Two homes, no persons hit by gunshots

A quarrel late Saturday night resulted in two mobile homes being damaged by gunshot. No one was injured, but one man wound up in county jail, as a result.

Some $2,000 damage was reportedly inflicted on the mobile home of James W. Jenkins, 1007 S. Wall, and his neighbor's home, owned by Ed Reece, had some $250 damage to his.

James Joseph Prochaska was arrested about an hour later in Wichita Falls and lodged in county jail on a criminal mischief charge.

Prochaska reportedly had been in the Jenkins home earlier, and after an argument was told to leave. He is believed to have done the shooting in retaliation.

Shortly before midnight, some five shots were fired into the Jenkins home, damaging a console television set, mirror and wall picture. Bullet holes were found in the walls and ceiling.

One bullet apparently passed through the Jenkins home and lodged in the wall of the Reece home.

Local officers were unable to find the suspect, but he was stopped by law officers at 12:46 a.m. near Memorial Stadium on Southwest Parkway.

During a routine inventory after his being stopped and taken into custody, a .38 cal. pistol was reportedly found in the car trunk, wrapped in a shirt.

Officers Ronnie Miller and Pat Hannah investigated the incident here. They were told by Jenkins that he would file charges with the district attorney.

CONCERNING CHILD CARE

Petitioners ask city to act on amendment

The Iowa Park city council was asked Monday night to take immediate action on amendments to the zoning ordinance which concerns child care centers.

Council chambers were almost jam packed when the meeting got underway. Most of those in the audience were there to hear discussion on the zoning amendments, but the topic wasn't even on the council's agenda.

Ken Thornton told aldermen he had presented a petition from residents of Edgemoor Trail, requesting the council take action on the amendments, or enforce the current ordinance which prohibits day care centers in residential areas.

Thornton, who lives in the neighborhood of a center operated by Mr. and Mrs. Jessie Rowe, asked that the amendment be passed to "get limits (of children) down to a tolerable amount." The center operated by the Rowes has 30 children, and the amendment would limit the maximum number to 12 in a residential area, if it were adopted.

Mayor Johnny Crawford said the portions of the amendment package to which aldermen took exception - none of which concerned care centers - would be re-addressed by the Planning and Zoning Commission at its next meeting (Monday), and action on the amendment could be taken by the council within 90 days.

The amendment was presented to the council by the commission last month, after some 12 months of preparations, but was tabled when portions of the package were found objectionable by aldermen. Most of the parts objected to concerned terms, fees and maps, but none of them related to care centers.

The other bidder was Zac Burkett, who bid $7,400 and $12,285, respectively.

Aldermen instructed Steve Morath, city administrator, to proceed with the steps required to have five dilapidated structures demolished. They were at 4014 SW 30th, 4014 SW 31st, 4014 SW 32nd, 4014 SW 33rd, 4014 SW 34th, 4014 SW 35th, 4014 SW 36th, 4014 SW 37th, 4014 SW 38th, 4014 SW 39th, 4014 SW 40th, 4014 SW 41st, 4014 SW 42nd, 4014 SW 43rd, 4014 SW 44th, 4014 SW 45th, 4014 SW 46th, 4014 SW 47th, 4014 SW 48th, 4014 SW 49th, 4014 SW 50th, 4014 SW 51st, 4014 SW 52nd, 4014 SW 53rd, 4014 SW 54th, 4014 SW 55th, 4014 SW 56th, 4014 SW 57th, 4014 SW 58th, 4014 SW 59th, 4014 SW 60th, 4014 SW 61st, 4014 SW 62nd, 4014 SW 63rd, 4014 SW 64th, 4014 SW 65th, 4014 SW 66th, 4014 SW 67th, 4014 SW 68th, 4014 SW 69th, 4014 SW 70th, 4014 SW 71st, 4014 SW 72nd, 4014 SW 73rd, 4014 SW 74th, 4014 SW 75th, 4014 SW 76th, 4014 SW 77th, 4014 SW 78th, 4014 SW 79th, 4014 SW 80th, 4014 SW 81st, 4014 SW 82nd, 4014 SW 83rd, 4014 SW 84th, 4014 SW 85th, 4014 SW 86th, 4014 SW 87th, 4014 SW 88th, 4014 SW 89th, 4014 SW 90th, 4014 SW 91st, 4014 SW 92nd, 4014 SW 93rd, 4014 SW 94th, 4014 SW 95th, 4014 SW 96th, 4014 SW 97th, 4014 SW 98th, 4014 SW 99th, 4014 SW 100th.

Morath said two of the structures were apparently being worked on by the owners now, but he would still follow up on the project.

The council held a 45-minute executive session, closed to the public, concerning possible purchase of property in the south part of town for location of a fire sub station. But when the meeting was reconvened, no action was taken and the subject was tabled.

In other action, aldermen approved a request to advertise for bids to purchase a new police patrol car and to change the city's employee vacation policy.

AGENDA ITEMS

Council members accepted the lowest of two bids for the demolishing of the city's old waste water treatment plant and water pump station, both located on the south edge of the city along FM 368.

Denver Hawkins bid $1,995 on the waste water treatment plant and $6,000 on the water pump station.

Trustees call meet today

A called meeting of the Iowa Park school board is to convene at 7 this morning in the administration building.

The special meeting was needed in order that the 1980-81 budget can be amended prior to the Sept. 1 deadline, set by the Texas Education Agency.

Two other items have been put on the agenda.

