SEVEN-INCH BLANKET OF SNOW COVERED AREA THURSDAY AFTERNOON

AUTOMOBILES APPEAR AS ICE SCULPTURES ON SHAW MOTOR'S SALES LOT

Severe winter storm only uncomfortable

The record-setting winter storm that struck here Wednesday did little else except make a lot of people uncomfortable and run up the utility bills.

When the blue norther struck Wednesday, the temperature dropped to below freezing, and it didn't rise above 32 degrees until yesterday afternoon.

The Weather Bureau reported a record low for the month of eight degrees below zero, and the area received as much as eight inches, much of which drifted because of high winds. The schools were closed for classes Friday, however the varsity basketball teams played their games that afternoon when Vernon decided to venture onto the highway.

Icy road conditions prompted school administrators to delay start of classes by one hour the mornings of Monday and Tuesday.

Oddly enough, absenteeism Monday and Tuesday, about five percent which is about normal for this time of the year, was less than last Thursday. Sixty-seven students didn't show up for classes at the high school campus alone.

No serious vehicle accidents were reported during the days of bad roads. Only seven minor accidents were reported to the police, of which two involved more than one vehicle. The others were vehicles in ditches.

Police were obviously concerned Sunday, when two young boys riding on a bicycle were reported testing the ice cover on Lake Gordon. They were not only instructed to leave the area, but escorted home.

Numerous reports were made to police about youngsters riding three-wheel vehicles on the streets and in people's yards.

One accident which was not reported to police was when a vehicle skidded off the street and into a fire hydrant on Karen. Water service to the north part of town was turned off Monday while workers repaired the break.

Numerous telephone calls were made to the city requesting water to be turned off to homes where leaks had developed, caused by frozen lines due to extreme cold.

Businesses in the community said requests for snow chains was light, but individuals in fire wood sales reported a brisk business as homeowners attempted to cut the cost of utility heating.

One minor house fire was reported, but firemen needed less than 10 minutes to correct the situation. Damage was minor, other than smoke.

Plumbers were "snowed" under with calls to repair leaks in frozen pipes. Some were booking their service calls at least 24 hours in advance, though working late into the evenings.

City Administrator James Barrington estimated the winter storm cost taxpayers at least $1,000 for street work. He said seven loads of sand were spread at dangerous intersections.

Street crews cleared surfaces of snow as well as equipment would permit.

But the cost of the storm will be greater than $1,000 when it's all over. Barrington said pot hole repairs, caused by freezing, thawing and standing in water would raise the total considerably.

Parent meeting reset for Tuesday evening

The meeting for parents of high school students, to explain new requirements for graduation, was postponed from last Thursday because of weather, according to school administrators.

Parents of freshmen, sophomores and juniors will now be asked to meet with parents of eighth graders at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday in the junior high cafeteria, where the requirements will be explained.

Administrators began Monday, meeting with freshmen at school to explain the changes, and the students were to return their preregistration forms Tuesday. Wednesday the same procedure was held for sophomores, and their forms are to be turned in today.

The format will continue for juniors tomorrow, and Tuesday the eighth graders will go through the same process.

In order to reach all students, the information is being presented during English classes, because they all are enrolled in English.

The major point of information being presented is for students to decide whether they will take college preparation curriculum.

Because of the importance of the decision, administrators are encouraging all parents of students who will be in high school next year to attend.

Because preregistration was begun before the meeting for parents could be held, there are provisions for changing preregistration forms called for this week, should the parents and their students decide the change is necessary after the public meeting.

Timing of the preregistration is considered important to administrators, because they must decide how many classes and teachers are needed for next fall, based on forms returned by students.

At the March meeting of the school board, the administration will present teacher needs, so additional teachers can be hired, if they are necessary.

City, school to call elections next week

Both the city and school are expected to officially call elections in April, when they meet next week.

The city will meet at 7 p.m. Monday in council chambers, and school trustees will meet at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday in the administration building.

Mayor Tim Hunter announced at the last city meeting that the election would be held April 6. However, an ordinance must be approved Monday, setting the times, places and judges.

Also on the city's ballot will be a referendum to get the public's opinion of whether the city should permit a tax exemption for disabled residents. The proposal was brought before the council last month, and aldermen decided to put the issue before the citizens.

The seats of three aldermen will be decided by the election. Terms expire this year for Lita Watson, Johnny Coker and George Hammonds.

Hammonds and Coker have already filed for places on the ballot. Watson is considering filing for re-election, but as of yesterday had not made a formal announcement of intentions.

Aldermen will consider approving the 1983-84 city audit, recently received, as well as payment for the service and naming an auditor for the current year.

