Voter turnout believed to be record-setter here

Election officials counted one of the largest turnouts of voters ever here Tuesday in the general election.

They started early and finished late at Precinct 32, in the County Agriculture Building, with 1,847 out of 2,998 registered voters casting ballots.

As early as 1:30 p.m. 30 percent of the registered voters, 900, had already put their ballots in the can.

At Precinct 33, at Faith Baptist Church, 559 voters turned out, and at Precinct 60, Chaparral Baptist Camp, 315 votes were cast.

George Bush, who was declared the winner in the presidential race, won two of the three boxes here.

Bush outpolled Michael Dukakis 1,113-654 in Precinct 32 and 187-121 in Precinct 60, but lost to Dukakis 290-253 at Precinct 33.

A large number of voters marked their ballots straight line: 290 Republican, 384 Democrat, 16 Libertarian, in Precinct 32; 67 Republican, 191 Democrat, 3 Libertarian in Precinct 33; and 38 Republican, 77 Democrat, and 3 Libertarian, in Precinct 60.

Tom Callahan won all three boxes over challenger Ray Cannedy in the race for county sheriff: 1,196-576 in Precinct 32; 384-153 in Precinct 33, and 206-98 in Precinct 60.

The same was true in the race for state senator between Democrat Steve Carrier of Roby and Republican Bobby Albert of Wichita Falls: 931-827 in Precinct 32; 353-179 in Precinct 33, and 156-146 in Precinct 60.

Former Electra superintendent of schools Bill Hudson was successful in his bid for the state school board over Donald Ray Dorsett of Stephenville, according to Hudson's son-in-law Bob Hance.

Hance told the Leader Wednesday morning he had called the state election office and learned Hudson beat Dorsett 167,554 to 156,288. The third candidate in the race, Dorothea Owens, received 10,297 votes.

Locally, Hudson won 888-707 in Precinct 32; 341-162 in Precinct 33, and 159-122 in Precinct 60.

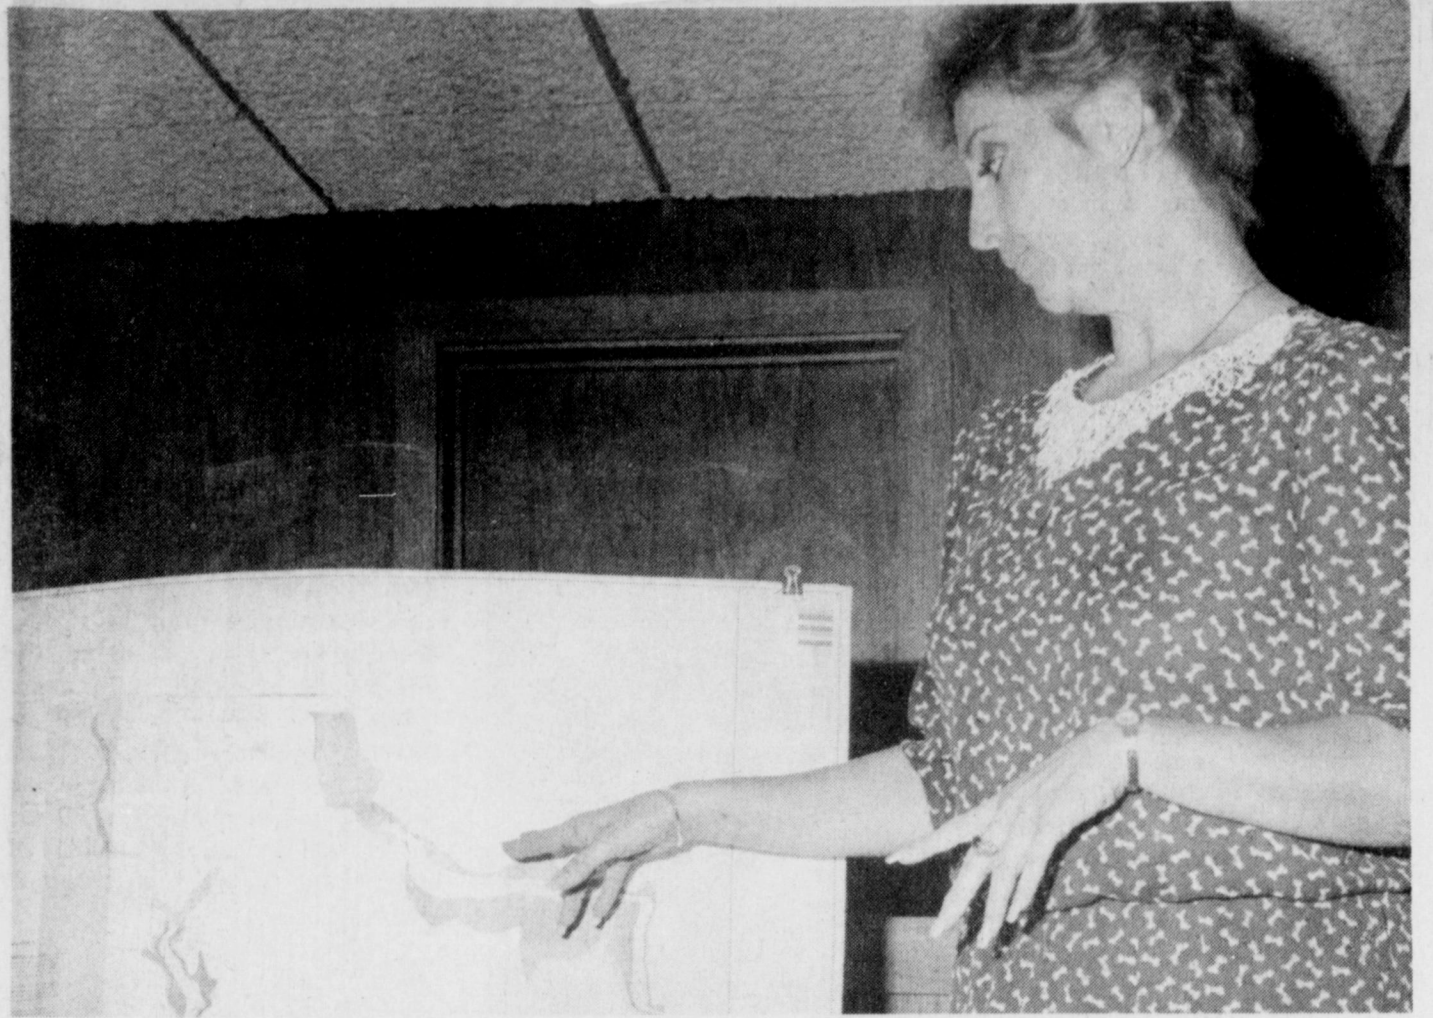

Vernon native Jack Hightower was also the winner of all three boxes here in his bid for Place 4 on the state supreme court. He out-pollied Republican Barbara Culver 1,006-765 in Precinct 32; 369-167 in Precinct 33, and 193-104 in Precinct 60.