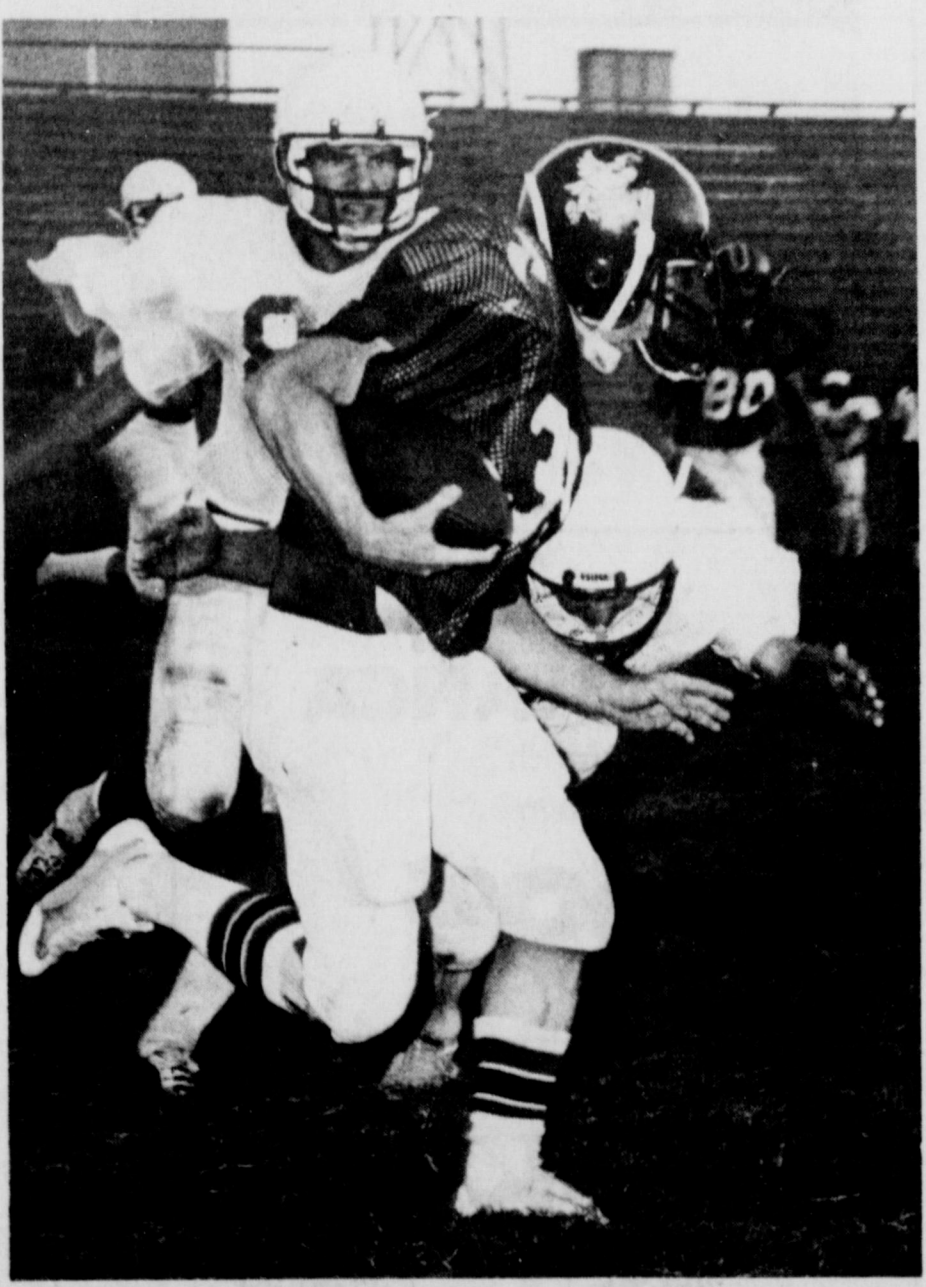

One will be in response to Senate Bill 341, which deals with the type of contract under which a district can hire personnel and administrators.

The new bill provides for term contracts, which, basically, is the method Iowa Park personnel have been hired. But the new legislation provides for hearings and appeals in case of termination.

Iowa Park has not offered the continual contract plan, which provides for tenure after a probationary period, and is not affected by SB 341.

A formal adoption of a policy must be voted on by all districts in the state, on their local options, within the next month, and put on record.

The other subject on the meeting's agenda is to appoint a representative for joint committee at the Education Service Center. Supt. Cowley is expected to be re-appointed, as he has been the district's representative several years.

TAILBACK JIM SMITH ON RUN AGAINST JACKSBORO ... senior had best offensive performance.

Bells to signal opening of school year Monday

When the tardy bell rings at 8:30 Monday morning, it will signal the beginning of another school year for students of the Iowa Park schools.

Buses will run the same routes and schedules they did at the end of last year, and students will attend a full day's schedule, according to Supt. Harold Cowley.

Once again, school officials have encouraged any youngster who will be attending classes here for the first time, and who has not yet registered, to do so before Monday.

Students who do not have their immunization records up to date will be given a booster shot when they open.

There is one exception, however. Because of the late date information was put out concerning a newly required booster for measles, students have been given a grace period for that requirement.

All students are required to have received measles (Rubella) vaccine, a booster, or have validated proof of having had the disease since Jan. 1, 1968, according to Nancy Young, who cares for immunization records at the high school.

High school students will report today or tomorrow to pick up their class schedules and locker assignments, according to Bob Dawson, principal.

Seniors are to be at the school between 9 a.m. and noon today, and freshmen will pick up their schedules and locker assignments after school.

Members of the student council will be in the building to serve as guides for freshmen.

One change some high school students will have in their scheduling will be advanced vocational agriculture students. Only Ag 1 and 2 will be offered this year, because only two Vo-Ag teachers remain on the faculty.

A replacement for Jerry Gholston, who resigned to enter the agribusiness field, has not been hired, Cowley said.

Students will hardly get settled into their routines before they celebrate their first holiday. The following Monday will be Labor Day.

According to the school calendar, the Christmas holidays will begin Oct. 9. Christmas holidays will begin Oct. 9.

Costs for the school year are: Freshmen, 65-cents; Sophomores, 75-cents; Junior and senior, 90-cents; school personnel, $1.25; visiting adults, $2. Breakfasts were increased to 40-cents for all grades.

