

Tax rate lowered third straight year

Iowa Park school trustees made no bones about being proud they had been able to cut school taxes, when the 1981-82 budget and tax rate were approved Tuesday evening.

They set the tax rate at 65-cents per $100 valuation, 57-cents for maintenance and 8-cents for debt service. When the tax rate three years ago was $1.80, that would calibrate at 100 percent assessment to be $1.08 per $100 valuation.

Trustees took pride in realizing they had cut the rate, over the past three years, by 43-cents.

The new year's budget was set at $4,159,163, up $370,615 over last year. But of the total expenditure budget, $660,063 is figured for the West Wichita Co-op, which cut the local budget to $3,499,100.

West Wichita's budget was increased $103,757 over the previous year's budget, and the local budget was trimmed $289,448. West Wichita provides special education for Iowa Park, Electra, Holliday and City View, with the local district serving as fiscal agent, therefore the budget if figured in the local total budget.

Trustees pointed out the tax rate cut was possible, even considering inflation, loss of federal money through PL 874, and state funds which had been received as an incentive to consolidate with the old Valley View school district.

With estimated total revenues during the year of $4,038,171, and a carryover from last year of $1,284,096, the district figures to have a total of $5,322,267 available, and an end-of-year carryover of $1,163,104.

The carryover this year was $466,047 greater than was estimated in the 1980-81 budget.

Trustees said this year's carryover in the budget was larger than they really wanted, but felt it would be better to cut it down gradually, rather than all at once. Something drastic and unforeseen could arise, they said.

A sizeable carryover is necessary so that the school can meet its obligations until state funds and local taxes are paid, well after school is begun. Trustees learned that lesson a few years ago, when they had to borrow money on which to operate.

Payroll costs were the largest increase in the budget, up $255,282 over the previous year and amounting to $2,913,256. Plant maintenance and operation, which includes utility costs, were raised $60,361 over last year, to $301,046.

As in the past, trustees passed a resolution which prohibits exemptions from the taxes assessed for debt services. Those with tax exemptions must still pay the full 8-cent assessment.

The district's assessed valuation without exemptions is $189,321,350, against which the 57-cent rate will be charged. Value of the district, without exemptions and against which the 8-cent rate is charged, is $202,705,490.

MUSHROOMS were quick to respond to the recent rains, apparently having lain dormant through the hot and dry summer season. These were noticed standing stark white against the deep green of the lawn of Mr. and Mrs. Bob Dawson, 501 W. Clara.

New teachers hired

Iowa Park school trustees had a lot of catching up to do Tuesday, after laying off meeting since June.

Besides setting the school budget and tax rate for the coming year, personnel, bid opening and a trustee resignation were the meeting highlights.

Fourteen new personnel were approved, though some had been hired more than a month, Harold Cowley, superintendent, said. Also seven new personnel for West Wichita Coop were hired.

Receiving contract approval were: James Alan Ivy, high school coach; John L. Warnock, high school English and speech; Debra Brandt, first grade; Allen Jon Andrews, high school choir; Terry M. Johnston, sixth grade science; LaVelda Barrick, junior high English; Jo Ann Hale, third grade.

Also, Janet Lee Bowling, junior high title one; Clara Alma Topper, first grade; William Henry Monroe, junior high band; Charles Anderson, occupational orientation; George Collins, high school English; Beverly Yeakley, junior high; and James Clapp, high school math.

West Wichita teachers hired were: Lisa Carol McGee and Vicki Diane Johnson, City View; Peggy Wallace, Electra; and Debra Kay Gruber, City View and Electra. Aides hired were Patricia Raby, Iowa Park, Cathy Hodges, Electra, and Pamela Poulos, City View.

Three resignations were accepted, after Supt. Cowley explained their releases were permitted because acceptable replacements were available. However, he said a couple other teachers had asked to be released from their contracts, but could not be replaced at this late a date.

Resigning were Jerry Gholson, vocational agriculture, who is entering agribusiness sales; Mrs. Penny Nowell, moving to Nocona; and Mark Cartwright, band instructor, going into oil field chemical sales.

A letter of resignation from Trustee Bill Spruiell was read, and accepted with regrets. Spruiell tendered his resignation effective July 20, for health reasons.

Because less than nine months remain in Spruiell's term of office, trustees will, at their Sept. 8 meeting, name a replacement to serve the unexpired term.

Preston Dairy of Burkburnett was the lowest of three companies bidding on milk sales to the school cafeterias, as was Borden's for ice cream sales. Both were accepted.

However, trustees rejected both American Bakery and Mrs. Baird's bids for bread and bun sales. Both had figured a 20 percent increase in the price of buns, and the contract will be negotiated.

Moore Oil Company was the low bidder for gasoline, at $1.112 per gallon, three cents lower than Ayres Oil, the only other bidder.

Trustees will hold a called meeting at 7 a.m. Aug. 27 to amend the 1980-81 school budget. Conflicts during the evenings led to the morning meeting. The process must be completed by Aug. 31, Cowley said.

State National Bank was named the Following surgery Thursday, Mrs. Kenneth (Robbie) Watts has been moved from the intensive care unit at Dallas' Parkland Hospital.

Though still comatose, Mrs. Watts' condition was described Tuesday as being "stable" by her husband. She was moved from the ICU department Saturday.

Mrs. Watts, a rural mail carrier, suffered a ruptured blood vessel June 2 while working and has not been conscious since that time.

Council delays action on zoning amendments

The Iowa Park city council Monday night delayed taking action on a number of proposed amendments to the zoning ordinance.

The amendments, which deal primarily with child care facilities, mobile homes and car ports, are the product of almost a year's work by the planning and zoning commission.

