Student stabbed in affray at stadium

By BOB HAMLTON

An Iowa Park High School sophomore is recovering at home this week after suffering a stab wound that punctured a lung Thursday night at Hawk Stadium.

Donnie Watson, 17, was stabbed in the left side of his back and also cut on his right leg when he attempted to continue a fist fight which had been broken up.

The incident took place near the north entrance of the stadium, during the halftime of a junior varsity football game between Iowa Park and Wichita Falls Hirschi.

Watson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Watson of 128 Wood Circle, underwent surgery that night in Wichita General Hospital, and was returned home Tuesday to recuperate.

Police Detective Chris Pearson took the dagger believed to be the weapon used in the incident to the Southwestern Forensics Institute in Dallas yesterday morning, where dry blood on the blade will be analyzed, and also undergo a lazer analysis to determine if any latent fingerprints can be identified.

No arrests have yet been made in the case, though seven interviews have been conducted "and more are to come," Pearson said.

The assailant has not yet been identified.

FIGHT ERUPTS

Soon after the junior varsity teams went to the dressing rooms at the half, a large crowd of students was seen heading toward the north side of the home concession stand.

At the base of the berm, near the fence and to the west of the ticket booth, was the obvious area where a fight was underway.

Several adults, including assistant high school principal Randy Lovelady, Wendell Allen, director of the alternative education program, and Danny Skinner, who's son was playing in the JV game, broke up a fight.

Two individuals were pulled from off Watson, who was bleeding profusely from the mouth.

One of the individuals involved in the fight was later identified as Kevin Davis, 20. The other was a 15-year-old member of the Hirschi freshman team who was still dressed in his football uniform with the exception of his helmet, shoulder pads and jersey.

The fight originated, apparently, after insults were traded near the concession stand, according to Det. Pearson, who said his interviews lead him to conclude Watson landed the first blow.

When the fighters were parted, Watson was yelling and cursing, and two men had to pin him against the fence to keep him from continuing the fight.

Others joined the original crowd from the stands until an estimated 100 or more were in the area.

Adults attempted to get the crowd to disburse, and helping with the calming tactic was Iowa Park High graduate Billy Ray, now in his second year on the Hirschi faculty, who attempted to calm down persons relating to that school.

The Wichita Falls youths who had been in the fight, with others, then walked out the gate and gathered in the ditch area on the east side of the entrance.

Watson was released after indicating to those who held him that he calmed down. He immediately bolted away, dashed through the gate area and jumped onto one or more of the Wichitans standing there.

The impact knocked a bicycle to the ground and Watson on it.

Whoever it was that had the knife apparently had it at the ready, because almost immediately, someone shouted, "He's been stabbed!"

Skinner, a trained emergency medical technician, began to care for the injured youth and instructed a bystander to call for an ambulance.

Police also were summoned, and arrived in a very short time to begin conducting their investigation. The team of police, most of whom were off duty, soon grew to six, and three deputies from the sheriff's department also arrived soon afterward.

The atmosphere was explosive, both because of the stabbing and the apparent racial overtones that had apparently initiated the fight.

Visibility is extremely poor in both the areas of the original fight and where the stabbing occurred.

Two adults from Wichita Falls, Mr. and Mrs. Roosevelt Gildon, were interviewed after Skinner, Allen and this writer each told police the man had pushed them, interfered with their attempts to quell tempers, and even at one time struck Allen.

Police later searched the area for

Hawks seek first win of season here Friday

The victory-starved Iowa Park Hawks will host Breckenridge at 8 p.m. Friday in Hawk Stadium.

Still looking for their first win in three starts, the Hawks will renew a rivalry with the Buckaroos as the two clubs face off for the 10th time.

Iowa Park holds a 5-4 series edge, after 20-7 victory in which the Bucks suffered seven turnovers (two interceptions and five fumbles).

The Hawks now know how the Buckaroos feel about that game, because they also turned over the ball seven times in last week's loss to Abilene Wylie.

In fact, Iowa Park has lost the ball to its two opponents 13 times in its two games this year.

Besides the two teams having the same green and white uniforms, and the two schools sharing the same school song melody, there is also another similarity: both have lost to Wylie this year.

Breckenridge opened its season with a 21-13 loss to the Bulldogs, and Iowa Park dropped a 16-7 decision to the Bulldogs here Friday.

But the Bucks notched their first win of the season last week with a dramatic come-from-behind 39-27 win over Hamlin. Breckenridge trailed 27-7 at the start of the second half.

Offensively, the Bucks count mainly on the running of Rob Durham and Robert Sykes, and the passing of quarterback Matt Otts to his favorite receiver Tommy Beauchamp.

Durham is the team's workhorse, having carried 44 times this season for 169 yards, an average of 3.84 per tote.

Sykes is the big play carrier. He's averaging slightly over six yards per, having been handed the ball 21 times and picking up 128 yards.

Otts has completed 17 of 37 passes for 224 yards and three TDs. His favorite target has been Beauchamp, who has caught 11 passes for 164 yards and a touchdown.

Coach Len Williams says the Buckaroos run the veer offense and adds that their two backs are scary, but not in the class of Burkburnett's Michael Ivory.

He confirmed that his Hawks suffered more than a blow to their pride in last week's game with Wylie. Linebacker Mike Lubinski, who has suffered all season with an injured ankle, broke his leg and likely will be out the rest of the season.

Also, center Scot Davis strained a knee. But the rest of the team is expected to be ready for the game, he said.

Williams said his backs did a better job of blocking on offense in the Wylie game, but emphasized they would have to concentrate more, to keep from losing the ball on fumbles.

(For the record, the last game Iowa Park lost seven turnovers was against Vernon, four fumbles and three interceptions, in 1983. Vernon won, 42-0.)

Tomorrow's game with Breckenridge will be the last time the Hawks will play on their home field until Oct. 14, when they host Bridgeport. They travel next week to Mineral Wells, then Gainesville, and Oct. 7 open Dist. 5-AAA play at Bowie.

Council passes budget, sets 84-cent tax rate

The city council Monday night approved a $2.6-million budget, set a tax rate of 84-cents to fund it, and also passed an ordinance that enlarges the city by some 28 acres.

The budget projects expenditures of $2,623,308. Revenues are projected at $2,607,000. And the year-end carryover is expected to be cut from $900,000 to $883,692, according to the budget.

To finance the general fund budget, aldermen raised the tax rate from .80557 to .84 per $100 valuation, primarily because of a decrease in taxable property values, explained James Barrington, administrator.

Included in the expenditures are $161,330 to pay on general obligation and revenue bonds.

Alderman Bud Mercer commented "There's no fat in it (the budget)."

Monday's vote by the council to annex a 28-acre tract of land between US 287 and the entrance to Lake

Iowa Park ended a multi-month project that eventually will lead to the annexation of the entire lake property.

The property taken into the city is along the west side of the road to the lake, owned by Gene Wigley and leased to the city for the purpose of annexation.

Because the land is leased by the city, no taxes will be levied on the property for the duration of the lease.

A "show cause" public hearing was held concerning the pending demolition of a structure owned by John Paul Jones at 610 E. Bank.

It was the second hearing on the subject, but no comment was received from anyone in the audience. One more hearing must be held before the structure is razed because it is considered a hazard and does not meet the city's building code standards.

