in pats. Seal and cook on grill. Cooking time will vary according to how hot the coals are; however, it should be approximately 45 minutes or until squash is tender.

Note: "I usually flip this several times while it is cooking to distribute the butter. It may be prepared ahead of time and frozen. In that case allow extra cooking time for cooking."

BUTTERED SQUASH
Stew squash as usual in very small amount of water until tender; do not overcook. Drain off water. Mash squash with generous amount of butter, then place on low burner to simmer for about 5 minutes.

lings are done and juice has thickened. Add sauerkraut and cook only long enough to heat kraut thoroughly. Serves 6. Serve with corn on the cob and sliced tomatoes.

CHICKEN CASSEROLE
1-6 oz. Uncle Ben's seasoned wild rice mix or Uncle Ben's Almondine Rice Mix
1 1/4 cups hot water
1 fryer, cut up (quail or pork chops are also good)
2-10 3/4 oz. cans of either cream of mushroom, chicken or celery soup

Combine contents of box in 2 1/2 quart casserole with water, salt and pepper. Arrange chicken to taste on top of rice mixture. Bake uncovered 1 1/4 hours at 375° or until meat is done. Spread both cans of undiluted soup over this. Sprinkle with almonds sauteed in butter, if desired. Return to oven uncovered and bake until soup is hot and bubbly. Serves 6 to 8.

Delicious served with broccoli w/ cream cheese, tossed salad and hot rolls.

Hint: For crispier fried chicken, try coating it in buttermilk before flouring. Buttermilk also makes an excellent dip for chicken fried steak when mixed: 1/2 cup buttermilk to 1 egg, salt and pepper. Flour steak lightly, dip and flour again.

MISSISSIPPI MUD CAKE
4 eggs
2 cups sugar
2 sticks melted butter
1 1/2 cups flour
1/2 cup cocoa
1 t vanilla

1 (7 oz.) marshmallow creme

Beat eggs with sugar. Add rest of ingredients to eggs; mix well and pour into greased, floured pan 9x12x1 1/2 pan. Bake 30 minutes at 350°.

While still hot, cover with marshmallow creme and let cool.

ICING:
1 stick butter melted
6 T milk
1/2 cocoa
1 t vanilla
1 box powdered sugar
3/4 cup chopped pecans

RIBS, SAUERKRAUT AND DUMPLINGS
Brown in Dutch oven 10 to 12 beef ribs that have been well seasoned in 2 T oil.

DOUBLE EAGLE TIME CERTIFICATES

Double Your Money In Less Than 9 Years

The 9-year 7 3/4% Savings Certificate will double in value before it matures when principal and interest are left on deposit for the term of the contract. For example: If you put $3,000 in a 9-year Certificate and leave principal and interest on deposit, you'll have $6,025.72 in 9 years. In 9 more years, that will grow to $12,103.10, and so on. That's a safe investment!

Ensure an education for your children or grandchildren by starting a 9-year Certificate and watch it double.

Taylor, pool manager, told the directors of the Chamber of Commerce Monday.

Speaking at the regular monthly meeting of the organization, Taylor said the average was computed over the first 15 days of operation. He added that the daily receipts, which does not include the free admission for those family swim permits, is $56.15.

The wading pool was put into operation over the weekend, but yet to be completed was an asphalt walkway from the parking lot to the gate, some fencing around the filter system building, and grassing of the area around the pool, Taylor said.

Directors tabled any action on remodeling of the Chamber building back

A report on the Bicentennial project was made by Bill Bates, chairman.

"I'm trying to use less electricity this summer, so why is my bill still higher?"

UNDERSTANDING YOUR ELECTRIC BILL

We know your electric bill is probably higher this summer—a lot higher—than it was last year. Even though you're making an honest effort to conserve electricity by doing things like turning lights off, raising your air conditioning thermostat and checking filters regularly.

A higher electric bill isn't much of a reward for that kind of effort. But, we want you to understand the reasons for it, and why it's important to continue using electric energy wisely.

The first reason for higher bills is that electricity is costing more. Our rates had to be increased early this year.

On top of that, fuel costs have gone up —although Texas Electric has been able to keep these increases to a minimum compared to many other companies.

