FOR HAWKS

Season opener set tomorrow at Burkburnett

There's a lot of "getting even" involved in tomorrow night's season opener when Iowa Park travels to Burkburnett for an 8 p.m. kickoff.

The Hawks will be trying to even their 20-year win-loss record, as the Bulldogs hold a 10-9 edge.

And Burk coach Jerry Watson, entering his second year there, likely wants to even his record with the Hawks, who edged the Class AAAA Dogs 25-18 in the 1987 opener here.

But the game won't be all to do with "even," as new Hawk head coach Len Williams will be making his debut with the Mean Green, and his aim is to establish a dominance over the black and orange.

"We're (as a team) right now where we want to be," Williams told the Iowa Park Lions Club Tuesday, when he was asked his opinion on the progress of his varsity.

Williams and Watson have each looked at films of their teams, and the Iowa Park mentor is impressed with the quickness of the Bulldogs, especially quarterback Rob Johnson and runningback Michael Ivory. He called them "game-breakers."

He said his defense must contain those two, as well as shutting down Johnson's passing game.

"Ivory is as good (a back) as I've ever seen," Williams said, "but he doesn't scare the Hawks."

Offensively, Williams' probable starters against Burk will be: Jimmy Duggins, 163, junior, quarterback; Marc Cruz, 150, junior, tailback; Gary Tatum, 189, senior, fullback, and Rual Swanson, 145, senior, wingback.

His line will likely include: Scot Davis, 204, senior, center; Jay Loggins, 200, junior, guard; Gary Green, 243, sophomore, guard; Clay Williams, 264, junior, tackle; Peter Armstrong, 222, senior, tackle; Kelly McClure, 157, junior, tight end; and Bruce Palmer, 150, junior, split end.

Should Armstrong, who has been out since the Holiday scrimmage with a leg injury, be unable to start, some linemen will be moved and Robert Cargal, 215, sophomore, will likely get the nod.

Defensively, probable starters will be: Swanson, corner; Green and Loggins, tackles; Tatum, linebacker; and Cruz and Duggins, safeties.

Also, Tony Taylor, 218, senior, and Will McCarthy, 166, senior, defensive ends; Frankie Chacon, 140, senior, corner; Mike Lubinski, 199, senior, linebacker; Lee Cokendolpher, 176, senior, nose guard, or possibly Chuck Brown, 171, junior, at nose guard.

Some of the individuals the coach singled out during his talk before the Lions, included Davis, the center. "He's not imposing to look at, but he has done an excellent job. He's probably the best center I've ever been associated with," commented the former Mart head coach who has a long string of championship clubs on his record.

About his two-way sophomore starting lineman, Green, Williams said he reminds him of Bub Deeringwater, who was a star at Rider High in Wichita Falls, Williams' alma mater. "Except he (Green) doesn't carry the ball."

With the loss of punter Robert Johnson, who was injured a week earlier in an auto accident and will likely be unable to play the rest of the season, Williams said the punting chores would be turned over to Tatum.

Michael Johnson will likely do the kicking off, and McClure the point-after and field goal kicking.

Looking further along in the season at the Hawks' chances of repeating as district champions, the coach pointed out that Vernon has been picked ahead of Iowa Park. Decatur is strong and Bridgeport is "surprising."

But, returning to the game at hand, the season opener Friday at Burkburnett, Williams announced, "Our kids are ready for 'em!"

OTHER GAME

Despite the fact that schools are starting today, the freshmen and junior varsity teams kick off their seasons tonight.

The freshmen will take on Burkburnett in Hawk Stadium, starting at 6 p.m., with the JV game following about 7:30.

Funding of rural truck is concern for firemen

The Iowa Park Volunteer Fire Department is needing to replace two grassfire fighting trucks, but just how it will be funded poses a problem, according to Bob Evans, president of the organization.

Evans says the department now has two trucks used almost exclusively for fighting grassfires, and they are 13 years or older.

Maintenance on one of the units is costing as much as $5,000 a year, which firemen believe could be better spent toward new trucks.

Evans said the department had requested a truck be donated by Burlington Railroad, but the request was denied.

"I don't understand how they could deny our request," he said. "We fight dozens of fires each year that are caused by their trains, sometimes as many as five at one time."

The fireman said he was hopeful that rural property owners would be the major source of providing funds to purchase replacements.

Over the years, Iowa Park firemen leave the city limits 75 percent of their calls to fight fires in the rural areas, figures show.

The department received $8,400 in funding from Wichita County last year. That money went into the city's budget of $38,595 for the department, according to James Barrington, city administrator.

The administrator said next year's budget calls for an increase of $1,000. But that hasn't been acted on yet by the city council.

Council members recently went on record as being critical of the county for its lack of financial support to the volunteer departments.

The city's budget for the department is used to pay telephone, electric and natural gas bills, as well as purchasing of gasoline, medical and firefighting supplies.

None of the money is paid to the police department as the fire department's portion of radio dispatching costs, as some have believed, Barrington explained.

Accentuating the department's problems of fund-raising is the fact that the city must, during the next two years, purchase a new pumper, which is considerably more expensive than a grassfire fighting truck that costs between $30,000 and $40,000.

