Local police make record drug bust

What started out as a routine traffic check early Friday morning turned out to be the largest drug bust in this community's history.

Police officers John Cross and Johnny Robertson stopped a vehicle at 2:45 a.m., and while checking license of the operator, noticed suspicious actions by the male passenger.

Further investigation turned up 10 plastic bags of a green, leafy substance that was determined to be marijuana... more than 10 pounds of it.

Weighed at the Department of Public Safety laboratory in Wichita Falls, the haul was determined to be 10 pounds, 12 ounces of unprocessed marijuana.

At a street value of $120 per ounce, the bags contained an estimated value of $20,640.

The two occupants, Renaldo DeLeon, 36, and Frank Martinez Hernandez, 37, both listed their addresses as Lubbock.

Also on the list of items confiscated from the vehicle were six blue pills, which have not yet been analyzed, a .25 cal. automatic and a .38 cal. revolver.

The suspects were transported Saturday to Wichita Falls, where Justice of the Peace Arthur B. Williams placed bonds on each of $10,000 for possession and $500 each for each weapon, a total of $11,000.

A second driver was charged with possession of a small amount of marijuana, plus two other charges, when a vehicle was stopped at 1:45 a.m. Monday at U.S. 287 and Bell Road.

Lloyd Lee Miller Jr., 23, of Wichita Falls was charged with driving while intoxicated and driving while license suspended, along with the possession charge, after he submitted to a breath test at the Wichita Falls Police Department.

Miller was returned to Iowa Park for booking after the test and then taken before Judge Williams, who placed him under a $500 bond on each of the three charges. He was then placed in county jail.

Cassette tapes and a case valued at $150 were reported taken from the vehicle of John Ed Williams, while parked at 615 W. Rebecca Wednesday night. However, police records indicated the items were returned Sunday. No charges have been filed.

A case of child abuse of a 12-year-old girl, reported Sunday to police, has been turned over to county juvenile authorities. No charges had been filed against the child's stepfather, as of late Wednesday.

Two thefts were reported Sunday to police. Ten 20-foot chains and boomers, valued at $550, were reportedly taken from a Barbour Trucking vehicle. Also, a newspaper rack at the post office had $22.50 taken from it, and $10 in damage was inflicted in the activity, according to the report.

Trustees to consider Cowley's new contract

Iowa Park school trustees tomorrow night will make an evaluation of Supt. Harold Cowley's performance during the past year, and then consider his contract for 1985-86.

The meeting, to begin at 7:30 p.m. in the administration building, was postponed from the regular second Tuesday until tomorrow after it was determined some board members would be out of town the regular date.

January is the month trustees annually act on the superintendent's contract. Contracts of other administrators and key personnel are considered in February, and teacher contracts in March.

Trustees have made written evaluations on the superintendent the past few years. These are discussed in executive session, prior to action on the contract which is held in open meeting.

Also on the agenda will be a report by Athletic Director David Baugh, concerning repairs and maintenance work proposed at Hawk Stadium.

The stadium is the victim of seeping salt pollution which is killing grass on the playing field and deteriorating the all-weather track around it.

Additionally, the slope around the field is melting and methods of correcting that have been discussed at previous meetings, as well as the need for additional lights and resurfacing of the track.

Other topics on the meeting agenda are:

- * report on progress of the Bradford Elementary music room;
- * consider a proposal to let eighth grade speech class students attend a stage show in Fort Worth;
- * consider adult vocational and continuing education classes;
- * discuss 1985-86 course offerings, the proposal to be made by Don Ickles and Richard Davis;
- * and elect new personnel.

ALL STATE VOCALISTS - Named to the All-State Choir following auditions Saturday at Odessa were: Missy Logan, left, a sophomore; Cindy Harper, senior, first alternate; and Jay Yeakley, a senior who achieved the honor for the third consecutive year. The All-State Choir is to perform Feb. 9 in San Antonio. The students were a day late in celebrating their achievements at home, after being snowbound at Odessa until Sunday.

Fourth Street progress reported to aldermen

Members of the city council Monday evening heard encouraging news on progress to open Fourth Street, but took no action on an exemption for city taxpayers.

Administrator James Barrington told the council equipment was on site to move the Overbey house at 902 W. Highway, which sets in the middle of the Fourth Street right of way. In addition, he reported the structure had been cut in half, in preparation for the move.