All three of the constitutional amendments carried state-wide, but not locally.

Amendment Three failed in Precinct 32, 910-684, and Precinct 60, 164-116, but passed in Precinct 33, 220-203.

Amendment One passed: 1,391-211 in Precinct 32; 373-54 in Precinct 33, and 245-33 in Precinct 60.

Amendment Two passed: 876-666 in Precinct 33; 223-176 in Precinct 33, and 143-125 in Precinct 60.

DIANE LEATHERWOOD EXPLAINS REGULATIONS THAT APPLY IN FLOOD PLAIN AREA ... FEMA representative met Monday night with residents.

Regulations explained, but people unsatisfied

"I'm not here to say anyone is at fault. All we can do is tell you what the regulations are. I know this isn't what you want to hear."

That's what a crowd of residents in the northeast part of the city were told Monday evening by Diane Leatherwood, emergency management specialist with the Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA).

The informational meeting was coordinated by the city, in response to numerous questions posed by owners of property in an area which has been termed "floodway" and "flood plain."

An ordinance, which was offered the city by the federal agency, was passed by the city council in 1982 which restricts construction in the area designated by the Corps of Army Engineers as floodway and flood plain.

The speaker confirmed what the residents had been earlier told by the council, that without adopting the ordinance, no homeowner in the city would be eligible for flood insurance or other federal assistance in case of a disaster.

Responding to comments and questions from the audience, Leatherwood said there apparently had been some mistakes committed by the city, both in allowing mobile homes to locate in the area and interpreting the regulations in relation to repairs on existing structures in the zones.

She said, "I'm hearing things that maybe we should come to the city and help them. There's been some misunderstandings."

However, in response to several suggestions that the city remove itself from the program and throw out its ordinance, Leatherwood explained that could all happen, "But the maps would still exist."

By that, she meant that no bank or lending institution would commit to finance any home locating in the zone unless its construction met with FEMA requirements, ordinance or no ordinance.

"We're not trying to keep the people away from the water," she said of the regulations, "We're trying to keep the water away from the people."

Homes can be constructed in the zones, but they must meet the regulations, she explained, and pointed out that several do it in the southern part of the state.

But one man in the audience said they were building on stilts.

As to relief from the requirements, she said the only way would be to create a channel for the flood waters that would carry the water away from the homes.

Though she did not say how much local money would be required, she pointed out that there is federal funding used for such projects, similar to the Holliday Creek project currently underway in Wichita Falls.

And responding to a question if there were anyone of higher authority than she and another FEMA representative, Bill Kuno, who was with her, she said there was, but any contact with higher authority would only result in the same request filtering down to her Denton office once more.

In case the city is violating regulations, it could be put on probation to clear up the violations, or could be dropped from the program, she said.

But again, she pointed out that the flood maps would still exist and there actually would be no change.

The meeting lasted about an hour, and near the end she said, "We keep hearing over and over again the same things. It's unfortunate that you feel your property has been taken from you. There are ways to use the land. I can't say the city is at fault."

Chamber board plans all-membership meal

The Chamber of Commerce's annual All Membership Luncheon has been changed, at least for this year, to an All Membership Breakfast, and will be held Nov. 21.

Directors approved a proposal of President Robert Palmer's to try the new format, in an effort to increase the turnout.

At the meeting, officers and directors are elected.

Palmer promised an outstanding "country-type" breakfast, which will be served at 7:30 a.m. And he said the event will conclude by 8:15, so those attending can get to work.

He named Keith Aulds, Jan Clapp and Bob Hamilton to the nominating committee.

Another committee named, including Kenneth Via and Bob Aulds, is to serve as this year's auditors of the Industrial Development Corporation books.

Directors also approved a proposal to serve as host to any high school playoff football game that might be scheduled in Hawk Stadium.

During Monday's called meeting, held in the Chamber's new building, a general discussion was held on changes made in this year's Whoop-T-Do, what to look forward to next year, and also a need of clearing out materials promoting the city's 100th anniversary.

Directors generally agreed that the moving of the Whoop-T-Do area more to the Wall and Cash intersection was an improvement.

Organizations were served notice in the future that, if they are serving foods, new county-mandated guidelines will have to be followed. A seminar will be held prior to the 1989 celebration to acquaint booth sponsors of those guidelines.

Certificates for residents who have lived in the school district 10 or more years are available at the Chamber office, and Centennial bumper stickers are free to anyone requesting them, it was pointed out.

7 arrests reported

An unusual number of arrests, seven, all in unrelated cases, were made during the past week by Iowa Park police.

In most of the cases, the arrests were traffic related.

Donald Scott Owen, 25, was taken into custody Friday afternoon on two warrants issued by the Department of Public Safety. He was released after posting $265 bond, according to the police blotter.

Carlton Eugene Pace, 52, was also arrested Friday afternoon at Pacific and Rebecca on a charge of driving while license was suspended. He was transported to county jail.

About two hours later, at 7:21

Lengthy agenda faces city council Monday

Members of the city council face an exceptionally long agenda when they meet at 7 p.m. Monday in council chambers.

Besides a public hearing are two ordinances, three resolutions, a proclamation, bid action and numerous proposals by the city administrator.

The public hearing deals with the proposed demolition of a house at 610 E. Bank, belonging to John Paul Jones, and a resolution calling for the demolition is listed, in case the council decides to take the action.

A resolution and ordinance both deal with the annexation of city-owned land around Lake Iowa Park.

Both formalities, the petition to annex is required by law, asking the city to annex its own property, and the ordinance is required in order to take the action.

A resolution and one of the administrator's proposals also relate. Both deal with a subject tabled at the last council meeting, concerning restricting parking in an area of First Street.

