Alderman appointment, legislation on agenda

Appointment of a city alderman and consideration of supporting proposed legislation to finance street repairs highlight Monday's meeting of the city council.

The meeting is to commence at 7 p.m. in council chambers. It was postponed from last week because of Easter holiday weekend.

A vacancy on the council was created when Tim Hunter successfully ran for the mayor's position. He had served only one year of his two-year term as alderman.

At the April 9 meeting, Hunter opted to wait until this meeting to consider appointment, allowing more time to consider potential candidates. The appointee will serve the balance of Hunter's term.

Aldermen will consider adopting a resolution supporting a bill being pushed by the Texas Municipal League (TML). Termed "pothole bill," the TML is attempting to get it considered in a special session of the legislature, which apparently will be called by Gov. Mark White this summer for the primary purpose of raising teacher salaries.

All members of the TML are being asked to pass the resolution that it may put pressure on the legislature to be included on the special session agenda.

The resolution proposed to double the tax on gasoline, with the major portion of new revenue being used for state highway financing, and appropriating $100-million in state funds for municipal street and bridge repairs.

Municipalities would share in the fund on the basis of miles of paved streets maintained by each city.

Also on the agenda will be appointment of members to the board of adjustments and swearing in of the 15-member charter commission.

When the board of adjustments was named over two years ago, no provisions were made on terms of office. The council will name some members to two-year terms and others to one-year terms, allowing for changes on the board without a wholesale replacement.

After the oath is administered to the charter commission, a decision will be made to set a time, date and place for its organizational meeting. The group has not met since being elected April 7.

A number of topics are under the administrator's report on the agenda.

One is consideration of lighting the water tower at Gordon Lake. This subject was discussed earlier, after a suggestion was made by a group that it would be appealing to highway traffic. At that time, former Mayor Charlie Lee said he did not feel the project high enough on priority for spending tax money, and said some organizations might wish to underwrite the project.

The planning and zoning commission has been studying the right of way on South Park, where on several occasions in the past parts of the street have been abandoned to property owners. The commission has asked that a survey be made, costing approximately $2,500, that accurate maps could be studied for further action.

Council members will be told that the county tax appraisal district is asking to retain over $107,000 excess money to be used when it relocates headquarters in the county annex building.

Administrator James Barrington will ask the council if it wants any changes in the solicitation ordinance. A number of complaints have been registered concerning an out-of-town religious group which has been soliciting donations on a regular basis lately, and the council may

This has been an unusual week for the Iowa Park Volunteer Fire Department.

In a span of four days, firemen answered calls to five structure fires. Two were outside the city.

One of the fires is suspected to be another case of arson, which have plagued this community the past six months.

A structure on East Jefferson, which has not been occupied the last three years, burned Sunday evening. Firemen were called to the scene, which is east of Farmer's Grain Elevator, at 8:09.

One of two structures was in full blaze when firemen arrived, and they were unable to save it.

The property on which it was located was the subject of a request April 9, when D.A. Hill asked the city to give him the land so he could clean it off and plant a garden.

City aldermen suggested an alternative, that Hill might be allowed to lease the property. During a discussion, aldermen were informed that the land had been leased for about 60 years, but it had never been on the tax rolls nor was it platted for a residence.

A request similar to Hills was made three years ago by another man, and the same lease offer was made but it was never consummated.

Firemen were called back to the scene about 1 p.m. yesterday when high winds rekindled the embers and started a grassfire on railroad right of way.

The department was summoned to Thompson Tool at 10:30 p.m. Friday, and found part of the oldest structure in the complex on fire. It was extinguished without serious damage.

A kitchen vent caught fire at 7:04 p.m. Monday at 713 W. Rebecca, but was controlled with only minor damage.

Earlier in the day, however, firemen interrupted their lunch to answer a call to a farm in the Clara Community.

A metal shed containing over 100 gallons of diesel, 30 gallons of hydraulic oil, 15 gallons of gasoline, numerous cans of oil and grease and other motor supplies burned.

Little of the contents were saved by Iowa Park and Electra volunteers, but the flames were kept from spreading to a nearby garage and home.

Michigan Martinez, who farms the place, said he had been working nearby earlier, and wasn't aware any sparks had set dry grass afire until the structure was in full flames.

Iowa Park, West Wichita and Cameron Gardens answered a call at 2:57 a.m. Wednesday to a home on Kavoric Road, just off FM 369, where a wood-framed home burned. Kavoric Road is just north of the rodeo grounds, and the house just east of 369.

Occupied by Wayne Marshall, the house was apparently set afire by burning grass which appeared to have been ignited by embers from a burning trash barrel near the garage.

About half the four-room structure was lost, as well as the garage. There were no injuries, however.

SATURDAY

Little League season to begin with parade

The traditional opening day parade at 9 a.m. Saturday will once again kick off the Iowa Park Little League season, with several organizations and a new parade route featured, says Mike Price, president of the local league.

Also new to the local Little League is a Connie Mack team, the Hawks, with players ranging in age from 16 to 18. The new division brings the league's total to five, with T-Ball, Minor, Major, Senior and Connie Mack.

This year's parade will begin on Cash Street at the junior high school and make its way west toward the downtown area, turning north on Yosemite St. one block, then turning east on Park St. (southside), back up Park St. in front of State National Bank, then north again on Yosemite. One block later the line will take a westerly turn down Bank St. in front of Parkway and King's Food, then south on Colorado St., finally ending at Parkwest Shopping Center.

Entries in the parade include eight T-Ball teams, seven Minor League teams, five Major League teams, four Senior League teams, the Connie Mack team, totalling 25 teams and 380 youngsters.

