SCHOOL OPENS
Schools got away to a wonderful start on Monday. All summer there were just a few children straggling through the City park or in the drug stores or wandering aimlessly down the street. Then—as if by magic—the town was overrun with them—all sizes gaily dressed; first headed east, then headed west past this office. And we saw cars, buses, bicycles and motor scooters galore flying by taking the children or getting the children and themselves to school.

All this activity and excitement thrills us. In fact, we get a bigger thrill out of school now than when we were going.

WELCOME TO ALL TEACHERS
The C of C extends to all the new teachers a warm and sincere welcome and wishes for them a wonderful year of instruction and companionship with their students.

We wish for all children and young people a keen appreciation of the educational opportunities as provided in the U.S., and a desire to learn the best of that which is offered.

And we wish for all parents an understanding heart and wisdom for all the problems that affect their children both in and out of school.

ANNUAL BANQUET
Directors have set Friday evening, Dec. 11, at the school cafeteria for the annual banquet.

Mark this on your calendar now and plan to attend. We think it is a pretty nice event—something you will recall with pleasure and satisfaction.

COMMUNITY CHEST PREPARATION
The steering committee of the Community Chest each year is composed of three representatives from each of three organizations: C of C, Lions club and Council of Church Women.

At the call of the welfare chairman, this committee meets, elects a general chairman of the drive, sets the budget and the day.

Pres. Alan W. Berry has appointed Rollins Woodall, Donald Hill and A. L. Reed to represent the C of C on the steering committee. Rollins Woodall was re-appointed by the president as welfare chairman to serve a two-year term.

COUNTING PENNIES
And just when we'd finally reached the conclusion that pennies really count, we read in the Washington Report that "the Post Office department is the first in U. S. governmental history to adopt whole dollar accounting by dropping pennies. This reform was initiated July 1, the beginning of the fiscal year."

"Whole dollar accounting, used for many years by major industrial firms, has proved that pennies tend to lose their significance in large operations involving millions of dollars annually, experts say. The procedure eliminates the pennies and rounds out the dollars at the earliest points practicable in the counting operation."

To avoid accumulation of errors in eliminating pennies, the PO department will round them out to the nearest dollar rather than drop them. Differences are expected to be insignificant because of the tendency of rounded items to offset one another. Once a figure has been rounded out, each subsequent use of it carries with it saving in book-keeping time.

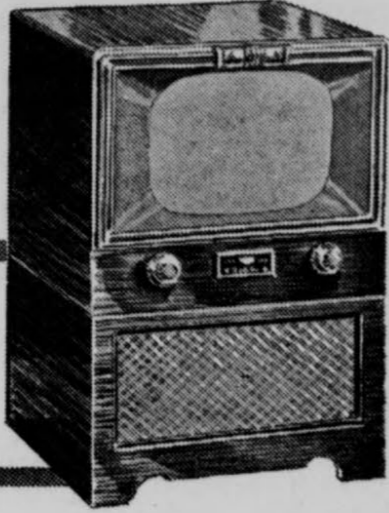

"This penny dropping procedure will save an estimated $500,000 annually," according to the estimate of Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield.

With two projects on our C of C program of work being a new post office and city mail delivery, we're just naturally interested in everything pertaining to post offices.

SOWING and REAPING

YOU IN THE CHURCH THE CHURCH IN YOU

Character is a by-product of the church. It is here that young and old alike are showered with benedictions that fortify and influence for a better citizenship and a stronger democracy. In the church the ministerial are molding religious character. Statesmen today declare that the church alone can furnish leadership to handle the affairs of state in these perilous times. Then we with our children should go to the church of our choice on Sunday. "You in the Church and the Church in you"—form a combination for good.

Copyright 1946 by Williams Newspaper Features Box 413, Fort Worth, Texas

After every sowing there must some day be a reaping. In whatever church you may attend you'll be taught that "Whatsoever a man soweth, that shall he also reap." These men sowed wheat, good wheat, and as you can well see they are reaping a bountiful harvest.

Stop, my brother—what of the seed you are sowing, as along life's way you go? Do you choose them with carefulness, knowing you're going to reap just what you sow? It may be thoughts and words you're sowing which into deeds will, surely grow; bringing blessings or curses but—you're going to reap just what you sow.