Head Hawk not happy with team's scrimmage

David Baugh, Iowa Park's new Head Hawk, was not at all happy with the performance of his 1981 varsity in Friday night's scrimmage.

However, he admitted later that the team didn't look as badly as he had at first felt, after watching films made of the scrimmage with Jacksboro.

Format for the evening was for the junior varsity to scrimmage first, followed by the freshmen, then the varsity going 20 plays on defense, 20 plays on offense, second units scrimmaging, and winding up with a period in which both varsities scrimmaged under game-like conditions.

The junior varsity scored twice, holding Jacksboro outside the endzone. Neither team scored in the freshman scrimmage, when the Iowa Park team took on Jacksboro's second team junior varsity instead of an all-freshman club.

Jacksboro's Tigers, who are competing in class AA this season, could muster only 57 yards in 18 plays on the ground during the first session. But they found the Hawk backfield a fairly easy target, connecting on six of 10 pass attempts, 41 yards, and a touchdown. One aerial was picked off.

The Tigers were actually permitted to get off 28 plays against the Hawk defense, as the coaches allowed play to continue while the visitors were on a sustained drive.

Iowa Park had little difficulty during its 20-play series, rushing 97 yards, completing three of four passes for 12 more yards, picking up six first downs and scoring once. One fumble was lost.

Tailback Jim Smith picked up 57 yards, Chris Nethery 19, Steve Stewart 16 and Mac Weaver five.

But it was in the game-style scrimmage that Baugh felt the Hawks let down. Jacksboro ran 15 plays, rushing 42 yards, passing 35, completing two of five and scoring a touchdown.

Iowa Park got off only 11 plays, rushing 23 yards, failing to complete either of two pass attempts, and not scoring.

During that portion of the scrimmage, Jim Smith gained 22 yards and Tim Smith one. In the only punt of the evening, Iowa Park's Weaver had the ball tipped, and it traveled only seven yards.

Depth of the Hawks showed when the second offensive and defensive units went through a 20-play series. Iowa Park gained 66 yards rushing, 22 passing on three of four connections, gained six first downs and scored a touchdown. Jacksboro failed to score, ran for 46 yards and three first downs.

Baugh had his varsity out on the practice field the next morning, running wind sprints and doing other exercises, in an effort to impress upon the players that the season is about to start.

Because Lawton MacArthur cancelled its scrimmage with the Hawks, they will not have a session this weekend. The season opens Sept. 4, when the Hawks host Breckenridge.

Next Thursday evening the freshmen and junior varsity will travel to Breckenridge for their openers. Freshmen will play at 5 p.m. and the JV follows at 7:30.

Junior High teams will receive their equipment Monday, first day of school, and play their season openers Sept. 8 when they start the first of four games here at 3:30 p.m.

The straightest rows I've ever seen have been made by either Randy Davis or Rick Emmert. Davis is associated with Freddy Daume while Emmert works with Fred Dwyer.

It would be interesting to get these two operators in the same field with their tractors just to see which could make the straightest rows. This would not be practical nor would it be fair to them. Besides, it would probably end as a "toss up."

The main point is the fact of both taking pride in their work. The swath of their plows making a contrast of new plowed ground against the old is

Kidwell, Spruiell wedding vows exchanged Saturday

In a ceremony of impressive dignity officiated Saturday evening by Rev. Howell Farnsworth at First Baptist Church, Miss Tanya Donise Kidwell and Charles Jeffrey Spruiell, two popular members of the younger set, exchanged their double-ring nuptial vows.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles C. Kidwell and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Spruiell.

The lovely bride walked gracefully down the aisle to the altar with her father, who presented her in marriage for her parents. She was a romantic picture in a formal white gown of point de sprite steeped in elegant tradition. The natural waist bodice of Chantilly lace was fashioned with a Queen Anne neckline, a low drop torso back, and long fitted lace sleeves. The full skirt featured multiple tiers of lace and a cathedral train.

Imported silk illusion perfected the bride's headdress which fell from a Juliet cap of lace and pearls to a fingertip length veil. The subdued shading of her nosegay composed of yellow silk open roses and rosebuds and green leather leaf, fresh gypsophila, cascading yellow and blue lace streamers blended perfectly with her gown to complete her costume.

In observing the bridal traditions of wearing "something old" and "something borrowed", the bride selected a wedding band that belonged to her maternal grandmother, Mrs. Bobbie Teal of Littlefield. Her "something new", a diamond necklace, a gift from the groom, had special significance, and she wore the garter to add a touch of blue to her attire.

The setting for the ceremony was created by a brass arch, two fifteen-branched candelabra and two handsome floral arrangements. The arch standing in the foreground of the upper altar was traced with sprengeri fern and appointed with a blue satin bow at the top and yellow satin bows on either side. At the extremities, tall white cathedral candles burned in the candelabra decorated with the same greenery and yellow satin bows to provide soft lighting.

In the outer altar space, tall white wicker basket stands held arrangements of yellow spider mums and roses, white gladioli, emerald and leather to complete the picture. Church pews for family members were marked with large yellow satin bows with blue lace streamers.

Mrs. Glenn Schell, organist, provided the wedding music. Her prenuptial selections included "Time in a Bottle," "The Rose," "Annie's Song," "Liebestraum," "Jesu, Joy of Man's Desiring," "My Beloved," and "Wedding Prayer." Her offerings also included the processional and recessional compositions of tradition.

A maid of honor and two bridesmaids made an attractive picture in their identical maize soft polyester knit gowns emphasized with off-the-shoulder deep cape collars of scalloped lace. The full pleated skirts extended to the floor from elasticized high rise waists trimmed with matching satin bows in front.

Miss Tandra Wilkerson of Iowa Park, the maid of honor, carried two yellow silk open roses and buds with yellow and blue lace streamers. The bridesmaids carried identical flowers except for one open rose instead of two. The latter attendants were Miss Marcy Sifuentes and Miss Martha Parkey, both of Wichita Falls.