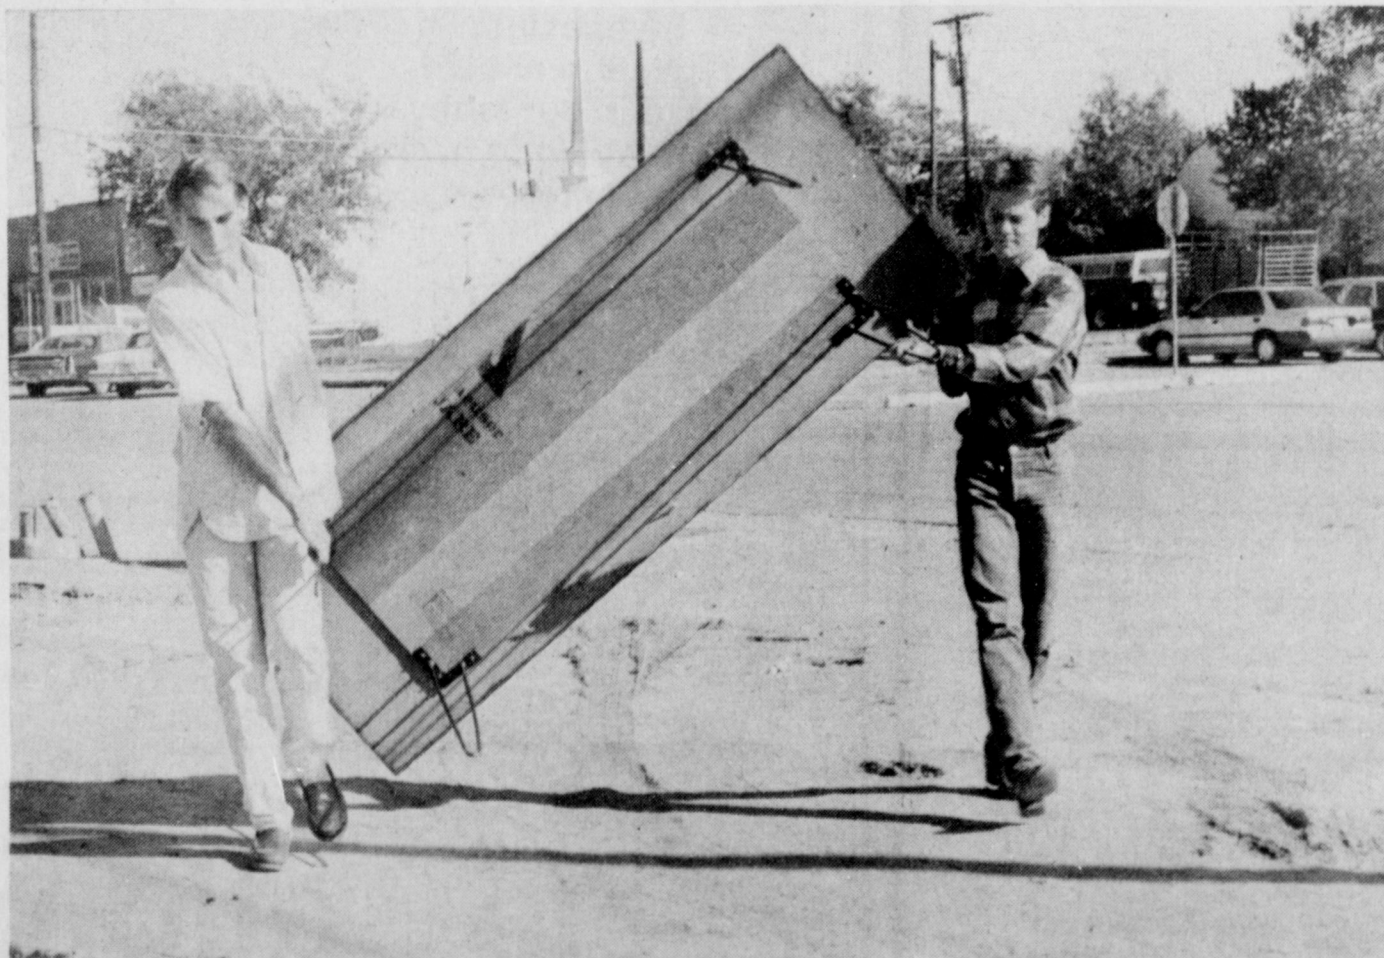

The ordinance would establish a "no parking zone" on the east side of the 1000 block. However, aldermen will discuss an alternative, of working with property owners to curb the street, which would solve the problem of one property owner.

The council will be asked to consider authorizing the administrator to advertise for proposals for new trash containers.

Considerations listed on the agenda under the administrator's report are:

- * parking lot for new Chamber of Commerce building.
- * purchasing electrical and construction equipment.
- * improvements to new public works offices.
- * authorizing the administrator to attend a city management workshop Dec. 7-10 in Denton.
- * authorizing the purchase of a boring machine for the public works department.
- * zoning permit fees.
- * authorizing the administrator to reroof the water plant.

The proclamation to be given by Mayor Tim Hunter will set Nov. 11-20 as "Drug Free Week for North Texas."

CIVIC-MINDED vocational agriculture students from Iowa Park High School did a big favor for the Chamber of Commerce Monday, by moving the furniture and supplies from the old building to the newly-completed facility. Secretary Susan Dillard said the help made it possible for the Chamber's board of directors to hold their monthly meeting in the new office later that day.

Yule lighting date selected

This year's Christmas Lighting ceremony, to be held Nov. 29, will be moved from the downtown area to Tom Burnett Memorial Library, according to Ruth (Mrs. Phil) Welch.

Among the new decorations and lights purchased for community decorations are a large Santa Claus, sleigh and reindeer, which will be displayed on the balcony of the library.

Other decorations will be located: on Bank from Wall to Pacific; Pacific from Loop 370 to the Library; all four corners of the Library, and three six-foot stars to go on the water tower at Lake Gordon.

The decorations are purchased each year by a committee, using money donated monthly with city water bills.

A suggestion made some four years ago by Mrs. Welch was put into action by the city council, and all the decorations are the result of citizen donations to the project.

Long, Tarver nuptial exchanged Saturday afternoon

Miss Pamela Jean Long and Erik Scott Tarver exchanged nuptial vows Saturday afternoon at Sacred Heart Catholic Church in Wichita Falls. Rev. Ivor Koch of St. Mary's Catholic Church in Henrietta officiated the double-ring ceremony.

Joan Marie Long and John Hrinevich, sister-in-law and brother-in-law of the bride, respectively, served as lecturers.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald R. Long of the Bowman Community, and Tarver is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lonnie Ray Tarver of Grand Prairie.

