Democratic party's runoff polls combined Saturday

To save money and still handle an expected light turnout in Saturday's Democratic primary runoff, polls have been combined for several voting precincts, according to Vernon Cannon, Wichita County clerk.

Polls are to open at 7 a.m. and close at 7 p.m. and voting is open to all registered voters except those who voted in the Republican primary last month.

In this area, voting precincts 32, 33, 34 and 60 will be held at the Wichita County Agriculture Building in Iowa Park; 36, 37, 38, 39 and 49 will be at the Electra City Hall; and 18, 42, 44, 53 and 55 will be at the City View School.

On the ballot will be, for attorney general, Jim Mattox and John Hannah; for commissioner of the general land office, Pete Snelson and Garry Mauro; for judge of the court of criminal appeals, place one, John E. Humphreys and Charles F. Campbell Jr.; and for judge, court of criminal appeals, place two, Chuck Miller and Bill Black.

Cannon said savings by combining the voting polls would be approximately $4,000.

He anticipates an extremely light turnout, primarily because hardly any absentee votes were cast. In fact, none were cast in Iowa Park, Cannon said.

BIGGEST EVENT EVER in Iowa Park took place Monday, when Wal-Mart opened its doors for business. No estimates were made on the number of people who visited the store opening day, but observers say probably more were there than ever attended the old Texas-Oklahoma Fair, which was held at the same location. Likewise, it was the largest commercial event in the community's history. Through most of the day, the large parking lot was filled, as was the adjoining Park West Shopping Center parking area, both sides of West Highway had parked cars, as did Bank Street, behind the store, and some even parked in Shaw Motor Co. used car lot.

Five injured in collision

A two-vehicle collision at the intersection of Cash and Bond at 6 p.m. Tuesday resulted in all five occupants being sent to the hospital.

Four were treated and released, but an infant reportedly remains in serious condition at Wichita General Hospital.

Mrs. Larry Cox of 108 N. Hawthorn was driving her small station wagon east on Cash when she was in collision with a small pickup driven by Danny Custis of 117 Wood Circle.

Custis was alone, but Mrs. Cox had her three children riding with her. Her baby, estimated four or five months old, remains in the intensive care unit.

Cause of the accident appeared to be that Custis failed to observe a yield sign at the intersection, according to Pat Hannah, investigating officer.

FOR KILLING HUSBAND Jury sentences Wilson to nine years in pen

Joyce Wilson has been sentenced to nine years in prison for shooting her husband to death.

A four-woman, eight-man jury Tuesday set the time she is to serve in the Texas Department of Corrections, though she will be eligible for parole in three years.

Formal sentencing will be held at 9 a.m. June 11 in Judge Temple Driver's 89th district court.

Originally charged with first degree murder, the jury found her guilty of voluntary manslaughter for the Jan. 24 shooting in the couple's home at 1014 Foley.

Mrs. Wilson attempted to commit suicide only a couple of hours after the jury's decision was read Monday last week. She was hospitalized, but was in attendance for the sentencing.

Defense attorney Jim Ammons attempted through the trial to convince the jury that the shooting was in self defense.

However, prosecuting attorney

Barry Macha told Ammons "You didn't say she acted in self-defense. You said she killed during sudden passion."

The defendant had testified that she only drank when her husband forced her, and that was only three or four times during their marriage.

The couple had been arguing and drinking the day of the shooting. But both arguing and drinking was not an uncommon occurrence in and around the house, according to neighbors.

About half a year before the fatal shooting, the couple had argued and Wilson reportedly told neighbors he was leaving, going to Alaska.

In his absence, neighbors said Mrs. Wilson inflicted heavy damage on the house and yard, pulling up newly planted trees, chopping holes in walls with a hatchet, destroying a newly-installed ceiling fan, and breaking almost every window in the house.

Probably the most damaging testimony heard by the jury was given by two former husbands, who said Mrs. Wilson had shot at them both, wounding one.

Macha told the jury "she's not justified in receiving probation. She's not worth it."

Additions top permits list

Additions to homes was the most popular subject of owners in Iowa Park during May, as 19 building permits were issued for either additions or alterations.

Only one new residence construction permit was issued during the month, but the total for that period still amounted to $116,900.

For the year, building permits now stand at $697,196, according to reports from city hall.

Permits issued during May included:

- H.W. Dumes, 608 E. Alameda, mobile home, $80,000;

Andersen, Turner nuptials are solemnized Saturday

The musical setting for the Saturday evening wedding of Miss Carrie Andersen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William H. Andersen of Iowa Park, and Rodney C. Turner, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. Gene Turner of Burkburnett, was a very impressive part of the service.