Then there's the weather. High Texas temperatures mean your air conditioning works harder and uses more electricity.

We'll continue doing everything we can to keep increases in your electric bills as low as possible. But it's just as important that you keep conserving electricity as much as you can.

For a free copy of our newest booklet on how to save electricity, give us a call. Or request one on the comment portion of your bill.

As I See It....

by BOB HAMILTON

Turner Falls is a delightful experience.

For those of you who have known about the beautiful place up north of Ardmore, Okla., you probably say "Gosh, is he just now finding out about that place?"

And for those of you who don't know about it, your response might be "With everything we've got around here, why would we want to go way over into Oklahoma?"

Well, if I had heard of the falls before, it just didn't register. And it's worth mentioning, that I stayed from time to time with some relatives in Ardmore, as a youth, but never heard of them.

Located about 15 miles north of Ardmore, and easily accessible, Turner Falls is an ideal outing site for any individual, family or large group. There's beautiful scenery, adequate swimming in two nearby locations in spring-fed water, and great picnic sites.

A large group of us went over Sunday, and it was most pleasant.

But while I was there, seeing the hundreds of people who visited during the course of the day, and the out-of-state cars parked, I had to admire its appeal to tourists, as well as locals.

That admiration brought me back home, and wondering what it would take to get our two fine lakes into shape that would appeal to tourists from outside our area. And more appealing to us locally, for that matter.

Lakes Iowa Park and Buffalo have a lot to offer. But to only a minority at the present.

If you are a fisherman or a boater, they're pretty good. But would be much better if there were loading ramps. The Chamber of Commerce voted to build a ramp at one of the lakes, but nothing has taken place yet.

A picnic area was cleaned off at the east end of the Buffalo Lake dam by the American Legion some two years ago. But it appears its major appeal has been a blocked off area ideal for tossing cans and trash.

I'd personally like to see a golf course built on one side of either of them. It would be ideal, and would greatly enhance the area.

As one who lived most of his life on the flat plains of the Panhandle, it's difficult for me to understand why our lakes aren't in better shape for visitors, and why more visitors don't use them.

Maybe someone will come up with a workable idea, and the land can be better used than it is now.

REMEMBERING...

CHICKEN DINNERS
Fried chicken was one of my favorite meals but getting the chicken ready was not much fun — for me or the chicken. I don't mean taking a styrofoam package out of the freezer either, because back then you had to start from scratch.

The first thing you did was go to the chicken house, take down the stiff wire hook from the nail on the post by the gate. The wire was about three feet long and had a hook bent on one end sort of in the shape of a shepherd's hook like you see in Bible pictures except a lot smaller. The other end was bent to form a kind of handle. You took the wire and walked slowly among the chickens, trying not to disturb them while you picked the plumpest one for the dinner table. When you spied him you eased the wire down along the ground and with a swift pull, hooked it around his leg. Wings flapped and feathers flew while other chickens scattered but he couldn't get away.

The unpleasant task of killing him came next. Some folks used a chopping block, usually an old tree stump or large block of wood. They would just hold the poor fellow down and chop off his head with a swift blow from a hatchet or cleaver. But most people found it handier to just wring the head off.