Miss Micki Ebling of Plainview, cousin of the bride, had the role of flower girl in the wedding. She carried a white basket filled with yellow silk roses to complement her yellow silk organza frock. In design, the bodice featured ruffles from shoulders to waistline and on the cuffs of the short sleeves. White lace tiers headed by narrow yellow satin ribbon above the hemline created interest in the long skirt.

Beau Kidwell, brother of the bride, carried the rings for the service on a white satin pillow touched with blue satin bows.

The groom wore a pale blue tuxedo trimmed in dark blue, a white ruffled shirt and three yellow roses for a boutonniere. His attendants, ushers, ring bearer and fathers of the couple, were also attired in pale blue tuxedos trimmed in dark blue but wore white shirts accented with yellow-tipped ruffles.

Joe Spruiell, brother of the groom, served as best man. Groomsman were Barry Lucy of Iowa Park and Barry Wilkinson of Metairie, La. Ushering duties were assigned to Blaine Kidwell, brother of the bride, and Pat Fish.

For the wedding, Mrs. Kidwell chose a floor length seafoam green gown styled with blouson bodice and split sleeves. Mrs. Spruiell wore a light blue Qiana gown with a round neck topped with a matching chiffon cape. Their corsages were formed of yellow roses and matching ribbons.

The first hint of the colors chosen by the bride for emphasis in her wedding was observed at the table in the church foyer where guests registered as they assembled for the service. The book, white plume pen and the couple's wedding invitation rested on a round table covered with a full length white polyester satin cloth accented with a contrasting blue satin band centered with a yellow and blue satin bow around the top. Miss Carolyn Whitwood secured signatures of the guests.

The Fellowship Hall of the church was the scene of the postnuptial reception hosted by the bride's parents. The artistic and effective room decorations presented beauty in a most gracious fashion.

The unforgettable splendor of the bride's table was captured in the cloth, centerpiece, cake, napkins and silver punch service.

Draped to floor length with a white polyester satin cloth featuring a gathered ruffle falling from a band of blue satin ribbon at the top marked with yellow satin bows at each corner, the center attraction was a four-tiered candelabrum topped with a tall white pillar candle and decorated with yellow roses, sprengeri fern and baby's breath in waterfall style.

The bride's "cake of cakes" was a petitely tiered white confection of four layers, each based with white frosting blue-tipped shells and circled with deep garlands centered with rose clusters. The floral scrolling on the sides featured cascades of yellow roses with pale green leaves. Four filigree columns lifted the top tier adorned with a quartet of white satin pearl-rimmed wedding bells filled with lilies of the valley and complemented with frills of net.

The table appointments were completed with the blue and yellow bridal napkins bearing the names of the bride and groom and their wedding date and the silver punch bowl. Miss Carey Dale Roberts and Miss Barbi Gallimore served at the table.

The beige cover on the groom's table duplicated the style of the cloth on the bride's table and was set off with a yellow satin band at the top. The floral touch was noted in a handsome center bouquet composed of yellow silk roses and buds, white silk stephanotis, green silk ivy leaves and leather and baby's breath.

The chocolate sheet cake was decorated with frosting roses, "Donise and Jeff, August 22, 1981" in yellow. The silver coffee service, blue and yellow napkins added further interest to the decor. Mrs. Mike Wilson of Burkburnett and Mrs. Charles Tue of Plainview presided at the table.

Foreign airmen are guests here

Five foreign airmen who are taking training at Sheppard AFB were guests and provided the program for the monthly buffet dinner and business meeting of the Christian Workers class of First United Methodist Church Thursday evening.

Introduced by Mrs. Iline Swadley, their escort, each one told something about his country and its religion. The quintet was composed of Capt. George Dawson Mwangi Gichuki from Kenya, SMSgt. Abdelkader Bendriss from Morocco, Major Francisco Sino and 1st Lt. Ronald Goseco, both from the Philippines, and SMSgt. Adoon Tongprong from Thailand.

Other guests were Mr. and Mrs. Bill Kirkpatrick of Kermit and Rev. and Mrs. George Topper.

Herman Mahler was in charge of a business meeting following the meal. Table games provided diversion.

Hosting the dinner were Mr. and Mrs. Carl Sullivan, Mrs. Charlie Winfrey and Mrs. Clyde Winfrey. Thirty-four members and guests were present.

Lane, Smith nuptials solemnized in Wichita Falls

The altar of the First Assembly God Church in Wichita Falls was a display of cathedral candles dominating the decorative pattern and providing soft illumination for the Aug. 15th wedding of Miss Lisa Lanette Lane, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Lane, and Raymond Dale Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. B.L. Smith.

Rev. T.I. Wilborn, pastor, was the officiant for the double-ring nuptials.

In the tasteful altar decorations, the seemingly innumerable candles were featured first in fifteen-branched candelabra in the background of an archway entwined with springer fern, the same greenery was used with white daisies to decorate all candelabra in the setting. On either side of the arch, the candles were aglow in two seven-branched candelabra and spiral candelabra. The white satin-covered prayer bench where the couple knelt for prayer was the focal point of spiritual significance in the setting.

The bride and groom chose to finalize the ceremony by lighting the unity candle symbolizing that two lives had become as one.

The wedding music was provided by Miss Patty Glover, organist, who played the marches for the entrance and exit of the bridal party, Denny Anderson, who played the piano accompaniment for vocal selections by Miss Deena Hefner and Miss Meri Lynne McIlroy. The vocalists sang "Longer" for a duet pre-nuptial number, and Miss Hefner sang "Always and Forever." During the ceremony, Miss McIlroy presented "The Wedding Song" and "The Lord's Prayer."