Tim Adcock, organist, and Mrs. Brent Patterson, pianist and vocalist, were the wedding musicians. Their prelude selections featured organ selections including "Claire de Lune," "If Thou Art Near," "Oh Perfect Love," "Moonlight Sonata," "Liebestraum," "Sunrise, Sunset," "I'm Born Again" and "For Baby." Mrs. Patterson provided piano accompaniment for her solos, "The Rose," and "Through the Eyes of Love."

The organist played "O Promise Me", one of the bride's mother's favorite songs played at her wedding, during the time of ushering and seating of the mothers, and "Trumpet Voluntary" for the entrance of the wedding party. He gave a muted interpretation of "Whither Thou Goest" and accompanied Mrs. Patterson for her rendition of "The Lord's Prayer" during the ceremony. He concluded the music with "Jesu, Joy of Man's Desiring" for the recessional.

The scene of the wedding was the First Christian Church, and Rev. Dale L. Walling, pastor, performed the double-ring ceremony.

Tall white Grecian columns holding brass urns of silk Boston ferns stood on either side of the steps leading to the altar where the couple exchanged their vows and rings. A large arrangement of white spider mums, daisies, lilies combined with sprengeri fern appointed the baptistry rail in the background. During the ceremony, the couple stood before the altar table which held tall white candles in gold candlesticks flanked by votive spiral candelabra wrapped with boxwood greenery.

MRS. RODNEY C. TURNER

The bride, given in marriage by her parents, walked to the altar on the arm of her father. The formal white gown of knit chiffon and Chantilly lace that she wore pictured the excellence of grace in wedding dresses. The slightly raised bodice was fashioned with a Queen Anne neckline trimmed with lace and pearls and long sheer bishop sleeves cuffed with wide lace. The full skirt that swirled into a chapel train was bordered with a lace hem.

She wore a complementary full length lace-trimmed bridal illusion veil that drifted from a Juliet cap of lace. Her round silk bouquet was a creation of large white daisies, yellow rosebuds, white angel lace, loops of white lace ribbon tied with the lace.

The bride wore her late maternal great-grandmother's ring for "something old." She carried a lace handkerchief that was the "something borrowed" from her sister, Mrs. Richard Lehman; kept the "something new" and "something blue" sentiments in her gown and garter, and wore a good luck sixpence in her shoe.

Mrs. Richard Lehman attended her sister as matron of honor. She wore a white daisy-flowered silk gown over mint green crepe, the style marked by a sleeveless fitted bodice, ruffled low neck, matching waistline ribbon sash that tied in a bow at the back, and hemline flounce. In her hair, she wore a garland of daisies, sweetheart roses and angel lace. She carried small white daisies, baby's breath and stephanotis in a natural wicker basket rimmed with a garland of the same flowers from which multiple mint green satin ribbons fell.

Dresses and headpieces of the bridesmaids, Mrs. Larry Oldham of Midland, Mrs. Dave Wilkins of Houston and Teri Russell of Wichita Falls, sister of the groom, were duplicates of the matron of honor's, their dresses were worn over yellow crepe. Their flowers and baskets were the same as Mrs. Lehman's except for yellow ribbon streamers.

The groom, his attendants and ushers chose ivory western-cut tuxedos and box pleated shirts for their attire. The groom's boutonniere consisted of a yellow silk rose, baby's breath and a green silk leaf. Richard Sly of Wichita Falls took part in the wedding as best man. Carl Payne of Burkburnett, Joe Anderson and Charles Keegan of Wichita Falls were groomsmen. Ushers, who were also the candlelighters, were Richard Lehman of Iowa Park and Donnie Coble of Wichita Falls.

Corsages worn by mothers of the bride and groom for the finishing touches to their dresses were formed of yellow silk roses, nylon tulle and stephanotis.

As guests arrived at the church for the wedding, they were directed to sign the wedding book by Mrs. Bill Andersen, sister-in-law of the bride, at a table draped with mint green chiffon over yellow satin.

The reception following the wedding was given by the bride's parents in the Fellowship Hall of the church where the decorations gave expression to the fascination of the mint green and yellow combination.

The bride's table was covered with white lace over yellow satin and each appointment blended effectively with the colors. The centerpiece was a silver lotus bowl holding three yellow candles towering in the center above a bank of white silk daisies, yellow roses and baby's breath.

At one table extremity the three-tiered bride's cake with one set of sugar posts was a flower garden fantasy pictured through frosting mint green and yellow daisies, sweetheart roses, petunias, bridal trumpets, stephanotis and forget me nots arranged in rambling rose effect along the sides of the heavily sculptured tiers. A tall bouquet of the sugar blossoms made a spectacular top ornament to complete the picture. The silver punch service and bridal napkins marked with names and wedding date of the couple added bits of interest.

