DRIVER PINNED - Emery Caldwell, 604 E. Washington, was trapped in his pickup after it wrecked at 3:55 p.m. Monday just west of Rifle Range Road, until he was freed by Iowa Park Volunteer Firemen using the Jaws of Life. Caldwell lost control of the pickup, traveled onto the median, crossed a shallow ditch and then dug nose-down, flipping onto its top. He was uninjured, except for minor facial lacerations, but was charged by the Department of Public Safety for driving while intoxicated.

SUNDAY

Little League coaches to play benefit game

Iowa Park's Little League program, one of the strongest in the area despite relying almost entirely on volunteer help, will hold its annual fund-raiser for the city's two all-star teams with a coaches game at 3 p.m. Sunday at the Senior League Field on Texas Street.

Pitting coaches from the Minor and T-Ball Leagues against coaches from Major League, Senior League and league staff, the game is free of charge to the public, although president Mike Price asks that everyone bring a healthy appetite. Homemade ice cream and watermelon will be offered at the concession stand in addition to the standard items, with the proceeds going to the Major League and Senior League All-Stars.

Price, in his fourth year as president of the league, said plans were made during a meeting of league officials and coaches Sunday to accommodate a growing number of players. One plan is to construct a new field adjacent to the existing two fields to be used solely for T-Ball and 5-Pitch teams, the 5-Pitch League being the second major announcement stemming from Sunday's meeting.

T-Ball, according to Price, has been in Iowa Park for four years now, and next year the league will consist of only six-year-olds, while the seven-year-old players advance to 5-Pitch, introducing the pitched ball to the young players for the first time in competition.

Baseball in Iowa Park suffered a minor setback a few years ago with the start of organized soccer, mostly due to scheduling problems and players competing in both sports.

But, according to Price, such men as Jerry Inman, Danny Skinner and Larry King made it possible to integrate the two sports smoothly through better scheduling and communication.

Approximately 350 players are competing in the city's five leagues from T-Ball to the new Connie Mack team. "Some kids had to be put on a waiting list last year in T-Ball because of the lack of teams and available fields," Price said, adding that three new teams were fielded this season. League officials will hopefully have the situation remedied at the start of next season with the new field.

In 1957 Iowa Park met the charter requirements for acceptance into the Little League Association with a total of four teams, and today there are 27. Throughout that time, townspeople alike have given their support to the program, through monetary support as well as physical labor to ensure its future.

Parental support had somewhat dwindled through the years, although Price contributes that to the resurgence of men's softball in the area, in addition to the formation of women's softball. "The businesses and the citizens still drum up adequate support each year," Price remarked, "And you can't say that about everywhere else." He added that parents still support the program as a whole, and many are still active in roles ranging from coaches and umpires to announcers and scorekeepers.

"If I could live in any town in Texas with a Little League program, I would still want to live right here in Iowa Park," Price admitted.

The following is a list of the coaches throughout the league, broken down into the two teams scheduled to face one another for the benefit of the all-star teams.

City meeting agenda Monday short, sweet

Members of the Iowa Park city council face a light agenda for Monday's 7 p.m. meeting, with only four items listed.

Darrell Jolly has asked for time on the agenda to discuss purchasing part of a lot in Garden Valley, owned by the city. The topic had been discussed at an earlier meeting, but Jolly asked for time to survey the land and determine how much of the lot he needed.

Administrator James Barrington is to discuss options the city can take concerning need of more work from the city's bulldozer. Options include leasing a tractor to catch up on work the landfill unit is behind, trading for a larger tractor or keep the one now owned and try to catch up sometime in the future.

Barrington explained the subject needs to be considered now, because if a trade for another dozer is the council's decision, it needs to be included in next year's budget.

Aldermen will probably use a period of time Monday to do preliminary budget work, also.

At the request of the Chamber of Commerce, the council will consider co-sponsoring the community's participation in Texas' 150th anniversary, the sesquicentennial, by appointing members to a committee which would be responsible for planning activities during 1985.

Isbell said 2,000 acres of land in Wichita County were damaged by wind erosion in 1983, and 6,000 acres damaged this year. A record-breaking 5.7-million acres of land in Texas suffered erosion this year.

ascertain information as to availability and cost, to be reported at the July meeting. During a general discussion, membership enrollment and participation was discussed. It was pointed out that the local chamber lacks membership of individuals, as compared with the late 1960s, but rather has counted on businesses for its primary membership and funding. Also announced was the Electra Chamber banquet has been scheduled Jan. 19, and will not conflict with Iowa Park's Jan. 26 date.

test was made. He then was taken before Justice of the Peace Virgil Hill, who placed him under $500 bond and then put in county jail. A vehicle belonging to a Floydada man was left overnight at the Texaco station on North Pacific Thursday night. During the stay, left unattended, a .25 cal. pistol was reportedly taken, according to police files.

SESQUICENTENNIAL

Iowa Park will participate with rest of state

Iowa Park will apparently join with most of the other communities in the state to celebrate the Texas Sesquicentennial, or 150th anniversary.

