Thomas Pace Weds Miss Sue Ann Landrum In Southwestern University Campus Chapel

Miss Sue Ann Landrum of Palestine became the bride of Thomas Jennings Pace Jr. of Iowa Park in an impressive ceremony which took place Saturday, May 26, in the Lois Perkins chapel on the campus of Southwestern university, Georgetown.

The bride's father Rev. D. Lawrence Landrum of Palestine read the lines which united his daughter and Mr. Pace. Her brother Rev. D. Lawrence Landrum Jr. gave the bride in marriage.

She wore a gown of cloud white organza ornamented with white pique appliques. Her fingertip veil of illusion cascaded from a tiny brimmed hat of accordion pleated organza frosted with illusion. She carried a white orchid atop a white Bible.

Mrs. D. Lawrence Landrum Jr. of Dallas was matron of honor and bridesmaids were Meses Betty Ann Glendenin of Houston, Helen Marie Smith of Lampasas and Joann Evans of Abilene.

Albert Gore of Sinton was best man and groomsmen were Tommy Warren of Ennis, John D. Priest of Georgetown and James Stapp of Georgetown. Ushers were Bob Pace of Iowa Park, brother of the groom, D. L. Seagart of Kileen, Edwin Lockey of Palestine and Aubrey Booser of Houston.

The bride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Landrum, attended Southwestern university where she was a member of Alpha Delta Pi sorority. The groom also attended Southwestern where he was a member of Pi Kappa Alpha fraternity and of Pi Gamma Mu, honorary scholastic fraternity.

Immediately following the wedding, the couple was honored with a reception in the Pi Kappa Alpha house on the university campus.

Mr. and Mrs. Pace then departed for a honeymoon trip into Mexico. For traveling she wore a brown silk shantung frock accented by gold and brown accessories.

Upon their return the couple will make their home in Iowa Park.

On Friday evening, May 25, Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Pace of Iowa Park gave a rehearsal dinner at the Stage Coach Inn at Salado honoring the couple. The T shaped table was laid with a white damask cloth and centered with a miniature bride surrounded by white baby chrysanthemums and tiny pink rosebuds. Candles illuminated the table.

Silver edged place cards designed to represent a bride's bouquet were at each place for the 27 guests. Gifts marked the attendants' places. After the dinner the bridal party went to the chapel for rehearsal of the wedding.

Memorial Day Rites Well Attended Here

Patriotic organ chimes by Mrs. James A. Sowell preceded the impressive Memorial Day service held on the Methodist church lawn at 8:00 Wednesday evening. Various local churches omitted their regular midweek prayer services to join together in honoring the memory of men and women who have sacrificed their lives for their country.

Rev. James N. Easterwood, chaplain of the local Amvets who were responsible for the memorial service, reminded the large audience of the sacredness of the hour.

Mrs. Otis Gay, pianist, and Rollins Woodall, chorister, led the group in singing "America," after which the colors were presented by T. E. Gilbreath and Fred Vealey.

The choir composed of voices from different local churches rendered "The Star Spangled Banner" as a special number while the audience stood.

For the scripture, Rev. Chester Gleason read Psalm 112. Prayer was offered by Rev. D. F. Ferguson.

Capt. L. L. Holloway of SAFB delivered an outstanding Memorial Day address. Tracing the history of the day, he stated that it was first observed in 1868 honoring the Union soldiers who had been killed in the Civil War. And at this period in the nation's history we now pay tribute to men and women who have died in seven wars.

The captain asserted that one of the main strings of democracy was to look at the facts of history at the same time weighing them to ascertain things with tendencies to make America stronger. He referred to the fact that in the United States people have never starved as unique and incredible, and he attributed the reason to the primary concern of the individual in America.

With deep sincerity the speaker stated that the war dead were not afraid of the forces that could destroy the body but they did fear the ideologies and isms that can destroy civilization.

"Could they cry out to us tonight they would undoubtedly tell each of us to uphold the truth, defend the faith and partake of freedom," he forcibly asserted. In conclusion he stressed that the greatest way those living today could honor the fallen heroes of our country was to make sure that men and women live by the teachings of God.