The council will also be asked for permission for the city administrator to advertise for bids to purchase liability insurance and also to purchase a pickup for the meter reader.

As a year-long member of the Texas Political Subdivision Workers' Compensation Joint Insurance Fund, the council is to vote with other councils in the state on a five-member board of directors.

The area of primary concern at the meeting is the city's business district.

Century-old cook book gives peek into past

By OLIVE BLALOCK

It is always amazing and quite a thrill to go through an old, treasured family recipe book, to find out how much food preparation has changed in a century.

Imagine the pleasure and thrill of having in your treasure trove of antiques a "White House Cook Book" with a publishing date 1898. Myrna (Mrs. Bill) Robinson is fortunate to have such a book, and it has fallen into good hands because she recognizes its worth and will expend every effort to preserve it for posterity.

The book originally belonged to Mrs. Robinson's grandmother who handed it down to one of her daughters, and when she died at the age of 83 it came into Myrna's possession.

The particular volume of 590 pages was affectionally dedicated "To the wives of Our Presidents, those noble women who have graced the White House, and whose names and memories are dear to all."

The publisher's preface states that every recipe in the book has been "tried and tested" and can be relied upon as one of the best of the kind. The book also embodies several original and commendable features, among which may be mentioned the menus for holidays and for one week of each month, these covering all varieties of seasonable food.

It seems that each volume of the White House Cook Book was considered a comprehensive cyclopedic information for the home. Among the things contained in the one Mrs. Robinson has are many household recipes and menus and those served on special occasions, table etiquette, views of the interior of the White House, care of the sick and remedies, health suggestions, facts worth knowing about, and many more.

The menus suggested for holidays and State Dinners are very long. The menus for Mrs. Cleveland's wedding lunch and Gen. Grant's birthday are mostly in French, and since most people like to know what they are eating, we have chosen to share the suggestions for Thanksgiving and Fourth of July dinners.

Thanksgiving Dinner

Oysters on half shell, cream of chicken soup, fried smelts, sauce artare, roast turkey, cranberry sauce,

MYRNA ROBINSON WITH TREASURED FAMILY HEIRLOOM

mashed potatoes, baked squash, boiled onions, parsnip fritters, olives, chicken salad, venison pastry, pumpkin pie, mince pie, Charlotte Russe, almond ice cream, lemon jelly, hickory nut cake, cheese, fruits and coffee.

Fourth of July Dinner

Clam soup, boiled cod with lobster sauce, roast lamb, mint sauce, new potatoes boiled, green peas, spinach with eggs, cucumber slices, chicken patties, nape biscuits, vanilla ice cream, chocolate macaroons, strawberries and coffee.

The menus for breakfast and supper are also included for these and other special holidays and they are almost as elaborate as the dinner menus.

Nape Biscuits or Charlotte Russe seems to be one of the favorite desserts in the cook book.

"Make a double rule of sponge cake; bake it in round deep patty-pans; when cold cut out the inside about one-quarter of an inch from the edge and bottom, leaving the shell. Replace the inside with a custard made of the yolks of four eggs beaten with a pint of boiling milk, sweetened and flavored; lay on the top of this some jelly or jam; beat the whites of three eggs with three heaping tablespoons of powdered sugar until it will stand in a heap; flavor it a little; place this on jelly.

Set them aside in a cold place until time to serve."

A meat dish served often at the White House when the volume of the White House Cook Book was published was "Chicken Stewed with Biscuits."

Mr. and Mrs. Anthony York of Wichita Falls are the parents of a son, Christopher Ryan, born Jan. 31 in Wichita General Hospital. He weighed nine pounds, two ounces. Mrs. York is the former Lauri Long of Iowa Park.

The baby's grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Long of Iowa Park, and Mr. and Mrs. Dan York of Friendswood.

Great grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. James Huff of Vernon, and Mrs. Iona Long of Ryan, Okla. Mrs. Madge Petty of Olton is the baby's great-great-grandmother.

ABOUT TOWN

Darrell Dick, former Iowa Park High choral director who is now teaching at Duncannon, has been named one of two nominees for the office of Texas State Vocal Chairman. Nomination was made by the Texas Music Educators Association and State Music Executive Committee.

Correction

Iowa Park High School band member Lisa Hodges' name was omitted from the list of musicians who made the Freshman All-District band which ran in the Jan. 31 edition of the Leader. Miss Hodges plays the trombone. The Leader regrets the omission.

"Take chickens and make a Jricasse; just before you are ready to dish it up, have ready two baking tins of rich soda or baking powder biscuits; take them from the oven hot, split them apart by breaking with your hands, lay them on a large meat platter, covering it, then pour the hot chicken stew over all. . . send to the table hot. This is much better than boiling the biscuits in the stew, as you are more sure of its always being light."