Barrington, at the last meeting of the council, had reported problems of having the structure moved by an individual who had purchased it.

Time is of essence, since the city has awarded a contract to do the street work, and the contract expires in a few weeks if work cannot be started because of the house.

The administrator also informed the council that the final payment on the structure to Mauryne Overbey was higher than anticipated. He had said the final would be approximately $14,000, but had turned out to be $17,529.11.

The city purchased the property several years ago, with a plan to eventually clear it and complete Fourth Street from Van Horn to West

At the request of Mrs. Ruth Whitten, the council discussed allowing a disability exemption not to exceed $10,000 value, for residents who qualified. No action was taken because the subject was on the agenda for discussion only.

However, Barrington said he had learned from tax rolls that the exemption would cost the city $2,154.99, based on current tax rate and values, as well as the number of qualified persons (31) have been identified.

The legislature passed a bill making such an exemption mandatory for school districts, but made it optional for cities, Barrington explained.

Comments by some of the council indicated the city might seriously consider passage of the proposal.

In other business considered by the council, action was:

* approved appointments of Bill Robison to the electrical board, John Yust as fire marshal and Mike Price as acting public works director;

* MBank of Dallas to make bond payments, and another encouraging the state legislature to give general law charter cities unilateral annexation powers;

* approved an ordinance amending the city's code regulating sewer emissions to be less restrictive, but meeting state standards;

* approved a $9,672 expenditure for waste water treatment plant equipment;

* tabled action on bids for a telephone system to serve city hall and police department;

* approved expenditure of $384 for insurance coverage with Texas Employers' Insurance;

* approved expenses of the mayor and administrator to attend a hearing Feb. 25 in Austin that relates to use of affluent from Iowa Park's sewer plant for irrigating a proposed golf course;

* discussed lowering requirements to be met by applicants for the newly-created position of public works director;

* and heard a report of a survey of Emerald Street property owners concerning the city's proposal to abandon a part of its street right of way.

Wright, Brixey vows are recited recently

Following a wedding trip to Red River, New Mex., Mr. and Mrs. James Marshall Brixey, who were married Jan. 5 in the Kamay First Baptist Church, are now at home in Kamay. The officiant for the double-ring ceremony was Rev. Harold Riney, pastor.

The couple was graduated from Iowa Park High School and the bride is attending Midwestern State Univ. She is employed by Grigsby's Rag Doll and he is employed by Wichita County Water Improvement District No. 2.

The new Mrs. Brixey is the former Miss Debbie Lynn Wright, daughter of R.C. "Buddy" Wright of Jacksboro and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hardin of Iowa Park, and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. T.R. Brixey of Kamay.

The couple recited wedding vows before a brass arch entwined with greenery topped with votive candles that centered the altar. On either side the candles burned in seven-branched candelabra traced with the greenery. The unity candle in the outer space lighted by the couple after they had exchanged vows and rings was an impressive part of the setting.

Triple pew markers designated places where family members were seated.

Mrs. Marsha Brown, pianist, Mrs. Paul Walker and Craig Whisnand, vocalists, were the wedding musicians. Their selections included "Through the Eyes of Love" for a prelude number, "Just You and I" during the ceremony, and the "Lord's Prayer" at the close. The pianist accompanied the vocalists and provided the traditional wedding marches.

The bride approached the altar on the arm of her father who gave her in marriage for her parents. She was an adorable picture in a formal gown of white silk organza embellished with rich laces. The bodice of Alencon lace featured a wedding ring neckline above a yoke with a cameo look, Queen Victoria sleeves and a fitted waistline enhanced with Chantilly and Venise laces. The full skirt was distinguished with a front pleat and a chapel train encircled with Chantilly and Venise laces.

A bandeau of matching lace and seed pearls held her double-tiered veil of illusion, and she carried a tear-drop bouquet of burgundy and mauve roses, lilies and gypsophila. Keeping bridal traditions, the bride wore her grandmother's wedding ring for "something old" and her gown for "something new." The "somethings borrowed" were a pearl necklace that belonged to Miss Joanie Larson and a good luck sixpence loaned to her by Mrs. Joe Tom Collins; and she wore the favorite blue symbol, a garter.