A. L. Reed, Amvet commander, presented the memorial wreath to Mr. Easterwood which was to be placed on the grave of Bill Steele, for whom the local post is named. The wreath was a token of honor to all who have made the supreme sacrifice.

The sounding of taps by Pvt. Donald Newman and Pvt. Wm. J. Meyer Jr. of SAFB, closed the meeting.

Choyce Brown Weds Kamay Girl, Leaves For Foreign Duty

Marriage vows were exchanged Friday, May 25, by Miss Jacque Autry of Kamay and Choyce Brown of Iowa Park at the Baptist parsonage in Kamay. Rev. Roland Whitley read the lines.

The bride was lovely in a sheer organza dress over blue taffeta with which she wore a shoulder corsage of white carnations. Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Autry were the only attendants.

Jacque is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. O. O. Autry of Kamay. She attended school at Valley View and was graduated with the class of '48. She was active in sports and won letters in volleyball.

Choyce was a football captain for the Iowa Park Hawks in his senior year. He also played basketball and won many medals for his ability as a broad jumper. He was first place winner in district and regional meets. At the state meet he placed 6th against strong competition.

Choyce is a communications specialist in the army, having completed four months training at Camp Chaffee, Ark. He was home on a seven day furlough and will report again at Seattle, Wash., for assignment to the Far Eastern command. The young couple left Wednesday morning for Washington, where they will stay until he leaves for overseas duty.

Disciples Doings

"Into the Hands of Sinful Men," the 12th chapter of "Strong Son of God," was taught by Rev. Chester E. Gleason for a meeting of the Christian Women's Fellowship, on Monday afternoon.

To supplement the study, he showed films of "The Last Supper," "Betrayal and Arrest," and "On Trial for His Life."

Those present were Meses R. B. Sisk, Forest Bates, John B. Barbour, Rollins Woodall and I. W. Corder.

Street Party in Iowa Park Is Expected to Pull Large Crowd, Chicks to Be Auctioned

"Bid 'em up, boys! What're they worth?" The chant of Auctioneer J. R. Ray, Saturday night will climax the 1951 Chamber of Commerce chick project, according to officials, as he offers the salable project chicks to the public.

Scheduled for the Wall and Cash streets intersection at 8:00 Saturday night, the auction will follow a program of entertainment and will be followed, in turn, by a street dance open to everyone. It will represent the end of a two-day Chicka and Dairy show at Fair Park under direction of the Chamber of Commerce.

Broilers sponsored by 24 of the 50 chick sponsors will be offered for sale, while 22 other sponsors have indicated that they will take the birds they sponsored for their own use. Chamber officials indicated this week that approximately 150 broilers will be sold Saturday night.

The dairy phase of the Friday-Saturday meet at Fair Park in the dairy barn will be the showing of 20 calves now being groomed by students under direction of J. K. Bradshaw, vocational agriculture teacher in Iowa Park High School.

Awards in both the chick and dairy programs will be made Saturday morning at 10:00 in Fair Park Auditorium. F. E. Hill of the C of C public relations committee, will make presentation of awards in the dairy calf show, while Pres. Allan Berry will award prizes in the chick division. Fred Parkey will serve as master of ceremonies.

Placing of the chickens will take place Friday at the Fair Park meeting, with judging scheduled to take most of the day. Dairy animals will be brought to the barn Saturday morning, and the public is urged to visit the displays Saturday, as well as attend the chick party that night.

Coops for exhibiting the broilers have been obtained by Commissioner E. E. Voyles and will be ready to receive the birds.

Provision will be made for purchasers of chickens to keep the birds in coops on the John B. Barbour float which will serve as stage until the auction is over. Taylor George will serve as sale clerk and will keep records of each sale for purchasers. Vocational agriculture students will aid in handling the chicks during the sale.

