90 teacher contracts extended by trustees

FOOLISH FLOWERS - Abundant moisture and last week's warm temperatures fooled the fruit trees and bushes in the community, and they figured it was time to bloom. Cool weather this week hasn't set them back, yet, but no one has seen a mesquite tree budding so winter is still with us. Iowa Park received approximately a quarter of an inch moisture yesterday.

In a marathon meeting of the school board, which lasted until 1:45 a.m. Wednesday, trustees extended contracts for 90 teachers through the 1985-86 school year, established criteria for hiring of a new superintendent, and declined a request to change the scheduling of kindergarten classes.

Trustees did not get to the personnel portion of the agenda until 12:28 a.m. at which time they accepted the resignations of superintendent Harold Cowley and teachers Jo Ann Davis, Jean Johnson, Bonnie Medlinger, H.J. Cannon, Betty Dwyer, Nancy Thompson and Julie Ross.

Kenneth Watts was assigned next year to general construction, replacing Carlton Hicks who has resigned for health reasons. Watts' building trades class has been terminated due to lack of enrollment.

If enough enrollment develops before next year in auto body vocational class, Wendell Allen will teach that course half a day and do maintenance work the balance of the day. If the course does not make, Allen will administer the "alternative program" for students who for administrative reasons cannot be allowed to attend school with the other students.

The board held a 35-minute executive session, during which Cowley and assistant superintendent Robert Palmer were called to meet with trustees.

After the meeting was re-opened to the public, chairman Roy Boutwell called for a motion to set a deadline for accepting applications for superintendent until April 18, after which interviews will be held and hiring a new one "at the appropriate time."

Cowley submitted his resignation to accept the superintendent's post at Talco-Bogata schools in east Texas, effective the end of June.

Receiving contracts at the recommendation of Bob Dawson, high school principal, were Allen and Watts, Allan Andrews, Teresa Beckham, Ruby Black, George Brandt, George Collins, LaRae Collins, Jane Cowley, Linda Escue, Daryl Frazier, Jim Gotcher, Billy Johnson, Valer Jones and Tim Kaspar.

Junior High principal Jimmy Alsop's recommendation list approved were Charles Anderson, LaVelda Barrick, Terry Davis, Karrie DePriest, Denise Frerich, Kelly Gibson, Bob Gray, Ed Hefti, John Hoelter, Terry Johnson and Eddie

Jones.

Also on the list were Mary Kirkpatrick, Eldon Patterson, Carolyn Richter, Julie Salley, Myrna Sharpe, Joyce Smith, Mozelle Sullivan, Patsy Todd, Karen Whisnand and Mark Wilson.

Bradford Elementary principal recommended Johnna Adams, Perry Allen, Frances Atkins, Patricia Coker, Kay Cole, Patricia Cravens, Anabeth Dawson, Jo Ann Hale, Lucy Heard, Armilda Hickey, Howard Klinkerman and Karen Lamberth.

Also Randy Lovelady, Leslie Mahoney, Beverly McClure, Mary Pike, Judy Schneider, Arlene Welch, Joni Whitis, Barney Wynn and Jan Yeager.

Also Janet Martin, Gail Miller, Kathryn Nordman, Barbara Padgett, Dorothy Palmer, Helen Roberts, Rita Reeder, Mary Helen Schell, Rita Stowe and Carol Wilson.

Concerning contracts, Cowley strongly recommended that choir director Allan Andrews receive the same annual $3,000 bonus as does the band director Greg Miller. He said Andrews' bonus of $1,800 was not equal to Miller's, when quality of instruction as demonstrated by contest results and numbers of students taught were concerned.

The board agreed and gave Andrews the matching bonus.

Another issued approved by the board is to pay as many teachers as the school receives state funds, based on ADA, $1,500 for career ladder bonuses.

TAX OFFICE PROBLEMS

Tax collector Allen Shewmake told the board of problems created for the district in the past by an attorney who collected delinquent taxes, and also got the go-ahead from the board to investigate the cost of purchasing an in-house computer system.

Allen said an attorney, whom he had not been able to contact, had apparently pocketed court fees he was to have paid to have delinquent tax suits cleared.

Trustees were told of dozens of suits still pending on county records, but the money settling them having been paid by the taxpayers. Without clearance from county records, financing of projects or sales of property cannot be permitted, he said.

Board members instructed Shewmake to pay all court costs, which amounts to more than $1,000, and have the school's present attorney aggressively pursue collection from the former attorney.

Shewmake told the board that if it want to keep tax collections for the Solution is proposed for Yule decorations

Iowa Park, for the past few years, has been without any Christmas decorations in the business areas, and with little or no prospects for ever having any more.

But the solution has apparently surfaced.

The city council Monday night heard a proposal to develop funding from voluntary sources, and is expected to take official action at its Mar. 25 meeting.

Mrs. Phil (Ruth) Welch told the council how the community of Dumas, in the northern Panhandle, has funded the purchase of more beautiful decorations than she had ever seen.

The solution: ask every water customer of the city to donate 10 cents per month.

The last of the tattered light post decorations were retired to the dump grounds some four years ago. They were purchased second-hand by the Chamber of Commerce decades earlier, and were beyond repair.

The Chamber, over the past 15 years, has attempted several campaigns to raise funds to buy new decorations for the business area, but without success. The organization's annual budget is less than decorations would cost for a 10-block area.