Escorted to the altar by her father, the bride was picture of elegance in a formal gown of white slipper satin with a shirred bodice and mandarin collar. The bishop sleeves were topped with satin ruffles to the elbow, and beaded lace over tulle extended to a point at the hand. The antebellum waist, accented with beaded lace of seed pearls, iridescent sequin, and pearl dangles, went to a bouffant skirt covered with beaded lace appliques and cut-outs. The cathedral-length train was adorned with beaded lace appliques and cut-outs, with satin ruffles, pearl dangles and beaded cut-outs accenting the hemline. A headpiece of bridal roses and pearl dangles securing a multi-layered cathedral-length tulle veil, designed by the bride's mother, completed her wedding costume.

She carried a cascade bouquet made of white and pink bridal roses, stephanotis, bouvardia and daisies in shades of pink, lavender and yellow, with the bride's rosary intertwined throughout, carried atop a pearl Bible belonging to her mother.

The couple exchanged vows before an altar banked with baskets of gladioli, gerbera daisies, fall tulips and greenery. Heart-shaped candelabras supporting antique white tapers completed decorations.

Deborah Hrinevich of Pasadena, sister of the bride, was matron of honor. She wore an antique white slipper satin waltz-length gown with a lace tunic overlay gathered at the side with satin roses. A shoulder-length veil cascading from a halo of satin roses complimented her gown.

She carried a cascade bouquet of gerbera daisies and roses in pink lavender and yellow.

Bridesmaids were LaDonna Ferguson of Graham, sister of the bride, Debbie Reed and Jamie Martin, both of Wichita Falls. Cindy Wylie of Wichita Falls, cousin of the bride, was junior bridesmaid.

Each wore a gown of antique white slipper satin with a sweetheart neckline, tucked puffed sleeves accented with satin roses and a basque waistline flowing into a waltz-length bouffant skirts. They wore head pieces identical to the matron of honor's, and carried cascade bouquets made of gerbera daisies in shades of pink, lavender and yellow.

Miss Amy Ferguson of Graham, niece of the bride, carried out the duties of flower girl in a waltz-length white moire taffeta gown with a jeweled neckline and bouffant skirt with a lace bustle in the back. She wore a miniature version of the bride's veil and carried a basket of pink, blue, lavender and yellow gerbera daisies.

The groom was attired in a white tuxedo, complimented with a boutonniere formed of pink roses and stephanotis.

Best man was Steve Tarver of Grand Prairie, brother of the groom. Groomsman were David Burch and Thom Kruzinski, both of Arlington, Donald R. Long of Wichita Falls, brother of the bride, and Dewey Drew of Fort Worth. Matt Smolinski of Grand Prairie was ring bearer.

Dee Railbourn of Dallas, cousin of the bride, and Charles Wylie of Wichita Falls, uncle of the bride, assumed ushering duties.

Each wore a black tuxedo with an ivory rose boutonniere.

Candlelighters Christopher Keel and Ricky Ferguson, nephews of the bride, wore black tuxedos.

Mickey Green III, Cunde Green and Scott Green provided the prelude music for the ceremony, which included "Until I Loved You," "Sunrise, Sunset," and "Canticle of the Bride."

A reception at the Wichita Club was held following the ceremony, with the rooms decorated in a fall garden motif.

Large ficus trees, pots of mums and fall tulips in pink, white, lavender and yellow were used throughout the rooms, with the focus of attention being on the bride's table.

The bride's cake was a creation of large flowers in pink, white, lavender and yellow swirling in masses around the entire confection, creating a gazebo affect, to hold a bride and groom centerpiece. The cake was flanked by brass candelabras enwrapped with gerbera daisies and baby's breath.

A large swan ice carving, encircled with fall tulips in pink, white, lavender and yellow, centered the food table. Conversation tables around the room held arrangements of fall flowers with statues of a miniature groom carrying his bride.

The registration table, attended by Kim Gilbert and Julie Ridenour, held a full-length picture of the bride in her wedding gown, a porcelain figurine of a groom carrying a bride, and a centerpiece of gerbera daisies in pink, peach, lavender and yellow.

Rice bags were distributed by Jennifer Ketchum and Brooke Burr.

The bride is a graduate of Holliday High School and International Aviation Travel Academy in Arlington. She is employed by Bailey Pontiac in Arlington. The bridegroom was graduated from Sam Houston High School in Arlington and is employed by American Building Maintenance of Dallas.

The new Mrs. Tarver chose an antique white brocade satin suit for travel. The couple will reside in Arlington.

Out of town guests include Mrs. Mary Lou Ketchum of Lincoln, RI, Mr. and Mrs. Don Poe of Oklahoma City, Rosalie Raibourn and Movelta Buckles, both of Lawton, Okla. and Mark Ketchum and Carol Burr, both of Fort Worth

City officials discuss future of Iowa Park at joint meeting of Federated Study Clubs

A joint meeting of the Amity, Philia and 23 Study Clubs was held Monday evening at Tom Burnett Memorial Library. The 23 Study Club hosted the meeting.

Members enjoyed a program entitled "The Future of Iowa Park" given by James Barrington, Iowa Park City Administrator; Tim Hunter, mayor, and Robert Palmer, president of the Iowa Park Chamber of Commerce.

Barrington gave an outline of the city's plans for the future which include improved streets, improvement in the water system, expanding the new "Hammond Park" at Lake Iowa Park to include a boat ramp, replacing or upgrading water lines, and the construction of a new water tower.

Hunter said he foresees the city getting out of the landfill business and possibly changing to a regional landfill, recycling or incineration. He also said he expects the city to grow to the north and northwest.

Palmer credited Cryovac with providing Iowa Park with a stable economical base, and cited the outstanding municipal government and churches as being other assets of the city.

He named lakes, agriculture, the expressway and nature areas as four untapped resources, but added that the Industrial Development Corporation has purchased land north of the expressway and contacted 700 companies to consider the area for a plant site.

Palmer's projections for the future include an increase in population and construction, job opportunities and recreational facilities. He said he foresees a population shift to the southeast of Iowa Park with FM 369 to become a major commercial area.

Dee Decker, president of Philia Study Club, called the meeting to order. Judy Schenk read the meditation, written by Annetta Reusch, and Evelyn Ward led the Pledge of Allegiance.