Directors of the Chamber of Commerce wholly endorsed a suggestion by newly-named assistant school superintendent Robert Palmer to co-sponsor activities with the city throughout 1985 to celebrate the state's anniversary.

Palmer, who is moving here from Electra where he was a member of that community's Chamber and on the Sesquicentennial celebration committee, explained to Chamber leaders Monday how Iowa Park can participate.

Very similar to community participation in the nation's Bicentennial back in 1976, Palmer said a committee is to submit activities planned for the year to a state committee for approval and sanctioning. He said he would assist the committee in preparing the application.

He pointed out July 19 is the deadline for activities to be submitted and urged early functioning by the committee. Several board members volunteered to serve on the committee, and the city council, should it agree to participate, is to name the balance of membership.

"I think you (community as a whole) are going to kinda' be sitting on the outside, if you don't do it. Most of the communities in the state are going to participate. I would highly encourage you to participate," Palmer told the Chamber directors. No decision was reached on a proposal to invite a company to solicit businesses to advertise, and thus fund, publication of a city map for distribution. Information concerning highlights and features of the community could be included on the map, directors were told. Cost of the project would be approximately $7,000 in advertising, according to Dr. James Edwards, Chamber president. Wayne House suggested the Chamber might lease a mechanical bull which could be a feature and fund-raiser for this fall's Whoop-T-Do. Directors encouraged him to

Wind erosion problem less than other areas

Despite a record-breaking amount of wind damage throughout Texas and the rest of the nation from November, 1983 through May of this year, Wichita County has reported an increase far below other areas, according to Michael Isbell, District Conservationist in Iowa Park.

Isbell said recently Wichita County experienced an increase of 300 percent in wind erosion damage due to dry weather, but still less than the amount of acres damaged in other counties in Texas and throughout the nation.

"Farmers in Wichita County are excellent conservationists and do a good job of crop rotation and residue management," said Isbell. "Many are

Local men arrested

Two young Iowa Park men were arrested during the past week, one on a charge of forgery and the other for driving while intoxicated.

Steven Lee Lane was taken into custody by Wichita County sheriff's deputies at 3:18 a.m. June 13 at a restaurant in Wichita Falls. He was wanted on a charge of forgery and also violation of probation.

Lane is accused of passing a $25 check to himself, drawn on an account at United Savings in the name of Mary Earline Downing. Passed at Ken's Foodliner Aug. 8, 1983, the check was returned Sept. 12 after Downing had closed the account.

According to the complaint filed at Iowa Park Police Department, Downing had missed some checks and had also closed the account, well before the check was passed. Handwriting was analyzed prior to the issuance of the warrant.

Lane was taken before Justice of the Peace R.L. Stewart where, facing a second charge of forgery, he was placed in jail under $1,500 bond.

Lee Randal Hughes, 19, 700 W. Alameda, was arrested at Buffalo Lake shortly after midnight Saturday

Rash of accidents

Sgt. Jerry Hopkins, Iowa Park resident with the Department of Public Safety, Monday expressed deep concern over a rash of vehicle accidents occurring in his district recently.

He said over a 10-day period, 23 persons had been sent to the hospital following accidents, and one was a fatality.

Among the 23 wounded, the oldest was 26 years of age, Sgt. Hopkins said.

Chesser, Smith wedding ceremony held here Saturday

In a double-ring ceremony performed Saturday afternoon at First United Methodist Church, Miss Rita Marie Chesser, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Chesser, became the bride of Russ Stephen Smith, son of Patricia A. Smith and Herman Smith.

Rev. George Topper, pastor of the Henrietta First United Methodist Church, was the officiant for the nuptials where traditional decorations were featured in the altar setting. The couple stood before a white-cushioned prayer bench facing the minister who stood in front of an arch entwined with boxwood greenery.

As they looked through the arch they could see an open Bible, gold cross and golden candlesticks on the altar table, and the stained glass window high above the choir loft. Spiral candelabra holding votive candles traced with greenery were on either side of the altar table, and the extremities of the center altar held brass footed stands that lifted dignified arrangements of white silk mums, gladioli and carnations combined with greenery.

The altar rails were enwrapped with boxwood, and the pews were decorated with silk leather leaf, eucalyptus and white satin bows. Interest in the lower altar was focused on the three-branched unity candlestick and wedding guests thrilled at the sight of the bride and groom lighting the center candle to seal their vows and climax the ceremony.

Crystal Williams, niece of the bride, and Kim Pyle, niece of the groom, lighted the candles for the service.

Before entering the sanctuary, guests signed the wedding book at a round table covered with white satin skirted to the floor. Miss Kim Costello presided at the table that held a white candle in a hurricane globe on a brass holder, orchid plume pen and book.

Mrs. Michael Sargent, organist, set the mood for the wedding with prelude selections including "Love Lift Us Up Where We Belong," from the movie Officer and a Gentleman, "Largo," "Just the Way You Are," and "Endless Love." She accompanied David Collins for a solo rendition of "Wedding Song," played "Trumpet Voluntary" for members of the wedding party to take their places in the nuptial space. She changed to Wagner's processional to signal the entrance of the bride, accompanied the vocalist for "The Lord's Prayer," and concluded the wedding music with the traditional recessional.