In sending the amendments back to the commission, Mayor Johnny Crawford said "It seems the council wants a map, so we're sending these back for their (map) inclusion, to be presented again in the future."

Specifically, maps are called for in the code book which would designate the areas as they are zoned in the city. There are several other areas to be changed, according to comments by aldermen, such as elimination of certain terms, a clarification of various residential zones, and inclusion of the amount of fees referred to in the ordinance.

Monday's consideration of the zoning amendments was actually a public hearing, giving anyone an opportunity to express opinions on the amendments. Had there been no comments at the meeting, the amendments would have been considered for adoption at the next council meeting.

However, with the changes and the map requested, one member of the commission said it would probably take as long as six months before they would be ready for council action. The members of the commission, all volunteers, meet once monthly.

As took place when the commission held its public hearing on the amendments, most of the public interest was focused on child care facilities.

The zoning ordinance, which does not now allow for child care centers in residential areas, would limit the number of children in a facility located in a residential area to 12. Mr. and Mrs. Jessie Rowe took exception to that restriction, explaining they care for 18 children in their home on Edgemoor, which they started in 1975.

Steve Morath, city administrator, told council members he and members of the commission felt such an enterprise was as commercial as would be a convenience store or service station, and should be restricted as any other commercial business.

In other business, aldermen heard an explanation of the city's group hospitalization policy for employees, and hired a new police officer.

The city recently changed its insurance coverage when a rate increase was made, and employees said they would not be able to afford coverage of their dependants.

Marvin Trawick of Wichita Falls explained the rate increases, caused by inflation, which had been given since the city initiated its program in 1977.

The first increase was in 1978, 17 percent. A year later, it was raised another 10 percent, and in April the rate went up another 19 percent.

When the latest increase was made known, the city modified the coverage so that the employees pay 20 percent of the first $2,500 in costs, rather than having the policy pay 100 percent of the first $3,000, leaving the premiums basically as they were before the rate increase.

Roy William Messick, 34, was approved as a new police officer. Recently having received his discharge from the Air Force, he is currently employed as a jailer for Wichita County.

Messick will have to undergo his training for law enforcement certification, it was pointed out. During training, he will be required to work with another officer.

Bill Stegall

Holliday pioneer's life centers on work

By KEVIN HAMILTON

In 1856, Capt. R.B. Marcy of the U.S. Army issued a report on the area where Holliday is now located, in an effort to locate land suitable for Indians to live. If it weren't for a cattle and oil boom in the area over 50 years later, the report could have discouraged the subsequent mass movement into the area.

"... The scarcity of wood or good water would seem to render it probable that this section was not designed by the Creator for occupation and I question if the next century will see it populated by civilized man," wrote Capt. Marcy.

As an observer, Capt. Marcy was considered renowned, but as a prophet, he flunked miserably.

One of the most influential families to have a profound effect on Holliday's creation and survival was the J.W. Stegall's. Married in the old hotel in Archer City located at the northeast corner of the square, J.W. and his young bride Mary E. McCarty moved constantly until 1917, when J.W. taught school here two years.

Of three sons, W.E. "Bill" Stegall was the only one who chose to remain in Holliday while his two older brothers, Cliff and Eugene, moved to Fort Worth. They eventually encouraged their parents to join them, but a year later J.W. returned to open Shamburger Lumber Co., the third lumber company located in Holliday during the early 1920 oil boom.

When the family returned, they rented a 10-room boarding house, which eventually housed some of the most interesting people to chance upon Holliday in the oil boom days of 1923.

With little cash on hand, the three Stegall brothers put what they had into a drug store, which featured a soda fountain, a few show cases and some tables and chairs.

At that time, the fountain was not air conditioned, so the ice cream was packed in salt and ice. The brothers managed to stay in business despite competition from four other drug stores. Bill frequently hauled ice cream cans back to Wichita Falls for a 20-cent refund during his many trips to the market.

Bill entered the Danforth School of Pharmacy in Fort Worth in 1932, and eventually passed the State Board of Pharmacy in November of 1933. After returning to Holliday, he ran Stegall's Pharmacy until 1968, when he sold his business, including the old soda fountain and even the ice cream dishes.

Married to Carrie Coffey in Sept. of 1941, Bill and his bride became one of the most civic minded couples in the city, and together the two have given Holliday over 105 years of service, 55 years of pharmacy for Bill, and 50 for Mrs. Stegall, including seven years substitute teaching in the Holliday schools.

At 76, Bill is just as eager to learn and try new things as he was 50 years ago. In 1975, he was certified in CPR, and during the same year he earned 2.2 continuing education units in pharmacy from the University of Texas in Austin. Beginning in 1969, Bill became a relief pharmacist in this

Police search for suspect

Iowa Park police are investigating an incident which took place here Monday afternoon that could result in charges of attempted rape.

Chief Charles Whittingstall said yesterday afternoon that no arrest has been made and no charges have been filed in the case. "When and if we have an individual identified, the matter will be turned over to the courts," he said.

According to Whittingstall, a young woman answered her front door, and a young man asked if there were anyone in the home interested in Scouting.

She allowed the young man to enter the home, and he allegedly attempted to grab her arm. Her reaction apparently sent the young man running from the home, and police were notified.

He was described as being in his mid teens, blond hair, wearing blue jeans and a yellow t-shirt.

"Women should not allow anyone to enter their home unless they know them," Whittingstall said. "They can talk through the door if they don't know the visitors."

Another case reported during the past week to police was an apparent break-in of a structure at 310 E. Lafayette. Walton E. Grothe reported someone, between July 25 and Aug. 1, pried tin off a building and took a digital alarm clock, a brown and white stuffed dog mounted on wheels, and a bicycle chain and seat. Total loss was set at $150.