The bridal attendants were Miss Christi Oshiro, maid of honor, Mrs. Mike Wright, her sister-in-law, Miss Leslie Miller, cousin of the bride, and Miss Melissa Metcalf, cousin of the groom, the bridesmaids. Each wore a floor length dress of rose matte taffeta designed with off-the-shoulder ruffle caught at the waistline with a matching taffeta bow, and a tulip skirt. Each carried a large open burgundy rose.

Erika Burd of Wichita Falls, the flower girl, wore a white dress designed especially to suit her size and carried a basket holding mauve and burgundy petals.

The groom wore a grey Devon tuxedo with tails, matching striped flair and vest, pleated wing-tip shirt, grey ascot tie and a single burgundy rose boutonniere.

Chad Wright, nephew of the bride, the ring bearer, Jason Miller, her cousin, the candlelighter, Joe Tom Collins, the best man, Jeryl Brixey, brother of the groom, Eddie Blagg, Barry Tyler, the groomsmen, David Wright and Mike Wright, brothers of the bride, the ushers, wore grey Devon Tuxedos without tails and burgundy carnation boutonnières.

The bride's mother wore a street-length beige dress styled with blouson and long sleeves, and the groom's mother wore a suede rose polyester crepe dress accented with a self-fabric cummerbund and bolero jacket. Their silk corsages were formed of roses, poms, rosebuds and wild roses in mauve and burgundy colors.

The Fellowship Hall of the church was the scene of the wedding reception given by the bride's parents and for the rehearsal dinner hosted by the groom's parents on the eve of the wedding.

The registry table where Miss Kerri Richardson presided and the bride's table where Mrs. David Wright, sister-in-law of the bride, Linda Metcalf and Miss Lee Ann Brixey, sister of the groom, served were draped with white gathered net edged with lace adorned with silk mauve and burgundy lilies, poms and satin bows.