Mrs. Welch said 100 percent participation of the water customers would generate in excess of $3,000 per year. If undertaken, decorations could be purchased annually, until the city's entire business area were completely covered, and then additional monies beyond that point could be used to replace the earliest purchases.

City administrator James Barrington told council members the additional 10-cent donation could be listed on the monthly water bills, which are produced by the city's computer. Such a solicitation is legal, as long as the public is aware the 10 cents is being paid voluntarily, and anyone not wishing to contribute can notify city hall and the amount would not be on future bills.

Mrs. Welch explained she and her family passed through Dumas last Christmas, and said she had never seen a community so well decorated. She became curious as to how it had been accomplished, and contact was made with the Dumas Chamber to get information.

Details concerning the project are not yet worked out, such as who will put up and take down the decorations, who will administer selections for purchasing, (she suggested a representative committee), where decorations will be stored, etc. But she said those things could be developed, after the fund-raising campaign was initiated.

The key to the project, she says, is "... for everybody in the community to feel the decorations are their's. Everybody can take pride in it."

Having discussed the idea with various friends, Mrs. Welch said she had received no negative reactions, all positive. That was the same reaction she received from the city council.

Streets get attention during council meeting

Almost half the items on Monday's city council meeting agenda, 10 of 25, were concerned with streets.

Issues ranged from consideration of opening new streets to a proposal that one be blocked several hours daily during harvest by the railroad.

Probably the most far-reaching issue was an ordinance the council passed, which requires all future streets to be constructed of concrete instead of asphalt.

During a discussion on the issue, it was pointed out that all bids on new streets the past few years had been lower for concrete than asphalt, and the benefits of less maintenance made the material far more appealing.

Mark Bottles asked that three blocks of East Lafayette be covered by gravel, because of dirt road conditions during wet periods. He said the owners would participate in the cost of materials.

However, one family in the neighborhood complained about washing water caused by the street, and action was delayed until an engineering study and recommendations can be made.

By resolution, the council accepted the street work of newly-completed 700 block of West Louisa.

Council members also approved a change order on the street work being done on Fourth Street, to have curb and gutter installed on a half-block strip north of Van Horn. The area had been left out when curb and gutter was installed by developers, and is believed to be a source of pavement deterioration on Van Horn.

Also approved was abandoning of 40 feet right of way on the north side of the 800 block of East Park, where the 150-foot dedicated street is not used.

An ordinance amending the code for placement of traffic signs at intersections was approved. Stop signs will be placed for south traffic on Fourth at West Highway; east and west traffic on Van Horn at Fourth, and for west traffic on Louisa at Third.

Yield signs for east and west traffic will be placed on Louisa at Second; north traffic on Wall at Valley and north traffic on Hope at Valley.

Aldermen rejected an appeal by developer Ray Townsend to finance the paving of East Garden Drive, and at the same time instructed the city administrator to not permit any more construction on the unpaved lots until paving is completed.

A discussion was held on the prospects of opening and paving Louisa between First and Second Streets, but no action was taken.

Aldermen turned down a request from Texoma Ag Products to block Wall traffic at the railroad crossing between 8 and 11 a.m. on certain mornings during harvest season, to allow for extra cars to be placed at the firm's loading leg.

Administrator James Barrington also reported to the council on a suit against a man who purchased the house that used to block Fourth Street on West Highway, to force its removal from the site.

Two other resolutions approved by Local, county stock shows get underway this weekend

The annual Iowa Park 4-H and FFA Project Show, which serves as a final tuneup for the Wichita County Junior Livestock Show, is set to unfold at 9 a.m. Saturday at the school's stock barn on West Ruby.

Jointly sponsored by the Wichita County Young Farmers and Iowa Park MuleSkinners, some 140 head of stock will be displayed by local 4-H club and Future Farmers of America members, each vying for prize money and trophies as well as showmanship awards.

The order in which stock will be judged is horses, broilers, rabbits, turkeys, lambs, hogs and beef cattle. Show officials say the break for lunch will probably follow judging of lambs.

Largest classes will be lambs and hogs, in which some 45 head each is expected. The 16th annual county show will open Sunday at the 4-H barn on Midwestern Parkway in Wichita Falls, and conclude Tuesday evening with the premium sale.

Judging begins Sunday afternoon with broilers and turkeys. Judging of rabbits will begin at 9 a.m. Monday, to be followed by breeding sheep, market lambs, and breeding and market swine.

Dairy goats will be judged Tuesday morning, with steers and dairy stock later in the day.

The Young Farmers will hold a free chili feed for all prospective buyers, starting at 6 p.m. The sale is to follow at 7.

This year's show was scheduled next week to coincide with spring break, which all students of county schools are observing next week. In doing so, none of the students will miss any school. Officials are aware of new school regulations restricting the time students can miss class, as set by HB 72.

Valley View resident Jimmy Howell is president of the county show organization this year. He is a former vocational agriculture instructor at Iowa Park High, and is currently a member of the school's board of trustees.

Several other familiar names of area residents are on the board of directors, including Ronnie Cravens, Ray Gholson, Richard Davis, Ray Hicks, Barry Mahler, C.E. Myers, Rex Wells, James Whitaker and Dennis Brooks.

WENDY HICKS AND KEITH MEADOWS

Announce engagement

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Hicks announce the engagement of their daughter, Wendy, and Keith Meadows, son of Mr. and Mrs. Milford Meadows of Weatherford. The couple will be married June 22 at the First Baptist Church in Iowa Park.

