LIQUOR ELECTION PETITIONS FILED WITH COUNTY
...Mr. and Mrs. Leigh Holder and County Clerk Dora Davis.

Petition verifying expected by today

Wichita County Clerk's Office expects to finish its task today of verifying petition signatures calling for an election on off-premise consumption liquor sales in Iowa Park and JP Precinct 3.

The petitions calling for an election on the issue were presented last week to county officials by Leigh Holder, chairman of the Spirit of '76 Committee.

After filing the petitions Holder said the committee had secured the signatures of about 450 qualified voters.

A spokesman for the county clerk's office said Wednesday that affidavits had been secured by six individuals requesting their names be removed from the petitions.

Early indications from the county clerk's office suggested the Spirit of '76 Committee had been successful in its efforts to obtain enough names to force the election.

Four hundred and six signatures of qualified voters are necessary to force the election.

The county clerk's office spokesman said the Iowa Park petitions were tidy and contained the voter registration numbers of signers.

However, a quirk in Article 666-32 of the Texas Liquor Control Act is causing additional headaches for Wichita County Clerk's Office.

Unlike requirements set forth for any other type of forced election, the Texas Liquor Control Act says petition signers must sign the petition the same way it appears on their voter registration.

When county clerk's office officials went to state officials for aid in interpreting the guidelines, one of the Austin officials called the additional requirement a "directive."

This has opened debate as to whether the requirement for exact signatures is actually part of the act or whether it is merely a directive.

Nobody seems certain how the law is to be construed. The county clerk's office spokesman indicated it might take a court ruling to settle the argument.

From information available Wednesday afternoon, it appears the controversy rests solely with Wichita County Commissioners.

The petitions will be presented to commissioners when they next meet in regular session on Sept. 13.

At the Sept. 13 meeting, the commissioner's court is expected to be presented two certificates, according to the county clerk's office spokesman.

The first certificate is expected to state the number of qualified signatures submitted that comply with every aspect of the Texas Liquor Control Act.

A second certificate is expected to be presented stating the number of signatures of qualified voters who signed the petitions, but not perfectly identical to the way their names appear on voter registration computer printouts.

The spokesman indicated there probably would be twice as many signatures calculated on the second certificate as on the first certificate.

The spokesman said the county clerk's office is simply trying to be fair by presenting two certificates since the dispute over petition requirements remains unsettled.

City continues work on annexation problems

The subject of annexation consumed the major portion of Monday night's meeting of the city council.

Besides discussing action to be taken on the annexation efforts to add residential areas to the city, and straightening out the zig-zag outline of the boundaries, a report of a thorough study of past annexations was made by Gene Britton, city administrator.

As soon as an accurate legal description of Shiloh I and II and other Johnson Road residents are obtained, the ordinance recently passed, but found inaccurate, will be amended by the council, it was brought out in the meeting.

Because of inaccurate descriptions of the Little League and Top Of Texas athletic fields on Magnolia, an ordinance will be drafted to de-annex those areas. Then a new ordinance will be drawn to bring those areas, plus some others into the city in the same action.

During Britton's research of past annexations, it was found that a two-acre plot located just west of the Little League field had been annexed in 1972, but the legal description in fact had the tract located some two miles southwest of there. This will be included in the re-annexation of the athletic fields.

Three city officials, Mayor Johnny Crawford, Attorney Mike Hubbard and Britton are making plans to travel to Austin, where they will discuss conflicting points of laws concerning annexations.

Because the city is owner of the tract of land where the overhead water tank is located on Johnson Road, which is not inside the city limits, the city will initiate a petition for annexation, and this document will include all the land bordered by Johnson, Magnolia and Fourth Street.

Contact will also be made in the near future by city officers with property owners who have land bordered on at least two sides by the city limits, asking them to request annexation, Crawford told the council.

Eventhough they are not yet legally in the city, property owners in the Shiloh areas and along Johnson Road are now being charged in-city utility rates. The mayor said this is being done because it was the owner's and city's intent that they be annexed. That annexation will be completed after proper legal description is added to the petition.

Also in connection with the Shiloh annexations, the city fathers discussed street lights for those areas, as had been promised to the property owners.

The discussion was whether wood or metal poles for the lights should be installed, and at whose expense. It was generally agreed the city would install wood poles, but should metal be desired, either the developer or the residents would have to pay the difference in cost.

Additionally, underground service to street light areas in Shiloh II has not yet been installed, and that expense is seen in the same light as the type of poles by the alderman.

Because G.A. Benesh, who had been approved as municipal judge to replace the late Titus Mitchell, attached two extra stipulations to his agreement to serve, aldermen

'76 edition of Mean Green to scrimmage Bowie Friday

Eventhough the Iowa Park Hawks are older and larger this year, they are figured to have their hands full tomorrow afternoon when they scrimmage the Bowie Jackrabbits.

The matchup will be about 7 p.m. at Hawk Stadium, following a freshman scrimmage at 5 and junior varsity match at 6.

Both teams are about the same size and have about the same number of people back from last year. Iowa Park is AAA classification and Bowie is AA, the schools are very near the same size in enrollment.

And Bowie has already enjoyed a scrimmage last week, while the Hawks missed out on their opportunity when Lawton Ike reneged, leaving the Mean Green only tomorrow's scrimmage before the season opener Sept. 2.

Bowie, semi-finalists in 1974, finished the 1975 season with a 7-3 record. The Hawks haven't been in the playoffs since leaving the AA ranks back in 1970, and had an unblemished 0-10 record last year.

Friday will give Mean Green fans their first opportunity to see the new look of the Hawks, created by new head coach Pat Tone and his staff.

Tone's 1976 edition is composed of 23 seniors, eight juniors and one sophomore. Two of those, however, probably will not see action due to injuries.

Of the 12 players listed as backs, only two are not seniors.

If Tone had been scrimmaging Tuesday, his offensive team would have been made up of Steve Lane, Kevin Hamilton, Junior Sosebee, Bobby Collins, Butch Beisch, Paul Arrington, linemen, with a coin flip at end between Brian Catlin, Shane Kimbrow and Robert Dillard. With quarterback Rex Huckaby in the backfield would be Jim Stevens, Ray Cook and David Dyer.

On the offensive platoon, Tone listed Pat Cook, Ray Cook, Beisch, Rick Merriman, Lane, Dillard, Dick Elliott, Johnny Bentley, Charles Mattis, Catlin and Keith Rains.

There will not be an admission fee charged for the scrimmage session.

NAMED NEWS EDITOR - Lewis Simmons was named this week as news editor of the Iowa Park Leader by Bob Hamilton, publisher. Simmons joined the leader last October. He worked three years for the Wichita Falls Times and Record News before moving here. Simmons, who was raised in Olney, completed his work on a Bachelors degree in English at Midwestern State Univ. two weeks ago.

Enrollment continues downward trend here

Enrollment in Iowa Park schools continues to decline, though there are indications that the trend may turn upward over the next few years.

Figures released for the second day of school, Tuesday, showed that 2,019 were enrolled here, in classes from Early Childhood, which is lower than kindergarten, through the 12th grade.

This is a decline of 29 from the 1975 first-day figure of 2,048. And last year enrollment was down from that of 1974, when 2,076 were reported.

The trend to a gradual increase in enrollment is indicated in the elementary grades, where 32 more students are enrolled through grade four than were registered last year, 614-582.

Valley View had a decrease of 42 pupils, junior high was down 10 and high school down 18 from last year.

Because of a shift of students and movement of district boundary, Kidwell Elementary enrollment is greater than Bradford for the first time in several years, averaging almost 20 more per grade.

Kidwell has 352 students, as compared with 275 last year. No Early Childhood or Special Education students are at Kidwell, but there are 42 in kindergarten, 88 in the first grade, 71 in the second, 70 in the third and 81 in the fourth.

Bradford enrollment is down 45 from last year, with 262 pupils. Of these, nine are in Early Childhood, three in Special Education, 27 in kindergarten, 48 in the first grade, 49 in the second, 47 in the third and 59 in the fourth.

Enrollment in elementary schools in 1974 was 604.

Valley View has 126 students in the fifth grade and 172 in the sixth, for 298 pupils. Enrollment there in 1974 was 357.

Junior high is up three students from the first day of the 1974 school year, with 174 in the seventh grade and 197 in the eighth.