Robbie Smith read the Collect, and Jean Johnson gave the Federation Counselor's report, followed by Helen Burrell leading the group in singing "America The Beautiful."

Baptist women meet Monday

Seventeen members of the Thelma Smith Baptist Women met in the Fellowship Hall of First Baptist Church Monday evening for a business meeting and mission program. Mrs. Sam Hill and Mrs. D.O. James were the hostesses.

Preceding the business directed by Mrs. V.I. Woodfin, the missionaries who observed their birthdays Monday were special objects of prayer in a service conducted by Mrs. E.T. Patterson.

Members voted to cooperate with two other organizations in the church to provide gifts that would be suitable for Christmas presents for patients at Wichita Falls State Hospital for the November missions in action project.

Mrs. Riley Thompson directed the mission program entitled "Follow the Leaders in Lebanon."

The topical discussion presented by Mmes. Elmer Singleton, H.E. Cummings and Roy Smith were highlighted by the difficulties experienced by three Southern Baptist missionaries who stayed in Lebanon to train nationals to become Christian leaders even after the United States had ordered all Americans to leave the country.

During the social hour, refreshments were served from tables replete with Thanksgiving decorations.

As I See It...

By BOB HAMILTON

Like I said I would be at this time, I'm glad the election is over.

Not all the races came out the way I wanted them to, and there were some real surprises, but like after every election, it's time to settle down and make the best of things.

I haven't figured out why a series of advertisements was run prior to the election in Brand X, relating to Workers Compensation. But it may have been an attempt to influence the candidates for state legislature.

Anyway, for whatever reason, a firm of ambulance-chasing lawyers in Wichita Falls chose to do a hatchet job on efforts to make some changes in our state Workers Compensation law.

The hatchet job was to make people feel that if one opposes the law in its present form, they were, as the ads said "anti-worker."

It's interesting to note that about the only people wanting no change are lawyers to represent workers in the court room on cases relating to workers compensation.

Why is there an effort to change the present situation? Well, the fact that workers' compensation rates have increased 109 percent since January 1985, and the State Board of Insurance has recommended another 6.7 percent increase, should give you some indication.

In fact, the national Council on Compensation Insurance, a trade group representing companies selling compensation insurance, has asked the Board for a 36.7 percent increase.

Or try this one. We have some employers right here in Iowa Park who must match each dollar they pay in salaries by 30-cents for insurance.

I doubt seriously that anyone who hires someone to do a job is "anti-worker."

Those who do the hiring, however, are interested in the workers' welfare, and also in making a profit on investment, so they can continue to hire workers.

But when an employer must pay almost as much in insurance, social security, vacation, hospitalization and other benefits, as he does for the worker's salary, there's not much left for the employer.

People who are well versed in the Workers Compensation situation in Texas tell us that our rates in this state are the highest, but the benefits for the workers are the lowest. There must be something to that.

At a time when everything is being done possible to attract new jobs in Texas, our compensation insurance is threatening to send present jobs out of the state.

If we lose enough jobs, with businesses moving to other states, maybe our ambulance-chasing neighbors will just pick up and move with them.

Better still, maybe they should move to those states where the rates for Workers Compensation are so low, and try to get them raised there.

Still reading

Dear Mr. Hamilton and Staff,
I am still reading the centennial issue and enjoying the history that I knew and had heard tales of -- OVER and OVER!

The Taylor descendants had several days together to review the paper and in looking at the pictures, we identified two of the "UNIDENTIFIED". Copies with notations enclosed.

I would also like to correct a minor typo on the JESS WALDO PENN story -- which could have very easily been MY typo -- Jess and Maggie Penn are buried at Sturgis, Michigan. Their oldest son, Donald Stark Penn was buried in Sanguis, California.

I sincerely appreciate the work you and your staff and the Chamber of Commerce put into the centennial celebration -- the group to set up the 200 year bash will be hard pressed to top 1988!

Sincerely,
Bobby Jo Penn Miniard

Arrests

p.m., police arrested John David Phillips, 36, at Victoria and Loop 370 on a charge of driving while intoxicated. He was also transported to county jail.

After receiving an alert from the DPS that an individual was driving on the highway in Wichita Falls, pointing a handgun at passing motorists, police set up an observation post at US 287 and Bell Road.

They stopped Lyndell Eugene Coleman, 41, of Wichita Falls, and found a gun in the passenger seat. He was arrested and taken to county jail.

An unidentified man was taken into custody, at county request, on the outskirts of Iowa Park Tuesday afternoon when police were requested to answer a domestic disturbance.

The man was allegedly beating a woman in the car while sitting on the side of Loop 370, about half a mile outside city limits. He was taken to county jail to face county charges.

Also arrested Monday on a county warrant and taken to jail was Richard Wayne Schroeder Jr., 31.

Two reports of criminal mischief were reported last week to the police department.

Season-ending loss to Vernon said a builder for next year

Williams sees positive future

Eventhough the Hawks lost 28-7 in their season finale Friday night to powerhouse Vernon, it was a loss with an upbeat.

Coach Len Williams pointed out that his Mean Green played with more effort than in any other game this season, and feels it is a starting point in getting ready for 1989.

The effort was evident, in that there was only a 21-point spread in the final score, instead of 40 the Hawks suffered against Graham and Decatur. And eventhough the Lions had lost to 5-AAA champion Decatur, Vernon, which just dropped back from Class AAAA, is still one of the better teams in this classification in Texas, according to the ratings.

A couple of breaks here and there, and the outcome could have been considerably different. Williams pointed out a missed field goal, a dropped pass in the end zone, and a holding penalty when the Hawks were inside Vernon's 10, made a lot of difference in the final outcome.

All the scoring of the game came in the second and fourth quarters. The first period was a standoff, with the Hawks gaining a pair of first downs and Vernon only three. And in the third quarter, Iowa Park earned three first downs, while holding the Lions to none.

Most of the first downs in the third were off the determined running of sophomore Mathew Blackman, who carried six times and gained 42 yards of his game total 56.

After falling behind 14-0 in the second quarter, the Hawks were forced to the airways for most of the game. Junior quarterback Jimmy Duggins, who completed nine of 31 attempts, connected on four for 57 in the second quarter, and two in the fourth for 74 more yards.

One of those fourth-quarter completions was to senior Dan Fannin, that not only covered 67 yards, but ended with Iowa Park's only touchdown of the game.

The visiting Lions, with all their speed, never scored on a long run. Their first was a one-yarder to cap an 80-yard drive, while the second was a five-yard pass, also capping a drive that started on their own 20.