"The chick project offers a worthy training program for young people," Allan Berry says, "and we urge that everyone attend the chick party and buy a broiler. You'll buy at your own price," he said, "and at the same time help next year's project and the youngsters."

Mayor Penton Dale has offered the co-operation of the city in staging the chick party, and has arranged to provide electricity for the stage downtown and the public address system.

In the entertainment line, popular Beverly Barker, former Iowa Park High School student, will offer interpretations of current musical favorites. Clyde McDonald is to be on hand with his guitar. Mrs. A. W. Scarbrough of Archer City, a former resident of Iowa Park, will reveal some little-known facts about Parkans in an entertaining monologue.

Half of the main street will be blocked off, and the stage will be placed across the east end of the street, according to B. L. Bradford, chick party chairman for the C of C. Mr. Bradford urges everyone to attend the party, and promises a good time for all—"whether or not you buy a chicken."

Assisting Mr. Bradford in arranging and staging the chick party is Ted Overbey, manager of the T-O Fair.

The Iowa Park Volleyball club has resumed regular practice sessions at the Fair Park auditorium. Because of the Hawk band picnic, practice will be Monday night next week. All interested in this club are invited to contact Mrs. S. E. Watson, Mrs. Geo. Lewis, or just come to the auditorium at 8:00 Monday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Locke Lowrance, Mrs. O. E. Birk and Beverly returned Friday from a 10-day trip to Memphis, Tenn., where they visited Mr. and Mrs. Carl Leggett and son Garland Locke. Mrs. Leggett is the former Miss Evelyn Lowrance.

You and your Congress

A familiar wisecrack is heard around Washington almost every time a prominent representative of a foreign government arrives for an official visit.

"How much does he want?"

It may or may not be an appropriate remark, depending upon the particular visitor. But the quip did not get started without reason.

It appears to stem from a United States policy of foreign aid so contrived or administered or both, as to encourage dubious handout seekers.

If such is this case, there could be no more appropriate time than now for Congress to reappraise this foreign aid policy. The president has just asked Congress to provide $8.5 billion more in military, economic and long-range (Point Four) assistance to foreign governments.

Some of these official visitors are strongly suspect of trying to play Uncle Sam for a sucker. They apparently figure the United States has a bottomless purse. Frequently their reasons for wanting loans or money gifts are so flimsy as to be laughable to those wise in the ways of international economics and politics.

Others come on perfectly sincere borrowing missions. Their reasons for wanting to borrow are sound. And their intentions of repayment are as good as can be expected under conditions like today's, that make the future of more than one foreign government highly uncertain.

But the wisecrackers don't distinguish between these two types of visitors and tend to accuse all of them of dropping in for a handout.

This can be demoralizing to the sincere visitors. And it can cause them to resent the position of the United States—a creditor who has not felt the economic impact of war and world unrest nearly so much as most of the homelands of these visitors have.

That is hardly a situation conducive to the world friendship the United States seeks to promote, both within and without the U.N.

The U. S. Council of the International Chamber of Commerce put it this way the other day:

"We dislike the idea of continued (government) grants because the availability of such grants tends to demoralize the relations between the United States and recipient countries. This demoralization has reached the point where every high official of a foreign government coming to the United States is suspected of coming for a handout—and often with good reason."

This country must spend to arm against the communist threat. And it has decided to help its allies re-arm, rather than try to fight communism by itself.

The economics of most of these allies are still too shaky from World War II for them to bear the financial burden of rearmament piled atop the cost of the postwar recovery. They find pay as you go virtually impossible. And they can't get much long term credit outside the United States because the future of these governments are too uncertain—what with the Russian Bear constantly breathing down their necks.

So some foreign military assistance by the United States is clearly indicated.

Recent Bride Is Shower Honoree

Mrs. Ralph Beall, the former Miss Wanda Shook, furnished inspiration for a lovely post-nuptial shower last Friday afternoon. The home of Mrs. H. M. Mulkey was the scene of the affair. Assisting Mrs. Mulkey with hostess duties were Misses C. L. Reaves, George Jones, Royce Kimberlain, Clifford Hestand and Miss Pearl Buckley.