Mrs. Jim Clapp and Mrs. Lyndell Hollingsworth presided at the table.

Miss Janet Owen served at the groom's table which was centered with an exciting centerpiece featuring a natural western hat filled and banded with dried flowers and yellow foliage. The chocolate cake, colorfully decorated with marzipan fruits and silver coffee service were other appointments.

Other tables were set up in the room for guests to be seated when they ate refreshments and were decorated with bouquets of flowers in the bride's colors and candles. One table held bird seed in bags made from material like the bridal attendant's gowns.

Mrs. Earl Watson and Mrs. W.C. Franklin and Miss Teri Franklin were members of the house party.

Following a trip of Oklahoma, the newlyweds are at home in Burkburnett. She was graduated from Iowa Park High School, attended Midwestern State University and is employed by E.W. Moran Drilling Co. He was graduated from Burkburnett High School, attended Ranger Junior College and works as a manufacturing engineer at Wilson Mfg. Co.

The rehearsal dinner, given by the groom's parents was held in the club room of Heritage House Apartments Friday evening.

Mrs. Pearl Reed of Springer, N.M., Mr. and Mrs. G.L. Arnold of Raton, N.M., grandparents of the bride, were special wedding guests. Others from out-of-town were Mr. and Mrs. Dow C. Harleston, Christi and Robby Dillard of Mt. Pleasant.

Hayes, Fonville wedding held in Burkburnett

In impressive double-ring nuptials performed on Saturday evening at the First Baptist Church in Burkburnett, Miss Jeannie Gail Hayes became the bride of Lynn Keith Fonville.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hayes of Burkburnett and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Fonville of Iowa Park. Rev. Lamoin Champ, pastor, was the officiating minister.

The wedding vows were exchanged before an altar illuminated with the glow of candles uprising from fifteen-branched candelabra entwined with boxwood accented with intermittent bows. Potted parlor palms flanked the candelabra, and the sanctity of the occasion was enhanced with the addition of the unity candlestick. Church pews were marked with silk bows.

Thomas Brooke Hayes, brother of the bride, lighted the candles.

Miss Noni Dressler, pianist and vocalist, provided prelude musical numbers which included "If," "Your Song," and "You Are So Beautiful." The wedding party entered and exited from the church to the tunes of the traditional wedding marches played by Susie Slaydon, church organist.

For her wedding, the bride selected a formal ivory chiffon gown with a cathedral train. The bodice of sweetheart design featured an interesting drop waist in both front and back overlaid with re-embroidered and Chantilly lace rose petals accented with seed pearls, and bishop sleeves. The front of the skirt at the top was adorned with the rose petals, and multiple chiffon ruffles starting at the drop back waist swirled around the front in several ruffles above the hemline, then extended to a wide Wedgewood lace ruffle that encircled the skirt and formal train.

The bride, who was presented for marriage by her father, carried a full teardrop bouquet of pink and white roses, gypsophila, stephanotis and matching streamers. She wore a Wedgewood lace veil bordered with a chiffon ruffle that fell to fingertip length from a Juliet cap of the laces that enriched her wedding gown.

For the "something old" tradition, she carried her paternal grand mother's handkerchief; wore a double strand gold bracelet as "something

"something blue" garter tradition and completed the rhyme with her lovely gown for "something new."

The bridal attendants wore identical Victorian-style gowns of daphne rose tinasetta fashioned with gathered bodices belted at the waists and Victorian Wedgewood lace jackets featuring Chantilly lace trim and long puffed sleeves. They carried rose and blue silk flowers on white lace fans.

Mrs. Dale Tisdale of Wichita Falls served as matron of honor.

Bridesmaids were Mrs. Edgar Schockley of Wichita Falls, Mrs. Dale Pittman of The Woodlands.

The groom and candlelighter were attired in ivory Saratoga tuxedos with tails and satin lapels. The male attendants and ushers wore blue Wellington tuxedos trimmed in navy blue satin.

Bill Fonville attended his son as best man. Groomsmen were Royal Hoffman and Jeff Moyer, both of Wichita Falls. The sextet of ushers included Jerry Hayes, brother of the bride, Thomas Kocis, Joe Bales, all of Burkburnett, Mark Smith of Electra, Dale Pittman of The Woodlands and Eddie Looney of El Paso.

Following a wedding trip to Puerta Vallarta, Mexico, the couple will live in Burkburnett. The bride was graduated from Burkburnett High School and received a B.A. degree in English from Midwestern State University in May. She is employed by Thomas C. Canon Oil Co. The groom was graduated from Iowa Park High School and works for Clark Electric.