The high school Tuesday reported 197 in the ninth grade, 180 in the 10th, 177 in the 11th and 182 seniors, for 736. That is 18 fewer than enrolled the first day last year, but is up from 747 reported at the start of the 1974 year.

Investigations keep PD busy

Numerous reports of burglaries and thefts were reported during the past week to the Iowa Park Police Department.

Wednesday night of last week, citizen band radios were taken from two vehicles, as well as a business being burglarized.

Paul Callaway, owner of Paul's Stop and Shop on West Cash, lost five auto tape players from his store, valued at $359. Entry was gained through a window on the alley.

R.A. Stewart, 1125 Louisa, had a CB radio stolen from his pickup. Entry was gained by opening the vent window. The radio was valued at $190.

A CB radio and stereo tape player, as well as half a carton of cigarettes, were reportedly taken from a pickup owned by S.D. Buruato, while it was parked at Woodbriar Apartments between 1 and 5:30 a.m. Thursday.

Rear window screens were found pried off the house of Jack Kerr and a rental house of his, both located on S. Wall, Saturday.

Sunday, Mike Emory, 1303 N. Pacific, found the locked screen door of his home knocked out. Someone had rummaged through his house and garage, but nothing was detected as missing.

Several dollars were apparently taken from the clothes of athletes at the high school field house Tuesday afternoon.

After Andrew Sitgreaves reported $57 in cash taken from his pants, other athletes also stated they had lost money.

Lockers, not broken into and apparently unlocked with a key, according to the police report, were attacked between 2:30 and 5 p.m.

About 10 p.m. Tuesday, Jamie Boykin, 300 S. Wall, reported four vehicle tires as having been slashed by a knife or some other sharp object.

CLASSROOM FUN—Stephanie Murphy, a first grader in Kay Cole's room at Bradford Elementary School, busies herself during the first week of classes by coloring a cheerful little red school house.

Pierce-Callaway wedding performed by bride's father

Miss Vicki Lynn Pierce and Sam Paul Callaway vowed their lives to one another in a wedding service Friday evening at First Christian Church with the bride's father, the pastor, officiating. Friends and relatives witnessed the recitation of vows at the invitation of the couple's parents, Rev. and Mrs.

Keith D. Pierce and Mr. and Mrs. Paul W. Callaway to join with them in asking God's blessings upon the holy union of their children. The couple repeated their vows in a setting which featured objects attesting to the importance of the spiritual in the marriage relationship. Standing before a kneeling bench in front of the communion table holding a large open Bible flanked by tall white tapers in golden candlesticks, the couple knelt twice at the close of the ceremony, the first time during the singing of "The Lord's Prayer" and then again to take communion.

An arrangement of yellow daisies and white carnations centered the baptistry window underneath a large cross. The outer altar was marked with white seven-branched candelabra entwined with commadore and family pews were decorated with yellow and green bows.

The music was a meaningful part of the wedding and was provided by Kern Railsback of Waco, organist, and Mr. and Mrs. John K. Pierce of Albuquerque, N.M., brother and sister-in-law, of the bride, vocalists.

The organist presented a prelude concert which included "Love Story", Lai; "Love Theme from Romeo and Juliet", Rota; "The First Time Ever" and "Ave Maria", Schubert. The bride's brother furnished his own guitar accompaniment for his solo "Annie's Song". He and Mrs. Pierce, accompanied by the organist, sang "O Perfect Love" by Barnby and she presented "The Lord's Prayer" for a solo. The organist played the traditional processional and recessional.

John K. Pierce escorted his sister down the aisle to the altar where he presented her in marriage for her parents. She wore a meticulously made and lovely gown, her own handiwork, designed by Belinda Bellville. The floor length candlelight satin gown, conforming to traditional style, was fashioned with a fitted bodice overlaid with Chantilly lace accented with dainty pearl buttons. Further distinction to the costume was noted in the V-shaped standing neckline, long lace sleeves scalloped at the wrists and chapel train.

Her double-tiered veil of candlelight illusion cascaded the length of the train from a Juliet cap covered with satin and lace to match her dress. The bride's bouquet composed of white daisies, white carnations and gypsophila was carried on a white Bible containing her grandmother's lace handkerchief. Preceding the bride to the altar were a matron of honor, two bridesmaids, two flower girls and two ring bearers.

Mrs. John R. Shockley Jr. of El Paso, the bride's sister, was matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Miss Lisa Watson and Miss Debbie McCreary. Wearing identical costumes designed like the bride's gown, they made a charming picture in long mint green double knit gowns with waists and short sleeves overlaid with candlelight lace and standing V-necklines enhanced with three pearl buttons. They carried nosegays of yellow carnations and white daisies.

Sherilynn Pierce of Albuquerque, N.M. and Debbie Callaway of Norman, Okla. nieces of the bride and groom, were the petite flower girls. They were attired in mint green daisy flowered dresses trimmed with dainty lace around the puffed sleeves and necklines. The white wicker baskets they carried were filled with white daisies.

Participating as ring bearers and clad in white tuxedo coats, black pants and pole green shirts, were John Shockley III and Robbie Pierce, nephews of the bride. They wore yellow daisy boutonnieres and carried the rings on satin pillows made by the bride to match her wedding dress.

Candles were lighted at the altar by Miss Kimberly Jane Shockley and Miss Pamela Sue Barr, nieces of the bride and groom. They wore yellow double knit gowns styled like those worn by the flower girls and wrist corsages.

To correspond with the bride's gown, the groom wore a candlelight tuxedo and his attendants wore beige brocade jackets, black pants, green shirts and yellow daisy boutonnieres.

Best man for the groom was his brother, Bill Callaway of Norman, Okla. Steve Arrington and Tom Casey were groomsmen and ushers were Steve Hines and Paul Grohman of Abilene.

Mrs. Pierce chose a long green double knit dress complimented with a flowered sheer poncho-type overlay and Mrs. Callaway wore a long salmon-colored knit dress with flowered sheer sleeves. White daisies were the flowers used in their corsages.

Yellow and green dominated the color scheme for the reception held in the Fellowship Hall, with the bride's parents the host and hostess.

The registry table, the one used earlier in the church foyer, the bride's table and the groom's table, were draped to the floor with green double knit cloths overlaid with white flocked sheer.

A distinguishing mark of the bride's table was the four-tiered cake emphasizing the bride's chosen colors in yellow confection roses with green petals on the sides of each layer. The cherub dividers that raised the fourth tier captured the romantic mood and the silver cross stood alone on the top symbolizing marriage in Christ. A three-branched silver candlestick holding tall yellow tapers, the bride's bouquet and crystal punch service completed the table decor.

The groom's table held the dark cake trimmed in yellow and green designs, single yellow candles uprisng from two silver holders and the bridal attendants' bouquets.

Miss Lori Ann Barr, niece of the groom, secured signatures in the bride's book at a table appointed with the couple's wedding invitation in a gold frame, a yellow plume pen and a yellow pillar candle in a ring of daisies.

Reception assistants were Mrs. Oliver H. Kinzie and

MRS. SAM PAUL CALLAWAY

Mrs. Rex Guse, aunts of the bride, Mmes. Rollins Woodall, Pauline Steele, Wm. Andersen and Ray Pittman; Misses Julie Davis, Sandra Hammack, Elaine Cole and Karen Arrington.

The couple will live in Abilene following a wedding trip to Red River, N.M. When they left the church, the bride was wearing a mint green skirt with a coordinating jacket.

The bride and groom were both graduated from Iowa Park High School. She attended Vernon Regional Junior College and he is a student at Hardin-Simmons University at Abilene.

The rehearsal dinner Thursday evening was hosted by the groom's parents at Luby's Cafeteria in Wichita Falls.

Out-of-town wedding guests were L.C. Pierce, grandfather of the bride and Mr. and Mrs. Rex Guse of McPherson, Kansas; Mr. and Mrs. Oliver H. Kinzie and Mrs. Jeff Fielding of Cushing, Okla., Mr. and Mrs. John R. Shockley, El Paso, Mr. and Mrs. John K. Pierce, Albuquerque, N.M., Miss Leslie Knight, Norman, Okla., Miss Jean Renfro, Coahoma, Tex., Miss Peggy Steadman, Richard and Tom Cain, Abilene.

