Tickets for Chamber banquet real bargain

For persons who like bargains, Saturday night's Chamber of Commerce banquet is an evening they shouldn't miss.

Ticket sales co-chairmen Wayne House and Keith Aulds are quick to point out that the meal alone is worth the $8 ticket.

Atop that, they point out that an "extremely entertaining" speaker is part of the program, as well as the announcement of four individuals who have been singled out for recognition.

An eight-ounce steak will be cooked for each who attends. Prepared by the Iowa Park MuleSkinners, the steaks are marinated 24 hours before they are cooked over a bed of mesquite embers. The steak is served with potato, rolls, vegetables, salad and dessert.

Former professional entertainer, Bob Jett of Fort Worth, will be the speaker. Now a representative of Lone Star Gas Co., Jett has a background also in radio, television and public relations.

A native of Mobile, Ala., he is also a member of the Vocal Majority Chorus, world champion chorus of the Society for the Prevention and Encouragement of Barbershop Singing in America, Inc.

A selection committee has singled out four individuals for recognition. Unknown until announced at the banquet will be the recipients of awards for the Outstanding Citizen of the Year, Outstanding Educator, Outstanding Senior Citizen and Outstanding Agriculturist.

Installation of the Chamber's new officers will take place Saturday evening. New president will be Dr. Erwin Soell, H.M. Nipper first vice president and Rip Smith second vice president.

Directors who have been elected to serve until 1987 include outgoing president, Dr. James Edwards, Soell, Aulds, House, Charlie Lee, Robert Palmer, Bob Hamilton, Kenneth Via and O.N. Newman.

Tickets for the banquet are available at the Chamber office and at most businesses. A limited number of tickets will also be available at the door of the high school cafeteria, where the event will be held.

Mayor expected to call city election Monday

Among the items on Monday's city council agenda is the mayor's calling of the city election in April to elect three aldermen.

When the council meets at 7 p.m. in council chambers, Mayor Tim Hunter is expected to set the date when voters will decide who will be on the council. Terms are expiring for Aldermen Lita Watson, Johnny Coker and George Hammonds.

An ordinance will be considered which would amend the city's code for travel expenses. It has been determined the code allows more than the Internal Revenue Service recognizes, and will be lowered. Also per diem rates will be considered for revision, according to Administrator James Barrington.

Another ordinance to be considered will be on a subject discussed at the last meeting, but no action taken. It is proposed that the city permit a disability exemption on taxes to those in the city who qualify.

A third ordinance is tentatively on the agenda, Barrington said. It would abandon the part of the street right of way with ownership reverting to owners in the 100 block of West Emerald, and the 100 and 200 block of East Emerald.

Barrington said he would seek authorization for the city to demolish a partially-burned house at 400 W. Lafayette, in accordance with the city code.

Payment for a new fire truck will be considered. The original cost for the chassis is $20,000, with $12,500 of that to come from the county. Total price, when finished, will be $53,000, and the council will discuss financing the balance or paying it in a lump sum.

A topic tabled from the last meeting, purchase of a telephone system for the police department and city hall, will be considered.

The council will be asked to consider selling part of the property at 904 W. Highway, not included in the extension of Fourth Street, for commercial use.

Barrington is to make a report on progress of constructing Fourth Street, now that the Overbey house has been offset from the right of way.

Aldermen will be asked to consider advertising for bids to construct the street in the 300 block of East Garden. A building request for a new home in that block has been denied, pending action on the street, Barrington said.

GOOD NEWS, BAD NEWS

Cable service change told

There's some good news and some bad news about cable television in Iowa Park. The bad news is, the local business office is being consolidated with the district office in Burkburnett, to make the firm's operation more efficient, according to Raymond Greenwood, manager.

The office, located at 901 West Highway, will be closed this week.

But while the community will lose a payroll and business, it will not be made as inconvenient as it may sound, Greenwood said.

Instead of new customers having to go to the office to sign up for service, that can now be accomplished over the telephone. Greenwood said new customers or those needing service can call, toll-free, 696-0664 to reach the business.

Payments can still be made locally, at Designer Graphics across the street from the present office, or by mailing to TV Cable, Box 817, Burkburnett, 76354.

The good news Greenwood offered was that his firm will begin installing new equipment here in the latter winter months which will allow the cable service to offer five or six additional basic channels, plus two or three additional pay channels.

The firm serves Iowa Park, Electra, Henrietta, Burkburnett and Seymour, and that is the order in which the crew will work, with Iowa Park's improvements being made first, Greenwood said.

No change will be required in a customer's home, but amplifiers will be installed on the cable system and a new unit will be placed on the wire connecting each home with the cable.

Students face major change in course plans

Seventy courses of study will be offered Iowa Park High School students next fall, 14 of them new. The plan for regular or advanced graduation requirements, to comply with school reform passed by the state legislature last summer, was presented to school trustees Friday by Don Iekles, assistant high school principal.

Distinguishing between the "regular" and "advanced" plans for graduation is that the advanced is for those students who plan to enter college.