Should a new pumper not be purchased, at a time designated by the state, the "key" insurance rates would be increased for homeowners and businesses.

Evans said he was hopeful the commissioners' court would hike its funding for the local department to approximately $20,000. He said, however, that hope and actual money could be well apart.

Firemen plan to earn money to help purchase new grassfire trucks by helping the sheriff deputy group that plans to have the Beach Boys here for a concert soon, as well as other fund-raising projects.

What Evans and the other firemen are hoping for, is owners of rural property, both homes and agriculture, will start making donations to the department for all the fires they've fought outside the city...so they can continue the practice.

Drivers encouraged: watch school zones

With Iowa Park schools opening today, the police department is reminding motorists to obey all school zone signs and crossing guards, and at all times use caution while driving.

Patrol officers will be strictly enforcing the school zones, said Alan Sheffield, police chief.

Driving speeds are limited to 20 miles per hour in school zones from 7:45 to 8:45 in the mornings and 2:30 to 4:15 in the afternoons on school days.

Areas affected include: Fourth Street - northbound and southbound between Vogel and a point 300 feet north of Lincoln;

Third Street - northbound and southbound between Vogel and Manes;

Texowa Street - northbound and southbound from Emerald to the city limit line of the Garden Valley Addition;

East Diamond - eastbound and westbound between Bond and

School year starts today

Iowa Park schools will open their doors today for the 1988-89 year, but will dismiss an hour earlier than usual.

The tardy bell will ring at 8:15 a.m. at the high school, junior high and Kidwell Elementary, but will be earlier, at 8:05, at Bradford Elementary.

Regular dismissal hours this year will be 2:35 p.m. at Kidwell, 2:55 at Bradford, 3:00 at junior high and 3:10 at high school.

Students will attend two days, and then have Monday off as a holiday, which is Labor Day. Their next holiday will be Thanksgiving, when they will leave an hour early Nov. 23 and not return to class until Nov. 28.

Because of early indications at the elementary campuses, Supt. Glen Mitchell told his board of trustees Tuesday night he was expecting a record enrollment (since he's been here) in classes this fall.

First-day enrollment last year was 1,826, a marked increase over the 1,798 in 1986.

Flames destroy landmark

Iowa Park firemen were unable to save either of two structures that burned Saturday, one of them an old landmark.

Volunteers were called out at 1:32 a.m. to the Valley Farms Community House, and again at 12:49 p.m. to the 300 block of East Pecan, where a mobile home was ablaze.

Despite the fact Iowa Park had several of its trucks joined by members of the West Wichita Volunteer Fire Dept., efforts to save the old Community House, built between 1934-38 by the WPA, were unsuccessful.

The old structure was deeded to the Wichita Valley Education Center in 1945, and returned to Farmers Home Administration in January, 1987.

It was offered for sale by invitation bids that were opened June 30 this year, and awarded to realtor Monte Beasley Aug. 9.