Miss Hicks, a graduate of Texas A&M Univ., is a vocational agriculture teacher at Bellevue High School. Her fiancé, who also received a degree from Texas A&M, is a county agent in Wise County.

Club members tour historical landmark

The 23 Study Club members toured the Kell House in Wichita Falls, a historical landmark in the area, Thursday for the observance of the annual Texas Heritage Day program.

The house built in the early 1900 period is an exciting world of color and charm with its fine old marble-topped furniture, seven fireplaces, chandeliers, priceless accessories that belonged to the Frank Kell family, and other discriminately gathered pieces of the period that have either been donated or loaned.

One of the downstairs rooms that members was the parlor where three of the Kell daughters were married. It still has the original furniture and the curtains that were hung in 1909. The room is a favorite wedding setting for many of today's brides that descend the winding stairs into the parlor.

The docent who directed the tour said that the library downstairs speaks more of Frank Kell than any room in the house. At one time it contained more than 2,000 volumes of southwest history, all of which have been donated to a large historical library.

The five bedrooms upstairs speak of Mrs. Kell and the daughters. Two of them reek with sentimental interest. The master bedroom, according to the docent, was first occupied by the oldest daughter until her marriage, then the next oldest moved in until her marriage. Miss Willie Mae was the only daughter that never married.

The guest bedroom with its Brussels carpet, clothes and dolls of the early 1900s, brass bed draped with a bedspread made by Miss Willie Mae, who had discriminating taste, and partially covered with a fine quilt made by Mrs. Kell, has a wide range of interests to beckon to all who appreciate the treasures of the past.

Preceding the tour, club members met at the home of Mrs. China B. Smith for a business meeting and refreshments.

Mrs. Keith Auld was in charge of business. Mrs. John Rentschler was elected treasurer to fill the vacancy created by the resignation of Mrs. H.W. Carter, who is moving to Nacogdoches to establish residence.

The annual guest day will be held March 21 at First Presbyterian Church and will feature a book review by Margaret Dverkon of Wichita Falls.

Historical community subject of program

The Philia Study Club held the March meeting Monday evening at Texas Electric Reddy Room. Mrs. Vern Horsky and Mrs. Steve Lowe were the hostesses.

A Texas Heritage program presented by Miss Linda Ayres on Jefferson, a community in East Texas and a living page of Texas history, highlighted the meeting. She said that it has charming antebellum homes, priceless antiques, a fine museum, the famous Excelsior Hotel and other historic buildings that have been carefully preserved and restored.

The history-laden town, where the once navigable Cypress River flows past the business section, has 78 buildings that have the official Texas medallion, some of which are now entered in the national register.

As she described the varied and interesting history of the town, the speaker noted that it was the first town in the United States to manufacture artificial ice and gas for carbonation. It was the first place in Texas to manufacture beer and the first meeting of the Southern Baptist Convention was held there.

Miss Ayres enhanced interest in the program by giving a detailed account of the story of Jay Gould, one of the prominent railroad tycoons, who put a curse on the town because the city fathers denied his request for a right of way for his railroad. She said that it was ironic that his favorite railroad car found its resting place in the town and is a center of interest.

She gave an interesting account of the Diamond Bessie murder trial that was held there and said that Jefferson now presents a play that portrays the trial.

Miss Ayres said that Jefferson holds an annual pilgrimage the first week in May each year, the culmination of the hard work of the garden club and the entire city.

She closed with a movie presentation of several of the home and furnishings and other places of interest that are featured on the tour. These included The Museum, The Manor, Rowell House, Bluebonnet Farm, Freeman Plantation, House of Four Seasons and others.

Mrs. James Rinehart conducted the business. Members answered roll call by sharing names of Texas towns and cities where they had lived.

As I See It....

By BOB HAMILTON

I got my hand called on a statement I made in error last week, about the national debt.

I said the debt was $12-trillion. That was wrong.

What I should have said was, the sum of the federal debt, obligations and federal liabilities amounts to something like $12-trillion, which is a $152,967 lien on every American.

Sorry about that.

Through most of my younger years, I must admit that I misinterpreted the political thinking of older citizens.

I had thought the old timers voted against progressive ideas, changes in systems, new leadership and the such had done so solely because they wanted to keep control over the communities in which I lived.

Possibly, this was true in some cases. But for the most part, I now believe I was incorrect.

As I grow older, I find I'm more comfortable with routines I've developed. I like to go to bed and get up about the same time; I've got to have my coffee and paper first thing after my morning shower; I dress by routine, putting on my left sock first; I drive the same route to and from work; I like to catch the 5:30 national news on tv; I'm lost if I can't play golf Thursday afternoons.

Fact of the matter is, if I can't follow my routine, I'm afraid I'll forget something, and I'm more comfortable doing things if I don't have to study what I'm going to do next.

I guess you'd call that routine.

But routine is something I'm beginning to fight. I understand that routine also means rut, and I'd just as soon not live my life in a rut.

For that reason, I think you're going to see a lot of changes around the Leader in the next few weeks.

We're figuring out new hours, which we hope will meet the needs of our readers and customers better. We're going to do some fixing up of our building, to try to make it more attractive. We're going to have more features for those who enjoy such reading.

And I'm going to fight real hard not to be as grumpy as I catch myself being from time to time.

I guess the only routine I want to really develop, is to produce the quality of newspaper that will be appealing to everyone and demanded by as many.