McBay, McGee wedding vows are solemnized Saturday afternoon

The wedding of Miss Lisa Carol McBay and Jerry Dean McGee was solemnized at two o'clock Saturday afternoon in the Edgemere Church of Christ in Wichita Falls, with Paul Green of Garland officiating the double-ring ceremony.

The couple's parents are Mr. and Mrs. R.E. Gant of Iowa Park and Mr. and Mrs. Dean McGee of Wichita Falls.

The bride and groom plighted their troth at an altar illuminated by more than a hundred votive candles twinkling in double-heart-shaped candelabra entwined with blooming huckleberry and eight seven-branched candelabra wrapped with fresh commodore foliage. The four heart-shaped holders formed a background for two sets of double-tiered arches adorned with commodore in the center of the altar, and the other candlesticks flanked the arches.

A trio of vocalists composed of Judy McBay, Miss Janet Ward and Don Nelson, presented the impressive wedding music. They sang "Holy Father" during the time of lighting of the candles and ushering of the grandparents. "The Wedding Song" for the entrance of the wedding attendants and the groom and his parents. The male vocalist sang "More" when the bride walked the aisle with her parents.

All four parents proceeded to the unity candelabrum decorated with greenery and wedding symbols for the mothers to place the burning candles in the outer holders. When the minister asked "Who blesses this marriage?", parents of the couple answered in unison "We do."

Birk Circle meets

Using the title "I Will Be With You," Miss Titia Belle Blanks taught the Bible lesson Tuesday morning for the Lucy Birk Circle at the First Presbyterian Church.

"This is the great promise that was true throughout the Old Testament times," Miss Blanks said. "God was promising His people and they who believed became the remnant. They were the one who inherited the promises."

Taking part in the discussion were Mmes. Gale Lowrance, Edna Lemond, C.E. Birk and Mae Shelton.

MRS. JERRY DEAN MCGEE

Just before the bride and groom repeated their vows as they faced the congregation, the musicians sang "What a Difference You've Made in My Life." Following the exchange of vows, the congregation sang "I Need Thee Every Hour." The trio offered "I Love You with the Love of the Lord" when the bride and groom went to the unity candlestick and lifted the two burning tapers and used them to light the center candle to seal their vows. The vocalists concluded their musical selections with "Let's Take the Long Way Around the World" for the recessional.

For the memorable day in her life, the bride chose an exquisite white bridal satin wedding gown trimmed lavishly with seed pearls and applied Alencon lace. The trim was meticulously applied in an overbodice for the natural waist bodice topped with a sheer yoke accented with strands of pearls. The full sheer bishop sleeves that covered sleeves graced with appliqued designs of the delicate network of threads featured wide cuffs of the lace showered with pearls.

The beauty of the full skirt that floated into a chapel length train was enhanced with a generous use of the ornamentation and two satin streamers at the back waistline that extended the length of the train. A Juliet cap of illusion, lace motifs and pearls held the bride's face and waltz length illusion veils trimmed in the same ornamentation as the gown.

She complemented her costume by carrying a very formal cascade of white silk roses on a white satin-covered Bible. Adding bids of sentiment to her gown, the bride wore a lavalier that belonged to Mrs. H.V. Collier of Chillicothe, her maternal grandmother for "something old" and "something new" was a diamond sweetheart necklace, a gift from her mother. For "something borrowed", she carried a handkerchief that her mother had carried in her wedding, and the "something blue" accessory was the garter.

Mrs. R.E. Gant served as matron of honor for her daughter. She wore a dusty rose polyester satin gown fashioned with an empire waist, V-neck and lace capelet with a stand-up collar. Mrs. Kevin Baber of Wichita Falls and Mrs. Paul Green of Garland, the bridesmaids, wore dusty pink polyester gowns featuring the same mode as Mrs. Gant's gown. The matron of honor carried a colonial bouquet of dusty pink silk roses accented with dusty pink and silver silk streamers. The bridesmaids' bouquets featured dusty rose roses with silver and dusty rose ribbon cascades.

Mrs. Barnita Cheek and Miss Nancy McGee, sister of the groom, carried the torches and lighted the candles for the service. They wore long dusty pink polyester satin dresses styled with boat necks, blouson bodices, tie belts and their corsages consisted of silk roses shaded to blend with their dresses.

When the groom met his bride at the altar, he was attired in a white Ashley Tuxedo with wing tip collar and ascot and wore a white silk rose boutonniere.

Kevin Baber of Wichita Falls was best man for the groom. Tim Avrit of Corsicana and Mike Priestwood of Wichita Falls were groomsmen. Dick McBay of Dallas, brother of the bride, and Marty Cannedy of Wichita Falls were ushers. The men who took part in the wedding wore silver Ashley tuxedos.

The groom's mother wore a blue Qiana empire-waisted gown made with butterfly sleeves and set off with a silver accent piece at the waistline.

Wedding guests registered in the foyer when they arrived at the church for the wedding. The round table that held the book and white plume pen was covered with silver polyester overlaid with dusty pink. It was appointed with the new Mrs. McGee's favorite doll that she had cherished through the years. Mrs. Bret Hanes presided at the table.

The bride's parents were hosts for the postnuptial reception held at the church. The bride's chosen colors were emphasized in decorations and appointments on her table to present beauty in a most gracious fashion.

Draped with dusty pink silk, the cake with the storybook look, was the centerpiece and lent itself to the silver punch service, rose and heart-shaped mints, and white napkins engraved with names of the bride and groom and their wedding date in silver.