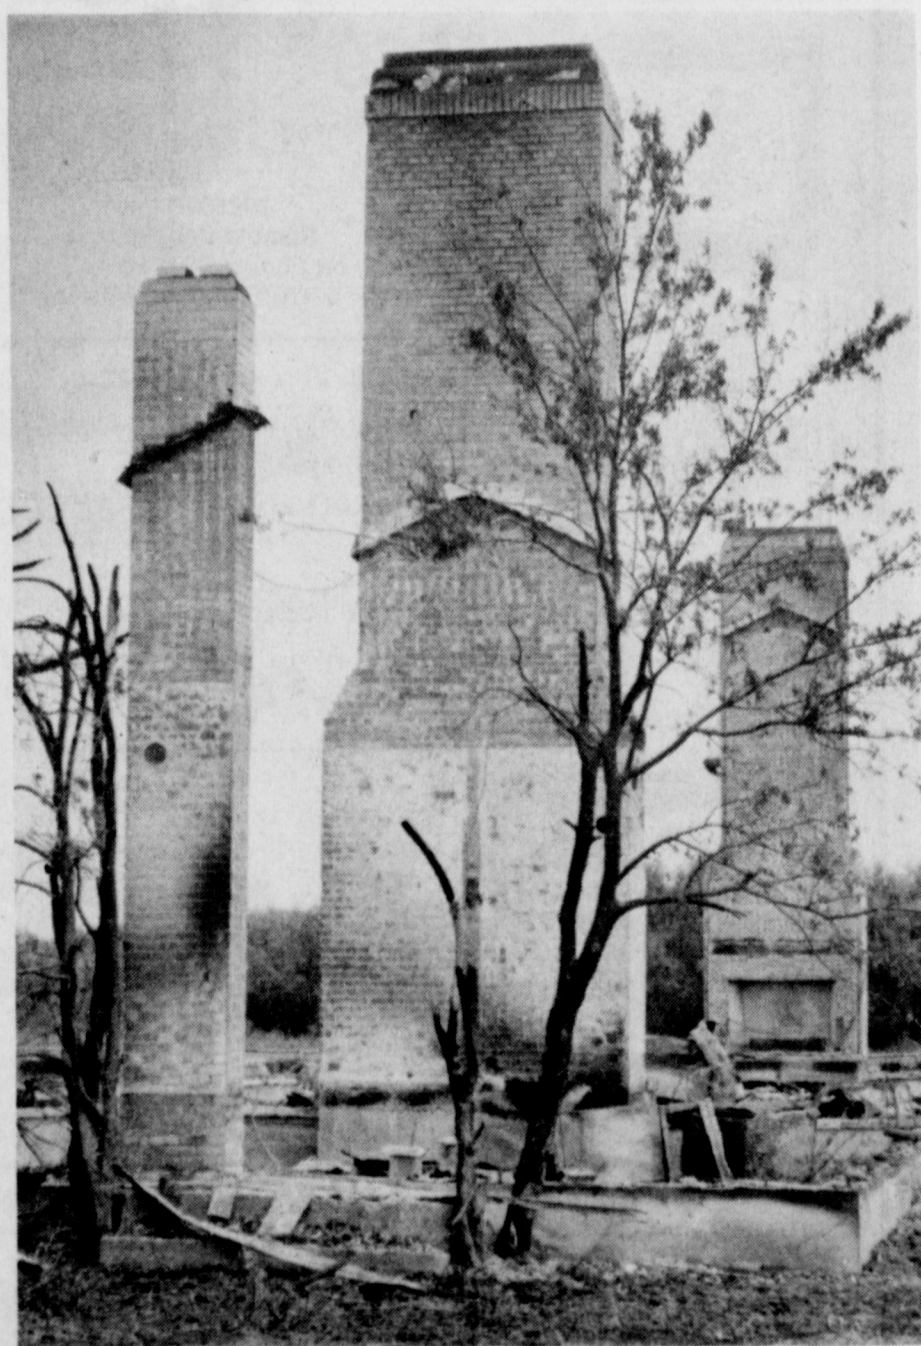

The owner said he was refused by two companies to cover the building with insurance.

Beasley said two individuals were developing plans to restore the structure to its original beauty.

"The great loss is the historical value and the many memories of those who have used and enjoyed this meeting place for so many functions," Beasley said.

"I pray that the individual who destroyed this magnificent piece of history will seek psychiatric help and alleviate their problem," he said.

Beasley, who blames arsonists, said there had been four fires in the area recently, and that the sheriff's office is investigating the fire.

Cook of the Week

Mrs. David Fowler

Interviewing the cook of the week is one of the pleasant tasks around the Leader office. It was certainly no different this week when delightful Maggie (Mrs. David) Fowler came in with her recipes.

The face of the attractive mother of four lights up when she is talking about her husband, David, and children, who are sons Trinity, eight, Titian, five, and Trevor, two, and daughter Tori, three years old.

The former Margarita Arredondo grew up with three sisters and three brothers on their parent's farm near Kamay. She lived there until her marriage 10 years ago. Now, Maggie says she loves living in town, with neighbors close by. She and David both graduated Iowa Park High School in 1976, but didn't meet until later, when both were working at Cryovac. He is still employed at the local plant, and Maggie is kept busy taking care of her home and family.

For relaxation, she enjoys bicycle riding, knitting and crocheting. She said an activity that she really enjoys is delivering meals on wheels for the Friendly Door.

The family are members of the Lakeview Church of God.

Maggie learned to cook using large quantities while growing up on the farm. She said it was difficult to adjust to cooking for two, but now, with her growing family, it's getting easier. The recipes she submitted are made-to-order for the busy fall season packed with football games and other school activities.

Police department begins local bicycle registration

The Iowa Park Police Department has begun a volunteer bicycle registration program.

Local citizens are encouraged to register their bicycles, in an effort to prevent theft of the property and also as an aid to police in the event of theft.

Residents can take their bicycles to the police department between 9 a.m. and 6 p.m. any day except Sundays. Young children should be accompanied by an adult to provide correct registration information.

CARD OF THANKS

I would like to thank everyone who visited, called and sent cards, as well as those who attended my 80th birthday reception Sunday. Each and every one of you made by birthday so special. I love and appreciate you all.
Pauline Steele

The registration fee is $1 per vehicle, and registrants are asked to have the correct change. The fee will defer cost and owners will receive an adhesive license that officers will affix to the bicycle.

Each bike will be entered into the local police department's computer file.

In conjunction with the introduction of the program, Wal-Mart of Iowa Park will be hosting a bicycle registration from 10 a.m. and 2 p.m. Saturday, Sept. 17. Officers will be on hand to do the registration and also offer bicycle safety tips and hand out literature.

All bicyclists registering their bikes from now through Sept. 17 can also register for a free bicycle, which Wal-Mart will award at the end of the promotional registration.

Band Boosters to meet Tuesday

Iowa Park Band Booster Club will meet at 7 p.m. Tuesday in the high school band hall, and parents of all band members are encouraged to attend.

A membership drive, open to parents of both high school and junior high students, will begin this month.

Organizers have announced their goal for the walk to be 300 participants.

The walk will be less than 6 1/2 miles through Iowa Park, and will begin at the high school. Three rest and refreshment stops are planned for the route.