Also included in the procession will be the Sheppard Air Force Color Guard, beauty pageant queens, antique cars, Billy Bob from Show Biz Pizza, Karen's School of Dance, Girls' Softball Organization, Clown A-rounnds, Boy Scouts, and the Mounted Patrol.

The first teams to play Saturday will be in the T-Ball division, beginning at 11 a.m. at the baseball fields on Magnolia St., while the Minor League division games start at 1 p.m., and Major League games at 7 p.m. Senior League games, to be played at the W.F. George Field across from the Recreational Activities Center on Texas St., start at 2 p.m.

News in Brief

Change your clocks Saturday night

It's time to change time again. The nation goes on Daylight Savings Time this weekend, and won't change back until fall. "Spring forward" is the slogan to indicate clocks should be moved up one hour when you go to bed Saturday night.

If you don't, you'll be out of time with everyone else who did.

Kindergarten screening dates set

The annual screening and registration program for Iowa Park Kindergarten age children is scheduled May 7 and 8 at Kidwell Elementary School, according to James Ward, principal.

All children who will be five years of age on or before Sept. 1, 1984 should be screened. Parents who have not received an appointment time through the mail are asked to contact the school at 592-4322.

A full year of special education is available for the three and four year-old children with a physical or learning deficiency. This is determined by sight, hearing, speech, mental maturity or a physician's diagnosis.

Parents who have a child believed to be eligible for the special education program are asked to contact Kidwell Elementary School for an appointment time for screening.

Tuesday's 96 degrees sets new record

No one is saying Tuesday's record high temperature is any indication of what is to come this summer, but records show the hottest summers are when the area is lacking in rainfall.

The Weather Bureau in Wichita Falls recorded 96 degrees for a high Tuesday, breaking a record of 92.

The same office has also indicated the area is about two and a half inches short in moisture than average.

Gibson, Bleeker vows are exchanged recently

The First United Methodist Church at Granbury was the scene of the April 14 wedding for the exchange of vows by Miss Rhoda Dannelle Gibson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Billy Gerald Gibson of Iowa Park, and Barrett Lee Bleeker, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dalton Bleeker of Iowa Park and Granbury.

The double-ring ceremony was officiated by Rev. W.C. Taylor Jr. in a setting illuminated with votive candles in brass candelabra decorated with palm leaves and orange blossoms. White wicker stands held arrangements of fresh white asters and blue carnations and fern to complete the altar decor, and church pews were marked at the aisles with blue and ivory silk bows.

The wedding music was provided by Mrs. Nancy Cecil, organist, of Granbury, and Mrs. Jim Spears of Iowa Park, vocalist. The organist played a medley of appropriate prelude selections and the wedding marches of long standing and accompanied Mrs. Spears for her renditions of "Can't Help Falling in Love," "You and I" and "The Lord's Prayer."

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She selected a gown of white Chantilly lace in a nostalgic mood of Southern Belle style. In design, the gown featured a sweetheart neckline and mandarin collar sparkling with seeds pearls, a full skirt fashioned of tiers of the lace that floated into a cathedral train. A Juliet cap accented with orange blossoms held her full length illusion veil.

The bride's cascading bouquet was composed of orange blossoms, feathered carnations, blue forget me nots caught up with candlelight lace, baby's breath and set off with blue silk and candlelight lace streamers tied in love knots. She wore a sixpence in her shoe that the groom had brought back from England for "something old;" her gown for

MR. and MRS. BARRETT BLEEKER

"something new;" a garter for "something blue;" and kept the "something borrowed" tradition.

Miss Rhonda Gibson of Vernon, the bride's sister, served as maid of honor. She was attired in a long light blue polyester gown styled with short split sleeves and blouson bodice. The junior bridesmaid, Miss Vicki Gibson, another sister of the bride, also wore a long light blue polyester satin sleeveless gown accented with a sheer cape. Each carried a candlelight fan covered with blue and white feathered carnations from which candlelight lace and light blue silk ribbons fell toward the floor.

Millie Aaron, the flower girl, wore a long light blue organdy frock and carried a natural basket of blue and white flower petals.

Billy G. Gibson II, brother of the bride, wore a powder blue tuxedo and carried the rings for the ceremony on a sentimental white satin pillow trimmed with lilies of the valley. The sentiment of the pillow was that it was carried in the groom's parents' wedding, and that a part of his mother's wedding gown had been tucked into it later by his late grandmother, Mrs. Lee Lovell.

The groom wore a white tuxedo, white ruffled shirt and a boutonniere formed of blue and white feathered carnations and baby's breath. His attendants and fathers of the couple wore powder blue tuxedos.

Larry Christian served as best man and lighted the candles before the ceremony, then assisted Ricky Rosalee, the groomsman, with duties of ushering.

The bride's mother wore a long pink polyester satin dress designed with an accordion pleated skirt and lace capelet. The groom's mother was attired in a peacock blue silk after five dress with a mandarin collar. Each wore a corsage of blue and white feathered carnations and baby's breath.

As the wedding guests entered the church foyer they were invited to sign the wedding book by Miss Lori Lantz of Dallas, who was sitting at a table covered with white lace over blue. In addition to the book, the table held a blue plume pen, a white bird cage trimmed with blue ribbon and orange blossoms, a candle, Easter lilies and white net accents.

The wedding reception was held in the Fellowship Hall of the church. The refreshment and gift tables were covered with white lace over powder blue silk.