The three-tiered cake towered above a fountain splashing pink water surrounded by six tall white columns. Six small heart-shaped cakes decorated in the same theme as the large cake were placed between the columns around the fountain. The three-tiered confection was set off with draped garlands, reverse shells and cascades of frosting dusty pink roses.

The top tier, held aloft by Grecian pillars to add height and afford a glimpse of two white love birds on the second tier, was crested with the traditional bride and groom, dressed in their formal white wedding attire, standing in a white gazebo laced with pink lilies of the valley.

Tonya Cooke and Mrs. Fred Hudgeons served at the table during the reception.

The groom's cake was in the limelight on his table laid with silver polyester. The chocolate cake was topped with a miniature desk, calculator, telephone and chair, replicas of his office furniture, and the names of the newlyweds and their wedding date in dusty rose. Mrs. Don Nelson served the cake and Mrs. Tim Avrit poured coffee from a silver service.

Members of the houseparty were Mmes. Bob Heazeltine, Dean Caldwell and Don Parks.

Following a honeymoon trip to Puerto Vallarta, Mexico, a wedding gift from the bride's parents, the couple will live in Wichita Falls. For travel, the bride wore a cantaloupe eyelet dress and matching accessories.

The bride was graduated from Iowa Park High School and received a B.S.E. degree from Midwestern State University this spring. She has been elected an early childhood teacher in the Electra School System for the coming year. A graduate of Rider High School, the groom received a B.B.A. degree from MSU and is employed by Gant & Toombs CPAs.

The groom's parents were hosts for the rehearsal dinner at K-Bob's Steak House.

Special wedding guests were Mrs. H. Collier of Chillicothe, grandmother of the bride, Mrs. Emily McGee of Olney and Mr. and Mrs. E.M. Robinson of Newcastle, the groom's grandparents.

Others from out-of-town not previously mentioned were Mrs. Dianne Murray and Richard McBay of Garland and Bret Hanes of Lubbock.

Food has helped to shape the development of society for many years. It is reputed to have dictated population growth, influenced economic, social and political theory, widened the horizons of commerce, inspired wars, played a large role in creation of empires and discovery of new worlds, had a part in religion, technology, war, etc.

Food will continue to play a big role in the lives of people as long as the world stands. People are continuously looking for new recipes, and the recipes the Cook of the Week has carried, and will continue to carry, give them the privilege of selecting recipes that have the most interest to them.

Patricia Jeanette Beavers (Mrs. Lonnie Joe) must have a selection of recipes in her file that cooks would be delighted to select from. The mother of eight children, she admits that she has had plenty of experience in planning and preparing meals, and she finds cooking an exciting and satisfying experience.

She recommended her Apple Crisp recipe as a good dessert for all seasons of the year. It is true that apple dishes are always popular because the flavor is universally liked. It is true that crisp, juicy apples are one of the delights of autumn, which is just around the corner, but they score high in appetite appeal the year round.

Mrs. Beavers was graduated from Columbia, Tenn., High School. She came to Texas in 1955. She has worked at Texas Instruments and at Furr's Cafeteria in Dallas where she was in charge of making salads, and more recently, at Levi Strauss Co. in Wichita Falls. She is in the process of opening Patty Wagon, a used book shop, on Hwy. 287 just west of Salt-Lick. She plans to carry western, mystery, science fiction, historical romances and other types of books. Her hobbies are oil painting and needlecraft. She is an Episcopalian.

Lonnie Joe, a native of Iowa Park, is working as bookkeeper for Holt's Landscape & Nursery and has his own private bookkeeping service.

Mrs. Beavers' children are Douglas, Timothy, Shelia, and Jonahhan Harris, Linda Hair of Dallas, Cecilia Deranger, who will be a freshman in Iowa Park High School this year, Cecilia Deranger and Daniel Deranger of Rockwall. She has one grandchild.

area, serving such cities as Wichita Falls, Chillicothe, Burkburnett, Archer City, Olney and Graham.

Currently, Bill and his wife are active in the First Baptist Church of Holliday, and he is actively engaged in functions with the Archer County Historical Commission.

The County Historical Commission has provided Bill with some of his most enjoyable memories and discoveries. Along with his good friend Jack Loftin, author of "Trails Through Archer," the two have ventured to several historical sites in the area, providing Bill with the opportunity to search for his fondest treasure, Indian artifacts.

A staunch collector since age 12, Bill has compiled an impressive collection of artifacts from arrowheads to "metates" and "monos," Indian bowls and hand grinders. "Jack (Loftin) is among the top county chairmen in Texas for the historical society," said Bill, "we have visited several sites in this area, and to have a man of his calibre along makes it just that much more interesting."

Aside from his modest disposition, Bill has discovered a few artifacts which would make even the most knowledgeable historian proud.

While most of the artifacts came from an old Indian trading post located west of Archer City, Bill discovered a rock tomahawk, which was eventually donated to the Midwestern University museum, and several Indian burial slabs, some weighing over 200 pounds each.

A good portion of Bill's collection is stored in boxes in a warehouse and in his home, but a walk around his front and back yard reveals a massive collection of metates, monos and burial slabs. Some of the Indian cooking utensils came from near an old Spanish fort on the Red River north of Nocona, while others were found near the trading post.

"The Indian burial slabs have an interesting history," says Bill, "the Apaches and Comanches among other tribes buried their dead in rock crevices or gullies, then placed these huge rocks over them, with holes manually drilled through them to allow the spirits to pass through."

In June of this year, Bill was recipient of the "Older Texan of the Year" in Archer County, which is but a small token of appreciation for his many years of invaluable service to both the city of Holliday and Archer County. "I appreciated the honor," replies Bill, "but I think my wife has done more than myself. She has always tried to lead a good Christian life and be a good example for the students she had over the years. Several of them came to her with personal problems, which never got past this house."