After the first TD, the Hawks drove to the Lion 13, and Blackman powered his way to the five. But the Hawks were charged with holding, taking the ball back out to the 28 (long steps by the official). Two plays later, the coaches and fans were openly disturbed when Bruce Palmer was ruled to have interfered with a defender on a pass play at the four, and the ball was moved back to the Lion 43. Tatum quick-kicked to the end zone, and the Lions began their second TD march after that, scoring with only 11 seconds remaining in the half.

Vernon took the second half kickoff and, on fourth down and needing one for a first, gambled. It didn't pay off, and the Hawks took over on the Lion 46.

Blackman broke for a 16-yard run, and then the Hawks became their own worst enemy. They committed four consecutive mistakes: a dropped pass on the goal line; drew a five-yard motion penalty; Duggins was sacked for a six-yard penalty, and then threw an intercepted pass.

DAN FANNIN SNARES 12-YARD PASS, AND MICHAEL JOHNSON OFFERS HELP

But the Lions didn't score on that possession, and had to punt three plays later.

Again, the Hawks drove deep into the Vernon end of the field. Starting on the Iowa Park 47, the drive stalled, however, on the Lion 12.

After Vernon picked up a pair of firsts, the Mean Green defense held, forcing a punt to the Hawk 24. And on the first play, Duggins was again intercepted on the 50, and five plays later Vernon scored on a 11-yard run.

That was with 5:55 remaining in the game. The Duggins-to-Fannin touchdown stopped the clock at 5:28.

Vernon punted four plays after the following kickoff. The Hawks were forced to gamble on a fourth-and-three situation on their next possession, and came up a yard short. Vernon scored on the next play, a 29-yarder and longest gain of the night for the visitors.

Big-play tackles were credited to Jay Loggins and Gary Green, two each, Gary Tatum, Vance Edwards, Lee Cokendolpher and Chuck Brown.

Marc Cruz ended Vernon's first possession of the game by intercepting the Lions' first pass attempt.

Fans viewing the game witnessed an unusual decision by the officials in the first quarter. The Hawks punted twice, with a motion penalty nullifying the first. On the second, officials were not in possession to determine which team covered a mishandled ball, and ruled an "inadvertant whistle," calling the play back for one more kick. But Coach Williams crossed the Lions up, and had the ball snapped directly to Cruze, who picked up eight yards and a first down. That drive ended with Kelly McClure missing a 35-yard field goal attempt.

In finishing the season 1-5 in district play and 1-9 for the season, Iowa Park suffered its worst record since going 0-10 in 1977.

Cook of the Week

Mrs. Ernie Darkow and Amanda

This week's featured cook, Kammy (Mrs. Ernie) Darkow, has provided Leader readers with a head-start on cold weather recipes.

Each of the recipes are products of the experimentation of Kammy or her father, who taught her to cook, and each promises to earn a seal of approval by anyone who tries them.

Kammy grew up in an Air Force family and lived all over the United States and overseas. Her father, who she describes as an excellent cook, taught Kammy to cook and instilled in her the ability to make up her own recipes. This doesn't seem unusual to her and she says, "I just cook."

And cook she does. She said many of her recipes don't have a name, so her husband asks for a certain dish by naming the ingredients.

Culinary interest must run in the family as the Darcow's seven-year-old daughter, Amanda, also likes to help in the kitchen and even has her own pie crust recipe. The couple also have a son, Chance, three years old.

UMW meets

The Bertha McDonald Circle of United Methodist Women met Tuesday morning in the home of Robbie Smith.

Jerry Waters gave a program on Economic Justice- or lack of it. It was noted that the middle class is getting smaller, while the rich and poor are increasing in number. Many of the poor are women and their children. She said that Iowa Park is blessed with a caring community and the Ministerial Alliance deserves our support.

Refreshments were served to the 10 members attending by hostesses Betty Dyer and Robbie Smith.

The Jesse Mae Owens Fellowship of First United Methodist Church met at the home of Mrs. C.L. Thompson.

Mrs. Larry Parks gave the lesson, "A Story of an Unexpected Thankfulness."

There were 13 members present.

Iowa Park nears goal

Though the Greater Wichita Falls United Way fund-raising campaign has reached only 91.9 percent of its goal, Iowa Park is at 96.3.

The community has pledged and donated $61,366, according to the UW office. Burkburnett is at 90.0, with $42,299 raised.

Wednesday of last week, the campaign chairman, Warren Silver, said $1,618,441 of $1,760,000 had been raised.

Other individual division reports were:
Business, Industry, $444,012, 96.7;
Combined Federal Campaign, $160,745;
Commerce, $373,379, 92.3;
Enterprise, $21,158, 70.5;
Leadership, $177,003, 82.1;
Professional, $93,076, 91.5;
Public Service, $245,203, 91.7%.

Second Annual Know Your Number Cholesterol Screening and Education Program

For the second year, the Red Cross will be providing Iowa Park the opportunity to have their cholesterol checked. Last year it was found that two-thirds of those screened had elevated cholesterol levels. High cholesterol is a contributing factor in coronary heart disease. 250,000 lives could be saved every year if people only knew their cholesterol level. Smoking, high blood pressure, and cholesterol all contribute to heart disease. It makes no difference on whether you have eaten or not when you take this test. The test site will be the Iowa Park Church of Christ. The date and time are Friday, November 11, 9:00 a.m. to 8:00 p.m. and Saturday, November 12, 9:00 a.m. to 6:00 p.m.

Our address is 300 East Park, directly north of Tanner-Aulds funeral home. The east room on the east side of the building will be the location of the test site. You may enter this room by parking in front of our building and opening this single door that faces south. "Beloved, I pray that in all respects you may prosper and be in good health, just as your soul prospers" 3 John verse 2. Cost for the cholesterol screening is $5.00 to cover expenses of the Red Cross. Make a good day for yourself and your family by doing all you can to keep and enjoy good health.

Former Head Hawk on another roll

Having turned around his team's record and produced the school's first district championship, former Hawk mentor Tommy Watkins is getting due publicity in the Dallas Morning News.

Watkins, who guided the Hawks to consecutive state football titles in 1969 and 1970 after reaching the same plateau at Rotan in 1962, took over a losing program two years ago at Lakeview Centennial, one of four high schools in Garland.

He inherited a club made up primarily of sophomores that finished the 1986 season 0-10.