If you sow of the flesh do not expect to reap of the spirit, for you may be sure that by and by when your harvest you garner—you're going to reap just what you sow. Attend the church of your choice regularly and your sowing will be for glory and honor.

Valley View

By Mrs. Roy Lakey

Most of our neighbors and friends are back from vacation and things are getting back to normal routine. Vacations were spent in numerous places and varied according to personalities. All report wonderful times.

Roy and I were lucky, we think, to get back as cooler days began. As usual we went into Colorado for a few days visit with his cousins, and once again it was "Kid Rodeo" at LaJunia. Have thought so many times about our T-O Fair when we were watching the boys and girls there perform—all under 16 years of age, and they tackled full sized cows and horses. Would make a veteran cowpoke ashamed in some instances.

Crowds? You know the answer, for when the kids perform mom and pop are going to be there along with other members of the family.

Mr. and Mrs. Hut Buzbee had a wonderful train trip to California, and a grand time while visiting their daughter and son in law and two granddaughters—the Gilbert Kresas and Phyllis and Joan. Since coming home they have had as visitors two other granddaughters from Dallas—Kay and Robbie Bunker. Robbie extended her visit till this weekend when Mrs. Buzbee took her home by train—her first ride on the rails.

Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Culpepper and Mr. and Mrs. Woody Breazeale had a good time in Colorado.

Mr. and Mrs. Odis Evans moved to Burkburnett last week. They will be missed, for they have been with us many years. Their daughter and son in law and granddaughter—Mr. and Mrs. Joe Wall and Wynelle—have visited them, and all came for awhile last Sunday to visit with some Valley View friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Orville Chambless spent a few days in Floydada last week.

Rev. House has been doing some work on art windows for the Sanger church the past few weeks. Mrs. House has spent the time with their daughter and family in Fort Worth.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Farris from Longview visited a few days with her parents Mr. and Mrs. Swan Reaves on their way to Colorado and Yellowstone Park. Glen Reaves accompanied them.

Mr. and Mrs. Belva Jones had as guests this weekend her sisters Mrs. Harvey and Mrs. Young from Fort Worth and her brother Bob Randol from Dallas; and Joe Delk from Fort Worth.

Miss Virginia Jones joined friends in Dallas for a tour by plane to Cuba. A week's pleasure is in store for them.

Mr. and Mrs. Doss Miller spent the weekend in Odessa last week with their daughter and family—the Glendell Williams.

Mr. and Mrs. L. O. Matthews have remodeled their home into a more attractive place this summer.

School started this week, so the familiar sounds of laughter and play come to us from the school grounds. It's good to hear the youngsters.

Mrs. Goodlett Hodges and daughters of Houston have been guests of Mrs. W. L. Hodges and family. Jerry Hodges and Miss Maude Kirschner took Courtney Hodges Steiner to his home in Ada, Okla., recently after he spent part of the summer with them and his grandmother. Franchelle Snow was also a guest during the summer months.

Soil Conservation

Here are some statements made at the legumes meetings held in the district last week:

At Valley Farms Community House, Mike Hartmangruber said he was producing 16 tons of Atlas sargo sorghum per acre, which is an increase of 33 per cent. This sorghum followed Austrian winter peas.

Willie Morton of Burkburnett told the Friberg group he increased wheat yields 10 bushels per acre through Austrian winter pea rotation. B. Bryant of Burkburnett increased cotton production 300 per cent by using alfalfa in his rotation. Ray Coulter also had good result from use of peas.

At Burkburnett, Howard Henderson reported 52 bushels of corn per acre following peas. J. C. Hinkle received 20 bushels per acre increase in wheat which is credited to faster growth which reduced greenbug damage. Oscar Klinkerman said conservation was a must on his farm. He reported average wheat yields for past 10 years of 24 bushels per acre. Klinkerman uses legumes in rotation, stubble mulching, and terraces with contour farming on land needing terraces.

At Punkin Center, Delbert Gilbert said his program made upland as productive as flat land. Albert Brockriede reported from 25 to 33 per cent increase in wheat yields following winter peas.

Loyd Bell of Iowa Park became the first known to have seeded a winter cover crop.

Technicians for the Wilbarger-Wichita Soil Conservation district are furnishing the following information on Kentucky 31 fescue grass:

Kentucky 31 is a perennial cool season bunch grass with a spreading habit. It makes a heavy turf which provides good erosion control and furnished good grazing. This grass is adapted to bottomland and irrigated soils.