The attractive decor of the refreshment table was enhanced with each adornment, and the traditional wedding cake lent special appeal. The three-tiered structure was decorated with frosting orange blossoms and lilies of the valley designs and was placed on a silver tray appointed with a formally dressed bride and groom, lilies of the valley, orange blossoms and blue forget me nots. The cake and a frosted crystal punch bowl marked table extremities.

The centerpiece was a four-branched silver candelabrum holding blue candles and an arrangement of fresh white asters, blue carnations, baby's breath and fern intermingled with blue bows and finished with blue silk and white lace streamers. Silver serving trays held nuts, orange flavored blue bells and roses, coconut-flavored candlelight bells and roses made by the bride and the groom's mother. The white napkins were accented with blue wedding bells and printed with "Rhoda and Barrett."

During the reception, the cake was served by Miss Benji Bleeker, sister of the groom, and the punch was served by Mrs. Ricky Wheeler.

Members of the houseparty were Mmes. Jim Spears, K.L. Jones, Joe Wood and Miss Toni McMurtry, all of Iowa Park, and Mrs. Kyndall Twitty of Granbury.

The bride attended Iowa Park High School where she was in cosmetology and lettered in junior basketball. She is completing her high school education at Granbury High School and is employed at Sunshine Paint and Decorating Center.

The groom was graduated from Iowa Park High School in 1982. He was active in sports, lettered in baseball four years, played football and basketball and ran track one year. He played baseball for the American Legion in Burkburnett. He is self-employed in the construction business at Granbury where the couple will live. When they left for a short wedding trip, the bride was wearing a white sleeveless dress trimmed in black.

A luncheon was hosted at Mildred's by the groom's parents immediately following rehearsal for the wedding. The table was set with lace place mats, place cards and gifts for the wedding party wrapped in white and trimmed with blue bows.

Special wedding guests were Mrs. Homer Bleeker of Mineral Wells, Lee Lovell of Iowa Park, grandparents of the groom, Mr. and Mrs. Blackwood of Electra, grandparents of the bride.

As I See It....

By BOB HAMILTON

When the city council takes up a proposed resolution concerning a "pothole bill" Monday, being pushed by the Texas Municipal League, it won't be the first time it has been discussed.

The proposal is that the state double the tax on gasoline, from five cents to 10 per gallon, and use the additional revenue to not only help repairs on highways but channel off about $100-million annually to cities for street repairs.

When I first heard of the idea, it sounded great. Here we are with potholes in every block of streets paved with asphalt, and looking for a way to finance their repairs. This would be money not coming directly out of our tax-paying pockets.

But time of more thought has changed my mind. It may not be as good a deal as it first sounded.

First and foremost, this appears to me to be just another deal of city government passing on an obligation to raise locally-needed money to another governmental body, and not having to take the heat from those who elected them.

No, I'm not singling out Iowa Park's council, but all councils, if they support the proposal.

It's a good deal, from the local politician's point of view. "If you don't like the tax, don't blame me. The state's doing it."

This same thing has been happening for years, i.e. Federal Revenue Sharing money, school lunch program, federal block grants, and others.

Those who eventually hold the purse strings love it. They're catered to by those wanting more and more. Those receiving set up their budgets for it, and gladly accept whatever strings are later attached, just so they can get that money they don't have to raise.

And the politicians who hold those same purse strings sometime tend to abuse their office, through interpretation. I offer State Comptroller Bob Bullock as a shining example, who oversees the sales tax monies and how some of the state's share is spent.

For local governments to have to look to the state for their share of the gasoline tax money, puts them in a form of obligation to the state bureaucracy. Maybe not at first, but watch down the road if this deal passes the legislature.

I think if we need money to fix our streets, and want the work done badly enough, we should get the council to budget the money required in future years.

But whatever our local council does will have little to do on a state-wide basis. There are enough big cities with near-professional politicians on city councils, who want to please their local voters by getting work done and not raising taxes, who will vote for the bill.

Everybody wants something for nothing. But those "free" things always turn out costing someone, and often its those who receive them.

The Republican Party of Texas is taking Gov. Mark White to task over what it considers to be (and apparently justifiably so) an extravagant expenditure for a foreign-built jet airplane.

If what the Republicans are saying is true, then it's certainly due the governor to be taken to task.

Get a load of this:
- The jet has a posh swivel seat that cost an additional $4,215.

- It has a deluxe food and drink galley for an additional $5,135.

- It was ordered with a second executive table for a "mere" $1,870.

- A second baggage compartment for trips out of state was added for another $11,635.

Two digital clocks were added for another $17,665.

- Another $100,000 went for navigational equipment normally used on international and transcontinental flights.

An additional $175,000 extra was needed for the plane in order to equip it with thrust-reversers to land the jet at small airports.

The Republicans are hopping mad at the Democratic governor, pointing out that if the luxury plane's options were not enough to rile the feathers of taxpayers, then other related matters of the plane are.

They claim that a Beechcraft King-Air 200, which is about the same size as the jet, could have been bought from American companies at a cost of under $2 million - about the same price the state will pay for the plane, but after a sizeable trade-in.

The Beechcraft would permit landings on most runways in the state and therefore would not have required the thrust-reversers that cost $175,000.

It also is noted that Texas governors have traditionally taken commercial airlines for out-of-state or out-of-country flights and White has chosen to disregard this means in lieu of the more costly jet.

Another thorn in the side of the dissidents is that the governor's office will lease the Mitsubishi for about $24,000 per month under a special lease-purchase agreement until September of 1985 when he can buy the jet for $1.86 million - if the money is appropriated by the state legislature.