The wedding reception hosted by the bride's parents was held in the Fellowship Hall of the church.

The refreshment table, attractively draped with ivory bridal satin featuring a pinch pleated and pearl-pinned skirt overlaid with Venetian lace, was the focal point of interest in the room. The centerpiece was a large silver candelabra trimmed with an array of flowers in the bride's colors that extended into a fall which encircled the cake and silver punch service.

The four-tiered cake covered with ivory buttercream frosting was a dreamy floral confection featuring heavy cascades of roses, in the color of the bridal attendants' gowns. The pale green leaves of the roses that lent contrast, drop garlands, one set of sugar posts and a floral top piece formed of petunias, stephanotis and forget me nots completed the storybook look.

Miss Tiffany Alvey and Miss

Katherine Podhirney served refreshments during the reception. Mrs. Harold Hargrove directed signatures of the guests.

For their children's wedding, Mrs. Hayes, the bride's mother, wore a long light dusty rose polyester dress, the bodice made with long, sheer full sleeves, a large bow at the neckline and belted waist above a pleated skirt, and Mrs. Fonville wore a long rose polyester crepe dress patterned with a fitted bodice, white lace collar, short sleeves and accordion pleated skirt.

In connection with the wedding rehearsal Friday evening, the groom's parents hosted a dinner at Frontier Steak House.

As I See It....

By BOB HAMILTON

"Mr. Hamilton, I got a traffic ticket last night. . . and I was wondering if you could leave it out of the court report."

In response to the obviously youthful male voice on the other end of the telephone line, I said it all depended on the outcome in court. "If the judge finds you guilty, I'll use it. It's public record. I don't pick and choose whose name is reported."

I didn't bother to ask his name before or after giving him my answer, because whether I knew him or not made no difference. He's probably a good friend of mine.

The call isn't uncommon. In fact, I get such a request about every couple of weeks. And my response is the same.

Many have attempted to tell me that it wasn't right for the Leader to print their names after having already paid their fines. But that hasn't anything to do with it.

Any newspaper worth its charge for circulation attempts to reflect the community as a whole, telling both the bad and the good; giving credit for deeds of both kinds. We no more try to seek out the wrong doings of people or governmental bodies any more than we look only for the good things. Life isn't all good or all bad, and that's what we attempt to explain in this newspaper.

A partial truth is a lie, and to report only part of the community activities would not be telling the truth. Should the time ever come that we would be required, either by law or by social or economic pressure, I'll get out of this business. I hate a liar.

I'm often told "Well they don't do it in the (blank) paper." And I must point out that I have nothing to do with the policies of whatever paper they've mentioned. I'm often tempted to say, "Well, they do in (another named paper)."

Newspapers reflect the people who operate them, much like any other business. If some publishers choose to bow to certain pressures or decide to establish another type of policy than we have here, that is their privilege.

If there's anything I want, it is to be friends with everyone. But if maintaining friendships requires me to prostitute myself to their wishes, then it is a friendship I can live without.

We will play no favorites in reporting the news in the Leader. I pledge that we will treat everyone alike.

But I must temper that statement that there are positions and situations that have a lot to do with where the story appears in the paper, how much space is devoted to the subject and the size of the headline.

The story will be printed, but how and where is a judgement any newspaperman must make.

colleges and especially professional sports move around is often a humorous subject to me. How many teams has Billy Martin coached? They don't retire after being fired, just move to another team, it seems.

Well it appears to be happening in Texas high school sports now.

I noticed an article in The Canyon Sunday News recently which pointed out that the Canyon Eagles will open their Dist. 1 AAAA schedule next fall against Brownfield.

The point was, Brownfield's coach, Deane Wright, was the Canyon coach last season. Canyon's new coach is Houston Powell, who coached at Beeville last year.

But the kicker was, Beeville's coach is now James Rust, who was replaced at Brownfield by Wright.

Musical chairs, huh?

Worth Quoting

We can't recall a time when Mother Nature has fussed and bothered around for so long without receiving any real moisture.

While neighbors to the south, east, and north have received the same amount of turmoil, they at least have measurable amounts of rainfall to show for it.

Until a reader called to question why the sirens were not used to announce the storm Monday night, we had forgotten about our warning system.

Several years ago, a cannon was mounted on top of the courthouse and wired into the dispatcher's office. The cannon was to serve as a warning if a tornado headed for the city.

But the system never worked because we could never keep the powder dry. Various other methods were studied and discarded as either unreliable or unworkable.

Finally, during civil defense drills, it was decided that eighteen blasts on the siren would signal the populace that a tornado had been sighted and was headed toward town and to take protective cover.