Bethania fund drive coming

Bethania Regional Health Care Center's "Commitment to Caring Campaign" is to get its county-wide drive kickoff at a luncheon today in Wichita Falls.

Drives are to begin here and in Burkburnett today, and next week in Electra, though no goals have been set for any of the three.

Heading the campaign for Iowa Park will be Tim Hunter. He is to have his list of volunteer workers completed by the kickoff, and expects to have all contacts completed within a couple of weeks.

The campaign is less than $900,000 from its minimum goal of $2.5-million, with receipts reported earlier this week of $1,604,147.

"I am extremely pleased by our progress to date," said David Wolverton, general chairman. "Our Pacesetter and Special Gifts divisions are both well on their way toward their respective goals," he said.

The Pacesetter Gifts division, approaching foundations and larger donors in the Wichita Falls area, was launched Jan. 30 and has raised $745,950.

Having started Feb. 21, the Special Gifts division has raised $114,690 by contacting Wichita Falls area businesses and individuals.

The project is to provide the balance of funds to support a comprehensive expansion and modernization program that will cost an estimated $22.5-million. Of this, $18.5 million is being financed through sale of tax-exempt bonds and $1.5-million from previously design-nated hospital funds.

The entire project has been approved by the Texas Health Facilities Commission, from which Bethania has already been granted a "certificate of need."

Implementation of the program will take place in two phases over the next two years.

Trio arrested for theft

When police officer Dennis Lepak stopped a vehicle at 2:13 a.m. last Thursday, he didn't know he would turn up a stolen vehicle, as well as drug paraphernalia.

Lepak stopped the vehicle near the intersection of Johnson Road and US 287, and when he ran a check on the plates through the Department of Public Safety, the report came back that it was reported as stolen from Fort Worth.

He immediately took the three occupants, two white males and a black female, into custody. Later, drug paraphernalia, described as a small, portable laboratory, was found, but no drugs.

Zenita Annette Shaw, 18, Ronald Patrick Turner, 28, and Dennis Burtlow, 24, were held in the local jail until they were turned over to Wichita County Sheriff's Office personnel at 11:28 a.m.

The trio was scheduled to appear before Judge G.A. Benesh in municipal court yesterday morning, but couldn't make it. By then, they were in Tarrant County jail, awaiting trial for theft of vehicle.

James Vincent Rohrbaugh, 24, was arrested Saturday by local police at 409 Valley Dr. on a felony warrant from Dallas County Sheriff's Department. He was released to Wichita County deputies the same date to be held for transfer to Dallas, where he faces a charge of "theft over $200."

Harold Weaver was arrested at 11:04 a.m. Friday outside his home at 906 Dostia, after firemen had been called to fight a fire inside the house. He was charged with public intoxication, but was not released until 3:50 p.m., when he was taken to Red River Hospital by court order out of Wichita Falls.

Candidates draw for places

The order in which candidates' names will appear on the April 6 city and school election ballots was determined last week by drawings.

On the city ballot, both newcomer candidates will appear first. The order of names on the ballot will be Andy Arrington, Diane Robnett, Johnny Coker and George Hammonds.

The top three vote receivers will be declared in the at-large balloting.

School trustee candidates will run by place for the first time this year.

Place one on the ballot will pit incumbent Ray Hicks against James Richter. Roy Boutwell, incumbent, is unchallenged for place two. Incumbent Martha Dudley's name will appear first for place three voting. She is challenged by Bob Goodknight.

Absentee voting will begin Monday. Those voting absentee in the city election must do so at city hall, while the absentee poll for the school election is at the administration building.

the council were one which changed the minimum lot size in areas zoned R-1 from 6,000 square feet to 7,000 and frontage from 50 to 60; and the other revised the city's personnel leave policy to comply with state and federal law.

A resolution was approved to submit an application to the Texas Criminal Justice Division for a continuation grant to fund an additional officer of the police department.

M.F. Litteken was the lowest of five bids received on the second phase of renovation of city hall. The firm bid $66,290, but that was reduced to $59,010 after certain features were withdrawn from the specifications. Litteken's estimated completion date is Aug. 10.

The second phase of remodeling is primarily concerned with the interior of the original building, and also addition of a drive-through window on the south side for utility customer payments.

Three proclamations were read and signed by Mayor Hunter: establishing April 1-7 Iowa Park Business and Industry Week; setting April 14-20 as Iowa Park Clean-Up and Fix-Up Week; and March 12 as Camp Fire Day.

district in Iowa Park, a computer is necessary. In fact, he said the estimated cost of $32,505 would be saved in labor savings over a three and a half year period.

Trustees indicated they want to keep the office here, and told Shewmake to proceed with obtaining information for consideration.

Also approved was a proposal to cooperate with a neighboring school district, none named as yet, in hiring a school nurse. A nurse would be valuable in administering vision and hearing tests, as well as records keeping, three days a week, Cowley said.

Carlette Kelly spoke for a group requesting kindergarten children be scheduled the entire school year, either half a day or whole day, instead of all day half a semester, which is now the schedule.

After hearing a report from Mrs. John Sibley concerning such scheduling, which included a survey made of first grade teachers, trustees voted to retain the present program. Only Marilyn Hale voted against retention.

Mrs. Kelly said students who attend the first semester tend to forget what they've learned by the time they enter first grade in September.

But Mrs. Sibley's survey indicated first-semester kindergarten students do better in every respect when in the first grade than do the second semester students.