The council approved final payment for the rebuilding of Third Street, and also a proposal to advertise for two new police cars.

Following a lengthy discussion, aldermen voted to not take two lower bids on a new trash truck, and accepted a bid of $60,365. The purchase had been budgeted for $62,000.

Aldermen accepted the higher bid because of equipment on the offered vehicle. The lower bids were $56,500 and $59,215.

A master plan for the eventual development of an entire block owned by the city between Third and Fourth streets, offered by architect Don Daugherty, was accepted.

While the council generally acknowledged any construction on the plan, including a community center and a gymnasium, were a "dead issue" at the present, it was pointed out that the plan would give the community a goal to work toward in the future.

Mayor pro tem Johnny Coker, who chaired the meeting in the absence of Mayor Tim Hunter, said he would like to see the area cleaned and improvements begun in the form of trees and grass plantings, and then maintained.

It was suggested that organizations could voluntarily begin equipping the area with playground pieces and trees, if they wished, to conform with the overall plan.

Also included is adequate parking on both the east and west sides, two open air pavilions, tennis courts, a swimming and wading pool, three sand-surfaced volleyball courts and walking track.

Also discussed was needed repair on city-owned structures from the Mar. 1 hail storm, and travel expenses for council members and staff to attend the Texas Municipal League meeting in Dallas.

Prior to the meeting's start, Pat Raby was recognized as the city's "employee of the month."

Deadline extended one week for centennial issue stories

Because of so much interest being indicated, and requests for more time to prepare them, the deadline for family histories and other articles for the Iowa Park Leader's special centennial edition has been extended from Sept. 15 to Sept. 22.

All articles in the edition are to relate to what is now known as the Iowa Park Consolidated Independent School District, and family histories should be those who arrived in the area prior to 1938.

What is needed in the stories are: who were your ancestors? when did they arrive here? when were they born and when did they die? where did they come from and where did they settle? what were the important events in their lives? what did they do for a living? were they active in church and community affairs? who were their children and whom did they marry?

Repeat some of the traditional stories handed down in your family that the readers might enjoy.

An arbitrary date of residence of at least 50 years ago was selected because of the limited space in the edition. Eventually, we hope to see a county family history published which would include all of us "new-comers."

Please bring your pioneer family history to the Leader office by Sept. 22, along with one or more pictures, if possible. We want to recognize your ancestors, but we need your help!

Tax rebates above 1987

The City of Iowa Park received a tax rebate check this month in the amount of $14,166.41, which raised the year's total 17.04-percent above the same period last year.

This month's check was 35.18-percent greater than the September 1987, which was $10,479.91.

For the year, Iowa Park has now received $132,736.79. This is compared with $113,415.71 this same month in 1987.

Electra is now 13.42-percent over its 1987 receipts, Wichita Falls is 3.03-percent, and Burkburnett is only 9.31-percent.

Holiday's check for $4,276.85 raised its year's sum to $47,873.60, which is 38.43-percent greater than in 1987.

September's checks represent taxes collected by monthly filers in July and reported to the state comptroller's office by Aug. 22.

Does your subscription to the Leader expire this month?

Couple robbed at knife point

An Iowa Park couple was robbed at knife point in their home late Sunday night, according to Iowa Park Police, who are continuing their investigation.

A wrist watch and wallet containing approximately $110 in cash was taken about 9:45 p.m. from Willie Kinnett, while the robber held a knife to the throat of his wife.

But after forcing Mrs. Kinnett to hand over her jewelry, the robber asked if the rings were her wedding rings. When she said they were, he returned them.

The Kinnetts live at 1404 Mary. Mr. Kinnett answered the door bell about 9:45, police were told. As he opened the door enough to see who had rung the bell, the assailant struck him in the face with his fist and forcefully entered the home.

Kinnett attempted to grab hold of the intruder's arm, and received a superficial cut on his left palm, police said, from a single-edged knife about four or five inches in length.

Mrs. Kinnett heard the commotion and entered the hallway from her bedroom, and the assailant ordered them both to lie on the floor, and as they did, began to hold the knife to her throat.

The thief became angry, wanting more money, and threatened the couple. He herded them into the bedroom closet and instructed them to stay there 15 minutes.

About five minutes later, he opened the door and again told them to remain there 15 minutes, closing the door once more.

After a brief period of time, the couple opened the door to find they were alone, and called the police.

The robber wore a ski mask and gloves, but was believed to be a white male, and wearing camouflage pants. He was estimated to stand 5-5 or 5-7 and a "stocky" 165 pounds, and believed to be young.

CROP walk explained to Amity Study Club

The upcoming CROP Walk was the topic of the program presented by Mary Ann Crowley to members of the Amity Study Club Monday night.

Thirteen members attended the first meeting of the club year in the home of Margaret Denton, with Rita Worthy as co-hostess.

Mrs. Crowley told the club, on behalf of the Iowa Park Ministerial Alliance, the need for a fund raiser to benefit the local food bank. She encouraged members to participate in the city-wide CROP Walk, to be held Oct. 15, or support those who may be walking.

She explained that 25 percent of all funds collected remain in Iowa Park, with the other 75 percent going toward Church World Services. She concluded the program by showing a film, "Circle of the Heart."

Evelyn Ward, president, conducted the business meeting, where members answered roll call by naming their past year's secret pal.

It was announced that the club's booth at this year's annual Whoop-T-Do celebration will include a pencil pull and face painting. Margaret Denton and Amy Covington are chairmen of the Whoop-T-Do committee.

In other business, members were given new yearbooks, and drew names for secret pals.

Mrs. Ward gave the meditation, "One Person."

Following the meeting, members were served refreshment sacks that had been hand-decorated by the hostesses.

Friendship Class elects officers

The monthly meeting of the Friendship Class of First Baptist Church was held Monday evening at the church and hosted by Mrs. M.E. Goforth and Mrs. V.I. Woodfin.

Metz, treasurer; Homer Blalock, reporter; and Roy Smith, devotional chairman.

The group captains elected were Mmes. F.L. McCoy, Clay Davis, D.O. James, Singleton and M.E. Goforth.

During the social hour, the refreshments served by the hostesses featured a "happy birthday" motif in observance of their birthdays which they celebrated during the current week.

Fourteen members were present. The next meeting will be held Oct. 10 and will be highlighted by an installation service following a salad supper.

New officers of the Iowa Park Band Booster Club were announced at a meeting held recently at Iowa Park High School band hall.

Melinda Thomason of Iowa Park and Gerald Arrington of Wichita Falls will be married May 20 at Grace Baptist Church.

The bride-elect is the daughter of Janet Thomason of Iowa Park and William Thomason of Abilene. Arrington is the son of Mr. and Mrs.

Butch Arrington of Wichita Falls.

Miss Thomason was graduated from Iowa Park High School and attended Midwestern State Univ. She is employed at Wynn's in Wichita Falls. Her fiancé is a graduate of Wichita Falls High School and is employed at Sutherland's Lumber Co. in Wichita Falls.

Writer relates history

"Try to imagine what Wichita County looked like 100 years ago," Mrs. Lita Watson said to the Evening Lions Tuesday as she gave brief highlights of the history of Iowa Park which will be published Oct. 20, 1988. She observed that the month and date were significant because they correspond with the month and date the town was platted in 1888.