Students who will graduate in 1986 will be required to have 24 credits. The big change begins in 1987, when those taking the regular plan will need 25 credits and advanced plan graduates will need 26.

State requirements beginning in 1987 are for 21 and 22 credits, respectively.

Because a student's education future is now involved in which graduation plan is to be scheduled, school trustees set meetings for parents at which time the two plans will be explained so they will be able to counsel with their children prior to pre-registration in the spring.

Parents of students currently enrolled in high school will meet at 7:30 p.m. next Thursday in the high school cafeteria. Parents of eighth grade students who will go into high school in the fall are to meet at 7:30 p.m. Feb. 12 in the junior high cafeteria.

Programs explaining the plans and requirements will also be given to the students at school.

Pre-registration will be held Feb. 15. This earlier date has been set in order to determine numbers of students in each of the courses being offered, both for enrollment purposes and to determine teacher scheduling, trustees were told.

All 14 of the new courses being offered are for the regular plan. They include Correlated Language Arts II, III and IV; Informal Geometry and Pre-Algebra; Introductory Biology; World Geography Studies; Lifetime Sports; Art II (drafting), Theatre Arts I/Drama, Vocal Ensemble; Speech; Personal Business Management and General Ag Mechanics II.

Dropped from the vocational program will be building trades. The administration will also be keeping a close eye on numbers enrolling in auto body, where enrollment has been decreasing to a level recently where it also may be cut.

How important is the student's choice of graduation plan? Iekles told board members, "Those who do not take college preparation courses can still go to college, but their chances of making it there are slim."

He said administrators believe all the courses can be offered without any additional personnel, and at the March board meeting a report will be ready to give class numbers and teaching personnel needs.

The suggestion to have public meetings for parents was made by Trustee Jimmy Howell, who said,

"This is one of the most important decisions these parents can make."

OTHER BUSINESS

Other business presented at the meeting included:

- * Athletic Director David Baugh reported specifications for bidding for new lights at Hawk Stadium and plans for drainage around the field have not yet been completed; the Iowa Park Tennis Association has requested use of the old stadium lights so they can be placed around the high school tennis courts at the group's expense; and more study is required before a final decision on visitors' stands at the junior high football field;

- * The music building at Bradford Elementary should be completed sometime this week, after interior painting was done last Friday, Supt. Harold Cowley reported;

- * Trustees approved a trip of eighth grade speech students to see a play, "Cinderella," at the Casa Manana Theatre in Fort Worth, but those students who are nearing their 10th day of absenteeism would not be allowed to go;

- * Board members approved a policy, required by the state school board, concerning absenteeism of students;

- * Two of the four adult education courses offered through Vernon Regional Junior College were filled (typing and computers), Richard Davis reported;

- * Trustees approved a proposal to sell the building trades class currently under construction, after a written agreement is completed concerning work to be done, costs, etc.;

- * And lunchroom participation for noon meals has climbed to 83 percent of the student enrollment, it was reported.

SOFT LANDING - Pilot Mike Duncan ran out of gasoline as he was approaching the southeast landing strip at Wichita Valley Airport early Thursday evening, and had a quick, but soft, stop in a muddy field, just east of the irrigation ditch. He was unhurt, but Mrs. Duncan suffered what was described as mild abrasions to her face, and both walked away from the scene. Most of the damage to the single-engine Cessna was to the engine, prop and cowling.

News in Brief

'Think tank' meeting set Feb. 7

Mayor Tim Hunter has called a meeting of city and Chamber of Commerce officers, business leaders and other citizens interested in downtown improvement and enhancement of commerce in Iowa Park.

The meeting will begin at 7 p.m. Thursday, Feb. 7, in city council chambers.

Prompting the meeting is the loss of numerous business establishments in recent months, either through failure, movement away from the city or structures lost by fires.

Termining the meeting as a "think tank," Hunter said he hopes those attending will have some ideas for solutions and methods to be carried out.

Wind damage said to be light

Damage caused by winds in excess of 60 MPH when the cold front passed through Iowa Park Saturday afternoon was said to be light.

Some roofs were damaged, a business sign destroyed and window awnings on homes twisted by the gusty "blue norther" that dropped temperatures as low as a single digit.

Class of '75 reunion is planned

The class of 1975 is making plans for a reunion sometime this summer. If anyone knows the names and addresses of any of the class members, please mail to Yvonne (Reid) Henderson at 1022 W. Louisa.

Anti-aging lifestyles for women discussed

The program for the 23 Study Club meeting Thursday afternoon lent itself to the GFWC Home Life Department and specifically to the Health Division. The topic was "Personal Involvement in Improving Our Lifestyles," and the purpose was to emphasize some of the things that women can do to keep themselves young, healthy and interesting in the process of aging.

The meeting was held in the home of Mrs. Sam Hill and Mrs. Earle Denny was the co-hostess.

Mrs. Riley Thompson served as program leader, and Mrs. D.O. James read "What Is a Happy Home" for the inspirational thought.

The interesting creative arts number was presented by Mrs. C.L. Metz on "Critique of Facial Expressions in Portrait." She first critiqued Mona Lisa by Da Vinci, calling attention to the soft roundness of her face and hands that the art critics notice, and her smile that captures the attention of others.