The bride was escorted and presented in marriage for both of her parents by her father. She wore an elegant formal gown of white silk organza enriched with Rachel lace which adorned the slightly raised bodice and Queen Anne neckline accentuated with pearl sprinkled lace. The long bishop-style sleeves and satin sash at the waistline enhanced the beauty of the gown which was highlighted with a full skirt formed with graceful lace tiers and a semi-length cathedral train.

Complementing the gown that the bride chose for a beautiful beginning to her wedded life were the elbow length lace-trimmed illusion veil drifting from a Juliet cap of lace and pearls, and her nosegay fashioned of yellow roses, white daisies, gypsophila and white lace streamers.

Out of sentiment, she wore her mother's gold pendant set with a diamond from her wedding ring for "something old," and carried a handkerchief that belonged to her sister, Mrs. Mike DeWitt for "something borrowed." The "somethings new and blue" were her gown and traditional garter.

The irresistible colors of the rainbow were reflected in the formal chiffon gowns worn by the matron of honor, maid of honor and five bridesmaids, who served as the bride's attendants. Styled identically, the dresses were designed with raised bodices distinguished with lace-trimmed off-the-shoulder necklines bordered in ruffles and A-line skirts. Each carried daisies in the color of her gown on a white lace fan with lace streamers.

Mrs. Mike DeWitt, sister of the bride, the matron of honor, wore yellow, and Miss Lou Ann Corless, the maid of honor, wore lilac. Bridesmaids wearing blue, pink, mint green, peach and yellow, respectively, were Mrs. Wayne Lollis, sister of the groom, Miss Debbie Padgett, Mrs. Steve Lane, sister-in-law of the bride, Mrs. Mike Lane, another sister-in-law, and Miss Deena Hefner.

Christy and Misty Lollis, the groom's nieces, were flower girls. They were attired in long yellow organza gowns made with raised bodices, ruffled yokes, and full skirts with hemline flounces that formed bustles in the back. Johnny Ray Lane, cousin of the bride, served as ring bearer and was attired in a white Avalon tuxedo with a yellow shirt.

The groom was attired in a white Ashley full dress tuxedo, and the groomsmen wore white Avalon tuxedos with shirts in the colors of the bridal attendants' costumes.

Roger Smith, twin brother of the groom, was the best man. Groomsmen were Bill Jeffress, Steve Lane, Mike Lane, Randy Corn, Kimmy McMurry, Toby Smith, brother of the groom. Ushers, wearing blue Wellington suits, were Jon Lane, Ed Lane, Terry Wirmel and Rick Maurico. Candlelighters, dressed like the ushers, were Todd Lane and Roger Reid.

Preceding the wedding, Miss Mary Miller secured signatures of the guests at a table in the foyer covered with yellow satin and appointed with the book, white plume pen, white wedding candle imbedded with the couple's wedding invitation, and a pair of kissing angels.

The bride's parents honored the newlyweds at a reception in the Fellowship Hall of the church following the wedding.

The bride's table draped with yellow lace over white satin was a picture of sophisticated beauty. The centerpiece was a four-branched silver candelabrum holding tall yellow candles and the bride's nosegay. The silver punch fountain and cake were additional attractions.

Occupying a special place in the picture was the three-tiered cake iced in white and accented with garlands of frosting roses in rainbow hues. The cake was lifted by tall white columns and tiered up beautifully by two sets of smaller columns. The blown glass top ornament that lent itself to the delicate theme featured two swans backgrounded by a heart centered with wedding bells. Two smaller blown glass swans topped the second tier and the first layer was banked with the frosting flowers. At the base of the confection were seven small cakes, baked and decorated especially for the bride's attendants.

Mrs. Ed Lane and Miss Frances Sampley served at the table during the reception.

Presiding at the groom's table were Mmes. Troy Inman, Larry Lane and Tony Clark. The table was laid with yellow miramist and held a wicker basket filled with yellow silk roses, the interlocking rings chocolate cake decorated with yellow roses and silver coffee service.

An old-fashioned white wrought iron tea cart covered with yellow miramist standing between the tables was appointed with a yellow miramist umbrella banked by sprengeri fern dotted with yellow daisies.

Miss Carolyn Greenroyd and Miss Pam Burns served at the sandwich table laid with yellow miramist.

Miss Dawn Greenroyd distributed the rainbow-colored satin rice rosebuds during the reception from wicker baskets placed at vantage points in the room.

The receiving line stood in front of a white lattice archway. The bride's mother wore a blue Qiana gown designed with a sheer capelet attached at the waist with pearls and an accordion pleated skirt. The groom's mother selected a peach Qiana gown accented with a print bodice and accordion pleated skirt.

The rehearsal dinner was given at K-Bob's Steak House by the groom's parents.

When the newlyweds departed for their wedding trip to Padre Island, the bride was wearing a calico print Gunne Sax skirt and blouse. They are now at home in Wichita Falls. Both were graduated from Iowa Park High School. She is employed by Campbell and Pavlick attorneys. He is a senior at Midwestern State University and works for United Super Market.

similar to the skill of the swipes from the artist's brush. Both leave a pleasing display.

I have ridden in the cab of Emmert's Stieger tractor pulling a 45-foot chisel plow. His hands held steady on the controls as the outside chisel sliced within inches of the barbed wire fence. One tiny slip could put out one-half mile of costly fencing within a matter of seconds. Yet the confidence of his skill caused him to hold steady as we skimmed along within inches of disaster.

I watched Davis display his skills as we planted a cotton variety demonstration recently. He was exactly on the row as he came out of every turn, even in the tight place. It was never necessary for him to back up. A draftsman couldn't have drawn a straighter line than Davis was making with his plow. Each row was exactly the same width.

Fred Daume, Sr. and I just watched in awe as we waited on the ends to change the variety seeds. Suddenly Daume remarked, "Randy can make a tractor do more than anyone I've ever seen." We both agreed he was a "master Operator" at the controls of a tractor.

These men have developed their exceptional skill by taking an interest in their work and being proud of their accomplishments. The gift of being well coordinated physically has helped a lot too.