The party rooms of the Mulkey home assumed the appearance of a flower garden blooming at its height for the occasion. The fragrance of the roses blended with the color of larkspur, phlox and other seasonal blossoms to create a pleasing effect. Particularly impressive were the peach-colored geraniums in light blue pots which occupied prominent places in the decorations. Equally lovely were the green pillow vases on the buffet which were filled with tiny colorful blossoms. A pink and brown color scheme was observed on the refreshment plates.

As guests called they were greeted by Mrs. Boyd Taylor who also secured their signatures for the bride's book.

The hostesses presented the honoree with a pink carnation corsage to wear on the shoulder of her crisp blue organdy frock. Her mother, Mrs. W. J. Shook and the groom's mother Mrs. A. O. Beall, were both given white carnation corsages.

The hostesses' gift to the bride was an addition to her sterling set. One hundred thirty five friends were invited to the party.

Mrs. Ed Cox visited in Dallas last weekend with her daughter Mrs. Howard Stripling and family.

Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Aycock visited Saturday and Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Rolling.

H. F. Sherrod of Dallas and G. B. Sherrod of San Antonio were guests of their sisters Mrs. R. R. Brubaker and Mrs. M. E. Banks and families over the weekend.

Miss Bobbie Ruth Brubaker visited Miss Betty Graves in Henrietta this week. The young ladies are roommates at Midwestern university.

Wichita Club Women Hear Insurance Talk

C. E. Birk was one of two featured speakers for a dinner meeting of the Business and Professional Women's club held at the YWCA in Wichita Falls, Tuesday evening. Mrs. Ina Allen, dress designer from New Zealand, was the other speaker.

Discussing the Institute of Life Insurance, Birk showed how the business woman, through an insurance plan, can look forward to financially independent retirement.

Ernest addressed members of the Iowa Park 23 Study club on the same subject last January. The program warranted first prize at the district convention for the club.

Farmers Union speaks
 By Don Staber

I want to explain to my readers why they missed my column the past two weeks. Believe it or not, but with my graduation coming up, I was busy getting prepared to get my degree. I hope I can now devote more time to my Farmers Union duties and work.

Here is an item I think will be of interest to us in this area: In 1950 there were 45 farmer co-operatives organized in Texas. These did not include health centers, co-operative hospitals, or REA associations, since they are not chartered under the Agriculture Marketing act. M. C. Jaynes, co-operative marketing specialist for A and M college, Extension Service, says that 1950 was "probably the greatest year for general farm organization recorded in Texas."

Another disquieting situation is the one going on in Washington. The main show which has lost some of its glamour was or perhaps I should say is the MacArthur-Truman controversy. What many people are wondering is "What will be accomplished by the hearings? Few converts are being made either way. In the long run about the only thing being accomplished is spending the taxpayers' money and wasting good time. Whatever we do, let's not become divided."

Many observers interested in the events in Washington are throwing up their hands in despair because of the activities of this Congress. Program after program is being systematically destroyed or impaired. Power funds have been cut; various Department of Agriculture programs have been restricted; the Reciprocal Trade program is headed for the ashcan because the House voted crippling amendments and committees are riding roughshod over orderly democratic procedure by approving bills without hearings. In fact many observers point out that this Congress is worse than both the 81st and the 80th congresses.

Don't forget, F. U. members, that Monday, June 4, at 8:00 p.m. will be the June meeting at the Wichita Valley Farms Community House. Bring your friends.

Dave Bridgers Heads Cemetery Association

Dave Bridgers was elected president of the Highland Cemetery association at its meeting Sunday. Assisting him in directing the business of the association during the coming 12 month will be Rollins Woodall and Locke Lowrance, vice-presidents; Mrs. W. A. Scott, secretary; Mrs. R. R. Brubaker, reporting secretary; and Miss Roberta Hill, treasurer.

Five new directors were added to the executive board, D. O. James, Fenton Dale, Ed Hiesermann, Mark Banks and Herman Mitchell.