Going into the first season, he told the team and student body at the first pep rally, "If you're ever going to see a rainbow, you've got to stand in the rain. But we've stood in the rain long enough."

Well, it rained a little more that season. Then, with only two wins against four defeats, the Patriots took off. They won the final four games to finish 6-4. That was only slightly better than Watkins' 5-4-1 start in 1963 with the Hawks.

Lakeview won its 10th game of the season Friday, to not only win its first district championship, but finish its first regular season undefeated.

Those last four wins in '87, with the 10 in '88, gives Lakeview the longest winning streak of any Texas high school team, according to the Morning News.

And Watkins is now the state's third-winningest active coach, with a record of 240-89-7.

His record in two stints with the Hawks was 111-30-4.

After Rotan and Iowa Park, Watkins put Andrews back into the title scene out in West Texas. He returned here to start rebuilding the Hawks, after they had suffered a 1-29 three-year series. And then took over a long-suffering program at Uvalde, where he made champions out of a Class AAAA school that couldn't even field a junior varsity, before moving on to Garland.

The Patriots have scored 300 points with their Veer offense, and allowed only 97 this season.

That's not quite as good as the '69 Hawks at the 10-game juncture, when they had racked up 476-69. But it compares favorably with the '70 scoring-defense record of 388-98.

Watkins takes his Patriots into the Cotton Bowl at 7:30 tomorrow night, to meet Roosevelt, runner-up in Dist. 10-AAAAA with a 6-3-1 season and 5-1-1 district record.

"Our kids are having a heck of a time," Watkins was quoted Tuesday by the Morning News. "This is the best time of their lives."

It's not bad for a coach well into his 31st year in the business, either.

Duggins heads Booster Club

Jimmy Duggins was elected president of the Iowa Park Booster Club during its end-of-year business meeting Monday.

Serving with him during the coming year will be Jack McClure, vice president, and Cindy Edwards, secretary-treasurer.

Boosters decided to sell tickets to a triple-header basketball event Nov. 19 that will be held at Midwestern State Univ.

At that event, the Lady Hawks will play Burkburnett, and the third game will be played by the Wichita Falls Texans, a new men's professional club.

Roundball season here

After a scrimmage here this afternoon against Byers, the Lady Hawks will open the basketball season Tuesday on the road, when they travel to Henrietta.

The scrimmage is to get underway at 4:30.

Tuesday, the Lady Hawks, JV and Freshmen will play at Clay County, with the first game starting at 5:30 p.m.

HAWKS

The Hawks will also be opening the season Tuesday against Henrietta, with a tripleheader, but those games will be played here, starting at 4:30 p.m.

The boys, however, will not have a scrimmage before taking on the Bearcats.

Friday of next week, the same three boys teams are scheduled to travel to Olney. Those games, however, depend on how the Cubs do in the football playoffs.

Also next Friday, the Lady Hawk JV and Frosh are slated to travel to Burkburnett for a doubleheader, starting at 6 p.m.

Hawks 12th at regional

The Hawk cross country team placed 12th Saturday in the Region One meet held at Lubbock.

The district champions were represented by Jonathan and Bunkie Imboden, Bruce Palmer, Chris Travland, Paul Bata, Cecil Gilmore and Greg Steger.

Though the Hawks won the district meet the previous week, they finished behind runner-up Decatur, because one of the better runners, Kent Kyle, was unable to compete.

Final team standings Saturday were - 1. Canyon, 33; 2. Fabens, 94; 3. Clint, 105; 4. Brownfield, 113; 5. Perryton, 153; 6. Seminole, 157; 7. Greenwood, 173; 8. Muleshoe, 186;

Collecting food

Three local Girl Scout troops will operate a food drive booth Wednesday and Saturday this week, with the proceeds going to the Wichita Falls Food Bank, according to Jo Ann Cockrum.

The booth was open at King's Foods yesterday, and will again open from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Saturday.

Participating will be Brownie Troops 47 and 32, and Junior Troop 50.

Sirens to signal 'Be Drug Free Week'

When the emergency sirens sound at 1 p.m. Tuesday, it may not be necessary to take cover from stormy weather. Sounding of the sirens has been planned by local organizers to play a part in "Be Drug Free Week," Nov. 11 to 20.

County-wide participation is being urged for the week, with special activities being planned in each community in the county.

The week will kick off at 2 p.m. Friday at Memorial Auditorium in Wichita Falls with a joint proclamation by Wichita County mayors and school superintendents designating "Be Drug Free Week." Iowa Park Mayor Tim Hunter will read the proclamation at Monday night's regular city council meeting.

Saturday will hold a special treat for elementary aged children, with the North Texas Industry and Transportation Companies (NTITC) and Sikes Six Theaters sponsoring a "Kid's Morning At The Show" at Sikes Senter Theater for the first 850 children to be admitted free of charge. Drug awareness speakers will be present, and a coloring book, popcorn and a soft drink will also be given to the kids.

Monday has been designated as "Be Drug Clean - Wear Green" day, with students and residents urged to wear green, as well as "Be Drug Free" buttons that were distributed to every student as a courtesy of NTITC.

Tuesday, "Drug Warning" sirens will sound in Iowa Park as well as throughout the county, and some 17,000 balloons with anti-drug messages will be released by area schools. Everyone in the county is encouraged to keep house and car lights on during the day to show support for being drug free.

Iowa Park schools have planned special activities in observance of the week, with "Just Say No" programs scheduled at the junior high Wednesday, and at both elementary schools Thursday.

The Optimist Club mascot, the "Just Say No" Chicken, will be at the junior high Wednesday; and the Iowa Park High School Hawk mascot will visit students at Kidwell Elementary Friday where balloons and "Just Say No" buttons will be handed out.

Bradford students will have a poster contest later in the year when the health classes study drugs and their effects.

The Great American Smokeout, a nationally-observed event, will kick off at 7 p.m. Wednesday at Jaycee Park with a bonfire. Smokers will be asked to bring their tobacco to add to the bonfire.

Terry Escue to present senior exhibition at MSU

Terry Escue, son of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Escue of Iowa Park, will present his Senior Exhibition entitled "Passions" from Friday through Dec. 2 at the Midwestern State Univ. Fine Arts Gallery.

Escue will open his exhibition, which will include prints, drawings and constructions, with a reception at 8 p.m. Friday at the Fine Arts Gallery.

A graduate of Iowa Park High School, Escue is a senior at Midwestern State Univ., and will receive a bachelor of fine arts degree in December. He majors in print-making and has a commercial art minor.