In this day when good workmanship seems to be on the decline, it is gratifying to see these men display their skills as tractor operators. A lot of personal satisfaction must come with their performing a job well done.

As I See It....

By BOB HAMILTON

Congratulations are in order to those who dreamed up the idea of the Budweiser Texas Ranch Roundup, which was inaugurated this past weekend at the rodeo arena on FM 369.

If you missed it, you missed a good'un.

I've seen lots of rodeos in my time, small town to big time do'ins. But I've never enjoyed a rodeo as much as watching these ranch hands doing their thing in the arena.

The problem about the annual Roundup is that we've got to share it with other communities in the state.

It will be moved around from city to city, but eventually will return. I'm selfish enough to want to keep it here, but I don't blame the organizers for wanting to take it to other areas for people in those neighborhoods to have a chance to see it.

If you wondered whether you would have liked it or not, and decided to wait and get the reaction of others before attending the next year's blowout, it's understandable. A great number of ranches did the same, sending representatives to observe and decide about entering next year.

Those cowboys competed, giving their all for the sake of their ranch's honor, as well as their own pride. In some events, they offered their bodies to injury, and a few paid the price.

And when the time came, at the end of the Saturday performance, for handing out the awards, the winners were given an opportunity to say something over the public address system. Almost every one acknowledged they were proud to do something which would benefit the three charities: North Texas Rehabilitation Center, West Texas Rehabilitation Center and West Texas Boys Ranch.

I just hope the word spreads quickly during the coming year, that more ranches participate and more people turn out. This is the most interesting and possibly the most potential fund-raising activity ever to come up in our great state of Texas.

Letter to the Editor

To Citizens of Iowa Park, Texas:
In reference to the article that appeared in the Leader, Thursday, August 13th, submitted by Richard D. Kirkland a qualified Emergency Medical Technician.

On Friday August 7th, 1981 this department was notified of a one vehicle accident on West Smith Rd. Upon receiving notice, myself and Capt. Dean proceeded to the scene. Upon arriving at location we identified two teenagers who was pinned under a vehicle. I immediately called to get an ambulance on the way, and a fire truck because gasoline was running around the vehicle, causing a very dangerous situation. I had two of the local E.M.T. present. Due to the situation all the E.M.T.'s could do was console the subjects. We called for a wrecker because vehicle had to be lifted evenly from the rear.

I personally requested any of the people that were at the accident to step away to the other side of the road unless they were E.M.T.'s or relations, due to a fire.

Mr. Kirkland could possibly be right in his article reference to the Chief, but I don't recall telling anyone to leave or go except to the other side of the road.

I believed I had adequate emergency people on hand and two attendants from Plumlee Ambulance.

It would help this department if other members of the E.M.T. would come to our Fire Department or Fire Chief so we can have a list of people to call.

Trooper Bruce Tabor, Department of Public Safety, wrote up the accident.

It is my belief that it is the Police Officer's duty at the scene of any accident to organize and get the victims free of vehicle and enroute to hospital as soon as possible.

Attention: Parents or Guardians of school children

Dear Parent or Guardian:

APPLICATION FORM
(For Free or Reduced-Price Meals)

Date _____

I. Identification of children for whom application is made:

NAME SCHOOL GRADE

The Iowa Park Consolidated Independent Schools serve nutritious meals every school day. Students may buy lunch for .65, .75, and .90 cents and breakfast for .40 cents.

Children from families whose income is at or below the level shown on the attached scale may be eligible for either free meals or meals at a reduced price of .40 cents for lunch and .20 cents for breakfast.

To apply at any time during the year for free or reduced price meals for your children, complete the attached application and return it to the school. Within ten (10) days of receiving your application, the school will let you know whether or not your children are eligible.

If, during the school year, there are changes in your family size or substantial changes in your income, you should report such changes to the school's officials in order that appropriate eligibility adjustments be made.

*PROOF OF CURRENT FAMILY INCOME - If you have applied for free or reduced price benefits in other school years, you will note some changes to the application form. The application now requires the name and social security number of all adult family members. Adults without social security numbers must indicate that they do not have one. Schools may verify the source and amount of income as well as household composition.

* FOSTER CHILDREN - In certain cases, foster children are also eligible for these benefits. If you have foster children living with you and you wish to apply for such meals for them, please notify us or indicate it on the application.

* NONDISCRIMINATION - All children are treated the same regardless of ability to pay. In the operation of child feeding programs, no child will be discriminated against because of race, sex, creed, color or national origin.

* FAIR HEARING - If you do not agree with the school's decision on your application, you may wish to discuss it with the school. If you wish to review the decision further, you have a right to a fair hearing. This can be done by calling or writing Bill Steger, P.O. Box 428, Iowa Park, Texas 76367, Phone: 592-5921.

Sincerely,
Harold Cowley

IRS Tax Tips

Collection Process

Paying taxes has never been a popular pastime-but it's something that almost everyone does, usually through payroll withholding, estimated tax payments, or regular deposits in the case of employment taxes.

There are, however, some persons who do not pay their full tax liability, according to the Internal Revenue Service. These delinquent taxpayers usually hear from the IRS through its collection process.

If delinquent taxes are owed, several methods of collection are available to the IRS. For example, the IRS employee may request financial information to determine the best method for payment. Usually, if the taxpayer can repay all the outstanding taxes at once-by selling property, borrowing, or using savings-this is done and the debt paid immediately.

On the other hand, if the taxpayer cannot pay the delinquent amount immediately, the taxpayer may qualify for installment payments.

When a taxpayer can pay the tax due immediately or under an installment agreement, but chooses not to do so, the IRS can enforce collection. One method of enforced collection is by levy.

A levy is a taking of property to satisfy a tax debt. It can be against salaries, wages, bank accounts, or commissions, for example. Under the Internal Revenue Code, a levy can be issued against a taxpayer neglecting or refusing to pay taxes owed within 10 days after the first notice has been given. Usually, however, the taxpayer has received several notices and has failed to make satisfactory arrangements for payment before a levy is issued.