Trustees told Cowley to proceed with bid advertising for shaping and a grass cover of the east berm at Hawk Stadium, and also to have additional dirt hauled onto the playing field to have it shaped for better drainage.

Bid specs are also to be prepared for advertising to have a drain system placed around the track, and after that a new track is to be built.

With those improvements, plus a special mowing tractor, new scoreboard and new lights, costs for the improvements are expected to be in the neighborhood of $228,800.

Advertisements to have the old stadium at the junior high field torn down and new stands erected were also approved by the board.

School board gives personnel attention

Holiday school board focused its attention on personnel during Monday night's regular monthly meeting, awarding contracts to the majority of teachers while accepting resignations in high school and shuffling elementary personnel to accommodate the new state-mandated guidelines.

RESIGNATIONS ACCEPTED

Both the band director and assistant director, Mark Cartwright and Mark Bannister, resigned their posts, leaving the band department virtually without instructors. Also, girls athletic coach Jeannie Wilson submitted her resignation, which trustees approved.

Teachers, aides and secretaries in high school were also hired back for the 1985-86 school year, except for the vocational department, where board members agreed not to hire back head instructor Cal Gaulden for another year.

Superintendent Dan Owen, speaking of rumors currently circulating around the school district that the board was attempting to phase out the vocational agriculture program in Holiday, said the rumors are absolutely unfounded, explaining that the board's decision was based on Gaulden's unsatisfactory evaluations on job performance and general attitude. "We have not made any plans on cutting it (vocational agriculture) out or cutting it back," Owen responded.

In the elementary level, grades kindergarten through sixth, all teachers were hired back for the next school year. In addition, Sue Richter, kindergarten teacher, was hired as an additional lower grade teacher, and Sandy Riddles, aide, was also hired to teach the lower grades.

The hiring of additional elementary personnel was done to meet guidelines in HB-72 and the teacher-student ratio. All lower grade teachers were hired based on recommendations from principal Carol Magee.

In the middle school, grades seven and eight, all teachers and aides were hired back based on recommendations from principal Jake Cottrell. The board also named Cottrell as principal and teacher for the 85-86 school year, removing the experienced athletic instructor from coaching completely. He will teach social studies.

High school personnel other than Wilson, Gaulden, Cartwright and Bannister were hired back based on recommendations from principal Bill Lee, including secretaries and aides.

All maintenance and cafeteria workers were also hired back, based on recommendations from Owen.

The board also voted to add two additional personnel units in high school next year to meet guidelines in Chapter 75 for curriculum. Owen said the teachers will be hired to teach social studies, English or math, or a combination.

Trustees did not announce the salaries, wanting to first work up a preliminary budget for the coming year before earmarking the funds available. The board hopes to address salaries during its April meeting.

Eagles earn state ranking

Holiday's Eagles baseball team found itself ranked in the state's top 10 in Class AA early this week, and Tuesday won its second straight game of the season to remain undefeated, beating back crosscountry rival Archer City 7-5.

Junior Kyle Bedford picked up the win, while Kent Pair took the loss for the Wildcats. Eagle Shane Daniels had the hot bat, hitting in two of three trips to the plate, including a homerun. Teammate Lyle Jeffcoat also led the offensive fireworks with a three-for-four performance. Bedford allowed only five hits, while Holiday totalled seven of its own.

In the Texas Schoolboy Poll, released Tuesday, Holiday was ranked sixth in the state, ahead of district rival Nocona, which has been holding on to the ninth spot on the top list since the start of the season.

Coach Jake Cottrell's team will host Henrietta at 4:30 tomorrow in a conference tilt. Then on Saturday the Eagles will compete in the Notre Dame Baseball Tournament. The next scheduled conference game after Henrietta is Friday, March 22, when the Eagles host Nocona for an important contest for both teams.

Sales tax check is increased

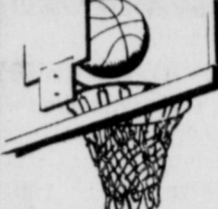

The February rebate check from the state showed a slight increase for the City of Holiday, with $6,857 added to the city's coffers, from city sales and use tax allocations.

That amount is less than two-percent more than the amount received in a comparable period in 1984, and gives the city a total of $23,564 taken in this year.

JOHN FECHER WITH CRAFT WORKS HE WILL SHOW IN WICHITA FALLS
... wind chimes his specialty, with unfinished wooden spinner.

He makes wind music

Among the 67 participants in the 11th annual Sikes Senter Mall Art and Craft Show, to be held Mar. 21-23, is an Iowa Parkan who is patiently waiting until 1987 so he can retire and start a new industry here.

John Fecher has been in the Postal Service since 1959. But during that time, he's been involved in a number of off-duty projects that have both consumed his time and supplemented his income.

He has, the past five years, been producing various size wind chimes which are marketed throughout the southwestern states. His plans are to go into the business full time, after he retires from the Postal Service, and hopefully will create numerous new jobs in the community.

Fecher was raised in Wichita Falls, graduating high school there. He and his wife, Eleanor, moved here in 1961. He has been assigned to various areas of Wichita Falls and Sheppard AFB in his postal carrier job, and currently is working out of the University Station.

More than 20 years of off-duty work has been in the house painting business. He still does a few jobs, but is about out of that phase.

Then he became interested in photography and began taking pictures at weddings. A major portion of his back yard on South Bell Road was consumed by a building he constructed, to serve as his studio and dark room.