The system is still in effect - 18 blasts of the siren - if a tornado is sighted and is endangering the city. A tornado was sighted southeast of town Monday night but it was moving away from the city - and the alert was not used.

There's some question in the minds of civil defense officials as to whether an alert warning causes more harm than good.

The last time the warning was used on the actual approach of a tornado, we had more property damage from people trying to leave town than the tornado created.

Over 50 minor fender benders were reported that evening as cars crashed into cars as the drivers fled from the approaching storm.

Letter to the Editor

Dear Bob,
 I'd like to complain about the lousy pick-up service we are receiving on the trash. Sometimes it is two weeks or more before our trash is picked up. This does create a problem. I don't mind paying for a service I receive but it does irk me to no end to be paying for something that isn't received. I realize some alleys are impassable when it rains but the trash can be picked up at the end of the alleys surely. I just wonder how the city would react if we deducted that service from our water bills each time the trash wasn't picked up. There surely are others who feel as I do, if so let's hear about it. Thank you

Home burglary reported here

A $3,472 home burglary, another theft and a case of criminal mischief were on the police blotter during the past week.

Beatrice Brookshire told police Sunday that sometime between May 20 and 28 someone entered her unlocked home at 504 E. Pasadena and took clothing, boots, bath towels, watches and jewelry valued at $3,472.80.

Thirty plastic milk cases valued at $8 apiece were reportedly taken over the weekend from behind Superfine Foods, according to Jerry McCord, Borden's representative.

Sometime between 3 and 11 a.m. Saturday, a blue bicycle was thrown into the windshield of a Chinook motor home parked at 904 E. Pasadena, shattering the glass, Stan Pritchard reported.

The bicycle was determined to have been stolen from 102 Hope Lane, and was returned to its owner.

PAY TO THE ORDER OF _____ $ 240.00

Two hundred forty and 00/100

•190903889• 0373 •6660000•

The amount shown is for a 3-ton central electric air conditioner with an SEER of 8.5.

If you replace your central electric air conditioner with one that's more efficient, Texas Electric will pay you a bonus of $80 per ton.

Not only that, you'll save on your electric bill as well. For example, a high-efficiency 3-ton unit will save you about $160 a year.

This equipment costs more initially, but the bonus from Texas Electric plus the savings on your electric bill will make up the difference in just a few years.

If enough people buy high-efficiency equipment, summer peak load growth will be slowed — and so will the need to build new generating plants. In the long run, this will help hold down everyone's electric bill.

Before you replace your old air conditioner, ask your dealer about central air conditioners, heat pumps, and window units that qualify for this program.

Cook of the Week

During the hot summer months, everyone is searching for ways to beat the heat and still satisfy those eager eaters. Games and activities stimulate hearty appetites that have to be satisfied in summer as well in winter.

One of summer's richest pleasures is the beautiful assortment of vegetables and fruits. Both can be used in a variety of ways that do not require a lot of time spent in the kitchen over a hot stove. Salads made from vegetables and fruits are a boon to cooks during the summer months.

Barbara (Mrs. Charles) Galliton delights in cooking, but she has already begun to search through her files for recipes that are not too complicated or time-consuming during the hot days "just around the corner." She finds that salads are very helpful and shares three of hers with us this week.

Salads have become increasingly popular throughout the years and occupy a place of importance in our menus. They are really a custom from ancient days because we read that Roman emperors dined on dressed lettuce and radishes served on plates of gold sliced so thin that the gold shone through. It seems that the French and Spaniards introduced them to America.

Barbara and her family have lived in Iowa Park 14 years. She is a native of Checotah, Okla. When she first moved here, she worked as assistant manager of the Chicken Shack in Wichita Falls for several years and later worked as cashier at Pioneer 7. In recent years, she has worked as a checker at H&S Food Store. She is a member of Grace Baptist Church.

She and her husband, who is a truck pusher for Linmore Drilling Co., have four children and six grandchildren, one of them, Tony, who is pictured with her today, lives with them. Her hobbies are cooking, ceramics and collecting recipes.

Their children are Gary and Jerry of Iowa Park, Terry of Braggs, Okla. and Mrs. Robert Ellis of Wichita Falls.

Ratcliff, Nuckolls vows exchanged Saturday

Nuptial rites of impressive dignity were performed Saturday evening to unite Miss Rita Sue Ratcliff and Joseph S. Nuckolls. The ceremony took place at First United Methodist Church where relatives and friends witnessed the recitation of marriage vows by the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Ratcliff of Iowa Park and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Carroll P. Nuckolls of Lubbock.