Taylor-Kingery marriage held in Wichita Falls church Saturday

The Trinity United Methodist Church in Wichita Falls was elaborately decorated for the double-ring twilight ceremony Saturday in which Miss Kathy Diane Taylor became the bride of James William Kingery. The Rev. John Lightfoot was the officiant.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley M. Taylor of Wichita Falls, former residents of Iowa Park and the granddaughter of Mike Medlinger and the late Mrs. Medlinger. The groom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Albert W. Kingery of Wichita Falls.

Each decorative appointment in the altar and church lent itself to the general design, achieving a total effect of impressive beauty. The altar was centered with a large arch covered with mahania and flowering boxwood. Included in the setting were profusion of candles uprising from two gold 15-branched candelabra entwined with lily of the valley garlands and two 15-branched gold spiral candelabra decorated with chamadorea foliage, two Grecian urns filled with sunburst arrangements of white stock, mums, carnations and gypsophila. Adding uniqueness were two white wrought-iron bird cages holding white stock, carnations and baby's breath on white Grecian pedestals.

The spiritual meaning of the occasion was emphasized in decorations through the white satin-covered gold knelling bench covered with flowering boxwood and the gold unity candelabra swathed with lily of the valley and white mums where the mothers of the bride and groom lighted the two outer candles when they were ushered into the church. These were later used by the couple to light the center candle, then they were extinguished to symbolize their union.

The communion rail was draped with flowering boxwood. The organ held a candelabrum entwined with the chosen flowers and foliage and a large gold and white cherub on the piano was filled with the same ornamentation. Family pews were designated with gold aisle markers holding crystal globes containing nosegays of white mums and baby's breath and all church pews were marked with nosegays of the same flowers. Each window in the church held an arrangement of candles combined with the flowers and foliage featured in the nuptial setting accented with white lace bows and white glittered wedding bells.

A musical setting for the wedding was provided by Mrs. Jim Medlinger of Iowa Park, organist, and Terry Phlemons of Denton, vocalist, who played guitar accompaniment for his solos "Annie's Song" and "The Wedding Song". Mrs. Medlinger, the bride's aunt, accompanied him for his rendition of "The Lord's Prayer", played the prelude music and wedding marches.

Walking a white aisle carpet to the altar with her father who presented her in marriage, the bride wore a formal white gown of imported Chantilly lace accented with a bodice featuring a V-neckline and

MRS. JAMES WILLIAM KINGERY

Victorian Chantilly lace sleeves. The full circular skirt was distinguished with beaded lace-medallions and a lace hemline ruffle. A cathedral length train made the dress complete. Complementing the costume, the bride wore a mantilla type cathedral veil of bridal illusion highlighted by double rows of satin scallops alternating with lace medallions trimmed with pearls. Her headpiece was fashioned of Chantilly lace roses trimmed with seed pearls.

The bride carried an English cascade of twenty-five white butterfly roses, stephanotis and gypsophila with English ivy in which was concealed two long stem red roses presented to the mothers of the bride and groom preceding and following the ceremony. She wore her mother's diamond pendant and the sixpence in her shoe.

Miss Janice Smith, the maid of honor, wore a formal gown of cherry pink sheer styled with a scoop neckline collared by layered ruffles that spanned the shoulders, a natural waistline with a set-in midriff and a full A-line skirt that ended in a hemline flounce. She carried a matching pink parasol covered in deep rows of ruffled lace. The bridesmaids were dressed identically to the maid of honor and carried pink gladioli cascades with burgundy satin accents. The trio of bridesmaids included Miss Nancy Smith, Mrs. James Barnes, and Mrs. David Shoop, all of Wichita Falls.

Miss Page Gray of Austin, the flower girl, wore a pink organdy dress floored with tiny rosebuds trimmed in ruffles edged in pink lace. She carried a small basket filled with pink carnations and gypsophila.

Candlelighters were Miss Jana Thompson of Iowa Park and Miss Shelly Gray of Austin. They were attired in white nylon frocks flocked with tiny flowers over pink taffeta defined with ruffled yokes and flounces edged in lace.

Mike Dorman, the ring bearer, wore a black tuxedo with black velvet trim and a white ruffled shirt.

The groom was attired in a snow white tuxedo trimmed with braid and wore a white rose and stephanotis in his lapel. The groom's attendants wore velvet-trimmed black tuxedos, white shirts and pink carnation boutonnières. Composing the group were Randy Taylor, brother of the bride, best man; David Fulmer, Bill York and Ralph Nichols, groomsmen; and Wayne Taylor and Kirk Taylor, the bride's brothers, were ushers.

The mothers of the bride and groom wore lace corsages of red roses with the gowns they chose to wear to their children's wedding. Mrs. Taylor's full length gown was fashioned of peach chiffon graced with a full shirred yoke and jeweled neckline edged in matching lace, and A-line skirt fashioned with a deep pleated flounce. Mrs. Kingery was attired in a full length mint green gown with a stand-up collar and braid trim at the waist band in variegated shades of pink.

Mrs. Darrell Yates, sister of the groom, registered guests in the church foyer preceding the wedding at a table covered with white lace interwoven with pink satin stripes over white satin, holding a picture of the bride and groom from their wedding invitation framed in pink pixie carnations.

The bride's parents honored the couple at a post-nuptial reception in the Fellowship Hall.

The center of interest on the bride's table draped with a white ruffled lace cloth edged in boxwood, pink pixie carnations and white spider mums was the cake.

The three-tiered confection rested above arched pillar tiers which housed a three tier cascading fountain flowing gracefully among greenery and an orchestra of cherub figurines. The cake was decorated in appropriate pink symbols and enhanced with bird baths held by cherubs between the layers and a top ornament featuring a bride and groom under a cupola of pink satin ribbon. On either side of the cake were two heart-shaped cakes further emphasizing the Cupid theme with cherubs and doves on top.

Other table attractions were a tri-cherub arrangement of pink carnations, white mums and gypsophila, classic white railings separated by Grecian urns and cherub figurines accented with the bride's bouquet nestled in the flowers and foliage used on the table.

The groom's table was covered with white satin and held a double ring cake decorated with shades of grapes, silver punch fountain and a silver and crystal epergne holding a massive cluster of grapes in shades of green with branches holding green candles and dishes of nuts and mints.

Serving refreshments to guests were Mrs. Eldon Thompson Jr. and Mrs. Tommy Medlinger of Iowa Park, Mmes. Wayne Taylor, L.H. Smith and Miss Debbie Oliver.

Other outstanding points of decorative interest in the reception area were a large terrarium with a variety of plants towering over a bride and groom and their attendants under a heart-shaped arch, a large dragena maiginate tree between the bride's and groom's tables. And a table covered with pink net over pink satin decorated with apple blossom appliques and small blue birds of happiness holding a white bird cage containing flowers featured in decorations and live doves in the lower section. A bridesmaid doll was dressed in pink chiffon with a hoop skirt covered with rice bags.

Scrolls and rice bags were passed out by the candlelighters.

The bride and groom are both graduates of Rider High School where she was a twirler with the band. She is presently employed by Beacon National Insurance Co. He is a pre-law student at Midwestern State University and works for Spears Furniture Co.

Following a trip to Ruidosa, N.M., the couple will live in Wichita Falls. Her going away costume was an oyster white slack suit with which she wore a red rose corsage.

The groom's parents gave the rehearsal dinner at the Gatsby.

Special out-of-town guests were the groom's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. William Kingery of Beloit, Wis.

Dinner meeting attended by 44

Thirty-six members of Christian Workers Class of First United Methodist Church and eight guests attended the monthly meeting and covered dish supper Thursday evening.

Host and hostesses were Elgin Denny, Mmes. Emma Gaunt, Kathleen Hatten, Ida Parker and Miss Ethyle Kidwell. Tables were decorated with bouquets of fall flowers.

Guests were CMSgt. Mohsen Alinaghi Khani, CMSgt. Djavad Torghabeh from Iran, Mrs. Iline Swadley, escort, Mr. Ar-buckle, bus driver, Mrs. Katherine Sue Jacquart, Rev. and Mrs. Jim Connat-ser and Gina.

Others attending were Messrs. and Mmes. Floyd Boyd, Travis Smith, Herman Mahler, Otis Gay, George Trammell, Floyd Harrison, Carroll Hester, Carl Sullivan, Neil Johnson, Swan Reaves, R.M. Thompson, Roy Lakey; Mmes. Cleo Hines, Bessie Brohard, Elgin Denny, Gene Lowrey, Effie Winfrey, Bertha McDonald and Miss Jane Gaunt.