The climax of the presentation was the showing of portrait paintings done on tile by Mrs. Metz, Mrs. Robert Lowry and a member of the Porcelain Arts Club in Wichita Falls.

Mrs. H.W. Carter, Miss Betty Meadows and Mrs. Howard Marlar discussed what women who commit themselves to anti-aging lifestyles should know about physical and mental exercise and proper diet.

Referring to a recent article in the Ladies Home Journal, Mrs. Carter said "Women are living longer than ever before, with a life expectancy of seventy-eight years. A noted professor of pathology believes that through special diet and exercise women could live to be 120 and look 50!"

Miss Meadows described exercise as one of the most potent weapons to help women keep the features and firmness of youth from sagging during the years. A Presbyterian minister, whose favorite form of exercise is jogging, she quoted Paul's word in the New Testament "What know ye not that your body is the temple of the Holy Ghost - therefore, glorify God in your body." She believes that jogging, walking and aerobic exercises help relieve frustrations, tensions and enable people to better cope with the everyday problems of life. She recommended crafts and hobbies to keep women mentally alert and productive as they get older.

Mrs. Marlar discussed the importance of proper diet stating that people's bodies change with age and explained how a nutritionally correct diet can help to control the aging process. She said that high blood pressure, heart trouble and different diseases could many times be traced to improper diet. She advised eating foods that are low in sodium and salt, plenty of fresh fruits and vegetables and fiber foods.

Mrs. Marlar stressed the importance of calcium or calcium supplements in diets of older women, and advised "Take time to be become label readers so that you will know what you are eating."

To close the program, Mrs. Carter suggested reading, getting involved in church, club and civic work, making friends with both young and old as ways that "women who are aging can keep young at heart and interesting."

'Shalom' subject of Tuesday meeting

Mrs. China B. Smith, Christian Personhood chairperson, directed the Prayer and Self-Denial program Tuesday morning for the United Methodist Women. The program theme was "Women at Work" by Marilyn Whaley Winters.

Mrs. Smith said that Shalom, a Hebrew word meaning peace, unity, partnership, wholeness and justice, was used to introduce the study. "Everyone has the right and responsibility to work for the benefit of one's self, and the enhancement of human life and community, and to receive adequate remuneration, this is the spirit of Shalom," she said.

The leader was assisted by Mmes. S.B. Keeter, Travis Smith and Larry Parks, who gave concrete examples of women at work where injustice and inequality exists and stressed that only through removal of these conditions can a Shalom world be reflected.

The program was concluded with a prayer of commitment, and a monetary offering for the promotion of equality in all professions and shelters for abused women and children.

Thirteen attended the meeting.

MR. AND MRS. TEX PENDERGRASS will be honored at a reception marking their 25th wedding anniversary from 4 until 8 p.m., Jan. 31, at 606 W. Washington.

Health Tips

— from Jerel Kerby

SMOKE HARMS CHILDREN

Smoking parents may contribute to the development of respiratory disease in their children.

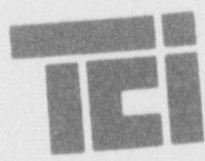

According to the British Medical Journal, children exposed to parents' cigarette smoke at home had twice as many lung problems as children living with non-smoking parents. Infants are especially susceptible to this smoke, which impairs their defenses against infection. Be fair to your children and don't pollute the air they must breathe.

Dear Iowa Park Cable Customers;

In a continuing effort to streamline our operations to make them more efficient for both our customers and ourselves, we have made several changes in the office procedures of TV Cable of Iowa Park.

First, our local telephone number for service problems and for installations of cable services has been changed to 696-0664.

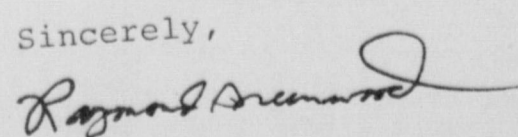

Persons wishing to order cable installations, or additional cable services will now be able to do so by telephone, rather than having to make a special trip into our office.

In addition, we have also set up a local payment agent at DESIGNER GRAPHICS, 900 W. Hwy., which is just across the street from our former cable office location. Persons at that new office will be able to serve our customers that prefer to pay their cable bills in person. A drop box will be located at that location for after hours payments.

Also, in order for our customers' payments to be posted to their respective accounts faster, payments by mail should be sent to TV Cable, P.O. Box 817, Burkburnett, Texas 76354.

It is our hope that these new procedures will provide better service to a larger number of people.

We would also like to take this opportunity to draw your attention to our new Weather Information System on Channel 7. We now have the abilities to provide Public Service Announcements for non-profit organizations over this cable channel. To avail your organization of this service, give us a call at 696-0664.

Sincerely,

Raymond Greenwood, Mgr.

Cook of the Week

Working on a ranch isn't always a man's job, and this week's cook, Susan (Mrs. Johnny) Miller, is proof. Susan is quite familiar with the workings of a ranch, because she often helps her husband, Johnny, work and feed cattle, plow, and ride the pasture to check cattle on the Bradley Ranch, where he is ranch manager and she is a secretary and bookkeeper.