Escue participated in the "Student Exhibition" at MSU in 1985, 1986 and 1987.

Among the scholarships he has received are the W.P. and Anne Howle Scholarship, the Division of Fine Arts Scholarship, Wichita Falls Art Assoc. Scholarship and the Texas Federated Women's Club Scholarship.

Escue said he plans to make a career as a commercial designer and illustrator.

MSU's gallery hours are 9:30 a.m. to noon, and 1:30 to 4 p.m., Monday through Friday.

Shower fetes bride-elect

The colors of teal blue, peach and cream were tastefully and artistically combined for a prenuptial shower given Saturday afternoon as a courtesy for Miss Holly Farnsworth, bride-elect of Terry Escue. The affair was held in the home of Mrs. Bill Bates.

The co-hostesses were Judy Spring and Mmes. Joe Singer, David Padgett, Glenn Schell, Steve Ming, Vern Horsky, Roger York, Leo Thames, James Yarbrough, Jerry Robertson, Jerry Gholson, Leon Biddy, Stan Hoy and Bob Dawson.

The first glimpse of the chosen colors was noted in the fresh peach begonias arranged in colonial urns in a Victorian setting on the front porch of the Bates home.

The pre-bridal registry was an antique music stand delicately decorated with peach paper twist drapes accented with peach cabbage roses, teal blue veiling and stephanotis, and baby's breath.

The bride-elect sat in a chair designated with a peach silk bow and peach potpourri ring. The table where she sat to receive guests and unwrap gifts was draped with an antique cream linen cloth featuring lace insets over teal blue silk.

The honoree, her mother, Mrs. Howell Farnsworth of Floydada, and Mrs. Herman Escue of Iowa Park, mother of the future groom, were pinned with corsages of peach alstermeria lilies, teal blue stephanotis and baby's breath to compliment their dresses.

The refreshment table was covered with an antique white linen cloth accented with Battenburg lace medallions and a wide hem of the lace. The centerpiece was an antique silver wine cooler with its lid left slightly ajar to show a bouquet of peach alstermeria lilies, teal blue stephanotis and leatherleaf.

Two silver wine goblets in front of the wine cooler were filled with leatherleaf and baby's breath and topped with love birds joined by a peach ribbon holding a wedding ring. The centerpiece was flanked by three-tiered silver candelabra holding teal blue candles.

The honoree's chosen colors were further repeated in an antique glass compote lined with teal blue and filled with nuts, an assortment of tea canopies, the punch and napkins.

Special guests in addition to mothers of the betrothed couple were Mrs. Loyd Tate of Dallas, grandmother of the future bride, Mrs. Lee Neilsen of Wichita Falls and Mrs. Jewel Escue of Iowa Park, grandmothers of the future groom.

The couple will exchange vows of matrimony Dec. 16 at First Baptist Church in Iowa Park.

Cholesterol screening scheduled in Iowa Park Friday and Saturday

The Wichita County Chapter of the American Red Cross in cooperation with KFDX TV-3 and Boeringer Mannheim Diagnostics has scheduled its second annual county-wide "Know Your Number" cholesterol screening and awareness program for November 11-20.

In Iowa Park the screening will take place at the Church of Christ, 301 E. Park, from 9 a.m. - 8 p.m. on Friday, and 9 a.m. - 6 p.m. Saturday.

The screening process includes a finger stick, a three-minute test and post screening on-site counseling.

Participants do not have to be fasting. A $5 donation is requested of each person to cover the cost of materials and processing.

More than 50 percent of Americans today have blood cholesterol levels high enough to be at risk of heart disease. And most don't know it.

Since the National Institutes of Health released its cholesterol study in November 1987, the Red cross has screened over 18,000 persons through the "Know Your Number" program. Two-thirds of the individuals screened have had test results above the recommended 200mg/dl. These persons were referred to their personal physicians for follow-up testing, and in some cases were placed on dietary regimes and medication.

Tax changes benefit farmers

"On the last day of Congress, farmers and ranchers got two big corrections in tax laws," reports Fred Dwyer, president of Wichita County Farm Bureau.

One dealt with the diesel fuel tax and the other, the so-called "heifer tax," pertained to an income tax provision regarding production expenses, he said.

One correction restores a tax exemption on farm-used fuel at the retail level. The "heifer tax" restores preproductive expenses of livestock.

"Both tax corrections are very important to the farmers and ranchers of the county," Dwyer said.

Recreational Activities Center

A full schedule has been planned during November at the Iowa Park Recreational Activity Center with something for everyone.

The RAC is offering three demonstrations for holiday help, including "Holiday Gift Wrap" at 7 p.m. tonight, which will include bow making and stenciling. Also "Holiday Foods" at 7 p.m. Nov. 17, and "Candy Making" at 7 p.m. Dec. 1.

The RAC is sponsoring a children's Thanksgiving contest, with kids kindergarten age to second grade eligible to enter a coloring contest, and third to fifth grade students to participate in an essay contest entitled, "What Thanksgiving Means to Me." All entries must be turned into the RAC by 5 p.m. Nov. 21.

Other new activities planned for the month include a domino tournament on Nov. 18, with deadline to enter at noon; and a junior high-aged lip sync contest from 3:30 to 5 p.m. Nov. 16.

Regular classes offered by the RAC include karate, held each Sunday; aerobics, held each Monday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday; and clogging on Tuesdays.

Some events scheduled for December are a children's arts and craft show on the 8th, 9th and 10th, and the annual Tour of Homes on Dec. 10.

Memberships to the RAC are available at $4 per person or $12 for a family of four or more for the year. Classes are open to everyone, but non-members are subject to increased rates.

Grubbe gives leadership program for Evening Lions Club meeting

"Each member of this club is important and has leadership potential," stated Gordon Grubbe, leadership development chairman of Lions Club District 2 E-1 Tuesday as he spoke to the Evening Lions Club.

He said that the life of a leader was demanding, enriching and exhilarating, but reminded members that a leader has many things to do and without followers he can do nothing. He added that participating in a race is even better than winning, and cited examples of how followers had helped noted men and women achieve their position of honor.

Dave Davis introduced the speaker and was in charge of business. Guests were Lee Cooper, Mmes. Lem Tate, Dave Davis and Riley Thompson.

The next meeting will be held Nov. 22 when wives of club members and members of the Evening Lioness Club will be honored at a catered Thanksgiving dinner.