The lovely bride was a romantic picture as she walked gracefully to the altar with her father, who presented her in marriage for her parents. She wore a formal white gown of organza, Chantilly and Venise laces enriched with pearls and Schiffli embroidery. The natural waist bodice of Venise lace appliques featured a sheer yoke trimmed with Schiffli embroidery at the neck. The back extended into a low V-shape with a dropped waist. The three-quarter sleeves were trimmed in lace flounces.

The full skirt terminated in a deep hem flounce of ruffled lace caught up in the back to the waist, and the cathedral length train was accented with a flounce.

The bride's illusion veil floated to waltz length from a modified derby hat of matching lace and pearls accented with a floral adornment on one side. Her all-silk bouquet in cascade style was fashioned with white roses and stephanotis, orchid sweetheart roses and forget me nots, baby's breath and fern.

Miss Tammy Hickey participated in the wedding as maid of honor. She wore a formal gown of orchid taffeta designed with a slightly raised shirred bodice, sweetheart neckline, short puffed sleeves, and A-line skirt. She carried a nosegay of white and orchid miniature carnations, baby's breath and greenery, with orchid streamers.

The bridesmaids, wearing identical costumes and carrying identical nosegays were Miss Renee Cailteux of Fort Worth, Mrs. Sue Williams of Bowie, sister of the bride, and Miss Kristi Cooley.

Michelle Collins, niece of the groom, the flower girl, wore an orchid taffeta frock in Little Miss style. She carried white miniature carnations, orchid forget me nots, baby's breath in a white basket trimmed with orchid ribbon.

Jason Smith, nephew of the groom, wore formal attire to match that of the groomsmen, and carried the white lace ring pillow.

The groom was attended by Glen Jameson as best man, Doug Smith, J.C. Smith and Jon Crawford of Arlington as groomsmen.

The groom wore a silver gray tuxedo with a tailed, satin-lapelled coat, vest and ascot tie, and a boutonniere of an orchid rose, white stephanotis and greenery. The groomsmen and fathers of the couple wore less formal gray tuxedos with lavender shirts. Single orchid roses, greenery and baby's breath formed the boutonnières for the attendants, and a single white rose with baby's breath marked those worn by the fathers.

The bride presented her mother and groom's mother with long-stemmed red roses of love during the service. Mrs. Chesser chose an orchid chiffon gown featuring a slightly raised bodice trimmed in lace at the V-neckline. The long sleeves extended in the back over the full flowing skirt. Mrs. Smith wore a mauve taffeta gown designed with a natural waist bodice, square neck, ruffled puffed sleeves and A-line skirt. Both wore shoulder corsages of white miniature carnations, orchid roses and ribbon.

The reception honoring the newlyweds was given by the bride's parents in the Fellowship Hall of the church, where the bride's table held irresistible charm in the setting.

The table was covered with white satin, its elegance enhanced with grape ivy and white and orchid lace bows around the top. The lavish cake in the center aroused special interest. The three-tiered structure with one set of pillar dividers was lifted high over a fountain of splashing orchid water and completely covered with orchid and white frosting roses, petunias, pearl-centered stephanotis, bridal trumpets with purple and green accents adding contrast. From the top tier, staircases descended to smaller cakes decorated in the same florid style on either side of the fountain.

The silver punch bowl and crystal toasting glasses marked one table extremity, and the other held an imposing bouquet of white snapdragons, mums, carnations and leather leaf in the center of a four-branched silver candelabrum. The napkins printed with the names of the bride and groom, rose-shaped mints, the other table appointments, conformed to the bride's chosen colors. Mrs. David Collins, Mrs. Jerry Williams and Karen Gauthier served at the table.

The groom's table was covered with orchid satin draped with matching ribbon. It held a round chocolate decorated with colorful marzipan fruits, silver coffee service, chocolate boot-shaped mints. Mrs. Steve Fairchild and Miss Kim Costello presided at the table.

The groom's family hosted the rehearsal dinner Friday evening at the NCO Club at Sheppard AFB.

Special wedding guests were Mrs. Ida Parker, maternal grandmother of the bride, and Mrs. Eva Hicks, the groom's maternal grandmother. Mrs. Mamie Chesser, paternal grandmother of the bride, was unable to attend the wedding, but the bride and groom visited her in the nursing home before they changed from their wedding clothes to depart for a wedding trip to New Jersey and other states.

The bride and groom were graduated from Iowa Park High School. She was graduated from Bethania Hospital School of Nursing and has been employed at Wichita Falls Clinic. He is employed by Ryan Inc. of Wisconsin. They will live at Longview.

Out of town guests were Messrs. and Mmes. David Ankney, Glen Ankney and Tonya, Mrs. Donald Branch of El Reno, Okla. Messrs. and Mmes. Lonnie Farmer of Davidson, Okla., S.A. Eickhoff of Hollister, Mo. Park Bishop, Scott and Lance of Dallas; Mrs. Marjorie Bishop of El Paso.