Those who can't meet with the organizers the night of the meeting, but would like to participate should call Rev. Mike Grubbs, 592-4513.

CLOGGERS entertained one of the largest crowds to attend a Summer in the Park program Thursday evening.

Final Summer in the Park features "Funeral for RaZor"

This year's Summer in the Park series ended Thursday night with a kickoff for Iowa Park's Centennial celebration.

Fuzzy-faced men have cropped up this week, denoting the "Funeral for RaZor" held at the beginning of the evening. Men interested in growing beards for the centennial signed up during the evening for a contest to be held in conjunction with the annual Whoop-T-Do in October.

The Modern Music Study Club presented an hour-long program featuring talent in men's trio, cloggers, square dancers, and children's choral and solo specials.

Following the program, a street dance and limbo and twist contests, featuring music from the 60s, 70s and 80s, were held.

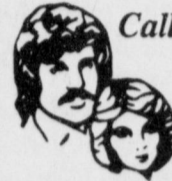

Johnny Dillard and Chris Spruiell tied for first place in the limbo contest. Donna Bowen took second place honors, while Cari Barrington, Lori Maness and Sarah Kennedy made a three-way tie for third place.

Ronnie Gayle Gafford took first place in the twist contest, with Donna Bowen and Brandi Overman placing second and third, respectively. Ribbons were awarded to all who placed.

WAL-MART

As I See It... By BOB HAMILTON

We've had lots and lots of new families move to Iowa Park and the school district during the past few months, and we want to welcome you.

To make you feel even more at home, let me tell you new folks something no one may have mentioned.

This is football-loving country. Iowa Parkans love their football, and more especially the football played by the Iowa Park High Hawks.

Oh, we've got excellence in all the other sports, and our athletes have earned well-deserved praise and honors in them.

But when fall arrives, the largest crowds to attend any athletic event turn out for football.

And the more the Hawks win, the larger the crowds are. And the Mean Green is on a roll, so you can look for all your neighbors to be in the stands come Friday nights.

Before we built our new stadium at the high school campus, varsity games were played where the junior high teams now play. Seating was a premium.

I don't remember a game played at that field when fans weren't standing three or more deep around the fence. Getting a seat in the stands was possible only when a relative died and willed it to you.

I remember one resourceful couple at a 1969 game that brought a step ladder with them, and used it in order to view play on the field.

It's not uncommon at all for our Hawks to be playing out of town, and have more Hawk fans in the stadium than the home team. In fact, it's expected.

But, for you newcomers, let me give you a tip that will make you feel even more at home when you go to a Hawk football game: be sure you wear green...dark green...and plenty of it!

We have observances here that are called "All I see is green day."

You'll want to memorize the most popular yell of the fans, which is a chant: "Go Hawks Go! Go Hawks Go!"

Sounds simple, but when you have several thousand Iowa Parkans in the stands saying it in unison, it'll send chills down your spine ... as well as the spines of the opponents.

You'll want to plan your Fridays well in advance. Like arriving at the stadium early if you don't have reserved seats. This is also important even if you have reserved seats, because parking is always a premium.

If you're going to a game out of town, arriving early is a must. If you don't, all the good seats will already be taken by the ardent Hawk fans.

Also, on those games out of town, you'll by necessity want to be a good caravan driver. It's the norm to be able to look into your rear view mirror on the way home and see car lights as far as you can see.

If you've not attended Hawk football games in the past, you should know it's important to study the list of players in the program. Become personally acquainted with their names, weights, classifications and positions. That makes it more enjoyable to you, and you'll know what your neighbor is talking about between plays when he rehashes what has happened, who did what and why it was successful.

As far as I'm concerned, you don't have to be a football fan to live in Iowa Park. But it would be easier not to breathe.

Ride benefits area

Dear Mr. Hamilton:

Over the years a number of efforts have been made in both business development (retention and solicitation) and tourist/convention development. All of these benefit our area. Our community doesn't end at the city limits of Wichita Falls, Burkburnett or Iowa Park, but encompasses the entire north central region. People may live, buy, and work in three or more different areas.

In response to your editorial regarding the cost, or the lack of benefit of the Hotter/N Hell Hundred, and your community, we would like to offer a thought. There's rarely an opportunity to have this many people (potential customers) visit our area. We can either look at this as an inconvenience (glass half empty) or an opportunity (glass half full). Our Convention and Visitors Bureau, along with a number of community leaders and volunteers in our area would be more than happy to work with your community in capitalizing on an event (any event) such as this. Any number of complimentary or additional activities could be scheduled to help promote the Iowa Park area. Your attitude and that of all of us in North Central Texas will make the difference. Sincerely, Michael M. Lawson Executive Vice President Board of Commerce and Industry

School budget, tax set

Iowa Park school trustees Tuesday night approved a budget for the 1988-89 school year and adopted a tax rate to fund it.

The budget of $5,778,767 will be partially funded with a tax rate of 81-cents per $100 valuation, with the balance coming from state and federal funding.

The tax rate is five cents higher than the 1987-88 rate of 76-cents. Of the 81-cents, 77.5-cents will go to the general operating fund and 3.5-cents to pay bonded indebtedness.