As well as being a secretary and a part-time ranch hand, Susan is a homemaker and a mother of two sons, John Bradley, four; and Chris, two. With a schedule as full as hers, she likes dinners that don't require a lot of attention while they are cooking. She says, "I like casseroles because you can cook them while you are working."

Two of the recipes she submitted this week are casseroles, and the two desserts, Cinnamon Chocolate Cake and Texas Panhandle Dessert, are two of her family's favorites.

Susan grew up and graduated high school in Electra. She and her husband have been married five years and live on Beaver Creek near Kadane Corner.

Her hobbies include crocheting, reading, snow skiing, and water skiing. Susan is also a member of Weight Watchers.

Trustees reprimand Cowley, then extend contract

Two votes were held Friday night by school trustees concerning the superintendent of schools. Both were unanimous.

The first was to extend his contract through the 1985-86 school year. The second was to reprimand him.

The voting came at the end of a volatile discussion period that lasted over an hour, during which harsh words were spoken between members of the board.

Major issue of the discussion was the fact that Supt. Harold Cowley had used two school maintenance men to replace a hot water heater that had ruptured at his home, allegedly during school hours and using school equipment.

After the allegation was brought out by Trustee Marilyn Hale, Cowley reminded the board that he had written each a letter of explanation, accompanied by documentation.

He said he had been notified early one morning of the appliance failure, that he had told the workers to check off their time cards and he would pay them for their work of replacing the water heater.

Cowley said his letter was accompanied by copies of the workers' time cards and personal checks he had paid them.

Board member Rusty Rusk reminded the board it had fired two other employees for actions of equal or less infraction of the law.

After both Rusk and Hale instructed the secretary to enter into the minutes that they did not condone Cowley's actions, Ray Hicks made a motion that the board reprimand Cowley, Jimmy Howell seconded the motion, and it passed unanimously.

Cowley admitted to having made a mistake in judgement, but said he hadn't felt he was violating any law at the time and hadn't tried to hide anything, or he wouldn't have written the letters. He apologized for any embarrassment he caused board members and said nothing like it would ever happen again.

The annual evaluation of the superintendent, comments and discussions were held in open session. In the past, discussion of "personnel" has been held in executive session, closed to the public, but Cowley at the beginning of the subject asked that it be held in open session.

After the written evaluations were completed and turned in, Board Chairman Roy Boutwell asked if there were any comments, to which Hale offered some six areas of criticism.

After she had presented her comments, Boutwell told her, "I'm very disappointed in you as a board member. From the time you came on the board, you've been vindictive toward Harold Cowley and took every opportunity to cut him down." He said she had never once complimented Cowley.

Hale lashed back, "This is out of order." She denied any vindictiveness toward Cowley. Asked by Boutwell how many times she had complimented Cowley, she said "We seldom talk."

Boutwell admitted, "I was very much against Cowley when I came on. I thought he was after Faris Nowell's job. But I have since learned he is a very good administrator. Evidently we're doing something right..." and he gave references to how well Iowa Park graduates do at Midwestern State Univ. where he is an administrator.

After Cowley told Hale "If you have any questions, please come to me," she asked why she was not notified of the curriculum committee meeting.

Cowley explained he had not sent out the notifications, a responsibility he had turned over to assistant superintendent Robert Palmer. Palmer admitted he had not notified her, and later said the meeting to which Hale referred was for faculty members, on which no board members are placed.

Concerning the water heater issue, Rusk said Cowley should have called a plumber, and if he were going to use school personnel, he should have allowed them to do no more than turn the water off to the house, then have the work done later.

During the lengthy discussion, two trustees made known their political aspirations.

Rusk, the dean of the board, said "This will be my last year."

Boutwell said, "I'd decided long ago I wasn't going to run again, but after tonight, I've changed my mind. I'm going to run again. I think Harold needs some support."

Howell offered the motion to extend Cowley's contract one year and Martha Dudley seconded it. All seven trustees voted in favor, but only after Rusk ascertained the length of the contract.

At an earlier board meeting, trustees agreed in majority that multi-year contracts could be offered a superintendent, making it part of the board's policy.

Cowley pointed out after the vote he had requested the contract be made for only one year, that he "... didn't want it" (a multi-year contract).

As I See It....

By BOB HAMILTON

By golly, we'll have five young'uns on the front page of our next Christmas edition.

Our lone daughter-in-law, Cathy, gave birth to a fine young man Thursday, Son, Kevin, is beside himself, having become a father and more especially the father of a son.

Brady Ryan is his name, and apparently newspapering is his game. Dolores and I had been counseling Cathy about births into a newspapering family. More especially a weekly newspapering family.

Births, you see, just aren't done on press day in a weekly newspaper. It's too inconvenient. There's too much work to be done and deadlines to meet.

Dolores, having given birth to our five children, is an expert on the subject, thanks to my urging and enlightenment about how birthing can be a problem on press day.

So Cathy, the trooper she is, held off giving birth to Brady Ryan last Wednesday, which is press day for the Leader.