Others were Misses Shara and Alissa Smith from Texarkana, Mrs. William A. Stephenson of Borden-town, N.J., Mrs. Ray H. Edwards and Miss Kathleen Edwards of Annapolis, Maryland, Mrs. Celesta Anderson, Mrs. Jerry Eck, Christi, Shannon, Lisa and Renea, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Milburn and Brook, all of Oklahoma City.

Mr. and Mrs. Steve Lane are announcing the birth of their son, Brady DeShone. He was born Father's Day, June 17, weighing six pounds and four ounces. Mrs. Lane is the former DeLynn Smith.

Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Lane and Mr. and Mrs. Rip Smith of Iowa Park.

The great-grandparents are Mrs. Virginia Lane and Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Hollis, all of Iowa Park, Mr. and Mrs. Roy B. Smith of Sunset, and Mrs. Ethel Hill of Altus, Okla.

HEAD-ON COLLISION - Iowa Park Volunteer Firemen were pressed into action at 2:55 a.m. Saturday to free a trapped driver from his pickup with the Jaws of Life. The pickup was traveling north and a car south on Barnett Road, which is the southern part of Wellington Lane, when the two collided about two miles north of Seymour Highway, at approximately 2:35. Steven Clark Muller, 23, was driving the pickup which, according to DPS officer

Ronnie Miller, swerved across the center line and struck a car driven by Edwina Ann Riggins, 27, accompanied by her sister, Sheila Marie Stouard, 26. All three are Wichita Falls residents. Muller, whose blood test at Wichita General Hospital indicated he was intoxicated, was freed about 3:45. He is reported by a hospital spokeswoman Wednesday as being in serious condition, Riggins in fair condition and Stouard in critical.

Worth Quoting

The current charges and countercharges between Lloyd Doggett and Kent Hance in the runoff for the seat held by Senator John Tower remind us of a young printer we used to have working here at the News office.

We started using Tommy as a printer's devil while he was a sophomore in high school and because of his determination and willingness to work, he became a first class printer. . . and we employed him as such as soon as he graduated from high school.

He was a good employee -- faithful, steady, loyal, and paid attention to details. He had only one major fault -- he couldn't manage his personal finances.

Despite numerous raises, despite stern lectures from both the Old'un and the Young'un, despite repeated pleadings from the bookkeeper, Tommy couldn't keep his head above the financial waters. He was a sucker for a bargain!

After two years, he was so hopelessly tangled in a mesh of installment payments, finance charges, past due bills, and refinancing schemes that he came to us for help.

We had him return a motorcycle, get rid of an old clunker, consolidate some of his bills, move into a cheaper apartment, and we took his paycheck each Friday and gave him an allowance to eat on, paid his rent, and used the rest to pay off old bills.

After 13 months of controlled spending, we had him clear of old bills, he owed no one, and he had $127 in the bank--and we turned his check and his checking account over to him--on a late Friday afternoon.

When he came to work on the following Monday, he had a grin a mile wide on his young handsome face. Our Tommy, who had no transportation, and was located at least 180 miles from the nearest suitable lake, walked in the News office with a skin-diving outfit complete with snorkel, suit, and oxygen tanks and a debt of $340.00. And we gave up!

We believe that over the past four decades, we have sent to Washington far too many Tommys--people who simply can't or won't manage money--and that's the reason we're approaching a debt of well over a trillion dollars.

Lloyd Doggett, the liberal darling of Austin, is another Tommy as far as we are concerned. He has taken Hance to task for voting to cut expenditures in Washington as part of the tax cut bill passed during the first part of the Reagan administration.

To hear Doggett tell it, Hance has taken food out of the mouths of the poor, money from those on Social Security--and given it all to the rich.

It's typical election year rhetoric. . . and along the lines of Mondale, Tip O'Neill and the other big spenders.

A few facts might be in order. It took our government 175 years for its budget to reach $100 billion--in 1962. It then took only nine years for the budget to top $200 billion. Four years later, in 1975, it hit $300 billion and two years later $400 billion. In 1980, it went over $600 billion, and spending for this fiscal year will be close to $900 billion.

The spenders would have you believe that President Reagan and the congressmen like Kent Hance cut social programs, cut social security, cut the doles to the poor and disabled. Nope, all they did was slow the COLAS (cost-of-living-adjustments) that were and are slowing sinking the federal treasury.

For your information, under the Reagan administration, housing aid is up 75 percent, food stamps up 32 percent, Medicare up 63 percent, and Social Security up 44 percent. One type of social spending, direct payments to individuals, now consumes 42 percent of the budget, compared to only 29 percent for defense.

We've got too many Tommys, too many Doggetts, too many Tip O'Neils in Washington now. We desperately need the Kent Hance's of this nation to slow the inexorable drift of our federal government to take more and more, spend more and more, owe more and more, until that day when we'll all work full time for Uncle Sam.