In certain circumstances, only one notice may be sent to business taxpayers who fail to pay to the IRS income and social security taxes withheld from the wages of their employees. Income and social security tax withheld from the wages of employees is not a tax on the employer. It is a fund held in trust by the employer until it is paid over to the Government. This is the reason for fewer notices.

Cook of the Week

What mother would not be proud to hear a son or daughter say, "My mother's the world's best cook?" Susan Raybourne may not have used these exact words in complimenting her mother's cooking, but what she said was convincing enough to make us realize that we had found just the person to be featured in this issue as the Cook of the Week.

Mrs. Luther Raybourne

What does it mean to be a good cook? Ruskin gave quite a definition when he said that it meant to have "the knowledge of all fruits, herbs, balms and spices, and all that is healing and sweet in fields and groves, savory in meats; it means carefulness, inventiveness, watchfulness, willingness and readiness of appliance; it means the economy of great-grandmothers, and the science of modern chemists; it means much tasting and no wasting; it means English thoroughness, French art and Arabian hospitality." Most of us do not have command of such words to give our definition of a good cook, but what could be more impressive than to say "My mother (or even father) is one of the best cooks in the whole world?"

Judy (Mrs. Luther) Raybourne, a native of Ohio, has been a resident of Iowa Park for about two years. She confesses that she has had quite an adjustment to make in her eating habits. She likes Mexican foods but she had never eaten hot peppers and she has had some "scorching" experiences with them. She was not familiar with corn bread and Texas biscuits, and other foods that are just a way of life with residents of the Lone Star state.

Mrs. Raybourne was born in West Alexandria, Ohio and attended high school at Lebanon. Her husband has retired from construction work and a drawing card for them to move to Iowa Park was to be near their daughter, Judy (Mrs. Robert) Feix and her family. Since they moved, their son, Robert and his family have moved here, and Susan, their younger daughter, a senior at Iowa Park High School, lives at home.

Mrs. Raybourne is employed as a babysitter at present. She kept foster children for 12 years when the family lived in Ohio. She attends Faith Baptist Church and her hobbies are ceramics and foam art. Mr. and Mrs. Raybourne have nine grandchildren.

RAISIN CAKE

[This recipe has been handed down through the family]
4 cups raisins boiled in 4 cups water (save water). Let cool.
1 cup brown sugar
1 cup granulated sugar
2 eggs
1/4 lb. butter or margarine
Beat together sugar and butter until fluffy. Add eggs and beat well.
Add:
1 tsp. each cinnamon, nutmeg, allspice, ginger
1/4 tsp. salt
2 tsps. soda
Add:
Drained raisins
1 cup nuts
1 cup applesauce
Add 4 cups all-purpose flour, one cup at a time, beating after each addition.

Add as much raisin water needed to make batter smooth.

Bake in large bundt pan or tube pan at 300 degrees for 1 1/2 hours. Put pan of water in bottom of oven.

(This recipe makes a good fruit cake if candied fruit is used.)

POTATO SALAD

10 medium potatoes, boiled in jackets
5 large boiled eggs
Let eggs and potatoes cool completely. Do not put in cold water, but drain cooking water off potatoes. Cube peeled potatoes and 4 eggs, add:
2 chopped celery stalks
1 chopped onion
1 T pimentos, optional

1 cup Miracle Whip salad dressing
2 T sweet pickle relish.

Mix all together in large bowl; add more salad dressing if desired. Slice 1 egg and place on top of salad. Sprinkle lightly with paprika. (It improves the salad to make it several hours before serving)

BUTTERY PEANUT BRITTLE

2 cups granulated sugar
1 cup light corn syrup
1/2 cup water
1 cup butter or margarine
2 cups chopped peanuts
1 tsp. soda
Heat and stir sugar, syrup and water in 3-qt. saucepan till sugar dissolves. While syrup boils, blend in butter. Stir often after 230 degrees. Add peanuts at 280 degrees and stir constantly to hard crack at 305 degrees. Pour on cookie sheets. Stretch thin by lifting and pulling from edges with fork. Loosen from pans as soon as possible. Break up; makes about 2 1/2 lbs.

YANKEE BAKED BEANS

1 large (16 oz.) can Campbell's pork and beans
1 cup tomato catsup
1/2 cup brown sugar
1 onion, chopped
1 T mustard
Mix well and place in baking dish. Put two strips of bacon on top of beans and bake at 350 degrees for about 35 minutes or till onion pieces are done and bacon is brown.

PEANUT BUTTER COOKIES

1 cup chunky peanut butter
1 cup brown sugar
1 cup white sugar

1 cup butter or margarine
1 1/2 tsps. soda
2 cups flour
Mix all ingredients and make into small balls. Place on baking sheet and pat out with fork. Bake 15 minutes at 275 degrees.

PUMPKIN NUT BREAD

3 cups sugar
1 cup salad oil
4 eggs, beaten
2 cups pumpkin
3 1/2 cups flour
2 tsps. soda
1 tsp. baking powder
2 tsps. salt
1/2 tsp. cloves
1 tsp. each allspice, cinnamon, nutmeg
1 1/2 cups raisins
3/4 cup water
1 1/2 cups chopped nuts
Mix together well and pour in bundt or tube cake pan. Bake at 350 for 1 hour.

TOPS meets

Fifteen members of the TOPS Club weighed in at the Monday night meeting when plans for participation in the Chamber of Commerce's annual Whoop-T-Do were discussed.

Mrs. M.L. Towns was the best TOPS loser and Mrs. Pauline Steele was the ideal KOPS for the week. Mrs. R. Putman read an article by April Karol on "Losing Weight - Nothing to Fear but Fear Itself" for the program.

