Hawks are district champions

First basketball title since 1956; bi-district opponent to be named

The Iowa Park Hawk basketball team wasn't given much of a chance to finish the tough Dist. 3-AAAA schedule far from the cellar.

But here they are... the champions. And it's been since 1956, when they were in Class A, that the Hawks have deposited a district basketball championship trophy in the school's display case.

The Hawks did it by defeating Vernon 63-54 Friday night in a playoff. Iowa Park had won the first half of the conference schedule without a loss. Vernon reached the playoff by virtue of finishing in a three-way tie with Mineral Wells and Hirsch, and winning a flip off with coins.

Iowa Park will now face the winner of Dist. 4-AAAA, but who that will be won't be decided until tonight. Cleburne and Everman will meet this evening for the championship.

Out in West Texas, Canyon defeated Borger and Snyder beat Andrews, both games going into overtimes, for districts one and two respectively. Those two will play Monday or Tuesday in that bi-district tilt.

According to University Interscholastic League rules, the regional champion must be decided either Mar. 13 or 14. And that winner advances to the state tournament.

A delegation of Iowa Park school personnel is to meet this evening in Fort Worth with the winner of the Everman and Cleburne game to set a time and place for the bi-district tilt.

The basketball championship is only the second district athletic team title for Iowa Park since the school was moved up in classification from AA. The other title was in baseball, when the Hawks advanced all the way to the state tournament in the spring of 1975.

BEAT LIONS

The Hawks played almost errorless ball against Vernon's Lions to cop the title.

They committed only two turnovers in the second half, despite Vernon's full court press. And, unlike most of their second half schedule games, they hit their free shots 21 of 31, which made the big difference in the score. Vernon outscored Iowa Park from the floor, canning 25 field goals to the Hawks' 21.

Coach Earnie Reusch said he felt the big difference in the play of the Hawks, when compared with their 1-4 second half play, was that they "had their heads in the game."

When they jumped to an 8-0 lead in the first quarter, Reusch said he could tell they were thinking only about the game at hand.

The Hawks led 13-8 at the end of the first period, 26-22 at halftime, and 37-32 as they went into the final frame.

Vernon tightened the score to within four points with less than 2:30 remaining in the game, 52-48. But the Hawks played their regular control game, forcing Vernon to commit fouls, and sank the charity shots when they got them.

Iowa Park dominated the backboards, both offensively and defensively. At times, they would take as many as three or four shots under their own basket, finally sinking the ball.

Junior center Steve Page, tallest of the Hawks at 6-7, was the major controller of the boards. He had four field goals and was three-for-three at the foul line for 11 points.

Steve Smith, another junior, didn't have one of his better nights at the foul line, converting only 11 of 18 attempts. But he connected on five field goals for 21 points, and had a big hand in controlling the boards.

Dan Muckensturm, a senior, turned in his biggest scoring game of the season. He sank six field goals and a pair of free shots to finish with 14 points.

Rounding out the scoring, Ken Thomason had nine and Mark Kirkham eight.

Vernon was able to sink only four of the eight free shots the Lions were offered.

"I'm still in a state of shock," said Vernon coach Geary Coker. "I really didn't think there was any way we could lose tonight. Maybe that was the problem."

Vernon had defeated the Hawks in

IT RAINED!

Four inches fall during week

Area farmers, as well as the bankers who loaned them the money to plant this year's wheat crop, were elated with the rainfall which soaked fields over the weekend.

Four inches of rain were measured in a five-day period by the Texas Experiment Station. Friday and Saturday, 3.25 inches were recorded, and another three-quarters of an inch fell Tuesday.

Farmers had indicated during the previous week that the wheat would begin reaching a serious state very soon, if moisture didn't arrive.

And it did, in the form of a slow, soaking fall at first and then turning into a run-off rain which helped stock tanks and lakes.

However, neither Buffalo nor Iowa Park lakes measured any more than fell on the lakes.

A check Monday failed to register any more than a third of a foot rise on either lake, according to Steve Morath, city administrator.

It was reported, however, that Lake Diversion went over its spillway during the weekend. And Kickapoo and Arrowhead lakes were up as much as a foot, and rising.

No flooding was reported in Iowa Park, but several residents were becoming alarmed at water standing in their streets before the rains began to reside.

The week's rain brought Iowa Park's total to 4.57 inches for the year, well ahead of the 1.89 measured for the same time in 1980, according to Experiment Station records.