No definite commitment on the new caretaker was made at the Sunday meeting, but plans are going forward to hire one, Mr. Bridgers says.

Important at this time is the payment of pledges so the association will have funds to carry on its necessary work.

Pfc. Bill Mahler, who is training at Fort Benning, Ga., called home last week and got to talk to his parents Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Mahler and his brother John, who was home on leave from his navy duty at San Diego. In that way the Mahler family had a family reunion by telephone.

Marvin Potect of Vernon visited in Iowa Park, Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Bradford left last week for a short visit with their daughter Mrs. John Guthrie in Denver, Colo.

Mr. and Mrs. Ira Campsey are announcing the arrival of a little daughter Karen Irene, May 23. The Campseys are former Parkans now living in Wichita Falls.

Joe Clingman, Oscar Singleton and Kenneth Smith, Iowa Park boys in army training at Texarkana were here Wednesday visiting their parents and friends.

Matthews, Mrs. Doss Miller, Mrs. Otha Stewart, Mrs. Steed and Mrs. A. F. Matthews. Driver of the Rainbow bus is Jimmie Holder.

Members of the class who are on the trip are Carolyn Miller, Mary Steed, Snookie Lucy, Joy Horn, Betty Henderson, Walter Bailey, Jackie Disney, B. D. Evans, Jack Stewart, Glyndel Williams, Pete Solls, Robert Dowell, Don Marriott and Wayne Carr.

Getting off to an early start last Sunday, the group took lunch at Denison and spent the first night in Van Buren, Ark., the town Bob Burns has made famous.

Monday morning, May 28, they drove through the Ozark mountains, visiting such towns as Fayetteville, Rogers, Seligman (Mo.), Eureka Springs and Harrison, Ark. The second night was spent at Harrison.

Then on Tuesday the Valley View bus crossed the Mississippi river into Memphis, Tenn. where the sightseers took in the town that afternoon and Wednesday morning.

Wednesday afternoon was spent in driving to Vicksburg, Miss., where another overnight stop was on the schedule. At Vicksburg they had the opportunity to visit the second largest national cemetery in the United States.

Thursday afternoon the drive was continued to Shreveport, where another overnight stop is scheduled.

Early Friday morning Mr. Matthews and his fellow travelers will go to Grand Saline, where they will visit the Morton salt mines. This is a large industrial operation and is considered well worth visiting. From Grand Saline the group will come to Tyler and spend the night.

Tyler is noted for its roses and its annual Rose Festival. The class will have a tour of some of the rose fields about Tyler before the bus heads back toward Valley View. Supper in Denton at the College Cafe (owned and operated by Mrs. Brewer). After supper the return trip will be uninterrupted. A tired, worn out but happy group of travelers can be expected to arrive during the night.

Just "Can't Get Over" Easy's Fence

Few years ago, Easy Roberts took a lot of kidding when he planted that hedge of Multiflora roses — along his property line. Folks said he was getting pretty high-falutin'.

But today plenty of people who laughed at the idea slow down when they drive by Easy's place — just to look at those roses. Most beautiful sight you ever saw.

Practical, too! The hedge is a good four foot high now, and at least five foot thick—even a shoat couldn't get through that prickly mass of shrubbery. Best of all, it cost less than ordinary fencing. (Might be well worth your while looking into.)

From where I sit, there's no sense in looking down on something just because it's different from what we like. For instance, some people think ice-cold lemonade's the best "cooler-offer" on a hot day. Some of us would rather have a glass of beer. The important thing is not to "hedge ourselves in" against other people's ideas and preferences.

Pre-Nuptial Courtesy Extended Miss Clark

A personal shower was a courtesy extended to Miss Helen Dale Clark, bride-elect of Rollin Cary Roberts of Fort Worth, by Miss Bettye Denny, Tuesday evening. Assisting with duties of entertaining were her mother Mrs. Earle Denny and sister Mrs. Charles Neuhardt of Midland.