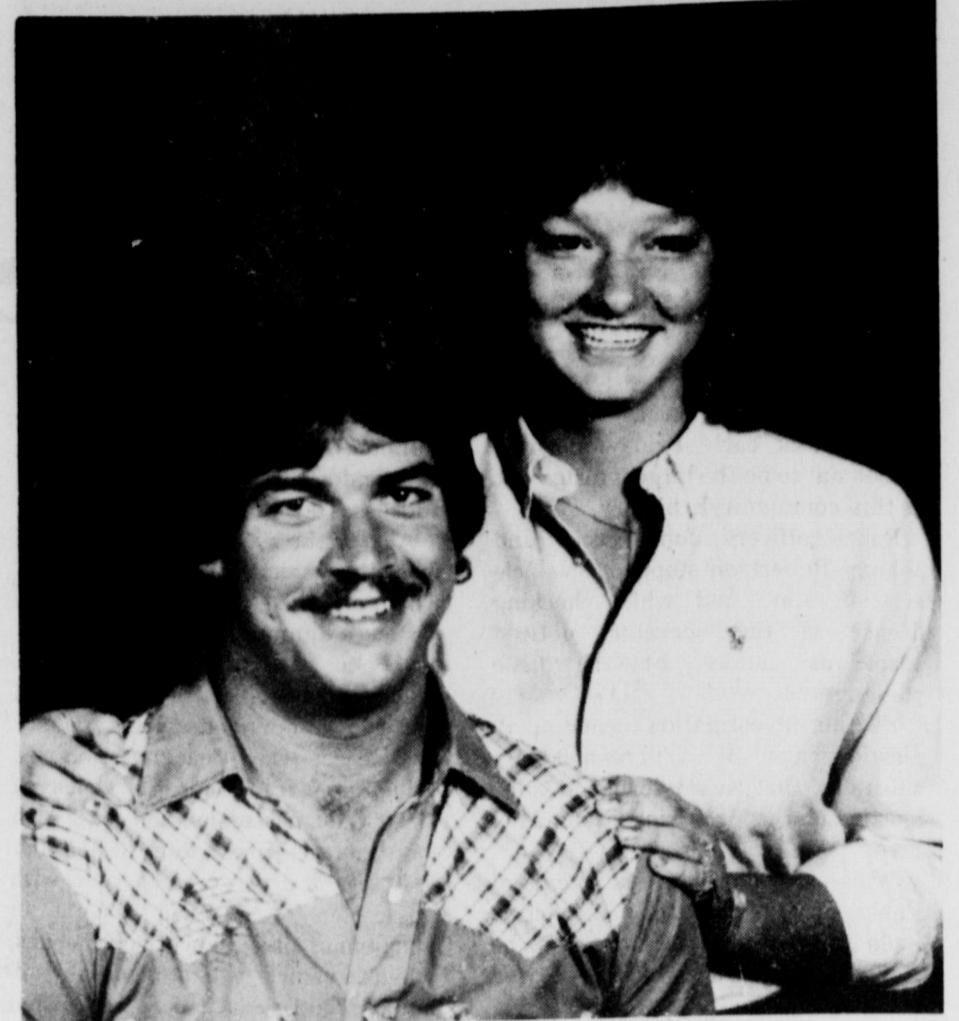

The cloth on the bride's table was complemented with her bouquet in the center, her cake and crystal punch service at table extremities, the napkins imprinted with "Debbie and James" and the mints that carried out the chosen colors.

The three-tiered white cake was raised taller with two sets of pillars, decorated with colorful cascades of mauve and burgundy roses and topped with a youthful bride and groom kissing.

Mrs. Joe Tom Collins and Miss Joanie Larson presided at the groom's table. It was laid with a natural homespun-texture fringed cloth. The centerpiece, was a copper hurricane lantern trimmed with copper fruit, nuts and greenery. Other harmonizing appointments were a copper brass-trimmed coffee urn on an oval tray with matching sugar and creamer, brass dishes that held nuts and chocolate mints in the shapes of various nuts, sea shells and leaves. The dark chocolate cake was iced in chocolate and decorated with marzipan fruit, frosting flowers and leaves.

Special wedding guests were R.L. Brixey of Henrietta, grandfather of the groom, Messrs. and Mmes. B.J. Wofford of Carrollton, Jerry Dunaway and Dwayne of Farmers Branch and Robert Wright of Fort Worth.

Before the bride and groom departed on their wedding trip, she changed into her traveling ensemble which featured a grey skirt striped in orchid and ivory and fringed at the hemline and a white sweater with an orchid belt.

As I See It....

By BOB HAMILTON

Some old boy's got a bunch of beef steak he thinks he got pretty cheap. But it could cost him more than he thinks. . . like his life!

A farmer friend of mine told me a story late last week that, if I didn't give this warning, could be justice to a cattle thief. I told him that we surely didn't have any cattle thieves reading the Leader. But just in case, he might want to read this.

The friend, by the way, asked not to be identified.

Friend Farmer had lost a couple of calves to illnesses, so he decided to vaccinate the rest of the herd, and did.

Monday of last week, he was missing a big, fine black calf that weighed about 250 pounds, and looked all over his place for it. That's when he found where the calf had apparently been shot and drug to the road where it was loaded and hauled away.

It took two men to do the dragging and loading.

Losing a calf worth about $1,500 is bad enough. But farmer friend had a lot of problems assisting the calf's mother in the delivery on a cold, wet and muddy fall day, he recalls.

The calf was killed about 30 hours after it had been vaccinated. Part of the vaccine contains formaldehyde, which takes weeks and weeks to work itself through the system and dilute to a stage that it is no longer harmful.

Should the meat be eaten, which apparently was the intent of killing the calf, the consumer could be paralyzed or even die.

"That fella was playing Russian roulette for a free steak," commented farmer friend.

But farmer friend, being a religious man and not wanting any harm to come to anyone, offered a simple resolution to the problem.

"If he'll just come out to the house, he knows where he got the calf, and admit to me what he did, I'll give him the antidote off the bottle of vaccine."

That sounds fair enough.

'Bud Thompson Day' proclaimed Friday

Following the naming of John Yust as the city's new fire marshal, Mayor Tim Hunter read a proclamation declaring Friday as "Bud Thompson Day" in Iowa Park.

Hunter proclaimed ". . . the 18th day of January, 1985 as Bud Thompson Day in the City of Iowa Park, Texas to call upon the citizens of the community to be mindful of his contributions to the community and its citizens."

Thompson, who is a former city alderman, has served the city several years as fire marshal. He was also chief of the volunteer fire department several years.

State regulations requires arson investigators to be certified peace officers in addition to fire training. Yust is a jailer for the county and a certified officer.

Worth Quoting

Over in the Bible chapter of Job there's a passage that reads: The Lord gave and the Lord hath taken away. . .

A lot of officials in school districts across Texas may well recall that passage when the full import of House Bill 72 sinks in.