Following the meal, a business meeting was held and games were played for entertainment.

Dodge-Thompson nuptials recited Saturday

Miss Betsy Ann Dodge became the bride of John James Thompson III Saturday evening when the couple repeated their vows in the College Church of Christ in Abilene.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David G. Dodge of Abilene, former residents of Iowa Park, and the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Dodge of Iowa Park. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. H.L. Thompson of Irving.

Lynn Anderson, minister of Highland Church of Christ, officiated at the double-ring service before a screen of antique wicker flanked by candelabra entwined with English ivy and other greenery.

Given in marriage by both parents, the bride wore a candlelight gown by Bianchi styled with a molded bodice covered in lace and embroidered with seed pearls and a standing scooped neckline. The long full sleeves, also embroidered with lace and pearls, terminated in tight cuffs that extended in points over the hands. The long self-train of the gown fell from embroidered lace across the shoulders in the back. A cap of embroidered lace and pearls held her full length veil. The bridal bouquet was composed of carneations, yellow roses, baby's breath with cascading English ivy streamers.

Observing bridal tradition, the bride carried the Bible of the Delta Theta Club, Abilene Christian Sister Organization, carried by all girls in the club when they marry for "something old". "Something new" was a sixpence given to her by Mrs. Frances Lane of Haskell. She wore diamond earrings belonging to her aunt, Mrs. E. McDonald, and completed the traditions with the blue garter.

The bride's attendants wore long double knit V-neckline gowns with skirts shirred from the waists to hemlines, each in a different color, to achieve a yellow, apricot, blue, pink and green color scheme. They wore daisy headpieces and carried nosegays to match their dresses.

Miss Janna Hopson of Arlington served as maid of honor and wore yellow. The bridesmaids and colors they appeared in were Miss Sky Mosman of Abilene, apricot; Miss Lola Jackson of Austin, blue; Miss Alice Bishop of Abilene, pink; and Miss Kathy Hansen of Memphis, Tenn., green.

Best man for the groom was Steve Harris of Fort Worth. Groomsmen were Tim Thompson, Irving; Audie Wright, Fort Worth; Benny Petty, Abilene; and Gary Crocker, Victoria. Ushers and candlelighters were John Ussrey, Lake-wood, Colo. and Gene Wisemiller, Port Lavaca.

The groom's mother chose a full length pale yellow double knit dress with a cowl neckline and butterfly sleeves for the wedding, and the groom's mother wore a long cream color shirtwaist print dress with long sleeves. Both wore white daisy corsages.

The groom and his attendants wore eggshell tuxedos.

The wedding reception was hosted by the bride's parents in the Activity Building of the College Church of Christ.

Miss Susan Fowler directed signatures of guests in the beautiful bride's book covered in lace and re-embroidered in pearls, hand-made by Miss Annie Kirkpatrick of Abilene and presented to the bride as a special gift.

The bride's table was laid with a cloth of alternating lace and embroidered squares and enhanced with the tiered cake decorated with confection roses in the colors of the bridesmaids dresses, crystal and silver appointments.

The groom's table was covered with a cloth matching the one on the bride's table and appointed with the silver coffee service, three antique candleholders intertwined with English ivy and the dark cake.

Reception assistants were Mmes. E. McDonald, Don C. Garrett, Richard Seago and Gary Button.

The groom's parents hosted the rehearsal dinner in the Activity Bldg. at the Church of Christ.

The bride was graduated from Abilene High School and attended Abilene Christian University where she is a junior. She will continue her education at North Texas State University. The groom, was graduated from Eastern Hills High School, Fort Worth and Abilene Christian University. The couple will live at Argyle. The bride wore a yellow cotton pantsuit when they departed for a wedding trip.

A bridesmaid luncheon was given Saturday at the church by Mrs. Oliver Jackson and Miss Lola Jackson of Austin.

As I See It...

by BOB HAMILTON

Eventhough leather was popping (that's a football term, pardner) all over Iowa Park for more than a week, the real feeling of fall didn't strike home until we enjoyed some cool mornings this week.

I thought it was rather selfish of most people, including myself, to complain about how hot it was, knowing full well there were more than a couple hundred youngsters out practicing football in full gear during the heat.

That's a problem we must suffer in this part of the country, however. It's always uncomfortably hot in this area when football practice kicks off.

And if those dummdards down at Austin keep adding to the number of days kids have to attend school, and school boards keep adding to the holidays, footballers will be putting on their pads just after the July 4th holiday ends before long.

Remember when school never started until after Labor Day?

But the heat of the days, the early sunsets, the haze on the horizon, and even the calendar points to only one thing...fall is just around the corner.

Just like the kids who had become bored with summer vacation and were ready to go back to school, I've had about all the summer weather I want for a while, and I'm looking forward to cool fall weather, with football just about every evening of the week.

For our newcomers, that's about what we have in Iowa Park. When there's an evening without a kid's game, junior high, freshman, junior varsity or varsity game, we're attending a quarterback club meeting, traveling to a college or professional game, or searching the television channel for something about football on the boob tube.

As surely as a seal likes to eat fish, Iowa Park residents like their football.

And we start getting our season's portion tomorrow night.

WORTH QUOTING

Former Congressman Bob Price sent me a book called "The Case Against The Reckless Congress" which I received Saturday.

Coming in an impressive envelope marked Special Delivery, the book was accepted by members of my staff.

Bob, who is trying to unseat Jack Hightower who defeated him two years ago, showed no recklessness at all in the venture.

He spent fifty cents on postage and stuck me with $1.29 in postage due. He even enclosed a two-sentence letter to up the cost an additional 13 cents.

Maybe it would be cheaper for me if Bob gets back into congress and has his franking privileges returned. I love to hear from you Robert but I don't know whether I can afford it.

Oh, well! It may be worth a buck twenty-nine. One of the sentences did say: "Warm personal regards" and when you're in the newspaper business and a columnist to boot "Warm personal regards" from ANYONE are to be regarded highly.

continue their search for a judge.

Benesh wanted an increase in salary for himself and the clerk from $265 to $300 monthly, and said he would take that only if he could have Mitchell's contract with the city to serve as delinquent tax collector also.

His offer was taken under advisement while alternative attorneys are considered by the council.

Ordinance 232, creating a volunteer Traffic Safety Council was approved. Each alderman is to submit nominations for those who will serve.

It is estimated the cost to the city to pay for lighting at the new Top Of Texas football stadium will be approximately $400 annually, according to Britton.

This was based on a cost figure of $399 to operate the Little League baseball field lights this year. Burnett Field light bill this year has been $290.

Giving a brief report of city finances, Britton told the council the city had $439 in cash in the bank in the general fund, and $12,536 in the water fund. This is with current bills paid.

"I still feel we can make it with our cash flow until taxes start coming in October," said the administrator.

REMEMBERING...

QUILTING

During the winter months the ladies would get together at one house for quiltings. The hostess would have the quilt frames set up ready to use. She would have enough quilt squares done up and provide other materials necessary to make a quilt.

A quilt frame consisted of four boards which could be pinned together to form a rectangle the size of a quilt. Several holes about an inch apart in each end of the boards allowed for adjustment. Large nails fitted into the holes to pin the corners together. The frames were hung about 30" above the floor by cords attached to hooks in the ceiling. They were pulled up to the ceiling when not in use.

The bottom, or backing, of the quilt was the first thing to be put on the frame. It was usually a large piece of unbleached muslin, sometimes dyed a pretty color (some quilters just used a sheet). It was stretched tightly and pinned to cloth strips that had been tacked over the length of the frames.

Next a "batting" or layer of cotton was placed over the muslin. The cotton had been carded to an even thickness. The top, the pretty part, was put carefully in place over the cotton.

The top was made of several "squares" or small pieces of material about 12" square that had some sort of design on them. The designs were patchwork, embroidered, cross-stitched or might be colored pieces sewn to a plain background. The squares were all sewn together, sometimes on the treadle sewing machine, but usually by hand.

With the top in place the ladies gathered around, sitting on cane-bottomed chairs and, with needle, thread and thimble, started stitching the layers together, slowly, surely, with a feeling no machine could match. The stitching was done amid talk that bordered on gossip (not gossip really, more like conversation of community affairs).