She stated that the first settlement of what is near the town was probably on the Burnett Ranch. She referred to Gen. Dodge and D.C. Kolp as the two men who were most instrumental in getting the town started and mentioned that a lot sale was held in 1888, and that the town was incorporated in 1891.

She read a poem by a Mrs. Warner that described the town and businesses which was written for a band festival in the early 1890s. The poem pictured the new town as quite flourishing, but in the late 1890s the severe weather and economic depression had made some drastic changes.

Mrs. Watson read some of the early ordinances the town adopted, described the Cameron Hotel which was built by the railroad and was supposed to attract people here to buy land. She made her listeners eager to read the complete history of the town by relating human interest stories, giving brief history of the water, oil and gas developments, the Tanner Building, a landmark now owned by the Evening Lions, and the Texas-Oklahoma Fair which was held here 34 years.

She was introduced by Dave Davis.

Guests were Mmes. Harvey Troutman, V.I. Woodfin, C.L. Thompson, and Steven Jahns of Linden, Wash.

Announce engagement

Mr. and Mrs. Donald R. Long of Bowman announce the engagement and forthcoming marriage of their daughter, Pamela Jean, to Erik Scott Tarver, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lonnie Ray Tarver of Grand Prairie.

Miss Long is a graduate of Holliday High School where she was a member of the Holliday High School girls basketball team and the Holliday Eagle Band, where she was a twirler. She was graduated from International Travel Academy in Arlington and is employed by Buz Post of Arlington.

The groom-elect was graduated from Sam Houston High School in Arlington, and is city district manager of American Building Maintenance of Dallas.

The couple will exchange vows Nov. 5 at Sacred Heart Catholic Church in Wichita Falls.

Mr. and Mrs. Billy Ray Maxwell of Kamay are the parents of a son, Dillon Ray, born Sept. 3 at Wichita General Hospital. He weighed six pounds, 13 ounces, and is the couple's first child.

Mrs. Maxwell is the former Wendy Herrington of Iowa Park.

Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. R.D. Herrington of Iowa Park and Mr. and Mrs. Ray Maxwell of Archer City. Great-grandparents are Mrs. J.W. Loftin of Hobbs, N.M., Mrs. Marie Light of Archer City, Mrs. Artie Herrington and J.Q. Porter, Jr., both of Ringling, Okla.

Facts About Cataracts

• Cataracts are a clouding of the normally clear and transparent lens of the eye. This clouding causes blurred vision.

• Cataracts do not spread from one eye to the other. They develop over years and are caused by a change in the chemistry of the eye, not by eye strain or overuse.

• Most cataracts are not visible to outside observers. Diagnosis can be made only by an ophthalmologist.

• Cataracts cannot be prevented, but they need not lead to blindness. Early detection can restore sight in nearly 90 percent of cases.

• There are a variety of surgical techniques used to extract cataracts. All can be done on an outpatient basis.

• After surgery, vision is often restored in as little as two to three weeks.

• Cataracts are not limited to the elderly. Diabetic individuals and retarded children can develop cataracts, as can persons who suffer trauma to the head or eye.

• To reduce the risk of cataracts, or any eye disease, see an ophthalmologist regularly.

Iowa Park Centennial celebration is subject of Garden Club program

Members of the Iowa Park Garden Club met Friday morning for a business meeting and covered dish luncheon, where the topic of the day was Iowa Park's Centennial Celebration.

Bob Hamilton, editor and publisher of the Iowa Park Leader, was guest speaker on the topic of a special edition he is compiling for Iowa Park's Centennial Celebration.

Hamilton pointed out several facts about Iowa Park's history, including the first newspaper printed in Iowa Park, the Wichita County Democrat first published in 1891. He told members the first gasoline refined in Wichita County was done in Iowa Park; and that the Texas-Oklahoma Fair held in Iowa Park began in 1922, and by the 1950s attracted some 260,000 people.

He explained that a community looks toward the local newspaper as a source for the city's history. Much of Iowa Park's documented history was lost, however, when two fires destroyed old newspaper files of the Iowa Park Herald.

He concluded with a statement that he is depending on the citizens of the community to furnish facts about the history of the town in order to complete the centennial edition.

Dee Decker, president, conducted the business meeting. Mrs. Joe Kennedy, flower show co-chairman, reported that the club's annual flower show will be held Oct. 22 in conjunction with Iowa Park's Whoop-Do. She said this year's show theme will be "A Century of Nature's Beauty."

Mrs. Robert Illingsworth, vice president, passed out yearbooks to the members, pointing out highlights of the new club year. These include a one-day trip to the Myriad Gardens in Oklahoma City and an overnight trip to the Tyler Azalea Trails.

It was announced that the Yard of the Month for September was presented to Mr. and Mrs. David Schenk at 1502 Wagon Wheel.

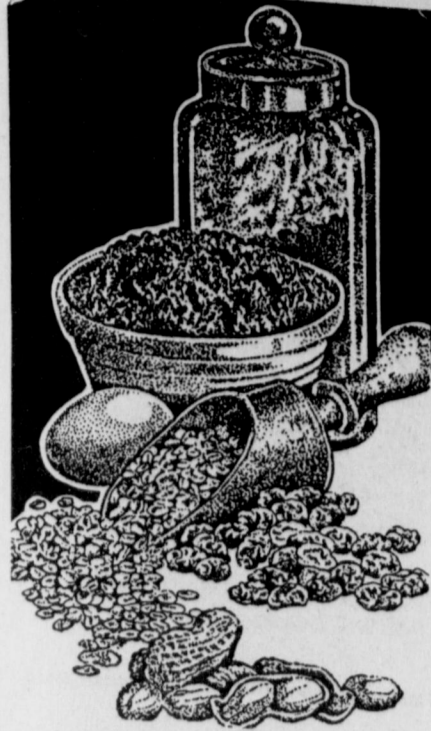

Mrs. Norma Fortner gave the thought for the day, entitled "Making Friends." She also brought a Star Flower for the horticulture display.

In other business, Mrs. W.A. George, community service chairman, explained plans to continue the landscaping project at Kidwell Elementary School.

Each member answered roll call with the number of years she has lived in Iowa Park.

Following the meeting, members were served a covered dish luncheon. Tables were decorated with red, white and blue papers bags, with streamers of the same colors cascading out of each.

Hostesses were members of the social committee, Mmes. Billy C. Gilmore, Lib Cabe, Charles Seets, Bernice Compton, Dorwin Wooten and Vern Mikkleson.

As I See It... By BOB HAMILTON

With this issue, we at the Leader commence our 20th year of publication, and I don't ever want to start a new year with the paper without expressing our appreciation to you, our readers and subscribers, for your acceptance in the community.

Boy, I can hardly wait for the 26th volume to come about. For those of you who haven't heard, we are considered by "old timers" to be "new comers" until we've been here a minimum of 25 years.

Working on the history of Iowa Park, which will be published Oct. 20 as our Centennial Issue, I've just about come to understand why some old'uns feel that way.

One must be there to be a part, and there's so much in the history of our community that, after reading the histories of families and the town itself, I truly do feel a "new comer."

But, again, thank you for letting us become a part of the community. And as I've said before, whenever you feel we're letting down in doing our part in covering the news of Iowa Park, please let us know.