City election attracts 7; four file for trustee race

As the deadline to file for a place on the April 4 city council election ballot drew to a close, candidates started popping up from everywhere.

A week before the deadline, only one candidate had filed for the three alderman seats available. Then,

City, school meetings set

Both the city council and school board face light agendas for their regular meetings next week.

The city meeting is to begin at 7 p.m. Monday in council chambers. Aldermen will consider authorization of final approval of the police station expansion work, and assign April 4 election ballots to precincts.

Following the meeting, council members will sit as the board of adjustments to hold a public hearing for an appeal for a variance from minimum lot size requirements for lot 11-B at Jackson and Clara.

School trustees will appoint a board of equalization, consider field trips for biology and art students, discuss a

A Wichita Falls firm was awarded the bid to erect a pre-cast concrete physical education gymnasium for Bradford Elementary, during a called meeting of the school board Monday.

The bid of $45,158 was accepted over two other bidders, because it was lower than one and time specified for completion by another bidder.

However, acceptance of the bid rests on bids which will be opened

Tuesday for a general contractor. The board reserved the right to reject the concrete building bid if it fails to accept one of the bids next week.

Once the bid is accepted, Reynolds agreed to have the site improved and structure erected within 91 days. Then the general contractor is to do the completion work.

Bids for the concrete structure were opened last week, but decision was withheld until this week while a study of the proposals was made.

Trustees decided to take no action on a proposal to drop auto body and initiate a class in welding in the high school vocational curriculum.

Because of the school's declining enrollment, one of the vocational courses will by necessity be dropped in a year or more, Supt. Harold Cowley said. In that case, it would be better to drop auto body, when the time comes, and not have a large investment in the new course and have to drop it.

Board members took no action on a proposal to join the Texas Association of School Boards, making a $200 contribution which would be used in a major legal case in the future concerning schools of the state.

A list of books submitted by the local textbook committee was approved.

Trustees agreed to hold their regular second-Tuesday meeting next week at 7:30 p.m., and then consider personnel contracts exclusively in a called meeting next Thursday.

4-way stop at FM 369

A major change will be noticed beginning today for motorists using the old highway between Iowa Park and Wichita Falls.

The intersection of the old highway and FM 369 will become a four-way stop as of 1:30 this afternoon, according to a highway department spokesman.

Ample warning signals have been installed, including a yellow flashing warning sign 1,000 feet before the intersection, large red flashing beacons both at the sides and overhead at the intersection, as well as the paving being painted.

The intersection has long been a major problem for motorists. Accidents are frequent there, resulting in heavy damage, injuries, and even numerous fatalities.

A history of accidents and problems at the intersection meets all the criteria for a four-way stop designation, the spokesman said. Additionally, residents of the Pleasant Valley community requested the change.

Tool thefts are common

Three thefts and one case of criminal mischief were reported during the past week to the Iowa Park Police Department.

Gordon Parkey said he left his pickup overnight Sunday on his land near Texas and Bell roads, and someone got into the cab and removed $293 worth of property.

Tools were taken in two other thefts.

Gary Crawford said yesterday more than $300 worth of tools were taken from his pickup parked overnight at 810 N. Yosemite.

And someone reportedly walked out of Paul's Stop and Shop during business hours Friday with two boxes holding tools, as well as two watches. Total loss was set at $210.

Sometime Thursday night a window was reported broken on the south side of Kidwell Elementary school building.

another filed the first of the week.

Yesterday, with the deadline set for 5 p.m., five more entered the race.

Incumbents George Hammonds and Bill Gilmore were the first to file. Bud Adams, the third office holder, had said he would not seek re-election.

Wednesday's filings included Charlie Lee, Michael J. Sargent, Harold Phillips, Herman Mahler and police Jim Voyles.

The three posts will be decided on an at-large basis, with the top three vote-getters to be named winners.

FOUR SCHOOL CANDIDATES

Jerald Brown is the only incumbent seeking re-election to the school board. Trustee Delbert Catlin, the dean of the board, chose not to run for another term.

Three other candidates have filed for the school race. They include Bob Goodknight, Rex Wells and former local school teacher Tom Venhaus.

Like the city election, school trustees are voted on at-large.

Drawings for places on the school ballot will be held at 9:30 this morning, and at 5 this afternoon for the city ballot.

Absentee voting in both elections will commence Mar. 16 and continue through Mar. 31.