Planting time is from mid-August to mid-October. Seeding rate should be 10 to 15 pounds per acre. Small amounts of alfalfa and perennial ryegrass should be added to the mixture. The ryegrass will grow faster than fescue but will not survive long.

TALKING IT OVER, two of the hundreds of fine Herefords of the Southwest discuss plans to appear during the Texas-Oklahoma Fair's Silver Anniversary in Iowa Park, Sept. 25 through Oct. 2.

On soils having no potash deficiency, about 200 pounds of 16-20-0 should be used.

Technicians for the District will be glad to assist in establishing a fescue pasture for adapted soils.

HOLIDAY DIAL TELEPHONES GO INTO USE SEPT. 9

F. A. Robinette, district manager for General Telephone Company of the Southwest, has announced that the cutover of the Holiday telephone exchange to dial operation will be completed on September 9. "For a split second," Mr. Robinette said, "all telephones at Holiday will be silent as the switchboard men disconnect the old board and put the new system in operation."

All Holiday subscribers will be able to call any Holiday subscriber simply by dialing the listed number. Mr. Robinette advised that this feature was made possible only by detailed and thorough research by trained engineers.

Mr. Robinette has reminded all telephone subscribers to wait for the hum of the dial tone when making calls after the new system is in operation. No longer will an operator answer, "Number please" when you lift your telephone receiver. Instead, the dial tone is the mechanical way of saying your call is ready to make.

"It is important also, Mr. Robinette pointed out, that all subscribers look up the number they are calling as every telephone number has been changed with the installation of the new dial system.

"Holiday will now have as fine a telephone service as can be found anywhere in the world," Mr. Robinette said, "and General Telephone Company of the Southwest is proud payment from revenues derived from use of the sewage facilities on a self liquidating basis. The sewer system is planned to be self sustaining rather than tax-raising, city officials say.

TODAY'S meditation

THE WORLD'S MOST WIDELY USED DEVOTIONAL GUIDE

They were pricked in their heart, and said unto Peter and to the rest of the apostles, Men and brethren, what shall we do? (Acts 2:37). Read Luke 13:1-5.

To an island outpost off the coast of Mozambique I was paying a visit. After a cruise of three hours by sailing vessel with a banister-engine, the local missionary and I were carried ashore by the local leaders. We walked for two hours in the broiling sun where no automobile or even an ox-cart could go.

Then under the trees we held a gospel service. On the edge of the crowd we saw native women quietly creeping up. We had a simple talk about the Savior and his love, and then an appeal for decision.

First one and then another of these women moved forward and knelt at the homemade communion rail, until some 20 of them had gathered, some with their babies on their backs.

It is the story of Jesus and his love, of Christ the redeemer and the salvation he offers. Wherever it is told, the response is the same.

Prayer

We thank thee, O Lord, that thy word hath still its ancient power. No word from thee can fruitless fall. May it continue to find response in the hearts of those who until now have been unheeding and careless. For Jesus' sake.

Thought for the Day
Since God loves me, I will accept his salvation offered through Christ the redeemer.

TEXAS FARM BUREAU FEDERATION

My Marye Eckelkamp

Last week Wichita County Farm Bureau climaxed its Family Fun Night with a queen contest. Miss Jo Ann Jenne of Friberg became queen of the county organization. However, I think everyone will agree that we really have four queens now, with Patsy Mersiovsky, Mary Ann Hartmenger and Janelle Vollmer completing the picture.

After the contest everyone enjoyed square dancing to the music of Jack Frost and his band, with J. T. Stevens of Electra doing the calling.

Now that September has arrived, the board of directors is making plans for countywide hearings on the critical agriculture situation. These meetings will be held in an effort to find a solution to the decline in prices, the surplus problem and other issues that are affecting incomes of Wichita county farmers. Only by the united efforts of farmers and ranchers can a program be secured that will adequately represent agriculture.

These meetings will be open to every farmer and rancher in this county. This is a chance for the man who tills the soil to bring his problems before his community for discussion. If any farmer isn't satisfied with the price situation, the county tax program, or any other county, state or national problem, the county FB president, Dutch Eckelkamp urges him to be present to take advantage of this opportunity to be heard.