There's simply no known cure for Tommyism--in Andrews or in Washington!

As I See It....

By BOB HAMILTON

A story moved on the Associated Press wire last week from the nation's capitol concerning the House approval of a "temporary field hands" legislation.

Quoting "critics," the article referred to the "infamous 'Bracero' program of the 1940s and 1950s in which Mexican field hands lived in squalor and were paid little."

I've heard all that before, but never saw it. Those critics apparently were from some other part of the country who visited one or two labor camps and had never been in Mexico, nor did they apparently ever talk to any of the laborers.

"Squalor and little pay" are in the eyes of the beholder. To the Mexicans who came across the border under the Bracero program, they were life-saving employment. But to a white collar worker, I can understand how such an interpretation can be made.

I'd like to take some of those critics over to Mexico, if they want to see squalor. And I invite those same critics to compare the salaries those workers received here, with those they would have gotten in Mexico, if they could even find work.

I said it at the time the program was eliminated, and I'll say it again. The Mexican field hands were doing work few if any Americans wanted to do, and they did it gladly. It was a good program for the Mexicans and equally good for the American farmers.

Several of my friends hired the same Mexicans year after year. No one was holding a gun to the heads of the workers to accept the employment. Few, if any, ever became ill due to the conditions they lived in while on this side of the Rio Grande, and every one of them lived better once they returned to their homes. They lived on beans, tortillas, eggs and canned milk while here, but that was because they were sending most of their paychecks home to their families. Check with any postal worker on that one. I sat in hearings held by federal people, where reports were made by farmers concerning their relationships with the Mexican workers, and also explained how badly they were needed by continuing the program. But never, even once, did a single person at one of those hearings ever tell of a Mexican being mistreated, jilted on his salary or anything else bad about the program.

We didn't have an illegal alien problem back in those days either.

A lot of people have for the past few years been trying to figure out how Graham High School has stayed in Class AAA UIL competition and we were in AAAA. Of course, they also ask how Vernon is following us down to AAA next year.

Reasons for questions is the size of those towns in relation to our's.

Well, Graham will stay in AAA the next two years, but after that, up the school goes. Why? The size of last year's seventh and eighth grades.

Graham High finished the year at 615 enrollment (about 100 more than Iowa Park), but estimates are that GHS will have 721 in class this fall, and the following year it will zoom up to 855.

Letter to the Editor

Dear Mr. Hamilton,

We wanted everyone in Iowa Park to know of a good, kind person in your city. Last Saturday (June 9th) several of our relatives from Lawton came to Iowa Park to attend the funeral of our Dad. Not knowing where the cemetery was, they asked a lady at a store for directions. She did not try to give directions, but instead led the way to the cemetery. We cannot begin to explain how impressed everyone was with her kindness.

We will probably never know her identity, but we would like to express our deep felt appreciation for helping someone in their time of need.

Jinkins, Moore solemnize wedding vows recently

Wedding vows were repeated by Miss Jamie Kay Jinkins, a former resident of Iowa Park, the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Jimmie R. Jinkins of Broken Bow, Okla., and Jimmy Dale

Moore, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy W. Moore of Broken Bow, May 19. The wedding took place at the First Baptist Church in Broken Bow. The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a formal traditional wedding gown of sheer white chiffon and taffeta, fashioned with a Queen Anne neckline, empire waist, and bishop sleeves. The skirt extended to form a cathedral length train. Lace appliques and seed pearls accented both the dress and the bridal headpiece which held a chapel length veil.

The bride carried long-stemmed burgundy roses and white baby's breath with white and pink ribbon streamers. She observed the wedding traditions of wearing the "something old, new, borrowed and blue."

Miss Rae Ann Jinkins, sister of the bride, was the maid of honor, and the bridesmaid was Miss Teresa Moore, sister of the groom. They wore identical off-the-shoulder, floor-length gowns of pink organza with white ruffles, and carried single long-stemmed burgundy roses accented with pink ribbon.

Amanda Kelly, cousin of the groom, the flower girl, wore a pink organza dress to match the gowns of the attendants, and carried a white lace basket filled with rose petals.

Kent Brewster, cousin of the bride, the ring bearer, wore a navy suit and carried a white lace and satin heart-shaped pillow.

The groom wore a white tuxedo with a burgundy boutonniere. The best man, Steve Storey, and groomsmen, Todd Brock, wore burgundy tuxedos and matching boutonnieres.

Gail Bell and Debbi Daniel, presented the piano and organ music, and the latter sang "Evergreen" and "The Lord's Prayer." Deanna Waughl presided over the guest book.

Immediately following the ceremony, the newlyweds were honored at a reception in the Fellowship Hall of the church. The refreshment table was covered with a white lace cloth over pink and centered with three white cherubs holding floating miniature roses flanked with candelabra accented with dusty rose candles and fern.

The three-tiered cake was decorated with roses, hearts and wedding bells. The top layer held by four cherubs was ornamented with a bride and groom standing under an archway.