Cook of the Week

Mexican food is extremely popular in this area, especially during the winter season. This week's cook, Carol (Mrs. Tom) Venhaus, knows much about Mexico's food as well as its culture.

Mrs. Venhaus is the Spanish instructor at Iowa Park High School where she has taught the language 16 years.

She was raised in Illinois and graduated from Illinois State Univ. It was in junior high that she became interested in the Spanish language. While taking piano lessons, she met some boys who had been sent to the United States from Mexico for the sole purpose of learning English so they could run the family's textile plants in Mexico. She and the boy's families, who live south of Mexico City, have remained friends throughout the years.

After meeting them, she began studying Spanish in high school, taking four years, then majored in it in college. She taught one year of high school Spanish in Illinois, then moved to this area where she has taught Spanish as well as two years of English since.

She is not unfamiliar with the Mexican culture, as she has visited Mexico three or four times. A surprising fact she revealed about the food in Mexico is that the term "Mexican food" is deceiving. She said, "The hot and spicy foods that are usually related to Mexico are actually Indian foods." She added "... it is hard to find a restaurant in Mexico that serves enchiladas... they usually serve a lot of fish, chicken and rice."

Mrs. Tom Venhaus

Those towns on the border do serve Mexican food in restaurants due to American tourist influence." She also said that south of the border the only place a person can buy Mexican food is in stands on the street.

She has been to Mexico during their festivals and seen the women participate in tortilla-making contests on the streets. Although she does not make her own tortillas, she enjoys cooking the food named after Mexico and teaching the language.

Hobbies enjoyed by Mrs. Venhaus include counted cross-stitch, crewel embroidery, and needlework.

Her husband, Tom, is employed as a counselor by Midway, Bellevue, and Byers school districts.

Mr. and Mrs. Venhaus have a daughter, Mandy, 7 years old.

MEXI-CHILI CASSEROLE

Preheat oven to 375 degrees. Brown 1 pound ground beef in skillet. Rinse and drain one pound can kidney beans. Combine kidney beans, one 15-ounce can mild enchilada sauce, one 8-ounce can tomato sauce and 1 tablespoon instant minced onion in mixing bowl. Add 1 1/2 cups shredded Cheddar cheese, 1 cup corn chips and ground beef; stir to blend. Pour into 2-quart casserole. Bake, uncovered, for 20 to 25 minutes or until hot and bubbly.

Spread top with 1/2 cups sour cream; sprinkle with 1/2 cup shredded Cheddar cheese. Bake for 3 to 4 minutes longer or until cheese is melted. Serve immediately. Yield: 6 servings.

CORPUS CHRISTI STYLE ENCHILADAS

Texas enchiladas are generally more bland than their Mexican counterparts.

1 lb. ground beef
1 large onion, minced
3 tbsp. chili powder
Salt and pepper to taste
2 cups grated Velveeta cheese
3 tbsp. flour
1 1/2 cup water
3 tbsp. tomato sauce or catsup
16 to 18 tortillas
1/4 cup cooking oil

Cook ground beef in skillet, stirring constantly to keep separated. Add onion; cook until transparent. Stir in 2 tablespoons chili powder, salt and pepper to taste and grated cheese. Cover and set aside. Mix flour mixture, remaining chili powder, tomato sauce and salt and pepper to taste in saucepan; heat thoroughly. Sauce should be the consistency of medium white sauce. Add water or flour as needed. Dip each tortilla in hot cooking oil for several seconds on each side, using tongs. Do not brown or cook hard. Place tortillas in sauce 4 or 5 at a time. Remove 1 at a time; place in large casserole. Fill with 1 heaping tablespoon of beef mixture; roll tightly. Repeat, stack if necessary. Cover with remaining sauce. Bake at 350 degrees for 10-15 minutes. Garnish with 1/2 cup grated cheese. Yield 5 servings.

SOUTH-OF-THE-BORDER SOUP

A thick, hearty chili stew.
1 can (10 1/2 oz.) bean with bacon soup
1 can (10 1/2 oz.) tomato soup
1 can (10 1/2 oz.) chili without beans
1 soup can water
1/8 - 1/4 t. garlic powder
Corn chips

Stir soups, water and garlic powder in saucepan. Heat to boiling. Ladle soup into bowls; top with corn chips. Yield 4-6 servings.

PUFFY FRIED BREAD "SOPAIPILLAS"

This is a puffy, crisp, deep-fried bread.