In late 1980, Fecher had to undergo surgery on a knee. It was during his recuperating time that his wife said she wanted a wind chime. So he undertook building one, and it was during that project that he discovered his interest.

He now devotes about 20 hours a week in production of the five models he has cataloged, and markets about 350 sets of chimes annually.

His models range in pipe length from 10 to 28 inches. They're attractive and musical.

His products will be on display at the Art and Craft Show, which is sponsored by the Sheppard Art League, during regular mall hours of 10 a.m. to 9 p.m.

Also displaying their products will be artists from throughout Texas, Oklahoma, Arkansas and Florida.

Brochures give divestiture answers

Tele-Help, a Southwestern Bell Telephone information campaign, is being expanded. The program was launched in August 1984 to increase customer understanding of changes in telephone service due to divestiture.

"Tele-Help was designed to provide customers with answers to some of the most common questions regarding telephone service that arose due to divestiture," said Dan Adams, community relations manager. "The program was designed to assure customers, especially those in small and medium-size towns, that we're committed to help them better understand the changes in our business."

Adams said that a set of six free brochures were featured initially in the program. They covered various aspects of telephone service such as how to handle phone repair, tips on buying a phone, understanding the phone bill and a guide to long distance service. More than 1.5-million of these brochures have been distributed in Texas.

"Most questions our customers had were actually shared by customers all over the state. By addressing these most common questions we could help customers on a broad scale," Adams continued.

"Now, a second set of questions will be addressed in our continuing effort to keep customers informed."

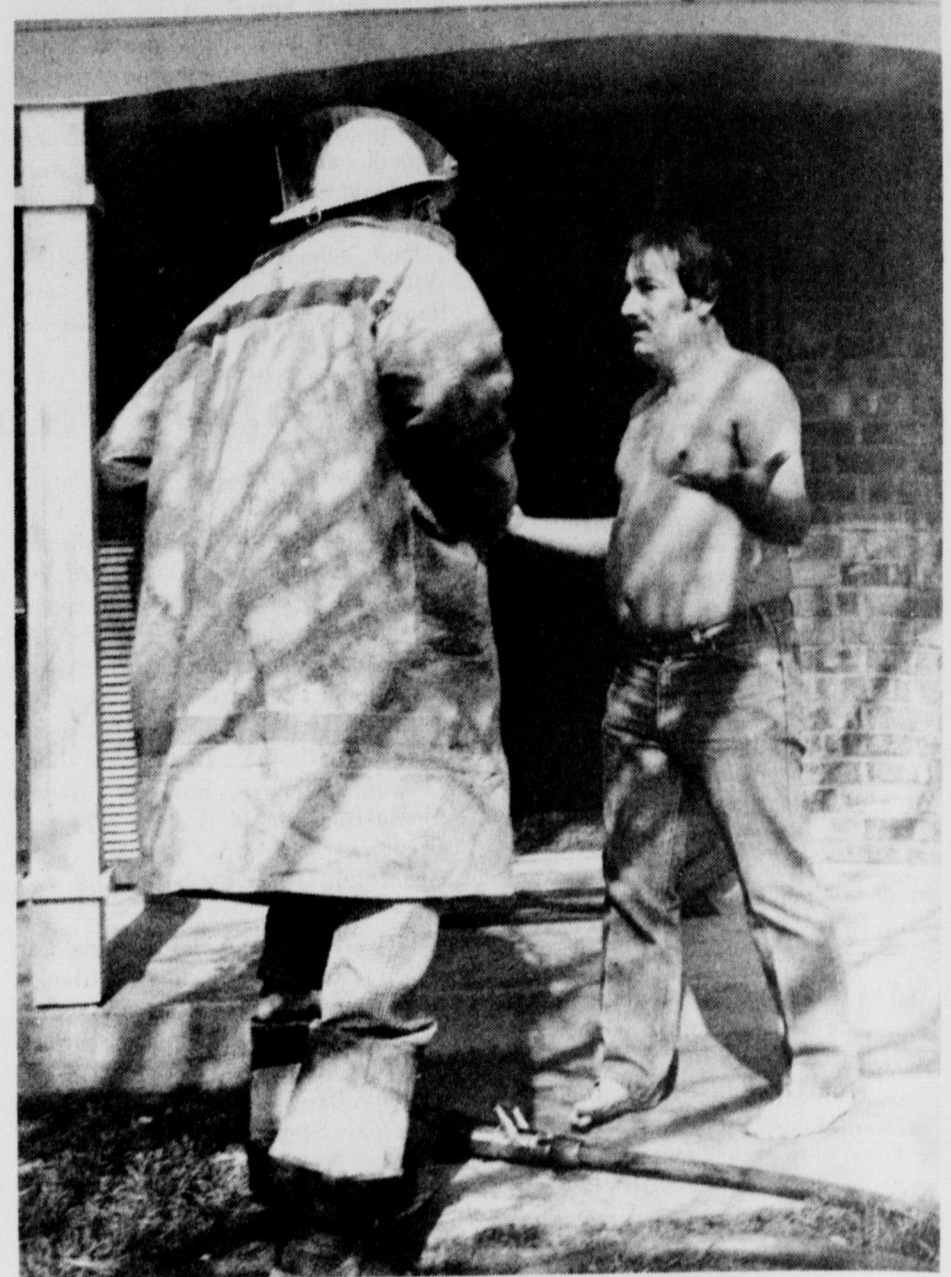

New Tele-Help brochures cover the following topics: home security, establishing new telephone service, inside telephone wiring, local service options and how to handle annoying telephone calls.