Yessir, she held off until 12:27 Thursday morning!

I can't keep my shirt buttons from popping, either. You see, having a grandson named Hamilton was important to me.

All my uncles on my father's side had daughters, and the only male cousins from that side of the family were born to my aunts.

So now we have a member of the family who can continue the family name.

In case you've forgotten the beautiful young faces on last Christmas' front page, this makes two grandsons and three granddaughters for Dolores and me.

Now is best time for tree pruning

By DAVID FINLEY
County Agent

One of the main landscaping "chores" of the year is here and that is pruning. Pruning is one of the most misused and abused operations that home owners try to beautify their landscape with. Allen Kemple of Electra understands how important pruning is. He has several trees in his landscape that need pruning and is wanting to do it now.

The question that is posed to me more often than any other is, "When is the right time to prune?" Here recently my answer is now. Pruning on many trees can be done throughout the year, but I like to recommend major pruning to be done now, while the tree is dormant.

I really believe that the home owner should prune for a purpose. Do not start unless there is a purpose in mind. Improper pruning can ruin or greatly reduce the landscape potential of an otherwise beautiful tree. In most cases, it is better not to prune than to do it incorrectly.

I can name about 65 reasons that a tree should be pruned. There is not enough space on this page to talk about all of them, but I would like to mention three or four of the more important ones.

First and foremost, pruning should be done to maintain the natural shape of the tree. Long, gangly unwanted growth that distracts from the trees beauty should be targeted here.

A second reason for pruning is to maintain or limit the size of the tree so that it does not grow out of bounds. In other words, a tree that gets too large for its area of the landscape should be reduced to size to fit in with other landscape plants.

The third reason home owners should prune is to remove broken, unsightly, diseased or insect-damaged growth. Many times we see broken limbs on trees that are allowed to stay there, unremoved, for long periods of time. Not only is this unsightly, but it opens the tree to invasion by insects and disease.

I see so many trees topped or what I called "dehorned". This is a no-no in my book. This can weaken a tree tremendously and really open the door for other unwanted problems. It also violates rule number 1 that I mentioned, which is losing the natural shape of the tree. Many vigorous upright shoots will be formed after the tree has been cut off.

Be sure and treat pruned areas with either a pruning paint or a water based, latex house paint. This will seal the cut over and keep insects and disease from invading the area.

Finally, use the correct equipment for pruning. Select tools that will do the job, keep a sharp edge and are relatively easy to sharpen and handle. These can be bought locally at nurseries and garden centers or can be ordered through the mail.

Remember, pruning is important. Be sure the reasons for pruning are known before that first cut is made.

Wheat needs topdressing

By DAVID FINLEY
County Agent

Most of our wheat continues to make some growth, but there are a lot of spots and fields that are yellowed and growth has slowed. The reason for this is not greenbugs or mites - it's a lack of nitrogen, and topdressing of wheat will be needed in many cases.

Ralph Harvey of Texoma Agricultural Products and Mac McGregor of Texoma Flying Service put out some nitrogen urea on wheat in two different soil types and locations in the county in December. These were put out on sandy soil near Thornberry and on tighter clay soils around Iowa Park.

In talking to Ralph, he told me that the sandy land wheat showed some response early but now it is not as evident in the field. This could be due to the wheat rooting down and coming into contact with nitrogen that has been leached deeper into the soil with all our rain. The tight land still shows a response to the urea. It can be readily seen out in the field.

It looks as though we have lost a good portion of nitrogen to leaching. Also, these clay soils are waterlogged and denitrification has occurred, making the nitrogen unavailable for plant use.

We have the potential for a good wheat crop. Subsoil moisture is excellent, and the wheat has made excellent growth up to this point.

In spite of a probable low price for wheat, it will still pay the producer to apply adequate nitrogen. For each bushel of wheat produced, approximately two pounds of nitrogen is required. Thus, a 30 bushel wheat crop will require 60 pounds of nitrogen. However, we could certainly be looking at more than 30 bushel wheat with our present situation, and it will be to the producers advantage to apply adequate nitrogen for above a 30 bushel yield. Usually, moisture is the limiting factor on wheat production. However, if care is not exercised, nitrogen may be the limiting factor on yield this year.

The time to apply nitrogen is before wheat begins jointing. This is usually early to mid-March in this area of the state. I feel nitrogen should be applied by February 15 to get the full benefit out of it.

What about nitrogen needs in fields being grazed and later will be harvested for grain. Cattle remove .4 pound of nitrogen for every one pound of beef produced. In other words, if 100 pounds of beef are produced per acre in grain, the removal of 40 pounds of nitrogen will have taken place.

For a normal wheat crop following grazing, this nitrogen must be replaced. If 60 pounds were applied in the spring and 100 pounds of beef was produced per acre, then 40 pounds of nitrogen has been removed. That leaves only 20 pounds of nitrogen to produce grain. This is enough to produce 10 bushels of wheat.

Urea is the nitrogen source that most producers have told me they will be using. Some have mentioned using 28 percent liquid closer to March 1. With the situation like it is, I feel that the producer that applies his nitrogen now will be ahead in the long run.