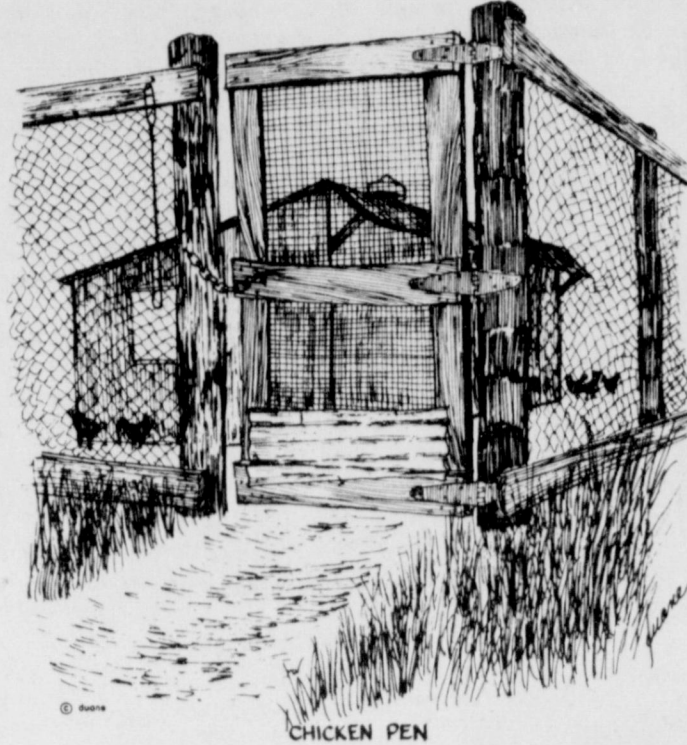

This was one sight that if you ever saw it you would not forget it. You clutched the chicken tightly behind the head with one hand. Very quickly you would whirl the chicken's body around in the air while holding tightly to his neck. After a few fast turns the head would come off and the headless chicken was dropped to the ground where he would run around in all directions getting blood on everything within ten feet. You didn't do this in the chicken yard because if the laying chickens saw it they would never lay again.

After a bit you could pick it up by its feet, hold it up awhile to let more blood drain out, then you were ready to scald it. You dipped it in a large container of boiling water to loosen the feathers. The smell of that is something you surely haven't forgotten! You could pull most of the feathers out easily after a couple of scaldings except for some pen feathers on the wings and back. No matter how particular you were when picking the feathers your mother could always find a few you had missed and would promptly inform you to pay attention to what you were doing the next time.

The last thing you had to do (but certainly not the least disagreeable) was to remove the insides and cut off the feet. At this point Mother would usually take over. She would cut the chicken into pieces, treat it with her famous batter and fry it, transforming it into a finger-lickin' golden brown delicacy that no one could resist.

I still enjoy eating chicken today but I don't believe I could if I had to do all that just to get him ready.

WORTH QUOTING

Like most citizens of this country, we felt a warm glow all day Saturday and Sunday, a glow that was fed by a solid flow of adrenalin.

And the adrenalin was fueled by pure, unadulterated patriotism.

We have never lost our love of fireworks and the circle of brotherhood following on the heels of a jim-dandy July fourth church service fueled a glow that we thought would last all summer. And despite the fact that the appearance of the tall sailing ships stole the thunder nationwide, we were proud of Andrew's participation in the nation's 200th celebration.

Our patriotic glow lasted until Wednesday!

Our warm glow disappeared in an abrupt cloud of frustration, venom, and undiluted hatred toward federal bureaucrats in general and officers of the Civil Rights division of the Department of Health, Education, and Welfare in particular.

Wednesday was the day the department made the announcement to Scottsdale, Arizona public school officials that father-son, mother-daughter banquets were illegal.

For a department noted for its asinine, ridiculous stupid rulings, this new edict by a pointy-headed, pandorian, panic-pushing, parasitic paranoid parliamentary pasty-faced pansy, should provide the bench mark of petty penalizing of public school programs.

In a letter cleared through HEW Washington channels, John E. l'alomina of, the San Francisco regional office for Civil Rights wrote to the Scottsdale officials telling them that "functions such as father-son or mother-daughter banquets would be subjecting students to separate treatment and would not be permitted."

And that decision applies, said a spokesman from Washington headquarters, even if the school offers separate events with equal facilities for both sexes.

The regulations were drafted by HEW last year to implement the Title IX statute passed by Congress in 1972 to bring about equal treatment in school athletics.

We can't help but wonder where HEW finds all the eunuchs they evidently employ to write public school regulations.

Under the same logic and reasoning, separate but equal shower facilities in high school gyms for boys and girls would be illegal as would separate but equal toilet facilities.

If these rules are followed to their logical end, HEW will have to outlaw Mother's Day and Father's Day and even Children's Day is discriminatory to parents.

Come to think of it, how come we have national holidays honoring George Washington without honoring Martha Washington, or Abe Lincoln without a holiday for Mrs. Lincoln?

Just as you can't find a congressman or senator these days that voted for school busing, we bet dollars to donuts you can't find a congressman that voted for Title IX. "The regulatory agencies misconstrued our intent" is the usual pat answer by any congressman or senator.