And they will probably change it to read: "Whoo-ee-e White and the Texas legislature gave, but now they have taken away. . ."

If you recall, the thrust of the educational reform bill was to take from the oil-rich school districts like Andrews that is budget balanced and give to the poorer schools of the state. Since most schools in the state are not budget-balanced, meaning they have to depend on the state for most of their funds—school boards and superintendents across the state were rubbing their hands in glee over the windfall that was to drop in their lap due to House Bill 72.

While the local school district seemed destined to lose over two million dollars because of the change, it appeared that some schools would reap huge benefits. Lubbock, for example, was to receive a $7 million windfall.

The windfall that was supposed to drop in the laps of minimum foundation schools all over the state is about as substantial and mystical as the huge sum that the windfall profits tax on oil and gas was to yield to the federal treasury.

It's not working out that way!

We shed crocodile tears as thick as the morning fog over reading yesterday of the plight of the Lubbock public schools.

A headlined story stated that the school district was to get an additional $7 million but that the new funding split from the state adds $5 million to the local burden of the district to leave a net increase of just over $2 million.

And the two million is too small to support all the new, state mandated education reforms, including career ladder salary increases for teachers, expanded computer and science classes at the junior high level and the 22-student limits on kindergarten through the second grade.

One of the school officials explained the situation like this: This year, the Lubbock school budget was $43 million with the state paying 74 percent and the local taxpayers 26 percent. The state's share amounted to $31 million with the local folks anteing up $11 million plus.

Under the new funding formula, the school's budget was boosted to $50 million for next year, an apparent increase of $7 million. Great, right?

However, the state/local split of 74/26 was changed to 67/33, leaving the district responsible for $16 million, almost $5 million more than its share this year.

The state's share, under the new split, was increased by just $2,048,908, a figure that represents the district's net gain in the transaction. . . the Lord giveth and the Lord taketh away.

And the new state mandated programs and reforms wipes out the two million net gain. . . the net effect is that Lubbock taxpayers are out an additional five million bucks.

Like most reform programs, the new education reform reminds us of the old shell game with the hidden pea. . . now you see it, now you don't! Some folks just will never learn that there's no free lunches in your neighbor's backyard.

Roy McQueen, publisher over at Snyder, says the education reform bill has been one of far-reaching impact this year. And he printed a set of rules approved for teachers back in 1872.

1. Teachers each day will fill lamps, clean chimneys.
2. Each teacher will bring a bucket of water and a scuttle of coal for the day's session.
3. Make your pens carefully. You may whittle nibs to the individual taste of the pupils.
4. Men teachers may take one evening per week for courting purposes, or two evenings a week if they go to church regularly.
5. After ten hours in school, the teachers may spend the remaining time reading the Bible or other good books.
6. Women teachers who marry or engage in unseemly conduct will be dismissed.
7. Every teacher should lay aside from each pay a goodly sum of his earnings for his benefit during his declining years so that he will not become a burden on society.
8. Any teacher who smokes, uses liquor in any form, frequents pool or public halls, or gets shaved in a barber shop will give reason to suspect his worth, intention, integrity and honesty.
9. The teacher who performs his labor faithfully and without fault for five years will be given an increase of twenty-five cents per week in his pay, providing the Board of Education approves.

We didn't know H. Ross Perot was that old.

Worth Quoting

This country has some odd laws and every once in a while one of them surfaces that is almost beyond belief. I learned of one just this week in the Chamber of Commerce directors meeting. Chuck LaGrone read a letter from the state highway department citing state and federal laws governing the display of billboards and it seems that the four new "Welcome to Perryton" signs that the Chamber designed, built and installed on all four entrances to Perryton are in violation of law. Briefly, these billboards say "Perryton, a quality town with pride, the Wheatheart of the Nation." The violation of the law comes in that these signs do not have the words "Ochiltree County" on them and the highway people say they must do so or else the signs moved inside the city limits if they are to advertise Perryton alone.

This is incredible! What business is it to anybody whether we have a sign that promotes Perryton or not? The Chamber of Commerce paid for the signs and put them up, not the state or federal government. The signs are on private property. Anyway, Chuck has learned that it will cost more than $1,000 per billboard to have them repainted and changed so that the words "Ochiltree County" are larger than "Perryton" so that we will be in compliance with the law. We agree with that famous Charles Dickens character who said: "The law said that sir? If so, then I say the law is an ass!"