The stitches had to be done to a set pattern. Each had to be the same length and pulled to just the right tautness. When stitching was finished on the outer part the frames were unpinned and rolled up so that the inner part of the quilt could be reached. When the stitching was done the quilt was removed from the frame and a border was sewn around its edge.

The thing I remember most about quilting was the fun young boys could have. We would crawl under the quilt as they were working on it and we would pretend it was a big circus tent or a fluffy cloud. We would sometimes stand up and push our heads up into the softness of it only to get thumped with a thimble finger and told to get down lest we catch a needle in our heads. One lady disapproved of pets in the house and had a general dislike for dogs. For meanness we used to get right by her leg under the quilt and growl. She was usually the first one to leave.

The quilts would last for many years, most being handed down. Many are still in use today.

Hartmangruber-Bridwell vows repeated in garden setting

Honeymooning this week in Acapulco, Old Mexico, are Mr. and Mrs. Clifford A. Bridwell who were married Saturday evening in a formal garden wedding beside the pool on 77 Ranch, home of the bride's parents.

The bride, the former Miss Janice A. Hartmangruber, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louis J. Hartmangruber, is employed by Iowa Park Consolidated Independent School District at Bradford Elementary School. The groom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Robert D. Bridwell of Wichita Falls. The Rev. Johnnie W. Haney, Methodist minister, was the officiant for the double-ring ceremony which was performed before a brass archway featuring two white doves holding a large white satin bow with streamers, flanked by spiral candelabra decorated in English ivy and clouds of baby's breath. Interest in the setting was enhanced by bouquets of dusty rose mums, white daisies, baby's breath and English ivy floating on the pool bordered by white hurricane lanterns. The white-covered walkway to the archway was lined with hurricane lanterns draped with English ivy garlands.

Mrs. Bill Bates, pianist, and Mrs. Kris Miller, soloist, were the wedding musicians. Mrs. Bates played Bach's "Jesu, Joy of Man's Desiring" for the entrance of the mothers and grandmothers of the couple and accompanied Mrs. Miller for her solo presentation, "One Hand, One Heart". The bride and groom approached the altar area together to the strains of Beethoven's "Ode to Joy."

The bride chose a white chiffon gown over satin which cascaded into a chapel length train edged in Venice lace. The fitted bodice was framed in the lace which adorned the neckline and extended into points on the cuffs. Her illusion veil was attached to a small bouquet of stephanotis and baby's breath and drifted down onto the train of the gown.

Family sentiment characterized the bride's bouquet and accessories. The bouquet consisting of white roses, stephanotis, baby's breath and English ivy entwined with satin ribbons was copied from the bouquet that her mother carried in her wedding and topped the same white Bible that held her mother's bouquet. Further observing tradition, she wore her mother's gold locket and carried her wedding handkerchief.

Miss Sandra K. Hartmangruber, sister of the bride, was maid of honor and Miss Dede Bridwell, the groom's sister, was bridesmaid. They wore dusty rose Qiana gowns designed with full flowing sleeves, gathered bodices banded at the waistlines and long flowing skirts. They wore nosegays of roses and baby's breath in their hair and complemented their costumes by carrying distinctive bouquets formed of dusty rose and white roses, baby's breath, greenery and large pink satin bows.

Robert D. Bridwell attended his son as best man and Robert Randall Bridwell, his brother, was groomsmen. Serving as ushers were Larry Hartmangruber of Iowa Park, Carlton Reimers, Randy Matz, Memphis, Tenn. and Dave Rosenberg, Houston.

The bride was graduated from Notre Dame High School and from Midwestern State University with a bachelor of science degree in education. She is a member of Texas State Teachers Association, National Education Association, Council for Exceptional Children and Division for Children with Learning Disabilities. The groom was graduated from Wichita Falls High School, Midwestern State University with a B.A. degree and from Southern Methodist University School of Law.

The wedding reception was given by the bride's parents at the ranch. The tables were covered with white linen trimmed in batiste lace layered over a pleated flounce.

The cake table was highlighted with brass candelabra with an arrangement of white roses, daisies, baby's breath and English ivy. Smilax combined with daisies and baby's breath was draped from the candelabra around the cake and brass punch bowl. The white-rolled four-tiered cake was ornamented with fresh flowers between the column-separated tiers and a nosegay of white roses, stephanotis and baby's breath on the top tier.

An antique sterling silver bridal basket was presented to the bride and groom for use as a champagne bucket by the groom's uncle, Philip

FHA members hold watermelon party

The FHA members of Iowa Park High School held a watermelon party Thursday night at the park on West Highway to honor the freshmen and to enable them and the sophomore, junior and senior FHA members to get better acquainted.

Mrs. Lyman Cady and Miss Linda Ayers, FHA advisors, accompanied the group. Mrs. Thomas Johnson was a guest. Kathy Hines is president of the senior chapter.

Twenty-eight were present.

On honor roll

Kendra Edwards, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth D. Edwards, has been listed on the President's Honor Roll for the spring semester of Bethany Nazarene College, Bethany, Okla. according to a news release from Michael Crabtree, news bureau director.

To qualify for the honor roll, Miss Edwards completed 12 hours or more with a grade point of 4.00 during the past semester and is among seventy-nine students to receive the President's Honor Award.

Kendra is a 1975 graduate of Iowa Park High School where she was active in the A Cappella Choir, Tempos and National Honor Society.

Attend exercises Mr. and Mrs. Dewey Steed, Mrs. Elmer Singleton and Oscar Singleton attended graduation exercises for Debbie Singleton at Frank Phillips College of Nursing at Berger, August 20th.

Cathy Shiflet, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Robertson, former residents of Iowa Park and the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. W.G. Partney and Mrs. Ruth Robertson of Iowa Park, was one of the graduates. They will take their State Board examination in October.

James A. 'Doc' Estes Service for James A. 'Doc' Estes, 65, a former resident of Iowa Park and Wichita Falls, who died August 18 in Jacksonville, Ark. was Friday afternoon in Tanner-Aulds Funeral Home.

The Rev. Tom Campbell of Cumberland Presbyterian Church in Fort Worth, officiated and burial was in Highland Cemetery.

Pallbearers were W.D. Largin, Jess Stiles, Bobby Page, Jack Railsback, Don Alexander and Ramon Towery. Honorary pallbearers were members and past

Mrs. George Morath and Mrs. Robert Randall Bridwell registered guests. Houseparty members were Misses Patti Lodge, Diane Hartmangruber and Debbie Carver, Mmes. Larry Hartmangruber, Robert Wainwright, Carlton Reimers, Jerry Cotterly, John Wolf and Marveda Moyer.

Carla Wolf and Melissa Bridwell handed out rice bags.

The Pelican Restaurant was the scene of the rehearsal dinner given by the groom's parents. Antique candelabra and silver bowls holding white daisies and dusty rose flowers highlighted table decorations.

Special wedding guests included Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bridwell of Nocona, parents of the groom, Mrs. Henry T. Wolf and Mrs. Mike Hartmangruber of Iowa Park, grandmothers of the bride, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Landry from Freeport and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Randall Bridwell.

The couple will live in Wichita Falls.

Enrollment open in Girl Scouts

Registration forms are being distributed in the elementary schools this week and next week to girls interested in Girl Scouts, according to Mrs. E.B. Compton Jr. She has requested that men and women who are interested in the Girl Scouting program get in touch with her at 1603 Douglas.

Girl Scouting is an integral part of the community, according to Mrs. Compton who said that NorCent Council offers training and a full time professional staff to assist men and women to become adult volunteers.

Girl Scouting, which is the largest voluntary organization for girls in the world, is broken down into four grade levels: Brownies, 1-3; Junior, 4-6; Cadettes, 7-9; and Senior, 10-12.

Revival to commemorate church's 40th anniversary

Rev. Roger Deerinwater, pastor of Kamay Baptist Church, will be the evangelist for a week long revival at Mankins Baptist Church beginning Sunday. Church pastor Rev. Lewis Hill will lead the singing for the services which begin at 7:30 each evening.

The revival will conclude Sept. 5, with an all day service celebrating the fortieth anniversary of the church's organization. Former pastors and members have been invited to the service. A catered meal will be served at noon.

Rev. Bill McKee, a former pastor will bring the morning sermon and Rev. Edgar Jones will bring greetings from the Wichita-Archer-Clay Association.