Hostesses for the reception were Linda Kennedy, Loretta Belvin, Johnnie Poole, Doris Stow, Lori Kennedy and Katosha Belvin.

Grandparents of the couple who attended the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. W.A. Jinkins of Iowa Park, Mrs. Omega Harris of Marietta Okla., and Mrs. Effie Kelly of Idabel, Okla. Other guests from Iowa Park were W.A. Jinkins Jr. and Janet Potter.

MR. and MRS. JIMMY DALE MOORE

Mr. and Mrs. Sonny Cook announce the birth of their first child, Jacalyn De'Ann, an eight pound daughter, born June 12. Mrs. Cook is the former Sherry Evans.

The grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Bill Cook and Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Evans of Iowa Park. The great-grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. J.Y. Riddles of Wichita Falls, Ira Evans, Mrs. Sybil Stegall and Mrs. Grace Cook, all of Iowa Park.

Paula Mashburn is recipient

Paula Lee Mashburn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Billy Mashburn, 926 W. Highway, has been named to receive a presidential scholarship to McMurry College for the coming year, according to Dr. Thomas Kim, McMurry president.

The May graduate of Iowa Park High School was among the top quarter of her class and scored 21 or better on the ACT test in order to qualify for the scholarship.

Mattis, Nordman vows are exchanged Saturday morning

Look Who's New

Miss Kathryn Elizabeth Mattis chose an exquisite white designer gown by Bianchi for her wedding Saturday morning when she became the bride of Joel Dean Nordman. The gently scooped neckline and three quarter length pouf sleeves were delicately accented with appliques of Renaissance lace, consisting of sheer chiffon with wide borders of shimmering embroidered leaves, to create a fantasy of soft petals. The fitted waist tied into full skirted T-length with Renaissance overlay.

MRS. JOEL DEAN NORDMAN

She wore a Bianchi head wreath covered with white silk roses and leaves to secure her waist length illusion veil and blusher. Completing the lovely picture, the bride carried a cascade bouquet of white cymbidium orchids, stephanotis, sweetheart rosebuds, Hahns ivy and lemon leaf foliage.

She was escorted to the altar by her brother, Charles W. Mattis.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. William C. Mattis of Iowa Park, and the late Capt. Mattis, and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey D. Nordman of Wichita Falls.

The Faith Village Church of Christ in Wichita Falls was the setting for the double-ring ceremony officiated by Les McGalliard, minister.

The nuptial decorations were characterized by airy delicacy and featured two seven-branched white wrought-iron candelabra entwined with sprengeri fern, white stardust and fuji mums and carnations. Two arrangements of lemon leaf, sprengeri and Baker's fern on white wrought iron stands added to the freshness and beauty of the setting. The church pews were marked with white silk bows.

Miss Heggie Brown of White Oak, cousin of the bride, lighted the candles for the service.

The wedding music was furnished by an ensemble composed of Mr. and Mrs. Chuck Dennis, Mr. and Mrs. Dik Pittman and Ed Goodgion. They sang "The Lord My Shepherd Is" for a prelude selection, "Sweet, Sweet Spirit" while the mothers were being ushered and seated, "Joyful We Adore Thee" while the bride and her brother walked to the altar. During the ceremony, the group sang "The Lord Bless You and Keep You," and concluded with "Praise the Lord" for the recessional.

The bride was attended by Miss Rhonda Marsh of Duncanville as maid of honor, and Mrs. Marlo Fitzgerald of Wichita Falls as bridesmaid. Their identical gowns of pink crepe were designed with square necklines bordered with ruffles, puffed sleeves, self-sashes that tied in bows at the back, and gathered skirts. They carried gathered bouquets of miniature pink carnations, baby's breath and anthericum greenery.

The groom and male members of the wedding party were attired in gray tuxedos worn with white wing-tipped collars and gray ascots. The groom wore a stephanotis boutonniere, and the others wore pink rosebud boutonnieres.

The groom's father attended him as best man, and the groomsmen were tions, white daisies and sprengeri fern. The other bits of table interest were the pink napkins engraved in silver with "Kathryn and Joel," pink rosebud mints and party nuts in silver compotes.

Another table in the room that held the finger sandwiches was covered with candlelight silk and centered with a silver candelabrum holding flaming tapers.

The groom's parents were hosts for the rehearsal dinner Friday evening at Kiva Inn.

The bride was graduated from Iowa Park High School and from Abilene Christian Univ. with a B.S. degree in education. At the university, she belonged to Ko Jo Kai, a social club, Speech Pathology Club and Student Foundation. She is connected with the Iowa Park School System as a speech therapist. The groom was graduated from Rider High School. He is attending Midwestern State Univ. where he is majoring in business and he is employed by United Parcel Services.

The reception preceded the departure of Mr. and Mrs. Nordman for a wedding trip to San Antonio, the bride traveling in a white, summery dress with puffed sleeves and a pink sash. They will live in Wichita Falls.