Former resident makes good grades

Mrs. Bobby Davis made the Chancellor's List at the Univ. of Arkansas in Little Rock. She is the former Becky Martin of Iowa Park, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Martin. Mrs. Davis is a freshman computer science major and has a 3.5 grade point average.

In order to make the Chancellor's List, the student must be in the top 10 percent of the school's total enrollment.

Club hears specialist on giving parties

Allan Andrews, choir director at Iowa Park junior and senior high schools, was guest speaker Tuesday evening at the meeting of Philia Study Club, held in the home of Mrs. Jim Medlinger. Andrews, who is also choir director for First United Methodist Church and currently operating "Parties Perfect," was introduced by Miss Linda Ayres.

In his program on parties and entertaining, he gave several useful suggestions. "When giving a party, some things about a room are very important. Chairs should not be arranged in a circle. It is best to arrange the room in conversation groupings of three or four. Then people can interact," he said.

He told the group that he likes color, and enjoys working with ways to make the food more attractive. "Celery can look neater with the ends sliced and placing the stalks in cold water, so that the ends will curl out. Cold water overnight produces the best results. Radishes can be made into roses or accordians. They will also fan out when placed in cold water overnight. I serve molded chicken salad on a plate with a black rim and use black olives as a garnish," he commented.

"We don't have to work ourselves into a frenzy when getting ready for a party. Most people come to parties for companionship. They don't come to inspect the house, but because they like you," Andrews observed.

He concluded with a quote from Amy Vanderbilt, "You cannot know in advance whether a party will be gay or serious, lively or quiet. You can only hope it will be interesting."

Family gathering

The former Mrs. Jimmy Van Horn, now Mrs. Alma Haseltine, had a gathering of her five children for Christmas, the first time in 40 years.

Held in Goodman, Mo., the last gathering was in Iowa Park, birthplace of the children: Carl and Charles Van Horn, now living in Arkansas; Mary Granger of Louisiana, Bea Maxwell of Texas, and Ella Forney of California.

Following the program, members were served chicken salad, sausage balls, mushroom logs, ham roll-ups, celery, radishes, and sour cream dip, all prepared by Andrews. He provided members with recipes, and a list of items to keep on hand for parties.

The hostesses provided dessert and hot spiced juice and coffee.

Mrs. Jim Rinehart conducted the business meeting in the absence of the president, Mrs. Dean Maxwell. Each member answered roll call by sharing one of her New Year's resolutions. Plans were made to attend the Dinner Playhouse in February, where members will see "The Second Time Around."

Sonja Lowe presented the meditation that dealt with things that lie ahead in 1985. She commented that the new discoveries of our age sometimes make us feel small and insignificant, but it is important to remember our worth in the sight of God.

Alternatives explored for acreage

By DAVID FINLEY
County Agent

There are still several acres of wheat that have not been planted. So, what can be done? Should they be left unplanted, planted to a spring wheat, planted with oats or with cotton?

These questions are running through the minds of several of our farmers. There are many possibilities, and I would like to cover a few of them.

One solution that I have heard is to plant some type of wheat - either Durum or spring wheat. James Brockriede of Punkin Center and others have asked about Durum.

This type of wheat is not native to this part of the country, so what I found out was from the literature. It is a white wheat grown mainly in the cooler, higher altitudes of Oregon, California and the Dakotas. It is also grown in large quantities in the Soviet Union and Europe.

This type of wheat is used to make spaghetti, macaroni and other types of pasta.

I have been told that there are some companies wanting to contract this wheat for somewhere around $3.30 per bushel. If this is the case, that is good. But, those wishing to do this, should read their contracts carefully.

Check to see if there are specific requirements on the quality of wheat. Will they buy shriveled grain? Since this is grown in higher, cooler altitudes, there may be some problems filling the heads with grain in our extremely hot growing conditions. Thus, a lot of the grain could be shriveled, affecting quality.

I don't feel like our elevators here would be interested in handling this type of wheat. It would have to be stored separately since it is a different class. Producers wishing to pursue this avenue should ask their local elevators about this in case there are some problems with the contractor.

A second alternative is to plant a hard spring wheat. These will grow here, but finding the seed may be a problem. Producers will probably need to look in an area beginning around Temple and going south. Checking with some of the larger seed companies might help.