Mr. and Mrs. W.E. "Bill" Stegall, Pioneer Holliday citizens, civic leaders, true Christians and perfect examples for others to follow.

As I See It....

By BOB HAMILTON

I realize there's still slightly more than two weeks before school starts, but weather and events during this week sure gave me the feeling summer is over and fall has arrived.

There will undoubtedly be several more days of 100-plus temperature to remind us that summer is still here. But that feeling is still with me.

First, there was the start of football practice. That signals fall, doesn't it?

Then there was the cool temperature brought on by that cool front which gave us some welcome rainfall. That is a fall signal, isn't it?

Teachers and school personnel are showing up at a local hamburger place, clustered in one or two booths and talking about school activities.

That is a fall signal, isn't it?

And then Tuesday night, the school board met for the first time since June. Their meeting doesn't necessarily signal fall, but fall-related topics.

All these things gave me the feeling that fall has arrived, but there is probably another reason it was on my mind. I've had all the hot summer weather I want for the year.

You'll probably remember my saying last spring that I was ready for warmth and winter to end. It's just a fact, my interest in extremely cold and extremely hot weather wears rapidly.

But I wouldn't have it any other way. Nothing would bore me more than to have the same type weather all the time, whether it were comfortable or uncomfortable. I like to experience the seasons' changes. Were the weather nice all the time, what would we have to complain about at the coffee shop?

New students should register

Students who have not pre-registered and will attend kindergarten, first or second grades in Iowa Park are to register between 9 and 12 a.m. or 1-3:30 p.m. today or tomorrow, according to Bob Cole, principal.

Up-to-date immunization records and certified birth certificates of students new to the school district are required for admission.

Microwave tower to improve service

Iowa Park residents may notice a new tower near the corner of Penn and East Washington. It's a temporary microwave tower being installed by Southwestern Bell to relay phone calls between Burkburnett, Iowa Park and Wichita Falls.

Presently, a new digital transmission is being developed to replace older, analog facilities. "These new circuits will provide more dependable service and require less maintenance," Robert Wehmeyer, local manager, said. "They also are more economical than the older circuits, which helps us fight the pressure of increasing equipment prices."

When the digital project is completed in early 1982, the temporary tower will be taken down. Wehmeyer said customers would not see any difference in service; the dial tone, ringing and other functions will remain the same.

"The biggest difference, when we finish the construction," he said, "will be more dependable service."

LUNCH PRICES UP

Acting on the recommendations of Bill Steger, school lunch prices were increased for the new year.

Kindergarten through second grade will pay 65-cents; third through fifth grade, 75-cents; junior and senior high, 90-cents; school personnel, $1.25 and visiting adults, $2.

Prices through the fifth grade were increased 10-cents, while junior and senior high prices went up 15-cents. Student breakfasts were raised to 40-cents, a 10-cent increase.

Though the new federal guidelines for free and reduced lunches are not yet available, Steger said they would reflect higher minimums to qualify.

Live warmer and help hold down your bills.

You may not feel quite comfortable at first when you set your thermostat at 80° or higher, but most people adjust very quickly to living warmer. At the same time, if you dress cooler and use a fan, you may not even notice the difference. But it will help hold down your electric bill.

Letter to the Editor /

Dear Bob:
I saw your recent column wherein you called me a deadbeat for putting my name on the work products coming out of the Comptroller's office.
It dawned on me that you didn't consider me a deadbeat in 1977 when you were President of the Texas Press Association and the industry asked my help in getting favorable legislation to keep newspaper subscriptions from coming under the sales tax like every other comparable piece of tangible personal property.
But I don't care what you call me or if you ever use my name in your newspaper.

I do care, though, about your flippant reference to a "bookkeeper" putting out such a publication as "Why Texas Is Growing." There's probably no way you could understand the difference in a "bookkeeper" and the Comptroller's job as the state's chief financial officer.

But did you read "Why Texas Is Growing?" Did you have someone try to explain it to you? If you had done either, you might know that the book is a solid analysis of Texas' economic performance of the past 10 years and a projection that the next 10 years can be equally sound.

Your smart-aleck remark doesn't square with the responses I've had from several hundred business leaders who say the book will significantly help them—in other words, help them make new sales and profits as they deal with out-of-state customers and prospects.

And you know what? Every one of those responses was addressed to me by name—and that may well be what's stuck in your craw.

Sincerely,
Bob Bullock
Comptroller of Public Accounts

Where is your child tonight?
It puzzles me to hear parents saying, we all went to bed last night at 10:00. Now, stop and think, can you truly say your children stayed in bed, or are you even aware that they do sneak out and roam the streets.
So much meanness goes on at night. I get off work at 11:00 and when I am going home, I see boys just walking around. It seems strange if they are all sound asleep, how do peoples tires get slashed, gas caps stolen, gas sifened out of gas tanks, or in my case, my new car. Someone took an object and scratched the paint on the left side.

Parents need to sit down with their children and explain how much it cost to repair vandalism. I wouldn't work if I didn't have to, and extra bills, like a new paint job isn't fun.
Have you ever explained to them, if they are caught what they face? Or do you even care? Are you one of these parents who feel yours wouldn't do a single thing to people's property? Well, I have 2 sons and I wouldn't put nothing passed mine. I try by taking them to church, like most of you do. But mine like many others aren't innocent. Can you really say your's are?

Name withheld by request

Dear Sir:

In recent months the issue of emergency medical care has arisen. An Emergency Medical Technician, EMT, is a professional trained in saving lives. An EMT is expected to render assistance whenever and wherever the need arises. An EMT is also expected to work hand in hand with the police and firemen.