Special wedding guests were Mr. and Mrs. Geno Sabatini of Moore, Okla. and Mrs. Charles Brown of Iowa Park, grandparents of the bridal couple. Other out-of-town guests were Messrs. and Mmes. Jay Carroll and Mike Carroll of Oklahoma City, Charles Mattis of Houston, David Brown and family of White Oak, H.R. Marsh of Duncanville, Glenn Phillips of Gladewater, Joel Witt of Carrollton, Robert Halton of Dallas; Misses Kayce Frye of Abilene, Betsy Burrell of Lubbock, Mrs. Rena Gardner of Konawa, Okla.; David Carroll, Brett Carroll, Shannon Graham, of Oklahoma City, Roger Kruse of Winters, Jerry Don Bryant of Lone Grove, Okla.

Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Matthews announce the birth of their fourth child, Joseph Robert, a four pound, 15 ounce son, born May 29.

Their other children are Robbie 12, Christy 7, and Mark 3.

The grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Johnnie Toler and Mr. and Mrs. Johnnie Matthews. The great grandmothers are Mrs. Maggie Walls and Mrs. Louise Yarbrough, all of Iowa Park.

FARMERS' GRAIN & FERTILIZER, INC.
GROWING PUMPKINS

Planting now will produce pumpkins in time for Halloween. Growing pumpkins in the garden is a "must" for every family with children. There is something about the growing of pumpkins which really stirs the imagination of a child. Making a Jack-O-Lantern from a pumpkin grown in the back yard is a very exciting experience for the young at heart.

Pumpkins have a lot of other uses, including food and decorations. Diane Tunmire, wife of former Wichita County Extension Agent David Tunmire, makes some of the best pumpkin bread I've ever tasted. And pumpkin pie on the table at Thanksgiving and Christmas is a rich American tradition.

Dee and I visited New England last fall. Most homes and businesses had some type of decoration featuring pumpkins and corn stalks which created a harvest atmosphere in true fall tradition.

Robert Hawthorn of Iowa Park is considering the planting of 4 acres of pumpkins. His plan calls for rows 8 feet apart with plants spaced 4 feet apart in the row. Fertilizing with a balanced fertilizer such as 13-13-13 insures good production. Pumpkins need a considerable amount of space. Each hill needs about 4 ft. by 8 ft. space. Thinning the pumpkins to no more than two per vine insures large fruit for prize Jack-O-Lanterns. Recommended varieties for this area include Connecticut field, Funny Face, and Jack-O-Lantern.

Salvaged wheat from harvest spills is available at our store for a bargain price of $3.50 per 50 pound bag. This is ideal for chickens or baiting fishing holes.

Cook of the Week

Texas cookery has been influenced by many foreign countries, and perhaps that of Mexico has had the greatest influence. Mrs. James Conkling, the cook for this week, says that South of the Border dishes are favorites of her and her family, and that she was tempted to share only recipes for that type food this week.

The lavish use of spices is at the very heart of Mexican cooking, and cumin is one of the most popular spices. A member of the parsley family, it is a native of Egypt and Syria and has long been cultivated for its aromatic seedlike fruit used in cookery. It is an important spice used in the cuisine of many countries.

In India, a masala stone upon which individual spices are ground fresh daily is found in every home, and cumin is made into a refreshing drink in that country. In the Middle East, it is used widely as a seasoning for hard-cooked eggs sold as street snacks, and it is used as a seasoning for sausage in Greece.

It is one of the most important culinary herbs in Mexico where it adds distinctive flavor and is purported to be a stimulant for the appetite. In Peru, it flavors a popular dish called Antichuchos, skewered, marinated beef heart which is charcoal-grilled.

Sandra Conkling was graduated from Crowell High School. She worked for Southwestern Bell Telephone Co. 10 years at Vernon and Wichita Falls. Her husband works for AT&T. They and their daughter, Lisa, are members of First Baptist Church. Her hobbies are yard work, ceramics and sewing.

The High School Choir has been invited to Europe next summer, and donations will be used to help fund the trip, according to a Club spokesman.

Holliday News

Holliday leads county

Holliday's sales tax receipts for May show a pattern of brisk sales mixed with inflation, placing the city on top of Archer County's six entities in the amount collected this year.

The city received a check for $7,508.83 for the month of May, placing it well above Archer City's return of $5,574.84 for the same period. For the year, Holliday has collected $47,821.33 compared to Archer City's $46,028.62. The next closest return among the county's other cities, which includes Lakeside City, Megargel, Scotland and Windhorst, was $1,276.97 collected by Megargel.

The total return for Holliday this year demonstrates a 28.75 percent increase over the amount taken in the same period in 1983 of $37,143.29.

Firemen need materials

Holliday Volunteer Firemen are working toward completion of the annex to the new fire station on South Main St., but are in need of additional building materials to finish construction, according to fire chief Rod Dolberry.

The annex, with work being done solely by firemen, will house a small court room, a meeting room for firemen, a small kitchenette, and space for law enforcement and the Justice of the Peace.

Dolberry said a good part of the materials have been donated, and additional materials purchased from the department's budget. Materials needed to complete the annex include paneling, sheetrock, or any other materials which can be donated.