In other words, they say Texas taxpayers will first pay over $430,000 for White to lease his luxury jet and then have to pay nearly the full original purchase price for the jet, less trade-in, 18 months later.

The Mitsubishi had an original price of $3.1 million, but the Japanese company allowed a $1.2 million trade-in on the governor's older plane for a net of $1.9 million. However one "advantage" to the Japanese plane is that the Japanese have agreed to a two-year maintenance-free agreement which brings the cost-per-hour for operating the unit down from $633 an hour to $333 per hour which is comparable to the King-Air unit that carries a cost-per-hour price of $327.

If all this information and propaganda put out by the Republicans is correct, this fully-loaded Cadillac with deluxe accessories may well come back to haunt White - and justifiably so.

JAMES ROBERTS

Skunks are rabies threat

This is traditionally the season for rabies in the North Texas area. Due to this fact and the increase in the wild animal population this time of year, the Animal Control Office (ACO) of The Iowa Park Police Dept. is requesting that all pet owners of Iowa Park make an extra effort to keep pets under close restraint, either by chaining securely or penning.

Wildlife, particularly skunks, are a major source of infection to domestic animals, including pets. If you see a skunk or other type wildlife in town contact the Iowa Park Police Dept.

The ACO would like to remind pet owners of the rabies vaccination ordinance of the City of Iowa Park. It requires that all dogs and cats be vaccinated by a licensed veterinarian or approved anti-rabies clinic every 12 months.

There is no animal licensing ordinance in Iowa Park, but the ACO suggest that pet owners collar and tag all pets with I.D. and rabie vaccination tags. I.D. tags will aid the ACO in locating owners of pets picked up. This sometimes saves the owner a trip to the Animal Shelter and also the boarding fees charged by the shelter. More important it could save the life of a beloved pet. Thirty to forty animals are impounded by IPACO each month. Of these only one or two animals have I.D. tags.

If your pet is impounded in violation of the animal restraint ordinance there is an impound fee of $25.00 and if you do not have proof of valid rabies vaccination, an additional $8.00 which must be paid to the City before you may reclaim your animal.

The Wichita Co. Humane Society Animal Shelter is the designated animal control center of Iowa Park. After a tagged animal is impounded at the shelter it is held for a minimum of 120 hours, an untagged animal is held a minimum of 72 hours, after which time the animal is disposed of or put up for adoption.

If your pet is missing contact the IPACO at the Iowa Park Police Dept. 592-2181. Your pet may have already been picked up. If not, at least the ACO will be aware of the missing animal and can watch for it.

IOWA PARK LEADER

Mrs. Gaylon Hutto

Katy, (Mrs. Gaylon) Hutto, a plain clothes security person, who with her husband raises chows for show and sale, is one housewife that has an affinity with the microwave method of cooking. Its convenience is ideal for her busy life and, she thinks, for anyone who doesn't want to spend a great portion of the day preparing meals.

The microwave is a far cry from the time our forefathers had to cook over an open pit or fireplace, an old-fashioned wood or coal-burning stove. It is even an advancement over the modern push-button gas and electric ranges.

Mrs. Hutto said that with the hot summer days approaching she felt that the microwave is a must to "beat the heat" in the kitchen and to lighten women's hours in that room of the house. It is understandable why she chose microwave recipes to share with the Leader readers this week.

Mrs. Hutto was graduated from Lubbock High School. She trained for security work at IHR in Wichita Falls and was at first an uniformed person. She has found that being a plain-clothes person is more fascinating and rewarding even though it is at times rough and dangerous. Her husband, who is employed at Gibson's Discount Center, was at one time in the same work.

They raise chow dogs, some very outstanding out of their stock that go to shows. One of these is a full 13-point champion.

The Huttos are members of the First Assembly of God Church. She is an iris enthusiast and hopes to have a garden in the future where she can grow a large number of varieties.

CANDIED CARROTS

4 large carrots
 1/2 cup butter or margarine
 1/2 cup sugar
 1 tsp. salt
 1/2 tsp. cinnamon
 1 T water
 Scrape and cut carrots into thin strips. Place carrots in 1 1/2 quart glass casserole and set aside. In small glass bowl, combine remaining ingredients. Heat uncovered on full power 1 minute or until butter is melted. Spoon mixture over carrots and heat covered on full power 7 minutes. Spoon sauce over carrots and heat uncovered on full power an additional 3 minutes. Serves 4.

GREEN BEANS ALMONDINE

2 lbs. fresh green beans
 1/2 cup water
 3 T butter or margarine
 1/2 cup slivered blanched almonds
 1 tsp. salt
 1/4 tsp. pepper
 1/4 tsp. nutmeg (optional)
 Wash and cut ends of beans. Place in 2-quart casserole dish with water. Cook covered in full power 10 to 12 minutes or until beans are crisp tender. Drain beans and add remaining ingredients and stir. Cook uncovered on full power 5 minutes or until beans are tender and butter has melted. Serves 6.

BAKED CUSTARD

1 1/2 cups milk, scalded
 3 eggs
 4 T sugar
 1/4 t salt
 1/2 tsp. vanilla
 Dash nutmeg
 Scald milk in microwave; heat on full power 3 to 4 minutes or until tiny bubbles appear around the edge of small bowl; set aside. Slightly beat the eggs; add salt, sugar and vanilla; slowly add milk. Divide custard among 5 glass custard cups and place dishes in a circle in oven. Heat uncovered on roast 5 1/2 minutes or until custard starts to boil. Chill several hours before serving. Center

Local police slate national observance

Iowa Park Police Department officers will wear black mourning bands over their badges May 14-18 in observance of National Police Week, according to Chief Tom Finley. May 15 is Police Memorial Day, honoring police officers killed during the past year.