Singletary, Obermier vows recited in Wichita Falls

Miss Kay Dion Singletary, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H.W. Singletary, became the bride of Willie Frank Obermier Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. W.F. Obermier of Lafayette, La. and the late Mrs. Anita Obermier, Saturday evening.

The double-ring ceremony was performed in the L.T. Burns chapel in Wichita Falls in a setting dominated by two arrangements of blue and white silk roses and carnations intermingled with baby's breath, and candelabra. Gil Peters, minister of the Church of Christ at Holliday, was the officiant.

Mrs. Julie Bell, organist, provided music for the wedding, playing "Wedding Song" for a prelude selection and "What a Change You've Made in My Life" during the ceremony. Her offerings also included the traditional marches.

The bride was given in marriage for both parents by her father who escorted her to the altar. Her bridal gown with its nostalgic look was fashioned of white Chantilly lace over taffeta. The tight bodice featured a sabrina neckline showered with pearls and long sleeves closed at the wrists with taffeta-covered buttons and loops. The hooped skirt was formed of multiple ruffles starting from beneath a wide ruffle below the waistline falling to the floor and swirling into a chapel train.

The bride's two tiered illusion veil, the "something borrowed" tradition was secured to a coil of lace. Her silk bouquet composed of white roses, blue carnations, white miniature orchids was intermingled with fresh gypsophila. She wore a strand of her mother's baby pearls for "something old", chose the garter and her wedding gown for the "something blue" and "something new" accessories and wore the sixpence in her shoe.

The bridal attendants were attired in light blue Qiana gowns designed with bodices overlaid with matching sheer, V-necks, split elbow sleeves, elasticized waistlines circled with self-belts terminating in bows with rosebud-accented ties. They carried nosegays of blue and white silk carnations and baby's breath.

Miss Carla Nipper served as maid of honor and Miss Gari Lynn Robinson took part in the wedding as bridesmaid.

Miss Misti Walden of Bryson, cousin of the bride, carried a white wicker basket filled with the same flowers in the attendant's nosegays in her role as flower girl. She was clad in a light blue double knit frock patterned with a round neckline, a bertha-type blue lace collar, and gathered skirt with a hemline flounce. She wore blue silk rosebuds in her hair.

Tim Thomas of Wichita Falls, the groom's cousin, and Russell Walden of Bryson, the bride's cousin, served as ring bearers and candlelighters and ushered grandmothers of the bride and groom to their seats.

The groom wore a western cut ivory tuxedo with a pleated ruffled shirt and string tie, and for a boutonniere he wore a blue silk rosebud touched with baby's breath. He was attended by Mike Kajs as best man and Ricky Harbour as groomsman, who ushered mothers to their seats. All male participants in the wedding wore ivory tuxedos.

The new Mrs. Obermier was graduated from Iowa Park High School where she was a member of National Honor Society, F.F.A. and varsity volleyball team. She attended Midwestern State University and is employed by Streich's Leasing. The groom, who works as a land surveyor for Biggs & Mathews, consulting engineers, was graduated from Henrietta High School and attended MSU.

Following the wedding, guests went to the Silver Square in Parker Square for the reception hosted by the bride's parents.

The refreshment table, covered with white moire taffeta, was appointed with a bouquet of light blue silk roses and carnations, a silver punch service and cake, made by a close friend, Mrs. Loyd Toft, as a wedding gift to the couple.

The three-tiered confection was decorated in a ruffled roses theme featuring pale blue and darker blue frosting roses set in ruffles. Two sets of iridescent pillars accented with iridescent doves and bells enhanced the beauty of the cake. The top adornment was a cluster of white satin wedding bells nestled in tulles and orange blossoms.

Miss Tanya Jones and Miss Becky

Walden served refreshments during the reception. Members of the houseparty were Mrs. Steve Singletary, Miss Jan Cook, Mrs. Charles Brieck and Mrs. Eddie Jones.

Miss Lori Thomas directed signatures of the wedding guests at the chapel and reception setting at a table laid with white moire taffeta. It was appointed with a satin basket holding the bride's bouquet and a blue candle in a silver holder.

Before the couple departed for Quartz Mountain on their wedding trip, the bride tossed a bouquet of fresh blue and white carnations, and the groom tossed her garter. The new Mrs. Obermier traveled in a two-piece ivory crepe dress trimmed in light blue piping. They will live in Wichita Falls.