The board also amended the 1987-88 budget, which reflects a carryover of $1,333,000 into the next year. Of that amount, Supt. Glen Mitchell said $1,213,734 was in the general operating fund, $96,505 in the interest and sinking fund, and $9,967 in the cafeteria fund.

Board members expressed satisfaction with the carryover, in view of the fact that the three-classroom and restroom wing built at Bradford Elementary this summer was paid for.

Also during the meeting, trustees approved appraisers and appraisal periods (of teachers) and also appointed an asbestos coordinator and "LEA designated person."

Teacher appraisers, other than the respective campus principals, this year will be Weldon Bates and Newman Young, retired superintendents from Bryson and Seymour, respectively, Supt. Mitchell and Assistant Superintendent Robert Palmer.

Two appraisal periods were set for level-one teachers: Sept. 19-Jan. 18, and Jan. 24-May 26. Levels two and three teachers will be appraised Sept. 19-May 26.

"Formal observations shall not be conducted on the last instructional day before any official school holiday," trustees were informed.

Worth Quoting

As one of probably millions of Americans, I seem to have landed on a number of mailing lists. Every day my post office box has some brochure or letter in it and those mailing pieces are filled with words and pictures trying to persuade me to buy something, donate money or just take advantage of a "free gift."

I have always wondered where the mailing companies get my name. I don't recall giving my permission to flood the mail box with vacation property offers or four color catalogs.

Part of the mystery of mailing lists was revealed this week by of all things, another catalog. But, this catalog was a list of the mailing lists that are available for sale by a broker in New York.

Leafing through the catalog was an eye-opening experience. Lists are available for everything from Abattoirs and Slaughter houses, there are 5,042 on that list, to Zoos and Aquariums, there are 256 of those. In all there were over eighteen pages of different lists that could be purchased.

If you had a mind to send a letter to every xylophone manufacturer in the country you would have to address only 288 envelopes, but if you wanted to send something to every lawyer in the nation it would take almost a half million letters. Clearly serving before the bar is a more popular profession that making bars of the musical kind.

In case you are looking for a spouse, the company has a list of single people and if you are very picky they can break the list down by race, height, weight, age and annual income. Electronic match-making at its finest.

There are lists of people that play the lottery, attend horse races, buy items from televised home shopping networks, contribute to political campaigns, smoke cigars and are interested in hundreds of other things. It seems that as soon as you give someone your name and address they sell it to the highest bidder.

One of the most interesting sections was called the "Jet Set - America's Most Wealthy." Did you know that there are 36,500 people that have their names on the social register or, that there are 252,000 prominent medical specialists in the country?

The next time you go to your mail box and there is a letter asking for support of the New York Philharmonic Orchestra lying there, congratulations are in order. You have just made the "Jet Set" list.

Carillo-Miranda boys enjoy month in Puerto Rico

Greg and Clay Carillo-Miranda, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Carillo-Miranda of Iowa Park, took a month-long trip this summer to Puerto Rico that marked a myriad of "firsts" for the boys.

The boys went to Puerto Rico to stay with their aunt and uncle, Carmen Carrillo and Mannie Rodriguez, and grandparents on their father's side, who live there. It was the first meeting with their grandparents, and other than a brief meeting last August, with their aunt and uncle.

The five-hour flight was also a first for the pair.

Once they arrived in Caguas, where their hosts live, a month of unsurpassed fun commenced.

Along with three cousins, they enjoyed a vacation of travel, landmarks and water sports.

The highlight of the trip for both was the beach, which was about a 30-minute drive from their aunt's house. There, the boys found a love for jet skiing, which they did a lot of.

Another opportunity not many have is to see the rain forest. The two were able to fly over the forest in a rented plane as well as walk through it. They commented mostly on the number of lizards commonly found there.

They were also able to tour many of the castles in Old San Juan.