Monetary donations should be made for the Building Fund, and checks sent to Holliday V.F.D., P.O. Box 508, Holliday, 76366.

"I was surprised how quick the variety was ready to graze."

"In fact, some of my neighbors tried to rent my pasture when they saw how much better established it was than others all around us."

Pioneer® variety 2157 gets off to a fast start, quickly establishing the kind of healthy, vigorous growing stand so necessary for good pasture. Its upright growth habit helps provide maximum available grazing.

And because 2157 has proven to be such a good yielder, you can count on it to deliver top-quality wheat at season's end.

If pasture is part of your wheat program, new 2157 should be, too.

New Wheat Variety 2157

Superior Yield • Excellent Standability • Outstanding Grazing

"When I pulled my combine into the field, I knew for sure this wasn't an ordinary wheat crop."

"That 2157 was standing out there good and straight. And when I moved down the rows, I could hear the cylinders running full."

Farmers who've seen this impressive new high yielding variety like its standability and tolerance to dry growing periods and severe weather. It has excellent resistance to leaf rust, stem rust, fungal leaf blights, soil borne mosaic virus and the Hessian fly.

In side-by-side comparisons, Pioneer® brand 2157 wheat has consistently out-yielded other popular varieties. And it has shown consistently high test weights.

Some people don't know their electric bills can be about the same all year round. Some do.

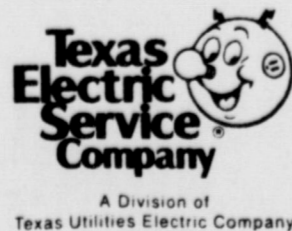

The Average Payment Plan will put you in the know; and just in time to take the heat off your hot weather bills.

You'll still pay for all the electricity you use. But under the Average Payment Plan, your bills will be more even all year round.

The plan is based on a 12-month average that's refigured each month. So you can pay less during the months you use the most electricity, by paying more during the months you use less.

The Average Payment Plan is available to Texas Electric residential customers. So look into it today. It's definitely worth knowing about.

Emergency farm loan applications accepted

The Emergency Agricultural Credit Act of 1984 authorizes the naming of counties contiguous to a designated county as areas eligible for Farmers Home Administration emergency loan assistance for any disaster occurring during 1983.

Applications for emergency farm loans for losses caused by drought, flooding, heavy rainfall, high winds, high temperatures, severe storms, hurricane Alicia, early frost, and unseasonable freeze are being accepted at the Farmers Home Administration office located in Wichita Falls. FmHA county supervisor, Joe W. Gilbreath said.

Their actual losses, or the operating loan needed to continue in business, or $500,000, whichever is less. For farmers unable to obtain credit from private commercial lenders, the interest rate on the first $100,000 borrowed is five percent; interest rate is eight percent on the balance borrowed over that amount. For farmers who can obtain commercial credit but who choose to borrow from FmHA, the interest rate is 13.75 percent.

farming season, Gilbreath said. FmHA is a credit agency of the U.S. Department of Agriculture. It is authorized to provide disaster emergency loans to recognized farmers who work at and rely on farming for a substantial part of their living. Eligibility is extended to individual farmers who are U.S. citizens, and to farming partnerships, corporations or cooperatives in which U.S. citizens hold a majority interest. The FmHA office at 309 Federal Building, Wichita Falls is open from 9 to 12 a.m. and 1 to 5 p.m. Monday through Friday.

Recreational Activities Center

A movie and pet show will be held Friday afternoon at the RAC. The movie "Hansel and Gretel," will begin at 2 p.m., and the pet show is to follow immediately afterward, at 3.

There are still openings in the Tuesday morning ceramics class. Children, ages eight through 12, may join the 9:30 a.m. class.

Any loan would have to be based on a loss occurring from Jan. 1, 1983 through Dec. 31, 1983. Applications for these loans will be accepted through Dec. 4, 1984 rather than dates previously announced. The on-going drought condition that is now being experienced will not be covered under this authorized designation.

Wichita and Clay counties were among the 166 in Texas recently named by Sec. of Agriculture John Block as eligible for loans to cover part of the actual losses.

Gilbreath said farmers may be eligible for loans of up to 80 percent of

Could YOU Hold Out For The Five Long Months The Government Asks You To Wait?

What happens when you get sick or hurt and your paychecks stop? Your government disability benefits can't start until after five months.

But now there's steady cash protection for you—early!

Yes, Social Security provides disability benefits for totally disabled workers under 65. But not for the first five months, and maybe not even then.

Total disability can happen at any age. Social Security itself says 1 out of 4 people who work will be laid up from injury or sickness for at least a full year before age 65. Could you handle the devastating expenses? Just those five months could severely drain your savings—or wipe them out.

Now, here's steady cash income to help protect you! Pays before Social Security disability benefits start—and afterwards, too.

It's Disability Income insurance protection from one of America's most trusted insurance companies. And we can tailor your protection to your personal needs and budget.

You'll be surprised at the cash income benefits you can get for as little as $10 or $15 a month in premiums. Call now.