Friday, August 7th, there was an accident in which there were three people involved, two being pinned under a pickup. I was told of this and went out to help. When I arrived there were three EMTs from the fire department on the scene. I was directed over by one of the firemen. I took part of my equipment which I carry in the car and went down to help. One of the EMTs motioned me over to help. On my way down, I told the chief-of-police who I was and he told me they didn't need any more help and to leave. I was on my way back to my car when a Plumlee EMS Ambulance pulled up. I work part-time for Plumlee. I was requested by the ambulance driver to help. I took some equipment from the ambulance and took it over to the pickup. Upon returning to the ambulance for more equipment I was asked by the police department captain to get into my car and leave. I told him who I was and then left.

I did not spend all my time and money becoming an EMT to not be able to help those who need my help. I hope the citizens of Iowa Park will read this letter and voice their comments about this incident.

Frances Sampley recipient of new MSU scholarship

Five area students have been selected to receive the first annual Robert D. Gunn Freshman Scholar awards, scholarships of $500 each to beginning freshmen, for the fall 1981 semester at Midwestern State University, David E. Gee, coordinator of the MSU geology and geophysics program, has announced. The scholarships have been established to honor Robert D. Gunn, an active supporter of the MSU geology and geophysics program and a nationally prominent Wichita Falls geologist who recently served as president of the American Association of Petroleum Geologists.

The first Gunn Scholars are Paul Besterveld, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. Besterveld, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. Besterveld, a Hirschi High School graduate; Denise Carter, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Carter, a Rider High School graduate; John Hanrahan, son of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Hanrahan, a Wichita Falls High School graduate; Scott Curtis

Johnson, son of Mr. and Mrs. S.K. Johnson Jr., a Hirschi graduate, and Frances Gail Sampley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Glen Sampley, an Iowa Park High School graduate.

Competition for the awards was held by the MSU geology and geophysics faculty in May. The initial grant to Gunn Scholars is for one semester and may be renewable for the following semester upon satisfactory completion of the requirements.

Recipients are required to be geology and geophysics majors, to be enrolled for a minimum of 12 hours and to maintain a grade point average of 3.0. They also must take one mainline departmental course throughout the freshman year. Gunn Scholars become eligible to compete with other sophomores, juniors and seniors for regular department scholarships after successful completion of their first two semesters.

"The success of our scholarship endowment fund drive last winter makes the Gunn Scholar program possible. The generosity of the petroleum industry in making this come true is gratefully acknowledged by our faculty," said Gee in announcing the scholarship awards.

"In the final analysis, a department is judged on the calibre of its graduates. These outstanding young people represent our continuing quest for excellence in geologic education," Gee added.

Baugh impressed with conditioning

Coach David Baugh said he was very pleased with the conditioning his football players had developed before they reported for two-a-day practices, which began Monday.

He got a pretty good indication right off the bat, when he sent all his varsity and junior varsity players on a mile route.

In their off-season program last spring, he was running the athletes a mile, and timing them. And for Monday's trek, he had assigned a "reasonable" time for each to complete the distance.

Only 13 failed to make the time assigned, and many of them were well under the time. Most apparent was Rob Hausler, who turned in a 5:19, which was considered outstanding conditioning.

For those few souls who failed their assigned times, ("It was obvious they hadn't prepared"), they were given another opportunity the next morning, Baugh said.

Baugh was disappointed that only 86 had turned out for practice, but recognized several, especially freshmen, would probably report later this week. Also there were a half dozen who could not pass their physicals, which are required before any athlete can compete in high school.

There are 30 candidates for the varsity, 31 for the junior varsity and 25 on the freshman team, according to Tuesday afternoon count.

Tomorrow morning the players will put on their pads for the first time. Under University Interscholastic League rules, players must spend the first four days in shorts, for conditioning.

Their pre-season scrimmage will be Friday of next week, when Jacksboro brings its players here for a doubleheader. The junior varsity will scrimmage first and the varsity will follow.

That, apparently, will be their only scrimmage before the season opener Sept. 4 here against Breckenridge. Lawton cancelled the second scrimmage.

Pre-season tickets are on sale at the principal's office at the high school. A book of six home games will cost $12, and the seats are reserved. Tickets sold at the box office are for general admission, and they will be $3 each, according to Bob Dawson, principal.

Booster Club slates meeting

First meeting of the new season for the Hawk Booster Club will be at 7:30 p.m. Monday, Aug. 24, according to Norman Hodges, president.

The meeting will be held in the school cafeteria and not in the field house, as has been the site for organization gatherings the past couple of years.

Expected to be discussed are the year's project and naming a new vice president.

Junior high players must have physicals, insurance

Junior high students expecting to play football this fall are expected to have their physicals completed and insurance policies ready to turn in when they receive their equipment the first day of school.

No student will be permitted to practice with the team until all necessary paperwork is completed and turned in, according to Bob Gray, coach.

Forms for physicals and insurance will be available at the junior high principal's office starting tomorrow, Gray said.

Iowa Park Junior High will have games played here four dates this season, and be on the road five dates. The number of games played each date varies, according to the schedule.

The schedule includes:
 Sept. 8, Burkburnett, here, 3:30, 4 games
 Sept. 15, Vernon, here, 3:30, 4 games
 Sept. 22, Zundy, there, 5:30, 2 games
 Sept. 29, City View, here, 4:00, 2 games
 Oct. 6, Graham, there, 4:00, 3 games
 Oct. 13, City View, there, 4:00, 2 games
 Oct. 20, Graham, home, 4:00, 3 games
 Oct. 27, Vernon, there, 3:30, 4 games
 Nov. 5, Holliday, there, 5:00, 2 games.