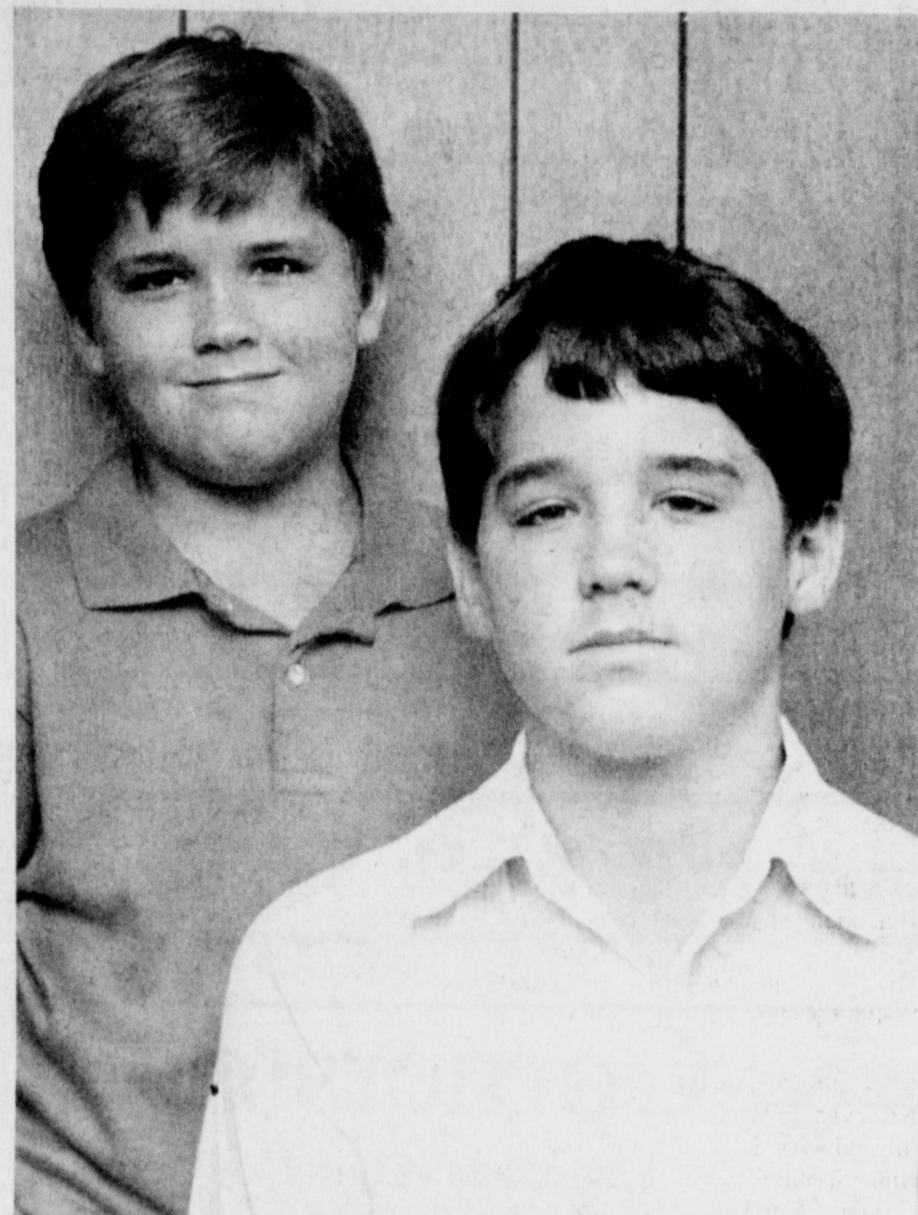

Each commented that there aren't many differences between Puerto Rico and home, other than hearing a totally different language. According to them, the music, television and food are basically the same.

Puerto Rico is known to be the pharmaceutical and electronics capital of Latin America. Both his aunt and uncle work for pharmaceutical companies, she for Sandoz Pharmaceutical, and he for Rhom and Haas Pharmaceuticals.

Greg is a freshman, and Clay a sixth grader, at Notre Dame.

When the boys arrived home, they were armed with a Nintendo, a gift from their grand-parents, many souvenirs and plans to visit Puerto Rico again next year.

Why Worry?

Have freedom from UNWANTED HAIR!

How much is enough to get rid of a disfiguring hair problem for life? If you measure in terms of satisfaction and self-confidence, permanent hair removal at GUNTER ELECTROLYSIS STUDIO, represents a minimum at which these qualities can be supplied. Since skill and know how are the determining factors in cost per treatment and number of treatments required for a cure, you probably would pay less to be hair-free than using some of the temporary methods of hair removal for the rest of your life.

GRANDMA'S GLASSES
A little boy said to a friend, "When I get older, I want to wear glasses just like Grandma's. She must have a special kind because she sees more than most folks."
"Grandma can see when folks are hungry or tired or sorry, and she can even see what will make them feel better. She can see how to fix a lot of things to have fun with, and she can see what a person meant to do, even if he didn't do it right. Grandma can see when a person is about to cry, and she can see what to do to make him feel better."
I asked her one day how she could see so good, and she said it was the way she learned to look at things as she got older. When I get older, I want a pair of glasses just like Grandma's so I can see good, too.

Holliday trustees set tax rate and budget

HOLLIDAY - Following a budget hearing of the Holliday School Board of Trustees, the tax rate and budget for the 1988-89 school year was adopted during a called session Monday night.

The tax rate will stay the same as last year, according to Supt. Dan Owen, at 89.92-cents per $100 valuation.

This was no easy fete, according to Owen, who reported the budget was approved at $2,730,063, some $35,000 more than last year. The board managed to keep the increase in the budget limited, even with the $60,000 automatic state-mandated increase in salaries.

Owen said a school bus that was hoped to be purchased for the new year was taken off the budget, and the number of personnel at the school was kept the same.

Owen said the school has hired six additional teachers in the last three years, and kept up with the classroom building requirements as a result of House Bill 72. All of the state-mandated improvements were made without additional funding from the state and Owens said he hopes for more state funds this year.

Hawks please coach in scrimmage

Head Hawk Len Williams said he was very pleased with the varsity's play in Friday's scrimmage here against Olney, pointing out that the players displayed a marked improvement over the earlier scrimmage with Holliday.