Whatever the case or whatever is used, there is sufficient evidence around that topdressing will be needed more than ever this year. Producers should take a close look at this and apply the measure if at all possible.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Mr. Hamilton,

I would appreciate it if you would publish the local laws regarding animal control. Just as a reminder to our citizens that these laws are for the protection to our children and our pets. Dogs running loose have the risk of being hit and injured or killed. Mainly a health hazard to our children. Our neighbors (children and adults) cannot freely enjoy a walk or a bike ride. I feel that the families who own the animals don't love the animals or children very much since they fail to protect them both. Most likely these pets don't even have their vaccines. I have contacted authorities locally and the Humane Society of Wichita County. The Humane Society cannot do anything within our city limits. They suggest to contact local authorities which has been done many times. These pets may not be considered a hazard by the families who own them, but they certainly present a lot of problems to the rest of the neighborhood. I too have children and pets, both of which I love and protect as much as possible.

This has been a problem for quite some time, so I hope something can be done to protect animals, and the people of our community.

What would happen to our families and pets if everyone let their pets roam loose.

Police make arrests for other departments

Activities of the Iowa Park Police Department ranged from arresting persons wanted by other departments, to chasing an expensive sports car at high speed.

Larry Dale Fulfer was arrested Saturday evening at 315 E. Lafayette on a warrant from Wichita County Sheriff's Office. Wanted on a charge of driving while intoxicated, he was turned over to sheriff's deputies.

Bobby Frank Boyd, 58, went to the police station Sunday, asking if police had his Jeep. Police had found it abandoned Saturday, keys in the ignition and groceries in sacks, and impounded it.

Checking on ownership after impoundment, police learned Boyd was wanted on one charge of passing bad checks at Big Spring, and two counts for bad checks by Nolan County. Big Spring had a $500 bond requirement on Boyd, while Nolan County had $200 on each charge.

Boyd was taken into custody at the station and turned over to Wichita County Sheriff's Office.

Darlene Ann Franklin, 34, was arrested by city police at U.S. 287 and Bell Road at 3:54 a.m. Sunday on a warrant from the DPS for speeding and failure to appear.

Officer Johnny Robertson reported at 12:37 p.m. Sunday he was in pursuit of a red Porsche westbound on U.S. 287, at speeds nearing 100 miles per hour.

Radio contact was made with Electra, and officers from that city's department, county deputies and a unit from the Department of Public Safety stopped the vehicle on the northeast side of Electra.

Jessie M. McElueen, 26, a foreign car dealer from Houston, was arrested. Explaining he was delivering the car to a buyer in Colorado, he was released after posting a $50 bond.

Joni Whitis, 805 N. Jackson, reported to police Saturday that someone had broken the back window of her automobile.

Police have found a new article of men's clothing, still in its wrapper, with sales slip, and it can be claimed by identifying the object at the police station.

Barrington said he will report on progress of renovation plans on city hall, with plans being ready in about two weeks to put out for bids.

The administrator said he would ask permission to close city hall on Washington's Birthday, to be observed Feb. 18, in order for employees to move desks, machines and files in the office in preparation for renovation work.

Also to be discussed by the council is a request by the Recreational Activity Center for the city to share in the cost of replacing the structure's floor, estimated total cost of $2,000.

Missionary work is topic

Thirteen members of the Night BW of First Baptist Church attended the Monday night meeting held in the home of Mrs. Bill Curry and heard Mrs. S.B. Reaves give the concluding chapter of "Partnership Principles" by Stan Hastey.

She started with the work in the Abrazo era, which means full partnership, between the Mexican and Southern Baptists and stressed how the two groups had cooperated in evangelism and disaster situations, mentioning that the three-year urban work project had been very successful.

Included in the study was the evangelistic work between Southern Baptists and those of Venezuela at Curaco, and Mrs. Reaves concluded with a discussion of the work of the Baptists of Arkansas and Baptists in Brazil, a project that will begin in April.

Mrs. Roy Smith directed the business and Mrs. E.T. Patterson was in charge of the birthday calendar for missionaries.

Moser, seventh in the middle-weight division; Doug Smith, third in the light heavy weight division; and John Woods, eighth in the heavy weight division.

Care of children

Homemakers' program

Dr. Ed Thornton presented a program on the care of children at the meeting of the Holliday Chapter of Young Homemakers of Texas held Jan. 15.

During the business meeting following the program, members voted to host the St. Jude Hospital Bikeathon to be held March 30 in Holliday.

Mayor, aldermen to be elected April 6

Holliday City Council Monday night called for an April 6 city election to fill the vacancy of mayor and three alderman positions which are to expire, in action taken during the group's second meeting for January.

Aldermen's positions to expire are currently filled by Jim Virdell, Jimmy Willis and John Goforth. The mayor's position has been vacant since the resignation late last year of Mayor Mike Parker. Councilwoman Elizabeth Gorman has filled the position as mayor protem and will continue to until after the elections.

The only designated polling place in the city election is at the Holliday Community Center.