Rev. Don Youngblood of Burk Burnett, a retired Methodist minister and former minister of the Iowa Park First United Methodist Church, performed the double-ring ceremony.

The sacredness of the occasion was emphasized in altar decorations where an open Bible, gold cross and gold candlesticks holding white candles were spotlighted on the altar table in the upper altar. On the lower level, decorations featured a brass arch laced with boxwood greenery accented with pink silk carnations flanked by candles burning in low seven-branched candelabra. The candles were lighted by Lisa Vasquez, niece of the bride.

Standing on the floor on either side of the arch were tall white wicker baskets filled with arrangements of pink and burgundy silk carnations, roses and buds and baby's breath.

Tim Adcock, organist, presented the wedding music which included prelude selections and the wedding marches favored by so many couples for their entrance into and exit from the sanctuary. His offerings played before the ceremony were "Because," "Liebestraum," "Wedding Prayer," "Whither Thou Goest," and "You Light Up My Life."

The bride walked gracefully down the aisle to the altar with her father who gave her in marriage for her parents. Her gown was a summery impression of flattering white Qiana and Chantilly lace. The lace molded the bodice, defined the high neck and formed the cuffs of the bishop sleeves. The lace-hemmed full skirt fell to the floor from a high waistline and flowed into a chapel train.

Her veil, a drift of illusion, cascaded from a large brimmed floppy white lace hat banded with small pink and burgundy silk rosebuds. She carried a cascade of pink and burgundy silk carnations, roses and baby's breath.

To complete her costume, the bride observed tradition by carrying a handkerchief that had been passed down from her late paternal grandmother for "something old"; wearing a diamond necklace that belonged to Mrs. W.C. Denton of Cisco, her maternal grandmother, for "something borrowed"; and wearing new earrings, a gift from the groom, for "something new." She kept the "something blue" both in a garter that she wore and the handkerchief that she carried.

Miss Jennifer Hutto of El Paso took part in the wedding as maid of honor.

wore burgundy and pink silk roses for their corsages.

Following the wedding, guests assembled in the newly-decorated Fellowship Hall where pleasant surprises awaited them at the reception given by the bride's parents. Mrs. Bob Ratcliff, the bride's aunt, provided piano background music.

The table that held the wedding guest book was covered with white lace. It was appointed with a white ceramic basket threaded with burgundy silk ribbon and filled with burgundy and pink satin rice rosebuds that were handed out by Shannon and Kelly Hanson, and a white vase marked with a picture of bride and groom and holding flowers in the chosen colors. Guests signed the book with a burgundy plume pen under the direction of Miss Helen Gilmore.

Reception assistants were Miss Connie Krum, who served at the groom's table; Mmes. Don Beals, Thomas Johnson, Robert Robinson, Terry Ratcliff, Ernest Ratcliff, who alternated with duties at the bride's table and houseparty duties.

The special attraction of the bride's table draped with white lace over pink satin was noted in the centerpiece, cake, crystal punch service and napkins.

An antique crystal bowl in the center of the table held a silk arrangement of roses, tulips, carnations in pink and burgundy colors. On either side were pink candles burning in single low gold holders ringed with silk flowers in the chosen colors. The napkins in the two shades were personalized with the names of the bride and groom and told the date of their wedding.

The beautifully-decorated white cake, a three-tiered structure, sparkled with perfection in clusters of burgundy and pink frosting roses attached to pale green leaves, white ceramic doves, and sculptured details encircling each layer. The top tier standing aloft on filigree dividers held a lacy dais that supported a youthful bride and groom kissing in front of two tall lace-framed filigree hearts.

The groom's table was laid with white lace over burgundy satin. A tall burgundy candle encircled with silk flowers in the center was flanked by the chocolate sheet cake and silver coffee service. The cake was trimmed with a spray of pink and burgundy frosting flowers at the top and clusters of the flowers on either side of the base. Between the spray and clusters the names "Joe-Rita" were cut in the icing.

The rehearsal dinner was hosted by the groom's parents at Luby's Cafeteria.

The bride and groom are both students at Texas Tech. Univ. and are employed at Copper Caboose Restaurant. She was graduated from Iowa Park High School and he was graduated from Lubbock Coronada. They will live in Lubbock following a wedding trip to San Antonio. The bride's traveling costume featured blue denim skirt and turquoise ruffled blouse.

Mr. and Mrs. W.C. Denton of Cisco, grandparents of the bride, were special guests. Others from out-of-town were Mrs. Harvey Alexander of Odessa, Kim Deyoung of Dallas and Sharon Hanson of Oklahoma City.