I regret having to report on the stabbing of a local youth at a football game here last week. It's noted on the front page of this issue.

No community wants that kind of thing happening, and it certainly doesn't enjoy that kind of publicity.

But it happened, so it's reported. A touch of irony in the story.

In the 1988 issue of The Hawk, the Iowa Park High yearbook, is a small personal on the stabbing victim, Donnie Watson. It's on page 58.

Watson notes his hobby as being fighting.

I only hope he takes up building model airplanes or something else in the future.

Worth Quoting

We are getting in the thick of a presidential campaign and a number of issues are being discussed, notably the federal deficit, foreign policy, balance of trade, and education. It is high time that both parties do something about a problem which just may be the top issue of all -- crime. The U.S. Department of Justice annual report is frightening. According to this report, 83 percent of all Americans will be a victim of violent crime at least once in their lifetime. Four out of 10 Americans will be injured in a robbery or assault. Crimes against property are so common that 99 percent of our people will be a victim of theft at least once, according to the report. And 87 percent will have property stolen three or more times.

The most disturbing thing about this Department of Justice report is that it raised such a small furor. Citizens have come to accept crime as a way of life in these United States. It is now obvious that we have given the country over to the criminals. One of our biggest problems is how to house the prison population and what to do with those who have to be released ahead of time simply because there is not enough room in prison for everybody.

All of our major cities are jungles where honest citizens fear to venture downtown after dark because of the danger of attack. In fact, major hotels in our cities warn residents not to go out after dark unless surrounded by some type of security. Walking the streets alone at night in New York or Washington or Los Angeles, or even in Dallas or Houston, is regarded as a foolish and dangerous move and police are apt to tell a victim of a robbery or mugging or stabbing that they should have known better than to walk our streets at night.

This is the only country in the world where this happens. Jane and I have walked the streets of London at night without fear. We have been perfectly safe walking around the Red Square in Moscow, at any city in China, in Paris and Munich and all over Australia. After we visited the Soviet Union, our government invited a group of Soviet journalists to the United States on a goodwill visit. These Soviets were understandably puzzled by the fact that our government put them in the Waldorf Astoria hotel in New York and then would not let them venture out on the street at night without a guard. Same thing happened when they stayed at the Mayflower in Washington. No wonder these Soviet journalists wrote about the horrors of American crime when they went home. Yet our government simply could not take a chance on what would happen to them if they were left alone to stroll at their own convenience as we Americans did in Moscow.

Burglary has become so common in this country that it takes up little more than report space in the police logbook. Even in a city the size of Amarillo, burglaries are listed daily by address since a burglary is so commonplace. Yet there was a time not so many years ago when nobody in Perryton locked their home, let alone their car. In fact, when I was growing up in Perryton our family never owned a house key and never needed one. Today homeowners have to lock up or be ripped off even in a small city this size.

How did we get this way? Why did we turn the country over to the criminals? Our preoccupation with individual rights, undergirded by a profound distrust of our government and law enforcement officials, has led us to this point. We do not hold individuals responsible for their actions, preferring to excuse them because of an unfortunate youth, a poverty upbringing, lack of understanding by parents and teachers, etc., until nobody is responsible. We also pay for legal defense such as Ochiltree county's tax cost of more than $100,000 to defend a murderer whose conviction was well assured in advance because of eyewitnesses and heavy evidence against him.

A breakdown of discipline underlies much of the problem. Our schools for generations used a paddle to enforce discipline and respect for authority. Today we actually have a couple of school administrators in Perryton on report to the Department of Human Resources for having paddled children sent to them for discipline. They are suspected of child abuse for what in an earlier day would have been a very gentle administration of justice.

We as Americans cannot be proud of the situation we find ourselves in today. It is high time to regroup and mount some sort of offensive to recapture our nation from the criminals who seem to be very much in command. I spent a day and evening in Soweto, the South African black township outside Johannesburg, and felt perfectly safe even though surrounded by blacks. I would not do the same in Harlem for any amount of money nor would I walk around in downtown Washington, D.C. Yet many Americans are convinced that South Africa is an unsafe place to be. What about America?

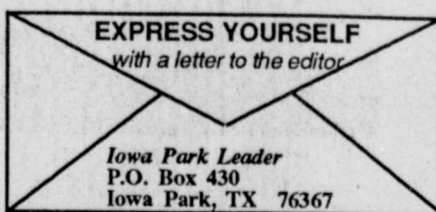

HAROLD HUDSON
Perryton Herald

We thought the best line to come out of the Republican convention in New Orleans was that made by Charlton Heston.

At their convention in Atlanta, the Democrats, led by Ted Kennedy, taunted Republican presidential candidate George Bush for his supposed non-involvement in White House affairs, asking: "Where was George?"

This week, the Republicans had their answer. Said actor Heston: "He was sober, dry, and at home with his own wife!"

Two men arrested

Two men were arrested on the grounds of Woodbriar Apartments Sunday evening, and one of them wound up in county jail.

Police were checking the area out following an armed robbery that had occurred a few blocks away, when they recognized the men as having been barred from the grounds earlier by the apartment's security officer.

Investigation determined the passenger, Kenneth Davis, 31, of Wichita Falls, had an outstanding warrant against him from the Wichita County Sheriff's Department for "violation of protective order."

Davis was placed under arrest and both men ordered to exit the car for search.

During the search, the driver,

Gregory Alexander, 32, also of Wichita Falls, was found to have a syringe stuck in his boot.

Since the driver was under arrest, police impounded the vehicle. Part of the procedure upon impoundment is to inventory contents of the vehicle.

During the inventory, officers found a .38 calibre revolver under the passenger seat, as well as five bullets fitting the gun in the pockets of Davis.

Alexander was turned over to county officers to face the warrant against him. Davis was charged with possession of drug paraphanelia and released after posting a $65 cash bond.

Stabbing

the knife, but without any luck. It was, however, turned over at the department the following morning.

The three-inch dagger had been left by the assailant on the bumper mud guard of an automobile very near the scene. The car's owner, unaware it was there, drove home that night, and the next morning found it on the driveway where it had fallen.

No off duty police officers have been used as security guards at the junior varsity games. However, that policy has now been changed, and two officers will be at all home JV games, Chief Alan Sheffield said.

Police are hired by the school to be at the varsity games, and that practice will be continued.

Student spends summer in Europe

By KARI COLLINS
Heather Krause, 11-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Krause, could give an interesting report on the topic of "What I Did On My Summer Vacation."

The seventh grader at Iowa Park Junior High spent three months of her summer break touring West Germany and London.

She initially flew to an army base in the Bavarian Alps in West Germany where her father, Tom Meredith, lives. The flight was aboard a military plane that featured little or none of the accommodations normally found on a civilian flight.

That didn't dampen the enthusiasm of Heather, who, upon arriving, could look forward to visiting several cities in West Germany, usually on one-day stints, accompanied by her father, stepmother and two sisters.

Highly intelligent and outgoing, Heather had no problem giving the names, spellings and points of interest at each place she toured. She also learned the money system there, and said that the German people are quite honest with tourists who aren't familiar with the current rate of exchange.

One of the first stops they made was Stuttgart, where Herrenchiemsee Royal Palace, the 1864 residence of King Ludwig II of Bavaria, is located.