Cook of the Week

becomes firm during standing time. Serves 5.

2 lbs. small fresh zucchini
 1/2 cup water
 1/2 tsp. salt
 4 T butter or margarine
 3 T finely chopped parsley Wash zucchini (do not peel). Cut into 1/4 inch slices. Place zucchini and water in glass 2-quart casserole. Cover and heat on full power 7 minutes or until tender; add remaining ingredients and stir. Heat uncovered an additional 2 minutes on full power. Serves 4.

STEAK AND GRAVY

1-10 1/2 oz. can cream of mushroom soup

4-8 oz. pieces of steak, thawed

In 10-inch covered casserole dish, arrange steak and pepper to taste. Spread mushroom soup evenly over steak. (Do not add milk or water to soup). Cover and cook 30-35 minutes on full power. Remove from oven and let stand 5 minutes; stir gravy around steak and serve. Meat is tender and full of flavor, and the soup has turned to a great medium brown gravy.

To use the conventional oven, preheat to 300 degrees. Cover dish with aluminum foil; use toothpick and make three small holes in the center of the foil. Bake at 300 degrees 3 hours. Same results as microwave oven. Last hour or so of baking time can be used to bake potatoes.

Mrs. Blalock is honored

Mrs. Homer Blalock received an honor Thursday during the business meeting of the 23 Study Club following the luncheon given in honor of Susan Streich and Craig Whisnand, recipients of the Outstanding Senior Girl and Boy awards for 1984.

She was presented with a framed certificate from the associate members of the club for her long service as reporter. The certificate was headed with an acknowledgement from the Texas Federation of Women's Clubs Historical Foundation of a monetary gift to place the name of Olive Blalock in the Golden Book, which contains the names of federated club members throughout the state who have contributed outstanding service.

Mrs. Chauncey Weiler made the presentation and remarked that even though the associate members did not attend the regular meetings of the 23 Study Club, they kept well informed of the programs, activities and projects through detailed newspaper publicity.

Standing with her were Miss Titia Belle Blanks; Mmes. Earl Watson, Delbert Todd, and M.L. Hines. Other associate members who were not present are Mmes. W.G. Steele, O.E. Lochridge, Glen Miller, T.M. Thaxton and Fred Widmoyer.

Arnold assigned to Lowery AFB

Airman Douglas L. Arnold Jr., son of Douglas L. and Charlotte S. Arnold of 33 Hiawatha, Burkburnett, has been assigned to Lowery Air Force Base, Colo., after completing Air Force basic training.

During the six weeks at Lackland Air Force Base, the airman studied the Air Force mission, organization and customs and received special training in human relations.

In addition, airmen who complete basic training earn credits toward an associate degree in applied science through the Community College of the Air Force.

The airman will now receive specialized instruction in the avionics systems field.

His wife, Treasa, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Cummings of 1607 Karen, Iowa Park.

He is a 1981 graduate of Iowa Park High School.

SMILING RELIEF - Firemen Wayne Williams and Danny Skinner couldn't hide their relief after volunteers extinguished a small fire at Thompson Tool late Friday evening. Quick action by the department checked the fire of undetermined origin, saving not only the one building, but possibly the entire complex.

Laratta completes armour training

Pvt. Joseph D. Laratta, son of Joseph D. Laratta of 1210 W. Highway, Iowa Park, has graduated as an armor crewman at the U.S. Army Armor School, Fort Knox, Ky.

The training was conducted under the one station unit training (OSUT) program, which combines basic combat training and advanced individual training into one 13-week period.

During the course, students received training in the duties of a tank crewman, including firing the tank's armament and small weapons. Instruction was also given in field radio operations, map reading, and tank maintenance and repair.

WHOO-O-O-PS - It's not uncommon sight to see shopping carts in the ditch at Wal-Mart, but an incident Tuesday was a first. Mrs. Carla Kay Parish of Electra had gone shopping. She remembered to take her keys, and even lock the doors of the car. But she did forget to put the gear in "park" and it didn't. Apparently the slope of the parking lot and northerly winds sent the vehicle coasting, across the curb and into the ditch, but unknown to the shopper. There were no injuries and the car suffered only minor damage.

WAGEWAGE CONTRIBUTIONS

The maximum contribution to an individual retirement account has been increased from $1,500 to $2,000 (spousal IRA from $1,750 to $2,250). (Spousal IRAs are for married couples where only one spouse is employed.)

Holliday CofC sets benefit

A benefit basketball game to help finance this year's Holliday Chamber of Commerce JuneFest activities will be held at 7 p.m. Thursday, May 3, in the Holliday High School gymnasium.

Pitting the Holliday High School faculty with the Holliday All-Stars, headed by Kirk Styles, tickets are $4 per family, $2 for adults and $1 for students.

A concession stand will be open during and preceding the game.

Holliday Chamber of Commerce directors Thursday designated June 29-30 for the second annual JuneFest celebration. A parade starting at 10 a.m. June 29 will kick off the two-day activities, which also features the Miss Holliday beauty pageant. The pageant will be held at 7 p.m. June 30 in the Erma Barton Auditorium.

Finnell seeks change in transportation rule

State Rep. Charles Finnell, Chairman of the House Committee on Retirement and Aging, will ask the Railroad Commission of Texas to reconsider applying the rule it adopted recently in the Texas Register regarding transportation programs for the elderly.

The new rule requires added expenses and regulations that in Finnell's opinion cause undue hardship for Senior Citizen transportation service providers.