SECOND POLICEMAN?

The council returned into open session following a short-lived closed, executive session to discuss personnel.

Discussed was the possibility of hiring a second police officer to serve as patrolman, and, in the process, become the first two-man police force in the history of the city. The recommendation was made by city administrator Jim Hamill, who said the city could afford one if the financial condition of the city remained as stable as it is presently.

Hamill added that the city should wait until the budget sessions for the next fiscal year, and, if it wants, include the hiring in its budget at that time.

In other business, council opened bids to sell a city-owned 1978 Ford LTD II, with Jack Monroe getting the nod with a bid of $500. Also, council approved the establishment of a limited expense account for the chief of police.

Rep. Finnell appointed to Appropriations Committee

The Speaker of the Texas House of Representatives announced new committee assignments this week for the 69th Legislature. Rep. Charles Finnell received a position on the powerful House Appropriations Committee, always a key committee because it is responsible for the entire state budget.

"It's a tough and lonely task but someone's got to do it," said Finnell, who was also named Chairman for Budget and Oversight of the Financial Institutions Committee. "As the Speaker explained some time ago, my services were needed on Appropriations this session, in view of the financial shortfall facing Texas and the need for a close examination of our limited state resources."

Geographically, Finnell is the only member of the Appropriations Committee from the region between the Dallas-Fort Worth metroplex and the northern Panhandle.

"The chore ahead of us will be to ensure a budget that is pragmatic, yet humane, and that it is within available revenues," Finnell added. "As this session took shape, I knew I was volunteering for heavy duty. I regard the position on Appropriations as an even larger responsibility than that of last session because I'll have the opportunity to oversee not only the concerns of the elderly but the state budget as a whole."

Era to end this summer when Dawson retires

An era comes to an end in June for Iowa Park High School.

Bob Dawson, principal, is retiring. He is completing his 20th year in the position, and when this year's senior class is graduated, they will round out approximately 2,500 who have received diplomas under his leadership.

After the second week in June, which marks the end of his current contract, gone will be the man known for his dry humor, a stern response for those who attempt to be disruptive on campus, quick to heap praise upon those who achieve, and critical of anything that hampers the educational process.

Though his decision to retire has been common knowledge among his friends and co-workers, it was not made official until Friday night, when he gave formal notice in writing to the school board.

What will he do after retirement, this man who has given 35 of his 58 years to education?

Right now he has no plans, although he admits he needs to find something to fill his time. Having devoted his full time to education, which requires numerous evenings as well as his days, he's never developed a hobby. And he hasn't sought another job.

However, Mrs. Dawson will continue teaching here. She is the reading teacher for fourth grade at Bradford Elementary.

Erosion of an administrator's authority has been the main thorn in Dawson's side, and the reform bill passed by the state legislature last summer was the straw that broke the camel's back. "That helped make up my mind," he confided.

"But mainly, I feel 35 years of it (education) seems to be enough," Dawson said. "I guess I'm too set in my ways."

After graduation from high school at Hayti, Mo., Dawson received his bachelor's degree in health and physical education at Arkansas State Univ. at Jonesboro. He then earned his master's in education administration from George Peabody College for Teachers at Nashville, Tenn., an institution which has since been merged with Vanderbilt Univ.

His first seven years in education were at Kennett, Mo. There, he coached one year in junior high and the next two years was head coach at the high school. He was named junior high principal when he was 24 years

He was acquainted with Mrs. Keith Swim, wife of long-time Iowa Park superintendent. Mrs. Swim's home was near Dawsons, and the Swims were visiting her hometown one time and met with Dawson to offer him a job in the Iowa Park school.

He was acquainted with Mrs. Keith Swim, wife of long-time Iowa Park superintendent. Mrs. Swim's home was near Dawsons, and the Swims were visiting her hometown one time and met with Dawson to offer him a job in the Iowa Park school. Or as he put it, "... they asked me if I wanted to come to Texas."

When the Dawsons made the move, their son, Robert, was in the fourth grade, and daughter, Mary, was only four months old. James Elms was high school principal.

The move was made in July of 1957. Dawson's job was teacher of physical science and head football coach. But the coaching job lasted only one year. Dawson's often been the butt of jokes about how his team was Iowa Park's first to have not won a game all season.

Iowa Park High, then known as W.F. George High School, had about 175 students, which was Class A in those days.

After his first year, he taught biology and physical science a couple of years, and was then named junior high principal. His first year as high school principal was 1965.

How about highlights of his career?

What does he remember most about his tenure as campus master in Iowa Park?

Without being given much time to reflect, he said he felt the best overall class was the one that graduated in 1969. "There's been valedictorians who scored higher than the one in '69, but overall, that was the best class," he recalled.

And as a former coach and physical education instructor, his recollection naturally had to include the highlight of athletics while he was principal.

His response, Iowa Park's 7-6 win over Gainesville in 1982. For the members of that team, that was quite a compliment, considering the state championships in football in 1969 and 1970, and the Hawks' win in 1973 over Brownwood.

His dedication to his work and his appreciation of what little solitude he has at home have taken about all his time and allowed little for outside activities.