Bowman commander

Jim Bowman of Iowa Park was recently elected commander of the Thomas Fowler American Legion Post in Wichita Falls.

Frank Farnsworth was voted first vice commander and Donna Farnsworth, post historian. Both are also from Iowa Park.

Bowman is editor of the Post newsletter which, at the recent Texas American Legion convention in Fort Worth, was named "Best All-Around Memograph Newsletter" in the state.

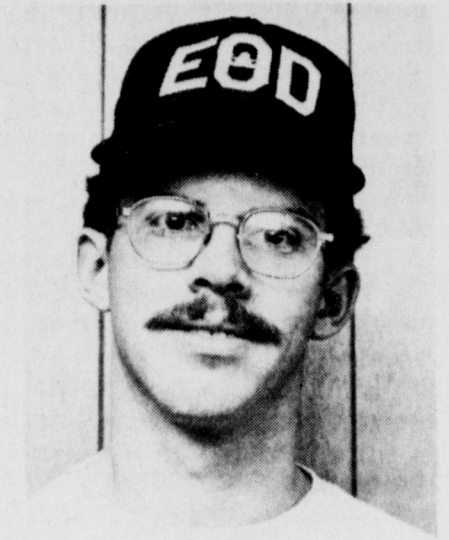

Bowman was also elected vice president of the TEXALPA for the coming year.

Mrs. Farnsworth was also elected at the convention to serve as sergeant at arms of 8/40 (LaDoutique des Huit Chapeaux et Quarante Femmes. Bowman and his wife will attend the national Legion convention Aug. 27 through Sept. 2 in Hawaii.

Soccer signup slated Monday

The Iowa Park soccer club will meet at 7:30 p.m. Monday at the Recreational Activities Center to discuss the fall soccer season, with signup for the fall scheduled Aug. 29 and Sept. 5 at the Texas Electric Reddy Room, according to Larry Ware.

The club plans to give away a shotgun Sept. 26. Local soccer players will be collecting donations. Businesses or individuals who would like to make donations in support of the soccer club can contact Ware at 723-7983 or 592-4466.

RICHARD WEAVER

Weaver stationed at Bremerhaven

Former Iowa Parkan Richard Weaver, normal specialist five in the U.S. Army, has been assigned to Bremerhaven (Germany) Army Base, where he will serve in demolitions.

Son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Weaver, 310 S. Victoria, Weaver completed basic training at Ft. Polk, La., and has been stationed at Ft. Sill since November of 1974.

During his tenure at Ft. Sill, Weaver was assigned to support for the state department bomb squad, serving presidential duty for a 53-county area in southern Oklahoma and north Texas. Duties included serving the secret service and state department in checking transportation routes for visiting dignitaries.

Weaver, who attended Iowa Park High School, plans to make a career of the Army as a demolitions specialist.

'Beep' baseball game slated here

For most Iowa Parkans, Saturday night will be the first opportunity for them to see (and hear) a "beep" baseball game.

A team of local men, most of whom served as coaches during the Little League season, will take on the Beacon Bombers, starting at 7:30 p.m. at W.F. George Field on west Magnolia.

No admission will be charged.

A blind beep baseball team consists of seven players, five of whom are blind and two sighted. The local players will play with blindfolds. The two sighted players on each team are the pitcher and catcher.

Offensively, the blind batters have as their objectives to strike a softball which emits a beeping sound when released by the pitcher. As the pitcher releases the softball, he calls out "ball" to let the batter know it is leaving his hand.

In beep baseball, only first and third bases are used.

Depending on where a ball is hit, an umpire decides which of the two bases to activate by buzzer. To score a point for his team, the runner must reach one of the bases situated 90 feet away from home plate before a fielder gains control of the ball.

Beep baseball was originally developed in 1964 by Telephone

Pioneers of America for use by unsighted pre-school children in Colorado Springs, Colo. Today, the sport is growing in popularity throughout the United States.

In fact, a tournament was played near the Dallas/Fort Worth Airport last weekend to determine the Texas team to compete in the World Series of Blind Baseball slated for Houston in September.

The Eyes Of Texans

JAMES EDWARDS Optometrist

SCHOOL SUPPLIES: SCHOOL EYES

No one would deny the importance of vision in the process of education but at this time of year the vision of students sorta takes a back seat to back-to-school clothes and supplies. I would like to re-direct your attention to the importance of your child's vision by pointing out that about 80% of what a child learns is through their vision and about 25% of body energy is used in the process of seeing so that the more effort a person has to put out to compensate for a visual defect, the less energy there is for just learning.

Most schools give Visual Screening Tests. These are good as far as they go but they mainly detect nearsightedness (myopia), A person can have astigmatism, farsightedness or a muscle imbalance and still see "20/20" but have trouble with comprehension, reading and depth perception. Surprisingly, myopes don't have any eyestrain; they can't see so good at distance but no real strain! So, to make sure your potential Nobel Prize Winners get their best shot at their prize, have their vision examined by the eye doctor of your choice. You can buy more school clothes but eyes only come "one pair to the customer."

Increased teacher salaries highlight 1981-82 budget

An approximate increase of 21-percent in teachers' salaries dominated the 1981-82 budget for Holliday's schools, adopted Monday night during the Holliday school board's regular meeting.

Total anticipated expenditures for the upcoming school year is $1,566,421, an increase of $168,297 over last year's budget.

Teachers' salaries, totalling $592,830, showed the biggest increase, with an additional $124,770 budgeted, primarily due to increases extended teachers by the board which doubled their above-state base salary over last year.