Two of the prismatic colors of the rainbow, lavender and blue, which will be observed in Helen's and Rollin's wedding which will be solemnized Saturday evening, were the only shades used in the arc above the dining table where the lovely gifts were displayed. Lavender ribbons fell like spray showers from the rainbow upon the gifts. High up in the sky a bride attired in a traditional white satin gown sat upon the realistic clouds which were formed of angel hair.

The favors which accompanied the refreshment plates were miniature brides, replicas of the happy lady in the clouds.

Spring flowers were used in bouquets throughout the reception rooms of the Denny home.

During the evening Miss Lucy Lee Dale presided at the bride's book.

Other guests included Mmes. T. M. Clark, Jack Moss, Mac Best, Leslie Clapp, Pat O'Neil, Rodney Deloy, Joe Chandler, Hallie Chastain, Johnnie Cole, Fred Annand; Misses Betty Sue Scott, Mary Kay Roberts and Ruth Mary Dale.

Some of the members of our family like broccoli and this week had the opportunity to eat some of the best of that vegetable they ever have had. The broccoli was a gift of Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Brooks, who delight in making presents to their friends from their own home garden.

Beautiful in its raw state, this gift of broccoli was beautiful and tasty on our plates. Our thanks to you, Mr. and Mrs. Brooks.

Glenn Scott, W. T. Crawford and Burk Scott Jr. are three Iowa Park boys who have just returned from a two weeks naval reserve training camp in San Diego, Calif. They report that they wouldn't give an acre of Texas for all of California.

Franklin Farmer arrived this week from Waco and will spend the summer here with his parents. He is a student at Baylor university.

Mr. and Mrs. Ben Levinson left Wednesday for a buying trip to Dallas. Before returning they will go on to Austin and pick up their daughter Lenore, who is attending school there.

Mr. and Mrs. G. L. Troutman and son Herman from Dumas spent the weekend with his sister Miss Mina Troutman.

Mrs. C. B. Morris and daughter in law Mrs. John Miller Morris of Clarendon visited Miss Clara Lowrance, Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Wigley Jr. and children Sharon and Royce of Eunice, N.M., visited the past week with his parents Dr. and Mrs. V. R. Wigley.

Besides being able to cook, the W. B. Rolings can also wield paint brushes. The green walls of the Rolling Cafe have a most restful look.

Jerry Max Spruiell, 3 1/2 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Lowell Spruiell was taken to a hospital this week for observation.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Sutherland, of Valley View school, will enroll for summer work at Midwestern university. Ernest received the masters degree at North Texas State college, Denton, last summer.

Members of Epsilon Sigma Alpha decided recently to have only one meeting a month during the summer and chose the 3rd Tuesday in June for their next meeting.

Dr. and Mrs. C. J. Simpson visited in Olney, Sunday.

Feed, Sanitation Are Hog Raising Musts

Even a pig needs some help in order to make a hog of himself.

Good summer management helps pigs make market-topping hogs, says A. L. Ward, Educational Director of the National Cottonseed Products association. Well fed properly managed hogs make a profit most years. Diseased or parasite-infested hogs that don't get the right care and feed are a poor bet any year.

Start with healthy pigs and keep them healthy for fast gains and efficient feed use. A sick pig is a poor producer. It takes longer to get to market and requires more feed.

Sanitation is the first requirement for disease and parasite control. Good green pasture provides cheap, nourishing feed and is the best way to maintain sanitation. Avoid stale mud wallows. Keep water and feed troughs clean and supplied with fresh and well balanced rations. Well fed pigs are easiest to keep healthy.

Your county agent or agriculture teacher can show you how to worm hogs with sodium fluoride. Vaccinate for cholera if your farm or neighborhood has had a recent outbreak. Consult your veterinarian immediately when diseases occur. Use the new efficient, proved insecticides to control lice, mange and flies.

Good rations make the most profit. Balance them for protein, minerals and vitamins. Feed liberally, but without waste.

The noted feeding authority, F. B. Morrison, says in "Feeds and Feeding" that one pound of protein supplement will save five or six pounds of grain when used in amounts needed to balance rations for pigs.