The groom hosted the rehearsal dinner at K-Bob's Steak House in Wichita Falls.

For the wedding the bride's mother wore a cranberry crepe dress designed with stand-up collar, ruffled sleeves and front skirt. The groom's mother wore a lavender crepe dress featuring a smart overlapped split skirt. They complemented their dresses with white silk carnation corsages.

Grandparents of the couple were special wedding guests. These were Mr. and Mrs. J.D. Walden of Bryson, Mr. and Mrs. T.J. Singletary of Lovington, N.M., Mrs. Laura Gill and Mrs. Gertrude Obermier, both of Henrietta.

Other out-of-town relatives and guests included Mr. and Mrs. Steve Singletary, Mr. and Mrs. John D. Walden Jr. of Bryson, Mr. and Mrs. Bob White of Garland, Mr. and Mrs. L.R. Muhlinghouse; Misses Lisa Muhlinghouse and Tammy Greenfield of Azle, Miss Karen Arrington and Miss Tanya Jones of Abilene.

Cook of the Week

There are many versatile foods in the world and cheese definitely falls into that category. Because of the many kinds and flavors, it enhances the taste appeal and eye appeal of many dishes. This fact was brought home to us this week through Ja Nelle (Mrs. Lynn) Savage's recipes which call for the use of sharp Cheddar, Parmesan, Velveeta and American cheeses.

Cheese making was the earliest manner of preserving milk and soon became popular as a special product. It gained such status that Viking soldiers were sometimes paid in cheese rather than money at the end of a voyage. There is a story which gives cheese a place in history: supposedly the Montevideo Navy once defeated the Buenos Aires Navy by using cheese, rather than cannon balls.

Roquefort cheese first appeared in recorded history in the first century A.D., when Pliny, in his Natural History, referred to its sale in Rome. The famous lover, Cassanova in his Memoirs '1957' mentions his delight in being served that kind of cheese.

Mrs. Savage was graduated from Wichita Falls High School and received an associate of arts degree in secretarial science from Midwestern State University. She is presently working as secretary for Savage Electric Co., Inc. Before that she worked as secretary to the registrar at MSU and as bookkeeper for Golden Cream Bakery.

She and her husband, who is a partner in Savage Electric Co., Inc. and their two children, Mark a seventh grader and Markita a fifth grader, live on Farm Road 367. They are members of the Lamar Baptist Church in Wichita Falls. Ja Nelle's hobbies include ceramics, reading and cooking.

Lioness program China painting

Mrs. C.L. Metz presented a program and demonstration of china painting for the meeting of the Iowa Park Lioness Club Thursday evening. Mrs. Keith Aulds and Mrs. Phillip Welch were hostesses for the meeting held in the home of the former.

"During the first half of the century, china painting almost became a lost art, and although it is still not considered a fine art culturally it is a fascinating art medium, and one that will eventually take its place in the fine arts world," Mrs. Metz remarked to introduce the program. She said that porcelain painters were now organized into local, state and international federations which were gaining ground rapidly in getting Congress to enact a law to make china painting a fine art.

One of the reasons she gave for the painting not being considered a fine art was the assembly line production in factories where sets of dishes are painted by several painters, each responsible for only one design on a piece of china, and for the use of decals in some factories.

Mrs. Metz brought her test kiln to the meeting and demonstrated the mechanics of firing it. She explained the place of the cone numbered for different temperatures which was watched through a peep hole, and the timer. She placed a piece of china in the kiln and fired it for the first of three times during the program.

The artist also demonstrated the painting of a plate with daisies using the wipe out method and "C" form. She listed the necessary materials for the painter which included the paints, which are mostly in powder form and in every color of the rainbow; the medium, such as mineral oil, turpentine, castor oil, lavender; palette, rags and brushes.

An exhibit of some of Mrs. Metz' hand-painted vases, plates, plaques, jewelry and other pieces attested to her mastery of the art. One of the beautiful saucers was won by Mrs. W.E. Karstetter as a door prize.

Mrs. Sam Hunter directed the business meeting following the program. Mrs. Homer Blalock used "Standing Tall" for the devotional topic.

WMU meets

The Night W.M.U. of First Baptist Church held a finger foods supper at the church Monday preceding the annual Home Missions program and Annie Armstrong Offering.

Mrs. Bill Curry led the prayer program stating that the general theme for the week was "Go Forward" and the topic for Monday was "Being the Church."