Holliday teachers will now receive $1,000 above state base, which in itself was increased from $150 to $200 by the state legislature this year. Another reason for the increase is due to an additional $400 paid to four newly-created department heads.

The lowest paid classroom teacher in Holliday this year, with two years experience, will receive $11,950. The highest, with 22-23 years experience, receives $18,400.

This year's tax rate, passed during the board's marathon session, was increased from 52-cents to 54-cents per $100 evaluation. Under state law, the increase of less than three-percent was made without the need of a public hearing.

Aside from teachers' salaries, major increases earmarked from $745,553 budgeted for instruction includes $18,454 for West Wichita Co-Operative ($12,454 over the previous year), and $25,000 for teaching supplies (a $10,000 increase).

Also budgeted under instruction are substitute teachers, $12,000, $14,330 for aides, $18,144 for group insurance (a $16,814 increase), $4,900 for vocational agriculture students and teachers' travel expenses, and $5,250 for Texas Employment Commission, $4,750 over last year's figure.

LIBRARY

Major expenses for the school's libraries include $13,850 for salaries (a decrease of $2,360), and $10,000 for books. Book binding will take $1,200, while audio-visual supplies, subscriptions and supplies each total $1,000. Total budget is $34,254.

PRINCIPALS

Salaries for the school's two principals increased $10,048 to $55,014 for this year, mainly due to additional responsibilities such as cafeteria, transportation and maintenance given the two.

In addition, $17,808 is earmarked for secretaries, $1,300 for TEC, and $1,000 each to supplies, travel, and equipment.

TRANSPORTATION

Salaries in transportation remains at $20,000 while gas ($35,000) and vehicles ($25,000) show increases of $5,000 each of $111,860 total expenditures.

Other major expenditures in transportation include $25,000 for miscellaneous expenses, $5,000 insurance, $8,000 outside repairs, $6,000 parts, $2,500 tires, and $1,000 travel.

CO-CURRICULAR

Major expenses under $116,243 budgeted for extra-curricular activities include $50,000 for athletics (increase of $13,555), $35,300 for salaries and $17,193 for the band budget. $10,000 is earmarked for travel, and $2,500 for fees and dues.

FOOD SERVICE

$12,683 is budgeted for food service, with $10,000 set aside for cafeteria deficits, and $1,728 for group insurance.

ADMINISTRATION

$132,697 is budgeted for administration, a decrease of $10,172, mainly due to additional duties given the two principals which were traditionally handled through the superintendent.

Administrative salaries, including the superintendent, tax office and secretaries totals $86,042, an increase of $3,063. Other major expenditures include $20,000 for consultants, $5,000 for office supplies, $4,000 tax collection, $3,500 travel, and $3,000 audit.

Expenditures from $1,000-$1,200 include TEC, lieu of insurance, maintenance and repairs, subscriptions, and election expenses. Furniture and professional services are $1,500 each.

DEBT SERVICE

Interest on school accounts total $67,960 out of $108,060 budgeted for debt service, and $40,000 for principal.

MAINTENANCE

A total of $214,654 is budgeted for maintenance, $60,000 of that for salaries, and $45,000 for lights. Other expenses include $20,000 liability insurance, janitor supplies $17,000, gas $12,000, grounds repairs $15,000, building repairs $10,000, building supplies $7,000, and $5,000 each for grounds supplies, water and telephone.

Group insurance totals $3,000, workmen's compensation $2,454, property insurance and equipment $2,500 each, and $1,500 for miscellaneous expenses.

Trustees accept light bid, add bus route on east side

Several important topics were discussed and acted upon, aside from adopting the budget, during Monday night's Holliday school board regular meeting.

Trustees accepted a bid from Brown and Hutchins Co. of Wichita Falls for new tennis court lights, and approved a new bus route for the eastern portion of the Holliday school district.

The bid submitted by Brown and Hutchins Co. includes four poles, 17 quartz lights (1500 watt) and necessary material to complete the job, at $3,780. Trustees rejected an option in the bid for automatic timers, reasoning that utilizing manual controls would conserve energy.

According to Dan Owen, who was assigned additional duties as cafeteria and maintenance supervisor during the board's July meeting, several people approached him recently about the tennis court lights, which light only half of the four courts.

In addition, Brown and Hutchins stated they could adjust some of the lights at an additional cost of $52.50 to illuminate other areas around the courts.

The board decided to have lights adjusted to light the area around the picnic area and bus barn.

Bill Lee, who was also assigned additional responsibilities as director of transportation, proposed an additional bus route which would pick up students along FM 1954 and Archer City Highway to Hwy. 2224. Trustees agreed, also deciding to combine the Lake Kickapoo and Dundee routes on a trial basis.

which is $150 less than asked by Archer City's service. The board decided to pay the city $850 to cover all home games. "The money will at least stay in the city, instead of going elsewhere," trustee Jack Ayres said.

In other business by the board:

- * bus driver Karen Schols' salary was increased from $250 to $300 per month;
- * Stan Todd was hired as bus driver;
- * the student code book was adopted and work permits were changed to apply for last period only;
- * bus mechanic G.E. Jarvis' resignation was accepted;
- * the band handbook was tabled until next month's meeting due to certain objections by Lee and trustee Alice Carver;
- * Region Nine services were accepted, and the in-service plan for teachers adopted;
- * added David Wylie to agenda, then agreed to pay Wylie $2,000 for painting of the high school building, with the balance to be paid upon completion of work;
- * accepted depository option with City National Bank, with the stipulation that the FDIC be protected; and
- * appointed Mrs. Carver, trustee Larry Finnell and Lee to rework band handbook.

The board also rejected a proposal to use drug-sniffing dogs in the Holliday schools this year.