"I've never been a joiner," he states. He is a long-time member of the Texas Association of Secondary Principals and a former member of Texas State Teachers Association.

Possibly his only venture into a public activity was back in 1964, when he raised a lot of eyebrows in a community which had traditionally been Democratic politically.

That was the year he and Donald Hill thought strongly enough of Barry Goldwater's candidacy for president that they opened a campaign headquarters here. It was directly across Wall Street from city hall. "He didn't win, but he got a lot of votes," he said.

Not a large man by physical standards, Dawson has quietly earned his place as a big man in Iowa Park. His shoes will be difficult to fill and his standards will be a benchmark for those who succeed him.

Tomorrow's trip to Bridgeport is important to the Hawks, who can at least share the first half lead with a win over the Bulls.

The Bridgeport game ends the first half of play for the boys. A win would put them in a tie for first place with Vernon, assuming the Lions win the same evening.

All district play is by halves, with a playoff at the end of the round robin, if necessary, to determine which teams advance into the playoffs.

A loss at Bridgeport could drop the Hawks into a second place tie with two other teams, since Bridgeport has beaten Bowie and Decatur defeated Bridgeport.

Friday night's 73-55 win at Springtown was a big plus for the Hawks, who jumped to a 22-7 lead in the first quarter and held on from there.

Jay Bates led scoring with 17. Jerry Allen had 14 and Stephen Biddy 10.

"We just couldn't hit our shots," Coach Earnie Reusch said about Tuesday night's loss to the Jackrabbits.

Fact is, the Hawks hit slightly over 25 percent of their field goal attempts, 16 of 57.

It was just one of those cold nights for Iowa Park, offensively, because the Jackrabbits are not tall enough to be intimidating to the Hawks.

The Hawks led 18-11 after the first half, but were outscored 9-14 in the second quarter. Still in the game until the fourth period, they were outgunned 8-19, mainly because of efforts to catch up that didn't work. Bates had 16 points.

GIRLS WIN

The Hawkettes shot down Springtown Friday night to close out the first half of their schedule, after losing their first four contests.

After trading 6-13 at the end of the first quarter, the Hawkettes went on a 22-11 rampage in the second, and increased that with a 24-19 third quarter surge, and roared to a 68-53 finish.

Three Iowa Parkers finished in double figures: Sherri Schwaine 19, Lisa Selby and Lisa Holloway, 12 each.

Tuesday's 50-45 win at Bowie was particularly important to the Hawkettes, because it was the first game of the second half.

Also, the win was at Bowie, and they had lost to the same team earlier here in Iowa Park by a 41-51 margin.

In three of their first four district losses, they had been badly outscored in the fourth period. Not so Tuesday. Going into the final period, they had trailed 31-24, but outscored their hosts 18-11.

Holloway had 19 points and Selby and Schwaine 17 each.

When the Hawkettes travel tomorrow to Bridgeport, they will be trying to revenge that 38-56 loss here a couple of weeks ago. Their game starts at 6 p.m.

The varsity teams will have two games at home next week, hosting Decatur Tuesday and Vernon Friday.

Soccer team to Dallas

The Iowa Park Chiefs soccer team will attend and participate in the annual Kick Cancer Soccer Tournament February in Dallas, sponsored by the American Cancer Society and Dr. Pepper.

As a result of last year's tournament, the Cancer Society collected $7,200 in donations, and 80 teams participated.

Referees will be donating their services free of charge, in order that all proceeds go towards cancer research.

To help defray the cost of sending the Chiefs to Dallas, the team is asking supporters to save aluminum cans for a Feb. 9 can collection.

Contributions may be made by calling Danny Skinner at 592-4835, or Jerry Inman at 592-9096.

Resolution No. 85-02

A RESOLUTION OF THE CITY COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF IOWA PARK, TEXAS ENCOURAGING THE STATE LEGISLATURE TO ADOPT LEGISLATION TO EMPOWER GENERAL LAW CITIES UNILATERAL ANNEXATION POWERS.

Whereas, the economic vitality of a City is dependent upon a strong and growing tax base; and
Whereas, planned growth is widely recognized as beneficial both economically and socially; and
Whereas, current annexation laws create an atmosphere of unequal taxation where Cities artificially support fringe areas outside the City; and
Whereas, the power to unilaterally annex has been shown to be a significant contributing factor in the economic health and stability of some rule Cities in Texas; and
Whereas, the inability of General Law Cities to annex has limited the growth of the tax base in numerous Cities, has hampered efforts at planned growth, and in general has contributed to stagnation, decay and detrimental development patterns in many smaller cities throughout the state; and
Whereas, the power to unilaterally annex would provide significant and long term benefits to the citizens of Iowa Park, Texas;
NOW THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED BY THE CITY COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF IOWA PARK, TEXAS, THAT:
The City Council of the City of Iowa Park, Texas does hereby call upon President-pro-tem of the Senate Ray Farabee and Representative Charles Finnerl to actively support and endorse legislation in the current session of the Texas Legislature which would extend unilateral annexation powers to General Law cities.