Did you ever wonder why it is that Congress can pass a law and set up a bureau to administer it but can't ever seem to repeal a law to kill the agency that it created?

Maybe we should import the Israelis to run our government for a few months. They seem to know what to do with hi-jackers and terrorists. Maybe they can also handle bureaucrats.

Cheap energy is gone

Cheap energy is gone, according to "76 Facts About Texas Oil and Gas," latest in the annual series published for free public distribution by Texas Mid-Continent Oil & Gas Assn. The leaflet features facts and figures on Texas Oil and gas and the industry's economic impact on Texas.

In summarizing energy production costs, "76 Facts" points out that total expenditures for exploration, development, and production of oil and natural gas in the U.S. jumped more than 100% between 1970-1974, reflecting the upward spiral of wages, drilling costs, taxes, and other factors.

"While federal price controls slow the search for domestic oil and gas, American energy consumers are paying world market prices to foreign nations (mostly to the OPEC cartel) for 40% of the oil used in the U.S. - a supply subject to cutoff," the summary states.

When compared to figures for previous years, the latest annual figures in "76 Facts" show a decline in Texas oil and gas production and a continuing slump in the state's reserves. The ratio of wildcat wells drilled and discovered in 1975 fell below the previous year, although total drilling was up.

Other highlights include: Gasoline demand by Texans reached a new high in 1975.

The Texas economy benefited from increased wellhead value of oil and gas, which totaled $15.2 billion last year. This output also generated additional tax dollars for the Texas treasury, since production taxes are based on value.

Payments to Texas land and royalty owners moved upward.

Employment in the Texas petroleum industry increased in 1975, along with wage rates and payroll outlays.

The team had advanced to the finals by virtue of a 22-11 routing of Electra Monday night, the same evening when Burk earned its place in the finals by beating Sheppard 6-5.

"The boys played real hard, did real good and hustled," commented coach L.S. Whisnand following the game. "It was just one of those games where everything we hit seemed to go right to one of their players."

Probably the turning point in the game came in the fifth inning, which began with the teams tied at 2-2.

With two outs, there was a disputed call at the home plate, which allowed a Burk score and the bases to remain loaded. The next batter unloaded them with a home run, sending the host dub ahead 7-2.

Iowa Park opened Monday's game with a big seven-run inning. Electra pulled to within one, 7-6, going into the bottom of the third. Iowa Park scored four in that frame.

In the fourth, Electra scored three more, and Iowa Park countered with one, to lead 12-9 going into the last of the fifth, when they broke open the game with 10 runs. Electra tried to get a rally going in the top of the sixth, scoring two, but fell short.

Physicals are needed

All Iowa Park high school and junior high athletes who intend to play football this fall are to pick up their physical examination forms at the Iowa Park Clinic, according to Head Coach Pat Tone.

The new mentor added that if the athletes use physicians other than those here in Iowa Park, there are forms available at the school administration office.

AMERICA'S HERITAGE

HIGHLIGHTS OF AMERICAN HISTORY

JOHN PAUL JONES

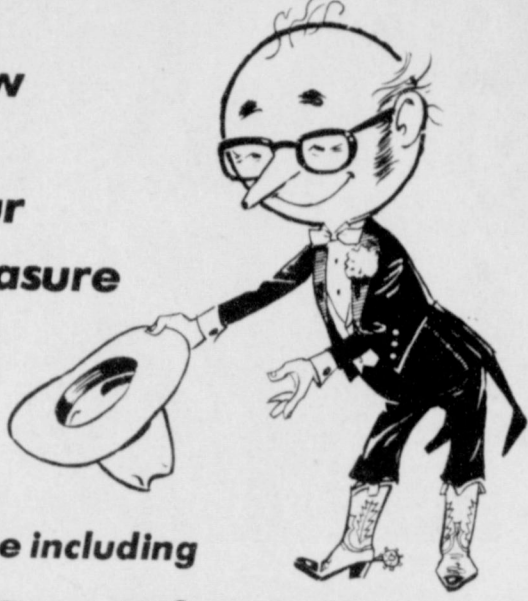

By Joan Russo

"I have not yet begun to fight!" John Paul Jones shouted across the deck of his ship when the British captain suggested the surrender of the Bon Homme Richard, named after the French edition of Ben Franklin's almanac. Ignoring the obvious superiority of the British frigate, Serapis, Jones had opened fire at sunset. He continued his offensive, deliberately ramming the Richard into the stern of the British vessel. Unable to bring its cannon to bear on Serapis in this position, the Richard pulled away. The ships fell alongside and grappled and the Americans began a close range assault with muskets and grenades. Both ships caught fire, but the fighting continued for three hours under moonlight.