Adams said Texas customers can get any or all of either set of free brochures by calling a special toll-free number 1-800-325-2686, extension 82. Order coupons for the brochures also will be in customer telephone bills inserts and in newspaper ads.

The topics for the new brochures were determined by interviews with customers. Adams said that future

Tele-Help topics will be decided in a similar manner.

"We sincerely feel Tele-Help has helped ease customer confusion. It has been one way to answer common questions, minimize confusion brought about by divestiture and assure customers that we are committed to keep service at a high level," Adams concluded.

TRIES TO EXPLAIN - Harold Weaver, without shirt, tries to explain how his house caught fire Friday morning to volunteer fireman Wayne Williams. The house, at 906 Dosa, sustained an undetermined amount of damage from flames that originated in the central heating unit room. The fire continues to be investigated.

Fire burns mechanic

Mechanic Deryl James received minor burns to his right hand, but experienced some fire damage to his personal vehicle and shop Friday evening.

A safety light exploded, igniting some gasoline while James was underneath the car, working on it.

In a household where both husband and wife work, it is almost essential that the meals be both quick and easily reheated. This week's cook, Leslie (Mrs. Jerry) Pruet, has submitted recipes such as this.

Leslie and her husband are both employed by Wichita County where she is a tax deputy. She has lived in Iowa Park all her life with the exception of a few months shortly after she married.

Of the three main dishes Leslie submitted, all are hearty and can be easily reheated. One dish in particular, the ONE DISH DINNER, requires little attention while it cooks and is practically a meal in itself.

ONE DISH DINNER

3 lbs. hamburger meat
5 med. potatoes
4 or 5 carrots
1 can French onion soup
1 can water

Place hamburger meat in roaster just as it comes from the package. Bake uncovered for 30 minutes and drain off all grease. Place potatoes and carrots (quartered or cut) around the partially cooked meat. Pour can of soup over all. Add 1 soup can hot water. Cover and cook until potatoes and carrots are tender.

LAYERED PUDDING DELIGHT

14 whole graham crackers
1 pkg. (6-serving size) vanilla instant pudding mix
2 cups cold milk
1 cup thawed Cool Whip
1 can (21 oz.) cherry pie filling

Line 9-inch square pan with whole graham crackers, breaking crackers if necessary. Prepare pudding mix with milk as directed on package for pudding. Let stand 5 minutes, then blend in whipped topping. Spread half the pudding mixture over the crackers. Add another layer of crackers; top with remaining pudding mixture and crackers. Spread cherry pie filling over top layer of crackers. Chill 3 hours. Makes 9 servings.

MEXICAN BAKED CHICKEN SALAD

3 cups chopped cooked chicken
1 cup shredded Cheddar cheese
1 cup celery slices
1/4 cup chopped onion
1/4 cup pitted ripe olive slices
1/4 t. hot pepper sauce
1/2 cup Miracle Whip salad dressing
Tomato slices
1 1/2 cups corn chips

Combine chicken, cheese, celery, onion, olive and hot pepper sauce. Add salad dressing; mix lightly. Spoon mixture into 10x6-inch baking dish; top with tomato. Bake at 350 degrees, 25 minutes. Top with corn chips. 6 servings.

CREAMY POTATO BISQUE

6 tablespoons butter or margarine
1 large onion chopped
1 cup chopped celery (including some tops)
3 to 4 medium-size thin-skinned potatoes, peeled and cut into 1/2-inch cubes (4 cups total)
1/4 cup finely chopped parsley
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon pepper
4 cups regular-strength chicken broth or 4 chicken bouillon cubes dissolved in 4 cups water
1 quart (4 cups) milk
3 tablespoons cornstarch mixed with 1/4 cup water
Finely chopped parsley

In an 8 to 10-quart kettle over medium heat, melt 4 tablespoons of the butter; add onion and celery and cook, stirring occasionally, until onion is very soft (about 10 minutes).

Add potatoes, the 1/4 cup parsley, 1/2 teaspoon of the salt, 1/4 teaspoon of the pepper, and broth. Bring to a boil; cover, reduce heat, and simmer until potatoes are tender when pierced (about 30 minutes).

Stir in milk and cook, covered, until soup is heated through (do not boil). Stir cornstarch mixture and add to soup. Continue cooking and stirring until soup boils and thickens (about 5 minutes). Season with more salt and pepper, if desired.

Just before serving, pour into a soup tureen, float remaining butter (about 2 tablespoons) on top, and sprinkle with parsley. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

SHRIMP BISQUE

For a delicious variation, follow recipe for Creamy Potato Bisque, stirring in 1 1/4 pounds small cooked shrimp or 2 packages (12 oz. each) frozen shrimp, partially thawed, just before adding cornstarch mixture.

CHOCOLATE CHIP BUNDT CAKE

Yellow cake mix
Small package chocolate instant pudding
8 oz. sour cream
1/4 cup oil
1/4 cup water
6 oz. (small pkg.) chocolate chips
4 eggs
1 tsp. vanilla

Mix together in large bowl. Add eggs one at a time, stirring after each. Bake in greased and floured bundt pan for 50 minutes. Let cool for an hour before removing from pan.

IRS Tax Tips

NEW LAW INCREASES EARNED INCOME CREDIT

Earned income credit, a tax benefit for certain low income persons, has been expanded to allow for the effect of inflation and higher social security taxes, according to the Internal Revenue Service.