One other wheat that could be grown is a spring, soft wheat. These are grown in East Texas. Here again, be sure and check with the local

Rep. Finnell said that the elderly, many of whom live on fixed incomes and must choose between paying for medicine, food, or utilities, will receive priority when the funds are allocated.

The Community Action Corporation is distributing the proceeds to the eligible citizens of Archer, Clay, Jack, Montague, Wichita, and Young counties.

GOODBYE TO SINUSITIS...

Vitamin A, a humidifier, and changes in diet can help sinus sufferers breathe easier, according to Dr. Stanley N. Farb of Sacred Heart Hospital in Norristown, Pa.

Dry air causes mucus to thicken and block the sinus passages, but a humidifier can thin the mucus and keep it flowing.

Vitamin A thins the mucus, and also helps produce healthy mucus cells.

For some people, eating certain foods can trigger a sinus attack. To avoid this, they have to eliminate these foods from their diet.

While the Hawks were opening Dist. 5-AAA play without a loss in their first two games, the Hawkettes lost even more ground with a pair of losses.

In their initial district game Friday at Decatur, the boys downed the Eagles 49-42. Then, Tuesday at Vernon, the Hawks edged the host Lions by a 57-56 margin.

Friday's trip to Decatur was a disappointing 41-46 loss for the Hawkettes, and they were never in the game after the first quarter Tuesday, falling 38-63 to Vernon. So the Hawks will carry a perfect 2-0 conference record into Friday's game here against Springtown, while the girls, who started district play a week earlier, are 0-4.

Tomorrow's game with Springtown will be the first game at home for the Hawks since Dec. 18, having played six straight on the road.

Tuesday, the varsity teams will travel to Bowie.

For the rest of the schedule, the girls' game begins at 6 p.m., with the boys' following about 7:30.

Joey Bates put the Hawks ahead 10-9 just before the end of the first quarter, and Iowa Park stayed in that position the balance of the game. Bates scored 12 of his game-high 17 points in the first half, and Stephen Biddy finished with 14.

Through the fourth quarter, the point spread varied between one and five, and Vernon had an opportunity three times in the final 27 seconds to tie or even go ahead.

Ray Sefcik canned a free shot to put the Hawks ahead, 57-54, with three seconds left on the scoreboard clock. Vernon called a time out, during which Coach Earnie Reusch told his players to stand completely across the court from the Lions and let them score without an opportunity to foul.

They did, and since Vernon had no times out remaining, the clock was allowed to run out with Iowa Park holding the lead.

Mark Copeland had his hands full under the basket, with three Lions taller than him. But his positioning gave him the opportunity of being fouled. Though he didn't have a field goal the entire game, he scored eight points at the charity line, five of those coming in the fourth and decisive period.

The Hawks led Decatur throughout the game, 16-10, 28-19 and 34-27 at each of the official rest periods. Sefcik was high for Iowa Park with 13, thanks to sinking five of six shots from the charity line in the fourth period. Bates had 10 for the game.

GIRLS' GAMES

State-ranked Vernon led by only two points, 8-6, with three minutes remaining in the first period, and from there on had complete control of the contest, leading 30-10 at the half and 46-21 at the beginning of the final period.

None of the Hawkettes scored more than eight points: LaRita Bogart and Lisa Holloway.

Tuesday's game at Decatur was much closer. Iowa Park led 8-6 after the first quarter, and trailed by only 26-28 at the half and 32-35 going into the fourth.

Cindy Clanton scored 12 and Lisa Selby 11.

Hawk JV tops Vernon

Iowa Park's junior varsity boys averted a four-game sweep by Vernon here Monday.

The JV had to use an overtime period, but edged Vernon 80-75.

In the other three games, the freshman boys were edged 61-64, while the freshman girls lost 19-33 and the Hawkettes JV was edged 44-45.

Tennis pros to play here

An exhibition by two Wichita Falls tennis professionals will be held free to the public Tuesday evening in Iowa Park High School gymnasium.

A singles match between Dean Barrett and John Brotherton is to begin at 7 p.m., and possibly the pair will bring a student each so they can play a doubles match afterward.

The exhibition is sponsored by the Iowa Park Tennis Association.

Most parents have heard a great deal about the UIL (University Interscholastic League) of Texas. This is the governing body of Interscholastic activities. The League is celebrating its 75th Anniversary during January through May of 1985. Below are several interesting facts concerning UIL and its function in the schools of Texas.