Garden Vegetable Show tomorrow in Wichita Falls

The third annual Home Garden Vegetable Show is scheduled Friday at the Farmer's Market located at Eighth and Ohio in Wichita Falls. The event is aimed at showing the production of quality vegetables and promoting vegetable production in this area. Home gardeners and commercial growers are invited to participate.

There will be a junior division for youth who are 19 years of age and younger. The senior division will be for all persons 20 years of age and over.

Entries will be accepted from 8 to 9 a.m. at the Farmer's Market Friday. A person can enter as many different vegetable varieties as desired. Entries may be brought in any type of container. Officials will transfer all entries to show containers.

Judging will begin at 10:30 a.m. by Dr. Roland Roberts, Extension Horticulturist from Lubbock. First, second and third place winners will be awarded ribbons in each class. Champion and reserve champion entries will be selected for both the junior and senior divisions.

There will be a class for all types of vegetables grown in this area. A person can make only one entry per variety. An entry includes a dozen cherry and pear tomatoes, beans and peas; one bunch (5-7) of greens, beets, carrots, radishes, turnips, broccoli, parsley and spinach; six brussel sprouts and peppers; three each of cucumbers, egg plant, leaf lettuce, potatoes, squash, and large tomatoes; and one each of cauliflower, cabbage head, and lettuce head. Additional classes have been set for the largest vegetable and the most colorful vegetable. This will provide growers an opportunity to show off their unusual vegetables.

The selection of vegetables is the key to successful showing, according to County Agent Don Decker. Judging is based upon having a marketable product, uniformity of the sample, freedom from defects, free of insect and disease damage, and attractiveness of the sample. A few minutes time spent selecting a good uniform sample will aid in showing top entries. A bulletin on selecting vegetables is available from the county Extension office, 2008 11th.

Dr. Roberts will explain his placings while in process of judging. Making an entry in the show is one of the best ways for an individual to learn more about growing vegetables.

Rehab Center auction scheduled July 24

The 14th annual Crippled Children's Livestock Auction will be July 24 at Wichita Livestock Auction, 2509 Sheppard Access Road, Wichita Falls. The auction, headed by Joe Parker, rancher-banker of Byers, raises money for the North Texas Rehabilitation Center, Wichita Falls. The sale is the largest source of revenue for the Center.

Merchandise, which has been traditionally auctioned off after the livestock, will be put on the auction block the evening before at the 4-H Barn, Midwestern Parkway, Wichita Falls.

Parker, who has been general chairman of the auction the past nine years, said the committee is trying out something different by having merchandise that doesn't pertain to ranching and farming auction before the livestock sale. Merchandise, such as feed, seed and ranching-farming equipment, will be auctioned at the Saturday sale.

Stanley Williamson, Iowa Park, is chairman of Wichita County auction committee. Bill Steger, also of Iowa Park, will be in charge of this area's auction donations, assisted by Ralph Harvey III. Steger also is a member of the rehab center board of directors.

Committee members will be contacting ranchers and farmers for livestock donations but those wishing to donate may contact any of the workers.

There are many ways to donate to the auction and money raised during this auction helps the rehab center continue its treatment of handicapped children.

The Center serves the North Texas and Southern Oklahoma area with 199 patients from Iowa Park receiving treatment through the years. The Center provides therapy for children and adults with physical, speech, language, hearing handicaps and learning disabilities. A special infant development program treats children from birth to three years and who have birth defects or developmental problems.

Hollis Dickey of Ringling, Okla., will be auctioneer for both livestock and merchandise sales. In the past all types of merchandise from saddles to guns to antiques and small items have been offered.

Parker presided at the recent kickoff luncheon for the auction held at McBride's Seafood and Steak Restaurant, Wichita Falls.

Roberts, Johnson to Boys State this weekend

The Forty-second annual American Legion Boys State, sponsored by the State of Texas American Legion and held on the Campus of the University of Texas at Austin, will get underway Saturday as 942 high school boys from all parts of Texas begin registration, State Commander Lee Guy of Breckenridge announced.

Among those registering from Iowa Park are Kent Roberts and Frank Johnson who are sponsored by local American Legion Posts.

Following registration, each citizen will be assigned to one of two political parties - the Nationalist or Federalist. Each citizen then functions as a member of his party, he attends its precinct, county and state conventions and votes in its primary.

Boys State is one of the most successful youth programs in operation today. Each year, Posts select thousands of students throughout the nation to attend these civic workshops where each boy participates in the practical functioning of local, county, and state government.

Boys State helps to develop civic leadership and pride in American citizenship. This program arouses a keen interest in the detailed study of our government. These civic workshops stress the importance of maintaining our form of government and brings about a better understanding of our national traditions and beliefs to the more than 28,000 young men throughout the nation who are participating this year.