4 cups regular all-purpose flour
1 1/4 t. salt
3 t. baking powder
3 T sugar
2 T shortening
Milk (about 1 1/4 cup)
Salad oil for frying

Sift flour, measure, sift again with salt, baking powder and sugar. Cut into the shortening, and add milk to make a soft dough just firm enough to roll. Cover bowl and let dough stand 30-60 minutes; then roll 1/4-inch thick on lightly floured board. Cut in diamond-shaped pieces.

Heat about 1 inch of oil in frying pan to 370-380 degrees. Add a few pieces at a time. Turn at once so they will puff evenly, then turn back to brown both sides. Drain on paper towels. Serve with butter and honey. Makes 4 dozen or more.

As I See It....

By BOB HAMILTON

My headline on the front page story about last weekend's winter storm claims the event was only uncomfortable. That pretty well describes the overall situation of the community.

But for some of us, it was also expensive.

For the Hamiltons, it was a damaged car and more than a day without water at the house.

Thank goodness, the accident wasn't more serious than it was.

Dolores was driving with a friend in Wichita Falls Thursday, when an Olney woman skidded into an intersection, wiping out the passenger side door.

Most serious was Dolores' friend, who got some door glass in her eye and had to have medical attention. That settled, we had to borrow a car for her to use while our's is being repaired.

The expense of repairing the car won't be as bad as it first appeared. The woman was driving a borrowed pickup that wasn't covered by liability insurance. Thank goodness, she had insurance on her car, and it will cover most of the cost.

After going through this experience more than once, I'm about ready for the state law requiring liability insurance to be amended, I'd like it to be that if an uninsured vehicle is involved in a wreck with another vehicle, the uninsured vehicle be immediately impounded and ownership signed over the the victim. That would stop a bunch of this stuff!

We also lucked out, somewhat, on that broken water line at the house.

Of course, we're out the cost of plumbing repairs, but it could have been much worse.

First of all, it happened in the garage. But mainly, it was the alertness and effort of one of our many good neighbors who spotted the problem and immediately turned off the water. That cut down on damage considerably.

I couldn't help but chuckle about a notice all of us received from newly-elected U.S. Congressman Beau Boulter, about a town meeting next Tuesday in Wichita Falls.

To make it personal and impress us all about his knowledge of communities, the notice mentioned Burkburnett, Electra, Iowa Park, Pleasant Valley, Kadane Corner, Valley View, Kamay and Sheppard.

But the humorous part was mentioning the names of a couple of communities, Haynesville and Thrift, I'd never heard of, and leaving off the well-known community of Punkin Center.

Oh, well, he appears to be trying, anyway.

Worth Quoting

THE DAY OFF

So, you want the day off? Let's take a look at what you are asking for.

There are 365 days per year available for work.

There are 52 weeks per year in which you already have two days off per week, thus leaving only 261 days available for work.

Since you spend 16 hours each day away from work, you have used up 170 days, leaving only 91 days available.

You spend 30 minutes each day on coffee break and that accounts for 23 days each year, leaving only 68 days available for work.

With a one-hour lunch period per day, you have used up another 46 days, leaving only 22 days available for work.

We are off for five holidays per year, so your available working time is down to 15 days. We generally give you 14 days vacation per year, which leaves only one day available for work -- and there's NO WAY I'm going to let you take that day off!!!

SEMINOLE SENTINEL

Time eventually tells on bad blood, bad eggs, and bad laws.

And time has tallied up the score on this nation's 55-mile-an-hour speed limit -- and found once again that Congress acted in haste and made a political rather than a wise, sensible solution on the transportation problem.

A 19-member panel was named two years ago by the Department of Transportation on orders from Congress to study the benefits and costs of the 55-mile-an-hour speed limit imposed nationally ten years ago.

The 262-page report, was conducted under the auspices of the National Research Council. It was headed by Alan A. Altshuler, dean of New York University's graduate school of public affairs, who is a former Massachusetts transportation official.

The panel endorses the 55 mph speed limit for many highways in the nation but also said that on rural parts of the Interstate system higher speed limits could have strong benefits without a proportional impact on safety.

That's exactly what West Texans have argued for the past ten years. And it's exactly what folks in the Dakotas, in Montana and Utah have been screaming about ever since the national limit was enacted.

As a matter of record, it's what Texas legislators argued in vain with national policy makers about--until states were told that their federal highway funds would be withheld unless they passed laws authorizing the national mandated 55 mph limit.

The committee of industry and government representatives said increasing the speed limit from 55 mph to as high as 65 mph on rural Interstate highways would cause an additional 500 deaths a year.

At the same time, the report said, 850,000 hours of travel time would be saved for every life lost, meaning that about 100 years of travel time would be saved in exchange for one life lost and one severe injury.