The group also toured the history-rich town of Rothenburg where the Mediaeval Crime Museum, the Imperial Town Museum, St. Jacob's Church and St. Wolfgang's Church stand.

Heather explained with the aid of brochures, torture and punishment devices used during mediaeval times that she saw displayed at the Crime Museum.

Munich, New Ulm, where a "Kinderfest" (children's festival) was being held, Gunzburg, Frankfurt and the Black Forest were other sites the group was able to visit.

Although Heather liked most of the German cuisine, Scrapple, a mixture of eggs, beef, sausage and salt, were not to her liking. Another interesting sidenote is the fact that it is not uncommon to see dog-owners taking their pets into restaurants there, where they are seated with everyone else. In fact, Heather said, most restaurants prepare dishes for the canines.

The highlight of the trip for Heather was the week spent in London. Although there were some quirks, like baked beans served for breakfast, that particular leg of the trip is the most prominent in her mind, and the one that produced the most souvenirs.

The family stayed in a bed and breakfast inn during their stay, which was all right according to Heather, but, "We had to make our own beds." Tea time was another English tradition that she didn't much care for, or participate in. She said if she were around the English natives at 4 o'clock, she was asked to join in tea, but declined.

She did, however, visit famous places most teenagers have only heard of and would love to see, including the Hard Rock Cafe and the HMV, the largest record store in the world.

Other famous sites she toured, the Tower of London, Harrod's (a shopping center), London Zoo, Madame Tassaud's Wax Museum, Big Ben, Buckingham Palace, the Parliament and Brighton Beach Memoirs, were just icing on the cake.

She said that Madame Tassaud's was interesting, but featured many British stand-outs that she wasn't familiar with. The famous royal quarters, Buckingham Palace, she thought to be kind of dreary, and the closest she came to seeing royalty was the queen's secretary and lady-in-waiting at Brighton Beach.

Heather said that teenage style in England is not what she's used to. Among some crowds, partially shaved heads with pink and purple dyed into the remaining hair is in vogue. She said she also thought the British her age were on the snobbish side.

In school, she plays tenor saxophone in the band, is active in tennis, and her favorite subject is computer literacy.

Heather enjoys reading - she averages about 10 books a week - and said she did some reading on the countries she expected to visit before she left. But nothing in the books taught her as much as actually living among the people and experiencing the history.

PUBLIC NOTICE

BRIEF EXPLANATORY STATEMENTS OF PROPOSED CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENTS GENERAL ELECTION NOVEMBER 8, 1988

PROPOSITION NO. 1 ON THE BALLOT
Senate Joint Resolution 8 proposes a constitutional amendment providing that when the federal government reimburses the state for expenditures of state funds dedicated to acquiring rights-of-way and for constructing, maintaining, and policing public roadways, such federal funds must also be used for those purposes.
The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:
"The constitutional amendment and/or clarification providing that federal reimbursement of state highway dedicated funds are themselves dedicated for the purpose of acquiring rights-of-way and constructing, maintaining, and policing public roadways."

PROPOSITION NO. 2 ON THE BALLOT
House Joint Resolution 2 proposes a constitutional amendment to establish an economic stabilization fund in the state treasury. The fund would consist of one half of the unencumbered balance of general revenues at the end of a biennium and three fourths of the difference between the net oil and gas production taxes received in a fiscal year and the net oil and gas production taxes received in the 1987 fiscal year. During any fiscal biennium, the amount in the economic stabilization fund could not exceed 10% of the total deposited in general revenue in the preceding biennium.
The state comptroller and the state treasurer could decide to transfer monies from the fund into the general revenue fund to alleviate a temporary cash shortage in general revenue. The legislature could make appropriations from the fund on approval by a three fifths vote of each house to make up the difference between anticipated general revenue and appropriations. On approval of two thirds of the members of each house of the legislature, the legislature could appropriate monies from the fund for any purpose.
The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:
"The constitutional amendment establishing an economic stabilization fund in the state treasury to be used to offset unforeseen shortfalls in revenue."

PROPOSITION NO. 3 ON THE BALLOT
House Joint Resolution 5 proposes a constitutional amendment that establishes the Texas growth fund. All investments of the Texas growth fund must be directly related to furthering economic growth and employment opportunities in Texas. At least 50 percent of the fund must be invested in equity and/or debt security for the initial construction, expansion, or modernization of business or industrial facilities in Texas. Not more than ten percent of the fund may be invested in venture capital investments. Of the funds available for venture capital investments, not more than 25 percent may be invested unilaterally, and the remaining investments must be matched at least equally by funds from other sources. The Texas growth fund will be managed by a board of trustees consisting of four members appointed by the Governor and one member from and elected by the membership of each of the following: The Board of Regents of the University of Texas System; The Board of Regents of the Texas A&M System; The Board of Trustees of the Teacher's Retirement System of Texas; The Board of Trustees of the Employee's Retirement System of Texas; and the State Board of Education. The trustees may set the investment policy of the fund, enter into investment contracts, and take any action necessary for the creation, administration, and protection of the fund. The amendment authorizes the Board of Regents of the University of Texas System and the State Board of Education, in managing the permanent university fund and the permanent school fund, to acquire, exchange, sell, supervise, manage, or retain any kind of investment, including investments in the Texas growth fund. The fund will be phased out after the tenth anniversary of its creation, but the Legislature may create a second growth fund by a two thirds vote of each house.
The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:
"The constitutional amendment to provide for the investment of the permanent university fund, the permanent school fund, and public employee retirement systems in the Texas growth fund created by the amendment, which will directly create, retain, and expand job opportunity and economic growth in Texas."
Estos son los informes explicatorios sobre las enmiendas propuestas a la constitución que aparecerán en la boleta el día 8 de noviembre de 1988. Hawks 'turnover' game to Wylie

Seven turnovers proved to be more than the Hawks could overcome, as they lost their first-ever game to the Abilene Wylie Bulldogs 16-7 here Friday night.

So, for the first time since the 1983 season, Iowa Park has lost two consecutive games, and not since 1981 have the Hawks lost their first two games of a season.

Even after losing possession four times on fumbles and three times on pass interceptions, the game was not out of reach until Wylie's last touchdown was scored with 27 seconds remaining in the game.