Topical discussions were given by Mmes. E.T. Patterson, W.F. Booher, S.B. Reeves and Homer Blalock showing how a teacher, business executive, concerned Baptist woman and missionary had gone forward in the homeland to advance missions.

Mrs. J.C. Roby, Mrs. J.A. Berg and Miss Helen Reed discussed the internal, expansion, extension and bridging areas of the battle strategy.

Others taking part in the meeting were Mmes. Elmer Singleton, president, Roy B. Smith, D.O. James, and Riley Thompson.

Lecture series begun by UMW

Mrs. H.W. Carter presided during the meeting of the United Methodist Women held at the church Tuesday morning preceding a luncheon. Mrs. M.L. Hines gave the devotional thought on "Keeping - One Day at a Time" and closed to the musical background of "Lord, I Want to Be a Christian."

Mrs. Chauncey Weiler, Global Concerns chairman, gave the first of a series of five lectures from a study centered around conditions in Latin America, taken from two resource books, "The Cry of My People" by Esther and Mortimer Arias, and "In Every Person Who Hopes" by James and Margaret Goff

To introduce the study, Mrs. Weiler gave a brief outline of Latin America's historical background, political and economical conditions, as well as its status in Human Rights, beginning with Christopher Columbus who paved the way for those who followed. She explained that Latin America was so named because of the language spoken by those who settle there.

Following the introduction, she gave an interesting talk on "Where and who is my neighbor" calling attention to the countries surrounding Latin America, the different nationalities, customs and languages spoken by the people. She closed with the Parable of the Good Samaritan. Thirty were in attendance.

RAILROAD CROSSING PROTECTION for motorists was completed by workmen last week at the Colorado Street crossing. Funding for the project was provided by the city, state and federal governments.

As I See It....

By BOB HAMILTON

A big congratulations to coach Earnie Reusch and his fine Hawk basketball team.

It's been a long time since we had a district athletic championship added to the school's trophy case, and this team deserves all the recognition our community can muster.

Iowa Park got kinda settled into the roll of being a district champion through the 1960s, with year after year titles in football, and often in track.

But when the school was moved up to Class AAA, it came to a screeching halt. Only in the spring of 1975, when Greg Clary took the Hawk baseball team as far as the state tournament, has a team won district. That's a long time since 1970.

Like those winning football teams of the past, when many teams have better overall personnel, this year's basketball team is spelled TEAM. A lot of the clubs they beat had people who were better shots, were faster, overall could jump higher, and had more maturity.

But Reusch has molded this group of young men into a team, in the classic sense. And that's what is so impressive about the whole thing.

I'd rather have a group that plays together as a team and win, than a group of great individuals that wins. There's a lot more satisfaction. It indicates a community that works together.

And it is the end result of a fine job of coaching.

If it's been a few years since you were in Juarez, across the Rio Grande from El Paso, you won't recognize the place.

We were there over the weekend, and it is amazing how the economy has risen, the standard of living has elevated, and the impression of improved attitude of natives to the visitor.

Part of the improvement is the work of the Mexican government, to be sure.

But part of it is Yankee industry, which has located there at the request of that country's government.

We saw an industrial area in the eastern part of the city where none of the buildings could have been finished more than a couple of years earlier. The employees are all 18 to 25 years old, from what we saw in passing at quitting time.

Of course, the old downtown part of Juarez is still much the same, and the older people also. But a most impressive project of reconstruction has begun, and the border town ain't what it used to be.

Mark Nowell is finalist

The Iowa Park High School was notified this week that Marc Nowell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Faris Nowell, has been named a finalist in the National Merit Scholarship program.

Competition for the honor started in October of last school year when the PSAT/NMSQT test was given to approximately one-million high school juniors in the United States.

In September, the school was notified that Marc was a semi-finalist and would be considered for finalist status. He will now be considered for a possible scholarship to the school of his choice. Final notification should be received by the school in April.

Marc's future plans are to enter Lubbock Christian College in the fall where he will work toward a computer science major.

Players almost didn't get there

The Hawks almost didn't show up for their big game Friday night.

In fact, they wouldn't have, had it not been for some accommodating motorists who came to their rescue.

Enroute to the Rider gymnasium, the bus stalled on FM 369. The motor started again for Coach Ernie Reusch, the driver, but at the intersection of the Seymour Highway, it stalled once more. But this time it wouldn't do anything.