Special music and congregational singing will fill the afternoon program. Mankins Baptist Church was organized Sept. 6, 1936, at a meeting in the school auditorium. District Missionary J.H. Riddle moderated the session which had been requested by a group led by Mrs. W.L. Richeson.

Charter members were Mr. and Mrs. W.H. Reed, Mr. and Mrs. R.B. Small, Mrs. Monroe Lewallen, Mrs. J.M. Huey, Mrs. M.B. Vines, D.L. Orms, Alice Richeson, Annie and Charles Small, Mrs. Richeson and Mrs. Jack Robertson.

Cooper Waters of Wichita Falls was called as pastor and was ordained by First Baptist Church in Wichita Falls. A building fund was started and at the request of Mrs. Richeson, church clerk, two lots in Mankins were given the church by the Mangold Estate.

The new group continued to meet in the school building, with Methodist and Baptist pastors preaching on alternate Sundays. Rev. Waters resigned in 1937 and Rev. T.J. DuBose was called as pastor.

In March 1938 a tornado destroyed the school building and the Methodist congregation voted to move to Holliday. The Baptists met in the home of a member until the school building was replaced.

Pastor DuBose was called into the service of the U.S. Army as a chaplain, some church members left, and the congregation dwindled in numbers to a handful of children and one adult in the school building for Sunday School.

Mr. and Mrs. W.F. Ammonett moved into the community and joined the group, bringing new hope. B.L. Parkinson of Wichita Falls volunteered his services as pastor, a revival and Vacation Bible School were held, resulting in 21 additions.

In nearby Bowman Community, the Evangelical United Brethren Church had voted to move their membership to Wichita Falls and sold the building and land to Louis Sikes.

The building had been erected in 1897 on what is now Lake Wichita. In 1901, the rising waters of the new lake forced the removal of the building to a site near the present Bowman Community Building. A historical marker was erected at the site by Walter Ford in 1969.

Sikes offered the building free to the Mankins Baptists, if they would move it. Rancher Jack Parkey paid to have it moved to the lots at Mankins.

Pastor Parkinson and the men of the church repaired the building and the church dedicated it April 20, 1941. It was the first churchhouse in the village. Additions of Sunday School rooms and other improvements have been made from time to time.

Ministers who have served the church since 1941 include George W. Lawler (1942-46); Paul Stohler (1946-47); Young Tucker (1947-50); Murle Rogers (1950-52); George W. McCulley (1953); William A. McKee (1954-58); Scott P. Morgan (1958-63); Paul H. Trammell (1963-65); Adam Klein (1965); B.A. Boyd (1966-70); Truman Gillem (1970-72); Bennie Ezzell (1972-73); Earnest Boswell (1973-74); F. Lewis Hill (1974.)

Plans taking shape for SAFB birthday

A banquet featuring top level Air Force people will be one of the highlights of the 35th anniversary observance of Sheppard Air Force Base Sept. 17.

Secretary of the Air Force Thomas C. Reed will be the featured speaker and the Strolling Strings, world-famous Air Force musicians, are to provide music during the dinner.

Special guests will be the Thunderbird pilots, an aerial demonstration team who will perform during the open house Sept. 18. That open house will be at Sheppard AFB from 1 to 5 p.m. and the public is invited.

Former commanders of Sheppard Technical Training Center are also to be special guests. The six former commanders who have indicated they will attend are Colonel Samuel C. Gurney, Major Generals Thomas E. Moore; Robert M. Stillman; John M. McNabb; Jerry D. Page and Robert L. Petit.

A number of others who commanded major organizations at the base are also expected to attend.

Included in that group are Colonels Charles W. Johnstone, Harold Layhee, Carl L. Brunson and Dalene E. Bailey, former vice commanders of Sheppard Technical Training Center; Major General Frank M. Madsen Jr. and Colonel George Henry, former commanders of the School of Applied Aerospace Sciences; Brigadier General Geoffrey P. Wiedeman, commander of

REV. DEERINWATER

Deacons who have been ordained by the church include: Carl Kent, Homer Dalton, E.J. Ashbrook, J.W. Birdwell, R.L. McCalip, W.R. Cox, T. Goodwin, A.M. SADBERRY, R.A. Debler, J.H. Rogers and S.Y. Turner. E.H. Worthan united with the church in 1942 as a deacon and has remained as senior deacon since then.

Mankins Church is a full time church with a membership roll of about 50. The members are drawn from the Lake Kickapoo area, Holliday and the surrounding village.

Municipal Court Records

Carlos Smith, no operators license, $25.

Lions view film slides

Recreation facilities in and around Iowa Park were the subject of a program Tuesday at the Noon Lions Club meeting.

A collection of film slides was shown by John Sibley, chairman of the new city's Park Board, who is preparing the program for his group's study and presentation to organizations.

During the club's business session, it was decided to again sponsor the soft drink stand at the Sept. 25 Whoop-Do, but to not participate in a fair in Wichita Falls in October.

with the Air Force's Ballistic Missile Division.

Reed joined the Department of Defense as an Assistant to the Secretary and Deputy Secretary of Defense in 1973. He was appointed Director of Telecommunications and Command and Control Systems in February 1974.

The Strolling Strings provide music that completely surrounds the listener with memorable melodies from all over the world. They draw from a repertoire of diversified musical styles. Their arrangements are all written especially for the organization by artists in the ensemble, or by members of the composing and arranging staff of the United States Air Force Band.

The strings are composed of violins, violas, cello, bass and accordion. The group was organized in 1954 and were the first to present their type of American audiences.

Nancy Miller is graduated Nancy Jo Miller of Iowa Park has graduated magna cum laude from Baylor University.

Miss Miller, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Glen R. Miller of Iowa Park, received a bachelor of science degree in mechanical engineering from Cornell University, graduating first in his class in 1956.

As an undergraduate, he was enrolled in Cornell's Air Force Reserve Officer Training Corps program and was the highest ranking officer, cadet colonel, during his senior year. He was designated a distinguished military graduate and commissioned as a second lieutenant in the Air Force upon graduation.

He served with the Air Force from November 1956 to 1959 as technical project officer for the Minuteman Re-Entry Vehicle System

United Way steering committee chairman says

Citizens 'rarin' to go'

Iowa Park may have been the latest city to join forces with Wichita Falls and Burkburnett in an areawide United Way organization, but that hasn't lessened the enthusiasm of its citizens.

Steering Committee Chairman Bill Steger said, in announcing the first campaign cabinet meeting for Thursday at 2 p.m. in the Iowa Park Texas Electric Reddy Room. "Our citizens are rarin' to go!"

"With the addition of our city to the United Way of the Greater Wichita Falls area, Iowa Park citizens will be able to more actively participate—both during the area campaign and in direct work through the local organizational set up," Steger said.

Iowa Park joined forces in June with Burkburnett and Wichita Falls to officially increase the area covered by the United Way organization.

Steger explained that membership in the organization "gives our citizens the ability to identify community needs and recommend to the Executive Committee effective methods the United Way can provide funds and services essential to the people of Iowa Park.

Steger, tax assessor/collector for Iowa Park schools, holds the honor of being the first chairman for the Iowa Park United Way steering committee. A member of the Chamber of Commerce and Lions Club, Steger was a member of the Iowa Park committee that raised funds to build the football stadium, thus eliminating the necessity of a local bond issue. Steger, who came to Iowa Park from Pampa 10 years ago, is a charter member of the Iowa Park United Way organization.

Other members of the steering committee are Max Henderson, Miss Ethyle Kidwell, Mrs. Bill Veal, Bill Bates, Darrell Ratcliff and J.B. Barbour.

To become a member of the new three-city United Way organization, Iowa Park citizens accepted the basic responsibilities to (1) - Evaluate existing community services and programs (2) - Identify additional community needs and (3) - Advise the Executive committee as to how it can more effectively provide essential services to Iowa Park citizens with funds available for that purpose.

The committee is also asked to review line-by-line budget requests submitted to the United Way by agencies or organizations to determine the validity of the budget request and to ascertain if the request complies with the requirement guidelines set up by the United Way prior to its final submission to the budget committee for official approval.

Mercer's recipe for chili winner

The Iowa Park Muleskinners held their intra-club chili cookoff Tuesday at Lake Kickapoo.

Members of the organization banded together about a year for the purpose of fellowship, community service and entering chili cooking contests.