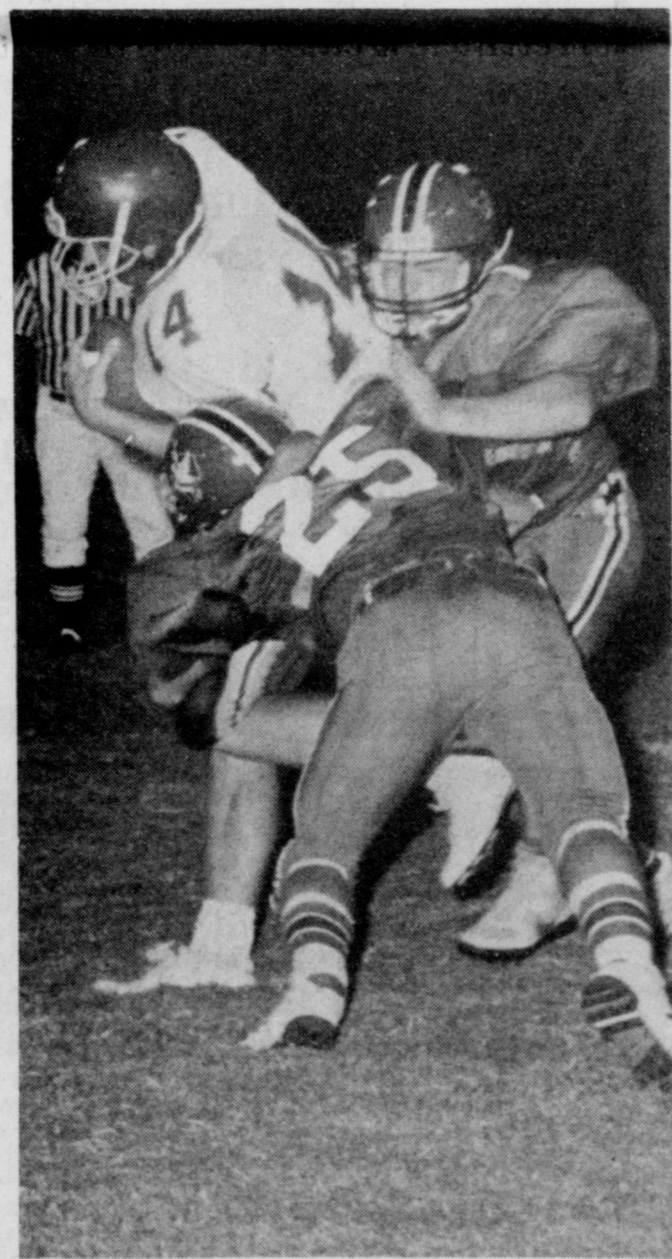

The visitors' other touchdown also came as the clock wound down at a period's end. The Bulldogs posted their first TD five seconds before the end of the first half.

But all the rest of the game, the Hawks appeared to be in command of the game...discounting the turnovers.

Wylie was forced to punt four plays after the opening kickoff, and the Hawks marched 68 yards to the end zone to score. When quarterback Dan Fannin rolled out 19 yards around his left end, picking up a key block at the seven by Jay Loggins, and crossed the goal line, there were still 5:45 minutes remaining in the first period. Kelly McClure's kick was good for the extra point.

Reserve fullback Mathew Blackman made his varsity debut on the drive, carrying four times for 21 yards. Tailback Marc Cruz gained 13 yards on three carries, and Fannin had another carry for six to set up the TD run.

Even more significant than the turnovers was where and when the seven occurred. All but one were deep in Wylie territory.

The first turnover was in the opening period, an interception on the Bulldog 18. The first fumble was on the Wylie 19, in the second quarter.

Wylie intercepted another pass on its 19 in the third quarter, and covered a fumbled punt reception on the 50 yard line in the third period.

Three of the turnovers took place in the final quarter: fumbles on Wylie's 32 and 36, and an interception on the visitors' 35.

Wylie had some help on its first touchdown drive, also. After reaching the Hawk 27, the Bulldogs were given a first down at the 21 when Vance Edwards was ruled to have intercepted with a receiver. On the next play, Cruz dropped an interception in the end zone. And on the following play, Jimmy Duggins hung on to an interception at the five, but Iowa Park drew a 10-yard penalty to the 11 for having roughed the passer. Three plays later, Wylie scored.

Wylie tacked on two additional points by sacking Fannin in the end zone. That also came at the end of a period, with 17 seconds showing on the scoreboard clock in the third quarter. With the ball on the Hawk 20 yard line, Fannin was attempting to pass and apparently felt pressure from a rushing lineman on his blind side. When he attempted to loop and outrun the defender, he was caught on the goal line and tackled.

Those two points were almost meaningless, had McClure's 35-yard field goal attempt midway in the first period been good, but it missed the uprights to the left.

Also, had the Hawks not been trailing by two points near the end of the game, Cruz likely would not have gambled and tried to return a punt from his end zone. As it was, he was tackled on the Hawk nine yard line, and with two minutes remaining, Iowa Park would not have tried for a first down when it faced a fourth and 15 situation on its own five.

The gamble didn't pay off, but Wylie still needed four plays to cover the three yards to score that last touchdown.

Loggins was credited with three big tackles behind the Bulldog line of scrimmage, and Lee Cokendolpher two. Also making big plays defensively were Gary Tatum, Jimmy Nicholson, Ken Allen and Tony Taylor.

Tatum emerged as the leading ground gainer for Iowa Park with 62 yards on 15 carries. Cruz carried 11 times for 39, Bunkie Imboden three for 38, Blackman seven for 36, and Fannin 10 for 33.

Wylie actually caught more Iowa Park passes than did Hawks. With Fannin and Duggins sharing the passing responsibilities, only one of seven attempts was completed to another green and white player, and that was a one-yarder to Michael Johnson.

Wylie was forced to punt 11 times; the Hawks only once.

Residents paying taxes

Iowa Park school trustees were told Tuesday that 98.11 percent of the 1987-88 taxes had been collected by the end of the school's fiscal year.

This, according to collector Allen Shewmake, was not only a higher percentage than the past couple of years for the district, but was also above the percentages reported by the other school districts in the county.

Collections for the Iowa Park district the two previous years were identical 97.64 percent.

Collection percentages for the other districts, as of Aug. 31, were: Burkburnett 97.22; City View 97.5; Electra 94.19, and Wichita Falls 96.11.

Shewmake included in his report a breakdown of areas where collections were lowest, and pointed out that the oil industry was paying its share, on time.

He said 99.28 percent of the oil industry taxes were paid by Aug. 31, and 98.89 of the personal property taxes.

Real estate collections were 97.46 percent, but lake cabins collections were only 92.22 percent.

Lowest percentage of collections were by mobile home owners, who do not own the land on which they are located: 62.84 percent.

In other business of the board Tuesday, reports were made on transportation, cafeteria, and principals of each campus.

Assistant Superintendent Robert Palmer, who is in charge of transportation, said about 1,400 students are transported daily by the buses, each counted separately in the morning and afternoon.

Palmer noted the largest increase in bus students over last year was in the rural area to the southeast of town, and mentioned a continued increase next year likely would necessitate a change in routes, in order to accommodate them.

Palmer also reported on the cafeteria finances. He said that department had only $1,914 in its fund balance when school started, after all the repairs were made and foods purchased for school opening.

The increase in meal prices will take the cafeteria finances back to a desirable level by the end of the year, he reported.

Among the comments made by school principals were:

Jimmy Alsup, junior high, said there are 90 students in the beginner band, and more students, 35, are enrolled in farm and ranch management classes;

Richard Davis, high school, said the shorter day created by cutting five minutes off each period, will likely help on the campus failing rate, because students are not so tired the last two classes of the day;

Kenneth Davis, Bradford, reported his campus was "busting at its seams," after receiving the 180-student class from Kidwell;

Ron Woods, Kidwell, told trustees his building's roofing repairs are almost completed and the change in class dismissal time has helped take several minutes a day off some students' bus-riding time.

Board members approved proposed student trips and fund-raising projects, as well as an insurance plan for employees.