Farm Bureau will express the wishes of the members and all farmers in the recommendations to the resolutions committee. Every Farm Bureau member in the county will vote on these resolutions at the county convention. Once the majority decides and casts the votes, the officers and directors are pledged to support the program, and that will be the program presented to the state from this county.

Farmers and ranchers in this area can sit and wait for a new farm program to emerge from a bureaucrat's desk in Washington, or hope that someone makes a magic wand that will solve these issues for them. The former is entirely possible. Study and comment has been called for on a plan submitted by unnamed USDA officials for a two-price support plan for wheat farmers.

The plan proposes for the government to issue certificates good for cash to cover the difference in a "free market" rice and a so-called parity price. The allotments would be based on a food allotment or bushels and not acreage. All over six to 12 bushels per acre would be sold on a "free" market. Wheat farmers would have to depend largely on the issuance of government certificates for a living. These certificates would only be issued after the individual farmer had complied with a vast amount of conservation recommendations.

This would be "complete" government control of the wheat farmer, and a similar plan has been submitted governing other crops. In simple words, we would be working and producing for the government.

If your neighbor's house burned down, you would immediately offer to help him. Today your neighbor's business is threatened. Your business is threatened. As neighbors, we must get together to prevent an economic crash in agriculture.

Watch this column for dates of these forthcoming hearings and bring your farmer neighbor and your ideas to your community meeting.

Third Second Grade Classes Are Necessary

There were so many second graders enrolled in Iowa Park this week it was necessary to move Mrs. Sarah Lizenby, scheduled to teach fourth grade, and place her in charge of a second grade class. Mrs. Henry Jones and Mrs. Thomas are the other second grade teachers.

Freddy Vinson and Richard Moore left Sunday for Ranger, where they are enrolled in junior college. Both will play football.

The problem of providing game for the hunter and fish for the angler facing the game and fish departments of the various states today. Faced with a yearly increase in the number of anglers and hunters and a yearly decrease in game supply and habitat, the game management people are close to pulling their hair from sheer frustration.

Bag and creel limits are imposed less as a means of conserving game and more as a means of distributing it equally among a greater number of people. In most areas the yearly bag of game birds is taking more than the surplus, it is cutting into the seed stock. It is but a matter of time until upland game birds will be on the taboo list in many states.

Sometimes a movement starts to declare a closed season on some species for several years in an effort to increase their numbers. Unless overgunning is the only reason for the decrease in numbers, a closed season is but a stop-gap measure and destined to fail.

Ohio placed the bob-white on the songbird list for many years to prevent hunters from taking the bird, and the increase in quail population in that state is hardly noticeable. Reason for lack of increase is quoted as lack of habitat. A certain food and cover area is like an apartment house with a limited supply of food. There is food and cover for only a certain number of birds and that number is all the area will support. Additional mouths to feed means each must consume less and lack of nourishment is death.

Hunting pressure is evident to the man in the field today. Some years ago the hunter had but to pick up his gun and head for the nearest lake to go duck hunting. Lakes were more or less public property considered worthless as a source of income by the owner. Today the duck hunter is faced with the added problem of leasing a lake, sometimes more than 100 miles from his home.

Many a lake owner today finds that his yearly lease fee provides a greater income per acre than his farmland. The average duck killed today is brought down at a cost to the average hunter of $8 per bird. Compare that with the days of the market hunter when wild ducks sold dressed for five cents, and few takers.

Many a modern duck shooter would give $1000 to have for just one day the kind of shooting his grandfather knew.

Our game situation today is rather desperate. It is also rather sad. Sad because sometime posterity is going to look back and hate the anglers and hunters of today for not doing something toward making provision for game production and preservation before it was too late.

Vegetation under Water Blamed with Death of Lake Iowa Park Fish

When thousands of fish were found dead at Lake Iowa Park last weekend, directors of the water district called for assistance of the State Game and Fish commission to get an official test.

Leo Lewis and Dr. Dolquist, experts with the state department, reported the cause was lack of oxygen in the water. They said the grass and other vegetation covered by the new supply of water from rains last month had taken the oxygen and killed the fish.

Their tests showed nothing poisonous or harmful in the lake water.

Local fishermen are really unhappy at the death of these fish, because many were of good size to furnish good fishing and good eating.