The National Safety Council estimates that about 4,000 of the 43,000 people killed on U.S. roads last year died on Interstates.

The government classified 75 percent of the Interstate system as rural, but rural Interstate routes make up about six percent of all roads in the nation that are covered by the 55 mph limit. The rural Interstates carry 19 percent of all traffic that moves on highways with that speed limit.

The panel recommended that the system for measuring state compliance with the federal speed law be replaced with a procedure that "attaches more significance to high speed violations than to violations just above the speed limit."

West Texas and western states in general have argued for ten years that the speed limit was unnecessary for safety purposes on the long, mostly empty, stretches of highway through their states.

The panel said its projections indicated that if the speed limit was raised to 65 mph along the 31,500 miles of rural Interstate routes, it would result in about 500 more deaths, an increase in fuel consumption of about 10 million barrels a year, and a $10 million increase in taxpayer costs.

Tying the number of deaths each year on the nation's highways to the speed limit is ridiculous as far as we are concerned.

If 500 more people will die on rural Interstates if the limit is raised to 65 mph then conversely, 500 less should die if the limit is lowered to 45 mph. And perhaps another 500 could be saved if the national limit was set at 35 mph. And think how many lives could be saved if we banned use of our highways altogether.

past five years to Iowa Park Ready Mix. The lease is expiring and must be advertised for bids again, according to Administrator James Barrington.

Barrington and Hunter are to have returned from a legislative seminar in Austin the day of the meeting, and they are expected to report their findings to the council.

SCHOOL MEETING

Other than calling for a trustee election in April, the school board is to consider the sale of this year's building trades class project house, contracts for administrators and other key personnel, and personnel resignations.

Also on the agenda is a request for track teams to attend meets at Stephenville, Breckenridge and Graham, all outside the 75-mile limit imposed by the board.

Terms of three trustees expire this spring. They include Ray Hicks, Martha Dudley and Roy Boutwell.

Boutwell is the only member who has publically announced he would seek re-election.

Hyperactivity in children considered serious

Hyperactivity in children is a serious problem and should not be treated lightly, a Baylor College of Medicine child psychologist said.

Problems with school, family and friends can occur when a child is overactive, fidgety, impulsive and easily distracted, said Ben Williams,

M.D., director of the hyperactivity program at Baylor and Texas Children's Hospital.

"But this excess physical activity probably results from the hyperactive child's inability to concentrate for any length of time," Williams said.

Although hyperactivity is a problem, it can be controlled to some extent. It is not a condition that is caused by bad parenting. But good parenting skills, such as teaching the child how to concentrate, can help the child perform better while at home and in school.

Five to eight percent of all children, or about one child per classroom, will be hyperactive or have attention problems. Boys are more likely to be affected than girls, and the problem can be spotted as early as two and one-half years of age. Peer difficulties and disruptive, inattentive behavior are common classroom problems for hyperactive children.

Williams advises parents to seek treatment for a hyperactive child before he reaches school age to reduce the problems the child will face.

Williams recommends that parents teach a hyperactive child how to organize his time and structure his activities to help him concentrate on one project at a time.

He also advises parents to use non-physical discipline. Denying a child television time or forcing him to sit for ten minutes in a special "time-out" chair may be more effective in controlling outbursts than spanking, yelling or scolding.

He warns parents not to flood a hyperactive child with an angry string of commands.

"Hyperactive children typically have problems listening and following directions and many parents will start saying, 'Sit still. Be quiet. Do this. Don't do that,' without giving the child time to respond," Williams said. "The parents becomes angry because the child isn't minding and the child is frustrated because he is overloaded with commands."

Because the child has problems paying attention, Williams said, parents should get the child's attention by using "good parenting" techniques:

-Speak directly to a child's face, rather than to the back of the head or in his general direction.

-Praise a child's completion of specific tasks to bolster his self esteem and increase his desire to follow directions and complete tasks.

-Set aside time to spend with child each day.

Social Security News

EXCESS SOCIAL SECURITY WITHHOLDING

A person who works for more than one employer during the course of a year may have more Social Security taxes withheld than are required by law, John Bynum, Social Security manager in Wichita Falls, said recently.

"If this occurs," Bynum said "The person may claim a refund for the excess amount when he or she files an income tax return for that year; however, if the excess withholding occurs because an employer deducts too much in taxes, the person should ask the employer for a refund. "Earnings in excess of the maximum amount that counts for Social Security cannot be used in figuring the benefit rate."

Additional information about taxes and refunds may be obtained from the Internal Revenue Service. Information about Social Security benefits can be obtained from the Wichita Falls Social Security office located at 1000 Burnett St. The telephone number is 322-5213.