"Senior Citizen Centers, especially in rural areas, are fully utilizing their vans to help make life more meaningful for a significant segment of our population," stated Finnell.

The new rule seeks to classify some elderly transportation programs as motor bus companies pursuant to the Texas Motor Bus Act.

"Any senior citizen, handicapped, or medical van, offering transportation (not for hire) should be exempt from the Railroad Commission regulations, just as church groups are," stated Finnell.

"As an alternative, I will introduce a bill to amend, if necessary, the Texas Motor Bus Act," Finnell added.

Aging programs that are located in larger cities are exempt from this rule because their programs operate within the incorporated areas of a city and its suburbs. Aging programs provided in rural areas are saddled with burdensome regulations that take money from the smaller, less urbanized transportation programs for the elderly.

Kindergarten screening results available

Holliday parents whose children were screened for kindergarten on April 3, 1984, will have an opportunity to review screening results on Thursday, May 3, 1984.

School personnel will be available from 8:00 a.m. to 3:00 p.m. in a room adjacent to the Holliday Elementary library to discuss each child's developmental levels individually with parents.

Suggestions for home follow-up activities will be given to parents at that time, according to Carol Magee, principal.

Judy Ray Garland construction on course

An open house last Sunday at the new Judy Ray Garland Estates in Holliday marked the first of what developer Charles Chandler hopes to become a 90-home subdivision. Construction, meanwhile, continues on three other homes, with one home in the trimming stage, and framing beginning on two others.

"For Holliday to grow, I think it will need to take care of working couples and the young professional," he added. "And I think this development does."

Current worries about increases in the interest rate has Chandler concerned, but he said a variety of innovative methods of financing are available for couples wanting to purchase a new home. "I heard that, for every one-percent rise in the interest rate, over a million couples are priced out of the home market," he said. "But these homes are affordable to today's working couple, with graduating payments that start at the $470-$480 range and little variation over the years."

CONSTRUCTION OF NEW HOMES UNDERWAY ... prospective growth in Holliday being realized.

EMPLOYERS DEADLINE

April 30 is the deadline for employers who must report on Social Security and withheld federal income taxes for the first quarter of 1984. If the quarterly tax due (less any deposit made during the quarter) is $500 or more, the unpaid tax must be deposited.

This deadline does not apply to employers who make timely deposits of the full amount of tax due in Federal Reserve or approved commercial banks. They are allowed until May 10 to file Form 941, Employer Quarterly Federal Tax Return.

If employers have not received Form 941 by mail, they can order one through the Tax Form or Information number listed in the phone book under U.S. Government. IRS Publication 15, Circular E-Employer's Tax Guide, is also available through this number.

Farabee explains workers' compensation ruling, proposal

Questions about the recent state district court ruling in Travis County that farmworkers cannot be exempted from workers' compensation protections and concerns about a proposal by a statewide committee on farmworker insurance were addressed Monday by Senator Ray Farabee of Wichita Falls.

"Many people from the 30th District have questions about what the court decision will require of them. It is important to note that the court decision does not require farmers and ranchers to carry workers' compensation insurance on their employees. It does, however, remove important defenses employers have traditionally raised in lawsuits over farmworker injuries sustained on the job. This makes it easier to win a lawsuit against an employer and makes a suit against the employer harder to defend," Farabee stated.

Farabee said that before the Feb. 23 ruling, farm and ranch workers in the state had the right to sue their employers for injuries received on the job but were required to prove that the accident had occurred due to the employer's negligence. Following the court ruling, workers are still required to prove that the employer was negligent, but traditional defenses, such as contributory negligence by the laborer, are no longer allowed.

The Senator noted that from a strictly legal point of view, the ruling has a narrow applicability at this time. Since there are about 365 district courts in Texas, and those courts are not bound by Judge Clark's decision, it is possible that cases in other district courts could be decided differently.

The Attorney General has appealed the case to the Court of Appeals. If the case is ultimately appealed to the State Supreme Court, the Court's decision will be binding for all of Texas, whether it affirms or reverses the district court decision. Because of the uncertainties of litigation for all sides, many would prefer to see this issue resolved by the Legislature.