UIL FACTS

The University Interscholastic League:

- * Began in 1910 as the Debating League of Texas High Schools.
- * Merged in 1912 with the Texas Interscholastic Athletic Association.
- * Developed into a nonprofit organization to provide educational, extra-curricular academic, music, and athletic contests.
- * Has grown to include approximately 1 and 1/2 million student participants each year.
- * Has become so successful that one of every two graduating seniors has participated in a UIL event.

Academic contests include one-act play, journalism, spelling, number sense, calculator applications, debate, informative and persuasive speaking, prose and poetry reading, ready writing, science, shorthand, and typing.

The largest activity is music. In 1983-84, approximately 345,000 students from 1,806 junior and senior highs participated.

Athletic contests include football, cross country, swimming, basketball, soccer, track, golf, team tennis, tennis, and volleyball for boys; and cross country, baseball, basketball, soccer, swimming, golf, team tennis, tennis, track, and softball for girls.

Elementary schools are participating in accelerated programs for high achievers, activities such as storytelling, spelling, and music memory.

The high school Prescribed Music List is used by 40 other states and 7 foreign countries as a guide for music competition.

Texas fields more high school football and basketball teams than any other state.

The one-act play contest, founded in 1927, is the largest high school play production contest in the world.

The drama loan library contains more than 25,000 plays. They are available to member schools for the price of postage.

The first spelling activities were conducted in 1915. The spelling word list is the League's number one selling publication today.

Since its inception in 1958, the Texas Interscholastic League Foundation has awarded higher education grants to 4,649 students, grants totalling over $4-million.

UIL standards and regulations are adopted by the schools themselves. Students learn by testing themselves against their peers in competition conducted impartially under established rules.

Win over Seymour helps Eagle playoff outlook

With one game left in the first half of the round-robin basketball season for boys in Dist. 9-AA, the Holliday Eagles have the inside track on wrapping up second place behind league leading Olney.

But, for the Lady Eagles, it will take an upset by another team to put Holliday in the girl's state playoffs.

Tuesday night in Holliday, Kevin Parker poured in 19 points and Kurt Lilley added 14 as the Eagles manhandled Seymour 51-41 in conference action. The win gives Holliday a 5-1 first-half record with one game remaining, while the Panthers are 3-3.

The Olney Cubs, ranked seventh in some state polls for Class AA, defeated Nocona Tuesday 74-50 to remain undefeated with a 6-0 mark.

Following the end of the second half of conference play, the first and second place teams from each half will meet in a playoff to determine the district's two representatives.

Holliday News

In other first half games played by the Eagles, the only loss came against Olney 66-47, while the wins have come against Jacksboro 66-42; and Petrolia 46-33.

LADY EAGLES SETBACK

In overtime action Tuesday night in Eagle Gym, the Holliday girls managed only two points, while the Lady Panthers from Seymour added six to win 38-34. Both teams had tied at the end of regulation 32-32.

The loss for Holliday causes a serious setback for the girls, as both teams tied in the first half of play in district with 5-2 records. Olney finished the first half of round-robin play with a 6-1 record.

Because of the tie, the Lady Eagles will have to finish the second half with at least the same record as the Lady Panthers. In first half of conference play, Holliday downed Jacksboro 42-29 before losing to Olney in a close one, 28-24. The Lady Eagles looked to have second place all to themselves before losing to Petrolia 33-29. The Lady Pirates finished the first half with a 3-4 record.

Trustees call April election

Holliday School Board Monday night called and set an election for three places on the board for April 6, and designated the polling places, in action taken during the board's January meeting.

Terms of board president Tommy Mankins, and members Larry Finnell and Larry Lilley are to expire, and the at-large elections will fill those vacancies. Neither of the three trustees has indicated whether or not he will seek election to a new term.

Polling places designated for the school election will be located in Holliday, Lakeside City, Lake Kickapoo, Bowman, and Dundee.

In other business, the board approved the resignation of cafeteria worker Helen Cash, and hired Carolyn Helden to replace her. Also, one school policy mandated on the state level was added to the school's policy book, and superintendent Dan

Owen indicated that the school's band director will appear before the board in February to seek permission for a proposed band trip.

In addition, trustees approved typing in with Region Nine's data processing service.

Mrs. Finnell named to post