In Boys State, The American Legion provides the type of program where the young citizen has an opportunity to learn for himself that his government is just what he makes it. The boy "learns to do by doing."

Speaker highlights include an address by Gov. William P. Clements, Jr. at 11 a.m. Tuesday and an address by National Commander Jack W. Flynt at 6:30 p.m. Wednesday, both in Hogg Auditorium. Congressional Medal of Honor recipient Sgt. Roy P. Benavidez will speak at 8 a.m. Thursday.

Another highlight of Boys State will be a trip to the capitol Friday morning where each elected Boys State official will be given an opportunity to serve in his respective office for a day. This year brings the total to 25,072 high school juniors who have attended since 1940, when Boys State was first inaugurated in Texas.

Legionnaires set state convention

Legionnaires and Auxiliary delegates of the American Legion 1st Division, with a membership in excess of 17,000 over 53 North Texas Counties from Quanah to Texarkana and south to Carthage and across to Fort Worth, will assemble in Fort Worth Saturday and Sunday for their annual convention.

All activities for the two-day convention will take place in American Legion Post Home No. 569, located at 400 W. Felix Street in Fort Worth with registration to begin at 1 p.m. Saturday.

Other activities for Saturday include the commander's and president's reception at 5:30 p.m., joint Legion and Auxiliary session and banquet at 7 p.m. and the annual convention dance at 9 p.m.

Lee Guy of Breckenridge, Legion State Commander, will deliver the keynote address during the joint session and banquet.

Sunday registration will continue in the Post Home at 8 a.m. and the past commander's breakfast will be served at 8:30 a.m. At 10 a.m., Commander George Lovelady will call the Legion business session to order and a memorial service will be held. Following memorial service, Lovelady will call for division committee chairmen reports to be given for final approval by the convention delegates. In addition, delegates and alternates to the national convention, to be held in Chicago, in August will be elected.

The last order of business will be the election of a new Division Commander who will assume office in July.

City's insurance coverage changed

Holliday city council last Thursday agreed to switch insurance companies after speaking with representative Don Talley in a special called meeting to renew the city's liability coverage.

The motion to change from St. Paul's Insurance to U.S. Fire, represented by Crum and Foster of Wichita Falls, was approved on a split vote, with mayor James Cook breaking the tie with an affirmative vote.

The difference of opinion did not involve changing companies, but instead in the method of payment. U.S. Fire offered various payment plans, including semi-annual, or quarterly. The motion by Fred Daume, Jr. to approve the change and accept the quarterly payment method received the approval of Cook and alderman John Goforth, while Jimmy Willis and Jim Vitell maintained the semi-annual payments were preferred.

Of the two companies, St. Paul's and U.S. Fire, the latter had better qualifications as well as a lower bid. The total bid of $5,072 was $1,500 less than St. Paul's, and $600 less than St.

IRS Tax Tips

TIPS ARE TAXABLE

Most workers in service occupations, such as waiters and waitresses, casino and hotel employees, barbers and beauticians, generally receive tips from their customers and clients.

Tips are subject to federal income tax and the Internal Revenue Service has increased efforts to insure that tip income is being properly reported.

For example, during a tax examination of a business whose employees receive tips, the IRS can look at records to be sure that tips are being reported. Based on the number of customers, the cost of the service provided, and other information, the IRS can reconstruct tip income received by employees.

The IRS will then check the income tax returns of employees to see if the tip income was completely reported. Employees who did not report the proper amount of tips will be contacted by the IRS to determine the correct tax due.

In Texas, 98.5% of all the people killed in passenger cars, trucks, and buses in 1980 were not wearing their seat belts.

Finnell reports on called session

(AUSTIN). . . State Rep. Charles Finnell, along with 149 other members of the House of Representatives and 31 Senators, convened in Austin for the second called session of the 67th Legislature last week.

The Legislature repealed the state's 10 cent per $100 valuation property tax, originally designated for college construction for 17 colleges and universities which do not receive funds from the Permanent University Fund (PUF). Funding for college construction for non-PUF schools was authorized by the Legislature with a $151.4-million appropriation.

House and Senate members also voted to appropriate $56-million to help relieve overcrowding in the state's prisons. Other subjects in the Special Session included discussion of appropriations to the Board of Pardons and Paroles for increased personnel and to the Texas Adult Probation Commission for increased intensive supervision and operation of an additional residential treatment center.

In addition, the Legislature approved a constitutional amendment to increase the maximum interest rate allowable on previously authorized state general obligation bonds, and a second constitutional amendment to exempt from property taxes the implements of husbandry.