ONE OF THESE YOURS? Connie Laudermilk of the Iowa Park Police Department exhibits nine bicycles that have been picked up abandoned, but unclaimed. This is a major reason why the police are offering a registration of bicycles. Each bike registered will have a number attached, and notifying the owner will be simple when found or recovered in a theft case.

Area firemen to convene here

A portion of the downtown area will be roped off Sunday to accommodate between 200 and 300 persons expected to attend the 111st semi-annual convention of the West Texas Fireman and Firemarshal's Assn.

Areas where traffic will not be permitted will be Cash, from Yosemite to the post office drive-through, and Wall from Park Ave. to Loop 370.

Representatives, and in many cases their family members, are expected to be representing 20 departments from over the area for a full day of activities, according to Bob Evans, president of the host Iowa Park Volunteer Fire Dept.

Iowa Park Fire Chief Danny Skinner is third vice president of the West Texas group.

Most of the meetings will be held in the Lions Club Building on Cash. Displays of fire trucks and equipment will be in the same block, along with displays from the county fire museum, as well as the mobile command post which was donated by the Texas Forestry Service.

The displays are open to the general public, as is a fire prevention program. The public is also invited to watch the races on Wall during the afternoon.

A training session will be held from 10 a.m. to 12-noon, and association officers will meet during the noon hour.

Lunch will be served to those attending, as well as the public, from 11:30 to 1 by the MuleSkinners, at $3 per plate.

A general meeting of all firemen participating at 1:15 p.m., and at the same time an organizational meeting of the ladies auxiliary will be held.

The fire prevention program will be held at 1:15, open to the general public, either in the city hall park or, if weather does not permit, in the fire station.

Competition between department representatives will begin about 2 p.m., including six-man hookup, two-man hookup, six-woman hookup, two-woman hookup, and water polo for both men's and women's teams.

The day's activities will conclude with a dinner at 7 p.m., which will be for fire department representatives exclusively. It also will be served by the MuleSkinners.

Paper can help put out fires.

We, your local volunteer firefighters depend on your contributions. We depend on them every time we fight a fire. And that's because the tools of our trade don't and shouldn't come cheap. Like the $200,000 it costs for a new ladder truck. The $100 we pay for a protective helmet. Or the $25 it costs for an axe to help us reach a trapped victim a few seconds earlier.

Over the next several weeks, you're going to be asked to help us put out fires. With paper. Give what you can. We do every time the fire alarm rings.

JV, Frosh to travel to Breckenridge

The Hawk junior varsity and freshman teams will hit the road this afternoon for the first time this season when they travel to Breckenridge. Both clubs are still looking for their first wins of the year. The freshmen are to kick off at 5:30 p.m. Though both teams scored first here Thursday against Hirschi, the freshmen lost 21-7 and the JV game, called after the first half of play, also wound up 21-7. Iowa Park's freshmen scored in the first quarter, as did Hirschi. But the visitors added six points in the second and eight in the fourth. In the JV game, the Hawks took the opening kickoff and capped a 10-play, 76-yard drive with a 24-yard pass. Iowa Park seemed in complete control of the game, intercepting a Hirschi pass on the Huskies' first play from scrimmage. Then, unable to mount another drive, had Hirschi back on its own 14 yard line following a punt and penalty. But three plays and a major penalty later, the score was knotted at 7-7. The Huskies scored on both their following possessions, once on a 76-yard run and the other on a 23-yarder. Hirschi required only 10 offensive plays to score three touchdowns. The game was called at the half when a fight erupted behind the home stands and a student was stabbed. Junior varsity statistics:

Iowa Park Junior High football gets the 1988 season underway this evening at the school's stadium, with a four-game slate with McNeil Junior High. First of the four games will be the Seventh Grade B team, followed by the A team, Eighth Grade B and A. Both Seventh Grade games will be six-minute quarters, but the Eighth Grade quarters will be eight-minute periods. Admission will be $2 for adults and $1 for students.

Top 'O Texas Scoreboard

MIDGET HAWKS 12
BURKBURNETT 6

The Hawks survived a scare from an extremely tough Burkburnett team Saturday night to earn a 12-6 overtime victory. No serious scoring threats were made by either team during the four quarters of regulation time, and though the Hawks seemed to dominate in overtime, untimely penalties and fumbles kept them in trouble. Tough running by Micky Mayo and consecutive defensive stands by the Hawks led to the final score. Robert Klinkerman scored both Hawk TDs on one-yard runs, as the Hawks totaled 136 yards rushing. Mayo's 67 yards on the ground surpassed Burk's 53 yards in total offense. Clint Scobee, Klinkerman, Josh Castles and Phillip House led the Hawk defense in tackles, with four apiece.

A salad supper will be served prior to the football game between Iowa Park and Breckenridge Friday by the Iowa Park FFA Booster Club. U.S.D.A. food commodities will be distributed between 12-noon and 6 p.m. Thursday, Sept. 22, at the First Christian Church. Available will be butter, dry milk and flour, according to Marian Andersen, Food Bank coordinator.

Tuesday rain measures 1.96

Iowa Park received almost two inches of welcomed rainfall Tuesday evening, according to Virgil Woodfin. Woodfin measured 1.96 of precipitation yesterday morning. The heavy rain began falling about 9 p.m. and continued intermittently throughout the night. Forecasters gave the area a 50-percent chance for more rains Wednesday. Besides giving yards and pastures a needed drink, several farmers have already "dusted in" wheat hoping for rain so they can have some early grazing for their cattle. More rain is needed, however, as stock tanks are reaching dangerously low levels, farmers report.

Rural health meeting topic

Rep. Charles Finnell, charter member of the recently-created House Rural Health Caucus, is participating along with Cong. Charles Stenholm in a working conference this weekend at Columbus, Tex.

"In order to achieve any significant improvement in rural health care in Texas," Finnell said, "both the federal and state government will have to focus together. At this time the Medicaid reimbursement process pays out more money to urban hospitals than rural hospitals for identical medical services. This amounts to discrimination, and we must correct this type of inequity."

The conference is the last three days and a report of the Caucus is to be made when the 71st Texas legislature convenes in January.

CAN YOU AFFORD YOUR TEMPER?

"Well, I finally told that person off!" This is small comfort. Temper can cost you your job, promotion, and peace of mind. Ask anyone who flares up and loses friends faster than one can make them. Most unhappy marriages result from the uncontrolled temper of a marriage partner. A bad temper is a burden to the possessor and those around them. Many times an intelligent, fine, affectionate person has a bad temper. Temper has been called the "vice of the virtuous."

The temper possessor suffers remorse and self-condemnation. Often times they apologize for their actions and tries to make up for things said and done. Because they're friends, they forgive him. But temper has broken many friendships. Most importantly, the person cannot forgive himself.

Three minutes of anger can sap your strength quicker than 8 hours of work. Temper places a tremendous strain on the body. Doctors know many of the body's ills come from attitudes of anger, hate, resentment. Many recover by substitution patience for impatience, calmness for anger, and love for hate. Temper robs a woman of beauty and a man of dignity.