Reusch said game time was nearing, and as motorists would stop to inquire of their problem, and he would ask if they could carry two or three players to the game. That was the way he and his managers got there, also.

"We arrived just in time for me to tape the players, talk a couple of minutes, and warm up for the tip-off," he recalled.

Moisture from the heavy rainfall apparently created a problem for the bus ignition system. Reusch said he was soaked to the skin when he arrived at Rider.

The bride was graduated from Holliday High School, and is currently employed by the base contracting office at Sheppard Air Force Base. The groom was graduated from Mesquite High School and the University of Texas at Dallas. He is employed by Killebrew-Rucker of Wichita Falls.

Two students are winners

Two Holliday High School students won first place honors in a warmup meet for U.I.L. literary participants, held in Stamford Saturday.

First place winners were Carla Lear, prose reading, and Jamie Smyers, headlines.

Others placing in the practice meet were: Lucretia Halencak, second in poetry; Cindy Lyles, third in informative speaking; Kenneth Denham, fourth in editorial writing; and Shirley McBride, fifth in poetry interpretation.

Others placing were: Rodney Moore, sixth in editorial writing; Tracy Clemens, sixth in feature writing; McBride, sixth in prose reading; Jo Marsha, seventh in science; Denise Rogers, seventh in prose reading; and Leslie Mankins, eighth in calculator.

Those participating in the practice meet will enter the District High School Literary Meet April 2 at Midwestern State University.

10-court trailer park proposed for Holliday

Although Holliday city councilmen held a special called meeting Monday night to discuss two important topics, no action was taken for either one.

Dick Briggs of Holliday met with the council to discuss extending water and sewer lines to his property, located on the west side of town near Ford Rd. and College St.

Briggs stated he plans to install a 10-trailer mobile home court. By renting the spaces, according to Briggs, it would technically be property improvement, not a subdivision.

City administrator Jim Hamill, in a letter of recommendations to the council, stated, "The commercial endeavor by Briggs would cause the city (some) additional income. City's policy in past to tap mains and install meters and require the user to provide and install other appurtenances."

According to Hamill and water superintendent Don Stewart, problems exist in finding a suitable line for Briggs to tap, including both sewer and water. Councilmen motioned for Hamill and Stewart to work with Briggs, within the city's specifications, to find a viable solution.

W.C. Snodgrass of the Texas Highway Department presented for the second time a right-of-way contract to councilmen for a project which will widen existing culverts and ditches on US 82/277.

Snodgrass stated the city will be responsible for all bills - the maximum cost tentatively set at $23,900 - for right-of-way easements and utilities. When work is completed, the state would reimburse the city 90 percent of the total cost. This would make the city's cost $2,390 if the tentative figure is correct.

Councilmen were concerned that such a loan would put the city, already in a financial bind, deeper in debt. When asked if the city could put their 10 percent in escrow until the work is completed, Snodgrass said, "The same thing happened in Archer City. We tried to make some modifications on the contract, but they were rejected by officials in Austin." Snodgrass said the reason for the rejection was that such modifications would set a precedent in Texas, creating further problems with contracts for future road work.

Snodgrass suggested to councilmen that they write the district engineer stating the city's wishes, such as putting 10 percent in escrow. Councilmen then instructed city attorney James Cook to address a letter to Jimmy L. Stacks, district engineer in Wichita Falls, regarding the contract, which will be signed by the mayor and council.

School, city races develop

The school and city elections are heating up in Holliday, thanks to three additional candidates added to the April 4th ballots.

In the school race, Alice Carver and trustee Durhl Caussey announced their intentions of running this week, leaving four candidates for two seats on the school board.

Hershel McDaniel announced his candidacy for Place 5 on the city council, opposing alderman Jim Virdell, who announced his intentions of running for re-election two weeks ago.

Aldermen John Goforth and Jimmy Willis are also seeking re-election to the council.

Absentee voting for both municipal and school elections in Holliday will be from Mar. 16 through Mar. 31.

The absentee voting box for the school election will be located in the school's tax office. The city's box will be located at city hall.

Herbicide application time

By Don Decker
County Agent

The time is here for a preemerge herbicide application to control annual summer weeds in the home lawn. Treatment is made late in February before any of the summer weeds and grasses begin to germinate. These chemicals are not effective on weeds which have already emerged. The summer weeds - crabgrass, sandbur, knotweed, spurge, and others - usually come up in mid-March.