STRESS INCREASES HEART ATTACK DEATHS

High levels of stress and social isolation may increase heart attack deaths, according to Dr. William Ruberman of the Health Insurance Plan of Greater New York. When all other risk factors are equal, persons who suffered from emotional turmoil and are socially isolated had more than four times the risk of dying, says Dr. Ruberman.

According to a study, stress and social isolation were more prevalent among the least educated, and persons with more education tend to have better habits in smoking, drinking, exercise, and diet. Dr. Ruberman says stress should be categorized as one of the major factors that could cause heart attacks.

never open the door to a stranger - especially when you're not at home. And he shouldn't unlock the door even if the person says that it is an emergency or that he is a policeman.

However, the child should not ignore the doorbell, but say that his parents are resting and he isn't allowed to open the door right now. Your child should be instructed to call a neighbor for help, if the stranger doesn't go away.

This situation and the suggested solution is just one of several potentially dangerous situations covered in a booklet called "Southwestern Bell Telephone's Kid Care Kit," that was delivered by Dan Adams, for distribution in Iowa Park elementary schools for students in kindergarten through second grade.

"The booklet is a collection of safety and crime prevention tips for youngsters," said Dan Adams, area manager for Southwestern Bell Telephone Company. "It is designed to help parents teach children how to handle an emergency without unduly frightening the child."

Suggestions are made for discussing a variety of threatening situations with the child and deciding the best way for the child to respond. It is recommended that the situation be talked about in positive rather than a threatening manner. After deciding what action should be taken, the child and parent may "act out" the correct behavior.

"That's really important," said Adams. "Sometimes kids know what to do, but by actually practicing with their parents they're a lot more likely to remember their lesson."

The booklet covers several aspects of personal safety from a child's standpoint. Adams said one section of the booklet lists "stranger rules" - being cautious of people you don't know.

"Teaching your kids not to accept candy from strangers just isn't enough nowadays. And when your children have some basic safety awareness, parents are going to feel a lot better knowing that they may be better equipped to handle situations when they're not around."

"And there are steps for getting help quickly by telephone. Kids should know who to call for help and to have a list of numbers by the phone. Of course, they should be instructed to dial '0' for operator and say where they are and what help they need if they don't have a number to call," Adams continued.

The booklet has been approved by the Dallas Police Department and also by other volunteer fire departments and law enforcement agencies.

"We feel the information can be extremely useful and possibly a lifesaver in an emergency," Adams said.

EMERGENCY WORKERS responded quickly Thursday afternoon to snuff out the threat of fire in a home on Emma. Firemen and police were alert throughout the winter storm for such occasions, but the event Thursday was the only serious threat of disaster.

Hawkettes have shot at playoff

While the Hawks have already assured themselves of a place in the state playoffs, the Hawkettes are still in the running, despite their disappointing loss Friday to Vernon. The girls' game at Springtown Tuesday was postponed because of hazardous road conditions and a forecast of no improvement. That game has been re-scheduled for this evening.

A win over Bridgeport, coupled with a Bowie loss, would pit the Hawkettes against Bowie for a place in the playoffs. Vernon already has one of the two playoff spots assured by winning the first half.

It was their easy 68-53 win over Bridgeport in the final game of the first half that launched the Hawkettes on a four-game winning streak. They had lost the first four games of Dist. 5-AAA play.

Should they win tonight and have to meet Bowie to decide which team advances, the third meeting between the two teams would be a rubber match. Bowie won here in the first half, but the Hawkettes won at Bowie in the second half.

In Friday's game here against Vernon, third-ranked best girls' AAA team in the state, the Hawkettes led 15-14 after the first quarter. The game remained close until the last three minutes of the second period, but then Vernon scored 11 unanswered points and led 31-20 at the half.

Iowa Park narrowed the margin to eight points three times in the fourth quarter, but could never get closer, and lost, 45-57.

Cindy Clanton scored 15 points for the Hawkettes.

That was their first loss in five games.

HAWKS TO PLAY

Like the girls, Tuesday's game at Springtown was postponed for the Hawks, and that game is tentatively set to be made up next Thursday, according to Coach Earnie Reusch.

The Hawks are to host Bowie tomorrow. Added to the evening's schedule are the boys' freshman and junior varsity games that were to be played tonight, but instead will be played Friday. The freshman game is to start at 4:30 p.m.

Tuesday, the Hawks are to host Bridgeport in what was supposed to be the final game of the schedule.