Except for two big plays, the Hawks held the visiting Cubs defensively, while the offense was plainly superior to the Class AA team.

The Hawks scored once and racked up 92 yards rushing and converted on one of five pass attempts for another 14 yards, while mustering eight first downs on its initial 20-play offensive series.

They were even more dominating in the second series, scoring twice, gaining 182 yards (94 rushing and 88 passing on three of six attempts) and rolling up nine first downs.

As was the case in the scrimmage at Holliday, the opponents had their most success in the initial 20-play series, thanks to two plays.

The Cubs scored twice, rolling up 81 yards rushing and 85 passing (three of nine attempts completed and one interception), and gaining six first downs.

In that series, one pass completion gained 62 yards, and a broken play turned into a 41-yard scoring run by the elusive quarterback.

However, in their second series on offense, the Cubs were held to only 20 yards rushing and eight yards passing (one of five with one interception), lost two fumbles and gained only two first downs.

Total statistics of each team's 40 plays included: (Iowa Park first) 17-8 first downs; 186-101 rushing; 102-93 passing; 4 of 11 and 4 of 14 passes; 288-194 total yards offensively; 0-4 turnovers.

Each team was given the ball five plays at the end of the scrimmage for a goal line stand. Olney scored three times to Iowa Park's two.

Bank franchise tax paid to school, city

The bank franchise tax allocation to Iowa Park city and school this year is down somewhat from last year, but the reduction is not as low as the state average, according to the state comptroller's office.

The city received $10,811.65, down 3.90-percent from $11,249.91 paid last year.

The school's $10,217.51 portion is 6.25-percent lower than the $10,899.21 it received in 1987.

However, this year's allocation is 21-percent lower than last year over the state, the comptroller said.

Allocations represent franchise taxes paid by banks that do business in Texas. Banks must file a report with the comptroller's office by Mar. 15 each year.

The bank franchise tax rate is the same as the state's corporate franchise tax rate -- $6.70 per $1,000 of taxable capital and surplus, with a minimum tax of $150.

The Texas legislature authorized the bank franchise tax in 1984, and the tax was collected for the first time in 1985.

A portion of the tax goes into the state's general revenue fund, but most of it is allocated to local tax jurisdictions.

Midshipman Jay E. Drake, son of Jay Drake of Holliday, was one of many U.S. Navy Midshipmen who recently participated in a summer training cruise aboard the frigate USS McDonnell, homeported in Newport, R.I.

The annual cruise augments classroom studies and gives prospective naval officers a preview of their futures.

During Drake's training cruise, he worked in a number of shipboard jobs, gaining hands-on experience. He also had the opportunity to visit several different countries located within the ship's operation area.

DRIVING WITH LLUMAR® ON YOUR WINDOWS IS NO SWEAT.

It's a hot, muggy day, and you're stuck inside your car. Your air conditioner runs full blast, but you're still hot under the collar. And if all that isn't bad enough, the blinding glare hurts your eyes and hampers your vision. Keep your cool with LLumar®. LLumar solar-control window film from Martin Processing reduces the sun's fury to raise your driving pleasure. Ideal for all types of vehicles, the film allows light in but keeps a considerable amount of heat and glare out. The result: You stay cooler. Your air conditioner works easier. And your car wastes less gas. Protects your life. But these are just a few of the reasons to drive with LLumar. Available in a variety of eye-appealing tints, the film adds a stylish, custom tint to your windows. It makes a sporty car look more expensive. And an expensive car look priceless. LLumar stops the sun from fading your upholstery and carpet by screening out up to 99% of harmful ultraviolet rays. It keeps the sun out of your baby's eyes. Softens jarring headlights at night. Affords more privacy, particularly for vans or RVs. And works like a steel curtain across your windows to protect your vehicle from vandalism-and you from flying glass in case of an accident. You can get LLumar only at an authorized dealer. Engineered to resist scratching, the film cleans easily with a milk liquid detergent. An authorized dealer will help you select the right tint, then install it for you. And LLumar is covered by a limited warranty. So test drive our film today. Because LLumar takes the heat so you don't have to. Drive over for a free estimate. And ask about LLumar for your home and office.

Don Decker had trained more than two months to prepare for the Hotter'N Hell Hundred ride Saturday. He made it all the way from the start in Wichita Falls, through Burkburnett, to Iowa Park. Then disaster struck. After rounding the corner from Alameda onto Yosemite, one of his bike's wheels slipped in a pavement crack and he fell, breaking a collarbone.

SS SS SS

Charles Perry is listed as the starting left defensive tackle for Texas Tech's season opener Saturday evening at Lubbock against the Univ. of North Texas. The former Hawk was apparently moved from his backup right tackle position when starter Troy Henington injured a knee in a scrimmage last Wednesday and had to undergo surgery. Perry is a 6-4, 265 junior with two letters.

SS SS SS

Texas A&M freshman Gregg Young was home Friday to watch the Hawks scrimmage Olney, and said he was being redshirted this season. Eventhough the Mean Green graduate stands 6-6 and weighs between 260 and 285, he's only 18 years old and would have been eligible, age-wise, to have played for IPHS this year.