Recommended preemerge chemicals for the home lawn includes Balan, Dacthal and Betasan. Balan is a little stronger on grass control while Dacthal does a better job on weeds. Betasan tends to last a little longer, however, an accurate rate of application is more critical. None of these chemicals will endanger adjoining trees and shrubs when applied at the recommended rate.

Beth Brandeberry is treating her yard with Balan which is aimed mainly at crabgrass control. She plans to spring seed some Kentucky 31 Fescue under the shade of some trees so the area to be seeded is being avoided with the chemical. The herbicide comes in a granular form, and it is applied with a fertilizer spreader. The rate of application is indicated on the bag.

Mrs. Brandeberry determines the amount of chemical to be applied to the area by multiplying the number of one thousand square feet times the recommended rate per thousand square feet. One-half of this amount is applied traveling in one direction, with the remaining one-half applied traveling in a cross-way direction. This insures even distribution of the herbicide.

A light watering of the lawn is needed after treatment in order to activate the chemical in the soil. Normally, rainfall is depended upon for getting the herbicide into the soil. However, the absence of rain calls for watering.

It is better to complete this task by March 1. Treatment after March 7 will probably be too late because summer weeds will be coming up then.

A Tomato Mini Course is scheduled for 7 p.m. Monday at the Activity Center, Tenth and Indiana, Wichita Falls. The registration fee will be $1 to cover the meeting room and light refreshments.

Most home gardeners measure their success by how well they do with their tomatoes. The purpose of this event is to provide gardeners with everything they will need to know about producing high yields of high quality tomatoes.

Dr. Sam Cotner, Extension

Horticulturist from Texas A&M University, will discuss all of the cultural practices from site selection to harvest. I will cover the insects and diseases of tomatoes and Barbara Cornelius will present some key factors in canning tomatoes.

Grapes has the interest of many home fruit orchard growers, according to the attendance at the recent grape seminar. Dr. Sammy Helmers indicated the main factors in grape production included planting adapted varieties, disease and insect control, and proper pruning.

Helmers listed the American grape varieties including Black Spanish, Champanel, Carman, and Golden Muscat. His list of French-American hybrid varieties were Seibel 9110 and Seyve-Villard 12-375. He discouraged planting of the French varieties such as Thompson seedless and Concord. A booklet on grape pruning and spraying was provided at the seminar and copies are available at my office, 766-0131.

MSU homecoming this weekend

Presentation of the MSU Distinguished Alumnus Award to Lowell "Cotton" Fitzsimmons, an MSU graduate and coach of the Kansas City Kings, will highlight Homecoming 1981 Friday and Saturday at Midwestern State University.

Fitzsimmons played basketball for the MSU Indians and was a member of the team in 1956 which advanced to the NAIA national quarterfinals in Kansas City. Standing 12th on the NBA coaches' all-time winning list, he was named NBA Coach of the Year in 1978-79, his first season with the Kings.

He will receive the alumnus award during the Homecoming Luncheon at noon Saturday in Clark Student Center and also will be on hand for other Homecoming activities.

Homecoming weekend will kick off with the Ex-Students Fish Fry at 6:30 p.m. Friday in the Outdoor Education Center. The Ex-Students dance will begin immediately following the fish fry and will feature "Bumpin Butch" and his magic music machine. The dance will have a country and western flavor, but requests will be filled as well.

The Ex-Students Breakfast will be held 8:30 - 1 a.m. Saturday prior to the Homecoming luncheon.

Ex-Students will have the opportunity to see a special matinee performance of "A Funny Thing Happened on the Way to the Forum" at 2:30 p.m. Saturday in the Fine Arts Center. The musical comedy is a joint production of the MSU Departments of Communication and Theatre and Music.

A number of other activities are planned including the President's Reception to be hosted by Dr. and Mrs. Louis J. Rodriguez from 5:30 - 6:30 p.m. Saturday at the President's Home.

VIP tickets which include admission to all events are $20 per person. Tickets are also available for individual events. Homecoming reservations may be made by contacting the MSU Office of University Affairs at 692-6611, ext. 351.

Finnell bill said to assist shelters

State Rep. Charles Finnell of Holliday has introduced a bill which will allow pet shelters and animal control units to purchase the chemical sodium pentobarbital for the euthanasia of animals scheduled to die by local authorities.

This legislation has been approved by the Humane Societies of the United States, the American Humane Association, the Texas Veterinary Medical Association and the Texas Animal Control Association.