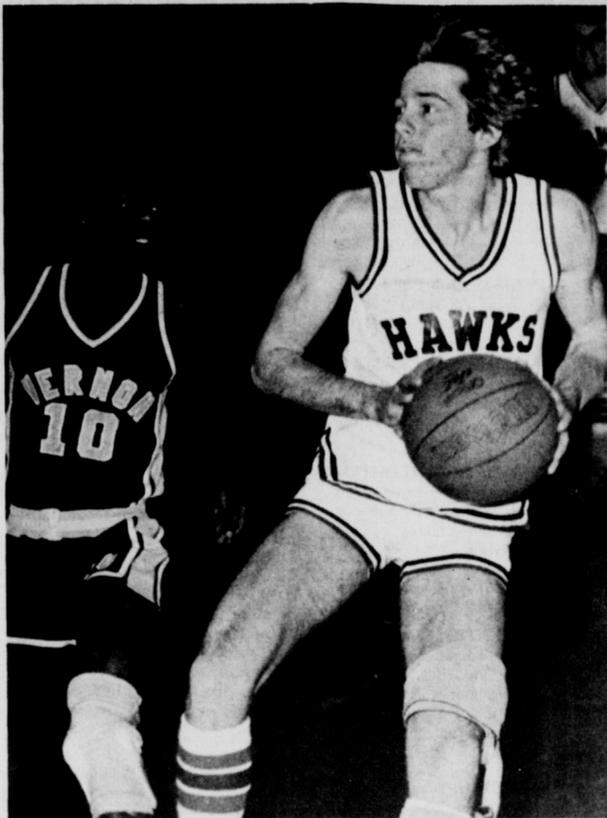

The Hawks shot down Vernon for the second time this season, 52-46 here Friday.

No easy game, big first and fourth quarters made the difference for Iowa Park. The locals led 20-10 after the first quarter, but Vernon narrowed the margin to 28-22 in the second and 38-36 in the third.

Eight of the 14 points in the fourth period for Iowa Park came from the foul line. The Hawks hit 26 of 37 attempts from the charity line during the game. And they needed them, because they sank only 13 of 46 field goal attempts.

Three Hawks finished in double figures. Joey Bates had 18, Stephen Biddy 12 and Van Hedrick 10.

JOEY BATES DRIVES AGAINST VERNON DEFENDER ... scored 18 points Friday evening.

He recently broke the Texas state novice record in power lift with a squat of 689 pounds. He went on to win the 220 pound novice class with a 1,641-pound total.

In winning, he qualified for the Mar. 27 national collegiate contest at West Point, New York.

Additionally, Brandt has qualified in the hammer throw event of the NCAA Division Two track meet to be held this summer in Los Angeles.

Take off your parkas; track season is near

With all the snow and ice on the ground, few are thinking about track and field. But the season is set to begin in only two weeks.

First meet of the year for Iowa Park High's varsity boys and girls teams is Feb. 22, the date of the Burkburnett Relays.

They'll have a couple weeks to recuperate after the first meet, waiting until Mar. 9 to travel to Stephenville.

Other meets for the varsities and junior varsities are:

- Mar. 16 Breckenridge, Boys V, JV, Girls V
- Mar. 23 Graham, Boys V, Girls V
- Mar. 30 Olney, Boys V, JV
- Apr. 5 Electra, Boys V, JV, Girls V
- Apr. 13 Holliday, Boys V, JV, Girls V
- Apr. 20 District 5-AAA meet at Bridgeport, Boys V, JV, Girls V, JV.

Springtown was shorthanded

When the Hawks hosted Springtown last fall, they weren't aware the Porcupines weren't at full strength.

One of the team captains, Blake Edwin Young, didn't play. He was being held in juvenile detention and later declared an adult so he can face charges of capital murder, murder and aggravated sexual assault.

Young, 17, is charged with the July 24 murder of Tracy Lee Bagley, 16, captain-elect of the Springtown High drill team.

A popular student and member of the National Honor Society, Young is scheduled for a pre-trial hearing Wednesday and March 4 trial in Weatherford.

Springtown still won the Dist. 5-AAA game, however, 19-13.

Junior High boys and girls meets scheduled include:

- Mar. 8 Holliday
- Mar. 14 Iowa Park
- Mar. 29 Holliday (Seymour host)
- Apr. 12 To be announced.

Hawk fans to save gas during 1985

Hawk football fans who spent a lot of time on the road following the varsity team last season will be able to get some of their money back next fall.

The Hawks have only three road games in 1985.

One of the games to be played in Hawk Stadium is technically a road game, however. The Sept. 20 game with Holliday's Eagles will be played here, because of greater stadium capacity, but Holliday will be the "home" team, even though its crowd will sit on the "visitors" side.

All 10 opponents were on the 1984 schedule.