In 1984, qualified persons were allowed a maximum credit of $500, which was gradually phased out as income increased to $10,000. Beginning in 1985, the credit will equal 11 percent of the first $5,000 for a maximum credit of $550. If income is greater than $5,000, the credit continues to gradually phase out. With an income of $11,000 there is no benefit at all.

The credit may be computed only on earned income, such as wages or self-employment. Since it is refundable, it may be claimed even though income is so low that there is no tax liability. It may be entered on either Form 1040 or Form 1040A.

Earned income credit is available to low income persons who provide a home in the United States that they share with a child for an entire year. Married persons must also file a joint return and claim the child as a dependent.

If you feel that you may qualify to receive the earned income credit, but would like help with preparing your tax return, you can get that help free of charge at any of the neighborhood Volunteer Income Tax Assistance (VITA) centers. For a complete list of the VITA locations and their hours of service, call toll-free 1-800-424-1040.

NUTRITION AND EXERCISE REDUCE STROKE MORTALITY

The decline in stroke mortality in the United States may be due to better nutrition and more exercise on the part of many Americans, according to Kenneth Manton, PhD, from Center of Demographic Studies, Duke University, Durham, N.C. The stroke-related deaths declined by 46% from 1968 to 1981. Dr. Manton says this trend will continue. Effective clinical management of hypertension and prompt treatment of cerebrovascular disease also have reduced stroke mortality. But although deaths from cerebrovascular disease has dropped, it is still the third leading cause of death in the United States.

Tips On Dental Health

RICHARD CARVER, D.D.S.

LOSS OF A TOOTH

When a tooth is removed - unless it is a wisdom tooth - several things begin to happen to the other teeth.

* The tooth opposite the space begins to extrude (grow longer). This changes the relationship it has to the teeth on either side of it forming spaces that trap food and promotes decay and causes bad breath.

* The tooth behind the space tries to move forward, but usually falls over and tilts to the front.

* The tooth in front of the space begins to move backward and rotate. This opens spaces toward the front.

* As each tooth in its turn moves, it allows or causes the teeth on either side of it, or opposite to it to move.

* All of these changes increases the chances the person will have gum disease, decay, jaw pain, and bad breath.

Unless the loss of the tooth is due to gum disease already present, many times it can be saved by endodontics (root canal treatment). If the tooth must be removed it is usually best to have it replaced as soon as possible with a fixed bridge or possibly a removable partial.

Hunting limited at city lakes

In response to inquiries about hunting at Iowa Park's two lakes west of town, shotguns only may be used to hunt birds, but only when the birds are in season.

Numerous inquiries have been made to various officials recently, concerning firing of guns at Lakes Iowa Park and Buffalo.

Under "Article Two, Parks and Playground Rules and Regulations," three paragraphs refer to hunting and firing of arms at the lakes. They are:

"(a) The discharge of any rifle, side arm, compressed air gun or air gun on park property owned by the city is prohibited except for hunting as authorized herein.

"(b) Shotguns only may be used for hunting on lake property wholly owned by the city, but located outside the city limits, for the taking of game birds during season. Discharge of shotguns outside of season is strictly prohibited. The taking of game birds shall be strictly in accordance with the general laws of the state, as the same are, or may be amended, as outlined by the state game and fish commission.

"(c) All firearms are prohibited on those easement properties surrounding the lakes. Persons trespassing on easement properties will be subject to prosecution by the owner."

The ordinance, number 236, was passed in November, 1976.

Students must 'make the grade'

Local students are now having to "make the grade" in order to participate in extracurricular activities, because of state legislation approved last summer which took effect in January.

The legislation entails that a student must pass all academic classes - with a grade of 70 or above - in order to be eligible to participate in extracurricular activities. These activities include athletics, drama, music, literary, 4-H, Future Homemakers of America, Future Farmers of America, and Office Education Association, as well as others.

If a student receives one or more failing grades in one six weeks grading period, he or she is ineligible to participate for the next six weeks.

Bob Dawson, principal of Iowa Park High School, feels that this system is too strict. He said, "Before the ruling came into effect, students had to be passing four out of seven classes four days prior to an (extracurricular) event. I thought that was slightly lenient. Now the student must pass all seven course the prior six weeks to be eligible. It's too difficult. It has gone from one extreme to the other."

Although the ruling has affected Iowa Park schools, they have not been hard-hit. Organization sponsors indicate 66 participants are failing. However, because some students may be participating in more than one activity, the number of failing students may be fewer than 66.

The number of students failing in each activity are: FFA, 16; band, 10; choir (both chorale and A Cappella), 17; tennis, 8; boys and girls track, 11; baseball, one; and FHA, 14.

A total number of 330 students were registered to participate in extracurricular activities.

Of 346 junior high students participating in extracurricular activities, 49 students were reported as failing. This includes boys and girls athletics, 21; tennis, seven; band, four; and choir, 17. The total number of high school and junior high students failing was not available.

Local educators agree that the problem is not in learning, but in completing assignments. "Ninety per cent of our failures are not having learning problems," said Dawson, "but are just not doing their outside class work and turning it in."

Also he said, "We're not having any more failures now than we did last year, even with an additional class each day and raising the passing grade five points (from 65 to 70)."

Although Dawson feels that the ruling "puts a great amount of pressure on the student and on the teacher in the classroom," he doesn't think that it will discourage students from participating in extracurricular activities.