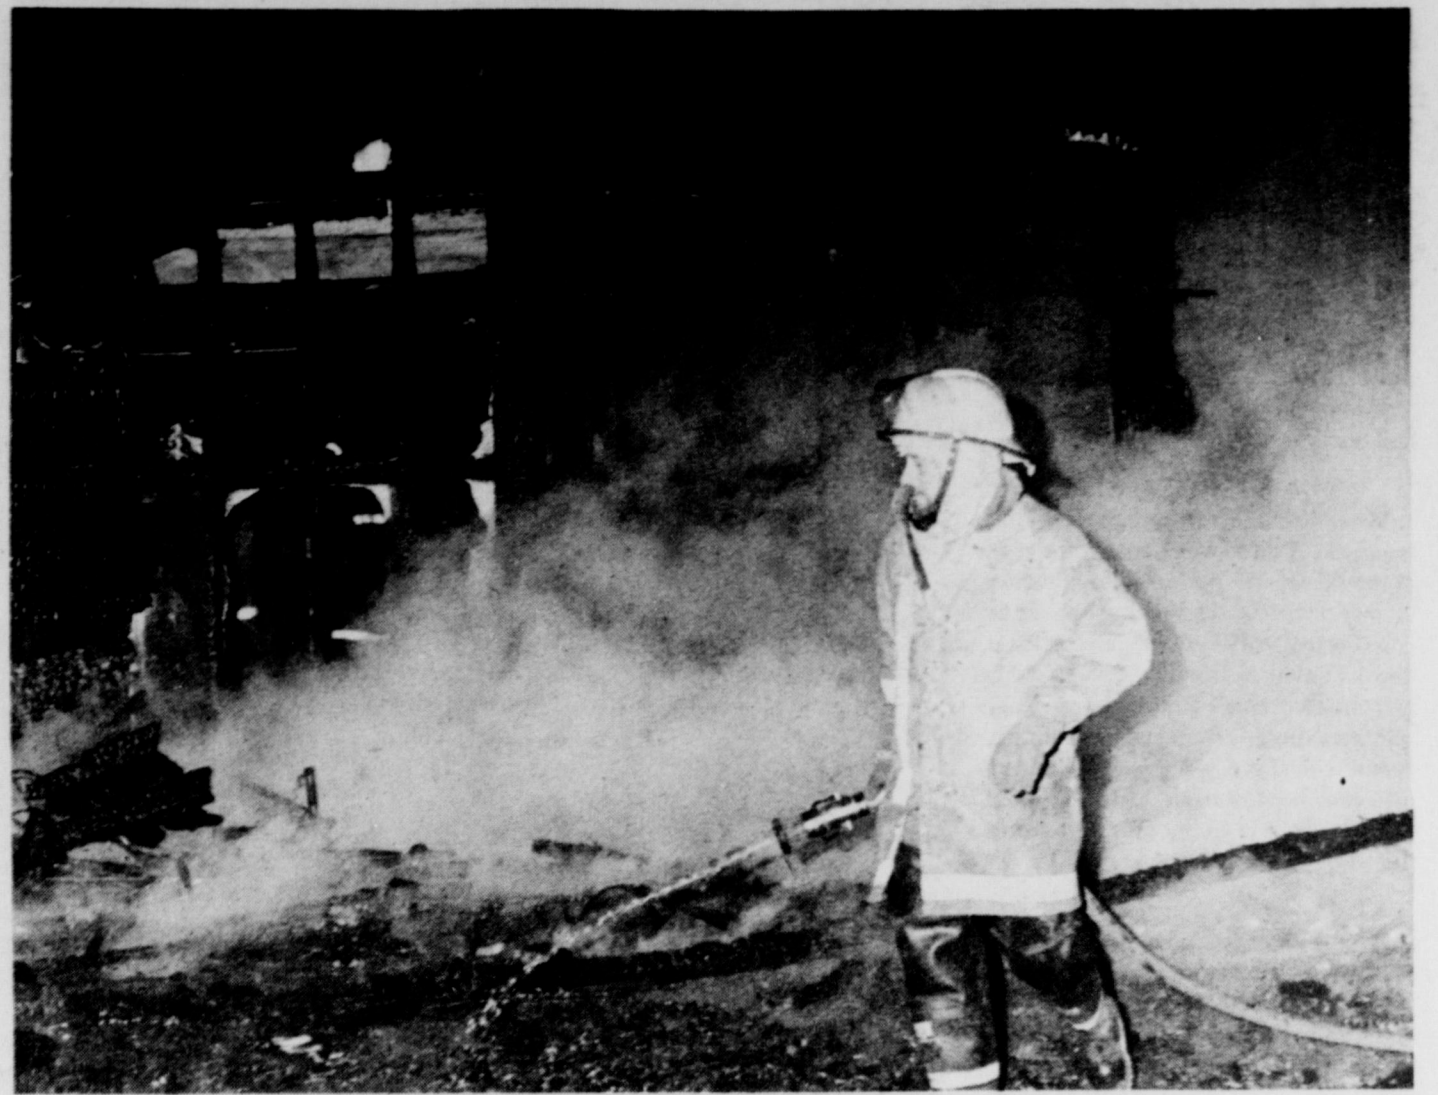

The compromise legislation drafted by the Joint Committee on Farmworkers Insurance has been approved by most members of the Committee. Representatives of the Farm Bureau have not approved the bill. Senator Farabee outlined some of the major provisions of the compromise legislation:

- * All migrant workers, those seasonal workers employed on truck farms, orchards and vineyards or those working for employers with payrolls greater than $25,000 in 1985, would be covered by the Workers' Compensation Act. The $25,000 threshold would be adjusted for inflation in subsequent years.

- * Full-time workers would be covered by the Workers' Compensation Act, but their inclusion would be phased in over a ten-year period. Those working for a farmer or rancher with a gross annual payroll of greater than $100,000 in 1985, 1986 or 1987 would be added immediately. By 1995 all full-time workers would be covered, regardless of the employer's payroll. (Gross annual payroll does not include family members, partners or corporate shareholders.); and

- * Migrant or seasonal workers covered by workers compensation would be prohibited from bringing suit against the owner or operator of the property for any injuries they may sustain.

EARLY MORNING FIRE was brought under control before it totally engulfed the home of Wayne Marshall on Kavoric Road, southeast of the rodeo grounds on FM 369.

Firemen from Iowa Park, West Wichita and Cameron Gardens answered the 2:57 a.m. Wednesday alarm.

Sonic celebrating 25th anniversary

Sugar topic of speaker

Cheryl Mapston, Wichita County Extension 4-H agent, gave a program Wednesday on "Sugar in Foods That We Eat" for a meeting of the Park Area Homemakers Club at the home of Mrs. Joe Cope. She used cards to show how sugar cubes build up in different foods, such as French fries, hamburgers and ketchup.

Mrs. Reba Snow conducted the business. Plans were made for the observance of National Extension Homemakers Clubs Week when eight county clubs will set up educational booths at Sikes Senter Mall May 11. Information on quilting, canning, microwaving, matting, framing, credit, color, etc. will be given out at different booths from 10 a.m. until 9 p.m. There will be no arts and crafts exhibits.