Prayer has helped many to bring a bad temper under control. Self-analysis helps. Anger may come with fatigue, a let-down or with worry. Half of the battle is won if one recognizes this. Henry Drummond's famous essay, "The Greatest Thing in the World" has helped many overcome tempers, warns that the Bible "Again and again returns to condemn anger as one of the most destructive elements in human nature." "No forms of vice, not worldliness, not greed of gold, not drunkenness itself," said Drummond, "does more to un-Christianize society than evil temper." "For embittering live; for breaking up communities; for destroying the most sacred relationship; for devastating homes; for withering up men and women; for taking the bloom of childhood; in short, for gratuitous misery-producing power, this influence stands alone." The price of temper is so high, who can afford it?

Ventriloquist slated to perform at Lakeview Church of God

She travels nationwide with her puppets, conducting kids revivals, teaching workshops and presenting church workshops. She hosted a children's radio program entitled "Littlefolks" for several years, and is now aired as "Ginger's Breadhouse." Having appeared on television and traveled with missionaries in several foreign countries, Mrs. Brown says that mission work must be done in the United States as well as other countries.

Ventriloquist Ginger Ingram Brown and the "Littlefolks" will perform at the Lakeview Church of God Sunday through Wednesday. Performances are scheduled for 10:45 a.m. and 6 p.m. Sunday, and 7:30 each weeknight. As well as being a ventriloquist, Ginger is a writer and producer of children's productions and puppet scripts, a songwriter and recording artist.

Methodist women meet Tuesday

The Jesse Mae Owens Fellowship and Bertha McDonald Circle of the First United Methodist Church each met Tuesday.

The Jesse Mae Owens Fellowship met in the home of Mrs. Roy Childers, where Mrs. C.L. Thompson was leader of the lesson entitled "The Fruit of the Spirit." Nine members and two visitors, Mrs. John Mollet and Mrs. Dave Davis, U.M.W. president, attended.

The Bertha McDonald Circle met in the home of Hilda Thompson. Gerry Thurlo, assisted by Bernice Compton, gave the program entitled "The Power Within United Methodist Women," by LaVeeda Morgan Battle. The program was planned to provoke thinking about the criminal justice system and its impact on women.

Jerry Waters, circle leader, gave the devotional from the Upper Room publication. Following the meeting, refreshments were served by the hostesses.

DRIVING WITH LLUMAR® ON YOUR WINDOWS IS NO SWEAT.

It's a hot, muggy day, and you're stuck inside your car. Your air conditioner runs full blast, but you're still hot under the collar. And if all that isn't bad enough, the blinding glare hurts your eyes and hampers your vision. Keep your cool with LLumar®. LLumar solar-control window film from Martin Processing reduces the sun's fury to raise your driving pleasure. Ideal for all types of vehicles, the film allows light in but keeps a considerable amount of heat and glare out. The result: You stay cooler. Your air conditioner works easier. And your car wastes less gas.

Protects your car. Protects your life. But these are just a few of the reasons to drive with LLumar. Available in a variety of eye-appealing tints, the film adds a stylish, custom tint to your windows. It makes a sporty car look more expensive. And an expensive car look priceless. LLumar stops the sun from fading your upholstery and carpet by screening out up to 99% of harmful ultraviolet rays. It keeps the sun out of your baby's eyes. Softens jarring headlights at night. Affords more privacy, particularly for vans or RVs. And works like a steel curtain across your windows to protect your vehicle from vandalism and you from flying glass in case of an accident. You can get LLumar only at an authorized dealer.

Engineered to resist scratching, the film cleans easily with a milk liquid detergent. An authorized dealer will help you select the right tint, then install it for you. And LLumar is covered by a limited warranty. So test drive our film today. Because LLumar takes the heat so you don't have to. Drive over for a free estimate. And ask about LLumar for your home and office.

Making NEWS

EVERYONE likes to read about his special interest, group or team in the community newspaper. You may be planning a benefit or other social event that needs the support of your local newspaper. Perhaps you would like to express your views or respond to the views of others.

This guide will give you the basics of dealing with your local editor, so that you can "get your story out" in the fastest, simplest way. It is a guide that will answer your basic questions about how news makes it to print, how to contact your newspaper and how to present your story. We offer this guide in the interest of working together to keep the community informed.

WRITING

Use your simplest English. Never use fancy wording or terms that only a member of your club would understand. Watch the newspaper to learn its style. Most important, be honest, impartial, accurate and brief. Never use a quote unless it is direct and accurate, and always identify your sources.

Remember that there can be different writing styles for different parts of the newspaper. Use "I" only in letters to the editor or opinion columns. Give more description in feature stories. Keep your news writing to the point, with the most interesting and important information first.

PICTURES

Editors are always seeking good picture opportunities. If you think your story merits a photo, talk to the editor about it. If a newspaper photographer cannot make it to your event, take one yourself and include it with your story or release.

Always try for action, rather than posed, pictures. If little Jane Doe, for example, has been presented an award for volunteering at the local hospital, a picture of Jane at work is much better than one of the mayor presenting her with an award. Write the outline, or description, of the photo on a separate piece of paper rather than the back of the photo, and list names left to right.

PUBLICITY BASICS

Only one person from your organization should be in touch with the newspaper. It is often said there are three rules of journalism: accuracy, accuracy, and accuracy. Write everything down, check the spelling of names and never trust your memory.

Get your story to the newspaper as soon as possible. Know the newspaper's deadlines. Whenever possible, let the newspaper know about an event before it takes place.

Use creativity. If you have an idea for a feature story, suggest it. Newspaper editors appreciate fresh ideas.

Never try to obtain publicity by pressure of friendship or business connections.

PACKAGING

Your newspaper sees a constant barrage of paper. You're already one step ahead if your news release or story is obviously local. However, remember that the typical editor must make quick decisions regarding newsworthiness. As a newspaper reader you know that your reading decisions are based first on the headline, and then on the first paragraph of the news item.

Give the most important information first. Be sure to give the "who, what, when, where and how" of the story right away. Background material should come last.

Include the name of the contact, the group, and a phone number at the top of the page for quick reference.

When submitting a story to your local newspaper, type it double-spaced on one side of 8 1/2-by-11-inch paper. Start about one-third of the way down the paper on the first page and leave ample margins. Number your pages. When you're done, type this symbol: # # #

THE OPINION PAGE

When you write letters to the editor, always include your name, address, affiliation (if any), and phone number. As a matter of accountability, and to protect the newspaper from irresponsible letter writers, newspapers rarely publish a letter without this information. If you have an opinion, remember that the opinion or editorial page is considered the property of the public; it's your page, so feel free to use it. Editors appreciate receiving your views for this page.

WHAT'S NEWS?

Editors choose their news according to the importance of an event to their communities. A fire, a crime, or an accident is important—but so is the award your club gave last week. Club elections, new projects, unusual actions, social events, milestones, athletic events, benefits that need public support, and member participation in local, national or world events are all of interest to your community newspaper editor.

DEADLINES

Pre-planned events should always reach the editor's desk well before the last-minute rush. Learn your newspaper's deadlines, and keep as far ahead of them as possible. It is always best to stop by or call the newspaper office after the last issue has been published, rather than just before the presses roll. Remember that there will be times when an editor or reporter is simply too close to deadline to talk to you.

MAKING NEWS

Chances are, if you follow deadlines, concentrate on accuracy and maintain a good relationship with your editor, your organization will make it out to the community.

This guide was developed by the National Newspaper Association, representatives of more than 5,000 community newspapers, to assist newspaper publishers in their effort to better serve their communities.