When the Serapis finally struck colors, the Bon Homme Richard was riddled with holes through which "one might have drove in with a coach and six." The Americans abandoned their gutted ship, but in taking the Serapis, they had won the greatest naval victory of the Revolution. Artist Frederick Coffay Yohn commemorates this episode in "The Battle Between the Bon Homme Richard and the Serapis," part of the collection of historical paintings owned by The Continental Insurance Companies.

The hero of the day, John Paul Jones, was born in Scotland as John Paul. He came to Philadelphia as a fugitive, added the Jones to his name and joined the patriots' cause. After his victory over the Serapis, he was celebrated in France but forgotten in this country. In 1788, he accepted an invitation from Catherine the Great to become a rear admiral in the Russian navy. He later returned to Paris and died there. His grave remained unknown until it was discovered by the American ambassador to France in 1905. Eight years later, his remains were enshrined at Annapolis where Jones is recognized today as the father of our naval tradition.

Trustees continue principal search

Holliday school trustees continued their search for a new high school principal during a called session of the board Friday night.

The board met behind closed doors for an hour and a half of the two-hour session.

The board initially convened privately for about 30 minutes. Business discussed during that segment of the meeting was termed "personnel matters."

During the next 30 minutes of the executive session the school board interviewed Jim Fickling of Valley View in Cook County.

Fickling's interview concerned the Holliday High School principal's opening. Fickling said he had been superintendent of school at Valley View for five years. He also taught classes and coached at Mesquite.

After Fickling was dismissed from the executive session the board continued its private conference for another 30 minutes.

When the meeting was re-opened to the public Trustee Bob McDaniel motioned that the board table its action on hiring a new high school principal until after Supt. Ray Coe returns from a conference in Austin.

Trustee Jack Ayres seconded the motion which carried unanimously.

Trustee Lonnie Brackeen motioned that the board meet in a called session July 26 for further applicant interviews.

Brackeen's motion was seconded by McDaniel, and it passed unanimously.

At an earlier meeting, the board interviewed Jerry McWilliams of Andrews, former assistant high school principal at Iowa Park, who expressed an interest in the Holliday post.

The school board is seeking to fill the vacancy left by Grady "Bud" Enis, who resigned the high school principal's post to take a similar position at Decatur.

Bob Lardue, architect for the school's construction project, also is expected to meet with the board at its July 26 meeting.

Coe reported the sale of bonds for the construction project were expected to be finalized this week in Dallas with the money soon to be deposited in City National Bank in Wichita Falls.

All members of the board were present at Friday night's called meeting.

Two killed in wreck

A fiery head-on automobile mishap Tuesday morning four miles west of Holliday on U.S. 82 claimed the lives of two men and injured a third person.

Killed in the accident was Curtis Alsup, 48, of Knox City, and David Lee Golden, 20, of Seymour.

Margaret Alsup, 47, wife of Alsup and a passenger, was reported in satisfactory condition in Wichita General Hospital.

Investigating Department of Public Safety investigators said the Golden automobile was traveling east and the Alsup pickup truck was westbound when the mishap occurred about 6:15 a.m. Tuesday.

The Alsup pickup caught on fire, but Mrs. Alsup was able to escape through a broken out window in the rear of the pickup cab.

Party fetes Enis family

Guests were served cake, cookies, punch and coffee. The Enis' were honored with numerous gifts including a "money tree," a painted mesquite tree branch adorned with ribbons and cash.

Aside from gift opening ceremonies and short thank you talks by Mr. and Mrs. Enis, most of the afternoon was devoted to visiting.

Enis is leaving Holliday to take the principal's position at Decatur High School. Mrs. Enis will be teaching mathematics in the high school at Decatur.