SS SS SS

The Aug. 25 issue of the Dallas Morning News figures Vernon to win Dist. 5-AAA this fall. But if the writer's information is as correct about the Lions as it is the Hawks, there could be a problem. "Defending district champion Iowa Park, which has an all-state candidate of its own in running back Jim Cummings, will be among Vernon's district challengers." Cummings has graduated and will be playing in Saturday's season opener for Midwestern State.

Season tickets remain on sale

Reserved seats for all five Hawk football home games will remain on sale through next Friday at the office of the high school principal.

Fans wishing to renew the same seats they held last year have first option.

A book of season tickets for adults is $20.

After next Friday, reserved seats must be purchased at the principal's office, and will not be available at the gate, where general admission will be $4.

General admission tickets, purchased at the office during daytime, are $3 for adults and $2 for students.

Local youth races to national championship

Competing his first year against adults, a 15-year-old Iowa Parkan won two championships recently in the American Outboard Federation meet at Pineville, La.

Bill Perry Jr., a sophomore at Iowa Park High School, has been competing three years in the juvenile races, including races held last year at Lake Iowa Park.

Young Perry signed up for seven races at the Nationals, ran in five (two were cancelled because of wind and rain), failed to finish in two, but won twice and finished third in the other event.

He's the 1988 champion in the 25SS-Hydroplane and Yamato 80-Hydroplane. His third place was in the B-Runabout.

In the two events he failed to finish, Perry was thrown out of his boat once and spun out on a corner in the other.

The meet was held Aug. 19, 20 and 21.

Despite his age, Perry has high points in Oklahoma in B, Hydro, 25SS Hydro and high points in the combination of all two-cylinder classes (Runabouts and Hydros).

In Texas he has high point at this time in B Runabout, Bk-1 hydro and high points in combination of all two-cylinder classes (Runabouts and Hydros), and will have a few more races this year.

Don Decker had trained more than two months to prepare for the Hotter'n Hell Hundred ride Saturday. He made it all the way from the start in Wichita Falls, through Burkburnett, to Iowa Park. Then disaster struck. After rounding the corner from Alameda onto Yosemite, one of his bike's wheels slipped in a pavement crack and he fell, breaking a collarbone.

SS SS SS

Charles Perry is listed as the starting left defensive tackle for Texas Tech's season opener Saturday evening at Lubbock against the Univ. of North Texas. The former Hawk was apparently moved from his backup right tackle position when starter Troy Henington injured a knee in a scrimmage last Wednesday and had to undergo surgery. Perry is a 6-4, 265 junior with two letters.

SS SS SS

Texas A&M freshman Gregg Young was home Friday to watch the Hawks scrimmage Olney, and said he was being redshirted this season. Eventhough the Mean Green graduate stands 6-6 and weighs between 260 and 285, he's only 18 years old and would have been eligible, age-wise, to have played for IPHS this year.

SS SS SS

The Aug. 25 issue of the Dallas Morning News figures Vernon to win Dist. 5-AAA this fall. But if the writer's information is as correct about the Lions as it is the Hawks, there could be a problem. "Defending district champion Iowa Park, which has an all-state candidate of its own in running back Jim Cummings, will be among Vernon's district challengers." Cummings has graduated and will be playing in Saturday's season opener for Midwestern State.

Season tickets remain on sale

Reserved seats for all five Hawk football home games will remain on sale through next Friday at the office of the high school principal.

Fans wishing to renew the same seats they held last year have first option.

A book of season tickets for adults is $20.

After next Friday, reserved seats must be purchased at the principal's office, and will not be available at the gate, where general admission will be $4.

General admission tickets, purchased at the office during daytime, are $3 for adults and $2 for students.

U.S. SENATE THREATENS TO END IRAs

The recent Senate Finance Committee proposal to eliminate future tax deductions for money invested in most Individual Retirement Accounts (IRAs) would be a blow to average working Americans who are trying to save for retirement. "It is a breach of faith by Congress which in 1981 adopted the IRA program, to help people put aside $2,000 a year to build their own retirement fund to supplement Social Security," says David Silver, President of the Investment Company Institute, which represents the nation's mutual fund industry. The average IRA-owning family currently has about $9,000 in IRA funds, but the total exceeds $250 billion. Most of this has been saved since 1981 when the law was changed to open tax-deferred plans to all working Americans and spouses.

American business through a variety of savings accounts, debt securities and corporate stock including mutual fund investments.

This most successful of all retirement plans is used primarily by middle-income American families. Three of every five IRA holders have incomes of under $40,000 a year and the annual incomes of more than 75 percent are under $50,000.

In this nation of complicated laws and what are perceived as tax dodges for the rich, the IRA stands out as a simple but workable retirement program. It exists at a time when millions of Americans are unsure if they will receive social security benefits when they retire, or if they will have ample retirement funds.

In effect, the Senate Finance Committee is proposing to kill the retirement savings incentive for the average American family, thus putting more of a burden on the nation's fragile social security system as well as on the future living standards of American families.

Tax proposals, including the effort to eliminate benefits for most Americans, will be debated extensively in the Senate during the next several weeks with a vote expected as soon as early June.