Trustees amend budget, hear bilingual report

Holiday school board, Monday night in a called meeting, approved the amended budget for the 1980-81 school year, and appointed a bi-lingual education committee.

Superintendent Ray Coe, when asked how certain categories in the budget showed no balance remaining while others showed a surplus, answered by saying certain amendments are made during the school year to the budget, with funds taken from one category to meet unanticipated costs in another.

Trustee Terry Parnell asked for clarification on the funding of school buses, specifically how much the state reimburses the school, and how administrators in the school figure the cost per mile to run a bus.

Coe said the state pays only for mileage on bus routes, and excludes extracurricular transportation, such as football games and field trips.

In addition, other schools in the state receive more funds than the Holiday district, because the funding is also based on the number of students picked up within a certain number of miles.

"We have a more densely-populated area around Holiday than other school districts who pick up fewer students but drive longer distances to do so," Coe said.

Last year the state reimbursed Holiday schools 32-cents per mile, while administrators figured it cost $1.10 per mile to operate the buses, including maintenance and personnel.

Trustees named three school employees to the bi-lingual education committee. Under state guidelines, an administrator, counselor and teacher are to be appointed to the committee, which will review results of the survey.

In the home language survey, each student will bring a form home for his/her parents or guardian to sign, with two questions to be answered. (1) "What language is spoken in your home most of the time?" (2) "What language does your child speak most of the time?" According to Coe, if one child in the school district speaks a language at home other than English the majority of the time, the school will have to furnish his education in that language. "According to information I received at a Region Nine meeting recently, the courts have temporarily overruled the case involving bilingual education, but that it would be wise to complete the survey until a higher court ruling," Coe said. In other business, elementary principal Dan Owen explained guidelines made by him concerning parents who wished to pick up their kindergarten-aged children before the school day is completed. During the last meeting of the school board, trustees agreed that, though not mandatory, they wished that all kindergarten students remain in school all day. Since then, parents wishing to take their child out early have contacted Owen asking what guidelines have been established.

Owen responded by saying the student can be picked up during the kindergarten lunch period, from 11 a.m. to 11:20 a.m., but not before or after that time. "We decided that taking the student out of school any other time would merely create confusion to the teachers and myself," Owen said.

In addition, the parents were told that if they choose to take out their child during lunch, he or she will be omitted from most of the extracurricular activities held during the school year, including field trips, track meets and parties during holidays, all of which are traditionally held in the afternoon.

Principal baffled by missing students

MISSING: 27 students.
FROM: Holiday Independent School District.

LAST VISUAL CONTACT: May, 1980, during last days of school year. "In the 10 years I've been principal at Holiday, this is the first decrease in enrollment we've had," remarked Dan Owen, after a tally of students attending Holiday Elementary for the first day of school showed a drastic decrease in enrollment.

Enrollment figures for Holiday schools show a decrease of 27, from last year's 763 to 736.

Owen reported 371 kindergarten and elementary students showed the first day, compared to a peak figure of 417 for last year, a decrease of 46.

The figure for last year included students enrolling after the Labor Day holidays, which traditionally adds 20-30 students to the final enrollment figures.

But other, more significant changes in the economy and recent action by the board regarding transfer students have affected the enrollment figures, Owen said.

In an earlier school board meeting, trustees voted not to accept transfer students from other school districts. Owen said high interest rates on long-term loans have prohibited parents of past transfer students from building homes within the school district.

In addition, increased gasoline costs have affected enrollment, with fewer parents driving their children to the Turkey Ranch Road pickup.

During Monday night's called meeting of the Holiday school board, Owen said, "We have come up with some figures that just didn't jive with previous figures."

Owen reported 51 students in kindergarten, first grade 51, second 49, third 45, fourth 66, fifth 59 and sixth 50. All classes have shown declines, Owen said, and earlier indications that an additional teacher be added to the first grade will remain up in the air until after Labor Day.

High school principal Bill Lee reported an increase of 19 over last year, with a total of 365, compared to last August's total of 346.

Seventh grade totalled 74, eighth 52, ninth 59, tenth 54, eleventh 61 and twelfth 65.

"We also expect to pick up more students after the Labor Day holiday," Lee said.

Nine new teachers began their first day at Holiday High School. They are: Bill Higgins, health, elementary P.E., head boys' basketball coach; Martha Higgins, English, journalism; Duncan Brown, assistant high school band director and junior high director; Steve McIlhane, history, head girls' basketball coach; Gordon Turner, junior high and high school math; Jim Bob Wallace, vo-ag I and vo-ag mechanics; Robert White, English and Spanish I; and, Peggy Wallace, high school resource, English, math.

Lee said the activity period has been rescheduled for the morning, to avoid conflicts with an additional course in vocational agriculture, vo-ag mechanics. Another new course, career reading program for seventh and eighth grade non-band members, has been added to the curriculum.

Eagle varsity impressive

Holiday Eagles' first team units were impressive in the season's first scrimmage in Knox City Friday night, with the varsity scoring twice while leading the host Greyhounds to no score and very little yardage. Although head coach Don Lucy is reluctant about praising the team's efforts this early in the season, he did single out the offensive and defensive lines as showing the greatest progress thus far. "The overall effort of the linemen wasn't bad," Lucy said. "They made a few mental mistakes, which is expected, but they got off the line fast." "We thought the team as a whole played well for their first scrimmage," he continued. "We were pretty well pleased."

Asked if he will make any major changes before tomorrow night's scrimmage against Bowie, Lucy replied, "No specific changes, we will just try to execute better with the plays we have."

The scrimmage begins tomorrow night at 6, with the freshmen taking the field first, followed by the varsity, junior varsity, then varsity again. Each team will run 20-play series, beginning on the offensive team's 20-yard line, with three plays given to make a first down.

Lucy said both the junior varsity and freshman teams, which deadlocked with their opponents 0-0 Friday, featured impressive defensive groups. "We thought they looked real good, especially the junior varsity's defense," Lucy said.