A sunshine box was presented to Mrs. W.G. Partney, a club member, who had been ill.

Sixteen members and three guests answered roll call with First Aid suggestions. A luncheon followed the business meeting.

HELPFUL YOUTH - Several Iowa Park youth organizations turned out Saturday, and during the preceding week, to help in the annual city-wide Clean-Up Week. Above are members of the Fellowship of Christian Athletes and on the right members of the Girl Scouts. "This year's project was certainly made a success because of all the organizations that participated," said Tommy Key, Chamber of Commerce coordinator of the project.

Singing comedian slated for book review, luncheon

Pat Crenshaw will perform her program "Comedy at Noon" for the fourth annual Amity Study Club book review and luncheon at noon

Saturday, May 5 in the Fellowship Hall of First United Methodist Church.

Crenshaw, a one-woman show, entertains and plays, but most of all, sings.

In an hour's time, she changes costumes and character more than a dozen times, and sings the entire time, presenting a hilarious dialogue that ties the characters and songs together and allows the audience never a dull moment.

She holds music degrees from Southern Methodist Univ. and North Texas State Univ., and is a teacher at Lakehill Preparatory School in Dallas. She is a director of the Dallas Girls Chorus and director of Music Ministries at Casa View Christian Church, Dallas.

The show has been performed throughout Texas as well as in Oklahoma, Kansas, Louisiana, Connecticut, Kentucky and New Jersey.

During the meeting five outstanding high school seniors, Michelle Evans, Cindy Wells Farnsworth, Jan Hale, Christine Proulx and Dana Trantham, will be honored and one will be chosen for the recipient of the first Carol Edwards Fine Arts Scholarship given by the club.

The luncheon will feature the club's special turkey salad and will be served in an iris garden setting. Tickets are $6 and are limited to the first 200.

REPLACING SHRUBS

Time has told the tale on whether shrubs survived December's frigid temperatures. Wax leaf ligustrums were hardest hit by the cold temperatures particularly in unprotected sites. Mrs. L.J. Shook of Iowa Park says some of her Wax leafs are beginning to start a few leaves on the main trunk. Her next task is to trim the shrubs back to the green growth.

Dan Flippin and Elwood Haynes of Punkin Center were not as fortunate with their shrubs. Flippin replaced his Wax leafs with Dwarf Burford Holly while Haynes replaced his dead shrubs with Needle Point Holly. Both selected our plants in 3 gallon containers which means they have large enough root systems to make a rapid start.

Aphids are attacking plum and peach trees with heavy infestations forming on the stems and leaves. Dave Robnett of Iowa Park had a native plum completely covered with this pest. He controlled the problem with a single spray application of diazinon. Other effective chemicals include either Zelone or Malathion.

Bermudagrass is coming out rapidly now which is the cue for the first spring fertilization. Bobby Fox of Iowa Park fertilized his lawn at the rate of 10 to 15 pounds per 1000 square feet. He applied our 15-5-10 with a 1/2 pound of chelated iron. This fertilizer combination provides for rapid, green growth with good root development. The low level of phosphorus discourages seedhead development.

BANDS EARN SWEEPSTAKES - Both the Iowa Park High School and Junior High School bands earned Division One ratings last week in concert and sightreading. And since both had received the same superior ratings in marching last fall, they were awarded the coveted

Davis, Perry to Gainesville

Hawk thincalads Phillip Davis and Charles Perry will compete tomorrow at Gainesville in a regional qualifiers' meet.

All events will be finals, with runners competing against the clock when there is more than one heat in an event.

Davis qualified for next week's regional meet at Denton by placing second in the high hurdles at the Dist. 3-AAAA meet. He was clocked in 16:43, but all times were slow because of high winds.

Perry captured the district title in the shot put with a personal best of 52-6. He missed qualifying in the discus, though tossing the plate 162 feet.

The two Hawks will be competing against qualifiers from all classifications, because there are no divisions in this type of tune-up meet.

Sefcik fourth in both events

Lisa Sefcik placed fourth in both the hurdles and triple jump Thursday at the regional track meet in Denton.

She was clocked in 15 seconds flat in the hurdles and her triple jump measured 35-6.

Sefcik, a senior, was reported in last week's Leader to be setting a record at Iowa Park High by competing in her third consecutive regional meet.

The article was incorrect. She has competed in four consecutive meets, reaching the region in hurdles her freshman year.

Iowa Parkans pedal in hills

Iowa Park was well represented in the 11th annual Hill Country Bicycle Tour, conducted Friday through Sunday at Kerrville.

The Iowa Park camp included families of Mr. and Mrs. Don Decker, Mr. and Mrs. Ron Barnes, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Carrilla-Miranda and Margaret Henderson.

Kerrville State Park was headquarters for more than 600 participants from all points of the state.

The route traversed roads along rivers and streams into the high hills of the area, and 20-30 mile per hour winds was a constant menace to cyclists.

Cycling distances of the Iowa Parkans included: Ron Barnes, 92 miles; Don Decker, 58; John Cameron, 54; Tommy Collins, 54; Randy Barnes, 37; Scott James, 30; Ronnie Henderson, 20; Tammy and Margaret Henderson, Greg and Clay Carrilla-Miranda and Dee Decker, all 19 miles apiece.

This group will be riding for the Iowa Park 4-H club in the Rotary Club's Wheels of Fortune event May 19. Other 4-Hers can join by contacting Pam Boyd, 4-H leader.