Winter storm affects school, city events

Holliday News

Schools and businesses in Holliday did not go unaffected by the first big winter storm to hit the North Texas area this year, as classes were cancelled or postponed until the later morning hours, and the Holliday City Council cancelled its scheduled bi-monthly meeting Monday night due to icy conditions.

According to school officials, no classes were held Thursday and Friday of last week, and from Monday through Wednesday the school was operating on a foul-weather schedule, with classes starting at 9 a.m. instead of the normal 8 a.m. start. This gave bus drivers better conditions to drive in, with the frozen roads thawing in the later morning hours.

Games scheduled at Holliday Gym against Petrolia Friday night were postponed until the next day due to bad road conditions, and the Sophomore Class Supper, set for Tuesday night, was postponed until next Tuesday from 5 to 7:30 p.m. in the high school cafeteria. Officials felt that the sophomores would have a better chance of selling tickets with better weather forecast, and the feed will also be held just prior to an important District 9AA basketball game between Holliday and Electra. MEETING CANCELLED

Holliday City Council was to meet Monday night to nominate a board member to the Archer County Tax Appraisal District Review Board, review water improvement grant engineering plans, and consider approval of a fair housing ordinance. City administrator Jim Hamill Wednesday said there were no plans to reschedule the meeting, due to the fact that none of the agenda items warrant emergency action. Instead, council will consider all items at its regularly scheduled meeting Feb. 17.

Hamill said police activity had been surprisingly little during the last week, with local enforcement officials responding to only one fender bender in Holliday. Also, the administrator said that city workers have not had a large number of water breaks, though that will come when the ice begins to thaw.

FOR EAGLES

Chances still good to get in playoffs

Despite losing an important District 9AA game to Olney 64-58 Tuesday night, Holliday's Eagles still have an excellent chance to participate in the conference's playoff games with two games left in regular season.

Three teams are challenging for second place in the district behind the Cubs, including the Eagles and their last two opponents, Electra and Seymour. Jacksboro played the role of spoiler Tuesday night by upsetting the Tigers from Electra.

The Eagles travel to Seymour tomorrow night to face a tough Panther team. Both tied for second place in the first half of round robin play. According to Holliday coach Bill Higgins, the Eagles must win the remaining two games in order to secure a playoff spot. The Eagles can do just that by winning tomorrow, then beating Electra at home Tuesday night.

OLNEY GAME

Conference leading Olney came into Tuesday's game with a blast of energy, outscoring Holliday in the first period 21-6, giving the Cubs a lead they wouldn't relinquish.

Holliday rallied in the second and third periods, outscoring Olney in the second 20-8, and in the third 11-7, before the Cubs regained their first period form to outscore the Eagles 28-21 in the final quarter. Oscar Paul led the Cubs with 32 points, while the Eagles were led by Kurt Lilley with 22, and Kevin Parker and Les Dolberry 14 each.

LADY EAGLES FINISH

Holliday's Lady Eagles finished their season against Olney with a close fought 48-42 loss Tuesday night. The win gives the Lady Cubs a spotless 6-0 second-half record, while Holliday falls to 2-5 in District 9AA play. Jana Harmon led the Lady Eagles with 22 points, her highest point production of the year.

GRADUATION CHANGES

As a result of the passage of House Bill 72 by the second called session of the 68th Texas Legislature, numerous changes in the student assessment of minimum skills program will take place beginning with the 1985-86 school year.

One of the most significant changes occurs with the requirement for exit level testing in mathematics and English language arts. Satisfactory performance on the exit level examination is required for students to receive a high school diploma. Beginning with October 1985, the test will be administered to eleventh grade students for the first time. Students who do not perform satisfactorily on both the mathematics and English language arts sections of the test will have opportunities in May 1986 and in October and May of their twelfth grade year to pass both sections of the examination.

Beginning in 1987, high school diplomas must be withheld from those students who have not demonstrated satisfactory performance by the end of their twelfth grade year. Students who have been denied diplomas and who subsequently perform in a satisfactory manner on both sections of the test will be issued a high school diploma at that time.

State Board of Education rules concerning the student assessment of minimum skills, which underwent first reading at the December 8, 1984, meeting and second reading at the January 12, 1985 meeting, state that "students enrolled in the twelfth grade during the 1985-1986 school year shall not be required to take the exit level examination." This rule will become part of the Texas Administrative Code once it has undergone the third reading by the State Board of Education, which is scheduled for February 9, 1985.

A 2,000-ft. wildcat well is planned by F.T. Felty Operating Co. of Burkburnett at a drillsite three miles northwest of Clara, Wichita County. The location is in a 170-acre lease in the BS&F Survey, A-334. Well's designation is the No. 1 C. Birk.