Bud Mercer's recipe was judged the best of 15 entries entered by members, and the recipe will be used during the coming year in all contests and public feeds where chili is served.

Besides a ribbon, members gave him a week's stay in Chillicothe. Second prize, two weeks in Chillicothe, went to H.M. Nipper.

Judges of the entries were Dr. Aubrey Cox, Ralph Knight, Jim Richardson and Aubrey Vordenbaum, all of Wichita Falls.

MR. AND MRS. EARL DODGE

Couple to observe golden anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Dodge of Iowa Park will be honored with a public reception Sunday in observance of their 50th wedding anniversary.

The reception is slated from 2-4 p.m. Sunday at the couple's home at 601 W. Washington.

The party will be hosted by the couple's son and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. David Thompson of Argyle and Mr. and Mrs. David Wayne Dodge of Dallas.

Hostesses from Iowa Park include Mmes. Carl Hecker, Raydean Mattis, Ray Fortner, E.F. Evans, A.O. Beall, Glen Garrett, O.R. Moore and Ralph Beall.

Sunday will mark the first formal celebration of the couple's wedding anniversary.

Mr. and Mrs. Dodge were married Aug. 20, 1926, in the county courthouse in Wichita Falls.

The honeymoon consisted a trip to see the groom's parents at Wilson, Okla., then a sightseeing tour of other parts of Oklahoma in their four-cylinder 1926 Chrysler roadster.

The early years of the Dodge's married life was a succession of moves as they followed the oil field as it advanced across North Texas.

Dodge, a native of Wichita Kan., was called from his farm boss job to serve in the Army during World War I in France before the couple married.

It was not until 1935 that Mr. and Mrs. Dodge finally found a place to call home. They have been making their home there at 601 W. Washington ever since.

Citing the many moves they made during the early years of their marriage, Dodge added, "When I came here I said I hope I don't have to move again. And I didn't."

Gazing through a window of their comfortable home, the sight triggered Dodge's memory.

A fence encircling their home had been erected to keep out stray milk cows. "Everybody had a milk cow back then," Dodge explained.

Mrs. Dodge, a native of Decatur, said their home was in the midst of a pasture back in 1935, a time in Iowa Park history when just about any home here could be purchased for $4,000.

While Dodge has his World War I European stories to recite, Mrs. Dodge had a unique part in America's efforts to survive World War II.

Dismissing any claim to be an early women's liberator, Mrs. Dodge was an auto mechanic. She could tackle almost any task accomplished by her male peers.

"Well, there weren't any men around then," was her reply about why she endeavored such an occupation.

Otherwise, her life has been that of a housewife, an occupation she is proud to claim. "Oh, I just love it," she said.

The Dodes are happily retired now. Dodge retired in 1960 after 18 years with Shell Oil Co.

Asked the secret to the success of their marriage, Dodge was quick to reply, "Love, and nothing but ... Don't marry a woman unless you think you can't live without her."

When posed with the same question, Mrs. Dodge smiled and said she couldn't have put it any better.

Cook of the Week

Alexandre Dumas said "Appetite aroused, hunger or no hunger, by a succulent dish appearing at the right moment, illustrating the proverb that hunger comes from eating". Whether we agree with him that hunger comes from eating, we are certain to agree after reading Mrs. W.R. Sharpe's recipes that they whet the appetites.

Two of her recipes are for cakes which attest that cakes are a symbol of home life, and the Pound Cake, in some form, has been a symbol of home life in America dating back to pioneer days. Yet, it seems to get more popular as the years go by.

Mrs. Sharpe and her family have lived in Iowa Park eight and a half years. A graduate of West Lamar High School near Paris, Texas, she received a B.S. degree in elementary education from East Texas State University and taught school at Seguin before her marriage. Her husband was a pilot in the U.S. Air Force and the family lived in Alabama, New Mexico, Nevada and Germany before he was assigned to Sheppard AFB where he served for six years before his retirement.

The Sharpes attend the Church of Christ. They have two children, Kristen, a second grader and Michael, a high school freshman. Mr. Sharpe is attending Midwestern State University where he is majoring in geology. He and Michael are rock enthusiasts and their enthusiasm has sort of rubbed off on Mrs. Sharpe. However, her main hobbies are handcraft and collecting recipes. She has done substitute teaching in the elementary schools here.

"I'm trying to use less electricity this summer, so why is my bill still higher?"

UNDERSTANDING YOUR ELECTRIC BILL

We know your electric bill is probably higher this summer - a lot higher - than it was last year. Even though you're making an honest effort to conserve electricity by doing things like turning lights off, raising your air conditioning thermostat and checking filters regularly.

A higher electric bill isn't much of a reward for that kind of effort. But, we want you to understand the reasons for it, and why it's important to continue using electric energy wisely.

The main reason for higher bills is that it's costing more to make electricity. Our rates had to be increased early this year.

On top of that, fuel costs have gone up - although Texas Electric has been able to keep these increases to a minimum.

We'll continue doing everything we can to keep increases in your electric bills as low as possible. But it's just as important that you keep conserving electricity as much as you can.

For a free copy of our newest booklet on how to save electricity, give us a call. Or request one on the comment portion of your bill.

Merchants win Wichita

Iowa Park Merchants made history at the Wichita Falls Invitational Slow-Pitch Softball Tournament last weekend by shaking off an early loss to come back and win the tourney via the loser's bracket.

It was an unprecedented win for the Merchants, who entertained the fans even further by blanking the much-acclaimed Baggett-Bridwell squad.

The tournament win marked the seventh consecutive win for the Merchants this summer.

The Merchants also placed seven players on the tournament's all-star team including Carmen Lozipone, Bruce Haile, J.W. Young, Daryl Frazier, Gary Dorman, Wayne Walker and Larry Dorman.

During the course of their weekend efforts in Wichita Falls, homers were smashed by Dorman, John Huff and two homers by Young.

Prospects of winning the tournament seemed slim for the Merchants following their loss on their first outing.

But the Merchants began to roll in the loser's bracket and they found themselves on the winner's side of the scoreboard for the next eight games.

In the first game of the finals the Merchants pulled off the shutout against Baggett-Bridwell, 11-0.

In the last game of the finals it was the Merchants vs. Baggett-Bridwell again. Iowa Park ignited with a two-run lead in the first inning, but by the bottom of the fifth the Wichitans had jumped out front 9-7.

Those would be the only runs of the evening for the Wichitans, as the Merchants put up for more runs in the sixth and three more in the seventh to defeat the Wichitans 14-9 for the title.

Diversion fishing should be great

An annual fishery report released by the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department indicates Lake Diversion has maintained a good population of largemouth bass, crappie, catfish, walleye and white bass.

"This lake has maintained a good sport fish population over a 50 year period. Very few lakes in Texas can make a similar claim," according to Joe Kraai, District I-A management supervisor.

"Fishermen who fish the brushy shorelines and coves of the lake during early morning and late evening hours may be in for a surprise at the quality bass fishing that is available," the report states.

Game Warden and Wild Horse Bays each has approximately 20 pounds of bass per acre.

With outstanding natural reproduction, most areas average 10 pounds of legal size bass per acre.

"Several areas should provide good crappie fishing during the spawning season," according to the report.

Prime crappie fishing can be found along the rip rap facing the dam, all areas of dense brush in coves and shallow shorelines and above the Big Wichita River channel.

Kraai's report suggests trotlines as the best method of catching the good supply of channel and flathead catfish.

School budget approved

The 1976-77 budget for Holliday Independent School District was approved Monday night by trustees meeting in a called session. The budget, broken down into eight major expenditure categories, totals $1,851,581. Largest of the major expenditure headings falls under construction which totals $1,253,900. This reflects the construction and renovation project bond issue passed by voters in April. Second largest categorical expense is instruction totaling $229,390. Other categories include library, $11,900; principals, $40,352; transportation, $47,740; co-curricular, $55,904; administration, $82,565; and maintenance, $59,830.

Maintenance tax for the fiscal year will be $1.50 per $100 valuation. Debt service tax, approved by voters when the bond issue was passed, will be an additional 45-cents per $100 valuation. The board also voted to hire Mary Ellen Elliott as a new kindergarten teacher. Although the position has not been filled, the board approved hiring of a teachers aide to assist high school principal Bill Crabbs. The aide also will be assigned to help with cafeteria administration and in girls physical education. Trustees reviewed the dress code and voted to amend the present document to allow students to wear neck medallions and necklaces. The remainder of the dress code covering hair, clothes, dances and miscellaneous will remain the same. The board approved the "Exhibit B" free lunch plan, the same plan it operated under last year.