An economical and efficient protein supplement can mix on the farm is: 40 pounds of cottonseed meal, 40 pounds of tankage or meat meal, and 20 pounds of alfalfa leaf meal. Leave the alfalfa out of the mixture if hogs have good pasture. This supplement may be self fed, free choice, with grain or mixed with ground grain and self fed or hand fed.

Growing pigs and breeding sows need the vitamins, minerals and growth factors they get from green pasture. If pasture is not available, feed rations containing 5 per cent alfalfa meal for fattening hogs and 10 to 15 per cent for breeding animals. A good mixture to feed, free access, is 2 parts of bone meal and 1 part of salt.

Self feeders promote fast gains and reduce labor costs. Hogging-down grain in the field is another way of reducing labor.

Fattening hogs eat more and gain faster if you keep them cool and comfortable during hot weather. The Texas Experiment Station showed that gains are increased when hogs have a concrete wallow to keep them cool. Conveniently located shade helps keep them comfortable and reduces the danger of heat losses. Construct the shade so that breeze will over the hogs.

Market the hogs at 200 to 225 pound weights for most efficient gains and higher prices. After hogs reach 500 pounds, it requires an extra 1-4 to 1-2 of a pound of feed to produce a pound of gain. A Cornbelt swine specialist has suggested that you may find it more profitable to market a ton of pork in ten skins instead of eight.

Supper and Shower Honors Miss Denny

The guests bidden by Mrs. Charles Metz to attend a buffet supper and china and crystal shower Thursday evening as a compliment to Miss Bettye Jean Denny, bride-elect of Aubrey Kelso of Dallas, found her home to be a veritable fairyland for the affair. Each delicate appointment and decoration reflected the personality and ingenuity of the hostess as well as the time spent in planning a party that would be a fit tribute to the charming honoree.

Seated at trio tables in the living room for the meal, the guests could observe the loveliness of the blue and white appointments both in that room and in the dining room.

The large mirror which hangs above the fireplace was bedecked with a beautiful blue satin bow ornamented with ceramic wedding bells under which a bride and groom dressed a formal wedding regalia stood on the mantel gazing at a graceful ceramic carriage drawn by ceramic horses, which according to the banner across the vehicle was their "Honeymoon Express."

The dining table which was laid with crisp Madeira linen was further evidence of the flawless beauty of the party appointments. From a side bouquet of white daisies which held a ceramic wedding bell, two cupids pulled the rope to toll the bell as they stood immediately in front of two ceramic plates which were inscribed with "Bettye-Aubrey." Next to the flowers was a ceramic plate on which was a picture of the First Baptist church where the betrothed couple will exchange vows of matrimony. All of the lovely plates were presented to the honoree during the evening.

The immaculately covered tables where guests partook of the meal were centered with a single white candle where the place card poufs framed the base of the holders. Replicas of a bridesmaid bouquet, these were fashioned of white organdy, blue net and ribbons and centered with white daisies. The names of the guests were inscribed in white ink on the blue ribbon streamers.

Dainty ceramic shoes filled with blue forget-me-nots and sweet alyssum graced every place at the tables and were given as favors.

Bouquets of garden flowers were used at vantage points in the reception rooms to complete the decorations.

Following the meal, guests embroidered tea towels for the bride-elect that took up the story of their lives from the day of their wedding on through many happy years of wedded bliss. Mrs. Metz had previously stamped the towels and as she told the story, guests embroidered the designs.

Included on the invitation list were Mmes. Earle Denny, Charles Neuhardt, Martha Lou McSteen, Ronald Deloy, Harry Lee Mitchell, Leslie Clapp, Ruth Lucy, Dorothy Thompson, Jimmy Medlinger; and Misses Bettye Jean Denny, Helen Dale Clark, Helen Mitchell and Charlene Metz.

The Chamber of Commerce has received a supply of Texas official highway travel maps for 1951. These are published by the state highway department and are free to any who desire one as long as they last, Mrs. M. C. Yeargan says.