Taxes fail to attract visitors to city meeting

Municipal ad valorem taxes didn't attract any visitors to Tuesday night's Holliday City Council meeting, but baseball and street paving prompted two persons to attend.

Tuesday night's meeting had been designated as the session for the council to sit as the tax equalization board, but no property owners confronted the council concerning values placed on their property.

However, J.B. Burke was there wanting to know procedures necessary to have Easy Street paved.

Mayor Leo Chappell lathered the question to Alderman Fred Ford Maier, who told Burke, "The city didn't make an effort to do any paving this year, mainly for lack of enthusiasm and lack of funds."

"Mostly, lack of funds," Alderman Red Denney added.

Maier explained the normal procedure followed in a paving program which is undertaken through cooperation with Archer County.

Chappell acknowledged Easy Street needs paving. "Of course, there are other streets just like it," he said. The council agreed to place Easy Street on a priority list for next spring's paving project.

Chappell added, "We can't promise anything right now because we're broke."

Rodney Hodgkins approached the council with maps showing land at Camp Stonewall Jackson the Little League wishes to assume for construction of new baseball diamonds.

It was Hodgkin's second visit to city hall for that purpose.

Although a legal description to formalize the agreement is yet to be approved, it was the consensus of council members the request would be approved. An ordinance establishing new water rates adopted earlier in August was read and approved by the council.

Chappell informed the council that John Soho, municipal land fill employe, had resigned. Water Supt. Hershel Johnson is opening and closing the dump ground for regular operations, Chappell said.

Danny Teafatiller was re-hired by the council at $525 a month. Teafatiller had resigned but agreed to come back to work for the city at a higher wage than he had previously received.

There was talk of a special council session next week to discuss and possibly interview a prospective city judge.

The council voted to participate in a state program to replace street signs. A survey conducted in Holliday indicated the city needs 87 new signs.

Firemen plan auction

Holliday Volunteer Fire Department will hold an auction sale at 9:30 a.m. Sept. 18 in an effort to raise money to purchase a new fire truck.

Donations to the sale are being sought, said Melvin Bills, fire marshal. "The goal of the fire department is to purchase a new fire truck to replace our old 1948 truck," Bills said. "The firemen will pick up any items that have been donated.

"Any item will do—old furniture, dishes, junk, hay, cattle, farm equipment or any left over garage sale items," Bills said.

John Choate, an auctioneer, has volunteered his services, Bills said.

Bills said persons with donations or wanting additional information could call the following telephone numbers in Holliday: 586-1368, 586-1418, 586-1313, 586-1332 or 586-1116.

Eagles look to Olney for Friday scrimmage

Holliday Eagles will hold a trial run against Olney Friday night in preparation for regular season play set to begin Sept. 3.

The Eagles will scrimmage Olney's Cubs in Olney at 6:30 p.m. Friday, said Don Lucy, head coach here.

Freshmen, junior varsity and varsity will scrimmage.

On last week's scrimmage against Knox City, Lucy said the Eagles looked fair, but that the team would be working toward additional improvements in the coming week before opening against Nocona.

Carver heads Booster Club

Bill Carver was elected Tuesday night as president of the Holliday Booster Club.

Jimmy Walker was elected vice president, and Alice Carver was chosen secretary-treasurer.

Mrs. Carver reported 21 persons attended the meeting. She said the organization, which supports all athletics in Holliday, is in search of new members.

Anyone can become a member, and they need not have children involved in sports, Mrs. Carver said.

She said the club would adopt a definite project when it meets again at 8 p.m. Tuesday.

Trophy playday slated Saturday

Holliday Riding Club will sponsor a trophy playday Saturday at the club's arena at Camp Stonewall Jackson located south of Holliday on the Archer City Highway.

Registration will be at 5 p.m. Saturday, and events will begin at 6 p.m.

MRS. JAMES BERRY JACKSON

Hawley-Jackson wedding vows recited

The First Christian Church in Wichita Falls was the setting Saturday afternoon for the wedding ceremony uniting in marriage Miss Susan Gayle Hawley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Thomas Hawley of Wichita Falls, and James Berry Jackson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Delmer Jackson of Eldorado, Texas.

Rev. John Muir, church pastor, was the officiant for exchange of vows.

The altar decorations featured arrangements of white Fuji mums and yellow gladioli placed on the baptistry ledge and two multi-branched candelabra angled toward a large brass cross behind the baptistry to spotlight it in the nuptial setting.

Brent Stratton, organist and vocalist, Mrs. C.L. Vaughan, soloist, and the Kirk Bell Ringers presented a program of wedding selections. The organ prelude included "Regadon", Campa; "Flute Solo", Arne; "Andante", Bach; "Jesu, Joy of Man's Desiring", Bach. The Kirk Bell Ringers, a musical group in which the bride was an active participant, played "Aria" by Handel and "Grazioso" by Telemann.

The bridal party entered the church to "Wedding Processional and Air" by Bach presented by both the organist and Mrs. Vaughan, who had sung "The Wedding Song" as a pre-nuptial solo. The organist sang "The Lord's Prayer" at the close of the ceremony and concluded his offerings with the recessional "Trumpet Tune and Air" by Clarke.

Given in marriage by both parents, the bride was escorted by her father. She was attired in a formal gown of white organza and beaded Venice lace. The bodice was defined with a bib yoke, long full sleeves gathered at the wrists with lace ruffles. The lace-edged chapel train was attached at the waist. Her elbow length illusion veil was draped from a Venice lace caplet and she carried a bouquet of white Fuji mums and roses.

Miss Karla Keese of Lamesa, cousin of the bride, was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Miss Nancy Brookshire, Miss Debbie Huffman and Mrs. Richard Bellamy, all of Wichita Falls.

They wore identical long dresses created of sleeveless yellow sheer mist bodices and waistline cummerbunds and skirts of yellow sheer mist flocked with yellow and white flowers. They carried white daisy nosegays.

Stephanie Volkerding and Shelly Sandel of Farmington, N.M., cousins of the bride, were flower girls and distributed the rice bags at the reception. They were attired in white flocked sheer mist frocks and carried white baskets filled with yellow daisies.

The groom wore an all-white Newport tuxedo. The groomsmen and ushers wore yellow Windsor jackets and shirts with black trousers and the fathers wore black Continental suits with yellow shirts.

Jimmy Dendy of Hobbs, N.M. was best man. Groomsmen were Jeff Head and Tom Trimble of Eldorado and Damon Compton of Balmorhea. Those who served as ushers were Tommy and Bobby Hawley, brothers of the bride, and Jerry Jackson, brother of the groom.

The bride and groom are both students at Angelo State University. She was graduated from Holliday High School and he was graduated from high school at Hobbs, N.M. At the university, she is a member and president-elect of the Council for Exceptional Children. The groom is a member of Psi Chi and American Chemistry Society. Both are members of United Campus Ministries and the Judas Program.

The bride's parents were hosts for the reception held in the Fellowship hall of the church.

The featured decorations on the bride's table covered with white linen edged with crocheted lace were a silver garland filled with daisies for the centerpieces, the bride's cake and crystal punch service. The three-tiered white cake was heavily decorated with rope scrolls and yellow posies with contrasting green leaves. The top tier was crusted by the traditional bride and groom standing before double rings and a cross.

Yellow satin covered the groom's table holding the double rings obscuring cake decorated with shaded grapes, and a brass candlestick in a song of butterflies and butterflies.

The bride's bouquet consisted floral decoration on the table that held the bride's book and faithless pen.

Reception assistants were Mmes. H.T. Noll, Allen Brookshire, Louie Huffman, Michael Corley, Troy Bachman, Misses Mary Kocks, Jean Mecom, Jeannie Stone, Carmen Rangle and Terri Davis.

The rehearsal dinner was hosted by the groom's parents at Underwood's Crystal Room.

Leaving for a wedding trip that will terminate at San Angelo where the couple will live, the bride wore a white knit dress accented with a yellow scarf. Grandparents of the bride and groom attending the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. E.F. Hawley of Austin, Mrs. Ocie Mae Maynard of Abilene, Mr. and Mrs. J.W. Shelton and Mrs. Jimmie Simmons of Baird.
